ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: This notice is being published to announce the reopening by the Department of the Treasury of its Coupons Under Book-Entry Safekeeping (CUBES) program, to permit the conversion of certain physical coupons detached from U.S. Treasury bonds to book-entry form in the commercial book-entry system. With the reopening of the conversion window under CUBES, depository institutions holding eligible coupons will have the opportunity, during the period from March 4, 1996, to and including August 30, 1996, to convert such coupons to book-entry form. Other entities wishing to convert stripped coupons must arrange to do so through a depository institution.

DATES: March 4, 1996, through August 30, 1996, as described below.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Maureen Parker, Director, Division of Securities Systems, Bureau of the Public Debt, Parkersburg, West Virginia, 26106-1328, (304) 480-7761.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The CUBES regulations permit reopenings of the CUBES window for conversion to book-entry form of detached, physical coupons. 31 CFR Part 358.0(c) provides, in part, that notice of time periods for conversion, as well as coupons eligible for conversion and applicable fees, will be published in the Federal Register two months prior to the date coupons may be presented. Accordingly, pursuant to that authority, Treasury will reopen the window for conversion under its CUBES program beginning March 4, 1996, and ending close of business August 30, 1996. Under the program, depository institutions holding coupons stripped from Treasury securities will be permitted to convert them to book-entry form. Entities other than depository institutions which hold stripped Treasury coupons and which wish to convert them to book-entry accounts under the CUBES program must arrange for such conversion through a depository institution.

Only Treasury coupons stripped before the date of this notice, and with payment dates on or after February 15, 1997, will be eligible for conversion, excluding those having payment dates during a callable period.

Presentation of coupons under the reopened CUBES window may be made only at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (FRBNY) and in compliance with the presentation procedures established by FRBNY. Submissions of coupons are subject to the terms and conditions described in Appendix A of Part 358, except insofar as the terms and conditions are modified by the regulations, the provisions of this notice, or the procedures issued by the FRBNY related to the conversion.

Physical coupons submitted for the CUBES program will be subject to rejection and book-entry CUBES balances established as a result of the submission of coupons will be subject to adjustment until the submission has been verified and approved by Treasury. This verification and approval will be
