

Tariff Act of 1930 for more than 90 days, has requested, pursuant to section 202(d) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 2252(d)), that provisional relief be provided through April 30, 1995. Accordingly, as provided for in section 202(d)(1)(C), the Commission will determine, on the basis of available information, whether increased imports (either actual or relative to domestic production) of the above-described tomatoes are a substantial cause of serious injury, or the threat thereof, to the domestic industry producing an article like or directly competitive with the imported article, and whether either (1) the serious injury is likely to be difficult to repair by reason of perishability of the like or directly competitive agricultural product, or (2) the serious injury cannot be timely prevented through investigation under section 202(b) and action under section 203. If the Commission makes an affirmative preliminary determination under section 202(d)(1)(C), section 202(d)(1)(E) requires that it find the amount or extent of provisional relief that is necessary to prevent or remedy the serious injury.

For further information concerning the conduct of this investigation, hearing procedures, and rules of general application, consult the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, part 201, subparts A through E (19 CFR part 201), and part 206, subparts A and B (19 CFR part 206).
