Filing of Applications and Related Forms

AGENCY: Social Security Administration (SSA).

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: These final regulations revise our rules relating to the filing of an application for Social Security benefits. They inform the public of the option of filing Internet applications on our Web site for several types of Social Security benefits. These changes explain that we will accept Internet applications completed on our Web site as prescribed applications for filing for Social Security benefits. We have added cross-references to several sections to describe what makes an application a claim for benefits; and we updated the list of related forms with other forms that are currently used in the application process.

EFFECTIVE DATE: These rules are effective on February 5, 2004.

The electronic file of this document is available on the date of publication in the Federal Register at <http://www.gpoaccess.gov/fr/index.html>. It is also available on the Internet site for SSA (i.e., Social Security Online): <http://www.ssa.gov/regulations>.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

An individual must file an application in order to receive benefits under title II of the Social Security Act (the Act). In part 404 of our regulations, we have established rules for filing a claim for old-age, disability, dependents', and survivors' insurance benefits, which define the criteria for determining when an application is a claim for benefits. Similarly, we include the names of places where an application may be filed, and explain what makes an application form acceptable as a claim for benefits. Our rules state that individuals must either sign the application or have someone who can act on their behalf sign for them. Except in limited situations, individuals must be alive at the time the application is filed.

In part 404, we further state that a claim filed with the Railroad Retirement Board on one of its forms for an annuity is an application for title II benefits, unless the individual states otherwise. We state that a claim filed with the Department of Veterans Affairs on one of its forms for survivors' dependency and indemnity compensation is also an application for Social Security dependents' and survivors' benefits (except for the lump sum death payment).

The types of applications currently prescribed by SSA are described in part 422 of our regulations. SSA's application process has evolved from its primary use of the traditional pre-printed application form for claims-taking to SSA employees who input information provided by the applicant into a computer terminal for processing. Computer printouts of the data are generated for the applicant to review the information and to sign the application.

We are committed to providing the public with the option to conduct business electronically by adding more Internet services on SSA's Web site, Social Security Online <http://www.socialsecurity.gov/>.

Toward this objective, we developed an Internet Retirement Insurance Benefit application for national implementation in the fall of 2000. Since then, we have expanded Internet applications to encompass spouses' and disability insurance benefits. Statistics confirm that Internet usage has increased among older Americans, and as a result they have requested that more online services be made available to them. Internet applications for other benefits categories will be available in the future. As applications become available on our Web site, an explanation of our approved signature method for the application will be incorporated as part of the Internet application process. In the interim, individuals who use the Internet application process must physically sign the printed application and submit it to us.

The main purpose for these revisions is to inform the public of the option of filing an Internet application on our Web site for several types of Social Security benefits. These revisions include updating the list of related forms in section 422.505(b) to reflect only those forms that are currently in use in the application process. These revisions add cross-references to related sections to ensure that all necessary information for filing an application is available to the public. Finally, the revisions make the regulations more readable, thus enabling the public to better understand the contents of the sections.

The following is a summary of the revisions and our reasons for the changes.

Explanation of Revisions

We have changed the language in section 404.610 for clarity. We added a cross-reference in section 404.610(a) to related section 422.505(a), which explains the types of prescribed applications to be used by the public when filing for Social Security benefits. In section 404.611, we changed the heading as part of reformatting the section. In addition we added a cross-reference in section 404.611(a) to related section 422.505(a), which, as noted above, explains the types of prescribed applications. We also revised the caption in section 404.611(b) as part of the new format and revised the text to make the section clearer. Similarly, in section 404.611(c) we changed the caption and the text as part of the format change. We changed the heading in section 422.505 and the language in section 422.505(a) to make the contents of the section clearer. We also have changed section 422.505(a) to include language to state that Internet applications on SSA's Web site are prescribed applications. In section 422.505(b) we changed the list of related forms to delete the forms that are obsolete and to add forms that are currently in use. We also updated the titles of several forms.

Public Comments

We published a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) on August 17, 2001 (66 FR 43136), and provided a 60-day comment period on the NPRM. The only comment concerned the subject of electronic filing. The comment stated that "it was about time." This comment was supportive of our proposed changes. Accordingly, we are publishing these changes as indicated in the NPRM except we:

- Clarified in § 422.505(a) that an applicant must sign a hard paper copy.
- Added SSA-783 to § 422.505(b).

This form was inadvertently omitted from the NPRM.

- Deleted SSA-1323 from § 422.505(b). This form has been obsoleted.
- Made minor editorial changes.

Regulatory Procedures

Executive Order 12866, as Amended by Executive Order 13258

We have consulted with the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and determined that these final rules do not meet the criteria for a significant regulatory action under E.O. 12866, as amended by E.O. 13258. Thus, they were not subject to OMB review.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

We certify that these final rules will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because they affect only individuals. Thus, a regulatory flexibility analysis as provided in the Regulatory Flexibility Act, as amended, is not required.

Paperwork Reduction Act

These final rules contain reporting requirements in sections 404.610, 404.611, and 422.505. The public reporting burden is accounted in the Information Collection Request for the various forms that the public uses to submit the information to us. Consequently, a 1-hour placeholder burden is being assigned to the specific reporting requirements contained in these rules. We are seeking clearance of the burdens referenced in these rules because they were not considered during publication; these burdens will not be effective until cleared by the OMB. We are soliciting comments on the burden estimate; the need for the information; its practical utility; ways to enhance its quality, utility, and clarity; and ways to minimize the burden on respondents, including the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology. We will publish a notice in the Federal Register upon OMB approval of the information collection requirement(s). Comments should be submitted to the OMB desk officer for SSA within 30 days of publication of these final rules at the following address: Office of Management and Budget, Attn: Desk Officer for SSA, New Executive Office Building, Room 10235, 725 17th Street, NW., Washington, DC 20503.
