SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

On December 23, 1994, CMT filed a petition pursuant to Section 302(a) of the Trade Act alleging that acts, policies and practices of the Canadian government regarding the authorization for distribution via cable carriage of U.S.-owned programming services are discriminatory and are actionable under Section 301.

Section 302(a) of the Trade Act authorizes the USTR to initiate an investigation under chapter 1 of Title III of the Trade Act (commonly referred to as “section 301”), in response to the filing of a petition pursuant to Section 302(a)(1). Matters actionable under section 301 include, inter alia, acts, policies, and practices of a foreign country that are unreasonable or discriminatory and burden or restrict U.S. commerce. An act, policy or practice is unreasonable if the act, policy or practice, while not necessarily in violation of, or inconsistent with, the international legal rights of the United States, is otherwise unfair or inequitable. Unreasonable acts, policies or practices include, inter alia, denial of fair and equitable market opportunities.

On February 6, 1995, the USTR determined that an investigation should be initiated to determine whether certain acts, policies or practices of the Government of Canada that have resulted in the denial of market access for U.S.-owned programming services to be distributed in Canada via cable carriage and in the termination of the authorizations of a U.S.-owned programming service, Country Music Television (CMT), to be distributed in Canada via cable carriage. The USTR invites written comments from the public on the matters being investigated, particularly with respect to the amount of burden or restriction on U.S. commerce caused by the Canadian government’s acts, policies and practices. In addition, the USTR is seeking public comment concerning a proposed determination that certain acts, policies and practices of Canada with respect to the granting or termination of authorizations for U.S.-owned programming services to be distributed in Canada via cable carriage are unreasonable or discriminatory and constitute a burden or restriction on U.S. commerce.

DATES: This investigation was initiated on February 6, 1995. Written comments from the public are due on or before noon on March 6, 1995.

ADDRESS: Office of the United States Trade Representative, 600 17th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20506.

SUMMARY: The United States Trade Representative (USTR) has initiated an investigation under section 302(a) of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended (19 U.S.C. 2412(a)); notice of proposed investigation under section 302(a) of the Trade Act, the USTR has requested consultations with the Government of Canada concerning the issues under investigation. USTR will seek information and advice from the appropriate representatives provided for under section 135 of the Trade Act in preparing the U.S. presentations for such consultations.

If the issues which are the basis of this investigation are not resolved expeditiously, the USTR proposes to determine pursuant to Section 304(a)(1) of the Trade Act that acts, policies and practices of the Canadian Government with respect to the granting or termination of authorizations for U.S.-owned programming services to be distributed in Canada via cable carriage are unreasonable or discriminatory and constitute a burden or restriction on U.S. commerce. If this determination is affirmative, the USTR must also determine what action would be appropriate under the statute.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments concerning the issues raised in the petition and any other submissions to USTR in this investigation. In particular, comments are invited regarding (i) The acts,
SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISION

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Chicago Stock Exchange, Inc.; Order Granting Approval to Proposed Rule Change Relating to Odd-Lot Transactions

February 6, 1995.

On November 10, 1994, the Chicago Stock Exchange, Inc. ("CHX" or "Exchange") submitted to the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC" or "Commission"), pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act") and Rule 19b–4 thereunder, a proposed rule change to permit differentials to be charged for certain odd-lot trades.

The proposed rule change was published for comment in Securities Exchange Act Release No. 35048 (December 2, 1994), 59 FR 63844 (December 9, 1994). No comment letters were received.

Currently, Article XXXI, Rule 9 dealing with execution of odd-lot orders provides that odd-lots must be executed at the best bid or offer, similar to round lot executions. The rule does not permit odd-lot specialists to charge differentials. The rule change allows the Commission on Floor Procedure to determine that a differential may be charged for: (1) an odd-lot "seller's option" trade, (2) an odd-lot order for cash or "next day" delivery, (3) an odd-lot order for additional settlement periods, and (4) an odd-lot order in an issue in which a differential is charged in the primary market. If the Committee on Floor Procedures determines to allow a differential to be charged under number 1, 2, or 3 above, all CHX odd-lot specialists may charge differentials under the specified condition. The Committee on Floor Procedures may also determine that the primary market is charging a differential in a particular security and allow the CHX specialist in the security also to charge a differential.

The Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to a national securities exchange and, in particular, with the requirements of Section 6(b). In particular, the Commission believes the proposal is consistent with the Section 6(b)(5) requirements that the rules of any exchange be designed to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to remove impediments and to perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system, and in general, to protect investors and the public interest.

The Commission believes that the proposed rule change to allow differentials to be charged on specified odd-lot securities will make the rules of the Exchange consistent with those of the other securities exchanges. In addition, the rule change will allow the CHX to authorize the charging of a differential in a security when the primary market is charging a differential in that security. This provision will ensure that the CHX market makers will be allowed to effect executions at competitive prices, which will contribute to the maintenance of a fair and orderly market in those securities trading on the primary market with a differential.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act, that the proposed rule change (SR–CHX–94–23) is approved.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

Margaret H. McFarland,
Deputy Secretary.
