processing, it will also be available for inspection at the offices of the Board of Governors. Interested persons may express their views in writing on the question whether the proposal complies with the standards of section 4 of the BHC Act, including whether consummation of the proposal can “reasonably be expected to produce benefits to the public, such as greater convenience, increased competition, or gains in efficiency, that outweigh possible adverse effects, such as undue concentration of resources, decreased or unfair competition, conflicts of interests, or unsound banking practices” (12 U.S.C. 1843). Any request for a hearing on this question must be accompanied by a statement of the reasons a written presentation would not suffice in lieu of a hearing, identifying specifically any questions of fact that are in dispute, summarizing the evidence that would be presented at a hearing, and indicating how the party commenting would be aggrieved by approval of the proposal. Unless otherwise noted, comments regarding the applications must be received at the Reserve Bank indicated or the offices of the Board of Governors not later than June 11, 1996.

Approximately one third of the entire Resources and Services Database is verified each year. As part of this process, 40 percent of these organizations will receive a copy of their current database entry by mail, including a cover letter, a list of instructions, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The remaining 60 percent will receive a telephone call to review their record.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) National AIDS Clearinghouse (NAC), is a critical member of the network of government agencies, community organizations, businesses, health professionals, educators, and human services providers that educate the American public about Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome (AIDS) and provide services for persons infected with human immunodeficiency virus (HIV). NAC's Resources and Services Database contains records of AIDS-related services.
