U.S. Department of Justice

Office of Legislative Affairs

Office of the Assistant Attorney General

Washington, D.C. 20530

September 12, 2010

The Honorable Claire McCaskill
Chairman
The Honorable Orrin G. Hatch
Vice Chairman
Impeachment Trial Committee
United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Madam Chairman and Vice Chairman:

This supplements our previous responses to your letter, dated August 25, 2010, regarding a request by Judge G. Thomas Porteous, Jr., for the Committee's assistance in obtaining materials from the Department of Justice in connection with the Senate impeachment trial proceedings against him.

As you know, the Department has already produced documents responsive to your letter on several occasions, in addition to those we are producing today. While our public disclosure of these records might be prohibited by the Privacy Act, we have provided them to the Committee in response to your request and pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(b)(9). Nonetheless and as we have discussed with your staff, many of these documents implicate significant individual privacy interests and, accordingly, we request that you treat them with appropriate sensitivity. If you would like assistance in redacting particular documents for use in the impeachments proceedings in order to protect those privacy interests, please let us know.

1. The FBI has processed the 302s from our investigations of Judge Porteous, notwithstanding our view that all of those that are relevant to the impeachment proceedings have already been produced. Consistent with our conversations with your staff, the FBI prioritized its efforts by re-processing all 302s of individuals who have been identified by the parties as witnesses in the impeachment proceedings, none of whom asked the FBI to protect the confidentiality of their interviews, and those 79 pages were produced to you on September 10, 2010. An additional 103 pages were produced to you on September 11, 2010, and an additional 147 pages have been produced to you today.
2. As you know from our letter, dated June 25, 2009, to House Judiciary Committee Chairman Conyers, the 309 pages of documents we produced pertaining to the Senate confirmation of Judge Porteous bear very limited redactions of personal information.

002005

The Honorable Claire McCaskill

such as phone numbers, social security numbers, and the names of law enforcement personnel, as well as text that would identify individuals who specifically asked the FBI to protect their identities. These redactions are consistent with the FBI's long-standing practice of protecting the identities of individuals who provide information to the Bureau based upon an express promise of confidentiality. Disclosure of information that would reveal their identities also would discourage such individuals from cooperating with our law enforcement efforts in the future. We have reviewed these documents to restore other text and seven pages of reprocessed documents have been delivered to your today. If you believe there is particular information in a specific redaction that you consider to be necessary to the impeachments proceedings, please let us know.

3. As you know, the individual whose interview is set forth in the document labeled PORT000000721 notified the FBI that he no longer wanted the FBI to protect his identity and an unredacted version of that document was produced to the Committee in pdf format on September 9, 2010.
4. In response to your request, a revised version of the FBI 302, dated December 18, 2002, regarding the interview of Mr. Norman Stotts, which contained more limited redactions was produced to the Committee on September 3, 2010. While the document still bears very limited redactions of information that implicates individual privacy interests, text reporting Mr. Stotts' comments about the Marcottes has been largely restored because we understand that they are listed as witnesses in the pending impeachment proceedings. We do not believe that the remaining, minimal redactions will interfere in any meaningful way with a clear understanding of Mr. Stotts' statements during this interview. Please let us know if you need additional information about it.
5. The FBI reviewed again the documents from this 22 page collection, pertaining to Judge Porteous's compliance with a bankruptcy order and, as a result, two additional pages have been delivered to the Committee today. These reprocessed pages bear very limited redactions of non-substantive information, namely the file number and the identity of a law enforcement officer. There were minimal redactions in the versions of some of the remaining documents in this collection, which we provided to the House Judiciary Committee on October 23, 2009. The FBI has advised that no additional text can be provided from the remaining documents without revealing the identity of an individual whose cooperation with the FBI was based upon an express promise of confidentiality.
6. The Department has substantial confidentiality interests in its internal memoranda pertaining to decisions about whether or not to seek indictments or otherwise undertake criminal proceedings. The confidentiality of these documents is important to fostering the candid internal debate that we believe is essential to sound prosecutorial decision-making. Moreover, information about the rationale for the Department's decision not to prosecute Judge Porteous is set forth in our letter, dated May 18, 2007, to Chief Judge Edith H. Jones of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, a copy of which has been provided to the Committee and to Judge Porteous. In fact, we believe that all of the factual information developed in our investigations of Judge Porteous has been made available to him.

We also note the disclosure of this type of document in the Nixon impeachment proceedings twenty-one years ago was made under very different circumstances. Unlike Judge Porteous, Judge Nixon was prosecuted and convicted. The impeachment proceedings flowed directly from that successful prosecution, and the Senate Impeachment Committee decided that it would hear evidence on Judge Nixon's claim that the Department's "investigations were conducted in a manner intended to mislead a court or trier of fact as to Judge Nixon's guilt or innocence." Letter to John C. Keeney, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division, Department of Justice from Senator Wyche Fowler, Jr., Chairman Senate Impeachment Committee (July 18, 1989). No such allegations have been or could be made in this matter since the Department never prosecuted Judge Porteous.

Moreover, the Department has produced extensive records relating to its investigation of Judge Porteous, even including grand jury materials, which Senator Fowler specifically excluded from his request. As a result, the Committee and the parties have a comprehensive factual record with which to evaluate Judge Porteous's conduct and the Articles of Impeachment pending against him. The burden of proving a criminal case beyond a reasonable doubt to a unanimous jury also distinguishes the Department's decision from the matters pending before the Senate in this trial, where a different standard applies. Accordingly, the Department's internal deliberative documents regarding whether or not to prosecute Judge Porteous have no bearing on the Senate proceedings and, consistent with our significant confidentiality interests and long-standing policy, we must respectfully decline to produce them.

7. Please see our response to item 6 above.
8. We believe that all of the Grand Jury transcripts have been produced pursuant to orders obtained by the Department or the House Judiciary Committee (House Committee). The order obtained by the House Committee authorized us to disclose transcripts only to that Committee, but it did not impose any limitations that would prohibit the Committee's disclosure of the transcripts to Judge Porteous or to the Senate. While we are advised by the House Committee that these materials have been previously provided to you and Judge Porteous, we obtained an Order, dated September 3, 2010, in response to your request, which authorized our disclosure to you of the same transcripts for use in the impeachment proceedings. Please see our letters to you, dated September 7, 2010 and September 10, 2010, regarding these matters. We have identified only one transcript from the Department's investigation of Judge Porteous that was not included on your list: it is the transcript of Debra Mull, dated June 30, 2006. That document, which totaled 128 pages, was provided to you on September 10, 2010.

The Honorable Claire McCaskill

9. As we have previously advised your staff, the FBI has advised that there were no 302s generated for Robert Rees or Bruce Netterville in either the Wrinkled Robe or Judge Porteous investigations.
10. On September 7, 2010, we provided you with an unredacted version of the Affidavit in Support of the Title III wiretap interception application, dated August 27, 2001, and the related Court order in the Wrinkled Robe investigation. As you know, we provided these documents in accordance with the court orders that we obtained, in response to the Committee's request, which modify pre-existing orders sealing these documents. The terms of the modifying orders, which are themselves under seal and dated September 3, 2010, are set forth in our letters to the Committee, dated September 7, September 8, and September 10, 2010.

Judge Porteous was not the subject or target of any Title III wiretap in the Wrinkled Robe investigation and the redacted versions of these materials include all sections relating to Judge Porteous as well as a significant additional portion of materials that place Bail Bonds Unlimited's corrupt scheme to "split" bonds in context. The remaining sections of the affidavit are unrelated to Judge Porteous and, instead, pertain to conduct of other individuals that occurred years after Judge Porteous left the state bench. These individuals, including numerous public officials, were investigated but not prosecuted due to the insufficiency of the evidence and some of them may not be aware that they were within the purview of this investigation. In our view, the unredacted versions of these documents implicate significant privacy and due process interests of these individuals. Consequently, and separate and a part from the terms of the court orders of September 3, 2010, we request that the Committee use redacted versions of these materials in the public proceedings to the extent consistent with the fairness to all parties. We are available to confer further with staff if that would be helpful.

11. Please see our response to item 10 above.
12. The Department has produced grand jury materials responsive to this item, as well as those responsive to items 13 - 19, pursuant to an Order, dated August 5, 2009, which permitted us to disclose them to "authorized personnel of the House of Representatives who are working on the impeachment inquiry of Judge G. Thomas

The Honorable Claire McCaskill

Porteous, Jr." In addition and in response to your request, we obtained a court order, dated September 3, 2010, authorizing our disclosure of materials responsive to this item, as well as those responsive to items 13 -19, and those materials were provided to the Committee with our letters, dated September 7, and September 8, 2010, in addition to our letter, dated September 10, 2010, which clarified the pertinent court order.

13. Please see our response to item 12 above.
14. Please see our response to item 12 above.

16. Please see our response to item 12 above.
17. Please also see our response to item 12 above.
18. Please see our response to item 12 above.
19. Please see our response to item 12 above.

We hope this information is helpful. Please do not hesitate to contact this office if we may provide additional assistance regarding this, or any other matter.

Ronald Weich

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of transcription 06/18/2004

GREG GUIDRY, 24th Judicial District Court Judge, Division E, Parish of Jefferson, Gretna, Louisiana, was interviewed regarding a lawsuit filed in his court entitled Bail Bonds Unlimited Inc. v. Mathew Dennis et al., (BBU v. DENNIS). GUIDRY was advised of the identity of the interviewing agents and the purpose of the interview. Judge GUIDRY then furnished the following information:

The first time Judge GUIDRY met Judge THOMAS PORTEOUS was when PORTEOUS was appointed to the Federal Bench. At the time Judge GUIDRY was an Assistant United States Attorney, for the Eastern District of Louisiana. As a result, Judge GUIDRY litigated matters before Judge PORTEOUS. Occasionally, Judge GUIDRY sees Judge PORTEOUS at different social functions.

Judge GUIDRY remembered the BBU v. DENNIS lawsuit filed in his court. GARY BIZAL represented the defendant's while KEN BECK represented BAIL BONDS UNLIMITED (BBU).

Judge GUIDRY granted the motion for a temporary restraining order on June 13, 2001 and set a hearing date for either June or July 2001. Judge GUIDRY believed the case was settled because after the temporary restraining order he did not hear from the parties.

Judge PORTEOUS never contacted Judge GUIDRY regarding the BBU v. DENNIS lawsuit. In fact, no one has contacted Judge GUIDRY regarding the lawsuit.

After reviewing a facsimile from BBU to Judge PORTEOUS regarding the BBU v. DENNIS litigation, Judge GUIDRY could not provide a legitimate reason for Judge PORTEOUS' review of documents regarding the BBU v. DENNIS litigation.
