

demographic sections (eg., minority-owned small businesses) are often featured. Also, from time to time, foreign language editions are produced.

The private sector partner would bear all publication costs, (in fiscal year 1994, approximately $400,000) including marketing, writing, design, and printing. The private sector partner would be recognized through a message to be carried in each issue. ITA would continue to distribute CNUSA overseas, and would continue to collect user fees to pay for distribution (but would not provide any of those funds to the private sector publisher). In addition, while ITA would retain control over editorial content and policy, publication and industry feature schedules, pricing, and participation requirements, CNUSA would be open to any suggestions the private sector partner might care to offer, including those that would enhance the economic benefits of collaboration to the private sector partner.

ITA envisions this collaborative effort lasting three to five years.

Private sector organizations interested in collaborating with EPS for the production and distribution of Commercial News USA should provide information relating their previous experience in marketing and producing a periodical publication, including: direct mail marketing; work force size and composition (salespersons, writers, editors, designers, and graphic artists) and a brief corporate history.

Respondents to the above-noted Commerce Business Daily RFI need not respond to this notice.

Responses should be made by mail no later than August 10, 1995, to U.S. Department of Commerce, Commercial News USA, Room 2106, 14th and Constitution Ave., NW., Washington, DC 20230, ATTN: Joseph J. English.
