

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES—Tuesday, May 18, 1993

The House met at 12 noon.

The Chaplain, Rev. James David Ford, D.D., offered the following prayer:

We pray today for the gifts of peace and harmony in our lives and among the people of our world. O gracious God, who would have us live together in understanding and respect, we pray these words of petition that swords will be beat into plowshares and the spears into pruning hooks and that nation will not lift up sword against nation and we will not learn war any more. We earnestly pray for the peacemakers from every place that their good work will ease the day of war and let all people enjoy the fruits of justice and freedom. Amen.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER. The Chair has examined the Journal of the last day's proceedings and announces to the House his approval thereof.

Pursuant to clause 1, rule I, the Journal stands approved.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Michigan [Mr. KNOLLENBERG] come forward and lead the House in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mr. KNOLLENBERG led the Pledge of Allegiance as follows:

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

A message from the Senate by Mr. Hallen, one of its clerks, announced that the Senate had passed a bill of the following title, in which the concurrence of the House is requested:

S. 714. An act to provide funding for the resolution of failed savings associations, and for other purposes.

CROCODILE TEARS

(Mr. OBEY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. OBEY. Mr. Speaker, before 1980, this country had never seen a deficit larger than $74 billion. Then in the eighties the Reagan-Bush policies caused that deficit to explode from $70 to almost $300 billion, as this chart demonstrates.

Now President Clinton is producing a deficit reduction package which would cut $500 billion off that deficit over the next 4 years and cut that deficit by one-third, but the same people who brought us the mess are now saying, "Oh, it's not perfect. Oh, the mix isn't right. Oh, you have to do more."

I would suggest that the same people whose tax policies allowed the richest 1 percent of people in this country to double their income to $600,000 apiece are now crying crocodile tears because the President's package raises 75 percent of the new revenues from persons who make more than $100,000 a year.

You have got the same old boys singing the same old tune and giving us the same old free lunch answers. We have tried it their way. It is time for them to get real. It is time for them to get off the President's back and let him begin to try to clean up the mess which their policies over the last 12 years have created.

HE MAY RUN, BUT HE CANNOT HIDE

(Mr. BALLENGER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BALLENGER. Mr. Speaker, burdened by his falling popularity, President Clinton has taken his show on the road. Yesterday, he was in San Diego and New Mexico, selling his program for new debt, new taxes, and new spending.

But the President has a big problem—a credibility problem. After 5 months of hearing Bill Clinton call taxes patriotism, and spending investment and watching him retreat from campaign promises like a gazelle from lions, the American people are no longer content to hear what he says. They are watching what he does, and finding that what he says and what he does rarely match.

Today, he says Washington is the problem, that Washington is keeping him from changing the country. But the fact is, Bill Clinton and the Democrats are Washington. And he cannot run from that.

Bill Clinton may run across the country. But he cannot hide from his new taxes, his old-style social welfare programs, or his broken promises.

A FAIR, BALANCED RECONCILIATION BILL

(Mr. FROST asked and was given permission to address the House for 1

minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. FROST. Mr. Speaker, there is one thing that never changes in politics. Doing nothing is always the easy way out. If you take chances and really try to bring about fundamental change, you will be criticized.

There is no better example of this political truism than the administration of our new President, Bill Clinton.

President Clinton has taken bold action to bring the Federal deficit under control. He has proposed a balanced plan of spending cuts and tax increases that really will start the deficit on a downward path after 12 years of inaction by the Reagan and Bush administrations. And surprise, he is being vilified for his efforts.

In less than 2 weeks, this House will have the opportunity to pass an essential part of the President's deficit reduction plan, budget reconciliation. The reconciliation bill that is emerging from the House is a fair one. It requires 6 percent of American families, those earning more than $100,000 a year, to pay 75 percent of the increases in taxes.

It creates a deficit reduction trust fund that locks up $496 billion in deficit reduction and throws away the key. This money must go for deficit reduction.

It makes real spending cuts in 200 programs. Naturally, much of this is controversial and is drawing fire.

But at least this President has a program. It's now up to us to make sure his program becomes reality and that the American people get the deficit reduction they are demanding.

REPUBLICANS WANT A BIPARTISAN TAX POLICY

(Mr. GINGRICH asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GINGRICH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman who preceded me talked about having a program. Let me first point out that the House Republican budget proposal was 84 pages long and cut the deficit by $25 billion more than President Clinton's plan, without a single penny in tax increases.

But the reason I rose today goes directly to the heart of this tax increase bill, the largest tax increase in history.

I am told that a number of folks are saying to their citizens back home: "Well, I'm really against the energy tax, but I probably won't get a chance to vote on it."

□ This symbol represents the time of day during the House proceedings, e.g., □ 1407 is 2:07 p.m.

Matter set in this typeface indicates words inserted or appended, rather than spoken, by a Member of the House on the floor.

"I'm really against the senior citizen tax, but I won't get a chance to vote on it.

"I'm really against the restaurant tax, but I won't get a chance to vote on it."

I just want to say, I believe on behalf of the Republican side that we would like to work on a bipartisan basis with every Democrat who would like to make in order an amendment so that together we could bring to the floor a rule which allows every citizen to see on every tax how, in fact, this House would vote.

There is no reason to hide behind being afraid to let the American people see how you stand on each of these taxes, and on a bipartisan basis I believe 176 Republicans would vote for a bipartisan rule to make in order those amendments.

THE CLINTON ECONOMIC PLAN— REAL CUTS, REAL CHANGE, AND REAL PROGRESS

(Mr. DERRICK asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DERRICK. Mr. Speaker, the Republicans are at it again.

Last week, the minority in the other body offered their own jobs bill known as the real jobs for America plan.

A GOP jobs bill. Get Real.

As useless as a one-legged stool, the Republican plan offers nothing for working American families: no job creation, no deficit reduction, and no Government reform.

The only thing the Republican plan does is to serve up tax loopholes for the same rich people who benefited from the Reagan-Bush smoke and mirrors policy of the eighties.

In contrast, President Clinton has submitted the only real economic package. It contains 200 genuine spending cuts as well as hundreds of thousands of new jobs to propel the economy into a higher gear.

Bill Clinton's plan incorporates $3 in spending cuts for every new dollar in investments.

These investments will be spent on making our neighborhoods safer, on retraining defense workers, and to launch the national service program.

This program will ensure that a college education is still within the reach of lower and middle-class families.

Mr. Speaker, accept no do-nothing substitutes. The Clinton economic plan—real cuts, real change, and real progress.

FOUR MORE YEARS?

(Mr. LINDER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Speaker, last night, Bill Clinton said he would come up with his middle-class tax cut—if we give him 4 years.

At a town meeting, when a member of the forgotten middle class asked the President about his famous campaign promise, Clinton replied, "Give me 4 years to try to deliver."

Of course, after 4 years of Clintonomics, the only way middle-class taxes could go is down. As the old saying goes, what goes way up, must come down.

Do not be fooled by the President's rhetoric. The tax bite on the middle class will be very painful.

The middle-class energy tax will cost the average family about $500 per year. The Social Security tax will hit senior citizens hard. And worse, these taxes will spur inflation and slow our economic growth even further.

The middle class should not have to wait 4 more years for the President to deliver their middle-class tax.

They should get it now.

PRESIDENT CLINTON FIRST TO CHANGE DIRECTION OF DEFICIT

(Mr. MILLER of California asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, if the House votes next week to support the President's economic package and the reconciliation bill, this President will have done something that no President has done in the past 16 years, and that is reverse the direction of the deficit.

We saw Ronald Reagan say he wanted a balanced budget. He never submitted one and never achieved one.

We saw George Bush say he wanted a balanced budget. He never submitted one and he never achieved one.

They all said they wanted smaller deficits. Under their terms, the deficit never got smaller. It only got larger.

President Bill Clinton will be the first President in the last 12 years to change the direction of the deficit. Under his economic plan the deficit will actually go down. He has removed some $500 billion of deficit over the next 4 years; but what it will require is the courage of this House to support his program, to say no to the special interests, to say yes to taxes because there is no other way to get there.

The President stood here early this year and told that to the American people. He has kept his bargain. He has kept our feet to the fire. He has said "no" to the special interests. He has raised revenues and he has made specific budget cuts.

The moment of truth is arriving. When the smoke clears and we will prevail on behalf of the President, Republicans will be saddled with an old and outdated program which is higher deficits and protecting special interests.

AND PERMIT US TO SPEND MORE

(Mr. DOOLITTLE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DOOLITTLE. Mr. Speaker, now we know why the Democrats went behind closed doors with their tax plan. It adds $322 billion in new taxes over 5 years. It does so with an energy tax that could cost up to 600,000 jobs and $475 per family, and a Social Security tax that slams seniors.

But that is not all. Let me read to you from the front page of last Friday's Washington Post what President Clinton himself had to say about his plan:

I think it will help the economy, bring in more revenues and permit us to spend more.

This admission, not 24 hours after declaring a new trust fund for his new revenues to ensure that they were not—spent.

When the President announced the trust fund, he said, "Credibility is a difficult thing to come by in Washington today."

With performances and promises like this, it is no wonder. The reality is, Mr. Speaker, more taxes will not help the economy. More spending will not reduce the deficit, and more broken promises will not help this administration's credibility.

PRESIDENT CLINTON—WORKING HARD TO GROW THE ECONOMY

(Mr. RICHARDSON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. RICHARDSON. Mr. Speaker, I just returned from New Mexico where I had the honor of accompanying President Clinton at a tour of the Los Alamos National Laboratories. A rally followed and there were 20,000 New Mexicans, mostly young people, enthusiastically cheering the President, and basically sending the message that they are backing the President on his economic plan and his effort to reduce the deficit.

Mr. Speaker, President Clinton is committed to getting the economy going, to helping real Americans earn a decent living, and to build an economy that will serve us today and in the future.

Mr. Speaker, polls are out there saying one thing, that the American people are supporting the President.

They are saying, give him a chance. He represents change. He is taking on the special interests. He has a thoughtful and provocative plan to restore the economy and reduce the deficit.

The President is showing leadership and is demonstrating the courage it takes to do what must be done:

To cut the deficit—in his plan, there are $3 in spending cuts for every new dollar in new investments.

To bring new fairness to the tax system—75 percent of new taxes proposed by the administration effect the top 6 percent—people making over $100,000. In addition, the expansion of the earned income tax credit will benefit families with incomes under $30,000.

Mr. Speaker, the rhetoric from the other side is based in politics, not reality. President Clinton was elected to do a job—and he is doing that job.

BACK IN THE DITCH

(Mr. HASTERT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HASTERT. Mr. Speaker, yesterday, Bill Clinton accused critics of his administration to be "the very people who drove this country in the ditch in the first place."

That is simply not true. Republicans were the ones who got this country out of the ditch that Jimmy Carter drove us in.

Mr. Speaker, you remember the Carter administration, economic malaise, double digit inflation, double digit interest rates, high taxes, and foreign policy disaster.

Then, there was little doubt that our country was in a ditch.

Under Ronald Reagan and George Bush, we had a complete reversal; economic recovery, low inflation, low interest rates, low taxes, and foreign policy triumphs. In the Reagan-Bush era, our country had its share of problems. But it was not headed for the ditch.

Unfortunately, Bill Clinton has spent so much time looking over his shoulder, he does not realize where he is taking the country. And that is right. That tired old campaign truck he is driving is pulling to the left and we are right back in the ditch.

THE BUDGET AND ECONOMIC PLAN

(Mrs. COLLINS of Illinois asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. COLLINS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, sometimes the Republican naysayers in this body remind me of Rip Van Winkle, because when they complain about the President's budget proposals, they sound like they have been asleep for the last 12 years.

As a matter of fact, these Republicans are the same folks who gave us the most unfair and lopsided economic policy in history. As a matter of fact, these are the same folks who gave historic tax cuts to the wealthy and shifted the tax burden to the middle class and the poor. Now we all know that was lopsided. Nowadays, however, they are the ones professing a concern about the middle class because President Clinton wants to right that wrong by taxing the rich more heavily and relieving the burden on the middle class and poor folks. We cannot seem to satisfy them.

Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that my colleagues on the other side of the aisle wake up and realize that America wants a change. That is why they voted for Clinton. They want fairness in our taxing system.

DELIVER ME

(Mr. BOEHNER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BOEHNER. Mr. Speaker, yesterday, President Clinton reiterated his promise to cut taxes on the middle class. He said in response to a question about that famous promise: "Give me 4 years to try to deliver."

He sounds like a lost pizza delivery man who decided to eat the pizza.

Mr. Speaker, the middle class should not have to wait 4 years for their promised tax cut. And they should not have to pay for the privilege of waiting.

But that is exactly what they are going to do. Under the President's economic plan, the middle class will be hit the hardest by the energy tax, the social security tax, and the other hidden taxes passed by the Ways and Means Committee.

These taxes will lead to higher inflation, lower productivity, and more Government spending.

President Clinton has asked us to give him 4 years to deliver. I am beginning to think that the middle class would be better off eating in.

DEFICIT REDUCTION

(Mr. CLYBURN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. CLYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I want to commend President Clinton and congratulate the Ways and Means Committee for their foresight and courage, demonstrated by the budget reconciliation package approved last week.

This legislation represents the largest and most significant deficit reduction plan in history, a total of $343 billion over a 5-year period.

The President's budget will effectively bring to a close an era of borrowing and spending, an era of pseudo leadership and voodoo economics.

I believe, however, we can improve upon this measure by authorizing automatic designation of areas adversely affected by military base closings as empowerment zones and/or enterprise communities.

Such designations will provide economic stimulation and stability to those communities that are most in need.

Now is the time for us to support the President's bold initiatives and the Ways and Means Committee's fiscal responsibility.

They demonstrate the kind of leadership the country voted for, and expects for us to provide.

CLINTON'S STEALTH TAX—THE ENERGY TAX

(Ms. DUNN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, during the Presidential campaign President Clinton promised the middle class a tax cut. Now his program appears to be to actually increase their taxes. One of the tax burdens the middle class must bear is President Clinton's stealth tax, otherwise known as the Btu, or the energy tax.

The energy tax is a stealth tax because its true burden is disguised from American consumers and families. It is a stealth tax because it is easy to increase in the future.

If the energy tax is passed, American families will pay more for their food. The exact cost increase because of the President's energy tax will be hidden from them. Americans will pay more to travel, but again the cost increase due to the energy tax will be hidden from them.

Americans will pay more for consumer goods, but the increase in manufacturing costs due to President Clinton's energy tax will be hidden from them.

Mr. Speaker, considering President Clinton's tax increase track record so far, it is only a matter of time before he introduces the other infamous stealth tax—a national sales tax. I urge my colleagues on the other side of the aisle to vote for their constituents and vote down the energy tax.

TRIBUTE TO J.D. SPELLER AND THE BENJAMIN BANNEKER HONORS MATH AND SCIENCE SOCIETY

(Mr. WYNN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WYNN. Mr. Speaker, I want to take this opportunity to pay tribute to the Benjamin Banneker Honors Math and Science Society, of Montgomery County, MD. It is an example of a privately funded community organization making a positive difference in the lives of African-American youth.

The society was formed just 4 years ago by Joseph D. Speller, a committed parent, who at the time was president of the Benjamin Banneker Middle School PTA, and who was committed to raising the self-esteem and academic achievements among African-American youth, especially in the fields of science and math. What began as a weekly tutoring and role-modeling program has evolved to serve over 150 students from 45 schools in Montgomery County.

An integral and unique aspect of the program is the partnership initiated with the U.S. Naval Academy. Every other Saturday, during the school year, students of the society, accompanied by their parents, travel to the U.S. Naval Academy where over 100 midshipmen enthusiastically volunteer their time to serve as tutors.

Along with the midshipmen, the parents, and the Montgomery County public schools have played an integral role in making this program an unequivocal success with improved grades, high test scores, and admissions to some of the finest universities in the country. Today, I am proud to be one of the congressional sponsors of this fine organization as Mr. Speller, the students, parents, midshipmen, and key members of the Montgomery County public schools have come today to Capitol Hill. The Benjamin Banneker Honors Math and Science Society is truly a magnificent example of how one person and a committed community can inspire young people to academic success.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. McNULTY). The Chair would remind our visitors in the gallery that we are delighted to have them with us, but they are to refrain from responding positively or negatively to anything said on the floor.

THE MIDDLE-CLASS TAX CUT OF THE FUTURE

(Mr. EVERETT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. EVERETT. Mr. Speaker, we all know about the President's failure to keep his promises and his bargains. He got elected promising tax relief—I repeat, tax relief—for the middle class and instead proposed the largest tax increase in American history.

But what Bill Clinton said at a town meeting last night in San Diego beats all. When a businessman said San Diego's economy was in too deep a slump to afford Clinton's new taxes, President Clinton said, and I quote "Give me 4 years to try to deliver on that middle-class tax cut."

Allow me to refresh the President's memory. The Clinton economic plan lasts 5 years and there is no middle-income tax relief in that economic plan. None. Zero. Nada. Nyet. Zilch. Zip. And next week, this House will vote on all the new Clinton taxes, over 300 billion dollars' worth, the largest tax increases in history. And that San Diego businessman and every American, will be able to watch who in the White House and who in this House, is for higher taxes and bigger government, and who is not.

THE CHALLENGE OF AMERICA'S UNEMPLOYED YOUNG PEOPLE

(Ms. WATERS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute, and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. WATERS. Mr. Speaker, as I watched television last evening, I saw a young man at the President's town hall meeting who was described as a gang member, or a former gang member, who said:

Mr. President, many of us would like to change our lives. We want jobs. We want to be in the mainstream. What can you do to help us?

While the President certainly did respond to him and indicated that he understood, the President did not explain to him how we are going to get thousands and thousands of young people across this Nation into jobs, thousands and thousands of young people, some of whom dropped out of school at the ages of 15 and 16. Some of them have been on the street for 10 years now, and they want to work.

Mr. Speaker, there is nothing we are doing in this House at this time to address that problem. This group of people fall between the ages of 17 and 30.

I maintain that with a small stipend we can get them enrolled in vocational education and remediation. We have got to do something about this group of young people. We cannot pretend they do not exist.

Mr. Speaker, America cannot move forward until it deals with the problem of these young people in our cities and in our rural areas.

THE SMALL BUSINESS TAX FAIRNESS ACT OF 1993

(Mr. KNOLLENBERG asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, today, I would like to address every Member who is either here or within earshot of C-SPAN, about a subject near and dear to our hearts: jobs.

America's small businesses are the engine of job creation. From 1988 to 1990, they created all—I repeat all—of the net new jobs, while businesses employing more than 500 had a net loss of jobs.

Most of these small businesses pay taxes as individuals—about 80 percent. Yet under the Clinton tax plan, over 60 percent of taxpayers impacted by the higher income tax rates report small business or farm income.

Simply put, by effectively increasing their tax burden by one-third, Clinton's tax plan takes aim at the heart of America's premiere job creator.

That is why I have introduced H.R. 2124, the Small Business Tax Fairness Act of 1993. This legislation will cap the income tax on small business entrepreneurs at 31 percent.

It will count only for businesses with a gross revenue of less than $5 million, and for owners who are actively engaged in day-to-day operations.

Small business owners already face a burdensome level of taxes and red tape. This bill will ensure that when President Clinton moves to soak the rich, American jobs do not get caught in the downpour.

LAYOFFS AT AT&T

(Mr. TRAFICANT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. TRAFICANT. Mr. Speaker, last year the AT&T plant in North Andover, MA, won the prestigious Malcolm Baldrige Award for quality and efficiency. This year the same 6,600 workers got their pink slips.

Congress, the saga goes on, with American workers continuing to lose their jobs. From penthouse to out-house, from worker to unemployment and soup line, all in 12 months.

Mr. Speaker, is it any wonder that America now ranks No. 6 in the world for quality of life? How can there be quality of life in America without a job?

If it is any consolation to the workers in North Andover, I never heard of anybody committing suicide by jumping out of a basement window, and I apologize for the Congress of the United States of America for putting our American workers in the damn basement.

CONGRESS MUST NOT RAISE ESTATE TAXES

(Mr. RAMSTAD asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. RAMSTAD. Mr. Speaker, hard working Americans who have saved all their lives to pass something on to their children are again under siege.

As part of the largest tax increase in history, the Ways and Means Committee has just agreed to raise $2.1 billion in higher estate taxes.

And a plan to raise estate taxes even more might be included in the President's health care proposal.

This plan, modeled after legislation last year from the Democrat leadership, would decrease the estate tax exemption to $200,000—the value of a home or life insurance policy.

Reducing the exemption would raise the estate tax so much that middle-income families would be forced to sell their homes, farms or small businesses just to pay the taxes.

Mr. Speaker, in January I introduced House Concurrent Resolution 6, stating the firm opposition of Congress to any attempt to raise estate taxes.

Please join me and 150 cosponsors of the Ramstad resolution—from both sides of the aisle—and say no to these unfair and job destroying tax increases.

TRIBUTE TO CLARENCE "BIGHOUSE" GAINES

(Mr. WATT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WATT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor a living legend, Clarence "Bighouse" Gaines, who is retiring as the basketball coach of the Winston-Salem State University Rams on June 30, 1993, after 47 years in that position.

"Bighouse," as he is affectionately known, had more wins than any other active coach in college basketball, and had the second highest number of wins in college basketball history with 828 wins. Bighouse is a member of the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, and numerous other sports halls of fame.

But Bighouse was more than a basketball coach, he was a teacher and a builder of young African-American men. He became the coach of the Rams during the era of Jim Crow, a time of limited opportunities for African-Americans with or without college educations. He never allowed these limitations to stop him or his players from reaching their potential.

The measure of Clarence "Bighouse" Gaines is not only in the number of wins or the number of professional basketball players he produced, but also in the number of businessmen, teachers, lawyers, doctors, and outstanding citizens of our Nation he helped mentor and encourage and push to greater heights.

Clarence "Bighouse" Gaines was a builder of African-American men during his 47 years at Winston-Salem State University and his retirement will leave a void which will be difficult, if not impossible, to fill. Today I am proud to honor him for his contributions to North Carolina and to the Nation.

VETERANS HEALTH CARE

(Mr. BILIRAKIS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, national health care reform is a hot topic these days. Our military veterans express concern that their separate health care system may be in jeopardy. In my opinion, any attempt to incorporate veterans health care as a part of the overall mix of a national plan would be very shortsighted. The Department of Veterans Affairs health care delivery system must play a role in a national health care structure—but as a distinctly separate plan as it now exists.

The VA health care system, as a separate system, is important for several reasons. First, the veteran population has a unique demand for services which in many cases is related directly to a person's military experience. The VA has developed nationally recognized expertise in several areas, including mental health services and rehabilitation for spinal cord injuries and loss of limbs.

Second, the VA supports an extensive research program. The high quality of VA research has led to regular improvements in the quality of health care, not only for veterans, but also for nonveterans.

Finally, the VA plays an important role in the training of our future doctors. Over half of the practicing physicians in the United States have received some of their training from the VA.

As we reform our current health care system, we must not overlook the VA as an important though separate component of that system.

COURT INJUNCTION JEOPARDIZES SALE OF TIMBER DOWNED BY WINDSTORM

(Mr. TAYLOR of North Carolina asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. TAYLOR of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, politically correct special interest extremism has taken root in western North Carolina.

I am referring to a lawsuit filed by an out-of-State special interest group that would stop the salvage of timber that was blown down in a violent windstorm in the Nantahala National Forest. The sale was already made by the U.S. Forest Service, but this last-minute court injunction has put the sale in jeopardy.

I am deeply disturbed that at a time of high unemployment—30 percent or more in Graham County, NC, there is even a hint of protest to salvage dead trees.

If the downed salvaged timber can be used to make tables or chairs of wood instead of using finite resources like plastic or metal, then salvaging the damaged trees is, by far, the best environmental choice.

It is hard for me, as a conservationist, to accept the extreme position set forth in the plaintiff's complaint that we must use metal or plastic for our furniture because of the possibility that some day a bear might choose one of the downed trees as a den. There are a half million acres of land within sight of the salvaged timber where these bears can establish their dens. These areas can house more bears than can be supported by the food supply.

There are only a few acres left where man can harvest timber he needs. This downed white pine is becoming a victim of mold and rot, and nearby timber will become bug infested if this timber is not harvested. Surely, environmental balance dictates the salvage of this timber.

Mr. Speaker, as you know, the Forest Service returns a percentage of money to the county where timber sales originate, earmarked for roads and schools. Graham County Manager Pat Irons has estimated the county would lose $38,000 if this timber sale is stopped.

Here is a case where the schoolchildren in Graham are losing, the working people of western North Carolina are losing, the taxpayer is losing, and those who practice true conservation are losing so that a special interest group can practice extremism and try to raise money to fund their selfish goals.

HAZARDOUS WASTE BURNING BAN

(Mr. MAZZOLI asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MAZZOLI. Mr. Speaker, I was pleased to read in today's newspapers that the EPA will today order an 18-month moratorium on building new hazardous waste incinerators. This is to give more time to the EPA to study the effects of air pollution caused by incinerators which burn hazardous wastes, and, of course, to possibly issue new regulations dealing with the health hazards thereof.

Mr. Speaker, I think this is a step forward, though I would have preferred an outright ban, not just on the 20 incinerators that commercially burn hazardous waste but the other 164 plants which burn hazardous material as final, one of which is located in our Jefferson County.

Mr. Speaker, I think instead of licensing more of these hazardous incinerators, we ought to limit the stream of hazardous waste in the first place.

Furthermore, when the EPA goes to the drawing board and studies the effects of these hazardous waste incinerators, they ought to study not just the health effects but also where they are located. They are often located in the areas of town in which lower income people live. So we have not only a matter of environmental safety, but there is a very big issue of environmental equity that the EPA ought to look into.

TIME TO IMPEACH JUDGE COLLINS

(Mr. CANADY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1

minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CANADY. Mr. Speaker, today I am introducing legislation to set right a wrong in our judicial system.

U.S. District Judge Robert F. Collins today sits in prison, a convicted felon.

Judge Collins is serving a 7-year sentence for accepting a $100,000 bribe from a drug smuggler. Judge Collins was convicted by a jury of his peers.

However, Judge Collins continues to draw his $133,600 Federal salary. That is an injustice and an insult to the American people.

Judge Collins was convicted of bribery, conspiracy, and obstruction of justice in June 1991, nearly 2 years ago.

The question of Judge Collins' guilt has been settled. But because only the Congress can remove a Federal judge, he continues to receive a salary from the American taxpayers.

This is an outrage.

It is an offense against the American taxpayers, whose money continues to go into Judge Collins' pockets, and it dishonors the American judicial system.

Mr. Speaker, this travesty must end now. This House should move forward to impeach Judge Collins without further delay.

GUAM EXCESS LANDS ACT

(Mr. UNDERWOOD asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, today I am introducing legislation to provide a method of returning excess lands no longer needed for defense purposes on Guam.

Many people in my district lost their lands after World War II to the military under unjust circumstances and through coercion. Today, some 50 years after the war, approximately one-third of Guam is still in military hands.

In the early 1970's, at the request of the late Congressman Antonio Borja Won Pat, a study of the military land use on Guam was initiated by the Department of Defense. That study revealed excess properties which no longer served the operational needs of the armed services on Guam. In 1986, the Secretary of Defense signed off on the transfer of approximately 3,500 acres of land back to Guam.

This legislation will bring a closure to this issue and will be a major component of the process of addressing historical injustices in land takings experienced by the Chamorro people of Guam.

The U.S. Government has an obligation to rectify these land takings. The people of Guam have already contributed greatly to the nation's defense in the Far East.

Returning Federal excess lands to the people of Guam is not just a good thing to do; it is the right thing to do, the just thing to do.

I urge my colleagues to vote for the Guam Excess Lands Act. The people of Guam and I thank you for your support. Si yv'os ma'ase'.

PUTTING FAMILIES FIRST: H.R. 1950, THE FAMILY AND ECONOMIC RECOVERY ACT, A CREDIBLE BLUEPRINT OF FAMILY AND ECONOMIC POLICIES

(Mr. WOLF asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. WOLF. Mr. Speaker, someone once said, "Governments do not raise children—parents do." Someone also said, "Virtually every industrialized nation recognizes the importance of strong families in its Tax Code: we should too." That someone is now President. Unfortunately we have not heard anything along these lines in President Clinton's first 100 days.

Families do not have expensive lobbyists or consultants to plead their case. I rarely have people lobby me on the family. Rarely do you hear anyone at the Ways and Means Committee talk about how their policies affect families. Who is speaking for families?

The White House and the Congress are out of touch. At a time when families are struggling to make ends meet, when single mothers are working two jobs just to pay the bills, when kids everywhere are showing the need for parental time and direction, Congress is talking about raising taxes and putting more burdens on families. Now is not the time to raise taxes and increase the burdens on families. We have a better idea.

H.R. 1950, the Family and Economic Recovery Act is a credible blueprint of family and economic policies that focus on how we can start moving toward a better vision for both a family recovery and an economic recovery. It shifts our sights from Washington into the individual homes and communities. This will require sacrifice here in Washington instead of from America's struggling families. We can start to phase in these kinds of investments and reforms if we make a serious commitment to turn our hearts and policies toward home.

In introducing H.R. 1950 we have brought together a number of broad-based measures, each with bipartisan support, designed to directly reinvest in families. For example, the $600 tax credit for children is exactly what President Clinton campaigned on. In fact, President Clinton campaigned for an $800 tax credit of children. The bipartisan National Commission on Children recommended a $1,000 credit. Most of the other measures have had strong support in Congress and with the American people. Some have even been voted on by a majority of Members at one time or another, such as the IRA expansion.

H.R. 1950 would provide families with a plan for the kind of economic security families enjoyed in the 1950's. However, the measure also include support for families in a changing environment. We have included a grant program for businesses to develop and promote family friendly work policies such as part-time jobs, job sharing, flexitime, and telecommuting so that parents can be provided with more choices in balancing their work and family obligations and better meet both.

We have also included strong education reforms, including tax and savings provisions, to help parents meet the costs of education from preschool to college and a school choice pilot program that would allow low- and middle-income families to have the same choice in selecting a school that more affluent families currently enjoy.

This measure draws heavily on the common sense and the resourcefulness of American families and businesses by directly reinvesting in them instead of more Government programs. The American family will be better off if we directly invest in individual homes, communities, and businesses. This plan addresses the problems single parents and two-parent families face every day. This plan meets their needs head-on rather than simply adding more programs and spending to an already oversized Washington.

In the next 100 days and beyond I encourage the President to put families first and live up to his campaign promises for family tax relief, an invigorated economy, and real education reform. This will be real change for American families and for all Americans.

THE GIRL SCOUT BUREAUCRACY

(Mr. APPELATE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. APPELATE. Mr. Speaker, when we think of the sprawling bureaucracy, we usually think of big government bureaucracy, where bureaucrats implement rules and regulations that cost the taxpayers and consumers hundreds of billions of dollars, much of which goes back to paying the administration of the bureaucracy.

But the Wall Street Journal points out, there is another sprawling bureaucracy, and this one is eating up most of the profits of the Girl Scout cookies. This is the sprawling Girl Scout bureaucracy.

They point out that an 11-year-old girl, Kathleen Totz, who is one of the big cookie sellers, she sold $498 worth of cookies; $67 of that money only went back to her troop. The rest of it went to fund the sprawling Girl Scout bureaucracy.

Give me a break, folks. Big business is big business. Big bureaucracy is big bureaucracy. But Girl Scouts are still little girls.

THE HOLIEST TAX OF ALL

(Mr. WALSH asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, next week the House will vote on the Clinton energy tax. It was pitched as a broad-based tax that would hit everyone. But, it turns out some powerful special interests have found a way to avoid the sting of the Clinton energy tax.

Tax loopholes have been granted to the following partial list of industries: The aluminum industry, the oil industry, natural gas producers. Noticeably absent from this list are the vast majority of middle-income American families. They were promised a tax cut—and got a tax increase of $500 per family. They do not have powerful lobbyists. And to pay for all those Clinton special interest tax loopholes, it will be middle-income families who will have to pick up the tab.

The lesson is this. If you're a special interest * * * you will get your way in the Clinton White House. If you are just a regular taxpaying American, you will not.

AMERICANS FACE HARD CHOICES

(Mrs. MEEK asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mrs. MEEK. Mr. Speaker, I implore the Congress to look to the next century or back to McKinley.

Last year the American people rejected the past and voted for the future. Those who voted for President Clinton and Mr. Perot were voting for the future. The vote was for action.

The past several years has seen job creation limited to lower paid disposable workers with little or nor health or pension benefits. We must have a jobs program.

The past several years has seen an administration unwilling to invest in America, in those areas which are the basis for future economic growth with well-paying jobs that have pension and health benefits.

The past several years have seen a disinvestment in our national parks, an unwillingness to seriously address our environmental difficulties.

The past several years has seen administrations ignoring the rights of working people and turning the clock back. I firmly believe that they would have tried to abolish the child labor laws if they thought they could get away with it.

The past administrations and their remaining allies in Congress seek to lead America aggressively back to McKinley.

President Clinton is making the tough decisions. He is telling the truth to the American people. He is aggressively addressing the deficit. He is addressing the broad range of education and training problems. He is producing a plan to provide health care for all Americans. He is seeking to invest in America. When he asks for hard choices, we know it is from a person of compassion, not someone with a shriveled soul. To those who say he is trying to do too much, I say he is addressing 12 years of neglect.

Hard choices are upon us. The choice is the next century or the last century. I choose the future; McKinley never did anything for my ancestors.

THE UNFPA AND CHINA

(Mr. SMITH of New Jersey asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, on May 15, the New York Times reported that the United Nations Population Fund might leave China because of coercion in China's population program. It is high time they left.

Since 1979, the UNFPA has whitewashed, denied, downplayed, belittled and, as a consequence, aided and abetted the most egregious attack on women and babies in human history.

China's one-child-per-couple policy relies heavily on forced abortions and forced sterilization to ensure compliance with its brave new world of birth quotas.

Well over 100 million babies have been aborted since 1979; in excess of 90 percent of those, according to one anthropologist, the result of Government coercion.

China's policy is not only antichild, but it is antiwoman, as well.

Women's lives have been shattered, both emotionally and physically, by the butchers in Beijing.

Thus, I was shocked, dismayed and deeply disappointed when the Clinton administration announced their intention to break current U.S. law and provide $50 million to the U.N. Population Fund.

Since 1985, no funds from the United States have gone to the UNFPA because they supported and managed this program.

Just let me say that at this morning's hearings of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, Secretary Christopher said that if the UNFPA leaves China, it would simplify matters. He also said he was appalled by a recent New York Times article which details some of these abuses.

The UNFPA should get out of China.

THE VETERANS' HEALTH PROGRAMS AMENDMENTS

(Mr. GOSS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GOSS. Mr. Speaker, today the House considers the veterans' health programs amendments. I applaud the spirit of bipartisanship in which this important bill comes forward. As we focus on the needs of veterans, I must emphasize that Florida is home to the oldest, most severely service-connected disabled veterans population in the Nation. Today another 90 veterans will become new residents and join the swelling ranks of underserved veterans in our State. Fact is, we are not meeting the needs of those vets who live in Florida today—what will we tell those who move there tomorrow? In a recent letter to a local newspaper a resident of southwest Florida described a visit to the one overcrowded outpatient clinic in the region:

After two hours wait, they said I could see a doctor, if I paid $35 and signed a release that I would never come back. I left. I thought a veteran was a veteran no matter where he or she was.

Mr. Speaker, I was under the same impression. Today's legislation does nothing to reverse the inexplicable practice of funding veterans' services in parts of the country where the veteran population is shrinking while Florida's veteran population continues to grow and wait for services. That must change.

LAST 12 YEARS VERSUS LAST 12 MONTHS

(Mr. HOKE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HOKE. Mr. Speaker, President Clinton is getting thin-skinned. He says about his critics, and I quote:

When you hear people say No, No, No, ask them where they were the last 12 years.

What I want to know, is where has President Clinton been the past 12 months? He has flip-flopped on every important commitment he made to the American people. He promised to reduce the deficit by 50 percent in 4 years. He promised middle-income tax relief and delivered the largest tax increase in history. He spoke in the campaign of smaller government but his economic program calls for $1 trillion in new debt.

It is not where we have been the past 12 years, Mr. Speaker. In the past 12 months, this President has stood firmly on both sides of every conceivable issue. Because the real Bill Clinton has failed to deliver on his promises, he is failing to earn the trust of the American people.

ENERGY COSTS WOULD ESCALATE WITH NEW TAX

(Mr. EWING asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, the Btu tax is just another link in the forever ending chain of Clinton inspired taxes.

By shackling the cost of production to an additional $70 billion in energy taxes over the next 5 years, the Btu ends up targeting primarily middle-income consumers.

For instance, it will cost the average family of four an additional $450 a year in higher energy prices, adding as much as 10 cents to the gallon at the gas pumps.

And to think that the average American actually believed the middle-class family was going to receive a tax break.

Mr. Speaker, it is time to call for a separate vote on the Btu tax so Members can put an end to the American consumers' chorus of working on the tax chain gang.

FASTEST GROWING DEFICIT—THE TRUST DEFICIT

(Mr. DREIER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DREIER. Mr. Speaker, my friend, the gentleman from Ohio [Mr. HOKE] was very accurate in his statement a few minutes ago about the trust problem that the President has. It is sad that the trust deficit seems to be the fastest growing deficit around.

Last week President Clinton made a speech in Illinois in which he was bashing the banks. He attacked banks for making "good money in ways that you couldn't even begin to understand, on student loans."

He says that banks are making excess profits. The President knows that Federal law sets the rates. The rates are established by law. It requires that interest rates be 3.1 percent above the 91-day T-bill rate.

Clearly Government involvement here has exacerbated the problem. The President chooses to bash the private banking system when he knows full well that law already determines what those rates are for student loans. Frankly, getting the Government out of it would be a much better route for us to take. I wish the President could be more credible.

SUPPORT URGED FOR EFFORTS OF MODERATE DEMOCRATS TO CUT SPENDING

(Mr. SMITH of Michigan asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SMITH of Michigan. Mr. Speaker, one little known fact is that the Committee on Ways and Means' amendments increased taxes by almost $4 billion more than the President's plan. In fact, because of the energy tax, this tax bill is regressive. That means that lower income Americans will pay proportionally more than the rich.

The American people clearly want spending cuts first, and instead of heeding them, the first move Congress has made is to increase taxes a record $246 billion. Because of increased spending, we will still see our national debt increase from the current $4.1 to $6.2 trillion.

I join other Members who want to cap entitlement spending and make responsible spending cuts.

I commend Congressmen like the gentleman from Texas [Mr. STENHOLM], the gentleman from Minnesota [Mr. PENNY], and the gentleman from Oklahoma [Mr. MCCURDY], for their willingness to stand up for reasonable spending cuts in the face of political pressure to increase taxes. I hope the American people will support the efforts of moderate Democrats to cut spending first.

THE PRESIDENT'S ECONOMIC PACKAGE CONTAINS REAL SPENDING CUTS

(Mr. SLATTERY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SLATTERY. Mr. Speaker, when my colleagues look at the proposed budget plan under consideration, I think we do have to be absolutely honest and recognize that it does include some very important spending cuts. The American people have made it clear they want spending cuts, and in the President's budget plan they are going to get spending cuts.

Let us look at those for just a second: $110 billion out of the military-industrial complex over the next 5 years; $3 billion out of agriculture; about $2.5 billion out of Veterans' Administration; 100,000 Federal employees losing their jobs; a freeze in pay for all military and Federal civil service employees, plus a freeze in COLA for many of our retirees.

These are not easy cuts. They are real cuts. They are going to get us billions of dollars in savings, the kinds of savings we have not been able to get in the past when we tried to reduce the deficit during the Reagan-Bush years.

Yes, there are some tax cuts in this proposal. There are also some tax increases proposed. On balance, the President has put forward a very decent package that we should debate very thoughtfully, and then try to find some additional spending cuts as we deal with the individual appropriation bills later on this year.

AMERICA NEEDS LESS TAXES, NOT MORE

(Mr. WALKER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, it is true that the President's package does in fact include some spending cuts. The problem with most of those spending cuts is that they are back-loaded out 4 or 5 years from now, and the tax is going to be increased immediately. The fact is that in the beginning of the package we raise taxes.

The American middle-class family today in median income is making somewhere around $35,000. If we take all of the tax burden they are bearing, we will find they have $16,500 in taxes they are paying. That is too much tax. The President's new program depends too much on new taxes; in other words, in increasing that $16,500 people are already paying. We do not need more taxes, we need less taxes.

We also need less spending. Whatever spending cuts the President has put in are more than offset by spending increases and then increased taxes. The problem with the President's program is, it is more tax and spend.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. McNULTY). Pursuant to the provisions of clause 5 of rule I, the Chair announces that he will postpone further proceedings today on each motion to suspend the rules on which a recorded vote or the yeas and nays are ordered, or on which the vote is objected to under clause 4 of rule XV.

Such rollcall votes, if postponed, will be taken after debate has concluded on all motions to suspend the rules.

"(a) The Secretary may provide for the operation of child care centers at Department facilities. The operation of such centers under this section shall be carried out to the extent that the Secretary determines, based on the demand of employees of the Department for the care involved, that such operation is in the best interest of the Department and that it is practicable to do so.

"(b)(1) In offering child care services under this section, the Secretary shall give priority (in the following order) to employees of—

"(3) The Secretary may establish charges for child care services provided at a center at rates less than those necessary to ensure that the sum of all charges for child care services at that center is sufficient to meet the staffing expenses of that center if the Secretary determines (with respect to a particular facility of the Department) that—

"(A) the operation of a child care center at that facility would help overcome serious recruitment or retention problems;

"(C) there are no other practical alternatives to meeting the needs of employees at that facility for child care services.

"(4) Proceeds from charges for child care services shall be credited to the applicable Department of Veterans Affairs account and shall be allotted to the facility served by the child care center and shall remain available until expended.

"(d) In connection with the establishment and operation of a child care center under this section, the Secretary—

"(1) may construct or alter space in any Department facility, and may lease space in a non-Department facility for a term not to exceed 20 years, for use as a child care center;

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. MONTGOMERY] will be recognized for 20 minutes, and the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP] will be recognized for 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. MONTGOMERY].

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. MONTGOMERY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 2034, the bill now under consideration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Mississippi?

There was no objection.

Mr. MONTGOMERY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 2034, as amended.

Its primary purpose is to improve the VA's construction and planning process. For many years we have encouraged the Department of Veterans Affairs to do a better job of long-range planning in its construction program. Notwithstanding our efforts, little progress has been made and this bill is designed to force the Department of Veterans Affairs to do a better job of planning and to set priorities for the establishment of health facilities based on need. That should not be too hard to do, but those who have served on the committee know it has been a difficult task to accomplish.

H.R. 2034 requires the Department to provide the Congress with specific information to justify its expenditure of funds for construction and leasing projects. If such information is not submitted in future years, the Department needs to know that the committee will not authorize new projects.

H.R. 2034 is the first bill reported to the House since our distinguished colleague, the gentleman from Georgia, J. ROY ROWLAND, became chairman of our Subcommittee on Hospitals and Health Care. I want to commend the gentleman from Georgia for his many years of work as a member of the committee. As my colleagues know, J. ROY ROWLAND is a physician and practiced medicine for many years before coming to the Congress.

As a physician, he is uniquely qualified to head our Subcommittee on Hospitals and Health Care.

Mr. ROWLAND also serves on the Subcommittee on Health and the Environment as a member of the Energy and Commerce Committee. He is one of our Nation's health experts.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. ROWLAND], who will explain the provisions of this bill, as amended.

□ 1300

Mr. ROWLAND. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman for yielding time to me, and I appreciate very much his kind remarks.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 2034, the Veterans' Health Programs Amendments of 1993.

H.R. 2034 is an omnibus bill aimed primarily at improving the VA's construction planning process and instituting some needed changes. Its provisions won broad support from our veterans organizations. I will briefly highlight its key elements.

A central concern underlying H.R. 2034 is that the VA has yet to establish well-defined medical center missions to guide planning and operating as a system. H.R. 2034 would thus require the VA to establish specific detailed missions for each of its health care facilities. VA has for years acknowledged the need to set facility missions to guide future planning. And for years, it has failed to accept that responsibility.

A related concern has been that in setting its construction priorities, VA has tended to favor acute-care hospital projects. Other pressing needs have gotten less attention. To remedy this, H.R. 2034 would require the VA to adjust its methodology for ranking construction projects to give additional weight to those that would expand long-term and ambulatory care.

This bill would also authorize construction funding for several major construction projects which VA proposed for fiscal year 1994 as well as for the design of three long-delayed, high-priority projects that will correct critical deficiencies at the VA medical centers in San Juan, PR; Tampa, FL; and West Haven, CT.

H.R. 2034 also proposes to expand health care alternatives for aging veterans. First, it would enable VA to conduct a pilot program to furnish non-institutional alternatives to nursing home care. Second, it aims to stimulate the States, through proven cost-sharing models, to develop programs to help chronically ill veterans get needed care while still living at home. H.R. 2034 would do that by encouraging the development of adult day health care programs at State veterans homes. The bill would authorize VA both to make per diem payments to State homes for providing adult day health care and to provide grant support to enable States to expand or remodel facilities to furnish that care. Finally, a companion provision would authorize VA to share health care resources with State veterans homes. Such sharing can benefit both VA and the State homes by creating opportunities to stretch dollars.

I urge my colleagues to support passage of H.R. 2034.

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 2034, the Veterans' Health Programs Amendment of 1993. This legislation represents a compilation of non-controversial provisions which are very important improvements to VA health care.

Although noncontroversial, these provisions will provide the cornerstone for future VA construction planning. It is essential that VA revise its planning methods in order to adequately prepare the agency to meet the changing needs and demographic trends of veterans.

Also in this ERA of increasing health care costs, the bill provides an opportunity for greater sharing of resources between VA and the over 71 State veterans homes. These homes provide cost-effective long-term care services to veterans and like VA they are facing ever-increasing operating costs.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the distinguished chairman of the committee, SONNY MONTGOMERY, as well as, the chairman and ranking minority member of the Subcommittee on Hospitals and Health Care, ROY ROWLAND and CHRIS SMITH for their leadership and expertise on these important issues.

Mr. Speaker, I urge the support of my colleagues.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from New Jersey, Mr. CHRIS SMITH.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, I thank my good friend for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, as ranking minority member of the Subcommittee on Hospitals and Health Care, I rise to join the distinguished chairman, the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. ROWLAND], the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. MONTGOMERY] and the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP], in support of the Veterans' Health Programs Amendments of 1993.

As the chairman indicated, this legislation contains various provisions that are very important improvements to VA health care and they are non-controversial.

I am especially pleased to support the provisions of the bill which would mandate that VA review the missions of its medical facilities in relation to the anticipated future needs of veterans. As you are aware, the VA has been promising to send to Congress its own national plan which was supposed to have included specific mission plans for individual facilities. Recently however, we have heard that VA's national plan will only provide broad guidance. Of course we won't know until we actually see the plan and the Secretary states that he expects to send it to Congress around the time that the Clinton administration submits its health plan for the Nation.

Like the chairman, I believe that the identification of missions for VA medical centers is an essential first step in reforming the system. Such changes must be made if the system is to survive.

This provision is similar to the recommendation made by the Secretary's Commission on the Future Structure of Veterans' Health Care submitted to Congress in November of 1991. It is past time for the VA to embark on this necessary reorganization.

Also important to VA's overall planning are the provisions pertaining to construction prioritization. These provisions will help ensure that VA submit to this committee a detailed prospectus for each major construction project. This requirement will allow this committee the information necessary to authorize construction projects which are the highest priority. In particular, the bill reflects the current trend in medical treatment to shift inpatient care to less costly outpatient settings. It gives additional weight to projects to expand long-term care, an area of critical deficiency in the VA.

Like many of my colleagues, I have a particular interest in the long-term health care needs of veterans in my home State. Therefore, I have already introduced a bill to examine my State's long-term care needs. This bill, fortunately, will perform the same task nationwide.

The mission planning required under this legislation will be essential in determining whether VA facilities in a given State are capable of meeting the needs of veterans in that State.

For instance, in my case, the mission reviews of the VA facilities in New Jersey will indicate whether our facilities can meet the nursing home needs of veterans. If the mission reviews demonstrate a shortage in nursing home care—our State department of military and veterans affairs has already identified a need for more nursing home care for aging veterans—I will have the factual data I need to revisit this issue and to expand the nursing home care provided to New Jersey veterans. This bill will offer similar insights for each State and help direct VA resources on a needs basis.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Chairman MONTGOMERY, Mr. STUMP, and Dr. ROWLAND for cosigning my letter to Secretary Brown seeking a nursing home needs assessment in New Jersey. Before we can begin to expand long-term care, we must have an accurate projection of future needs and an evaluation of current nursing home beds. This information will help determine the merit and priority of new projects.

In keeping with the subcommittee's position of authorizing high priority construction is authorization for fiscal year 1994 major construction projects. The bill includes changes to the President's request as detailed by the chairman. I believe it is appropriate for the Committee on Veterans' Affairs to discourage projects which jump ahead of other construction priorities.

The bill also contains various technical amendments to certain VA programs and I want to state my support for them as well.

I want to thank my colleague, Dr. ROWLAND. It was a real pleasure to work with him in introducing these amendments. I commend his work on the bill we have before us and I urge my colleagues to support the bill.

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Florida [Mr. BILIRAKIS], the ranking member of the Subcommittee on Compensation, Pension, and Insurance.

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Arizona for yielding me this time.

Today, as the House is considering this very important piece of legislation, the Veterans' Health Programs Amendments of 1993, there is one aspect of this legislation that I would particularly like to highlight.

The bill authorizes design funds for a spinal cord injury [SCI] unit at the James Haley Medical Center in Tampa, FL. Currently, there are 70 SCI beds at the Tampa facility and 36 beds at the Miami VA Medical Center. Since the State of Florida has one of the highest concentrations of spinal cord injured veterans, the number of beds available to treat veterans is woefully inadequate.

The VA first proposed expanding the Tampa SCI facility in 1971. It is now over 20 years later, and we are still waiting for construction to begin.

The Veterans' Health Programs Amendments of 1993 moves us one step closer to the completion of this important project. I would like to thank subcommittee Chairman ROWLAND and the ranking minority member, CHRIS SMITH, for including the SCI project in this legislation. Moreover, I wish to thank the full committee chairman and ranking minority member, SONNY MONTGOMERY and BOB STUMP, for their continued support of Florida's veterans.

In addition to authorizing major construction projects for fiscal year 1994, H.R. 2034 also contains important provisions that mandate a review of the missions of each VA medical facility. As we contemplate the future health care needs of veterans, it is important that we have a VA health care system capable of serving those needs. H.R. 2034 will help ensure that our veterans receive the care they have earned.

This is a noncontroversial measure that will make significant improvements in our VA health care system. I urge my colleagues to support it.

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from New York [Mr. GILMAN].

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to rise in strong support of H.R. 2034, the veterans' health care amendments. I commend the distinguished gentleman from Georgia, [Dr. ROWLAND] for introducing this worthwhile legislation and the distinguished committee chairman, Mr. MONTGOMERY and the ranking minority member, Mr. STUMP, for their support.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 2034 will amend current law by revising veterans health care programs. In an ongoing attempt to improve the care that is provided to our Nation's veterans, this measure will authorize a variety of innovative measures that will assist eligible veterans, including emphasis on effective planning, reduction of duplication of services, realignment of services, improved means of resource distribution and more efficient delivery of needed services.

These provisions include:

The development of non-institutional alternatives to nursing home care for all eligible veterans, and, the establishment of child care centers in VA department facilities.

This measure also encourages the VA to support construction projects that are intended to expand extended and ambulatory care.

These provisions will ensure that the VA health care system continues to adapt to meet the changing needs of our Nation's veterans.

As requested in the President's fiscal year 1994 budget request, H.R. 2034 will authorize $110.4 million for major medical facility projects and $50.1 million for major medical facility leases.

Specifically, the congressional budget office has estimated that this measure will require outlays of: $18 million in fiscal year 1994; $43 million in fiscal year 1995; $60 million in fiscal year 1996; $67 million in fiscal year 1997; and $35 million in fiscal year 1998.

I believe this is a small price to pay as we continue to improve the services that are provided to our Nation's veterans.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to support this important measure. Our Nation needs to take the necessary steps to improve our veterans' health care. I would like to take this opportunity to urge the Veterans' Committee to take a hard look at providing more preventive services through our veterans health care system.

Prevention plays a crucial role in improving the health of our Nation. Prevention averts human suffering by reducing illness and disability and also by preventing premature death. Preventive measures can also provide a cost-effective alternative to other health care approaches. I believe that disease prevention and health promotion is the key to helping all Americans, especially our Nation's veterans, to achieve healthier and more productive lives.

Mr. Speaker, I welcome this opportunity to speak in support of our veterans' health care amendments, as I believe it is a step in the right direction for improving the quality of our veterans' health care programs.

□ 1310

Mr. MONTGOMERY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 1 minute.

Mr. Speaker, we have the blue sheets here that further explain this bill at the different tables.

It has been a pleasure working with the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP], the gentleman from New Jersey [Mr. SMITH], the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. ROWLAND], the gentleman from Florida [Mr. BILIRAKIS], and the gentleman from New York [Mr. GILMAN], who is always supportive of these bills and to bringing them to the floor.

Mr. ROWLAND. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. MONTGOMERY. I am happy to yield to the gentleman from Georgia.

Mr. ROWLAND. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

I just want to commend the ranking member on the full committee as well as on the subcommittee for the work that they have done and look forward to continuing to work with them.

I want to commend the gentleman from New York [Mr. GILMAN], too, for having said what he did about prevention. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. The gentleman is exactly right, and we should work toward that goal.

I say to the chairman that I thank him so very much for the opportunity to work with him and under his guidance.

Mr. MONTGOMERY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very much.

Ms. BROWN of Florida. Mr. Speaker, thank you, Chairman MONTGOMERY. I would like to thank Mr. ROWLAND for his work on H.R. 2034 which authorizes the VA's health programs. This bill has many highlights. Most importantly, it preserves the independence and viability of the VA health care system as a resource to serve the particular needs of veterans.

It is clear from this bill that under the leadership of Chairman MONTGOMERY and subcommittee chairman ROWLAND, we are moving the VA in the direction necessary to deal with the changes that will come with national health care reform.

The bill requires the VA to prepare specific, detailed mission statements for each of the clinical programs operated at VA health care facilities.

In addition, the VA would be required to review its procedures for prioritizing major construction projects in order to give additional weight to projects intended to expand long-term care programs.

The committee is pushing the VA to be more efficient in its delivery of health care services by extending a pilot program to furnish noninstitutional alternatives to nursing home care for 3 years and giving the VA the ability to share health care facilities which are not used to maximum capacity with State veterans homes, subject to reimbursement.

Finally, I want to thank Chairman ROWLAND for including language in the committee report which will address a serious situation that I discovered when reviewing the VA construction program.

Mr. MONTGOMERY. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I urge the passage of H.R. 2034.

I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. McNULTY). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. MONTGOMERY] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2034, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

NATIONAL COOPERATIVE PRODUCTION AMENDMENTS OF 1993

Mr. BROOKS. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1313) to amend the National Cooperative Research Act of 1984 with respect to joint ventures entered into for the purpose of producing a product, process, or service, as amended.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Texas [Mr. BROOKS] will be recognized for 20 minutes, and the gentleman from New York [Mr. FISH] will be recognized for 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas [Mr. BROOKS].

Mr. BROOKS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I am very pleased that so early in the session we are here to take up H.R. 1313, the National Cooperative Production amendments of 1993, legislation that will encourage American firms to undertake joint ventures for the production of high-technology goods and services.

If anything, H.R. 1313 is a reality check for all of us who care about the competitive position of this country as we move into the 21st century. Let's be candid: It is time that we acknowledge that America has not performed in peak condition at the high stakes game of international competition.

Over the past few decades, we ceded our market dominance to our trading partners in one vital industry after another. In the 1960's, we lost the lead in steelmaking and shipbuilding. In the 1970's, we slipped behind in consumer electronics. In the 1980's, we lost our edge in machine tools. Now, in the marketplace of the 1990's and beyond, the industrial winners will be those who excel at producing such products as high definition TV, robotics, and a host of other new technologies now on the horizon.

The economic winners will be those who recognize and adapt to the fact that high-technology manufacturing has shifted to short product life cycles and that rapid response is the key to meeting consumer demands. While a single firm might be daunted by these challenges, H.R. 1313 encourages competitors to collaborate at the production stage, thus speeding the commercialization of new technologies and products. The antitrust laws recognize this and are, in fact, very accommodating to this kind of joint production effort.

Unfortunately, reality and perception do not always coincide. A widely held misperception in the business community is that antitrust laws generally frown on all cooperative activity, regardless of its procompetitive benefits. After considering this issue carefully, the Committee on the Judiciary concluded that such a misperception can, in fact, impact on business behavior and decisions. It is, therefore, time to clear up confusion and release the innovative forces in our industrial sector that are second to none.

We dealt with a similar problem regarding joint ventures in the research and development field almost a decade ago by enacting the National Cooperative Research Act of 1984. The NCRA has been a pronounced success in encouraging R&D joint ventures. More than 300 have been registered since its passage.

H.R. 1313 builds on the success of the NCRA by extending its principles to cover production joint ventures. Thus, production joint ventures would be judged by the rule of reason standard, under which the procompetitive benefits of an activity are weighed against any anticompetitive effects, with damage exposure reduced to actual damages rather than the usual treble damages. In addition, the bill requires that to receive the benefits of the act, the principal facilities of the venture must be located in the United States. This last feature should promote job growth with no costs to the Government or the consumer.

I am gratified by the overwhelming bipartisan support for the bill within the House and the other body, as well as from President Clinton. Congressmen FISH, EDWARDS, and BOUCHER played leading roles in helping to move the bill we have before us today. Senators LEAHY and BIDEN made crucial contributions to moving the bill with unusual speed in the Senate.

I ask all my colleagues to join with me in supporting this important effort.

Mr. Speaker, I am including at this point in the RECORD a statement by President Clinton in full support of this legislation.

TEXT OF STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT CLINTON ON INTRODUCTION OF PRODUCTION JOINT VENTURE BILL

I want to commend Chairman Jack Brooks, Senator Patrick Leahy, Chairman Joe Biden and the bi-partisan leadership of the House and Senate Judiciary Committees on the introduction today of an important new bill to help create jobs and build a more competitive, hi-tech American economy. This bill—the National Cooperative Production Amendments of 1993—will pave the way for companies large and small to pool their resources and talents in new joint production ventures. It is just the kind of forward thinking initiative we need to drive our economy toward a decade of creative change.

We live in a world in which our competitive advantage flows more and more from our command of high technology, but in which the development and production of hi-tech products has become enormously expensive. It is altogether appropriate to lift the legal barriers that prevent good companies from playing to win in the global market—provided, of course, that our antitrust laws continue to prevent improper collusion. Now is the time—as we work together to turn this nation in a new direction—to strip away outdated impediments to our growth and potential.

I took forward to working with Chairman Brooks, Chairman Biden, Senator Leahy and their colleagues on this important legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. FISH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, it is my hope and my expectation that the bill now before us, the National Cooperative Production Amendments of 1993, will serve to stimulate America's economic growth, extend our technological frontiers, create new jobs and enable this Nation to compete with greater success in the global market.

H.R. 1313 extends to production joint ventures the same protections for such enterprises that Congress provide to research and development joint ventures under the National Cooperative Research Act of 1984 [NCRA], 15 U.S.C. 4301-4305; 98 Stat. 1815-1818; Public Law 98-462. Their antitrust liability will be limited to actual, or single, damages and they will be judged under the antitrust standard known as the rule of reason, a competitive balance test. Single damages and the rule of reason will provide positive incentives for the creation of production joint ventures. The antitrust uncertainty that may previously have inhibited formation of production joint ventures, however unwarranted, will be reduced or eliminated for potential participants.

In 1984, I was involved in the legislative development of the National Cooperative Research Act. That statute has proved to be strikingly successful. By removing the disincentives in our antitrust laws to the formation of research and development joint ventures, it has enabled literally hundreds of companies to more successfully confront world competition. Global competitive pressures have made it abundantly clear, however, that the 1984 act did not extend far enough.

Commencing in 1989, I have introduced legislation entitled the Cooperative Productivity and Competitiveness Act in successive Congresses. In this Congress, my bill is H.R. 23. It builds on the success of the 1984 act by extending the scope of permissible joint activity to include manufacturing and production. The measure before us incorporates much of the approach taken by my proposals, and, therefore, I was pleased to join as an original cosponsor of H.R. 1313.

I am gratified that the committee report contains language that responds to a number of concerns that I and other Republican Members have raised during the progress of this legislation, including our full committee markup on March 24.

By way of background, it should be noted that section 3(g) of this bill adds a new section 7 to the NCRA that is applicable only to production joint ventures. This new section 7 sets forth two additional conditions for a production joint venture's eligibility for single damages rather than the usual treble damages.

The first condition, in section 7(1), is that a production joint venture is required to locate its "principal facilities" inside the United States or its territories. However, it is important to emphasize that this language in the new section 7(1) is not intended to preclude the venture from locating significant production facilities and production support facilities outside the United States or its territories. These overseas facilities can, and will, be an important component of these NCRA-sanctioned production joint ventures. Such activities will be a logical, efficient and cost-effective complement to the activities that take place in the United States, or its territories.

The second condition, in section 7(2), is that each person who controls any party to such venture, including such party itself, must be either a U.S. person or a foreign person from a country "whose law accords antitrust treatment no less favorable to the U.S. persons than to such country's domestic persons with respect to participation in joint ventures for production." This is the principal of national treatment. It simply means that U.S. companies must be treated the same as domestically owned companies in the home country of the foreign participant with respect to participation in joint ventures for production.

As the committee report makes clear, the phrase "whose law" in section 7(2) "is intended to include not only a country's domestic antitrust law but also all international agreements and other binding obligations to which that country and the United States are parties." H. Rept. No. 103-94, 103d Cong., 1st sess., at 20 (1993). Accordingly, the committee report states that "a country that is a party to an international agreement with the United States that provides national treatment satisfies the requirements of section 7(2)." Id. at 20. As the report also points out, "this would include treaties of Friendship, Commerce and Navigation [FCN's], Bilateral Investment Treaties [BIT's], Free Trade Agreements, and various OECD instruments." Id. at 20.

National treatment, in short, is satisfied for purposes of the National Cooperative Production Amendments of 1993 by an international agreement that mutually requires such treatment. The committee is satisfied with the provisions contained in such agreements which provide for consultations and exclusive remedies to resolve any disputes arising under these agreements. It emphatically does not seek to put conditions on unconditional obligations, or to allow an ex parte examination by the Federal courts or by the Federal enforcement agencies into whether the country in question applied or enforced the treaty. Again, the committee is content to leave any such questions that may arise in this regard to the terms of the treaties themselves. We do not seek to condition the unconditional.

Section 3(f) amends the notification provisions of section 6(a) of the NCRA with respect to production joint ventures only. Specifically, a production joint venture will have to disclose the nationality of each party to the venture and the identity and nationality of each person that controls a party to the venture. The committee reviewed a number of existing Federal laws, seeking guidance as to what actually constitutes control in a corporate setting. Public Utility Holding Co. Act of 1935, 15 U.S.C. section 79 et seq.; Investment Company Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. section 80a-1 et seq.; Federal Deposit Insurance Act, 12 U.S.C. section 1811 et seq.; and regulations promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933, 17 CFR section 230.405. However, because of the differing public policy goals involved with each statute and regulation surveyed, and because each involved different threshold factors, it became clear that there is no universally agreed upon or generally applicable definition of control in Federal law. So, the committee determined that the antitrust enforcement agencies should interpret the term "control" for the purposes of the NCRA to mean having and exercising the power to direct the management or policies of a person. This controlling influence may be exercised directly or indirectly. The typical methods that can be used to exercise control are through the ownership of voting securities, through a contractual right, or by participation on the board of directors. It should be understood that a U.S. affiliate or subsidiary of a foreign corporation is a U.S. person under section 7 if it is incorporated in the United States and its principal facilities and operations are located inside the United States or its territories.

H.R. 1313 adds a new paragraph (7) to the list of excluded permissible conduct set forth in section 2(b) of the National Cooperative Research Act [NCRA]. This paragraph would prohibit "using existing facilities for the production of a product, process, or service by such venture unless such use involves the production of a new product or technology." The choice of the term "involves" represents a relaxation of the stricter prohibition in the bill as reported from committee, which forbade "using existing facilities in connection with the production of a product, process, or service by such venturer unless such use is for the production of a new product or technology." "Involves" would permit the production of a new product or technology to be part of but not necessarily to exclusively occupy an existing facility. Webster's defines "involves" as having "within or as part of itself."

This change proceeds from a realization that capital costs will often be of decisive importance in a decision whether or not to enter into a production joint venture. If, in a typical circumstance, the parties wish to combine old and new production technology but can proceed under the protection of the act only if they build an entirely new facility, a prospective joint venture may be halted in its tracks. On the other hand, if surplus existing space can be split between old and new applications, the venture may be projected to be economically sound and will go forward. The flexibility wisely provided by the new terminology, allowing the production joint venture to be within an existing facility but not necessarily exclusively so, may well represent the difference between no new joint production venture and a venture that goes forward with all of its attendant benefits for the American economy and our competitive strength in global markets.

Mr. Speaker, now that we have reached bipartisan agreement on this legislation, I anticipate that its enactment into law will be swiftly accomplished. This will be a significant achievement. Coming as it does so early in the 103d Congress, the national cooperative production amendments reflect not only the economic realities we confront in today's global marketplace but also a determination on both sides of the aisle to take effective and immediate steps to meet that challenge.

Mr. EDWARDS of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 1313.

In a year when we have heard so much about jobs and the need to expand our manufacturing base, we have before us legislation which would directly address these needs.

Our overseas competitors have learned the value of pooling resources to meet the high cost of product development and manufacturing. Unfortunately, too many U.S. companies see our antitrust laws as an obstacle to forming those same partnerships.

This is why I authorized the National Cooperative Research Act, which was enacted in 1984. Under the act, companies looking to form joint ventures can file a notice with the Department of Justice outlining their project. This notice gives possible competitors the opportunity to object to the partnership before it is formed. In return for providing notice, joint venturing companies who are later found in violation of the antitrust laws are subject only to actual damages, instead of the treble damages allowed under the antitrust laws.

Today, we are simply taking the philosophy of the cooperative research bill one step further and applying it to joint production ventures.

Mr. Speaker, as a representative from Silicon Valley, I know from my constituents in high technology industries about the enormous amounts of capital needed to compete in these markets. They know that rarely can one company alone acquire the funds necessary to develop new products, and that our overseas competitors have less trouble acquiring capital.

H.R. 1313 does not compromise the integrity of our antitrust laws, and it does nothing to lessen the importance of competition in our economy. Rather, it demonstrates to U.S. companies that joint ventures are not disfavored under our antitrust laws. It encourages these companies to form the partnerships needed in today's economy to produce first-rate goods.

Mr. Speaker, we cannot allow outdated perceptions of our antitrust laws to hold back the development of our high technology industries. Passage of H.R. 1313 will send the message to the manufacturing community that the laws that foster competition here in the United States will not harm their efforts to compete overseas. I urge my colleagues to vote for H.R. 1313.

□ 1320

Mr. BROOKS. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Oklahoma [Mr. SYNAR], who, unfortunately, is opposed to this legislation.

Mr. SYNAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in opposition to H.R. 1313 because its sponsors have failed to establish the need for its enactment. Its proponents argue that H.R. 1313 is needed to encourage joint ventures between rival firms, enable the production of innovative goods and services and allow U.S. firms to remain competitive in the world market. There is no question that Congress has a serious responsibility to create a regulatory environment that promotes the competitiveness of U.S. firms and I have always supported legitimate efforts to achieve that goal. However, this bill, which codifies a more lenient antitrust standard and softens the impact of antitrust penalties for U.S. firms in joint ventures, is a remedy in search of a problem and its supporters have failed to establish otherwise.

The facts show that many joint ventures have been established under the current antitrust regime. A June 1990 Congressional Budget Office noted that since the mid-1970's, joint ventures have been announced at an average rate of nearly one per week. From this evidence the CBO concluded, "that so many joint ventures were formed suggests that the, antitrust, law was not a major constraint; if firms wanted to form a partnership, by and large they could." In other words, there's no evidence that the current antitrust regime is a problem for new joint ventures.

The facts also show that there is no credible evidence that joint ventures are the keys for promoting production efficiency, innovative or competitiveness. Studies of research and development joint ventures have concluded that these pacts may well reduce social welfare by diminishing competition for innovation. Others have concluded that retreating from competition, through joint ventures, "will not make American companies competitive, or make America competitive." On the contrary, economists believe that world class economic performance will not result from a comfortable home environment in which risks have been minimized but from pressure and challenge from demanding home customers, from capable home based suppliers and most of all from local rivalry.

This bill takes the wrong approach. It softens our antitrust laws in the hopes of making U.S. firms more competitive. Unfortunately this tack ignores hard facts and plain economic lessons. I urge my colleagues to oppose this bill and heed the counsel of Sherlock Holmes who said, "It is fatal to theorize in advance of the fact."

Mr. FISH. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from California [Mr. MOORHEAD].

Mr. MOORHEAD. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the National Cooperative Production Amendments of 1993 (H.R. 1313).

The idea of placing incentives in the Federal antitrust laws to encourage joint ventures was first proposed during the Reagan administration in 1983. At that time, I was proud to be the principal sponsor of the National Productivity and Innovation Act (H.R. 3878—98th Congress), an omnibus antitrust and intellectual property bill put forward by the Reagan administration. Title II of that bill proposed antitrust amendments with the express aim of encouraging research and development joint ventures. That bill eventually led to the enactment of the National Cooperative Research Act of 1984 (Public Law 98-462)—the so-called R&D joint venture bill.

During the Bush administration the idea of extending those same protections and incentives to production joint ventures was actively pursued. However, the Bush administration properly resisted the pressures to transform this otherwise positive idea into a tool for protectionism and trade retaliation. As an original cosponsor of H.R. 1313, I would point out that significant revisions have been made in the text of this year's joint production bill. Those changes, along with the clarifying language that has been included in the committee report, should greatly alleviate concerns about a possible protectionist result.

Specifically, H.R. 1313 amends the National Cooperative Research Act of 1984 [NCRA] so as to provide production joint ventures with the same benefits that are currently enjoyed by research and development joint ventures. This means that production ventures will be analyzed under the rule of reason standard of antitrust law. This standard requires the courts to balance a venture's procompetitive benefits against its possible anticompetitive effects. If the venture's effects are more procompetitive than anticompetitive, then it is completely lawful.

Furthermore, this legislation proposes that the antitrust damage reduction benefits of the NCRA—that is, single damages rather than the usual treble damages—also be extended to production joint ventures. To obtain such benefits, a venture must first file a written notification with the Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission. Once a disclosure notification is filed consistent with section 6 of the NCRA, then the maximum recovery against a production venture becomes actual damages, plus interest and reasonable attorneys fees, instead of treble damages.

Mr. Speaker, we are in a world marketplace and the Federal antitrust laws should reflect that reality. This legislation will foster a more favorable legal climate for cooperative activities among otherwise competing companies. It will encourage U.S. companies to join with other U.S. companies or with foreign companies to develop new products and new methods of production. For example, joint production ventures will allow U.S. companies to access new technologies, obtain needed capital, or to achieve greater production efficiencies. Importantly, jobs will be created here in the United States and the benefits of this statute will accrue to both our traditional basic industries—that is, steel, automotive, and pharmaceutical companies—as well as our high-technology computer and electronics firms.

The clear aim is to enhance America's ability to compete in the international marketplace. All too often, the costs of production and commercialization of new technologies are prohibitively high for one company to bear. Further, the short life cycles of many new products have greatly increased the risk of investment in new production facilities. Thus, joint production ventures, or as they are sometimes called in Europe, flexible manufacturing networks, make a great deal of sense in terms of economic efficiencies—that is, economies of scale.

In fact, cooperative activity on the part of competing companies often has a dramatically procompetitive effect. For example, joint ventures can mean a new or additional entrant into a particular market, where an individual company might not otherwise be able to enter. The production joint venture allows the participating companies to share both the costs and the risk of developing a new product or technology. Again, cooperation in production allows the companies to achieve economies of scale where an efficient output for a production facility may be beyond the resources of any one firm. Such joint activity also allows shared costs in the purchasing of supplies and transportation. In short, a production joint venture may bring with it many of the efficiencies of a merger while at the same time preserving the independence of the participating firms outside that particular production process.

Under section 3(g), which establishes a new section 7 of the NCRA, a production venture is required to locate its principal facilities inside the United States or its territories. However, it is important to emphasize that this language in the new section 7(1) is not intended to preclude the venture from locating significant production facilities and production support facilities outside the United States or its territories. In fact, in many instances, these overseas facilities will be a very important adjunct to a production venture.

Further, it is important to emphasize that the phrase "whose law" in section 7(2) is intended to include not only a country's domestic antitrust law but also all international agreements and binding obligations to which that country and the United States are a party. Consequently, a foreign country that is a party to an international agreement with the United States that provides national treatment, that is, treatment equivalent to domestic entities, fully satisfies the requirements of section 7(2). This would include Treaties of Friendship, Commerce and Navigation [FCN's], Bilateral Investment Treaties [BIT's], Free Trade Agreements, and various OECD instruments. For example, the United States-Canada Free Trade Agreement fully satisfies the conditions of section 7(2).

Section 3(f) amends the notification provisions of section 6 of the NCRA with respect to production ventures. Specifically, a production joint venture will have to disclose the nationality of each party to the venture and the identity and nationality of each person that controls a party to the venture. The Committee looked at existing Federal law in an effort to determine how corporate control has been previously defined. These laws included the Public Utility Holding Co. Act (15 U.S.C. §79 et seq.), the Investment Company Act (15 U.S.C. §89a-1 et seq.), the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. §1811 et seq.), and certain regulations promulgated to implement the Securities Act of 1933 (17 C.F.R. §230.405). However, because each of those laws and regulations sought to further different public policy goals, and because each set different ownership thresholds, the Committee concluded that those definitions were not totally transferable for our own purposes.

So, the Committee determined that the Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission should interpret the term "control" in the NCRA to mean having the power to direct the management or policies of a person. The typical methods for exerting this controlling influence would be through the ownership of voting securities, the exercise of a contractual right, or by direct participation on the board of directors. A U.S. affiliate or subsidiary of a foreign corporation is a United States person under the new section 7 of the NCRA if it is incorporated in the United States and its principal facilities and operations are located inside the United States or its territories.

Before concluding, I want to compliment the committee's ranking Republican Member, HAMILTON FISH, JR. Congressman FISH played a key role in developing compromise report language that has allowed this legislation to move forward. I also want to compliment Judiciary Committee Chairman BROOKS who has demonstrated a willingness to revise the bill's language on section 7 and to work out mutually agreeable report language.

Again, I am very pleased that we were able to reach agreement on language in the Committee report on a bipartisan basis—language that should help alleviate many of the concerns raised by our foreign trading partners and allies with respect to the meaning of section 3(g). I urge support for H.R. 1313.

□ 1330

Mrs. SCHROEDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 1313, the National Cooperative Production Amendments of 1993. I want to commend Chairman BROOKS for his leadership in moving this bill forward expeditiously.

The House Armed Services Subcommittee on Research and Technology, which I chair, has jurisdiction over one of the most difficult issues facing the Congress today, the question of defense conversion and reinvestment. One major barrier that the subcommittee heard as we conducted hearings on the issue is the problems raised by the antitrust laws. One specific problem is liability concerns of production joint ventures.

The National Cooperative Research Act of 1984 went a long way toward reducing the potential antitrust liability for certain research and development joint ventures. H.R. 1313 would expand this protection to certain joint production ventures entered into for the purposes of producing a product, process or service.

Providing this limited antitrust protection for production joint ventures will help encourage defense conversion and reinvestment. This protection will help stimulate technological innovation in production. Defense companies, employing skilled workers, need tools to ensure that new and innovative approaches, such as production joint ventures, can be attempted without undue fear of antitrust liability. H.R. 1313 provides a workable framework to provide this flexibility while preserving the basic antitrust framework I agree with.

Again, Mr. Speaker, I want to commend Chairman BROOKS for his leadership on this issue and urge our colleagues to approve this important bill.

Mr. BROOKS. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. FISH. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. McNULTY). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Texas [Mr. BROOKS] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 1313, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended, and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. BROOKS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 3 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 1313, the bill just passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Texas?

There was no objection.

FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION AUTHORIZATION ACT FOR FISCAL YEAR 1994

Mr. STUDDS. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1934) to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 1994 for the Federal Maritime Commission, and for other purposes.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 1934

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Federal Maritime Commission Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1994".

SEC. 2. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

There is authorized to be appropriated to the Federal Maritime Commission $19,450,000 for fiscal year 1994.

SEC. 3. FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR NON-PERFORMANCE OF VOYAGES.

Section 3(b) of Public Law 89-777 (46 App. U.S.C. 817e(b)) is amended by striking "and such bond or other security shall be in an amount paid equal to the estimated total revenue for the particular transportation." and inserting a period.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. STUDDS] will be recognized for 20 minutes, and the gentleman from Texas [Mr. FIELDS] will be recognized for 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. STUDDS].

Mr. STUDDS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 1934, the fiscal year 1994 authorization for the Federal Maritime Commission [FMC], was introduced by Merchant Marine Subcommittee Chairman LIPINSKI, along with myself and the ranking minority members of the committee and subcommittee, on April 29, 1993.

The bill authorizes appropriations for the FMC at the level requested by the President: $19,450,000.

The FMC is charged with the regulation of oceanborne transportation in the foreign commerce and the domestic offshore trade of the United States. Last year, the Commission conducted a comprehensive review of its regulations which resulted in numerous changes for the benefit of all segments of the ocean shipping industry.

I would like at this time to congratulate the FMC's newly-designated Chairman, William D. Hathaway. Chairman Hathaway formerly served the State of Maine in both the U.S. House and Senate; and, as a House Member, served on the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries.

I would also like to take this opportunity to applaud the leadership of Chairman LIPINSKI who has thrown himself wholeheartedly into the complex debate over maritime policy. The successful revitalization of our American merchant marine will rely in large measure on his efforts and those of ranking minority member HERB BATEMAN. I am confident they are both up to the task.

This bill has the full support of the members of the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, and I urge its approval.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. FIELDS of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, as a cosponsor of H.R. 1934, I am pleased to rise in support of this bill authorizing appropriations for the Federal Maritime Commission [FMC] for fiscal year 1994.

The funding level authorized by H.R. 1934 is $19,450,000, which is identical to the President's budget request. This is $1.15 million more than Congress appropriated last year and this small increase is necessary in order to cover certain salaries, rent, and moving expenses incurred by the FMC.

The Commission also intends to borrow an additional $410,000 from the U.S. Treasury to implement the new Automated Tariff-Filing and Information System [ATFI]. This borrowing authority was provided in Public Law 102-582, which repealed the highly unpopular recreational boat tax. This amount is necessary to fully implement the tariff filing information system and the Commission will repay these borrowed funds, with interest, from the proceeds generated by a 46-cent-per-minute access fee.

When the Merchant Marine Subcommittee held its hearing on this legislation, the new Chairman of the Commission, the Honorable William Hathaway, testified that the administration's budget request would allow the FMC to adequately perform all of their statutory and regulatory responsibilities.

While the FMC is not well known outside of the ocean shipping community, it does have a number of important functions, including regulating the practices of ocean common carriers and other entities operating in the foreign and domestic offshore trades, reviewing tariffs filed by ocean shippers, licensing international ocean freight forwarders, and issuing passenger vessel certificates of financial responsibility.

H.R. 1934 also includes a provision that would amend the Passenger Vessel Certification Act (Public Law 88-777), which insures that a passenger vessel owner has sufficient financial resources to reimburse passengers for non-performance of a voyage. This provision would modify the existing law to allow the FMC greater flexibility in determining the amount of a bond, or other security, that an operator must post in order to establish evidence of financial responsibility.

Chairman Hathaway requested this change in his recent testimony, stating that the existing law, which requires a passenger vessel owner to post a bond in an amount equal to the estimated total revenue for the transportation, could be interpreted as requiring a dollar-for-dollar bond. He believes existing law is more restrictive than necessary. The Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee concurred in that assessment.

I believe that the Federal Maritime Commission is doing an outstanding job in implementing its numerous statutory and regulatory obligations and that this funding level is appropriate for the coming fiscal year.

Mr. Speaker, I urge the Members to support this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. STUDDS. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the distinguished chairman of the Subcommittee on Merchant Marine, the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. LIPINSKI].

Mr. LIPINSKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to urge adoption of H.R. 1934, the Federal Maritime Commission Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1994.

H.R. 1934 authorizes appropriations of $19,450,000 for use by the Commission in fiscal year 1994. This is the exact authorization level requested by the administration and includes an increase of $1,150,000 over fiscal year 1993 appropriations. Roughly 91.3 percent of this increase is composed of mandatory expenditures of a nondiscretionary nature. Specifically, the increase includes $431,000 for the annualization of fiscal year 1993 within-grade promotions and general pay increases, $98,000 for General Services Administration [GSA] mandated rent increases, an estimated $379,000 in expenses related to GSA's relocation of the Commission's headquarters, $49,000 for personnel benefits, and $93,000 for other miscellaneous expense items.

Section 3 of the bill amends section 3(b) of Public Law 89-777 to clarify the current requirement that passenger ships serving the U.S. market provide evidence of financial responsibility to indemnify passengers in the event of nonperformance of a voyage. An identical provision was approved by the committee last year and was added to the legislation as introduced at Commission Chairman Hathaway's request.

As currently written, section 3(b) of Public Law 89-777 requires a bond from a company in an amount equal to the estimated total revenue for the particular transportation. This language could be construed to require dollar-for-dollar coverage for all unearned revenue. The Commission has been using its authority granted in section 3(a) of that same law to require bonds of no less than 110 percent of all unearned passenger revenue and has capped this coverage at $15,000,000. The Commission reports that this safeguard has fully protected passengers financially whenever there has been nonperformance by a passenger vessel operator.

Mr. Speaker, the Federal Maritime Commission is an important independent agency which regulates the practices of ocean common carriers and other shipping entities operating in the foreign commerce and domestic offshore trades of the United States. This authorization level presents the Commission with the very minimum it will need to fulfill its mandate.

Among the Commission's most important functions is its responsibility to monitor the laws and practices of foreign governments to ensure they do not adversely impact shipping conditions in the United States trades. I urge the Commission to continue its excellent work under the Foreign Shipping Practices Act of 1988 and section 19 of the Merchant Marine Act to eliminate unfair foreign government practices which inhibit United States carriers and shipping related enterprises from competing on equal terms in foreign countries.

The Commission has recently conducted a comprehensive review of its regulations and has made great efforts to streamline the regulatory process to help foster a more competitive and flexible shipping environment. I commend the commission and its new Chairman, William Hathaway, for their efforts.

I would like to thank our distinguished committee chairman, Mr. Studds, and our ranking member, Mr. Fields, for their support. I would also like to extend my gratitude to Mr. Bateman for his outstanding leadership.

□ 1340

Mr. FIELDS of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as she may consume to the great gentlewoman from Maryland [Mrs. BENTLEY].

Mrs. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Texas [Mr. FIELDS], who has done an outstanding job on the minority side of the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries. I also want to join with the leadership on the other side in supporting this bill, H.R. 1934, which authorizes appropriations for fiscal year 1994 for the Federal Maritime Commission, of which I was once chairman. It is a very important independent agency and does play a vital role in helping provide fair treatment for American-flag ships throughout the world.

The authorization is within the President's budget, and Chairman Hathaway, who, as the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. STUDDS] pointed out, is a former Member of this House and is the newly designated chairman, has testified on its behalf.

Mr. Speaker, I want to emphasize that the Federal Maritime Commission is the agency which has the authority and the only real clout that this country has to assure American-flag ships and American-flag bottoms equal access in all foreign ports. The American merchant marine industry needs the Federal Maritime Commission, and the Federal Maritime Commission needs this funding.

Again I want to commend the Federal Maritime Commission for all its responsibilities and what it does so well. The gentleman from Illinois [Mr. LIPINSKI] has outlined its duties in detail so well that I will not repeat them here.

Mr. Speaker, I want to commend the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries and its chairman, the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. STUDDS], for all they have done.

Mr. FIELDS of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. STUDDS. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. McNULTY). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. STUDDS] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 1934.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

ARMORED CAR INDUSTRY RECIPROCITY ACT OF 1993

Mrs. COLLINS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1189) to entitle certain armored car crew members to lawfully carry a weapon in any State while protecting the security of valuable goods in interstate commerce in the service of an armored car company.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 1189

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Armored Car Industry Reciprocity Act of 1993".

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

Congress finds that—

(1) the distribution of goods and services to consumers in the United States requires the free flow of currency, bullion, securities, food stamps, and other items of unusual value in interstate commerce;

(2) the armored car industry transports and protects such items in interstate commerce, including daily transportation of currency and food stamps valued at more than $1,000,000,000;

(3) armored car crew members are often subject to armed attack by individuals attempting to steal such items;

(4) to protect themselves and the items they transport, such crew members are armed with weapons;

(5) various States require both weapons' training and a criminal record background check before licensing a crew member to carry a weapon; and

(6) there is a need for each State to reciprocally accept weapons' licenses of other States for armored car crew members to assure the free and safe transport of valuable items in interstate commerce.

SEC. 3. STATE RECIPROCITY OF WEAPONS' LICENSES ISSUED TO ARMORED CAR COMPANY CREW MEMBERS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—If an armored car crew member employed by an armored car company has in effect a license issued by the appropriate State agency (in the State in which such member is primarily employed by such company) to carry a weapon while acting in the service of such company in that State, and such State agency meets the minimum State requirements under subsection (b), then such crew member shall be entitled to lawfully carry any weapon to which such license relates in any State while such crew member is acting in the service of such company.

(b) MINIMUM STATE REQUIREMENTS.—A State agency meets the minimum State requirements of this subsection if in issuing a weapon's license to an armored car crew member described in subsection (a), the agency requires the crew member to provide information on an annual basis to the satisfaction of the agency that—

(1) the crew member has received classroom and range training in weapon's safety and marksmanship during the current year by a qualified instructor for each weapon that the crew member is licensed to carry; and

(2) the receipt or possession of a weapon by the crew member would not violate Federal law, determined on the basis of a criminal record background check conducted during the current year.

SEC. 4. RELATION TO OTHER LAWS.

This Act shall supersede any provision of State law (or any subdivision thereof) that is inconsistent with this Act.

SEC. 5. DEFINITIONS.

As used in this Act:

(1) The term "armored car crew member" means an individual who provides protection for goods transported by an armored car company.

(2) The term "armored car company" means a company—

(A) subject to regulation under subchapter II of chapter 105 of title 49, United States Code; and

(B) holding the appropriate certificate, permit, or license issued under subchapter II of chapter 109 of such title, in order to engage in the business of transporting and protecting currency, bullion, securities, precious metals, food stamps, and other articles of unusual value in interstate commerce.

(3) The term "State" includes the several States and the District of Columbia.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentlewoman from Illinois [Mrs. COLLINS] will be recognized for 20 minutes, and the gentleman from Florida [Mr. STEARNS] will be recognized for 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from Illinois [Mrs. COLLINS].

Mrs. COLLINS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 1189, the Armored Car Industry Reciprocity Act, would entitle certain armored car crew members to lawfully carry a weapon in any State while protecting the security of valuable goods in interstate commerce in the service of an armored car company.

On April 20, 1993, the Committee on Energy and Commerce favorably reported the bill by a unanimous voice vote. H.R. 1189 is virtually identical to companion legislation passed unanimously by the Senate in the last Congress.

Any time I discuss the problems experienced by the armored car industry because of State licensing laws and describe the solution proposed in this bill, just about everyone responds, "That makes a lot of sense to me." Mr. Speaker, this bill makes a lot of sense and I am pleased that there is such broad support for it.

As the author of H.R. 1189, and chairwoman of the Subcommittee on Commerce, Consumer Protection, and Competitiveness, which considered it, I would like to take this time to discuss the importance of adopting this bill.

The armored car industry is a necessary part of interstate commerce in the United States. Retail businesses use these companies to transfer their day's cash, checks, and credit card receipts between their stores and their banks. Armored cars transport jewelry, bonds, securities, financial documents, and other articles of unusual value. A typical truck transports anywhere from $100,000 to several million dollars' worth of cargo in one shipment.

Armored cars are also important to the operations of a number of agencies in the Federal Government. They transport over $18 billion in food stamps issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture every year. They are hired by the U.S. Mint and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing to transport coins and currency and by the Federal Reserve System to transport documents and materials related to financial services.

In 1990, the Federal Bureau of Investigation received reports of 75 attempts made by armed robbers, including terrorists, to overpower the crew members of an armored truck and to seize the valuables. Four crew employees were killed in the line of duty during that year. Clearly, these firms must be able to equip their car crews with firearms in order to defend such cargo against attack.

However, these companies face many obstacles when it comes to arranging for their employees to guard their cargo. The regulation of permits to carry firearms is handled at the State level and many States do not recognize weapons licenses issued by other States. Thus, under the current system, armored car crew members must obtain separate weapons licenses from each State which they cross.

Because it is difficult to obtain licenses for every State in which they might travel, some crew members have, in the past, attempted to travel through States without holding the appropriate weapons licenses. In doing so, they place themselves in violation of State weapons laws and make themselves vulnerable to criminal charges.

If armored car personnel are subsequently arrested for carrying weapons without appropriate licensing, the cargo they are protecting may be left unguarded and open to attack during the period in which the crew members are detained.

In one reported incident, an armored car was transporting over $50 million in food stamps from Pennsylvania, where they are printed, to upstate New York. The truck stopped at a weigh station in New York. Police at the weigh station asked to see the crew members' weapons permits. They produced their New Jersey licenses. The police took away their weapons and arrested the driver, who spent the night in jail. The guard was left behind to protect the truck although he was unarmed. The following morning, a judge dismissed the charges.

Another incident occurred in Louisiana, when an armored car transporting food stamps from Pennsylvania was stopped for a routine traffic check. The armed guards were asked to produce weapons permits and were arrested when it was determined that their weapons licenses had been issued in Pennsylvania. The guards were taken to jail and the truck was left unguarded along the side of the road. Again, a judge dismissed the charges the following morning.

The Armored Car Industry Reciprocity Act of 1993 addresses the problem of weapons licensing requirements for armored car crew members. Briefly, this bill would allow armored car crew personnel to cross State lines without obtaining a weapons permit from each State which the truck enters. In order to be eligible for this permission, the crew members must be licensed to carry a weapon in the State in which they are primarily employed.

A question has been raised about the meaning of the phrase "primarily employed" and I would like to make clear our intent. The bill requires the armored car crew member to hold a license in the State in which he or she primarily works for the armored car company.

We do not intend to permit armored car companies or their crew members to use this bill as a means for avoiding licensing requirements in States with tough weapons licensing regulations. If one armored car crew member usually works in New Jersey, he would be required to be licensed in New Jersey in order to gain reciprocity. If another crew member usually works in Georgia, in order to gain reciprocity, her license would have to come from Georgia. Let me underscore the fact that reciprocity is only triggered when the armored car is involved in interstate commerce.

H.R. 1189 requires States to recognize the weapons license issued by another State to an armored car crew member, so long as the State agency issuing the license meets certain requirements such as annual classroom and range training on weapons and an annual background check to confirm that the receipt and possession of a weapon by the crew member would not violate Federal law.

A Congressional Budget Office cost estimate was not available at the time the committee report on this bill was filed. The CBO estimate received by the committee on April 22 indicates that the enactment of H.R. 1189 would result in NO cost to the Federal Government or to State and local governments.

I am submitting at this time the full text of the CBO estimates.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
U.S. CONGRESS,
Washington, DC, April 22, 1993.

Hon. JOHN D. DINGELL,
Chairman, Committee on Energy and Commerce,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has reviewed H.R. 1189, the Armored Car Industry Reciprocity Act of 1993, as ordered reported by the House Committee on Energy and Commerce on April 20, 1993. CBO estimates that enactment of H.R. 1189 would result in no cost to the federal government or to state and local governments. Enactment of H.R. 1189 would not affect direct spending or receipts. Therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply to the bill.

H.R. 1189 would provide that armored car crew members licensed by a state agency meeting certain criteria would be permitted to carry their weapons in any state while performing their duties.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is John Webb, who can be reached at 226-2860.

Sincerely,

ROBERT D. REISCHAUER,
Director.

The interstate acceptance of weapons licenses only applies to individuals who are employed by an armored car company while they are acting in the service of that company to protect goods in interstate commerce.

The Armored Car Industry Reciprocity Act of 1993 does not increase the number of people who are eligible to carry weapons, nor does it impose additional licensing requirements.

I want to make clear that I am a strong advocate of gun control. However, this bill is not about gun control. We have consulted with all groups who deal with gun control issues, including the National Rifle Association, Handgun Control, the Fraternal Order of Police, the International Association of Chiefs of Police, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms, the FBI, and the U.S. Marshal Service. Every one of these groups expressed either support or no opposition to this bill.

H.R. 1189 will help reduce unnecessary burdens on armored car companies and their employees and will facilitate the transportation of valuable cargo across State lines.

Before concluding, I would like to express my thanks for the assistance of our able chairman of the Energy and Commerce Committee, JOHN DINGELL, and that of the ranking minority member of our subcommittee, CLIFF STEARNS, in developing this bill. I also want to thank Congressman ALEX McMILLAN, who assisted us during his tenure as ranking minority member of our subcommittee in the 102d Congress.

I encourage my colleagues to support this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

□ 1350

Mr. STEARNS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 5 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, as both the ranking Republican member of the Subcommittee on Commerce, Consumer Protection, and Competitiveness, and as an original cosponsor of H.R. 1189, the Armored Car Industry Reciprocity Act, I rise today in strong support of this legislation. As I have said on so many occasions before, this is a simple bill that makes good sense.

We are all aware of the increase in violent crime in our society. Armored cars, which transport billions of dollars annually in coin, currency, valuable documents, and food stamps, have shown themselves to be ripe targets for terrorists and organized criminals, as well as everyday thugs. According to the FBI, in 1990, there were 75 robbery attempts against armored cars. Immediately prior to the subcommittee's hearing in March, there was an attempted robbery of an armored car in Massachusetts which was foiled because the crewmembers were armed.

H.R. 1189 creates a means by which, if a State requires firearms training and criminal background checks, its weapons permits for armored car crews will be valid in all other States, much like a driver's license. However, this license would only be valid while the licensed crewmember is performing his or her duties for the armored car company. This bill is a reasonable answer to the needs of the armored car industry to engage in interstate commerce while protecting the safety of the armored car crews and their cargo.

Mr. Speaker, I insert the following for the RECORD:

TALKING POINTS

The armored car industry is a vital part of our economy.

The armored car industry transports billions of dollars annually in currency, coin, food stamps, securities, and other valuables.

According to the Department of Agriculture, the armored car industry transported over $20 billion in food stamps during fiscal year 1992.

Due to the value of the cargo transported by the armored car industry, armored cars become ripe targets for robberies.

According to the FBI there were 75 robbery attempts against armored cars in 1990.

Since the cargoes carried by armored cars are so valuable, they are more likely targets for terrorists and other highly organized criminal elements.

H.R. 1189, the Armored Car Industry Reciprocity Act would eliminate the confusion and expense caused by the current system which requires armored car crew members to have weapons licenses in each state in which they might possibly operate.

H.R. 1189 is a bill which would require states to recognize the weapons licenses of armored car crews, so long as the state issuing the license requires criminal background check and annual firearms training.

Crew members of armored car crews would only be permitted to carry their weapons while performing their official duties in the employ of the armored car company.

Mr. Speaker, this bill is either supported or not opposed by all armored car companies, Handgun Control, Inc., the National Rifle Association, and the Fraternal Order of Police. In our hearings, and in my own conversations with friends and colleagues, no one has raised any objections to this legislation.

I want to take this opportunity to thank the distinguished chairwoman of the subcommittee for her hard work in shepherding this important legislation through the legislative process. I would also offer my thanks to the ranking Republican member of this subcommittee during the 102d Congress, Mr. McMILLAN, as well as my good friend and colleague, Mr. OXLEY, who is also a strong supporter of this legislation.

This bill simply makes it easier for armored car crewmembers to do their job. I urge all of my colleagues to support this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

□ 1400

Mr. STEARNS. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the ranking member of the Committee on Energy and Commerce, the gentleman from California [Mr. CARLOS MOORHEAD].

Mr. MOORHEAD. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 1189, a bipartisan bill to entitle armored car crewmembers to lawfully carry weapons in any State while in performance of their duties in transporting valuable cargo across State lines.

In the United States, armored cars are used to transport millions of dollars in currency, coins, food stamps, and other valuable property for both private entities and the Federal Government. Because of the value of their cargo, armored cars are often targets of crime. According to the FBI, there were 75 armed robbery attempts made against armored cars in 1990.

Currently, armored car crewmembers are required to receive a weapons permit in every State to which they travel. Since some States take up to 2 years to issue the necessary permits, some crewmembers carry permits only from the State in which they are domiciled. When detained by authorities in States for which crewmembers lack permits, the safety of the crewmembers and their cargo is jeopardized. H.R. 1189 is a narrowly drafted bill requiring armored car crewmembers to undergo background checks and participate in firearms training. Upon completion of this requirement, members of armored car crews are required to seek a weapons license only in the State where the crewmember is primarily employed.

This simple but much needed legislation has received widespread support from law enforcement authorities, armored car companies, and State and local officials. Last year, the Senate unanimously approved legislation identical to H.R. 1189. I urge all of my colleagues to support this bipartisan legislation.

Mr. STEARNS. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mrs. COLLINS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. McNULTY). The question is on the motion offered by the gentlewoman from Illinois [Mrs. COLLINS] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 1189.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mrs. COLLINS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks, and include therein extraneous material, on the bill just passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from Illinois?

There was no objection.

INTRODUCTION OF WAYS AND MEANS RECONCILIATION BILL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. ROSTENKOWSKI] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. ROSTENKOWSKI. Mr. Speaker, today, as a courtesy to all Members, I am introducing H.R. 2141, a bill containing the spending and revenue reconciliation recommendations of the Committee on Ways and Means.

House Concurrent Resolution 64 sets forth the congressional budget for the U.S. Government for fiscal years 1994, 1995, 1996, 1997, and 1998. The resolution instructs the Committee on Ways and Means to report changes in laws within its jurisdiction sufficient to reduce the deficit by $299,771 million from fiscal year 1994 to fiscal year 1998. The committee is also directed to report changes in laws to increase the statutory limit on the public debt to not more than $4,900 billion.

On May 13, 1993, the Committee on Ways and Means approved its budget reconciliation recommendations by a vote of 24-14. These recommendations reduce the deficit by $299,801 million from fiscal year 1994 to fiscal year 1998 and increase the statutory limit on the public debt to $4,900 billion.

This bill is identical to the statutory language approved by the Committee on Ways and Means that will be assembled, by the Committee on the Budget, into an omnibus budget reconciliation bill later this month. I would like to further advise Members that—later this week—the committee will issue a committee print containing the normal explanatory report language, Congressional Budget Office cost estimates, and minority views for these provisions.

AMERICAN FOOD SUPPLY VULNERABLE UNDER NAFTA

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentlewoman from Maryland [Mrs. BENTLEY] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mrs. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, the bandwagon is rolling along for everyone to jump on and support the North American Free-Trade Agreement [NAFTA]—or to support the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade [GATT]. Anyone who raises a voice of caution is castigated as backward or a hypocrite.

To err on the side of caution is not always a bad thing. Perhaps we should consider more carefully what Americans are giving up—are losing—under these new trade agreements, particularly NAFTA and GATT. A safe food supply always should be the No. 1 priority of the U.S. Government.

Once, the United States had the safest food supply in the world. But, in a current Newsweek article, Dr. Robert Tauxe of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention [CDC] says, "You can't say we have the safest food supply in the world. * * * Ours is the food supply of the world. One bite of a fastfood hamburger can introduce you to beef from four countries."

What does this mean, to have a fast food hamburger containing beef from four countries? That means, the American Government does not know what makes up our food supply.

There have been stories of horsemeat and kangaroo included in ground beef. Now Newsweek has spelled out how real the threat is to Americans—and not just from foreign supplies, but also from domestic products.

We are probably most familiar with the contamination of beef in a Jack-In-The-Box hamburger which resulted in 477 sick people in 4 States and the death of a toddler.

What we were not familiar with was the illness 23 New Englanders suffered from drinking fresh cider, or that approximately 500 children in 11 States became ill drinking raw milk while on a school outing to dairies. That outbreak was caused by a germ called Campylobacter, unknown until 1977 when a British report ended up on someone's desk at the CDC. That germ, which is the world's leading foodborne pathogen, shows up in shell fish, cheese, and chicken, as well as milk.

I have become concerned about our food supply, ever since a close friend of mine, whom I shall call Mrs. Y, almost lost her husband from eating a roasted chicken purchased at the grocery store. Mrs. Y called it some kind of bug that no one understood, but apparently no longer is that uncommon.

It was not the first time her family had enjoyed already-roasted chickens, but it certainly was the last. No one else was stricken except her husband. The bug apparently had lurked in a joint where it was not sufficiently cooked.

After that incident, I started paying more attention to reports of tainted food, and started reading more about our food supply which was being negotiated in trade agreements.

Apparently, the experts who are concerned about the food supply and have testified against and expressed concern about the lowering of food standards under the trade agreements have been right. The United States is being besieged with new germs and no one knows exactly where they do come from.

Some of them are of domestic origin due to an insufficient food inspection system. Some are of foreign source where usually there is no inspection of any kind.

Newsweek mentions that:

In 1990, people in 30 states fell ill after eating cantaloupe that had been trucked across Mexico in ice made with local river water. Imported cantaloupes also were linked to a 1991 Salmonella outbreak that struck at least 400 people in 23 states. The lesson, says CDC scientist Morris Potter, is that we can now enjoy "Third World" diseases with all the comforts of home.

I rest my case that we should be concerned about protecting our food supply under the terms of our trade agreements. We have been gradually lowering our standards to ship in food for a number of years. Perhaps we should rethink this policy and correct it. The life we save may be yours.

TRIBUTE TO PRISCILLA BEEDE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. PICKETT] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. PICKETT. Mr. Speaker, on Friday, May 7, 1993, the Virginia Beach Jaycees honored Mrs. Priscilla Beede of that same city with the 43d Annual First Citizen of Virginia Beach Award.

This award is just one of many outstanding projects which the Virginia Beach Jaycees engage in each year, but it is certainly one of the most important.

By honoring and showcasing the real stalwarts of Virginia Beach, the Jaycees not only commend many people for a job well done, but also hold up for example the type of model citizens that the rest of us should try to emulate.

Priscilla Beede is an extraordinary lady and a most deserving recipient of this award.

In 1835, the French writer and historian Alexis de Tocqueville described our Nation and her people this way:

America is a land of wonders, in which everything is in constant motion, and every change seems an improvement. The idea of novelty is therefore indissolubly connected with the idea of amelioration. No natural boundary seems to be set to the efforts of man; and in his eyes, what is not yet done is only what he has not yet attempted to do.

Aside from Tocqueville's use of the masculine noun only—when I am sure he meant men and women—his words are a perfect description of Priscilla Beede and her life's work in Virginia Beach.

Priscilla is in constant motion and has been for years. Everything she seeks to change, she seeks to improve. There is no boundary to her efforts on behalf of others, and to Priscilla, I think it's safe to say those things which she has not done are things which she has not yet attempted to do.

Several years ago in 1988 and 1989, when drug abuse among children was even more severe than it is today, Priscilla started the Just Say No Drug Free Youth Parade in Virginia Beach.

I remember being invited to speak briefly to the children at that event. I knew Priscilla was involved, but it wasn't until I got there that I knew just how involved she was. I realized she must have been chairing the event when I saw the large crowd, the perfect organization, the enthusiasm in the faces of the children and volunteers, and now looking back, in the results. That parade has continued since 1988, and Priscilla is leading the charge.

Priscilla has also served on the executive board of the Community Alliance for Drug Rehabilitation and Education since 1988, and is a cochair of the Reside With Pride Program.

For every person in Virginia Beach who has stayed away from drugs, and for every person who has been helped out once they fell into the trap of illegal drugs, Priscilla Beede deserves a share of the credit.

Mrs. Beede has helped with the Cub Scouts, Little League, and PTA's. She is president of the Green Run Homes Association. She has been involved with a number of activities at Holy Spirit Catholic Church in Virginia Beach, and she is a veteran of the Korean War. For years she has organized the largest Fourth of July Parade in southeastern Virginia. She has lobbied the Virginia General Assembly for increased funding of local community service boards, and she has been very active in local political affairs as well.

Mr. Speaker, Virginia Beach is a great community because we have many great citizens who are willing to do great things for their neighbors. Priscilla Beede is one of those people.

I salute her on the occasion of this award, and I salute the Virginia Beach Jaycees, and David McClees in particular, for upholding their 43-year tradition of honoring the very best people in our community. The Jaycee creed ends with these words: "service to humanity is the best work of life."

These words certainly capture the spirit of Priscilla Beede and the Virginia Beach Jaycees.

- (i) "Employee".—To file as an "employee", state (in Item "B") the name, address, and nature of business of the "employer". (If the "employee" is a firm [such as a law firm or public relations firm], partners and salaried staff members of such firm may join in filing a Report as an "employee".)

REPORT

PURSUANT TO FEDERAL REGULATION OF LOBBYING ACT

P	QUARTER
	1st	2d	3d	4th
(Mark one square only)

IDENTIFICATION NUMBER

Is this an Amendment?
 YES  NO

NOTE on ITEM "A".—(a) IN GENERAL. This "Report" form may be used by either an organization or an individual, as follows:

- (i) "Employee".—To file as an "employee", state (in Item "B") the name, address, and nature of business of the "employer". (If the "employee" is a firm [such as a law firm or public relations firm], partners and salaried staff members of such firm may join in filing a Report as an "employee".)
- (ii) "Employer".—To file as an "employer", write "None" in answer to Item "B".
- (b) SEPARATE REPORTS. An agent or employee should not attempt to combine his Report with the employer's Report:
  - (i) Employers subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their agents or employees.
  - (ii) Employees subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their employers.

A. ORGANIZATION OR INDIVIDUAL FILING:

1. State name, address, and nature of business.

2. If this Report is for an Employer, list names of agents or employees who will file Reports for this Quarter.

CHECK IF ADDRESS IS DIFFERENT THAN PREVIOUSLY REPORTED

NOTE on ITEM "B".—Reports by Agents or Employees. An employee is to file, each quarter, as many Reports as he has employers, except that: (a) If a particular undertaking is jointly financed by a group of employers, the group is to be considered as one employer, but all members of the group are to be named, and the contribution of each member is to be specified; (b) if the work is done in the interest of one person but payment therefor is made by another, a single Report—naming both persons as "employers"—is to be filed each quarter.

B. EMPLOYER —State name, address, and nature of business. If there is no employer, write "None."

NOTE on ITEM "C".—(a) The expression "in connection with legislative interests," as used in this Report, means "in connection with attempting, directly or indirectly, to influence the passage or defeat of legislation." "The term 'legislation' means bills, resolutions, amendments, nominations, and other matters pending or proposed in either House of Congress, and includes any other matter which may be the subject of action by either House"—§ 302(e).

(b) Before undertaking any activities in connection with legislative interests, organizations and individuals subject to the Lobbying Act are required to file a "Preliminary" Report (Registration).

(c) After beginning such activities, they must file a "Quarterly" Report at the end of each calendar quarter in which they have either received or expended anything of value in connection with legislative interests.

C. LEGISLATIVE INTERESTS, AND PUBLICATIONS in connection therewith:

1. State approximately how long legislative interests are to continue. If receipts and expenditures in connection with legislative interests have terminated, place an "X" in the box at the left, so that this Office will no longer expect to receive Reports.

2. State the general legislative interests of the person filing and set forth the specific legislative interests by reciting: (a) Short titles of statutes and bills; (b) House and Senate numbers of bills, where known; (c) citations of statutes, where known; (d) whether for or against such statutes and bills.

3. In the case of those publications which the person filing has caused to be issued or distributed in connection with legislative interests, set forth: (a) description, (b) quantity distributed, (c) date of distribution, (d) name of printer or publisher (if publications were paid for by person filing) or name of donor (if publications were received as a gift).

(Answer items 1, 2, and 3 in the space below. Attach additional pages if more space is needed.)

4. If this is a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) rather than a "Quarterly" Report, state below what the nature and amount of anticipated expenses will be; and, if for an agent or employee, state also what the daily, monthly, or annual rate of compensation is to be. If this is a "Quarterly" Report, disregard this item "C4" and fill out items "D" and "E" on the back of this page. Do not attempt to combine a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) with a "Quarterly Report."

STATEMENT OF VERIFICATION

[Omitted in printing]

NOTE on ITEM "D."—(a) IN GENERAL. The term "contribution" includes anything of value. When an organization or individual uses printed or duplicated matter in a campaign attempting to influence legislation, money received by such organization or individual—for such printed or duplicated matter—is a "contribution."

(b) IF THIS REPORT IS FOR AN EMPLOYER.—(i) In general. Item "D" is designed for the reporting of all receipts from which expenditures are made, or will be made, in connection with legislative interests.

(ii) Receipts of Business Firms and Individuals.—A business firm (or individual) which is subject to the Lobbying Act by reason of expenditures which it makes in attempting to influence legislation—but which has no funds to expend except those which are available in the ordinary course of operating a business not connected in any way with the influencing of legislation—will have no receipts to report, even though it does have expenditures to report.

(iii) Receipts of Multi-purpose Organizations.—Some organizations do not receive any funds which are to be expended solely for the purpose of attempting to influence legislation. Such organizations make such expenditures out of a general fund raised by dues, assessments, or other contributions.

(c) IF THIS REPORT IS FOR AN AGENT OR EMPLOYEE.—(i) In general. In the case of many employees, all receipts will come under Items "D 5" (received for services) and "D 12" (expense money and reimbursements).

(ii) Employer as Contributor of $500 or More.—When your contribution from your employer (in the form of salary, fee, etc.) amounts to $500 or more, it is not necessary to report such contribution under "D 13" and "D 14," since the amount has already been reported under "D 5," and the name of the "employer" has been given under Item "B" on page 1 of this report.

PURSUANT TO FEDERAL REGULATION OF LOBBYING ACT

Table with columns: P, QUARTER (1st, 2d, 3d, 4th). (Mark one square only)

Is this an Amendment?
[ ] YES [ ] NO

IDENTIFICATION NUMBER

NOTE ON ITEM "A".—(a) IN GENERAL. This "Report" form may be used by either an organization or an individual, as follows:

- (i) "Employee".—To file as an "employee", state (in Item "B") the name, address, and nature of business of the "employer".
(ii) "Employer".—To file as an "employer", write "None" in answer to Item "B".
(b) SEPARATE REPORTS. An agent or employee should not attempt to combine his Report with the employer's Report.
(i) Employers subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their agents or employees.
(ii) Employees subject to the Act must file separate Reports and are not relieved of this requirement merely because Reports are filed by their employers.

A. ORGANIZATION OR INDIVIDUAL FILING:

2. If this Report is for an Employer, list names of agents or employees who will file Reports for this Quarter.

1. State name, address, and nature of business.

[ ] CHECK IF ADDRESS IS DIFFERENT THAN PREVIOUSLY REPORTED

NOTE ON ITEM "B".—Reports by Agents or Employees. An employee is to file, each quarter, as many Reports as he has employers, except that: (a) If a particular undertaking is jointly financed by a group of employers, the group is to be considered as one employer, but all members of the group are to be named, and the contribution of each member is to be specified; (b) if the work is done in the interest of one person but payment therefor is made by another, a single Report—naming both persons as "employers"—is to be filed each quarter.

B. EMPLOYER —State name, address, and nature of business. If there is no employer, write "None."

NOTE ON ITEM "C".—(a) The expression "in connection with legislative interests," as used in this Report, means "in connection with attempting, directly or indirectly, to influence the passage or defeat of legislation." "The term 'legislation' means bills, resolutions, amendments, nominations, and other matters pending or proposed in either House of Congress, and includes any other matter which may be the subject of action by either House"—§ 302(e).

(b) Before undertaking any activities in connection with legislative interests, organizations and individuals subject to the Lobbying Act are required to file a "Preliminary" Report (Registration).

(c) After beginning such activities, they must file a "Quarterly" Report at the end of each calendar quarter in which they have either received or expended anything of value in connection with legislative interests.

C. LEGISLATIVE INTERESTS, AND PUBLICATIONS in connection therewith:

1. State approximately how long legislative interests are to continue. If receipts and expenditures in connection with legislative interests have terminated, place an "X" in the box at the left, so that this Office will no longer expect to receive Reports.

2. State the general legislative interests of the person filing and set forth the specific legislative interests by reciting: (a) Short titles of statutes and bills; (b) House and Senate numbers of bills, where known; (c) citations of statutes, where known; (d) whether for or against such statutes and bills.

3. In the case of those publications which the person filing has caused to be issued or distributed in connection with legislative interests, set forth: (a) description, (b) quantity distributed, (c) date of distribution, (d) name of printer or publisher (if publications were paid for by person filing) or name of donor (if publications were received as a gift).

(Answer items 1, 2, and 3 in the space below. Attach additional pages if more space is needed.)

4. If this is a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) rather than a "Quarterly" Report, state below what the nature and amount of anticipated expenses will be; and, if for an agent or employee, state also what the daily, monthly, or annual rate of compensation is to be. If this is a "Quarterly" Report, disregard this item "C4" and fill out items "D" and "E" on the back of this page. Do not attempt to combine a "Preliminary" Report (Registration) with a "Quarterly Report."

STATEMENT OF VERIFICATION

[Omitted in printing]

NOTE on ITEM "D."—(a) IN GENERAL. The term "contribution" includes anything of value. When an organization or individual uses printed or duplicated matter in a campaign attempting to influence legislation, money received by such organization or individual—for such printed or duplicated matter—is a "contribution."

(b) IF THIS REPORT IS FOR AN EMPLOYER.—(i) In general. Item "D" is designed for the reporting of all receipts from which expenditures are made, or will be made, in connection with legislative interests.

(ii) Receipts of Business Firms and Individuals.—A business firm (or individual) which is subject to the Lobbying Act by reason of expenditures which it makes in attempting to influence legislation—but which has no funds to expend except those which are available in the ordinary course of operating a business not connected in any way with the influencing of legislation—will have no receipts to report, even though it does have expenditures to report.

(iii) Receipts of Multi-purpose Organizations.—Some organizations do not receive any funds which are to be expended solely for the purpose of attempting to influence legislation. Such organizations make such expenditures out of a general fund raised by dues, assessments, or other contributions.

(c) IF THIS REPORT IS FOR AN AGENT OR EMPLOYEE.—(i) In general. In the case of many employees, all receipts will come under Items "D 5" (received for services) and "D 12" (expense money and reimbursements).

(ii) Employer as Contributor of $500 or More.—When your contribution from your employer (in the form of salary, fee, etc.) amounts to $500 or more, it is not necessary to report such contribution under "D 13" and "D 14," since the amount has already been reported under "D 5," and the name of the "employer" has been given under Item "B" on page 1 of this report.
