Notice is hereby given that two consent decrees in United States v. U.S. Ecology, Inc., et al., Civ. Act. No. 95-58, were lodged with the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky on June 5, 1995. These consent decrees resolve claims by and against the United States arising under Sections 106 and 107 of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 9606 and 9607, relating to the release and threatened release of hazardous substances at the Maxey Flats Disposal Site (the "Site") in Fleming County, Kentucky. The United States filed a complaint against the settling private parties and settling state parties simultaneously with the lodging of the consent decrees.

One consent decree, called the "De Maximus Consent Decree," provides for the design and implementation of a remedy for the Site selected in 1991 by the United States Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA") and for the reimbursement of $5.313 million in response costs incurred by EPA. Generally, the remedy requires the removal of leachate from the disposal trenches, the installation of a cap to prevent water from infiltrating the disposal trenches, and continual maintenance and supervision to ensure the safety of the site. The parties to the De Maximus Consent Decree are the United States, including EPA, the United States Air Force, the United States Army, the United States Navy, the United States Department of Defense, the United States Department of Energy, the National Institute of Health, and NASA; the Commonwealth of Kentucky; and forty three private parties.

The second consent decree, called the "De Minimis Consent Decree," provides for the reimbursement of costs incurred by the United States and certain private parties in responding to the release and threatened release of hazardous substances at the Site. The parties to the De Minimis Consent Decree are the United States, including EPA, the Department of the Interior, the National Institute of Mental Health, the National Institute for Standards & Testing, NIOSH, Smithsonian Institute, U.S. Bureau of Mines, U.S. Department of Agriculture, U.S. Food & Drug Administration, U.S. Geological Survey, U.S. Public Health Service, and the Veterans Administration Hospital; and 391 private and state entities.

The Department of Justice will receive comments relating to the proposed consent decrees for a period of 30 days from the date of this publication. Employment and Training Administration

[TA-W-29,504]

ALSCO Amerimark Building Products, Gnadenhutten, Ohio; Negative Determination on Remand

On April 7, 1995 the United States Court of International Trade (USCIT)

granted the Secretary's motion for a voluntary remand in United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO-CLC, Local 4612 v. Secretary of Labor No. 94-11-00698.

The workers filing under petition TA-W-29,504 were initially denied eligibility to apply for trade adjustment assistance ("TAA") on June 20, 1994, 59 FR 33786 (1994) and denied on application for reconsideration on September 16, 1994, 59 FR 49259 (1994).

The investigation findings showed that the plant melted scrap aluminum cans and rolled the aluminum into coils which were then painted. The smelter and rolling mill closed in December 1993.

The United Steelworkers of America ("USWA") and its Local 4612 claim that imports of Russian aluminum ingots and coil affected the pricing of aluminum coil.

In its notice of negative determination regarding the USWA, Local 4612 application for reconsideration, the Department found that the articles produced by workers at AlSCO Amerimark Building Products ("Amerimark") are coated or painted aluminum coil, not aluminum ingots or aluminum coil. Accordingly, the Department investigated whether imports of coated aluminum coil contributed importantly to the worker separations and Amerimark's decline in sales.

The Department's denial was based on the fact that the "contributed importantly" test of the Worker Group Eligibility Requirements of the Trade Act was not met. The "contributed importantly" test is generally demonstrated through a survey of the workers' firm's customers. The Department surveyed Amerimark's major customers for their purchases of painted aluminum coil for the years 1992, 1993, and the January-May time period of 1993 and 1994. None of the respondents reported decreasing their purchases from the subject firm while increasing their purchases of imports in the relevant period.

Other findings showed that Amerimark did not purchase ingots (foreign or domestic) for use in its production process for coated aluminum coil but purchased scrap aluminum cans.

On remand, the Department broadened its investigation to determine whether imports of aluminum coil met the "contributed importantly" test.

The new findings show that Amerimark's Gnadenhutten, Ohio aluminum smelting and rolling mill operation supplied the source of coils
