FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

Privacy Act of 1974; Proposed New System of Records

AGENCY: Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC).

ACTION: Notice of proposed new system of records—"Unclaimed Deposits Reporting System".

SUMMARY: In accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a, the FDIC gives notice of the proposed establishment of a new system of records entitled "Unclaimed Deposits Reporting System".

DATES: Comments on the establishment of the system must be submitted by March 20, 1995. The system will become effective April 3, 1995, unless a superseding notice to the contrary is published before that date.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be addressed to Robert E. Feldman, Acting Executive Secretary, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 550-17th Street, NW., Washington, DC 20429, or hand-delivered to Room F-400 at 1776 F Street, NW., Washington, DC, Monday through Friday, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Frederick N. Ottie, Attorney, Office of the Executive Secretary, FDIC, 550-17th Street, NW., Washington, DC 20429, (202) 898-6679.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The FDIC is proposing to establish a new system of records pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a, entitled "Unclaimed Deposits Reporting System". This new system of records will be used by the FDIC in providing expanded protections to insured depositors under the Unclaimed Deposits Amendments Act of 1993, Pub. L. No. 103-44, 107 Stat. 220 (1993), which amends section 12(e) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1822(e)).

The Unclaimed Deposits Amendments Act extends the period during which insured depositors may claim their deposit insurance, and permits the involvement of state abandoned property systems to locate the owners of unclaimed deposit insurance. Under prior law, depositors were required to claim their deposit insurance within eighteen months of the closing of an insured depository institution. The new law, which applies to insured depository institutions for which the FDIC is appointed receiver after the enactment date of the Act, June 28, 1993, permits state governments to accept custody of any deposits which remain unclaimed at the end of eighteen months and attempt to locate the depositors for ten years, at which time any remaining deposits are to be returned to the FDIC. As to any accounts which are not accepted by the state, those depositors have until the termination of the receivership to claim their insurance from the FDIC. Congress also included a retroactive provision applicable to any insured depository institution for which the FDIC was appointed receiver after January 1, 1989. For these institutions, the states are not permitted to take custody of unclaimed deposits, but the depositors themselves may claim them directly from the FDIC at any time up to the termination of the receivership.

The FDIC will use the information maintained in the system to respond to requests for research and/or delivery of deposit insurance to a claimant. The system will consist of records relating to unclaimed insured or transferred deposits from closed insured depository institutions for which the FDIC was appointed receiver after January 1, 1989.

Accordingly, the Board of Directors of the FDIC proposes to establish the system to read as follows:
