

EXTENSION OF REMARKS

TRIBUTE TO THOMAS J. CARNEY
AND ROSEMARY DURKIN

HON. JAMES A. TRAFICANT, JR.

OF OHIO
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, March 15, 1993

Mr. TRAFICANT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to two very active members of my district: Thomas J. Carney and Rosemary Durkin.

Mr. Speaker, on Wednesday, March 17, Mr. Carney and Ms. Durkin will be honored by the Ancient Order of Hibernians as the Irish Man and Woman of the Year. It is no surprise to me, however, these two prestigious individuals have demonstrated their unparalleled leadership and integrity throughout their respective careers. More importantly, their service to the community has been gracious and selfless.

Ms. Durkin is a political mainstay in Mahoning County. She was elected clerk of courts in 1975 and has since developed numerous political and professional relationships with officials on the Federal, State, and local levels. Most importantly, Ms. Durkin has redefined the role of the clerk, with the Supreme Court of Ohio consistently upholding her views on what the position should entail. She now prepares to serve her fourth term.

As mentioned, Mr. Speaker, Ms. Durkin is also deeply involved with the community. She is a member of St. Edward's Church, the Mahoning County Federation of Democratic Women, and the Ohio Association of Municipal Court Clerks. She has been chairman for the door-to-door canvas for the American Cancer Association and has been honored as both the John F. Kennedy Democratic Club and the Truman-Johnson Democratic Women's Club Woman of the Year.

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Carney was born and raised in Youngstown and is now a prominent fixture in the city. He is a graduate of the Air Defense School in Fort Bliss, TX, and served as a guided missile battery commander. He was discharged after 10 years in the 83d Ohio Reserve Infantry Division with a rank of captain.

Mr. Carney then worked his way from serving as a department manager at Sears, Roebuck & Co. to the president of Carney-McNicholas, Inc. Seeking public office, Mr. Carney was elected boardman township trustee, then moved on to be an Ohio State representative. He served in numerous committees and was eventually elected majority whip. He returned to Youngstown after 10 years and has served as the Mahoning County commissioner since 1982.

Mr. Carney is now a member of St. Charles Church and is actively involved in a variety of organizations, including the Youngstown Area Chamber of Commerce and the Mahoning Valley Economic Development Corp.

Mr. Speaker, it brings me great pleasure to rise in honor of these two outstanding individuals. Erin-go-bragh, Mr. Carney and Ms. Durkin.

ARMANDO M. LAGO CONTINUES TO FIGHT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN CUBA

HON. ILEANA ROS-LEHTINEN

OF FLORIDA
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, March 15, 1993

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to bring to the attention of the House and the American public the continuous struggle that Mr. Armando M. Lago has dedicated himself to in denouncing the terrible human rights violations under Castro's Cuba and particularly in focusing on the psychiatric abuse for political purposes.

After 2 years of research, Mr. Lago, along with his coauthor, Charles Brown, have compiled 31 cases of psychiatric abuse of Cuban political dissidents. Their book is titled "Politics of Psychiatry in Revolutionary Cuba" and it exemplifies an extremely higher rate of psychiatric abuses in comparison to other studies of a similar nature performed in the former Soviet Union.

Mr. Lago's study found that 11 dissidents were subjected to electroshock treatments, with some receiving as many as 24 electroshock sessions. Mr. Lago continues to point out that only 11 of the prisoners whom they studied were diagnosed as mentally ill. Three of these prisoners never received any psychiatric diagnosis, and four were found sane but unbelievably, were sent back to the forensic wards.

Incredibly, one prisoner was diagnosed as apathetic to socialism, and another was diagnosed as suffering from delusions of being a defender of human rights. In his book, Mr. Lago sites numerous horrible testimonies of human rights abuses such as the use of electroconvulsive therapy which is appropriate for some mental illnesses. However, in Cuba it is routinely used as punishment for dissident acts.

The above mentioned are clearly human rights abuses carried out by an illegitimate government that tolerates and encourages such atrocities to its people. The international community, particularly the U.N. Commission on Human Rights, should be made aware of such outright abuses. They should demand a comprehensive and detailed explanation from the Cuban leaders who are ordering these inflections on innocent people.

It is my pleasure to bring to the public's attention Mr. Lago's effort to bring worldwide attention to this cruel and unjust system.

SCHUYLerville TROOP 13 CELEBRATES
75TH YEAR OF SCOUTING

HON. GERALD B.H. SOLOMON

OF NEW YORK
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, March 15, 1993

Mr. SOLOMON. Mr. Speaker, I've been involved in Scouting for most of my adult life, and few things have given me more satisfaction. Scouting has always been and continues to be an apprenticeship in life, a preparation for citizenship, and a source of our future leaders.

That's why I take pride in bringing to your attention the 75th anniversary of Schuylerville Troop 13, Boy Scouts of America.

Not very long after Scouting was established in America, a Boy Scout troop was established in Schuylerville. It was the first of its kind in the Saratoga District of New York State. In fact, the troop would still be known as Troop 1, had it not been for the fact that its first Scoutmaster was called to serve in World War I.

The troop was rechartered as Troop 13 in 1918. In the 1950's, Old Saratoga Post of the American Legion became Troop 13's sponsor, and continues in that function to this day.

Mr. Speaker, Troop 13 has maintained the highest standards of Scouting envisioned by Robert Baden Powell, the founder of Scouting. The troop is synonymous in the Schuylerville area for selfless service. I would add that those who worry about the direction of this country can take comfort in the continued popularity of Scouting, where the American tradition of community service and moral values survives with undiminished strength.

Mr. Speaker, I know that many other Members of this body are also products of Scouting, and share my high admiration. Therefore, I proudly ask everyone to join me in wishing Troop 13 of Schuylerville, NY, a happy 75th birthday.

THREE MONTGOMERY COUNTY,
MD, STUDENTS AMONG TOP 10 IN WESTINGHOUSE SCIENCE CONTEST

HON. CONSTANCE A. MORELLA

OF MARYLAND
IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Monday, March 15, 1993

Mrs. MORELLA. Mr. Speaker, it is a proud moment for me to pay tribute to Wei-hwa Huang, Steve Shaw-tang Chien, and Elizabeth Dexter Mann on finishing among the top 10 finalists of the prestigious Westinghouse Science Talent Search. The three students are seniors at Montgomery Blair High School in Silver Spring, MD. Wei-hwa Huang finished sixth and won a $15,000 scholarship for a math project involving the puzzle game peg solitaire. Steve Shaw-tang Chien placed eighth and earned $10,000 for devising a winning strategy for a mathematical game. Elizabeth Mann placed ninth and also won $10,000 for a project in which the goal was to reduce the amount of time it takes a supercomputer to solve a problem.

Montgomery Blair is a math, science, and computer science magnet high school drawing students from every corner of Montgomery County. The science curriculum at Blair is nontraditional and reverses the usual sequence of subjects. Students take physics in their freshman year, and progress to biology and the Earth Sciences in their senior year. When Blair first became a magnet school in 1986, its reputation was declining. The development of an outstanding science and math magnet program at Blair has brought the school into the national spotlight.

As a former teacher, I applaud the principal and the faculty at Montgomery Blair High School for inspiring three of the top finalists in the Westinghouse contest. The fact that three winners attend the same high school is a testament to the commitment and dedication of the teachers at Montgomery Blair in providing a quality education to a diversity of students.

I congratulate the three finalists for achieving the national recognition they deserve, and I wish the winning combination of students and teachers at Montgomery Blair High School continued success in achieving excellence in math and science education.

CLINTON'S BROKEN PROMISES

HON. CHRISTOPHER COX

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 15, 1993

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, recently, one of my constituents wrote a splendid letter about President Bill Clinton's broken campaign promises. Because it reflects so well the fact that the real cause of the Federal Government's budget problem is not insufficient taxation but, rather, unrestrained spending, I set it forth for the RECORD.

LAGUNA BEACH, CA.

February 2, 1993.

DEAR CONGRESSMAN COX: Normally, I don't take the initiative to write to anyone, but when I saw Bill Clinton on the news this morning, telling the Governors Conference that he likes stirring up controversy and is "having fun", after all the campaign promises he has already broken and the things he has done in his first two weeks as President, I decided that I should voice my opinion, in the hopes that something can be done for those 60% of us who did not vote for him.

As a member of a middle class family that has already been sacrificing, I resent the fact that this man is asking the middle class to sacrifice more. No one would mind paying more taxes if they would really go towards making our country a better place for all Americans, but clearly Clinton does not care about all Americans, he only cares about the Liberal Americans and how to make the U.S. a better place for them. His proposal on taxing the rich (those that make a combined income of $150,000) more, is absolutely frightening. Actually, all of his proposals so far are frightening. The "rich" as he calls them, are the middle class in most of the cities in the U.S., and we are already being taxed too much. Why should the people who have worked hard in order to achieve a better life for themselves and their families be punished in favor of those individuals who have chosen an easier way. Why doesn't he ask the millions of free-loaders who are on government entitlements to sacrifice a little. That might help the deficit a bit. I wonder, has the thought "Stop Government Spending" ever occurred to a Democrat!

I only hope that there are enough Republicans and responsible Democrats to put the reins on Bill and Hillary Rodham Clinton. Please tell me that there are. We need all the hope and encouragement we can get in the next four years.

Respectfully,

DIANE M. BRIDGES.

IN HONOR OF ANDY AND EDDIE TURNER

HON. GLENN POSHARD

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 15, 1993

Mr. POSHARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to pay tribute to a husband and wife from my district, Andy and Eddie Turner, who on March 17 will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. In this day and age, 50 years of wedded bliss is truly a landmark worthy of celebration, and the Turners are certainly deserving of this recognition.

I have just recently been given the honor of representing the fine people of Clark County, IL, and I have already heard many fine things about the Turner family. Andy and Eddie have been blessed with 6 children and 11 grandchildren, each of whom they have given love, care, and guidance as parents and grandparents. My colleagues in the House will be interested to know that the Turners share our commitment to public service. Andy was a pollwatcher at the tender age of 11, and his passion for and commitment to our political process and the American dream has long endured. Democrats in Clark County know that Andy served them well as their party chairman for 25 years and through 6 national conventions, always with Eddie by his side as they worked together to provide their friends and families good communities which they could call home.

Their commitment to those around them and to each other are shining examples of what is good and right about our Nation. I am honored to know the Turner family and wish them the greatest happiness on this very special day. May we all live such rich and distinguished lives.

COMPEER PROGRAM ANNIVERSARY 1993

HON. LOUISE McINTOSH SLAUGHTER

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 15, 1993

Ms. SLAUGHTER. Mr. Speaker, this year America celebrates the anniversary of a service program that has added a new dimension to the timeless concept of friendship. The Compeer Program, which originated in my home district of Rochester, NY, is celebrating the 20th anniversary of its existence in Rochester and its 10th anniversary nationwide.

Begun as an Adopt-a-Patient program at the Rochester Psychiatric Center in 1973, Compeer matches caring, sensitive, and trained volunteers to those who are isolated, lonely, or who, because of mental illness, experience difficulty in coping. Compeer is based on the concept that, through the sharing of friendship with clients, volunteers can offset the sometimes systemized isolation and loneliness of the mentally ill, and relieve families of their continuous focus on care.

In the past, the mentally ill have been discharged into communities where, in theory, they would lead richer, more productive lives than they would in institutions. The reality proves otherwise. People who suffer from illness, who are living both in and out of hospitals, suffer from isolation and loneliness. The majority lack a support system of either friends or family.

Compeer has helped to change this. A unique partnership between volunteer, client, therapist, and Compeer staff has enabled hundreds to become fully integrated into society as mentally and emotionally healthy individuals. In an era of health care cost containment, decreased funding for mental illness, skyrocketing costs of psychiatric hospitalizations, and deteriorating traditional support systems, Compeer addresses a national problem by providing cost-effective utilization of volunteers as an adjunct to therapy. Compeer has made a tremendous difference in our country—fostering and nurturing new friendships, filling the gaps of loneliness, and building bridges of understanding and hope.

Over the past 20 years, the Rochester Compeer Program, which serves as a trainer and consultant to new programs, has grown from 12 volunteers to nearly 750 volunteers, serving 1,150 clients in 1992 in the Rochester community alone. Both new and existing programs make up a nationwide network, with 115 Compeer affiliates located in 33 States, and new programs established in The Netherlands and Canada. Last year over 3,500 volunteers nationwide donated 254,800 hours of service.

For their selfless and tireless efforts, Compeer executive director Bernice Skirboll and staff deserve our most sincere gratitude and whole-hearted praise. I ask my colleagues to join me on this anniversary of the Compeer program, in congratulating the volunteers, clients, therapists, and staff of Compeer for their splendid accomplishments.

TRIBUTE TO ARTHUR D. STROUD III

HON. JAMES A. TRAFICANT, JR.

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 15, 1993

Mr. TRAFICANT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a young man who has demonstrated superhuman courage. I rise to the honor of 14-year-old Arthur D. Stroud III, a citizen of my district.

Mr. Speaker, Arthur was home with his 3-year-old sister Claire when a horrible fire struck his family home. Upon smelling smoke, he rushed to his sister asleep in her room. Clutching her in his arms, he fought flames screaming across ceilings and walls. Unabated, he kept low to the ground, choking on smoke and fighting back the fires that scalded his chest, back, face, arms, and shoulders. He escaped with first- and second-degree burns. Claire was uninjured.

Mr. Speaker, they say there are no more heroes. I take exception to this, as Arthur has demonstrated the courage and selflessness to merit unlimited praise and adulation.

Mr. Speaker, I thank him for his act of bravery. I am proud to call him a citizen of my district.

TRIBUTE TO CHARLES A.
WILKINSON

HON. BOB CARR

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 15, 1993

Mr. CARR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Charlie A. Wilkinson, a very special man. I have the good fortune to be the representative for the city of Hartland. As such, it is my distinct honor to bring to your attention the achievements of my constituents.

Charlie has been an active firefighter with Hartland Township for over 50 years. He is 84 years old, yet still participates in the day-to-day affairs of the department. His length of service makes him the second longest active firefighter in the State of Michigan. It is rare these days for an individual to stay in the same profession for 50 years, let alone one as demanding as firefighting. Charlie's dedication should be both admired and emulated.

As well as contributing to the community through the fire department, Charlie is involved in a wide variety of community services. He has served on the Livingston County Salvation Army Board and is a charter member of the area Audubon Society. He has been involved in the Boy Scouts for over 30 years and is a recipient of the Silver Beaver Award, which is scouting's highest civilian honor. The accolades he has received from his community deserve a similar response from this Congress, who could take a valuable lesson from his wholehearted spirit of service.

TOWN OF HARTFORD, NEW YORK,
CELEBRATES 200TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. GERALD B.H. SOLOMON

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 15, 1993

Mr. SOLOMON. Mr. Speaker, you'll forgive me if I do a little bragging, but I am extraordinarily proud of the historical heritage of the 22d Congressional District of New York.

Tomorrow, one of the most delightful towns in our district, the Washington County town of Hartford, will celebrate its 200th anniversary.

Mr. Speaker, you and other Members can consider this a standing invitation to visit Hartford at any time to catch a glimpse of the quiet beauty of smalltown life in rural America. It's an area of small farms and dignified hamlets that reflect the values that made this country great.

I'm speaking of the spirit of helping one's neighbor, hard work, and thrift; the values that carved a great nation out of the wilderness of a new continent.

The people of Hartford tend to be moderately conservative, not in the ideological sense, but in the sense of preserving those values where they work, live, worship, and educate their children.

Mr. Speaker, the town of Hartford is one of the reasons I go home every weekend.

Please join me, then, in congratulating the people and town of Hartford, NY, for exemplifying the best of smalltown America for 200 years.

TRIBUTE TO ALBERT E. BRUCHAC

HON. THOMAS J. MANTON

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 15, 1993

Mr. MANTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to pay tribute tonight to Mr. Albert E. Bruchac, who is stepping down as the executive director of the Queens County Chamber of Commerce.

Al has lived and worked in Queens for more than 48 years. He and his wife of 50 years, Pat, have two children, Chip and Mary, and four grandchildren.

Al joined the staff of the Queens Chamber of Commerce in 1970 as director of membership services. He then served as the director of business development in 1973, and later as the secretary to building awards committee, borough planning, aviation, transit, and foreign trade. In 1979, he served as the assistant to the vice president of the chamber and was named to the post of executive vice president in 1981. Mr. Bruchac was self-employed in the private sector.

Mr. Bruchac gave the best of himself in other areas in the community as well. He was the president of the Queensborough Rotary Club and served for some time as the district area Aide of Rotary International. In addition, he was a member of the board of directors for the Long Island City YMCA for over 40 years. During this period he served as capital campaign chairman and raised $300,000 to give the Long Island City YMCA its very first home on 27th Street. He also served prominently as chairman of the board.

Al was the past national director and national president of the 9th Infantry Division Association. He honorably served in World War II as a major and battalion commander with campaigns in Africa, Sicily, France, and Germany. His war record was of commendable distinction.

Al Bruchac has long served all causes in Queens County. We salute him today and say thank you for the many services he has selflessly performed on behalf of others.

CONSUMER BILL OF RIGHTS DAY

HON. HENRY A. WAXMAN

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 15, 1993

Mr. WAXMAN. Mr. Speaker, 31 years ago, on March 15, 1962, President John F. Kennedy submitted to Congress the first Presidential message ever to be devoted to consumer issues. In that significant document, he declared the consumer's basic rights to safety, to choice, to be informed, and to be heard. Out of that Presidential message came some of the greatest advances in consumer protection that this country had enjoyed since passage of the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act of 1935. Among the legislative proposals President Kennedy made, and which Congress adopted in the wake of his message, were:

The Kefauver-Harris Drug Safety Act of 1962;

The Truth in Packaging Act of 1964;
The Consumer Credit Protection Act (Truth in Lending) of 1968;

The Medical Devices Act; and The Intrastate Meat Inspection Act.

Other consumer protections advanced by President Kennedy in that historic message were written into Government agency regulations, including a requirement that all television sets sold in the United States must provide for the reception of ultra-high frequency [UHF] channels as well as VHF channels 2 through 13. This change was a liberating breakthrough for public television stations, which had been relegated mostly to UHF channels requiring special, relatively expensive, supplemental receiving equipment.

Many nations throughout the world now observe March 15 as a national consumer day, dedicating their citizens and public officials to further efforts that will protect consumers and further the environment, in the spirit of the Kennedy message. However, the U.S. Government does not formally recognize this significant anniversary. As the beneficiaries of President Kennedy's forward-looking consumer message of 1962, we should certainly provide an annual, official American observance of an event which has had such a profound influence on the equality of American life. I hope that President Clinton will issue a proclamation designating each March 15 as National Consumer Bill of Rights Day.

TRIBUTE TO DONALD D. EPLEY

HON. BOB CARR

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 15, 1993

Mr. CARR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Donald Epley, a truly extraordinary man. I have the good fortune to be the Representative for the city of Hartland. As such, it is my distinct honor to bring to your attention the achievements of one of my constituents.

Donald is an active firefighter as well as an eager participant in a wide variety of community activities. The starting part is that he is 87 years old. Donald has been involved with the Hartland Fire Department since 1927 and his 65-plus years of service make him the longest active firefighter in the State of Michigan and, quite possibly, the entire country.

Donald's list of community achievements is as diverse as it is large. He has been president of the Hartland Area Community Council, president of the local school board, and a trustee of the McPherson Community Health Center. He has also worked with the Hartland Boy Scouts for over 40 years and was given the Silver Beaver Award, Scouting's highest civilian honor. But more significant than his list of official achievements is the spirit of community service that he represents. His legendary willingness to help individual community members and the area as a whole is what makes Donald deserving of our recognition. The spirit of service he actively portrays is something of which we see far too little in our day and age, and we would all do well to heed the shining example that Donald has given us.

TRIBUTE TO JAMES R. DUBY, SR.

HON. JAMES A. TRAFICANT, JR.

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, March 15, 1993

Mr. TRAFICANT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Mr. James R. Duby, Sr., the Mahoning Valley Gaelic Society's Senior Gael of the Year.

In his 62 years as a resident of Boardman, OH, Mr. Duby has established himself as both a consummate professional and an upstanding gentleman.

Mr. Duby received his B.E. in mechanical engineering from Youngstown State University and consistently has excelled in his field. After holding various engineering positions at Good-year Aircraft, U.S. Steel, and RMI Titanium, he retired last year for RMI as the supervisor of mechanical design. He is currently a registered professional engineer with the State of Ohio.

Mr. Speaker, in addition to his professional accomplishments, Mr. Duby has been active in his community. He is a life member and former board member of the Mahoning Valley Management Association, a member of St. Dominic's Church and a long time member of the Gaelic Society. In the society, he served as trustee for several years and also as a motivator and consensus builder in numerous committees.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud of Mr. Duby and his accomplishments. His honor of Senior Gael of the Year is well deserved. I join the Gaelic Society in their praise of this fine individual.

SENATE COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Title IV of Senate Resolution 4, agreed to by the Senate on February 4, 1977, calls for establishment of a system for a computerized schedule of all meetings and hearings of Senate committees, subcommittees, joint committees, and committees of conference. This title requires all such committees to notify the Office of the Senate Daily Digest—designated by the Rules Committee—of the time, place, and purpose of the meetings, when scheduled, and any cancellations or changes in the meetings as they occur.

As an additional procedure along with the computerization of this information, the Office of the Senate Daily Digest will prepare this information for printing in the Extensions of Remarks section of the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD on Monday and Wednesday of each week.

Meetings scheduled for Tuesday, March 16, 1993, may be found in the Daily Digest of today's RECORD.
