Background

FSIS is making available for public comment a Codex discussion paper, which was prepared by New Zealand with participation in drafting meetings by the United States, Australia and Canada. The paper was prepared for the Codex Committee on Food Import and Export Inspection and Certification Systems (CCFICS). It discusses and describes: (1) The basis for the determination of equivalence of sanitary measures associated with different food inspection and certification systems; (2) protection from foodborne hazards by application of particular sanitary measures, and the "appropriate level of protection" that is achieved by reference to "food safety objectives"; (3) application of a risk-based approach in the comparison of food safety objectives; (4) principles to be utilized in the determination of equivalence; (5) a step-wise process for facilitating judgment of equivalence; and (6) the need for CCFICS to develop principles and guidelines for the judgment of equivalence of sanitary measures.

FSIS requests comments on whether the paper, which is scheduled for presentation at the next CCFICS meeting in late February 1998, provides a framework that should be accepted, in general, by the United States for international determinations of equivalence between meat and poultry inspection systems. Written comments received in response to this notice will help prepare U.S. Delegates for the upcoming CCFICS discussions on equivalence and will further the development of FSIS equivalence policies for imported meat and poultry products. FSIS intends to publish equivalence policies for public review and comment in the spring of 1998. The Agency will subsequently hold a public meeting to obtain additional comments on equivalence determinations.

Done at Washington, DC on January 28, 1998.
