SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The current provisions of the FCOJ futures contract provide that delivery may be effected by tendering to the CANYCE a shipping certificate or warehouse receipt issued by an Exchange-licensed delivery facility.¹ The existing terms of the futures contract provide that the number of shipping certificates issued by a CANYCE-licensed tank facility operator may not exceed the sum of the following two calculations: (1) The number obtained by dividing the facility operator's net worth² by $40,000 and (2) the number obtained by dividing the total principal amounts of all performance bonds and letters of credit³ issued to the facility operator by $25,000. The futures contract also currently provides that a facility

² The contract's existing terms define "net worth" as the excess of assets over liabilities.

³ The contract's existing rules provide that performance bonds must be in a form approved by, and issued by sureties satisfactory to, the Exchange. Under the current rules, letters of credit must be in a form approved by the CANYCE, issued by a bank satisfactory to the Exchange and written in favor of the CANYCE. In addition, such letters of credit must be unconditional, irrevocable, and available to be drawn upon by the CANYCE on demand by clean sight drafts.
