

proceed with prompt dismantlement of the S1C Prototype reactor plant. All structures would be removed from the Windsor Site, and the Site would be released for unrestricted use. To the extent practicable, the resulting low-level radioactive metals would be recycled at existing commercial facilities that recycle radioactive metals. The remaining low-level radioactive waste would be disposed of at the DOE Savannah River Site in South Carolina. The Savannah River Site currently receives low-level radioactive waste from Naval Reactors sites in the eastern United States. Both the volume and radioactive content of the S1C Prototype reactor plant waste would be within the range of impacts of low-level radioactive waste that is currently received at Savannah River from Naval Reactors sites. The DOE Hanford Site in Washington State also will be evaluated as an alternate disposal site for the low-level radioactive waste.

2. Deferred Dismantlement

This alternative would involve keeping the defueled S1C Prototype reactor plant in protective storage for 30 years before dismantling it. Deferring dismantlement for 30 years would allow nearly all of the cobalt-60 radioactivity to decay away. Nearly all of the gamma radiation within the reactor plant comes from cobalt-60.

3. No Action

This alternative would involve keeping the defueled S1C Prototype reactor plant in protective storage indefinitely. Since there is some residual radioactivity with very long half lives such as nickel-59 in the defueled reactor plant, this alternative would leave this radioactivity at the Windsor Site indefinitely.

4. Other Alternatives

These alternatives include permanent on-site disposal. Such onsite disposal could involve building an entombment structure over the S1C Prototype reactor plant or developing a below ground disposal area at the Windsor Site. Another alternative would be to remove the S1C Prototype reactor plant as a single large reactor compartment package for offsite disposal.

Preliminary Identification of Environmental Issues

The following issues, subject to consideration of comments received in response to public scoping, have been tentatively identified for analysis in the Environmental Impact Statement. This list is presented to facilitate public comment on the scope of the Environmental Impact Statement. It is not intended to be all inclusive nor is it intended to be a predetermination of impacts.

1. Potential impacts to the public and on-site workers from radiological and non radiological releases caused by activities to be conducted within the context of the proposed action and alternatives.

2. Potential environmental impacts, including air and water quality impacts, caused by the proposed action and alternatives.

3. Potential transportation impacts as a result of the proposed action and alternatives.

4. Potential effect on endangered species, floodplain/wetlands, and archeological/historical sites as a result of the proposed action and alternatives.

5. Potential impacts from postulated accidents as a result of the proposed action and alternatives.

6. Potential socioeconomic impacts to the surrounding communities as a result of implementing the proposed actions and alternatives.

7. Potential cumulative impacts from the proposed action and other past, present, and reasonably foreseeable future actions.

8. Potential irreversible and irretrievable commitment of resources.

Bonneville Power Administration

Notice of Availability of Record of Decision for the Bonneville Power Administration/Puget Power Northwest Washington Transmission Project AGENCY: Bonneville Power Administration (BPA), Department of Energy (DOE).

ACTION: Notice of availability of Record of Decision (ROD).

SUMMARY: BPA and Puget Sound Power & Light Company (Puget Power) have decided to upgrade the existing high-voltage transmission system in the Whatcom and Skagit Counties area of the State of Washington, between the towns of Custer and Sedro Woolley, including some areas within the City of Bellingham, starting in 1995. The upgrades of the interconnected 230,000-volt (230-kV) and 115-kV systems are needed to increase the transmission capacity on a nearby U.S.-Canada 500-kV intertie by about 850 megawatts (MW). BPA and Puget Power would share equally in the 850 MW of increased transfer capacity.

Construction is scheduled to begin late in 1995 and continue through the fall of 1997 when the new facilities would be energized.

ADDRESSES: Copies of the ROD and Environmental Impact Statement may be obtained by calling BPA's toll-free document request line: 1-800-622-4520.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION, CONTACT: Ken Barnhart—ECN, Bonneville Power Administration, P.O. Box 3621, Portland, Oregon, 97208-3621, phone number (503) 230-3667, fax number (503) 230-5211.

Public Availability: This ROD will be distributed to all interested and affected persons and agencies.

Issued in Portland, Oregon, on September 21, 1995.
