

The rules and regulations under the marketing order currently exempt from inspection the Peerless variety of almonds used as bleaching stock and sold inshell. When the quality control regulations were initially implemented, it was determined there was no need to establish the percentage of inedible kernels of almonds sold inshell, which at that time were predominately of the Peerless variety, because inedible kernels could not be removed from product sold inshell and thus could not be disposed of in non-human consumption outlets. Therefore, inshell almonds, including Peerless, are exempt from meeting the inedible disposition obligation. However, in order to determine the kernel weight of Peerless almonds sold inshell for reporting to the Board, a predetermined shelling ratio contained in the marketing order has been used in the absence of inspection. This shelling ratio converted the weight of inshell almonds to a shelled weight, or kernel weight. Over time, the total quantity and varieties of all almonds sold inshell have increased, while Peerless bleaching stock sales have declined. There has also been an increased desire and need to obtain an accurate product weight for growers, handlers, and the Board. Thus, it has become common industry practice to have inspections performed on Peerless almonds sold inshell, as with other varieties sold inshell, regardless of the inspection exemption.

Consistent with the Act, the almond marketing order was recently amended by a majority vote of producers to require that the weight of inshell almonds be determined by weighing a representative sample of such almonds. Previously, predetermined shelling ratios were used to determine the kernel weight. Thus, the shelling ratios were removed from the order. The purpose of the quality control amendments was to reflect current industry practices as referenced above, and to provide more accurate information for reporting purposes.

The amendments to the order necessitate conforming changes to the administrative rules and regulations. Section 981.442 of the quality control regulations is revised to remove an inspection exemption for Peerless inshell almonds. Thus, all almonds, regardless of form or variety, will be inspected.

In addition, § 981.401 is revised to remove the exemption for Peerless almonds from the definition of adjusted kernel weight. Currently, the adjusted kernel weight of Peerless inshell almonds is based on a predetermined weight contained in the shelling ratio table that was removed from the marketing order. Since Peerless inshell almonds will be required to have inspection, the actual kernel weight will be determined, thus providing an accurate weight.

The information collection requirements contained in the referenced sections have been previously approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the provisions of 44 U.S.C. Chapter 35 and have been assigned OMB number 0581-0071.

After consideration of all relevant material presented, including the Board's recommendation, and other information, it is found that finalizing the interim final rule, without change, as published in the Federal Register (61 FR 42990, August 20, 1996) will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act.
