originating from C2 market-makers than for those originating from all other origins (except Public Customers) is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because C2 market-makers have affirmative obligations (such as quoting) to the Exchange that other market participants do not have. Further, assessing different complex order fee amounts to different types of market participants in connection with complex order executions. Finally, assessing different fee levels based on order origin type is a longstanding practice in the options market.

The Exchange believes that the complex order fees being assessed to C2 market-makers are equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because the same fees would be assessed uniformly to all C2 market-makers. The Exchange also believes that the fees being assessed to complex orders entered by all origins other than public customers and C2 market-makers are equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because the same fees would be assessed to all complex orders entered from origins other than public customers and C2 market-makers.

The Exchange believes that, with respect to complex orders, assessing a fee of $0.00 for trades on the open is reasonable because it is in line with the fee assessed for straight one-sided trades on the open and is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because the same fee is assessed to all market participants.

Finally, the Exchange believes that amending Section 1A of the Fees Schedule to clarify that the section applies to straight one-sided orders (as opposed to complex orders) furthers the objectives of Section 6(b)(5) of the Act, in that it is designed to avoid investor confusion, thereby removing impediments to and perfecting the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system. The Exchange operates in a highly competitive market comprised in which [sic] sophisticated and knowledgeable market participants readily can, and do, send order flow to competing exchanges if they deem fee levels at a particular exchange to be excessive. The Exchange believes that the proposed complex order fees it assesses must be competitive with fees assessed on other options exchanges. The Exchange believes that this competitive marketplace impacts the fees present on the Exchange today and influences the proposals set forth above.
