[FR Doc. 2013–26518 Filed 11–5–13; 8:45 am]
BILLING CODE 4310–55–P

Pursuant to the authority of the Lacey Act (18 U.S.C. 42), the United States Department of the Interior (Department) is proposing to extend the in-force depredation order for coyotes (Canis latrans) in the State of Wyoming. The order, which is in effect from October 1, 2013, through October 31, 2013, was issued under the authority of the Lacey Act to address coyote depredation of livestock.

On October 3, 2013, the Secretary of the Interior issued an order (Lacey Act Order No. 2013–05) that listed coyotes (Canis latrans) as a species that are injurious to the interests of the United States, and authorized the Secretary to prohibit the possession or importation of any animal or plant deemed to be and prescribed by regulation to be injurious to:

- Human beings;
- The interests of agriculture, horticulture, and forestry; or
- Wildlife or the wildlife resources of the United States.

The Department of the Interior is charged with enforcement of this Act. The Act and regulations at 50 CFR parts 16 and 18 allow for the importation of animals classified as injurious if specific criteria are met. To effectively carry out responsibilities and protect the aquatic resources of the United States, we must gather information on the animals being imported with regard to their source, destination, and health status. It is imperative that we ensure the qualifications of those individuals who provide the fish health data and sign the health certificate upon which we base our decision to allow importation.

We use three forms to collect this information:

1. FWS Form 3–2273 (Title 50 Certification Official Form). New applicants and those seeking recertification as a title 50 certifying official provide information so that we can assess their qualifications.

2. FWS Form 3–2274 (U.S. Title 50 Certification Form). Certifying officials use this form or their own health certificate to affirm the health status of the fish or their reproductive products to be imported.

3. FWS Form 3–2275 (Title 50 Importation Request Form). We use the information on this form to ensure the safety of the shipment and to track and control importations.
