PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H.R. 91 was introduced by Representative Julia Brownley of California, the Ranking Member of the Committee on Veterans’ Affairs Subcommittee on Health, on January 3, 2017.

H.R. 91 would require the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) to carry out a permanent program to provide reintegration and readjustment services in group retreat settings to women veterans newly separated from service in the Armed Forces after a prolonged deployment.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

Section 2. Counseling in retreat settings for women veterans newly separated from service in the Armed Forces

While women have served in the military since the American Revolution, women have only relatively recently come to represent a sizable portion of the veteran population. Today, women veterans number almost 2 million out of 21.6 million total veterans in the United States.1

There are indications both that military service and veteran status may affect women differently than men and that women veterans may lack access to valuable peer support opportunities once they have separated from service. For example, a report by the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) found that women face barriers to full integration into military service, to recognition as veterans, and to VA services and benefits.2 According to DAV, “(t)he vast majority of these deficiencies result from a disregard for the differing needs of women veterans and a focusing on the 80 percent solutions for men who dominate in both numbers and the public consciousness.”3

During the 111th Congress, the Caregivers and Veterans Omnibus Health Services Act of 2010 (P.L. 111–163, 124 Stat. 1130) required VA to conduct a pilot program through the Readjustment Counseling Service (RCS) to evaluate the feasibility and advisability of providing reintegration and readjustment services in group retreat settings to women veterans recently separated from service in the Armed Forces after a prolonged deployment. Each group retreat was required to include the following components: information and counseling on reintegration into the veteran’s family; employment and community; financial counseling; occupational counseling; information and counseling on stress reduction; and, information and counseling on conflict resolution. Over the course of the pilot program, a total of 12 retreats were provided to 272 women veterans between 2011 and 2016.4 According to VA, the retreats held to-date have focused on building trust and developing peer support in a therapeutic environment and data has shown that retreat participants saw increased coping abilities and decreased symptoms associated with posttraumatic stress disorder. VA also found that 87 percent of retreat participants scored higher on the Ryff Scale of Psychological Well Being immediately post-retreat and 84 percent showed a decrease in stress symptoms that persisted two months post-retreat.5

In light of the positive outcomes of the current pilot program and the Committee’s commitment to ensuring that VA is properly addressing the unique needs of women veterans, section 2 of the bill would make the pilot program of counseling in retreat settings for women veterans newly separated from service a permanent part of VA’s programs for women veterans.

U.S. CONGRESS,

H.R. 91—Building Supportive Networks for Women Veterans Act

H.R. 91 would require the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) to establish a permanent program that provides counseling in group retreat settings to certain women veterans who have recently separated from military service. The bill also would require the VA to submit to the Congress a biennial report on the outcomes of the program.

VA is completing the final year of a pilot program that provides similar services to women veterans. According to VA, roughly 270 women participated in the program at 12 retreats over the 2011–2016 period at an average cost of $3,400 per participant. On the basis of information from VA, CBO expects that the department would use the authority provided under H.R. 91 to hold six retreats a year. CBO estimates that implementing this program would cost $3 million over the 2018–2022 period after accounting for anticipated inflation; such spending would be subject to the availability of appropriated funds.

Enacting the legislation would not affect direct spending or revenues; therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures do not apply. CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 91 would not increase net direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2028.

H.R. 91 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act, and would not affect the budgets of state, local, or tribal governments.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Ann E. Futrell. The estimate was approved by H. Samuel Papenfuss, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

FEDERAL MANDATES STATEMENT

The Committee adopts as its own the estimate of Federal mandates regarding H.R. 91 prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 423 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE STATEMENT

No advisory committees within the meaning of section 5(b) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act would be created by H.R. 91.

STATEMENT OF CONSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITY

Pursuant to Article I, section 8 of the United States Constitution, H.R. 91 is authorized by Congress’ power to “provide for the common Defense and general Welfare of the United States.”

APPLICABILITY TO LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

The Committee finds that H.R. 91 does not relate to the terms and conditions of employment or access to public services or accommodations within the meaning of section 102(b)(3) of the Congressional Accountability Act.

STATEMENT ON DUPLICATION OF FEDERAL PROGRAMS

Pursuant to section 3(g) of H. Res. 5, 115th Cong. (2017), the Committee finds that no provision of H.R. 91 establishes or reauthorizes a program of the Federal Government known to be duplicative of another Federal program, a program that was included in any report from the Government Accountability Office to Congress pursuant to section 21 of Public Law 111–139, or a program related to a program identified in the most recent Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.

DISCLOSURE OF DIRECTED RULEMAKING

Pursuant to section 3(i) of H. Res. 5, 115th Cong. (2017), the Committee estimates that H.R. 91 contains no directed rulemaking that would require the Secretary to prescribe regulations.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS OF THE LEGISLATION

Section 1. Short title

Section 1 of the bill would provide a short title of the “Building Supportive Networks for Women Veterans Act”.

Section 2. Counseling in retreat settings for women veterans newly separated from service in the armed forces

Section 2(a)(1) of the bill would amend chapter 17 of title 38, U.S.C., by inserting after section 1712C a new section, “1712D. Counseling in retreat settings for women veterans newly separated.” The new section 1712D would require the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, beginning on January 1, 2018, to carry out a program through the Readjustment Counseling Service (RCS) to provide reintegration and readjustment services in group retreat settings to women veterans who are newly separated from service in the Armed Forces after a prolonged deployment. A veteran’s participation in the program would be voluntary and services provided under the program would include: (1) information on reintegration into the family, employment, and community of the veteran; (2) financial counseling; (3) occupational counseling; (4) information and counseling on stress reduction; (5) information and counseling on conflict resolution; and, (6) such other information and counseling as the Secretary considers appropriate to assist the veteran in reintegrating into her family, job, and community. VA would be required to report to the Committees on Veterans’ Affairs of the House of Representatives and the Senate a report on the program by no later than December 31, 2018, and each even-numbered year thereafter.

Section 2(a)(2) of the bill would amend the table of sections at the beginning of chapter 17 of title 38, U.S.C., by inserting after 1712C the following new item: “1712D. Counseling in retreat settings for women veterans newly separated.”.

Section 2(b) of the bill would repeal section 203 of the Caregivers and Veterans Omnibus Health Services Act of 2010 (38 U.S.C. 1712A note) effective December 31, 2017.
