(2) COOPERATION.—In carrying out this section, the Secretary shall cooperate fully with the heads of appropriate Federal agencies, including—

(A) the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency;

(B) the Secretary of Commerce, acting through the Administrator of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration;

(C) the Secretary of the Interior, acting through the Director of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service; and

(D) the heads of such other Federal agencies and agencies of a State or political subdivision of a State as the Secretary determines to be appropriate.

(f) DEMONSTRATION PROJECT.—The Secretary shall establish at least 1 project under this section in each of the States of Maryland, Virginia, and Pennsylvania. A project established under this section shall be carried out using such measures as are necessary to protect environmental, historic, and cultural resources.

(g) REPORT.—Not later than December 31, 1998, the Secretary shall transmit to Congress a report on the results of the program carried out under this section, together with a recommendation concerning whether or not the program should be implemented on a national basis.

(h) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated to carry out this section $10,000,000, to remain available until expended.

SEC. 331. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM TO IMPROVE SALMON SURVIVAL.

(a) SALMON SURVIVAL ACTIVITIES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall accelerate ongoing research and development activities, and is authorized to carry out or participate in additional research and development activities, for the purpose of developing innovative methods and technologies for improving the survival of salmon, especially salmon in the Columbia River Basin.

(2) ACCELERATED ACTIVITIES.—Accelerated research and development activities referred to in paragraph (1) may include research and development related to—

- (A) impacts from water resources projects and other impacts on salmon life cycles;
- (B) juvenile and adult salmon passage;
- (C) light and sound guidance systems;
- (D) surface-oriented collector systems;
- (E) transportation mechanisms; and
- (F) dissolved gas monitoring and abatement.

(3) ADDITIONAL ACTIVITIES.—Additional research and development activities referred to in paragraph (1) may include research and development related to—

- (A) marine mammal predation on salmon;
- (B) studies of juvenile salmon survival in spawning and rearing areas;
- (C) estuary and near-ocean juvenile and adult salmon survival;
- (D) impacts on salmon life cycles from sources other than water resources projects; and
- (E) other innovative technologies and actions intended to improve fish survival, including the survival of resident fish.

(4) COORDINATION.—The Secretary shall coordinate any activities carried out under this subsection with appropriate Federal, State, and local agencies, affected Indian tribes, and the Northwest Power Planning Council.

(5) REPORT.—Not later than 3 years after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall transmit to Congress a report on the research and development activities carried out under this subsection, including any recommendations of the Secretary concerning the research and development activities.

(6) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated $10,000,000 to carry out research and development activities under subparagraphs (A) through (C) of paragraph (3).

(b) ADVANCED TURBINE DEVELOPMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—In conjunction with the Secretary of Energy, the Secretary shall accelerate efforts toward developing innovative, efficient, and environmentally safe hydropower turbines, including design of "fish-friendly" turbines, for use on the Columbia River hydro system.

(2) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated $12,000,000 to carry out this subsection.

(c) IMPLEMENTATION.—Nothing in this section affects the authority of the Secretary to implement the results of the research and development carried out under this section or any other law.

SEC. 332. RECREATIONAL USER FEES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 210(b)(4) of the Flood Control Act of 1968 (16 U.S.C. 460d-3(b)(4)) is amended by inserting before the period at the end the following: "and, subject to the availability of appropriations, shall be used for the purposes specified in section 41(3) of the Act at the water resources development project at which the fees were collected".

(b) REPORT.—Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall prepare and submit to the Committee on Environment and Public Works of the Senate and the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives a report, with respect to fiscal year 1995, on—

(1) the amount of day-use fees collected under section 210(b) of the Flood Control Act of 1968 (16 U.S.C. 460d-3(b)) at each water resources development project; and

(2) the administrative costs associated with the collection of the day-use fees at each water resources development project.

SEC. 333. SHORE PROTECTION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subsection (a) of the first section of the Act of August 13, 1946 (60 Stat. 1056, chapter 960; 33 U.S.C. 426e(a)), is amended—

(1) by striking "damage to the shores" and inserting "damage to the shores and beaches"; and

(2) by striking "the following provisions" and all that follows through the period at the end and inserting the following: "this Act, to promote shore protection projects and related research that encourage the protection, restoration, and enhancement of sandy beaches, including beach restoration and periodic beach nourishment, on a comprehensive and coordinated basis by the Federal Government, States, localities, and private enterprises. In carrying out this policy, preference shall be given to areas in which there has been a Federal investment of funds and areas with respect to which the need for prevention or mitigation of damage to shores and beaches is attributable to Federal navigation projects or other Federal activities."

(b) DEFINITION OF SHORE PROTECTION PROJECT.—Section 4 of the Act of August 13, 1946 (60 Stat. 1057, chapter 960; 33 U.S.C. 426h), is amended—

(1) by striking "Sec. 4. As used in this Act, the word 'shores' includes all the shorelines" and inserting the following:

"SEC. 4. DEFINITIONS.

"In this Act:

"(1) SHORE.—The term 'shore' includes each shoreline of each"; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

"(2) SHORE PROTECTION PROJECT.—The term 'shore protection project' includes a project for beach nourishment, including the replacement of sand."

SEC. 334. SHORELINE EROSION CONTROL DEMONSTRATION.

(a) NATIONAL SHORELINE EROSION CONTROL DEVELOPMENT AND DEMONSTRATION PROGRAM.—The Act of August 13, 1946 (60 Stat. 1056, chapter 960; 33 U.S.C. 426e et seq.), is amended by adding at the end the following:

"SEC. 5. NATIONAL SHORELINE EROSION CONTROL DEVELOPMENT AND DEMONSTRATION PROGRAM.

"(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

"(1) EROSION CONTROL PROGRAM.—The term 'erosion control program' means the national shoreline erosion control development and demonstration program established under this section.

"(2) SECRETARY.—The term 'Secretary' means the Secretary of the Army, acting through the Chief of Engineers of the Army Corps of Engineers.

"(b) ESTABLISHMENT OF EROSION CONTROL PROGRAM.—The Secretary shall establish and conduct a national shoreline erosion control development and demonstration program for a period of 8 years beginning on the date that funds are made available to carry out this section.

"(c) REQUIREMENTS.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—The erosion control program shall include provisions for—

"(A) demonstration projects consisting of planning, designing, and constructing prototype engineered and vegetative shoreline erosion control devices and methods during the first 5 years of the erosion control program;

"(B) adequate monitoring of the prototypes throughout the duration of the erosion control program;

"(C) detailed engineering and environmental reports on the results of each demonstration project carried out under the erosion control program; and

"(D) technology transfers to private property owners and State and local entities.

"(2) EMPHASIS.—The demonstration projects carried out under the erosion control program shall emphasize, to the extent practicable—

"(A) the development and demonstration of innovative technologies;

"(B) efficient designs to prevent erosion at a shoreline site, taking into account the life-cycle cost of the design, including cleanup, maintenance, and amortization;

"(C) natural designs, including the use of vegetation or temporary structures that minimize permanent structural alterations;

"(D) the avoidance of negative impacts to adjacent shorefront communities;

"(E) in areas with substantial residential or commercial interests adjacent to the shoreline, designs that do not impair the aesthetic appeal of the interests;

"(F) the potential for long-term protection afforded by the technology; and

"(G) recommendations developed from evaluations of the original 1974 program established under the Shoreline Erosion Control Demonstration Act of 1974 (section 54 of Public Law 93-251; 42 U.S.C. 1962d-5 note), including—

"(i) adequate consideration of the subgrade;

"(ii) proper filtration;

"(iii) durable components;

"(iv) adequate connection between units; and

"(v) consideration of additional relevant information.

"(3) SITES.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—Each demonstration project under the erosion control program shall be carried out at a privately owned site with substantial public access, or a publicly owned site, on open coast or on tidal waters.

"(B) SELECTION.—The Secretary shall develop criteria for the selection of sites for the demonstration projects, including—

"(i) a variety of geographical and climatic conditions;

"(ii) the size of the population that is dependent on the beaches for recreation, protection of homes, or commercial interests;

"(iii) the rate of erosion;

"(iv) significant natural resources or habitats and environmentally sensitive areas; and

"(v) significant threatened historic structures or landmarks.

"(C) AREAS.—Demonstration projects under the erosion control program shall be carried out at not fewer than 2 sites on each of the shorelines of—

"(i) the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coasts;

"(ii) the Great Lakes; and

"(iii) the State of Alaska.

"(d) COOPERATION.—

"(1) PARTIES.—The Secretary shall carry out the erosion control program in cooperation with—

"(A) the Secretary of Agriculture, particularly with respect to vegetative means of preventing and controlling shoreline erosion;

“(B) Federal, State, and local agencies;
“(C) private organizations;
“(D) the Coastal Engineering Research Center established under the first section of Public Law 88-172 (33 U.S.C. 426-1); and “(E) university research facilities.

“(2) AGREEMENTS.—The cooperation described in paragraph (1) may include entering into agreements with other Federal, State, or local agencies or private organizations to carry out functions described in subsection (c)(1) when appropriate.

“(e) REPORT.—Not later than 60 days after the conclusion of the erosion control program, the Secretary shall prepare and submit an erosion control program final report to the Committee on Environment and Public Works of the Senate and the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Representatives. The report shall include a comprehensive evaluation of the erosion control program and recommendations regarding the continuation of the erosion control program.

“(f) FUNDING.—
“(1) IN GENERAL.—Subject to paragraph (2), the Federal share of the cost of a demonstration project under the erosion control program shall be determined in accordance with section 3.

“(2) RESPONSIBILITY.—The cost of and responsibility for operation and maintenance (excluding monitoring) of a demonstration project under the erosion control program shall be borne by non-Federal interests on completion of construction of the demonstration project.”

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Subsection (e) of the first section of the Act of August 13, 1946 (60 Stat. 1056, chapter 960; 33 U.S.C. 426e(e)), is amended by striking “section 3” and inserting “section 3 or 5”.

SEC. 335. REVIEW PERIOD FOR STATE AND FEDERAL AGENCIES.

Paragraph (a) of the first section of the Act entitled “An Act authorizing the construction of certain public works on rivers and harbors for flood control, and for other purposes”, approved December 22, 1944 (33 U.S.C. 701-1(a)), is amended—

(1) in the ninth sentence, by striking “ninety” and inserting “30”; and

(2) in the eleventh sentence, by striking “ninety-day” and inserting “30-day”.

SEC. 336. DREDGED MATERIAL DISPOSAL FACILITIES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 101 of the Water Resources Development Act of 1986 (33 U.S.C. 2211) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(f) DREDGED MATERIAL DISPOSAL FACILITIES.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The construction of all dredged material disposal facilities associated with Federal navigation projects for harbors and inland harbors, including diking and other improvements necessary for the proper disposal of dredged material, shall be considered to be general navigation features of the projects and shall be cost-shared in accordance with subsection (a).

“(2) COST SHARING FOR OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Federal share of the cost of operation and maintenance of each disposal facility to which paragraph (1) applies shall be determined in accordance with subsection (b).

“(B) SOURCE OF FEDERAL SHARE.—The Federal share of the cost of construction of dredged material disposal facilities associated with the operation and maintenance of Federal navigation projects for harbors and inland harbors shall be—

“(i) considered to be eligible operation and maintenance costs for the purpose of section 210(a); and “(ii) paid with sums appropriated out of the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund established by section 9505 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

“(3) APPORTIONMENT OF FUNDING.—The Secretary shall ensure, to the extent practicable, that—

“(A) funding requirements for operation and maintenance dredging of commercial navigation harbors are considered fully before Federal funds are obligated for payment of the Federal share of costs associated with the construction of dredged material disposal facilities under paragraph (1); and “(B) funds expended for such construction are equitably apportioned in accordance with regional needs.

“(4) APPLICABILITY.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—This subsection shall apply to the construction of any dredged material disposal facility for which a contract for construction has not been awarded on or before the date of enactment of this subsection.

“(B) AMENDMENT OF EXISTING AGREEMENTS.—The Secretary may, with the consent of the non-Federal interest, amend a project cooperation agreement executed before the date of enactment of this subsection to reflect paragraph (1) with respect to any dredged material disposal facility for which a contract for construction has not been awarded as of that date.

“(5) NON-FEDERAL SHARE OF COSTS.—Nothing in this subsection shall impose, increase, or result in the increase of the non-Federal share of the costs of any existing dredged material disposal facility authorized to be provided before the date of enactment of this subsection.”

(b) DEFINITION OF ELIGIBLE OPERATIONS AND MAINTENANCE.—Section 214(2)(A) of the Water Resources Development Act of 1986 (33 U.S.C. 2241(2)(A)) is amended by inserting before the period at the end the following: “, dredging and disposal of contaminated sediments that are in or that affect the maintenance of a Federal navigation channel, mitigation for storm damage and environmental impacts resulting from a Federal maintenance activity, and operation and maintenance of a dredged material disposal facility”.

SEC. 337. APPLICABILITY OF COST-SHARING PROVISIONS.

Section 103(e)(1) of the Water Resources Development Act of 1986 (33 U.S.C. 2213(e)(1)) is amended by adding at the end the following: “For the purpose of the preceding sentence, physical construction shall be considered to be initiated on the date of the award of a construction contract.”

SEC. 338. SECTION 215 REIMBURSEMENT LIMITATION PER PROJECT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The last sentence of section 215(a) of the Flood Control Act of 1968 (42 U.S.C. 1962d-5a(a)) is amended—

(1) by striking “$3,000,000” and inserting “$5,000,000”; and

(2) by striking the second period at the end.

(b) MODIFICATION OF REIMBURSEMENT LIMITATION FOR SAN ANTONIO RIVER AUTHORITY.—Notwithstanding the last sentence of section 215(a) of the Flood Control Act of 1968 (42 U.S.C. 1962d-5a(a)) and the agreement executed on November 7, 1992, by the Secretary and the San Antonio River Authority, Texas, the Secretary shall reimburse the San Antonio River Authority in an amount not to exceed a total of $5,000,000 for the work carried out by the Authority under the agreement, including any amounts paid to the Authority under the terms of the agreement before the date of enactment of this Act.

SEC. 339. WAIVER OF UNECONOMICAL COST-SHARING REQUIREMENT.

The first sentence of section 221(a) of the Flood Control Act of 1970 (42 U.S.C. 1962d-5b(a)) is amended by inserting before the period at the end the following: “, except that no such agreement shall be required if the Secretary determines that the administrative costs associated with negotiating, executing, or administering the agreement would exceed the amount of the contribution required from the non-Federal interest”.

SEC. 340. PLANNING ASSISTANCE TO STATES.

Section 22 of the Water Resources Development Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 1962d-16) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a), by inserting “, watersheds, and ecosystems” after “basins”; and

(2) in subsection (b)—

(A) by striking paragraph (2); and

(B) by redesignating paragraphs (3) and (4) as paragraphs (2) and (3), respectively; and

(3) in subsection (c)—

(A) by striking “$6,000,000” and inserting “$10,000,000”; and

(B) by striking “$300,000” and inserting “$500,000”.

SEC. 341. RECOVERY OF COSTS FOR CLEANUP OF HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES.

Any amount recovered under section 107 of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 9607) for any response action taken by the Secretary in support of the civil works program of the Army Corps of Engineers, and any amount recovered by the Secretary from a contractor, insurer, surety, or other person to reimburse the Secretary for any expenditure for environmental response activities in support of the civil works program, shall be credited to the trust fund account to which the cost of the response action has been or will be charged.

SEC. 342. CITY OF NORTH BONNEVILLE, WASHINGTON.

Section 9147 of the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1993 (Public Law 102-396; 106 Stat. 1940), is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 9147. CITY OF NORTH BONNEVILLE, WASHINGTON.

“(a) CONVEYANCES.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The project for Bonneville Lock and Dam, Columbia River, Oregon and Washington, authorized by the Act of August 20, 1937 (commonly known as the ‘Bonneville Project Act of 1937’) (50 Stat. 731, chapter 720; 16 U.S.C. 832 et seq.), and modified by section 83 of the Water Resources Development Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-251; 88 Stat. 35), is further modified to authorize the Secretary of the Army to convey to the city of North Bonneville, Washington (referred to in this section as the ‘city’), at no further cost to the city, all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to—

“(A) any municipal facilities, utilities, fixtures, and equipment for the relocated city, and any remaining lands designated as open spaces or municipal lots not previously conveyed to the city, specifically Lots M1 through M15, M16 (known as the ‘community center lot’), M18, M19, M22, M24, S42 through S45, and S52 through S60, as shown on the plats of Skamania County, Washington;

“(B) the lot known as the ‘school lot’ and shown as Lot 2, Block 5, on the plats of relocated North Bonneville, recorded in Skamania County, Washington;

“(C) Parcels 2 and C, but only on the completion of any environmental response activities required under applicable law;

"(D) that portion of Parcel B lying south of the city boundary, west of the sewage treatment plant, and north of the drainage ditch that is located adjacent to the northerly limit of the Hamilton Island landfill, if the Secretary of the Army determines, at the time of the proposed conveyance, that the Department of the Army has taken all actions necessary to protect human health and the environment;

"(E) such portions of Parcel H as can be conveyed without a requirement for further investigation, inventory, or other action by the Secretary of the Army under the National Historic Preservation Act (16 U.S.C. 470 et seq.); and

"(F) such easements as the Secretary of the Army considers necessary for—

"(i) sewer and water line crossings of relocated Washington State Highway 14; and

"(ii) reasonable public access to the Columbia River across such portions of Hamilton Island as remain in the ownership of the United States.

"(2) TIMING OF CONVEYANCES.—The conveyances described in subparagraphs (A), (B), (E), and (F)(i) of paragraph (1) shall be completed not later than 180 days after the United States receives the release described in subsection (b)(2). All other conveyances shall be completed expeditiously, subject to any conditions specified in the applicable subparagraph of paragraph (1).

"(b) EFFECT OF CONVEYANCES.—

"(1) CONGRESSIONAL INTENT.—The conveyances authorized by subsection (a) are intended to resolve all outstanding issues between the United States and the city.

"(2) ACTION BY CITY BEFORE CONVEYANCES.—As prerequisites to the conveyances, the city shall—

"(A) execute an acknowledgment of payment of just compensation;

"(B) execute a release of all claims for relief of any kind against the United States arising from the relocation of the city or any Federal statute enacted before the date of enactment of this subparagraph relating to the city; and

"(C) dismiss, with prejudice, any pending litigation involving matters described in subparagraph (B).

"(3) ACTION BY ATTORNEY GENERAL.—On receipt of the city's acknowledgment and release described in paragraph (2), the Attorney General shall—

"(A) dismiss any pending litigation arising from the relocation of the city; and

"(B) execute a release of all rights to damages of any kind (including any interest on the damages) under Town of North Bonneville, Washington v. United States, 11 Cl. Ct. 694, aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 833 F.2d 1024 (Fed. Cir. 1987), cert. denied, 485 U.S. 1007 (1988).

"(4) ACTION BY CITY AFTER CONVEYANCES.—Not later than 60 days after the conveyances authorized by subparagraphs (A) through (F)(i) of subsection (a)(1) have been completed, the city shall—

"(A) execute an acknowledgment that all entitlements to the city under the subparagraphs have been fulfilled; and

"(B) execute a release of all claims for relief of any kind against the United States arising from this section.

"(c) AUTHORITY OF CITY OVER CERTAIN LANDS.—Beginning on the date of enactment of paragraph (1), the city or any successor in interest to the city—

"(1) shall be precluded from exercising any jurisdiction over any land owned in whole or in part by the United States and administered by the Army Corps of Engineers in connection with the Bonneville project; and

"(2) may change the zoning designations of, sell, or resell Parcels S35 and S56, which are designated as open spaces as of the date of enactment of this paragraph."

SEC. 343. COLUMBIA RIVER TREATY FISHING ACCESS.

Section 401(a) of Public Law 100-581 (102 Stat. 2944) is amended—

(1) by striking "(a) All Federal" and all that follows through "Columbia River Gorge Commission" and inserting the following:

"(a) EXISTING FEDERAL LANDS.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—All Federal lands that are included within the 20 recommended treaty fishing access sites set forth in the publication of the Army Corps of Engineers entitled 'Columbia River Treaty Fishing Access Sites Post Authorization Change Report', dated April 1995,"; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

"(2) BOUNDARY ADJUSTMENTS.—The Secretary of the Army, in consultation with affected tribes, may make such minor boundary adjustments to the lands referred to in paragraph (1) as the Secretary determines are necessary to carry out this title."

SEC. 344. TRI-CITIES AREA, WASHINGTON.

(a) GENERAL AUTHORITY.—As soon as practicable after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall make the conveyances to the local governments referred to in subsection (b) of all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to the property described in subsection (b).

(b) PROPERTY DESCRIPTIONS.—

(1) BENTON COUNTY, WASHINGTON.—The property to be conveyed under subsection (a) to Benton County, Washington, is the property in the county that is designated "Area D" on Exhibit A to Army Lease No. DACW-68-1-81-43.

(2) FRANKLIN COUNTY, WASHINGTON.—The property to be conveyed under subsection (a) to Franklin County, Washington, is—

(A) the 105.01 acres of property leased under Army Lease No. DACW-68-1-77-20 as executed by Franklin County, Washington, on April 7, 1977;

(B) the 35 acres of property leased under Supplemental Agreement No. 1 to Army Lease No. DACW-68-1-77-20;

(C) the 20 acres of property commonly known as "Richland Bend" that is designated by the shaded portion of Lot 1, Section 11, and the shaded portion of Lot 1, Section 12, Township 9 North, Range 28 East, W.M. on Exhibit D to Supplemental Agreement No. 2 to Army Lease No. DACW-68-1-77-20;

(D) the 7.05 acres of property commonly known as "Taylor Flat" that is designated by the shaded portion of Lot 1, Section 13, Township 11 North, Range 28 East, W.M. on Exhibit D to Supplemental Agreement No. 2 to Army Lease No. DACW-68-1-77-20;

(E) the 14.69 acres of property commonly known as "Byers Landing" that is designated by the shaded portion of Lots 2 and 3, Section 2, Township 10 North, Range 28 East, W.M. on Exhibit D to Supplemental Agreement No. 2 to Army Lease No. DACW-68-1-77-20; and

(F) all levees in Franklin County, Washington, as of the date of enactment of this Act, and the property on which the levees are situated.

(3) CITY OF KENNEWICK, WASHINGTON.—The property to be conveyed under subsection (a) to the city of Kennewick, Washington, is the property in the city that is subject to the Municipal Sublease Agreement entered into on April 6, 1989, between Benton County, Washington, and the cities of Kennewick and Richland, Washington.

(4) CITY OF RICHLAND, WASHINGTON.—The property to be conveyed under subsection (a) to the city of Richland, Washington, is the property in the city that is subject to the Municipal Sublease Agreement entered into on April 6, 1989, between Benton County, Washington, and the cities of Kennewick and Richland, Washington.

(5) CITY OF PASCO, WASHINGTON.—The property to be conveyed under subsection (a) to the city of Pasco, Washington, is—

(A) the property in the city of Pasco, Washington, that is leased under Army Lease No. DACW-68-1-77-10; and

(B) all levees in the city, as of the date of enactment of this Act, and the property on which the levees are situated.

(6) PORT OF PASCO, WASHINGTON.—The property to be conveyed under subsection (a) to the Port of Pasco, Washington, is—

(A) the property owned by the United States that is south of the Burlington Northern Railroad tracks in Lots 1 and 2, Section 20, Township 9 North, Range 31 East, W.M.; and

(B) the property owned by the United States that is south of the Burlington Northern Railroad tracks in Lots 1, 2, 3, and 4, in each of Sections 21, 22, and 23, Township 9 North, Range 31 East, W.M.

(7) ADDITIONAL PROPERTIES.—In addition to properties described in paragraphs (1) through (6), the Secretary may convey to a local government referred to in any of paragraphs (1) through (6) such properties under the jurisdiction of the Secretary in the Tri-Cities area as the Secretary and the local government agree are appropriate for conveyance.

(c) TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The conveyances under subsection (a) shall be subject to such terms and conditions as the Secretary considers necessary and appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

(2) SPECIAL RULES FOR FRANKLIN COUNTY.—The property described in subsection (b)(2)(F) shall be conveyed only after Franklin County, Washington, enters into a written agreement with the Secretary that provides that the United States shall continue to operate and maintain the flood control drainage areas and pump stations on the property conveyed and that the United States shall be provided all easements and rights necessary to carry out the agreement.

(3) SPECIAL RULE FOR CITY OF PASCO.—The property described in subsection (b)(5)(B) shall be conveyed only after the city of Pasco, Washington, enters into a written agreement with the Secretary that provides that the United States shall continue to operate and maintain the flood control drainage areas and pump stations on the property conveyed and that the United States shall be provided all easements and rights necessary to carry out the agreement.

(4) CONSIDERATION.—

(A) ADMINISTRATIVE COSTS.—A local government to which property is conveyed under this section shall pay all administrative costs associated with the conveyance.

(B) PARK AND RECREATION PROPERTIES.—Properties to be conveyed under this section that will be retained in public ownership and used for public park and recreation purposes shall be conveyed without consideration. If any such property is no longer used for public park and recreation purposes, title to the property shall revert to the United States.

(C) OTHER PROPERTIES.—Properties to be conveyed under this section and not described in subparagraph (B) shall be conveyed at fair market value.

(d) LAKE WALLULA LEVEES.—

(1) DETERMINATION OF MINIMUM SAFE HEIGHT.—

(A) CONTRACT.—Not later than 30 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall contract with a private entity agreed to under subparagraph (B) to determine, not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the minimum safe height for the levees of the project for flood control, Lake Wallula, Washington. The Secretary shall have final approval of the minimum safe height.

(B) AGREEMENT OF LOCAL OFFICIALS.—A contract shall be entered into under subparagraph (A) only with a private entity agreed to by the Secretary, appropriate representatives of Franklin County, Washington, and appropriate representatives of the city of Pasco, Washington.

(2) AUTHORITY.—A local government may reduce, at its cost, the height of any levee of the project for flood control, Lake Wallula, Washington, within the boundaries of the area under the jurisdiction of the local government to a height not lower than the minimum safe height determined under paragraph (1).

SEC. 345. DESIGNATION OF LOCKS AND DAMS ON TENNESSEE-TOMBIGBEE WATERWAY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The following locks, and locks and dams, on the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, located in the States of Alabama, Kentucky, Mississippi, and Tennessee, are designated as follows:

(1) Gainesville Lock and Dam at Mile 266 designated as Howell Heflin Lock and Dam.

(2) Columbus Lock and Dam at Mile 335 designated as John C. Stennis Lock and Dam.

(3) The lock and dam at Mile 358 designated as Aberdeen Lock and Dam.

(4) Lock A at Mile 371 designated as Amory Lock.

(5) Lock B at Mile 376 designated as Glover Wilkins Lock.

(6) Lock C at Mile 391 designated as Fulton Lock.

(7) Lock D at Mile 398 designated as John Rankin Lock.

(8) Lock E at Mile 407 designated as G.V. "Sonny" Montgomery Lock.

(9) Bay Springs Lock and Dam at Mile 412 designated as Jamie Whitten Lock and Dam.

(b) LEGAL REFERENCES.—A reference in any law, regulation, document, map, record, or other paper of the United States to a lock, or lock and dam, referred to in subsection (a) shall be deemed to be a reference to the designation for the lock, or lock and dam, provided in the subsection.

SEC. 346. DESIGNATION OF J. BENNETT JOHNSTON WATERWAY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The portion of the Red River, Louisiana, from new river mile 0 to new river mile 235 shall be known and designated as the "J. Bennett Johnston Waterway".

MOTION OFFERED BY MR. SHUSTER

Mr. SHUSTER. Mr. Speaker, I offer a motion.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. SHUSTER moves to strike out all after the enacting clause of S. 640 and insert the text of H.R. 3592, as passed the House.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate bill was ordered to be read a third time, was read the third time, and passed, and a motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

A similar House bill (H.R. 3592) was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. SHUSTER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 3592 and S. 640, the bills just passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania?

There was no objection.

OSCAR GARCIA RIVERA POST OFFICE BUILDING

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 885) to designate the U.S. Post Office building located at 153 East 110th Street, New York, NY, as the "Oscar Garcia Rivera Post Office Building".

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 885

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. DESIGNATION.

The United States Post Office building located at 153 East 110th Street, New York, New York, shall be known and designated as the "Oscar Garcia Rivera Post Office Building".

SEC. 2. REFERENCES.

Any reference in a law, map, regulation, document, paper, or other record of the United States to the United States Post Office building referred to in section 1 shall be deemed to be a reference to the "Oscar Garcia Rivera Post Office Building".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH] and the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN] each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH].

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to report that the legislation before us, H.R. 885, was approved unanimously by the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight. This legislation, designating the U.S. Post Office Building located at 153 East 110th Street, New York, NY as the "Oscar Garcia Rivera Post Office Building," was introduced by the gentleman from New York, [Mr. SERRANO], and was cosponsored by his full State delegation, as required by committee policy.

H.R. 885 honors the first Puerto Rican to be elected to public office in the continental United States. Oscar Garcia Rivera was born in Mayaguez, Puerto Rico on November 6, 1900. He came to the mainland after graduating from high school and worked part time in a Brooklyn factory. He pursued his studies while working and was assigned to the post office in City Hall. He was instrumental in organizing and establishing the Association of Puerto Rican and Hispanic Employees within the post office department. Mr. Garcia Rivera received his law degree from St. John's University, New York in 1930 and was elected assemblyman in the State of New York in March 1937 by the 14th District, which then included Harlem. He was reelected the following year and served until 1940. Soon thereafter, Mr. Garcia Rivera returned to Mayaguez where he continued to be known for his commitment to protecting the rights of manual laborers and remained a role model and a community leader. He dies in his hometown in 1969.

Mr. Speaker, I support the passage of H.R. 885 and urge our colleagues to do the same.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, rather than reiterate the points that my colleague from New York has already made, let me just say that I rise in support of H.R. 885, which designates the U.S. post office in New York City as the Oscar Garcia Rivera Post Office.

This measure was introduced, as the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH] said, by the gentleman from New York [Mr. SERRANO] and the gentleman from New York [Mr. RANGEL] and supported by the whole New York congressional delegation pursuant to the committee rules.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this tribute to a pioneer whose work marked the beginning of Puerto Rican leadership in the United States.

Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. RANGEL. Mr. Speaker, with passage of this bill, we not only pay tribute to a great American but we recognize in a small way the great culture and tradition of the Puerto Rican people.

This bill is the first step in the process of renaming the Hellgate Post Office in my congressional district in East Harlem after Oscar Garcia Rivera, the first Puerto Rican elected to public office on the mainland of the United States.

Born in Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, Mr. Rivera personified all the virtues of hard work, dedication, and commitment to the service of his country that Americans hold dear. After migrating to New York City, he worked in a factory in Brooklyn while studying at night at my own alma mater, St. John's Law School.

Like so many minorities of his generation and still today, he found work in the post office, where he later helped establish the Association of Puerto Rican and Hispanic Employees of the U.S. Postal Service.

In 1937, he made history by becoming the first Puerto Rican elected to public office in the continental United States. His election to represent what was then the 14th State assembly district was unprecedented. His decision to run was courageous as well in a city in which, in those days, Puerto Ricans were a distinct minority and a Puerto Rican official of any kind was unheard of.

Though he served only until 1940, Mr. Rivera was a trailblazer for the more than 400 Hispanic Members of Congress, State Representatives, and judges who serve today throughout these United States. Today that representation—like that of African Americans—is under attack. But I am confident that the spirit of leaders such as Oscar Garcia Rivera will ultimately prevail.

During his short time of service in the New York State Assembly, Rivera made lasting contributions, not only to the Puerto Rican community but the labor movement. He defended minimum wage laws, fought for regulated work hours, was a dedicated champion of manual laborers. On the national level—he joined with fellow fighters against Jim Crow and racism by supporting a successful campaign for legislation to outlaw lynching.

Oscar Garcia Rivera holds a special place in the hearts of many of my older constituents in East Harlem. While I doubt that many of our younger contemporaries would recognize his name, this simple monument—a post office on east 110th Street—will give him a permanent place in the history of New York.

Oscar Garcia Rivera was a source of pride for his people back in the 1930's and '40's. The recognition that we offer today is well deserved not only by him but by all Puerto Ricans. In wartime they have fought bravely, and many have died to defend our country. They have made contributions large and small to American culture—in the arts, in music, in politics, and in law.

Oscar Garcia Rivera reminds us that like all Americans, the people of Puerto Rico are not only entitled but have earned respect. Their culture, their language, their communities, their choices of political leadership should be embraced and never challenged.

I wish to congratulate Jose Serrano, my dear friend and colleague from New York who has provided the leadership that has made passage of this bill possible. With his commitment and determination, he clearly walks in the footsteps of Oscar Garcia Rivera.

Mr. SERRANO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to express my strong support for H.R. 885, a bill I introduced with Mr. RANGEL to designate the U.S. Post Office building located at 153 East 110th Street, New York, NY, as the "Oscar Garcia Rivera Post Office Building" and to celebrate the 59th anniversary of the first Puerto Rican elected to public office in the continental United States.

Oscar Garcia Rivera, Esq., was elected Assemblyman in the State of New York from the 14th District, on March 7, 1937.

Born in Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, on November 6, 1900, Oscar Garcia Rivera was raised on a coffee plantation. As a young man, Garcia Rivera demonstrated talent and leadership. He was president of his high school senior class in 1925, and excelled in his studies. After graduation from high school, Garcia came to the United States and began working part time in a factory in Brooklyn, while he continued to take courses to reach his goal of becoming a lawyer. He applied for a job at the U.S. Postal Service, obtained high recommendations, and was assigned to the post office in City Hall. He quickly became involved in union issues, and later encouraged the establishment of the Association of Puerto Rican and Hispanic Employees within the U.S. Postal Service.

Garcia Rivera attended law school at St. John's University, and graduated in 1930. Dedicated and committed to the struggles of Pioneer Puerto Ricans and Hispanics in East Harlem, where poverty and discrimination were rampant, Garcia Rivera announced publicly in 1937 that he would seek a seat in the New York State Assembly.

In March of the same year, he made history by becoming the first Puerto Rican elected to public office in the continental United States. He won re-election the following year and continued in this post until 1940.

During the short time that he served in the Assembly, Oscar Garcia Rivera initiated legislation that offered valuable and lasting contributions to his Puerto Rican community, the labor movement, and the working class. He introduced a bill guaranteeing safeguards against unemployment; this revolutionary piece of legislation was enacted into law in February of 1939. Garcia Rivera defended minimum wage laws, fought for regulated hours of labor, worked to establish tariff agreements, and most importantly, he was committed to protecting the rights of manual laborers and encouraged workers to organize themselves into active unions. He also supported the campaign which established a law which punished lynching throughout the United States.

The legislative career of Oscar Garcia Rivera ended barely 3 years after it began. He returned to Puerto Rico, and died in 1969 in the town where he was born, Mayaguez.

The anniversary of Oscar Garcia Rivera's election as the first Puerto Rican who attained a public office marks a proud moment in our history. Although his career as assemblyman was brief, Oscar Garcia Rivera became a great leader in his community and a role model for young people. His actions transformed the Puerto Rican community, and improved working conditions for all in the State of New York.

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to support this bill to honor Oscar Garcia Rivera and mark the beginning of Puerto Rican leadership in New York and the continental United States.

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 885.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 885, the bill just passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New York?

There was no objection.

AUGUSTA "GUSTY" HORNBLOWER UNITED STATES POST OFFICE

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 3768) to designate a U.S. Post Office to be located in Groton, MA, as the "Augusta 'Gusty' Hornblower United States Post Office".

H.R. 3768

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. DESIGNATION.

The United States Post Office to be located at 80 Boston Road in Groton, Massachusetts, shall be designated and known as the "Augusta 'Gusty' Hornblower United States Post Office".

SEC. 2. REFERENCES.

Any reference in a law, map, regulation, document, paper or other record of the United States to the United States Post Office referred to in section 1 shall be deemed to be a reference to the "Augusta 'Gusty' Hornblower United States Post Office".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH] and the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN] each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH].

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight unanimously approved H.R. 3768. This bill before the House today designates the U.S. Post Office building which the Postal Service is constructing at 80 Boston Road in Groton, MA as the "Augusta 'Gusty' Hornblower United States Post Office." The legislation is sponsored by the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. BLUTE], and cosponsored by the entire Massachusetts State Delegation as required by procedures established by the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight.

Augusta Hornblower was known to be both outspoken and tough in the political arena, but a kind human being and a real friend on a personal level. "Gusty" Hornblower served many years in public service including as a trustee of the Plimoth Plantation, State chair and national board member of the American Legislative Exchange Council, and member of the Nashoba Community Hospital Board.

"Gusty" was the State Representative to the Massachusetts General Court from the First Middlesex District from 1985 to 1994 where she represented the towns of Groton, Ayer, Dunstable, Lunenburg, Pepperell, Townsend, and Tyngsborough. While in the Massachusetts House, she served on the Joint Committees on Election Reform and Taxation and the Special Commission on Tax Reform. She served as assistant minority whip in 1993-94.

"Gusty" Hornblower championed breast cancer research with great success in the Massachusetts State Legislature but died of the disease in August 1994.

Mr. Speaker, I urge our colleagues to support H.R. 3768.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I also rise in support of H.R. 3768, which designates the Post Office in Groton, MA as the Augusta "Gusty" Hornblower Post Office. It is cosponsored by the entire Massachusetts delegation, particularly my friend and colleague, Mr. BLUTE. It is a fitting honor and duly notes the contributions made by Ms. Hornblower. She is a person well deserving of this honor, and we certainly support the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. BLUTE], prime sponsor of this bill.

Mr. BLUTE. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the chairman of the Subcommittee on Postal Service for helping to move this bill expeditiously through the committee. I thank my good friend from Virginia for his kind words on behalf of this bill, and I would also like to thank my colleague from Massachusetts, Mr. MARTIN MEEHAN, for his cosponsorship, and the entire Massachusetts delegation for getting this bill.

Mr. Speaker, Augusta "Gusty" Hornblower was quite a woman and quite a good friend. She served as a State legislator in Massachusetts general court for 5 terms. She was one of the first women in our State to achieve the post of legislative leader. She was the minority whip for many years. She represented her constituents well on such important issues as the closing of Fort Devens, which is in her district and in my district. By recognizing the tremendous economic impact on her district with its closing, Gusty helped activate and steer the Fort Devens Enterprise Commission in sharing beneficial land use and industrial recovery for the area.

She was also an advocate for lower taxes, increased educational opportunities and tough crime laws. She served on the State House Joint Committee on Election Reform and Taxation as well as the Special Commission on Tax Reform.

In addition to her service on the general court, Gusty served the public interest with numerous groups, such as the Nashoba Community Hospital Board. She was a national board member of the American Legislative Exchange Council. Her love of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts led her to work hard to preserve it. She served on the board of trustees and then the board of overseers of the Plimoth Plantation, founded by her father, Henry Hornblower II. In the historic town of Arlington, MA, she served on the board of trustees of the Schwamb Mill Preservation Trust. She also held a seat on the Martha's Vineyard Commission.

Unfortunately, Massachusetts and many of our friends lost her on August 27, 1994 when she succumbed to breast cancer. However, in her last years she became a vocal and effective advocate for breast cancer research and education and was instrumental in securing an unprecedented $3 million of State dollars for breast cancer research.

She saw the devastating effects of this disease firsthand and helped women across the State with her advocacy. This bill is a fitting tribute to her lasting contributions to not only the people of Groton but to the people of Massachusetts as well.

I thank the chairman of the committee for his leadership, the gentleman from Virginia for supporting this bill and all my colleagues for supporting this important bill, recognizing this extraordinary woman.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. EWING). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH], that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 3768.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks on the bill, H.R. 3768.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New York?

There was no objection.

ROSE Y. CARACAPPA UNITED STATES POST OFFICE BUILDING

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 3139) to redesignate the United States Post Office building located at 245 Centereach Mall on Middle Country Road in Centereach, NY, as the "Rose Y. Caracappa United States Post Office Building."

H.R. 3139

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. REDESIGNATION.

The United States Post Office building located at 245 Centereach Mall on Middle Country Road in Centereach, New York, shall be known and designated as the "Rose Y. Caracappa United States Post Office Building".

SEC. 2. REFERENCES.

Any reference in a law, map, regulation, document, paper, or other record of the United States to the United States Post Office building referred to in section 1 shall be deemed to be a reference to the "Rose Y. Caracappa United States Post Office Building."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH] and the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN] each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH].

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight unanimously approved H.R. 3139. The legislation designates the U.S. Post Office building located at 245 Centereach Mall on Middle Country Road in Centereach, NY, as the "Rose Y. Caracappa United States Post Office Building."

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 3139 was introduced by the gentleman from New York [Mr. FORBES] and, pursuant to committee policy, the legislation has been cosponsored by the House delegation of the State of New York.

H.R. 3139 honors Rose Caracappa of Selden, New York who was elected to the Suffolk County legislature from 1981 until her death in May 1995 at age 56. Ms. Caracappa served on the Suffolk County Sewer Authority and was chairperson of the committees on public works, veterans and senior citizens. She was known as a combative, colorful legislator and was recognized for her tireless work for people. At the time of her death, she was actively working on building a World War II monument to honor those who served in that war. The people whom Rose Caracappa championed—the police, firefighters and veterans—buried her with full honor usually reserved for uniformed personnel.

Mr. Speaker, I have cosponsored H.R. 3139 and urge our colleagues to support the measure.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, we are also pleased to join the New York congressional delegation supporting H.R. 3139 that designates the post office in Centereach, NY, as the gentleman from New York [Mr. McHUGH] has said, as the Rose Y. Caracappa Post Office. She was a former New York county legislator. She championed the rights of senior citizens and veterans. She deserves this honor. We support giving it to her.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. McHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from New York [Mr. FORBES], who is the sponsor of this legislation.

Mr. FORBES. Mr. Speaker, I thank the distinguished Chair and the ranking member, the gentleman from Virginia, for their courtesies in moving this legislation forward.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to encourage enactment of H.R. 3139, a bill that I have introduced, which designates the post office at Centereach, Long Island, NY as the "Rose Y. Caracappa U.S. Post Office Building."

Rose Caracappa was one of Suffolk County's most celebrated legislators. Rose was a feisty, outspoken legislator who died suddenly in May of 1995. It was a great loss to all of us on Long Island, Mr. Speaker, because Rose was one of New York's pioneer legislators. In honors usually reserved for uniformed personnel, Rose's funeral procession was led by 13 police motorcycles and followed by half a dozen fire and emergency vehicles with one clanging bell, the symbol of a fallen firefighter.

Before being elected to serve in the Suffolk County Legislature, Rose was really a person of her community. She had volunteered her services to the local Parent-Teacher's Association, to her church, to the Girl Scouts, and to the Cub Scouts, and she had been an active member and supporter of the Salvation Army.

In 1981, after having worked as a legislative aide in the county legislature, Rose decided to run for her own as county legislator in the fourth district and she won. She served as the lone conservative in the Suffolk County Legislature for nearly 15 years.

As a legislator, Rose was responsible for providing Suffolk County police officers with body armor and was also noted for sponsoring the open space acquisition of Camp Barstow, a former Girl Scout camp on Long Island. During her tenure as a county legislator, she served as chairwoman of the public works, veterans, and seniors committees.

She is best known as a tireless champion for the police, for the firefighters, for senior citizens, and veterans. And while chairing the committee on veterans' affairs, Rose was proud to have sponsored legislation for the Armed Services Plaza in Hauppauge. At the time of her death she was working, as has been previously noted, on a World War II monument to be placed at the Armed Forces Plaza in Hauppauge to commemorate all those who have served in that war.

Rose was the key legislator who orchestrated the building of a Korean war veterans monument and a women's veterans monument in Suffolk County. They have both been erected at the same Hauppauge site.

What made Rose so special was not only her leadership in the county legislature, but her genuine concern for all the people of Suffolk County. Everything that she really cared about had to do with people, not buildings, not budgets, not politics. She truly was one of the people. Because the people thought of Rose as one of them, constituents would regularly visit her offices and share their personal problems and concerns with Rose, who was known from time to time to dig into her own purse and help a constituent out when they needed to pay a bill.

Mr. Speaker, I can think of no better way to pay tribute to this feisty loving person, Rose Caracappa, than to designate this post office building in her loving memory. On behalf of the Caracappa family and all the people of Suffolk County, I thank the committee, and I thank this House for taking up this important legislation.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from New York [Mr. FORBES] has said everything that needs to be said about the person to whom we are dedicating this post office.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. FORBES. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 3139, a bill I introduced to designate the post office in Centereach, Long Island, NY, the "Rose Y. Caracappa United States Post Office Building."

Rose Caracappa was one of New York's most celebrated legislators. Rose, a feisty, outspoken legislator died suddenly from a heart attack in 1995. It was a great loss for the people of Long Island because Rose was one of New York's pioneer legislators. In honors usually reserved for uniformed personnel, Rose's funeral procession was led by 13 police motorcycles and followed by a half-dozen fire and emergency vehicles with one clanging a bell, the symbol of a fallen firefighter.

Before being elected to serve in the Suffolk County Legislature, Rose volunteered her services to the local PTA, her church, the Girl and Cub Scouts, and the Salvation Army. In 1981, after having worked as a legislative aide in the Suffolk County Legislature, Rose decided to run for county legislator of the fourth district and won. She served as the lone conservative in the Suffolk County Legislature for nearly 15 years.

As a Suffolk County legislator, Rose was responsible for providing Suffolk County police with body armor and for sponsoring the open-space acquisition of Camp Barstow, a former Girl Scout camp on Long Island. During her tenure as a Suffolk County legislator, she served as chairwoman of the public works, veterans, and seniors committees.

Rose is best known for being a tireless champion for the police, firefighters, senior citizens, and veterans of all of New York. While chairing the Veterans Affairs Committee, Rose was proud to have sponsored legislation for the Armed Forces Plaza in Hauppauge. At the time of her death, Rose was working to build a World War II monument in honor of all those that served. Rose was the key legislator who orchestrated the building of a Korean war veterans monument and a women veterans monument, the first in Suffolk County, which have been erected at the Hauppauge site.

What made Rose so special was not only her leadership in the Suffolk County Legislature, but her genuine concern for the people she served.

Everything that she really cared about had to do with people, not buildings, budgets, or politics. She truly was one of the people. Because the people thought of Rose as one of them, constituents would regularly go to Rose's office with their problems and concerns. Rose would think nothing of digging into her purse to give a constituent money for a bill.

I can think of no better way to pay tribute to one of New York's most lively legislators than to honor her by redesignating the post office in Centereach in her name. Her record of public service deserves this worthy acknowledgment.

ROSE CARACAPPA

Rose was born on October 14, 1938, in Huntington, Long Island. She was appropriately born during an historical month and year, two weeks after the hurricane of 1938, and two weeks before the Orson Wells radio show broadcasting the infamous alien invasion. In 1940, at the age of two, Rose and her family moved to Brooklyn, where she was raised and educated.

In 1964, Rose moved to the hamlet of Selden and still resides in the same home after twenty-seven years, where she raised her three children, Deborah, Nicholas and Joseph. Rose's daughter Deborah now resides in Brunswick, Ohio, with her husband, James.

As a concerned parent and taxpayer, Rose volunteered her services to the local PTA, church and civic organizations, Girl and Cub Scouts, the Salvation Army, the Cancer Fund and the Jerry Lewis MS Fundraising Committee.

Before becoming an elected official in 1982, Rose worked in banking, real estate and as a Legislative Aide in the Suffolk County Legislature under various Presiding Officers. Having a full background in County government, Rose ran for County Legislator of the Fourth District in 1981 and has successfully been re-elected to five terms.

During her tenure as Suffolk County Legislator, Rose has been the recipient of numerous awards and honors in appreciation of her public service. She has gained much experience and an overall knowledge in all levels of government. Rose was Chairperson of the Veterans Affairs Committee for three years, chaired the Public Works and Dredging & Screen Committees for five years, and for the past two years, she has served as Chair of the Legislative, Personnel & Government committee. Rose has also been a member of the Human Services, Ways & Means, Health, Transportation, Hazardous Materials, Senior Citizens, Public Safety, Finance & Education, Environment & Energy, and Education & Youth, Budget Ad Hoc, and Insurance & Risk Management committees, as well as a member of the Health & Safety Grievance Council. Rose also serves as an advisory member for the Suffolk County Council of Boy Scouts, and served on the Development Committee of APPLE.

While chairing the Veterans Affairs Committee, Rose is proud to have sponsored legislation for the Viet Nam Memorial in Farmingville, as well as the Armed Forces Plaza in Hauppauge, and for acquiring land for the American Legion Convention Center in Setauket. Rose also formed two commissions to study proposals for a Korean War Veterans Monument and a Women Veterans Monument, the first in Suffolk County, which have been erected at the Hauppauge site.

On May 28, 1995, Legislator Rose Caracappa passed away.

Mr. LAZIO of New York. Mr. Speaker, I am deeply honored to rise today in support of a bill to redesignate the U.S. Post Office building in Centereach, NY, as the "Rose Y. Caracappa United States Post Office Building." I am proud to be a cosponsor of this bill, and I commend my colleague, MIKE FORBES, for introducing this legislation.

I served with Rose during my 4 years in the Suffolk County legislature. I succeed Rose as the chair of the legislature's Committee on Veterans and Seniors. I knew Rose well. She was a great friend not only to me, but also to Suffolk County's veterans and seniors. Her passing touched local veterans and seniors very deeply.

Yet, her work lives on. She was responsible for the placement of several of the war monuments to both men and women veterans at Veterans Plaza outside the H. Lee Dennison Building in Hauppauge. Rose never missed a parade in honor of veterans and often could be seen marching with them in annual Memorial Day and Veterans Day parades. She was truly a patriot and a great American. We all miss her greatly, and it is fitting that this tribute will endure in her absence.

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 3139.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 3139.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New York?

There was no objection.

ROGER P. MCAULIFFE POST OFFICE

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 3834) to redesignate the Dunning Post Office in Chicago, IL, as the "Roger P. McAuliffe Post Office".

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 3834

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. REDESIGNATION.

Any reference in a law, map, regulation, document, paper, or other record of the United States to the United States Post Office referred to in section 1 shall be deemed to be a reference to the "Roger P. McAuliffe Post Office".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH] and the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN] each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH].

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to report that the legislation before us, H.R. 3834, was approved unanimously by the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight. This legislation redesignates the Dunning Post Office located at 6441 West Irving Park Road, Chicago, IL, as the "Roger P. McAuliffe Post Office." The bill was introduced by the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. FLANAGAN], and is cosponsored by his full State delegation, as required by committee policy.

The late Roger McAuliffe was elected to the Illinois House for 24 years. He served the people of the 14th District, Chicago's northwest side and several suburbs, including Park Ridge, Rosemont, Norridge, and Schiller Park. He had previously represented the 16th District.

Mr. McAuliffe served in the U.S. Army from 1961 to 1963. He graduated from the Chicago Police Academy in 1965 and remained on active duty with the Chicago Police Department even as he served in the legislature. He was known as an advocate for senior citizens, tax caps, and fighting crime and successfully enacted stiffer penalties for drunken driving. He also promoted legislation for school reform and pension benefits to families of police officers and firefighters killed in the line of duty. Roger McAuliffe was assistant majority leader of the Illinois House when he died unexpectedly, the day before his 58th birthday, in a fatal boating accident.

Mr. Speaker, I am a cosponsor of this legislation and I urge our colleagues to support H.R. 3834.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, we also support this bill redesignating the Dunning Post Office that is located on West Irving Park Road in Chicago as the Roger McAuliffe Post Office. The Illinois delegation has chosen a fitting way to honor a former State representative in this way.

State Representative McAuliffe was the dean of the Illinois State House Republicans. He recently died in a tragic boating accident over the Fourth of July holiday.

So we would support this measure.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. FLANAGAN], the sponsor of this legislation.

Mr. FLANAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH], chairman of the Subcommittee on Postal Service, and the ranking member, the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN], as well as the chairman of the full committee, the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. CLINGER], and especially the ranking member of the full committee, the gentleman from Illinois [Mrs. COLLINS], who is of the Illinois delegation and a cosponsor of this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, as the sponsor of H.R. 3834 to redesignate the Dunning Post Office at 6441 West Irving Park Road in Chicago the Roger P. McAuliffe Post Office I would like to take this time to tell my colleagues about Roger McAuliffe. Roger was not only my constituent, but also a good personal friend, a wonderful man who was first elected to the Illinois General Assembly in 1972.

At the time of his tragic death in a boating accident on July 5 of this year, the day before his 58th birthday, Roger was the dean of the Illinois State House Republicans, having just completed his 24th year of service there. In the State house, he served as the assistant majority leader. Many Members of our Illinois House congressional delegation, who have cosponsored this legislation along with the chairman of the Subcommittee on Postal Service, served with Roger in the Illinois General Assembly.

Roger represented the people of the 14th State House District, which overlaps in part the Fifth Congressional District of Illinois, and takes in not only the northwest side of Chicago, but also such suburbs as Park Ridge, Rosemont, Norridge, and Schiller Park. Not only did we share some commonality in our district boundaries, but Roger and I were both graduates of Chicago's Lane Technical High School.

Since we were both lifelong Chicagoans, I often relied on Roger for advice on Chicago area matters, and his keen insights were always a help. Other Members have told me that they, too, frequently relied on Roger for his astute wisdom and counsel.

Being a State representative, however, was only one of Roger's public service roles. After serving in the U.S. Army from 1961 to 1963, Roger then became a Chicago police officer. He graduated in 1965 from the Chicago Police Academy and was still a Chicago patrolman at the time of his unfortunate death.

Because he never wanted to take advantage of his elected office, Roger remained a patrolman his whole life. Although the police department on many occasions wanted to promote Roger to higher rank, Roger always refused. Roger also turned down chances to run for mayor, sheriff, and Cook County board president. He thought he would be a better servant of the community if he remained a State legislator. And so he did.

Given his background in law enforcement, Roger promoted legislation for stiffer penalties for drunk drivers and pension benefits to the families of police officers and firefighters killed in the line of duty. Well known for his constituent services, Roger was particularly concerned about senior citizens and, as far back as 1981, he started holding driving seminars for senior citizens. They were so popular that as many as 1,000 at a time attended them.

Known locally as the Monsignor, Roger was well liked and respected by both sides of the aisle. The July 10, 1996, article entitled "A Sense of Loss" by Chicago Sun-Times reporter Steve Neal well describes why Roger is already sorely missed. I will include this article following my remarks.

I can think of no finer tribute to Roger McAuliffe's memory than to honor his dedicated and distinguished long public service by redesignating the Dunning Post Office the Roger P. McAuliffe Post Office. I urge my colleagues to unanimously pass this measure.

The article referred to is as follows:

[From the Chicago Sun-Times, July 10, 1996]

A SENSE OF LOSS

ROGER P. MCAULIFFE WAS A POPULAR MEMBER OF THE ILLINOIS GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND WILL BE MISSED BY HIS NEIGHBORS ON THE NORTHWEST SIDE

(By Steve Neal)

He was a neighborhood guy.

That was the secret of state Rep. Roger P. McAuliffe's success.

McAuliffe, assistant majority leader of the Illinois House and a Chicago police officer, who presumably drowned in a boating accident in Northern Wisconsin, rose to state-wide political influence. But the Northwest Sider never forgot that all politics is local.

He promoted legislation for Chicago school reform, property-tax relief, stiffer penalties for drunken drivers, and pension benefits to the families of police officers and firefighters killed in the line of duty.

"He was strong and decisive. The people of Illinois have lost a tremendous legislator and the people of Chicago have lost a strong advocate," said House Speaker Lee A. Daniels (R-Elmhurst), a friend for more than 20 years. "Roger was the best in the state at providing services to his constituents."

McAuliffe may have been the most popular member of the General Assembly. "Everyone liked Roger. He was just one of those guys who was universally liked. His word was good. He loved helping people. He was a grand person to be with on social occasions. He's going to be missed," added former Illinois Senate President Philip J. Rock (D-Oak Park).

"If you knew him as a police officer, you never knew that he was a politician," said Chicago police officer Bill Nelligan, a close friend.

McAuliffe was first elected to the Illinois House in 1972. His district included the 38th and 41st wards, part of the 36th Ward, and neighboring suburbs.

Jack Dorgan, a former aide, said McAuliffe eased tension between the city and suburbs. "He always said that the people in the city and suburbs aren't different except for the ZIP codes," Dorgan said.

"He was a good neighbor to everyone. You could always count on him when there was a problem. When he walked through the neighborhood, everyone knew him as their friend first and an elected official second," said 38th Ward Democratic committeeman Patricia J. Cullerton.

An Irish American who grew up on the Northwest Side, McAuliffe was a second-generation Republican. After graduating from Lane Tech and serving in the U.S. Army, McAuliffe joined the 38th Ward GOP organizations. Through hard work, he became the city's GOP precinct captain.

In his 24-year legislative career, McAuliffe's most notable win was his 1982 reelection. He was told it couldn't be done. In 1980, voters had approved a constitutional amendment that reduced the size of the House and replaced the state's unique system of cumulative voting with single-member districts.

Under the old system, each legislative district elected three representatives, including one from the minority party. McAuliffe was among 17 Chicago GOP representatives. The other 16 members of this group retired or were defeated in 1982.

State Rep. Roman J. Kosinski (D-Chicago), who ran against McAuliffe in 1982, was favored to win. Even though there was a Democratic landslide in the city, McAuliffe won by 607 votes out of 37,000 cast. "Roger wasn't a quitter. He just outworked Kosinski," recalled Fred Rupley, McAuliffe's pal.

McAuliffe never had another close election. He survived by forging alliances with Northwest Side Democrats.

He is the only Chicago Republican elected to the House since the cutback amendment. McAuliffe turned down chances to run for mayor, Cook County Board president and sheriff. "He was very comfortable as a state legislator. He knew that he could control his own destiny," Rupley said.

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of H.R. 3834, a bill to redesignate the Roger P. McAuliffe Post Office in Chicago as a fitting tribute to my former colleague and friend.

I had the privilege of serving with Roger in the Illinois General Assembly from 1972, when we were in the same freshman class, until my election to Congress. Roger was the only one of our class to continue to serve in the general assembly until his tragic fatal accident—and serve he did.

Roger was known as an advocate for senior citizens, property tax caps, and as a former Chicago Police Officer, for fighting crime. Known particularly for his constituent services, he aided the residents of the neighborhoods of Chicago's northwest side as well as several suburbs including Park Ridge, Rosemont, Norridge and Shiller Park.

Even though he served as assistant majority leader, with a Republican House and Republican Senate, as the only Republican from Chicago in the State House, Roger effectively crossed party lines and worked with Republicans and Democrats alike. He will certainly be missed.

Roger touched many of us, with his warmth and good cheer. He was a dedicated public servant and a dear friend, and I will miss him greatly. I commend my colleague from Illinois [Mr. FLANAGAN] for his fitting tribute to Roger's memory, and for his efforts to expedite consideration of this important measure by the House.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. EWING). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 3834.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 3834.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New York?

There was no objection.

AMOS F. LONGORIA POST OFFICE BUILDING

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 2700) to designate the United States Post Office building located at 7980 FM 327, Elmhurst, TX, as the "Amos F. Longoria Post Office Building", as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 2700

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. DESIGNATION.

The building located at 8302 FM 327, Elmhurst, Texas, which houses operations of the United States Postal Service, shall be known and designated as the "Amos F. Longoria Post Office Building", and any reference in a law, map, regulation, document, paper, or other record of the United States to such building shall be deemed to be a reference to the "Amos F. Longoria Post Office Building".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH] and the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN] each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH].

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, the legislation before us, H.R. 2700 was unanimously approved as amended by the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight. H.R. 2700 designates the U.S. Post Office building located at 7980 FM 327, Elmendorf, TX, as the "Amos F. Longoria Post Office Building." The amendment corrects the address to read 8302 FM 327 and modifies the title of the bill to reflect the change. H.R. 2700 was introduced by the gentleman from Texas, [Mr. TEJEDA] and was cosponsored by the full Texas House Delegation, pursuant to committee policy.

H.R. 2700 honors Amos F. Longoria who was born in Elmendorf on September 12, 1924. He was one of seven children of Bonaficio and Juanita F. Longoria. Amos Longoria was drafted into the U.S. Army in April 1943 during his last year of high school; he reported for basic training at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio. He volunteered to serve in the European theater during World War II, was assigned to the 30th Infantry, 3d Division and saw combat in the Italian campaign. Amos Longoria was wounded during the first 6 months of his joining the military but he returned to duty shortly thereafter. He was mortally wounded on November 13, 1943 at the crossing of the Rapido River in Italy and died in an army hospital in Italy on November 19, 1943 at the age of 19.

Mr. Speaker, I urge our colleagues to support H.R. 2700 as amended, a bill naming the Post Office Building in honor of a local, young hero who served when called and died in service to your country.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 2700 as introduced by the gentleman from Texas [Mr. TEJEDA]. This bill designates the U.S. Post Office in Elmendorf, TX, as the "Amos F. Longoria Post Office." Mr. Longoria was drafted in the U.S. Army and served in the European theater during World War II. He was fatally wounded at the crossing of the Rapido River in Italy and later died on November 19, 1943.

This is a very fitting tribute to a dedicated public servant who paid the ultimate sacrifice for his country, so I am pleased to join my colleagues in support of this measure.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Texas [Mr. TEJEDA], a very hard-working and courageous Congressman.

Mr. TEJEDA. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to come to the floor today to urge everyone to support H.R. 2700, legislation to name the Elmendorf Post Office in the name of Amos Longoria.

First I would like to take a minute to thank my colleagues who have spent much of their time in the floor. All 29 of my Texas colleagues who cosponsored the bill have done an outstanding job especially particularly the gentleman from Texas, Mr. GENE GREEN, and also I would like to thank very much the gentleman from New York, Mr. MCHUGH and ranking Democrat, the gentlewoman from Michigan, Miss COLLINS, the gentleman from Pennsylvania, Mr. CLINGER and ranking Democrat, the gentlewoman from Illinois Mrs. COLLINS.

Most of all, Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the citizens of Elmendorf, TX, for, first of all, circulating and doing everything possible to do, and they did an outstanding job in 1 year to bring in the name. I have known the Longoria family for many years, and I cannot think of a more worthy person for this honor than Amos Longoria.

First of all, it was mentioned before, but first of all let me just say that Amos Longoria was born in Elmendorf, TX, on September 12, 1924, and was one of seven children born of Bonifacio and Juanita Longoria. Amos was drafted into the Army in April 1943 and volunteered to serve in the European theater. On November 13, 1943, shortly after his 19th birthday, Private Longoria was wounded at the famous crossing of the Rapido River in Italy. He died in an Army hospital in Italy 6 days later.

The Elmendorf Post Office will be a lasting tribute to a native son who paid the ultimate price for our country's freedom. I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting H.R. 2700.

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 2700, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

The title of the bill was amended so as to read: "A bill to designate the building located at 8302 FM 327, Elmendorf, Texas, which houses operations of the United States Postal Service, as the 'Amos F. Longoria Post Office Building'."

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 2700, the bill just passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New York?

There was no objection.

VETERANS EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES ACT OF 1996

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 3586) to amend title 5, United States Code, to strengthen veterans' preference, to increase employment opportunities for veterans, and for other purposes, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 3586

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Veterans Employment Opportunities Act of 1996".

SEC. 2. EQUAL ACCESS FOR VETERANS.

(a) COMPETITIVE SERVICE.—Section 3304 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(f)(1) No preference eligible, and no individual (other than a preference eligible) who has been separated from the armed forces under honorable conditions after 3 or more years of active service, shall be denied the opportunity to compete for an announced vacant position within an agency, in the competitive service or the excepted service, by reason of—

"(A) not having acquired competitive status; or

"(B) not being an employee of such agency.

"(2) Nothing in this subsection shall prevent an agency from filling a vacant position (whether by appointment or otherwise) solely from individuals on a priority placement list consisting of individuals who have been separated from the agency due to a reduction in force and surplus employees (as defined under regulations prescribed by the Office)."

(b) CIVIL SERVICE EMPLOYMENT INFORMATION.—

(1) VACANT POSITIONS.—Section 3327(b) of title 5, United States Code, is amended by striking "and" at the end of paragraph (1), by redesignating paragraph (2) as paragraph (3), and by inserting after paragraph (1) the following:

"(2) each vacant position in the agency for which competition is restricted to individuals having competitive status or employees of such agency, excluding any position under paragraph (1), and"

(2) ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.—Section 3327 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(c) Any notification provided under this section shall, for all positions under subsection (b)(1) as to which section 3304(f) applies and for all positions under subsection (b)(2), include a notation as to the applicability of section 3304(f) with respect thereto.

"(d) In consultation with the Secretary of Labor, the Office shall submit to Congress and the President, no less frequently than every 2 years, a report detailing, with respect to the period covered by such report—

"(1) the number of positions listed under this section during such period;

"(2) the number of preference eligibles and other individuals described in section 3304(f)(1) referred to such positions during such period; and

"(3) the number of preference eligibles and other individuals described in section 3304(f)(1) appointed to such positions during such period."

(c) GOVERNMENTWIDE LISTS.—

(1) VACANT POSITIONS.—Section 3330(b) of title 5, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(b) The Office of Personnel Management shall cause to be established and kept current—

"(1) a comprehensive list of all announcements of vacant positions (in the competitive service and the excepted service, respectively) within each agency that are to be filled by appointment for more than 1 year and for which applications are being or will soon be accepted from outside the agency's work force; and

"(2) a comprehensive list of all announcements of vacant positions within each agency for which applications are being or will soon be accepted and for which competition is restricted to individuals having competitive status or employees of such agency, excluding any position required to be listed under paragraph (1)."

(2) ADDITIONAL INFORMATION.—Section 3330(c) of title 5, United States Code, is amended by striking "and" at the end of paragraph (2), by redesignating paragraph (3) as paragraph (4), and by inserting after paragraph (2) the following:

"(3) for all positions under subsection (b)(1) as to which section 3304(f) applies and for all positions under subsection (b)(2), a notation as to the applicability of section 3304(f) with respect thereto; and"

(3) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 3330(d) of title 5, United States Code, is amended by striking "The list" and inserting "Each list under subsection (b)".

SEC. 3. SPECIAL PROTECTIONS FOR PREFERENCE ELIGIBLES IN REDUCTIONS IN FORCE.

Section 3502 of title 5, United States Code, as amended by section 1034 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 430), is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(g)(1) A position occupied by a preference eligible shall not be placed in a single-position competitive level if the preference eligible is qualified to perform the essential functions of any other position at the same grade (or occupational level) in the competitive area. In such cases, the preference eligible shall be entitled to be placed in another competitive level for which such preference eligible is qualified. If the preference eligible is qualified for more than one competitive level, such preference eligible shall be placed in the competitive level containing the most positions.

"(2) For purposes of paragraph (1)—

"(A) a preference eligible shall be considered qualified to perform the essential functions of a position if, by reason of experience, training, or education (and, in the case of a disabled veteran, with reasonable accommodation), a reasonable person could conclude that the preference eligible would be able to perform those functions successfully within a period of 150 days; and

"(B) a preference eligible shall not be considered unqualified solely because such preference eligible does not meet the minimum qualification requirements relating to previous experience in a specified grade (or occupational level), if any, that are established for such position by the Office of Personnel Management or the agency.

"(h) In connection with any reduction in force, a preference eligible whose current or most recent performance rating is at least fully successful (or the equivalent) shall have, in addition to such assignment rights as are prescribed by regulation, the right, in lieu of separation, to be assigned to any position within the agency conducting the reduction in force—

"(1) for which such preference eligible is qualified under subsection (g)(2)—

"(A) that is within the preference eligible's commuting area and at the same grade (or occupational level) as the position from which the preference eligible was released, and that is then occupied by an individual, other than another preference eligible, who was placed in such position (whether by appointment or otherwise) within 6 months before the reduction in force if, within 12 months prior to the date on which such individual was so placed in such position, such individual had been employed in the same competitive area as the preference eligible; or

"(B) that is within the preference eligible's competitive area and that is then occupied by an individual, other than another preference eligible, who was placed in such position (whether by appointment or otherwise) within 6 months before the reduction in force; or

"(2) for which such preference eligible is qualified that is within the preference eligible's competitive area and that is not more than 3 grades (or pay levels) below that of the position from which the preference eligible was released, except that, in the case of a preference eligible with a compensable service-connected disability of 30 percent or more, this paragraph shall be applied by substituting '5 grades' for '3 grades'.

In the event that a preference eligible is entitled to assignment to more than 1 position under this subsection, the agency shall assign the preference eligible to any such position requiring no reduction (or, if there is no such position, the least reduction) in basic pay. A position shall not, with respect to a preference eligible, be considered to satisfy the requirements of paragraph (1) or (2), as applicable, if it does not last for at least 12 months following the date on which such preference eligible is assigned to such position under this subsection.

"(i) A preference eligible may challenge the classification of any position to which the preference eligible asserts assignment rights (as provided by, or prescribed by regulations described in, subsection (h)) in an action before the Merit Systems Protection Board.

"(j)(1) Not later than 3 months after the date of the enactment of this subsection, each Executive agency shall establish an agencywide priority placement program to facilitate employment placement for employees who—

"(A)(i) are scheduled to be separated from service due to a reduction in force under—

"(I) regulations prescribed under this section; or

"(II) procedures established under section 3595; or

"(ii) are separated from service due to such a reduction in force; and

"(B)(i) have received a rating of at least fully successful (or the equivalent) as the last performance rating of record used for retention purposes; or

"(ii) occupy positions excluded from a performance appraisal system by law, regulation, or administrative action taken by the Office of Personnel Management.

"(2)(A) Each agencywide priority placement program under this subsection shall include provisions under which a vacant position shall not (except as provided in this paragraph or any other statute providing the right of reemployment to any individual) be filled by the appointment or transfer of any individual from outside of that agency (other than an individual described in subparagraph (B)) if—

"(i) there is then available any individual described in subparagraph (B) who is qualified for the position; and

"(ii) the position—

"(I) is at the same grade or pay level (or the equivalent) or not more than 3 grades (or grade intervals) below that of the position last held by such individual before placement in the new position; and

"(II) is within the same commuting area as the individual's last-held position (as referred to in subclause (I)) or residence; and

"(III) has the same type of work schedule (whether full-time, part-time, or intermittent) as the position last held by the individual.

"(B) For purposes of an agencywide priority placement program, an individual shall be considered to be described in this subparagraph if such individual—

"(1)(I) is an employee of such agency who is scheduled to be separated, as described in paragraph (1)(A)(i); or

"(II) is an individual who became a former employee of such agency as a result of a separation, as described in paragraph (1)(A)(ii), excluding any individual who separated voluntarily under subsection (f); and

"(ii) satisfies clause (i) or (ii) of paragraph (1)(B).

"(3)(A) If after a reduction in force the agency has no positions of any type within the local commuting areas specified in this subsection, the individual may designate a different local commuting area where the agency has continuing positions in order to exercise reemployment rights under this subsection. An agency may determine that such designations are not in the interest of the Government for the purpose of paying relocation expenses under subchapter II of chapter 57.

"(B) At its option, an agency may administratively extend reemployment rights under this subsection to include other local commuting areas.

"(4)(A) In selecting employees for positions under this subsection, the agency shall place qualified present and former employees in retention order by veterans' preference subgroup and tenure group.

"(B) An agency may not pass over a qualified present or former employee to select an individual in a lower veterans' preference subgroup within the tenure group, or in a lower tenure group.

"(C) Within a subgroup, the agency may select a qualified present or former employee without regard to the individual's total creditable service.

"(5) An individual is eligible for reemployment priority under this subsection for 2 years from the effective date of the reduction in force from which the individual will be, or has been, separated under this section or section 3595, as the case may be.

"(6) An individual loses eligibility for reemployment priority under this subsection when the individual—

"(A) requests removal in writing;

"(B) accepts or declines a bona fide offer under this subsection or fails to accept such an offer within the period of time allowed for such acceptance, or

"(C) separates from the agency before being separated under this section or section 3595, as the case may be.

A present or former employee who declines a position with a representative rate (or equivalent) that is less than the rate of the position from which the individual was separated under this section retains eligibility for positions with a higher representative rate up to the rate of the individual's last position.

"(7) Whenever more than one individual is qualified for a position under this subsection, the agency shall select the most highly qualified individual, subject to paragraph (4).

"(8) The Office of Personnel Management shall issue regulations to implement this subsection."

SEC. 4. IMPROVED REDRESS FOR VETERANS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter I of chapter 33 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

"§ 3330a. Administrative redress

"(a)(1) Any preference eligible or other individual described in section 3304(f)(1) who alleges that an agency has violated such individual's rights under any statute or regulation relating to veterans' preference, or any right afforded such individual by section 3304(f), may file a complaint with the Secretary of Labor.

"(2) A complaint under this subsection must be filed within 60 days after the date of the alleged violation, and the Secretary shall process such complaint in accordance with sections 4322 (a) through (e)(1) and 4326 of title 38.

"(b)(1) If the Secretary of Labor is unable to resolve the complaint within 60 days after the date on which it is filed, the complainant may elect to appeal the alleged violation to the Merit Systems Protection Board in accordance with such procedures as the Merit Systems Protection Board shall prescribe, except that in no event may any such appeal be brought—

"(A) before the 61st day after the date on which the complaint is filed under subsection (a); or

"(B) later than 15 days after the date on which the complainant receives notification from the Secretary of Labor under section 4322(e)(1) of title 38.

"(2) An appeal under this subsection may not be brought unless—

"(A) the complainant first provides written notification to the Secretary of Labor of such complainant's intention to bring such appeal; and

"(B) appropriate evidence of compliance with subparagraph (A) is included (in such form and manner as the Merit Systems Protection Board may prescribe) with the notice of appeal under this subsection.

"(3) Upon receiving notification under paragraph (2)(A), the Secretary of Labor shall not continue to investigate or further attempt to resolve the complaint to which such notification relates.

"(c) This section shall not be construed to prohibit a preference eligible from appealing directly to the Merit Systems Protection Board from any action which is appealable to the Board under any other law, rule, or regulation, in lieu of administrative redress under this section.

"§ 3330b. Judicial redress

"(a) In lieu of continuing the administrative redress procedure provided under section 3330a(b), a preference eligible or other individual described in section 3304(f)(1) may elect, in accordance with this section, to terminate those administrative proceedings and file an action with the appropriate United States district court not later than 60 days after the date of the election.

"(b) An election under this section may not be made—

"(1) before the 121st day after the date on which the appeal is filed with the Merit Systems Protection Board under section 3330a(b); or

"(2) after the Merit Systems Protection Board has issued a judicially reviewable decision on the merits of the appeal.

"(c) An election under this section shall be made, in writing, in such form and manner as the Merit Systems Protection Board shall by regulation prescribe. The election shall be effective as of the date on which it is received, and the administrative proceeding to which it relates shall terminate immediately upon the receipt of such election.

"§ 3330c. Remedy

"(a) If the Merit Systems Protection Board (in a proceeding under section 3330a) or a court (in a proceeding under section 3330b) determines that an agency has violated a right described in section 3330a, the Board or court (as the case may be) shall order the agency to comply with such provisions and award compensation for any loss of wages or benefits suffered by the individual by reason of the violation involved. If the Board or court determines that such violation was willful, it shall award an amount equal to backpay as liquidated damages.

"(b) A preference eligible or other individual described in section 3304(f)(1) who prevails in an action under section 3330a or 3330b shall be awarded reasonable attorney fees, expert witness fees, and other litigation expenses."

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 33 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding after the item relating to section 3330 the following:

"3330a. Administrative redress.

"3330b. Judicial redress.

"3330c. Remedy."

SEC. 5. EXTENSION OF VETERANS' PREFERENCE.

(a) AMENDMENT TO TITLE 5, UNITED STATES CODE.—Paragraph (3) of section 2108 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by striking "the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Drug Enforcement Administration Senior Executive Service, or the General Accounting Office;" and inserting "or the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Drug Enforcement Administration Senior Executive Service;"

(b) AMENDMENTS TO TITLE 3, UNITED STATES CODE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 2 of title 3, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

"§ 115. Veterans' preference

"(a) Subject to subsection (b), appointments under sections 105, 106, and 107 shall be made in accordance with section 2108, and sections 3309 through 3312, of title 5.

"(b) Subsection (a) shall not apply to any appointment to a position the rate of basic pay for which is at least equal to the minimum rate established for positions in the Senior Executive Service under section 5382 of title 5 and the duties of which are comparable to those described in section 3132(a)(2) of such title or to any other position if, with respect to such position, the President makes certification—

"(1) that such position is—

"(A) a confidential or policy-making position; or

"(B) a position for which political affiliation or political philosophy is otherwise an important qualification; and

"(2) that any individual selected for such position is expected to vacate the position at or before the end of the President's term (or terms) of office.

Each individual appointed to a position described in the preceding sentence as to which the expectation described in paragraph (2) applies shall be notified as to such expectation, in writing, at the time of appointment to such position."

(2) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 2 of title 3, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

"115. Veterans' preference."

(c) LEGISLATIVE BRANCH APPOINTMENTS.—

(1) DEFINITIONS.—For the purposes of this subsection, the terms "employing office", "covered employee", and "Board" shall each have the meaning given such term by section 101 of the Congressional Accountability Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1301).

(2) RIGHTS AND PROTECTIONS.—The rights and protections established under section 2108, sections 3309 through 3312, and subchapter I of chapter 35, of title 5, United States Code, shall apply to covered employees.

(3) REMEDIES.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The remedy for a violation of paragraph (2) shall be such remedy as would be appropriate if awarded under applicable provisions of title 5, United States Code, in the case of a violation of the relevant corresponding provision (referred to in paragraph (2)) of such title.

(B) PROCEDURE.—The procedure for consideration of alleged violations of paragraph (2) shall be the same as apply under section 401 of the Congressional Accountability Act of 1995 (and the provisions of law referred to therein) in the case of an alleged violation of part A of title II of such Act

(4) REGULATIONS TO IMPLEMENT SUBSECTION.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Board shall, pursuant to section 304 of the Congressional Accountability Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1384), issue regulations to implement this subsection.

(B) AGENCY REGULATIONS.—The regulations issued under subparagraph (A) shall be the same as the most relevant substantive regulations (applicable with respect to the executive branch) promulgated to implement the statutory provisions referred to in paragraph (2) except insofar as the Board may determine, for good cause shown and stated together with the regulation, that a modification of such regulations would be more effective for the implementation of the rights and protections under this subsection.

(C) COORDINATION.—The regulations issued under subparagraph (A) shall be consistent with section 225 of the Congressional Accountability Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1361).

(5) APPLICABILITY.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection, the term "covered employee" shall not, for purposes of this subsection, include an employee—

(A) whose appointment is made by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate;

(B) whose appointment is made by a Member of Congress or by a committee or subcommittee of either House of Congress; or

(C) who is appointed to a position, the duties of which are equivalent to those of a Senior Executive Service position (within the meaning of section 3132(a)(2) of title 5, United States Code).

(6) EFFECTIVE DATE.—Paragraphs (2) and (3) shall be effective as of the effective date of the regulations under paragraph (4).

(4) JUDICIAL BRANCH APPOINTMENTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Subject to paragraph (2), appointments to positions in the judicial branch of the Government shall be made in accordance with section 2108, and sections 3309 through 3312, of title 5, United States Code.

(2) REDUCTIONS IN FORCE.—Subject to paragraph (2), reductions in force in the judicial branch of the Government shall provide preference eligibles with protections substantially similar to those provided under subchapter I of chapter 35 of title 5, United States Code.

(3) EXCLUSIONS.—Paragraphs (1) and (2) shall not apply to—

(A) an appointment made by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate;

(B) an appointment as a judicial officer;

(C) an appointment as a law clerk or secretary to a justice or judge of the United States; or

(D) an appointment to a position, the duties of which are equivalent to those of a Senior Executive Service position (within the meaning of section 3132(a)(2) of title 5, United States Code).

(4) REDRESS PROCEDURES.—The Judicial Conference of the United States shall prescribe regulations under which redress procedures (substantially similar to the procedures established by the amendments made by section 4) shall be available for alleged violations of any rights provided by this subsection.

(5) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this subsection—

(A) the term “judicial officer” means a justice, judge, or magistrate judge listed in subparagraph (A), (B), (F), or (G) of section 376(a)(1) of title 28, United States Code; and

(B) the term “justice or judge of the United States” has the meaning given such term by section 451 of such title 28.

SEC. 6. VETERANS' PREFERENCE REQUIRED FOR REDUCTIONS IN FORCE IN THE FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION.

Section 347(b) of the Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 1996 (109 Stat. 460) is amended by striking “and” at the end of paragraph (6), by striking the period at the end of paragraph (7) and inserting “; and”, and by adding at the end the following:

“(8) sections 3501–3504, as such sections relate to veterans' preference.”

SEC. 7. DEFINITIONAL AMENDMENT.

Subparagraph (A) of section 2108(1) of title 5, United States Code, is amended by inserting “during a military operation in a qualified hazardous duty area (within the meaning of the first 2 sentences of section 1(b) of Public Law 104–117) and in accordance with requirements that may be prescribed in regulations of the Secretary of Defense,” after “for which a campaign badge has been authorized.”

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Florida [Mr. MICA] and the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN] each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Florida [Mr. MICA].

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, as chairman of the House Subcommittee on Civil Service, one of my major concerns during my tenure has been the problem of the status of veterans in our Federal work force and their treatment. Because of that concern, our subcommittee held a hearing on April 30, 1996, to examine the status of veterans' preference in the Federal work force.

Unfortunately, Mr. Speaker, that hearing revealed ample reason for all of us to be concerned about the state of veterans' preference, particularly in our Federal workplace. The testimony at our hearing showed that veterans' preference in the Federal work force is often ignored or circumvented. Its continued viability is in fact threatened by several recent developments, most notably the introduction of single person competition during reductions in force in our Federal Government.

But perhaps most important, Mr. Speaker, the hearing revealed a widespread agreement in the veterans' community that veterans do not have an adequate redress mechanism. In fact, both the American Legion and the Disabled American Veterans identified this as the No. 1 problem, the major problem Congress should solve.

As the House considers this legislation, Mr. Speaker, it is important for us to remember the veterans' preference is not a gift. It is in fact a right and an opportunity that our veterans deserve. Congress has a moral obligation to recognize the sacrifices of the men and women of our Armed Forces who have served their country. We called upon them to serve in war and defend this Nation. Now we offer them this opportunity to serve their Nation in peace.

This bill, the Veterans' Employment Opportunity Act of 1996, is necessary to ensure that this Nation fulfills that moral obligation. That promise of veterans' preference is indeed a reality in our Federal workplace. It is also the product of a lot of hard work by Members on both sides of the aisle, and this in fact is a truly bipartisan effort.

I want to take a moment and thank, first of all, the distinguished gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN], who is the ranking member on the Subcommittee on Civil Service of the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight, for his hard work and efforts in making this bill a reality.

I would also especially like to thank my good friend, the gentleman from Indiana, the Honorable STEVE BUYER, chairman of the Subcommittee on Education, Training, Employment and Housing of the Committee on Veterans' Affairs. He and his staff have worked very hard and long on this bill and cooperated with our subcommittee, and I appreciate their many valuable contributions as well as the outstanding leadership that he and his subcommittee have provided on this and other legislation relating to veterans' issues.

I also want to take a moment and thank Chairman STUMP of the Committee on Veterans' Affairs. The gentleman from Arizona has been outstanding in both his cooperation and leadership of all veterans' issues.

I also want to pay particular attention and due credit to the gentleman from Pennsylvania, Mr. JON FOX. Mr. FOX has been a leader in veterans' legislation, particularly the veterans' preference legislation, and in fact wanted to extend the provisions of this act beyond what we are doing today. I give him full credit.

Mr. Speaker, I would also just take a personal moment and recognize my brother, who served on the other side of the aisle for 10 years on the Veterans' Committee. Dan Mica showed his dedication to veterans. Part of the commitment of both of the Mica brothers is that 24 years ago this month our father died in a crowded veterans' hospital, so we both have a deep commitment to seeing that our veterans are not only remembered, but also that we honor the rights and obligations that they are due.

Mr. Speaker, before I address some of the provisions of this bill in detail, I would like to give a thumbnail sketch of what this bill does for veterans. This bill does in fact provide veterans with an effective, user-friendly redress system. It extends veterans' preference to certain jobs in the legislative branch, also in the judiciary branch, and also at the White House.

This bill removes artificial barriers that often bar our service men and women from competing for Federal jobs. These individuals should be able to compete for jobs for which they qualify, just like other Federal employees. This bill provides enhanced protections to veterans in a reduction in force. This legislation requires Federal agencies to establish priority placement programs for employees affected by a RIF, or reduction in force. Federal agencies must give veterans' preference when rehiring employees.

This legislation also requires the FAA to apply veterans' preference in any reduction in force, and this legislation provides veterans' preference for service in Bosnia, Croatia, and Macedonia while it is a qualified hazardous duty area, by definition.

Mr. Speaker, those are some of the provisions of our bill. I am pleased to present this legislation to the House, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bill, H.R. 3586. The goal of our veterans' preference laws is very simple. We want to afford individuals who have served our country in times of war an opportunity to continue their public service through Federal employment. Veterans' preference does not entitle a veteran to a Federal job but, rather, it gives him or her an advantage in seeking employment. This has always been a bipartisan goal and it is supported by the Congress and the White House.

It is in this bipartisan spirit that the gentleman from Florida [Mr. MICA] and I have brought forward this bill. Since 1865 the Federal Government has been a leader in offering job opportunities to veterans. This has been true regardless of who has been in the White House.

As a percentage of the work force, there are more veterans in the Federal work force today than there are in the private work force. There is also a higher representation of disabled veterans and a higher representation of veterans who are 30 percent or more disabled in the Federal work force.

Since the Subcommittee on Civil Service of the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight began work on this legislation 3 months ago, we have had some criticism. I do not think that the criticism that was directed at this administration is justified by the facts.

While it is true that the absolute number of veterans in the Federal work force is declining, it is also true that this trend began in 1984. The reduction in the number of federally employed veterans does not represent any insidious effort by any administration to diminish veterans' preference, but it reflects the simple fact that the largest group of veterans, those from World War II and the Korean War, are now ready for retirement.

More than 59 percent of all veterans in this country are between 55 and 64. The number of Americans who served in Vietnam, Grenada, Panama, and the Persian Gulf simply are not large enough to replace their predecessors. We do not have to look farther than the U.S. Senate to see the example of a World War II veteran retiring and replaced by a nonveteran. It is happening all over.

Despite the absolute decrease in the number of veterans, it should be said that the Clinton administration has done an excellent job in recruiting veterans. The percentage of veterans in the Federal work force declined throughout the 1980's, but it stabilized since President Clinton was elected. In fact, the percentages of veterans as new hires is actually increasing. Since 1992, the percentage of veterans hired has gone from 23.6 percent of new hires to 33.3 percent. One out of every three new hires is a veteran.

But the Federal Government is not hiring, it is firing. We are downsizing. Therefore, the focus of veterans' preference has shifted toward ways to protect veterans during a RIF. The focus now is how to give veterans the opportunity to retain their existing Federal jobs when their agency and the Federal Government as a whole is cutting employment.

Again, this is not an entitlement that we are passing today. We do not intend to ensure that no veteran ever gets rifed. Rather, this legislation contains a series of protections that give veterans an advantage over other Federal employees in retaining their jobs. This legislation closes a number of loopholes through which agencies might try to circumvent the current veterans' preference laws.

The bill allows veterans and those who have served in the military the opportunity to compete for a greater number of existing Federal jobs. The bill also gives veterans greater protections in RIF's. It seeks to prevent agencies from manipulating Federal RIF laws to unfairly, improperly target veterans.

While it is important to remember that none of the current flexibilities have ever actually been used to target veterans, in fact, veterans have disproportionately benefited from the Clinton administration's use of flexible hiring and RIF, some in the veterans' community have expressed concerns. So this bill addresses their concerns and ensures that in the future the Clinton administration will maintain its commitment to veterans.

The bill also gives veterans a forum for redress if they believe that their veterans' preference rights have been violated. This new appeals process is more generous than that enjoyed by any other Federal employee and is built around the popular and very successful Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994. The acronym is USERRA law. It has been working well and we are going to duplicate it.

Finally, the legislation extends for the first time veterans' preference to the nonpolitical jobs in the White House, the Congress, and the judiciary. I had a number of concerns with the legislation as originally drafted. I wanted to ensure that we do not unduly impede the operations of the agencies in getting the most qualified people as we attempt to close loopholes in veterans' preference, but downsizing is always difficult and only can be done correctly if Congress grants the agency a high degree of flexibility.

I also wanted to ensure that the redress system was fair and effective. The last thing we need is an overly burdensome and complicated redress system that encourages frivolous and meritless appeals. No one can be served rightly by such a system.

The chairman of the subcommittee and I have worked closely on this legislation. We have made some significant improvements to the original bill. These changes do not weaken the bill but, rather, they ensure that it will work and that our goals will be administratively achievable. These consensus modifications have been incorporated in the bipartisan substitute offered in committee and the manager's amendment which will be offered here on the floor.

We could not, however, agree on two major amendments offered for inclusion in the manager's amendment. While I appreciate the spirit in which these amendments were offered, I could not accept any proposal that would have watered down the preference that is enjoyed by those who actually served in the Persian Gulf war or reservists who experienced combat.

In addition, I could not accept any amendment that would worsen the already complicated and overly burdensome Federal appeals process. Again, I appreciate Chairman MICA's leadership in bringing this legislation to the floor, and I appreciate his willingness to continue to work on this issue in a bipartisan and a constructive manner.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP], chairman of the Committee on Veterans' Affairs.

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding time to me.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to congratulate the subcommittee chairman, the gentleman from Florida, Mr. MICA, and the ranking member, the gentleman from Virginia, JIM MORAN, for bringing this important bill to the floor. Most people have classified this bill as being the best for veterans' employment probably since the 1940's.

As we reorganize government to run in a more businesslike and cost-effective manner, veterans need to receive the protection they are entitled to because of their service. The provisions of this bill will bring veterans' employment enforcement into the sunshine of public scrutiny and make it easier for veterans to obtain justice.

I strongly urge my colleagues to support H.R. 3586.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, it is my honor to yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Mississippi, the Honorable Major General "SONNY" MONTGOMERY, the representative of America's veterans.

Mr. MONTGOMERY. Mr. Speaker, I do not know what to say, but I want to thank the gentleman from Virginia for his kind remarks, and for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 3586 is a bill that would enhance veterans' employment opportunities in the Federal Government. Eligible veterans seeking Federal jobs would be able to compete for jobs that are now closed to them. Those veterans covered by the veterans' preference who already work for the Federal Government would, for the first time, have access to an effective appeals system if they believe their preference rights have been violated.

This bill brings together the efforts of all members and staff of the Civil Service Committee, the Office of Personnel Management, and several veterans' service organizations.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN] and the gentleman from Florida [Mr. MICA] for their hard work and their subcommittees' work. The gentleman's brother did serve on our committee for many years. I thank the gentlemen on behalf of our Nation's veterans.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this legislation.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, it is my pleasure to yield 3 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from New York [Mr. SOLOMON], the chairman of the Committee on Rules and a real friend of veterans of this Nation.

Mr. SOLOMON. I thank the gentleman for yielding time to me, Mr. Speaker, and I also want to commend him and the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN], the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP], the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. MONTGOMERY], and the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. BUYER].

Mr. Speaker, let me just say to the chairman of the subcommittee that I served with his brother. He and I came here together. He was from the other side of the aisle, but I can say he was an outstanding member. He stood up and fought for the veterans of this Nation. I also served with him on the Committee on Foreign Affairs for 10 years as well, and he was an outstanding member.

Mr. Speaker, let me say there are some disturbing trends going on in this country and within this very Government with regard to veterans' employment. It is hard for me to believe and impossible to understand, but there is even more proof that veterans are being discriminated against when it comes to finding jobs. If Members do not believe it, just go out and ask any number of them.

That is why this bill is so terribly important. It provides some real teeth to the veterans' preference laws when it comes to hiring, when it comes to reductions in force, and promotions within the Federal Government. I commend the chairman of the subcommittee, the gentleman from Florida, Chairman MICA, for taking the time to recognize these real problems.

By defining failure to comply with these laws as a prohibited personnel practice, managers and supervisors who hire and fire throughout this Government will fully understand that this Congress is committed to helping our veterans readjust and reenter civilian life. Not only that, but this Government will finally have the added benefit of capitalizing on the invaluable service and experience American veterans have to offer.

I am also pleased because this bill will apply these veterans' preference laws to hiring within the White House and this Congress as well. I think we can all agree that the perspective of veterans is underrepresented these days. That is why we fought so hard to obtain the Department of Veterans' Affairs as a Cabinet-level secretary, to sit there next to the President when we are discussing these terribly vital issues.

Again, I want to commend the chairman for bringing this vital legislation to the floor. It is badly needed. One more time, I will just say that not only do veterans sacrifice when they put on that uniform, but they suffer financially as well. They are always 4 years behind their peers going to college, stepping into the civilian work force, and all through life they are penalized for that. This simply gives them a job preference to help them catch up a little bit. That is why it is so terribly important. I commend the gentlemen for bringing this to the floor.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from California [Mr. FILNER], from the heartland of America's veterans who has fought his way into the hearts of all those veterans in his district.

Mr. FILNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 3586, the Veterans' Employment Opportunities Act of 1996. This bill would broaden and strengthen veterans' preference in Federal employment, and I congratulate JOHN MICA, chairman of the Government Reform Subcommittee on Civil Service, and JIM MORAN, the ranking member on that subcommittee, for developing this measure.

For too long our veterans have not had an effective means of redress when they believe their rights under civil service law have been violated. I am particularly pleased that section 4 of H.R. 3586 would correct this problem. I know that representatives from several of the veterans' service organizations, and Office of Personnel Management staff, helped design the appeal mechanism in H.R. 3586, and I want to thank all of them for their good, creative work on this issue.

It is important to point out that the civil service system has worked very well for veterans in recent years. For example, an average of 18.5 percent of new fulltime hires were veterans during fiscal years 1990, 1991, and 1992. During fiscal years 1993, 1994, and 1995, that figure increased by more than 50 percent to 31.1 percent. Nonetheless, even the best, most supportive system can be improved, and I urge my colleagues to support H.R. 3586.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Virginia [Mr. DAVIS], also a member of our subcommittee and chairman of the Subcommittee on the District of Columbia of the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight.

Mr. DAVIS. I thank my friend for yielding me this time.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from Florida [Mr. MICA] and the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN] for getting this bill in shape to bring it to the floor. This gives equal and expanded access for Federal jobs to veterans. It provides veterans who have been honorably discharged after 3 years equal access to compete for vacant positions. Such has not been the case in the past.

I think President Clinton put it well in his Memorial Day address this year at Arlington National Cemetery when he said: "let us also remember to honor those who served in times of peace, who preserve the peace, protect our interests and project our values. Though they are the best-trained, best-equipped military in the world, they, too face their share of dangers."

This legislation in section 2 will provide for those who are honorably discharged after 3 years of service that they cannot be prevented from competing for Government jobs because they do not have status or are nonemployees of the hiring agency.

This also removes artificial barriers that bar preference eligibles from competing for Federal jobs. It extends veterans preference to nonpolitical jobs at the White House and in the legislative and judicial branches.

It is important that we here set the example in the legislative branch and at the White House as well for the same kind of rules that we are applying throughout the Federal bureaucracy. It requires OPM to create and maintain a comprehensive list of all vacant position announcements inside and outside the employing agency.

There are also some special protections for veterans built into this when agencies are conducting reductions in force. This prevents agencies from stripping veterans of their preference during a RIF. It prohibits agencies from placing preference eligibles in single-position competitive levels. It provides enhanced assignment rights for preference eligibles, and it requires the Federal Aviation Administration to apply veterans preference in a reduction in force.

Finally, for the first time this establishes an effective user-friendly redress system for veterans who believe their rights have been violated. There is one thing we heard in the testimony, that the current system is not working, it is not operating. I think the veterans groups have been working for years to get Congress to establish this system. This year under the leadership of the gentleman from Florida, Chairman MICA, we have brought it to the floor. I rise in support.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. BUYER], the distinguished chairman of the Subcommittee on Education, Training, Employment and Housing of the Committee on Veterans' Affairs who has been a national leader for veterans.

Mr. BUYER. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the chairman personally. There has been work from my subcommittee and his subcommittee on this issue. I want to congratulate the chairman; also Mr. MORAN, the ranking member; and all members of the subcommittee for what I view are magnificent works for this very important piece of legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I had the honor of testifying before the chairman's committee. I am doubly pleased that some of the points brought out from the hearing are in fact in this bill. It was a joy to work with the chairman.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP], the chairman of the Committee on Veterans' Affairs, has already addressed some of the important provisions with regard to discriminated or aggrieved veterans, they need a recourse for their grievances, and that of a new administrative and judicial method for veterans to pursue their employment claims.

I also want to lay out some facts. I know that the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN] had said that some of those criticisms with regard to the administration are unfounded.

To those who feel that veterans do not need protections provided to them in this bill, let me just quote an internal memo from Postmaster General Mr. Marvin Runyon to his Board of Governors. Mr. Runyon stated that veterans preference will "have a detrimental impact on the Postal Service." It will "tie our hands"; and it would "be costly and make our personnel decisions more difficult and onerous."

Finally, recognizing the average American's support for veterans, he says, "This is a difficult issue to oppose publicly, especially in an election year."

That is the Postmaster General. We could go down the line, I guess, perhaps, and talk about others.

The Postmaster, though, almost got it right, but I would offer this: I would say that this is an issue that should never be opposed, whether it is an election year or not. Veterans preference must remain the cornerstone of Federal employment simply because it is the right thing to do and it is an earned benefit. Veterans preference knows no color or gender or ethnic origin, whether a person is a Christian, a Jew, a Muslim, or even an atheist. It is based on what is becoming a novel idea in the country, and it should not be, but a willingness to sacrifice one's life for the country.

I challenge anyone to point out a more appropriate group of citizens to receive some small advantage in securing and maintaining Federal employment. This bill will do much to reverse what I call a growing antiveteran culture among the bureaucrats.

There is no doubt that women and minorities have long suffered employment discrimination in both the Federal and private sector. I am proud to note that our military forces have been in the forefront of promoting women and minorities among all ranks. But it is time for Federal hiring managers to put veterans first and stop balancing the scales of diversity on the backs of veterans.

I would also note that some statistics were quoted for 1990, 1991, and 1992 and we are saying, we have increased veterans hiring in 1993, 1994, and 1995. I think America should recognize that that was over the same time period that we brought down our military forces by over 27 percent. Let us be careful in the cheerleading.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank both gentlemen for their work on this bill. It is a very good bill.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume to respond to the gentleman's points.

As I said in my comments, this should not be a political issue. There is bipartisan support for this bill as there always has been for veterans preference and veterans benefits. The point was made that Mr. Runyon, the head of the Postal Service, had criticisms of this bill. But I would inform the gentleman from Indiana that Mr. Runyon is not a presidential appointee. He is not a Clinton appointee. There is no Clinton appointee who has said anything of the like.

The reality is that the decline in veterans preferential hiring occurred during the 1980's. Since the gentleman has brought the issue up, since the Clinton administration took over, it has increased from 26 percent to 33 percent. Those are facts. But the major, overwhelming fact is that there simply are not as many veterans around, the average age is 59, for obvious reasons, because that is when most people fought in World War II and the Korean War; so you are going to have a decline.

What matters is the percentage of new hires. Since the Clinton administration took over, one out of every three new hires is a veteran.

I just do not think we can support those numbers. I feel compelled to take some issue with the point that the gentleman attempted to make.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. BUYER].

Mr. BUYER. Mr. Speaker, just to respond to my colleague from Virginia, I lay the blame for a lot of this at the feet of a culture within the bureaucracy, whether it is a political appointee or not a political appointee. That is what this bill is trying to get at.

I do recall in the hearing in testimony before the gentleman that there were only 4 percent of the hirings of veterans in the Executive Office of the President. When the President makes a decision for powers and influence of positions and they are going not to veterans, then I have a concern and a fear of what that means down range into the bureaucratic culture.

I lay the blame at the bureaucracies, whether it is a political appointee or not. I think this is a good bill, and I appreciate the work on the bill by the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN].

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume, just to say I do agree with the gentleman who just spoke that this is a good and appropriate bill.

Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, in closing I want to again thank many individuals, the gentleman from Virginia [Mr. MORAN], the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. BUYER], the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP], the gentleman from New York [Mr. SOLOMON], the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. FOX], and all those others who have provided leadership and cooperation so that we could make this bill a reality.

Mr. Speaker, the Veterans' Employment Opportunities Act of 1996 provides much needed protection to our veterans. It provides an effective redress system, and it expands job opportunities for those who have served this Nation honorably in our Armed Forces. I urge my colleagues to join me in passing this important bill today.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, I would like to recognize the service of the distinguished gentleman from Mississippi, Mr. SONNY MONTGOMERY, who will be leaving this body soon. He has chaired the Committee on Veterans' Affairs over many years and led the Nation's efforts to recognize and serve its veterans.

Mr. Speaker, I urge again the passage of this legislation for all our veterans.

Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mrs. COLLINS of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I am very pleased that we can bring this veterans' preference bill to the floor today.

I would like to congratulate Chairman JOHN MICA and ranking Member JIM MORAN of the Subcommittee on Civil Service on their work to craft this bill.

During a hearing held by the subcommittee in April, representatives of the veterans service organizations articulated concerns that the inevitable work force reductions, agency restructurings, and experimentation with more flexible personnel rules have great potential to undermine veterans' preference. The provisions of H.R. 3586, which provide veterans increased protections during reductions-in-force, and which strengthen the administrative redress system should violations of veterans' preference occur, will ensure that those fears are not realized.

Veterans' preference in Federal civil service is a priority which has deserved and received broad bipartisan support in Congress for more than 130 years.

Since the Civil War, there have been statutory preferences in Federal civil service hiring for veterans of armed conflict, including special provisions for veterans disabled in combat and some eligible family members of disabled and deceased veterans.

A number of developments are increasingly affecting the proportion of veterans in the Federal work force and in the private sector. Those who remain of the 15 million veterans of World War II are into or approaching retirement. The youngest Vietnam veterans are already into their 40's and midway through their careers. Subsequent armed conflicts involving Americans in uniform have been limited in scope. It should be expected that the percentage of veterans in Federal employment will decrease as the percentage of veterans in the general work force decreases.

I am heartened by the reports from the General Accounting Office, the Office of Personnel Management, and from the Merit Systems Protection Board that the percentage of veterans currently in Federal employment and being hired by Federal agencies is significantly higher than in the general work force.

The existing preference rules for hiring and retention are generally working well. It is our hope that this legislation will guarantee that veterans' preference continues to be a central element of our civil service system.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. EWING). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Florida [Mr. MICA] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 3586, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 3586.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?

There was no objection.

VETERANS' HEALTH CARE ELIGIBILITY REFORM ACT OF 1996

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 3118) to amend title 38, United States Code, to reform eligibility for health care provided by the Department of Veterans Affairs, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 3118

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE; REFERENCES TO TITLE 38, UNITED STATES CODE.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the "Veterans' Health Care Eligibility Reform Act of 1996".

(b) REFERENCES TO TITLE 38, UNITED STATES CODE.—Except as otherwise expressly provided, whenever in this Act an amendment or repeal is expressed in terms of an amendment to, or repeal of, a section or other provision, the reference shall be considered to be made to a section or other provision of title 38, United States Code.

SEC. 2. HOSPITAL CARE AND MEDICAL SERVICES.

(a) ELIGIBILITY FOR CARE.—Section 1710(a) is amended by striking out paragraphs (1) and (2) and inserting the following:

"(a)(1) The Secretary shall, to the extent and in the amount provided in advance in appropriations Acts for these purposes, provide hospital care and medical services, and may provide nursing home care, which the Secretary determines is needed to any veteran—

"(A) with a compensable service-connected disability;

"(B) whose discharge or release from active military, naval, or air service was for a compensable disability that was incurred or aggravated in the line of duty;

"(C) who is in receipt of, or who, but for a suspension pursuant to section 1151 of this title (or both a suspension and the receipt of retired pay), would be entitled to disability compensation, but only to the extent that such veteran's continuing eligibility for such care is provided for in the judgment or settlement provided for in such section;

"(D) who is a former prisoner of war;

"(E) of the Mexican border period or of World War I;

"(F) who was exposed to a toxic substance, radiation, or environmental hazard, as provided in subsection (e); and

"(G) who is unable to defray the expenses of necessary care as determined under section 1722(a) of this title.

"(2) In the case of a veteran who is not described in paragraph (1), the Secretary may, to the extent resources and facilities are available and subject to the provisions of subsection (f), furnish hospital care, medical services, and nursing home care which the Secretary determines is needed."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—(1) Section 1710(e) is amended—

(A) in paragraph (1), by striking out "hospital care and nursing home care" in subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C) and inserting in lieu thereof "hospital care, medical services, and nursing home care";

(B) in paragraph (2), by inserting "and medical services" after "Hospital and nursing home care"; and

(C) by striking out "subsection (a)(1)(G) of this section" each place it appears and inserting in lieu thereof "subsection (a)(1)(F)".

(2) Chapter 17 is amended—

(A) by redesignating subsection (g) of section 1710 as subsection (h); and

(B) by transferring subsection (f) of section 1712 to section 1710 so as to appear after subsection (f), redesignating such subsection as subsection (g), and amending such subsection by striking out "section 1710(a)(2) of this title" in paragraph (1) and inserting in lieu thereof "subsection (a)(2) of this section".

(3) Section 1712 is amended—

(A) by striking out subsections (a) and (i); and

(B) by redesignating subsections (b), (c), (d), (h) and (j), as subsections (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e), respectively.

SEC. 3. PROSTHETICS.

(a) ELIGIBILITY FOR PROSTHETICS.—Section 1701(6)(A)(i) is amended—

(1) by striking out "(in the case of a person otherwise receiving care or services under this chapter)" and "(except under the conditions described in section 1712(a)(5)(A) of this title)";

(2) by inserting "(in the case of a person otherwise receiving care or services under this chapter)" before "wheelchairs,"; and

(3) by inserting "except that the Secretary may not furnish sensori-neural aids other than in accordance with guidelines which the Secretary shall prescribe," after "reasonable and necessary,".

(b) REGULATIONS.—Not later than 30 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall prescribe the guidelines required by the amendments made by subsection (a) and shall furnish a copy of those guidelines to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives.

SEC. 4. MANAGEMENT OF HEALTH CARE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—(1) Chapter 17 is amended by inserting after section 1704 the following new sections:

"§ 1705. Management of health care: patient enrollment system

"(a) In managing the provision of hospital care and medical services under section 1710(a)(1) of this title, the Secretary, in accordance with regulations the Secretary shall prescribe, shall establish and operate a system of annual patient enrollment. The Secretary shall manage the enrollment of veterans in accordance with the following priorities, in the order listed:

"(1) Veterans with service-connected disabilities rated 30 percent or greater.

"(2) Veterans who are former prisoners of war and veterans with service-connected disabilities rated 10 percent or 20 percent.

"(3) Veterans who are in receipt of increased pension based on a need of regular aid and attendance or by reason of being permanently housebound and other veterans who are catastrophically disabled.

"(4) Veterans not covered by paragraphs (1) through (3) who are unable to defray the expenses of necessary care as determined under section 1722(a) of this title.

"(5) All other veterans eligible for hospital care, medical services, and nursing home care under section 1710(a)(1) of this title.

"(b) In the design of an enrollment system under subsection (a), the Secretary—

"(1) shall ensure that the system will be managed in a manner to ensure that the provision of care to enrollees is timely and acceptable in quality;

"(2) may establish additional priorities within each priority group specified in subsection (a), as the Secretary determines necessary; and

"(3) may provide for exceptions to the specified priorities where dictated by compelling medical reasons.

"§ 1706. Management of health care: other requirements

"(a) In managing the provision of hospital care and medical services under section 1710(a) of this title, the Secretary shall, to the extent feasible, design, establish and manage health care programs in such a manner as to promote cost-effective delivery of health care services in the most clinically appropriate setting.

"(b) In managing the provision of hospital care and medical services under section 1710(a) of this title, the Secretary—

"(1) may contract for hospital care and medical services when Department facilities are not capable of furnishing such care and services economically, and

"(2) shall make such rules and regulations regarding acquisition procedures or policies as the Secretary considers appropriate to provide such needed care and services.

"(c) In managing the provision of hospital care and medical services under section 1710(a) of this title, the Secretary shall ensure that the Department maintains its capacity to provide for the specialized treatment and rehabilitative needs of disabled veterans described in section 1710(a) of this title (including veterans with spinal cord dysfunction, blindness, amputations, and mental illness) within distinct programs or facilities of the Department that are dedicated to the specialized needs of those veterans in a manner that (1) affords those veterans reasonable access to care and services for those specialized needs, and (2) ensures that overall capacity of the Department to provide such services is not reduced below the capacity of the Department, nationwide, to provide those services, as of the date of the enactment of this section.

"(d) In managing the provision of hospital care and medical services under section 1710(a) of this title, the Secretary shall ensure that any veteran with a service-connected disability is provided all benefits under this chapter for which that veteran was eligible before the date of the enactment of this section."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 17 is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 1704 the following new items:

"1705. Management of health care: patient enrollment system.

"1706. Management of health care: other requirements."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS TO SECTION 1703.—(1) Section 1703 is amended—

(A) by striking out subsections (a) and (b); and

(B) in subsection (c) by—

(i) striking out "(c)", and

(ii) striking out "this section, sections" and inserting in lieu thereof "sections 1710,".

(2)(A) The heading of such section is amended to read as follows:

"§ 1703. Annual report on furnishing of care and services by contract".

(B) The item relating to such section in the table of sections at the beginning of chapter 17 is amended to read as follows:

"1703. Annual report on furnishing of care and services by contract."

SEC. 5. IMPROVED EFFICIENCY IN HEALTH CARE RESOURCE MANAGEMENT.

(a) REPEAL OF SUNSET PROVISION.—Section 204 of the Veterans Health Care Act of 1992 (Public Law 102-585; 106 Stat. 4950) is repealed.

(b) COST RECOVERY.—Title II of such Act is further amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"SEC. 207. AUTHORITY TO BILL HEALTH-PLAN CONTRACTS.

"(a) RIGHT TO RECOVER.—In the case of a primary beneficiary (as described in section 201(2)(B)) who has coverage under a health-plan contract, as defined in section 1729(1)(1)(A) of title 38, United States Code, and who is furnished care or services by a Department medical facility pursuant to this title, the United States shall have the right to recover or collect charges for such care or services from such health-plan contract to the extent that the beneficiary (or the provider of the care or services) would be eligible to receive payment for such care or services from such health-plan contract if the care or services had not been furnished by a department or agency of the United States. Any funds received from such health-plan contract shall be credited to funds that have been allotted to the facility that furnished the care or services.

"(b) ENFORCEMENT.—The right of the United States to recover under such a benefiary's health-plan contract shall be enforceable in the same manner as that provided by subsections (a)(3), (b), (c)(1), (d), (f), (h), and (i) of section 1729 of title 38, United States Code."

SEC. 6. SHARING AGREEMENTS FOR HEALTH CARE RESOURCES.

(a) REPEAL OF SECTION 8151.—(1) Subchapter IV of chapter 81 is amended—

(A) by striking out section 8151; and

(B) by redesignating sections 8152, 8153, 8154, 8155, 8156, 8157, and 8158 as sections 8151, 8152, 8153, 8154, 8155, 8156, and 8157, respectively.

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended—

(A) by striking out the item relating to section 8151; and

(B) by revising the items relating to sections 8152, 8153, 8154, 8155, 8156, 8157, and 8158 to reflect the redesignations by paragraph (1)(B).

(b) REVISED AUTHORITY FOR SHARING AGREEMENTS.—Section 8152 (as redesignated by subsection (a)(1)(B)) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a)(1)(A)—

(A) by striking out "specialized medical resources" and inserting in lieu thereof "health-care resources"; and

(B) by striking out "other" and all that follows through "medical schools" and inserting in lieu thereof "any medical school, health-care provider, health-care plan, insurer, or other entity or individual";

(2) in subsection (a)(2) by striking out "only" and all that follows through "are not" and inserting in lieu thereof "if such resources are not, or would not be,";

(3) in subsection (b), by striking out "reciprocal reimbursement" in the first sentence and all that follows through the period at the end of that sentence and inserting in lieu thereof "payment to the Department in accordance with procedures that provide appropriate flexibility to negotiate payment which is in the best interest of the Government,";

(4) in subsection (d), by striking out "preclude such payment, in accordance with—" and all that follows through "to such facility therefor" and inserting in lieu thereof "preclude such payment to such facility for such care or services";

(5) by redesignating subsection (e) as subsection (f); and

(6) by inserting after subsection (d) the following new subsection (e):

"(e) The Secretary may make an arrangement that authorizes the furnishing of services by the Secretary under this section to individuals who are not veterans only if the Secretary determines—

"(1) that such an arrangement will not result in the denial of, or a delay in providing access to, care to any veteran at that facility; and

"(2) that such an arrangement—

"(A) is necessary to maintain an acceptable level and quality of service to veterans at that facility; or

"(B) will result in the improvement of services to eligible veterans at that facility."

(c) CROSS-REFERENCE AMENDMENTS.—(1) Section 8110(c)(3)(A) is amended by striking out "8153" and inserting in lieu thereof "8152".

(2) Subsection (b) of section 8154 (as redesignated by subsection (a)(1)(B)) is amended by striking out "section 8154" and inserting in lieu thereof "section 8153".

(3) Section 8156 (as redesignated by subsection (a)(1)(B)) is amended—

(A) in subsection (a), by striking out "section 8153(a)" and inserting in lieu thereof "section 8152(a)"; and

(B) in subsection (b)(3), by striking out "section 8153" and inserting in lieu thereof "section 8152".

(4) Subsection (a) of section 8157 (as redesignated by subsection (a)(1)(B)) is amended—

(A) in the matter preceding paragraph (1), by striking out "section 8157" and "section 8153(a)" and inserting in lieu thereof "section 8156" and "section 8152(a)", respectively; and

(B) in paragraph (1), by striking out "section 8157(b)(4)" and inserting in lieu thereof "section 8156(b)(4)".

SEC. 7. PERSONNEL FURNISHING SHARED RESOURCES.

Section 712(b)(2) is amended—

(1) by striking out "the sum of—" and inserting in lieu thereof "the sum of the following";

(2) by capitalizing the first letter of the first word of each of subparagraphs (A) and (B);

(3) by striking out "and" at the end of subparagraph (A) and inserting in lieu thereof a period; and

(4) by adding at the end the following:

"(C) The number of such positions in the Department during that fiscal year held by persons involved in providing health-care resources under section 8111 or 8152 of this title."

SEC. 8. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

There is authorized to be appropriated for the Department of Veterans Affairs for the Medical Care account, for the purposes specified for that account in Public Law 103-327 (108 Stat. 2300), including the cost of providing hospital care and medical services under the amendments made by section 2, not to exceed $17,250,000,000 for fiscal year 1997 and not to exceed $17,900,000,000 for fiscal year 1998.

SEC. 9. REPORT ON IMPLEMENTATION AND OPERATION.

(a) REPORT REQUIRED.—In carrying out sections 2, 3, and 4 (including the amendments made by those sections), the Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall establish information systems to assess, and, not later than March 1, 1998, shall submit to the Committees on Veterans' Affairs of the Senate and House of Representatives, a report reflecting the experience of the Department during fiscal year 1997 on—

(1) the effect of implementation of, and provision and management of care under, sections 2, 3, and 4, on demand for health care services from the Department of Veterans Affairs by veterans described in section 1710(a)(1), as amended by section 2;

(2) any differing patterns of demand on the part of such veterans relating to such factors as relative distance from Department facilities and prior experience, or lack of experience, as recipients of care from the Department;

(3) the extent to which the Department has met such demand for care; and

(4) changes in health-care delivery patterns in Department facilities and the fiscal impact of such changes.

(b) MATTERS TO BE INCLUDED.—The report under subsection (a) shall include detailed information with respect to fiscal year 1997 regarding the following:

(1) The number of veterans enrolled for care at each Department medical facility and, of those veterans, the number enrolled at each such facility who had not received care from the Department during the preceding three fiscal years.

(2) With respect to those veterans who had not received care from the Department during the three preceding fiscal years, the total cost of providing care to those veterans, shown in total and separately (A) by level of care, and (B) by reference to whether care is furnished in Department facilities or under contract arrangements.

(3) With respect to the number of veterans described in section 1710(a)(1), as amended by this Act, who applied for health care from the Department during fiscal year 1997—

(A) the number who applied for care (shown in total and separately by facility);

(B) the number who were denied enrollment (shown in total and separately by facility); and

(C) the number who were denied care which was considered to be medically necessary but not of an emergency nature (shown in total and separately by facility).

(4)(A) The numbers and characteristics of, and the type and extent of health care furnished to, veterans enrolled for care (shown in total and separately by facility).

(B) The numbers and characteristics of, and the type and extent of health care furnished to, veterans not enrolled for care (shown separately by reference to each class of eligibility, both in total and separately by facility).

(5) The specific fiscal impact (shown in total and by geographic health-care delivery areas) of changes in delivery patterns instituted under the amendments made by this Act.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP] and the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. MONTGOMERY] each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP].

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Arizona?

There was no objection.

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 3118, the Veterans' Health Care Eligibility Reform Act of 1996, is hopefully the first step toward overhauling the confusing eligibility requirements currently confronting our veterans. This bipartisan legislation will move the VA away from its expensive focus on inpatient care to a more accessible and cost effective primary and outpatient means of delivering health care. Eligibility reform has been the top priority of the Committee on Veterans' Affairs in the 104th Congress. We have worked very hard to make this bill as budget neutral as possible.

The VA committee, as well as the Department of Veterans Affairs, believes the bill can be implemented without the need for additional funds. However, the Congressional Budget Office disagrees and estimates that if fully funded, H.R. 3118 would result in increased demand for VA health care.

Mr. Speaker, the bill is already subject to annual appropriations since the VA health care is a discretionary spending program. In order to further address CBO estimates and assure members of the Committee on Veterans' Affairs budget-neutral intent, we are adding provisions that will place a ceiling on authorized levels for VA health care for fiscal years 1997 and 1998.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the leadership and particularly the gentleman from New York [Mr. SOLOMON], the chairman of the Committee on Rules, the gentleman from Ohio [Mr. KASICH], chairman of the Committee on the Budget, for their assistance in getting this bill to the floor today.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 3118 may be the final bill brought to the floor of the House by the Committee on Veterans' Affairs during the 104th Congress. I must take just a moment to express my deep appreciation and sincere thanks to my good friend, the gentleman from Mississippi, SONNY MONTGOMERY, the ranking member of the full committee for his work on this committee and on this measure.

Mr. Speaker, without the leadership of SONNY MONTGOMERY on veterans issues over the past 30 years, this country would not have fulfilled its obligations to our veterans of military service the way they have. The commitment and dedication of Mr. MONTGOMERY to the men and women serving in our armed services has rightfully earned him the title "Mr. Veteran".

The members of the Committee on National Security and the Committee on Veterans' Affairs will miss him energetic support for those individuals wearing our country's uniforms and for those who have worn it. I will personally miss his friendship and counsel over the many years that we have served together in this body. We wish this great legislator well in all his future endeavors.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. MONTGOMERY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I certainly want to thank my chairman, the gentleman from Arizona, BOB STUMP, for those very kind and warm words. We have had a wonderful working relationship and great friendship. To BOB STUMP and to the whole committee, we have been nonpartisan, and we are very proud of that, Mr. Speaker. Our bottom line is to help the veterans, and BOB STUMP has been right there with us all the way, and I thank him again for those very, very kind remarks, and I hope that they will remember us some 4 or 5 years from now when we are out somewhere else.

Mr. Speaker, representatives of the major national veterans organizations have told us that their top legislative priority is enactment of legislation to reform the VA health care eligibility rules. Working on a bipartisan basis, we have put a lot of effort into this, Mr. Speaker, and I congratulate, again, the chairman, Mr. STUMP, on bringing an excellent bill to the floor, H.R. 3138. It has been endorsed by virtually all the major veterans organizations.

We know that the reforms the veterans' groups had proposed would go further than we do today, but they do agree that this bill is a big step forward.

I wish, Mr. Speaker, we could do more, but some other committees of the House could object and we need to get what we can on eligibility out for the veterans.

My good friend and our chairman, BOB STUMP, as well as the gentleman from Arkansas, TIM HUTCHINSON, the chairman of the Subcommittee on Hospitals and Health Care, and the gentleman from Texas, CHET EDWARDS, the subcommittee's ranking member, have really put a lot of time into developing this important bill and ensuring that it met the concerns of the veterans.

Our committee's work on eligibility reform actually started before the 104th Congress, and I particularly want to acknowledge the outstanding oversight work on this subject done by my very able colleague, the gentleman from Illinois, LANE EVANS, who chaired our former Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations.

Mr. Speaker, this bill would reform outdated eligibility laws that would make it easier to go to outpatient clinics and take care of these veterans at less cost and more veterans would be eligible to use our medical facilities. It would simplify rules which are so complex that even the VA doctors are often confused over who is eligible for what. It would give VA for the first time clear authority to plan for and provide treatment to veterans based simply on meeting their medical needs.

This legislation, Mr. Speaker, also has the support of the Department of Veterans Affairs, which recognizes the need for change and has urged us to give them the authority to improve the way they do business. I think this bill would give VA important tools to provide the kind of care we owe our veterans and to do it in an efficient and effective manner.

Mr. Speaker, in adopting eligibility reform legislation, we are remedying longstanding problems and addressing a long-sought need for change. In pursuing eligibility reform as a goal, however, some have had very lofty expectations of what such reform would achieve. Such high expectations have led some advocates to blur the distinction between eligibility reform and funding reform. H.R. 3118 does not attempt to change the manner in which VA medical care is funded. In contrast, committee amendments to H.R. 3600, 103d Congress, the President's national health care reform bill, would have converted funding for VA health care from discretionary to mandatory funding.

H.R. 3118's more modest target does not reflect, on this Member's part, a belief that those broader objectives should be abandoned.

H.R. 3118 has, however, sparked isolated criticism, largely related to what it does not attempt to do. Those criticism warrant acknowledgment.

The most common criticism of this legislation has focused on language which, in amending section 1710(a) of title 38, U.S. Code, qualifies the VA's obligation to provide hospital care and medical services, stating that VA shall provide care "to the extent and in the amount provided in advance in appropriations Acts for these purposes." In essence this language limits VA medical care spending under the bill to the availability of appropriations. VA health care, however, is currently subject to appropriations; this language does not change that fact.

H.R. 3118 aims to improve statutory eligibility rules which have been attacked for years as badly in need of reform. Under those rules, for example, most nonservice-connected veterans are not even eligible for routine outpatient treatment and generally are eligible for home health care or prosthetics only if they have been hospitalized. This bill would remedy these and other barriers to VA's providing medically needed care. The bill's supporters including most veterans organizations, have described H.R. 3118 as an important step forward, but the bill has never been represented as a solution to all the challenges facing VA. For those of us who believe that the wisest legislative strategy is to make as much progress as you can, when you can, achieving substantial, positive reform of VA health care eligibility laws is a good first step.

With respect to funding, the bill has been attacked on the basis that if funding levels are not sufficient, veterans will be denied care. Unfortunately, inadequate funding levels would have that same effect whether or not H.R. 3118 were enacted, just as they have had in the past.

One critic has expressed concerns that veterans would lose access to VA care by virtue of a provision of the bill requiring establishment and implementation of an enrollment system. In fact, the bill does not specify how that system must work, but allows VA to design a workable system. That system should enhance VA's ability to plan for and effectively serve patients, while providing sufficient flexibility so as not to disenfranchise its most vulnerable and needy veterans. The report on the bill clarifies that the provision is flexible and would allow VA "to establish an enrollment system which simply registers patients throughout all or part of a fiscal year." In fact, the aim of this legislation is to improve veterans' access to VA care. Its drafting reflects an understanding that VA is very much a safety net, serving, for example, a substantial population of veterans with serious mental illness. The bill does not envision that such veterans can necessarily be expected to respond to requests to enroll for care within a time-limited registration period; the drafting of the bill assumes that an enrollment system would be designed, whether through provision for exceptions or otherwise, with such patients in mind.

Finally, the bill has also sparked criticism based on a view that the priorities for enrollment reflected in the legislation are inequitable and unacceptable because 10 and 20 percent service-connected veterans are not included in the highest priority classification. This view fails to take account of the fact that under existing law—38 U.S.C. section 1712(i)—less than 30 percent service-connected veterans have been second in line for care since 1988, when Congress moved them up from third in line in a statutory treatment priority system, where they had been since 1976.

Overall, the voices of criticism have been very few, and have been overwhelmingly drowned out by those in support. It is important, nevertheless, to set the record straight. In short, Mr. Speaker, this is an excellent bill.

Mr. Speaker, I include for the RECORD a letter dated July 26, 1996, from an organization entitled the Independent Budget.

THE INDEPENDENT BUDGET,
Washington, DC, July 26, 1996.

Hon. G.V. MONTGOMERY,
House of Representatives, Rayburn House Office
Bldg., Washington, DC.

DEAR REPRESENTATIVE MONTGOMERY: We are writing to request your strong support for H.R. 3118, "The Veterans' Health Care Eligibility Reform Act of 1996." The bill is scheduled to be brought to the House Floor on Tuesday, July 30, 1996.

Our organizations represent the authors and endorsers of "The Independent Budget", an annual review of budget and policy matters affecting the benefits and services of the Department of Veterans Affairs. Reforming the VA health care system's arcane and inefficient eligibility rules has been a top priority of our organizations for many years.

Current VA eligibility rules dictate what type of services a veteran will receive based on an overly complex system of categorical classifications, such as degree of disability, income, or type of veteran service or status. These eligibility rules give little regard to what would be the best, the most cost effective or the most appropriate venue required to provide the full range of health services a veteran needs. Such disjointed services are both inconvenient and unwarrantedly expensive.

The reforms provided for in H.R. 3118, would, for the first time, give VA health care providers the ability to provide the full range of appropriate health care services to eligible veterans utilizing the most cost effective and efficient methods of modern medical practice.

We consider passage of H.R. 3118 to be one of our highest priorities for the 104th Congress.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Kenneth E. Wofford, National Commander, AMVETS; Thomas A. McMasters III, National Commander, Disabled American Veterans; Carroll M. Fyffe, National Commander, Military Order of the Purple Heart; Richard Grant, National President, Paralyzed Veterans of America; James L. Brazee, Jr., National President, Vietnam Veterans of America, Inc.; Richard G. Fazakerley, Maj. Gen. (Ret.), National President, Blinded Veterans Association; Neil Goldman, National Commander, Jewish War Veterans of the USA; Charles R. Jackson, President, Non Commissioned Officers Association; Paul A. Spera, Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume to also thank the gentleman from Arkansas, TIM HUTCHINSON, Chairman of the Subcommittee on Hospitals and Health Care, and the gentleman from Texas, CHET EDWARDS, the ranking member on that subcommittee, for all their hard work not only on this bill, but for both their cooperation and hard work for carrying the major loads for this committee for this year.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Arkansas [Mr. HUTCHINSON].

Mr. HUTCHINSON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman for yielding me this time, and I want to join the chairman in expressing, once again, to the gentleman from Mississippi, SONNY MONTGOMERY, how much he will be missed in this Chamber and in this House. This is the last bill that the committee will bring to the floor this year and it is an appropriate time.

My predecessor, John Paul Hammer-schmidt, regarded no one higher and no one closer to him during his 26 years of service in the House than his relationship with SONNY MONTGOMERY. He would come back to Arkansas many times and lauding the achievements of Chairman MONTGOMERY and his advocacy on behalf of veterans. All I can say today is, the half was not told.

I have enjoyed the last 4 years getting to know the gentleman and I wish to tell him he certainly will be missed.

Mr. Speaker, today is indeed a historic day for America's veterans, for it marks the end of a 10-year quest to streamline eligibility for veterans' health care. Under the leadership of Chairman BOB STUMP and in the true spirit of bipartisanship demonstrated by the ranking members of the full committee and subcommittee, SONNY MONTGOMERY and CHET EDWARDS, the Veterans' Affairs Committee has taken the first major step to move the delivery of veterans' health care into the 21st century.

The Veterans' Health Care Eligibility Reform Act of 1996, while not the panacea for all the ills of VA health care, is the first step in the rational transformation of the arcane eligibility provisions which have literally crippled the delivery of VA health services and have left patients feeling cheated and confused. The bill substitutes a single, streamlined eligibility provision—based on clinical need for care—for the complex array of disparate rules currently governing eligibility for hospital and outpatient care. In doing so, it would lift restrictions on VA's providing ambulatory treatment. Those restrictions currently tie many veterans' eligibility for outpatient treatment to determinations that are medically uninterpretable such as "to obviate the need for hospital admission."

The application of these medically indefinable standards have contributed to relative disparities in different areas of the country as veterans attempted to access VA health care.

Understanding that this bill is the first of many steps to come in improving veterans' health care, it also contains a number of other important provisions. The bill eliminates restrictions on prosthetic devices but does not turn VA into a drugstore for such devices as hearing aids and eyeglasses. It requires VA to manage the provision of hospital care and medical services through an enrollment system according to a series of priorities. The bill refocuses our time-honored commitment to service-connected care while allowing the VA to manage care for those veterans with lesser means who depend upon the VA as their health care safety net.

Other important provisions expand operational flexibility by enabling the VA to contract for hospital care and medical services to increase the cost-effective provision of care and services. The bill expands VA's authority to execute sharing agreements by permitting any medical resource to be provided under a contractual agreement with any entity. It also authorizes flexibility in the establishment of payment levels and exempts the personnel involved in providing services under such arrangements from personnel hiring limits. This exemption should be very helpful as VA seeks to participate to a greater extent with TRICARE and other managed care programs.

An important consideration of this bill is that it offers protection of specialized services by directing the VA to maintain its capacity to provide for the specialized treatment and rehabilitation of disabled veterans within distinct programs and facilities dedicated to the specialized needs of veterans.

In closing I would like to address the controversial cost estimate placed on this bill by the Congressional Budget Office, an estimate that we have strongly refuted with a committee cost estimate. To further ensure budget neutrality of the bill, it has been amended to include not only subject to appropriations language but a 2-year cap on the authorization for the medical care appropriation.

Eligibility reform, in my view, is as significant a piece of legislation as the G.I. bill. I urge my colleagues to show their support of veterans by supporting H.R. 3118, the Veterans' Health Care Eligibility Reform Act of 1996.

Mr. MONTGOMERY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume to thank the gentleman from Arkansas, TIM HUTCHINSON, for his very, very kind remarks. We have certainly enjoyed having him in the 4 years he has been on our committee. I would ask him to please tell John Paul Hamerschmidt I said hello.

Mr. Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the distinguished gentleman from Texas, Mr. CHET EDWARDS.

Mr. EDWARDS. Mr. Speaker, because of our Nation's veterans, America won the cold war; because of our Nation's veterans, today we are the superpower in the world; and because of them our children today live in a safer world. This bill, H.R. 3118, is an effort, a simple but important one, to say thank you to those men and women who have served our Nation in uniform and now need service in our Nation's VA hospitals.

This bill is a win-win. It is a win for veterans who will receive better care because of this legislation, and it is a win for our Nation's taxpayers because it will see that their limited resources are used more efficiently and effectively on behalf of our Nation's veterans.

Basically, this bill does two things. It simplifies rules for VA health care, eligibility rules that perhaps are as complicated as the IRS Tax Code. By simplifying them, we will have a fairer and better system for our veterans. Second, it will facilitate effective and efficient outpatient care for our Nation's veterans.

Mr. Speaker, the Committee on Veterans' Affairs has worked for years to enact legislation that would achieve a comprehensive reform of VA health care laws. H.R. 3118 is not the final answer, but it is a very important first step. It does not remedy the serious funding challenges that the VA has faced. It does not guarantee that every veteran will get the care that they seek.

Comprehensive answers are beyond what we can accomplish in the few remaining days of this session. Nevertheless, this legislation is a bipartisan major step in the positive direction of serving our veterans.

It is important legislation. This bill dismantles the statutory barriers that have interfered with VA efforts to deliver appropriate care. It simplifies an overly complex set of eligibility rules. It expands veterans' access to routine outpatient care, to preventive services and needed prosthetic supplies. And by providing greater latitude for contracting, it gives the VA important new tools to manage care delivery more effectively.

While this bill will help the VA to streamline its health care delivery, it does provide very needed protection for some of the VA's most unique and potentially vulnerable programs. At a time that the VA must make every effort to reduce duplication and unnecessary expenditures, veterans have urged us to be especially vigilant to ensure that the VA maintains its vital specialized treatment and rehabilitation programs.

The bill gives specific recognition to these programs and would provide safeguards to ensure that the VA retains the capacity to serve the specialized needs of the spinal cord injured, the blind, the mentally ill, and other disabled veterans dependent on the VA's specialized care programs.

Our efforts in this bill to help the VA expand veterans' access to primary care services does not signal an intent to abandon needed though sometimes costly specialized treatment missions.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, I want to add to the comments of other colleagues on this floor. I want to add my deep and lasting gratitude to the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. MONTGOMERY] for his many, many years of service to his country, both in uniform and here as a Member of Congress.

To the gentleman from Arizona, Mr. STUMP, the partner with Mr. MONTGOMERY for so many years now in fighting for our Nation's veterans, this legislation would not be on this floor without his leadership as chairman of the committee.

To the gentleman from Arkansas [Mr. HUTCHINSON], the subcommittee chair who worked tirelessly with veterans service organizations and Members of this House on both sides of the aisle to help bring this bill to the floor, and finally and not least importantly I want to say thanks to the gentleman from New York [Mr. SOLOMON], the chairman of the Committee on Rules who helped see that this bill could come to the floor in a timely fashion, knowing that there is not much time left in this session of Congress and if we are to turn this from a bill into law we must move quickly. So my thanks go out to Chairman SOLOMON for his bringing this together.

Mr. Speaker, as with so much of the legislation for our Nation's veterans heralded and pushed through this House by the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. MONTGOMERY] and the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP], there is not a big fight on this floor today. There is not a lot of people in the press gallery. Perhaps some think unless there is a fight, it is not important legislation. But, Mr. Speaker, I would suggest this is some of the most important legislation we have passed on behalf of veterans for a long, long time, and it is a credit to the leaders that I have mentioned in my last few comments that this is coming to the floor on a bipartisan basis.

What a shame it is that the country does not see the headlines, the articles, the news coverage when there is such a cooperative effort made in this House of Representatives. But more important than the news coverage is the fact that this legislation when passed into law will make life better for our Nation's veterans who served all of us.

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Texas [Mr. EDWARDS] once again for all of his work and for his very kind remarks on the floor just now.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. STUMP. I yield to the gentleman from Texas.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I only wanted to associate myself with the remarks of my colleague from Texas. I think all of us, particularly from that region of the country, as well as the gentleman from Arizona, understand the importance of the statements made by my colleague from Waco, TX, and I wanted to associate myself with his remarks, and I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from New York [Mr. SOLOMON], chairman of the Committee on Rules.

Mr. SOLOMON. Mr. Speaker, I cannot tell you how proud I am to stand up here today as one of the sponsors of this critical veterans legislation. I commend the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP], the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. MONTGOMERY], the gentleman from Arkansas [Mr. HUTCHINSON], and the gentleman from Texas [Mr. EDWARDS], and the entire Committee on Veterans' Affairs for their hard work in bringing this legislation to the floor.

Mr. Speaker, I served on that committee for 10 years. It was such a pleasure because it was a committee of comity. Everybody worked together for one common goal, and I commend my colleagues for it.

Mr. Speaker, VA eligibility reform has been a long, long time in the making, and that is why it is such a relief for the veterans community that we take this step here today. Ever since my days back in the Committee on Veterans' Affairs and as a ranking member of that body, alongside my good friend, the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. MONTGOMERY], and the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP], eligibility reform has been one of our top priorities.

The reform bill we pass here today is a positive step in preserving the future of the VA and veterans' health care. No matter how you look at it Mr. Speaker, the fact remains that the veterans population is dwindling. That means that it is up to us here today, those of us who understand why it is absolutely critical that we protect the earned contractual benefits of all of our veterans, to pass these protections and to pass them into law.

H.R. 3118 I think is a great step toward streamlining health care delivery within the veterans department. It will provide the basis for constructing a system that will preserve the future of VA health care and continue the all-important guarantee of health care for America's deserving veterans, and that is something we have to guarantee down the road for our all-voluntary military.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my fellow veterans and all Members of Congress to pass this bill and finally put the process of reforming VA health care underway. America's veterans will thank you.

Mr. Speaker, in closing, let me heap praise on the former chairman of this committee, SONNY MONTGOMERY. As a veteran myself, I know I speak for all of the veterans throughout this entire Nation in saying that we are grateful for everything that the gentleman from Mississippi has done all of these years. He is a great Congressman. He is a great American and, more than that, he is a great friend of mine, and I wish him the best in his retirement.

Mr. MONTGOMERY. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 30 seconds.

Mr. Speaker, I apologize to the gentleman from New York for not getting all of those remarks, but thank him very much. I want to point out to my colleagues here today that the gentleman from New York, Mr. SOLOMON, and I did work with him, but he was the leader that got the Department of Veterans Affairs to be implemented and to become law, and I would like to say on account of JERRY and others that the veterans can go in the front door of the White House now where we used to have to go in the back door. In fact, we had an administrator of the veterans department that has to go through an individual in the White House to see what needed to be done for veterans. And now we have the Department of Veterans Affairs and Jesse Brown, who is a strong Secretary and going a good job in my opinion.

I thank CHET EDWARDS for what he said about us.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California [Mr. FILNER].

Mr. FILNER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 3118, The Veterans' Health Care Eligibility Reform Act of 1966, is an important step toward improving health care for our Nation's veterans.

The veterans in my congressional district, the leaders of San Diego County's veterans community, and the representatives of national veterans organizations all agree that we need veterans' health care eligibility reform.

This bill will simplify the rules governing VA medical care. It will allow veterans to get outpatient service when that is more appropriate than inpatient care. This bill will allow the VA to treat veterans for less money, with the savings going for expanded services.

Veterans' health care eligibility reform is one of the first issues confronting me when I came to Congress in 1993, and I am proud to be a member of the Veterans Affairs Committee which has worked so hard on this bill.

I appreciate the work of Chairman BOB STUMP, ranking member SONNY MONTGOMERY, chairman of the Subcommittee on Hospitals and Health Care TIM HUTCHINSON, and Subcommittee ranking member CHET EDWARDS for their tireless efforts in developing H.R. 3118.

As you know, similar legislation passed the Senate Veterans' Affairs panel last week, which makes our vote today even more important. I urge my colleagues to join me in support of this bill.

If this is indeed the last bill that SONNY MONTGOMERY will be on the floor for, we also want to add our profuse gratitude for his friendship. I knew SONNY before any of you did, by the way. I worked with him before he was a Member of Congress, when he was a general in Mississippi. He taught us everything, and I think that the lasting, the greatest legacy that SONNY MONTGOMERY will have is that as much work as he did, there is still more work to be done for veterans, and he has trained us all, educated us all, and we will carry on the work that he has been so successful at and we will finish the job that he started.

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. WELLER], a member of the committee.

Mr. WELLER. Mr. Speaker, I come to the well today to speak on behalf of this bipartisan bill, which will enable tens of thousands of rural veterans to have greater access to VA outpatient health care. H.R. 3118 provides much-needed authority and allows the VA for the first time ever to enter into sharing agreements with local health care providers so that rural and suburban veterans can benefit from the convenience of utilizing health care services in their local community, to be treated by local doctors and local hospitals they know and trust.

For example, in my home district in LaSalle County, IL, the closest outpatient center for veterans is 60 miles away. We have 45,000 veterans in the LaSalle County area. Sixty miles is a long way to travel, and for many veterans it requires that they ask friends and family to take off half a day or a full day just to provide transportation.

This past spring, the gentleman from Arkansas [Mr. HUTCHINSON] and the Subcommittee on Hospitals and Health Care held a field hearing in LaSalle County and brought to light the need for some changes in VA authority to be brought forward. Thanks to this hearing, we noted that the VA is currently prohibited from contracting with private, nonprofit health care providers.

This legislation, when passed into law, will not only benefit counties like LaSalle in Illinois, but other rural care areas throughout the Nation. This language was originally in H.R. 3321, a bill

I introduced to allow the VA to enter into contractual agreements with local health care providers, doctors and hospitals in order to provide health care to veterans locally.

Mr. Speaker, it just makes common sense to make it easier and more convenient for veterans to have the opportunity to obtain veterans health care right in their local community, right from their local doctors, right from their local hospitals they know and trust.

I want to note that this legislation has broad-based support in the veterans community; has broad-based bipartisan support amongst local officials and members of this committee. I am proud that we are keeping our commitment to our veterans and doing it in a bipartisan fashion. Let us move forward and provide quality health care for our veterans and meet our commitment to our veterans and give this bill bipartisan support.

Mr. Speaker, I commend the chairman of the committee, the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP], and the ranking member for their efforts and their bipartisan leadership.

Mr. MONTGOMERY. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. KENNEDY], who is also a member of the committee, one of our ranking members.

Mr. KENNEDY of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, with everything I have to say about the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. MONTGOMERY], maybe he will want to make it 4 minutes. But let me just say very sincerely, from really the bottom of my heart, how much I have appreciated all of the hard work that SONNY MONTGOMERY has shown.

I think particularly for some of the younger Members of Congress that care very deeply about veterans issues there is no one that has stood up more clearly and strongly on behalf of our Nation's veterans, no one who commands the respect of Members of both sides of the aisle about the issues of concern to our Nation's veterans than SONNY MONTGOMERY, and I know that Chairman STUMP feels the same way.

We have all enjoyed, although not every moment that Chairman STUMP has had the gavel over the course of the last couple of years, I do not think he has enjoyed a couple of moments that I have been speaking in the last couple of years, but I do appreciate his sincere efforts on behalf of SONNY MONTGOMERY and to bring to the former chairman of the committee, Mr. MONTGOMERY, the credit that he deserves for the hard work that he has done on behalf of our Nation's veterans.

Mr. Speaker, despite the fact that every other speaker has talked about the fact that this is SONNY's last bill on the House floor, unless he has some announcement, I hope he is going to be sticking with us through next November. And I know that his spirit will continue to guide us on veterans affairs far into the future.

Mr. Speaker, I join with Chairman STUMP in thanking SONNY MONTGOMERY for all of the guidance, support, and courage that he has shown for our country and for our Nation's veterans. I really appreciate it. In addition, I also support this bill.

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. FLANAGAN].

Mr. FLANAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in full support of H.R. 3118, the veterans' eligibility reform bill, introduced by the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP] and the gentleman from Mississippi [Mr. MONTGOMERY].

And, parenthetically, Mr. Speaker, I have enjoyed every moment that the gentleman from Arizona has had the gavel in his hand. And, Mr. Speaker, I would say to Mr. MONTGOMERY, our many great thanks, our many great remarks at his leadership and the warmth that he has shown us all, freshman Member and senior Member alike, over the years.

Mr. Speaker, I believe that this legislation, though not a complete reform of current eligibility standards, is a positive first step toward achieving that goal.

Veterans with service-connected disabilities, former POW's and World War I veterans are eligible under this legislation.

H.R. 3118 will enable the VA to provide all needed hospital and medical services to eligible veterans and expand operational flexibility by enabling VA to contract for hospital care and medical services to increase cost-effectiveness. It will also protect specialized programs, and work to expedite VA's transition from inpatient care to greater use of outpatient care efficiently and effectively. This bill will accomplish these provisions without reducing benefits to other veterans.

Mr. Speaker, we must never forget the sacrifices America's veterans have made for our country and our freedoms. Quality and accessibility of veterans' health care is a priority of this Congress. H.R. 3118 ensures that our veterans receive the very best in health care, and reaffirms our commitment to our veterans. I am very proud to be a cosponsor of H.R. 3118, as it will pave the way for greater reforms in the future.

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. BUYER], chairman of the Subcommittee on Education, Training and Employment.

Mr. BUYER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP], chairman of the Veterans' Affairs Committee, and the gentleman from Mississippi, [Mr. MONTGOMERY], our good friend, for their work on this bill.

Mr. Speaker, this bill represents the culmination of years of hard work on behalf of the most pressing issues facing the Department of Veterans Affairs, that being eligibility reform. Anyone who has been to a VA hospital knows how difficult it can be to access the VA health care system. The patchwork of confusing and complex rules governing accessibility often defy medical common sense.

Madam Speaker, H.R. 3118 goes a long way to change this system while staying within the current budget constraints. This bill requires the VA to manage its medical services through a system of priorities, giving service-connected veterans the top priority. We have some very difficult issues that face us, that being the veterans' community, and I want to thank Chairman STUMP and SONNY MONTGOMERY.

As we have a declining veteran population out there, with a stabilizing VA medical system, this is a transition-type bill. I cannot predict what the VA system is going to look like in year 2010 to 2015, as we begin facing the reality of losing the World War II and Korean veterans, which includes my father, but how we visualize that system into the future is going to require some real leadership. This is a transition bill. It is far from a perfect bill, but I am very pleased with the hard work that the chairman has done. Appreciate it.

Mr. MONTGOMERY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. HEFNER].

Mr. HEFNER. Madam Speaker, first of all, I would like to say we are certainly going to miss SONNY MONTGOMERY around here. I served with him for a lot of years, worked on a lot of veterans' legislation. He is to be commended and he will be remembered a long, long time. As long as veterans are around, he will be remembered.

BOB STUMP, my dear friend from Arizona, who has worked very hard on this bill and labored in the vineyard for so many years. I rise in very strong support of this legislation and wish for Mr. MONTGOMERY, as a friend of mine in North Carolina often said, I hope you live as long as you want and never want as long as you live, and rise in strong support of this legislation which is long overdue.

I thank the gentleman from Arizona and the gentleman from Mississippi for bringing it to fruition.

Mr. STUMP. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Oregon [Mr. COOLEY].

Mr. COOLEY. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 3118, the Veterans' Health Care Eligibility Reform Act of 1996.

I represent eastern Oregon, the seventh largest congressional district in the country. Veterans in my district often must drive 4 or 5 hours—over the Cascades to Portland—in order to receive medical care. Veterans who must drive so far for medical service have a strong interest in fair and efficient eligibility standards.

By allowing the VA to contract out for hospital care and medical services, and, by allowing the VA to share health care resources with group providers, H.R. 3118 will potentially bring the VA closer to the veterans of eastern Oregon.

H.R. 3118 also abolishes the complex provisions of law governing eligibility for outpatient care, expanding the array of services that the VA can provide to our Nation's veterans.

I urge all of my colleagues to support this long-overdue reform.

Madam Speaker, I, too, would like to thank the leadership, SONNY MONTGOMERY and his past services to the veterans of this country and, especially now, the reins have been passed over to BOB STUMP, and what a fantastic job he has done to bring forth these issues which I think are very, very critical, especially to our veterans more in the rural areas that really truly have to drive many, many miles to receive this kind of service.

I will tell my colleagues that in the near future I will probably be using these as well. I would certainly like to be able to use the local hospital instead of driving 155 miles to the closest veterans' hospital for my community where I live in Alfalfa, OR. I think that the veterans of the country and Congress should commend BOB STUMP with the cooperation of SONNY MONTGOMERY and the fantastic job they have done for veterans in this country. I think we all are proud of both of these gentlemen.

Mr. STUMP. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Florida [Mr. WELDON], a Member who has been very active in veterans' affairs for his State.

(Mr. WELDON of Florida, asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WELDON of Florida. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support of the bill before us.

As a veteran and a practicing physician, I understand firsthand the needs of veterans in underserved areas. The veterans in east-central Florida have suffered for over a decade and a half for lack of adequate veterans medical facilities. Last year this Congress set us on a sound road toward meeting these needs by providing $25 million to meet the outpatient needs of these veterans.

H.R. 3118 includes provisions that will allow the VA to contract with local hospitals to meet the inpatient needs of veterans who have sacrificed for our great Nation.

Last year, I introduced legislation that would allow the VA to contract in this manner. The bill before us includes similar provisions and I appreciate the chairman for his support of this concept.

This bill will allow veterans in underserved areas, like east-central Florida to receive VA medical care right in their own communities. This is what veterans in my district have been telling me they want and I'm pleased to see it before us.

Let's pass this bill.

Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support for H.R. 3118, the Veterans Health Care Eligibility Reform Act. This bill is long overdue and it will ensure that we fulfill our commitments to our veterans.

I would like to focus on one particular element of this bill that is very important to the veterans in my district. It was more than 14 years ago that a veterans hospital was first proposed for east-central Florida. Since that time, more politics has been played over this hospital than one can recount. While politicians have enjoyed their sport, the veterans in Brevard and surrounding counties have suffered for lack of adequate veterans medical facilities.

Earlier this year the Congress took the right step by providing $25 million for an outpatient clinic. The VA has informed me that this outpatient clinic will meet at least 80 percent of the health care needs of area veterans. This is a good first step in meeting these veteran's needs. I was also pleased that in a letter to me dated July 17, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs committed to issuing a contract for design work by September 1996.

The verdict on a hospital for Brevard County is still out. There are some who have suggested holding up the construction of a veterans outpatient clinic and instead holding out for a full hospital. Anyone remotely familiar with the history of the Brevard medical facility recognizes that this would be playing Russian roulette with the lives of veterans and would likely see the possibility of even an outpatient clinic slip away.

Earlier this year the veterans of east-central Florida received an authorization for a $25 million outpatient clinic, and Congress and the President already set aside the $25 million needed to fully construct this clinic. While an outpatient clinic may not meet 100 percent of the needs, it will meet 80 percent of the needs and it will do so in less than 2 years. Any delay in moving forward with this clinic may see this money and clinic disappear like the hopes that these veterans have seen fade away so many times before.

As a physician who has been put in the unfortunate position of having to refer veterans across the State to a veterans hospital, I understand how critical it is that veterans have access to inpatient care in our own community. That is why I introduced H.R. 2798, the Veterans Health Care Management and Contracting Flexibility Act of 1995. This bill will allow the VA to enter into contracts with local hospitals to meet the inpatient health care needs of area veterans. In other words, while the verdict is still out on Brevard's VA hospital, veterans will be able to receive inpatient care at local hospitals rather than being shipped hours away from home and family. This in no way rules out the possibility of a VA hospital in the future, but it ensures that regardless of what happens, veterans will not continue to suffer for lack of adequate facilities.

I am pleased that the provisions of my bill have been incorporated into H.R. 3118. Quite frankly, broad contracting authority should have been permitted years ago. It was wrong to allow veterans to suffer while politicians played. The outpatient clinic and the inpatient contracting will ensure that veterans in east-central Florida have access to health care facilities. I will continue to work with veterans throughout our community to ensure that their health care needs are met.

I am pleased to be a part of our constructive effort to ensure that we follow through on our promises to those who have given of themselves to protect our liberty.

Mr. STUMP. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. FOX], a member of the committee.

Mr. FOX of Pennsylvania. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 3118, the Veterans' Health Care Eligibility Reform Act of 1996.

I would like to commend Chairman STUMP, Ranking Member MONTGOMERY, Chairman HUTCHINSON, and Ranking Member EDWARDS for their joint leadership on this important issue of health care eligibility reform. This bill exemplifies the bipartisan tradition of the House Veterans' Affairs Committee, on which I am proud to serve.

H.R. 3118 continues the efforts of this Congress in honoring our duty to care for those who have risked their lives for our country. This bill provides the comprehensive eligibility reform that has been needed to clarify and correct current law which is complex, confusing, and often inconsistent with sound health care practices. By authorizing and clarifying eligibility without additional limitations, eliminating inpatient restrictions on provision of prosthetic devices, and setting sensible priorities for enrollment and registration, H.R. 3118 significantly improves current law.

I urge adoption of the bill and yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. MONTGOMERY. Madam Speaker, I thank my colleagues for their very kind remarks today. I urge my colleagues to support this measure.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. STUMP. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Once again, as I mentioned, this may be the last time that the VA has an opportunity to bring a bill to the floor of this House. I want to take this opportunity to thank all the members of the committee for their cooperation during this Congress.

Even on a committee that maintained a truly bipartisan work ethic, there were still some scheduling inconveniences and problems that Members were asked to endure and I appreciate very much all their cooperation. I believe we have a good record of accomplishment to show for this Congress.

Additionally, Madam Speaker, I would like to acknowledge the hard work of our committee staff on both sides of the aisle. The bipartisan tradition of this committee may start at the top but it is also practiced by the staff in their work on all of our bills. We greatly appreciate that. I want to thank them very much.

Mrs. KELLY. Mr. Speaker. I rise today in strong support of H.R. 3118, the Veterans' Health Care Eligibility Reform Act. I am a cosponsor of this legislation and urge all Members to support it.

One of the primary responsibilities of our Government is to provide for those who have defended our freedoms. In attempting to meet this responsibility, the Government has developed a complex, and often confusing system of health care eligibility laws. The legislation before the House today will help simplify the eligibility requirements of veterans, thereby ensuring that needed hospital care and medical services will continue to be provided to all veterans who are eligible to receive it.

Mr. Speaker, the issue of veterans health care eligibility is one that is very important to me. I have a particular interest in proposed changes in the VA health care system because there are two VA medical facilities located in the congressional district that I represent. That is why I am supporting this legislation. H.R. 3118 will benefit the thousands of veterans that use the two facilities in New York's 19th Congressional District, and indeed will benefit all veterans around the country who depend on the VA to meet their unique health care needs.

There are a few provisions of the bill that I would like to highlight. First, H.R. 3118 will substitute the current single uniform eligibility standard of eligibility with a new standard which is clinically appropriate and based on a medically sound system of priorities. The bill also extend indefinitely the VA's authority to provide services to dependents of active-duty and retired service-members. It clarifies the VA's authority to collect from insurance plans of Department of Defense [DOD] beneficiaries cared for in VA facilities to the same extent as DOD currently recovers for care rendered in its facilities. Most importantly, however, the bill authorizes the VA to retain these funds, instead of being required to return them to the General Treasury. This will provide the VA with additional resources for its use in continuing to provide health care to veterans.

Mr. Speaker, it is vital that we continue to provide veterans with the health benefits that they have earned. H.R. 3118 is one more step that this Congress has taken to meet this responsibility. I would like to thank Chairman Stump for his tireless leadership on veterans issues and for bringing this measure to the floor, and I would urge all Members to lend H.R. 3118 their support. Thank you.

Mr. HASTERT. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to support a measure that will help provide veterans in Illinois' LaSalle County with outpatient VA services.

LaSalle County veterans have had to travel long distances to receive needed VA medical services. This often requires a family member or friend to travel with or drive them to their appointments. The Veterans Health Care Eligibility Reform Act, will help provide an outpatient VA clinic in LaSalle County which will serve over 13,000 eligible veterans and their families.

At a veterans field hearing this past April, Representatives TIM HUTCHINSON, JERRY WELLER, LANE EVANS, and myself heard the concerns of representatives of several organizations who testified to the need for a closer outpatient care center. The nearest outpatient care facility for eligible LaSalle County veterans is over an hour's drive away, with the nearest VA hospital over 2 hours away.

The measure adopted today authorizes the VA to provide all needed outpatient care services, including preventive care and home health care, and to contract out for those services where a VA facility does not exist.

This important legislation represents the commitment of Veterans' Committee chairman, BOB STUMP, the entire House Veterans' Committee, and this Congress to keep our promises to our Nation's veterans.

Our veterans answered the call when our Nation needed them, so Congress must answer the call when veterans need our help. Today, we've answered that call and I'm proud to support this measure.

Mr. STEARNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this legislation today which takes the first step toward comprehensive veterans' health care reform. Passage of this bill will ensure changes in the tricky eligibility rules that currently bar access to health care for our Nation's veterans.

The health care eligibility bill accelerates the shift from expensive inpatient care to more cost effective primary and outpatient care. The reform is necessary to ensure that the VA refocuses its efforts toward assisting those who served our country. Under current VA rules, veterans are required to check into hospitals to receive their intended treatment. The savings alone from this switch to outpatient care services will allow more veterans to have access to the health care system.

The legislation continues the path of decentralization and restructures the VA with regard to the management of its health care system. By increasing the number of VA partnerships with community providers, access to outpatient services, and protecting the VA's special disability programs, H.R. 3118 will be a major step in the right direction for veterans' health care reform.

I want to emphasize that this measure is only the first step toward achieving health care reform for our veterans. It is imperative that we meet this challenge and preserve health care for those who have given selflessly to serve our country.

Mr. BILIRAKIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of H.R. 3118, the Veterans' Health Care Eligibility Act. I ask unanimous consent to revise and extend my remarks.

Eligibility reform is an issue that the Veterans' Affairs Committee, the VA and veterans service organizations have been working on for a long time. I am a cosponsor of the Veterans' Health Care Eligibility Reform Act and am pleased that we are moving this important bill forward through the legislative process.

Today's complex and confusing eligibility criteria represent a continuing source of frustration for both veterans and VA personnel.

Moreover, it is often an impediment to providing veterans with the kind of health care they really need.

As most health care providers move toward a new model of care that emphasizes primary and preventive care in outpatient settings, the VA must also shift its focus from inpatient to outpatient care. Without meaningful eligibility reform, it will be extremely difficult for the VA to remain a viable health care provider.

H.R. 3118 is a step in the right direction for the VA and simplifying the VA's eligibility criteria will greatly benefit veterans.

H.R. 3118 will expand veterans' access to VA care, particularly for those with service-connected disabilities or limited means. It will eliminate statutory rules which for years have barred the VA from providing many veterans with routine outpatient treatment, preventive health care services and home care.

Eligibility reform is long overdue and I urge my colleagues to support H.R. 3118.

Mr. EVERETT. Mr. Speaker I rise today to indicate my strong support for H.R. 3118 offered by VA Committee Chairman STUMP and our ranking member, SONNY MONTGOMERY.

Mr. Speaker, this important legislation is a giant first step in improving access to and the quality of health care provided to our veterans. To our many veterans who served in our Armed Forces, who loyally and selflessly gave a portion of their lives and the lives of their families to protect and defend this country, we owe a debt that can never be fully repaid.

Mr. Speaker, we have a responsibility to meet the health care needs of these veterans. H.R. 3118 will enable the VA to restructure and prioritize health care delivery and eligibility criteria. Rather than continuing to focus on inpatient care, which is not only more expensive but is, in most cases, less desirable for the patient, the VA will have the flexibility to expand access to outpatient treatment and preventative services.

Mr. Speaker, this element of the bill is especially important for my constituents. I represent a majority rural part of southeast Alabama. Over 37,000 veterans reside within a 50-mile radius of the city of Dothan, AL. These veterans, whether ill, elderly, disabled, or infirmed must travel over 100 miles, even 200 miles, to reach a VA medical facility. For many, they may wait until their injury or illness has reached a dangerous point before they make the trip.

Mr. Speaker, for years I have worked with the VA to establish an outpatient access point around the Dothan area. Certainly, this legislation reinforces the priority for such a facility. Quality outpatient care, preventative health care services, and reliable home care should be readily available and accessible to our eligible veterans' population. To this end, we must foster relationships with our community health care providers and in turn provide more opportunities to meet the needs of our veterans with expanded ambulatory treatment services.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 3118 goes a long way to meet these goals. Yes, this legislation is a first step, but a giant step in the right direction. I urge my colleagues to offer their unbridled support for H.R. 3118.

Mr. LONGLEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 3118, the Veterans Health Care Eligibility Reform Act.

It has become extremely clear that the question of health care eligibility has become extremely clouded as the result of a very complex and difficult to understand process of determining eligibility. In fact, as a country, we probably spend more time and money determining who is eligible, as compared to providing needed care. This must change.

I think that H.R. 3118 is a giant first step in the direction of positive changes in the provision of Veterans Administration health care.

At the same time, I want to commend this committee and Chairman STUMP for the outstanding work on behalf of the Nation's veterans. I hope that the committee will continue to be vigilant and aggressive in examining a system of veterans health care in order to ensure that it continues to provide quality care.

This would include, I hope, careful examination of the use of funds by the Veterans Administration. In the last two appropriations bills, this Congress has made careful provisions to increase funding for the provision of VA medical care. In the fiscal year 1997 budget, we increased funding by $504 million, from $16.6 billion to over $17 billion. In fiscal year 1996, the previous year, we increased funding an additional $400 million.

Sadly, however, although we have increased annual funding by almost $1 billion in the last 2 years, it seems that those additional funds have not made their way to the grass roots. It has certainly not made it to the Veterans Hospital in my district located in Togus, ME. In fact, if anything, as we have increased funding from Washington, the limitations on services, including the discussion of cutbacks on existing services has continued unabated.

It is not uncommon, for instance, to find a Maine veteran being forced to travel to a VA hospital in the Boston area and admit him or herself as an inpatient. He or she could remain in Boston for days, if not weeks, to receive needed medical treatment that could have been provided through a cooperative arrangement at a significantly lower cost with a Maine hospital.

Mr. Speaker, H.R. 3118 is a significant first step in the direction of improving and reforming the delivery of medical care to our Nation's veterans. I hope that, in the course of implementing H.R. 3118, we will see the committee continue to take a vigilant stance in overseeing the administration of the VA system and that it will take whatever action is necessary in order to protect provision of care at existing VA hospitals, such as that hospital located in Togus, ME. Our Nation's veterans, Maine veterans, deserve no less.

Mr. STUMP. Madam Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mrs. MYRICK). The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 3118, as amended.

The question was taken.

Mr. SOLOMON. Madam Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 5 of rule I and the Chair's prior announcement, further proceedings on this motion will be postponed until disposition of H.R. 2391.

WORKING FAMILIES FLEXIBILITY ACT OF 1996

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 488 and rule XXIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the consideration of the bill, H.R. 2391.

IN THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Accordingly the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the consideration of the bill (H.R. 2391) to amend the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 to provide compensatory time for all employees, with Mr. LAHOOD in the chair.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to the rule, the bill is considered as having been read the first time.

Under the rule, the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. GOODLING] and the gentleman from Missouri [Mr. CLAY] each will control 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. GOODLING].

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 2 minutes.

Mr. Chairman, I take these 2 minutes since there was so much disinformation given on Friday. I do not believe that most of those Members read the legislation as it is at present.

We made 20 changes since the legislation was introduced, all supporting the employee. There will be additional, in the manager's amendment today, additional protection for the employee. So let me give my colleagues just a few things to correct the misinformation and the disinformation that was distributed Friday.

First of all, the legislation has no effect on the 40-hour work week in calculating overtime pay. The choice to take overtime compensation in the form of paid time off must be voluntary and must be requested by the employee in a written or otherwise verifiable statement. The selection of comp time may not be a condition of employment.

H.R. 2391 specifically prohibits employers from directly or indirectly threatening, intimidating or coercing an employee into choosing comp time in lieu of cash wages. Employers violating this would be liable to the employee for double time and cash wages for the unused comp time hours accrued by the employee plus attorney fees. Comp time would be considered as wages and treated as unpaid wages in any bankruptcy action.

H.R. 2391 prohibits an employer from coercing, threatening, or intimidating an employee to use accrued comp time. The employee may use accrued comp time at any time he or she requests, if the use is within a reasonable period of time after the request and the use does not unduly disrupt the operation of the employer. Now, the unduly disrupt standard has been part of the law for the public sector for many years and is the same standard used in the Family and Medical Leave Act.

The bill, together with the manager's amendment, makes absolutely clear that all of the current law's remedies, including enforcement by the Department of Labor and through individual lawsuits, would apply if an employer failed to pay cash wages to an employee for accrued compensatory time or refused to allow an employee to use accrued compensatory time.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I rise to oppose this legislation which will provide an excuse to undermine the living standards of working families. The Republican comp time proposal should be called flimflam flexitime.

The rights of employees must be of paramount importance to any proposal affecting their time and compensation. This bill places the rights of bosses above the rights of workers. By its failure to provide employees a real choice, it enables bosses to defer paying employees for the work they perform.

The Republican majority claims it seeks to provide workers with the opportunity to take paid time off instead of being paid for overtime work. But in return, all paid overtime could possibly be eliminated. An employer may arbitrarily decide to offer comp time to some employees while denying it to others. He may also arbitrarily decide to only offer overtime work to employees who choose comp time instead of paid time and a half.

Under this bill, an employer can simply deny the leave on the basis that it will unduly disrupt his business.

The Family and Medical Leave Act grants workers the right to take unpaid leave in the event of a family or medical emergency. Under the Republican bill even where an employee has a right to family leave, an employer may deny the employee the right to use comp time.

Under current law, employers must pay workers in a timely manner for the work they perform. H.R. 2391 permits an employer to defer paying anything for overtime work for up to one year.

This flimflam legislation invites employers to eliminate their paid medical and vacation policies. Why should an employer give paid leave when it can require employees to work overtime in order to earn paid leave instead? My Republican colleagues say they are interested in a voluntary comp time bill, but how voluntary is comp time if the only way an employee can earn paid leave is to take comp time instead of being paid for overtime?

This bill provides no protection for employees when an employer goes bankrupt. It does not prevent an employer from using the payment for a terminated employee's unused comp time to diminish that employee's unemployment compensation. And it does not ensure that comp time will be treated similarly to overtime pay for pension and health benefit purposes.

Mr. Chairman, our overtime laws are already widely violated. The Employment Policy Foundation, an employer-funded think tank, estimates that workers lose $19 billion a year in unpaid, earned overtime. The foundation estimates that fully 10 percent of the workers entitled to overtime are cheated out of it. In industries such as the garment industry, overtime violations are widespread. A Department of Labor investigation in southern California found that 68 percent of the employers were not paying overtime and more than 50 percent were not even paying minimum wages.

Mr. Chairman, I cannot support a bill that will undermine the living standards of American families. I urge defeat of this flimflam legislation.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from North Carolina [Mrs. MYRICK].

Mrs. MYRICK. Mr. Chairman, the Working Family Flexibility Act is pro-family, pro-worker, pro-women, in its approach to provide relief to the hard-working men and women across our Nation who struggle daily to support their families. These men and women who support families and work, deserve the right to have their work schedules flexible enough to allow them time to devote to family responsibilities.

As a wife and a mother and a grandmother and a former small business owner, I know firsthand how hard it is to balance work and family.

The bill seeks to provide employees a choice and the option to renew and refocus the perilous difficult balance between family and work obligations by allowing flexibility in scheduling the hours they work.

Dads could use the accrued time to make sure they are behind the dugout for that critical Little League game, and mom and dad could use their time to visit their child's school for the parent-teacher conferences, enabling and encouraging parents to participate in their child's education. Comp time allows parents to actively participate in family life, not just hear about the recollection at the dinner table that night or the next day.

In 1994, a U.S. Labor Department survey found that 66 percent of working women with children believed that balancing time between family and work is their No. 1 concern. Even the President and vice President endorse giving workers the option to spend more time with families.

Employees deserve the same rights that Federal, State and local employees have had since 1985.

During my tenure as mayor of Charlotte exempt city employees enjoyed flexibility that comp time allowed in their lives. Simply put, and I know this from management experience, flex time works. It works for the employer, it works for the employee, and most importantly, it works for America's families.

Support this commonsense family-friendly approach. Support the Workers Family Flexibility Act.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from New Jersey [Mr. ANDREWS].

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chairman I rise to oppose this legislation. I fully appreciate the demands of balancing family and work, as my colleague from North Carolina just mentioned. Tonight is my 3-year-old daughter's back to school night at her gymnastics camp. Her mother will be there; I will not because we are not always able to balance our work and time schedules easily.

There are some flaws in this bill, though, that I think do not hold out the promise that my friend just talked about. First of all, is the bill truly voluntary? Is the choice truly voluntary?

I believe that in the situation here where an employer systematically grants overtime to the employee who chooses comp time and systematically denies overtime to the employee who chooses cash, that the employee who chooses cash, the employee who chooses cash, the employee who chooses to have a few more dollars in his or her paycheck, is going to be denied a truly voluntary choice, and I think that employee has no meaningful or realistic remedy.

I think the employee has a burden of proof that would be almost impossible to sustain. I think there are some legitimate question as to under which specific circumstances that employee could, in fact, recover her attorney fees or his attorney fees.

I do not think this is truly a voluntary choice, and I think an employee who exercises his or her right to choose cash rather than comp time would not be able to achieve an effective remedy if the employer wanted to punish him or her for making that choice.

Second, we hear comparisons about the public sector and the private sector, and we hear how employees in the public sector in many cases have had this situation for many, many years. I would say there is an important difference between the public sector and the private sector, and it is this:

Most public sector employees are under some form of civil service protection, meaning if they are in fact singled out because of the choices they have made or because of some other reason on the job, there is a set body of law that provides for both substantive remedies and meaningful procedures in order to enforce their rights. That does not exist in the private sector.

Finally, I think there are real questions as to what happens here. I think there are very significant questions as to what happens under this bill should it become law. If an employee chooses comp time and her comp time adds up and adds up and adds up, and then the employer files bankruptcy, the employer goes out of business, how realistic is it that that employee is going to be able to recover the cash that she or he is owed in response to having that comp time?

Finally, I would say this to my colleagues. There is no question that working families in this country need help. Working women, in particular, in this country need help. What they really need is paid leave in many cases. They need to be able to take time off if they have a child, or a death in the family, or a need to pursue a family obligation with pay, not without it. What they really need is an assurance of health benefits so that the millions of Americans who go to work every day and have no health insurance coverage will have some.

Now, there are a lot of different theories of proposals of how to accomplish that. I do not know which one is the best. But I would like to implore my friends and colleagues in the Republican leadership that maybe we ought to spend some more time talking about that before we adjourn in October. We ought to bring to this floor some ways that people can have paid leave and health insurance benefits instead of the bill that we see before us today.

I oppose the bill; I urge its defeat.
Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. BALLENGER] the author of this very fine legislation.

Mr. BALLENGER. Mr. Chairman, let me just say that ever since I introduced H.R. 2391, I have tried to address the concerns that others have had with the legislation. I have tried to accommodate, as much as possible, suggestions to improve the bill since it was introduced in September 1995.

There have been changes made to the bill at each step of the legislative process. The substitute amendment which I offered at subcommittee markup was accepted by voice vote. It included six changes which clarified and improved the protections for employees. Many of the changes were taken directly from recommendations made by the Democrats' witness who testified at a hearing on the bill. And yet, while the Democrats on the subcommittee voiced their opposition to various parts of the bill, there were no Democratic amendments offered.

At full committee markup, I offered a substitute amendment which further strengthened the employee protections and directly addressed a number of the Democrats' concerns with the legislation. While the vote on final passage of the bill was along party lines, the substitute amendment was approved by voice vote. Again, no Democratic amendments were offered to the bill.

And, now on the House floor, I have sponsored an amendment with my distinguished colleague, the gentlewoman from Connecticut [Mrs. JOHNSON] which includes a number of clarifications and additional protections to ensure the voluntary use of comp time and to give employees greater control over their accrued comp time. Yet, many of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle continue to say that they have substantive problems with this bill.

Mr. Chairman, this is commonsense legislation. We support it. Most of all, employees want it. Their counterparts in the public sector, many of whom are unionized, have used comp time for years and strongly support the use of it there. As of recently, President Clinton supports it. Although in May, when this legislation was to be tied to the minimum-wage increase, his chief of staff called it a poison pill. While I am baffled by labor and this administration's objection to the legislation, the opposition appears to be nothing more than election year politics.

American workers want and deserve flexibility in the workplace to better deal with the challenges of balancing work and family obligations. The Working Families Flexibility Act removes obstacles in Federal law which prevent employees and employers from mutually agreeing to use alternative arrangements regarding compensation and scheduling. I urge my colleagues to support this legislation which will allow American men and women to make the choice for themselves between extra money or paid time off.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Connecticut [Ms. DELAURO].

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong opposition to this bill that will cut the pay of America's workers. This bill is yet another example of how this Congress continues to sell out working families.

Overtime pay is vitally important to these families because wages have not provided a rising standard of living. The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that average hourly pay has fallen by 11 percent over the past 17 years, and working families rely on overtime pay to keep up with the costs of feeding their kids and paying the rent.

This bill will take away the opportunity to earn overtime pay. Middle-income families will be hit hardest by this bill because overtime pay is a much larger percentage of their income. In 1994, two-thirds of the workers who earned overtime pay had a total annual family income of less than $40,000.

On behalf of the hard-working families in Connecticut and across this country, I call on my colleagues to vote against this outrageous assault on working Americans.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the very distinguished gentleman from Wisconsin [Mr. GUNDERSON].

(Mr. GUNDERSON asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GUNDERSON. Mr. Chairman, the gentlewoman who just spoke is one of the leading advocates of choice in the U.S. Congress. Apparently, she is for choice for everyone but the American worker because, and, no, I will not yield, I do not have time; because of the fact that no one in America will have to take comp time unless they choose to. It is automatic that one gets time and a half pay overtime under the Fair Labor Standards Act, and under this bill unless they choose that, they would rather than doing that have some free time.

In Wisconsin, we love to have free time in the summer on weekends to go up north, to go fishing, to go to the son and daughter soccer game, to go to Little League or to go do something else of our choice. That is not allowed today. Under this bill that will happen if the worker wanted it to.

In addition, I want everyone to understand that this legislation in front of us will not affect one unionized collective bargaining agreement unless the leadership of that union in negotiations with the management agrees to add this to the existing collective bargaining agreement.

All we are doing today is we are saying to the American worker in today's economy flexibility is key. It is flexibility for the workplace, flexibility for management, and, yes, flexibility for the worker to decide what works best for them at a particular point in time.

Third, I want everyone to understand that this flex time cannot occur unless there is a written agreement, and, as my colleagues know, interestingly enough we talk about coercion. My good friend from New Jersey said that he does not think that this is really freedom of choice by the worker.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from California [Ms. WOOLSEY].

□ 1430

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Chairman, I know about work schedules and overtime from two perspectives. In fact, I am an expert on this issue. First, as a human resources/personnel manager for over 20 years.

And, second, as a working mother. I have raised four children—now four wonderful adults. I know what its like to have a job and try to find the time to go to a parent/teacher conference or a child's plan or sporting event. I know what it means to get that phone call early in the morning that the babysitter is sick and will not be coming that day.

Believe me, I know how important it is for working parents to have flexible work schedules.

But this bill before us today, H.R. 2391, is not about flex-time for workers. It is about more flexibility for employers.

As a human resources professional, I know how this can work. Like mandatory overtime, comp time can become just as mandatory because it allows the employer to restrict use of comp time to the employer's schedule—when it will not unduly disrupt the business.

Let me tell you that means—plain and simple—the boss will stay the boss, not only in deciding on who works overtime and when, but, also when comp time can be used. That is flex-time for the employer.

If my colleagues on the other side of the aisle are so concerned about working families, they should use their influence as the majority party to make the use of comp time truly voluntary and to get a bill to the President increasing the minimum wage.

In fact, my colleagues should work overtime on getting the minimum wage bill passed, and then take some comp time to get in touch with what working families really need—a livable wage and a truly flexible schedule.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I am glad we have the "no coercion" part in the bill in the bill.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Florida [Mr. WELDON], a member of the committee.

Mr. WELDON of Florida. Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong support of the Working Families Flexibility Act.

This bill allows private sector employees to have the same opportunities to work flexible hours that Federal, State, and local government workers have enjoyed for more than a decade. Most government workers I have talked to like and want this type of flexibility, and it is wrong to deny private sector employees these same rights.

Back in 1938, when the current law was put in place most families had a parent who worked and another who stayed at home. Today, in 60 percent of homes, both spouses work. This is up by over 36 percent in just the past 25 years.

It is wrong to deny private sector workers the flexibility they want and need. This bill is about allowing parents to choose to spend more time with their children.

Opponents of the bill have raised false claims that the bill does not protect employees. The bill before us offers private sector employees more protections than government workers have today. If the worker protection provisions are inadequate, why did not the opponents of the bill impose more protections for government workers when they were in the majority.

The bill has built-in protections for employees. It is at the employee's discretion whether to take comp time or overtime pay. The employee decides.

Also, the bill makes it illegal for an employer to pressure employees to take comp time rather than overtime pay. Any employer who engages in such pressure or forces an employee to take comp time rather than overtime pay is subject to penalties which include double the amount in wages owed plus attorneys fees and cost. Also, civil and criminal penalties apply.

Clearly workers are protected.

Let us stop denying private sector employees the same privileges that government workers have today.

Let us support equality.

Let us support the bill.

Mr. Chairman, in closing, I would like to quote from Bill Clinton when he said, "You can choose money in the bank or time on the clock. With more Americans working more hours, simply spending more time with the family can be a dream." President Bill Clinton, June 24, 1996.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 15 seconds.

Mr. Chairman, I want to correct the gentleman. The President said that about his bill, not about this bill that we are debating now. The President thinks this bill is a disaster.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California [Mr. MILLER].

Mr. MILLER of California. Mr. Chairman, I support giving working families flexibility in their schedules, but I cannot support the Ballenger comp time bill because it seriously threatens the existence of overtime pay and the 40-hour workweek. This bill is just one part of a series of Republican bills that favor special interests over the public interest.

All across this Nation, millions of working families are facing stagnant wages and the realization that for them the American Dream may be slipping away. Between 1979 and 1989, real wages either fell or were stagnant for the bottom 60 percent of the workforce. Moreover, while corporate profits were increasing during the first half of this decade, wages were continuing to lag far behind.

For many struggling families, receiving overtime pay is often the difference between making ends meet and falling behind on bills. It is no wonder then that 64 percent of Americans oppose eliminating overtime pay.

Equally important for struggling families is maintaining some normalcy in their lives by keeping the 40-hour workweek as our benchmark work schedule. Parents are finding they have less time to spend with their families given the increasing difficulty of staying financially afloat.

Compared to the 1960's, the average person is working about an extra month more a year, and the number of mothers working has nearly tripled from 27.6 to 67.5 percent. As a result, polls show that most Americans believe their free, non-work time has been reduced nearly in half over the last two decades. Consequently, for 58 percent of families, working less the next week is not worth working more this week.

Supporters of the comp time bill argue that their proposal would help these families by making voluntary, flexible work schedules available. But his bill would actually make matters much worse.

There are no enforcement mechanisms in the bill to insure the voluntariness of any comp time arrangement. Workers would also have no power to refuse working longer hours, nor any clear ability to take time off when they need it. There are no record-keeping requirements, and unscrupulous employers would have a free hand to conveniently miscalculate comp time owed to workers.

Additionally, this bill legalizes sweatshops because there is no exception for vulnerable industries. Under this bill, an unscrupulous employer who is violating wage and hour law will be able to say, "My employees all opted for comp time instead of overtime pay, they just haven't taken their time off yet."

Therefore, under the Ballenger bill, it may be lawful for an employer: to move workers into a comp time arrangement by stressing a preference for that system; to retaliate against workers who insist on receiving overtime pay; to make employees work 60 hours 1 week, and 20 hours the next with very little or no notice; and to effectively eliminate overtime pay all together.

This is not what American families want or need. Workers are asking for higher wages, a predictable work schedule, and more time with their families. The Ballenger bill would not help families achieve those goals, and, in fact, would very likely make matters worse.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 5 seconds, merely to say, his bill? I have not seen any bill from the President. We did not get any amendments in full committee or subcommittee from the minority.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Nebraska [Mr. BARRETT], a member of the committee.

Mr. BARRETT of Nebraska. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding time to me.

Mr. Chairman, as more families have both parents working, families are making painful choices; either work, or risk their jobs and the income the family needs.

H.R. 2391 is an attempt to ease this burden on families. It'll allow the employer to voluntarily offer, and for the employee to voluntarily accept, comp time instead of overtime.

But, those who apparently support Government intrusion are opposing this legislation. They believe employers and employees should be forced to take comp time.

H.R. 2391 does not force employers or employees to offer or accept comp time. It requires that any unused comp time must be made up with overtime pay. And, it maintains the 40-hour workweek.

H.R. 2391 is a win-win for America's families. The House should pass this bill.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Texas, Mr. GENE GREEN.

(Mr. GENE GREEN of Texas asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GENE GREEN of Texas. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank my colleague, the gentleman from St. Louis, MO for allowing me to speak today, and for yielding the time to me.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to support the bill. I like the idea of employees being able to decide whether they are going to have overtime pay or comp time. In fact, when the President made his announcement in June, I thought we would see an effort to come out with real flex time and a compromise. In fact, as has been quoted from the majority side, nationwide polls show an overwhelming number of Americans support the concept.

But also, from a different poll, it shows that an overwhelming number of workers expect to be forced by their employer to accept comp time instead of overtime pay. That is what is wrong with the bill. The bill should be addressing both concerns of the workers: First, the need for the flexibility, but also, the fear that they have that they may not be hired if they do not agree beforehand to take comp time instead of the pay.

Before coming to Congress, I helped manage a business. We used comp time. It was successful, both for the business and for the workers. But every time it was the choice of that employee, more so than this bill ever does, because it worked. It was successful. I would hope that if this bill goes down, and if not this Congress, the next Congress we will really be able to come together and come up with one that not only allows the flexibility, but also provides the teeth to the bill that it needs.

It would be so important to have a way to be clear whether it is employee choice or employer mandate. This bill was drafted to expect employers to do what is right and give that choice. Ninety-five percent of our employers will do that. The bill lacks the teeth because the 5 percent of the employers, whether they be in the garment industry or any other industry, are the ones who will take advantage of this and take advantage of those workers. That is why about 60 percent of those workers are afraid they are going to be abused with that.

Mr. Chairman, the Republican comp time proposal is that the employer and not the employee decides who earns the comp time and who will earn the overtime pay. This bill does not contain clear provisions to prevent the employer from forcing workers to take time off in lieu of overtime pay. I know both the bill and the manager's amendment has some effort to try to prevent coercion, but we need more than just the statement in here. We need some real teeth in the law.

In my district people depend on their overtime pay oftentimes to make ends meet. They should not have to live in fear of losing it, particularly some workers who are seasonal workers, who have to earn overtime for the period of time they can work because the rest of the year they cannot practice their trade, whether because of weather or because of whatever conditions.

In H.R. 2391 employers maintain the ultimate control when to grant that worker the comp time. Regardless of the amount of notice the worker provides, employers can deny the use of comp time if the firm claims they would be unduly disrupted. Again, I think this is something we can work out, but we have not been able to. What good is it to earn comp time if the employer does not allow you to use it, or forces you to use it instead of your vacation time that you may have earned?

Additionally, this proposal does not include the protections necessary to make sure workers receive their comp time when a business files bankruptcy. I know we have talked about that, but this bill does not deal with the Bankruptcy Code. Comp time should stay in the same place wages do in the Bankruptcy Code. This bill does not set that up on that level.

H.R. 2391 does not give the employees the full remedies available under the law to an employer who violates the overtime law. Civil fines should be imposed on employers who operate comp time programs in violation of the overtime laws. Instead of this Republican proposal, I would hope we can work on a real bipartisan proposal giving employees real comp time.

Comp time means employees have the choice of taking their time to go to the soccer games. I use it, Mr. Chairman, and I know how important it is, but I also want to make sure it is the employee's choice when to do it. I urge my colleagues to vote "no" on the bill.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself 5 seconds.

Bankruptcy certainly is covered in the legislation, Mr. Chairman. Unused comp time is handled the same as unpaid wages, and therefore, is right at the top of the list in any kind of bankruptcy proceeding.

Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. LINDER].

Mr. LINDER. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding time to me.

Mr. Chairman, this is a fascinating debate, because a week or two ago nobody offered an amendment in committee, nobody showed any opposition to this bill. The President has said he supports this bill. All of a sudden, then, the labor unions jerked the chain and lap dogs become pit bulls to kill an effort, a modest effort, in non-union shops between employers and employees who agree voluntarily to take compensatory time as opposed to time and a half, and it is going to be tried to be stopped on this floor, the same as the TEAM Act in the Senate, because labor union leaders cannot stand it when employers and employees get along. They thrive on conflict. They create conflict. Then they come to the rescue.

Mr. Chairman, this is a modest bill. It merely says if employers and employees want to get together and voluntarily agree on this, this should be legal. I do not understand this debate about adversarial relationships. I have built 7 businesses. If you are building businesses, you soon begin to understand that the most valuable resource you have is your employees. You cannot treat them this brutally as you are implying. They leave. It costs you twice as much to train a new one. You learn as a business owner. But if you get along with your employees and treat them right and reach voluntary agreements with them, they make you money. They are the most valuable things you have.

Mr. Chairman, this is simply not about this bill, this is about big labor bosses jerking the chain, turning lap dogs into pit bulls to try to stop a convenient arrangement that already exists in many union contracts, and, indeed, throughout the Federal Government. Why can they not have, in the private sector, what we have in the Federal Government? This is a good bill and it deserves to be passed for the very reasons President Clinton said so.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from California [Mr. MARTINEZ].

Mr. MARTINEZ. I thank the gentleman for yielding me the time.

Mr. Chairman, to the last speaker in the well, there are a lot of reasons why the Democrats have not offered amendments to this bill as it came before us. First, when we do offer amendments, we never get them accepted anyway, so what is the use? Second, he mentions the businesses he was in and how benevolent they were.

I have worked since I was 12 years old. In all that time—my colleagues have to understand that I am 67 now—in all that time, I found very few benevolent employers who had a greater concern for the employee than the bottom line profit. When it comes to the bottom line profit, they are going to do whatever they need to do in order to run that business so it is profitable, and there is nothing wrong with that. I agree with that. A lot of times when it weighs a little bit of profit against a little bit of consideration for the employees, they do not even do that.

I will say that there are some employers who are benevolent, but as far as this bill is concerned, this bill sounds as if it is a wonderful thing, it gives choice to employees. I am for choice. In fact, I am a pro-choice person. I am especially pro-choice when it comes to employees. But the way this bill is written, it will never give that employee that choice.

Let me make Members understand something about workers. Workers generally are not of the aggressive type, that they are going to challenge the employer on any of his decisions, especially when it means their job or long litigation which they may not win because they do not have the wherewithal to hire the kinds of lawyers the employer has. So they usually will take their lumps, go their way and go to another job and hope they are treated better there.

If this were not the fact, there would be no need for organized labor. There would be no need for Government to pass labor laws. The truth of the matter is that there are more people out there who will take advantage of it than less.

Mr. Chairman, this bill as it is written now will give the employer the right to decide whether it will be comp time or pay and when that employee will use that time. That employee would have to depend on the employer being benevolent, to understand his family situation, to be able to allow that employee to take advantage of that time when it would best suit him and his family. I doubt very much that that is going to happen.

We are going to find that if this legislation were to pass and be signed into law, we would have exceeding litigation by those employees who do have the courage to stand up to their employer regardless if they lose their jobs or not. We already have that in a lot of different legislation.

Let me close by saying that if there were not the need to protect that employee, even in this bill as it was written by the other side, they would not have put those kinds of restrictions on employers and those kinds of threats to action by the Department of Labor if they abused or violated the employees' rights. The second we write a piece of legislation like that, I guarantee there are going to be problems. So why write it at all?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Washington [Ms. DUNN].

Ms. DUNN of Washington. Mr. Chairman, for too long parents have been forced to make tough choices between work and spending time with their children. In fact, a 1994 U.S. Department of Labor report found that the No. 1 concern for two-thirds of working women with children is the difficulty of balancing work and family.

In two recent surveys, 3 out of 4 parents indicated that they would prefer the option to choose either overtime pay or compensatory time off for working overtime hours. Parents say this would enable them to find a better balance between their work and their family responsibilities.

What are we really talking about? Mr. Chairman, in the late 1970's, when my sons were 6 and 8 years old, I found myself in a position to have to have a full-time job and still juggle the responsibilities to my family. Often I would have taken the choice, with a job that required some evenings and weekends and travel, to simply leave that job for a few hours and go to my children's school, talk with their counselors, or see their school plays. A mother should have that choice, Mr. Chairman.

Under current law, too many working mothers lie awake at night worrying about whether or not they are giving their children enough quality time. We can do something to help those mothers and we ought to do it. This bill addresses exactly that problem. The legislation is balanced, it is commonsense, and it is a solution to the problem facing the hardworking parents of our country.

Mr. Chairman, it is worth noting that Federal workers have long had this option, but the Government does not allow private employees to have this option. They should get the same consideration in the private sector that families in the Government have had since 1985.

Mr. Chairman, I am proud to be a co-sponsor of this legislation that supports the value of the family. On behalf of all the working families in this country, and especially the working mothers, I urge my colleagues to support this time legislation.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. VISCLOSKEY].

Mr. VISCLOSKEY. Mr. Chairman, I rise today to express my strong opposition to H.R. 2391, the so-called Families Flexibility Act. This bad bill is just one more attempt by the Republican-controlled 104th Congress to weaken the rights of working men and women. I am very concerned that permitting employers to compensate hourly employees' overtime work in time off, rather than in cash, will in many workplaces, significantly reduce workers' take home wages.

I oppose this bill because it would significantly weaken labor protections for the people who can least afford to lose them, such as construction workers. It is the carpenters, electricians, pipefitters, and sheet metal workers, in my district, who during the warm spring and summer months, work all the overtime possible so they can accumulate enough money to last them through the cold winter months. They know that in December, January, and February they are going to have more time off than they want. It is this core of the work force that no longer looks at the 40-hour work week as a standard, but rather a necessity.

These are the same people who are the most likely to suffer coercive practices by their employers by being forced to accept compensatory time—which they do not want and can not afford—instead of benefiting from the premium overtime pay they have earned. In a perfect world, all businesses have the financial resources to cash out all employees at the end of every year for their unused compensatory time, as the bill would require. But this is not a perfect world. Many small contractors do not have the cash resources to even-up with their workers, and they would send them into the slow winter months without the money in their bank accounts that they and their families need to survive. My colleagues on the other side of the aisle talk about "pay as you go." A pay as you go policy is the only way companies should be able to pay their workers.

What the authors of this bill would like you to believe is that this bill offers workers more control over their working lives. What it really does is take away an individual's right to choose. Under H.R. 2391, workers do not have the ability to schedule their earned compensatory time when they need it. In fact an employer can schedule compensatory time anytime he chooses without ever having to consult the worker. I am concerned about the steelworker in northwest Indiana, who has legitimately agreed to compensatory time and has been doubling up on shifts to earn overtime. He's going to approach his boss to request time-off at the end of the summer so he can plan some time together with his kids before they return to school in the fall.

His boss may tell him, "Sorry, but if I gave you your earned time off when you want, it would disrupt my operations. Don't worry I'll schedule your 'comp time' in October when the blast furnace shuts down for a four-week re-line job."

That steelworker would have had that time off anyhow and his kids are already going to be back in school. Thanks a lot.

In essence, H.R. 2391 gives employers a veto over their workers' use of their own earned hours off, opening the door to abuses such as making employees work 60 hours 1 week and then 20 hours the next, with little or no notice.

Mr. Chairman, when the people back home in my district sit down each month to figure out financially how they are going to make it through the upcoming month, they take into account their expected overtime wages. Employers do not just hand out bonuses anymore. Today, you have got to earn them. I am voting against this misguided bill because without overtime pay, many of my constituents cannot afford to send their kids to college, buy a reliable car for work, or provide themselves and their families with adequate health care. This bill guts the protections of the Fair Labor Standards Act and undermines living standards for workers. H.R. 2391 is not designed to give workers more control over their working lives. It is, instead, an attempt to snatch hard won rights out of the hands of this country's workers and deny them basic, simple needs, like respect for their hard work, a decent living wage, and a chance to provide for their families. I urge a "no" vote on H.R. 2391.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. GRAHAM], a member of the committee.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Chairman, to begin with I would like to congratulate the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. BALLENGER] and our committee chairman for working on some legislation for a long period of time that really will help people.

This Congress has been historic in the sense we have done two good things: We have applied all of the laws in America to the body itself. I think that is going to make the laws in this country better because we have to live under them as an employer, the U.S. Congressmen and their offices themselves. But what we have done here is we have extended to the private sector some options that people that work for the Federal Government have. If you want the time off rather than the money for working overtime, it is your option as an employee. That is a good thing. That is what we do in the Federal Government. The private sector should have that same right. But it is up to the employee.

It is true that when you schedule the compensatory time, that the employee has to work with the employer, just like we do here in the Federal Government. That is the way business works, that is the way it works here, that is the way it works in the private sector. We have extended some benefits to the private sector that we in the Government have had for many years. I think that is a good thing to do. It is time for us to take on the burdens of the private sector. I ask for support for this bill.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. COBLE].

Mr. COBLE. I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Chairman, last week I said to CASS BALLENGER, the primary sponsor: How could anyone oppose this legislation? The employer makes it available. He does not have to. He makes it available. It does not have to be activated. The employee has the option to activate this proposal. Once he enrolls in it and decides he wants to disenroll, it shuts down. The employee is in control.

This, Mr. Chairman, provides comp time flexibility which may be paid in any time period during the calendar year, and must be paid out at the calendar year's end. I repeat, to my friend from North Carolina, how could reasonable people not agree with this?

They keep talking about employees being afraid. If employees read this bill, they will not be afraid. If they listen to the rhetoric coming from this hall, they will run to the high ground for fear because it is laced with fear. This bill is generous and the employee is the direct beneficiary of the generosity.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Florida [Mrs. FOWLER].

Mrs. FOWLER. Mr. Chairman, there is a movie showing in theaters right now called "Multiplicity." It is about a man who has himself cloned several times so that he can meet all the responsibilities of home, family, work, and personal relationships. It's a great idea, but unfortunately, in the real world, we don't have that option.

As a working mother, I learned the hard way that you can't be in two places at once. Whether it is due to a Little League game; a case of chicken pox; a visit to the doctor or caring for an elderly parent—sometimes the needs of a family require a flexible working schedule. With comp time, employees can prepare for the unexpected. H.R. 2391 will make striking a balance between work and family easier, providing increased freedom and empowering workers.

Since the 1930's when the Fair Labor Standards Act was passed, the American workplace has changed tremendously. Today both parents in a family must often work, necessitating a real juggling act between their professional responsibilities and the needs of their families.

If we really want to put families first, this is a good first step. H.R. 2391 does not impose taxes on working Americans; it does not spend taxpayer dollars or add to the deficit; it does not mandate benefits or rely on a one-size-fits-all Washington model; and it does not impose an unfunded mandate on business. It is a commonsense measure that helps working families by adding some flexibility to an outdated law, and I urge my colleagues to support it.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from California [Mr. BECERRA].

Mr. BECERRA. I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Chairman, I believe everyone would agree that all of us who work would love flexibility at the workplace. Whether you are the employee or you are the employer, you want to know you have a chance to make use of your vacation time, your benefits, and obviously do the best job you can while you are on the job.

With the realities that today's families must face, two working parents, kids off to school, kids trying to be able to participate in recreational activities, it is difficult. Let us give employees that flexibility, but let us give them the flexibility of doing what they wish with their time and the money they have earned through their wages.

The problems I have with this bill are that it does not do that. Let me give some quick examples.

The issue of coercion. We have people who work here who have graduate degrees, who oftentimes find themselves picking up laundry for Members of Congress or shuttling family members to and from offices because the Member says, "I need to have it done."

If we can see that happening here in the halls of this place, think what happens in the workplace where someone is working for $7 an hour and the employer says, "I need you to do this this way. I need you to take comp time versus the overtime pay you could get on Saturday." What is the employee going to say? "Sorry, I think I would rather take my overtime and not agree with you?"

Chances are there is going to be a lot of pressure on that employee to do what the employer wants. This bill gives the employer that kind of leverage.

Slow periods. When I was working my way through college, I worked as a construction worker on highways. It is seasonal work and it is unpredictable work. If it rains, you do not work because you cannot go outside and work in the mud.

What happens in the case of seasonal work, slow periods, where the employer says to himself, "I know I don't need any workers next week, I've got a slowdown in my jobs, in my contracts, so I'm going to tell everyone who has got comp time to use it rather than have them come in to work and not do as much work." It is great for the employer but it is terrible for the employee, because the employee is not expecting necessarily to have to use the comp time on that occasion.

What you do is give employers a way to slough off some of their obligation to their employees where they would otherwise have to pay them to go to work.

Finally, let us just leave it at this. On bankruptcy, the chairman of the committee says that there are provisions in the bill that deal with it. I say to the chairman, he cannot have that in there because this is a bill that deals with the Fair Labor Standards Act. We are not dealing with bankruptcy law, so there is nothing to address the concerns of those who say, "I have got comp time and it is not taken care of because an employer goes out of business, I will not get my money."

There is nothing in the bill that would protect the employee beyond what is in current law, and the changes that we have in this bill do not address the bankruptcy laws that we currently have in effect. Therefore, an employee who finds himself or herself working for someone who goes out of business takes the risk of not getting money from the employer, and that is not fair.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentlewoman from Washington [Mrs. SMITH].

Mrs. SMITH of Washington. Mr. Chairman, I stand today in strong support of this legislation and I say it is about time.

For nearly 15 years I worked with mainly middle-aged women trying to juggle family and jobs and build a career, and as I hired them, so often it became real clear that we need to adjust. We needed to be able to let family and work have some latitude, and we find now that with the Fair Labor Standards Act it is very, very difficult.

The flexibility that we need, and yes, gentlemen, I will say, as women, often is stopped by law. I have not in my 15 years of managing a business found that often I could coerce employees very long before they wanted to go somewhere else. I think that that particular argument falls on the fact that we need good employees. We want to make it work for them, not take advantage of them.

I encourage my fellow colleagues to finally give women a chance. Give us the chance to balance work and family, put it all together and work with our employees in a way that makes sense. I urge my colleagues to strongly support this bill. It is about time.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Georgia [Ms. MCKINNEY].

Ms. MCKINNEY. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to this antifamily legislation. Let us face it, the Republican record has been hideous on workers rights, and this bill is just their Medusa of antiworker proposals.

In my 3½ years in Congress, I have never seen a bill more insidious than this attempt to lengthen the workweek with no corresponding increase in pay. Contrary to what the Republicans say, this bill abolishes overtime pay, period.

Does anyone believe for 1 minute that workers were consulted on this bill? The so-called Working Families Flexibility Act allows employers to suddenly coerce workers into taking comp time instead of overtime pay.

Employers will use this legislation to hire workers who agree to accept comp time instead of overtime pay. This bill allows employers to promote workers who acquiesce to comp time in lieu of overtime pay.

Unlike overtime pay, workers can only use their comp time when it is convenient for their employers, not their families. So much for family friendly legislation

Moreover, Mr. Chairman, workers can be forced to 75 hours a week and not see any comp time for 13 months. If the company goes bankrupt in that 13 months, too bad, the worker gets no comp time and no overtime pay. In effect, this bill forces workers to give their employers interest free loans until the boss says it is OK for them to use their accrued comp time.

For families who rely on overtime pay to supplement their low salaries, they will be comforted in knowing that they might get some time off in the next 13 months.

In short, Mr. Chairman, this bill legalizes the extraction of unpaid labor from workers at a time when people are already working longer and harder for less pay.

Finally, employers can already give workers comp time as long as it is used in the same week that the overtime is worked.

Mr. Chairman, I do not mind being a pit bull for the working men and women of this country.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentleman from Connecticut, [Mr. SHAYS].

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Chairman, I do not believe this debate. I simply do not believe this debate. This is really a debate between union leaders and rank-and-file members. The union leaders tell me they do not want their employees to have the choice, their union workers to have the choice between getting time and a half pay for time and a half vacation. The employees, the union members tell me they want the choice. It just seems to me logically that we would give them the choice.

What this bill does is simply allow for them to get time and a half pay or time and a half off. So, if an individual works 10 days, they would get 15 days off. If they worked 20 days overtime, they would get 30 days off. Their choice. If they chose not to, they could get 10 days of work. They could get 15 days of pay, 20 days of extra work. They could get 30 days of pay.

This is basically a choice to the individuals who work to allow them to decide for themselves. They are not idiots. They are not fools. Give them the choice.

What I cannot understand is the protections we have for these employees are the same as we have under the Fair Labor Standards Act, under the Family and Medical Leave. They can go to court directly or they can go to the Labor Department and the Labor Department can go to court against an employer who basically coerces a worker.

We have all the protections. Why should people in the private sector not have the same right that exists in the State, local, and Federal Governments?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, what is the time remaining?

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. GOODLING] has 8¾ minutes remaining, and the gentleman from Missouri [Mr. CLAY] has 5¼ minutes remaining.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from California [Mr. RIGGS].

Mr. RIGGS. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Chairman, I just want to again make a couple of points. One is that there are adequate employee protections built into the Working Families Flexibility Act and that explicit language in the bill prohibits an employer from compelling an employee to take compensatory time, or time off, in lieu of overtime compensation. So no employee in any occupation in any industry can be compelled to take compensatory time off in lieu of overtime compensation.

This is a good and fair bill. It is balanced. It is a bill that is designed to relieve some of the pressure, some of the strain that working families, particularly two-income families face today in America, and it is a bill that is designed to help families attend to their unique circumstance and needs.

This is a practice that has been working well in the public sector for years and years and years and I can speak to that from personal experience, and I really do not understand when we have the President on record as in favor of this concept, at least in favor of this legislation, conceptually saying, "You can choose money in the bank or time on the clock. With more Americans working more hours, simply spending more time with the family can be a dream in itself."

When you have the President of the United States on record as supporting this legislation conceptually, I cannot understand the kind of reckless claims that have been made about this legislation on this floor. This is sensible legislation.

We are not attacking the 40-hour workweek and we are not intent on eliminating overtime pay. This kind of extreme rhetoric does a disservice to the American people following this debate, and it is flat-out wrong. As I said before, this legislation does not eliminate or change the traditional 40-hour workweek. It simply provides employees with another option in the workplace, time off instead of overtime pay.

Mr. Chairman, today as we consider the Working Families Flexibility Act, we have a unique opportunity to do something good for America's working families. We have the chance to revolutionize an employee's ability to balance the growing demands of work and family.

While the concept of comptime may be revolutionary to some, to America's workers, who are increasingly frustrated about coping with the demands of contemporary life, it is an important and long-awaited reform. In fact, this is an issue that we should have acted on long ago.

Simply put, the Working Families Flexibility Act gives employees more power and control over their lives by allowing them take home pay or time off to help balance work, family, and personal responsibilities.

Surprisingly, because of an outdated labor law which was written in a time when issues such as a two-income family and child care were unheard of, employers and employees today do not have these options.

Common sense dictates that both employees and employers benefit from the ability to make flexible arrangements about compensation. By passing the Working Families Flexibility Act, we will give employers the ability to offer, and workers the ability to choose, either cash wages or paid time off for any overtime worked. At long last, working men and women will be able to achieve the elusive balance between work and family that they have long sought. They will be able to work, make a living, and spend more time with their families.

Unlike the irresponsible claims that opponents of this legislation are espousing, this bill does not attempt to eliminate overtime pay. However, it does provide employee protections to ensure that employees will not be forced to take comptime and to ensure that employers actually pay for any overtime accrued by a worker.

Those same opponents would have you believe that this legislation destroys the 40-hourweek. Wrong. This legislation protects the 40-hour workweek. Employees will continue to receive time-and-a-half pay for hours worked over 40 hours a week. If the employer decides to offer comptime—the employee gets the choice of whether to be paid in time off or cash.

The bottom line is this—working families win with the passage of the Working Families Flexibility Act. Over 60 percent of employees surveyed said that they would like to have the option to choose comptime instead of paid overtime. Why? To be able to spend precious time with their families. To go to school events with their children, to attend parent-teacher conferences or to even take a long-awaited family vacation. It is as simple as that. Families need more time together. The last thing families need are rigid, inflexible, and outdated Federal laws making basic family activities more difficult.

Working families and working conditions are going through major changes today. At the very least, we can make the simple changes that will allow them to build and enjoy strong and loving families.

We have a rare opportunity here today. I urge my colleagues to ignore the outrageous rhetoric that we have heard here today and listen to working Americans. Support this H.R. 2391 and support America's families.

Mr. Chairman, I include for the RECORD extraneous material on the Working Families Flexibility Act.

The legislation has no effect whatsoever on the 40-hour workweek for the purposes of calculating overtime. Employees who are covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act will continue to receive overtime pay for any hours worked over 40 in a week. If an employer decides to make comp time available as an option, then the employee will have the choice of taking overtime pay in the form of paid time off or overtime wages.

If an employee voluntarily chooses comp time over cash wages, then there must be an express mutual agreement in writing or some other verifiable statement between the employer and the employee, which must be retained by the employer in accordance with the recordkeeping provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Accrued comp time could be taken by the employee when the employee chooses to take it, so long as reasonable notice is given and its use doesn't unduly disrupt—the same standard used in the public sector and under the Family and Medical Leave Act—the operations of the business. Employers would be prohibited from requiring employees to take their accrued comp time solely at the convenience of the employer.

Employees would be able to accrue up to 240 hours of comp time within a 12-month period; however, employees and employers could agree to set a lower limit. Employers must pay employees in cash wages for any unused, accrued comp time at the end of each year.

Employees may request in writing, at any time, to be paid cash wages for accrued comp time. Employers must comply with the request within 30 days.

Employees may withdraw from a compensatory time agreement with an employer at any time. However, employers are required to provide employees with at least 30 days' notice prior to discontinuing a policy of offering comp time to employees.

Employers must provide at least 30 days notice before cashing out an employee's accrued comp time. However, employer may only cash out accrued comp time in excess of 80 hours.

The legislation allow double damages to be awarded against employers who coerce employees into choosing compensatory time instead of overtime wages or into using accrued comp time.

The legislation would require the Secretary of Labor to revise the Fair Labor Standards Act's posting requirements so that employees are notified of their rights and remedies regarding the use of comp time.

If an employer failed to pay cash wages to an employee for accrued comp time or refused to allow an employee to use accrued comp time, all of the current remedies under the Fair Labor Standards would apply, including enforcement by the Department of Labor and through individual lawsuits.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from Colorado [Mrs. SCHROEDER].

The CHAIRMAN. The gentlewoman from Colorado [Mrs. SCHROEDER] is recognized for 5½ minutes.

Mrs. SCHROEDER. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman from Missouri for yielding me this time, and I especially thank the gentleman from Missouri for his long, long, long battle in the trenches with me for real family leave.

The gentleman from Missouri understands this, and I have scars all over our bodies for having been beaten by many on this floor for having introduced over 9 years ago the Family Medical Leave Act, which is now passed and has been very, very positive.

Let me tell my colleagues when we finally got it passed and we finally got a President to sign it into law we only had 40 votes on the other side of the aisle to help us. Everyone else voted against family leave on that side of the aisle. Know what? Family leave has been a phenomenal help for America's families. It has been a phenomenal help in that it has allowed people to have unpaid leave at the time of birth or adoption of a family member or a serious illness of a family member.

So suddenly we have a Presidential election where everybody is talking about working family issues, because people are realizing the incredible strain America's families are under as they are trying to juggle their caregiver roles and their employer-employee roles and that stress is forcing American families every day to run faster and faster and faster, their tongues are hanging out; they feel like a squirrel in the wheel. They are more and more tired and they never get out of the bottom of the wheel.

So now we are getting ready to go into the campaign mode and we have to figure out what we did if we are one of those many people who did not vote for family leave that has become so successful.

We just finished a whole 2-year study showing that none of the terrible things they predicted would happen, happened. So the folks who did not vote for it have to find a way to cover their backsides. This is the bill, and this is a bill that I think any employee who works for the wage and hour provisions understands very seriously that this bill is the wrong way to go.

We hear people saying, oh, employers will not compel employees to say they would rather have time off than pay, time-and-a-half pay. Oh, yeah? Show me the employer that would rather give you money than time off. Employers are going to say, "You want to work here, this is a voluntary decision. If you voluntarily decide you want to work here, then you better bloody well volunteer to sign this thing saying if there is any overtime you will take time off rather than get money."

Let us be real clear about this. When people are working at those kinds of levels of jobs, they cannot negotiate with their employer like Michael Jordan. If they say I am not going to sign that, one of two things will happen: Either they will never get overtime, or they will not get hired at all. And employees know this. Who are we kidding here?

Now, let us go to the next level. So let us say a person has signed one of these and they are adding all this time that they are going to be able to use. The next part of the bill is they only get to use it when it is convenient for the employer. Now, if they have a working family, like I had for many years, let me tell my colleagues that is no good.

What we need is predictability. We need to be able to predict when we have to work and predict when we are going to have time off so that we can tell the school we can be there to help with the kids, or we can tell our mom that we can help her go shop for groceries, or we can do whatever our family's responsibilities are. If we do not have that predictability, we do not have anything that is worth anything.

So basically what this bill does, let us just put it right out there, if you are a minimum-wage worker and you work 47.5 hours a week, this bill mandates you get a 22-percent pay cut and time off whenever the employer finds that you can have it. But we cannot really program it. We cannot really plan it because we do not know when it is going to be.

If this side of the aisle were really serious about doing something, they would get on the bill that the gentleman from Missouri and many of the others of us are now trying to push, and that is let us give family medical leave for people who work for companies of 25 or more. When we passed this bill, we put it at 50. It has worked so well, let us lower the threshold to 25 or more. So people upon the birth of a baby or the adoption of a baby can have that ability to say I get time off to try to stabilize the situation.

Oh, no, they do not want to do that because they still really have not even bought into the family medical leave bill we passed that is working so well.

This bill also allows people to take uncompensatory time off a couple times a year to work in their child's school or to help in some community institution. It is kind of a community reinvestment kind of thing. This is what the President is for. But this is time the employee controls.

If my child is going on a field trip, that is when I need to have the time off, not 3 weeks later when it is a convenience for the employer. That is why this bill is a joke, and let us be perfectly clear about that.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Texas [Mr. SMITH].

Mr. SMITH of Texas. Mr. Chairman, if my colleagues want to make the workplace more family friendly, I urge them to vote for the Working Families Flexibility Act. This bill provides working mothers and fathers with the choice of comp time pay or overtime pay. This option empowers employees to balance family needs and career needs.

Mr. Chairman, there are some things that money simply cannot buy: time with your children, your parents, or your spouse. Comp time allows workers to choose more of all these things.

If Members believe that Congress should live under the same laws that govern the private sector, vote for the Working Families Flexibility Act. Since 1985, Federal, State, and local governments have been able to offer their employees comp time. Do not private sector employees have the same option? This bill says yes. Support the Working Families Flexibility Act for our families, our workers, and our children.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Chairman, first I would say to the gentlewoman that just spoke, yes, in the public sector it can be a condition of employment but in the legislation, if she would read it, she would find that no way can it be a condition of employment.

This is not some wild Republican idea. The President himself endorsed the concept. He has not sent us any legislation but endorsed the concept. Since most people apparently that I have heard speak over there have not read the legislation since we made 20 changes all geared to protect the employee, and there will be some more offered in an amendment to do the same, I would like to just tell my colleagues what is in the bill so if the American public is confused, at least they will know what is in the legislation.

The legislation has no effect whatsoever on the 40-hour workweek for the purpose of calculating overtime. Employers who are covered by the FLSA, the Fair Labor Standards Act, will continue to receive overtime pay for any hours worked over 40 in a week. If an employer decides to make comp time available as an option, then the employee will have the choice of taking overtime pay in the form of paid time off or overtime wages. If the employee voluntarily chooses comp time over cash wages, then there must be an express mutual agreement, in writing, or some other verifiable statement from the employer and the employee which must be retained by the employer in accordance with the recordkeeping provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Accrued comp time would be taken by the employee when the employee chooses to take it, so long as reasonable notice is given and its use does not unduly disrupt, which is taken from the standard used in the public sector and under the Family and Medical Leave Act, the operation of the business.

Employers would be prohibited from requiring employees to take their accrued comp time solely at the convenience of the employer. Employees would be able to accrue up to 240 hours of comp time within a 12-month period; however, employers and employees could agree to set a larger limit. Employers must pay employees in cash wages for any unused accrued comp time at end of the year.

Employees may request in writing at any time to be paid cash wage for accrued comp time. Employers must comply with the request within 30 days. Employees may withdraw from a compensatory time agreement with an employer at any time. However, employers are required to provide employees with at least 30 days' prior notice to discontinuing a policy of offering comp time to employees. Employers must provide at least 30 days' notice before cashing out an employee's accrued comp time. However, employers may only cash out accrued comp time in excess of 80 hours.

The legislation allows double damages, I repeat double damages to be awarded against employers who coerce employees into choosing compensatory time instead of overtime wages or into using accrued comp time and, I might add, also pay the attorney's fees.

The legislation would require the Secretary of Labor to revise the Fair Labor Standards Act, posting requirements so that employees are notified of their rights and remedies regarding the use of comp time.

If an employer failed to pay cash wages to an employee for accrued comp time or refused to allow an employee to use accrued comp time, all of the current remedies under the Fair Labor Standards Act would apply, including enforcement by the Department of Labor and through individual lawsuits.

It also makes it very clear that unused comp time in the case of bankruptcy is unpaid labor time and, therefore, moves it to the very top of the ladder when dealing with a bankruptcy situation.

The bill states unpaid comp time is considered the same as unpaid wages; accrued comp time has the same priority in bankruptcy as any other unpaid wages.

We have given Members an opportunity to give choice to the American worker, to those who are not members of a union. Of course, the union remains the same as it is. They negotiate whether they get comp time or whether they do not. But for all of the other, which is the largest percentage of the employees, they finally have an opportunity to do what 75 percent of all working Americans said they would like to do: have a choice; have a choice between compensatory time or overtime wages.

Now, I am sorry to hear, secondhandedly, that the Secretary of Labor has indicated that this might be something that he would have the President veto. I think it is very clear the President has to make a choice. He has to make a choice as to whether he represents the 75 percent of the Americans who would like to have this time or whether he wants the $36 to $46 million available for the campaign.

Mrs. MINK of Hawaii. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in opposition to H.R. 2391, the so called Working Family Flexibility Act, which will severely undermine long-standing protections for working men and women in this country.

The overtime requirement in the Fair Labor Standards Act was established to protect workers in this country from being forced to work excessive hours. The development of the right to premium pay—the time-and-a-half standard—for overtime compensation was intended to establish a market incentive to spread work among more employees and prevent employers from assigning excessive work to a fewer number of employees.

Along with the minimum wage this is a basic protection for workers in this country against potential abuses. H.R. 2391 would create a massive loophole for employers, which would allow them to deny employees their right to overtime compensation. Republicans argue that employers only have their employees best interest in mind and want to provide comp time so that employees can take time off to attend to family business. I have no doubt this is the case for many employers in this country. But evidence clearly points out that there are a significant number of employers who would not have such noble objectives.

Even the Employment Policy Foundation, an employer-funded organization, admits that workers are currently cheated out of overtime pay. They estimate that workers lose $19 billion a year in unpaid overtime. The foundation also estimates that 10 percent of workers entitled to overtime are not paid for the overtime. Other organizations believe that estimate is low. H.R. 2391 would make it easier for employers to get around the overtime law.

The majority claims that under this bill comp time would be purely voluntary for employees, yet the provisions of the bill provide no such assurances and in fact would allow employers to coerce workers to accept comp time instead of overtime pay.

The assignment of overtime work is purely at the discretion of the employer, this is the case under current law. This bill goes one step further and allows employers to decide what kind of compensation workers will receive for overtime work, and if such compensation is in the form of leave time, when they can take that leave. Nothing in the bill prohibits an employer from substituting current annual and vacation leave policies with comp time. And nothing in this bill prohibits employers from assigning overtime work on the basis of an employee's willingness to take comp time.

Under H.R. 2391 any employer could deny a worker the use of their comp time if the employer determines that it unduly disrupts the business. Even if the employee provided a month's notice to make a parent-teacher meeting or to attend a school play, the employer could deny the use of comp time. In fact, nothing in the bill assures workers that they can use their comp time to attend such events. It is all in the hands of the employers.

Finally, Mr. Chairman, H.R. 2391 does nothing to assure that the comp time provisions will be applied in a fair and nondiscriminatory manner. Employers can apply the comp time provisions in a purely arbitrary and capricious manner, which could subject employees to discrimination and even coercion by their employers.

We would all love workers to have family-friendly work policies, but this bill is not family-friendly. It seriously erodes long-standing labor protections for working families in this country. Family-friendly means assuring that workers in this country are treated fairly and are compensated adequately so they can provide a decent standard of living for their children and this the core of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

I urge my colleagues to vote "no" on H.R. 2391.

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the so-called Working Families Flexibility Act, H.R. 2391. While skillfully titled, this legislation will not, in fact, help today's working families cope with the struggles they face. Instead, this legislation will make life harder for those who toil each week to provide for their families. Perhaps it is unintentional, but unfortunately this bill represents yet another proposal put forth by the majority which will increase the strain on working families and jeopardize our nation's basic workplace protections.

This legislation attempts to offer workers a choice between overtime pay and compensatory time off when they work greater than 40 hours per week. However, the bill does not assure that the employer-employee agreements on this subject will be truly voluntary. Employers who wish to offer compensatory time rather than overtime will find a way to impose this choice on their employees. Today's workers, who face a climate of reduced job security and corporate downsizing, will find it difficult to reject their employers' stated preference for time off rather than overtime pay. For example, employers could screen job applicants or assign overtime to employees according to their willingness to accept comp time.

Reducing opportunities for overtime pay in this way is particularly damaging for the many workers in today's economy who depend on overtime to maintain a decent standard of living for themselves and their families. Fully two-thirds of the workers who earned overtime in 1994 had a total family income of less than $40,000. For these many workers at the low end of the wage scale, the extra dollars earned from overtime can mean the difference between family self-sufficiency and government dependence. At a time when we are rightly demanding that people move from welfare to work, we must not remove a basic safeguard—overtime pay for hours worked in excess of 40 per week—that has allowed low-wage workers to stand on their own.

Mr. Chairman, the overtime provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act have served this Nation well. They protect workers from demands for excessive work, reward, in a financially meaningful way, those who put in extra time for their employer, and by requiring premium pay for overtime, provide an incentive for businesses to create additional jobs. Weakening these overtime provisions and giving employers additional authority over the work schedules of their employees is not the way to help today's working families. I urge my colleagues to oppose this legislation.

Mr. REED. Mr. Chairman, this bill is another example of a good idea gone bad in the hands of the Majority, and that is why I will vote against it.

I support workers choosing compensatory time off instead of overtime. Moreover, I recognize the need to give employees greater flexibility, particularly in light of the number of families in which both parents must work. And, I also support giving workers the opportunity to take care of family issues, and that is why I fought for the Family and Medical Leave Act.

While the legislation before us today may sound like it embraces these concepts, it fails to expand employee options. Indeed, the bill, for all its efforts, would be a false promise to millions of hard-pressed workers, who want time off in lieu of overtime.

First, the bill does not establish universal access to comp time. It would be up to an employer to determine which workers are eligible for compensatory time off. In fact, an unscrupulous manager could deny comp time to an employee on any basis, while offering comp time to another worker performing the same job. Contrary to the protestations of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle, an employee in this situation would have no choice, no resource, and no chance at comp time.

Second, an employee would not sufficiently control the use of their comp time. Unlike overtime, an employee would not have comp time in hand. Instead, an employee would have to ask an employer when they could use their compensation. And, an employer can simply buy this comp time back.

Third, the amount of compensatory time that can be earned or banked is so great that it lessens the likelihood of an employer offering vacation. Currently, there is no law mandating vacation. However, this bill would provide yet another disincentive for paid leave, by allowing managers to tell their employees to earn comp time if they want vacation time. Obviously, an employee would lose out on both vacation and overtime under this scenario.

Finally, this bill fails to address the unique circumstances of certain workers. For example, a carpenter, a temporary employee, or a garmentmaker who works overtime is currently paid time-and-a-half. That is the law, but, under this legislation, if these workers accept comp time, they may never get to use it because of the nature of their industry. Indeed, these kind of workers often move from employer to employer, and I am skeptical if their future employers would honor a previous employer's comp time. The same question arises if an employer goes bankrupt.

Simply put, H.R. 2391 is not universal, does not provide choice, jeopardizes existing leave policies, and fails to address the unique circumstances of certain workers.

Mr. Chairman, there is a better way. The President has proposed a sensible alternative to this poor second cousin, and I support the President's plan.

Mr. Chairman, America's hard working families deserve the choice between overtime and comp time. Regrettably, H.R. 2391 fails to deliver it.

Mr. SAWYER. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the Ballenger comp time bill for many of the reasons that have already been cited during the limited amount of committee and floor debate on this measure. It fails to count used comp time as hours worked as part of a 40-hour week. It lacks any real penalties for employer coercion of workers. And it emphasizes employer, rather than employee, choice in numerous areas, including the critical question of when and if comp time can be used.

Mr. BALLENGER approached me soon after the committee mark-up and asked me why I opposed it. I told him that one of my concerns centered on the provision that allowed employers unilaterally to "cash out" an employee's entire accrued comp time without warning. The bill now before us is much improved in that regard, and I do appreciate both those changes and the gentleman's effort to solicit my views.

However, approaching selected Members after the committee has already considered the bill is decidedly not the same as attempting to work out a compromise that all Members could support. And in this case, there was a real opportunity to do that. Earlier this year, Mr. CLAY began an effort to put forth a genuine counterproposal which would be the basis for negotiations. That process ended, however, when the Republicans on the committee scheduled, and then cancelled, an emergency mark-up of the bill, designed to rush the bill to the floor without substantive debate.

I truly wish that had not happened. This bill is better than the committee bill, which itself was better than the seriously-flawed subcommittee version. But it still has troubling shortcomings.

The concept of comp time seems straightforward. But the practical details and implications of allowing comp time are numerous and complex. If that weren't the case, we could have changed the law long ago.

Forcing workers to work overtime not only keeps them away from their families, it can also diminish the number of jobs available. Time-and-a-half pay for overtime work was intended to limit required overtime for these very reasons. By diminishing that deterrent—by, in effect, selling required overtime work as a positive employee benefit—this bill could actually encourage the very exploitative behavior that the Fair Labor Standards Act was intended to prevent.

It does not have to. But we need to think through carefully the practical details of what this bill would actually do. We have not had the opportunity to do that in an open forum. We owe it to the American people to delay consideration of this proposal until we have done so.

Mr. VENTO. Mr. Chairman, I rise today in strong opposition to this bill which changes the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Today working overtime and the money it provides in pay have become regrettably a necessity, not an option, for many workers. Now some want to take away, the premium and make it flexible for the employer.

For over 50 years these basic rules of the 40 hour workweek have ensured fair treatment and pay for working men and women. There is no need to change them now other than to weaken and undercut workers' rights and benefits. No matter how you package these changes, the bottom line is that workers are shortchanged and pushed to a work schedule in line with the employers' interests. The fact is that the current FLSA is working. Workers don't need the help purported to be extended in this measure.

Once again during this Congress, I come to the floor of this House to oppose the Republican majority's efforts to strip away the long-standing and hard-fought rights of working men and women in this country. The bill before us today is a direct assault on the Fair Labor Standards Act and the traditional 40 hour workweek with premium compensation for work beyond the 8-hour day. Workers don't need to be defined into lower pay checks.

H.R. 2391, the so-called Working Families Flexibility Act, would allow employers to grant compensatory time to workers instead of overtime pay as long as there is a so-called mutual agreement or understanding. Although this may seem like a reasonable concept at first glance, take a good long realistic look at this legislation's predicate. Apparently, my Republican colleagues intend to rely on the good nature of employers and assume an equal authority between employer and employee since this measure does absurdly little to protect workers from obvious pressure and abuse that could and would occur if this measure is implemented. It makes me wonder if the advocates are connected to the real world of work. Many employers are fair and evenhanded. That some are not is or should be readily apparent.

The bill before us today is so deficient as to be considered nothing other than antiworker, antilabor legislation. The bill does precious little to stop employers from coercing their employees to accept compensatory time instead of pay—its anticoercing provisions are weak and unenforceable; it does nothing to stop employers from giving overtime hours only to workers who will choose compensatory time; it even puts restrictions on the use of compensatory time by workers; and it does nothing to prohibit employers from hiring only workers that will accept compensatory time as a condition of their employment. So much for safe guards.

Working families in this country are struggling to make ends meet. Many families depend on the additional income of overtime pay to get by. So when these families are forced to mutually agree to accept compensatory time, they go without. Compensatory time does not pay the bills nor fairly pay for the inconvenience of working beyond the defined day.

Finally, it amazes me how my Republican colleagues can claim this measure is pro-working families. Why do you think that every major labor group opposes this measure—if this bill were truly positive for the American workers, that wouldn't be the case, labor groups would favor such. Well, labor unions do not support, they oppose—strongly oppose this legislation. Let's identify this bill for what it is; yet another break for the Republican Party's big corporate friends at the expense of the American working men and women.

I urge my colleagues to defeat this bill.

Mr. CUNNINGHAM. Mr. Chairman, as a co-sponsor of H.R. 2391, I thank you for recognizing me in support of this important legislation, the Working Families Flexibility Act.

In San Diego County, families work hard to make ends meet. They have some of the county's longest commutes. They struggle to make time with their children. According to a Yankelovich poll cited in the June 16, 1996, Wall Street Journal, 62 percent of parents "believed their families had been hurt by changes they had experienced at work, such as more stress or longer hours." And the Department of Labor finds that 70 percent of working women with children cite balancing work and family responsibilities as their No. 1 concern.

Families want more flexibility in their work schedules, to help accommodate soccer games, school awards, or just time with the children.

That's why the Working Families Flexibility Act is so important. Given the fact that many employees are working overtime, the Working Families Flexibility Act brings the Fair Labor Standards Act into the 1990's. It gives employees a choice: get paid time-and-a-half, or take time-and-a-half off with the family. All that's needed is a mutual agreement between the employer and the employee. Workers can accumulate up to 240 hours of comp time. Any comp time that is not taken must be paid at time-and-a-half. And all comp time must be cashed-out once a year into time-and-a-half pay.

This is the right thing to do. Three out of five workers working overtime would like to take comp time instead of time-and-a-half pay.

Interestingly enough, Congress granted similar flexibility to public sector employers 11 years ago. But the private sector and small businesses are prohibited by the FLSA from offering this kind of family-friendly flexibility to their own employees. If this kind of flexibility is good enough for Government employees, it's good enough for the rest of America.

Last Month, President Clinton joined the bandwagon in support of more flexibility in family work schedules. But the President's proposal does not do the job for America's working families. It creates unnecessary bureaucratic paperworker for employers. And it does not allow employees to bank any sizeable amount of their comp time, as the Working Families Flexibility Act does. Nevertheless, we appreciate the President's interest.

The Working Families Flexibility Act gives working families a better chance to get what they want and what they need: time with their children, with their family, friends and loved ones. It includes important protections for employees and employers. It is a balanced, reasonable approach to the work and family environment of the 1990's. I urge all members to support it, because families support it, too.

The CHAIRMAN. All time for general debate has expired.

Pursuant to the rule, the bill shall be considered for amendment under the 5-minute rule for 2 hours. The committee amendment in the nature of a substitute printed in the bill is considered as an original bill for the purpose of amendment and is considered read.

The text of the committee amendment in the nature of a substitute is as follows:

H.R. 2391

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Working Families Flexibility Act of 1996".

SEC. 2. COMPENSATORY TIME.

Subsection (o) of section 7 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (29 U.S.C. 207) is amended—

(1) by striking paragraphs (1) through (5) and inserting the following:

"(1) An employee may receive, in accordance with this subsection and in lieu of monetary overtime compensation, compensatory time off at a rate not less than one and one-half hours for each hour of employment for which overtime compensation is required by this section.

"(2) An employer may provide compensatory time under paragraph (1) only—

"(A) pursuant to—

"(i) applicable provisions of a collective bargaining agreement, memorandum of understanding, or any other agreement between the employer and representatives of such employees, or

"(ii) in the case of employees who are not represented by a collective bargaining agent or other representative designated by the employee, an agreement or understanding arrived at between the employer and employee before the performance of the work if such agreement or understanding was entered into knowingly and voluntarily by such employee;

"(B) in the case of an employee who is not an employee of a public agency, if such employee has affirmed, in a written or otherwise verifiable statement that is made, kept, and preserved in accordance with section 11(c), that the employee has chosen to receive compensatory time in lieu of overtime compensation; and

"(C) if the employee has not accrued compensatory time in excess of the limit applicable to the employee prescribed by paragraph (5).

In the case of employees described in subparagraph (A)(ii) who are employees of a public agency and who were hired before April 15, 1986, the regular practice in effect on such date with respect to compensatory time off for such employees in lieu of the receipt of overtime compensation, shall constitute an agreement or understanding described in such subparagraph. Except as provided in the preceding sentence, the provision of compensatory time off to employees of a public agency for hours worked after April 14, 1986, shall be in accordance with this subsection. An employer may provide compensatory time under paragraph (1) to an employee who is not an employee of a public agency only if such agreement or understanding was not a condition of employment.

"(3) An employer which is not a public agency and which provides compensatory time under paragraph (1) to employees shall not directly or indirectly intimidate, threaten, or coerce or attempt to intimidate, threaten, or coerce any employee for the purpose of—

"(A) interfering with such employee's rights under this subsection to request or not request compensatory time off in lieu of payment of overtime compensation for overtime hours; or

"(B) requiring any employee to use such compensatory time.

"(4)(A) An employee, who is not an employee of a public agency, may accrue not more than 240 hours of compensatory time.

"(B)(i) Not later than January 31 of each calendar year, the employee's employer shall provide monetary compensation for any compensatory time off accrued during the preceding calendar year which was not used prior to December 31 of the preceding year at the rate prescribed by paragraph (6). An employer may designate and communicate to the employer's employees a 12-month period other than the calendar year, in which case such compensation shall be provided not later than 31 days after the end of such 12-month period.

"(ii) The employer may provide monetary compensation for an employee's unused compensatory time at any time. Such compensation shall be provided at the rate prescribed by paragraph (6).

"(C) An employee may also request in writing that monetary compensation be provided, at any time, for all compensatory time accrued which has not yet been used. Within 30 days of receiving the written request, the employer shall provide the employee the monetary compensation due in accordance with paragraph (6).

"(5)(A) If the work of an employee of a public agency for which compensatory time may be provided included work in a public safety activity, an emergency response activity, or a seasonal activity, the employee engaged in such work may accrue not more than 480 hours of compensatory time for hours worked after April 15, 1986. If such work was any other work, the employee engaged in such work may accrue not more than 240 hours of compensatory time for hours worked after April 15, 1986. Any such employee who, after April 15, 1986, has accrued 480 or 240 hours, as the case may be, of compensatory time off shall, for additional overtime hours of work, be paid overtime compensation.

"(B) If compensation is paid to an employee described in subparagraph (A) for accrued compensatory time off, such compensation shall be paid at the regular rate earned by the employee at the time the employee receives such payment.

"(6)(A) An employee of an employer which is not a public agency who has accrued compensatory time off authorized to be provided under paragraph (1) shall, upon the voluntary or involuntary termination of employment, be paid for the unused compensatory time at a rate of compensation not less than—

"(i) the average regular rate received by such employee during the period during which the compensatory time was accrued, or

"(ii) the final regular rate received by such employee, whichever is higher.

"(B) An employee of an employer which is a public agency who has accrued compensatory time off authorized to be provided under paragraph (1) shall, upon the voluntary or involuntary termination of employment, be paid for the unused compensatory time at a rate of compensation not less than—

"(i) the average regular rate received by such employee during the last 3 years of the employee's employment, or

"(ii) the final regular rate received by such employee, whichever is higher.

"(C) Any payment owed to an employee under this sub-section for unused compensatory time shall, for purposes of section 16(b), be considered unpaid overtime compensation.

"(7) An employee—

"(A) who has accrued compensatory time off authorized to be provided under paragraph (1), and

"(B) who has requested the use of such compensatory time, shall be permitted by the employee's employer to use such time within a reasonable period after making the request if the use of the compensatory time does not unduly disrupt the operations of the employer."; and

(2) by redesignating paragraphs (6) and (7) as paragraphs (8) and (9), respectively.

SEC. 3. REMEDIES

Section 16 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (29 U.S.C. 216) is amended—

(1) in subsection (b), by striking "(b) Any employer" and inserting "(b) Except as provided in subsection (f), any employer"; and

(2) by adding at the end of the following:

"(f) An employer which is not a public agency and which willfully violates section 7(o)(3) shall be liable to the employee affected in the amount of the rate of compensation (determined in accordance with section 7(o)(6)(A)) for each hour of compensatory time accrued by the employee and in an additional equal amount as liquidated damages reduced by the amount of such rate of compensation for each hour of compensatory time used by such employee."

The CHAIRMAN. Before consideration of any other amendment it shall be order to consider the amendment printed in House Report 104-704 if offered by the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. GOODLING], or his designee. That amendment shall be considered read, shall be debatable for 10 minutes, equally divided and controlled by the proponent and an opponent, shall not be subject to amendment, and shall not be subject to a demand for division of the question.

If that amendment is adopted, the bill, as amended, shall be considered as an original bill for the purpose of further amendment.

No further amendment is in order except those printed in the appropriate place in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD. Those amendments shall be considered read.

The Chairman of the Committee of the Whole may postpone until a time during further consideration in the Committee of the Whole a request for a recorded vote on amendment; and reduce to 5 minutes the minimum time for electronic voting on any postponed question that follows another electric vote without intervening business, provided that the minimum time for electronic voting on the first in any series of questions shall be 15 minutes.

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. GOODLING

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

"(iii) An employer which has adopted a policy offering compensatory time to employees may discontinue such policy upon giving employees 30 days notice. An employee who is not an employee of a public agency may withdraw an agreement or understanding described in paragraph (2)(A)(ii) at any time."

Page 5, line 11, insert before the period the following: "after giving the employee at least 30 days notice".

Page 7, beginning in line 12, strike ", for purposes of section 16(b)".

SEC. 4. NOTICE TO EMPLOYEES.

Not later than 30 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Labor shall revise the materials the Secretary provides, under regulations published at 29 C.F.R. 516.4, to employers for purposes of a notice explaining the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 to employees so that such notice reflects the amendments made to such Act by this Act.

The CHAIRMAN. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. GOODLING] and a Member opposed each will control 5 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. GOODLING].

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. BALLENGER].

Mr. BALLENGER. Mr. Chairman, this amendment clarifies and adds a number of employee-protections which will ensure that the choice of comp time is truly the employee's choice and to give employees control over when comp time is used or cashed in.

First, the amendment requires a private sector employer to give an employee 30 days notice prior to cashing out the employee's accrued comp time. However, employers may only cash out accrued comp time in excess of 80 hours, unless the cash out is in response to an employee request.

There has been some concern expressed about the fact that would an employer could cash out comp time. But, an employer is not required to offer comp time—so to offer it and then, in effect retract it, in the absence of a very compelling reason to do so, would not be a very sensible policy for an employer. The amendment addresses this concern by assuring that the employer could not cash out the first 80 hours of accrued comp time, unless the employee requests it.

Second, the amendment clarifies that an employee may withdraw from a comp time agreement with an employer at any time. Nothing in the bill currently prohibits an employee from doing so, but I have added language which explicitly gives the employee that right.

Third, the amendment would require employers to provide employees with 30 days notice prior to withdrawing a policy of offering comp time. There may be instances where an employer decides for whatever reason that providing comp time is not a workable option for that particular business. This would accommodate that type of situation by allowing the employer to discontinue the program, so long as the employees are provided with 30 days notice.

Fourth, the amendment requires the Secretary of Labor to revise the posting requirements under the regulations of the Fair Labor Standards Act to reflect the comp time provisions of the bill. This will help to ensure that employees are informed of the circumstances under which comp time may be provided and their rights regarding the use of comp time.

Fifth, the amendment would eliminate language which limited a private sector employee's remedies against an employer to willful violations of the anti-coercion provision. I know that this particular issue was of concern to my colleague on the Economic and Educational Opportunities Committee, Congressman ANDREWS. By removing the willful requirement, the remedies in the bill would be available to an employee who is directly or indirectly coerced by an employer into selecting or using comp time.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mrs. SCHROEDER. Mr. Chairman, I have a parliamentary inquiry.

The CHAIRMAN. The gentlewoman will state it.

Mrs. SCHROEDER. Mr. Chairman, under rule VIII, which talks about conflicts of interest and members and their votes, my question is, can Members of this body who own substantial parts of businesses that are under the Fair Labor Standards Act vote on this bill, since obviously this would affect very much their bottom line on their balance sheet?

The CHAIRMAN. Rule VIII commends questions of that sort to individual Members. It is under the discretion of individual Members.

Mrs. SCHROEDER. Mr. Chairman, further parliamentary inquiry. The Chairman is saying it would depend on that Member's business.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair is stating that it is left to the discretion of individual Members.

Mrs. SCHROEDER. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I am a little puzzled about this debate this afternoon. All during the debate, Members of the other side have been quoting the President as being in favor of this in concept. Now the floor manager quotes the Secretary of Labor as saying he is going to recommend to the President to veto the bill.

I am also confused about Members on the other side getting up talking about what a great thing family and medical leave is, when 190 of them voted against the Family and Medical Leave Act.

So, Mr. Chairman, I rise to oppose this manager's amendment which in my opinion is too little too late. I want to commend my Republican colleagues, the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. GOODLING] and the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. BALLENGER] for belatedly recognizing that their bill has many flaws. Frankly, the bill should not have been reported out of committee without basic employee protections in the first place. Mr. BALLENGER says that he has made 6 changes, Mr. GOODLING has referred to 20 some odd changes during this debate, which indicates to us that the bill should have been repaired in committee in a bipartisan agreement.

Apparently, there are more changes still to come if they think that this bill will meet the objections of the President and of the Democrats on this side of the aisle.

While the manager's amendment, Mr. Chairman, makes improvement in the bill, it does not make sufficient improvements to rescue a bill that is fatally flawed. H.R. 2391 still does not provide assurance that employees will be able to use the comp time they earn. The bill still permits employers to administer comp time in an arbitrary and capricious manner. The bill continues to discourage employers from offering paid leave.

The bill continues to encourage employers to work fewer employees for longer hours, and the bill continues to encourage further violations of the overtime law.

Most importantly, H.R. 2391 continues to undermine family income. The manager's amendment is a day late and a dollar short. I urge Members to vote against H.R. 2391 on final passage.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman from Missouri [Mr. CLAY] has the right to close.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, see all the rights the minority has, and they are always complaining.

Mr. Chairman, I yield the balance of my time to the gentlewoman from Connecticut [Mrs. JOHNSON] who also has cosponsored this amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The gentlewoman from Connecticut [Mrs. JOHNSON] is recognized for 2½ minutes.

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong support of the Working Families Flexibility Act and to commend the sponsor of the bill, Mr. BALLENGER, for his enlightened leadership in bringing forward this important legislation on behalf of working families. I am pleased to have been able to join him in offering this amendment to fine tune the bill and further clarify the protections for employees. This amendment will give employees greater control over the management of their accrued compensatory time and make clear the choice of compensatory time instead of overtime wages must be voluntary. Thus, the main criticism of this bill by AFL-CIO has been addressed. No one wants management to prevent employees from getting time plus one-half in wages for overtime if the employee needs the money more than time. But as to 70 percent of working women, for some, time is a far more valuable commodity and getting 1½ hours off for every hour of overtime would be blessing. And, this amendment assures that the employee's choice rules.

First, the amendment would require a private employer to give a 30 days notice prior to cashing out accrued comp time in excess of 80 hours, unless the cash out is requested by an employee, preserving the employee's right to access to the cash if an emergency comes up, or they find the sofa they always wanted, or a car, or new eyeglasses, or, as my daughter faces, the high cost of a new hearing aid. There has been some concern expressed about the fact that the bill would allow the employer to cash out comp time. But, an employer is not required to offer comp time—so to offer it and then in effect retract it, in the absence of a very compelling reason to do so, would not be a very sensible policy for an employer. Our amendment addresses this concern by adding a provision which assures that the employer would not be able to cash out the first 80 hours of accrued comp time, unless the cash out is initiated by the employee.

Second, the amendment clarifies that an employee may withdraw from compensatory time agreement with the employer at any time. Nothing in the bill currently prohibits an employee from doing so, but we have added language which explicitly gives the employee that right.

Third, the amendment would require the employer to provide the employees with 30 days notice prior to withdrawing a policy of offering compensatory time. There may be instances where an employer decides for whatever reason that providing comp time is not a workable option for that particular business. This would accommodate that type of situation by allowing the employer to discontinue the program, so long as the employees are provided with 30 days notice.

Finally, the amendment requires the Secretary of Labor to revise the posting requirements under the regulations of the Fair Labor Standards Act to reflect the comp time provisions of the bill. This will help to ensure that employees are informed of the circumstances under which comp time may be provided and their rights regarding the use of comp time.

The changes made by this amendment along with changes which have already been made to the bill by the Economic and Educational Opportunities Committee will ensure that employees are not coerced into selecting time off instead of wages. Employees will be able to decide for themselves what form of compensation best suits their individual needs.

Mr. Chairman, I believe that this is a sound amendment which further clarifies and improves the bill and should resolve many, if not all of the remaining concerns about the bill. The strength of this legislation is that it empowers workers by giving them a choice and it creates an opportunity for working men and women to have additional time with their families or to pursue interest outside of work.

I am pleased to have been able to work with my colleague, Mr. BALLENGER on this legislation. I commend him for the process that has produced this bill. His willingness to listen to all sides and develop a bill that simply offers employees a very desirable option of time plus ½ hours off for overtime work. What a gift for parents? for dental appointments, parent conferences, sick kids, emergencies, or just a little time alone!

Terrific. And how sadly small of the public employees unions to oppose the bill. They have a form of comp time, not as generous only hour for hour, but flexibility. They want to be included in this. But sadly and shortsightedly, AFSME and others oppose this legislation. I guess because they want to do collective bargaining on it. Yet this is simply a benefit, like other FLSA rules, that assures fair treatment of all employees. So I say to unions that oppose this, open up your hearts and support the interest of all working people of America.

I commend and thank Mr. BALLENGER for his perseverance and compassion and his sensitivity to the times we live in and the tough challenges young families and all workers face in today's workplaces.

I urge my colleagues to support this amendment.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Chairman, I yield the balance of my time to the gentleman from California [Mr. BECERRA].

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman from California [Mr. BECERRA] is recognized for 2½ minutes.

Mr. BECERRA. Mr. Chairman, either this is a good bill or it has got real problems. If it is a good bill, and that is what we were told when it left the committee, then why do we see more than 20 changes being made now at the last moment now that it is on the floor to try to correct all these problems in the bill?

Explain to me and explain to the American worker, who you are going to impose this upon, how a good bill comes out of committee and needs more than 20 changes through amendments that we do not have a chance to read very well because we get it at the last moment and tell American workers that these are good changes.

If they are so good, then why does the Wall Street Journal, which is not your most liberal of publications, and not your employee supporting of publications, make mention of analysis that they show that over 695,000 workers in America won settlements for overtime? Not that they claimed they were due overtime pay, they won settlements from their employers. There are estimates that two-thirds of America's workers deserve overtime and may not get it.

There is no problem in having flex time. No one here disagrees with that. What we are saying is, truly give the flex time to the person who has earned it, the employee. What you have here are too many problems in the bill because it does not give it to the employee. It gives the employer the right to determine who will take time off, how it will be called compensatory time.

Give it to them. Let us give it to them, but let us be honest and let us give them the time, not the employer. Once the employee has worked for that employer, he or she has earned either the salary or the time. But do not confuse the issues and do not deceive the American worker. Let them take the time. Do not let the employer all of a sudden have this leverage of denying overtime pay and saying, compensatory time is what you get whether you want it or not.

This is not a good bill. The 20-some-odd changes that we have had to make proves it. There will be more changes if this passes, and, hopefully, the President will veto it if it gets through here. Let us defeat this bill.

The CHAIRMAN. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. GOODLING].

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. TATE. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to strike the last word.

The CHAIRMAN. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Washington?

There was no objection.

Mr. TATE. I would like to engage in a colloquy with the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. BALLENGER].

I am concerned that it be absolutely clear that paragraph 3 of H.R. 2391 does not authorize public agencies to intimidate, threaten or coerce working police officers and firefighters in Washington State or anywhere else. Am I correct in understanding that such intimidate, threats or coercion would not be authorized under this provision in paragraph 3?

Mr. BALLENGER. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. TATE. I yield to the gentleman from North Carolina.

Mr. BALLENGER. Yes; the gentleman is correct. The provision in paragraph 3 is not intended to authorize any public agency to intimidate, threaten or coerce any public employee. This bill is specifically designed to deal with compensatory time in the private and not the public sector.

Mr. TATE. Mr. Chairman, do I understand that public sector employees are protected by Section 15(a), the antidiscriminatory provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act?

Mr. BALLENGER. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman will continue to yield, yes, section 15(a) of the Fair Labor Standards Act applies to any person who is covered by the act. H.R. 2391 does not change or affect coverage of section 15(a) in any way.

Mr. TATE. Mr. Chairman, do I understand the subcommittee chairman is willing to explore this issue involving public sector use of compensatory time in the next session of Congress and review these matters more fully?

Mr. BALLENGER. The gentleman is correct.

Mr. TATE. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman.

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MS. MCKINNEY

Ms. MCKINNEY. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will designate the amendment.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Page 6, line 1, strike "240" and insert "222".

SEC. 4. OVERTIME.

(a) AMENDMENT.—Section 7(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (29 U.S.C. 207(a)(1)) is amended by striking "forty" and inserting "thirty-seven".

(b) REVISIONS.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Labor shall report to the Committee on Economic and Educational Opportunities of the House of Representatives the revisions required to be made in the employment hours specified in section 7 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 to conform to the amendment made by subsection (a).

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Chairman, I reserve a point of order against the amendment.

Ms. MCKINNEY. Mr. Chairman, I rise to offer this amendment because I believe that this is an amendment whose time has come. Unfortunately, I understand that it will be ruled nongermane and, therefore, I offer the amendment but I will withdraw the amendment as well.

I do want to talk about my amendment, which instead of increasing the workweek as this legislation does, my amendment reduces the workweek. In fact, while this is called the comp time bill, some of my friends have said this is the chump time bill because our colleagues on the other side of the aisle are taking the working men and women of this country for chumps.

My amendment reduces the workweek as defined in the Fair Labor Standards Act from 40 hours to 37 hours. That means that overtime pay would start at 37 hours rather than 40 hours and also that comp time would start at 37 hours rather than 40 hours.

Already the United States lags far behind other countries in terms of our time off for our workers. I would like to submit for the RECORD an article from the Atlanta Constitution that documents the fact that we lag behind other industrialized countries in the world with respect to the time off for our men and women who are in the work force.

We do not need to be talking about making our hard-pressed workers work longer hours for even less money. If America's workers had 3 hours less work time, what would we see? I believe we would see more families together. I think we would see more fathers and mothers with quality time with their children. We would see an enhancement in the quality of life for our working men and women, our working fathers and mothers. I think if our colleagues truly supported family time, they would support this amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to withdraw my amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. Is there objection to the request of gentlewoman from Georgia?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN. Are there further amendments? The question is on the committee amendment in the nature of a substitute, as amended.

The committee amendment in the nature of a substitute, as amended, was agreed to.

The CHAIRMAN. Under the rule, the Committee rises.

Accordingly the Committee rose; and the Speaker pro tempore [Mr. WELLER] having assumed the chair, Mr. LAHOOD, Chairman of the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union, reported that the Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 2391) to amend the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 to provide compensatory time for all employees, pursuant to House Resolution 488, he reported the bill back to the House with an amendment adopted by the Committee of the Whole.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the rule, the previous question is ordered.

Is a separate vote demanded on the amendment to the Committee amendment in the nature of a substitute adopted by the Committee of the Whole? If not, the question is on the Committee amendment in the nature of a substitute.

The committee amendment in the nature of a substitute was agreed to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the engrossment and third reading of the bill.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read a third time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the passage of the bill.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. CLAY. Mr. Speaker, I object to the vote on the ground that a quorum is not present and make the point of order that a quorum is not present.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Evidently a quorum is not present.

The Sergeant at Arms will notify absent Members.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 225, nays 195, not voting 14, as follows:

Mr. LIPINSKI and Mr. BEVILL changed their vote from "yea" to "nay."

So the bill was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Mr. SISISKY. Mr. Speaker, I was unavoidably absent during tests related to my chemotherapy. Had I been present during consideration of H.R. 2391, the Compensatory Time Act, I would have voted against the bill.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the bill just passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. WELLER). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania?

There was no objection.

VETERANS' HEALTH CARE ELIGIBILITY REFORM ACT OF 1996

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The pending business is the question of suspending the rules and passing the bill, H.R. 3118, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. STUMP] that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 3118, as amended, on which the yeas and nays are ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 416, nays 0, not voting 17, as follows:

So (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

REMOVAL OF NAME OF MEMBER
AS COSPONSOR OF H.R. 3481

Mr. CHRYSLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that my name be removed from the list of cosponsors of H.R. 3481. My name was included in error.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. WELLER). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Illinois?

There was no objection.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFEREES ON H.R. 3540, FOREIGN OPERATIONS, EXPORT FINANCING, AND RE-LATED PROGRAMS APPROPRIA-TIONS ACT, 1997

Mr. CALLAHAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to take from the Speaker's table the bill (H.R. 3540) making appropriations for foreign operations, export financing, and related programs for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1997, and for other purposes, with Senate amendments thereto, disagree to the Senate amendments, and agree to the conference asked by the Senate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Alabama?

There was no objection.

MOTION TO INSTRUCT OFFERED BY MR. WILSON
Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I offer a motion to instruct.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will report the motion.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. WILSON moves that in resolving the differences between the House and Senate, the managers on the part of the House at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the bill H.R. 3540, be instructed to provide funding for the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) at the level specified by the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under clause 1(b) of rule XXVIII, the gentleman from Texas [Mr. WILSON] and the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. CALLAHAN] each will control 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Texas [Mr. WILSON].

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, the House provided $100 million for the U.N. Children's Fund, commonly known as UNICEF. This is the same level of funding the UNICEF received in fiscal year 1996 and will allow them to continue their essential work around the world helping needy children.

The Senate has provided only $90 million which would be a cut of $10 million below last year's spending level and would be a setback to UNICEF's ability to make progress against childhood disease and hunger.

I know that the gentleman from Alabama [Mr. CALLAHAN], the chairman of the subcommittee, feels strongly about UNICEF and is prepared to accept this motion. I am taking my opportunity to use the motion to instruct on UNICEF because of its importance to the world's children and to demonstrate to the other body the depths of our commitment on the House side to provide the full $100 million.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. CALLAHAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I concur with the gentleman from Texas and agree with him that the House should instruct the conferees to protect the $100 million for UNICEF and, therefore, support the motion to instruct.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the motion to instruct.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion to instruct offered by the gentleman from Texas [Mr. WILSON].

The motion to instruct was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair appoints the following conferees:

Messrs. CALLAHAN, PORTER, LIVINGSTON, LIGHTFOOT, WOLF, PACKARD, KNOLLENBERG, FORBES, BUNN of Oregon, WILSON, YATES, Ms. PELOSI, Mr. TORRES, Mrs. LOWEY, and Mr. OBEY.

There was no objection.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. CALLAHAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 3540 and that I may include tabular and extraneous material.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Alabama?

There was no objection.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. LIVINGSTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 3610, Department of Defense Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 1997.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Louisiana?

There was no objection.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFEREES ON H.R. 3610, DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1997

Mr. LIVINGSTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to take from the Speaker's table the bill (H.R. 3610) making appropriations for the Department of Defense for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1997, and for other purposes, with a Senate amendment thereto, disagree to the Senate amendment, and agree to the conference asked by the Senate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Louisiana? The Chair hears none, and without objection, appoints the following conferees:

Messrs. YOUNG of Florida, MCDADE, LIVINGSTON, LEWIS of California, SKEEN, HOBSON, BONILLA, NETHERCUTT, ISTOOK, MURTHA, DICKS, WILSON, HEFNER, SABO, and OBEY.

There was no objection.

MOTION TO CLOSE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE MEETINGS ON H.R. 3610, DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1997, WHEN CLASSIFIED NATIONAL SECURITY INFORMATION IS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Mr. LIVINGSTON. Mr. Speaker, I offer a motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will report the motion.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. LIVINGSTON moves, pursuant to rule XXVIII, clause 6(a) of the House rules, that the conference meetings between the House and the Senate on the bill, H.R. 3610, making appropriations for the Department of Defense for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1997, and for other purposes, be closed to the public at such times as classified national security information is under consideration; provided, however, that any sitting Member of Congress shall have a right to attend any closed or open meeting.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Louisiana [Mr. LIVINGSTON].

Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XXVIII, the yeas and nays are ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 410, nays 3, not voting 20, as follows:

Messrs. BECERRA, TIAHRT, BOEHNER, and LONGLEY changed their vote from "nay" to "yea."

So the motion was agreed to.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PERMISSION TO FILE CONFERENCE REPORT ON H.R. 3603, AGRICULTURE, RURAL DEVELOPMENT, FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1997

Mr. SKEEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the managers on the part of the House may have until midnight tonight to file a conference report on the bill (H.R. 3603) making appropriations for Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies programs for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1997, and for other purposes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LATOURETTE). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New Mexico?

There was no objection.

PERMISSION TO FILE CONFERENCE REPORT ON H.R. 3517, MILITARY CONSTRUCTION APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1997

Mr. SKEEN. I ask unanimous consent that the managers on the part of the House may have until midnight tonight to file the conference report on the bill (H.R. 3517) making appropriations for military construction, family housing, and base realignment and closure for the Department of Defense for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1997, and for other purposes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New Mexico?

There was no objection.

FURTHER MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

A further message from the Senate by Mr. Lundregan, one of its clerks, announced that the Senate had passed with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested, a bill of the House of the following title:

H.R. 3754. An act making appropriations for the Legislative Branch for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1997, and for other purposes.

The message also announced that the Senate insists upon its amendments to the bill (H.R. 3754) "An Act making appropriations for the Legislative Branch for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1997, and for other purposes," requests a conference with the House on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses thereon, and appoints Mr. MACK, Mr. BENNETT, Mr. CAMPBELL, Mr. HATFIELD, Mrs. MURRAY, Ms. MIKULSKI, and Mr. BYRD to be the conferees on the part of the Senate.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFEREES ON H.R. 3754, LEGISLATIVE BRANCH APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1997

Mr. PACKARD. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to take from the Speaker's table the bill (H.R. 3754) making appropriations for the legislative branch for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1997, and for other purposes, with Senate amendments thereto, disagree to the Senate amendments and agree to the conference asked by the Senate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

MOTION TO INSTRUCT OFFERED BY MR. THORNTON.

Mr. THORNTON. Mr. Speaker, I offer a motion to instruct.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. THORNTON moves that the managers on the part of the House at the conference on the bill, H.R. 3754, be instructed to concur in the Senate amendments authorizing continuation of and making funds available for the American Folklife Center at the Library of Congress.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 1(b), rule XXVIII, the gentleman from Arkansas [Mr. THORNTON] will be recognized for 30 minutes, and the gentleman from California [Mr. PACKARD] will be recognized for 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Arkansas [Mr. THORNTON].

Mr. THORNTON. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I will not take the time. This is a motion to instruct conferees to carry out the purposes of continuing the American Folklife Center in operation at the Library of Congress as proposed in the Senate legislation.

This is a good motion to instruct.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from California [Mr. PACKARD].

Mr. PACKARD. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding to me. I appreciate the motion to instruct and accept the motion to instruct and hope that the gentleman will pursue it in conference.

Mr. THORNTON. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. PACKARD. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the motion to instruct.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion to instruct offered by the gentleman from Arkansas [Mr. THORNTON].

The motion to instruct was agreed to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair appoints the following conferees: Messrs. PACKARD, YOUNG of Florida, TAYLOR of North Carolina, MILLER of Florida, WICKER, LIVINGSTON, THORNTON, SERRANO, FAZIO of California, and OBEY.

There was no objection.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE HON. BARBARA-ROSE COLLINS, MEMBER OF CONGRESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following communication from the Hon. BARBARA-ROSE COLLINS, Member of Congress:

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES,
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, DC, July 25, 1996.

Hon. NEWT GINGRICH,
Speaker, House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: This is to formally notify you, pursuant to Rule L (50) of the Rules of the House of Representatives, that the custodian of records in my Washington office has been served with a grand jury subpoena duces tecum issued by the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan.

After consultation with the Office of General Counsel, I have determined that compliance with the subpoena may be consistent with the precedents and privileges of the House with respect to some documents sought by the subpoena, but that the subpoena may seek other documents that are privileged from production by the Speech or Debate Clause of the Constitution.

Sincerely,
BARBARA-ROSE COLLINS,
Member of Congress.

THE SAFE MOTHERHOOD REPORT

(Mrs. SCHROEDER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks and include extraneous material.)

Mrs. SCHROEDER. Mr. Speaker, today is my 56th birthday. I am very, very happy to be here because on my 30th birthday, 26 years ago, I spent it in intensive care, getting last rites, suffering from complications due to childbirth. Obviously, safe motherhood has always been a great concern of mine.

I am putting today in the RECORD the report that I asked for from the Department of Health and Human Services on the status of safe motherhood in America. This report goes right at the myths, and it is time we put those myths aside.

I was startled by the findings that almost 25 percent of the deliveries in America, both vaginal and caesarean, have serious maternal complications. I was startled to read that probably maternal deaths are underreported by at least half. It is time we start dealing with this health risk to women very seriously, put the myths aside, and I hope everyone reads this report.

Mr. Speaker, early this century when women were fighting for the right to vote, safe motherhood was a rallying cry for them. In 1913, more women between the age of 15 and 44 died in childbirth than from any other cause except for tuberculosis.

With all the advances in medical treatment and technology, we have moved a long way toward making the goal of safe motherhood a reality. But we are not there yet. Young, healthy women still die in this country because of complications due to pregnancy and childbirth.

I have been amazed at how little American, including Members of Congress, know about what can go wrong during pregnancy. As a woman who almost died in childbirth, I can assure you it can happen. For this reason, earlier this year, I asked the Department of Health and Human Services for a report on the current trends and status of safe motherhood in the United States. Today I am releasing that report.

I was startled by the findings:

More than half of pregnancy-related deaths are probably still unreported. If the U.S. were to improve its surveillance, these deaths, pregnancy mortality ration would more than double.

A quarter of all deliveries—both vaginal and caesarian—are associated with serious maternal complications.

Risks of pregnancy-related deaths vary according to age and race. Women older than 40 have nine times the risk of dying compared with women ages 20–24. African American women are three to four times more likely to die due to pregnancy complications than are white women.

It's time to cut through all the cultural mystique surrounding pregnancy and childbirth and treat it as a serious women's health issue. Pregnancy is not a 9-month cruise: I hope my colleagues will read this report and then join me in introducing the safe motherhood initiative so that we can make every childbirth, a safe one.

Mr. Speaker, I include the report previously referenced. The material referred to as follows:

INFORMATION ON HEALTH ISSUES INVOLVED IN SAFE MOTHERHOOD AND IMPROVING PREGNANCY OUTCOMES

UNINTENDED PREGNANCY

More than one-half of all pregnancies in the United States are unintended. Unintended pregnancy is defined, by the National Survey of Family Growth (NSFG), as a pregnancy which, at the time of conception, was either mistimed (desired at a later time) or unwanted (not desired at any time). The proportion of unintended pregnancies, by age of mother, ranges from 21 percent for women aged 25 to 34 years to 77 percent for women over 40 years of age. It is not really surprising that 82 percent of adolescent (aged 15–19 years) pregnancies—where the young mother is probably unmarried, has not completed her education, and is not able to adequately support her child—are unintended.

The most recent information on unintended pregnancy comes from the 1995 Institute of Medicine (IOM) report The Best Intentions. This report notes that when a pregnancy is unintended, women are more likely to seek prenatal care after the first trimester or not at all.

They are also more likely to use harmful substances, such as tobacco or alcohol, during pregnancy; the newborn is more likely to be of low birth weight. A disproportionate number of women who experience an unintended pregnancy have never been married, are over 40 or under 20 years of age. An unintended pregnancy can also lead to abortion. There are an estimated 1.5 million abortions each year in the United States. If all pregnancies were intended, however, there would be a 45 percent reduction in births to unmarried women and a 90 percent reduction in births to teenagers. The IOM report states: All pregnancies should be intended—that is, they should be consciously and clearly desired at the time of conception.

MATERNAL MORTALITY

Although deaths related to pregnancy have declined dramatically in this century, our ability to fully describe the magnitude of maternal mortality in the United States is still less than optimal. Indeed, there is strong evidence that maternal mortality is underestimated in developed countries, including the United States. Not all developed countries use the same methods for identifying pregnancy-associated deaths. In the United States, although at least six different sources are used to count such deaths, the actual number and rates of maternal death are unknown. It is also difficult to discern which of these deaths are casually related to pregnancy. An understanding of the characteristics of maternal deaths is the first step toward developing appropriate prevention strategies.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), in collaboration with the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG), has expanded the definition of maternal mortality to pregnancy-related mortality, which includes any death caused by pregnancy or its complications during or within one year of pregnancy. Pregnancy-associated deaths, on the other hand, are those that occur during or within one year of pregnancy, regardless of the cause.

The pregnancy-related mortality ratio in the United States increased from 7.2 per 100,000 live births in 1987 to 10.0 per 100,000 live births in 1990, probably as a result of improved surveillance (Berg et al., in press). Although relatively rare, a higher risk of pregnancy-related death is observed with increasing maternal age, increasing live birth order, no prenatal care, and among unmarried women. Black women continue to have mortality ratios three to four times that of white women. The major causes of pregnancy-related deaths are hemorrhage, embolism (blood clots or amniotic fluid), pregnancy-included hypertension, and infection. The leading causes of death, however, vary by the outcome of the pregnancy.

For women who die after a spontaneous or induced abortion (6% of all pregnancy-related deaths), the leading causes of death are infection (50%), hemorrhage (19%), and embolism (11%). For women who die of ectopic pregnancy (11% of all pregnancy-related deaths), 95 percent die of hemorrhage. For women who die prior to delivery (8% of all pregnancy-related deaths), the leading causes of death are embolism (34%), hemorrhage (15%), and infection (12%). Most pregnancy-related deaths follow a live birth (55%); of these deaths, the leading causes are pregnancy-induced hypertension and embolism (23%) and hemorrhage (21%).

INTERNATIONAL COMPARISONS

Several special studies done by states using linkage of live birth vital records with deaths of women of reproductive age, as well as studies in Europe, indicate that current methods of counting pregnancy-related deaths only capture one-half to one-third of all such deaths. For example, Berg et al. (in press) describe the results from a study of all deaths to women of reproductive age in France, which found that 1.3 percent of deaths to women in this age group occurred during or within 42 days of pregnancy and were casually related to pregnancy. Assuming that the underlying risk and distribution of death among U.S. women in this same age group is comparable to that in France, Berg et al. observed that if the 1.3 percent mortality estimate is applied to the 70,130 deaths to reproductive age women in the United States, one would expect a pregnancy-related mortality ratio of roughly 23.5 per 100,000 live births. Thus, the magnitude of the problem is several times greater than generally reported.

MATERNAL MORBIDITY

Pregnancy-related morbidity is more difficult to define and is not as well studied as mortality. Pregnancy-related morbidity may occur before, during, or after delivery. Problems which occur may be untreated, treated in some type of ambulatory setting or, less frequently, may lead to hospitalization. Because of these problems, an overall picture of pregnancy-related morbidity has been difficult to assemble. With the current drive in the health care system to avoid hospitalizations, evaluating this issue presents special challenges.

Using hospitalization for pregnancy complications as a measure of serious morbidity, in 1986 and 1987, it was estimated that for every 100 deliveries, there were hospitalizations for pregnancy loss (spontaneous abortions and ectopic pregnancies), and 15 antenatal hospitalizations, mainly for preterm labor, genitourinary tract infection, diabetes mellitus, excessive vomiting, pregnancy-induced hypertension, and early pregnancy hemorrhage. Among pregnant women in the military in 1987 to 1990, complications of pregnancy resulted in about 27 percent of the women being hospitalized antenatally. The leading causes of hospitalization before delivery in this population were preterm labor, pregnancy-induced hypertension, excessive vomiting, genitourinary tract infection, vaginal bleeding, and diabetes mellitus). (See enclosed articles Hospitalization for Pregnancy Complications, United States, 1986 and 1987 and Antenatal Hospitalization Among Enlisted Servicewomen, 1987-1990)

National data on complications during labor and delivery have not yet been published. Based on a preliminary analysis using data from the 1993 National Hospital Discharge Survey, it is estimated that 24.5 percent of all deliveries (both vaginal and caesarean) are associated with a serious maternal complication. These include obstructed labor in 4.7 percent, third or fourth degree perineal lacerations in 4.8 percent, other obstetric trauma in 3.1 percent, diabetes in 2.9 percent, and pregnancy-induced hypertension in 2.6 percent.

IMPROVING SURVEILLANCE

Continuing enhancement of surveillance activities in this area will provide a more complete picture of the factors associated with pregnancy-related deaths. CDC has advocated surveillance of adverse pregnancy outcomes and pregnancy-related mortality to assess the incidence or magnitude of the problem, monitor trends, and identify risk factors and clusters. During the past 10 years, CDC staff have been working with representatives of state and local health departments as well as national organizations in charge of providing care to pregnant women, including American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, American College of Nurse Midwives, Association of Maternal and Child Health Programs, CityMatCH and other Federal agencies to develop surveillance activities for pregnancy-related mortality and morbidity. As a result of these collaborations, CDC collected information on over 5,000 maternal deaths for the years 1979 to 1990. CDC also funded research projects to examine issues of maternal mortality and morbidity at several universities and State health departments. Data provided by CDC can be used by other agencies, professional groups, advocacy groups, and practitioners to identify problems, plan clinical studies, and alter practices and develop appropriate interventions.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR INTERVENTION AND PREVENTION

Opportunities for preventing or reducing adverse pregnancy outcomes health status, ensuring access to and use of appropriate care, and improving the content and quality of the care provided. As noted earlier, pre-conception and prenatal care are important elements in promoting healthy pregnancies and optimal birth outcomes. Preconception care includes risk assessment, diagnosis, and treatment, as well as health promotion activities such as counseling about contraception, pregnancy spacing, early entry into prenatal care, and other health practices and behaviors that should lead to optimal pregnancy outcome. It also provides an opportunity to identify psychosocial and medical risks or conditions before a pregnancy occurs, which facilitates early and appropriate intervention and treatment to address any problems that may complicate pregnancy. Such care initiated prior to pregnancy should continue during prenatal visits and subsequent educational sessions with prenatal care providers. (See attached chapter form Maternal and Child Health Practices, 4th edition, 1994)

EXPERIENCES IN OTHER INDUSTRIALIZED COUNTRIES

In essentially all countries in Europe, pregnancy services are a part of the larger, organized health care delivery system. In almost all of these countries, prenatal and delivery care are provided without any out-of-pocket expense to the woman. Some countries even pay women to attend prenatal care. All of these countries provide paid prenatal and postnatal leave for women, with job reinstatement guaranteed. Other types of financial grants and social benefits are given to pregnant women, including paid leave from work for prenatal care visits, family allowances, transportation and housing benefits, and assured day care. Extra support for single women may also be provided.

The prenatal care systems in almost all European countries include prenatal home visiting, if needed, as well as postnatal home visits. Pre- and post-natal care are viewed not just as medical check-ups but also as social and educational opportunities. Benefits are available to all women and their families in these countries.

Given the challenges of assessing maternal morbidity and mortality in these countries, as outlined above, it would be difficult to determine the impact of these social policies on maternal health.

SPECIAL ORDERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of May 12, 1995, and under a previous order of the House, the following Members will be recognized for 5 minutes each.

NATIONAL PARKS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Ohio [Mr. REGULA] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. REGULA. Mr. Speaker, a special issue of the Wilderness Society's magazine is devoted to Problems and Prospects in the National Parks. The cover of Newsweek reads: "Can We Save Our Parks?" A report to the director of the National Park Service, National Parks for the 21st Century: The Vail Agenda, concludes that the agency is "beset by controversy, concern, weakened morale, and declining effectiveness."

The national and local media have been replete with these horror stories in recent months, but these particular stories were written in 1983, 1986 and 1991 respectively. In short, the problems currently facing the National Park System did not begin the day a Republican majority took over Congress, as some would like to believe. Unfortunately as the election grows closer, the rhetoric surrounding the national parks intensifies.

This campaign of misinformation is not only counterproductive but unfair to the potential visiting public, our constituents, who in effect own these national treasures. The facts do not support the fear mongering. The National Parks need not close their doors this summer because of a lack of funds. In fact, this year's operating budget for the National Park Service increased and Congress initiated a new 3-year fee demonstration program which took effect earlier this year and allows participating parks to keep 80 percent of new fees collected. Why then is the Park Service crying wolf?

For the second year in a row the National Park Service's operating budget will increase. In fiscal year 1997 under both the House and Senate passed budgets every National Park System unit will get an increase in their operating budget. Additional increases have also been recommended to address a critical and growing maintenance backlog in the system. These increases have been offset in part by slowing the growth in new facilities and acreage to help get the Park Service back on their feet and on a path to live within their means.

Operational shortfalls and a backlog of unmet maintenance needs have been perennial problems for the parks. This situation has been exacerbated by the failure of previous Congresses to institute fee and concession reform and by the addition of new units and the expansion of existing sites. In the last decade alone, 36 units and 3.7 million acres were added to the National Park System by previous Congresses.

In 1912 the fee for Yosemite National Park was $5 per vehicle. That same bargain rate is available at Yosemite today and at other crown jewels as well. Currently fees collected in the parks do not stay with the park, but rather they are returned to the Treasury. While permanent, comprehensive fee reform is still needed, this Congress has taken one important step by initiating a pilot program to expand and reform the fee collection program and allow the parks, not the Treasury, to be the beneficiary. We have given the Park Service a potentially invaluable tool to help themselves. It is now up to them to reap the full benefits.

The problems of the National Park Service are complex and longstanding. As these problems did not develop overnight, neither will the solutions be immediate. Politicizing the parks, however, only serves to heighten tensions and does nothing to solve the real problems. For those of us who truly care about the health and well-being of our National Park System our mission should not be about placing blame for the situation facing the National Parks, but about working together to find creative solutions to the problems.

We have provided short-term funds and outlined a long-term strategy to accomplish the goals we all share, a National Park System which is truly the crown jewel of our Nation. While the Park Service faces challenges it also has many opportunities and tools at its disposal to meet them. Those of us who share the responsibility for shaping the future of the National Park Service—Congress, the administration, employees of the Park Service, and the parks' many outside partners—must work together to ensure that its future is as distinguished as its past.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Ohio [Mr. KASICH].

Mr. KASICH. Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to take a second to compliment the gentleman from Ohio [Mr. REGULA], who is the chairman of the subcommittee, the Appropriations Subcommittee; that is, the committee that provides the money to run these parks, and I think we need to make it clear, as the gentleman has, and I want to compliment him on his statement, that Republicans consider the national parks to be one of the real jewels of our Federal Government, that we not only want to maintain the parks as we know them, but we also want to begin to solve the problem of the backlogged maintenance, the fact that a lot of things have not been done over the years because there has not been adequate funding.

At the same time, of course, I think it is landmarked; they were able to let the parks keep more of what they collect, and I think the news to Americans is bipartisan support for our national parks. We believe they are a jewel. We believe we are improving them, and we believe that we are not only improving them, but we are taking care of some of the maintenance that should have been done that has not been done. So I think the word to the American citizens, the American people, are if you are looking for an incredible experience, if you are looking for an opportunity to really enrich your soul and the souls of your children, you got to head out to the national parks because there is not a better investment you can make in America, and I appreciate the gentleman's work.

Mr. REGULA. I thank the gentleman for his comments. He is absolutely right. The parks belong to all the people to be enjoyed by all of the people. We are taking care of them. There is no excuse for them not to be open.

I might mention that we put additional funding in on the maintenance. We recognize, as the gentleman pointed out, that we have neglected maintenance in the parks, and we have beefed up the funding for the maintenance programs as well as the operations.

So I want to say to the public:

Do not be afraid. The parks will be open if they are managed well for all of America to enjoy.

IN TRIBUTE TO HIS ROYAL MAJESTY KING TAUFU'AHAU TUPOU OF THE KINGDOM OF TONGA

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from American Samoa [Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to the outstanding leadership and distinguished service of one of the South Pacific's most honored heads of state, His Majesty King Taufa'Ahau Tupou IV of the Kingdom of Tonga.

His Majesty King Taufa'Ahau Tupou IV, the eldest son in the royal family, was born at the royal palace in Nuku'alofa on July 4, 1918. As crown prince, he studied in Australia at Newington College and the University of Sydney, where he received bachelor of arts and bachelor of law degrees.

His Majesty was the first Tongan ever to receive university degrees. In addition to academic accomplishments, he excelled in athletics, being a member of the university's championship rugby and rowing teams.

Upon concluding academic studies, His Majesty was appointed to the cabinet of the Tongan Government with the portfolio of Minister of Education, and later as Minister of Health. In 1949, he became the premier of Tonga, thus acquiring additional portfolios in foreign affairs, education, and agriculture. From early on, His Majesty has carried the major burden of the kingdom of Tonga's administration as well as development.

During His Majesty's 16 year term as premier, Tonga benefited tremendously from his guiding hand, resulting in steady development and economic advancement of the kingdom. Due to his efforts, education standards were dramatically improved in Tonga with the establishment and expansion of public high school and college systems. In the business sector, His Majesty pushed for the creation of the Tongan copra board, the Tongan produce board, the agricultural council and the government fishing fleet—the backbone of the kingdom's economy. Under his able leadership, public communications and the media were also facilitated, with the establishment of the Tongan broadcasting commission and the local newspaper, the Tonga chronicle, now in its 31st year on publication.

In 1965, with the passage of her late Majesty Queen Salote Tupou III, the crown prince was proclaimed King Taufa'Ahau Tupou IV and coronation ceremonies were held in 1967. The remarkable progress achieved in the kingdom of Tonga during His Majesty's years of leadership has gained the respect of overseas nations and contributed to positive relations with international neighbors. His Majesty, in particular, has fostered close relations with the United Kingdom, which provides substantial financial support for Tonga's continued economic improvement.

Mr. Speaker, this Friday in Utah, His Majesty King Taufa'Ahau Tupou IV will be honored again—this time by the Seacology Foundation for His Majesty's efforts in protection of the environment.

The Seacology Foundation is a non-profit foundation founded to help protect island ecosystems and island cultures. Seacology scientists include experts in endangered species, island Flora and Fauna, and island ecosystems. One hundred percent of the money donated to seacology goes directly to building schools, hospitals, installing safe water supplies, and meeting the other needs of the indigenous people who live near the rain forests so that these people will not have to sell off the rain forest to survive. Seacology scientists donate their time as well.

His Majesty King Taufa'Ahau Tupou IV has been selected to receive this year's Seacology Foundation award as "indigenous conservationist of the year" for providing royal protection for the peka, or flying fox, colony in Kolovai village in Tongatapu, and for his protection of the primary forests of 'Eua island, and or supporting the establishment of a system of nature preserves throughout the kingdom of Tonga. His Majesty has also spent lifelong service as an interpreter and custodian of Tongan culture, both ancient and modern. The history and culture of the Tongan people are among the most ancient and historical among the Polynesian people. As a letter from the Seacology Foundation to His Majesty notifying him of the award explains, none of these achievements would have occurred without his strong leadership and support.

Mr. Speaker, I deeply congratulate His Majesty King Taufa'Ahau Tupou IV and the Seacology Foundation for all their efforts and I would submit for the RECORD a copy of a letter from Dr. Paul Alan Cox, PH.D., chairman of the board of Seacology Foundation to His Majesty. Mr. Speaker, it is indeed an honor to call on my colleagues and our great Nation to join me in recognizing the outstanding and exemplary service of His Majesty King Taufa'Ahau Tupou IV on behalf of the good people of Tonga, the Pacific region, and our global community.

Mr. Speaker, I submit for the RECORD a copy of the letter to His Majesty from Dr. Paul Cox of the Seacology Foundation.

DECEMBER 15, 1995.

His Majesty King Taufa'Ahau Tupou IV,
The Kingdom of Tonga.

YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS: It is with deepest respect that I inform your royal highness that you have been selected as the 1996 Indigenous Conservationist of the Year by the Seacology Foundation. This annual award is made to honor those indigenous people who have performed heroic service in preserving their own ecosystems and cultures.

After careful consideration of the activities of your majesty in providing royal protection for the peka or flying fox colony in Kolovai Village in Tongatapu island (which is the oldest flying fox refuge in the world), for your protection of the primary forest of 'Eua island, for your support in establishing a system of nature preserves throughout the Kingdom of Tonga, and for your life-long service as an interpreter and custodian of Tongan culture, both ancient and modern, the Scientific Advisory Board of the Seacology Foundation has unanimously voted to honor your majesty with this award, which is the most prestigious conservation award for indigenous people in the world.

The Seacology Foundation invites you, at our expense, to attend an award dinner in your honor and a presentation ceremony in Salt Lake City, Utah to receive your award, which will consist of an engraved plaque and a cash award of $1,000. Fine Nau and I will meet with you personally to arrange a convenient date for this event.

Because of your stellar service, both public and private to conservation, and because of the tremendous example of dedication and courage that you have set for your own people—the Polynesian Islanders—and for indigenous peoples throughout the world, the Seacology Foundation is pleased to bestow upon you the most distinguished award for indigenous conservation in the world by naming you 1996 Indigenous Conservationist of the Year. We offer you our sincere appreciation for your tremendous devotion to protecting this planet.

Warmest personal regards,

NAFANUS PAUL ALAN COX, PH.D.
Chairman of the Board.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to yield at this time to my good friend from the State of Utah [Mr. HANSEN].

Mr. HANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate my friend yielding in this very important assignment that you have brought up, and I concur with the gentleman from American Samoa and also would like to add the support of the people from my State who have—many, many of our people have gone to Tonga. In fact, at the school that you graduated from, BYU, there is a number of Tongans there who have shown exemplary type of performance both in athletics and academically, and it is a pleasure that we can give this tribute to His Majesty, and I join you and thank the gentleman for taking this time to bring up this, a very important thing for His Majesty from Tonga.

Mr. FALLOMAVAEGA. Mr. Speaker, I thank my good friend from Utah.

It might be of interest, Mr. Speaker, that it was since 1844 that when the Mormon Church was founded that missionaries were first sent to the South Pacific in the South Seas. So the Polynesian people have had a very long and standing relationship with the Mormon Church since 1844, and because of this, even through His Majesty is not a member of the Mormon faith, but certainly most respectful throughout the region for his energy and certainly for his outstanding leadership as one of the great leaders in the Pacific region. And for this, Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleagues for this opportunity and want to wish His Majesty a very most welcomed visit here in our country.

NOBODY IN AMERICA WANTS TO CLOSE THE PARKS

tleman from Utah [Mr. HANSEN] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. HANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I was very interested in my friend from Ohio, Mr. REGULA talking about the national parks of America. The gentleman from Ohio is the chairman of the Subcommittee on Appropriations that handles those particular issues, and I am the chairman of the subcommittee that handles the authorization of the parks.

I think in America people should realize we have 368 units of the National Park Service. It costs an awful lot of money, and Mr. REGULA has that responsibility. I have the responsibility to make sure they are run correctly, managed correctly.

We find out, however, that we have a lot of parks that are in dire need of help. Yellowstone, for example, has 28 miles of impassable roads; Yosemite has problems, Everglades have problems. We have got problems in parking, sewer systems and culinary water systems.

We wonder why did we find ourselves in a position such as this. So we are doing everything in our power not only to appropriate money, but to come up with a better management procedure. We are trying to come up with ways to give the superintendent of the park a better way to do it.

The gentleman from Ohio [Mr. REGULA] talked about something is very interesting. We have a rec bill in now that will say: Superintendent of the park, if you will put somebody out at that gate, and they walk in, not only will you take that money and send it to the black hole in Congress, there is no incentive to do it.

So this rec bill we have got says this: You keep 70 percent of the money so the superintendent at Yellowstone can take care of the park without having to come to Mr. REGULA and having to spend the time. So there will be incentive for somebody to be in that park.

I find it interesting that the Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Babbitt, has chosen to take H.R. 260, which passed in the 103d session, 428 to nothing, and turn it into a park closing bill. He has gone around America time after time, literally dozens of places, saying Republicans want to close parks. That is absolutely false. Nothing is further from the truth. We do not want to close parks.

What we want to do is make parks that jewel in the crown Americans want. They want to go to the park and they want service. They want the concessionaire to take care. They want the roads to be right. They do not want to see the mess that we are seeing in parks today.

I cannot understand why he is doing that. In fact, the President of the United States, Mr. Clinton, stood on the Mall and thanked them for defeating this park closing bill, which there never was a park closing bill. In fact, I wrote President Clinton and asked him a question: Where is this park closing bill? Where do you want to perpetuate this myth?

I am still awaiting an answer from the President of the United States.

We find ourselves now working on a number of pieces of legislation, a concessionaire's bill that will bring more money into the Treasury, that will have more competition among concessionaires, a healthy thing for the parks. We found the rec bill that I have talked about, as the gentleman from Ohio mentioned, of Yosemite.

The oldest park is Yellowstone. In 1915, if you had gone into Yellowstone it was $10. Today it is $10 for an entire car. We just cannot afford that any more.

I must ask my friends who fall in the category of having the perpetual thing as they reach 62 they can go in free. I think it is interesting if Americans would go into the Yellowstone, and the Grand Canyons, and the Zions and the Bryce and the Yosemite and see these people going into the parks, and they are over 62, and they drive in with an $80,000 Winnebago pulling behind it a $30,000 Suburban, and they camp for 7 days. They hook up to the electricity, the sewer and the water, and they are free for that entire time.

I have made a time to stumble through those areas and talk to these folks, and I say as I talked to these CEO's and others, a lot of them want to give us money. And they sent us money saying this is the best deal in the world.

We are not in here to rip off the public, but we do want to take care of it.

Do folks in America realize how much we are in arrears in the infrastructure of the park? It is literally billions of dollars in inholdings in other areas.

Can we take care of it? Sure we can, but we have to come up with some of these recommendations that the gentleman from Ohio brought up, and those things we are trying to do.

I say to the administration, to Secretary Babbitt and others: Stop playing political games with this stuff. This is too big to be political. Do not try to ingratiate yourselves to this administration. What we want to do is we want to take care of the parks of America.

I am a little sick and tired as every day another report comes to me. They bring in a newspaper thing or radio ad. Well, all these Republicans are trying to close our park. That is nonsense. There is nobody in America who wants to close the parks.

In fact, I brought in—as chairman of the committee I brought in the man by the name of Roger Kennedy, Director of National Parks. I had him put his arm to the square.

Mr. Kennedy, do you solemnly swear to tell the whole truth, nothing but the truth, so help you God? As we have the right to do?

Mr. Kennedy said, yes.

My first question: Is there any bill that closes any parks?

One answer, one word: No.

Second question: Is there anything in H.R. 260 that privatizes any parks?

One answer: No.

The next question: Now, why is it that your Secretary, your boss, is going all over America saying we have parks to close, and he says, "that is above my pay grade."

So we find ourselves in a situation where these things are not happening. We put out the hand of fellowship to our friends on the other side of the aisle, to the administration saying let us work this out and take care of these 368 parks.

All right; the question comes up should we in any way close any parks? Again, let me refer to Mr. Kennedy, who I found to be an honorable man, and he was on C-SPAN with Brian Lamb, and the question came up should you close any? And he said maybe four or five.

Maybe there is four or five they should close. Let me give you an example of which I will not give you, Mr. Speaker, because I see my time is up.

Mr. Speaker, Secretary of the Interior, Bruce Babbitt has spent a great deal of time during his tenure traveling around the country trying to convince the public that our National Parks are doomed and that the Republicans are responsible for all the problems. The truth is that our park system is in trouble. Republicans inherited a park system just 2 years ago that was already in intensive care. While Republicans and Democrats have worked together in the last 2 years to address these problems, they have only been exacerbated through mismanagement by Bruce Babbitt and his inability to stay home and mind the store. Secretary Babbitt is directly responsible for our National Parks waste and misdirected priorities.

While Secretary Babbitt was taking fishing trips around the country, the GAO found that the National Park Service has no idea how it is spending its money, what its assets are and what its needs are. Perhaps, Secretary Babbitt should spend less time politicking and racking up frequent flyer miles and more time fixing the problems this Congress and the GAO pointed out to him over 2 years ago. Having spent 40 percent of his time traveling at taxpayer's expense, Secretary Babbitt has certainly seen the country but is doing very little to manage our national treasures.

Lets compare the records of the Resources Committee and Secretary Babbitt:

Secretary Babbitt has requested cuts in the funding allocation for park operating funds from 47 percent to 44 percent of the total NPS allocations in the past 2 years. While the Republican-controlled Resources Committee has never recommended cuts in basic park operating funds.

Secretary Babbitt has cut 525 Park Service personnel while the Resources Committee has never recommended any cuts in personnel.

Secretary Babbitt unilaterally sought or studied closure or termination of National Park Service involvement at over 30 park units. Secretary Babbitt is studying transferring parks such as Redwoods National Park, Great Basin National Park, and Lake Clark National Park to different Indian tribes. In the mean time, the Resources Committee, on a bipartisan basis, has sought to set up a nonpartisan Commission to study our Park System and make recommendations to help save our Parks.

After Secretary Babbitt's first two choices for Director of the National Park Service—Robert Redford and Tom Brokaw—turned him down, Babbitt has filled more key park service positions with political appointees than the last three administrations combined. These are simply political favors for people who never worked a day in a park. The Resources Committee has moved legislation requiring that the National Park Service Director possess professional qualifications and be subject to Senate approval.

Secretary Babbitt is in charge of the waste, fraud, and abuse that runs rampant in the National Park Service. The Interior inspector general and the General Accounting Office found the Park Service's books unbalanced for 3 years and no method to ensure that the highest priority programs are funded. Instead of taking care of our parks, Secretary Babbitt has spent money on a $1.6 million personality inventory, a multi-million dollar reorganization with no benefit to the parks, and a $20,000 redecoration of the Director's hallway. While Secretary Babbitt is spending money on interior decorating—literally—the Resources Committee initiated these reports by the inspector general and the General Accounting Office to improve the operations of the Park Service, improve accountability and to help prioritize funding. Thus far, Secretary Babbitt has ignored those reports and has made few changes in his management of our Nation's parks.

Recently, Secretary Babbitt has been traveling around the country saying we need concessions reform and that we need to return more to the Federal Government. Unfortunately, the legislation Mr. Babbitt supports would exempt 80 percent of the concessionaires from competition and the Congressional Budget Office says will cost the American taxpayer $79 million over the next 5 years. The Republican proposal would open all 660 National Park Service concessions contracts to competition and will return $12 million back to the parks while providing $84 million to deficit reduction over 5 years. If Secretary Babbitt wants real reform then the Republican proposal is the only alternative.

Housing for Park Service employees has been described as third world conditions in many instances. After a photo-op and the construction of three housing units, the Secretary has dropped any further efforts to resolve this problem. Republicans in the mean time have moved legislation that would encourage private sector solutions and investments for park housing. Secretary Babbitt would rather ignore the problems that don't make political hay for him. I guess taking care of his employees is just not a priority for Secretary Babbitt.

Secretary Babbitt alleges that our National Parks are broke, yet while overall visitation has been level for the past 8 years, appropriations have increased by nearly $300 million over that same period. Where did the money go Mr. Secretary? Where did you spend it? We love our parks and so do the citizens of this country and we expect Secretary Babbitt to manage these treasures in a responsible and protective fashion. Instead, Secretary Babbitt would rather gallivant across the Nation doing political fund raisers, going fishing, and politicizing our National Parks than stay home and manage our national treasures. Our parks need our help and the goal of this Congress is to identify the problems and find creative solutions to solving those problems. Americans don't want to just throw money at the problem, they want the problems fixed. Mr. President, we need a Secretary of Interior will actually work for our National Parks and not just travel around and fish in them.

TRIBUTE TO HECTOR PEREZ GARCIA

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from California [Mr. BROWN] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. BROWN of California. Mr. Speaker, today I pay tribute to the life of Hector Perez Garcia. Dr. Garcia, a Texas physician who led the fight for equal treatment of Hispanics and who founded one of the Nation's most influential civil rights organizations, the American GI Forum in 1948, passed away on Friday, July 26 at the age of 82 in Corpus Christi, TX.

Dr. Garcia was born in the Mexican village of Llera, Tamaulipas, on Jan. 17, 1914, to a college professor and a school teacher. His family emigrated to Mercedes, in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas, in 1918 to escape the Mexican Revolution. He was one of seven children, six of whom became doctors.

He often told interviewers that he had decided to get an education soon after his family moved across the border where a high school teacher told him, "No Mexican will ever make an 'A' in my class." He graduated from the University of Texas and the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston in 1940. In 1942, he volunteered for Army duty and served in Europe as an infantry officer, a combat engineer, and a medical corps officer before being discharged as a major. He was awarded a Bronze Star with six battle stars. He met his wife, Wanda Fuscillo, in Europe during the war.

Dr. Garcia founded the American G.I. Forum in 1948 to help Mexican-American veterans of World War II gain access to services of the Veterans Administration and admission to V.A. hospitals. His organization first gained widespread attention in 1949, when it took up the cause of Army Pvt. Felix Longoria, a native of the small south Texas town of Three Rivers, whose remains were returned from Luzon, in the Philippines, for burial 4 years after World War II ended. Mr. Longoria's widow had been denied use of a hometown funeral chapel because the Longorias were Mexican-American.

After several stories about Dr. Garcia's efforts were published, Lyndon B. Johnson, then a U.S. Senator, arranged for Mr. Longoria to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery with full military honors.

President John F. Kennedy asked Dr. Garcia to negotiate a defense treaty between the United States and the Federation of the West Indies. In September 1967, Johnson, then President, appointed Dr. Garcia a delegate to the United Nations with the rank of ambassador to focus on promoting better relations with Latin America and Spain. A year later, President Johnson made Dr. Garcia the first Mexican-American to serve on the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights. In 1984, President Ronald Reagan awarded Dr. Garcia the Presidential Medal of Freedom. In 1990, he received the Equestrian Order of Pope Gregory the Great from Pope John Paul II.

Upon hearing about his death, President Clinton released a statement calling Dr. Garcia a national hero who "fought for half a century for civil and educational rights of Mexican-Americans."

I ask my colleagues to join me in extending our condolences to the family of Hector Perez Garcia, his wife Wanda, and his three daughters, Wanda, Cecilia, and Susan. Dr. Garcia was a true American hero whose accomplishments are a testament to his humanitarian spirit.

REPUBLICANS INCREASE SPENDING ON MEDICARE AND VETERANS

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LATOURETTE). Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Florida [Mr. STEARNS] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. STEARNS. Mr. Speaker, our efforts to balance the budget by the year 2002 have been a long and hard-fought process. As a party, we did not choose this fight, Mr. Speaker. The American people sent a message in the 1994 election. They made it perfectly clear that they wanted to change business here in the House, the business that has been going on for 40 years.

This weekend I held town meetings back in my district, in the State of Florida, central Florida. There were two issues that came up continually. The first, of course, was Medicare. We have a lot of seniors there, and a lot of the seniors were confused. They thought we were cutting Medicare. Of course, that is false. I will tell the Members later on why that is false.

They were also concerned about the veterans budget. Of course, we have increased the veterans benefits and the budget for the RECORD. We are not cutting Medicare, and we are not cutting veterans benefits. In both cases, they are going up over last year. President Clinton finally admitted this in an interview with Wolf Blitzer on CNN that Republicans are not cutting Medicare. He is right about that, because spending on this program will increase at twice the rate of inflation, which means that spending will rise from $5,100 this year to $7,000 in the year 2002. So how could spending, which increases from $5,200 a year in 1996 to $7,200 a year in 2002, be a cut? Nowhere also but in Washington.

Perhaps more than any other issue, President Clinton has hammered away at the GOP's reform proposal by falsely accusing us of cutting Medicare.

It is interesting to think about it that the President, when he was talking about his health care bill back in 1993, this is what he said: "Today, Medicare and Medicaid are going up at three times the rate of inflation. We propose to let it go up at two times the rate of inflation. This is not a Medicare or Medicaid cut. We are going to have increases in Medicare and Medicaid, but a reduction in the rate of growth."

On April 3, 1995, the Medicare Board of Trustees, which includes three of President Clinton's Cabinet Secretaries, concluded that the Medicare hospital insurance fund will be running out of money in 1996 and will be bankrupt in the year 2002.

In its 1996 report released on June 5, it showed a $4.2 billion shortfall in this trust fund. This means that the program will be bankrupt in the year 2001 instead of 2002, so that should be a concern for all Americans.

Congress and the President are very close now on the level of increased spending on Medicare. In fact, the Republican proposal and the Democrat proposal are practically the same. So for the President to talk about cuts is incorrect, when he and I and the Republican Party have proposed practically the same thing in the amount it increases.

Not only have our efforts to preserve, protect, and strengthen Medicare been totally misrepresented, but the Speaker has been vilified for a statement which was falsely attributed to him. We hear this repeated on the House floor over and over again. They said he said, "Now we don't get rid of it round one because we don't think that's politically smart. We don't think that's the way to do it through a transition, but we believe it's going to wither on the vine."

He was not talking about Medicare, he was talking about the Health Care Financing Administration. This is more precisely what he said: "Okay, what do you think the Health Care Financing Administration is? It's a centralized government bureaucracy. It's everything we're telling Boris Yeltsin to get rid of. Now, we don't get rid of it in round one."

"We don't think that's politically smart. We don't think that's the way to do it through a transition, but we believe it's going to wither on the vine."

So you see, they took the statement of the Speaker out of context. He was not referring, of course, to the Medicare Program. He was talking to Big Government, a Big Government bureaucratic machine that processes the laws around here that deals ultimately with health care in America but not the Medicare Program.

In fact, this is so true that 19 television stations have pulled or refused to air the AFL-CIO ads that deal with this quote. So I think we should realize that now the media, both the television and radio media, has decided to pull these ads because they are false and totally misleading.

Mr. Speaker, when we look at what the Clinton administration said back when they were running for the Presidency, let us look at their book, "Putting People First." Remember that book? In that book, President Clinton and Vice President GORE said in 1992, "We will scrap the Health Care Financing Administration and replace it with a health standards board made up of consumers, providers, business, labor, and government." That is interesting.

Somehow the press seemed to neglect to report that fact in the book, "Putting People First." The Clinton and GORE team said the same thing which the Speaker said about the Health Care Financing Administration, that ultimately we would like to scrap it. So I do not see how they can actually criticize the Speaker when they said the same thing in their book, "Putting People First."

There is another program in the budget which they have attempted to politicize and misrepresent. I might add, some of the colleagues on this side of the aisle have indicated that we are cutting veterans benefits. This is also false. We have increased veterans benefits. I am a former veteran, my father was a veteran, and I believe that it is important to represent veterans. That is why I am on the Committee on Veterans' Affairs.

There is some talk about cutting veterans back in the district, but I have pointed out to them that we have actually increased the funding for the veterans, and in fact, the VA budget that the Committee on Veterans' Affairs submitted was higher than the administration's budget. That was brought out in a hearing, during the hearing in which I talked to Secretary Brown about the veterans budget. I said to him, "What do you think about your VA budget compared to our VA budget?" And he said, "I just want to be put on the record, Mr. Chairman, that this committee," the Committee on Veterans' Affairs, "is proposing more than the VA is offering." I think the Committee on Veterans' Affairs has shown its integrity even beyond what the Secretary has proposed.

I think it is admirable that he would go on record pointing out that the Committee on Veterans' Affairs has proposed and ultimately passed more money than the administration proposed.

I think that is a credit to the Secretary for being so honest. I thought it was important, Mr. Speaker, to bring these words to the House floor and to present the truth to clear up the misrepresentation on this side of the aisle with talking about reducing Medicare and veterans benefits when actually, in fact, the Republican majority has increased in both cases the amount of money spent on these two programs.

THE OLYMPIC CHALLENGE FOR AMERICA: TO DRAW TOGETHER AGAINST HATRED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Texas [Ms. JACKSON-LEE] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I think that it is time, as we near the end of the 100-year anniversary of the modern Olympic games, that we rise to the floor of the House to provide perspective. This weekend should have brought Americans together. Many in different cities around the Nation may have initially thought of the Olympic games as Atlanta's games. But I think as we have watched the indomitable spirit of all of those who have participated, we must first acknowledge that these are world games, and that this is an honor bestowed upon America, our Nation, to be able to host this year's event.

The first recorded Olympics were held every 4 years at the ancient sanctuary in Greece from 1776 B.C. until they were abolished in 394 A.D. They were revived in the late 19th century by French baron Pierre de Coubertin with the first modern games held in Athens in 1896. This year, of course, marks the 100th anniversary.

As we have watched the games proceed, and the challenge to America and to the athletes, it stands in sharp contrast to the tragedy of this past weekend. It saddened me that the games were marred by one tragic incident of a sick and criminal act. It sickens me and saddens me that we lost a very lovely lady who had a 14-year-old daughter who loved her, and a family. Now she is gone from them and from the contributions that she has made and would have made; and then to have lost the life of a Turkish photographer because of this tragedy, and the 111 who were victims of this tragedy.

But most of all, I think we should be challenged by this Olympic challenge, if you will, to recognize that we as Americans must draw together against hatred, hateful talk, and those who would claim that they stand for what America believes in, but yet want to undermine and bring down the government of this country.

Over the last 2 years we have heard too much about what this government has not done. We have heard too much about those who want to carry guns on street corners, who want to hole up in places like Montana or bomb buildings in places like Oklahoma. I think the Olympic challenge for America is to develop the Olympic spirit. That spirit is one of a Carl Lewis, a native Houstonian from the community which I represent; someone who said, as he reflected that many said to him, having won several medals, eight, to be exact, before this last one, "Go out in a flare. Do not do this to yourself." Carl Lewis, a great humanitarian, a friend to young people, had first of all determination.

Second of all, he was a good sports person. He knew and understood what sportsmanship was all about. He had pride in himself and in his Nation. He believed, as well, in the fact that if he just simply went one more step he might be successful; 27 feet 10 inches and three-quarters. And he had a can-do attitude.

That is the Olympic challenge for America, to rise to the occasion of the U.S. women's gymnast team, something accomplished that none of us would have ever expected; or to have the strength of personality to accept the pain of a Kerri Strug from Houston, TX; or Michael Johnson, from Baylor University in Texas, who will cast his lot to historically do the 200 meters and then 500 meters; and yes, the U.S. women's basketball team, that recognizes that it is valuable to have men and women understand what sportsmanship is all about; and the gold that was won by Shannon Miller.

We as Americans have so much to be proud of; not to point the finger at Atlanta, a city that has done a very able and wonderful job, a job where it has opened its doors to all citizens around the world, representing over 197 countries. It was not that it had a tragic and terrible act, it was a tragic act of a human being gone wrong. We should embrace our sister city and congratulate them, for on behalf of Americans, they have done us proud.

But more importantly from the Olympic challenge, we should be able to both admire and to accept the challenge given to us by these young athletes from whatever country they have come, that they have shown determination, that they have rejected hatred, that they have embraced each other as brothers and sisters, that they have a can-do attitude, that they worked as a team and, yes, most of all that they have shown the kind of affinity for the law of rules and order that they would respect human life and human dignity. Sadly, someone in this country possibly did not.

And so it behooves this Congress to respond by leadership and recognizing that we disrespect and that we do not hold to violent talk or violent acts and that we join together as a Nation, not dividing, not castigating names but yet recognizing that we stand as one and fall divided. Be proud of Atlanta and what it has done, appreciate the Justice Department, Director Freeh and the FBI for what they have done, know that swift justice and fair justice will be brought to the perpetrator of this terrible act, but the Olympic challenge for America is for us to stand unified behind the Constitution that we all are created equal, that we have inalienable rights to pursue happiness, and that we must stand for equality and the first amendment.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to commend the wonderful work done by several of the athletes who are from my State of Texas who have brought home the gold.

The news of violence at the Olympics over this weekend could not detract from the Olympic Spirit displayed by the fans and the wonderful collection of talented athletes from around the world, nor should it have.

Each of them are heroes in their resolve not to allow terrorists or hatemongers to take away the unity of purpose that has led us to this point in world history.

The first recorded Olympics were held every 4 years at the ancient sanctuary in Greece from 776 B.C. until they were abolished in 394 B.C. They were revived in the late 19th century by French Baron Pierre de Coubertin with the first modern games held in Athens in 1896.

This year marks the 100th-year-anniversary of the modern Olympic games. This is also only the fourth time in modern Olympic history that the United States has been the host of the Summer Olympic Games.

The Olympic games are about challenges to the height and breadth of human physical, mental, and emotional endurance.

Today, I would like to recognize the wonderful contributions that Kerri Strug of Houston, TX, one of the members of the U.S. Gymnastics Team dubbed Mag 7 by fans of the sport, who showed real team spirit in assisting her teammates win the team gold medal.

Carl Lewis, who upon the completion of his 27 feet 10 and 3/4 inches in the long jump, has achieved a record 9 gold medals. He is one of Houston's best known athletic personalities, but he is also a great humanitarian and community supporter of youth athletics.

I will not leave out those who are not from Houston, TX. Michael Johnson of Dallas, TX has also made us all proud as Texans with his gold medal performance in the 400-meter race. I would like to join many well-wishers in extending my hope for a second gold in the 200-meter race to be held later in the games.

I wish all of these fine athletes and their families my warmest congratulations and wish them a speedy and safe return home to Texas.

HOW LONG WILL WE CONTINUE TO WAIT TO SOLVE THE YEAR 2000 PROBLEM?

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LATOURETTE). Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from California [Mr. HORN] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. HORN. Mr. Speaker, a few months ago our Subcommittee on Government Management, Information and Technology held an extensive hearing on what is known as the year 2000 problem. That is a problem for those who have inputted month-day-year in most computers over the last 30 years. Three decades ago, most computers had little capacity for storage. Thus, a 2-digit figure represented the year instead of 4 digits. In other words, instead of 1966, the year was entered 66. So when it comes to the year 2000 and the computer registers 2000, it will only register 00 based on the two spaces for the year software. Thirty years ago it was difficult to find space in a computer and somebody had the bright idea: Let's save at least a few bits of spaces when we put dates in by inputting only the last part of the date, not the century part of the date.

Mr. Speaker, this will be a major problem. It is estimated by Gartner Associates, a major consulting firm, that it will take $600 billion worldwide to solve this problem. America is responsible for half of the computing usage on this planet, and it will take about $300 billion for both private and public entities to make the needed conversions. Gartner Associates believes that conversion by the Federal Government might well cost $30 billion to deal with this matter.

On April 29, I had the staff of the subcommittee send an extensive survey to the 24 Cabinet departments and agencies. We now have the results. In essence, these are some of the results:

1. Major departments are only in the initial planning stages of the Year 2000 effort.

2. Even the most advanced agencies have not reached the final stages of the solution.

3. Only six agencies have any cost estimates.

4. The Department of Defense has not yet completed its inventory of computer software code which needs to be converted.

5. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration does not anticipate having a plan completed until March 1997.

6. The Department of Transportation simply did not respond to the questions as of this date. Some departments started in on this effort the day after our survey arrived. Little attention has been paid to this coming crunch by many in the executive branch.

7. The Department of Energy did not begin to address the Year 2000 issue until a week after they received the subcommittee's survey.

Most of the departments that are in the initial planning stages need to have their systems inventoried and fixed by 1998. If they do not do so by that time, expert resources will be increasingly scarce because the private sector, State and local government will be using those resources to solve their own computer conversion problems.

Various internal codes of our computing equipment need to be changed. Some of it is just reentering the 4-digit year into new software: You would put in 1996, not just 96, so when you hit the year 2000, it is not just 00, but it is 2000 and you can subtract 1996 from 2000.

These Federal departments and agencies must "get with it" over the next year and a half. They need to complete their plans. They need to inventory and fix millions of lines of internal computer code while simultaneously meeting agency goals.

Basically, we asked these agencies if they had a plan, was there a program manager? What was the estimated cost? And were they responsive to our dozen or so questions?

We have had a few stars in this affair that have been working on this problem systematically. We see that the Agency for International Development [AID]—responsible for foreign aid operations, Office of Personnel Management [OPM], Small Business, and, most important, the Social Security Administration received an "A." The Social Security "A" is really the first of the "A"s. Social Security did not need any prod. In Social Security, an able staff has been working on this problem—and rightly so—since 1989. They believe that by 1998 they will complete going through all of the Social Security files which affect people's benefits and pensions. We gave a very strong "A" to them.

These are only two in the "B" category. By the way, I do not grade on a curve. As a professor, I graded on an absolute. Education is in the "B" category. The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is a "B". Then after those six there are 18 below them. The three "C"s, are followed by 10 "D"s and 4 "F"s. And there are dozens of other agencies that comprise all of the rest of the Federal Government.

Serious attention needs to be given to this by the responsible officials in the White House who coordinate management matters within the executive branch. They are a little weak on that. But the Office of Management and Budget needs to give this effort its full attention because both the appropriations and authorizing committees of the House will be expecting them to ask for the needed resources, or have a plan to reprogram the needed resources.

Let's get on with it. It is a serious problem that could affect each of us.

Mr. Speaker, I include for the RECORD the following material in connection with my remarks:

REPORT ON RESOLUTION WAIVING REQUIREMENT OF CLAUSE 4(b) OF RULE XI WITH RESPECT TO CONSIDERATION OF A CERTAIN RESOLUTION

Mr. MCINNIS, from the Committee on Rules, submitted a privileged report (Rept. No. 104-720) on the resolution (H. Res. 492) waiving a requirement of clause 4(b) of rule XI with respect to consideration of a certain resolution reported from the Committee on Rules, which was referred to the House Calendar and ordered to be printed.

IN MEMORY OF AUGUSTA HORNBLOWER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. TORKILDSEN] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. TORKILDSEN. Mr. Speaker, tonight I rise in affectionate remembrance of a good friend and a great Republican, Augusta "Gusty" Hornblower.

Earlier today the House voted to name the Post Office in Gusty's hometown in her honor. Gusty Hornblower was an unwavering selfless public servant. This post office, this public space, is a fitting tribute to a woman who devoted her life to the citizens of Massachusetts.

As a sophomore on summer break from UMass-Amherst, I first met this courageous woman when we were both working on a congressional campaign. I was awed by her sense of humor, her political acumen, her colorful personality, and, most of all, her sense of commitment. Later we would both be elected to the Massachusetts House in the class of 1984 and serve together in the Committee on Taxation. There was one thing that Gusty could always be counted on to do and that was advocate for a tax cut any time of the year.

In addition to serving five terms in the Massachusetts House, Gusty sat on many boards and community efforts and worked tirelessly to preserve the Commonwealth's rich cultural heritage. She served on the Board of Overseers of the Plimoth Plantation, founded by her father Henry Hornblower II and on the board of trustees of the Schwamb Mill Preservation Trust. She also held a seat on the Martha's Vineyard Commission.

Toward the end of her life, Gusty bravely battled breast cancer, using her increasingly scarce time and energy to advocate for breast cancer education, research and awareness. Those of us who knew Gusty were not surprised by her positive attitude and fighting approach toward the disease. We had seen her tackle every aspect of her life the same way. While the disease finally took Gusty from us, her legendary advocacy continues to reap benefits for people throughout her district, our State and our Nation.

We will always think fondly of Gusty Hornblower.

HEROES ALWAYS STEP FORWARD

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. FOX] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. FOX of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, in the face of tragedies in America, heroes always step forward. America has faced its share of tragedies lately. The destruction of TWA flight 800, the criminal bombing of Centennial Park at the Atlanta Olympic games, the bombing of the Federal building in Oklahoma City, and the explosion at the World Trade Center in New York are among just a few.

While the Nation reacts in shock and mourns for the victim, a few put aside their grief to do a job they have been trained well to do. They move quickly and efficiently among the chaos to tend to the needs of victims, like phantoms among the smoke and debris in an effort to find a cause. They are emergency personnel, and they have never failed to bring order, provide comfort and extend needed care during our Nation's darkest hours. America's emergency personnel, Federal officers, police, firefighters and emergency medical personnel are all too familiar with crisis management, and in our anger and grief they are easily overlooked.

As I recently watched the events unfold off the coast of Long Island and in Atlanta, I was struck by the fact that there are always great Americans willing to help others in need, and at no small cost. No one can provide adequate comfort to those who have lost loved ones in the explosion of the TWA jumbo jet, but these men and women are there to try.

It is difficult to recapture the spirit of peace and joy which the Olympics are supposed to represent after a terrorist act, but these people helping others may represent the good in humanity just as surely as the young competitors do, as well.

In my own home area, we have seen in Montgomery County, PA, our volunteer firefighters, police, local police, rescue squad operators, emergency medical personnel and ambulance service professionals, how often we turn to them for assistance. How many of us have turned to a police officer for help? How many people stranded during the blizzard of 1996 turned to others for help? When the floods came to our community, our home-grown heroes responded.

Nobody knows what makes an individual respond in the face of tragedy, often without regard to his or her own safety. But that is the American spirit. Perhaps catastrophe sparks the flame, Mr. Speaker, of human compassion in them. Maybe the fires of disaster temper the steel of their resolve.

Whatever the reason, we must remember that they too are affected by such calamities, and we must do everything possible to address their needs when the work is done. Studies indicate that the emergency personnel and law enforcement officers often suffer long after the crisis is over.

Many people who assisted the victims in Oklahoma City are now trying themselves to recover from the horror that they witnessed. Many will never forget the faces of those they could not help, especially the children. Perhaps their long-term suffering is due to the fact that they put their own emotions aside at the time of crisis to help others in greater need. Whatever the reason, it is important to remember that these individuals often represent hope in a sea of despair, and we must be there for them when the crisis is past.

Americans are defiant in the face of terrorism, we are resolved in the wake of natural disasters, and these American heroes ignite the flame of the human spirit and strengthen our will in the face of all adversity. God bless our volunteers, and God bless America.

STATUS OF MEDICARE ON ITS 31ST ANNIVERSARY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of May 12, 1995, the gentleman from New Jersey [Mr. PALLONE] is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the minority leader.

Mr. PALLONE. Mr. Speaker, today is the 31st anniversary of the creation of Medicare. On July 30, 1965, President Lyndon Johnson traveled to Independence, MO to sign Medicare into law at the home of President Harry Truman who had been fighting for Medicare for 20 years.

The Democrats today had a birthday celebration for Medicare with senior citizens and Vice President GORE. Basically, what we are celebrating is the 31st anniversary of Medicare because it has been such a success in terms of a Government program that may very well be the most successful Government program. We want to renew our commitment to protecting Medicare from deep cuts and work to continue its solvency for many years to come. That is why the families first agenda that the Democrats have put forward includes the protection of Medicare as a key element of a balanced budget proposal.

This followed the lead of President Clinton, who proved this winter that the budget can be balanced while still extending Medicare solvency into the next century.

Mr. Speaker, I just want to reiterate that the creation of Medicare did not happen overnight. On the contrary, it took 13 years to finally make Medicare a reality for our Nation's seniors. Against staunch Republican opposition, Medicare passed the House and the Senate in 1965.

Since the Republicans took over Congress in 1996, 30 years later, and for the first time since before the creation of Medicare, one of their first acts was to basically make significant changes or suggest significant changes in Medicare so that it would not be Medicare as we know it. A lot of this was done without hearings, without any real input, in my opinion, from the American people, and I think it was the wrong way to go.

Fortunately, Democrats spent most of 1995 and also a good part of 1996 fighting against these Republican proposals, which would have significantly changed Medicare and I think made it into a program that we would not have recognized.

I wanted to stress today, on the 31st anniversary, that prior to Medicare less than 50 percent of all seniors had any health insurance at all. Today, on the other hand, over 99 percent of America's seniors can rely on Medicare's services.

So the reason Medicare was established was primarily because many senior citizens did not have health insurance. It was a need that was very much felt back in 1965.

Prior to Medicare many seniors were faced with the dilemma of choosing between food, shelter, or health care. Now America's seniors are living longer and can be assured they will have quality health care services.

In 1965 there were Republicans in Congress, including most notably then Congressman Bob Dole, who ardently fought the creation of Medicare. In 1965, 93 percent of the House Republicans, including Bob Dole, voted for a substitute that would have killed Medicare as we know it. In 1995, 30 years later, Senator Bob Dole and Speaker GINGRICH attempted to change Medicare as we know it by cutting $270 billion for tax breaks for the wealthy.

Last October, Senator Dole stated, "I was there fighting the fight, voting against Medicare," referring to his opposition to the program in 1965. It is no wonder, then, that many Democrats doubt the Republican leadership when they say that they care about Medicare or they want to fix it. We know that many of them, most of them in fact, in 1965 opposed it, including then Representative Dole, who is of course now the Republican Presidential candidate.

We also quote, and I have quoted many times on this floor, Speaker NEWT GINGRICH, who last year stated, "We don't get rid of it," that is Medicare, "in round one because we don't think that's politically smart, but we think it's going to wither on the vine."

Again I would point out that although Speaker GINGRICH has recently said that perhaps he did not mean what he said in terms of Medicare withering on the vine, if we look at the Republican proposals that have been put forward in this Congress, in effect what they do is they make Medicare wither on the vine because they provide a situation where there is so much money taken out of the program, again primarily to finance tax breaks for wealthy individuals, and they make so many changes in the Medicare program that essentially force seniors to choose managed care where they do not have their choice of doctors or sometimes even their choice of hospitals, so that the changes in the programs and the cuts in the program ultimately will make Medicare as we know it wither on the vine.

Just to reiterate some of the things that would come about under the initial Republican plans, again the changes have been vast. When this Congress started out in January of 1995, there were some drastic changes in Medicare that were proposed then and we have seen the Republican position change a little almost on a monthly basis ever since then. But if we go back to the initial Republican plans, those that were put forward in January of 1995 when this Congress began, when the Republican leadership was in the majority for the first time in 40 years, under that initial Republican plan, seniors would have been faced with additional copayments, increased premiums, increased deductibles, rationed care and a limited choice of doctors. Medicare eligibility would have gone from 65 years of age to 67 years of age, and Medicare availability ultimately would have only been available to the neediest of seniors.

As Democrats began to speak out against these proposals, beginning in the early part of last year, many of these proposals were dropped. But the Gingrich-Dole Medicare plan of 1995 was still a plan to end Medicare as we know it. It did call for a substantial increase in costs to seniors while, at the same time, providing less in terms of quality of service. It called for cuts of $270 billion. Seniors would have to pay more and get less. They would have been forced into managed care with no choice of doctors.

Last year I was here on the House floor on the 30th anniversary of Medicare and Democrats stood with seniors to protect Medicare from Republican raids. One year later we can say that we defeated Republican efforts to enact the Gingrich-Dole Medicare plan, but I need to stress that this war is not over. Although Medicare, because of Democratic opposition, because of President Clinton's opposition, basically these Republican proposals that change it have essentially been dropped and are really not talked about any more, but I have to stress that the war is not over.

The Republican leadership has a new budget blueprint they unveiled in 1996, earlier this year, that calls for $168 billion in cuts for a tax break slush fund. Seniors, again, would be forced to pay more and get less. In addition, this new plan will allow doctors to overcharge seniors for providing health care services. And current law of course protects seniors from these excessive charges.

All I can say is that Republicans are at it again. I think it is very important, Mr. Speaker, on Medicare's 31st anniversary today to affirm that Democrats remain committed to improving Medicare in a common sense fashion. Unlike our Republican counterparts, we are not sorry that hundreds of thousands of seniors rely on Medicare. We think it is a good program. We are pleased that it has doubled the number of seniors who now receive health care and we think it is a proven success story, certainly worth protecting.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to make a comparison, if I could, between the Republican proposal on Medicare in 1995 and the one that we have this year, which again we have not been hearing much about anymore, but I think it is worth mentioning because it certainly is going to be an issue for many months and many years to come. I just want to go through, if I could, in a little detail, the effect of some of these proposals.

Again, I am going back to 1995, the last year when, as I said, some of the more radical Republican leadership proposals to change Medicare were brought to the floor of this House. And let me just talk about a few of them.

First of all, there was the proposal to double Medicare part B premiums. Many people know that Medicare has part A and part B. Part B covers the doctors' bills, essentially. The Republican proposal basically increased the amount that seniors would have to pay out-of-pocket every month to get their Medicare part B coverage. Again, the Democrats opposed that. And as a consequence, the actual monthly part B premium actually decreased at the end of the year instead of actually doubling as was proposed by the Republican leadership.

The last year's proposal also attempted to eliminate doctor's choice. Some of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle said, "We want to give you more choices because we want to give you the choice of managed care." But as many seniors know, and most people know, managed care often does not allow you to have the doctor you are used to having.

Senior citizens tell me in my district over and over again that the biggest concern they have about Medicare is they want to be able to choose their own doctor. And how did the Republican proposal move people into managed care? It did not say you had to go into managed care, but what it said was you had to provide a higher reimbursement rate for physicians who were in managed care than for those who were not. So there were financial incentives to make doctors as well as senior citizens effectively be forced into managed care.

Another thing that was done that I think was really terrible was the Republican bill last year actually cut Medicare premium assistance for low-income seniors, and here I want to spend a little time saying that there is a relationship between Medicare, which is the health care insurance program for all seniors, and Medicaid, which is the health care insurance program for poor people, for people of low income.

Under the current Medicare law, if a senior citizen is eligible for Medicaid because of their low income, then their part B premium per month for their doctors bills is actually paid for by Medicaid. Well, the Republican proposal that came before the House last year would have eliminated that and essentially said that there was not going to be any guaranteed coverage to pay for the part B premium if you were a senior that was below a certain income.

There were other Medicaid changes that the Republican leadership had proposed that also would have had a negative impact on senior citizens. First, they suggested repealing the Federal nursing home quality standards, so basically the Federal Government would not have any say over the quality of care in nursing homes. They also put homes and family farms of elderly couples at risk for nursing home care, because under current Medicaid law the home of the senior citizen or the spouse who is in the nursing home is basically insulated from the Government's ability to take it or sell it and use it to pay for their nursing home coverage. Well, they would have changed that. It was one of the proposals they put forward in their change to Medicaid last year.

They also made the change in Medicare that would have forced adult children to be financially liable for their parent's nursing home bills. Right now, under current law, if a parent or grandparent is placed in the nursing home under Medicaid, the Government cannot go after the children or the grandchildren to pay the cost.

Some people may say, well, gee, why not let them pay the cost. But the bottom line oftentimes is that money is used by younger people to pay for their own children's college or their own children's education or other purposes and to say that we want to change the law and that they have to take care of their parents or grandparents I think does a lot of mischief.

Now, those were the proposals, those were the aspects of the Republican Medicare bill and Medicaid bill changes that I thought were the most negative and had the most impact in last year's proposal on Medicare and Medicaid. But this year again we have new Republican leadership proposals on Medicare and Medicaid, and I think that the gist of it is essentially the same. Let me just highlight some of the things that I consider the most negative.

First of all, eliminating doctor and hospital choice by forcing seniors into Medicare managed care plans. Now, again, they take a different tact on how to do this. They will say, my colleagues on the other side will say we are not forcing seniors into managed care. They can still choose between the traditional fee-for-service plan, where they have their own doctor and their own hospital or then can go into managed care. They have the choice. But what this new Medicare proposal does is to say if you stay in the traditional Medicare plan, where you choose your own doctor, then you can have unlimited what we call balance billing. In other words, the doctors can charge you an unlimited amount over and above what Medicare pays.

Obviously, we can see that the senior does not really have a choice, because if they have to pay all that extra money they will go to a managed care system because they cannot afford the extra money out of pocket. So again the seniors are forced into managed care, where they do not have a choice of doctors. The way of doing it is different from last year, but the effect is the same, the long-term effect is exactly the same.

I see my colleague from Connecticut, Congresswoman DELAURO, is here to join me, and I know she has been out there every day for the last 18 months basically bringing up how terrible these changes in Medicare are that the Republican leadership has proposed, and I would like to yield to her at this time.

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank my colleague very, very much for carrying the discussion and the debate on this critically important issue, and I know he shares what I do today, a sense of history, a sense of great accomplishment on the part of this great Nation of ours, when 31 years ago the Medicare system was signed into law by President Johnson.

It truly is a day of real historical value for all of us, and we congratulate those who put their vision, their commitment, their compassion, their view of what the values of this Nation is all about, they put that forward and said what we need to have to do in this Nation is that seniors need to have health insurance. Nation is that seniors need to have health insurance.

The facts spoke for themselves. In 1959, only 46 percent of seniors had any kind of health insurance. We hear the tales all of the time about there being no place to go. Families had to be the sole support for their loved ones if they were ill and that they did not have any help in doing any of that, and so many people's health was put into jeopardy.

Today what we have is a direct reversal of that problem back in 1959.

Today 99 percent of seniors are covered for health insurance and it is a direct result of the Medicare system. So that this is a program, it is more than a program. It is not a program. It says something about what we value in the United States, what our values are, what our priorities are. That in fact, those who reach the age of 65, those people who have played by the rules, who have contributed so much to our society, who have paid their dues, if you will, they need this opportunity to have the benefit of being able to one more time pay again but to get some assistance and have a health insurance system that is available to them, that is guaranteed to them, and that makes them independent; that does not make them dependent on their children, and it gives them a sense of dignity and a sense of security in their retirement years.

That is what is the historical value of this anniversary this, 31st anniversary of truly making health insurance for seniors one of those values on which this Nation stands.

My colleagues from New Jersey joined with me yesterday in the Families First hearing on protecting Medicare, and it was one more instance of that highlighting of the difference that this program makes in the lives of 37 million people. And what we are concerned about and what he has expressed his concern about is one more time we are looking for the second year in a row, quite frankly, though this is not also without a historical past, we have known some folks, including the current candidate for the Presidency in the Republican Party, Bob Dole, who was out there and he goes back, saying he was proud that he cast his vote against Medicare because it was a program that did not work. So he has a history on this issue.

But we have seen the unbelievable attempt to cut the Medicare Program in the last 2 years with this Republican leadership, first to the tune of $270 billion and if you juxtapose that with the $245 billion in a tax cut for the very wealthy that the Republicans wanted to provide, I do not believe that there is a coincidence in those numbers. We are now back again for the second round of cuts that talk about $168 billion and their tax package for the wealthy that runs around $176 billion. So again these numbers are not coincidental.

What I think is interesting to find out is that we have a prelude of what we are talking about in the future, and in the immediate future. The Wall Street Journal yesterday indicated, there is an article there that describes Senator Dole's new tax plan, or at least what they view as his potential new tax plan, which is expected to be released next week.

I want to read this because I think it is important about what portends for the future. Mr. Dole and his advisors now contemplate a tax cut of Reaganesque proportions. Fifteen percent across the board for individuals. That is almost five times as large as what the congressional Republicans included in their latest budget plan. Five times as large. It would cost more than $600 billion over the next 6 years, this 15 percent tax cut.

Now, there was another article in the Wall Street Journal that tried to figure out what happens, where this money begins to come from, and it is without question, I mean what they did not do was to say specifically this is the program that it comes from, but there was no indication from Bob Dole as to how he plans to pay for the massive tax break. And no one knows how he intends to pay for it, because that information is being held very closely. I hope next week, if he introduces the program that in fact what he will do is to let the public know how he intends to pay for it.

But what is clear, and at our hearing yesterday was Lawrence Shimmerin, the managing director and chief economist at the Economic Strategy Institute. He said that you are going to have to take a look at a whole variety of programs from which there will be cuts. And that includes education, it will include infrastructure, roads, bridges, the construction of schools, a whole variety of programs, again which demonstrate some values when you talk about education and the environment and what we want to do to try to put people to work, that the money is going to have to come from there. Then when we asked him, he said in effect that the money is going to have to come from programs like Medicare.

So that, in fact, we are looking at, with the introduction, the potential introduction of this tax plan by Bob Dole, what we are going to see is another round of cuts to the Medicare Program. And when you are looking at $600 billion over the next 6 years, our colleague from the other body, JIM EXON, said that we are potentially looking at $313 billion in cuts in the Medicare Program.

So that this is not something that is an idea that is not being nourished, and not being nurtured and prone to be moved. Bob Dole is going to introduce this plan in the next week or 2 weeks. So what we are going to do is to see an amazing escalation of those costs and cuts in the Medicare Program, because there are not going to be too many places to which you can go to make those kind of cuts.

If we think about future direction and we look at the historical past where we have Bob Dole saying that he was happy to fight the fight and be 1 of 12 and vote against Medicare because it did not work, we can understand the move to this massive tax cut and what that means to the Medicare Program.

Now, I will stand here and tell you as I know my colleague is, I am a believer in tax cuts. Let us make sure that working families are the beneficiary of those tax cuts. If we provide people with the opportunity to take a tax deduction of $10,000 a year in order to finance the education for their children or to have the opportunity themselves to get skills training and education, if they need that in order to further their own job, their career ladder, we ought to target those tax cuts. But if we are looking at using Medicare as the piggy bank to finance those tax breaks, then it really is unconscionable and it is wrong and it is an outrage.

I will just make one or two other points to my colleague, as I say, to say that we have an historical legacy here. We have the Speaker of the House talking about wanting to see the Medicare Program wither on the vine, and that people will voluntarily leave it, though he is trying to walk away from those comments. But you cannot walk away from what you have said. Your actions and your words are there for people to take a look at.

We even have had BILL THOMAS, who is on the Health Subcommittee, refer to Medicare as a socialist program. The kinds of language in which people talk about the Medicare system. DICK ARMEY said he would not want to be a part of such a system in a free world. And these are the folks who come to tell us and to tell the American people, whether they are our seniors or whether they are the families of seniors that trust us, what we want to basically do is to slow the rate of growth. In fact, what they are doing is cutting the Medicare Program, jeopardizing the health care of seniors and putting them in a position where they will have to pay more, or that they will lose the choice of doctors. And in some places in this Nation, we will watch hospitals close down and, in fact, people who deserve to have health insurance and health care at this time of their life will not have the benefit of that.

It is hard, as I said, to walk away from the commentary that people have made over the recent past and the more further past and to have them now come forward and say that they are going to try to make the program a better program. Their goal truly is to dismantle this program which works. My constituents believe it works. They believe it needs to be fixed. Sure they do, and it does.

The trustees said there was $90 billion that we needed in order to, in the short term, make the program solvent. We need to have a bipartisan commission to take a look at the long term, whatever that means. Nobody disagrees with that. What they do disagree with is ending a Medicare Program, of leaving people behind, taking that 99 percent and beginning to move it back to the 46 percent of seniors who had health care in this country. That is what cannot happen.

What we ought to be debating on this floor, what we ought to be talking about is how we make the Medicare system stronger; how, in fact, we do something about long-term care for people in this country; how we do something about the cost of prescription drugs; how we deal with home health care. And that is what direction we ought to be going in.

We ought to be building on what we have, not unraveling what we have in this great country of ours. And as my colleague was talking about, this whole notion of overcharging today, of removing the restrictions on hospitals and doctors that prohibit them today from overcharging Medicare recipients, how can we in good conscience stand here and talk about that as a way to fix this program?

What is wonderfully interesting, though, is that I think in your community, in my community, the folks see through what is going on here. And that in and of itself is rewarding because they are fighting the battle against what the Republican leadership is trying to do. They made that fight last year, and I know they are going to make the fight this year.

But for today, it is happy birthday and it is happy anniversary to a health insurance system that works for the people that it was intended to help. And that is the Medicare system. And we need to once again pledge that we are going to make sure that the system stays here, that it is a better system and it is going to be a good system for people in the future, and I thank my colleague for his leadership on this issue.

Mr. PALLONE. Mr. Speaker, it is not my intention to necessarily use all of our 60 minutes that is allocated tonight, but I do think it is important and I know that the gentlewoman from Connecticut stressed some of these points, but I think that it is very important for us as Democrats to point out that right now in 1996, on July 30, 1996, the Republicans still have a plan out there to cut Medicare and to make the drastic changes in the Medicare Program that effectively would destroy Medicare as we know it.

I am afraid that not only our colleagues but certainly a lot of the American people do not really understand that at this time. There has not been that much discussion about Medicare on the Republican side in the last few weeks or months, but the fact of the matter is that there is a new plan out there to cut Medicare and to change it drastically. And I wondered if I could reiterate some of these things that are on the table right now because I think it is important to stress it.

The gentlewoman mentioned that although in 1995 we had this Republican proposal that would have cut $270 billion from Medicare primarily to pay for tax breaks for wealthy people in 1996, the budget that we are now operating on that was passed here in the House by the Republicans, without Democratic support for the most parts, calls for essentially the same kind of Medicare overhaul plan that they put forward in 1995.

I think the gentlewoman mentioned that the budget contains $168 billion in cuts in the Medicare Program over 6 years in order to pay for $176 billion in tax cuts, again targeted primarily on the wealthy. So I mean it really is not any different. I want to stress that because I think it is important to make it known.

Ms. DELAURO. The gentleman is absolutely right. If we take a look at it in terms of percentages, they were talking about $270 billion over 7 years. They are now talking about $168 billion over 6 years. It went from a 19-percent cut to 17-percent cut, which is just the same as you have said. So, they are doing the same exact thing that they did last year, when there was such an outcry. People really truly do need to understand that.

I want just one more point which I believe it was the pundit or the journalist Morton Kondracke asked the third person in charge of this Congress, the gentleman from Texas [Mr. DELAY] said: You know, the public thinks that the Republican leadership has been extreme or at least there is the view out there by some that the Republican leadership has truly been extreme over the last 18 or 20 months. If you are back in the majority again, will you be engaged in the same kinds of initiatives that you were in the 104th Congress?

He talked specifically about Medicare, and he said that they would once again do the same thing. So it is 270, it is 168, it is the same thing.

It was not only in this Congress, their intention is, if they get back to the leadership here again, to do the very same thing again in the future. So it is the very, very same argument. My colleague is right to point out that we cannot lose sight of that.

Mr. PALLONE. The other thing, too, that I want to stress is that these cuts are not needed to save the program. Again, we are not hearing much from the other side about Medicare anymore, so we do not hear much about their effort to save the program anymore either. But we know that this level of cuts is not necessary to save the program. Again, it is being used primarily to pay for tax breaks, and those tax breaks are primarily for wealthy Americans.

In fact, according to the Congressional Budget Office, the Medicare cuts, and again not to stress it, but there was a level of cuts much less that was proposed by the Clinton administration. And they would in fact have extended the life of the Medicare trust fund for virtually as long as the GOP Medicare plan.

So, if we simply adopted the suggestions that the Clinton administration made, which would not have made those deep cuts to finance these tax breaks for wealthy people, we would have extended the life of the Medicaid trust fund and eliminated all the questions that have been raised about potential insolvency of Medicare. Those could be brought to the floor today if the other side was willing to accommodate and go along with what the President has said. They do not want to do it because they want to keep out there those tax breaks.

Ms. DELAURO. The trustees, which were, as my colleague will remember, there were so many on the other side of the aisle that held up the trustees report day in and day out. The trustees said $90 billion for the short-term solvency of the program. As I have suggested, I think we need to have a bipartisan commission look at the long-term solvency. We did that on Social Security. We can do that here.

The President, I think he has talked about $116 billion, that you could extend the life of the program, as my colleague pointed out. But they are committed to these tax breaks for the wealthiest Americans, the wealthiest, the most privileged in our society, and they cannot get off that kick. That tax cut was what NEWT GINGRICH called the crown jewel of the Contract With America. And whether you take the $245 billion in the tax cut or you take the $176 billion that they are talking about now, and if you take that a step further and you talk about what BOB DOLE is talking about, which is $600 billion over a 6-year period of time, we all know that we are going to look at another round of cuts to the Medicare Program. There is no doubt about that; no doubt, I think, in anyone's mind.

Not only will it be Medicare, but I can tell my colleague that another area that you have great interest in is education and the environment. We are going to see massive cuts in those areas as well.

I do not happen to think that that is what this Nation is about. I think this speaks, we can balance the budget. We can do that. The question is, what are the values that we espouse in that balanced budget. I think we have been given a very, very good indication of the kinds of values that our Republican leadership here in this House espouses.

Mr. PALLONE. Again, we sort of touched on this again, but I just think it is important to stress that once again the Republicans are talking, leadership is talking right now this year about proposals for Medicare that would cost seniors a lot more out of pocket. I think a lot of people believe that because they have not heard about the increase in the Medicare part B premium.

Last year that was the crying call because so many seniors knew that the Republicans had proposed these big increases in part B premiums that they would have to pay per month. This year with the balanced billing provisions and with the level of cuts in Medicare, we will end up paying a lot more out of pocket. I think the figure right now is that under current law the physician can only charge patients up to 15 percent above what the fees are that Medicare sets. But if you stay in a traditional Medicare, under the current Republican plan that is on the floor now, that figure is unlimited.

In addition, I know that the gentlewoman has pointed out previous times on the floor that with the cuts in the level of services that would come from this level of cuts in Medicare, we are going to see tremendous increases in Medigap insurance because Medigap is going to have to cover more because of the lack of funding available for Medicare. So seniors would be faced with these overcharges by the physicians, higher Medigap premiums, and the list goes on.

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Speaker, I think there is one point that my colleague made which I think we need to remake. It is not so much sometimes people do not understand the term balanced billing. It is the overcharging. Right now there are prohibitions on hospitals and doctors that they cannot charge the individual recipient for the difference in what Medicare will reimburse to the physician for their service. So that in fact the recipient cannot have that burden of the extra charge as put on them. That is lifted. Those prohibitions are gone, which means that doctors and hospitals can charge the individual, the Medicare recipient, for what they view as what their fee is over and above what Medicare will reimburse them for.

This is direct out-of-pocket costs, direct out-of-pocket costs.

That is real. That is what is in this proposal right now. And we cannot, people cannot lose sight of that, because it is not so much that the part B program is going to double the way they had it going last year. But this is kind of hidden in the language as to what is going on here. People truly do need to be educated and made aware of what risk they are for out-of-pocket costs.

Mr. PALLONE. I yield to the gentleman from Ohio [Mr. BROWN].

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I echo the comments of my friend from Connecticut, especially when instead of Gingrich Republicans cutting Medicare to pay for tax breaks for the wealthiest people in this country, cutting it to the tune, originally they started out at $270 billion and finally reacted, when the public reacted so much against these major Medicare cuts in order to pay for tax breaks for the wealthy under the Gingrich Medicare plan, instead of letting the Gingrich Republicans make those cuts to do that, we should be going after fraud in Medicare, the whole balanced billing issue that Ms. DELAURO mentioned that will cause more waste in Medicare and will cause more Medicare beneficiaries to have less services at higher cost.

What they tried in the Medicare and the Medicaid bills, what the Gingrich bills on Medicare and Medicaid said last year and this year, that to allow physicians to refer for any kind of services, diagnostic services, MRI's or others to facilities that those physicians own, we have in this body, long before any of the three of us were here, tried to go after some of those fraudulent aspects of Medicare anyway, to make sure that people really were getting their dollars' worth and doctors were paid properly, that hospitals were reimbursed properly and that patients had an opportunity to get good health care at the lowest cost possible.

Now we are opening the floodgates, when there is already, according to the GAO, already something like $100 billion in fraud in Medicare over 7 years that we could recover, they are opening the floodgates more so we could have maybe twice as much fraud.

The fact is, instead of giving these tax breaks, instead of cutting Medicare and giving tax breaks to the wealthiest people in the country, as Speaker GINGRICH and the Republicans want to do, we should be going after these in a variety of different ways, some of these fraudulent practices that have happened in Medicare, go after some of the double billings and some of the problems that we have seen, not opening up the floodgates so there can be more.

It is clear that that is the way to deal with the Medicare, that is the Medicare solution for now, rather than making major cuts and saying, you are trying to save it, when clearly it is almost comical, if it were not so serious, when Speaker GINGRICH and the leaders in the other body stand up and talk about, we are going to cut Medicare $180 or $270 billion, whatever their number of the day is in order to save it, it is almost comical, if it were not so serious, except that in the sense that these are the people that voted against Medicare when it was created. These are the people that have never tried to fix the program when it has needed minor fixing. These are the people that called it a socialist, no-good program. Citizen Dole has said that Medicare, he was proud of being one of 12 people that voted against Medicare because he knew it would not work, he said.

Speaker GINGRICH has said over and over that Medicare will wither on the vine under the Gingrich Republican proposals. It is clear they have never had any interest in this program. They are not trying to save it. They are trying to privatize it and ultimately turn it into a welfare program that simply will not serve the 99 percent of the senior citizen population of this country that Medicare now services.

Mr. PALLONE. I am really pleased that you brought this up because a lot of times when I talk to senior groups they will say to me, why do the Republicans want to make these changes. People generally feel that elected representatives that come down here want to help them. They do not assume the opposite.

And I say, well, on the one hand it is the tax breaks for the wealthy. But on the other hand it is the special interests. There are changes in this legislation that the Republicans proposed, changes in the Medicare program that are strictly special interest oriented for their friends. And one of them you mentioned is with regard to fraud.

One of the things you remember in the Committee on Commerce, one of the things that most upset us last year in 1995 was the weakening of these antifraud and abuse provisions. Instead of using the opportunity to strengthen them, because we know there is a lot of fraud, the Republican leadership proposal actually weakened the antifraud and abuse provisions.

Briefly, and then I will yield to the gentlewoman from Connecticut, there was the example that I could just cite where the GOP bill relieved hospitals and doctors of the legal duty to use reasonable diligence for ensuring that the claims they submit to Medicare are true and accurate. That sounds like a lot of legalese but it is very important, because if you weaken that standard, then it is much easier for doctors or hospitals to abuse the system. That was actually in the bill. We fought very hard to point that out and to stop it from becoming law.

Ms. DELAURO. My colleague is absolutely right. It is a question of who they want to help. We do come here to help, but it is a question of who they want to help. And you will hear the argument over and over again that what they want to do is to save the program, that they want to slow the rate of growth. And nobody suggests that we should not deal with the fraud and abuse pieces because fraud and abuse in the entire health care system is about 10 percent. We spend about $800 billion for health care in this country every year so it is about $80 billion roughly.

There is fraud and abuse in the Medicare system. We ought to go at it and root it out. As both of you have pointed out, what they did was absolutely contrary to that goal by making it easier for people to abuse the system.

But what I find that is ranking in the argument that is made is that what we want to do is to hold the cost of Medicare down. Noble cause. Noble cause. However, why are we trying to hold the cost down of private insurance? Why are we not trying to hold the cost down of prescription drugs? Why are we not holding the costs down in every other section of our health care system but only want to hold the cost down and stick it to seniors?

We tried in the last session of Congress to pass health care reform and we failed. I think the goal was good, but we may have moved too quickly, too fast, taken on too much. But the issue there, the single biggest issue, was to slow the rate of growth down for the entire health system, not just one piece of it, and everybody agreed that you could not just hold the costs down in one place while everything else was still rising.

Why are we not going after some of the other parts of this health care system in the same way that they would like to go after the Medicare system and particularly the beneficiaries in the Medicare system by increasing their out-of-pocket costs, allowing them to have limited or no choice in their doctors and helping to close down health care facilities in this country, and all, all of that, not to save the system, but to provide a tax cut for those who through their own wherewithal have done very well; nobody takes that away from them, but the most wealthy and the privileged should not increase their wealth at the expense of people who are vulnerable and in the senior years of their lives.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. I would add, if the gentleman would yield, to what the gentlewoman from Connecticut said about the efforts to hold costs down or to cut the growth in Medicare. I mean I have heard over and over and over again from the most conservative people in this House, who on the Republican side have always opposed any program like Medicare, calling it socialism, saying it is a terrible program, it is big government, all of that.

They have all said we are not cutting Medicare, we are slowing the rate of growth, and that is what they say over and over and over again and try to drum that into the heads of America's elderly, saying we are not threatening Medicare.

The fact is slowing the rate of growth when more people are on Medicare means less money for each older beneficiary. It also means there is a higher cost for medicine which goes up and for health care. It means less per person, and third what it means, as the gentlewoman from Connecticut was alluding to, is as special interests cash in more and more on the Gingrich Medicare plan, it means less monies available.

So you already have a shrinking pot of money for America's ever increasing number of elderly, and that pot shrinks even further when more people are, to mix a metaphor, when more people are at the trough, more special interest groups that have fought to have all of these antifraud provisions taken out.

So we are going to see more fraud. While GINGRICH is trying to cut Medicare, if he is successful, and the number of dollars does not go as far as they do today, we are also going to see more special interests feeding at the trough and taking even more dollars away, which will mean ultimately fewer dollars for Medicare beneficiaries. It will mean fewer services. It will mean higher premiums and copays and deductibles. It will mean ultimately a privatization of Medicare which spells the end, and that is why Speaker GINGRICH talking to that group of insurance executives, talked about Medicare withering on the vine.

If you remember what he said when he was talking to insurance executives who salivate in a sense over what he wants to do with Medicare so insurance companies can get more and more, as Medicare is privatized under the Gingrich plan insurance companies can get more and more involved in it. That is why the Speaker said:

We didn't get rid of Medicare in round one because we don't think that's politically smart. We don't think that's the right way to go through a transition. But we believe it's going to wither on the vine.

And under his plan he is right. It will wither on the vine as more and more private interests, special interests, get involved in Medicare and take more money out leaving less money for the beneficiaries that have paid into Medicare their entire lives leading up to their retirement and continue to pay into Medicare through their whole lives into part A and part B.

That is in the end; right. The Gingrich plan is bad for older people. It is bad for Medicare; ultimately bad for all of us as a country to just give up on our elderly like that, which is what will happen if it withers on the vine.

Mr. PALLONE. Well, as my colleagues know, the best example I think of that is how they included, the Republican leadership included the provision for Medicare savings accounts. Because as we know, the MSA's is another word for them, I guess, were primarily touted by this one insurance company, Golden Rule Insurance Co., that had contributed over a million dollars to the Republican campaign.

Ms. DELAURO. If my colleague will just yield on that point?

Mr. PALLONE. Sure.

Ms. DELAURO. The third largest contributor to the Republican Party, Golden Rule Insurance.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. And yield a moment further. Not only did that company give a whole lot of money to the Republican campaign funds, all of their different funds and all of their different guises that Speaker GINGRICH has set up, but the Speaker has absolutely gone to the wall for this concept for this company, medical savings account, time after time after time when we have tried to pass legislation that would deal with preexisting condition.

We have tried to pass legislation that deals with portability so someone can move from one job to another job and without losing their insurance. Every time we have tried to legislatively find a solution to that, which we have been able to do in both Houses in a bipartisan way, the Speaker is always saying we have to have medical savings accounts as part of this deal, and that is how it has failed because medical savings accounts do not work, particularly in Medicare they do not work, and it will ultimately cause the Medicare withering on the vine.

The withering on the vine statement by Speaker GINGRICH is because of medical savings accounts, and the reason that will work that way is Medicare beneficiaries that are particularly healthy, that are 80, 68 years old and in very good health might leave Medicare temporarily to join a medical savings account, will not cost much to insure that person in those years, and the sickest people will stay in Medicare, and the Government will pay more for those people that are the most ill.

Then, when that 68-year-old gets to be 75 and begins to get sicker, that woman or that man would go back into Medicare, and the Government would have to pay more and more money to insure them while the insurance companies—company or companies that write these medical savings accounts will reap all kinds of benefits from the Medicare Program.

So in addition to that $180 billion that GINGRICH wants to cut Medicare, you are going to see more money of what is left going into these insurance companies through these medical savings accounts and the elderly and the beneficiaries for Medicare will have fewer and fewer dollars, will pay more and more for those benefits as they continue to decline and wither.

Mr. PALLONE. I do not have the exact number, but I know that the Congressional Budget Office actually estimated that the medical savings accounts would cost the Medicare system billions, billions and billions, in extra dollars.

So here we have a Republican plan that supposedly is cutting Medicare to save money for whatever reason we know as tax breaks for the wealthy, and the CBO is telling us it is actually going to cost more because of the special interests and the save provision.

Ms. DELAURO. The Consumers Union; those are the people who publish the Consumer Reports that so many people in this country rely on if they are going to buy an automobile or an appliance or, you know, they take a look at that and they can tell you what the best, you know, what the best buy is, has described the medical savings accounts as a time bomb and that it will just, you know—has a potential of skimming off the top the healthy, the healthiest and the wealthiest of seniors out of the system leaving the most frail, the most ill, and thereby driving the costs of premiums up. In addition to that, of shifting, helping to shift once again, the cost shifting argument of people who are in traditional programs having to pick up the costs of some of these, you know, the increased costs and these premiums.

But there again that is all for, you know, the special interest effort of the Golden Rule Insurance Co.

Mr. PALLONE. I know that we are running out of time here tonight, but I just wanted to thank the gentlewoman from Connecticut [Ms. DELAURO] and the gentleman from Ohio [Mr. BROWN] for joining me and again all we are trying to point out on this 31st anniversary of Medicare is how important the program is and how the Republican efforts basically to cut Medicare to pay for these tax breaks for the wealthy and the changes that they are proposing in the Medicare program will essentially do what the Republicans have said they wanted to do from the beginning, either eliminate Medicare or change it so much that it really does not provide the quality of health care services and the level of health care services that senior citizens should have, and I just want to thank both of you for fighting this battle now.

You pointed out to me, Congresswoman DELAURO, that it is actually 20 months now; I am losing track of time. It is not 18 months, it is 20 months that we have been fighting this battle, and, of course, so far we have been winning, but we do not want people to forget that the Republicans are still out there trying to essentially destroy Medicare as we know it.

Ms. DELAURO. And they will tell you that they are trying to save it, but let me just say this is a value, health insurance for seniors, that has stood the test of time. In fact, let us try to make it better. Let us build on the quality that has allowed for 99 percent of our seniors to have health insurance.

Let us look at how we can make sure that we bring down the cost of prescription drugs, that we provide for home health care which can help bring down the cost of health care, look at long-term health care so people get some relief in that area.

Why are we wanting to take the system that is truly working? Let us fix what is wrong, but let us not destroy something that people have come to rely on in their lives.

Mr. PALLONE. You know, it is sort of ironic because when we started our health care task force, which all three of us are part of, our Democratic health care tax force last year, we established two basic principles. One was that we wanted to get more people insured, and the other was that we wanted to improve the quality of care, and it is unfortunate that that is not what the debate has been about. That is what we would like to see, but that is not what the debate has been about.

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. All you have to do is look back 30 years, 31 years in the celebration today of the 31 years since Medicare was signed. Thirty-one years ago half the people in, half the elderly in this country had no health insurance. This is a Government program that works. Ninety-nine percent of America's elderly now have health insurance. We can make it better, but do not dismantle it, do not privatize it, do not turn it over to these special interest groups, these big insurance companies that have given a lot of money to politicians just so they can play with this huge program that has served the American public well.

We have got to deal with costs, we have got to deal with some of the difficulties of Medicare, but it is a program that works. It is a program that has taken care of our parents and our grandparents, and we have got to make sure it takes care of them and it takes care of our generation and the next generation, and we can do that. But it works because it is universal. It works because it insures everybody. It insures black people, and white people, and brown people. It insures Republicans and Democrats. It does not matter, the rich and the poor. It insures everybody, and it works because it is a broad-based insurance program.

Do not let insurance companies peel off the most healthy people and let them benefit from that and leave everybody else in a sinking ship. Medicare works because it is universal, because it helps everybody in this country, and we just should not mess with it that way.

Ms. DELAURO. We know that in order to bring the cost of health care down that more people have to be insured so that the costs are shared, and we are struggling with how we do that. One of the pieces that we have in the families' first agenda is trying to insure children from zero to 13 years old. But we are trying to get to a point where—because when people are not insured, those, when they get sick, the cost of that health care goes someplace. It just does not evaporate, or disappear.

It winds up that everybody else picks up a portion of it. That is this whole cost shifting idea, and sometimes it is mind-boggling to me that the one system that we have that insures 99 percent of the particular population which helps to keep the costs down is the one that they are going after to try to dissipate to break up, to dismantle, when what we ought to be doing is finding out how we can insure children from zero to 13.

How do we get more people insured who are sharing the costs, not getting a free ride? Nobody should get a free ride, but are sharing the cost of picking up their health care costs or a portion of their health care costs so that those who are insured are not having to pay twice, their own and someone else's.

That is what this is about.

Mr. PALLONE. I think you are making a good point. The bottom line is we know if you see these cuts in Medicare that the Republican leadership is proposing, it is going to have a negative impact on the health care system in general. In my district, and I am sure in the gentleman's, I have so many hospitals that are over 50 percent, some over 60 percent, Medicare- and Medicaid-dependent. If you make these cuts you are going to hurt the health care system in general.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

A message in writing from the President of the United States was communicated to the House by Mr. Edwin Thomas, one of his secretaries.

AUTHORIZING THE CLERK TO CORRECT SECTION 585 IN ENGROSSMENT OF H.R. 3592, WATER RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT ACT

Mr. BORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that in the engrossment of the bill, H.R. 3592, the Clerk be directed to make a correction to section 585 to change the reference from "Evanston, Illinois" to make it "Evanston, Illinois."

Mr. Speaker, this request has been cleared with the majority.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. LATOURETTE). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Pennsylvania?

There was no objection.

INCREASES, NOT CUTS, IN MEDICARE, MEDICAID, AND STUDENT LOANS

The Speaker pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of May 12, 1995, the gentleman from Connecticut [Mr. SHAYS] is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the majority leader.

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Speaker, I would say right off that I have tremendous disagreement with the presentation that was just made by my distinguished colleagues on the other side of the aisle. I look forward to filling in some of the missing pieces that I think were left out, to give people a better idea of clearly what happened last year and what we are attempting to have happen this year.

Mr. Speaker, we have three primary objectives in this new Republican majority. Our first objective is to get our financial house in order and balance the Federal budget, not because balancing the Federal budget is the end-all and be-all, it is just the basic commonsense logic that is required before you build on top of it. We want a strong foundation.

But the foundation is not what we want to have as the ultimate. We want to have a stronger economy that has to be built on a strong foundation of getting our financial house in order and balancing the Federal budget.

Our second interest and concern is to save our trust funds, particularly Medicare, for future generations. I will get into great depth about the reason why we need to save this trust fund and the reason why our plan did save this trust fund.

Our third objective is to transform our caretaking social and corporate and, frankly, farming welfare state into a caring opportunity society. We want to teach people how to fish, not just give them the fish. We just do not have that problem in social welfare for welfare mothers, where we have had now three generations of welfare mothers, but we have the same challenge in corporate assistance that is not necessary, that is carved out for special interests, that was created basically during the last 40 years when this majority was in the minority. We see it as well with our effort to reduce the subsidies that exist to our agricultural sector.

Mr. Speaker, getting our financial house in order to us is kind of basic stuff. The challenge is that one-third of the budget is what we call discretionary spending. We vote on a third of the budget each and every year. We do not vote on 50 percent of the budget. Fifty percent of the budget are entitlements: Medicare, which is health care for the elderly and health care for the disabled; Medicaid, which is health care for the poor and nursing care for the elderly poor; and programs like agricultural subsidies, food stamps. You fit the title, you get the money, you get a benefit from the program, even, in fact, without a specific vote each and every year by Congress.

So Congress votes on a third of the budget. Fifty percent of the budget is on automatic pilot. Then there is about 15 percent left, which is interest on the national debt, also on automatic pilot.

What we did was we cut domestic spending. We made Government smaller. In the parts of the budget, the 13 bills that we report out each and every year, we made the Government smaller. We eliminated 240 program. Some of them might have been large programs, some were small, but we eliminated 240 programs in Government and made Government smaller.

We had a freeze on defense spending; not an increase, not a cut. We basically attempted to freeze defense spending last year when we voted out our budget. Then what we looked to do was slow the growth of entitlements.

My colleagues on the other side of the aisle made reference to the fact the Republicans are claiming we are slowing the growth of entitlements. We are not claiming it, that is what we are doing, we are slowing the growth of entitlements. Some entitlements were growing at 10 percent and 11 percent and 12 percent a year. We are allowing them to grow at 7 percent a year. We are going to spend 7 percent more on some entitlements, where before we spent 10 percent. We are slowing the growth of entitlements. That is the reality.

Look at what we did and then tell me if you think it is a cut. Last year we looked to slow the growth of the school lunch program from $5.2 billion to allow it to grow to $6.8 billion. Last year it was $5.2 billion, and in 2002, the 7th year, it would be $6.8 billion.

If Members remember, the President of the United States actually went to schools and told young schoolchildren and the world community that we wanted to cut the student loan program. When I heard the President do that, I was pretty outraged, because I thought, my gosh, what are we doing? Who in my conference, Republican Conference, would do that?

When I got back over the weekend and came back down to Washington, I immediately went to the individuals who were on the committee that would have jurisdiction, pretty unhappy that they would "cut the school lunch program." I learned they were going to allow it to grow from $5.2 billion to $6.8. That is obviously not a cut, that is an increase. What they did do is they slowed its growth ever so slightly, but then allowed 20 percent of the funds to be reallocated to the most needy areas.

I represent three urban areas. I represent Bridgeport, Connecticut, a middle class community with a lot of poor people and a declining tax base. I represent a community, the city of Norwalk, and another city of Stamford. These cities have young children, in particular, who need school lunches. I represent some very wealthy communities, vibrant, wonderful communities, suburban communities around these cities.

Under our present school lunch program, these students are subsidized. My daughter is subsidized, as all students are in the country, 13 cents per lunch. I am hard-pressed to know why my daughter, who has a father who is a Congressman and a mother who teaches, whose income collectively is quite satisfactory, obviously more than satisfactory, well above the median income, why does my daughter need to be subsidized? She does not. Republicans passed a bill allowing 20 percent of the program to be reallocated to the most needy areas, our urban and rural areas, where we may have young children who need a better school lunch program. So we allowed the program to grow from $5.2 to $6.8 billion, still staying in the school system.

The student loan program last year was $24 billion, $24.5 billion. Members have been told that we cut the student loan program, yet the student loan program under our plan will be, in the seventh year, $36 billion. That is a 50-percent increase in the program in a 7-year period. Only in this place, and frankly, from my colleagues on the other side of the aisle, when you spend 50 percent more do people call it a cut. Every student will be given the same basic grant programs that they had in the past. They will be given the same grant program.

What we did try to do, and we ultimately withdrew this, and I regret that we did, we said that students would pay the interest from when they graduate to the 6-month grace period before they have to start paying the loan. Taxpayers were required in the past to pay for that and presently pay for it. Taxpayers pay that interest.

What we said is the student can pay for it, and it would be amortized during the life of the loan, the 10 to 15 years students are allowed to pay back the loan. That meant for an average student loan, it means $9 more a month. So we were asking students once they were out of school, 6 months later when they were working, to pay $9 more a month. That is the price in my area of a movie and a Coca-Cola, or basically the price of a pizza.

That is what we did. We allowed the program to grow from $24 billion to $36 billion, and then said students would pay the interest after they graduated, 6 months after they graduated, and they could amortize that part of the interest and pay it over the course of the next 10 years. I have no problem looking at any student and saying, for the good of the country, you can afford and should pay that $9 more a month.

Why would we want to ask anyone to make any sacrifice, if it is viewed as even a sacrifice? I view that as an opportunity, because during the last 22 years our national debt has grown 10 times. It has grown from about $480 billion, that is what it was 22 years ago, and now it is over $5,000 billion, or actually it is $5.1 trillion. So we have a situation where during our lifetime, during the last 22 years, during a time of relative peace, we have allowed the national debt to increase tenfold.

What we are trying to do is get our financial house in order. We are trying to balance the budget and we are trying to say to all Americans, if we all do our part, we can eliminate those deficits that are robbing future economic growth and basically bankrupting our children. That is what it is doing, it is basically saying to our children that they have to pay the bill for our expenditures.

Mr. Speaker, we did not cut the student loan program, it grows from $5.2 billion to $6.8 billion, and allow for 20 percent of the program to be reprogrammed, so allow the wealthier kids, basically allow communities to take these sums that go to people like me, who do not need to have our families subsidized, and provide it for children in urban areas and rural areas and some suburban areas, where they simply cannot afford and sometimes actually go hungry at night. We can help them.

We allow the student loan program to grow 50 percent, from $24 billion to $36 billion. Again, I would say, only when you increase 50 percent do people call it a cut. They call it a cut usually on that side of the aisle.

Mr. Speaker, the earned income tax credit is a program that a lot of people believe in. I sure believe in it. The earned income tax credit is a program that basically says, you are working but you do not make enough money to really survive, pay your room and board; basically, to pay your living accommodations, pay for your food. You just simply do not have enough.

What we do is for people who earn so little, they do not pay it. Under the earned income tax credit, they are actually given money from other taxpayers. Taxpayers are giving some taxpayers or some working Americans money. They do not pay a tax, they are given the money. That is called the earned income tax credit for the very poor. We allow that program to grow from $19.9 billion to $25.4 billion in the next 7 years, last year versus now in the year 2002. Only in Washington when you go from $19.9 billion to $25 billion do people call it a cut.

What I want to get into is just two very important programs. They are sure important to me, and I think most Members on both sides of the aisle. Medicaid, under our plan on Medicaid, we allow the program, which is $89 billion of expenditure on health care for the poor and nursing care for the elderly, which also has a State match in addition to that money, to grow from the seventh year to $127 billion, so going from $89 billion to $127 billion. Only when you grow that much do people call it a cut. It is not a cut. It was $89 billion. It is growing to $127 billion, a significant increase in the program.

What I am going to talk about in more detail, though, however, because my colleagues on the other side of the aisle basically totally, frankly, got it all wrong—that is a generous way to say it. The ungenerous way would basically be to say that they simply do not have their facts right, and they do not. I know they would not intentionally mislead people, but the end result of their presentation was misleading.

Because our Medicare program last year, on a basis of $178 billion, grew to $289 billion. So that is a 60 percent increase in our program. Basically what we said was that Medicare would grow at 10 percent a year, the traditional Medicare program would grow at 10 percent a year. We want it to grow a 7 percent a year. Want it to grow 60 percent, from last year to the seventh year, the year 2002. When you grow from $178 billion to $289 billion, my colleagues call it a cut on the other side of the aisle, even though it is a 60 percent increase.

One of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle, said, they may have spent more and are slowing the growth, but there are more people in the system. That is a fair point. There are more people in the system. So what we did is we broke it down on a per person basis to know if we were cutting the program, because the last thing we want to do and can afford to do is literally cut the program. Health care costs more. We are going to need more to pay for additional health care costs.

Last year we spent $4,800 per senior, per senior on Medicare. Under our plan, the plan went to $7,100. That is a 49 percent increase, a 49 percent increase in Medicare. Now, per person, only when you go from $4,800 per person to $7,100 per person do people call it a cut. That is not a cut. By any definition, when you go from $4,800 per person to $7,100 per person, growing at 50 percent per person, that is not a cut. In terms of total dollars, when you go from $178 billion to $289 billion, that is a 60 percent increase. You cannot call it a cut. It is a 60 percent increase in spending.

How were we able to do it? How were we able to have the program grow from $178 billion to $289 billion, and save, our colleagues said $270 billion, which they call a cut, how were we able to save $240 billion? Because that is how CBO scored that number. As one time they said it was $270 billion. Then they rescored it to say it was $240 billion.

When we allowed the program to grow overall 60 percent, per person 49 percent, we still save $240 billion.

How can it save $240 billion? What happens is, instead of allowing it to grow at 10 percent a year, we allow it to grow at 7 percent a year. How do we do that? How can we provide the same level of service and have it grow at 7 percent a year instead of 10 percent? The fact is we not only do that but we provide a better service. How could that be? How could you have a program that is growing at 10 percent a year, now you say it is going to grow at 7 percent a year, you are going to save $240 billion, and you say it is going to be a better program?

The fact is, it is quite simple to understand. We did not do it, contrary to what my colleague said, by increasing the co-payment. We did not do it by increasing the deductible that seniors pay. We did not do it by increasing the premiums that seniors pay except for the very wealthiest. This is something that some people on my side do not always like to acknowledge. We are asking the wealthiest to pay more on premium, the very wealthy. We are saying that the very wealthy should not get free Medicare services premium without paying more.

So we say that someone who is single that makes over $100,000 should pay all of Medicare Part B. We are saying a married couple that earns $175,000 should pay all of Medicare part B. So we are asking the very wealthiest under our plan to pay more. But the 99.5 percent of the American people, we are not increasing the premium at all. We did not increase the deduction, we did not increase the copayment, we kept the premium at 31.5 percent.

What happened? What was so significant about 31.5 percent? The taxpayer pays 68.5 percent of Medicare Part B. Why would we want to save $240 billion? The reason we want to save $240 billion is that is wasted money. The program is going bankrupt. Medicare is going bankrupt. The program my colleagues on that side of the aisle and this side of the aisle appreciate, respect, know it is very important for our country, that program is going bankrupt.

Mr. Speaker, the problem is that my colleagues on that side of the aisle choose not to deal with the issue. Our colleagues on this side of the aisle had the courage, frankly, to deal with the issue and deal straight with the American people. We said that the premium should stay at 31.5 percent.

What is significant about that? Taxpayers are paying 68.5 percent. What some may not know is that the premium under the tax plan that President Clinton passed in 1993 had the seniors pay increases up to 31.5 percent by last year, but then in the election year, they allowed it to drop to 25 percent. So seniors last year were paying $46 per month. Now they are paying $42 a month. It dropped $4. We said keep it at 46; not increase it, keep it at the 31.5 percent.

Why would we have wanted to do it? Because the program is literally running out of money. So we kept the co-payment the same, the deduction the same, the premium the same. We did not let the premium drop, and we saved $240 billion.

How would we save $240 billion? Because we went to the private sector. Why would we have gone to the private sector? We went to the private sector because we felt that the public sector was providing a plan with too much waste, fraud, and abuse. We said that the Federal Government simply was not policing the system well.

So we asked people in the private sector, if we allowed Medicare to grow at 7 percent a year, could you provide a better program? They said we could provide the same level of program. They said we not only can provide the same level, we can provide a better program at 7 percent. We can provide eye care, dental care, maybe a rebate on the co-payment and the deductible. Some plans said we could even pay all of the premium. Some even went to say we can do a rebate on the co-payment, the deduction, pay all the premium and MediGap, MediGap which is paid by the seniors, the 20 percent paid by seniors for health care services. These plans said we could do it.

How could they do it? They said, if you allow it to grow at 7 percent a year, you are spending 7 percent each year; that is a lot of new money. They know we are going from $178 to $289 billion. We are not spending less, we are spending more. They know, if we spend more they can provide more.

What we did is we devised a plan that my constituents have asked for for a long time. They said you, meaning me, a Member of the Federal Government, a Member of Congress, have many choices of health care. We want the same kind of choices you have. So what we did is we devised a plan to give them choice. Seniors will be allowed under our plan to keep their traditional fee-for-service plan or they can get all these different private health care plans that will provide the eye care, the dental care, a rebate on the co-payment and the deductible, no premium cost or maybe even some reduction or contribution to the MediGap payment. They will get those benefits and get better care.

Mr. Speaker, I was trying to understand how the President of the United States first off would veto that plan. We made, this side of the aisle, a very real mistake. We did not think the President of the United States would veto a plan that did not increase the co-payment on the deductible or the premium, gave seniors a choice. We simply did not think he would veto it. Maybe we should have realized that, this being a political year, it was too tempting not to demagogue the issue and veto it.

This is ultimately what the President did. He vetoed a plan that would have taken that $240 billion and put it into the program so that Medicare parts A and B would have been solvent to 2010. What we have learned subsequent to his veto, that the health care providers, the people who administer the Medicare plan have pointed out, that the plan now goes bankrupt, not in 2002. And by bankrupt I mean there is no money left in the fund. What is that money that goes in the fund? It is the money that every taxpayer pays, the 1.45 percent that the employee pays and the 1.45 percent matching that the employer pays. If you are self-employed, the 2.9 percent that you pay for Medicare goes into a trust fund.

Last year that fund lost $35 million. This year it is losing already over $5 billion, and it is going to go bankrupt by 2001, not the end of 2001, the beginning of 2001, basically at the end of 2000. That plan is going bankrupt. Our plan would have injected into Medicare Part B about half of that $240 billion and saved that fund to 2010 when our big challenge is that we start to have the children that are basically the baby boomers.

Our challenge is quite simple: We passed a plan that did not increase the co-payment, did not increase the deduction, did not increase the premium, allowed the program to grow from $4,800 to $7,100, a 49-percent increase per beneficiary, a 60-percent increase in total cost, gave seniors choice. The President vetoed the plan.

How would I explain the effect of that? The only way I have come up with to explain how stupid it was and how irresponsible it was for that plan to be vetoed is to basically give the following analogy.

If I had, and I would not do this for my daughter, but if I said to my daughter she could have $20,000 to buy a basic, say, Taurus automobile which would not give her bucket seats and leather seats, power windows, and it would not give her basically, say, a sunroof, some of the amenities, I would say: Honey, you cannot buy those things. Here is the money. You are to buy a basic car that will serve you well in the years to come.

I give my daughter $20,000, which I will not do. So I say: Honey, do not think you will get that. But if I did and she went out and she looked at different automobiles and she came back to me with tears in her eyes because she had disobeyed me, and I said: Honey, did you get a car? She said: I bought a car, Dad. And I said: Now, Jeremy, you got the kind of car I asked you to get, right? She said: Well, Dad, not quite. I said: What do you mean not quite? I gave you $20,000 to buy a basic Taurus automobile. And she said: Dad, well, I did not do what you asked; I did not do what you asked. I bought a car with leather seats, a sunroof, and other amenities. I even got not a cassette, but I got a better hi-fi system.

I start to get mad at her. She says: And furthermore, Dad, I did not spend $20,000; here is $2,000 back. She hands me that $2,000. She bought a better automobile, but she disobeyed me.

I say to her: Honey, you did not do what I asked; you cut $2,000.

Well, obviously she did not cut $2,000. She saved $2,000, and obviously I would not be unhappy with it. I would have said that she did the right thing, and I would have congratulated her on saving $2,000 and getting a better product.

That is what we did with Medicare.

And so what is the tragedy? The tragedy is that we could have saved $240 billion over the next 7 years. Now we have not. It is an opportunity lost. Our failure to save the Medicare system, slow its growth, provide a better program, and our failure to do that means that we are going to have to make severe reductions in other programs because it is a basic concept of opportunity lost.

If you continue to spend so much money on entitlements, your other programs are going to have to be reduced more. If you can make some savings here, your programs here do not have to be as tightly regulated and cut as much, because we are cutting some programs; not cutting the earned income tax credit, not cutting the school lunch program, not cutting the student loan program, not cutting Medicaid, not cutting Medicare and allowing all those programs to increase.

This get me to a basic point, the third point. We want to get our financial house in order and balance the Federal budget. We cannot allow these gigantic annual deficits to continue at the end of each year to add to our national debt. We want to save our trust funds, particularly Medicare, from bankruptcy, and we did that with our plan. Regrettably the plan was vetoed by the President. But the third thing we want to do is we want to transform this caretaking social and corporate and agricultural welfare state into a caring opportunity society. We want to help people in this country grow the seeds, we want to help people in this country learn how to grow the food, and want to help people in this country to fish rather than to be given the fish, and it seems kind of basic, and I have to say as a centrist or moderate Republican, someone who has voted for some programs that were meant to do good things but ultimately did not accomplish what we wanted to accomplish, I have had to say we have to be up-front with ourselves and with the country. Some of what we have done has been destructive. We do not have 12-year-olds having babies and 13-year-olds and 14-year-olds having babies by accident. We do not have young people selling drugs without some factors contributing to it. We do not have 15-year-olds killing each other without some factors contributing to it. We do not have 18-year-olds who cannot read their diplomas and not recognize that the government has been a contributor to that. Or the fact that 24-year-olds have never held a job, not because jobs do not exist. Jobs exist. The problem is that some people think it is a dead-end job.

If I had ever said to my dad that I did not want that job because it was a dead-end job, my dad would have asked me how long I had worked there and doubled the amount of time I worked.

Because my dad would have known that a job teaches you to get up in the morning, it teaches you to be of service to people, it teaches you to recognize that you do something, you make a contribution, and in return you are paid for it. A job that some would call a dead-end job is the beginning to a job of greater opportunity when you learn basic skills.

This Republican majority wants to end welfare as we know it. We do it by providing day care and job training. We just want the job training and the day care to be purposeful to helping get people off welfare.

When I was growing up, my dad used to commute into New York. When he commuted into New York, he would read three papers in the morning and he would read three papers in the evening and he would come back filled with so many wonderful stories. My three older brothers were 11, 8, and 7 years older, so for part of my childhood in junior high school and high school and part of even elementary school, I was really an only child. My dad would come home at night and we would talk about so many different issues. Sometimes he would come back and read something that maybe Ann Landers had said, a crazy question someone asked Ann Landers and her response that usually was quite sensible and we would always try and anticipate what she would say. My dad would say this was the question, what do you think she is going to say?

I was looking at a calendar I have and each day there is a kind of a quote identified with someone who is usually a well-known person.

It is really the quote of that day. On April 3, I was looking at my calendar, thinking about the very things I am talking about now, and there was a quote from Ann Landers. In the quote she said, "In the final analysis, it is not what you do for your children, but what you have taught them to do for themselves that will make them successful human beings."

I want to read that again. This is her quote. She said, "In the final analysis, it is not what you do for your children but what you have taught them to do for themselves that will make them successful human beings."

I began to think about this and think of what I have done in the last few years. Whenever I have someone in my office who talks to me or I am meeting with someone who really started at a lower economic echelon in terms of they just grew, they are not poor now but they were poor, and they did not particularly have a life where their mom and dad had the kind of hopes and dreams that they have, but they have become very successful, I ask them why. What was it that enabled them to be successful?

To a person they had someone who cared about them, someone who loved them, who mentored them, who sometimes basically kicked them in the butt and told them to get off their rear end and get working; who did not give them excuses about maybe they had encountered something and they wanted to feel like a victim. Their mentor got them to stop thinking of themselves as victims and realize they could take control. What a gift to teach someone, that they can take control. They also said they had people who taught them to dream.

Now, we have to wrestle with the fact that we have young kids who basically have a disadvantage because they do not have someone giving them a lift, they do not have good parenting, they do not have the advantage of someone who helps them to realize they are not a victim, that they have the ability. But every one who I have encountered has made it clear to me that in their case they did.

So I have asked them if they would do for their child what government does for so many of our citizens, and they have said there is not a chance that they would ever do that. They know that the kind of welfare system we have now is a caretaking type of system. It makes us feel good because we care for them and we are being caretakers, but we truly are not caring for them because if we cared for them our focus would be on what we have taught them to do for themselves.

We know that is what is going to make them successful human beings. It is not giving, it is teaching, it is guiding, it is helping people dream. That is the motivation, the very caring motivation of this Republican majority.

Out the window goes this caretaking approach. We want a caring society. We want health care, we want day care, we want job training for our poor, but we want to encourage them, push them out a little bit, help them know that they are going to have to get a job, and we are going to have to encourage them and guide them and teach them how to dream. We are going to have to teach parents how to be parents, when we have kids raising kids. We are going to have to do all of that. That is caring.

We have to stop just giving people something and then allowing them to just expect that more is going to be given to them. This is probably the most important thing that can come from this new Republican majority.

Now, I cannot say that this new Republican majority is going to win reelection, because we have had to deal with a tremendous amount of demagoguery. We have had to deal with people who have said we are cutting Medicare and Medicaid and we are cutting welfare when we are not doing those things.

I talked about what happened last year, and what I want to do is just talk about what is in our plan for the next 6 years and use these charts. During the last 6 years we spent $8.7 billion. During the next 6 years we are looking to spend $10.4 billion. We are looking to have basically a $2 billion increase in the total. Trillion, I am sorry. This is $8.7 trillion spent in the last 6 years and this is $10.4 trillion spent in the next 6 years. We are basically looking to spend in the next 6 years $2 trillion more than we spent in the last 6 years.

Now, I talked about what we did with the student loan program in our budget last year. Now we are in the next year of the budget. It is not $24 billion, it is $26 billion, as we expected. This is the student loan program. We are allowing the student loan program, now not in the next 7 years in the next 6 years, it is going to grow 42 percent. In 7 years it would grow more than 50 percent, but in the next 6 years it will grow 42 percent.

Our budget is identical, basically in the turquoise, with the President's budget, which is in the red: $26 billion this year, $37 billion in the 6th year of our program, by the year 2002. Both the President and this Congress want to spend the same amount for the student loans.

The earned income tax credit. During the last 6 years we spent $109 billion on the Earned Income Tax Credit. Now, the earned income tax credit is money that is given to people who work who make very little, so little, in fact, that they do not pay taxes other than social security. They actually get money back from the taxpayers, and it cost us during the last 6 years $109 billion. In the next 6 years it is going to cost us $156 billion.

Only in Washington, when we have spent in the last 6 years $109 billion and then have it grow to $156 billion, do people call it a cut. But some on the other side of the aisle actually call that a cut. And by the way, that program, like the student loan program, grows over 40 percent during that 6-year period.

Welfare spending. We have heard the Republicans are basically cutting welfare spending. But how is it, if welfare spending was for the last 6 years $441 billion and in the next 6 years, under our plan, we are going to spend $576 billion? How is it when it grows 30 percent, we are going to spend 30 percent more dollars, can people call it a cut? It is an increase and, frankly, it is a sizable increase. We are talking about well over $100 billion of new additional dollars being spent.

In our plan what we do is we get welfare recipients off welfare and we get them back into work, and they are provided job training and day care and health care benefits. They are allowed to keep their health care benefits even though they are working. They are allowed to keep some of their welfare benefits, even though they will be working.

Medicaid spending. During the last 6 years we spent $463 billion. During the next 6 years we are going to spend $731 billion. This is the Medicaid program. The Medicaid program was $463 billion. We will be, in terms of the last 6 years and in the next 6 years, it will grow to $731 billion. Only when we grow from $463 billion to $731 billion do people call it a cut, but they call it a cut. It blows my mind. They call it a cut when we are spending so much more.

This gets me now to the Medicare trust fund. The Medicare trust fund is going bankrupt. It is kind of a scary thing to contemplate, because basically this side of the aisle is really the only one who has truly attempted to deal with the issue of making sure that it will not go bankrupt by the year 2001, right here.

Now, we are in the year 1996, and we know that the program is losing billions of dollars. This chart here illustrates how much it is losing. Last year we were told the program was going to grow by $4 billion. Instead of being zero, we were going to add $4 billion to the trust fund. Now, it is kind of hard to see, but there is a small red line here and it amounts to $35 million less money in the fund at the beginning of 1995 until the end of 1995. The fiscal year 1995.

So we ended up with less money, $35 million less. Now, in terms of this fund, that is not a tremendous amount of dollars, considering how many dollars are in the fund. But when we realize we were not supposed to have a $35 million loss, we were supposed to have over a $5 billion increase, and then in this year, when we were told the program was going to begin to go bankrupt already, and I am talking by April, we have $4.2 billion less in the fund than we started out in the beginning of that fiscal year.

We are being told now by the trust fund that in spite of the fact and because of, frankly, the President vetoing our bill, that the trust fund is going to go bankrupt not at the end of the year 2002 but beginning in the year 2001. And that was just a nice political way to say the end of the year 2000. It will go bankrupt 2 years sooner.

I just have two more charts, and I would just love to just point out that our Medicare spending during the last 6 years, we spent $920 billion. In the next 6 years we are going to spend $1.4 trillion. Only in this place, when we have spent $920 billion and then we are going to spend $1.4 trillion, do people call it a cut. It is a 61-percent increase in a 6-year period of more dollars spent.

On a per-person basis, now remembering that this plan is now a 6-year plan instead of a 7, it grows from $5.2 to 7,000.

I have a colleague who would like to join me, but I would just like to touch on one last point. When I was elected in this last election and I was meeting with people from the editorial boards, they asked how could I as a moderate Republican have signed on to the Contract With America. I answered them by asking them a question.

Now, remember, we were many the minority then. We were in the minority. And we came out with a Contract With America which said the eight reforms we wanted to do on opening day and the ten major reforms we wanted to do in the first 100 days. I answered their question by asking a question. I said, "What do you think of the majority party's Contract With America?" Meaning in this case the Democrats who had been in control for 40 years and still were in control.

I just enjoyed the silence, because there was no plan. They had no plan. I said is it not amazing that the minority party then, the Republican Party, had a plan of reforms for the first day, eight reforms, and a plan for the first 100 days, major reforms, balancing the Federal budget, dealing with tort reform, malpractice reform, saving our trust funds, all of those very viable important programs, I said is it not amazing that the minority party has a plan and the majority party does not?

Then I said something that means more to me than almost anything else. First off, there was not a Member who signed that who did not have a role to play in fitting it together, and I am joined now by my colleague who played a major role in making sure that this contract actually came to fruition, who was not an incumbent at the time, who helped us write it. And the exciting thing was that this was put together by over 390 Members of Congress or challengers. This was a positive plan that did not criticize President Clinton, did not criticize Congress, it just said if you elect us, this is what we will do.

I want to emphasize before yielding to my colleague this point. The press is constantly saying why do we always criticize the other side? Why are we so partisan? I am thinking, when we finally had a clear-cut plan that did not criticize the President, did not criticize Congress, then the Democrats in Congress, but just simply said you elect us and this is what we will do, they were critical of it. Then when we started to implement it and do what we said we would do, they started to criticize us again.

It just made me realize that doing the kind of changes that we need to do to save this country are not easy, but I count my blessings each and every day that I have the opportunity to be part of that change.

Mr. Speaker, with that, I would like to recognize my colleague, who I am very pleased has joined me.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding to me, and it is almost like yesterday. In some respects it is like yesterday and in some respects it is like many, many years ago, when we stood on the floor of this House on the very first day of this 104th Congress and I was given the high honor of representing the freshmen and being the freshmen spokesman in leading the debate on the adoption of the rule for the Shays Act.

A lot of people have forgotten how important that was, but I think that was a very, very important act. In it we said that Congress is now going to have to live by the same laws as everybody else. And the interesting thing is, outside of Washington, outside of the circle that we call Washington, DC, beyond the Potomac, that made perfect sense. But here in Washington, that was considered sort of a radical idea.

Because for many, many years, we had developed this reputation here in Washington, particularly in Congress, that everybody else had to live by this set of rules, but Congress somehow would exempt itself from those same rules. And today we had a vote on a very important bill which allowed for employers and employees to negotiate and work together to say, would you like to have time and a half for overtime or would you like to have compensatory time?

One of the reasons I think that bill passed today and one of the reasons it became an important bill is all of a sudden Congress had to live by the Fair Labor Standards Act. And some weeks our staff work 60 hours and some weeks we are on district work period and they do not have to work quite as many hours. So many of us thought why can we not give our staff some time off in months where the workload is a little lighter around here because we know there are going to be months when we have to work them even harder.

So I was so pleased and honored and privileged to have been an important part of the debate on that very first bill. And frankly, and you know this, Representative SHAYS, that I became the first freshman in over 100 years to be invited to the first bill signing down at the White House. And my staff, I remember that day they thought it was a much bigger deal than I did. But I have had a chance to reflect on that and it was really a very historic moment to have a freshman for the first bill signing.

Mr. SHAYS. I have to say when you brought out the rule on the congressional accountability bill which was to get Congress to live by all the laws that we impose on everyone else, you were not speaking for the freshmen, you were speaking for the majority in this Congress and the vast majority of American people who knew it was ludicrous, immoral, and harmful for Congress not to be under the laws that we impose on the rest of the country.

Our Founding Fathers, as you pointed out in that early debate, and I have used your quote since, our Founding Fathers, Madison in particular, and in his Paper 57, basically said, of course, the protection to the people would be that of course Congress would live under the same laws it imposes on the people and it would not impose laws on itself that it could not live by. Little did Madison know that for about a 30-year period, Congress did not want to live under certain laws but was willing to impose the laws on everyone else.

If the gentleman would allow me to continue, you did a superb job of just making sure that the American people heard the plainness and sensibility of that effort. And I was instantly very proud. I have to tell you, at first my nose was a little out of joint. I have to tell you I thought these freshmen, they are just here and they are taking over. And I said, thank God, because you all did us proud. You took the floor that opening day on every rule, and you spoke for all of us. And I was never more proud to be associated with an effort than when you came and brought this bill to the Chamber and to join you when it was signed and it was a bipartisan effort. It happened under this Republican Congress but it was a bipartisan effort.

The interesting thing, and I am holding the floor probably longer than I should, but you talked about today what we did. What we did today, or what we had not had to do before, was before this bill passed we did not have to give overtime and we did not have to give compensatory time. We did not have to pay someone 40 hours plus time and a half. And we did not have to live under OSHA and a lot other laws. But now all of a sudden we are living under the laws that we impose on others, the 40-hour work week and time and a half.

In the past, there are some employees who are actually behind you, who were unhappy that we had a situation where we were denying them the opportunity to have compensatory time. I am talking generally about employees who worked in Congress. And so today what did we do? We passed a law, with basically very little support from the other side of the aisle, that said if an employer is willing and an employee wants, and the employee has to want this, an employee can get instead of time and a half pay, they can get time and a half overtime. So, if they worked 20 days, they can get 30 days off with pay. Or they can cash in their 20 days of work and get 30 days of pay immediately and continue to work.

We gave that choice to the employee and employer. And amazingly, some of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle just thought that was wrong.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. If the gentleman would yield back, and this is where it began to ring home, when the various agencies started to report to us exactly what we were going to have to live by, and the Fair Labor Standards Act was one of them, I remember in our office I said, why can we not just say that obviously there are some weeks when the legislative business is so rigorous around here that our staff has to work 45, 50, even 60, perhaps even 75 hours. Why in some of these other weeks, can we not give them time off? And frankly, some of my staff said gee, we would love to have some time off to go shopping, or visit our family, or do some other things. And we came right up against the Fair Labor Standards Act that said you cannot do that.

The beauty of the bill that we passed today, and hopefully the President will sign it, I do not know what the President is going to do. I understand there are certain special interest groups who want to block this legislation, but the beauty is that it gives not only us the opportunity to work with our employees, but it gives all Americans, all employers around the country, the same. And the beauty of the Congressional Accountability Act, and I told people, the point was not to punish Congress. The point was to sensitize Congress to what every employer around the United States has to deal with, whether it is an insurance agency or a large corporation, small business, whatever it happens to be. And once you begin to see how difficult it is for us to deal with it, then you realize how difficult it is for that three-person insurance agency, or that large independent company, whatever it happens to be.

The point was not to punish us, the point was to sensitize us to how difficult it is to deal with. That was a very, very important role

I appreciate all the work that you have done on the Shays Act, and making Congress live by the same laws, but one of the things that brought me down to the well, and you were showing in your charts, because I think there are still an awful lot of Americans who do not understand how much under the House-passed plan we are going to increase Medicare spending, a lot of people keep using the term "Medicare cuts." As a matter of fact, we cannot require this by statute, but I would hope that responsible members of the press, every time they hear or quote someone from this body, or Washington, or the administration, or whomsoever, whenever they use the term "Medicare cuts," I wish they would put "from $4,800 to $7,100." Put that in parentheses: The Republican Medicare cuts from $4,800 to $7,100, whatever the numbers are, or from $5,000 to approximately $7,200.

But the point is, no Americans really believe that when you increase spending from $4,800 to $7,100 over a 6-year period that that is a cut. But if we can do that, we can actually increase the life, make the Medicare trust fund solvent not only for this generation of Americans, but hopefully as we begin to make these reforms we can save the Medicare system for the next generation.

Mr. SHAYS. It is a fair debate to say you are spending $4,800. Let us take what we did last year that the President vetoed. We went from $4,800 per beneficiary to $7,100, a 49-percent increase in terms of per-beneficiary costs. We allowed it to grow 49 percent from $4,800 to $7,100. Now, it is fair to say if someone wants to, well, you are allowing it to increase and you are allowing it to increase quite significantly because that is not enough. We want it to grow to $7,500. That is a debate that is valid and then we have that debate.

But what happened was that I would go back to my district and my constituents would say well, some of your congressional colleagues from around the State said that you have cut Medicare, and I give them the number and they say that is not a cut.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Please hold up that chart again. I do not think you can hold it up too many times.

Mr. SHAYS. This chart that I have here is what we are doing this year. This is Medicare in terms of what we are spending over the last 6 years versus—

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Those are the gross dollars.

Mr. SHAYS. The collective gross dollars. We are spending $920 billion, or we spent in the last 6 years $920 billion. In the next 6 years, $1,479 billion or $1.4 trillion. This clearly is a significant increase. Now if our colleagues on the other side of the aisle say we should be spending $1.6 trillion, then let us have that debate.

But then the question is why? I ask myself why would we want to spend more when we did not increase the copayment, did not increase the deductible, did not increase the premium except for the very wealthy? And if they do not like the choice programs, they do not have to go to the choice programs. They can stay in the traditional fee-for-service. But if they went to a program that had eye care and dental care and did not like the doctor, they can go right back to their traditional fee-for-service Medicare plan. And we saved $240 billion. If we saved $240 billion, what happened it? What happened is it went into the program to make sure it does not go bankrupt for the next 14 years.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. And the other point that our colleagues sometimes make is they say you are cutting Medicare to offer tax cuts to the rich. And I will tell you, that is one charge that absolutely makes me furious. But they know, we know, and I think everyone in this body knows that that is a separate trust fund and it is completely divorced from whatever happens on the other side of the budget. We cannot use changes in the Medicare system to fund a tax cut. That is absolutely false. And they know it is false because it is a trust fund, and nothing that we do on the other side of the budget can be used to alter the Medicare trust fund. And that really disturbs me when people say that because they absolutely know that that is not true.

Mr. SHAYS. It is inaccurate for two reasons. First off, recognizing that part of it is a trust fund, the Medicare Part A is a trust fund and Medicare Part B is funded out of the taxes. And we tax revenues and the premium that people pay. By our saving $240 billion, half of that goes into the trust fund and the other half basically reduces the burden to the taxpayer of continuing to spend more for a program where we do not have to spend more.

But the other part is that they are not tax cuts for the wealthy. The two-thirds of the tax cut that we proposed was a $500 tax cut basically, not a tax cut, well it was a tax cut, $500 tax credit per child for families making under $100,000. So if you had a family of four children, and you were making under $100,000, you would have in your payroll $2,000 more.

What was the logic of that? It is not a tax cut to the wealthy; it is a tax cut to families. And if you were making $30,000 or $40,000, you may end up paying no taxes because that $2,000 reduction may eliminate all of your Federal taxes except for the Social Security tax. That was a tax cut, a tax credit for families. Not wealthy people, for families.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. And it was based on the basic notion that families can spend this money far more efficiently than the Federal bureaucracy. And I doubt if there is anybody in this room or anybody in Congress or anybody who is watching this at home who doubts the basic wisdom of that. Families are very responsible for the resources that they have.

Let me tell a quick personal story. We have just a couple of minutes and I will close with this. I was raised in a family with three boys. My dad was a life-long member of the AFL-CIO. He worked in a factory. The largest single payment that my family made when I was growing up was their house payment. But for the average family today, the largest payment they make is to the government. The average family trying to raise three kids today spends more for taxes than for food, clothing, and shelter combined, and we believe that they ought to have some tax relief.

Mr. SHAYS. Thirty-eight percent of their income is paid in taxes, where when my parents were raising me it was about 15 percent. And my parents were allowed a much larger deduction per child than families are today.

Let me close and thank my colleagues for joining me by saying that this new Republican majority has three basic objectives: to get our financial house in order and balance the budget; and the second, to save our trust funds particularly Medicare from bankruptcy; and our third effort is to transform our caretaking society into a caring society, to transform our caretaking social and corporate and agricultural welfare state into a caring opportunity society.

We are looking to bring money, power, and influence out of Washington back to people in local communities. And we are going to do this for the good of the children because, as Mr. Rabin said, the former Prime Minister of Israel, politicians are elected by adults to represent the children. And this Republican Congress is looking to represent the children so that they have a brighter future than we had.

With that, Mr. Speaker, I truly thank you for giving us this opportunity, and I am going to yield back the balance of my time.

TEAMWORK FOR EMPLOYEES AND MANAGERS ACT OF 1995—VETO MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES (H. DOC. NO. 104-251)

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MCINNIS) laid before the House the following veto message from the President of the United States:

To the House of Representatives:

I am returning herewith without my approval, H.R. 743, the "Teamwork for Employees and Managers Act of 1995." This act would undermine crucial employee protections.

I strongly support workplace practices that promote cooperative labor-management relations. In order for the United States to remain globally competitive into the next century, employees must recognize their stake in their employer's business, employers must value their employees' labor, and each must work in partnership with the other. Cooperative efforts, by promoting mutual trust and respect, can encourage innovation, improve productivity, and enhance the efficiency and performance of American workplaces.

Current law provides for a wide variety of cooperative workplace efforts. It permits employers to work with employees in quality circles to improve quality, efficiency, and productivity. Current law also allows employers to delegate significant managerial responsibilities to employee work teams, sponsor brainstorming sessions, and solicit employee suggestions and criticisms. Today, 30,000 workplaces across the country has employee involvement plans. According to one recent survey, 96 percent of large employers already have established such programs.

I strongly support further labor-management cooperation within the broad parameters allowed under current law.

To the extent that recent National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) decisions have created uncertainty as to the scope of permissible cooperation, the NLRB, in the exercise of its independent authority, should provide guidance to clarify the broad legal boundaries of the labor-management teamwork. The Congress rejected a more narrowly defined proposal designed to accomplish that objective.

Instead, this legislation, rather than promoting genuine teamwork, would undermine the system of collective bargaining that has served this country so well for many decades. It would do this by allowing employers to establish company unions where no union currently exists and permitting company dominated unions where employees are in the process of determining whether to be represented by a union. Rather than encouraging true workplace cooperation, this bill would abolish protections that ensure independent and democratic representation in the workplace.

True cooperative efforts must be based on mutual trust and respect encourages the prospect of achieving workplace innovation, improved productivity, and enhanced efficiency and workplace performance. Any ambiguities in the situation should be resolved, but without weakening or eliminating the fundamental right of employees to collective bargaining.

WILLIAM J. CLINTON.

THE WHITE HOUSE, July 30, 1996.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The objections of the President will be spread at large upon the Journal, and the message and bill will be printed as a House document.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that further consideration of the veto message on the bill, H.R. 743, be postponed until Wednesday, July 31, 1996.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MCINNIS). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Minnesota?

There was no objection.

PARTIAL BIRTH ABORTIONS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of May 12, 1995, the gentleman from Minnesota [Mr. GUTKNECHT] is recognized for 60 minutes.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the House for the opportunity to spend some time tonight to talk about an issue that has probably generated more mail and more phone calls and more responses from our constituents than virtually any issue since I joined the Congress just 18 months ago. I speak tonight about the issue of partial birth abortions.

I think we need to first of all talk a little bit about what in fact a partial birth abortion is. I had hoped to have some charts to show to my colleagues and those who may be watching on cable TV tonight what exactly a partial birth abortion is. But let me just say that in many respects it is a late term abortion in which the baby is virtually completely delivered and only the head of the baby is allowed to remain inside the womb, and then the doctor, the abortionist I think is a more accurate term, the abortionist takes a scissors and inserts that scissors into the back of the baby's brain, then using a very powerful suction device actually sucks out the brains of the baby. Then the baby is delivered. Of course, the baby is delivered dead.

It is true that in many respects in some of the abortions that are performed using this procedure, the babies are badly deformed and they have very little chance of surviving. I think we have to be honest and say that in some respects that is true. But in many respects, that is not true. Many times this is used just as a simple late term, what I would describe as a late term version of protracted birth control, where the baby is actually being destroyed simply because the baby is inconvenient to the mother at that particular point in her life.

On April 10, 1996, President Bill Clinton used his veto pen to perpetuate a tragedy that results in the destruction of innocent babies. It was on that date that the President vetoed H.R. 1833, the Partial Birth Abortion Ban Act.

I believe that every abortion actually involves two victims, both the baby and the mother, and I believe that every abortion sadly takes the life of an innocent child. I do understand politically that the American people and the Nation has not yet reached a consensus on saying that all abortions should be banned in this country. But I do believe that in late term abortions like this, particularly when they are performed with this grisly procedure, that I think most Americans are prepared to say that this procedure ought to be outlawed and we ought to say that this is one procedure that is not legal under our system of laws.

As I said, in most respects the baby is pulled from the mother's womb legs first, and then a scissors is inserted in the baby's skull, opening them to enlarge a hole so that a suction catheter can then be inserted and the baby's brains are sucked out, causing the skull to collapse. The difference between this heinous procedure and homicide is literally only a matter of inches.

Regardless of one's position on abortion, and I do understand and I try to be empathetic and sympathetic to those who have different views than mine about the whole system of abortion and what should be legal and what should not be legal in this United States, it is clear that a vast majority of Americans supporting banning this particular procedure. In fact, I think the more that the American people learn about this particular procedure, the more that they say that we cannot be a society that tolerates this.

If you look back to our history in our earlier discussions about the budget and other issues, there was some reference to our Founding Fathers. I would like to share with you a couple of things that our Founding Fathers said that I think in some respects reflect upon this particular issue.

Thomas Jefferson said that if you give the American people the truth, the Republic will be saved. I think the more that the American people learn about this particular procedure, the more they learn the truth about this procedure, the more that they will demand that public policymakers take the correct action and make it illegal.

Jefferson also wrote these immortal words when he talked about we the people, he said that we were endowed by our Creator with certain inalienable rights and that among those are the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

I for one do not believe that it was purely coincidence that he listed the right to life as chief among them. And I think that he understood, the Founding Fathers understood and, frankly, I think if Americans are honest with themselves they understand, that life is something more than just a biological accident, that it is a gift from a power greater than that of any government.

While I have already admitted that we probably do not have the political consensus to eliminate abortion from our American system today, I think that there is a growing consensus that this particular procedure can be and should be outlawed.

It is not really surprising that the American Medical Association's legislative counsel, a panel consisting of 12 doctors, unanimously voted last year to recommend banning this procedure. One of the doctors, the AMA counsel, described the partial birth abortion procedure as "basically repulsive."

Proponents of this heinous partial birth abortion procedure, including President Clinton, contend that there are legitimate reasons for doctors to use it. But under closer scrutiny, it is clear that their defense of this procedure is akin to infanticide and is based on inaccurate or false information.

First, Mr. Speaker, let me say that partial birth abortion proponents contend that this procedure is primarily used on babies with abnormalities or deformities. Well, Dr. Martin Haskell, who has performed more than 1,000 partial birth abortions told the American Medical News that 80 percent of the partial birth abortions he performed between 20 and 25 weeks, or about 4½ to 5½ months of gestation, were "purely elective."

Second, partial birth abortion proponents claim that babies die in the womb as a result of the anesthesia administered to the mother and therefore they do not feel any pain from the procedure. The American Society of Anesthesiologists set the record straight. When its president, Dr. Norig Ellison, said that those claims have "absolutely no basis in scientific fact."

Third, partial birth abortion proponents argue that this procedure is often necessary to protect the health of the mother. But again, Dr. Pamela Smith, director of medical education in the department of obstetrics and gynecology at Mt. Sinai Hospital in Chicago, says "there are absolutely no obstetrical situations encountered in this country which require a partially delivered human fetus to be destroyed to preserve the life or health of the mother."

I might add, Mr. Speaker, that in the bill that was drafted and sent to the President, we made certain allowances where if in fact the health or the life of the mother was at stake, that these procedures could go forward.

Moreover, though, Dr. Smith says that the partial birth abortion itself poses maternal health risks. Because the procedure involves 3 days of forceful dilation to the cervix, the mother risks damaging her reproductive organs. Uterine rupture is also a documented complication associated with this procedure.

Opponents of the partial birth abortion ban advocate including an exception to the ban of the health of the mother, as I said. Why? Because the ban opponents know that the exception would render these bills meaningless. The U.S. Supreme Court has defined health as including "all factors—physical, psychological, familial, and the women's age—relevant to the well-being of the patient." Therefore, the health exception would allow abortionists to continue to perform these partial birth abortions for reasons such as depression or youth of the mother.

Despite the misinformation campaign being waged by the proponents of this violent procedure, President Clinton and the abortion advocates have placed themselves outside the mainstream of American thinking. In fact, the Roman Catholic Church and the leaders of that church are so upset with the President's veto that they held a press conference to denounce his decision. They also recently distributed over 27 million postcards at churches all across the Nation. They have been mobilizing their parishioners to bombard Congress with one message: "Override the President's veto and outlaw certain late-term abortions."

We checked with the post office here at the U.S. House of Representatives today, and they tell us there is a backlog of over 1.1 million of these cards which are coming to Members of Congress.

I want to talk also tonight a little bit about one particular hero, a gentleman by the name of John Joyce who is the president of the International Union of Bricklayers and Allied Craftsmen. He is one person who broke ranks with the AFL-CIO and rejected its endorsement of President Clinton because of President's veto of partial birth abortions. I want to talk a little bit about that. This is a gentleman I think some Members will remember. We have probably remembered the book that was written by John Kennedy called "Profiles in Courage." And I would say that if a new version of that book were being written, certainly John Joyce, the president of the International Union of Bricklayers and Allied Craftsmen would certainly deserve a chapter because it took an enormous amount of courage for him to stand up and say that President Clinton was wrong because of his veto of partial birth abortions and that he could not support him.

Joyce said that the veto is so, and I quote, he said: It so outraged him that he could not support President Clinton even though he thought the President would be much better for working people than would Bob Dole. I could only go so far as my mind and conscience are willing to take me.

This is one example, and I think there are many examples, of Americans across the country who have said that enough is enough. This is one area where I think the President has gone too far. John Joyce, as I say, should find himself a chapter in the next version of "Profiles in Courage" because he had the courage to stand up and say this is wrong and, despite what my union says, despite what the members say, despite what the labor bosses in Washington say, I cannot support President Clinton because of this particular issue.

I am pleased to have with me tonight and join with me someone who has been a longtime advocate for the rights of the unborn and someone who particularly understands the whole issue of partial birth abortions, probably is much more of an expert in Roman Catholic teaching than I have ever been. I am pleased to have join me tonight the gentleman from Orange County, CA, the Honorable ROBERT K. DORNAN. I would yield to him for a few moments to talk a little bit about this issue, what we can do, where we stand and perhaps where we can go from here.

Mr. DORNAN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. If there is anything I know about theology or philosophy or rhetoric or logic or ethics more than you do, it is only because I am years older than you are and you are catching fast on me. Before you are my tender years you will have gone beyond me.

My wife was down in the cellar filing unbelievable reams of mimeographed documents, books, and paperwork, and she came across the House Ethics Manual. You got one a long time ago. They gave you one over a year and a half ago.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Was not that long ago.

Mr. DORNAN. Right. And this particular one, this current Congress, it is not the last Congress, it is the 102d Congress, April 1992, and it is published by the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, which is loosely referred to as the Ethics Committee, probably because their manual is called the House Ethics Manual.

Now my wife opened this up because of a recent dust-up around here between Republican Members, and she came to the opening page. It has the committee two Congresses ago. LOU STOKES was the chairman. Half of these people are defeated or left, like Fred Grandy and others. JON KYL has moved on with distinction to the U.S. Senate from his great State of Arizona.

And my wife looked at the first page, and it says: "The code of official conduct, House rule 43," and it is good ethics material. "A member, officer, employee of the House of Representatives shall conduct himself at all times in a manner which shall reflect credibly upon the House of Representatives."

Give me a drum roll; that is a given. Do not seduce a page.

Do not seduce or corrupt the pages or you get kicked out.

Wrong. You can do that; not get kicked out, only get a censor. turn your back on the House, use the Lord's name in vain in the Speakers lobby, and get reelected in one of our original 13 colonies five more times. That was the darkest day in the history of this House in this century.

Then my wife comes to, still in the prologue, those little tiny roman numeral fives and so forth, Roman numeral V: Code of Ethics for Government Service. And this comes to the core of what you were saying about the head of that union. Which union was it; not the Carpenters and Joiners, the—

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Bricklayers.

Mr. DORNAN. Bricklayers Union, where you put principle above everything, faith, family, and freedom. Faith comes first before your country and freedom.

Code of Ethics for Government Service:

"Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring", passed 1958. The year I got off active duty I was 24 years old, flying F-100 supersonic Sabres. Fifty-eight. Jim Wright, the former Speaker, was only in his sophomore year here. Ike was still President. Go down to only 143 Republicans from 221 when he got elected. So this is Ike's third to last year:

"Resolved by the House, Senate concurring, that it is the sense of the Congress that the following Code of Ethics should be adhered to by all government employees, including officers."

Mr. GUTKNECHT, Mr. DORNAN are included here.

Code of ethics for Government service; there are 10 of them. Ten commandments.

Any person in service should, colon, 10 things listed.

First, put loyalty to the highest moral principles and to country above loyalty to government persons, to party or to your department, talking to the executive branch out there, but this would apply to the Supreme Court, to every branch of government, every elected person, and it is applicable to the States, the counties and cities: loyalty to the highest moral principles, above everything, and to your country, above loyalty to any government person from a President to a Speaker to a Senate leader to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and ahead of your party certainly and your department. It is high moral principle; that is, the principles of our Creator that was mentioned several times in the Declaration of Independence.

Now what happened with the head of the Bricklayers Union and what happened with the Democratic Governor of one of our biggest States, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with Bob Casey, was they said:

Look, I want to go to heaven.

I hope they thought that. I know Bob Casey did.

I want to go to heaven here. I want to do what is right.

If they are a good Protestant, they say:

Wait a minute. Billy Graham went to the White House on May 1 and told the President you cannot veto something that is passed with a huge majority in the House and Senate that involves delivering a baby into this world fourths, and then you stop the birth process, bringing distress to the delivery mother, and hold the head inside the birth canal while you attack it in the back, stab it in the back of that perfectly formed little head formed by God, stab it in the back of its head and remove its brains, suction out that perfect little formed brain. You cannot do that.

What is the gentleman's name, the head of the Bricklayers Union; I want to—

Mr. GUTKNECHT. John, and I am sorry I turned it over to the—John Joyce was the gentleman's name, an American hero. And if the gentleman—

Mr. DORNAN. Bob Casey, John Joyce. American heroes, yes.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Absolutely, and the world is full of them. But I just want to bring to your attention a quote also from one of the Framers of our Constitution.

John Adams said that our Constitution was intended for a moral and religious people. It would be wholly inadequate for any other.

I think they understood, and I think we understand, and I think the American people understand the morality, principles, values; you cannot separate them from our Constitution or even from our codified law. In fact, I think many Americans forget sometimes that the Founding Fathers believed that the law, the body of law, was the bare minimum of expectation from moral behavior, that there ought to be actually a higher standard, and yet somehow we have been reduced to the lowest common denominator.

And I think one of the reasons this whole issue of the partial-birth abortion, the reason I think it cuts so many people right down to the bone and the reason it has generated so much interest and so many letters and so many calls and so many postcards from our constituents is because I think they begin to understand that there is something happening in this country, and it is not just partial-birth abortion. It is about the basic unraveling of the moral fiber of this culture, and our Constitution was intended for a moral and religious people. It would be wholly inadequate for any other.

Those words were true when John Adams said them almost 200 years ago. They are absolutely true today, and I think—so in many respects partial-birth abortion and the unraveling of our society, the unraveling of the moral fabric, are all sort of symptoms of a greater disease.

That is not to say that I think the American people are turning to the Congress or they are turning to politicians to become the keepers of the moral flame, but I do think that they expect us to be a good example, and I think they do expect us to set certain standards and certain minimum standards, and whether or not we can totally make all abortions illegal or whether we even should, I think is a separate question. We certainly can, and I think the American people are saying loudly and clearly we can and we should make this particular grisly procedure illegal here in the United States.

Mr. DORNAN. Well let me show how the courage of a John Joyce, of a Robert Casey, former Governor of the State where my mother was raised, the beautiful Pennsylvania; let me tell you about a letter dated today that was just given to me by Edward J. O'Hearn, the chairman of the pro-life committee of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Look at that beautiful Irish flag with an American flag.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Are not they Irish? Is that not the ultimate Irish organization?

Mr. DORNAN. Roman name for Ireland, Hibernia; and Caldonia for Scotland.

Now this out of Louisville, KY. Edward O'Hearn is, as I said, chairman of pro-life. Listen to what he writes to NEWT GINGRICH.

Dear Mr. Speaker, since 1992 Republican elected officials and Republican spokespeople have been critical of the Democratic Party for the treatment of Gov. Robert Patrick Casey at the 1992 Democratic Convention because of his refusal to back down on a matter of conscious and religious conviction, the abortion issue.

Well, he says with exclamation points, no more. Your treatment of Congressman CHRIS SMITH of New Jersey, an Irish Catholic, and I am going to leave out the next Irish Catholics because I am cooling my jets here as the conference chairman suggested, on the same issue ranks right up there with the insult to Casey and Catholics in general by the Clinton team in 1992, and that insult continues.

Remember that George Bush was on the ramp of Detroit with the Holy Father when the Pope said, stand up for life. And Barbara and George Bush, then the President and First Lady, went yes, yes, yes. And the last time Clinton stiffed him because he was leaving from Baltimore Airport, I was there, and the Pope said again, we must defend and protect innocent human life.

The Governor sat on his hands, the Catholic Lieutenant Governor, Kathleen Kennedy Townsend, sat on her hands, Polish Catholic BARBARA MIKULSKI sat on her hands. I started applauding with my grandson who is 14, and we made enough noise for all the other VIP's and the whole crowd behind started to cheer. But PAUL SARBANES, a Greek Orthodox Christian, he would not applaud; JOE BIDEN would not applaud, Catholic Senator from Delaware; nobody would applaud the Pope except me in the second row. And then later, the Secret Service brought me up and stood me next to a wonderful lady, Tipper Gore, and we said goodbye to the Pope, and I did not know if he would ever have the health to come back here again. But what a courageous and saintly fight this man has made for life.

And he said this culture of death in Europe and in this country has got to be reversed if we are to survive in this mortal existence of ours. And instead of surviving, we have upped the ante so one Republican and one independent and 65 people in this House a couple of days ago voted for homosexual marriage, and 15 Republicans, 15 out of 236, voted for infanticide.

So I continue from the Ancient Order of Hibernians. In April of this year the Ancient Order of Hibernians rescinded our invitation to President Clinton to address our national convention because he vetoed the partial-birth abortion ban, hereafter known as the partial birth infanticide. Your actions against Representative SMITH are directly related to their refusal—I left somebody else out there—to compromise their convictions on partial-birth abortion.

Not really so in my case. I had known about votes involved at the time.

We would be remiss if we did not also blast your actions as publicly and forthrightly as we condemn the actions of President Clinton. It should come as no surprise that we support the declaration of conscience resolution—this is making the rounds around here now. A copy of our letter is being sent to the American bishops, the American cardinals, the Ancient Order of Hibernian membership, and leaders of other Catholic organizations in America, plus Catholic newspaper in the United States of America. Sincerely Edward J. O'Hearn, chairman, pro-life committee, Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Now, Mr. GUTKNECHT, we do not need to create fights like that. There are votes that above and beyond any votes. As I told all of our leadership today quite respectfully and quite politely why this infanticide vote was different, I pointed out to Speaker GINGRICH, to Majority Leader ARMEY, to Majority Whip DELAY, to conference Chairman JOHN BOEHNER, and to fighting BILL PAXON of New York, chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee, I said: Mr. PAXON, with all due respect, if your wonderful wife, a fighting Member here, had not broken her unbroken string, and I use their language of pro-choice votes, and if she had not voted to ban partial-birth infanticide abortion, she would not be the keynote speaker at our convention.

He was silent. Some others conceded it. The gentlewoman from New York [Mrs. KELLY], who is the cause of all this controversy, because she is 1 of the 15 that voted for infanticide, she is a polite, wonderful lady. She conceded to me standing right there that if the gentlewoman from New York, Ms. MOLINARI, had not voted with the majority of both parties to ban this infanticide, partial birth abortion, she said, using the verb, concede, "I," this is SUE KELLY, "I concede SUSAN would not be the keynote speaker of the convention."

I said, "Pardon me for using a double entendre, and I do do deliberately, this is a killer vote." In other words, if it can kill your speaking at the convention, then it has an aspect to it that is beyond a 1,000 out of 1,001 votes around here.

It is like the homosexual marriage vote, homosexual marriage. If anybody other than a lame duck or possibly a write-in Member from your neck of the woods, the gentleman from Wisconsin [Mr. GUNDERSON], if anybody but him had voted for this, they would be in deep trouble getting reelected in a Republican primary or even in a Republican or in a general election as a Republican.

We have pushed the envelope here, if I may use a test pilot's term. That is why I said in this well, standing right where you are at that leadership lecture, and the gentleman from Massachusetts, Mr. FRANK, said, if you want this whole debate to be characterized by the last speaker's mention, so be it. Do you know what I said? I predicted in 3 years we would be debating pedophilia.

When I left the floor I started thinking about it. Other Members came up to me and said, how about a year or two from now? How about a year from now? Because there is already a term for it by the activist movements around this country, the hedonist and sodomy movements, transgenerational sex. That is all. That is what they want to call it.

If an adult, as in ancient Greece, which destroyed the Golden Age of Pericles, if an adult can con a child into consensual sex, which is impossible by the laws of all States when you involve a minor, that is what statutory rape is about. But if you can somehow or other act like the child seduced you or it was consensual, then who is to stand in the way of that? And it is now called pedophilia chic, and the movement is beginning.

For anybody whose brain circuits are being short-circuited by me tonight, this is the way we all felt about homosexual marriage last year, certainly 5 years ago, and certainly when I got here. I never thought we would ever debate in this Chamber, after I was sworn in in 1977, delivering a child four-fifths of the way in the birth process, from the birth canal, hold it in the mother's womb—I wish I had had this line in the debate—causing distress of the mother; where is the help to the mother and the relief—causing distress, an interruption in the birth process, so they can stab it in the back with a pair of Mendelson scissors and open up a wound to suction out the brains?

This is unbelievable. And what is absolutely short-circuiting my centers of logic is that in California there should be a 29 percent gap between Clinton, who faced off against Billy Graham, the head of his own Southern Baptist Church; the Pope in Rome; the Greek Orthodox; the folks in all of Islam, that is why they call us the Great Satan; all ethicists around the world worth a farthing, he faces the whole world down and vetoes the majority in both Houses, and does not drop a point in the polls. How do you fathom that, my distinguished colleague?

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Mr. Speaker, I would say to the gentleman from California [Mr. DORNAN], I am afraid I cannot explain that. It is one of the most troubling things we have confronted in this Congress, that we have watched the unraveling of our moral fabric. And somehow the media, and I am not one to point fingers or point blame, because I am not a fault-finder. The bad news is that I think the American people have somewhat become numbed to this kind of thing.

I think there needs to be a reawakening. When the Pope and the Catholic Church, and there have only been a handful of people who have received official condemnation of this Vatican, of the Vatican in general. It is a very short list. It is a rather infamous list. Yet, he now finds himself on that list.

Mr. DORNAN. Let us reconstruct that list that Mr. Clinton finds himself on: Fidel Castro, Bill Clinton, Mu'ammarr Qadhafi of Libya, and is Hafez Assad from Syria on there? But Rafsanjani is, the Iranian controlling oligarchy there in Tehran.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. There are only about four or five of some of the most despicable people in the world.

Mr. DORNAN. Pol Pot, Pol Pot, from the Killing Fields. He is on that list that the Pope has condemned. He came into office in 1978 in the killing fields in Cambodia, with the death after 33 days of John Paul I, making him the first. That was in 1978.

I remember I was correcting remarks, I had to intercept them at the general Post Office, and I thought, this is worth reflecting upon. I said, my Lord, the college of cardinals met for days. The puffs of white smoke went up, they picked somebody, and I said, God said no, I am taking him to heaven. Try again. I did not want that. And they picked, instead of the wonderful Italian, the bishop of Venice, the Cardinal of Venice, they picked this Polish Pope.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Karol Wojtyla.

Mr. DORNAN. Karol Wojtyla. And Ronald Reagan, Margaret Thatcher and a couple of Catholics, Lech Walesa, pulled down the evil empire. It is amazing.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. I will never forget, and I think the American People and the American press did not really pick up on this, but there was a particular pint in history when there was a lot of fear that the Soviets were going to—when Lech Walesa was leading the Solidarity movement in Poland, there was a lot of belief that the Soviets were going to move in with tanks to reoccupy Poland. There was one particular moment in history where a man of enormous courage literally sent a message to the Soviets that if you come to Poland, I will be there to meet you. That is the kind of courage that it took.

Mr. DORNAN. That was the Pope.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. He looked them down. It was a moment in history that, again. I do not think most people realize, or it did not get the kind of publicity it needed. But it took an enormous amount of courage for the Holy Father to say to the Soviet empire that "If you invade my motherland, I will be there to meet you." And I think in some respects, that, and the time that Ronald Reagan went to Berlin and he stood before the wall and he said, "Mr. Gorbachev, if you mean what you say, then tear down this wall."

Mr. DORNAN. It echoed.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. If you look at the story of history, it has been extraordinarily brave people who have had the courage to say, this is wrong and it must stop. And I think we have reached a point, particularly on the issue of partial birth abortions, where people of courage must stand and say, this is wrong and it must stop. And whether it is the gentleman from California, ROBERT K. DORNAN, or the gentleman from Minnesota, GIL GUTKNECHT, or thousands and millions of Americans, saying to this Congress and to this Government that "You've gone too far; that the moral fabric has frayed too far. We must take back our country. We must be a people of moral conscience. We must be a people of moral fiber," because we cannot survive.

We have lots of problems, and a lot of them are economic. We talk about the budget and we talk about the deficit. But if we really boil them down, they really come down to this basic view of morality, and our responsibility not only to ourselves but our responsibility to our fellow human beings.

As someone who came from my State, the late Senator Hubert Humphrey, one of the most famous quotes I remember from Hubert Humphrey was this. He said "If you love your God, you must love his children." If we must love our children, we must love the smallest and the most innocent of them.

We cannot stop all abortions. I will agree, this is a political environment, and we are a nation of laws and not of men. I cannot enforce my morality or my views on other people. But when you have 70 to 80 to 90 percent of the American people saying that partial birth abortion is wrong and it ought to be outlawed in the United States of America, then the Congress ought to respond.

That is the bad news, that we have gone this far. The good news is this: That we are only a few votes away in the House and in the Senate of overriding this terrible veto. I think we are going to be given an opportunity, if not in the next week, then certainly when we come back after the August recess, to correct this wrong.

I think if the American people, and I am not just talking about the Catholic people, I am talking about people of faith of every religion, and I am even talking about people who are not necessarily religious people, but who do have a very deep and abiding sense of fundamental morality, if they will send a clear message to the Congress and to this government here in Washington, I think we have a golden opportunity to reverse the course and begin to say that life is sacred, it is a gift from a power greater than that of any government, and there are some points where we can honestly say that we have gone too far. This certainly is one of them.

I have a deep and abiding faith in the American people, as Ronald Reagan did. Ronald Reagan believed in the honesty and the integrity and the morality of the American people. If you give the people the truth, the Republic will be saved. That is what this debate is about.

This is one point where I think we can make a difference. Frankly, as John Kennedy said, this is one point where we must.

Mr. DORNAN. Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to recall something, if the gentleman will yield further.

On May 2, the day after Rev. Billy Graham, who has given his whole life to preaching morality, ethics, and the good news of our Savior, he met with Clinton in the Oval Office and he said to him, respectfully, you must not let your veto stand. Let them override it, or encourage it. I do not know how we are going to break some hearts over there in the other Chamber.

The next day he came to what I have taken to calling, because it is, the secular nave of our cathedral of government, the rotunda of our Capitol. The first time I went in there as a little kid, it was like a church. I ask that of constituents. They say, "It is like a cathedral. It is like the nave of a beautiful cathedral, St. Paul's in London, St. Peter's in Rome, to a much smaller degree."

In there, with about five rows of international press bleachers built on the east wing, and with Billy Graham and his wife of 53 years, Ruth, with their back to Grant and Lincoln, and a POW-MIA flag, and I want to speak about that for the better part of an hour tonight, how we have sold out our missing-in-action families, he very thoughtfully, to all the leadership. Bob Dole was still there as the leader with his wonderful wife, Elizabeth, TOM DASCHLE, my friend from many years in this House was there as the Democrat leader in the Senate, and there was Senator BYRD looking up with respectful awe as a member of his particular denomination, all the Senate leaders on our side, I did not see Marianne, the First Lady of this House, but I saw Speaker GINGRICH and I saw the gentlemen from Texas, Mr. ARMEY, and Mr. DELAY, right down the line of our leaders, the gentleman from Missouri, DICK GEPHARDT, the Democratic leader, the gentleman from Michigan, DAVID BONIOR, they were all there.

Billy Graham said "This is a Nation on the brink of self-destruction." You could have heard a pin drop, except I involuntarily let out one of these youthful "yeses," "yes," and scared the press, because I was standing back by them. I just kind of looked up and, "That is right." There was this quiet. That was May 2; June 2, July 2. We are coming up on August 2, almost 3 months later.

I honestly feel, I would say to the gentleman, that is went in one ear and went out the other of all of our leaders. Because they understand what I say to them. Billy Graham was not addressing—the occasion was he was getting the Congressional Gold Medal unanimously from both Chambers. He was not talking about a 21st B-2 bomber. He was not even talking about the budget battle, although there are huge moral ramifications to unloading immorally a ton of debt, $5.5 trillion worth of debt on grandchildren not even born yet. He was talking about these social issues: Homosexual marriage and infanticide abortion. He is talking about the unraveling of the family and our social fabric, that we are on the verge of self-destruction.

In a wonderful meeting at 1:30 this afternoon, with those five leaders on our side and the gentleman from New Jersey, CHRIS SMITH and myself, CHRIS said if he were an activist, pro-abortion activist, he would not try to join the Democratic Party. They own that party, temporarily, praise God, we pray. He said "I would come in the Republican party and keep it," and CHRIS SMITH's words were good, he said "Keep our party conflicted and confounded and confused."

I added to it, and nobody wanted to hear this, that if I were a homosexual activist, starting my career, instead of ending it 16 years later under a cloud, I would join the Republican Party to also work within this party, because they open the other temporarily, good Lord, we hope, to come into the Republican Party and create conflict, to conflict us, to use it as a verb, conflict, to confound people and to confuse people. The battleground has become the Republican Party.

That is why, deliberately paraphrasing Billy Graham, now that I have time to say it, I paraphrase Reverend Graham, the Republican party is a party on the brink of self-destruction. We have 99 days, let us make it 98 when we wake up in the morning, 98 days when we wake up to election night.

I saw George Bush, our President, alone in the Oval Office, just the two of us, for 20 minutes, 97 days before the election of 1992 when he lost, November 3, so the date would have been July 27. He had 2 days less to campaign than Bob Dole will have.

I said, "Chief," the only time I addressed President Bush other than "Mr. President" was a term of affection, I said, "Chief, when do we fight? When do we begin to fight back? This guy's ahead of you," meaning Clinton. "You've got to fight. Do you want him walking around the hallowed halls of this White House?"

And George Bush, an honorable 1958 veteran, Navy combat carrier attack pilot, flinched, "Ooh, Bob." He did not want to think about Clinton. I said "We've got to fight."

Now here we are 98 days out in the morning. I am not going to be meeting ex-Senator Bob Dole in any White House, with Air Force One and marshaling the whole impact of the incumbency. Mr. Clinton has got all that going for him. I think in 4 more years of what we have seen in the last 3½ years, we are not just a party on the brink of self-destruction, kick it up to what Billy Graham said, we are a nation on the brink. On the brink.

It is these issues that brought the gentleman to the floor with his wonderful special order tonight that better kick the American people into high gear, and really everybody who understands what family is, even if it is a single mother, because our friend Vice President Dan Quayle was always misunderstood, misquoted.

I had a CEO of one of the biggest communication outfits in the world say, and this was just the other night, and this man is big, Manhattan. He said, "You know, they may have killed the messenger, Dan Quayle, politically but, boy, he changed the landscape of America."

Values is the core of all our issues that we are fighting, and if you do not think so, listen to how many times the Clintons use the word values, values, values, over and over. So I am sure certainly happy that the gentleman took this special order tonight.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Mr. Speaker, I am not nearly as pessimistic as the gentleman from California, because if we look at history, and it was sort of underscored when we talked about what happened with the Polish Pope who warned the Soviets, or when Ronald Reagan went to Berlin and he said that if the Soviets, if Mikhail Gorbachev meant what he said, then he should tear down this wall. I happen to believe that words have meaning, that ideas matter, and that actions have consequences. If you study history, every great movement, every great change in national attitudes has started with one person or a handful of people who had the courage to speak the truth.

There is a book coming out that was written by all of us freshmen. One of the chapters is written by one of my colleagues from Indiana, JOHN HOSTETTLER. He wrote a chapter about a gentleman by the name of Mapleshorpe who was a member of the British House of Commons in the late 18th and early 19th century in Great Britain.

One of the things that Mr. Mapleshorpe tried to do was to end the slave trade in Europe. Basically he said, "This is morally wrong and it must stop." At first he was laughed out of the House of Commons. Particularly the elites of that particular point in history said that he was ridiculous, they demeaned him in every way they could, but Mapleshorpe did not give up.

Mr. Speaker, the one thing that we know is that facts are stubborn things and truth is an incredibly powerful weapon. The more we learn about this partial-birth abortion, the more we realize that the American people can see through this smoke screen, they know that it is wrong, they know that it is morally wrong, they know that it should stop, and if only a handful of us have the courage to say to the American people that partial-birth abortions are wrong and they should be stopped, and we have got to stop unraveling this moral fabric that has made this country the greatest country in the history of the world, then I think we can begin to roll back the clock, because facts are stubborn things. Truth is a powerful weapon. All we have to do is speak the truth.

The gentleman quoted Billy Graham. It is a great quote, that this society is on the brink of destruction. It was barely reported in the next day's press.

Mr. DORNAN. It did not make the evening news at all. It just showed in silent that he got the Gold Medal from Congress.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. But, nonetheless, I believe that words have meaning, that actions have consequences, and that ideas matter. In the long light of history, whether or not it was well reported beyond the dome of this Capitol building, I think the American people believe that Billy Graham was right.

He recently came to Minneapolis and he spoke to I do not know how many hundreds of thousands of people, both directly and indirectly through television. Billy Graham is one who has the courage of his convictions. He, like the Pope, has been willing to stand up and say, this is right, this is wrong, and this should stop.

Mr. DORNAN. Would the gentleman want to add a note of excitement to his special order tonight? My middle daughter of 5 sons and daughters just called in a play. She did not mean to, but she knew it was your special order and I maybe could bolt for the Cloakroom phone booth for just a second.

She told me that it is all over the news, they are speculating on who our good friend Bob Dole's Vice President might be. It is an outsider, never been elected to office, but he wrote a book that had to do with that subject of values, and it is called the Book of Virtues.

Bill Bennett, former Secretary of Labor, for 2 weeks head of the Republican Party, former drug czar, Director of National Drug Policy, and Secretary of Education. He appears at the moment at least, these things may come and go, to be the front runner. He has had a few dustups with the Republican Party of late, but this is a man that knows we are a country on the brink of self-destruction. Billy Graham did not have to tell Bill Bennett that.

He is a son of North Carolina, educated in Massachusetts, and he is traveling around the country right now with Bob Dole. This is a no-nonsense guy, quite frankly he always reminds me of a grizzly bear who has just kind of rubbed his eyes and messed his hair a little, and you are going to get direct from him.

He has this great friendship with this wonderful black American, this lady of African-American descent, Delores Tucker. They have traveled together on the rock lyrics and how it is poisoning a whole generation of white Americans, Hispanic Americans, African-heritage Americans.

This will be very interesting. This could be one heck of a debate, because although the Bible is on one of the two nightstands on either side of our bed, I have to concede the Book of Virtues is on the other one.

I just put him to one test. I said, "Let me ask you something, Bill." He told me the book was coming out. I introduced him at a Christian Coalition meeting 2 or 3 years ago. I said, "What's this new book you've got coming out? Explain it to me." As I am just going up to introduce him, I lean back, I say, "It's got everything in it, Aesop's Fables, everything?"

He says, "Yeah."
I said, "Here is the acid test. My favorite most impressive morality story as a young man, other than all the scriptures I was getting from my family, it was a Disney film but it was from an Italian classic, Pinocchio. Is Pinocchio in that book?"

"Absolutely it is." Lampwick, Pleasure Island, smoking cigars, and shooting pool. Today it is Michael McCurry talking about taking a few joints and doing more than shooting pool, taking your pleasures wherever you may, and all of a sudden you are a jackass and suddenly you are enslaved to something, enslaved to a sex addiction, enslaved to drugs, enslaved to something, but you lose your freedom when you indulge yourself hedonistically to the extreme.

That Pinocchio story is a powerful story because what was it about? A little boy with no feelings who developed feelings and it turned him into a real boy. And whatever happened to Lampwick, the party guy? We do not know. But he said, "It's in there," and sure enough it was. Everything is in there.

What Bill Bennett was trying to respect was the wisdom of the ages, that absolute truth exists. There are certain core values. The 10 Commandments are not new and they are not old. They are just eternal.

So I think that might be an interesting development, and it will certainly keep my classmate AL GORE on his toes, and it may add a dimension, if it turns out to be true, to this race.

The other thing was, get this little play by my daughter Theresa Ann Dornan Cobban, who ran one of the best and cheapest presidential campaigns in the country, mine. She said, "Dad, the jury in Little Rock, AR, is deadlocked, and the judge said you go back in there and you come to a decision."

Deadlock is no good for the Clintons because that means they will call for a new trial and they will just keep going, and it will just take it right into September and October. The prosecution, when they wrapped up down there, said the monkey does not get the monkey grinder to dance to his tune. The monkey grinder, the owner of the banks, spreading all the money illegally into Clinton's gubernatorial races, the junior associate in the bank, that would be the monkey, he danced to the bank president's tune, and he is the one who has plead guilty, turned State's evidence and taken his lumps.

I do not know what is going to happen with that trial, but we may end up with something beyond Nixon. Because when Nixon won in 1972, nobody knew that Watergate was going to come back to cause him to fire his Doberman pinschers, Haldermann and Erlichman, on April 30, 1973. Nobody dreamed it would pull him down on August 9, 1974.

But this time, if Dole cannot save the country, then we are going to have impeachment proceedings in the spring of next year, of 1997, with all of this weight of scandalous material building up, building up, building up, until, as two Democrats told me on the center of the aisle back there, it is kind of dangerous to be a friend of the Clintons because you either end up dead or in jail. So we have got a moral crisis in this country.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MCINNIS). The Chair would just remind the gentleman at the microphone that Members are to address their remarks to the Chair and not to the viewing audience, if the gentleman from California could observe that.

Also, as a reminder, the gentleman from Minnesota has 2 minutes remaining.

Mr. DORNAN. I thank the gentleman. I certainly yield back to the distinguished gentleman from Minnesota.

Mr. GUTKNECHT. I thank the gentleman. I just want to close this, and I know that he is going to have an hour to talk about some other issues that are important to us and the American people.

But I wanted to talk a little bit tonight about the partial-birth abortion issue, because I think it is one point where the American people can begin to turn the clock back, that they can begin to recover the lost moral ground that we have already seen.

We have heard some of the quotes from Billy Graham, we have heard some of the quotes from our Founding Fathers. We have talked a little bit about Robert Maplethorpe and what he did in Great Britain in terms of recovering the fumble of slavery and beginning to return Great Britain to a much more morally oriented society. As a result, the British are a much more moral and better society because of that.

I think the news that Bill Bennett may well be the vice presidential nominee of the Republican party is very good news, because I have known Bill Bennett for a number of years. He is one person who has probably the strongest sense of truth and morality and character of any human being that I have met. He is an intellectual. He is a Ph.D., I believe from Harvard, and perhaps Congressman DORNAN can correct me, but he is an intellectual as well as being someone who is well grounded in basic American values.

I would hope that the American people would not lose faith, would not lose hope in this American system that we have, that we can somehow recover this fumble. As I said earlier to Congressman DORNAN, we are only a handful of votes away from overriding the veto of this grisly procedure we call partial-birth abortions. I think if the American people join forces, if they send one loud, clear, demanding signal to the American Congress, that somehow we can find the votes to override that veto and once and for all begin to send a message that there are points beyond which the American people simply will not retreat.

COMPELLING ISSUES OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of May 12, 1995, the gentleman from California [Mr. DORNAN] is recognized for 60 minutes.

Mr. DORNAN. Mr. Speaker, I want to talk this evening—this evening, it is 6 at night in Los Angeles, Mr. Speaker, and only 4 in the afternoon in Hawaii—I want to speak tonight about one of the most heartbreaking, agonizing, complex stories of American history that has haunted me my entire life and came to another tragic conclusion this evening.

It is the story of the world's greatest Nation, the United States of America, the most noble Nation to ever exist, with all due respect to the mother country, Great Britain, to wonderful little homogeneous nations like Norway or New Zealand, and to a multilingual nation who has avoided war and persecution for almost 500 years, Switzerland.

Given our size, the problems we have overcome, the destructive moral evil that destroyed our morality for our first four score and 7 years, then four score and 10 years, then a century, then another century of neglect, slavery and its aftermath, we have overcome so much. And just in this century, when we could have been isolationists, and were at first, we entered a war called the Great War. And because it broke out again, bringing fathers back into conflict with their own sons, World War II, we put Roman numeral one on the Great War, where my father won three Wound Chevrons, now called Purple Hearts.

World War II, the greatest cataclysm of pain and suffering and evil of all time, with the Communists weighing in with all of the war crimes and tragedy and even greater loss of life inflicted by Stalin and his Communist thugs, as did Hitler and his gang of cutthroats. We entered that. And we probably could have cut an isolationist path in spite of the war in the Pacific brought on us by the warlords of Japan.

We have expended in this century more blood and more treasure than any nation, without any strings attached, with no territorial gain, no economic gain, no oil leases, in spite of what cynics said about our noble cause in trying to keep at least half of Indochina, Vietnam, Cambodia, and Laos, trying to keep them free, part of the free world, as we had kept half of the Korean Peninsula free at great loss of treasure and great loss of young life, it appears that this noble Nation, in this century, in all of those conflicts that we probably could have avoided, as immoral as that would have been, it appears we have left live American heroes behind to the not so tender mercies of their captors.

That is what I want to talk about tonight. And to do it I will take a book that has been absolutely my bible on the POW crisis in Vietnam. It is simply called, "POW," by John Hubbell and published in our bicentennial year, 1976, by Readers Digest Press, and read through you, Mr. Speaker, to 1.3 million, maybe 1.5 million now, listeners to our C-SPAN televised precedings.

I am afraid that to 99 percent of the audience listening tonight, Mr. Speaker, they will have not heard these facts, because this wonderful book, "POW," that was painful and yet ennobling and uplifting to read was not a best seller. Let me retrieve it.

Last night, at 2 a.m. in the morning, Mr. Speaker, the Armed Services Committee brought down its conference report between the House and the Senate on the 1997 Defense authorization bill. Like most authorization conference reports, or appropriations conference reports, there was much compromise and some gnashing of teeth on both sides.

The POW-MIA issue, frankly, took severe hits, and in this case the gnashing of teeth is by those families that would be described in scripture as "the salt of the earth," who gave us their sons, their young fathers, their husbands to fight for freedom in Korea and Vietnam and were left behind.

First, Mr. Speaker, a recapitulation of what was just proposed to all the conferees from the Senate and the House, of which I was one. And let me put a rumor to rest right now. I was a conferee at every meeting. I did not miss one, right down to the wire at 4:30 tonight. Treated with the ultimate of respect by my chairman, and I return that respect, the gentleman from South Carolina, Navy Captain FLOYD SPENCE, a medical walking miracle and one heck of an American hero.

FLOYD SPENCE treated me with dignity and let me do the lead-off report at all the conference meetings, when my conferee status was in doubt with the media, and because there were so many personnel issues involved, he always let me lead off, as I engaged in the conference discussion tonight at the last lap more than anyone else.

Here is what the Clinton administration said they were going to veto if it was in the final House-Senate product. They said if there was anything in there on demarcation of theater missile defense, they would veto it. They want to get by on the cheap. Even if he gets 4 more years he will leave office without this country being defended from missile attack.

The ABM Treaty. Multilateralization. If the House had prevailed, Clinton said he would veto it. And then two of them, the only two others that are what they called "veto bait" were BOB DORNAN's, mine. HIV-positive discharge. I had a partial victory there. And homosexuals trying to join the military not being asked. Returning to the Ronald Reagan-George Bush policy on homosexuals in the military. Clinton said he would veto that.

I think that is a big bluff. Scared the pants off the other Chamber, not me. Because if he was going to veto something where the conference of the Senate and the House said we are returning to a clear, simple, nonconfusing policy of no homosexuals in the military, to use Senator SAM NUNN's language, homosexuality is incompatible with military service, he would not have dared touch it. But he bluffed and we caved. So all of that is out.

Homosexuals in the military is a tiny little thing. As I told some press people who said, "Did you lose that one?" I said, "Not hardly." If you will go back on a nexus search of everything I said in 1993, that under the Nunn-Skelton-Dornan language we got 95 or 98 percent of what we wanted, and they are putting out more homosexuals now than ever in history. This year we are running at a rate of a thousand this year, if we continue this rate up through July. And last year it was 777 homosexuals were pulled out of the military. The highest in a decade.

So, obviously, whatever Clinton thought he was implementing, what the courts are looking at is the Nunn-Skelton-Dornan language, and that was 98 percent there. All I wanted to do was close that 2 percent gap. And I have been told no because Clinton bluffed on that 2 percent.

The 2 percent was merely saying to a young man or woman, after we had told them, through the recruiter, we do not want to recruit homosexuals and then said to them, here it is in writing, and put it in front of them and got them to sign to it. All the gentleman from California, Congressman DUNCAN HUNTER, and I wanted to do was to merely say, by the way, no Communist days of have you ever been, just are you now a practicing homosexual or do you think you ever will practice if we recruit you into the Army. A "yes" answer to those two simple questions and we could say politely, young man, young lady, we do not want you to join the military.

That way they cannot say I was confused, I do not read too well, I was so scared when I was joining, or misty-eyed because I was going to serve my country that I did not hear all of this. Why did they not tell me they did not want homosexuals, it would have saved them 5 months of training and a waste of all these uniforms and schooling and everything. So I will fight that battle next year.

On the HIV-positive discharge, I am so right on this that it hurts. Here is a letter from the Marine Corps. A letter from the Bureau of the Navy, Headquarters of the Marine Corps, Annex 2 up here. There are no, no Marines on active duty out of 56 who were HIV who got it from tainted blood or any infected tissue or blood product at all. That means that all 56 got it by violating rules and restrictions on off-limit bars or houses of prostitution, which is almost zero to a handful, and all the rest got it by homosexual conduct or dirty drug needles. That means they violated military rules. It is down to about 850 now, not a thousand.

We are going to keep this regiment of people on active duty because of Clinton and the failure of this conference to face up to the truth. I had it passed as law on February 10, when Clinton signed the Defense authorization bill for this year, 5 months late. He dismissed that he had made us, had not bluffed, he had made us take out defending the homeland from one nuclear rogue missile. He had forced us to take out the provisions where we do not want U.S. soldiers under foreign or U.N. command, took that out, and he took out a provision I helped to write that this Congress, House and Senate concurring, decides where American troops serve.

In World War I, in World War II, and it fell apart in Korea, became a U.N. action. It certainly fell apart after the Tonkin Gulf resolution. No declared war. And we had prisoners being dragged through the streets of Hanoi, July 6, 1966.

The liberal Washington Post had to editorialize on Bastille Day, July 14, that if the North Vietnamese kept continuing to treat our men as criminals and air pirates and were going to put them on trial and possibly even execute them, then the results would be absolutely horrendous.

Senator Russell, who the Russell Building is named after, Senator Russell said we would turn North Vietnam into a desert. A lot of people misquote that as a parking lot. We were not going to pave it, it would be a desert. A moon landscape. And it worked. They never again talked about trying them, but they beat 20 or more to death, they executed 100 in the villages, and they killed lots of civilians that had been captured during the Tet offensive. They kept on torturing our men horribly for 4 or 5 more years, but they never again talked openly about putting them on a public trial. But no declaration of war was in Vietnam. It fell apart there.

This House and Senate should lay down the constitutional hard line that the President in article II, section 2 is only referred to by the Framers of our constitution as the Commander in Chief of the forces. And then there is a comment, it says and when the militia, that is the National Guard, is called up, he is the commander there, too.

All of the authority over the armies and the navy, they use plural for armies, armies and the navy, resides under article I, section 8, in this Congress, the House and the Senate. Foreign treaties over on the north side of the beltway, but both of it, and all spending and appropriations and tax bills over here, start here, but we share the authority and the control over our military in every aspect except the commander at the top, where only one person can speak, over the quality, the size of the military, how many people will be on active duty, whether women will or will not go into combat, whether homosexuals will or will not serve, what the colors of the uniform will be, what their weapons will be, their pistols, their rifles, their tanks, their artillery, their ships, their planes, their helicopters, and in how many numbers, and what kind of fuel they will use, and where we will preposition ships, and it should include where they will fight and die under Old Glory.

And it should be whether we decide they will serve under a NATO command with a ratified treaty under SEATO, which died because we could not stand up to communism to the bitter and there, or in CENTO, which fell apart when a good man, Jimmy Carter, inadvertently cut the legs out from under the Shah of Iran, and then he passed away with cancer.

This was all stripped out by Mr. Clinton on February 10. But he only griped about one thing that day, just 5 months and 3 weeks ago, he said the Dornan amendment on HIV, people carrying the fatal venereal disease, AIDS virus, they can disobey the law if they want and I will not order Janet Reno and my Attorney General to defend this law that I am signing into law.

And then a few Republican lameducks around here, and a few Democrats, including a few that I think are utterly corrupt and brought about the death of people, in one case the death of a woman, they gutted this out of the bill, and they did it again.

Well, they did not get a total victory because I won as the Chairman of Military Personnel on something called end strength. I vowed that every time Clinton or any President want to keep this regiment of people, and I said it before and I will say it again, God love them, they are on a track to death. I am fighting to get the money to extend their lives. I want them to have good care. But they have admitted to me, quote, a Navy chief petty officer, "I know I should not hold down this bill." Another said, "I know I am not doing right by the military. I'm going to too many medical appointments, taking too much toxic medicine like AZT. I am not performing my job. I know I caused another man or woman to be fired when I was fired off of my aviation job and I have been retrained into their job."

Whenever Presidents want to keep HIV-positive AIDS-infected personal on active duty, I will always consider them of line. They can stay on active duty and draw pay, but I am always going to add a thousand people, men and women who can as healthy people be trained for combat and be deployed anywhere in the world, even though I do not think we should go there, until we wake up and decide where they should go, people who can be deployed, trained for combat, and do not have to take toxic medicines like AZT. I will keep that thousand on active duty to weight off against this politically protected group of people who need our prayers and super medical aid and should not have to play this game of pretending they can cut it, when in all but a few muscular cases they cannot, and they should be home with their families with as much money as they can make on active duty doing everything they can to extend their lives.

I am always going to add to the end strength more people. And guess what, Mr. Speaker, I did not just add a thousand; I did not add 5,000; I added 20,000 or more over and above what Clinton wanted to cut military down to.

Now, that is HIV and homosexuals in the military. I won two big ones, Mr. Speaker. It looks like this conference has signed off on no Hustler magazines, pornography and soft core pornography, if that is what you want to call Playboy Magazine, or Penthouse, which outsells Playboy, and Hustler outsells them both. This garbage, this direct assault on my mother who has long gone to heaven, my wife who is very much alive, my sisters-in-law, my aunt who is alive in her 90's, and my three daughters and five granddaughters and maybe a sixth granddaughter on the way.

Pornography is a frontal, direct, vicious, specific assault upon women. It treats them—well, some homosexual pornography is a direct assault upon boys or young men or epebes—young men 18, 19, 20—just barely over the age in most States of maturity. Most pornography is a direct assault on women, cheapening down like slavery to a product, meat on a rack. And we have gotten this first behind the counters. Just by ROSCOE BARTLETT of Maryland proposing it, all these PX managers started to hide this stuff and make the young, macho guys who think demeaning women by buying this garbage is manly, and it is not. It is unmanly. They started hiding all of this stuff.

Some of them with guts, practicing Protestants and Christians and observant Jews who work in the PX system saying, Hey, this is enough. Just threaten to take it out, and I want to junk it anyway. But when this is signed into law by Clinton, that is the end of our PX's facilitating pornography.

No freedom of speech problem here. They can get it at the local drug store or they can keep it in their footlocker, but it helps the Navy to tell these guys, stop putting these graphic, gynecological exam shots up on the walls of the carrier hangar deck. Stop that. You can stick it in your footlocker and corrupt yourselves, but you are not going to put it on the walls.

That helps commanders to take that, not puritanical, but strong, manly, decent line, or if it is a female officer, an ethically womanly line, to not have this garbage up. It helps by doing this. So that is a big victory.

And the biggest one of all for me personally, was Clinton signed five Executive Orders, what the Pope called culture of death, Executive Orders on his first day on the job, second day in Office. January 22, 1993, 20th anniversary of the Roe v. Wade decision; a lying decision based on a gang rape that never took place. There was not a rape that took place or an abortion that took place. Norma McCorvey, the Roe v. Wade, is now reconciled with her three daughters. Each one she had threatened to abort, and all of them are alive, praise the Lord. And she has reconciled with them and become a Christian. It took her a couple of steps in how hard to fly in the face of Kate Michaelman and Eleanor Schmiel and Patricia Ireland. But she has squared herself away with the Lord and that phony decision, Roe v. Wade, on its 20th anniversary with 35 American babies at various stages of gestation killed in their mother's wombs, on that 20th anniversary, Clinton, with a smile from ear to ear, signed those five Executive death orders. Only one has been reversed.

I do not say this pridefully; I say it so they will know where to come and get me to try to reverse it or put some blame, the pro-abortion movement. I reversed one of his five Executive death orders and he signed it into law on February 10, and the Senate tried to strip out and it went through conference and it is there. Why? I will give away a secret. Because I put in closing that 2 percent gap on homosexuals in the military. I knew I would not win that in this election year, given the complexion of both bodies. But sure enough, it worked. They played off that.

If DORNAN will drop the homosexuals in the military, we will leave his Public Law alone and that is in spite of a vote in the Senate 51 to 45 to take out DORNAN's no abortions in military hospitals. So there are those four.

There are some other things that are kind of strange. Senator BYRD protected two SR-71's. That is fine. We lost our Buy America. To you working Americans out there, DUNCAN HUNTER of San Diego fought hard. Mr. JIM TRAFICANT on this side. Try again next year.

And then there was some other small things. One Senator put in a policy on nondeployables. All the nondeployables; not just those with the AIDS virus, and it was a phony attempt to counter me. Once I said I will accept it, they did not even want their own. They dropped it.

We won on the House side on getting work on four beautiful F-18 Hornet fighter aircraft. We are going to get that work done in depots. Funding for depots is a 60/40 split on U.S. versus outside work. And that is the report, except for the House receding to the U.S. Senate on POW/MIA language.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I will not be able to vote for the Defense authorization bill on this floor tomorrow if it comes up or when we come back in September. I will have to vote against it in spite of getting nine out of 11 things in the bill, in spite of being the point man with OWEN PICKETT, my Democratic vice chairman from Virginia, at my side on everything, including the multiple POW/MIA hearings, including one that lasted 11 hours and 45 minutes, half a day, with no breaks. We only used the breaks to come over and vote and ate on the run.

Mr. PICKETT and I stood by our men and women in uniform with pay increases, basic allowance for quarters, health provisions refined. Most of my work was on the grinding routine of the military personnel subcommittee, as DAN COATS of Indiana and now the new chairman, DIRK KEMPTHORNE of Idaho, did so assiduously on the other side.

But now without mentioning any names, here comes the POW/MIA tragedy, and what a tragedy it is.

On February 10, again that same day that Clinton signed the Dornan abortion language, the HIV which was stripped out by my own party 3 months after it was in law, a mistake, against the will of 99 percent of all the men and women who are at the E-1 enlisted level E-2, E-3, the sergeants, the NCOs and most of the field officers, all the junior company grade officers that I have spoken to, this House in a gutless move pulled it out. However we did trade it for two pro-life positions in what was called the continuing appropriations bill a few weeks back.

Now, here is what Clinton signed into law: The Missing Persons Act. The guts of it, the core of it, basically were nine things. I will leave it up, Mr. Speaker, to every American who tracks us in this Chamber and follows the proceedings of this House. If we were debating this right now in the Committee of the Whole for the Armed Services Committee, and I was controlling the debate and yield myself such time as I might consume, I would march down these nine points and I would hope, Mr. Speaker, that all Americans would evaluate these.

I will take them the way they were stripped out or allowed to stay, nine of them. I fought for three, and I held three, but six will be stripped out when Clinton signs this bill.

Section 1902(a) of the 1996 Missing Persons Act designates a period of not longer than 48 hours for a unit commander; that is, a squadron commander, Marine company commander, or higher, to report to the theater commander in the theater. That could be very small. The Mayaguez, that was a small theater of action off the main port of Cambodia. When a person is missing, it is 48 hours for the unit commander to say to the theater commander, Two days ago Lieutenant Dornan never came back from that patrol. Only one of his radiomen made it back. It was 2 days ago. Let us move on this.

Now that has been moved to 10 days. I ask any person with any logic, what about Scott O'Grady? Scott O'Grady came up on the radio. He told me this in my own office, Tip O'Neill's old district office, Tom Foley's old district office, Jim Wright's old district office in the Rayburn Building. It is my office now, and in that office he told me, I came up on the radio, Congressman, every night for 6 nights and nobody heard me. Only on the sixth night.

Imagine, he was rescued the sixth night and nobody thought he was alive. I said, "I didn't think you were alive, Scott. I gave up on you." He said, "Don't feel bad, my mom and dad had given up, my sister and my brother, and so had my unit and all but a few of my wingmen."

One close friend that I met in Aviano told me that he diverted from another capping mission, another deny-flight mission over Bosnia, deny flight to the Serbians, that he flew back in the general direction of where Scott went down, and when he came up on the radio, he got so excited. They played the tapes for me there at the fighter squadron headquarters in that front base at Aviano, Italy. And he said, "Is that really you, Scott? What was your call sign in Onsong, Korea?" And he came up with it and he said, "It is you. It is you." He is telling him, "It is you. It is you." Very dramatic.

Day six, now it has been moved to day 10. Ten days not to report that someone is missing? If it is your fault that someone is missing, you have 10 days to cover your tail.

Number 2, section 1502(b), the theater commander after receiving a report from a unit command that a person is missing has 14 days to forward a report to the Secretary concerned, Navy, Air Force, Army, the Navy takes care of the Marine Corps, that all necessary actions were taken, that all appropriate assets were used.

This is called accountability, Mr. Speaker, to resolve the status of the missing person and that all pertinent information was safeguarded. This new gutting of this provision has a unit commander, that can be a company commander on a small ship off the coast, coastal ship, reporting directly to the secretary of some service back in the Pentagon. What kind of an idiotic disconnect is that?

This next one, number 3, is one that I managed to save. But as JIM TALENT of Missouri said, it is worthless without all the other ones that are stripped out of this.

Section 1503.4, a legal counsel will be appointed by the Secretary of the services, or of Defense, to represent a missing person's interest at all boards of inquiry. You know how this is handled most of the time? Go look at that movie "A Few Good Men." Tom Cruise plays a lawyer new on the base. They gave him what they thought was a nothing case and he turned out to be a good lawyer and a big star, but that is what happens. They give to the lowest person in the Judge Advocate office, generally, this nonwinable case.

So a young captain is told, you will help this missing person's interests at all boards of inquiry. And he says, I do not know the issue. I do not know the theater. I have not been overseas yet. And what are the regs here? What do I base all this on?

No teeth to back up this appointed legal counsel. I fought for it and got that one, but I am wondering what it is worth now.

Number 4, 1505(b), for missing persons last known or suspected of being alive, a board of inquiry will be convened every 3 years after the initial report of disappearance. Chairman DIRK KEMPTHORNE of Idaho had a good point. What about if a family does not want to have this brought up every 3 years, that they have made peace. They are convinced their son was killed, died in captivity. They want to let him rest in peace.

I called it the Kempthorne provision. Good, let us have the families opt out. Then we made it better than that. Everybody is considered opted out except for those who do not think that they got justice and that their son, last known alive, and in the case of the gulf war could be a daughter now, a daughter, suspected of being alive or last known alive, you opt in and want to review every 3 years. Killed. Stripped out.

I am telling you, Mr. Speaker, as I stand here and you sit there, the missing in action, POW families in your State of Colorado are distraught. They are enraged. They are heartbroken. They are literally crying angry tears that this is stripped out.

Now, number 5, 1506, penalizes any Government official who knowingly willfully withholds information related to the disappearance, whereabouts or status of a missing person from his case file. Anyone who knowingly and willingly, DUNCAN HUNTER of San Diego wanted to add maliciously, they would not accept that, withholds information from the case files because their tail is on the line, the have done shoddy work about someone, their whereabouts, about their disappearance or their status, stripped out, no accountability.

And they know that I am on the brink of bringing charges against two Americans who are innocent until proven guilty, but I want to bring charges against Robert Destat, French name, and Chuck Trowbridge for I think wrongfully and willfully withholding information from one of my best friends in the Air Force, Carol Hrdlicka over her husband.

Remember, Mr. Speaker, I started the POW bracelet at the inspiration of a young 16-year-old named Kaye Hunter who then left for school in Taiwan the next week. She said, I want to wear a POW bracelet, when I had referred to this Montagnard bracelet, on the debut of the Robert K. Dornan show, February 7, 1970. I said that I would wear this Montagnard bracelet, never take it off until the POW's are accounted for. I have never had it off, since September of 1968. That is 28 years I have had this on.

Out of this round Montagnard bracelet that I got at the little village of Kontum, north of Pleiku, 13,000 of these POW bracelets were born. And here is David Hrdlicka's, May 18, 1965, my best friend from the Air Force. Carol, his wife, called me at midnight last night. His son has gone through a full Naval career flying F-18 Hornets, now a first officer with American Airlines. She said, we have not lost yet. We are going to keep the accountability for people who knowingly and willfully withheld information from me. I have to tell Carol, Mr. Speaker, it is gone, stripped out.

Number 6 prevents a missing person from being declared dead without credible proof that if a body is recovered and is not identifiable through visual means, a certification by a practitioner of an appropriate forensic science, pretty broad, a practitioner of an appropriate forensic science, usually a mortician, says that the body recovered is definitely the missing person. Stripped out. We cannot even get this provision through that says a credible practitioner of a forensic science must say, if a body is not visually identifiable, this is the person we are saying it is.

Now we can go back to this routine of a chip, a bone, without even any DNA material to extract from it, that a little chip of a bone in a mass grave, as happened with the case of a C-130 crew in a terrible rain storm. They buried in a mass grave a bag of 10 bodies mixed together, pieces of bones of bodies where not one piece of one bone was able to identify one person. All the families were rolled on that. So there is number 6, stripped out.

Now, numbers 7 and 8, I held for three out of nine. I held these. Section 1508 permits the primary next of kin to seek judicial review at a U.S. district court but only on the basis that there is information that could affect the status of a missing person, new information that was not adequately considered during the DOD administrative review process. That is pretty new. That means new information. And somebody can block new information from coming forward if it makes it look like he has done a shoddy job and he has nothing to worry about because we took out the penalty provision.

So like the young captain being assigned as legal counsel but without any trail of records that he can base his research on, what is that worth? Now we have judicial review but people can obfuscate this thing.

I have never been into conspiracies on this, but always been suspicious of people who homesteaded in this gut-wrenching tragic area for their whole career, giving up promotion and advancement and confusing the relative sometimes and then holding back information when the enemy was being given the information in Hanoi, but they held it back from the families.

The third out of the three that I managed to hold on to was section 1509(b)(1), which permits retroactive review of the case of missing persons known to be suspected of being alive or whose capture was possible at the end of the Korean war or cold war.

This is an important one. If I had not gotten this back, the POW families from the Korean war, where we left, I always have used the figure in this Chamber, 389 known, healthy prisoners were left behind when others came across Freedom Bridge.

Now in my research, when magazine articles from the Times declassified documents that terrific people at the DMPO, that is the Defense Missing Persons Office, have been finding at the Eisenhower Library and in other research documents, and tell Mr. Gudaboi or whatever your name is over there, you better stay out of the way of these honorable, hot analysts and researchers. I will get your name correct. I am masacring it here, but you know who you are, you are a financial person.

Mr. Speaker, this financial person is not an analyst and he must not stop people from traveling to Russia or to anywhere else or doing their work at the Eisenhower Library and think that he is going to replace them as an analyst, when he has been an obstructionist or like Bob Destat and Chuck Trowbridge, you will find yourself, until this bill is overthrown with Clinton's signature, I am moving on this penalty provision while the sun is shining. I am going to bring some justice to these families.

So I got the Korean war and cold war prisoners back into this because Col. Philip Corso, now in his 80's, I have seen him on film saying that he himself went in the Oval Office to a boyhood hero of mine, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, one of only 8 five-star generals, the man who drove Hitler to suicide in less than 3 years and 5 months, the President of the United States for 8 years, one of our rare two-term Presidents in this century. And he said to Colonel Corso, whose heart is bleeding over this now, I accept your recommendation, declare them all dead, even though we knew, I will accept your recommendation to write off these hundreds, not 389 but 900 people we left behind in Korea. That group just coming up to speed.

They had one 2-hour hearing in the Senate and my long hearing over here in the House. And that is the first time there was a House hearing from this chairman in almost half a century for these people whose young men, their husbands and sons, started going missing when first the North Koreans attacked across the 38th parallel and then when they drove us down to the Pusan pocket and we fought back under General MacArthur with the brilliant Inchon landing in October 1950 and then hit the boarder with China. And then in comes the Chinese, because of cabal of perverts in the British system, perverts that all went to Cambridge, Burgess, MacLean, Andrew Blount, Philby, a gang of homosexual spies gave away our secrets that they learned through the British foreign ministry, gave them to the Russians and the Russians gave them to the Chinese in Beijing and they told the Koreans, keep fighting, the United States will never bomb the allied bridges.

There is a chain of death and treason for you, and now we leave behind hundreds of prisoners, just as they are finding out. This was attempted to be repealed and stripped out by one person in the Congress of the United States.

Then we come to number 9, stripped out, 1513(b), permits the civilian Defense Department employees who serve with or accompany the Armed Forces in the field under orders who become missing as a result of hostile action to be covered by this act. It is stripped out, Mr. Speaker.

Let us clarify this. I will read it slowly and then I will flesh it out with some anecdotal true historical circumstances.

Section 1513(b), now public law since February 10, about to be stripped out if this conference passes tomorrow and is sent and Clinton signs it into law in October. It is in the public law now. All of you, all of these Defense Department employees who back up our men all around the world, civilian tech reps at Aviano right now, some that are accompanying our forces, State Department and/or otherwise AID people, Agency for International Development, all around the world, they were in Somalia, they are in Haiti, they are in Bosnia, listen to this, if you are a wife at home or a husband at home and your wife is overseas as a civilian defense employee under orders, accompanying our Armed Forces in the field and you become missing as a result of hostile action, you are now covered by law since February 10 and you are going to be stripped out of law because people did not listen to what we were doing and saying.

They did not listen to all these letters I have here from the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, President Dole's Veterans for Dole, the Dole campaign, some Democrat Senators and Congressmen, they listened to nobody. They just deferred to one human being and this is stripped out.

Here are those examples. Wake Island. The then War Department and the Navy Department, each one had its own separate status, answers to Franklin Delano Roosevelt, no overriding Defense Department or Secretary of Defense. They both recruited in the western United States, actually all over the country and brought young college kids, maybe their studies were getting then down, they said, I will go make some good money on a little tiny atoll called Wake Island and Guam and Midway, but Wake Island is the one I am thinking of.

They went out there, hundreds of them, and began to build up the pill boxes, the revetments, the buildings to fortify Wake Island. Before they hardly got started, Wake Island was attacked by the Japanese on December 8.

Wake Island held out miraculously. I was 8 years old and tracked every day of it. They held out until the 23d of December, 2 days before Christmas 1941.

The marine major who served here as a Congressman from Maryland for 10 years, Devereaux, under his commander, who got short shrift, he answered to him but Marines, somehow or other, they earn it most of the time, they get the glory. But Sprig, that was the nickname, Cunningham was the Naval commander in boss of Wake Island. He could have laughed and jumped on the last PBV out. Instead he put some women on it and sent one of his lieutenants to tell the story. They held out. One last F-4F Wildcat pilot sunk a Japanese destroyer, a light cruiser, amazing story, and Sprig Cunningham and his marine commander, Major Devereaux, took all these construction workers and said, if it was the old west it would have been called deputizing them, we make you a part of the U.S. defense force here.

Here is a pot, the old World War I style helmet my Dad wore a couple of decades before. Here is a rifle, Springfield 1903, A-3 bolt action, no M-1 at the time, defend this island. And they fought and died alongside the military, just like a lot AID people in Vietnam, which I am coming to in a minute.

When the island fell the Japanese had hundreds of these civilian War Department or Navy Department workers, hundreds of them. Some died in the hospitals, some were shipped off to Japan to die in the mines in Manchuria, but most were kept to continue doing what they were hired to do, but doing it for the evil war lords of Japan. They started again pouring concrete, building, carpentry, all the skills they were hired for, and they built up Wake Island into a fortress that it never was under us, and we correctly bypassed it, headed for the heartland for islands where we could have B-29 bomber distance to the heartland of Japan. So we went for Saipan, Guam, Tinian, Rota and then up to Okinawa and kept getting closer, and we bypassed Wake. We did hit Guam and liberate Guam.

When we bypassed Wake Island, what happened to all these civilian contract workers? With the war only months from ending, with us only bombarding Wake a couple of times with ships passing on the way to the bigger battles at Leyte and Okinawa, the Japanese lined them all up and murdered them, assassinated them, executed them. They worked as slaves for the imperial war lords of Japan. The Wake Island commandant was executed for this war crime, and they were all executed.

When I brought that case up, when I brought up a friend of mine named Tom Hayden, not the evil Tom Hayden who is a State senator who gave aid and comfort, and this time I use that language because nobody is protected by Rule 18; Tom Hayden of California gave aid and comfort, sustenance, encouragement of morale building strength to the enemy in Vietnam, arrived in Hanoi, received champagne and roses at the airport; not that Tom Hayden. Not the one who betrayed freedom and serves as a State senator in Sacramento against the Constitution of the great State of California which does not require a declared war, which federally we require to use that term, aid and comfort; but in California it just says giving aid and comfort, assistance, sustenance and encouragement to an enemy engaged in conflict with American fighting forces. Not that Tom Hayden. Another Tom Hayden as handsome as a movie star, carried a 45, was the youngest AID, Agency for International Development, person representing the Mekong Delta, Corps IV in Vietnam, and was under combat conditions several times, won a Purple Heart and was given the highest civilian decorations for fighting during the Tet offensive when Communist forces were coming at people. He is now somebody like the good Tom Hayden, and like those people in Wake Island will not be covered as they are covered today since February 10 when this provision is stripped out.

So I saved legal counsel, it is almost meaningless without the rest of this, I saved judicial review, only on new information, allied people, and that is kind of worthless without the rest of this, and then I did save the Korean War, Cold War and Indochina War missing persons known or suspected of being alive.

Mr. Speaker, might I inquire, please, how much time I have left?

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. McINNIS). The gentleman from California has about 11 minutes and 35 seconds.

Mr. DORNAN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I wish that I had a national radio show where the producers or syndication owners would allow me to read for about a week from this great book with a plain brown cover, POW, a definitive history of the American prisoner of war experience in Vietnam, 1964 to 1973, by John G. Hubbell in association with Andrew Jones and Kenneth Y. Tomlinson. I just saw him out in the hall recently. I believe he still works for Readers Digest.

Listen to some of our workers, civilian workers in Vietnam and what happened to them during the Tet offensive. I called this provision of the Missing Service Personnel Act written by Bob Dole and Chairman BEN GILMAN of this House and by liberal Democrat of honor FRANK LAUTENBERG of New Jersey and gutted last night at 2 o'clock in the Senate House conference; I called this last amendment to protect civilians under orders traveling with our Armed Forces in the field, I called it the Mike Bengé amendment.

And here is why. Page 424. This chapter has a Latin title. I remember it in my Latin. Jesuit priest taught me. Illegitamae Non Carborundum. Do not let the bastards get you down, talking about these vicious Communist captures.

"After being captured during the Tet offensive, Mike Bengé, the Agency for International Development agriculture adviser, Betty Ann Olsen, a missionary nurse, and Hank Blood, a missionary linguist, had walked the jungle trails together for months. At first the three were kept chained.

The first reference in the book to them is their terrible circumstance of capture. Now this book is episodic and comes back to them.

At first the three were kept chained together by their North Vietnamese army escorts who ate well themselves but kept the prisoners on a starvation diet until they were too weak to attempt escape. Then the chains were removed. The diet was not improved, though it was always a small serving of rice, manioc, and only occasionally a piece of fish or meat, terrapin, turtle, iguana or gibbon ape.

The spring of 1968, they were captured on 1 February, throughout the spring of 1968, the party would camp by rivers. Here Bengé contracted malaria. For most of 35 days he remained delirious or blind. Betty Ann Olsen cared for him, keeping him warm when the chills took him, feeding him, bathing him. At length the attacks began to subside.

Betty Ann was seized with a fever, headache, severe pains in the joints and muscles.

You ladies across America, you young women, you women analyzing the glory of the Olympics, think about Betty Ann Olsen. For freedom and Jesus Christ she finds herself undergoing the tortures of the damned. She was diagnosed with dengue fever. She rested as much as she was allowed to, increased her fluid intake and recovered within a few weeks.

The party kept moving all summer trending southwesterly toward Cambodia. Betty Ann and Hank both developed malaria. Hank, who is 53, a decade younger than I as this moment, was 16 years older than Mike, who was 37. By the way, Michael Bengé survived all of this, and 20 years older than Betty Ann who was 33. He seemed to get much sicker than they did and have more difficulty recovering.

And in addition to the malaria, the terrible jungle skin diseases tore ugly running sores into him, and these itched maddeningly. Their North Vietnamese captors would do nothing for them, and there was little the Americans could do for each other except to huddle together for warmth against the cold monsoon rains which were now upon the land.

One morning Blood complained of chest pains. Betty Ann examined him and told Bengé the older man had pneumonia. A short walk away was a Communist base camp, complete with hospital facilities. Mike pleaded with the officer in charge of the group that Blood be taken there. His pleas were denied. It took Hank three days to die. He was buried in a shallow, unmarked grave beside a jungle trail. His earthly remains are still there. Mike and Betty Ann were allowed to say prayers over the grave. Then the party moved on.

They crossed into Cambodia, turned north, then east. By late summer, they were back in the vicinity of Ban Me Thuot, where they had been captured. By now, scurvy had loosened their teeth, and their gums bled constantly. Mike and Betty Ann were covered with running sores; their hair had turned white and came out by the fistful. Betty Ann was anemic and suffering terribly from dysentery. They wondered to what purpose they had traveled and suffered all these months; they seemed to be going nowhere.

Still, they encouraged each other and tried to keep each other's spirits up. Mike told Betty Ann of his family's ranch in Oregon and of his three-year hitch in the Marine Corps. Betty Ann told Mike of growing up in Africa's Ivory Coast, where her American parents were missionaries. They starved. They chewed at pieces of buffalo hide they found on the mountain trails; and they grabbed bamboo shoots and munched at them.

Ill and tired himself, Mike worried more and more about Betty Ann. She seemed to be giving out. Their captors showed her no mercy. When she lagged on the trails, they would slap her, knock her down, pick her up, drag her. She kept getting to her feet, moving on.

The monsoon rains hatched out the worst scourge of the Asian jungle, the blood-sucking leech. By September the jungle foliage was covered with leeches. They were shiny black, and some were enormous. They brushed off by the hundreds onto all who passed. One day Mike found himself following a trail of blood—anemic, dysentery-racked Betty Ann's. When they made camp that evening, she was too weak to pick off the leeches that covered her. Mike removed them, then tried to carry water from a nearby creek to bathe her. He was not strong enough, though, and could get no help. Again he implored the officer in charge, pointing out that there was a North Vietnamese battalion encamped close by. Surely, it would have a doctor or a medic who could help Betty Ann. Perhaps he would have some medicine, some food for her, something. She was dying. The officer in charge was not interested.

Betty Ann was five days dying. Like Hank Blood, she was laid in a shallow, unmarked grave near a jungle trail. Mike prayed over her. Then the party moved on.

Mike developed beriberi. His legs swelled so that he could barely lift them. When he came to a log he had to sit down and lift one leg at a time over it with his hands; and he dared not sit down unless there was a tree close by, so he could pull himself up again. His captors continued to do nothing for him but to keep him moving and to feed him a small ration of rice daily. It occurred to him that they were waiting for him to die. But, suddenly, he knew something they did not know; he was not going to die. Someone had to survive, to make it known what had happened to Hank Blood and Betty Ann Olsen. It was up to him and he would do it, no matter what it took. He would do it by putting one foot ahead of the other, living one hour at a time, for as many steps and years as it took. He was going to do it.

They walked on, into a village near the Cambodian border. The wretched prisoner was displayed to the locals. "Look at this American," his guards shouted. "He's been riding in cars and airplanes too long. He can't even walk."

Bengé, who was fluent in Vietnamese, spoke up in reply: "It is not true," he shouted. "I have walked halfway across your country. These men have starved me almost to death. I have beriberi and dysentery and malaria, and they have given me no medicine, no care of any kind. And yet I am alive, and I go wherever they take me."

The villagers muttered among themselves. The soldiers hustled Mike Bengé out of the place. They took him back into Cambodia, which they called the Land of Milk and Honey.

And the story goes on and on. They take him into a village. Here Mike was ushered to a cage-like hut in a stockade area of the base. U.S. Army Lieutenant Stephen R. Leopold, captured on May 9 of 1968, 3 months after Mike, a green beret officer who occupied a cage of his own, he watched Bengé approach. He guessed him to be over 60 with his white-haired beard and the way he used a stick to limp along. Soon the two were communicating.

Bengé discovered that Leopold learned new Latin and asked to learn the language. Leopold's presence in a Communist cage was ironic. Only 24, he was not long from the campus of Stanford where in 1965 and 1966 he had been editor of the Daily, the Stanford newspaper.

In that capacity he had mounted cogent stands, like I was doing at the time on a television show, I, BOB DORNAN, against the conduct of the war under LBJ and had favored restricting American involvement only to military advisers, only to trained South Vietnamese to fight their own war, and like so many other editorialists at the time, BOB DORNAN on television and radio, he had not had his way. I always had what I call the Dornan pipeline: air power, sea power, and nobody on the ground in Vietnam until they could speak Vietnamese, and that would choke it down through the language schools at Monterey and what eventually became Rosslyn, and yes, I was not just a willing person to sign off on this undeclared war.

The point I am making here, Mr. Speaker, is that although Hank Blood and Betty Ann Olsen were civilian missionaries, Michael Bengé, if he had died on that trail with them was a worker for the United States Government sent into a combat area working in the field with our men under orders, and someone said to me:

"Who cares about these civilians? They all make $100,000 a month while I, flying naval aircraft, was only making 5,000."

Wait a minute. Wait a minute. Michael Bengé was not making $100,000 a month. He was making a GS salary lower than probably an Army major or Navy lieutenant commander. No. Just this one civilian aspect is treacherous.

Let me tell the Members about this book. There are passages in here of such medieval, unholy, vicious torture, with 20 of our men beaten to death by three Cubans, that the fact that someone who had dodged the draft three times, the third time actually giving up an induction date of July 28, 1969, to have an administration led under those circumstances, removing the trade restrictions, normalizing relations, removing the combat status, so if we located live Americans we could not even pull off a covert raid, although I would hope somebody would do something like that, direct action; and now we are driving for the Vietnamese to get an ambassador appointed, and then the battle starts for most-favored-nation status.

The people who gave the orders to torture to death our military men, like Ron Stewart, Norm Schmidt, Ed Attergerry, J.J. Connell, "Freddy" Frederick, Ken Cameron, a man called, in the forefront of the book, "the faker", who now we know was Major Earl Cobiell, beaten insensate, lashed across his face with a strip of rubber from a tire, and would not even blink, and this foul-mouthed Cuban who became a brigadier general and was sent to the U.N. named Fernandez, and nobody in my country had the guts to arrest him. These people were tortured to death: Tom Benson, Roberts, and then it is dedicated to Betty Olsen and Hank Blood. I will read again from this book.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12 of rule I, the House stands in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Accordingly (at 10 o'clock and 1 minute p.m.), the House stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore [Mr. McINNIS] at 11 o'clock and 55 minutes p.m.

CONFERENCE REPORT ON H.R. 3230, NATIONAL DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION ACT FOR FISCAL YEAR 1997

Mr. KASICH submitted the following conference report and statement on the bill (H.R. 3230) to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 1997 for military activities of the Department of Defense, for military construction, and for defense activities of the Department of Energy, to prescribe military personnel strengths for such fiscal year for the Armed Forces, and for other purposes:

CONFERENCE REPORT (H. REPT. 104-724)

The committee of conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendments of the Senate to the bill (H.R. 3230) to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 1997 for military activities of the Department of Defense, for military construction, and for defense activities of the Department of Energy, to prescribe personnel strengths for such fiscal year for the Armed Forces, and for other purposes, having met, after full and free conference, have agreed to recommend and do recommend to their respective Houses as follows:

That the House recede from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate to the text of the bill and agree to the same with an amendment as follows:

In lieu of the matter proposed to be inserted by the Senate amendment, insert the following:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1997".

SEC. 108. DEFENSE HEALTH PROGRAMS.

Funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 1997 for the Department of Defense for procurement for carrying out health care programs, projects, and activities of the Department of Defense in the total amount of $269,470,000.

Subtitle B—Army Programs

SEC. 111. REPEAL OF LIMITATION ON PROCUREMENT OF ARMED KIOWA WARRIOR HELICOPTERS.

Section 133 the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Years 1990 and 1991 (Public Law 101-189; 103 Stat. 1383) is repealed.

SEC. 112. MULTIYEAR PROCUREMENT AUTHORITY FOR ARMY PROGRAMS.

(a) AVENGER AIR DEFENSE MISSILE SYSTEM.—Notwithstanding the limitation in subsection (k) of section 2306b of title 10, United States Code, relating to the maximum duration of a multiyear contract under the authority of that section, the Secretary of the Army may extend the multiyear contract in effect during fiscal year 1996 for the Avenger Air Defense Missile system through fiscal year 1997 and may award such an extension.

(b) ARMY TACTICAL MISSILE SYSTEM.—The Secretary of the Army may, in accordance with section 2306b of title 10, United States Code, enter into a multiyear procurement contract, beginning with the fiscal year 1997 program year, for procurement of the Army Tactical Missile System (Army TACMS).

(c) JAVELIN MISSILE SYSTEM.—The Secretary of the Army may, in accordance with section 2306b of title 10, United States Code, enter into multiyear procurement contracts for the procurement of the Javelin missile system.

SEC. 113. BRADLEY TOW 2 TEST PROGRAM SETS.

Of the funds authorized to be appropriated under section 101(3) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 204), $6,000,000 is available for the procurement of Bradley TOW 2 Test Program sets.

Subtitle C—Navy Programs

SEC. 121. NUCLEAR ATTACK SUBMARINE PROGRAMS.

(a) AMOUNTS AUTHORIZED FROM SCN ACCOUNT.—(1) Of the amount authorized to be appropriated by section 102(a)(3) for fiscal year 1997—

(A) $699,071,000 is available for continued construction of the third vessel (designated SSN-23) in the Seawolf attack submarine class, which shall be the final vessel in that class;

(B) $296,186,000 is available for long-lead and advance construction and procurement of components for construction of a submarine (previously designated by the Navy as the New Attack Submarine) beginning in fiscal year 1998 to be built by Electric Boat Division; and

(C) $701,000,000 is available for long-lead and advance construction and procurement of components for construction of a second submarine (previously designated by the Navy as the New Attack Submarine) beginning in fiscal year 1999 to be built by Newport News Shipbuilding.

(2) In addition to the purposes for which the amounts under subparagraphs (B) and (C) of paragraph (1) are available, such amounts are also available for contracts with Electric Boat Division and Newport News Shipbuilding to carry out the provisions of the "Memorandum of Agreement Among the Department of the Navy, Electric Boat Corporation (EB) and Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company (NNS) Concerning the New Attack Submarine", dated April 5, 1996, relating to design data transfer, design improvements, integrated process teams, and updated design base.

(b) AMOUNTS AUTHORIZED FROM NAVY RDT&E ACCOUNT.—(1) Of the amount authorized to be appropriated by section 201(2), $487,611,000 is available for the design of the submarine previously designated by the Navy as the New Attack Submarine.

(2)(A) Of the amount authorized to be appropriated by section 201(2), $60,000,000 is available for obligation under contracts with Electric Boat Division and Newport News Shipbuilding and other entities to address the inclusion on future nuclear attack submarines of the core advanced technologies that are identified by the Secretary of Defense (in the report of the Secretary entitled "Report on Nuclear Attack Submarine Procurement and Submarine Technology", submitted to Congress on March 26, 1996) as those technologies the maturation of which the Submarine Technology Assessment Panel recommended be addressed in its March 15, 1996, final report to the Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Research, Development, and Acquisition, as follows: hydrodynamics, alternative sail designs, advanced arrays, electric drive, external weapons, and active controls and mounts.

(B) Of the amount available under subparagraph (A), $20,000,000 shall be equally divided between Electric Boat Division and Newport News Shipbuilding for the purpose of ensuring that those shipbuilders are principal participants in the process of addressing the inclusion of technologies referred to in subparagraph (A) on future nuclear attack submarines. Contracts with the shipbuilders under this subparagraph shall provide the shipbuilders with wide latitude to pursue submarine-wide, integrated systems approaches to the inclusion of such technologies. The Secretary of the Navy shall ensure that those shipbuilders have access for such purpose (under procedures prescribed by the Secretary) to the Navy laboratories and the Office of Naval Intelligence and (in accordance with arrangements to be made by the Secretary) to the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency.

(3) Of the amount authorized to be appropriated by section 201(2), $38,000,000 is available to begin funding those Category I and Category II advanced technologies described in Appendix C of the report of the Secretary of Defense referred to in paragraph (2)(A). The Secretary of the Navy shall ensure that Electric Boat Division and Newport News Shipbuilding are also principal participants in the technology initiatives pursued with such funds to ensure submarine-wide, integrated systems approaches to the inclusion of such technologies on future nuclear attack submarines.

(4) In addition to the purposes for which the amounts under paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) are available, such amounts are also available for contracts with Electric Boat Division and Newport News Shipbuilding to carry out the provisions of the memorandum of agreement referred to in subsection (a)(2) for research and development activities under that memorandum of agreement.

(c) AMOUNT FROM FISCAL YEAR 1996 FUNDS FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE SEALIFT FUND.—(1) Section 132 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 210) is repealed.

(2) The amount referred to in section 132 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (as in effect immediately before the repeal by paragraph (1)) shall be available to the Secretary of the Navy for activities relating only to advanced submarine technology that involve the construction of large scale vehicles for purposes of hydrodynamic and hydroacoustic research on developmental designs for hulls and propulsion systems.

(d) CONTRACTS AUTHORIZED.—(1) The Secretary of the Navy is authorized, using funds available pursuant to subparagraphs (B) and (C) of subsection (a)(1), to enter into contracts with Electric Boat Division and Newport News Shipbuilding, and suppliers of components, during fiscal year 1997 for—

(A) the procurement of long-lead components for the fiscal year 1998 submarine and the fiscal year 1999 submarine under this section; and

(B) advance construction of such components and other components for such submarines.

(2) The Secretary may enter into a contract or contracts under this section with the shipbuilder of the fiscal year 1998 submarine only if the Secretary enters into a contract or contracts under this section with the shipbuilder of the fiscal year 1999 submarine.

(e) LIMITATIONS.—(1)(A) Of the amounts specified in subsection (a)(1), not more than $100,000,000 may be obligated until the Secretary of Defense certifies in writing to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives that procurement of nuclear attack submarines described in subparagraph (B) will be under one or more contracts that are entered into after competition between Electric Boat Division and Newport News Shipbuilding in which the Secretary of the Navy solicits competitive proposals and awards the contract or contracts on the basis of price.

(B) The submarines referred to in subparagraph (A) are nuclear attack submarines that are to be constructed beginning—

(1) after fiscal year 1999; or

(11) if four submarines are to be procured as provided for in the plan required under section 131(c) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 208), after fiscal year 2001.

(2) Of the amounts specified in subsection (a)(1), not more than $675,000,000 may be obligated until the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Technology submits to the congressional committees specified in paragraph (1) a report in writing detailing the following:

(A) The Under Secretary's oversight activities to date, and plans for the future, for the development and improvement of the nuclear attack submarine program of the Navy as required by section 131(b)(2)(C) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (110 Stat. 207).

(B) The implementation of, and activities conducted under, the program required to be established by the Director of the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency by section 131(i) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (110 Stat. 210) for the development and demonstration of advanced submarine technologies and a rapid prototype acquisition strategy for both land-based and at-sea subsystem and system demonstrations of such technologies.

(C) A description of all research, development, test, and evaluation programs, projects, or activities within the Department of Defense which, in the opinion of the Under Secretary, are designed to contribute to the development and demonstration of advanced submarine technologies leading to a more capable, more affordable nuclear attack submarine, specifically identifying ongoing involvement, and plans for future involvement, in any such program, project, or activity by either Electric Boat Division or Newport News Shipbuilding, or by both.

(3) Of the amount specified in subsection (b)(1), not more than $100,000,000 may be obligated or expended until the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) certifies in writing to the congressional committees specified in paragraph (1) that—

(A) funds specified in subsection (c)(2) have been made available for obligation; and

(B) to the extent that funds specified in paragraphs (2) and (3) of subsection (b) have been appropriated for the purposes specified in such paragraphs, such funds have been made available for obligation.

(f) ACQUISITION SIMPLIFICATION.—In furtherance of the direction provided by subsection (d) of section 131 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (110 Stat. 209) to the Secretary of Defense regarding the application of acquisition reform policies and procedures to the submarine program under that section, the Secretary shall direct the Secretary of the Navy to implement for the submarine programs of the Navy acquisition reform initiatives similar in intent and approach to the initiatives begun by the Secretary of the Air Force in May 1995 and referred to as the "Lightning Bolt" initiatives. The Secretary of the Navy shall, not later than March 31, 1997, submit to the congressional committees specified in subsection (e)(1) a report on the results of the implementation of such initiatives.

(g) DESIGN RESPONSIBILITY.—(1) The Secretary of the Navy shall carry out the submarine program described in section 131 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 in a manner that ensures that each of the two shipbuilders involved in the design and construction of the four submarines described in that section be allowed to propose to the Secretary any design improvement that the shipbuilder considers appropriate for the submarines to be built by that shipbuilder as part of those four submarines. The Secretary shall ensure that both shipbuilders have full and open access to all design data concerning the design of the submarine previously designated by the Navy as the New Attack Submarine.

(2) The designs proposed by the shipbuilders should proceed from, but not be limited to, the specific advanced technologies referred to in subsection (b)(2)(A), especially technologies involving hydrodynamics and hydroacoustics concepts.

(3) The Secretary shall require both shipbuilders to submit to the Secretary an annual report on the progress of the design work on the submarines referred to in paragraph (1) and shall transmit each such report to the committees specified in subsection (e)(1).

(4) The Secretary shall also submit an annual report to the committees specified in subsection (e)(1) on the design improvements proposed by the two shipbuilders under paragraph (1) for incorporation on any of the four submarines and on the degree to which design information on the base design and design improvements has been shared between the shipbuilders. Each annual report shall set forth each design improvement proposed and whether that proposal was—

(A) reviewed, approved, and funded by the Navy;

(B) reviewed and approved, but not funded; or

(C) not approved, in which case the report shall include the reasons therefor and any views of the shipyard making the proposal.

(5) The reports referred to in paragraphs (3) and (4) shall be submitted concurrently with the annual revisions to the Secretary of Defense's nuclear attack submarine plan required by section 131(e) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 209).

(h) SERIAL PRODUCTION.—The Secretary of Defense shall modify the plan relating to development of a program leading to production of a more capable and less expensive submarine than the New Attack Submarine that was submitted to Congress pursuant to section 131(c) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 in order to provide in such plan the option for selection of a design for a next submarine for serial production not earlier than fiscal year 2002 (rather than fiscal year 2003, as provided in paragraph (3)(B) of such section 131(c)).

(i) REFERENCES TO SHIPBUILDERS.—For purposes of this section—

(1) the shipbuilder referred to as "Electric Boat Division" is the Electric Boat Division of the General Dynamics Corporation; and

(2) the shipbuilder referred to as "Newport News Shipbuilding" is the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company.

(j) SUBMARINES DEFINED BY REFERENCE TO FISCAL YEAR.—For purposes of this section—

(1) the term "fiscal year 1998 submarine" means the submarine referred to in subsection (a)(1)(B); and

(2) the term "fiscal year 1999 submarine" means the submarine referred to in subsection (a)(1)(C).

SEC. 122. ARLEIGH BURKE CLASS DESTROYER PROGRAM.

(a) FUNDING.—(1) Subject to paragraph (3), funds authorized to be appropriated by section 102(a)(3) may be made available for contracts entered into during fiscal year 1996 under subsection (b)(1) of section 135 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 211) for construction for the third of the three Arleigh Burke class destroyers covered by that subsection. Such funds are in addition to amounts made available for such contracts by the second sentence of subsection (a) of that section.

(2) Subject to paragraph (3), funds authorized to be appropriated by section 102(a)(3) may be made available for contracts entered into during fiscal year 1997 under subsection (b)(2) of such section 135 for construction (including advance procurement) for the Arleigh Burke class destroyers covered by such subsection (b)(2).

(3) The aggregate amount of funds available under paragraphs (1) and (2) for contracts referred to in such paragraphs may not exceed $3,483,030,000.

(4) Within the amount authorized to be appropriated by section 102(a)(3), $525,000,000 is authorized to be appropriated for advance procurement for construction for the Arleigh Burke class destroyers authorized by subsection (b).

(b) AUTHORITY FOR MULTIYEAR PROCUREMENT OF TWELVE VESSELS.—The Secretary of the Navy is authorized, pursuant to section 2306b of title 10, United States Code, to enter into multiyear contracts for the procurement of a total of 12 Arleigh Burke class destroyers at a procurement rate of three ships in each of fiscal years, 1998, 1999, 2000, and 2001 in accordance with this subsection and subsection (a)(4), subject to the availability of appropriations for such destroyers. A contract for construction of one or more vessels that is entered into in accordance with this subsection shall include a clause that limits the liability of the Government to the contractor for any termination of the contract.

SEC. 123. EA-6B AIRCRAFT REACTIVE JAMMER PROGRAM.

(a) LIMITATION.—None of the funds appropriated pursuant to section 102(a)(1) for modifications or upgrades of EA-6B aircraft may be obligated, other than for a reactive jammer program for such aircraft, until 30 days after the date on which the Secretary of the Navy submits to the congressional defense committees in writing—

(1) a certification that some or all of such funds have been obligated for a reactive jammer program for EA-6B aircraft; and

(2) a report that sets forth a detailed, well-defined program for—

(A) developing a reactive jamming capability for EA-6B aircraft; and

(B) upgrading the EA-6B aircraft of the Navy to incorporate the reactive jamming capability.

(b) CONTINGENT TRANSFER OF FUNDS TO AIR FORCE.—(1) If the Secretary of the Navy has not submitted the certification and report described in subsection (a) to the congressional defense committees before June 1, 1997, then, on that date, the Secretary of Defense shall transfer to Air Force, out of appropriations available to the Navy for fiscal year 1997 for procurement of aircraft, the amount equal to the amount appropriated to the Navy for fiscal year 1997 for modifications and upgrades of EA-6B aircraft.

(2) Funds transferred to the Air Force pursuant to paragraph (1) shall be available for maintaining and upgrading the jamming capability of EF-111 aircraft.

SEC. 124. T-39N TRAINER AIRCRAFT FOR THE NAVY.

The Secretary of the Navy may, using funds appropriated for fiscal year 1996 for procurement of T-39N trainer aircraft for the Navy that remain available for obligation for such purpose, enter into a contract for the acquisition of T-39N aircraft for naval flight officer training that are suitable for low-level training flights. Such a contract may be entered into only after the Secretary complies with section 137 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 212).

SEC. 125. PENGUIN MISSILE PROGRAM.

(a) MULTIYEAR PROCUREMENT AUTHORITY.—The Secretary of the Navy may, in accordance with section 2306b of title 10, United States Code, enter into multiyear procurement contracts for the procurement of not more than 106 Penguin missile systems.

(b) LIMITATION ON TOTAL COST.—The total amount obligated or expended for procurement of Penguin missile systems under contracts under subsection (a) may not exceed $84,800,000.

Subtitle D—Air Force Programs

SEC. 131. REPEAL OF LIMITATION ON PROCUREMENT OF F-15E AIRCRAFT.

Section 134 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Years 1990 and 1991

(Public Law 101-189; 103 Stat. 1383) is repealed.

SEC. 132. MODIFICATION TO MULTIYEAR PROCUREMENT AUTHORITY FOR C-17 AIRCRAFT PROGRAM.

(a) MULTIYEAR CONTRACTS AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of the Air Force may enter into one or more multiyear contracts for the procurement of C-17 aircraft (including the section 2703 contract entered into before the date of the enactment of this Act under the authority of section 2703 of the Supplemental Appropriations Act of 1996 (title II of Public Law 104-134)). The total number of aircraft contracted to be procured under such multiyear contracts may not exceed 80. Any such contract shall be entered into in accordance with section 2306b of title 10, United States Code (and subject to such modifications as may be authorized by law in the maximum period for such contracts specified in subsection (k) of such section).

(b) REQUIREMENT TO NEGOTIATE OPTION TO CONVERT EXISTING CONTRACT TO SIX PROGRAM YEARS.—The Secretary of the Air Force shall negotiate with the prime contractor for the C-17 aircraft program so as to achieve a contract option for the United States under the section 2703 contract to convert the multiyear procurement period under that contract to a period of six program years based upon the level of funding for that program for fiscal year 1997.

(c) CONTRACT PERIOD.—A contract entered into after the date of the enactment of this Act on a multiyear basis under the authority of subsection (a) may (notwithstanding section 2306b(k) of title 10, United States Code) be for a period of six program years.

(d) SECTION 2703 CONTRACT DEFINED.—For purposes of this section, the term "section 2703 contract" means the contract entered into by the Secretary of the Air Force on May 31, 1996, with the prime contractor for the C-17 aircraft program under the authority of section 2703 of the Supplemental Appropriations Act of 1996 (title II of Public Law 104-134) providing for a multiyear procurement of C-17 aircraft over seven program years with an option for the Secretary to convert that period to six program years.

Subtitle E—Other Matters

SEC. 141. ASSESSMENTS OF MODERNIZATION PRIORITIES OF THE RESERVE COMPONENTS.

(a) ASSESSMENTS REQUIRED.—Not later than December 1, 1996, each officer referred to in subsection (b) shall submit to the congressional defense committees an assessment of the modernization priorities established for the reserve component or reserve components for which that officer is responsible.

(b) RESPONSIBLE OFFICERS.—The officers required to submit a report under subsection (a) are as follows:

(1) The Chief of the National Guard Bureau.

(2) The Chief of Army Reserve.

(3) The Chief of Air Force Reserve.

(4) The Director of Naval Reserve.

(5) The Commanding General, Marine Forces Reserve.

SEC. 142. DESTRUCTION OF EXISTING STOCKPILE OF LETHAL CHEMICAL AGENTS AND MUNITIONS.

Section 152 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 214; 50 U.S.C. 1521 note) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsections:

"(e) ASSESSMENT OF ALTERNATIVE TECHNOLOGIES FOR DEMILITARIZATION OF ASSEMBLED CHEMICAL MUNITIONS.—(1) In addition to the assessment required by subsection (c), the Secretary of Defense shall conduct an assessment of the chemical demilitarization program for destruction of assembled chemical munitions and of the alternative demilitarization technologies and processes (other than incineration) that could be used for the destruction of the lethal chemical agents that are associated with these munitions, while ensuring maximum protection for the general public, the personnel involved in the demilitarization program, and the environment. The measures considered shall be limited to those that would minimize the risk to the public and reduce the total cost of the chemical agents and munitions destruction program. The assessment shall be conducted without regard to any limitation that would otherwise apply to the conduct of such assessment under any provision of law.

"(2) The assessment shall be conducted in coordination with the National Research Council.

"(3) Among the alternatives, the assessment shall include a determination of the cost of incineration of the current chemical munitions stockpile by building incinerators at each existing facility compared to the proposed cost of dismantling those same munitions, neutralizing them at each storage site (other than Tooele Army Depot or Johnston Atoll), and transporting the neutralized remains and all munitions parts to a treatment, storage, and disposal facility within the United States that has the necessary environmental permits to undertake incineration of the material.

"(4) Based on the results of the assessment, the Secretary shall develop appropriate recommendations for revision of the chemical demilitarization program.

"(5) Not later than December 31, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the assessment conducted in accordance with paragraph (1) and any recommendations for revision of the chemical demilitarization program, including the continued development of alternative demilitarization technologies and processes other than incineration that could be used for the destruction of the lethal chemical agents that are associated with these assembled chemical munitions and the chemical munitions demilitarization sites for which the selected technologies should be developed.

"(f) PILOT PROGRAM FOR DEMILITARIZATION OF CHEMICAL AGENTS FOR ASSEMBLED MUNITIONS.—(1) If the Secretary of Defense makes a decision to continue the development of an alternative demilitarization technology or process (other than incineration) that could be used for the destruction of the lethal chemical agents that are associated with assembled chemical munitions, $25,000,000 shall be available from the funds authorized to be appropriated in section 107 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1997 for the chemical agents and munitions destruction program, in order to initiate a pilot program using the selected alternative technology or process for the destruction of chemical agents that are stored at these sites.

"(2) Not less than 30 days before using funds to initiate the pilot program under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall submit notice in writing to Congress of the Secretary's intent to do so.

"(3) The pilot program shall be conducted at the selected chemical agent and munitions stockpile storage site for which the alternative technology or process is recommended."

SEC. 143. EXTENSION OF AUTHORITY TO CARRY OUT ARMAMENT RETOOLING AND MANUFACTURING SUPPORT INITIATIVE.

Section 193(a) of the Armament Retooling and Manufacturing Support Act of 1992 (sub-title H of title I of Public Law 102-484; 10 U.S.C. 2501 note) is amended by striking out "During fiscal years 1993 through 1996", and inserting in lieu thereof "During fiscal years 1993 through 1998".

Subtitle A—Authorization of Appropriations

SEC. 201. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

Funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 1997 for the use of the Department of Defense for research, development, test, and evaluation as follows:

- (1) For the Army, $4,780,615,000.
- (2) For the Navy, $3,068,299,000.
- (3) For the Air Force, $14,756,366,000.
- (4) For Defense-wide activities, $9,691,293,000, of which—

(A) $269,038,000 is authorized for the activities of the Director, Test and Evaluation; and

(B) $21,968,000 is authorized for the Director of Operational Test and Evaluation.

SEC. 202. AMOUNT FOR BASIC AND APPLIED RESEARCH.

(a) FISCAL YEAR 1997.—Of the amounts authorized to be appropriated by sections 201, $4,031,343,000 shall be available for basic research and applied research projects.

(b) BASIC RESEARCH AND APPLIED RESEARCH DEFINED.—For purposes of this section, the term "basic research and applied research" means work funded in program elements for defense research and development under Department of Defense category 6.1 or 6.2.

SEC. 203. DUAL-USE TECHNOLOGY PROGRAM.

(a) ALLOCATION OF FUNDS.—Of the amount appropriated pursuant to the authorization in section 201(4), $85,000,000 shall be available for the dual-use technology program under this section.

(b) DESIGNATION OF OFFICIAL FOR DUAL-USE PROGRAM.—(1) The Secretary of Defense shall designate a senior official in the Office of the Secretary of Defense to have as that official's sole responsibilities developing policy relating to, and ensuring effective implementation of, the dual-use technology program of the Department of Defense. In carrying out such responsibilities, the official shall ensure—

(A) that commercial technologies are integrated into current and future military systems to the maximum extent practicable;

(B) that dual-use projects are coordinated with the joint warfighting science and technology plan referred to in section 270; and

(C) that dual-use projects of the military departments and the defense agencies are coordinated and avoid unnecessary duplication.

(2) The senior official designated under paragraph (1) shall carry out such responsibilities during the period beginning on October 1, 1996, and ending on September 30, 2000. Such official shall report directly to the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Technology.

(c) FUNDING REQUIREMENT.—Of the amounts appropriated pursuant to the authorizations in section 201 for the Department of Defense for science and technology programs for fiscal year 1997, at least 5 percent of such amounts shall be available only for dual-use projects of the Department of Defense. The funds made available under the preceding sentence are in addition to the funds made available under subsection (a).

(d) LIMITATION ON OBLIGATIONS.—Funds made available pursuant to subsections (a) and (c) may be used for a dual-use project only if the contract, cooperative agreement, or other transaction by which the project is carried out is entered into through the use of competitive procedures.

(e) TRANSFER AUTHORITY.—In addition to the transfer authority provided in section 1001, the Secretary of Defense may transfer funds made available pursuant to subsections (a) and (c) for a dual-use project from a military department or defense agency to another military department or defense agency to ensure efficient implementation of the dual-use technology program. The Secretary may delegate the authority provided in the preceding sentence to the senior official designated under subsection (b).

(f) FEDERAL COST SHARE.—The share contributed by the Secretary of a military department or the head of a defense agency for the cost of a dual-use project during fiscal year 1997 may not be greater than 50 percent of the cost of the project for that fiscal year.

(g) REPORT.—At the same time the President submits to Congress the budget for fiscal year 1998 pursuant to section 1105(a) of title 31, United States Code, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report that specifies the investment strategy for the dual-use technology program to be conducted during fiscal years 1998, 1999, and 2000.

(h) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) The term "dual-use technology program" means the program of the Department of Defense under which research or development of a dual-use technology (as defined in section 2491 of title 10, United States Code) is carried out and the costs of which are shared between the Department of Defense and non-Government entities. The term includes the dual-use critical technology program established pursuant to section 2511 of title 10, United States Code.

(2) The term "dual-use project" means a project under the dual-use technology program.

(3) The term "science and technology program" means a program of a military department under which basic research, applied research, or advanced technology development is carried out.

SEC. 204. DEFENSE SPECIAL WEAPONS AGENCY.

There is hereby authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 1997 the amount of $314,313,000 for the Defense Special Weapons Agency, of which—

- (1) $7,900,000 is for procurement;
- (2) $218,330,000 is for research, development, test, and evaluation; and
- (3) $88,083,000 is for operations and maintenance.

Subtitle B—Program Requirements, Restrictions, and Limitations

SEC. 211. SPACE LAUNCH MODERNIZATION.

(a) FUNDING.—Funds appropriated pursuant to the authorization of appropriations in section 201(3) are authorized to be made available for space launch modernization for purposes and in amounts as follows:

(1) For the Evolved Expendable Launch Vehicle program, $44,457,000.

(2) For a competitive reusable launch vehicle program (program element 63401F), $25,000,000.

(b) LIMITATIONS.—(1) Of the funds made available for the reusable launch vehicle program pursuant to subsection (a)(2), the total amount obligated for such purpose may not exceed the total amount allocated in the fiscal year 1997 current operating plan of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for the Reusable Space Launch program of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

(2) Of the funds made available for the Evolved Expendable Launch Vehicle program pursuant to subsection (a)(1), the total amount obligated for such purpose may not exceed $20,000,000 until the Secretary of Defense certifies to Congress that the Secretary has made available for obligation the funds, if any, that are made available for the reusable launch vehicle program pursuant to subsection (a)(2).

(c) COORDINATION OF ENGINE TESTING.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense and the Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration shall submit to Congress a joint plan for coordinating and eliminating unnecessary duplication in the operations and planned improvements of rocket engine and rocket engine component test facilities managed by the Department of the Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The plan shall provide, to the extent practical, for the development of commonly funded and commonly operated facilities.

SEC. 212. SPACE-BASED INFRARED SYSTEM PROGRAM.

(a) FUNDING.—Funds appropriated pursuant to the authorization of appropriations in section 201(3) are authorized to be made available for the Space-Based Infrared System program for purposes and in amounts as follows:

(1) For Space Segment High, $173,290,000.

(2) For Space Segment Low (the Space and Missile Tracking System), $247,221,000.

(3) For Cobra Brass, $6,930,000.

(b) LIMITATION.—Not more than $100,000,000 of the funds authorized to be made available under subsection (a)(1) may be obligated or expended until the Secretary of Defense certifies to Congress that the Secretary has made available the funds authorized to be made available under subsection (a)(2) for the purpose of accelerating the deployment of the Space Segment Low (the Space and Missile Tracking System).

(c) PROGRAM MANAGEMENT.—Before the submission of the President's budget for fiscal year 1998, the Secretary of Defense shall conduct a review of the appropriate management responsibilities for the Space and Missile Tracking System, including whether transferring such management responsibility from the Air Force to the Ballistic Missile Defense Organization would result in improved program efficiencies and support.

SEC. 213. CLEMENTINE 2 MICRO-SATELLITE DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM.

(a) AMOUNT FOR PROGRAM.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated under section 201(3), $50,000,000 shall be available for the Clementine 2 micro-satellite near-Earth asteroid interception mission.

(b) LIMITATION.—Of the funds authorized to be appropriated pursuant to this Act for the global positioning system (GPS) Block II F Satellite system, not more than $25,000,000 may be obligated until the Secretary of Defense certifies to Congress that—

(1) funds appropriated for fiscal year 1996 for the Clementine 2 Micro-Satellite development program have been obligated in accordance with Public Law 104-106 and the Joint Explanatory Statement of the Committee of Conference accompanying S. 1124 (House Report 104-450 (104th Congress, second session)); and

(2) the Secretary has made available for obligation the funds appropriated for fiscal year 1997 for the purpose specified in subsection (a).

SEC. 214. LIVE-FIRE SURVIVABILITY TESTING OF V-22 OSPREY AIRCRAFT.

(a) AUTHORITY FOR RETROACTIVE WAIVER.—The Secretary of Defense may, in accordance with section 2366(c) of title 10, United States Code, waive for the V-22 Osprey aircraft program the survivability tests required by that section, notwithstanding that such program has entered engineering and manufacturing development.

(b) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—In exercising the waiver authority in section 2366(c) of title 10, United States Code, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report explaining how the Secretary plans to evaluate the survivability of the V-22 Osprey aircraft system and assessing possible alternatives to realistic survivability testing of the system.

(c) ALTERNATIVE SURVIVABILITY TEST REQUIREMENTS.—If the Secretary of Defense submits in accordance with section 2366(c)(1) of title 10, United States Code, a certification that live-fire testing of the V-22 Osprey aircraft would be unreasonably expensive and impractical, the Secretary shall require that components critical to the survivability of the V-22 Osprey aircraft be subjected to live-fire testing under an alternative live-fire testing program that, by reason of the number of such components tested and the realism of the threat environments under which the components are tested, will yield test results that provide a sufficient basis for drawing meaningful conclusions about the survivability of V-22 Osprey aircraft.

(d) FUNDING.—The funds required to carry out any alternative live-fire testing of the V-22 Osprey aircraft system shall be made available from amounts appropriated for the V-22 Osprey program.

SEC. 215. LIVE-FIRE SURVIVABILITY TESTING OF F-22 AIRCRAFT.

(a) AUTHORITY FOR RETROACTIVE WAIVER.—The Secretary of Defense may, in accordance with section 2366(c) of title 10, United States Code, waive for the F-22 aircraft program the survivability tests required by that section, notwithstanding that such program has entered engineering and manufacturing development.

(b) ALTERNATIVE SURVIVABILITY TEST REQUIREMENTS.—If the Secretary of Defense submits in accordance with section 2366(c)(1) of title 10, United States Code, a certification that live-fire testing of the F-22 aircraft would be unreasonably expensive and impractical, the Secretary shall require that components and subsystems critical to the survivability of the F-22 aircraft be subjected to live-fire testing under an alternative live-fire testing program that, by reason of the number of such components and subsystems tested and the realism of the threat environments under which the components and subsystems are tested, will yield test results that provide a sufficient basis for drawing meaningful conclusions about the survivability of F-22 aircraft.

(c) FUNDING.—The funds required to carry out any alternative live-fire testing of the F-22 aircraft system shall be made available from amounts appropriated for the F-22 program.

SEC. 216. LIMITATION ON FUNDING FOR F-16 TACTICAL MANNED RECONNAISSANCE AIRCRAFT.

(a) LIMITATION.—Effective on the date of the enactment of this Act, not more than $50,000,000 (in fiscal year 1997 constant dollars) may be obligated or expended for—

(1) research, development, test, and evaluation for, and acquisition and modification of, the F-16 tactical manned reconnaissance aircraft program; and

(2) costs associated with the termination of such program.

(b) EXCEPTION.—The limitation in subsection (a) shall not apply to obligations required for improvements planned before the date of the enactment of this Act to incorporate the common data link into the F-16 tactical manned reconnaissance aircraft.

SEC. 217. COST ANALYSIS OF F-22 AIRCRAFT PROGRAM.

(a) REVIEW AND REPORT.—The Secretary of Defense shall direct the Cost Analysis Improvement Group in the Office of the Secretary of Defense to review the F-22 aircraft program, analyze and estimate the production costs of the program, and submit to the Secretary a report on the results of the review.

(b) CONTENT OF REPORT.—The report shall include—

(1) a comparison of—
(A) the results of the review, with
(B) the results of the last independent estimate of production costs of the program that was prepared by the Cost Analysis Improvement Group in July 1991; and

(2) a description of any major changes in programmatic assumptions that have occurred since the estimate referred to in paragraph (1)(B) was made, including any major change in assumptions regarding the program schedule, the quantity of aircraft to be developed and acquired, and the annual rates of production, together with an assessment of the effects of such changes on the program.

(c) SUBMISSION OF REPORT.—Not later than March 30, 1997, the Secretary shall submit the report to the congressional defense committees, together with the Secretary's views on the matters covered by the report.

(d) LIMITATION ON USE OF FUNDS PENDING SUBMISSION OF REPORT.—Not more than 92 percent of the funds appropriated for the F-22 aircraft program pursuant to the authorization of appropriations in section 103(1) may be expended until the Secretary of Defense submits the report required under this section.

SEC. 218. F-22 AIRCRAFT PROGRAM REPORTS.

(a) ANNUAL REPORT.—(1) At the same time that the President submits the budget for a fiscal year to Congress pursuant to section 1105(a) of title 31, United States Code, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on event-based decision-making for the F-22 aircraft program for that fiscal year. The Secretary shall submit the report for fiscal year 1997 not later than October 1, 1996.

(2) The report for a fiscal year shall include the following:

(A) A discussion of each decision known within the Department of Defense as an "event-based decision" that is expected to be made during that fiscal year regarding whether the F-22 program is to proceed into a new phase or into a new administrative subdivision of a phase.

(B) The criteria known within the Department of Defense as "exit criteria" to be applied, for purposes of making the event-based decision, in determining whether the F-22 aircraft program has demonstrated the specific progress necessary for proceeding into the new phase or administrative subdivision of a phase.

(b) REPORT ON EVENT-BASED DECISIONS.—Not later than 30 days after an event-based decision has been made for the F-22 aircraft program, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the decision. The report shall include the following:

(1) A discussion of the commitments made, and the commitments to be made, under the program as a result of the decision.

(2) The exit criteria applied for purposes of the decision.

(3) How, in terms of the exit criteria, the program demonstrated the specific progress justifying the decision.

SEC. 219. COST-BENEFIT ANALYSIS OF F/A-18E/F AIRCRAFT PROGRAM.

(a) REPORT ON PROGRAM.—Not later than March 30, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the congressional defense committees a report on the F/A-18E/F aircraft program.

(b) CONTENT OF REPORT.—The report shall contain the following:

(1) A review of the F/A-18E/F aircraft program.

(2) An analysis and estimate of the production costs of the program for the total number of aircraft realistically expected to be procured at each of three annual production rates as follows:

- (A) 18 aircraft.
- (B) 24 aircraft.
- (C) 36 aircraft.

(3) A comparison of the costs and benefits of the program with the costs and benefits of the F/A-18C/D aircraft program taking into account the operational combat effectiveness of the aircraft.

(c) LIMITATION ON USE OF FUNDS PENDING SUBMISSION OF REPORT.—Not more than 90 percent of the funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act for the procurement of F/A-18E/F aircraft may be obligated or expended for procurement of such aircraft before the date that is 30 days after the date on which the congressional defense committees receive the report required under subsection (a).

SEC. 220. JOINT ADVANCED STRIKE TECHNOLOGY (JAST) PROGRAM.

(a) ALLOCATION OF FUNDS.—Of the amounts authorized to be appropriated pursuant to the authorizations in section 201, $602,069,000 shall be available only for advanced technology development for the Joint Advanced Strike Technology (JAST) program. Of that amount—

(1) $259,833,000 shall be available only for program element 63800N in the budget of the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1997;

(2) $263,836,000 shall be available only for program element 63800F in the budget of the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1997; and

(3) $78,400,000 shall be available only for program element 63800E in the budget of the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1997.

(b) ANALYSIS OF FORCE STRUCTURE.—Of the amounts authorized to be appropriated by section 201 for the Joint Advanced Strike Technology program, up to $10,000,000 shall be available for the conduct of an analysis by the Institute for Defense Analyses of the following:

(1) The weapon systems force structure required to meet the anticipated range of threats projected by the intelligence community for the period 2000 through 2025.

(2) Alternative force mixes, including, at a minimum, the following force mixes:

(A) Joint Strike Fighter derivative aircraft; remanufactured AV-8 aircraft; F-18C/D, F-18E/F, AH-64, AH-1W, RAH-66, F-14, F-16, F-15, F-117, F-22, B-1, B-2, and B-52 aircraft; and air-to-surface and surface-to-surface weapons systems.

(B) Joint Strike Fighter derivative aircraft; remanufactured AV-8 aircraft; F-18C/D, F-18E/F, F-14, F-16, F-15, F-117, and F-22 aircraft; and air-to-surface and surface-to-surface weapons systems.

(3) Cost and operational effectiveness of the alternative force mixes analyzed under paragraph (2), including sensitivity analyses related to system performance, costs, threats, and force employment scenarios.

(4) Required operational capability dates of systems not yet in production for the force mixes analyzed under paragraph (2).

(5) Affordability, commonality, and roles and missions considerations related to the alternative force mixes analyzed under paragraph (2).

(c) COST REVIEW OF FORCE STRUCTURE ANALYSIS.—The Secretary of Defense shall direct the Cost Analysis Improvement Group in the Office of the Secretary of Defense to review cost estimates made under the analysis conducted under subsection (b) and submit to the Secretary a report on the results of the review. The report may include comments and additional cost sensitivity analyses.

(d) BRIEFING AND REPORT.—(1) Not later than November 15, 1996, the Secretary of Defense shall make available to the congressional defense committees a briefing on the plan and assumptions for the analysis to be conducted under subsection (b).

(2) Not later than May 15, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the congressional defense committees a report containing a copy of the analysis conducted under subsection (b) and of the cost review conducted under subsection (c), together with the views of the Secretary on such analysis and cost review.

SEC. 221. UNMANNED AERIAL VEHICLES.

(a) PROCUREMENT FUNDING REQUEST.—The funding request for procurement for unmanned aerial vehicles for any fiscal year shall be set forth under the funding requests for the military departments in the budget of the Department of Defense.

(b) TRANSFER OF PROGRAM MANAGEMENT.—Program management for the Predator Unmanned Aerial Vehicle, and programmed funding for such vehicle for fiscal years 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, and 2002 (as set forth in the future-years defense program), shall be transferred to the Department of the Air Force, effective October 1, 1996, or the date of the enactment of this Act, whichever is later.

(c) PROHIBITION ON PROVIDING OPERATING CAPABILITY FROM NAVAL VESSELS.—No funds authorized to be appropriated by this Act may be obligated for purposes of providing the capability of the Predator Unmanned Aerial Vehicle to operate from naval vessels.

SEC. 222. HIGH ALTITUDE ENDURANCE UNMANNED AERIAL RECONNAISSANCE SYSTEM.

Any concepts for an improved Tier III Minus (High Altitude Endurance Unmanned Aerial Reconnaissance) system, developed using funds authorized to be appropriated under this title, that would increase the unit flyaway cost for such system to an amount greater than the unit flyaway cost established in either of the original contracts for such system, may not be carried out under the original contracts, but must instead be carried out under another contract that is awarded using competitive procedures.

SEC. 223. CYCLONE CLASS PATROL CRAFT SELF-DEFENSE.

(a) STUDY REQUIRED.—The Secretary of Defense shall perform a study of the operational requirements for vessel self-defense for the Cyclone class patrol craft and a comparative evaluation of the potential means for meeting the operational requirements for self-defense of the craft. The study shall consider the range of operational scenarios in which the craft is expected to be employed.

(b) SYSTEMS TO BE EVALUATED.—The study under subsection (a) shall consider those self-defense systems that could be employed aboard the Cyclone class patrol craft, including the Barak ship self-defense missile system.

(c) REPORT.—Not later than March 31, 1997, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report containing the results of the study under subsection (a).

SEC. 224. ONE-YEAR EXTENSION OF DEADLINE FOR DELIVERY OF ENHANCED FIBER OPTIC GUIDED MISSILE (EFOG-M) SYSTEM.

Section 272(a)(2) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 239) is amended by striking out "September 30, 1998," and inserting in lieu thereof "September 30, 1999,".

SEC. 225. HYDRA-70 ROCKET PRODUCT IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM.

(a) FUNDING AUTHORIZATION.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated under section 201(1) for the Army for Other Missile Product Improvement Programs, $9,000,000 is authorized as specified in subsection (b) for completion of the Hydra-70 product improvement program authorized for fiscal year 1996.

(b) AUTHORIZED ACTIONS.—Funding is authorized to be appropriated for the following:

(1) Procurement for test and flight qualification of at least one nondevelopmental item 2.75-inch composite rocket motor propellant type, along with other nondevelopmental item candidate motors that use composite propellant as the propulsion component.

(2) Platform integration, including additional quantities of the motor chosen for operational certification on the Apache attack helicopter.

(c) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term "nondevelopmental item" has the meaning provided in section 4 of the Office of Federal Procurement Policy Act (41 U.S.C. 403).

SEC. 226. FEDERALLY FUNDED RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT CENTERS.

(a) CENTERS COVERED.—Funds authorized to be appropriated for the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1997 under section 201 may be obligated to procure work from a federally funded research and development center (in this section referred to as an "FFRDC") only in the case of a center named in the report required by subsection (b) and, in the case of such a center, only in an amount not in excess of the amount of the proposed funding level set forth for that center in such report.

(b) REPORT ON ALLOCATIONS FOR CENTERS.—(1) Not later than 30 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a report containing—

(A) the name of each FFRDC from which work is proposed to be procured for the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1997;

(B) for each such center, the proposed funding level and the estimated personnel level for fiscal year 1997; and

(C) for each such center, an unambiguous definition of the unique core competencies required to be maintained for fiscal year 1997.

(2) The total of the proposed funding levels set forth in the report for all FFRDCs may not exceed the amount set forth in subsection (d).

(c) LIMITATION PENDING SUBMISSION OF REPORT.—Not more than 15 percent of the funds authorized to be appropriated for the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1997 for FFRDCs under section 201 may be obligated to procure work from an FFRDC until the Secretary of Defense submits the report required by subsection (b).

(d) FUNDING.—(1) Subject to paragraph (2), of the amounts authorized to be appropriated by section 201, not more than a total of $1,214,650,000 may be obligated to procure services from the FFRDCs named in the report required by subsection (b).

(2) The limitation in paragraph (1) does not apply to funds obligated for the procurement of equipment for FFRDCs.

(e) AUTHORITY TO WAIVE FUNDING LIMITATION.—The Secretary of Defense may waive the limitation regarding the maximum funding amount that applies under subsection (a) to an FFRDC. Whenever the Secretary proposes to make such a waiver, the Secretary shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives notice of the proposed waiver and the reasons for the waiver. The waiver may then be made only after the end of the 60-day period that begins on the date on which the notice is submitted to those committees, unless the Secretary determines that it is essential to the national security that funds be obligated for work at that center in excess of that limitation before the end of such period and notifies those committees of that determination and the reasons for the determination.

SEC. 227. DEMILITARIZATION OF CONVENTIONAL MUNITIONS, ROCKETS, AND EXPLOSIVES.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT OF CONVENTIONAL MUNITIONS, ROCKETS, AND EXPLOSIVES DEMILITARIZATION PROGRAM.—The Secretary of Defense shall establish an integrated program for the development and demonstration of technologies for the demilitarization and disposal of conventional munitions, rockets, and explosives in a manner that complies with applicable environmental laws.

(b) DURATION OF PROGRAM.—The program established pursuant to subsection (a) shall be in effect for a period of at least five years, beginning with fiscal year 1997.

(c) FUNDING.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated in section 201, $15,000,000 is authorized to be appropriated for the program established pursuant to subsection (a). The funding request for the program shall be set forth separately in the budget justification documents for the budget of the Department of Defense for each fiscal year during which the program is in effect.

(d) REPORTS.—The Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the plan for the program established pursuant to subsection (a) at the same time the President submits to Congress the budget for fiscal year 1998. The Secretary shall submit an updated version of such report, setting forth in detail the progress of the program, at the same time the President submits the budget for each fiscal year after fiscal year 1998 during which the program is in effect.

SEC. 228. RESEARCH ACTIVITIES OF THE DEFENSE ADVANCED RESEARCH PROJECTS AGENCY RELATING TO CHEMICAL AND BIOLOGICAL WARFARE DEFENSE TECHNOLOGY.

(a) AUTHORITY.—Section 1701(c) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1994 (Public Law 103-160; 107 Stat. 1853; 50 U.S.C. 1522) is amended—

(1) by inserting "(1)" before "The Secretary"; and

(2) by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(2) The Director of the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency may conduct a program of basic and applied research and advanced technology development on chemical and biological warfare defense technologies and systems. In conducting such program, the Director shall seek to avoid unnecessary duplication of the activities under the program with chemical and biological warfare defense activities of the military departments and defense agencies and shall coordinate the activities under the program with those of the military departments and defense agencies."

(b) FUNDING.—Section 1701(d) of such Act is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1), by striking out "military departments" and inserting in lieu thereof "Department of Defense";

(2) in paragraph (2), by inserting after "requests for the program" in the first sentence the following: "(other than for activities under the program conducted by the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency under subsection (c)(2))";

(3) by redesignating paragraph (3) as paragraph (4); and

(4) by inserting after paragraph (2) the following new paragraph (3):

"(3) The program conducted by the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency under subsection (c)(2) shall be set forth as a separate program element in the budget of that agency."

SEC. 229. CERTIFICATION OF CAPABILITY OF UNITED STATES TO PREVENT ILLEGAL IMPORTATION OF NUCLEAR, BIOLOGICAL, AND CHEMICAL WEAPONS.

Not later than 15 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall submit to Congress a certification in writing stating specifically whether or not the United States has the capability (as of the date of the certification) to prevent the illegal importation of nuclear, biological, and chemical weapons into the United States and its possessions.

SEC. 230. NONLETHAL WEAPONS AND TECHNOLOGIES PROGRAMS.

(a) FUNDING.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated under section 201(2), $15,000,000 shall be available for joint service research, development, test, and evaluation of nonlethal weapons and nonlethal technologies under the program element established pursuant to subsection (b).

(b) NEW PROGRAM ELEMENT REQUIRED.—The Secretary of Defense shall establish a new program element for the funds authorized to be appropriated under subsection (a). The funds within that program element shall be administered by the executive agent designated for joint service research, development, test, and evaluation of nonlethal weapons and nonlethal technologies.

SEC. 231. COUNTERPROLIFERATION SUPPORT PROGRAM.

(a) FUNDING.—Of the funds authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Defense under section 201(4), $186,200,000 shall be available for the Counterproliferation Support Program, of which $75,000,000 shall be available for a tactical antisatellite technologies program.

(b) ADDITIONAL AUTHORITY TO TRANSFER AUTHORIZATIONS.—(1) In addition to the transfer authority provided in section 1001, upon determination by the Secretary of Defense that such action is necessary in the national interest, the Secretary may transfer amounts of authorizations made available to the Department of Defense in this division for fiscal year 1997 to counterproliferation programs, projects, and activities identified as areas for progress by the Counterproliferation Program Review Committee established by section 1605 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1994 (22 U.S.C. 2751 note). Amounts of authorizations so transferred shall be merged with and be available for the same purposes as the authorization to which transferred.

(2) The total amount of authorizations transferred under the authority of this subsection may not exceed $50,000,000.

(3) The authority provided by this subsection to transfer authorizations—

(A) may only be used to provide authority for items that have a higher priority than the items from which authority is transferred; and

(B) may not be used to provide authority for an item that has been denied authorization by Congress.

(4) A transfer made from one account to another under the authority of this subsection shall be deemed to increase the amount authorized for the account to which the amount is transferred by an amount equal to the amount transferred.

(5) The Secretary of Defense shall promptly notify Congress of transfers made under the authority of this subsection.

(c) LIMITATION ON USE OF FUNDS FOR TECHNICAL STUDIES AND ANALYSES PENDING RELEASE OF FUNDS.—(1) None of the funds authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1997 for program element 605104D, relating to technical studies and analyses, may be obligated or expended until the funds referred to in paragraph (2) have been released to the program manager of the tactical anti-satellite technology program for implementation of that program.

(2) The funds for release referred to in paragraph (1) are as follows:

(A) Funds authorized to be appropriated by section 218(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 222) that are available for the program referred to in paragraph (1).

(B) Funds authorized to be appropriated to the Department for fiscal year 1997 by this Act for the Counterproliferation Support Program that are to be made available for that program.

Subtitle C—Ballistic Missile Defense Programs

SEC. 241. FUNDING FOR BALLISTIC MISSILE DEFENSE PROGRAMS FOR FISCAL YEAR 1997.

(a) PROGRAM AMOUNTS.—Of the amount appropriated pursuant to section 201(4), the following amounts may be obligated for the following systems managed by the Ballistic Missile Defense Organization:

(1) For the Theater High Altitude Area Defense (THAAD) System, $621,798,000.

(2) For the Navy Upper Tier (Theater Wide) system, $304,171,000.

(3) For the National Missile Defense System, $858,437,000.

(4) For the Corps Surface-to-Air Missile (SAM)/Medium Extended Air Defense System (MEADS) system, $56,200,000.

(b) LIMITATION.—None of the funds appropriated or otherwise made available for the Department of Defense pursuant to this or any other Act may be obligated or expended by the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Technology for official representation activities, or related activities, until the Secretary of Defense certifies to Congress that—

(1) the Secretary has made available for obligation the funds provided under subsection (a) for the purposes specified in that subsection and in the amounts appropriated pursuant to that subsection; and

(2) the Secretary has included the Navy Upper Tier theater missile defense system in the theater missile defense core program.

(c) LIMITATIONS.—Not more than $15,000,000 of the amount available for the Corps SAM/MEADS program under subsection (a) may be obligated until the Secretary of Defense submits to the congressional defense committees the following:

(1) An initial program estimate for the Corps SAM/MEADS program, including a tentative schedule of major milestones and an estimate of the total program cost through initial operational capability.

(2) A report on the options associated with the use of existing systems, technologies, and program management mechanisms to satisfy the requirement for the Corps surface-to-air missile, including an assessment of cost and schedule implications in relation to the program estimate submitted under paragraph (1).

(3) A certification that there will be no increase in overall United States funding commitment to the project definition and validation phase of the Corps SAM/MEADS program as a result of the withdrawal of France from participation in the program.

SEC. 242. CERTIFICATION OF CAPABILITY OF UNITED STATES TO DEFEND AGAINST SINGLE BALLISTIC MISSILE.

Not later than 15 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall submit to Congress a certification in writing stating specifically whether or not the United States has the military capability (as of the time of the certification) to intercept and destroy a single ballistic missile launched at the territory of the United States.

SEC. 243. REPORT ON BALLISTIC MISSILE DEFENSE AND PROLIFERATION.

The Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on ballistic missile defense and the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction, including nuclear, chemical, and biological weapons, and the missiles that can be used to deliver them. The report shall be submitted not later than December 31, 1996, and shall include the following:

(1) An assessment of how United States theater missile defenses contribute to United States efforts to prevent proliferation, including an evaluation of the specific effect United States theater missile defense systems can have on dissuading other states from acquiring ballistic missiles.

(2) An assessment of how United States national missile defenses contribute to United States efforts to prevent proliferation.

(3) An assessment of the effect of the lack of national missile defenses on the desire of other states to acquire ballistic missiles and an evaluation of the types of missiles other states might seek to acquire as a result.

(4) A detailed review of the linkages between missile defenses (both theater and national) and each of the categories of counterproliferation activities identified by the Secretary of Defense as part of the Defense Counterproliferation Initiative announced by the Secretary in December 1993.

(5) A description of how theater and national ballistic missile defenses can augment the effectiveness of other counterproliferation tools.

SEC. 244. REVISION TO ANNUAL REPORT ON BALLISTIC MISSILE DEFENSE PROGRAM.

Section 224(b) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Years 1990 and 1991 (10 U.S.C. 2431 note) is amended—

(1) by striking out paragraphs (3), (4), and (10);

(2) by redesignating paragraphs (5) and (6) as paragraphs (3) and (4), respectively;

(3) by redesignating paragraph (7) as paragraph (5) and in that paragraph by striking out "of the Soviet Union" and "for the Soviet Union";

(4) by redesignating paragraph (8) as paragraph (6); and

(5) by redesignating paragraph (9) as paragraph (7) and in that paragraph—

(A) by striking out "of the Soviet Union" in subparagraph (A);

(B) by striking out subparagraphs (C) through (F); and

(C) by redesignating subparagraph (G) as subparagraph (C).

SEC. 245. REPORT ON AIR FORCE NATIONAL MISSILE DEFENSE PLAN.

Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a report on the following matters regarding the National Missile Defense Plan of the Air Force:

(1) The cost and operational effectiveness of a system that could be developed pursuant to that plan.

(2) The arms control implications of such a system.

(3) The growth potential of such a system to meet future threats.

(4) The recommendations of the Secretary for improvements to that plan.

SEC. 246. CAPABILITY OF NATIONAL MISSILE DEFENSE SYSTEM.

The Secretary of Defense shall ensure that any National Missile Defense system deployed by the United States is capable of defeating the threat posed by the Taepo Dong II missile of North Korea.

SEC. 247. ACTIONS TO LIMIT ADVERSE EFFECTS ON PRIVATE SECTOR EMPLOYMENT OF ESTABLISHMENT OF NATIONAL MISSILE DEFENSE JOINT PROGRAM OFFICE.

The Secretary of Defense shall take such actions as are necessary in connection with the establishment of the National Missile Defense Joint Program Office within the Ballistic Missile Defense Organization to ensure that the establishment of that office does not make it necessary for a Federal Government contractor to reduce significantly the number of persons employed by that contractor for supporting the national missile defense development program at any particular location outside the National Capital Region (as defined in section 2674(f)(2) of title 10, United States Code).

SEC. 248. ABM TREATY DEFINED.

For purposes of this subtitle, the term "ABM Treaty" means the Treaty Between the United States of America and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics on the Limitation of Anti-Ballistic Missile Systems, and signed at Moscow on May 26, 1972, and includes the Protocols to that Treaty, signed at Moscow on July 3, 1974.

Subtitle D—Other Matters

SEC. 261. MAINTENANCE AND REPAIR AT AIR FORCE INSTALLATIONS.

(a) ALLOCATION OF FUNDS.—The Secretary of the Air Force shall allocate funds authorized to be appropriated by this title and title III of this Act for maintenance and repair of real property at military installations of the Department of the Air Force without regard to whether the installation is supported with funds authorized by this title or title III of this Act.

(b) MIXING OF FUNDS PROHIBITED ON INDIVIDUAL PROJECTS.—The Secretary of the Air Force may not combine funds authorized to be appropriated by this title and funds authorized to be appropriated by title III for an individual project for maintenance and repair of real property at a military installation of the Department of the Air Force.

SEC. 262. REPORT RELATING TO SMALL BUSINESS INNOVATION RESEARCH PROGRAM.

Not later than March 30, 1997, the Comptroller General shall submit to Congress and to the Secretary of Defense a report setting forth the following with respect to the Small Business Innovation Research Program (as defined by section 2491(11) of title 10, United States Code):

(1) An assessment of whether there has been a demonstrable reduction in the quality of research performed under funding agreements awarded by the Department of Defense under the program since fiscal year 1995.

(2) An assessment of the degree to which competitive procedures are being followed throughout the military departments and defense agencies in awarding funding agreements under the program.

(3) An assessment of the degree to which technologies developed through the program are or are likely to be used in military projects and programs.

SEC. 263. AMENDMENT TO UNIVERSITY RESEARCH INITIATIVE SUPPORT PROGRAM.

Section 802(c) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1994 (Public Law 103-160; 107 Stat. 1701; 10 U.S.C. 2358 note) is amended by striking out "fiscal years before the fiscal year in which the institution submits a proposal" and inserting in lieu thereof "most recent fiscal years for which complete statistics are available when proposals are requested".

SEC. 264. AMENDMENTS TO DEFENSE EXPERIMENTAL PROGRAM TO STIMULATE COMPETITIVE RESEARCH.

Section 257(d) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1995 (Public Law 103-337; 108 Stat. 2705; 10 U.S.C. 2358 note) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1)—

(A) by striking out "Director of the National Science Foundation" and inserting in lieu thereof "Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Technology"; and

(B) by striking out "and shall notify the Director of Defense Research and Engineering of the States so designated"; and

(2) in paragraph (2)—

(A) in the matter preceding subparagraph (A)—

(i) by striking out "Director of the National Science Foundation" and inserting in lieu thereof "Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Technology"; and

(ii) by striking out "as determined by the Director" and inserting in lieu thereof "as determined by the Under Secretary";

(B) in subparagraph (A), by striking out "(to be determined in consultation with the Secretary of Defense);" and inserting in lieu thereof "; and";

(C) by striking out "; and" at the end of subparagraph (B) and inserting in lieu thereof a period; and

(D) by striking out subparagraph (C).

SEC. 265. ELIMINATION OF REPORT ON THE USE OF COMPETITIVE PROCEDURES FOR THE AWARD OF CERTAIN CONTRACTS TO COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES.

Section 2361 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out subsection (c).

SEC. 266. PILOT PROGRAM FOR TRANSFER OF DEFENSE TECHNOLOGY INFORMATION TO PRIVATE INDUSTRY.

(a) PROGRAM REQUIRED.—The Secretary of Defense shall carry out a pilot program to demonstrate online transfers of information on defense technologies to businesses in the private sector through an interactive data network involving Small Business Development Centers of institutions of higher education.

(b) COMPUTERIZED DATA BASE OF DEFENSE TECHNOLOGIES.—(1) Under the pilot program, the Secretary shall enter into an agreement with the head of an eligible institution of higher education that provides for such institution—

(A) to develop and maintain a computerized data base of information on defense technologies;

(B) to make such information available online to—

(i) businesses; and

(ii) other institutions of higher education entering into partnerships with the Secretary under subsection (c).

(2) The online accessibility may be established by means of any of, or any combination of, the following:

(A) Digital teleconferencing.

(B) International Signal Digital Network lines.

(C) Direct modem hookup.

(c) PARTNERSHIP NETWORK.—Under the pilot program, the Secretary shall seek to enter into agreements with the heads of several eligible institutions of higher education having strong business education programs to provide for the institutions of higher education entering into such agreements—

(1) to establish interactive computer links with the data base developed and maintained under subsection (b); and

(2) to assist the Secretary in making information on defense technologies available online to the broadest practicable number, types, and sizes of businesses.

(d) ELIGIBLE INSTITUTIONS.—For the purposes of this section, an institution of higher education is eligible to enter into an agreement under subsection (b) or (c) if the institution has a Small Business Development Center.

(e) DEFENSE TECHNOLOGIES COVERED.—(1) The Secretary shall designate the technologies to be covered by the pilot program from among the existing and experimental technologies that the Secretary determines—

(A) are useful in meeting Department of Defense needs; and

(B) should be made available under the pilot program to facilitate the satisfaction of such needs by private sector sources.

(2) Technologies covered by the program should include technologies useful for defense purposes that can also be used for non-defense purposes (without or without modification).

(f) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) The term "Small Business Development Center" means a small business development center established pursuant to section 21 of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 648).

(2) The term "defense technology" means a technology designated by the Secretary of Defense under subsection (d).

(3) The term "partnership" means an agreement entered into under subsection (c).

(g) TERMINATION OF PILOT PROGRAM.—The pilot program shall terminate one year after the Secretary enters into an agreement under subsection (b).

(h) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated under section 201(4) for university research initiatives, $3,000,000 is available for the pilot program.

SEC. 267. RESEARCH UNDER TRANSACTIONS OTHER THAN CONTRACTS AND GRANTS.

(a) CONDITIONS FOR USE OF AUTHORITY.—Subsection (e) of section 2371 of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by redesignating paragraphs (1) and (2) as subparagraphs (A) and (B);

(2) by inserting "and" after the semicolon at the end of subparagraph (A), as so redesignated;

(3) by striking out "; and" at the end of subparagraph (B), as so redesignated, and inserting in lieu thereof a period;

(4) by inserting "(1)" after "(e) CONDITIONS.—"; and

(5) by striking out paragraph (3) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(2) A cooperative agreement containing a clause under subsection (d) or a transaction authorized by subsection (a) may be used for a research project when the use of a standard contract, grant, or cooperative agreement for such project is not feasible or appropriate."

(b) REVISED REQUIREMENT FOR ANNUAL REPORT.—Section 2371 of such title is amended by striking out subsection (h) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(h) ANNUAL REPORT.—(1) Not later than 90 days after the end of each fiscal year, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a report on the use by the Department of Defense during such fiscal year of—

(A) cooperative agreements authorized under section 2358 of this title that contain a clause under subsection (d); and

(B) transactions authorized by subsection (a).

(2) The report shall include, with respect to the cooperative agreements and other transactions covered by the report, the following:

"(A) The technology areas in which research projects were conducted under such agreements or other transactions.

"(B) The extent of the cost-sharing among Federal Government and non-Federal sources.

"(C) The extent to which the use of the cooperative agreements and other transactions—

"(i) has contributed to a broadening of the technology and industrial base available for meeting Department of Defense needs; and

"(ii) has fostered within the technology and industrial base new relationships and practices that support the national security of the United States.

"(D) The total amount of payments, if any, that were received by the Federal Government during the fiscal year covered by the report pursuant to a clause described in subsection (d) that was included in the cooperative agreements and other transactions, and the amount of such payments, if any, that were credited to each account established under subsection (f)."

(c) DIVISION OF SECTION INTO DISTINCT PROVISIONS BY SUBJECT MATTER.—(1) Chapter 139 of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(A) by inserting before the last subsection of section 2371 (relating to cooperative research and development agreements under the Stevenson-Wylder Technology Innovation Act of 1980) the following:

"§2371a. Cooperative research and development agreements under Stevenson-Wylder Technology Innovation Act of 1980;

(B) in section 2371a (as designated by the amendment made by subparagraph (A)), by striking out "(1) COOPERATIVE RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENTS UNDER STEVENSON-WYDLER TECHNOLOGY INNOVATION ACT OF 1980.—"; and

(C) in the table of sections at the beginning of such chapter, by inserting after the item relating to section 2371 the following:

"2371a. Cooperative research and development agreements under Stevenson-Wylder Technology Innovation Act of 1980."

(2) Section 2358(d) of such title is amended by striking out "section 2371" and inserting in lieu thereof "sections 2371 and 2371a".

SEC. 268. DESALTING TECHNOLOGIES.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Access to scarce fresh water is likely to be a cause of future military conflicts in the Middle East and has a direct impact on stability and security in the region.

(2) The Middle East is an area of vital and strategic importance to the United States.

(3) The United States has played a military role in the Middle East, most recently in the Persian Gulf War, and may likely be called upon again to deter aggression in the region.

(4) United States troops have used desalting technologies to guarantee the availability of fresh water in past deployments in the Middle East.

(5) Adequate, efficient, and cheap access to high-quality fresh water will be vital to maintaining the readiness and sustainability of troops of both the United States and its allies.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that, as improved access to fresh water will be an important factor in helping prevent future conflicts in the Middle East, the United States should, in cooperation with its allies, promote and invest in technologies to reduce the costs of converting saline water into fresh water.

(c) FUNDING FOR RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT.—Of the amounts authorized to be appropriated by this title, the Secretary shall place greater emphasis on making funds available for research and development into efficient and economical processes and methods for converting saline water into fresh water.

SEC. 269. EVALUATION OF DIGITAL VIDEO NETWORK EQUIPMENT USED IN OLYMPIC GAMES.

(a) EVALUATION.—The Secretary of Defense shall evaluate the digital video network equipment used in the 1996 Olympic games to determine whether such equipment would be the most appropriate equipment for use as a test bed for the military application of commercial off-the-shelf advanced technology linking multiple continents, multiple satellites, and multiple theaters of operations by compressed digital audio and visual broadcasting technology.

(b) REPORT.—Not later than April 1, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the results of the evaluation conducted under subsection (a).

SEC. 270. ANNUAL JOINT WARFIGHTING SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY PLAN.

(a) ANNUAL PLAN REQUIRED.—On March 1 of each year, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a plan for ensuring that the science and technology program of the Department of Defense supports the development of the future joint warfighting capabilities identified as priority requirements for the Armed Forces.

(b) FIRST PLAN.—The first plan under subsection (a) shall be submitted not later than March 1, 1997.

Subtitle E—National Oceanographic Partnership Program

SEC. 281. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) The oceans and coastal areas of the United States are among the Nation's most valuable natural resources, making substantial contributions to economic growth, quality of life, and national security.

(2) Oceans drive global and regional climate. Hence, they contain information affecting agriculture, fishing, and the prediction of severe weather.

(3) Understanding of the oceans through basic and applied research is essential for using the oceans wisely and protecting their limited resources. Therefore, the United States should maintain its world leadership in oceanography as one key to its competitive future.

(4) Ocean research and education activities take place within Federal agencies, academic institutions, and industry. These entities often have similar requirements for research facilities, data, and other resources (such as oceanographic research vessels).

(5) The need exists for a formal mechanism to coordinate existing partnerships and establish new partnerships for the sharing of resources, intellectual talent, and facilities in the ocean sciences and education, so that optimal use can be made of this most important natural resource for the well-being of all Americans.

SEC. 282. NATIONAL OCEANOGRAPHIC PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM.

(a) PROGRAM REQUIRED.—(1) Subtitle C of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding after chapter 663 the following new chapter:

“CHAPTER 665—NATIONAL OCEANOGRAPHIC PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM

“Sec.

“7901. National Oceanographic Partnership Program.

“7902. National Ocean Research Leadership Council.

“7903. Ocean Research Advisory Panel.

“§ 7901. National Oceanographic Partnership Program

“(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Secretary of the Navy shall establish a program to be known as the ‘National Oceanographic Partnership Program’.

“(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of the program are as follows:

“(1) To promote the national goals of assuring national security, advancing economic development, protecting quality of life, and strengthening science education and communication through improved knowledge of the ocean.

“(2) To coordinate and strengthen oceanographic efforts in support of those goals by—

“(A) identifying and carrying out partnerships among Federal agencies, academia, industry, and other members of the oceanographic scientific community in the areas of data, resources, education, and communication; and “(B) reporting annually to Congress on the program.

“§ 7902. National Ocean Research Leadership Council

“(a) COUNCIL.—There is a National Ocean Research Leadership Council (hereinafter in this chapter referred to as the ‘Council’).

“(b) MEMBERSHIP.—The Council is composed of the following members:

“(1) The Secretary of the Navy.

“(2) The Administrator of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

“(3) The Director of the National Science Foundation.

“(4) The Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

“(5) The Deputy Secretary of Energy.

“(6) The Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency.

“(7) The Commandant of the Coast Guard.

“(8) The Director of the Geological Survey of the Department of the Interior.

“(9) The Director of the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency.

“(10) The Director of the Minerals Management Service of the Department of the Interior.

“(11) The President of the National Academy of Sciences, the President of the National Academy of Engineering, and the President of the Institute of Medicine.

“(12) The Director of the Office of Science and Technology.

“(13) The Director of the Office of Management and Budget.

“(14) One member appointed by the chairman from among individuals who will represent the views of ocean industries.

“(15) One member appointed by the chairman from among individuals who will represent the views of State governments.

“(16) One member appointed by the chairman from among individuals who will represent the views of academia.

“(17) One member appointed by the chairman from among individuals who will represent such other views as the chairman considers appropriate.

“(c) CHAIRMAN AND VICE CHAIRMAN.—(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), the chairman and vice chairman of the Council shall be appointed every two years by a selection committee of the Council composed of, at a minimum, the Secretary of the Navy, the Administrator of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, and the Director of the National Science Foundation. The term of office of the chairman and vice chairman shall be two years. A person who has previously served as chairman or vice chairman may be reappointed.

“(2) The first chairman of the Council shall be the Secretary of the Navy. The first vice chairman of the Council shall be the Administrator of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

“(d) TERM OF OFFICE.—The term of office of a member of the Council appointed under paragraph (14), (15), (16), or (17) of subsection (b) shall be two years, except that any person appointed to fill a vacancy occurring before the expiration of the term for which his predecessor was appointed shall be appointed for the remainder of such term.

“(e) RESPONSIBILITIES.—The Council shall have the following responsibilities:

“(1) To prescribe policies and procedures to implement the National Oceanographic Partnership Program.

“(2) To review, select, and identify and allocate funds for partnership projects for implementation under the program, based on the following criteria:

“(A) Whether the project addresses critical research objectives or operational goals, such as data accessibility and quality assurance, sharing of resources, education, or communication.

“(B) Whether the project has, or is designed to have, broad participation within the oceanographic community.

“(C) Whether the partners have a long-term commitment to the objectives of the project.

“(D) Whether the resources supporting the project are shared among the partners.

“(E) Whether the project has been subjected to adequate peer review.

“(3) To assess whether there is a need for a facility (or facilities) to provide national centralization of oceanographic data, and to establish such a facility or facilities if determined necessary. In conducting the assessment, the Council shall review, at a minimum, the following:

“(A) The need for a national oceanographic data center.

“(B) The need for a national coastal data center.

“(C) Accessibility by potential users of such centers.

“(D) Preexisting facilities and expertise.

“(f) ANNUAL REPORT.—Not later than March 1 of each year, the Council shall submit to Congress a report on the National Oceanographic Partnership Program. The report shall contain the following:

“(1) A description of activities of the program carried out during the fiscal year before the fiscal year in which the report is prepared, together with a list of the members of the Ocean Research Advisory Panel and any working groups in existence during the fiscal year covered.

“(2) A general outline of the activities planned for the program during the fiscal year in which the report is prepared.

“(3) A summary of projects continued from the fiscal year before the fiscal year in which the report is prepared and projects expected to be started during the fiscal year in which the report is prepared and during the following fiscal year.

“(4) A description of the involvement of the program with Federal interagency coordinating entities.

“(5) The amounts requested, in the budget submitted to Congress pursuant to section 1105(a) of title 31, for the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the report is prepared, for the programs, projects, and activities of the program and the estimated expenditures under such programs, projects, and activities during such following fiscal year.

"(g) PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM OFFICE.—(1) The Council shall establish a partnership program office for the National Oceanographic Partnership Program. The Council shall use competitive procedures in selecting an operator for the partnership program office.

"(2) The Council shall assign the following duties to the partnership program office:

"(A) To establish and oversee working groups to propose partnership projects to the Council and advise the Council on such projects.

"(B) To manage the process for proposing partnership projects to the Council, including managing peer review of such projects.

"(C) To submit to the Council an annual report on the status of all partnership projects and activities of the office.

"(D) Any additional duties for the administration of the National Oceanographic Partnership Program that the Council considers appropriate.

"(3) The Council shall supervise the performance of duties by the partnership program office.

"(h) CONTRACT AND GRANT AUTHORITY.—The Council may authorize one or more of the departments or agencies represented on the Council to enter into contracts and make grants, using funds appropriated pursuant to an authorization of appropriations for the National Oceanographic Partnership Program, for the purpose of implementing the program and carrying out the responsibilities of the Council.

"(i) ESTABLISHMENT AND FORMS OF PARTNERSHIP PROJECTS.—(1) A partnership project under the National Oceanographic Partnership Program may be established by any instrument that the Council considers appropriate, including a memorandum of understanding, a cooperative research and development agreement, and any similar instrument.

"(2) Projects under the program may include demonstration projects.

"§ 7903. Ocean Research Advisory Panel

"(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Council shall establish an Ocean Research Advisory Panel consisting of not less than 10 and not more than 18 members appointed by the Council from among persons eminent in the fields of marine science or marine policy, or related fields, and who are representative, at a minimum, of the interests of government, academia, and industry.

"(b) RESPONSIBILITIES.—The Council shall assign to the Advisory Panel responsibilities that the Council considers appropriate."

(2) The table of chapters at the beginning of subtitle C of title 10, United States Code, and the table of chapters at the beginning of part IV of such subtitle, are each amended by inserting after the item relating to chapter 663 the following:

"665. National Oceanographic Partnership Program 7901".

(b) INITIAL APPOINTMENTS OF COUNCIL MEMBERS.—The Secretary of the Navy shall make the appointments required by section 7902(b) of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a)(1), not later than December 1, 1996.

(c) INITIAL APPOINTMENTS OF ADVISORY PANEL MEMBERS.—The National Ocean Research Leadership Council established by section 7902 of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a)(1), shall make the appointments required by section 7903 of such title not later than January 1, 1997.

(d) FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF NATIONAL OCEAN RESEARCH LEADERSHIP COUNCIL.—The first annual report required by section 7902(f) of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a)(1), shall be submitted to Congress not later than March 1, 1997. The first report shall include, in addition to the information required by such section, information about the terms of office, procedures, and responsibilities of the Ocean Research Advisory Panel established by the Council.

(e) AUTHORIZATION.—(1) Of the amount authorized to be appropriated to the Department of the Navy by section 201(2), $13,000,000 shall be available for the National Oceanographic Partnership Program established pursuant to section 7901 of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a)(1).

(2) Of the amount authorized to be appropriated to the Department of the Navy by section 301(2), $7,500,000 shall be available for such program.

(f) FUNDING FOR PROGRAM OFFICE.—Of the amount appropriated for the National Oceanographic Partnership Program for fiscal year 1997, at least $500,000, or 3 percent of the amount appropriated, whichever is greater, shall be available for operations of the partnership program office established pursuant to section 7902(g) of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a)(1), for such fiscal year.

TITLE III—OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE

Subtitle A—Authorization of Appropriations

- Sec. 301. Operation and maintenance funding.
- Sec. 302. Working capital funds.
- Sec. 303. Armed Forces Retirement Home.
- Sec. 304. Transfer from National Defense Stockpile Transaction Fund.
- Sec. 305. Civil Air Patrol Corporation.
- Sec. 306. Availability of additional funds for antiterrorism activities.
- Sec. 307. Nonlethal weapons capabilities.
- Sec. 308. SR-71 contingency reconnaissance force.

Subtitle B—Depot-Level Activities

- Sec. 311. Extension of authority for aviation depots and naval shipyards to engage in defense-related production and services.
- Sec. 312. Test programs for modernization-through-spare.

Subtitle C—Environmental Provisions

- Sec. 321. Defense contractors covered by requirement for reports on contractor reimbursement costs for response actions.
- Sec. 322. Establishment of separate environmental restoration accounts for each military department.
- Sec. 323. Payment of stipulated penalties assessed under CERCLA.
- Sec. 324. Shipboard solid waste control.
- Sec. 325. Authority to develop and implement land use plans for defense environmental restoration program.
- Sec. 326. Pilot program to test alternative technology for limiting air emissions during shipyard blasting and coating operations.
- Sec. 327. Agreements for services of other agencies in support of environmental technology certification.
- Sec. 328. Repeal of redundant notification and consultation requirements regarding remedial investigations and feasibility studies at certain installations to be closed under the base closure laws.

Sec. 329. Authority for agreements with Indian tribes for services under environmental restoration program.

Sec. 330. Authority to withhold listing of Federal facilities on National Priorities List.

Sec. 331. Clarification of meaning of uncontaminated property for purposes of transfer by the United States.

Sec. 332. Conservation and cultural activities.

Sec. 333. Navy program to monitor ecological effects of organotin.

Sec. 334. Authority to transfer contaminated Federal property before completion of required response actions.

Subtitle D—Commissaries and Nonappropriated Fund Instrumentalities

- Sec. 341. Contracts with other agencies to provide or obtain goods and services to promote efficient operation and management of exchanges and morale, welfare, and recreation activities.
- Sec. 342. Noncompetitive procurement of brand-name commercial items for resale in commissary stores.
- Sec. 343. Prohibition of sale or rental of sexually explicit material.

Subtitle E—Performance of Functions by Private-Sector Sources

- Sec. 351. Extension of requirement for competitive procurement of printing and duplication services.
- Sec. 352. Reporting requirements under demonstration project for purchase of fire, security, police, public works, and utility services from local government agencies.

Subtitle F—Other Matters

- Sec. 361. Authority for use of appropriated funds for recruiting functions.
- Sec. 362. Training of members of the uniformed services at non-government facilities.
- Sec. 363. Requirement for preparation of plan for improved operation of working-capital funds and effect of failure to produce an approved plan.
- Sec. 364. Increase in capital asset threshold under Defense Business Operations Fund.
- Sec. 365. Expansion of authority to donate unusable food.
- Sec. 366. Assistance to committees involved in inauguration of the President.
- Sec. 367. Department of Defense support for sporting events.
- Sec. 368. Storage of motor vehicle in lieu of transportation.
- Sec. 369. Security protections at Department of Defense facilities in National Capital Region.
- Sec. 370. Administration of midshipmen's store and other naval academy support activities as non-appropriated fund instrumentality.
- Sec. 371. Reimbursement under agreement for instruction of civilian students at Foreign Language Institute of the Defense Language Institute.
- Sec. 372. Assistance to local educational agencies that benefit dependents of members of the Armed Forces and Department of Defense civilian employees.

Sec. 373. Renovation of building for Defense Finance and Accounting Service Center, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana.

Sec. 374. Food donation pilot program at service academies.

Sec. 375. Authority of Air National Guard to provide certain services at Lincoln Municipal Airport, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Sec. 376. Technical amendment regarding Impact Aid program.

Subtitle A—Authorization of Appropriations

SEC. 301. OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE FUNDING.

Funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 1997 for the use of the Armed Forces and other activities and agencies of the Department of Defense for expenses, not otherwise provided for, for operation and maintenance, in amounts as follows:

- (1) For the Army, $18,264,406,000.
- (2) For the Navy, $20,387,737,000.
- (3) For the Marine Corps, $2,421,007,000.
- (4) For the Air Force, $17,635,335,000.
- (5) For Defense-wide activities, $9,912,962,000.
- (6) For the Army Reserve, $1,136,436,000.
- (7) For the Naval Reserve, $858,927,000.
- (8) For the Marine Corps Reserve, $113,367,000.
- (9) For the Air Force Reserve, $1,499,553,000.
- (10) For the Army National Guard, $2,277,477,000.
- (11) For the Air National Guard, $2,711,173,000.
- (12) For the Defense Inspector General, $136,501,000.
- (13) For the United States Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces, $6,797,000.
- (14) For Environmental Restoration, Army, $356,916,000.
- (15) For Environmental Restoration, Navy, $302,900,000.
- (16) For Environmental Restoration, Air Force, $414,700,000.
- (17) For Environmental Restoration, Defense-wide, $258,500,000.
- (18) For Overseas Humanitarian, Disaster, and Civic Aid programs, $54,544,000.
- (19) For Drug Interdiction and Counterdrug Activities, Defense-wide, $796,524,000.

- (21) For Medical Programs, Defense, $9,833,288,000.
- (22) For Cooperative Threat Reduction programs, $364,900,000.
- (23) For Domestic Emergency Assistance programs, $97,000,000.
- (24) For OPLAN 34A-35 P.O.W. payments, $20,000,000.

SEC. 302. WORKING CAPITAL FUNDS.

Funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 1997 for the use of the Armed Forces and other activities and agencies of the Department of Defense for providing capital for working capital and revolving funds in amounts as follows:

- (1) For the Defense Business Operations Fund, $947,900,000.
- (2) For the National Defense Sealift Fund, $1,118,002,000.

SEC. 303. ARMED FORCES RETIREMENT HOME.

There is hereby authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 1997 from the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund the sum of $57,300,000 for the operation of the Armed Forces Retirement Home, including the United States Soldiers' and Airmen's Home and the Naval Home.

SEC. 304. TRANSFER FROM NATIONAL DEFENSE STOCKPILE TRANSACTION FUND.

(a) TRANSFER AUTHORITY.—To the extent provided in appropriations Acts, not more than $150,000,000 is authorized to be transferred from the National Defense Stockpile Transaction Fund to operation and maintenance accounts for fiscal year 1997 in amounts as follows:

- (1) For the Army, $50,000,000.
- (2) For the Navy, $50,000,000.
- (3) For the Air Force, $50,000,000.

(b) TREATMENT OF TRANSFERS.—Amounts transferred under this section—

(1) shall be merged with, and be available for the same purposes and the same period as, the amounts in the accounts to which transferred; and

(2) may not be expended for an item that has been denied authorization of appropriations by Congress.

(c) RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER TRANSFER AUTHORITY.—The transfer authority provided in this section is in addition to the transfer authority provided in section 1001.

SEC. 305. CIVIL AIR PATROL CORPORATION.

(a) FUNDING.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated pursuant to section 301 for operation and maintenance, $14,526,000 shall be available for the Civil Air Patrol Corporation.

(b) AMOUNT FOR CERTAIN OPERATIONS.—Of the amount made available to the Civil Air Patrol Corporation pursuant to subsection (a), not less than 25 percent of such amount shall be reserved to cover the costs of search and rescue missions and disaster relief missions.

SEC. 306. AVAILABILITY OF ADDITIONAL FUNDS FOR ANTITERRORISM ACTIVITIES.

Of the amount authorized to be appropriated pursuant to section 301 for operation and maintenance, $14,000,000 shall be available to the Secretary of Defense for activities designed to meet the antiterrorism responsibilities of the Department of Defense, including activities related to intelligence support, physical security measures, and education and training regarding antiterrorism. The amount made available by this section is in addition to amounts otherwise made available by this Act for antiterrorism activities.

SEC. 307. NONLETHAL WEAPONS CAPABILITIES.

Of the amount authorized to be appropriated pursuant to section 301, $5,000,000 shall be available for the immediate procurement of nonlethal weapons capabilities to meet existing deficiencies in inventories of such capabilities, of which—

- (1) $2,000,000 shall be available for the Army; and
- (2) $3,000,000 shall be available for the Marine Corps.

SEC. 308. SR-71 CONTINGENCY RECONNAISSANCE FORCE.

Of the funds authorized to be appropriated by section 301(4), $30,000,000 is authorized to be made available for the SR-71 contingency reconnaissance force.

Subtitle B—Depot-Level Activities

SEC. 311. EXTENSION OF AUTHORITY FOR AVIATION DEPOTS AND NAVAL SHIPYARDS TO ENGAGE IN DEFENSE-RELATED PRODUCTION AND SERVICES.

Section 1425(e) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1991 (Public Law 101-510; 104 Stat. 1684) is amended by striking out "September 30, 1996" and inserting in lieu thereof "September 30, 1997".

SEC. 312. TEST PROGRAMS FOR MODERNIZATION THROUGH-SPARES.

Not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of the Army shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a report on the steps that the Secretary has taken to ensure that each program included in the modernization-through-spares program of the Army is conducted in accordance with—

(1) the competition requirements in section 2304 of title 10, United States Code;

(2) the core logistics requirements in section 2464 of such title;

(3) the public-private competition requirements in section 2469 of such title; and

(4) requirements relating to contract bundling and spare parts breakout in subsections (a) and (l) of section 15 of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 644) and regulations implementing such subsections in the Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement.

Subtitle C—Environmental Provisions

SEC. 321. DEFENSE CONTRACTORS COVERED BY REQUIREMENT FOR REPORTS ON CONTRACTOR REIMBURSEMENT COSTS FOR RESPONSE ACTIONS.

Section 2706(d)(1)(A) of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out "100" and inserting in lieu thereof "20".

SEC. 322. ESTABLISHMENT OF SEPARATE ENVIRONMENTAL RESTORATION ACCOUNTS FOR EACH MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—(1) Section 2703 of title 10, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"§ 2703. Environmental restoration accounts

"(a) ESTABLISHMENT OF ACCOUNTS.—There are hereby established in the Department of Defense the following accounts:

"(1) An account to be known as the 'Environmental Restoration Account, Defense'.

"(2) An account to be known as the 'Environmental Restoration Account, Army'.

"(3) An account to be known as the 'Environmental Restoration Account, Navy'.

"(4) An account to be known as the 'Environmental Restoration Account, Air Force'.

"(b) OBLIGATION OF AUTHORIZED AMOUNTS.—Funds authorized for deposit in an account under subsection (a) may be obligated or expended from the account only in order to carry out the environmental restoration functions of the Secretary of Defense and the Secretaries of the military departments under this chapter and under any other provision of law. Funds so authorized shall remain available until expended.

"(c) BUDGET REPORTS.—In proposing the budget for any fiscal year pursuant to section 1105 of title 31, the President shall set forth separately the amounts requested for environmental restoration programs of the Department of Defense and of each of the military departments under this chapter and under any other Act.

"(d) CREDIT OF AMOUNTS RECOVERED.—The following amounts shall be credited to the appropriate environmental restoration account:

"(1) Amounts recovered under CERCLA for response actions.

"(2) Any other amounts recovered from a contractor, insurer, surety, or other person to reimburse the Department of Defense or a military department for any expenditure for environmental response activities.

"(e) PAYMENTS OF FINES AND PENALTIES.—None of the funds appropriated to the Environmental Restoration Account, Defense, for fiscal years 1995 through 1999, or to any environmental restoration account of a military department for fiscal years 1997 through 1999, may be used for the payment of a fine or penalty (including any supplemental environmental project carried out as part of such penalty) imposed against the Department of Defense or a military department unless the act or omission for which the fine or penalty is imposed arises out of an activity funded by the environmental restoration account concerned and the payment of the fine or penalty has been specifically authorized by law."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 160 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out the item relating to section 2703 and inserting in lieu thereof the following new item:

"2703. Environmental restoration accounts."

(b) REFERENCES.—Any reference to the Defense Environmental Restoration Account in any Federal law, Executive Order, regulation, delegation of authority, or document shall be deemed to refer to the appropriate environmental restoration account established under section 2703(a)(1) of title 10, United States Code (as amended by subsection (a)(1)).

(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 2705(g)(1) of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out "the Defense Environmental Restoration Account established" and inserting in lieu thereof "the environmental restoration account concerned".

(d) TREATMENT OF UNOBLIGATED BALANCES.—Any unobligated balances that remain in the Defense Environmental Restoration Account under section 2703(a) of title 10, United States Code, as of the effective date specified in subsection (e) shall be transferred on such date to the Environmental Restoration Account, Defense, established under section 2703(a)(1) of title 10, United States Code (as amended by subsection (a)(1)).

(e) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on the later of—

(1) October 1, 1996; or

(2) the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 323. PAYMENTS OF STIPULATED PENALTIES ASSESSED UNDER CERCLA.

(a) AUTHORITY.—The Secretary of Defense may pay the following:

(1) Stipulated civil penalties, to the Hazardous Substance Superfund established under section 9507 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, in amounts, and using funds, as follows:

(A) Using funds authorized to be appropriated to the Environmental Restoration Account, Army, established under section 2703(a)(2) of title 10, United States Code (as amended by section 322 of this Act)—

(i) not more than $34,000 assessed against Fort Riley, Kansas, under CERCLA; and

(ii) not more than $37,500 assessed against Lake City Army Ammunition Plant, Missouri, under CERCLA.

(B) Using funds authorized to be appropriated to the Environmental Restoration Account, Navy, established under section 2703(a)(3) of that title, as so amended, not more than $30,000 assessed against the Naval Education and Training Center, Newport, Rhode Island, under CERCLA.

(C) Using funds authorized to be appropriated to the Environmental Restoration Account, Air Force, established under section 2703(a)(4) of that title, as so amended—

(i) not more than $55,000 assessed against the Massachusetts Military Reservation, Massachusetts, under CERCLA; and

(ii) not more than $10,000 assessed against F.E. Warren Air Force Base, Wyoming, under CERCLA.

(2) Using funds authorized to be appropriated to the Environmental Restoration Account, Air Force, established under section 2703(a)(4) of that title, as so amended, not more than $500,000 to carry out one environmental restoration project, as part of a negotiated agreement in lieu of stipulated penalties assessed under CERCLA against the Massachusetts Military Reservation, Massachusetts.

(b) CERCLA DEFINED.—In this section, the term "CERCLA" means the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 9601 et seq.).

SEC. 324. SHIPBOARD SOLID WASTE CONTROL.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 3(c) of the Act to Prevent Pollution from Ships (33 U.S.C. 1902(c)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1), by striking out "Not later than" and inserting in lieu thereof "Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3), not later than"; and

(2) by striking out paragraphs (2), (3), and (4) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(2)(A) Subject to subparagraph (B), any ship described in subparagraph (C) may discharge, without regard to the special area requirements of Regulation 5 of Annex V to the Convention, the following non-plastic, non-floating garbage:

"(i) A slurry of seawater, paper, cardboard, or food waste that is capable of passing through a screen with openings no larger than 12 millimeters in diameter.

"(ii) Metal and glass that have been shredded and bagged so as to ensure negative buoyancy.

"(B)(i) Garbage described in subparagraph (A)(i) may not be discharged within 3 nautical miles of land.

"(ii) Garbage described in subparagraph (A)(ii) may not be discharged within 12 nautical miles of land.

"(C) This paragraph applies to any ship that is owned or operated by the Department of the Navy that, as determined by the Secretary of the Navy—

"(i) has unique military design, construction, manning, or operating requirements; and

"(ii) cannot fully comply with the special area requirements of Regulation 5 of Annex V to the Convention because compliance is not technologically feasible or would impair the operations or operational capability of the ship.

"(3)(A) Not later than December 31, 2000, the Secretary of the Navy shall prescribe and publish in the Federal Register standards to ensure that each ship described in subparagraph (B) is, to the maximum extent practicable without impairing the operations or operational capabilities of the ship, operated in a manner that is consistent with the special area requirements of Regulation 5 of Annex V to the Convention.

"(B) Subparagraph (A) applies to surface ships that are owned or operated by the Department of the Navy that the Secretary plans to decommission during the period beginning on January 1, 2001, and ending on December 31, 2005.

"(C) At the same time that the Secretary publishes standards under subparagraph (A), the Secretary shall publish in the Federal Register a list of the ships covered by subparagraph (B)."

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—(1) It is the sense of Congress that it should be an objective of the Navy to achieve full compliance with Annex V to the Convention as part of the Navy's development of ships that are environmentally sound.

(2) In this subsection, the terms "Convention" and "ship" have the meanings given such terms in section 2(a) of the Act to Prevent Pollution from Ships (33 U.S.C. 1901(a)).

(c) REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH ANNEX V TO THE CONVENTION.—The Secretary of Defense shall include in each report on environmental compliance activities submitted to Congress under section 2706(b) of title 10, United States Code, the following information:

(1) A list of the ship types, if any, for which the Secretary of the Navy has made the determination referred to in paragraph (2)(C) of section 3(c) of the Act to Prevent Pollution from Ships, as amended by subsection (a)(2) of this section.

(2) A list of ship types which the Secretary of the Navy has determined can comply with Regulation 5 of Annex V to the Convention.

(3) A summary of the progress made by the Navy in implementing the requirements of paragraphs (2) and (3) of such section 3(c), as so amended.

(4) A description of any emerging technologies offering the potential to achieve full compliance with Regulation 5 of Annex V to the Convention.

(5) The amount and nature of the discharges in special areas, not otherwise authorized under the Act to Prevent Pollution from Ships (33 U.S.C. 1901 et seq.), during the preceding year from ships referred to in section 3(b)(1)(A) of such Act owned or operated by the Department of the Navy.

(d) PUBLICATION REGARDING SPECIAL AREA DISCHARGES.—Subparagraph (A) of section 3(e)(4) of the Act to Prevent Pollution from Ships (33 U.S.C. 1902(e)(4)) is amended to read as follows:

"(A) Each year, the amount and nature of the discharges in special areas, not otherwise authorized under this Act, during the preceding year from ships referred to in subsection (b)(1)(A) of this section owned or operated by the Department of the Navy."

SEC. 325. AUTHORITY TO DEVELOP AND IMPLEMENT LAND USE PLANS FOR DEFENSE ENVIRONMENTAL RESTORATION PROGRAM.

(a) AUTHORITY.—The Secretary of Defense may, to the extent possible and practical, develop and implement, as part of the Defense Environmental Restoration Program provided for in chapter 160 of title 10, United States Code, a land use plan for any defense site selected by the Secretary under subsection (b).

(b) SELECTION OF SITES.—The Secretary may select up to 10 defense sites, from among sites where the Secretary is planning or implementing environmental restoration activities, for which land use plans may be developed under this section.

(c) REQUIREMENT TO CONSULT WITH REVIEW COMMITTEE OR ADVISORY BOARD.—In developing a land use plan under this section, the Secretary shall consult with a technical review committee established pursuant to section 2705(c) of title 10, United States Code, a restoration advisory board established pursuant to section 2705(d) of such title, a local land use redevelopment authority, or another appropriate State agency.

(d) 50-YEAR PLANNING PERIOD.—A land use plan developed under this section shall cover a period of at least 50 years.

(e) IMPLEMENTATION.—For each defense site for which the Secretary develops a land use plan under this section, the Secretary shall take into account the land use plan in selecting and implementing, in accordance with applicable law, environmental restoration activities at the site.

(f) DEADLINES.—For each defense site for which the Secretary intends to develop a land use plan under this section, the Secretary shall develop a draft land use plan by October 1, 1997, and a final land use plan by March 15, 1998.

(g) DEFINITION OF DEFENSE SITE.—For purposes of this section, the term "defense site" means (A) any building, structure, installation, equipment, pipe or pipeline (including any pipe into a sewer or publicly owned treatment works), well, pit, pond, lagoon, impoundment, ditch, landfill, storage container, motor vehicle, rolling stock, or aircraft under the jurisdiction of the Department of Defense, or (B) any site or area under the jurisdiction of the Department of Defense where a hazardous substance has been deposited, stored, disposed of, or placed, or otherwise come to be located; but does not include any consumer product in consumer use or any vessel.

(h) REPORT.—In the annual report required under section 2706(a) of title 10, United States Code, the Secretary shall include information on the land use plans developed under this section and the effect such plans have had on environmental restoration activities at the defense sites where they have been implemented. The annual report submitted in 1999 shall include recommendations on whether such land use plans should be developed and implemented throughout the Department of Defense.

(i) SAVINGS PROVISIONS.—(1) Nothing in this section, or in a land use plan developed under this section with respect to a defense site, shall be construed as requiring any modification to a land use plan that was developed before the date of the enactment of this Act.

(2) Nothing in this section may be construed to affect statutory requirements for an environmental restoration or waste management activity or project or to modify or otherwise affect applicable statutory or regulatory environmental restoration and waste management requirements, including substantive standards intended to protect public health and the environment, nor shall anything in this section be construed to preempt or impair any local land use planning or zoning authority or State authority.

SEC. 326. PILOT PROGRAM TO TEST ALTERNATIVE TECHNOLOGY FOR LIMITING AIR EMISSIONS DURING SHIPYARD BLASTING AND COATING OPERATIONS.

(a) DETERMINATION BY SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.—(1) The Secretary of the Navy shall make a determination whether the alternative technology described in paragraph (2) has the clear potential for significant benefit to the Navy. The Secretary shall submit to Congress a notification in writing of the determination not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(2) The technology referred to in paragraph (1) is an alternative technology designed to capture and destroy or remove particulate emissions and volatile air pollutants that occur during abrasive blasting and coating operations at naval shipyards.

(b) PILOT PROGRAM.—If the determination made under subsection (a)(1) is in the affirmative, the Secretary shall establish a pilot program to test the alternative technology. In conducting the test, the Secretary shall seek to demonstrate whether the technology is valid, cost effective, and in compliance with environmental laws and regulations.

(c) REPORT.—Upon completion of the test conducted under the pilot program, the Secretary shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a report setting forth in detail the results of the test. The report shall include recommendations on whether the alternative technology merits implementation at naval shipyards and such other recommendations as the Secretary considers appropriate.

SEC. 327. AGREEMENTS FOR SERVICES OF OTHER AGENCIES IN SUPPORT OF ENVIRONMENTAL TECHNOLOGY CERTIFICATION.

(a) AUTHORITY.—Subject to subsection (b), the Secretary of Defense may enter into a cooperative agreement with an agency of a State or local government to obtain assistance in certifying environmental technologies.

(b) LIMITATIONS.—The Secretary of Defense may enter into a cooperative agreement with respect to an environmental technology under subsection (a) only if the Secretary determines—

(1) that the technology has clear potential to be of significant value to the Department of Defense in carrying out its environmental restoration activities; and

(2) that there is no reasonably available market in the private sector for the technology without a certification by the Department of Defense, the Environmental Protection Agency, or a State environmental agency.

(c) TYPES OF ASSISTANCE.—The types of assistance that may be obtained under subsection (a) include the following:

(1) Data collection and analysis.

(2) Technical assistance in conducting a demonstration of an environmental technology, including the implementation of quality assurance and quality control programs.

(d) REPORT.—In the annual report required under section 2706(a) of title 10, United States Code, the Secretary of Defense shall include the following information with respect to cooperative agreements entered into under this section:

(1) The number of such agreements.

(2) The number of States in which such agreements have been entered into.

(3) A description of the nature of the technology involved in each such agreement.

(4) The amount of funds obligated or expended by the Department of Defense for each such agreement during the year covered by the report.

(e) TERMINATION OF AUTHORITY.—The authority provided under subsection (a) shall terminate five years after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 328. REPEAL OF REDUNDANT NOTIFICATION AND CONSULTATION REQUIREMENTS REGARDING REMEDIAL INVESTIGATIONS AND FEASIBILITY STUDIES AT CERTAIN INSTALLATIONS TO BE CLOSED UNDER THE BASE CLOSURE LAWS.

Section 334 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Years 1992 and 1993 (Public Law 102-190; 105 Stat. 1340; 10 U.S.C. 2687 note) is repealed.

SEC. 329. AUTHORITY FOR AGREEMENTS WITH INDIAN TRIBES FOR SERVICES UNDER ENVIRONMENTAL RESTORATION PROGRAM.

Section 2701(d) of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) in the first sentence of paragraph (1), by striking out " , or with any State or local government agency," and inserting in lieu thereof " , with any State or local government agency, or with any Indian tribe,"; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

"(3) DEFINITION.—In this subsection, the term 'Indian tribe' has the meaning given such term in section 101(36) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 9601(36))."

SEC. 330. AUTHORITY TO WITHHOLD LISTING OF FEDERAL FACILITIES ON NATIONAL PRIORITIES LIST.

Section 120(d) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 9620(d)) is amended—

(1) by redesignating paragraphs (1) and (2) as subparagraphs (A) and (B), respectively;

(2) by striking out "Not later than 18 months after the enactment of the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986, the Administrator" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator";

(3) by moving the remainder of the text of paragraph (1), as designated by paragraph (2) of this section (including subparagraphs (A) and (B), as redesignated by paragraph (1) of this section) 2 ems to the right; and

(4) by striking out "Such criteria" and all that follows through the end of the subsection and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(2) APPLICATION OF CRITERIA.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subparagraph (B), the criteria referred to in paragraph (1) shall be applied in the same manner as the criteria are applied to facilities that are owned or operated by persons other than the United States.

"(B) RESPONSE UNDER OTHER LAW.—It shall be an appropriate factor to be taken into consideration for the purposes of section 105(a)(8)(A) that the head of the department, agency, or instrumentality that owns or operates a facility has arranged with the Administrator or appropriate State authorities to respond appropriately, under authority of a law other than this Act, to a release or threatened release of a hazardous substance.

"(3) COMPLETION.—Evaluation and listing under this subsection shall be completed in accordance with a reasonable schedule established by the Administrator."

SEC. 331. CLARIFICATION OF MEANING OF UNCONTAMINATED PROPERTY FOR PURPOSES OF TRANSFER BY THE UNITED STATES.

Section 120(h)(4)(A) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 9620(h)(4)(A)) is amended in the first sentence by striking out "stored for one year or more, known to have been released," and inserting in lieu thereof "known to have been released".

SEC. 332. CONSERVATION AND CULTURAL ACTIVITIES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—(1) Chapter 159 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§ 2694. Conservation and cultural activities

"(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Secretary of Defense may establish and carry out a program to conduct and manage in a coordinated manner the conservation and cultural activities described in subsection (b).

"(b) ACTIVITIES.—(1) A conservation or cultural activity eligible for the program that the Secretary establishes under subsection (a) is any activity—

"(A) that has regional or Department of Defense-wide significance and that involves more than one military department;

"(B) that is necessary to meet legal requirements or to support military operations;

"(C) that can be more effectively managed at the Department of Defense level; and

"(D) for which no executive agency has been designated responsible by the Secretary.

"(2) Such activities include the following:

"(A) The development of ecosystem-wide land management plans.

"(B) The conduct of wildlife studies to ensure the safety of military operations.

"(C) The identification and return of Native American human remains and cultural items in the possession or control of the Department of Defense, or discovered on land under the jurisdiction of the Department, to the appropriate Native American tribes.

"(D) The control of invasive species that may hinder military activities or degrade military training ranges.

"(E) The establishment of a regional curation system for artifacts found on military installations.

"(c) COOPERATIVE AGREEMENTS.—The Secretary may negotiate and enter into cooperative agreements with public and private agencies, organizations, institutions, individuals, or other entities to carry out the program established under subsection (a).

"(d) EFFECT ON OTHER LAWS.—Nothing in this section shall be construed or interpreted as preempting any otherwise applicable Federal, State, or local law or regulation relating to the management of natural and cultural resources on military installations."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"2694. Conservation and cultural activities."

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—Section 2694 of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a), shall take effect on October 1, 1996.

SEC. 333. NAVY PROGRAM TO MONITOR ECOLOGICAL EFFECTS OF ORGANOTIN.

(a) MONITORING REQUIREMENT.—The Secretary of the Navy shall, in consultation with the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, develop and implement a program to monitor the concentrations of organotin in the water column, sediments, and aquatic organisms of representative estuaries and near-coastal waters in the United States, as described in section 7(a) of the Organotin Antifouling Paint Control Act of 1988 (33 U.S.C. 2406(a)). The program shall be designed to produce high-quality data to enable the Environmental Protection Agency to develop water quality criteria concerning organotin compounds.

(b) FUNDING.—The Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency shall provide, in advance, such sums as are necessary to the Secretary of the Navy for the costs of developing and implementing the program under subsection (a).

(c) WRITTEN AGREEMENT.—The Secretary of the Navy and the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency shall enter into a written agreement setting forth the actions that the Secretary plans to take under subsection (a) and the funding that the Administrator agrees to provide under subsection (b). If the Secretary determines that the Administrator will not enter into such an agreement, the Secretary shall notify the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate not later than 30 days after such determination.

(d) NONIMPAIRMENT OF MISSION.—Compliance with subsection (a) shall be conducted in such a manner so as not to impair the ability of the Department of the Navy to meet its operational requirements.

(e) REPORT.—Not later than June 1, 1997, the Secretary of the Navy shall submit to Congress a report containing the following:

(1) A description of the monitoring program developed pursuant to subsection (a).

(2) An analysis of the results of the monitoring program as of the date of the submission of the report.

(3) Information about the progress of Navy programs, referred to in section 7(c) of the Organotin Antifouling Paint Control Act of 1988 (33 U.S.C. 2406(c)), for evaluating the laboratory toxicity and environmental risks associated with the use of antifouling paints containing organotin.

(4) An assessment, developed in consultation with the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, of the effectiveness of existing laws and rules concerning organotin compounds in ensuring protection of human health and the environment.

(f) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—(1) It is the sense of Congress that the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, in consultation with the Secretary of the Navy, should develop, for purposes of the national pollutant discharge elimination system, a model permit for the discharge of organotin compounds at shipbuilding and ship repair facilities.

(2) For purposes of this subsection, the term "organotin" has the meaning provided in section 3 of the Organotin Antifouling Paint Control Act of 1988 (33 U.S.C. 2402).

(g) TERMINATION.—The program required by subsection (a) shall terminate five years after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 334. AUTHORITY TO TRANSFER CONTAMINATED FEDERAL PROPERTY BEFORE COMPLETION OF REQUIRED RESPONSE ACTIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 120(h)(3) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 9620(h)(3)) is amended—

(1) by redesignating subparagraph (A) as clause (1) and clauses (1), (1), and (1) of that subparagraph as subclauses (I), (II), and (III), respectively;

(2) by striking out "After the last day" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(A) IN GENERAL.—After the last day";

(3) by redesignating subparagraph (B) as clause (1) and clauses (1) and (1) of that subparagraph as subclauses (I) and (II), respectively;

(4) by redesignating subparagraph (C) as clause (1);

(5) by moving the remainder of the text of subparagraph (A), as designated by paragraph (2) of this subsection (including the clauses and subclauses redesignated by paragraphs (1), (3), and (4) of this subsection) 2 ems to the right;

(6) by striking "For purposes of subparagraph (B)(1)" and inserting the following:

"(B) COVENANT REQUIREMENTS.—For purposes of subparagraphs (A)(1)(I) and (C)(1)";

(7) in subparagraph (B), as designated by paragraph (5), by striking "subparagraph (B)" each place it appears and inserting "subparagraph (A)(1)"; and

(8) by adding at the end the following:

"(C) DEFERRAL.—

"(i) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator, with the concurrence of the Governor of the State in which the facility is located (in the case of real property at a Federal facility that is listed on the National Priorities List), or the Governor of the State in which the facility is located (in the case of real property at a Federal facility not listed on the National Priorities List) may defer the requirement of subparagraph (A)(1)(I) with respect to the property if the Administrator or the Governor, as the case may be, determines that the property is suitable for transfer, based on a finding that—

"(I) the property is suitable for transfer for the use intended by the transferee, and the intended use is consistent with protection of human health and the environment;

"(II) the deed or other agreement proposed to govern the transfer between the United States and the transferee of the property contains the assurances set forth in clause (1);

"(III) the Federal agency requesting deferral has provided notice, by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the vicinity of the property, of the proposed transfer and of the opportunity for the public to submit, within a period of not less than 30 days after the date of the notice, written comments on the suitability of the property for transfer; and

"(IV) the deferral and the transfer of the property will not substantially delay any necessary response action at the property.

"(ii) RESPONSE ACTION ASSURANCES.—With regard to a release or threatened release of a hazardous substance for which a Federal agency is potentially responsible under this section, the deed or other agreement proposed to govern the transfer shall contain assurances that—

"(I) provide for any necessary restrictions on the use of the property to ensure the protection of human health and the environment;

"(II) provide that there will be restrictions on use necessary to ensure that required remedial investigations, response action, and oversight activities will not be disrupted;

"(III) provide that all necessary response action will be taken and identify the schedules for investigation and completion of all necessary response action as approved by the appropriate regulatory agency; and

"(IV) provide that the Federal agency responsible for the property subject to transfer will submit a budget request to the Director of the Office of Management and Budget that adequately addresses schedules for investigation and completion of all necessary response action, subject to congressional authorizations and appropriations.

"(iii) WARRANTY.—When all response action necessary to protect human health and the environment with respect to any substance remaining on the property on the date of transfer has been taken, the United States shall execute and deliver to the transferee an appropriate document containing a warranty that all such response action has been taken, and the making of the warranty shall be considered to satisfy the requirement of subparagraph (A)(1)(I).

"(iv) FEDERAL RESPONSIBILITY.—A deferral under this subparagraph shall not increase, diminish, or affect in any manner any rights or obligations of a Federal agency (including any rights or obligations under sections 106, 107, and 120 existing prior to transfer) with respect to a property transferred under this subparagraph."

(b) CONTINUED APPLICATION OF STATE LAW.—The first sentence of section 120(a)(4) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 9620(a)(4)) is amended by inserting "or facilities that are the subject of a deferral under subsection (h)(3)(C)" after "United States".

Subtitle D—Commissaries and Nonappropriated Fund Instrumentalities

SEC. 341. CONTRACTS WITH OTHER AGENCIES TO PROVIDE OR OBTAIN GOODS AND SERVICES TO PROMOTE EFFICIENT OPERATION AND MANAGEMENT OF EXCHANGES AND MORALE, WELFARE, AND RECREATION ACTIVITIES.

(a) CONTRACTS TO PROMOTE EFFICIENT OPERATION AND MANAGEMENT.—(1) Chapter 147 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 2482 the following new section:

"§ 2482a. Nonappropriated fund instrumentalities: contracts with other agencies and instrumentalities to provide and obtain goods and services

"An agency or instrumentality of the Department of Defense that supports the operation of the exchange system, or the operation of a morale, welfare, and recreation system, of the Department of Defense may enter into a contract or other agreement with another element of the Department of Defense or with another Federal department, agency, or instrumentality to provide or obtain goods and services beneficial to the efficient management and operation of the exchange system or that morale, welfare, and recreation system."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 2482 the following new item:

"2482a. Nonappropriated fund instrumentalities: contracts with other agencies and instrumentalities to provide and obtain goods and services."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT REGARDING COMMISSARY SYSTEM.—Section 2482(b)(1) of such title is amended by striking out "another department" and all that follows through "provide services" and inserting in lieu thereof "another element of the Department of Defense or with another Federal department, agency, or instrumentality to provide or obtain services".

SEC. 342. NONCOMPETITIVE PROCUREMENT OF BRAND-NAME COMMERCIAL ITEMS FOR RESALE IN COMMISSARY STORES.

(a) CLARIFICATION OF EXCEPTION TO COMPETITIVE PROCUREMENT.—Section 2486 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(e) The Secretary of Defense may not use the exception provided in section 2304(c)(5) of this title regarding the procurement of a brand-name commercial item for resale in commissary stores unless the commercial item is regularly sold outside of commissary stores under the same brand name as the name by which the commercial item will be sold in commissary stores."

(b) EFFECT ON EXISTING CONTRACTS OR OTHER AGREEMENTS.—Section 2486(e) of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a), shall not affect the terms, conditions, or duration of any contract or other agreement entered into by the Secretary of Defense before the date of the enactment of this Act for the procurement of commercial items for resale in commissary stores.

SEC. 343. PROHIBITION OF SALE OR RENTAL OF SEXUALLY EXPLICIT MATERIAL.

(a) IN GENERAL.—(1) Chapter 147 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 2489 the following new section:

"§ 2489a. Sale or rental of sexually explicit material prohibited

"(a) PROHIBITION OF SALE OR RENTAL.—The Secretary of Defense may not permit the sale or rental of sexually explicit material on property under the jurisdiction of the Department of Defense.

"(b) PROHIBITION OF OFFICIALLY PROVIDED SEXUALLY EXPLICIT MATERIAL.—A member of the armed forces or a civilian officer or employee of the Department of Defense acting in an official capacity may not provide for sale, remuneration, or rental sexually explicit material to another person.

"(c) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary of Defense shall prescribe regulations to implement this section.

"(d) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

"(1) The term 'sexually explicit material' means an audio recording, a film or video recording, or a periodical with visual depictions, produced in any medium, the dominant theme of which depicts or describes nudity, including sexual or excretory activities or organs, in a lascivious way.

"(2) The term 'property under the jurisdiction of the Department of Defense' includes commissaries, all facilities operated by the Army and Air Force Exchange Service, the Navy Exchange Service Command, the Navy Resale and Services Support Office, Marine Corps exchanges, and ships' stores."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 2489 the following new item:

"2489a. Sale or rental of sexually explicit material prohibited."

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—Subsection (a) of section 2489a of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a) of this section, shall take effect 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

Subtitle E—Performance of Functions by Private-Sector Sources

SEC. 351. EXTENSION OF REQUIREMENT FOR COMPETITIVE PROCUREMENT OF PRINTING AND DUPLICATION SERVICES.

(a) EXTENSION.—Section 351(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 266) is amended by striking out "fiscal year 1996" and inserting in lieu thereof "fiscal years 1996 and 1997".

(b) REPORTING REQUIREMENTS.—Such section is further amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(c) REPORTING REQUIREMENTS.—(1) Not later than 90 days after the end of each fiscal year in which the requirement of subsection (a) applies, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report—

"(A) describing the extent of the compliance of the Secretary with the requirement during that fiscal year;

"(B) specifying the total volume of printing and duplication services procured by Department of Defense during that fiscal year—

"(i) from sources within the Department of Defense;

"(ii) from private-sector sources; and

"(iii) from other sources in the Federal Government; and

"(C) specifying the total volume of printed and duplicated material during that fiscal year covered by the exception in subsection (b).

"(2) The report required for fiscal year 1996 shall also include the plans of the Secretary for further implementation of the requirement of subsection (a) during fiscal year 1997."

SEC. 352. REPORTING REQUIREMENTS UNDER DEMONSTRATION PROJECT FOR PURCHASE OF FIRE, SECURITY, POLICE, PUBLIC WORKS, AND UTILITY SERVICES FROM LOCAL GOVERNMENT AGENCIES.

Section 816(b) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1995 (Public Law 103-337; 108 Stat. 2820) is amended by striking out "1996" and inserting in lieu thereof "of each of the years 1997 and 1998".

Subtitle F—Other Matters

SEC. 361. AUTHORITY FOR USE OF APPROPRIATED FUNDS FOR RECRUITING FUNCTIONS.

(a) AUTHORITY.—Chapter 31 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§ 520c. Recruiting functions: use of funds

"(a) PROVISION OF MEALS AND REFRESHMENTS.—Under regulations prescribed by the Secretary concerned, funds appropriated to the Department of Defense for recruitment of military personnel may be expended for small meals and refreshments during recruiting functions for the following persons:

"(1) Persons who have enlisted under the Delayed Entry Program authorized by section 513 of this title.

"(2) Persons who are objects of armed forces recruiting efforts.

"(3) Persons whose assistance in recruiting efforts of the military departments is determined to be influential by the Secretary concerned.

"(4) Members of the armed forces and Federal employees when attending recruiting events in accordance with a requirement to do so.

"(5) Other persons whose presence at recruiting efforts will contribute to recruiting efforts.

"(b) ANNUAL REPORT.—Not later than February 1 of each of the years 1998 through 2002, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the extent to which the authority under subsection (a) was exercised during the fiscal year ending in the preceding year.

"(c) TERMINATION OF AUTHORITY.—The authority in subsection (a) may not be exercised after September 30, 2001."

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"520c. Recruiting functions: use of funds."

SEC. 362. TRAINING OF MEMBERS OF THE UNIFORMED SERVICES AT NON-GOVERNMENT FACILITIES.

(a) AUTHORITY TO ENTER INTO AGREEMENTS FOR TRAINING AT NON-GOVERNMENT FACILITIES.—(1) Chapter 101 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§ 2013. Training at non-Government facilities

"(a) AUTHORITY TO ENTER INTO AGREEMENTS.—(1) The Secretary concerned, without regard to section 3709 of the Revised Statutes (41 U.S.C. 5), may make agreements or other arrangements for the training of members of the uniformed services under the jurisdiction of that Secretary by, in, or through non-Government facilities.

"(2) In this section, the term 'non-Government facility' means any of the following:

"(A) The government of a State or of a territory or possession of the United States, including the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, an interstate governmental organization, and a unit, subdivision, or instrumentality of any of the foregoing.

"(B) A foreign government or international organization, or instrumentality of either, which is designated by the President as eligible to provide training under this section.

"(C) A medical, scientific, technical, educational, research, or professional institution, foundation, or organization.

"(D) A business, commercial, or industrial firm, corporation, partnership, proprietorship, or other organization.

"(E) Individuals other than civilian or military personnel of the Government.

"(F) The services and property of any of the foregoing providing the training.

"(b) EXPENSES.—The Secretary concerned, from appropriations or other funds available to the Secretary, may—

"(1) pay all or a part of the pay of a member of a uniformed service who is selected and assigned for training under this section, for the period of training; and

"(2) pay, or reimburse the member of a uniformed service for, all or a part of the necessary expenses of the training (without regard to subsections (a) and (b) of section 3324 of title 31), including among those expenses the necessary costs of the following:

"(A) Travel and per diem instead of subsistence under sections 404 and 405 of title 37 and the Joint Travel Regulations for the Uniformed Services.

"(B) Transportation of immediate family, household goods and personal effects, packing, crating, temporarily storing, draying, and unpacking under sections 406 and 409 of title 37 and the Joint Travel Regulations for the Uniformed Services when the estimated costs of transportation and related services are less than the estimated aggregate per diem payments for the period of training.

"(C) Tuition and matriculation fees.

"(D) Library and laboratory services.

"(E) Purchase or rental of books, materials, and supplies.

"(F) Other services or facilities directly related to the training of the member.

"(c) CERTAIN EXPENSES EXCLUDED.—The expenses of training do not include membership fees except to the extent that the fee is a necessary cost directly related to the training itself or that payment of the fee is a condition precedent to undergoing the training."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"2013. Training at non-Government facilities."

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—Section 2013 of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a), shall take effect on October 1, 1996.

SEC. 363. REQUIREMENT FOR PREPARATION OF PLAN FOR IMPROVED OPERATION OF WORKING-CAPITAL FUNDS AND EFFECT OF FAILURE TO PRODUCE AN APPROVED PLAN.

(a) PLAN FOR IMPROVED OPERATION OF WORKING-CAPITAL FUNDS.—Not later than September 30, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a plan to improve the management and performance of the industrial, commercial, and support type activities of the military departments or the Defense Agencies that are currently managed through the Defense Business Operations Fund.

(b) ELEMENTS OF PLAN.—The plan required by subsection (a) shall address the following issues:

(1) The ability of each military department or Defense Agency to set working capital requirements and set charges at its own industrial and supply activities.

(2) The desirability of separate business accounts for the management of both industrial and supply activities for each military department or Defense Agency.

(3) Liability for operation losses at industrial and supply activities.

(4) Reimbursement to the Department of Defense by each military department or Defense Agency of its fair share of the costs of legitimate common business support services (such as accounting and financial services and central logistics services) provided by the Department of Defense.

(5) The role of the Department of Defense in setting charges or imposing surcharges for activities managed by the business accounts of a military department or Defense Agency (except for the common business support cost described in paragraph (4)), and what such charges should properly reflect.

(6) The appropriate use of operating profits arising from the operations of the industrial and supply activities of a military department or Defense Agency.

(7) The ability of a military department or Defense Agency to purchase industrial and supply services from, and provide such services to, other military departments or Defense Agencies.

(8) Standardization of financial management and accounting practices employed by the business accounts of a military department or Defense Agency.

(9) Reporting requirements related to actual and projected performance of business management account activities of a military department or Defense Agency.

(c) EFFECT OF FAILURE TO SUBMIT OR APPROVE OF PLAN.—(1) Unless, before October 1, 1999, the Secretary of Defense submits the plan required by subsection (a) and Congress enacts a provision of law described in paragraph (2) that approves of the plan as submitted or in an amended form, then section 2216a of title 10, United States Code, regarding the Defense Business Operations Fund (as redesignated by section 1074(a)(10) of this Act), shall be repealed effective as of that date.

(2) The provision of law referred to in paragraph (1) is a provision of law that—

(A) is enacted after the submission of the plan required by subsection (a);

(B) specifically refers to the plan and this section; and

(C) specifically states that the plan required by subsection (a) is approved as submitted or with such amendments as may be contained in such law.

(d) BASIS FOR CHARGES FOR GOODS AND SERVICES; COMPTROLLER GENERAL REVIEW.—

(1) In the development of the proposed budget for the Defense Business Operations Fund for a fiscal year, the Secretary of Defense shall ensure that accurate and realistic pricing and quantity estimates are used regarding the goods and services to be provided by working-capital funds and industrial, commercial, and support type activities managed through the Fund.

(2) The Secretary of Defense shall make available to the Comptroller General information used to establish the charges for goods and services to be provided by working-capital funds and industrial, commercial, and support type activities managed through the Fund. The Comptroller General shall conduct an annual review of the adequacy of the basis for the charges. Not later than 30 days after the date on which the Secretary submits the annual report and proposed budget for the Fund under subsection (h) of section 2216a of title 10, United States Code, as redesignated by section 1074(a)(10) of this Act, the Comptroller General shall submit to Congress a report containing the results of the review.

SEC. 364. INCREASE IN CAPITAL ASSET THRESHOLD UNDER DEFENSE BUSINESS OPERATIONS FUND.

Section 2216a of title 10, United States Code, as redesignated by section 1074(a)(10) of this Act, is amended in subsection (1)(1) by striking out "$50,000" and inserting in lieu thereof "$100,000".

SEC. 365. EXPANSION OF AUTHORITY TO DONATE UNUSABLE FOOD.

(a) AUTHORITY FOR DONATIONS FROM DEFENSE AGENCIES.—Section 2485 of title 10,

United States Code, is amended by striking out "Secretary of a military department" in subsections (a) and (b) and inserting in lieu thereof "Secretary of Defense".

(b) EXPANSION OF ELIGIBLE RECIPIENTS.—Such section is further amended—

(1) in subsection (a), by striking out "authorized charitable nonprofit food banks" and inserting in lieu thereof "entities specified under subsection (d)"; and

(2) in subsection (d), by striking out "may only be made" and all that follows and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "may only be made to an entity that is one of the following:

"(1) A charitable nonprofit food bank that is designated by the Secretary of Defense or the Secretary of Health and Human Services as authorized to receive such donations.

"(2) A State or local agency that is designated by the Secretary of Defense or the Secretary of Health and Human Services as authorized to receive such donations.

"(3) A chapter or other local unit of a recognized national veterans organization that provides services to persons without adequate shelter and is designated by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs as authorized to receive such donations.

"(4) A not-for-profit organization that provides care for homeless veterans and is designated by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs as authorized to receive such donations."

(c) CLARIFICATION OF FOOD THAT MAY BE DONATED.—Subsection (b) of such section is further amended by inserting "rations known as humanitarian daily rations (HDRs)," after "(MREs)".

SEC. 366. ASSISTANCE TO COMMITTEES INVOLVED IN INAUGURATION OF THE PRESIDENT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 2543 of title 10, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"§ 2543. Equipment and services: Presidential inaugural ceremonies

"(a) ASSISTANCE AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of Defense may, with respect to the ceremonies relating to the inauguration of a President, provide the assistance referred to in subsection (b) to—

(1) the Presidential Inaugural Committee; and

(2) the congressional Joint Inaugural Committee.

"(b) ASSISTANCE.—Assistance that may be provided under subsection (a) is the following:

"(1) Planning and carrying out activities relating to security and safety.

"(2) Planning and carrying out ceremonial activities.

"(3) Loan of property.

"(4) Any other assistance that the Secretary considers appropriate.

"(c) REIMBURSEMENT.—(1) The Presidential Inaugural Committee shall reimburse the Secretary for any costs incurred in connection with the provision to the committee of assistance referred to in subsection (b)(4).

"(2) Costs reimbursed under paragraph (1) shall be credited to the appropriations from which the costs were paid. The amount credited to an appropriation shall be proportionate to the amount of the costs charged to that appropriation.

"(d) LOANED PROPERTY.—With respect to property loaned for a presidential inauguration under subsection (b)(3), the Presidential Inaugural Committee shall—

"(1) return that property within nine days after the date of the ceremony inaugurating the President;

"(2) give good and sufficient bond for the return in good order and condition of that property;

"(3) indemnify the United States for any loss of, or damage to, that property; and

"(4) defray any expense incurred for the delivery, return, rehabilitation, replacement, or operation of that property.

"(e) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

"(1) The term 'Presidential Inaugural Committee' means the committee referred to in subsection (b)(2) of the first section of the Presidential Inaugural Ceremonies Act (36 U.S.C. 721) that is appointed with respect to the inauguration of a President-elect and Vice President-elect.

"(2) The term 'congressional Joint Inaugural Committee' means the joint committee of the Senate and House of Representatives referred to in the proviso in section 9 of the Presidential Inaugural Ceremonies Act (36 U.S.C. 729) that is appointed with respect to the inauguration of a President-elect and Vice President-elect."

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The item relating to section 2543 in the table of sections at the beginning of chapter 152 of such title is amended to read as follows:

"2543. Equipment and services: Presidential inaugural ceremonies."

SEC. 367. DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE SUPPORT FOR SPORTING EVENTS.

(a) AUTHORITY TO PROVIDE SUPPORT.—Subchapter II of chapter 152 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§2554. Provision of support for certain sporting events

"(a) SECURITY AND SAFETY ASSISTANCE.—At the request of a Federal, State, or local government agency responsible for providing law enforcement services, security services, or safety services, the Secretary of Defense may authorize the commander of a military installation or other facility of the Department of Defense or the commander of a specified or unified combatant command to provide assistance for the World Cup Soccer Games, the Goodwill Games, the Olympics, and any other civilian sporting event in support of essential security and safety at such event, but only if the Attorney General certifies that such assistance is necessary to meet essential security and safety needs.

"(b) OTHER ASSISTANCE.—The Secretary of Defense may authorize a commander referred to in subsection (a) to provide assistance for a sporting event referred to in that subsection in support of other needs relating to such event, but only—

"(1) to the extent that such needs cannot reasonably be met by a source other than the Department;

"(2) to the extent that the provision of such assistance does not adversely affect the military preparedness of the armed forces; and

"(3) if the organization requesting such assistance agrees to reimburse the Department for amounts expended by the Department in providing the assistance in accordance with the provisions of section 377 of this title and other applicable provisions of law.

"(c) INAPPLICABILITY TO CERTAIN EVENTS.—Subsections (a) and (b) do not apply to the following sporting events:

"(1) Sporting events for which funds have been appropriated before the date of the enactment of this Act.

"(2) The Special Olympics.

"(3) The Paralympics.

"(d) TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary of Defense may require such terms and conditions in connection with the provision of assistance under this section as the Secretary considers necessary and appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

"(e) REPORT ON ASSISTANCE.—Not later than January 30 of each year following a year in which the Secretary of Defense provides assistance under this section, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report on the assistance provided. The report shall set forth—

"(1) a description of the assistance provided;

"(2) the amount expended by the Department in providing the assistance;

"(3) if the assistance was provided under subsection (a), the certification of the Attorney General with respect to the assistance under that subsection; and

"(4) if the assistance was provided under subsection (b)—

"(A) an explanation why the assistance could not reasonably be met by a source other than the Department; and

"(B) the amount the Department was reimbursed under that subsection.

"(f) RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER LAWS.—Assistance provided under this section shall be subject to the provisions of sections 375 and 376 of this title."

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections at the beginning of such subchapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"2554. Provision of support for certain sporting events."

SEC. 368. STORAGE OF MOTOR VEHICLE IN LIEU OF TRANSPORTATION.

(a) STORAGE AUTHORIZED.—(1) Section 2634 of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(A) by redesignating subsection (b) as subsection (g);

(B) by transferring subsection (g), as so redesignated, to the end of such section; and

(C) by inserting after subsection (a) the following new subsection:

"(b)(1) In lieu of transportation authorized by this section, if a member is ordered to make a change of permanent station to a foreign country and the laws, regulations, or other restrictions imposed by the foreign country or the United States preclude entry of a motor vehicle described in subsection (a) into that country, or would require extensive modification of the vehicle as a condition to entry, the member may elect to have the vehicle stored at the expense of the United States at a location approved by the Secretary concerned.

"(2) If a member is transferred or assigned in connection with a contingency operation to duty at a location other than the permanent station of the member for a period of more than 30 consecutive days, but the transfer or assignment is not considered a change of permanent station, the member may elect to have a motor vehicle described in subsection (a) stored at the expense of the United States at a location approved by the Secretary concerned.

"(3) Authorized expenses under this subsection include costs associated with the delivery of the motor vehicle for storage and removal of the vehicle for delivery to a destination approved by the Secretary concerned."

(2)(A) The heading of such section is amended to read as follows:

"§2634. Motor vehicles: transportation or storage for members on change of permanent station or extended deployment"

(B) The item relating to such section in the table of sections at the beginning of chapter 157 of title 10, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"2634. Motor vehicles: transportation or storage for members on change of permanent station or extended deployment."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Subparagraph (B) of section 406(h)(1) of title 37, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(B) in the case of a member described in paragraph (2)(A), authorize the transportation of one motor vehicle, which is owned or leased by the member (or a dependent of the member) and is for the personal use of a dependent of the member, to that location by means of transportation authorized under section 2634 of title 10 or authorize the storage of the motor vehicle pursuant to subsection (b) of such section."

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on April 1, 1997.

(2) $5,000,000 shall be available for making educational agencies payments (as defined in subsection (d)(2)) to local educational agencies.

(b) NOTIFICATION.—Not later than June 30, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall—

(1) notify each local educational agency that is eligible for educational agencies assistance for fiscal year 1997 of that agency's eligibility for such assistance and the amount of such assistance for which that agency is eligible; and

(2) notify each local educational agency that is eligible for an educational agencies payment for fiscal year 1997 of that agency's eligibility for such payment and the amount of the payment for which that agency is eligible.

(c) DISBURSEMENT OF FUNDS.—The Secretary of Defense shall disburse funds made available under paragraphs (1) and (2) of subsection (a) not later than 30 days after the date on which notification to the eligible local educational agencies is provided pursuant to subsection (b).

(d) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) The term "educational agencies assistance" means assistance authorized under section 386(b) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1993 (Public Law 102-484; 20 U.S.C. 7703 note).

(2) The term "educational agencies payments" means payments authorized under section 386(d) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1993 (Public Law 102-484; 20 U.S.C. 7703 note).

(3) The term "local educational agency" has the meaning given that term in section 8013(9) of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 7713(9)).

SEC. 373. RENOVATION OF BUILDING FOR DEFENSE FINANCE AND ACCOUNTING SERVICE CENTER, FORT BENJAMIN HARRISON, INDIANA.

(a) TRANSFER AUTHORITY.—To pay the costs of planning, design, and renovation of Building One, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, for use as a Defense Finance and Accounting Service Center, the Secretary of Defense may transfer to the Administrator of General Services in the manner provided in subsection (b) funds available to the Department of Defense for the Defense Finance and Accounting Service for a fiscal year for operation and maintenance.

(b) AUTHORITY SUBJECT TO AUTHORIZATIONS AND APPROPRIATIONS.—To the extent provided in appropriations Acts—

(1) of funds described in subsection (a) and appropriated for fiscal year 1997, $9,000,000 may be transferred under such subsection; and

(2) of funds described in subsection (a) and appropriated for fiscal years 1998, 1999, 2000, and 2001, funds may be transferred under such subsection in such amounts as are authorized to be transferred in an Act enacted after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(c) AUTHORITY SUBJECT TO AGREEMENT BETWEEN DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE AND GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION.—The transfer authority provided in subsection (a) shall not take effect until the date on which the Secretary of Defense and the Administrator of General Services enter into an agreement that provides for the Department of Defense to receive a full reimbursement for the funds transferred under such subsection. Such reimbursement may include reimbursement in the form of reduced or static rental rates for Building One.

(a) PROGRAM AUTHORIZED.—The Secretaries of the military departments and the Secretary of Transportation may each carry out a food donation pilot program at the service academy under the jurisdiction of such Secretary.

(b) DONATIONS AND COLLECTIONS OF FOOD AND GROCERY PRODUCTS.—Under the pilot program, the Secretary concerned may donate to, and permit others to collect for, a nonprofit organization any food or grocery product that—

(1) is—
(A) an apparently wholesome food; or
(B) an apparently fit grocery product; or
(C) a food or grocery product that is donated in accordance with section 402(e) of the National and Community Service Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. 12672(e));

(2) is owned by the United States;
(3) is located at a service academy under the jurisdiction of such Secretary; and
(4) is excess to the requirements of the academy.

(c) PROGRAM COMMENCEMENT.—The Secretary concerned shall commence carrying out the pilot program, if at all, during fiscal year 1997.

(d) APPLICABILITY OF GOOD SAMARITAN FOOD DONATION ACT.—Section 402 of the National and Community Service Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. 12672) shall apply to donations and collections of food and grocery products under the pilot program without regard to section 403 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 12673).

(e) REPORTS.—(1) Each Secretary that carries out a pilot program at a service academy under this section shall submit to Congress an interim report and a final report on the pilot program.

(2) The Secretary concerned shall submit the interim report not later than one year after the date on which the Secretary commences the pilot program at a service academy.

(3) The Secretary concerned shall submit the final report not later than 90 days after the Secretary completes the pilot program at a service academy.

(4) Each report shall include the following:

(A) A description of the conduct of the pilot program.

(B) A discussion of the experience under the pilot program.

(C) An evaluation of the extent to which section 402 of the National and Community Service Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. 12672) has been effective in protecting the United States and others from liabilities associated with actions taken under the pilot program.

(D) Any recommendations for legislation to facilitate donations or collections of excess food and grocery products of the United States or others for nonprofit organizations.

(f) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this section:

(1) The term "service academy" means each of the following:

(A) The United States Military Academy.
(B) The United States Naval Academy.
(C) The United States Air Force Academy.
(D) The United States Coast Guard Academy.

Subtitle B—Reserve Forces

SEC. 411. END STRENGTHS FOR SELECTED RESERVE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Armed Forces are authorized strengths for Selected Reserve personnel of the reserve components as of September 30, 1997, as follows:

- (1) The Army National Guard of the United States, 366,758.
- (2) The Army Reserve, 215,179.
- (3) The Naval Reserve, 96,304.
- (4) The Marine Corps Reserve, 42,000.
- (5) The Air National Guard of the United States, 109,178.
- (6) The Air Force Reserve, 73,311.
- (7) The Coast Guard Reserve, 8,000.

(b) WAIVER AUTHORITY.—The Secretary of Defense may vary the end strength authorized by subsection (a) by not more than 2 percent.

(c) ADJUSTMENTS.—The end strengths prescribed by subsection (a) for the Selected Reserve of any reserve component for a fiscal year shall be proportionately reduced by—

- (1) the total authorized strength of units organized to serve as units of the Selected Reserve of such component which are on active duty (other than for training) at the end of the fiscal year, and

(2) the total number of individual members not in units organized to serve as units of the Selected Reserve of such component who are on active duty (other than for training or for unsatisfactory participation in training) without their consent at the end of the fiscal year.

Whenever such units or such individual members are released from active duty during any fiscal year, the end strength prescribed for such fiscal year for the Selected Reserve of such reserve component shall be proportionately increased by the total authorized strengths of such units and by the total number of such individual members.

SEC. 412. END STRENGTHS FOR RESERVES ON ACTIVE DUTY IN SUPPORT OF THE RESERVES.

Within the end strengths prescribed in section 411(a), the reserve components of the Armed Forces are authorized, as of September 30, 1997, the following number of Reserves to be serving on full-time active duty or full-time duty, in the case of members of the National Guard, for the purpose of organizing, administering, recruiting, instructing, or training the reserve components:

- (1) The Army National Guard of the United States, 22,798.
- (2) The Army Reserve, 11,729.
- (3) The Naval Reserve, 16,603.
- (4) The Marine Corps Reserve, 2,559.
- (5) The Air National Guard of the United States, 10,403.

(6) The Air Force Reserve, 655.

SEC. 413. END STRENGTHS FOR MILITARY TECHNICIANS.

(a) AUTHORIZATION FOR FISCAL YEAR 1997.—The minimum number of military technicians as of the last day of fiscal year 1997 for the reserve components of the Army and the Air Force (notwithstanding section 129 of title 10, United States Code) shall be the following:

- (1) For the Army Reserve, 6,799.
- (2) For the Army National Guard of the United States, 25,500.
- (3) For the Air Force Reserve, 9,802.
- (4) For the Air National Guard of the United States, 23,299.

(b) INFORMATION TO BE PROVIDED WITH FUTURE AUTHORIZATION REQUESTS.—Section 10216 of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (b) as subsection (c); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (a) the following new subsection (b):

“(b) INFORMATION REQUIRED TO BE SUBMITTED WITH ANNUAL END STRENGTH AUTHORIZATION REQUEST.—(1) The Secretary of Defense shall include as part of the budget justification documents submitted to Congress with the budget of the Department of Defense for any fiscal year the following information with respect to the end strengths for military technicians requested in that budget pursuant to section 115(g) of this title, shown separately for each of the Army and Air Force reserve components:

“(A) The number of dual-status technicians in the high priority units and organizations specified in subsection (a)(1).

“(C) The number of dual-status technicians in other than high priority units and organizations specified in subsection (a)(1).

“(D) The number of technicians other than dual-status technicians in other than high priority units and organizations specified in subsection (a)(1).

“(2)(A) If the budget submitted to Congress for any fiscal year requests authorization for that fiscal year under section 115(g) of this title of a military technician end strength for a reserve component of the Army or Air Force in a number that constitutes a reduction from the end strength minimum established by law for that reserve component for the fiscal year during which the budget is submitted, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the congressional defense committees with that budget a justification providing the basis for that requested reduction in technician end strength.

“(B) Any justification submitted under subparagraph (A) shall clearly delineate—

“(i) in the case of a reduction that includes a reduction in technicians described in subparagraph (A) or (C) of paragraph (1), the specific force structure reductions forming the basis for such requested technician reduction (and the numbers related to those force structure reductions); and

“(ii) in the case of a reduction that includes reductions in technicians described in subparagraphs (B) or (D) of paragraph (1), the specific force structure reductions, Department of Defense civilian personnel reductions, or other reasons forming the basis for such requested technician reduction (and the numbers related to those reductions).”

(c) TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS.—Such section is further amended—

(1) in subsection (a), by striking out “section 115” and inserting in lieu thereof “section 115(g)”; and

(2) in subsection (c), as redesignated by subsection (b)(1), by striking out “after the date of the enactment of this section” both places it appears and inserting in lieu thereof “after February 10, 1996.”

SEC. 414. ASSURANCE OF CONTINUED ASSIGNMENT OF MILITARY PERSONNEL TO SERVE IN SELECTIVE SERVICE SYSTEM.

(a) NUMBER OF MILITARY PERSONNEL TO BE ASSIGNED.—Section 10 of the Military Selective Service Act (50 U.S.C. App. 460) is amended—

(1) in subsection (b)(2), by inserting “, subject to subsection (e),” after “to employ such number of civilians, and”; and

(2) by inserting after subsection (d) the following new subsection:

“(e) The total number of armed forces personnel assigned to the Selective Service System under subsection (b)(2) at any time may not be less than the number of such personnel determined by the Director of Selective Service to be necessary, but not to exceed 745 persons, except that the President may assign additional armed forces personnel to the Selective Service System during a time of war or a national emergency declared by Congress or the President.”

(b) STYLISTIC AMENDMENTS.—Subsection (b) of such section is amended—

(1) by striking out “authorized—” in the matter preceding paragraph (1) and inserting in lieu thereof “authorized to undertake the following:”;

(2) by striking out “to” at the beginning of paragraphs (1) through (7) and inserting in lieu thereof “To”;

(3) by striking out “subject” at the beginning of paragraphs (8), (9), and (10) and inserting in lieu thereof “Subject”; and

(4) by striking out the semicolon at the end of paragraphs (1) through (9) and inserting in lieu thereof a period.

SEC. 521. LIMITATIONS ON RECALL OF RETIRED MEMBERS TO ACTIVE DUTY.

(a) REVISION AND RECODIFICATION OF AUTHORITIES RELATING TO RETIRED MEMBERS ORDERED TO ACTIVE DUTY.—Chapter 39 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out section 688 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"§ 688. Retired members: authority to order to active duty; duties

"(a) AUTHORITY.—Under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense, a member described in subsection (b) may be ordered to active duty by the Secretary of the military department concerned at any time.

"(b) COVERED MEMBERS.—Except as provided in subsection (d), subsection (a) applies to the following members of the armed forces:

"(1) A retired member of the Regular Army, Regular Navy, Regular Air Force, or Regular Marine Corps.

"(2) A member of the Retired Reserve who was retired under section 1293, 3911, 3914, 6323, 8911, or 8914 of this title.

"(3) A member of the Fleet Reserve or Fleet Marine Corps Reserve.

"(c) DUTIES OF MEMBER ORDERED TO ACTIVE DUTY.—The Secretary concerned may, to the extent consistent with other provisions of law, assign a member ordered to active duty under this section to such duties as the Secretary considers necessary in the interests of national defense.

"(d) EXCLUSION OF OFFICERS RETIRED ON SELECTIVE EARLY RETIREMENT BASIS.—The following officers may not be ordered to active duty under this section:

"(1) An officer who retired under section 638 of this title.

"(2) An officer who—

"(A) after having been notified that the officer was to be considered for early retirement under section 638 of this title by a board convened under section 611(b) of this title and before being considered by that board, requested retirement under section 3911, 6323, or 8911 of this title; and

"(B) was retired pursuant to that request.

"(e) LIMITATION OF PERIOD OF RECALL SERVICE.—A member ordered to active duty under subsection (a) may not serve on active duty pursuant to orders under that subsection for more than 12 months within the 24 months following the first day of the active duty to which ordered under that subsection.

"(f) WAIVER FOR PERIODS OF WAR OR NATIONAL EMERGENCY.—Subsections (d) and (e) do not apply in time of war or of national emergency declared by Congress or the President.

"§ 689. Retired members: grade in which ordered to active duty and upon release from active duty

"(a) GENERAL RULE FOR GRADE IN WHICH ORDERED TO ACTIVE DUTY.—Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c), a retired member ordered to active duty under section 688 of this title shall be ordered to active duty in the member's retired grade.

"(b) MEMBERS RETIRED IN O-9 AND O-10 GRADES.—A retired member ordered to active duty under section 688 of this title whose retired grade is above the grade of major general or rear admiral shall be ordered to active duty in the highest permanent grade held by such member while serving on active duty.

"(c) MEMBERS WHO PREVIOUSLY SERVED IN GRADE HIGHER THAN RETIRED GRADE.—(1) A retired member ordered to active duty under section 688 of this title who has previously served on active duty satisfactorily, as determined by the Secretary of the military department concerned, in a grade higher than that member's retired grade may be ordered to active duty in the highest grade in which the member had so served satisfactorily, except that such a member may not be so ordered to active duty in a grade above major general or rear admiral.

"(2) A retired member ordered to active duty in a grade that is higher than the member's retired grade pursuant to subsection (a) shall be treated for purposes of section 690 of this title as if the member was promoted to that higher grade while on that tour of active duty.

"(3) If, upon being released from that tour of active duty, such a retired member has served on active duty satisfactorily, as determined by the Secretary concerned, for not less than a total of 36 months in a grade that is a higher grade than the member's retired grade, the member is entitled to placement on the retired list in that grade.

"(d) GRADE UPON RELEASE FROM ACTIVE DUTY.—A member ordered to active duty under section 688 of this title who, while on active duty, is promoted to a grade that is higher than that member's retired grade is entitled, upon that member's release from that tour of active duty, to placement on the retired list in the highest grade in which the member served on active duty satisfactorily, as determined by the Secretary of the military department concerned, for not less than six months.

"§690. Retired members ordered to active duty: limitation on number

"(a) GENERAL AND FLAG OFFICERS.—Not more than 15 retired general officers of the Army, Air Force, or Marine Corps, and not more than 15 retired flag officers of the Navy, may be on active duty at any one time. For the purposes of this subsection a retired officer ordered to active duty for a period of 60 days or less is not counted.

"(b) LIMITATION BY SERVICE.—(1) Not more than 25 officers of any one armed force may be serving on active duty concurrently pursuant to orders to active duty issued under section 688 of this title.

"(2) In the administration of paragraph (1), the following officers shall not be counted:

"(A) A chaplain who is assigned to duty as a chaplain for the period of active duty to which ordered.

"(B) A health care professional (as characterized by the Secretary concerned) who is assigned to duty as a health care professional for the period of the active duty to which ordered.

"(C) Any officer assigned to duty with the American Battle Monuments Commission for the period of active duty to which ordered.

"(c) WAIVER FOR PERIODS OF WAR OR NATIONAL EMERGENCY.—Subsection (a) does not apply in time of war or of national emergency declared by Congress or the President after November 30, 1960. Subsection (b) does not apply in time of war or of national emergency declared by Congress or the President."

"(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on September 30, 1997.

"(c) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by striking out the item relating to section 688 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"688. Retired members: authority to order to active duty; duties.

"689. Retired members: grade in which ordered to active duty and upon release from active duty.

"§8963. Highest grade held satisfactorily: Reserve enlisted members reduced in grade not as a result of the member's misconduct

"(a) A Reserve enlisted member of the Air Force described in subsection (b) who is retired under section 8914 of this title shall be retired in the highest enlisted grade in which the member served on active duty satisfactorily (or, in the case of a member of the National Guard, in which the member served on full-time National Guard duty satisfactorily), as determined by the Secretary of the Air Force.

"(b) This section applies to a Reserve enlisted member who—

"(1) at the time of retirement is serving on active duty (or, in the case of a member of the National Guard, on full-time National Guard duty) in a grade lower than the highest enlisted grade held by the member while on active duty (or full-time National Guard duty); and

"(2) was previously administratively reduced in grade not as a result of the member's own misconduct, as determined by the Secretary of the Air Force.

"(c) This section applies with respect to Reserve enlisted members who are retired under section 8914 of this title after September 30, 1996."

"(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 8962 the following new item:

"8963. Highest grade held satisfactorily: Reserve enlisted members reduced in grade not as a result of the member's misconduct."

(d) COMPUTATION OF RETIRED AND RETAINER PAY BASED UPON RETIRED GRADE.—(1) Section 3991 of such title is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(c) SPECIAL RULE FOR RETIRED RESERVE ENLISTED MEMBERS COVERED BY SECTION 3963.—In the case of a Reserve enlisted member retired under section 3914 of this title whose retired grade is determined under section 3963 of this title and who first became a member of a uniformed service before September 8, 1980, the retired pay base of the member (notwithstanding section 1406(a)(1) of this title) is the amount of the monthly basic pay of the member's retired grade (determined based upon the rates of basic pay applicable on the date of the member's retirement), and that amount shall be used for the purposes of subsection (a)(1)(A) rather than the amount computed under section 1406(c) of this title.”

(2) Section 6333 of such title is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(c) In the case of a Reserve enlisted member whose grade upon transfer to the Fleet Reserve or Fleet Marine Corps Reserve is determined under section 6336 of this title and who first became a member of a uniformed service before September 8, 1980, the retainer pay base of the member (notwithstanding section 1406(a)(1) of this title) is the amount of the monthly basic pay of the grade in which the member is so transferred (determined based upon the rates of basic pay applicable on the date of the member's transfer), and that amount shall be used for the purposes of the table in subsection (a) rather than the amount computed under section 1406(d) of this title.”

(3) Section 8991 of such title is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(c) SPECIAL RULE FOR RETIRED RESERVE ENLISTED MEMBERS COVERED BY SECTION 8963.—In the case of a Reserve enlisted member retired under section 8914 of this title whose retired grade is determined under section 8963 of this title and who first became a member of a uniformed service before September 8, 1980, the retired pay base of the member (notwithstanding section 1406(a)(1) of this title) is the amount of the monthly basic pay of the member's retired grade (determined based upon the rates of basic pay applicable on the date of the member's retirement), and that amount shall be used for the purposes of subsection (a)(1)(A) rather than the amount computed under section 1406(e) of this title.”

SEC. 533. AUTHORITY FOR A RESERVE ON ACTIVE DUTY TO WAIVE RETIREMENT SANCTUARY.

Section 12686 of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by inserting “(a) LIMITATION.—” before “Under regulations”; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

“(b) WAIVER.—With respect to a member of a reserve component who is to be ordered to active duty (other than for training) under section 12301 of this title pursuant to an order to active duty that specifies a period of less than 180 days and who (but for this subsection) would be covered by subsection (a), the Secretary concerned may require, as a condition of such order to active duty, that the member waive the applicability of subsection (a) to the member for the period of active duty covered by that order. In carrying out this subsection, the Secretary concerned may require that a waiver under the preceding sentence be executed before the period of active duty begins.”

SEC. 534. ELIGIBILITY OF RESERVES FOR DISABILITY RETIREMENT.

Paragraph (2) of section 1204 of title 10, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

“(2) the disability is the proximate result of, or was incurred in line of duty after the date of the enactment of this Act as a result of—

Section 12524 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(g) MEMBERS OF INDIVIDUAL READY RESERVE.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, and pursuant to regulations issued by the Secretary, a member of the Individual Ready Reserve who becomes a member of the Selected Reserve shall not be denied eligibility to purchase insurance under this chapter upon becoming a member of the Selected Reserve unless the member previously declined to enroll in the program of insurance under this chapter while a member of the Selected Reserve.”

SEC. 543. RESERVE CREDIT FOR PARTICIPATION IN HEALTH PROFESSIONS SCHOLARSHIP AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM.

(a) CREDIT AUTHORIZED.—Section 2126 of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking out “Service performed” and inserting in lieu thereof “(a) SERVICE NOT CREDITABLE.—Except as provided in subsection (b), service performed”; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

“(b) SERVICE CREDITABLE FOR CERTAIN PURPOSES.—(1) The Secretary concerned may authorize service performed by a member of the program in pursuit of a course of study under this subchapter to be counted in accordance with this subsection if the member—

“(A) completes the course of study;

“(B) completes the active duty obligation imposed under section 2123(a) of this title; and “(C) possesses a specialty designated by the Secretary concerned as critically needed in wartime.

“(2) Service credited under paragraph (1) counts only for the following purposes:

“(A) Award of retirement points for computation of years of service under section 12732 of this title and for computation of retired pay under section 12733 of this title.

“(B) Computation of years of service creditable under section 205 of title 37.

“(3) For purposes of paragraph (2)(A), a member may be credited in accordance with paragraph (1) with not more than 50 points for each year of participation in a course of study that the member satisfactorily completes as a member of the program.

“(4) Service may not be counted under paragraph (1) for more than four years of participation in a course of study as a member of the program.

“(5) A member is not entitled to any retroactive award of, or increase in, pay or allowances under title 37 by reason of an award of service credit under paragraph (1).”

(b) AWARD OF RETIREMENT POINTS.—(1) Section 12732(a)(2) of such title is amended—

(A) by inserting after clause (C) the following:

“(D) Points credited for the year under section 12126(b) of this title.”; and

(B) in the matter following clause (D), as inserted by paragraph (1), by striking out “and (C)” and inserting in lieu thereof “(C), and (D)”.

(2) Section 12733(3) of such title is amended by striking out “or (C)” and inserting in lieu thereof “(C), or (D)”.

SEC. 544. AMENDMENTS TO RESERVE OFFICER PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT ACT PROVISIONS.

(a) SERVICE REQUIREMENT FOR RETIREMENT IN HIGHEST GRADE HELD.—Section 1370(d) of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by redesignating paragraph (3) as paragraph (4);

(2) in paragraph (2)(A), by striking out “(A)”;

(3) by redesignating paragraph (2)(B) as paragraph (3); and

(4) in paragraph (3), as so redesignated—

(A) by designating the first sentence as subparagraph (A);

(B) by designating the second sentence as subparagraph (B);

(C) in subparagraph (B), as so redesignated, by striking out “the preceding sentence” and inserting in lieu thereof “subparagraph (A)”;

and

(D) by adding at the end the following:

“(C) If a person covered by subparagraph (A) has completed at least six months of satisfactory service in grade, the person was serving in that grade while serving in a position of adjutant general required under section 314 of title 32 or while serving in a position of assistant adjutant general subordinate to such a position of adjutant general, and the person has failed to complete three years of service in that grade solely because the person's appointment to such position has been terminated or vacated as described in section 324(b) of such title, then such person may be credited with satisfactory service in that grade, notwithstanding the failure to complete three years of service in that grade.

“(D) To the extent authorized by the Secretary of the military department concerned, a person who, after having been recommended for promotion in a report of a promotion board but before being promoted to the recommended grade, served in a position for which that grade is the minimum authorized grade may be credited for purposes of subparagraph (A) as having served in that grade for the period for which the person served in that position while in the next lower grade. The period credited may not include any period before the date on which the Senate provides advice and consent for the appointment of that person in the recommended grade.

“(E) To the extent authorized by the Secretary of the military department concerned, a person who, after having been extended temporary Federal recognition as a reserve officer of the Army National Guard in a particular grade under section 308 of title 32 or temporary Federal recognition as a reserve officer of the Air National Guard in a particular grade under such section, served in a position for which that grade is the minimum authorized grade may be credited for purposes of subparagraph (A) as having served in that grade for the period for which the person served in that position while extended the temporary Federal recognition, but only if the person was subsequently extended permanent Federal recognition as a reserve officer in that grade and also served in that position after being extended the permanent Federal recognition."

(b) EXCEPTION TO REQUIREMENT FOR RETENTION OF RESERVE OFFICERS UNTIL COMPLETION OF REQUIRED SERVICE.—Section 12645(b)(2) of such title is amended by inserting "or a reserve active-status list" after "active-duty list".

(c) TECHNICAL CORRECTION.—Section 14314(b)(2)(B) of such title is amended by striking out "of the Air Force".

SEC. 545. REPORT ON NUMBER OF ADVISERS IN ACTIVE COMPONENT SUPPORT OF RESERVES PILOT PROGRAM.

(a) REPORT ON NUMBER OF ACTIVE COMPONENT ADVISERS.—Not later than six months after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a report setting forth the Secretary's determination as to the appropriate number of active component personnel to be assigned to serve as advisers to reserve components under section 414 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Years 1992 and 1993 (10 U.S.C. 12001 note). If the Secretary's determination is that such number should be a number other than the required minimum number in effect under subsection (c) of such section, the Secretary shall include in the report an explanation providing the Secretary's justification for the number recommended.

(b) TECHNICAL AMENDMENT.—Section 414(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Years 1992 and 1993 (10 U.S.C. 12001 note) is amended by striking out "During fiscal years 1992 and 1993, the Secretary of the Army shall institute" and inserting in lieu thereof "The Secretary of the Army shall carry out".

SEC. 546. SENSE OF CONGRESS AND REPORT REGARDING REEMPLOYMENT RIGHTS FOR MOBILIZED RESERVISTS EMPLOYED IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—Congress is concerned about the lack of reemployment rights afforded Reserve component members who reside in foreign countries and either work for United States companies that maintain offices or operations in foreign countries or work for foreign employers. Being outside the jurisdiction of the United States, these employers are not subject to the provisions of chapter 43 of title 38, United States Code, known as the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA). The purpose of that Act is to provide statutory employment protections that include reinstatement, seniority, status, and rate of pay coverage for Reservists who are ordered to active duty for a specified period of time, including involuntary active duty in support of an operational contingency. While most Reserve members are afforded the protections of that Act (which covers reemployment rights in their civilian jobs upon completion of military service), approximately 2,000 members of the Selected Reserve reside outside the United States and its territories and, not being guaranteed the job protection envisioned by the USERRA, are potentially subject to reemployment problems after release from active duty. This situation poses a continuing personnel management challenge for the reserve components.

(b) RECOGNITION OF PROBLEM.—Congress, while recognizing that foreign governments and companies located abroad, not being within the jurisdiction of the United States, cannot be required to comply with the provisions of the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act, also recognizes that there is a need to provide assistance to Reservists in the situation described in subsection (a), both in the near term and the long term.

(c) REPORT REQUIREMENT.—Not later than April 1, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a report that sets forth recommended actions to help alleviate reemployment problems for Reservists who are employed outside the United States and its territories by United States companies that maintain offices or operations in foreign countries or by foreign employers. The report shall include recommendations on the assistance and support that may be required by other organizations of the Government, including the Defense Attaché Offices, the Department of Labor, and the Department of State. The report shall be prepared in consultation with the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 547. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS UNDER MOBILIZATION INCOME INSURANCE PROGRAM.

Section 12527(a) of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1), by inserting "of the Selected Reserve" after "a member"; and

(2) by striking out paragraph (2) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(2) The Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of Transportation, shall prescribe regulations which specify the procedures for payment of premiums by members of the Individual Ready Reserve and other members who do not receive pay on a monthly basis."

Subtitle F—Officer Education Programs

SEC. 551. OVERSIGHT AND MANAGEMENT OF SENIOR RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS PROGRAM.

(a) ENROLLMENT PRIORITY TO BE CONSISTENT WITH PURPOSE OF PROGRAM.—(1) Section 2103 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(e) An educational institution at which a unit of the program has been established shall give priority for enrollment in the program to students who are eligible for advanced training under section 2104 of this title."

(2) Section 2109 of such title is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(c)(1) A person who is not qualified for, and (as determined by the Secretary concerned) will not be able to become qualified for, advanced training by reason of one or more of the requirements prescribed in paragraphs (1) through (3) of section 2104(b) of this title shall not be permitted to participate in—"(A) field training or a practice cruise under section 2106(b)(6) of this title; or

"(B) practical military training under subsection (a).

"(2) The Secretary of the military department concerned may waive the limitation in paragraph (1) under procedures prescribed by the Secretary. Such procedures shall ensure uniform application of limitations and restrictions without regard to the reason for disqualification for advanced training."

(b) WEAR OF THE MILITARY UNIFORM.—Section 772(h) of such title is amended by inserting before the period at the end the following: "if the wear of such uniform is specifically authorized under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the military department concerned".

SEC. 552. PROHIBITION ON REORGANIZATION OF ARMY ROTC CADET COMMAND OR TERMINATION OF SENIOR ROTC UNITS PENDING REPORT ON ROTC.

(a) PROHIBITION.—(1) The Secretary of the Army may not reorganize or restructure the Reserve Officers Training Corps Cadet Command, and may not terminate any Senior Reserve Officer Training Corps unit identified in the document referred to in paragraph (2), until 180 days after the date on which the Secretary submits to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives the report described in subsection (b).

(2) The document referred to in paragraph (1) is the Department of Defense document dated May 20, 1996, entitled "Information for Members of Congress concerning Senior Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) Unit Closures".

(b) REPORT CONTENTS.—The report referred to in subsection (a) is a report by the Secretary of the Army in which the Secretary—

(1) describes the selection process used to identify the Reserve Officer Training Corps units of the Army to be terminated;

(2) lists the criteria used by the Army to select Reserve Officer Training Corps units for termination;

(3) sets forth the specific ranking of each unit of the Reserve Officer Training Corps of the Army to be terminated as against all other such units;

(4) sets forth the authorized and actual cadre staffing of each such unit for each fiscal year of the 10-fiscal year period ending with fiscal year 1996;

(5) sets forth the production goals and performance evaluations of each such unit for each fiscal year of the 10-fiscal year period ending with fiscal year 1996;

(6) describes how cadets currently enrolled in the units referred to in paragraph (5) will be accommodated after the closure of such units;

(7) describes the incentives to enhance the Reserve Officer Training Corps program that are provided by each of the colleges on the closure list;

(8) includes the projected officer accession plan by source of commission for the active-duty Army, the Army Reserve, and the Army National Guard; and

(9) describes whether the closure of any ROTC unit will adversely affect the recruitment of minority officer candidates.

SEC. 553. PILOT PROGRAM TO TEST EXPANSION OF ROTC PROGRAM TO INCLUDE GRADUATE STUDENTS.

(a) TEST PROGRAM.—Section 2107(c) of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by inserting "(1)" after "(c)"; and

(2) by adding at the end the following: "The Secretary of Defense shall authorize the Secretaries of the military departments to carry out a test program to determine the desirability of enabling graduate students to participate in the financial assistance program under this section. As part of such test program, the Secretary of a military department may provide financial assistance, as described in paragraph (1), to a student enrolled in an advanced education program beyond the baccalaureate degree level if the student also is a cadet or midshipman in an advanced training program. Not more than 15 percent of the total number of scholarships awarded under this section in any year may be awarded under the test program. No scholarship may be awarded under the test program after September 30, 1999."

(b) AUTHORITY TO ENROLL IN ADVANCED TRAINING PROGRAM.—Paragraph (3) of section 2101 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by inserting "students enrolled in an advanced education program beyond the baccalaureate degree level or to" after "instruction offered in the Senior Reserve Officers' Training Corps to".

(c) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—Not later than December 31, 1998, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the experience to that date under the test program authorized under the amendment made by subsection (a)(2). The report shall include the Secretary's assessment of the effect of the test program on the Senior ROTC program and the Secretary's recommendation as to whether the authority under the test program should be made permanent.

SEC. 554. DEMONSTRATION PROJECT FOR INSTRUCTION AND SUPPORT OF ARMY ROTC UNITS BY MEMBERS OF THE ARMY RESERVE AND NATIONAL GUARD.

(a) DEMONSTRATION PROJECT REQUIRED.—The Secretary of the Army shall carry out a demonstration project in order to assess the feasibility and advisability of providing instruction and similar support to units of the Senior Reserve Officers Training Corps of the Army through members of the Army Reserve (including members of the Individual Ready Reserve) and members of the Army National Guard.

(b) PROJECT REQUIREMENTS.—(1) The Secretary shall carry out the demonstration project at at least one institution of higher education.

(2) In order to enhance the value of the project, the Secretary may take actions to ensure that members of the Army Reserve and the Army National Guard provide instruction and support under the project in a variety of innovative ways.

(c) INAPPLICABILITY OF LIMITATION ON RESERVES IN SUPPORT OF ROTC.—The assignment of a member of the Army Reserve or the Army National Guard to provide instruction or support under the demonstration project shall not be treated as an assignment of the member to duty with a unit of a Reserve Officer Training Corps program for purposes of section 12321 of title 10, United States Code.

(d) REPORTS TO CONGRESS.—Not later than February 1 in each of 1998 and 1999, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report assessing the activities under the demonstration project during the preceding year. The report submitted in 1999 shall include the Secretary's recommendation as to the advisability of continuing or expanding the authority for the project.

(e) TERMINATION.—The authority of the Secretary to carry out the demonstration project shall expire three years after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 555. EXTENSION OF MAXIMUM AGE FOR APPOINTMENT AS A CADET OR MIDSHIPMAN IN THE SENIOR RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS AND THE SERVICE ACADEMIES.

(a) SENIOR RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS.—Sections 2107(a) and 2107a(a) of title 10, United States Code, are amended—

(1) by striking out "25 years of age" and inserting in lieu thereof "27 years of age"; and

(2) by striking out "29 years of age" and inserting in lieu thereof "30 years of age".

(b) UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY.—Section 4346(a) of such title is amended by striking out "twenty-second birthday" and inserting in lieu thereof "twenty-third birthday".

(c) UNITED STATES NAVAL ACADEMY.—Section 6958(a)(1) of such title is amended by striking out "twenty-second birthday" and inserting in lieu thereof "twenty-third birthday".

(d) UNITED STATES AIR FORCE ACADEMY.—Section 9346(a) of such title is amended by striking out "twenty-second birthday" and inserting in lieu thereof "twenty-third birthday".

SEC. 556. EXPANSION OF ELIGIBILITY FOR EDUCATION BENEFITS TO INCLUDE CERTAIN RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS (ROTC) PARTICIPANTS.

(a) ACTIVE DUTY SERVICE.—Section 3011(c) of title 38, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking out "or upon completion of a program of educational assistance under section 2107 of title 10" in paragraph (2); and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

"(3) An individual who after December 31, 1976, receives a commission as an officer in the Armed Forces upon completion of a program of educational assistance under section 2107 of title 10 is not eligible for educational assistance under this section if the individual enters on active duty—

"(A) before October 1, 1996; or

"(B) after September 30, 1996, and while participating in such program received more than $2,000 for each year of such participation."

(b) SELECTED RESERVE.—Section 3012(d) of title 38, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking out "or upon completion of a program of educational assistance under section 2107 of title 10" in paragraph (2); and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

"(3) An individual who after December 31, 1976, receives a commission as an officer in the Armed Forces upon completion of a program of educational assistance under section 2107 of title 10 is not eligible for educational assistance under this section if the individual enters on active duty—

"(A) before October 1, 1996; or

"(B) after September 30, 1996, and while participating in such program received more than $2,000 for each year of such participation."

SEC. 557. COMPTROLLER GENERAL REPORT ON COST AND POLICY IMPLICATIONS OF PERMITTING UP TO FIVE PERCENT OF SERVICE ACADEMY GRADUATES TO BE ASSIGNED DIRECTLY TO RESERVE DUTY UPON GRADUATION.

(a) REPORT REQUIRED.—The Comptroller General of the United States shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a report providing an analysis of the cost implications, and the policy implications, of permitting up to 5 percent of each graduating class of each of the service academies to be placed, upon graduation and commissioning, in an active status in the appropriate reserve component (without a minimum period of obligated active duty service), with a corresponding increase in the number of ROTC graduates each year who are permitted to serve on active duty upon commissioning.

(b) INFORMATION ON CURRENT ACADEMY GRADUATES IN RESERVE COMPONENTS.—The Comptroller General shall include in the report information (shown in the aggregate and separately for each of the Armed Forces and for graduates of each service academy) on—

(1) the number of academy graduates who at the time of the report are serving in an active status in a reserve component; and

(2) within the number under paragraph (1), the number for each reserve component and, of those, the number within each reserve component who are on active duty under section 12301(d) of title 10, United States Code, for the purpose of organizing, administering, recruiting, instructing, or training the reserve components.

(c) SUBMISSION OF REPORT.—The report shall be submitted not later than six months after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(d) SERVICE ACADEMIES.—For purposes of this section, the term "service academies" means—

- (1) the United States Military Academy;
- (2) the United States Naval Academy; and
- (3) the United States Air Force Academy.

Subtitle G—Decorations and Awards

SEC. 561. AUTHORITY FOR AWARD OF MEDAL OF HONOR TO CERTAIN AFRICAN AMERICAN SOLDIERS WHO SERVED DURING WORLD WAR II.

(a) INAPPLICABILITY OF TIME LIMITATIONS.—Notwithstanding the time limitations in section 3744(b) of title 10, United States Code, or any other time limitation, the President may award the Medal of Honor to the persons specified in subsection (b), each of whom has been found by the Secretary of the Army to have distinguished himself conspicuously by gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty while serving in the United States Army during World War II.

Subtitle H—Other Matters

SEC. 571. HATE CRIMES IN THE MILITARY.

(a) HUMAN RELATIONS TRAINING.—(1) The Secretary of Defense shall ensure that the Secretary of each military department conducts ongoing programs for human relations training for all members of the Armed Forces under the jurisdiction of the Secretary. Matters to be covered by such training include race relations, equal opportunity, opposition to gender discrimination, and sensitivity to "hate group" activity. Such training shall be provided during basic training (or other initial military training) and on a regular basis thereafter.

(2) The Secretary of Defense shall also ensure that unit commanders are aware of their responsibilities in ensuring that impermissible activity based upon discriminatory motives does not occur in units under their command.

(b) INFORMATION TO BE PROVIDED TO PROSPECTIVE RECRUITS.—The Secretary of Defense shall ensure that each individual preparing to enter an officer accession program or to execute an original enlistment agreement is provided information concerning the meaning of the oath of office or oath of enlistment for service in the Armed Forces in terms of the equal protection and civil liberties guarantees of the Constitution, and each such individual shall be informed that if supporting those guarantees is not possible personally for that individual, then that individual should decline to enter the Armed Forces.

(c) ANNUAL SURVEY.—(1) Section 451 of title 10, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"§ 451. Race relations, gender discrimination, and hate group activity: annual survey and report

"(a) ANNUAL SURVEY.—The Secretary of Defense shall carry out an annual survey to measure the state of racial, ethnic, and gender issues and discrimination among members of the armed forces serving on active duty and the extent (if any) of activity among such members that may be seen as so-called 'hate group' activity. The survey shall solicit information on the race relations and gender relations climate in the armed forces, including—

"(1) indicators of positive and negative trends of relations among all racial and ethnic groups and between the sexes;

"(2) the effectiveness of Department of Defense policies designed to improve race, ethnic, and gender relations; and

"(3) the effectiveness of current processes for complaints on and investigations into racial, ethnic, and gender discrimination.

"(b) IMPLEMENTING ENTITY.—The Secretary shall carry out each annual survey through the entity in the Department of Defense known as the Armed Forces Survey on Race/Ethnic Issues.

"(c) REPORTS TO CONGRESS.—Upon completion of each annual survey under subsection (a), the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report containing the results of the survey."

(2) The item relating to such section in the table of sections at the beginning of chapter 22 of such title is amended to read as follows:

"451. Race relations, gender discrimination, and hate group activity: annual survey and report."

SEC. 572. DISABILITY COVERAGE FOR MEMBERS GRANTED EXCESS LEAVE FOR EDUCATIONAL OR EMERGENCY PURPOSES.

(a) ELIGIBILITY FOR RETIREMENT.—Section 1201 of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking out the matter preceding paragraph (1) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(a) RETIREMENT.—Upon a determination by the Secretary concerned that a member described in subsection (c) is unfit to perform the duties of the member's office, grade, rank, or rating because of physical disability incurred while entitled to basic pay or while absent as described in subsection (c)(3), the Secretary may retire the member, with retired pay computed under section 1401 of this title, if the Secretary also makes the determinations with respect to the member and that disability specified in subsection (b).

"(b) REQUIRED DETERMINATIONS OF DISABILITY.—Determinations referred to in subsection (a) are determinations by the Secretary that—"; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

"(c) ELIGIBLE MEMBERS.—This section and sections 1202 and 1203 of this title apply to the following members:

"(1) A member of a regular component of the armed forces entitled to basic pay.

(2) Any other member of the armed forces entitled to basic pay who has been called or ordered to active duty (other than for training under section 10148(a) of this title) for a period of more than 30 days.

(3) Any other member of the armed forces who is on active duty but is not entitled to basic pay by reason of section 502(b) of title 37 due to authorized absence (A) to participate in an educational program, or (B) for an emergency purpose, as determined by the Secretary concerned."

(b) ELIGIBILITY FOR PLACEMENT ON TEMPORARY DISABILITY RETIREMENT LIST.—Section 1202 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out "a member of a regular component" and all that follows through "more than 30 days," and inserting in lieu thereof "a member described in section 1201(c) of this title".

(c) ELIGIBILITY FOR SEPARATION.—Section 1203 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out the matter preceding paragraph (1) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(a) SEPARATION.—Upon a determination by the Secretary concerned that a member described in section 1201(c) of this title is unfit to perform the duties of the member's office, grade, rank, or rating because of physical disability incurred while entitled to basic pay or while absent as described in section 1201(c)(3) of this title, the member may be separated from the member's armed force, with severance pay computed under section 1212 of this title, if the Secretary also makes the determinations with respect to the member and that disability specified in subsection (b).

"(E) $6,000 per year, if the officer has 18 or more years of creditable service."

(b) RESERVE DENTAL OFFICERS SPECIAL PAY.—Section 302b of title 37, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(h) RESERVE DENTAL OFFICERS SPECIAL PAY.—(1) A reserve dental officer described in paragraph (2) is entitled to special pay at the rate of $350 a month for each month of active duty, including active duty in the form of annual training, active duty for training, and active duty for special work.

"(2) A reserve dental officer referred to in paragraph (1) is a reserve officer who—

"(A) is an officer of the Dental Corps of the Army or the Navy or an officer of the Air Force designated as a dental officer; and

"(B) is on active duty under a call or order to active duty for a period of less than one year."

(c) ACCESSION BONUS FOR DENTAL SCHOOL GRADUATES WHO ENTER THE ARMED FORCES.—(1) Chapter 5 of title 37, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 302g the following new section:

"§ 302h. Special pay: accession bonus for dental officers

"(a) ACCESSION BONUS AUTHORIZED.—(1) A person who is a graduate of an accredited dental school and who, during the period beginning on the date of the enactment of this section, and ending on September 30, 2002, executes a written agreement described in subsection (c) to accept a commission as an officer of the armed forces and remain on active duty for a period of not less than four years may, upon the acceptance of the agreement by the Secretary concerned, be paid an accession bonus in an amount determined by the Secretary concerned.

"(2) The amount of an accession bonus under paragraph (1) may not exceed $30,000.

"(b) LIMITATION ON ELIGIBILITY FOR BONUS.—A person may not be paid a bonus under subsection (a) if—

"(1) the person, in exchange for an agreement to accept an appointment as an officer, received financial assistance from the Department of Defense to pursue a course of study in dentistry; or

"(2) the Secretary concerned determines that the person is not qualified to become and remain certified and licensed as a dentist.

"(c) AGREEMENT.—The agreement referred to in subsection (a) shall provide that, consistent with the needs of the armed service concerned, the person executing the agreement will be assigned to duty, for the period of obligated service covered by the agreement, as an officer of the Dental Corps of the Army or the Navy or an officer of the Air Force designated as a dental officer.

"(d) REPAYMENT.—(1) An officer who receives a payment under subsection (a) and who fails to become and remain certified or licensed as a dentist during the period for which the payment is made shall refund to the United States an amount equal to the full amount of such payment.

"(2) An officer who voluntarily terminates service on active duty before the end of the period agreed to be served under subsection (a) shall refund to the United States an amount that bears the same ratio to the amount paid to the officer as the unserved part of such period bears to the total period agreed to be served.

"(3) An obligation to reimburse the United States imposed under paragraph (1) or (2) is for all purposes a debt owed to the United States.

"(4) A discharge in bankruptcy under title 11 that is entered less than five years after the termination of an agreement under this section does not discharge the person signing such agreement from a debt arising under such agreement or this subsection. This paragraph applies to any case commenced under title 11 after the date of the enactment of this section."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 302g the following new item:

"302h. Special pay: accession bonus for dental officers."

(3) Section 303a of title 37, United States Code, is amended by striking out "302g" each place it appears and inserting in lieu thereof "302h".

(d) REPORT ON ADDITIONAL ACTIVITIES TO INCREASE RECRUITMENT OF DENTISTS.—Not later than April 1, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report describing the feasibility of increasing the number of persons enrolled in the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship and Financial Assistance program who are pursuing a course of study in dentistry in anticipation of service as an officer of the Dental Corps of the Army or the Navy or an officer of the Air Force designated as a dental officer.

SEC. 632. CLARIFICATION OF INITIAL COMPUTATION OF RETIREE COLAS AFTER RETIREMENT.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1401a of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out subsections (c) and (d) and inserting in lieu thereof the following new subsections:

"(c) FIRST COLA ADJUSTMENT FOR MEMBERS WITH RETIRED PAY COMPUTED USING FINAL BASIC PAY.—

"(1) FIRST ADJUSTMENT WITH INTERVENING INCREASE IN BASIC PAY.—Notwithstanding subsection (b), if a person described in paragraph (3) becomes entitled to retired pay based on rates of monthly basic pay that became effective after the last day of the calendar quarter of the base index, the retired pay of the member or former member shall be increased on the effective date of the next adjustment of retired pay under subsection (b) only by the percent (adjusted to the nearest one-tenth of 1 percent) by which—

"(A) the price index for the base quarter of that year, exceeds

"(B) the price index for the calendar quarter immediately before the calendar quarter in which the rates of monthly basic pay on which the retired pay is based became effective.

"(2) FIRST ADJUSTMENT WITH NO INTERVENING INCREASE IN BASIC PAY.—If a person described in paragraph (3) becomes entitled to retired pay on or after the effective date of an adjustment in retired pay under subsection (b) but before the effective date of the next increase in the rates of monthly basic pay, the retired pay of the member or former member shall be increased, effective on the date the member becomes entitled to that pay, by the percent (adjusted to the nearest one-tenth of 1 percent) by which—

"(A) the base index, exceeds
 "(B) the price index for the calendar quarter immediately before the calendar quarter in which the rates of monthly basic pay on which the retired pay is based became effective.

"(3) MEMBERS COVERED.—Paragraphs (1) and (2) apply to a member or former member of an armed force who first became a member of a uniformed service before August 1, 1986, and whose retired pay base is determined under section 1406 of this title.

"(d) FIRST COLA ADJUSTMENT FOR MEMBERS WITH RETIRED PAY COMPUTED USING HIGH-THREE.—Notwithstanding subsection (b), the retired pay of a member or former member of an armed force who first became a member of a uniformed service before August 1, 1986, and whose retired pay base is determined under section 1407 of this title shall be increased on the effective date of the first adjustment of retired pay under subsection (b) after the member or former member becomes entitled to retired pay by the percent (adjusted to the nearest one-tenth of 1 percent) equal to the difference between the percent by which—

"(1) the price index for the base quarter of that year, exceeds

"(2) the price index for the calendar quarter immediately before the calendar quarter during which the member became entitled to retired pay."

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply only to adjustments of retired and retainer pay effective after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 633. SUSPENSION OF PAYMENT OF RETIRED PAY OF MEMBERS WHO ARE ABSENT FROM THE UNITED STATES TO AVOID PROSECUTION.

(a) DEVELOPMENT OF PROCEDURES FOR SUSPENSION.—The Secretary of Defense shall develop uniform procedures under which the Secretary of a military department may suspend the payment of the retired pay of a member or former member of the Armed Forces during periods in which the member willfully remains outside the United States to avoid criminal prosecution or civil liability. The procedures shall address the types of criminal offenses and civil proceedings for which the procedures may be used, including the offenses specified in section 8312 of title 5, United States Code, and the manner by which a member, upon the return of the member to the United States, may obtain retired pay withheld during the member's absence.

(b) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—The Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report describing the procedures developed under subsection (a). The report shall include recommendations regarding changes to existing provisions of law (including section 8313 of title 5, United States Code) that the Secretary determines are necessary to fully implement the procedures.

(c) RETIRED PAY DEFINED.—For purposes of this section, the term "retired pay" means retired pay, retirement pay, retainer pay, or equivalent pay, payable under a statute to a member or former member of a uniformed service.

(d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The uniform procedures required by subsection (a) shall be developed not later than 30 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 634. NONSUBSTANTIVE RESTATEMENT OF SURVIVOR BENEFIT PLAN STATUTE.

Subchapter II of chapter 73 of title 10, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"SUBCHAPTER II—SURVIVOR BENEFIT PLAN

"Sec.

"1447. Definitions.

"1448. Application of Plan.

"1449. Mental incompetency of member.

"1450. Payment of annuity: beneficiaries.

"1451. Amount of annuity.

"1452. Reduction in retired pay.

"1453. Recovery of amounts erroneously paid.

"1454. Correction of administrative errors.

"1455. Regulations.

"§ 1447. Definitions

"In this subchapter:

"(1) PLAN.—The term 'Plan' means the Survivor Benefit Plan established by this subchapter.

"(2) STANDARD ANNUITY.—The term 'standard annuity' means an annuity provided by virtue of eligibility under section 1448(a)(1)(A) of this title.

"(3) RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITY.—The term 'reserve-component annuity' means an annuity provided by virtue of eligibility under section 1448(a)(1)(B) of this title.

"(4) RETIRED PAY.—The term 'retired pay' includes retainer pay paid under section 6330 of this title.

"(5) RESERVE-COMPONENT RETIRED PAY.—The term 'reserve-component retired pay' means retired pay under chapter 1223 of this title (or under chapter 67 of this title as in effect before the effective date of the Reserve Officer Personnel Management Act).

"(6) BASE AMOUNT.—The term 'base amount' means the following:

"(A) FULL AMOUNT UNDER STANDARD ANNUITY.—In the case of a person who dies after becoming entitled to retired pay, such term means the amount of monthly retired pay (determined without regard to any reduction under section 1409(b)(2) of this title) to which the person—

"(i) was entitled when he became eligible for that pay; or

"(ii) later became entitled by being advanced on the retired list, performing active duty, or being transferred from the temporary disability retired list to the permanent disability retired list.

"(B) FULL AMOUNT UNDER RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITY.—In the case of a person who would have become eligible for reserve-component retired pay but for the fact that he died before becoming 60 years of age, such term means the amount of monthly retired pay for which the person would have been eligible—

"(i) if he had been 60 years of age on the date of his death, for purposes of an annuity to become effective on the day after his death in accordance with a designation made under section 1448(e) of this title; or

"(ii) upon becoming 60 years of age (if he had lived to that age), for purposes of an annuity to become effective on the 60th anniversary of his birth in accordance with a designation made under section 1448(e) of this title.

"(C) REDUCED AMOUNT.—Such term means any amount less than the amount otherwise applicable under subparagraph (A) or (B) with respect to an annuity provided under the Plan but which is not less than $300 and which is designated by the person (with the concurrence of the person's spouse, if required under section 1448(a)(3) of this title) providing the annuity on or before—

"(i) the first day for which he becomes eligible for retired pay, in the case of a person providing a standard annuity, or

"(ii) the end of the 90-day period beginning on the date on which he receives the notification required by section 12731(d) of this title that he has completed the years of service required for eligibility for reserve-component retired pay, in the case of a person providing a reserve-component annuity.

"(7) WIDOW.—The term 'widow' means the surviving wife of a person who, if not married to the person at the time he became eligible for retired pay—

"(A) was married to him for at least one year immediately before his death; or

"(B) is the mother of issue by that marriage.

"(8) WIDOWER.—The term 'widower' means the surviving husband of a person who, if not married to the person at the time she became eligible for retired pay—

"(A) was married to her for at least one year immediately before her death; or

"(B) is the father of issue by that marriage.

"(9) SURVIVING SPOUSE.—The term 'surviving spouse' means a widow or widower.

"(10) FORMER SPOUSE.—The term 'former spouse' means the surviving former husband or wife of a person who is eligible to participate in the Plan.

"(11) DEPENDENT CHILD.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—The term 'dependent child' means a person who—

"(i) is unmarried;

"(ii) is (I) under 18 years of age, (II) at least 18, but under 22, years of age and pursuing a full-time course of study or training in a high school, trade school, technical or vocational institute, junior college, college, university, or comparable recognized educational institution, or (III) incapable of self support because of a mental or physical incapacity existing before the person's eighteenth birthday or incurred on or after that birthday, but before the person's twenty-second birthday, while pursuing such a full-time course of study or training; and

"(iii) is the child of a person to whom the Plan applies, including (I) an adopted child, and (II) a stepchild, foster child, or recognized natural child who lived with that person in a regular parent-child relationship.

"(B) SPECIAL RULES FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS.—For the purpose of subparagraph (A), a child whose twenty-second birthday occurs before July 1 or after August 31 of a calendar year, and while regularly pursuing such a course of study or training, is considered to have become 22 years of age on the first day of July after that birthday. A child who is a student is considered not to have ceased to be a student during an interim between school years if the interim is not more than 150 days and if the child shows to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Defense that the child has a bona fide intention of continuing to pursue a course of study or training in the same or a different school during the school semester (or other period into which the school year is divided) immediately after the interim.

"(C) FOSTER CHILDREN.—A foster child, to qualify under this paragraph as the dependent child of a person to whom the Plan applies, must, at the time of the death of that person, also reside with, and receive over one-half of his support from, that person, and not be cared for under a social agency contract. The temporary absence of a foster child from the residence of that person, while a student as described in this paragraph, shall not be considered to affect the residence of such a foster child.

"(12) COURT.—The term 'court' has the meaning given that term by section 1408(a)(1) of this title.

"(13) COURT ORDER.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—The term 'court order' means a court's final decree of divorce, dissolution, or annulment or a court ordered, ratified, or approved property settlement incident to such a decree (including a final decree modifying the terms of a previously issued decree of divorce, dissolution, annulment, or legal separation, or of a court ordered, ratified, or approved property settlement agreement incident to such previously issued decree).

"(B) FINAL DECREE.—The term 'final decree' means a decree from which no appeal may be taken or from which no appeal has been taken within the time allowed for the taking of such appeals under the laws applicable to such appeals, or a decree from which timely appeal has been taken and such appeal has been finally decided under the laws applicable to such appeals.

"(C) REGULAR ON ITS FACE.—The term 'regular on its face', when used in connection with a court order, means a court order that meets the conditions prescribed in section 1408(b)(2) of this title.

"§ 1448. Application of plan

"(a) GENERAL RULES FOR PARTICIPATION IN THE PLAN.—

"(1) NAME OF PLAN; ELIGIBLE PARTICIPANTS.—The program established by this subchapter shall be known as the Survivor Benefit Plan. The following persons are eligible to participate in the Plan:

"(A) Persons entitled to retired pay.

"(B) Persons who would be eligible for reserve-component retired pay but for the fact that they are under 60 years of age.

"(2) PARTICIPANTS IN THE PLAN.—The Plan applies to the following persons, who shall be participants in the Plan:

"(A) STANDARD ANNUITY PARTICIPANTS.—A person who is eligible to participate in the Plan under paragraph (1)(A) and who is married or has a dependent child when he becomes entitled to retired pay, unless he elects (with his spouse's concurrence, if required under paragraph (3)) not to participate in the Plan before the first day for which he is eligible for that pay.

"(B) RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITY PARTICIPANTS.—A person who (i) is eligible to participate in the Plan under paragraph (1)(B), (ii) is married or has a dependent child when he is notified under section 12731(d) of this title that he has completed the years of service required for eligibility for reserve-component retired pay, and (iii) elects to participate in the Plan (and makes a designation under subsection (e)) before the end of the 90-day period beginning on the date he receives such notification.

A person described in clauses (i) and (ii) of subparagraph (B) who does not elect to participate in the Plan before the end of the 90-day period referred to in that clause remains eligible, upon reaching 60 years of age and otherwise becoming entitled to retired pay, to participate in the Plan in accordance with eligibility under paragraph (1)(A).

"(3) ELECTIONS.—

"(A) SPOUSAL CONSENT FOR CERTAIN ELECTIONS RESPECTING STANDARD ANNUITY.—A married person who is eligible to provide a standard annuity may not without the concurrence of the person's spouse elect—

"(i) not to participate in the Plan;

"(ii) to provide an annuity for the person's spouse at less than the maximum level; or

"(iii) to provide an annuity for a dependent child but not for the person's spouse.

"(B) SPOUSAL CONSENT FOR CERTAIN ELECTIONS RESPECTING RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITY.—A married person who elects to provide a reserve-component annuity may not without the concurrence of the person's spouse elect—

"(i) to provide an annuity for the person's spouse at less than the maximum level; or

"(ii) to provide an annuity for a dependent child but not for the person's spouse.

"(C) EXCEPTION WHEN SPOUSE UNAVAILABLE.—A person may make an election described in subparagraph (A) or (B) without the concurrence of the person's spouse if the person establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary concerned—

"(i) that the spouse's whereabouts cannot be determined; or

"(ii) that, due to exceptional circumstances, requiring the person to seek the spouse's consent would otherwise be inappropriate.

"(D) CONSTRUCTION WITH FORMER SPOUSE ELECTION PROVISIONS.—This paragraph does not affect any right or obligation to elect to provide an annuity for a former spouse (or for a former spouse and dependent child) under subsection (b)(2).

"(E) NOTICE TO SPOUSE OF ELECTION TO PROVIDE FORMER SPOUSE ANNUITY.—If a married person who is eligible to provide a standard annuity elects to provide an annuity for a former spouse (or for a former spouse and dependent child) under subsection (b)(2), that person's spouse shall be notified of that election.

"(4) IRREVOCABILITY OF ELECTIONS.—

"(A) STANDARD ANNUITY.—An election under paragraph (2)(A) not to participate in the Plan is irrevocable if not revoked before the date on which the person first becomes entitled to retired pay.

"(B) RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITY.—An election under paragraph (2)(B) to participate in the Plan is irrevocable if not revoked before the end of the 90-day period referred to in that paragraph.

"(5) PARTICIPATION BY PERSON MARRYING AFTER RETIREMENT, ETC.—

"(A) ELECTION TO PARTICIPATE IN PLAN.—A person who is not married and has no dependent child upon becoming eligible to participate in the Plan but who later marries or acquires a dependent child may elect to participate in the Plan.

"(B) MANNER AND TIME OF ELECTION.—Such an election must be written, signed by the person making the election, and received by the Secretary concerned within one year after the date on which that person marries or acquires that dependent child.

"(C) LIMITATION ON REVOCATION OF ELECTION.—Such an election may not be revoked except in accordance with subsection (b)(3).

"(D) EFFECTIVE DATE OF ELECTION.—The election is effective as of the first day of the first calendar month following the month in which the election is received by the Secretary concerned.

"(E) DESIGNATION IF RCSBP ELECTION.—In the case of a person providing a reserve-component annuity, such an election shall include a designation under subsection (e).

"(6) ELECTION OUT OF PLAN BY PERSON WITH SPOUSE COVERAGE WHO REMARRIES.—

"(A) GENERAL RULE.—A person—

"(i) who is a participant in the Plan and is providing coverage under the Plan for a spouse (or a spouse and child);

"(ii) who does not have an eligible spouse beneficiary under the Plan; and

"(iii) who remarries, may elect not to provide coverage under the Plan for the person's spouse.

"(B) EFFECT OF ELECTION ON RETIRED PAY.—If such an election is made, reductions in the retired pay of that person under section 1452 of this title shall not be made.

"(C) TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF ELECTION.—An election under this paragraph—

"(i) is irrevocable;

"(ii) shall be made within one year after the person's remarriage; and

"(iii) shall be made in such form and manner as may be prescribed in regulations under section 1455 of this title.

"(D) NOTICE TO SPOUSE.—If a person makes an election under this paragraph—

"(i) not to participate in the Plan;

"(ii) to provide an annuity for the person's spouse at less than the maximum level; or

"(iii) to provide an annuity for a dependent child but not for the person's spouse, the person's spouse shall be notified of that election.

"(E) CONSTRUCTION WITH FORMER SPOUSE ELECTION PROVISIONS.—This paragraph does not affect any right or obligation to elect to provide an annuity to a former spouse under subsection (b).

"(b) INSURABLE INTEREST AND FORMER SPOUSE COVERAGE.—

"(1) COVERAGE FOR PERSON WITH INSURABLE INTEREST.—

"(A) GENERAL RULE.—A person who is not married and does not have a dependent child upon becoming eligible to participate in the Plan may elect to provide an annuity under the Plan to a natural person with an insurable interest in that person. In the case of a person providing a reserve-component annuity, such an election shall include a designation under subsection (e).

"(B) TERMINATION OF COVERAGE.—An election under subparagraph (A) for a beneficiary who is not the former spouse of the person providing the annuity may be terminated. Any such termination shall be made by a participant by the submission to the Secretary concerned of a request to discontinue participation in the Plan, and such participation in the Plan shall be discontinued effective on the first day of the first month following the month in which the request is received by the Secretary concerned. Effective on such date, the Secretary concerned shall discontinue the reduction being made in such person's retired pay on account of participation in the Plan or, in the case of a person who has been required to make deposits in the Treasury on account of participation in the Plan, such person may discontinue making such deposits effective on such date.

"(C) FORM FOR DISCONTINUATION.—A request under subparagraph (B) to discontinue participation in the Plan shall be in such form and shall contain such information as may be required under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense.

"(D) WITHDRAWAL OF REQUEST FOR DISCONTINUATION.—The Secretary concerned shall furnish promptly to each person who submits a request under subparagraph (B) to discontinue participation in the Plan a written statement of the advantages and disadvantages of participating in the Plan and the possible disadvantages of discontinuing participation. A person may withdraw the request to discontinue participation if withdrawn within 30 days after having been submitted to the Secretary concerned.

"(E) CONSEQUENCES OF DISCONTINUATION.—Once participation is discontinued, benefits may not be paid in conjunction with the earlier participation in the Plan and premiums paid may not be refunded. Participation in the Plan may not later be resumed except through a qualified election under paragraph (5) of subsection (a).

“(2) FORMER SPOUSE COVERAGE UPON BECOMING A PARTICIPANT IN THE PLAN.—

“(A) GENERAL RULE.—A person who has a former spouse upon becoming eligible to participate in the Plan may elect to provide an annuity to that former spouse.

“(B) EFFECT OF FORMER SPOUSE ELECTION ON SPOUSE OR DEPENDENT CHILD.—In the case of a person with a spouse or a dependent child, such an election prevents payment of an annuity to that spouse or child (other than a child who is a beneficiary under an election under paragraph (4)), including payment under subsection (d).

“(C) DESIGNATION IF MORE THAN ONE FORMER SPOUSE.—If there is more than one former spouse, the person shall designate which former spouse is to be provided the annuity.

“(D) DESIGNATION IF RCSBP ELECTION.—In the case of a person providing a reserve-component annuity, such an election shall include a designation under subsection (e).

“(3) FORMER SPOUSE COVERAGE BY PERSONS ALREADY PARTICIPATING IN PLAN.—

“(A) ELECTION OF COVERAGE.—

“(1) AUTHORITY FOR ELECTION.—A person—

“(I) who is a participant in the Plan and is providing coverage for a spouse or a spouse and child (even though there is no beneficiary currently eligible for such coverage), and

“(II) who has a former spouse who was not that person's former spouse when that person became eligible to participate in the Plan, may (subject to subparagraph (B)) elect to provide an annuity to that former spouse.

“(ii) TERMINATION OF PREVIOUS COVERAGE.—Any such election terminates any previous coverage under the Plan.

“(iii) MANNER AND TIME OF ELECTION.—Any such election must be written, signed by the person making the election, and received by the Secretary concerned within one year after the date of the decree of divorce, dissolution, or annulment.

“(B) LIMITATION ON ELECTION.—A person may not make an election under subparagraph (A) to provide an annuity to a former spouse who that person married after becoming eligible for retired pay unless—

“(1) the person was married to that former spouse for at least one year, or “(ii) that former spouse is the parent of issue by that marriage.

“(C) IRREVOCABILITY, EFFECTIVE DATE, ETC.—An election under this paragraph may not be revoked except in accordance with section 1450(f) of this title. Such an election is effective as of the first day of the first calendar month following the month in which it is received by the Secretary concerned. This paragraph does not provide the authority to change a designation previously made under subsection (e).

“(D) NOTICE TO SPOUSE.—If a person who is married makes an election to provide an annuity to a former spouse under this paragraph, that person's spouse shall be notified of the election.

“(4) FORMER SPOUSE AND CHILD COVERAGE.—A person who elects to provide an annuity for a former spouse under paragraph (2) or (3) may, at the time of the election, elect to provide coverage under that annuity for both the former spouse and a dependent child, if the child resulted from the person's marriage to that former spouse.

“(5) DISCLOSURE OF WHETHER ELECTION OF FORMER SPOUSE COVERAGE IS REQUIRED.—A person who elects to provide an annuity to a former spouse under paragraph (2) or (3) shall, at the time of making the election, provide the Secretary concerned with a written statement (in a form to be prescribed by that Secretary and signed by such person and the former spouse) setting forth—

“(A) whether the election is being made pursuant to the requirements of a court order; or

“(B) whether the election is being made pursuant to a written agreement previously entered into voluntarily by such person as a part of, or incident to, a proceeding of divorce, dissolution, or annulment and (if so) whether such voluntary written agreement has been incorporated in, or ratified or approved by, a court order.

“(c) PERSONS ON TEMPORARY DISABILITY RETIRED LIST.—The application of the Plan to a person whose name is on the temporary disability retired list terminates when his name is removed from that list and he is no longer entitled to disability retired pay.

“(d) COVERAGE FOR SURVIVORS OF RETIREMENT-ELIGIBLE MEMBERS WHO DIE ON ACTIVE DUTY.—

“(1) SURVIVING SPOUSE ANNUITY.—The Secretary concerned shall pay an annuity under this subchapter to the surviving spouse of a member who dies on active duty after—

“(A) becoming eligible to receive retired pay;

“(B) qualifying for retired pay except that he has not applied for or been granted that pay; or

“(C) completing 20 years of active service but before he is eligible to retire as a commissioned officer because he has not completed 10 years of active commissioned service.

“(2) DEPENDENT CHILD ANNUITY.—The Secretary concerned shall pay an annuity under this subchapter to the dependent child of a member described in paragraph (1) if there is no surviving spouse or if the member's surviving spouse subsequently dies.

“(3) MANDATORY FORMER SPOUSE ANNUITY.—If a member described in paragraph (1) is required under a court order or spousal agreement to provide an annuity to a former spouse upon becoming eligible to be a participant in the Plan or has made an election under subsection (b) to provide an annuity to a former spouse, the Secretary—

“(A) may not pay an annuity under paragraph (1) or (2); but

“(B) shall pay an annuity to that former spouse as if the member had been a participant in the Plan and had made an election under subsection (b) to provide an annuity to the former spouse, or in accordance with that election, as the case may be, if the Secretary receives a written request from the former spouse concerned that the election be deemed to have been made in the same manner as provided in section 1450(f)(3) of this title.

“(4) PRIORITY.—An annuity that may be provided under this subsection shall be provided in preference to an annuity that may be provided under any other provision of this subchapter on account of service of the same member.

“(5) COMPUTATION.—The amount of an annuity under this subsection is computed under section 1451(c) of this title.

“(e) DESIGNATION FOR COMMENCEMENT OF RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITY.—In any case in which a person electing to participate in the Plan is required to make a designation under this subsection, the person making such election shall designate whether, in the event he dies before becoming 60 years of age, the annuity provided shall become effective on—

“(1) the day after the date of his death; or

“(2) the 60th anniversary of his birth.

“(f) COVERAGE OF SURVIVORS OF PERSONS DYING WHEN ELIGIBLE TO ELECT RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITY.—

“(1) SURVIVING SPOUSE ANNUITY.—The Secretary concerned shall pay an annuity under this subchapter to the surviving spouse of a person who is eligible to provide a reserve-component annuity and who dies—

“(A) before being notified under section 12731(d) of this title that he has completed the years of service required for eligibility for reserve-component retired pay; or

“(B) during the 90-day period beginning on the date he receives notification under section 12731(d) of this title that he has completed the years of service required for eligibility for reserve-component retired pay if he had not made an election under subsection (a)(2)(B) to participate in the Plan.

“(2) DEPENDENT CHILD ANNUITY.—The Secretary concerned shall pay an annuity under this subchapter to the dependent child of a person described in paragraph (1) if there is no surviving spouse or if the person's surviving spouse subsequently dies.

“(3) MANDATORY FORMER SPOUSE ANNUITY.—If a person described in paragraph (1) is required under a court order or spousal agreement to provide an annuity to a former spouse upon becoming eligible to be a participant in the Plan or has made an election under subsection (b) to provide an annuity to a former spouse, the Secretary—

“(A) may not pay an annuity under paragraph (1) or (2); but

“(B) shall pay an annuity to that former spouse as if the person had been a participant in the Plan and had made an election under subsection (b) to provide an annuity to the former spouse, or in accordance with that election, as the case may be, if the Secretary receives a written request from the former spouse concerned that the election be deemed to have been made in the same manner as provided in section 1450(f)(3) of this title.

“(4) COMPUTATION.—The amount of an annuity under this subsection is computed under section 1451(c) of this title.

“(g) ELECTION TO INCREASE COVERAGE UPON REMARRIAGE.—

“(1) ELECTION.—A person—

“(A) who is a participant in the Plan and is providing coverage under subsection (a) for a spouse or a spouse and child, but at less than the maximum level; and

“(B) who remarries, may elect, within one year of such remarriage, to increase the level of coverage provided under the Plan to a level not in excess of the current retired pay of that person.

“(2) PAYMENT REQUIRED.—Such an election shall be contingent on the person paying to the United States the amount determined under paragraph (3) plus interest on such amount at a rate determined under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense.

“(3) AMOUNT TO BE PAID.—The amount referred to in paragraph (2) is the amount equal to the difference between—

“(A) the amount that would have been withheld from such person's retired pay under section 1452 of this title if the higher level of coverage had been in effect from the time the person became a participant in the Plan; and “(B) the amount of such person's retired pay actually withheld.

“(4) MANNER OF MAKING ELECTION.—An election under paragraph (1) shall be made in such manner as the Secretary shall prescribe and shall become effective upon receipt of the payment required by paragraph (2).

"(5) DISPOSITION OF PAYMENTS.—A payment received under this subsection by the Secretary of Defense shall be deposited into the Department of Defense Military Retirement Fund. Any other payment received under this subsection shall be deposited in the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts.

"§ 1449. Mental incompetency of member

"(a) ELECTION BY SECRETARY CONCERNED ON BEHALF OF MENTALLY INCOMPETENT MEMBER.—If a person to whom section 1448 of this title applies is determined to be mentally incompetent by medical officers of the armed force concerned or of the Department of Veterans Affairs, or by a court of competent jurisdiction, an election described in subsection (a)(2) or (b) of section 1448 of this title may be made on behalf of that person by the Secretary concerned.

"(b) REVOCATION OF ELECTION BY MEMBER.—

"(1) AUTHORITY UPON SUBSEQUENT DETERMINATION OF MENTAL COMPETENCE.—If a person for whom the Secretary has made an election under subsection (a) is later determined to be mentally competent by an authority named in that subsection, that person may, within 180 days after that determination, revoke that election.

"(2) DEDUCTIONS FROM RETIRED PAY NOT TO BE REFUNDED.—Any deduction made from retired pay by reason of such an election may not be refunded.

"§ 1450. Payment of annuity: beneficiaries

"(a) IN GENERAL.—Effective as of the first day after the death of a person to whom section 1448 of this title applies (or on such other day as that person may provide under subsection (j)), a monthly annuity under section 1451 of this title shall be paid to the person's beneficiaries under the Plan, as follows:

"(1) SURVIVING SPOUSE OR FORMER SPOUSE.—The eligible surviving spouse or the eligible former spouse.

"(2) SURVIVING CHILDREN.—The surviving dependent children in equal shares, if the eligible surviving spouse or the eligible former spouse is dead, dies, or otherwise becomes ineligible under this section.

"(3) DEPENDENT CHILDREN.—The dependent children in equal shares if the person to whom section 1448 of this title applies (with the concurrence of the person's spouse, if required under section 1448(a)(3) of this title) elected to provide an annuity for dependent children but not for the spouse or former spouse.

"(4) NATURAL PERSON DESIGNATED UNDER 'INSURABLE INTEREST' COVERAGE.—The natural person designated under section 1448(b)(1) of this title, unless the election to provide an annuity to the natural person has been changed as provided in subsection (f).

"(b) TERMINATION OF ANNUITY FOR DEATH, REMARRIAGE BEFORE AGE 55, ETC.—

"(1) GENERAL RULE.—An annuity payable to the beneficiary terminates effective as of the first day of the month in which eligibility is lost.

"(2) TERMINATION OF SPOUSE ANNUITY UPON DEATH OR REMARRIAGE BEFORE AGE 55.—An annuity for a surviving spouse or former spouse shall be paid to the surviving spouse or former spouse while the surviving spouse or former spouse is living or, if the surviving spouse or former spouse remarries before reaching age 55, until the surviving spouse or former spouse remarries.

"(3) EFFECT OF TERMINATION OF SUBSEQUENT MARRIAGE BEFORE AGE 55.—If the surviving spouse or former spouse remarries before reaching age 55 and that marriage is terminated by death, annulment, or divorce, payment of the annuity shall be resumed effective as of the first day of the month in which the marriage is so terminated. However, if the surviving spouse or former spouse is also entitled to an annuity under the Plan based upon the marriage so terminated, the surviving spouse or former spouse may not receive both annuities but must elect which to receive.

"(c) OFFSET FOR AMOUNT OF DEPENDENCY AND INDEMNITY COMPENSATION.—

"(1) REQUIRED OFFSET.—If, upon the death of a person to whom section 1448 of this title applies, the surviving spouse or former spouse of that person is also entitled to dependency and indemnity compensation under section 1311(a) of title 38, the surviving spouse or former spouse may be paid an annuity under this section, but only in the amount that the annuity otherwise payable under this section would exceed that compensation.

"(2) EFFECTIVE DATE OF OFFSET.—A reduction in an annuity under this section required by paragraph (1) shall be effective on the date of the commencement of the period of payment of such dependency and indemnity compensation under title 38.

"(d) LIMITATION ON PAYMENT OF ANNUITIES WHEN COVERAGE UNDER CIVIL SERVICE RETIREMENT ELECTED.—If, upon the death of a person to whom section 1448 of this title applies, that person had in effect a waiver of that person's retired pay for the purposes of subchapter III of chapter 83 of title 5, an annuity under this section shall not be payable unless, in accordance with section 8339(j) of title 5, that person notified the Office of Personnel Management that he did not desire any spouse surviving him to receive an annuity under section 8341(b) of that title.

"(e) REFUND OF AMOUNTS DEDUCTED FROM RETIRED PAY WHEN DIC OFFSET IS APPLICABLE.—

"(1) FULL REFUND WHEN DIC GREATER THAN SBP ANNUITY.—If an annuity under this section is not payable because of subsection (c), any amount deducted from the retired pay of the deceased under section 1452 of this title shall be refunded to the surviving spouse or former spouse.

"(2) PARTIAL REFUND WHEN SBP ANNUITY REDUCED BY DIC.—If, because of subsection (c), the annuity payable is less than the amount established under section 1451 of this title, the annuity payable shall be recalculated under that section. The amount of the reduction in the retired pay required to provide that recalculated annuity shall be computed under section 1452 of this title, and the difference between the amount deducted before the computation of that recalculated annuity and the amount that would have been deducted on the basis of that recalculated annuity shall be refunded to the surviving spouse or former spouse.

"(f) CHANGE IN ELECTION OF INSURABLE INTEREST OR FORMER SPOUSE BENEFICIARY.—

"(1) AUTHORIZED CHANGES.—

"(A) ELECTION IN FAVOR OF SPOUSE OR CHILD.—A person who elects to provide an annuity to a person designated by him under section 1448(b) of this title may, subject to paragraph (2), change that election and provide an annuity to his spouse or dependent child.

"(B) NOTICE.—The Secretary concerned shall notify the former spouse or other natural person previously designated under section 1448(b) of this title of any change of election under subparagraph (A).

"(C) PROCEDURES, EFFECTIVE DATE, ETC.—Any such change of election is subject to the same rules with respect to execution, revocation, and effectiveness as are set forth in section 1448(a)(5) of this title (without regard to the eligibility of the person making the change of election to make such an election under that section).

"(2) LIMITATION ON CHANGE IN BENEFICIARY WHEN FORMER SPOUSE COVERAGE IN EFFECT.—A person who, incident to a proceeding of divorce, dissolution, or annulment, is required by a court order to elect under section 1448(b) of this title to provide an annuity to a former spouse (or to both a former spouse and child), or who enters into a written agreement (whether voluntary or required by a court order) to make such an election, and who makes an election pursuant to such order or agreement, may not change that election under paragraph (1) unless, of the following requirements, whichever are applicable in a particular case are satisfied:

"(A) In a case in which the election is required by a court order, or in which an agreement to make the election has been incorporated in or ratified or approved by a court order, the person—

"(1) furnishes to the Secretary concerned a certified copy of a court order which is regular on its face and which modifies the provisions of all previous court orders relating to such election, or the agreement to make such election, so as to permit the person to change the election; and

"(ii) certifies to the Secretary concerned that the court order is valid and in effect.

"(B) In a case of a written agreement that has not been incorporated in or ratified or approved by a court order, the person—

"(1) furnishes to the Secretary concerned a statement, in such form as the Secretary concerned may prescribe, signed by the former spouse and evidencing the former spouse's agreement to a change in the election under paragraph (1); and

"(ii) certifies to the Secretary concerned that the statement is current and in effect.

"(3) REQUIRED FORMER SPOUSE ELECTION TO BE DEEMED TO HAVE BEEN MADE.—

"(A) DEEMED ELECTION UPON REQUEST BY FORMER SPOUSE.—If a person described in paragraph (2) or (3) of section 1448(b) of this title is required (as described in subparagraph (B)) to elect under section 1448(b) of this title to provide an annuity to a former spouse and such person then fails or refuses to make such an election, such person shall be deemed to have made such an election if the Secretary concerned receives the following:

"(1) REQUEST FROM FORMER SPOUSE.—A written request, in such manner as the Secretary shall prescribe, from the former spouse concerned requesting that such an election be deemed to have been made.

"(ii) COPY OF COURT ORDER OR OTHER OFFICIAL STATEMENT.—Either—

"(I) a copy of the court order, regular on its face, which requires such election or incorporates, ratifies, or approves the written agreement of such person; or

"(II) a statement from the clerk of the court (or other appropriate official) that such agreement has been filed with the court in accordance with applicable State law.

"(B) PERSONS REQUIRED TO MAKE ELECTION.—A person shall be considered for purposes of subparagraph (A) to be required to elect under section 1448(b) of this title to provide an annuity to a former spouse if—

"(1) the person enters, incident to a proceeding of divorce, dissolution, or annulment, into a written agreement to make such an election and the agreement (I) has been incorporated in or ratified or approved by a court order, or (II) has been filed with the court of appropriate jurisdiction in accordance with applicable State law; or

"(II) the person is required by a court order to make such an election.

"(C) TIME LIMIT FOR REQUEST BY FORMER SPOUSE.—An election may not be deemed to have been made under subparagraph (A) in the case of any person unless the Secretary concerned receives a request from the former spouse of the person within one year of the date of the court order or filing involved.

"(D) EFFECTIVE DATE OF DEEMED ELECTION.—An election deemed to have been made under subparagraph (A) shall become effective on the first day of the first month which begins after the date of the court order or filing involved.

"(4) FORMER SPOUSE COVERAGE MAY BE REQUIRED BY COURT ORDER.—A court order may require a person to elect (or to enter into an agreement to elect) under section 1448(b) of this title to provide an annuity to a former spouse (or to both a former spouse and child).

"(g) LIMITATION ON CHANGING OR REVOKING ELECTIONS.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—An election under this section may not be changed or revoked.

"(2) EXCEPTIONS.—Paragraph (1) does not apply to—

"(A) a revocation of an election under section 1449(b) of this title; or

"(B) a change in an election under subsection (f).

"(h) TREATMENT OF ANNUITIES UNDER OTHER LAWS.—Except as provided in section 1451 of this title, an annuity under this section is in addition to any other payment to which a person is entitled under any other provision of law. Such annuity shall be considered as income under laws administered by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs.

"(i) ANNUITIES EXEMPT FROM CERTAIN LEGAL PROCESS.—Except as provided in subsection (1)(3)(B), an annuity under this section is not assignable or subject to execution, levy, attachment, garnishment, or other legal process.

"(j) EFFECTIVE DATE OF RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITIES.—

"(1) PERSONS MAKING SECTION 1448(e) DESIGNATION.—An annuity elected by a person providing a reserve-component annuity shall be effective in accordance with the designation made by such person under section 1448(e) of this title.

"(2) PERSONS DYING BEFORE MAKING SECTION 1448(e) DESIGNATION.—An annuity payable under section 1448(f) of this title shall be effective on the day after the date of the death of the person upon whose service the right to the annuity is based.

"(k) ADJUSTMENT OF SPOUSE OR FORMER SPOUSE ANNUITY UPON LOSS OF DEPENDENCY AND INDEMNITY COMPENSATION.—

"(1) READJUSTMENT IF BENEFICIARY 55 YEARS OF AGE OR MORE.—If a surviving spouse or former spouse whose annuity has been adjusted under subsection (c) subsequently loses entitlement to dependency and indemnity compensation under section 1311(a) of title 38 because of the remarriage of the surviving spouse, or former spouse, and if at the time of such remarriage the surviving spouse or former spouse is 55 years of age or more, the amount of the annuity of the surviving spouse or former spouse shall be readjusted, effective on the effective date of such loss of dependency and indemnity compensation, to the amount of the annuity which would be in effect with respect to the surviving spouse or former spouse if the adjustment under subsection (c) had never been made.

"(2) REPAYMENT OF AMOUNTS PREVIOUSLY REFUNDED.—

"(A) GENERAL RULE.—A surviving spouse or former spouse whose annuity is readjusted under paragraph (1) shall repay any amount refunded under subsection (e) by reason of the adjustment under subsection (c).

"(B) INTEREST REQUIRED IF REPAYMENT NOT A LUMP SUM.—If the repayment is not made in a lump sum, the surviving spouse or former spouse shall pay interest on the amount to be repaid. Such interest shall commence on the date on which the first such payment is due and shall be applied over the period during which any part of the repayment remains to be paid.

"(C) MANNER OF REPAYMENT; RATE OF INTEREST.—The manner in which such repayment shall be made, and the rate of any such interest, shall be prescribed in regulations under section 1455 of this title.

"(D) DEPOSIT OF AMOUNTS REPAID.—An amount repaid under this paragraph (including any such interest) received by the Secretary of Defense shall be deposited into the Department of Defense Military Retirement Fund. Any other amount repaid under this paragraph shall be deposited into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts.

"(1) PARTICIPANTS IN THE PLAN WHO ARE MISSING.—

"(1) AUTHORITY TO PRESUME DEATH OF MISSING PARTICIPANT.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—Upon application of the beneficiary of a participant in the Plan who is missing, the Secretary concerned may determine for purposes of this subchapter that the participant is presumed dead.

"(B) PARTICIPANT WHO IS MISSING.—A participant in the Plan is considered to be missing for purposes of this subsection if—

"(i) the retired pay of the participant has been suspended on the basis that the participant is missing; or

"(ii) in the case of a participant in the Plan who would be eligible for reserve-component retired pay but for the fact that he is under 60 years of age, his retired pay, if he were entitled to retired pay, would be suspended on the basis that he is missing.

"(C) REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO PRESUMPTION OF DEATH.—Any such determination shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed under section 1455 of this title. The Secretary concerned may not make a determination for purposes of this subchapter that a participant who is missing is presumed dead unless the Secretary finds that—"(i) the participant has been missing for at least 30 days; and

"(ii) the circumstances under which the participant is missing would lead a reasonably prudent person to conclude that the participant is dead.

"(2) COMMENCEMENT OF ANNUITY.—Upon a determination under paragraph (1) with respect to a participant in the Plan, an annuity otherwise payable under this subchapter shall be paid as if the participant died on the date as of which the retired pay of the participant was suspended.

"(3) EFFECT OF PERSON NOT BEING DEAD.—

"(A) TERMINATION OF ANNUITY.—If, after a determination under paragraph (1), the Secretary concerned determines that the participant is alive—

"(i) any annuity being paid under this subchapter by reason of this subsection shall be terminated; and

"(ii) the total amount of any annuity payments made by reason of this subsection shall constitute a debt to the United States.

"(B) COLLECTION FROM PARTICIPANT OF ANNUITY AMOUNTS ERRONEOUSLY PAID.—A debt under subparagraph (A)(ii) may be collected or offset—

"(i) from any retired pay otherwise payable to the participant;

"(ii) if the participant is entitled to compensation under chapter 11 of title 38, from that compensation; or

"(iii) if the participant is entitled to any other payment from the United States, from that payment.

"(C) COLLECTION FROM BENEFICIARY.—If the participant dies before the full recovery of the amount of annuity payments described in subparagraph (A)(ii) has been made by the United States, the remaining amount of such annuity payments may be collected from the participant's beneficiary under the Plan if that beneficiary was the recipient of the annuity payments made by reason of this subsection.

"§ 1451. Amount of annuity

"(a) COMPUTATION OF ANNUITY FOR A SPOUSE, FORMER SPOUSE, OR CHILD.—

"(1) STANDARD ANNUITY.—In the case of a standard annuity provided to a beneficiary under section 1450(a) of this title (other than under section 1450(a)(4)), the monthly annuity payable to the beneficiary shall be determined as follows:

"(A) BENEFICIARY UNDER 62 YEARS OF AGE.—If the beneficiary is under 62 years of age or is a dependent child when becoming entitled to the annuity, the monthly annuity shall be the amount equal to 55 percent of the base amount.

"(B) BENEFICIARY 62 YEARS OF AGE OR OLDER.—

"(i) GENERAL RULE.—If the beneficiary (other than a dependent child) is 62 years of age or older when becoming entitled to the annuity, the monthly annuity shall be the amount equal to 35 percent of the base amount.

"(ii) RULE IF BENEFICIARY ELIGIBLE FOR SOCIAL SECURITY OFFSET COMPUTATION.—If the beneficiary is eligible to have the annuity computed under subsection (e) and if, at the time the beneficiary becomes entitled to the annuity, computation of the annuity under that subsection is more favorable to the beneficiary than computation under clause (i), the annuity shall be computed under that subsection rather than under clause (i).

"(2) RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITY.—In the case of a reserve-component annuity provided to a beneficiary under section 1450(a) of this title (other than under section 1450(a)(4)), the monthly annuity payable to the beneficiary shall be determined as follows:

"(A) BENEFICIARY UNDER 62 YEARS OF AGE.—If the beneficiary is under 62 years of age or is a dependent child when becoming entitled to the annuity, the monthly annuity shall be the amount equal to a percentage of the base amount that—

"(i) is less than 55 percent; and

"(ii) is determined under subsection (f).

"(B) BENEFICIARY 62 YEARS OF AGE OR OLDER.—

"(i) GENERAL RULE.—If the beneficiary (other than a dependent child) is 62 years of age or older when becoming entitled to the annuity, the monthly annuity shall be the amount equal to a percentage of the base amount that—

"(I) is less than 35 percent; and

"(II) is determined under subsection (f).

"(ii) RULE IF BENEFICIARY ELIGIBLE FOR SOCIAL SECURITY OFFSET COMPUTATION.—If the beneficiary is eligible to have the annuity computed under subsection (e) and if, at the time the beneficiary becomes entitled to the annuity, computation of the annuity under that subsection is more favorable to the beneficiary than computation under clause (1), the annuity shall be computed under that subsection rather than under clause (1).

“(b) INSURABLE INTEREST BENEFICIARY.—

“(1) STANDARD ANNUITY.—In the case of a standard annuity provided to a beneficiary under section 1450(a)(4) of this title, the monthly annuity payable to the beneficiary shall be the amount equal to 55 percent of the retired pay of the person who elected to provide the annuity after the reduction in that pay in accordance with section 1452(c) of this title.

“(2) RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITY.—In the case of a reserve-component annuity provided to a beneficiary under section 1450(a)(4) of this title, the monthly annuity payable to the beneficiary shall be the amount equal to a percentage of the retired pay of the person who elected to provide the annuity after the reduction in such pay in accordance with section 1452(c) of this title that—

“(A) is less than 55 percent; and “(B) is determined under subsection (f).

“(3) COMPUTATION OF RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITY WHEN PARTICIPANT DIES BEFORE AGE 60.—For the purposes of paragraph (2), a person—

“(A) who provides an annuity that is determined in accordance with that paragraph;

“(B) who dies before becoming 60 years of age; and “(C) who at the time of death is otherwise entitled to retired pay, shall be considered to have been entitled to retired pay at the time of death. The retired pay of such person for the purposes of such paragraph shall be computed on the basis of the rates of basic pay in effect on the date on which the annuity provided by such person is to become effective in accordance with the designation of such person under section 1448(e) of this title.

“(c) ANNUITIES FOR SURVIVORS OF CERTAIN PERSONS DYING DURING A PERIOD OF SPECIAL ELIGIBILITY FOR SBP.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—In the case of an annuity provided under section 1448(d) or 1448(f) of this title, the amount of the annuity shall be determined as follows:

“(A) BENEFICIARY UNDER 62 YEARS OF AGE.—If the person receiving the annuity is under 62 years of age or is a dependent child when the member or former member dies, the monthly annuity shall be the amount equal to 55 percent of the retired pay to which the member or former member would have been entitled if the member or former member had been entitled to that pay based upon his years of active service when he died.

“(B) BENEFICIARY 62 YEARS OF AGE OR OLDER.—

“(i) GENERAL RULE.—If the person receiving the annuity (other than a dependent child) is 62 years of age or older when the member or former member dies, the monthly annuity shall be the amount equal to 35 percent of the retired pay to which the member or former member would have been entitled if the member or former member had been entitled to that pay based upon his years of active service when he died.

“(ii) RULE IF BENEFICIARY ELIGIBLE FOR SOCIAL SECURITY OFFSET COMPUTATION.—If the beneficiary is eligible to have the annuity computed under subsection (e) and if, at the time the beneficiary becomes entitled to the annuity, computation of the annuity under that subsection is more favorable to the beneficiary than computation under clause (1), the annuity shall be computed under that subsection rather than under clause (1).

“(2) DIC OFFSET.—An annuity computed under paragraph (1) that is paid to a surviving spouse shall be reduced by the amount of dependency and indemnity compensation to which the surviving spouse is entitled under section 1311(a) of title 38. Any such reduction shall be effective on the date of the commencement of the period of payment of such compensation under title 38.

“(3) SERVICEMEMBERS NOT YET GRANTED RETIRED PAY.—In the case of an annuity provided by reason of the service of a member described in section 1448(d)(1)(B) or 1448(d)(1)(C) of this title who first became a member of a uniformed service before September 8, 1980, the retired pay to which the member would have been entitled when he died shall be determined for purposes of paragraph (1) based upon the rate of basic pay in effect at the time of death for the grade in which the member was serving at the time of death, unless (as determined by the Secretary concerned) the member would have been entitled to be retired in a higher grade.

“(4) RATE OF PAY TO BE USED IN COMPUTING ANNUITY.—In the case of an annuity paid under section 1448(f) of this title by reason of the service of a person who first became a member of a uniformed service before September 8, 1980, the retired pay of the person providing the annuity shall for the purposes of paragraph (1) be computed on the basis of the rates of basic pay in effect on the effective date of the annuity.

“(d) REDUCTION OF ANNUITIES AT AGE 62.—

“(1) REDUCTION REQUIRED.—The annuity of a person whose annuity is computed under subparagraph (A) of subsection (a)(1), (a)(2), or (c)(1) shall be reduced on the first day of the month after the month in which the person becomes 62 years of age.

“(2) AMOUNT OF ANNUITY AS REDUCED.—

“(A) 35 PERCENT ANNUITY.—Except as provided in subparagraph (B), the reduced amount of the annuity shall be the amount of the annuity that the person would be receiving on that date if the annuity had initially been computed under subparagraph (B) of that subsection.

“(B) SAVINGS PROVISION FOR BENEFICIARIES ELIGIBLE FOR SOCIAL SECURITY OFFSET COMPUTATION.—In the case of a person eligible to have an annuity computed under subsection (e) and for whom, at the time the person becomes 62 years of age, the annuity computed with a reduction under subsection (e)(3) is more favorable than the annuity with a reduction described in subparagraph (A), the reduction in the annuity shall be computed in the same manner as a reduction under subsection (e)(3).

“(e) SAVINGS PROVISION FOR CERTAIN BENEFICIARIES.—

“(1) PERSONS COVERED.—The following beneficiaries under the Plan are eligible to have an annuity under the Plan computed under this subsection:

“(A) A beneficiary receiving an annuity under the Plan on October 1, 1985, as the surviving spouse or former spouse of the person providing the annuity.

“(B) A spouse or former spouse beneficiary of a person who on October 1, 1985—

“(i) was a participant in the Plan;

“(ii) was entitled to retired pay or was qualified for that pay except that he had not applied for and been granted that pay; or “(iii) would have been eligible for reserve-component retired pay but for the fact that he was under 60 years of age.

“(2) AMOUNT OF ANNUITY.—Subject to paragraph (3), an annuity computed under this subsection is determined as follows:

“(A) STANDARD ANNUITY.—In the case of the beneficiary of a standard annuity, the annuity shall be the amount equal to 55 percent of the base amount.

“(B) RESERVE COMPONENT ANNUITY.—In the case of the beneficiary of a reserve-component annuity, the annuity shall be the percentage of the base amount that—

“(i) is less than 55 percent; and

“(ii) is determined under subsection (f).

“(C) BENEFICIARIES OF PERSONS DYING DURING A PERIOD OF SPECIAL ELIGIBILITY FOR SBP.—In the case of the beneficiary of an annuity under section 1448(d) or 1448(f) of this title, the annuity shall be the amount equal to 55 percent of the retired pay of the person providing the annuity (as that pay is determined under subsection (c)).

“(3) SOCIAL SECURITY OFFSET.—An annuity computed under this subsection shall be reduced by the lesser of the following:

“(A) SOCIAL SECURITY COMPUTATION.—The amount of the survivor benefit, if any, to which the surviving spouse (or the former spouse, in the case of a former spouse beneficiary who became a former spouse under a divorce that became final after November 29, 1989) would be entitled under title II of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 401 et seq.) based solely upon service by the person concerned as described in section 210(1)(1) of such Act (42 U.S.C. 410(1)(1)) and calculated assuming that the person concerned lives to age 65.

“(B) MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF REDUCTION.—40 percent of the amount of the monthly annuity as determined under paragraph (2).

“(4) SPECIAL RULES FOR SOCIAL SECURITY OFFSET COMPUTATION.—

“(A) TREATMENT OF DEDUCTIONS MADE ON ACCOUNT OF WORK.—For the purpose of paragraph (3), a surviving spouse (or a former spouse, in the case of a person who becomes a former spouse under a divorce that becomes final after November 29, 1989) shall not be considered as entitled to a benefit under title II of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 401 et seq.) to the extent that such benefit has been offset by deductions under section 203 of such Act (42 U.S.C. 403) on account of work.

“(B) TREATMENT OF CERTAIN PERIODS FOR WHICH SOCIAL SECURITY REFUNDS ARE MADE.—In the computation of any reduction made under paragraph (3), there shall be excluded any period of service described in section 210(1)(1) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 410(1)(1))—

“(i) which was performed after December 1, 1980; and “(ii) which involved periods of service of less than 30 continuous days for which the person concerned is entitled to receive a refund under section 6413(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 of the social security tax which the person had paid.

“(f) DETERMINATION OF PERCENTAGES APPLICABLE TO COMPUTATION OF RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITIES.—The percentage to be applied in determining the amount of an annuity computed under subsection (a)(2), (b)(2), or (e)(2)(B) shall be determined under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense. Such regulations shall be prescribed taking into consideration the following:

“(1) The age of the person electing to provide the annuity at the time of such election.

“(2) The difference in age between such person and the beneficiary of the annuity.

“(3) Whether such person provided for the annuity to become effective (in the event he died before becoming 60 years of age) on the day after his death or on the 60th anniversary of his birth.

"(4) Appropriate group annuity tables.

"(5) Such other factors as the Secretary considers relevant.

"(g) ADJUSTMENTS TO ANNUITIES.—

"(1) PERIODIC ADJUSTMENTS FOR COST-OF-LIVING.—

"(A) INCREASES IN ANNUITIES WHEN RETIRED PAY INCREASED.—Whenever retired pay is increased under section 1401a of this title (or any other provision of law), each annuity that is payable under the Plan shall be increased at the same time.

"(B) PERCENTAGE OF INCREASE.—The increase shall, in the case of any annuity, be by the same percent as the percent by which the retired pay of the person providing the annuity would have been increased at such time if the person were alive (and otherwise entitled to such pay).

"(C) CERTAIN REDUCTIONS TO BE DISREGARDED.—The amount of the increase shall be based on the monthly annuity payable before any reduction under section 1450(c) of this title or under subsection (c)(2).

"(2) ROUNDING DOWN.—The monthly amount of an annuity payable under this subchapter, if not a multiple of $1, shall be rounded to the next lower multiple of $1.

"(h) ADJUSTMENTS TO BASE AMOUNT.—

"(1) PERIODIC ADJUSTMENTS FOR COST-OF-LIVING.—

"(A) INCREASES IN BASE AMOUNT WHEN RETIRED PAY INCREASED.—Whenever retired pay is increased under section 1401a of this title (or any other provision of law), the base amount applicable to each participant in the Plan shall be increased at the same time.

"(B) PERCENTAGE OF INCREASE.—The increase shall be by the same percent as the percent by which the retired pay of the participant is so increased.

"(2) RECOMPUTATION AT AGE 62.—When the retired pay of a person who first became a member of a uniformed service on or after August 1, 1986, and who is a participant in the Plan is recomputed under section 1410 of this title upon the person's becoming 62 years of age, the base amount applicable to that person shall be recomputed (effective on the effective date of the recomputation of such retired pay under section 1410 of this title) so as to be the amount equal to the amount of the base amount that would be in effect on that date if increases in such base amount under paragraph (1) had been computed as provided in paragraph (2) of section 1401a(b) of this title (rather than under paragraph (3) of that section).

"(3) DISREGARDING OF RETIRED PAY REDUCTIONS FOR RETIREMENT BEFORE 30 YEARS OF SERVICE.—Computation of a member's retired pay for purposes of this section shall be made without regard to any reduction under section 1409(b)(2) of this title.

"(i) RECOMPUTATION OF ANNUITY FOR CERTAIN BENEFICIARIES.—In the case of an annuity under the Plan which is computed on the basis of the retired pay of a person who would have been entitled to have that retired pay recomputed under section 1410 of this title upon attaining 62 years of age, but who dies before attaining that age, the annuity shall be recomputed, effective on the first day of the first month beginning after the date on which the member or former member would have attained 62 years of age, so as to be the amount equal to the amount of the annuity that would be in effect on that date if increases under subsection (h)(1) in the base amount applicable to that annuity to the time of the death of the member or former member, and increases in such annuity under subsection (g)(1), had been computed as provided in paragraph (2) of section 1401a(b) of this title (rather than under paragraph (3) of that section).

"§ 1452. Reduction in retired pay

"(a) SPOUSE AND FORMER SPOUSE ANNUITIES.—

"(1) REQUIRED REDUCTION IN RETIRED PAY.—Except as provided in subsection (b), the retired pay of a participant in the Plan who is providing spouse coverage (as described in paragraph (5)) shall be reduced as follows:

"(A) STANDARD ANNUITY.—If the annuity coverage being provided is a standard annuity, the reduction shall be as follows:

"(i) DISABILITY AND NONREGULAR SERVICE RETIREES.—In the case of a person who is entitled to retired pay under chapter 61 or chapter 1223 of this title, the reduction shall be in whichever of the alternative reduction amounts is more favorable to that person.

"(ii) MEMBERS AS OF ENACTMENT OF FLAT-RATE REDUCTION.—In the case of a person who first became a member of a uniformed service before March 1, 1990, the reduction shall be in whichever of the alternative reduction amounts is more favorable to that person.

"(iii) NEW ENTRANTS AFTER ENACTMENT OF FLAT-RATE REDUCTION.—In the case of a person who first becomes a member of a uniformed service on or after March 1, 1990, and who is entitled to retired pay under a provision of law other than chapter 61 or chapter 1223 of this title, the reduction shall be in an amount equal to 6½ percent of the base amount.

"(iv) ALTERNATIVE REDUCTION AMOUNTS.—For purposes of clauses (i) and (ii), the alternative reduction amounts are the following:

"(I) FLAT-RATE REDUCTION.—An amount equal to 6½ percent of the base amount.

"(II) AMOUNT UNDER PRE-FLAT-RATE REDUCTION.—An amount equal to 2½ percent of the first $337 (as adjusted after November 1, 1989, under paragraph (4)) of the base amount plus 10 percent of the remainder of the base amount.

"(B) RESERVE-COMPONENT ANNUITY.—If the annuity coverage being provided is a reserve-component annuity, the reduction shall be in whichever of the following amounts is more favorable to that person:

"(i) FLAT-RATE REDUCTION.—An amount equal to 6½ percent of the base amount plus an amount determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense as a premium for the additional coverage provided through reserve-component annuity coverage under the Plan.

"(ii) AMOUNT UNDER PRE-FLAT-RATE REDUCTION.—An amount equal to 2½ percent of the first $337 (as adjusted after November 1, 1989, under paragraph (4)) of the base amount plus 10 percent of the remainder of the base amount plus an amount determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense as a premium for the additional coverage provided through reserve-component annuity coverage under the Plan.

"(2) ADDITIONAL REDUCTION FOR CHILD COVERAGE.—If there is a dependent child as well as a spouse or former spouse, the amount prescribed under paragraph (1) shall be increased by an amount prescribed under regulations of the Secretary of Defense.

"(3) NO REDUCTION WHEN NO BENEFICIARY.—The reduction in retired pay prescribed by paragraph (1) shall not be applicable during any month in which there is no eligible spouse or former spouse beneficiary.

"(4) PERIODIC ADJUSTMENTS.—

"(A) ADJUSTMENTS FOR INCREASES IN RATES OF BASIC PAY.—Whenever there is an increase in the rates of basic pay of members of the uniformed services effective on or after October 1, 1985, the amounts under paragraph (1) with respect to which the percentage factor of 2½ is applied shall be increased by the overall percentage of such increase in the rates of basic pay. The increase under the preceding sentence shall apply only with respect to persons whose retired pay is computed based on the rates of basic pay in effect on or after the date of such increase in rates of basic pay.

"(B) ADJUSTMENTS FOR RETIRED PAY COLAS.—In addition to the increase under subparagraph (A), the amounts under paragraph (1) with respect to which the percentage factor of 2½ is applied shall be further increased at the same time and by the same percentage as an increase in retired pay under section 1401a of this title effective on or after October 1, 1985. Such increase under the preceding sentence shall apply only with respect to a person who initially participates in the Plan on a date which is after both the effective date of such increase under section 1401a and the effective date of the rates of basic pay upon which that person's retired pay is computed.

"(5) SPOUSE COVERAGE DESCRIBED.—For the purposes of paragraph (1), a participant in the Plan who is providing spouse coverage is a participant who—

"(A) has (i) a spouse or former spouse, or (ii) a spouse or former spouse and a dependent child; and

"(B) has not elected to provide an annuity to a person designated by him under section 1448(b)(1) of this title or, having made such an election, has changed his election in favor of his spouse under section 1450(f) of this title.

"(b) CHILD-ONLY ANNUITIES.—

"(1) REQUIRED REDUCTION IN RETIRED PAY.—The retired pay of a participant in the Plan who is providing child-only coverage (as described in paragraph (4)) shall be reduced by an amount prescribed under regulations by the Secretary of Defense.

"(2) NO REDUCTION WHEN NO CHILD.—There shall be no reduction in retired pay under paragraph (1) for any month during which the participant has no eligible dependent child.

"(3) SPECIAL RULE FOR CERTAIN RCSBP PARTICIPANTS.—In the case of a participant in the Plan who is participating in the Plan under an election under section 1448(a)(2)(B) of this title and who provided child-only coverage during a period before the participant becomes entitled to receive retired pay, the retired pay of the participant shall be reduced by an amount prescribed under regulations by the Secretary of Defense to reflect the coverage provided under the Plan during the period before the participant became entitled to receive retired pay. A reduction under this paragraph is in addition to any reduction under paragraph (1) and is made without regard to whether there is an eligible dependent child during a month for which the reduction is made.

"(4) CHILD-ONLY COVERAGE DEFINED.—For the purposes of this subsection, a participant in the Plan who is providing child-only coverage is a participant who has a dependent child and who—

"(A) does not have an eligible spouse or former spouse; or

"(B) has a spouse or former spouse but has elected to provide an annuity for dependent children only.

"(c) REDUCTION FOR INSURABLE INTEREST COVERAGE.—

"(1) REQUIRED REDUCTION IN RETIRED PAY.—The retired pay of a person who has elected to provide an annuity to a person designated by him under section 1450(a)(4) of this title shall be reduced as follows:

"(A) STANDARD ANNUITY.—In the case of a person providing a standard annuity, the reduction shall be by 10 percent plus 5 percent for each full five years the individual designated is younger than that person.

"(B) RESERVE COMPONENT ANNUITY.—In the case of a person providing a reserve-component annuity, the reduction shall be by an amount prescribed under regulations of the Secretary of Defense.

"(2) LIMITATION ON TOTAL REDUCTION.—The total reduction under paragraph (1) may not exceed 40 percent.

"(3) DURATION OF REDUCTION.—The reduction in retired pay prescribed by this subsection shall continue during the lifetime of the person designated under section 1450(a)(4) of this title or until the person receiving retired pay changes his election under section 1450(f) of this title.

"(4) RULE FOR COMPUTATION.—Computation of a member's retired pay for purposes of this subsection shall be made without regard to any reduction under section 1409(b)(2) of this title.

"(d) DEPOSITS TO COVER PERIODS WHEN RETIRED PAY NOT PAID.—

"(1) REQUIRED DEPOSITS.—If a person who has elected to participate in the Plan has been awarded retired pay and is not entitled to that pay for any period, that person must deposit in the Treasury the amount that would otherwise have been deducted from his pay for that period.

"(2) DEPOSITS NOT REQUIRED WHEN PARTICIPANT ON ACTIVE DUTY.—Paragraph (1) does not apply to a person with respect to any period when that person is on active duty under a call or order to active duty for a period of more than 30 days.

"(e) DEPOSITS NOT REQUIRED FOR CERTAIN PARTICIPANTS IN CSRS.—When a person who has elected to participate in the Plan waives that person's retired pay for the purposes of subchapter III of chapter 83 of title 5, that person shall not be required to make the deposit otherwise required by subsection (d) as long as that waiver is in effect unless, in accordance with section 8339(i) of title 5, that person has notified the Office of Personnel Management that he does not desire a spouse surviving him to receive an annuity under section 8331(b) of title 5.

"(f) REFUNDS OF DEDUCTIONS NOT ALLOWED.—

"(1) GENERAL RULE.—A person is not entitled to refund of any amount deducted from retired pay under this section.

"(2) EXCEPTIONS.—Paragraph (1) does not apply—

"(A) in the case of a refund authorized by section 1450(e) of this title; or

"(B) in case of a deduction made through administrative error.

"(g) DISCONTINUATION OF PARTICIPATION BY PARTICIPANTS WHOSE SURVIVING SPOUSES WILL BE ENTITLED TO DIC.—

"(1) DISCONTINUATION.—

"(A) CONDITIONS.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this subchapter but subject to paragraphs (2) and (3), a person who has elected to participate in the Plan and who is suffering from a service-connected disability rated by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs as totally disabling and has suffered from such disability while so rated for a continuous period of 10 or more years (or, if so rated for a lesser period, has suffered from such disability while so rated for a continuous period of not less than 5 years from the date of such person's last discharge or release from active duty) may discontinue participation in the Plan by submitting to the Secretary concerned a request to discontinue participation in the Plan.

"(B) EFFECTIVE DATE.—Participation in the Plan of a person who submits a request under subparagraph (A) shall be discontinued effective on the first day of the first month following the month in which the request under subparagraph (A) is received by the Secretary concerned. Effective on such date, the Secretary concerned shall discontinue the reduction being made in such person's retired pay on account of participation in the Plan or, in the case of a person who has been required to make deposits in the Treasury on account of participation in the Plan, such person may discontinue making such deposits effective on such date.

"(C) FORM FOR REQUEST FOR DISCONTINUATION.—Any request under this paragraph to discontinue participation in the Plan shall be in such form and shall contain such information as the Secretary concerned may require by regulation.

"(2) CONSENT OF BENEFICIARIES REQUIRED.—A person described in paragraph (1) may not discontinue participation in the Plan under such paragraph without the written consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries of such person under the Plan.

"(3) INFORMATION ON PLAN TO BE PROVIDED BY SECRETARY CONCERNED.—

"(A) INFORMATION TO BE PROVIDED PROMPTLY TO PARTICIPANT.—The Secretary concerned shall furnish promptly to each person who files a request under paragraph (1) to discontinue participation in the Plan a written statement of the advantages of participating in the Plan and the possible disadvantages of discontinuing participation.

"(B) RIGHT TO WITHDRAW DISCONTINUATION REQUEST.—A person may withdraw a request made under paragraph (1) if it is withdrawn within 30 days after having been submitted to the Secretary concerned.

"(4) REFUND OF DEDUCTIONS FROM RETIRED PAY.—Upon the death of a person described in paragraph (1) who discontinued participation in the Plan in accordance with this subsection, any amount deducted from the retired pay of that person under this section shall be refunded to the person's surviving spouse.

"(5) RESUMPTION OF PARTICIPATION IN PLAN.—

"(A) CONDITIONS FOR RESUMPTION.—A person described in paragraph (1) who discontinued participation in the Plan may elect to participate again in the Plan if—

"(i) after having discontinued participation in the Plan the Secretary of Veterans Affairs reduces that person's service-connected disability rating to a rating of less than total; and

"(ii) that person applies to the Secretary concerned, within such period of time after the reduction in such person's service-connected disability rating has been made as the Secretary concerned may prescribe, to again participate in the Plan and includes in such application such information as the Secretary concerned may require.

"(B) EFFECTIVE DATE OF RESUMED COVERAGE.—Such person's participation in the Plan under this paragraph is effective beginning on the first day of the month after the month in which the Secretary concerned receives the application for resumption of participation in the Plan.

"(C) RESUMPTION OF CONTRIBUTIONS.—When a person elects to participate in the Plan under this paragraph, the Secretary concerned shall begin making reductions in that person's retired pay, or require such person to make deposits in the Treasury under subsection (d), as appropriate, effective on the effective date of such participation under subparagraph (B).

"(h) INCREASES IN REDUCTION WITH INCREASES IN RETIRED PAY.—

"(1) GENERAL RULE.—Whenever retired pay is increased under section 1401a of this title (or any other provision of law), the amount of the reduction to be made under subsection (a) or (b) in the retired pay of any person shall be increased at the same time and by the same percentage as such retired pay is so increased.

"(i) RECOMPUTATION OF REDUCTION UPON RECOMPUTATION OF RETIRED PAY.—When the retired pay of a person who first became a member of a uniformed service on or after August 1, 1986, and who is a participant in the Plan is recomputed under section 1410 of this title upon the person's becoming 62 years of age, the amount of the reduction in such retired pay under this section shall be recomputed (effective on the effective date of the recomputation of such retired pay under section 1410 of this title) so as to be the amount equal to the amount of such reduction that would be in effect on that date if increases in such retired pay under section 1401a(b) of this title, and increases in reductions in such retired pay under subsection (h), had been computed as provided in paragraph (2) of section 1401a(b) of this title (rather than under paragraph (3) of that section).

"§ 1453. Recovery of amounts erroneously paid

"(a) RECOVERY.—In addition to any other method of recovery provided by law, the Secretary concerned may authorize the recovery of any amount erroneously paid to a person under this subchapter by deduction from later payments to that person.

"(b) AUTHORITY TO WAIVE RECOVERY.—Recovery of an amount erroneously paid to a person under this subchapter is not required if, in the judgment of the Secretary concerned and the Comptroller General—

"(1) there has been no fault by the person to whom the amount was erroneously paid; and

"(2) recovery of such amount would be contrary to the purposes of this subchapter or against equity and good conscience.

"§ 1454. Correction of administrative errors

"(a) AUTHORITY.—The Secretary concerned may, under regulations prescribed under section 1455 of this title, correct or revoke any election under this subchapter when the Secretary considers it necessary to correct an administrative error.

"(b) FINALITY.—Except when procured by fraud, a correction or revocation under this section is final and conclusive on all officers of the United States.

"§ 1455. Regulations

"(a) IN GENERAL.—The President shall prescribe regulations to carry out this subchapter. Those regulations shall, so far as practicable, be uniform for the uniformed services.

"(b) NOTICE OF ELECTIONS.—Regulations prescribed under this section shall provide that before the date on which a member becomes entitled to retired pay—

"(1) if the member is married, the member and the member's spouse shall be informed of the elections available under section 1448(a) of this title and the effects of such elections; and

"(2) if the notification referred to in section 1448(a)(3)(E) of this title is required, any former spouse of the member shall be informed of the elections available and the effects of such elections.

"(c) PROCEDURE FOR DEPOSITING CERTAIN RECEIPTS.—Regulations prescribed under this section shall establish procedures for depositing the amounts referred to in sections 1448(g), 1450(k)(2), and 1452(d) of this title.

"(d) PAYMENTS TO GUARDIANS AND FIDUCIARIES.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—Regulations prescribed under this section shall provide procedures for the payment of an annuity under this subchapter in the case of—

"(A) a person for whom a guardian or other fiduciary has been appointed; and

"(B) a minor, mentally incompetent, or otherwise legally disabled person for whom a guardian or other fiduciary has not been appointed.

"(2) AUTHORIZED PROCEDURES.—The regulations under paragraph (1) may include provisions for the following:

"(A) In the case of an annuitant referred to in paragraph (1)(A), payment of the annuity to the appointed guardian or other fiduciary.

"(B) In the case of an annuitant referred to in paragraph (1)(B), payment of the annuity to any person who, in the judgment of the Secretary concerned, is responsible for the care of the annuitant.

"(C) Subject to subparagraphs (D) and (E), a requirement for the payee of an annuity to spend or invest the amounts paid on behalf of the annuitant solely for benefit of the annuitant.

"(D) Authority for the Secretary concerned to permit the payee to withhold from the annuity payment such amount, not in excess of 4 percent of the annuity, as the Secretary concerned considers a reasonable fee for the fiduciary services of the payee when a court appointment order provides for payment of such a fee to the payee for such services or the Secretary concerned determines that payment of a fee to such payee is necessary in order to obtain the fiduciary services of the payee.

"(E) Authority for the Secretary concerned to require the payee to provide a surety bond in an amount sufficient to protect the interests of the annuitant and to pay for such bond out of the annuity.

"(F) A requirement for the payee of an annuity to maintain and, upon request, to provide to the Secretary concerned an accounting of expenditures and investments of amounts paid to the payee.

"(G) In the case of an annuitant referred to in paragraph (1)(B)—

"(i) procedures for determining incompetency and for selecting a payee to represent the annuitant for the purposes of this section, including provisions for notifying the annuitant of the actions being taken to make such a determination and to select a representative payee, an opportunity for the annuitant to review the evidence being considered, and an opportunity for the annuitant to submit additional evidence before the determination is made; and

"(ii) standards for determining incompetency, including standards for determining the sufficiency of medical evidence and other evidence.

"(H) Provisions for any other matter that the President considers appropriate in connection with the payment of an annuity in the case of a person referred to in paragraph (1).

"(3) LEGAL EFFECT OF PAYMENT TO GUARDIAN OR FIDUCIARY.—An annuity paid to a person on behalf of an annuitant in accordance with the regulations prescribed pursuant to paragraph (1) discharges the obligation of the United States for payment to the annuitant of the amount of the annuity so paid."

SEC. 635. INCREASES IN SURVIVOR BENEFIT PLAN CONTRIBUTIONS TO BE EFFECTIVE CONCURRENTLY WITH PAYMENT OF RETIRED PAY COST-OF-LIVING INCREASES.

(a) SURVIVOR BENEFIT PLAN.—Section 1452(h) of title 10, United States Code, as amended by section 634, is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(2) COORDINATION WHEN PAYMENT OF INCREASE IN RETIRED PAY IS DELAYED BY LAW.—

"(A) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding paragraph (1), when the initial payment of an increase in retired pay under section 1401a of this title (or any other provision of law) to a person is for a month that begins later than the effective date of that increase by reason of the application of subsection (b)(2)(B) of such section (or section 631(b) of Public Law 104-106 (110 Stat. 364)), then the amount of the reduction in the person's retired pay shall be effective on the date of that initial payment of the increase in retired pay rather than the effective date of the increase in retired pay.

"(B) DELAY NOT TO AFFECT COMPUTATION OF ANNUITY.—Subparagraph (A) may not be construed as delaying, for purposes of determining the amount of a monthly annuity under section 1451 of this title, the effective date of an increase in a base amount under subsection (h) of such section from the effective date of an increase in retired pay under section 1401a of this title to the date on which the initial payment of that increase in retired pay is made in accordance with subsection (b)(2)(B) of such section."

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply with respect to retired pay payable for months beginning on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 636. AMENDMENTS TO THE UNIFORMED SERVICES FORMER SPOUSES' PROTECTION ACT.

(a) MANNER OF SERVICE OF PROCESS.—Subsection (b)(1)(A) of section 1408 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out "certified or registered mail, return receipt requested" and inserting in lieu thereof "facsimile or electronic transmission or by mail".

(b) SUBSEQUENT COURT ORDER FROM ANOTHER STATE.—Subsection (d) of such section is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(6)(A) The Secretary concerned may not accept service of a court order that is an out-of-State modification, or comply with the provisions of such a court order, unless the court issuing that order has jurisdiction in the manner specified in subsection (c)(4) over both the member and the spouse or former spouse involved.

"(B) A court order shall be considered to be an out-of-State modification for purposes of this paragraph if the order—

"(i) modifies a previous court order under this section upon which payments under this subsection are based; and

"(ii) is issued by a court of a State other than the State of the court that issued the previous court order."

SEC. 637. PREVENTION OF CIRCUMVENTION OF COURT ORDER BY WAIVER OF RETIRED PAY TO ENHANCE CIVIL SERVICE RETIREMENT ANNUITY.

(a) CIVIL SERVICE RETIREMENT AND DISABILITY SYSTEM.—(1) Subsection (c) of section 8332 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(4) If, after January 1, 1997, an employee or Member waives retired pay that is subject to a court order for which there has been effective service on the Secretary concerned for purposes of section 1408 of title 10, the military service on which the retired pay is based may be credited as service for purposes of this subchapter only if the employee or Member authorizes the Director to deduct and withhold from the annuity payable to the employee or Member under this subchapter an amount equal to the amount that, if the annuity payment was instead a payment of the employee's or Member's retired pay, would have been deducted and withheld and paid to the former spouse covered by the court order under such section 1408. The amount deducted and withheld under this paragraph shall be paid to that former spouse. The period of civil service employment by the employee or Member shall not be taken into consideration in determining the amount of the deductions and withholding or the amount of the payment to the former spouse. The Director of the Office of Personnel Management shall prescribe regulations to carry out this paragraph."

(2) Paragraph (1) of such subsection is amended by striking out "Except as provided in paragraph (2)" and inserting in lieu thereof "Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (4)".

(b) FEDERAL EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM.—(1) Subsection (c) of section 8411 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(5) If, after January 1, 1997, an employee or Member waives retired pay that is subject to a court order for which there has been effective service on the Secretary concerned for purposes of section 1408 of title 10, the military service on which the retired pay is based may be credited as service for purposes of this chapter only if the employee or Member authorizes the Director to deduct and withhold from the annuity payable to the employee or Member under this subchapter an amount equal to the amount that, if the annuity payment was instead a payment of the employee's or Member's retired pay, would have been deducted and withheld and paid to the former spouse covered by the court order under such section 1408. The amount deducted and withheld under this paragraph shall be paid to that former spouse. The period of civil service employment by the employee or Member shall not be taken into consideration in determining the amount of the deductions and withholding or the amount of the payment to the former spouse. The Director of the Office of Personnel Management shall prescribe regulations to carry out this paragraph."

(2) Paragraph (1) of such subsection is amended by striking "Except as provided in paragraph (2) or (3)" and inserting "Except as provided in paragraphs (2), (3), and (5)".

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by subsections (a) and (b) shall take effect on January 1, 1997.

SEC. 638. ADMINISTRATION OF BENEFITS FOR SO-CALLED MINIMUM INCOME WIDOWS.

(a) ADJUSTED ANNUAL INCOME LIMITATION APPLICABLE TO ELIGIBILITY FOR INCOME SUPPLEMENT.—(1) Section 4 of Public Law 92-425 (10 U.S.C. 1448 note) is amended—

(A) in subsection (a)(3), by striking out "$2,340" and inserting in lieu thereof "the maximum annual rate of pension in effect under section 1541(b) of title 38, United States Code"; and

(B) in the first sentence of subsection (b), by striking out "$2,340 a year" and inserting in lieu thereof "the maximum annual rate of pension in effect under section 1541(b) of title 38, United States Code".

(2) Subsection (c) of such section is repealed.

(b) PAYMENTS TO BE MADE BY SECRETARY OF VETERANS AFFAIRS.—Such section is further amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(e)(1) Payment of annuities under this section shall be made by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs. If appropriate for administrative convenience (or otherwise determined appropriate by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs), that Secretary may combine a payment to any person for any month under this section with any other payment for that month under laws administered by the Secretary so as to provide that person with a single payment for that month.

“(2) The Secretary concerned shall annually transfer to the Secretary of Veterans Affairs such amounts as may be necessary for payments by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs under this section and for costs of the Secretary of Veterans Affairs in administering this section. Such transfers shall be made from amounts that would otherwise be used for payment of annuities by the Secretary concerned under this section. The authority to make such a transfer is in addition to any other authority of the Secretary concerned to transfer funds for a purpose other than the purpose for which the funds were originally made available. In the case of a transfer by the Secretary of a military department, the provisions of section 2215 of title 10, United States Code, do not apply.

“(3) The Secretary concerned shall promptly notify the Secretary of Veterans Affairs of any change in beneficiaries under this section.”.

(c) CLARIFICATION OF CONTINUING ELIGIBILITY FOR DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS AFFAIRS PENSION.—Such section, as amended by subsection (a)(2), is further amended by inserting after subsection (b) the following new subsection (c):

“(c) The amount of an annuity payable under this section, although counted as income in determining the amount of any pension described in subsection (a)(2) of this section, shall not be considered to affect the eligibility of the recipient of such annuity for such pension, even though, as a result of including the amount of the annuity as income, no amount of such pension is due.”.

(d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section take effect on July 1, 1997, and apply with respect to payments of benefits for any month after June 1997.

Subtitle E—Other Matters

SEC. 651. DISCRETIONARY ALLOTMENT OF PAY, INCLUDING RETIRED OR RETAINER PAY.

(a) ALLOTMENTS AUTHORIZED.—Section 701 of title 37, United States Code, is amended by striking out subsection (d) and inserting in lieu thereof the following new subsections:

“(d) Under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense, a member of the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marine Corps and a contract surgeon of the Army, Navy, or Air Force may make allotments from the pay of the member or surgeon for the purpose of supporting relatives or for any other purpose that the Secretary considers proper. Such allotments may include a maximum of six allotments considered to be discretionary under such regulations. For a member or former member entitled to retired or retainer pay, a maximum of six discretionary allotments authorized during active military service may be continued into retired status, and new discretionary allotments may be authorized so long as the total number of discretionary allotments does not exceed six.

“(e) If an allotment made under subsection (d) is paid to the allottee before the disbursing officer receives a notice of discontinuance from the officer required by regulation to furnish the notice, the amount of the allotment shall be credited to the disbursing officer. If an allotment is erroneously paid because the officer required by regulation to so report failed to report the death of the allottee or any other fact that makes the allotment not payable, the amount of the payment not recovered from the allottee shall, if practicable, be collected by the Secretary concerned from the officer who failed to make the report.”.

(b) ISSUANCE OF REGULATIONS.—The Secretaries of the military departments shall prescribe regulations under subsection (d) of section 701 of title 37, United States Code, as added by subsection (a), not later than October 1, 1997.

SEC. 652. REIMBURSEMENT FOR ADOPTION EXPENSES INCURRED IN ADOPTIONS THROUGH PRIVATE PLACEMENTS.

(a) DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE.—Section 1052(g) of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1), by striking out “State or local government” and all that follows through the period at the end of the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof “qualified adoption agency.”; and

(2) by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(3) The term ‘qualified adoption agency’ means any of the following:

“(A) A State or local government agency which has responsibility under State or local law for child placement through adoption.

“(B) A nonprofit, voluntary adoption agency which is authorized by State or local law to place children for adoption.

“(C) Any other source authorized by a State to provide adoption placement if the adoption is supervised by a court under State or local law.”.

(b) COAST GUARD.—Section 514(g) of title 14, United States Code, is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1), by striking out “State or local government” and all that follows through the period at the end of the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof “qualified adoption agency.”; and

(2) by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(3) The term ‘qualified adoption agency’ means any of the following:

“(A) A State or local government agency which has responsibility under State or local law for child placement through adoption.

“(B) A nonprofit, voluntary adoption agency which is authorized by State or local law to place children for adoption.

“(C) Any other source authorized by a State to provide adoption placement if the adoption is supervised by a court under State or local law.”.

SEC. 653. WAIVER OF RECOUPMENT OF AMOUNTS WITHHELD FOR TAX PURPOSES FROM CERTAIN SEPARATION PAY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1174(h)(2) of title 10, United States Code, is amended by inserting before the period at the end of the first sentence the following: “, less the amount of Federal income tax withheld from such pay (such withholding being at the flat withholding rate for Federal income tax withholding, as in effect pursuant to regulations prescribed under chapter 24 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986)”.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on October 1, 1996, and shall apply to payments of separation pay, severance pay, or readjustment pay that are made after September 30, 1996.

SEC. 654. TECHNICAL CORRECTION CLARIFYING LIMITATION ON FURNISHING CLOTHING OR ALLOWANCES FOR ENLISTED NATIONAL GUARD TECHNICIANS.

Section 418(c) of title 37, United States Code, is amended by striking out “for which a uniform allowance is paid under section 415 or 416 of this title” and inserting in lieu thereof “for which clothing is furnished or a uniform allowance is paid under this section”.

SEC. 655. TECHNICAL CORRECTION TO PRIOR AUTHORITY FOR PAYMENT OF BACK PAY TO CERTAIN PERSONS.

Section 634 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 366) is amended—

(1) in subsection (b)(1), by striking out “Island of Bataan” and inserting in lieu thereof “peninsula of Bataan or island of Corregidor”; and

(2) in subsection (c), by inserting after the first sentence the following: “For the purposes of this subsection, the Secretary of War shall be deemed to have determined that conditions in the Philippines during the specified period justified payment under applicable regulations of quarters and subsistence allowances at the maximum special rate for duty where emergency conditions existed.”.

SEC. 656. COMPENSATION FOR PERSONS AWARDED PRISONER OF WAR MEDAL WHO DID NOT PREVIOUSLY RECEIVE COMPENSATION AS A PRISONER OF WAR.

(a) AUTHORITY TO MAKE PAYMENTS.—The Secretary of the military department concerned shall make payments in the manner provided in section 6 of the War Claims Act of 1948 (50 U.S.C. App. 2005) to (or on behalf of) any person described in subsection (b) who submits an application for such payment in accordance with subsection (d).

(b) ELIGIBLE PERSONS.—This section applies with respect to a member or former member of the Armed Forces who—

(1) has received the prisoner of war medal under section 1128 of title 10, United States Code; and

(2) has not previously received a payment under section 6 of the War Claims Act of 1948 (50 U.S.C. App. 2005) with respect to the period of internment for which the person received the prisoner of war medal.

(c) AMOUNT OF PAYMENT.—The amount of the payment to any person under this section shall be determined based upon the provisions of section 6 of the War Claims Act of 1948 that are applicable with respect to the period of time during which the internment occurred for which the person received the prisoner of war medal.

(d) ONE-YEAR PERIOD FOR SUBMISSION OF APPLICATIONS.—A payment may be made by reason of this section only in the case of a person who submits an application to the Secretary concerned for such payment during the one-year period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act. Any such application shall be submitted in such form and manner as the Secretary may require.

SEC. 657. PAYMENTS TO CERTAIN PERSONS CAPTURED AND INTERNED BY NORTH VIETNAM.

(a) PAYMENT AUTHORIZED TO ELIGIBLE PERSONS.—(1) Using amounts made available under subsection (g), the Secretary of Defense shall make a payment under this section to a person who demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Defense that the person was captured and incarcerated by the Democratic Republic of Vietnam as a result of the participation by the person in operations conducted under OPLAN 34A or its predecessor.

(2) Using amounts made available under subsection (g), the Secretary of Defense shall also make a payment under this section to a person who demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Defense that the person—
(A) served as a Vietnamese operative pursuant to OPLAN 35;

(B) was captured and incarcerated by North Vietnamese forces as a result of the participation by the person in operations in Laos or along the Lao-Vietnamese border pursuant to OPLAN 35;

(C) remained in captivity after 1973 (or died in captivity); and

(D) has not previously received payment from the United States for the period spent in captivity.

(3) A payment may not be made under this section to, or with respect to, a person who the Secretary of Defense determines, based on the available evidence, served in the Peoples Army of Vietnam or provided active assistance to the Government of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam during the period from 1958 through 1975.

(b) EFFECT OF DEATH OF ELIGIBLE PERSON.—In the case of a decedent who would have been eligible for a payment under this section if alive, the documentation required under subsection (a) may be provided by survivors of the decedent, and the payment under this section shall be made to survivors of the decedent in the following order:

(1) To the surviving spouse.

(2) If there is no surviving spouse, to the surviving children (including natural children and adopted children) of the decedent, in equal shares.

(c) AMOUNT PAYABLE.—The amount payable to, or with respect to, a person under this section is $40,000. If a person can demonstrate to the Secretary of Defense that confinement or incarceration exceeded 20 years, the Secretary may pay an additional $2,000 for each full year in excess of 20 (and a proportionate amount for a partial year), but the total amount paid to, or with respect to, a person under this section may not exceed $50,000.

(d) TIME LIMITATIONS.—(1) To be eligible for a payment under this section, a claimant must file a claim for such payment with the Secretary of Defense within 18 months of the effective date of the regulations implementing this section.

(2) Not later than 18 months after receiving a claim for payment under this section, the Secretary shall determine the eligibility of the claimant for payment of the claim. Subject to subsection (f), if the Secretary determines that the claimant is eligible for the payment, the Secretary shall promptly pay the claim.

(e) REGULATIONS.—(1) The Secretary of Defense shall prescribe regulations to carry out this section. Such regulations shall include procedures by which persons may submit claims for payment under this section. Such regulations shall be prescribed not later than six months after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(2) The Secretary of Defense may establish guidelines regarding what constitutes adequate documentation for determining whether a person satisfies the requirements specified in subsection (a) regarding eligibility for a payment under this section. Such guidelines shall be established in consultation with the heads of other agencies of the Government involved with OPLAN 34A or its predecessor or OPLAN 35.

(f) LIMITATION ON DISBURSEMENT.—(1) The actual disbursement of a payment under this section may be made only to the person who is eligible for the payment under subsection (a) or (b) and only—

(A) upon the appearance of that person, in person, at any designated disbursement office in the United States or its territories; or
(B) at such other location or in such other manner as that person may request in writing.

(2) In the case of a claim approved for payment but not disbursed as a result of operation of paragraph (1), the Secretary of Defense shall hold the funds in trust for the person in an interest bearing account until such time as the person makes an election under such paragraph.

(g) FUNDING.—To the extent provided in advance for this section in appropriations Acts, of amounts authorized to be appropriated under section 301(24) for this purpose, $20,000,000 shall be available until expended for payments under this section.

(h) PAYMENT IN FULL SATISFACTION OF CLAIMS AGAINST THE UNITED STATES.—The acceptance of payment by, or with respect to, a person under this section shall be in full satisfaction of all claims by or on behalf of that individual against the United States arising from operations under OPLAN 34A or its predecessor or OPLAN 35.

(i) ATTORNEY FEES.—Notwithstanding any contract, the representative of a person may not receive, for services rendered in connection with the claim of, or with respect to, a person under this section, more than 10 percent of a payment made under this section on that claim.

(j) NO RIGHT TO JUDICIAL REVIEW.—All determinations by the Secretary of Defense pursuant to this section are final and conclusive, notwithstanding any other provision of law. Claimants under this section have no right to judicial review, and such review is specifically precluded.

(k) REPORTS TO CONGRESS.—(1) Not later than 24 months after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the payment of claims under this section.

(2) After the submission of the report under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall periodically submit to Congress a report on the status of payment of claims under this section.

(b) COLLECTION OF PREMIUMS OF MEMBERS NOT RECEIVING BASIC PAY.—Subsection (b)(3) of such section is amended by adding at the end the following: "In the case of a member who does not receive basic pay, the Secretary of Defense shall establish procedures for the collection of the member's share of the premium for coverage."

(c) SCHEDULE FOR IMPLEMENTATION.—Section 705(b) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 373; 10 U.S.C. 1076b note) is amended—

(1) in the first sentence, by striking out "October 1, 1996" and inserting in lieu thereof "October 1, 1997"; and

(2) by striking out "fiscal year 1996" both places it appears and inserting in lieu thereof "fiscal years 1996 and 1997".

SEC. 703. DENTAL INSURANCE PLAN FOR MILITARY RETIREES AND UNREARRIED SURVIVING SPOUSES AND CERTAIN OTHER DEPENDENTS OF MILITARY RETIREES.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT OF DENTAL PLAN.—(1) Chapter 55 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 1076b the following new section:

"§ 1076c. Dental insurance plan: certain retirees and their surviving spouses and other dependents"

"(a) REQUIREMENT FOR PLAN.—The Secretary of Defense shall establish a dental insurance plan for military retirees, certain unmarried surviving spouses, and dependents in accordance with this section.

"(b) PERSONS ELIGIBLE FOR PLAN.—The following persons are eligible to enroll in the dental insurance plan established under subsection (a):

"(1) Members of the armed forces who are entitled to retired pay.

"(2) Members of the Retired Reserve who would be entitled to retired pay under chapter 1223 of this title but for being under 60 years of age.

"(3) Eligible dependents of a member described in paragraph (1) or (2) who are covered by the enrollment of the member in the plan.

"(4) The unmarried surviving spouse and eligible child dependents of a deceased member—

"(A) who dies while in a status described in paragraph (1) or (2); or

"(B) who is described in section 1448(d)(1) of this title.

"(c) PREMIUMS.—(1) A member enrolled in the dental insurance plan established under subsection (a) shall pay the premiums charged for the insurance coverage.

"(2) The amount of the premiums payable by a member entitled to retired pay shall be deducted and withheld from the retired pay and shall be disbursed to pay the premiums. The regulations prescribed under subsection (h) shall specify the procedures for payment of the premiums by other enrolled members and by enrolled surviving spouses.

"(d) BENEFITS AVAILABLE UNDER THE PLAN.—The dental insurance plan established under subsection (a) shall provide benefits for basic dental care and treatment, including diagnostic services, preventative services, basic restorative services (including endodontics), surgical services, and emergency services.

"(e) COVERAGE.—(1) The Secretary shall prescribe a minimum required period for enrollment by a member or surviving spouse in the dental insurance plan established under subsection (a).

"(2) The dental insurance plan shall provide for voluntary enrollment of participants and shall authorize a member or eligible unmarried surviving spouse to enroll for self only or for self and eligible dependents.

"(f) TERMINATION OF ENROLLMENT.—The Secretary shall terminate the enrollment of any enrollee, and any eligible dependents of the enrollee covered by the enrollment, in the dental insurance plan established under subsection (a) upon the occurrence of the following:

"(1) In the case of an enrollment under subsection (b)(1), termination of the member's entitlement to retired pay.

"(2) In the case of an enrollment under subsection (b)(2), termination of the member's status as a member of the Retired Reserve.

"(3) In the case of an enrollment under subsection (b)(4), remarriage of the surviving spouse.

"(g) CONTINUATION OF DEPENDENTS' ENROLLMENT UPON DEATH OF ENROLLEE.—Coverage of a dependent in the dental insurance plan established under subsection (a) under an enrollment of a member or a surviving spouse who dies during the period of enrollment shall continue until the end of that period and may be renewed by (or for) the dependent, so long as the premium paid is sufficient to cover continuation of the dependent's enrollment. The Secretary may terminate coverage of the dependent when the premiums paid are no longer sufficient to cover continuation of the enrollment. The Secretary shall prescribe in regulations under subsection (h) the parties responsible for paying the remaining premiums due on the enrollment and the manner for collection of the premiums.

"(h) REGULATIONS.—The dental insurance plan established under subsection (a) shall be administered under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Secretary of Transportation.

"(1) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

"(1) The term 'eligible dependent' means a dependent described in subparagraph (A), (D), or (I) of section 1072(2) of this title.

"(2) The term 'eligible child dependent' means a dependent described in subparagraph (D) or (I) of section 1072(2) of this title.

"(3) The term 'retired pay' includes retiree pay."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 1076b the following new item:

"1076c. Dental insurance plan: certain retirees and their surviving spouses and other dependents."

(b) IMPLEMENTATION.—Beginning not later than October 1, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall—

(1) offer members of the Armed Forces and other persons described in subsection (b) of section 1076c of title 10, United States Code (as added by subsection (a)(1) of this section), the opportunity to enroll in the dental insurance plan required under that section; and

(2) begin to provide benefits under the plan.

SEC. 704. PLAN FOR HEALTH CARE COVERAGE FOR CHILDREN WITH MEDICAL CONDITIONS CAUSED BY PARENTAL EXPOSURE TO CHEMICAL MUNITIONS WHILE SERVING AS MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES.

(a) PLAN REQUIRED.—The Secretary of Defense, in coordination with the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, shall develop a plan for ensuring the provision of medical care to any natural child of a member of the Armed Forces (including former members and members discharged or otherwise separated from active duty) who has a congenital defect or catastrophic illness, proven to a reasonable degree of scientific certainty on the basis of scientific research to have resulted from exposure of the member to a chemical warfare agent or other hazardous material to which the member was exposed during active military service.

(b) SUBMISSION TO CONGRESS.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit the plan developed under subsection (a) to Congress.

(c) DEFINITIONS OF CONGENITAL DEFECT AND CATASTROPHIC ILLNESS.—The Secretary of Defense shall prescribe in regulations a definition of the terms "congenital defect" and "catastrophic illness" for the purposes of this section.

Subtitle B—TRICARE Program

SEC. 711. CHAMPUS PAYMENT LIMITS FOR TRICARE PRIME ENROLLEES.

Section 1079(h)(4) of title 10, United States Code, is amended in the second sentence by striking out "emergency".

SEC. 712. IMPROVED INFORMATION EXCHANGE BETWEEN MILITARY TREATMENT FACILITIES AND TRICARE PROGRAM CONTRACTORS.

(a) UNIFORM INTERFACES.—The Secretary of Defense shall ensure that the automated medical information system being developed by the Department of Defense (known as the Composite Health Care System) provides for uniform interfaces between information systems of military treatment facilities and private contractors under managed care programs of the TRICARE program. The uniform interface shall provide for a full electronic two-way exchange of health care information between the military treatment facilities and contractor information systems, including enrollment information, information regarding eligibility determinations, provider network information, appointment information, and information regarding the existence of third-party payers.

(b) AMENDMENT OF EXISTING CONTRACTS.—To assure a single consistent source of information throughout the health care delivery system of the uniformed services, the Secretary of Defense shall amend each TRICARE program contract, with the consent of the TRICARE program contractor and notwithstanding any requirement for competition, to require the contractor—

(1) to use software furnished under the Composite Health Care System to record military treatment facility provider appointments; and

(2) to record TRICARE program enrollment through direct use of the Composite Health Care System software or through the uniform two-way interface between the contractor and military treatment facilities systems, where applicable.

(c) DEFINITION OF TRICARE PROGRAM.—For purposes of this section, the term "TRICARE program" means the managed health care program that is established by the Secretary of Defense under the authority of chapter 55 of title 10, United States Code, principally section 1097 of such title, and includes the competitive selection of contractors to financially underwrite the delivery of health care services under the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services.

SEC. 713. PLANS FOR MEDICARE SUBVENTION DEMONSTRATION PROGRAMS.

(a) PROGRAM FOR ENROLLMENT IN TRICARE MANAGED CARE OPTION.—Not later than September 6, 1996, the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Health and Human Services shall jointly submit to Congress and the President a report containing a specific plan (including the recommendations of the Secretaries required under subsection (b)) regarding the establishment of a demonstration program under which—

(1) covered beneficiaries under chapter 55 of title 10, United States Code, who are also entitled to benefits under part A of the medicare program are permitted to enroll in the managed care option of the TRICARE program; and

(2) the Secretary of Health and Human Services reimburses the Secretary of Defense from the medicare program on a capitated basis for the costs of providing health care services to military retirees who enroll.

(b) SPECIFIC ELEMENTS OF REPORT.—The report shall include the following:

(1) The number of covered beneficiaries described in subsection (a) who are projected to participate in the demonstration program and the minimum number of such participants necessary to conduct the demonstration program effectively.

(2) A plan for notifying such covered beneficiaries of their eligibility for enrollment in the demonstration program and for any other matters connected with enrollment.

(3) A recommendation for the duration of the demonstration program.

(4) A recommendation for the geographic regions in which the demonstration program should be conducted.

(5) The appropriate level of capitated reimbursement, and a schedule for such reimbursement, from the medicare program to the Department of Defense for health care services provided enrollees in the demonstration program.

(6) An estimate of the amounts that, in the absence of the demonstration program, would be required to be allocated by the Department of Defense for the provision of health care services to covered beneficiaries described in subsection (a) who reside in the regions in which the demonstration program is proposed to be conducted.

(7) An assessment of revisions to the allocation estimated under paragraph (6) that would result from the conduct of the demonstration program in such regions.

(8) An estimate of the cost to the Department of Defense and to the medicare program of providing health care services to covered beneficiaries described in subsection (a) who enroll in the demonstration program.

(9) An assessment of the likelihood of cost shifting among the Department of Defense and the medicare program under the demonstration program.

(10) A proposal for mechanisms for reconciling and reimbursing any improper payments among the Department of Defense and the medicare program under the demonstration program.

(11) A methodology for evaluating the demonstration program, including cost analyses.

(12) An assessment of the extent to which the TRICARE program is prepared to meet requirements of the medicare program for purposes of the demonstration program and the provisions of law or regulation that would have to be waived in order to facilitate the carrying out of the demonstration program.

(13) An assessment of the impact of the demonstration program on military readiness.

(14) Contingency plans for the provision of health care services under the demonstration program in the event of the mobilization of health care personnel.

(15) A recommendation of the reports that the Department of Defense and the Department of Health and Human Services should submit to Congress describing the conduct of the demonstration program.

(c) PROGRAM FOR ENROLLMENT IN TRICARE FEE-FOR-SERVICE OPTION.—Not later than January 3, 1997, the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Health and Human Services shall jointly submit to Congress and the President a report on the feasibility and advisability of expanding the demonstration program referred to in subsection (a) so as to provide the Department of Defense with reimbursement from the medicare program on a fee-for-service basis for health care services provided covered beneficiaries described in subsection (a) who enroll in the demonstration program. The report shall include a proposal for the expansion of the program if the expansion is determined to be advisable.

Subtitle C—Uniformed Services Treatment Facilities

SEC. 721. DEFINITIONS.

In this subtitle:

(1) The term "administering Secretaries" means the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of Transportation, and the Secretary of Health and Human Services.

The term includes any legal successor in interest of the transferee.

(6) The term "enrollee" means a covered beneficiary who enrolls with a designated provider.

(7) The term "health care services" means the health care services provided under the health plan known as the "TRICARE PRIME" option under the TRICARE program.

(8) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of Defense.

(9) The term "TRICARE program" means the managed health care program that is established by the Secretary of Defense under the authority of chapter 55 of title 10, United States Code, principally section 1097 of such title, and includes the competitive selection of contractors to financially underwrite the delivery of health care services under the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services.

SEC. 722. INCLUSION OF DESIGNATED PROVIDERS IN UNIFORMED SERVICES HEALTH CARE DELIVERY SYSTEM.

(a) INCLUSION IN SYSTEM.—The health care delivery system of the uniformed services shall include the designated providers.

(b) AGREEMENTS TO PROVIDE MANAGED HEALTH CARE SERVICES.—(1) After consultation with the other administering Secretaries, the Secretary of Defense shall negotiate and enter into an agreement with each designated provider under which the designated provider will provide health care services in or through managed care plans to covered beneficiaries who enroll with the designated provider.

(2) The agreement shall be entered into on a sole source basis. The Federal Acquisition Regulation, except for those requirements regarding competition, issued pursuant to section 25(c) of the Office of Federal Procurement Policy Act (41 U.S.C. 421(c)) shall apply to the agreements as acquisitions of commercial items.

(3) The implementation of an agreement is subject to availability of funds for such purpose.

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE OF AGREEMENTS.—(1) Unless an earlier effective date is agreed upon by the Secretary and the designated provider, the agreement shall take effect upon the later of the following:

(A) The date on which a managed care support contract under the TRICARE program is implemented in the service area of the designated provider.

(B) October 1, 1997.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1), the designated provider whose service area includes Seattle, Washington, shall implement its agreement as soon as the agreement permits.

(d) TEMPORARY CONTINUATION OF EXISTING PARTICIPATION AGREEMENTS.—The Secretary shall extend the participation agreement of a designated provider in effect immediately before the date of the enactment of this Act under section 718(c) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1991 (Public Law 101-510; 42 U.S.C. 248c) until the agreement required by this section takes effect under subsection (c).

(e) SERVICE AREA.—The Secretary may not reduce the size of the service area of a designated provider below the size of the service area in effect as of September 30, 1996.

(f) COMPLIANCE WITH ADMINISTRATIVE REQUIREMENTS.—(1) Unless otherwise agreed upon by the Secretary and a designated provider, the designated provider shall comply with necessary and appropriate administrative requirements established by the Secretary for other providers of health care services and requirements established by the Secretary of Health and Human Services for risk-sharing contractors under section 1876 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395mm). The Secretary and the designated provider shall determine and apply only such administrative requirements as are minimally necessary and appropriate. A designated provider shall not be required to comply with a law or regulation of a State government requiring licensure as a health insurer or health maintenance organization.

(2) A designated provider may not contract out more than five percent of its primary care enrollment without the approval of the Secretary, except in the case of primary care contracts between a designated provider and a primary care contractor in force on the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 723. PROVISION OF UNIFORM BENEFIT BY DESIGNATED PROVIDERS.

(a) UNIFORM BENEFIT REQUIRED.—A designated provider shall offer to enrollees the health benefit option prescribed and implemented by the Secretary under section 731 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1994 (Public Law 103-160; 10 U.S.C. 1073 note), including accompanying cost-sharing requirements.

(b) TIME FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF BENEFIT.—A designated provider shall offer the health benefit option described in subsection (a) to enrollees upon the later of the following:

(1) The date on which health care services within the health care delivery system of the uniformed services are rendered through the TRICARE program in the region in which the designated provider operates.

(2) October 1, 1997.

(c) ADJUSTMENTS.—The Secretary may establish a later date under subsection (b)(2) or prescribe reduced cost-sharing requirements for enrollees.

SEC. 724. ENROLLMENT OF COVERED BENEFICIARIES.

(a) FISCAL YEAR 1997 LIMITATION.—(1) During fiscal year 1997, the number of covered beneficiaries who are enrolled in managed care plans offered by designated providers may not exceed the number of such enrollees as of October 1, 1995.

(2) The Secretary may waive the limitation under paragraph (1) if the Secretary determines that additional enrollment authority for a designated provider is required to accommodate covered beneficiaries who are dependents of members of the uniformed services entitled to health care under section 1074(a) of title 10, United States Code.

(b) PERMANENT LIMITATION.—For each fiscal year beginning after September 30, 1997, the number of enrollees in managed care plans offered by designated providers may not exceed 110 percent of the number of such enrollees as of the first day of the immediately preceding fiscal year. The Secretary may waive this limitation as provided in subsection (a)(2).

(c) RETENTION OF CURRENT ENROLLEES.—An enrollee in the managed care plan of a designated provider as of September 30, 1997, or such earlier date as the designated provider and the Secretary may agree upon, shall continue receiving services from the designated provider pursuant to the agreement entered into under section 722 unless the enrollee disenrolls from the designated provider. Except as provided in subsection (e), the administering Secretaries may not disenroll such an enrollee unless the disenrollment is agreed to by the Secretary and the designated provider.

(d) ADDITIONAL ENROLLMENT AUTHORITY.—Other covered beneficiaries may also receive health care services from a designated provider, except that the designated provider may market such services to, and enroll, only those covered beneficiaries who—

(1) do not have other primary health insurance coverage (other than medicare coverage) covering basic primary care and inpatient and outpatient services; or

(2) are enrolled in the direct care system under the TRICARE program, regardless of whether the covered beneficiaries were users of the health care delivery system of the uniformed services in prior years.

(e) SPECIAL RULE FOR MEDICARE-ELIGIBLE BENEFICIARIES.—If a covered beneficiary who desires to enroll in the managed care program of a designated provider is also entitled to hospital insurance benefits under part A of title XVIII of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395c et seq.), the covered beneficiary shall elect whether to receive health care services as an enrollee or under part A of title XVIII of the Social Security Act. The Secretary may disenroll an enrollee who subsequently violates the election made under this subsection and receives benefits under part A of title XVIII of the Social Security Act.

(f) INFORMATION REGARDING ELIGIBLE COVERED BENEFICIARIES.—The Secretary shall provide, in a timely manner, a designated provider with an accurate list of covered beneficiaries within the marketing area of the designated provider to whom the designated provider may offer enrollment.

SEC. 725. APPLICATION OF CHAMPUS PAYMENT RULES.

(a) APPLICATION OF PAYMENT RULES.—Subject to subsection (b), the Secretary shall require a private facility or health care provider that is a health care provider under the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services to apply the payment rules described in section 1074(c) of title 10, United States Code, in imposing charges for health care that the private facility or provider provides to enrollees of a designated provider.

(b) AUTHORIZED ADJUSTMENTS.—The payment rules imposed under subsection (a) shall be subject to such modifications as the Secretary considers appropriate. The Secretary may authorize a lower rate than the maximum rate that would otherwise apply under subsection (a) if the lower rate is agreed to by the designated provider and the private facility or health care provider.

(c) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall prescribe regulations to implement this section after consultation with the other administering Secretaries.

(d) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 1074 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out subsection (d).

SEC. 726. PAYMENTS FOR SERVICES.

(a) FORM OF PAYMENT.—Unless otherwise agreed to by the Secretary and a designated provider, the form of payment for health care services provided by a designated provider shall be on a full risk capitation payment basis. The capitation payments shall be negotiated and agreed upon by the Secretary and the designated provider. In addition to such other factors as the parties may agree to apply, the capitation payments shall be based on the utilization experience of enrollees and competitive market rates for equivalent health care services for a comparable population to such enrollees in the area in which the designated provider is located.

(b) LIMITATION ON TOTAL PAYMENTS.—Total capitation payments for health care services to a designated provider shall not exceed an amount equal to the cost that would have been incurred by the Government if the enrollees had received such health care services through a military treatment facility, the TRICARE program, or the medicare program, as the case may be.

(c) ESTABLISHMENT OF PAYMENT RATES ON ANNUAL BASIS.—The Secretary and a designated provider shall establish capitation payments on an annual basis, subject to periodic review for actuarial soundness and to adjustment for any adverse or favorable selection reasonably anticipated to result from the design of the program under this subtitle.

(d) ALTERNATIVE BASIS FOR CALCULATING PAYMENTS.—After September 30, 1999, the Secretary and a designated provider may mutually agree upon a new basis for calculating capitation payments.

SEC. 727. REPEAL OF SUPERSEDED AUTHORITIES.

(a) REPEALS.—The following provisions of law are repealed:

(1) Section 911 of the Military Construction Authorization Act, 1982 (42 U.S.C. 248c).

(2) Section 1252 of the Department of Defense Authorization Act, 1984 (42 U.S.C. 248d).

(3) Section 718(c) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal year 1991 (Public Law 101-510; 42 U.S.C. 248c note).

(4) Section 726 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 42 U.S.C. 248c note).

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of subsection (a) shall take effect on October 1, 1997.

Subtitle D—Other Changes to Existing Laws Regarding Health Care Management

SEC. 731. AUTHORITY TO WAIVE CHAMPUS EXCLUSION REGARDING NONMEDICALLY NECESSARY TREATMENT IN CONNECTION WITH CERTAIN CLINICAL TRIALS.

(a) WAIVER AUTHORITY.—Paragraph (13) of section 1079(a) of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking out “any service” and inserting in lieu thereof “Any service”;

(2) by striking out the semicolon at the end and inserting in lieu thereof a period; and

(3) by adding at the end the following: “Pursuant to an agreement with the Secretary of Health and Human Services and under such regulations as the Secretary of Defense may prescribe, the Secretary of Defense may waive the operation of this paragraph in connection with clinical trials sponsored or approved by the National Institutes of Health if the Secretary of Defense determines that such a waiver will promote access by covered beneficiaries to promising new treatments and contribute to the development of such treatments.”

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENTS.—Such section is further amended—

(1) in the matter preceding paragraph (1), by striking out “except that—” and inserting in lieu thereof “except as follows:”;

(2) by capitalizing the first letter of the first word of each of paragraphs (1) through (17);

(3) by striking out the semicolon at the end of each of paragraphs (1) through (12) and paragraphs (14) and (15) and inserting in lieu thereof a period; and

(4) in paragraph (16), by striking out “; and” and inserting in lieu thereof a period.

SEC. 732. EXCEPTION TO MAXIMUM ALLOWABLE PAYMENTS TO INDIVIDUAL HEALTH-CARE PROVIDERS UNDER CHAMPUS.

Section 1079(h) of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by redesignating paragraph (5) as paragraph (6); and

(2) by inserting after paragraph (4) the following new paragraph:

“(5) In addition to the authority provided under paragraph (4), the Secretary may authorize the commander of a facility of the uniformed services, the lead agent (if other than the commander), and the health care contractor to modify the payment limitations under paragraph (1) for certain health care providers when necessary to ensure both the availability of certain services for covered beneficiaries and lower costs than would otherwise be incurred to provide the services.”.

SEC. 733. CODIFICATION OF ANNUAL AUTHORITY TO CREDIT CHAMPUS REFUNDS TO CURRENT YEAR APPROPRIATION.

(a) CREDITS TO CHAMPUS ACCOUNTS.—(1) Chapter 55 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 1079 the following new section:

“§ 1079a. CHAMPUS: treatment of refunds and other amounts collected

“All refunds and other amounts collected in the administration of the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services shall be credited to the appropriation available for that program for the fiscal year in which the refund or amount is collected.”.

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 1079 the following new item:

“1079a. CHAMPUS: treatment of refunds and other amounts collected.”.

(b) CONFORMING REPEAL.—Section 8094 of the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1996 (Public Law 104-61; 109 Stat. 671), is repealed.

SEC. 734. EXCEPTIONS TO REQUIREMENTS REGARDING OBTAINING NONAVAILABILITY-OF-HEALTH-CARE STATEMENTS.

(a) REFERENCE TO INPATIENT MEDICAL CARE.—(1) Section 1080(a) of title 10, United States Code, is amended by inserting “inpatient” before “medical care” in the first sentence.

(2) Section 1086(e) of such title is amended in the first sentence by striking out “benefits” and inserting in lieu thereof “inpatient medical care”.

(b) WAIVERS AND EXCEPTIONS TO REQUIREMENTS.—(1) Section 1080 of such title is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(c) WAIVERS AND EXCEPTIONS TO REQUIREMENTS.—(1) A covered beneficiary enrolled in a managed care plan offered pursuant to any contract or agreement under this chapter for the provision of health care services shall not be required to obtain a nonavailability-of-health-care statement as a condition for the receipt of health care.

“(2) The Secretary of Defense may waive the requirement to obtain nonavailability-of-health-care statements following an evaluation of the effectiveness of such statements in optimizing the use of facilities of the uniformed services.”.

(2) Section 1086(e) of such title is amended in the last sentence by striking out “section 1080(b)” and inserting in lieu thereof “subsections (b) and (c) of section 1080”.

(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—Section 1080(b) of such title is amended—

(1) by striking out “NONAVAILABILITY OF HEALTH CARE STATEMENTS” and inserting in lieu thereof “NONAVAILABILITY-OF-HEALTH-CARE STATEMENTS; and

(2) by striking out “nonavailability of health care statement” and inserting in lieu thereof “nonavailability-of-health-care statement”.

SEC. 735. ENHANCEMENT OF THIRD-PARTY COLLECTION AND SECONDARY PAYER AUTHORITIES UNDER CHAMPUS.

(a) RETENTION AND USE BY TREATMENT FACILITIES OF AMOUNTS COLLECTED.—Subsection (g)(1) of section 1095 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by inserting “or through” after “provided at”.

(b) EXPANSION OF DEFINITION OF THIRD-PARTY PAYER.—Subsection (h) of such section is amended—

(1) in the first sentence of paragraph (1), by inserting “and a workers’ compensation program or plan” before the period; and

(2) in paragraph (2)—

(A) by striking out “organization and” and inserting in lieu thereof a “organization;”;

(B) by inserting before the period at the end the following: “, and a personal injury protection plan or medical payments benefit plan for personal injuries resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle”.

(c) APPLICABILITY OF SECONDARY PAYER REQUIREMENT.—Section 1079(j)(1) of such title is amended by inserting after “or health plan” the following: “, including any plan offered by a third-party payer (as defined in section 1095(h)(1) of this title).”.

Subtitle E—Other Matters

SEC. 741. ALTERNATIVES TO ACTIVE DUTY SERVICE OBLIGATION UNDER ARMED FORCES HEALTH PROFESSIONS SCHOLARSHIP AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM AND UNIFORMED SERVICES UNIVERSITY OF THE HEALTH SCIENCES.

(a) ARMED FORCES HEALTH PROFESSIONS SCHOLARSHIP AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM.—Subsection (e) of section 2123 of title 10, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

“(e)(1) A member of the program who is relieved of the member’s active duty obligation under this subchapter before the completion of that active duty obligation may be given, with or without the consent of the member, any of the following alternative obligations, as determined by the Secretary of the military department concerned:

“(A) A service obligation in another armed force for a period of time not less than the member’s remaining active duty service obligation.

“(B) A service obligation in a component of the Selected Reserve for a period not less than twice as long as the member’s remaining active duty service obligation.

“(C) Repayment to the Secretary of Defense of a percentage of the total cost incurred by the Secretary under this subchapter on behalf of the member equal to the percentage of the member’s total active duty service obligation being relieved, plus interest.

“(2) In addition to the alternative obligations specified in paragraph (1), if the member is relieved of an active duty obligation by reason of the separation of the member because of a physical disability, the Secretary of the military department concerned may give the member a service obligation as a civilian employee employed as a health care professional in a facility of the uniformed services for a period of time equal to the member’s remaining active duty service obligation.

“(3) The Secretary of Defense shall prescribe regulations describing the manner in which an alternative obligation may be given under this subsection.”.

(b) UNIFORMED SERVICES UNIVERSITY OF THE HEALTH SCIENCES.—Section 2114 of title 10, United States Code is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(h) A graduate of the University who is relieved of the graduate’s active-duty service obligation under subsection (b) before the completion of that active-duty service obligation may be given, with or without the consent of the graduate, an alternative obligation in the same manner as provided in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1) of section 2123(e)(1) of this title or paragraph (2) of such section for members of the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship and Financial Assistance program.”.

(c) APPLICATION OF AMENDMENTS.—The amendments made by this section shall apply with respect to individuals who first become members of the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship and Financial Assistance program or students of the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences on or after October 1, 1996.

(d) TRANSITION PROVISION.—(1) In the case of any member of the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship and Financial Assistance program who, as of October 1, 1996, is serving an active duty obligation under the program or is incurring an active duty obligation as a participant in the program, and who is subsequently relieved of the active duty obligation before the completion of the obligation, the alternative obligations authorized by the amendment made by subsection (a) may be used by the Secretary of the military department concerned with the agreement of the member.

(2) In the case of any person who, as of October 1, 1996, is serving an active-duty service obligation as a graduate of the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences or is incurring an active-duty service obligation as a student of the University, and who is subsequently relieved of the active-duty service obligation before the completion of the obligation, the alternative obligations authorized by the amendment made by subsection (b) may be implemented by the Secretary of Defense with the agreement of the person.

(e) REPORT ON UTILIZATION OF GRADUATES OF UNIVERSITY.—Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the utilization by the Department of Defense of graduates of the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences. The report shall include a discussion of means of ensuring that graduates of the University have received training in medical specialties for which the Department has particular need.

SEC. 742. EXTERNAL PEER REVIEW FOR DEFENSE HEALTH PROGRAM EXTRAMURAL MEDICAL RESEARCH INVOLVING HUMAN SUBJECTS.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT OF EXTERNAL PEER REVIEW PROCESS.—The Secretary of Defense shall establish a peer review process that will use persons who are not officers or employees of the Government to review the research protocols of medical research projects.

(b) PEER REVIEW REQUIREMENTS.—Funds of the Department of Defense may not be obligated or expended for any medical research project unless the research protocol for the project has been approved by the external peer review process established under subsection (a).

(c) MEDICAL RESEARCH PROJECT DEFINED.—For purposes of this section, the term "medical research project" means a research project that—

(1) involves the participation of human subjects;

(2) is conducted solely by a non-Federal entity; and

(3) is funded through the Defense Health Program account.

(d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The peer review requirements of subsection (b) shall take effect on October 1, 1996, and, except as provided in subsection (e), shall apply to all medical research projects proposed funded on or after that date, including medical research projects funded pursuant to any requirement of law enacted before, on, or after that date.

(e) EXCEPTIONS.—Only the following medical research projects shall be exempt from the peer review requirements of subsection (b):

(1) A medical research project that the Secretary determines has been substantially completed by October 1, 1996.

(2) A medical research project funded pursuant to any provision of law enacted on or after that date if the provision of law specifically refers to this section and specifically states that the peer review requirements do not apply.

SEC. 743. INDEPENDENT RESEARCH REGARDING GULF WAR SYNDROME.

(a) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this section:

(1) The term "Gulf War service" means service on active duty as a member of the Armed Forces in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War.

(2) The term "Gulf War syndrome" means the complex of illnesses and symptoms commonly known as Gulf War syndrome.

(3) The term "Persian Gulf War" has the meaning given that term in section 101(33) of title 38, United States Code.

(b) RESEARCH.—The Secretary of Defense shall provide, by contract, grant, or other transaction, for scientific research to be carried out by entities independent of the Federal Government on possible causal relationships between Gulf War syndrome and—

(1) the possible exposures of members of the Armed Forces to chemical warfare agents or other hazardous materials during Gulf War service; and

(2) the use by the Department of Defense during the Persian Gulf War of combinations of various inoculations and investigational new drugs.

(c) PROCEDURES FOR AWARDED GRANTS.—The Secretary shall prescribe the procedures to be used to make research awards under subsection (b). The procedures shall—

(1) include a comprehensive, independent peer-review process for the evaluation of proposals for scientific research that are submitted to the Department of Defense; and

(2) provide for the final selection of proposals for award to be based on the scientific merit and program relevance of the proposed research.

(d) AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated under section 301(21) for defense medical programs, $10,000,000 is available for research under subsection (b).

SEC. 744. COMPTROLLER GENERAL REVIEW OF HEALTH CARE ACTIVITIES OF DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE RELATING TO GULF WAR ILLNESSES.

(a) MEDICAL RESEARCH AND CLINICAL CARE PROGRAMS.—The Comptroller General shall analyze the effectiveness of the medical research programs and clinical care programs of the Department of Defense that relate to illnesses that might have been contracted by members of the Armed Forces as a result of service in the Southwest Asia theater of operations during the Persian Gulf War.

(b) POLICIES REGARDING INVESTIGATIONAL NEW DRUGS.—The Comptroller General shall analyze the scope and effectiveness of the policies of the Department of Defense with respect to—

(1) the use of investigational new drugs during the Persian Gulf War to treat members of the Armed Forces who served in the Southwest Asia theater of operations; and

(2) the current use of investigational new drugs to treat illnesses referred to in subsection (a).

(c) ADMINISTRATION OF MEDICAL RECORDS.—The Comptroller General shall analyze the administration of medical records by the military departments in order to assess the extent to which such records accurately reflect the pre-deployment medical assessments, immunization records, informed consent releases, complaints during routine sick call, emergency room visits, visits with unit medics during deployment, and other relevant medical information relating to the members and former members referred to in subsection (a) with respect to the illnesses referred to in that subsection.

(d) REPORTS.—Not later than March 1, 1997, the Comptroller General shall submit to Congress a separate report on each of the analyses required under subsections (a), (b), and (c).

SEC. 745. REPORT REGARDING SPECIALIZED TREATMENT FACILITY PROGRAM.

Not later than April 1, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report evaluating the impact on the military health care system of limiting the service area of a facility designated as part of the specialized treatment facility program under section 1105 of title 10, United States Code, to not more than 100 miles from the facility.

SEC. 746. STUDY OF MEANS OF ENSURING UNIFORMITY IN PROVISION OF MEDICAL AND DENTAL CARE FOR MEMBERS OF RESERVE COMPONENTS.

(a) STUDY.—(1) In consultation with the Secretary of Transportation, the Secretary of Defense shall conduct a study of means of improving the provision of medical and dental care to members of the reserve components referred to in paragraph (2) in order to ensure uniformity and consistency in the provision of such care to such members.

(2) The members of the reserve components referred to in paragraph (1) are the following:

(A) Members on active duty, including active duty for training and annual training duty.

(B) Members on full-time National Guard duty.

(C) Members on inactive-duty training, regardless of whether such members are in a pay or nonpay status.

(b) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the study conducted under subsection (a). The report shall include such recommendations (including recommendations for legislation) as the Secretary considers appropriate.

SEC. 747. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING TAX TREATMENT OF ARMED FORCES HEALTH PROFESSIONS SCHOLARSHIP AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM.

It is the sense of Congress that the Secretary of Defense should work with the Secretary of the Treasury to interpret section 117 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 so that the limitation on the amount of a qualified scholarship or qualified tuition reduction excluded from gross income does not apply to any portion of a scholarship or financial assistance provided by the Secretary of Defense to a person enrolled in the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship and Financial Assistance program under subchapter I of chapter 105 of title 10, United States Code.

Sec. 801. PROCUREMENT TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS.

(a) FUNDING.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated under section 301(5), $12,000,000 shall be available for carrying out the provisions of chapter 142 of title 10, United States Code.

(b) SPECIFIC PROGRAMS.—Of the amounts made available pursuant to subsection (a), $600,000 shall be available for fiscal year 1997 for the purpose of carrying out programs sponsored by eligible entities referred to in subparagraph (D) of section 2411(1) of title 10, United States Code, that provide procurement technical assistance in distressed areas referred to in subparagraph (B) of section 2411(2) of such title. If there is an insufficient number of satisfactory proposals for cooperative agreements in such distressed areas to allow effective use of the funds made available in accordance with this subsection in such areas, the funds shall be allocated among the Defense Contract Administration Services regions in accordance with section 2415 of such title.

SEC. 802. EXTENSION OF PILOT MENTOR-PROTEGE PROGRAM.

Section 831(j) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1991 (10 U.S.C. 2302 note) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1), by striking out "1995" and inserting in lieu thereof "1998"; and

(2) in paragraph (2), by striking out "1996" and inserting in lieu thereof "1999".

SEC. 803. AUTHORITY TO WAIVE CERTAIN REQUIREMENTS FOR DEFENSE ACQUISITION PILOT PROGRAMS.

(a) AUTHORITY.—The Secretary of Defense may waive sections 2399, 2403, 2432, and 2433 of title 10, United States Code, in accordance with this section for any defense acquisition program designated by the Secretary of Defense for participation in the defense acquisition pilot program authorized by section 809 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1991 (Public Law 101-510; 10 U.S.C. 2430 note).

(b) OPERATIONAL TEST AND EVALUATION.—The Secretary of Defense may waive the requirements for operational test and evaluation for such a defense acquisition program as set forth in section 2399 of title 10, United States Code, if the Secretary—

(1) determines (without delegation) that such test would be unreasonably expensive or impractical;

(2) develops a suitable alternate operational test program for the system concerned;

(3) describes in the test and evaluation master plan, as approved by the Director of Operational Test and Evaluation, the method of evaluation that will be used to evaluate whether the system will be effective and suitable for combat; and

(4) submits to the congressional defense committees a report containing the determination that was made under paragraph (1), a justification for that determination, and a copy of the plan required by paragraph (3).

(c) CONTRACTOR GUARANTEES FOR MAJOR WEAPONS SYSTEMS.—The Secretary of Defense may waive the requirements of section 2403 of title 10, United States Code, for such a defense acquisition program if an alternative guarantee is used that ensures high quality weapons systems.

(d) SELECTED ACQUISITION REPORTS.—The Secretary of Defense may waive the requirements of sections 2432 and 2433 of title 10, United States Code, for such a defense acquisition program if the Secretary provides a single annual report to Congress at the end of each fiscal year that describes the status of the program in relation to the baseline description for the program established under section 2435 of such title.

SEC. 804. MODIFICATION OF AUTHORITY TO CARRY OUT CERTAIN PROTOTYPE PROJECTS.

(a) AUTHORIZED OFFICIALS.—(1) Subsection (a) of section 845 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1994 (Public Law 103-160; 107 Stat. 1721; 10 U.S.C. 2371 note) is amended by inserting "the Secretary of a military department, or any other official designated by the Secretary of Defense" after "Agency".

(2) Subsection (b)(2) of such section is amended to read as follows:

"(2) To the maximum extent practicable, competitive procedures shall be used when entering into agreements to carry out projects under subsection (a)."

“(d) LIMITATION ON AUDITS RELATING TO IN-DIRECT COSTS.—An executive agency may not perform an audit of indirect costs under a contract, subcontract, or modification before or after entering into the contract, subcontract, or modification in any case in which the contracting officer determines that the objectives of the audit can reasonably be met by accepting the results of an audit that was conducted by any other department or agency of the Federal Government within one year preceding the date of the contracting officer's determination.”

(c) GUIDELINES FOR ACCEPTANCE OF AUDITS
BY STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS RECEIVING FEDERAL ASSISTANCE.—The Director of the Office and Management and Budget shall issue guidelines to ensure that an audit of indirect costs performed by the Federal Government is accepted by State and local governments that receive Federal funds under contracts, grants, or other Federal assistance programs.

SEC. 809. COMPENSATION OF CERTAIN CONTRAC-TOR PERSONNEL.

(a) ARMED SERVICES PROCUREMENTS.—(1)
During fiscal year 1997, the head of an agency shall treat the costs described in paragraph (2) as not allowable under a covered contract, in the same manner as costs listed in section 2324(e)(1) of title 10, United States Code.

(2) The costs covered by paragraph (1) are costs of compensation paid with respect to services of any one officer to the extent that the total amount of the compensation paid in a fiscal year exceeds $250,000.

(b) CIVILIAN AGENCY PROCUREMENTS.—(1)
During fiscal year 1997, an executive agency shall treat the costs described in paragraph

(d) REVIEW.—The Administrator for Federal Procurement Policy, in consultation with the Secretary of Defense, shall conduct a comprehensive review of the levels of compensation received by senior executives of corporations performing a significant amount of business with the Federal Government in order to determine the appropriate cost allowability policy in this area. Such a review should include the following:

(1) In consultation with the Secretary of the Treasury, an examination of the appropriate definition and treatment of compensation, including deferred compensation.

(2) An examination of the appropriate definition of senior executive positions and any other positions that should be covered under the cost allowability policy.

(3) An examination of how to apply the cost allowability policy to individual contracts and aggregations of contracts within a corporation.

(4) Any other matter related to the cost al-lowability of executive compensation that the Administrator considers appropriate.

(e) LEGISLATIVE PROPOSAL.—Not later than March 1, 1997, the President shall submit to Congress a legislative proposal incorporating the conclusions reached by the review conducted under subsection (d) and establishing a statutory Government standard on the cost allowability of executive compensation.

SEC. 831. YEAR 2000 SOFTWARE CONVERSION.

(a) YEAR 2000 SOFTWARE CONVERSION.—The Secretary of Defense shall ensure that, as soon as practicable, all information technology acquired by the Department of Defense pursuant to contracts entered into after September 30, 1996, has the capabilities to process date and date-related data in 2000.

(b) ASSESSMENT.—The Secretary, acting through the chief information officers within the department (as designated pursuant to section 3506 of title 44, United States Code), shall assess all information technology within the Department of Defense to determine the extent to which such technology has the capabilities to operate effectively.

(c) PLAN.—Not later than January 1, 1997, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a detailed plan for eliminating any deficiencies identified pursuant to subsection (b). The plan shall include—

(1) a list of affected major systems;

(2) a description of how the deficiencies could affect the national security of the United States; and

(3) an estimate and prioritization of the resources that are necessary to eliminate the deficiencies.

SEC. 832. PROCUREMENT FROM FIRMS IN INDUSTRIAL BASE FOR PRODUCTION OF SMALL ARMS.

(a) REQUIREMENT.—Chapter 146 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§ 2473. Procurements from the small arms production industrial base

"(a) AUTHORITY TO LIMIT PROCUREMENTS TO CERTAIN SOURCES.—To the extent that the Secretary of Defense determines necessary to preserve the small arms production industrial base, the Secretary may require that any procurement of property or services described in subsection (b) for the Department of Defense be made only from a firm in the small arms production industrial base.

"(b) COVERED PROPERTY AND SERVICES.—Subsection (a) applies to the following:

"(1) Repair parts for small arms.

"(2) Modifications of parts to improve small arms used by the armed forces.

"(c) SMALL ARMS PRODUCTION INDUSTRIAL BASE.—In this section, the term 'small arms production industrial base' means the firms comprising the small arms production industrial base, as described in the plan entitled 'Preservation of Critical Elements of the Small Arms Industrial Base', dated January 8, 1994, that was prepared by an independent assessment panel of the Army Science Board."

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"2473. Procurements from the small arms production industrial base."

SEC. 833. CABLE TELEVISION FRANCHISE AGREEMENTS.

Based on the advisory opinion from the United States Court of Federal Claims, In the Matter of the Department of Defense Cable Television Franchise Agreements, National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996, Section 823, No. 96-133X (July 11, 1996)—

(1) cable television franchise agreements for the construction, installation, or capital improvement of cable systems at military installations shall be considered contracts for purposes of the Federal Acquisition Regulation;

(2) cable television operators are entitled to recovery of their investments at such installations to the extent authorized in part 49 of the Federal Acquisition Regulation; and

(3) the appropriate official of the Department of Defense shall promptly issue a written notice of the termination for the convenience of the Government of the contracts described in such advisory opinion and commence settlement negotiations pursuant to the requirements of part 49 of the Federal Acquisition Regulation.

Subtitle A—General Matters

SEC. 901. REPEAL OF PREVIOUSLY ENACTED REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF STATUTORY POSITIONS IN OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE.

Section 903 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 401) is repealed.

SEC. 902. ADDITIONAL REQUIRED REDUCTION IN DEFENSE ACQUISITION WORKFORCE.

(a) ADDITIONAL REDUCTIONS FOR FISCAL YEAR 1997.—Section 906(d) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 405) is amended in paragraph (1) by striking out "positions during fiscal year 1996" and all that follows and inserting in lieu thereof "so that—

"(A) the total number of defense acquisition personnel as of October 1, 1996, is less than the baseline number by at least 15,000; and

"(B) the total number of defense acquisition personnel as of October 1, 1997, is less than the baseline number by at least 30,000."

(b) BASELINE NUMBER.—Such section is further amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(3) For purposes of this subsection, the term 'baseline number' means the total number of defense acquisition personnel as of October 1, 1995."

SEC. 903. REDUCTION OF PERSONNEL ASSIGNED TO OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE.

(a) PERMANENT LIMITATION ON OSD PERSONNEL.—Effective October 1, 1999, the number of OSD personnel may not exceed 75 percent of the baseline number.

(b) PHASED REDUCTION.—The number of OSD personnel—

(1) as of October 1, 1997, may not exceed 85 percent of the baseline number; and

(2) as of October 1, 1998, may not exceed 80 percent of the baseline number.

(c) BASELINE NUMBER.—For purposes of this section, the term "baseline number" means the number of OSD personnel as of October 1, 1994.

(d) OSD PERSONNEL DEFINED.—For purposes of this section, the term "OSD personnel" means military and civilian personnel of the Department of Defense who are assigned to, or employed in, functions in the Office of the Secretary of Defense (including Direct Support Activities of that Office and the Washington Headquarters Services of the Department of Defense).

(e) LIMITATION ON REASSIGNMENT OF FUNCTIONS.—In carrying out reductions in the number of personnel assigned to, or employed in, the Office of the Secretary of Defense in order to comply with this section, the Secretary of Defense may not reassign functions solely in order to evade the requirements contained in this section.

(f) FLEXIBILITY.—If the Secretary of Defense determines, and certifies to Congress, that the limitation in subsection (b) with respect to any fiscal year would adversely affect United States national security, the Secretary may waive the limitation under that subsection with respect to that fiscal year. If the Secretary of Defense determines, and certifies to Congress, that the limitation in subsection (a) during fiscal year 1999 would adversely affect United States national security, the Secretary may waive the limitation under that subsection with respect to that fiscal year. The authority under this subsection may be used only once, with respect to a single fiscal year.

(g) REPEAL OF PRIOR REQUIREMENT.—Section 901(d) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 401) is repealed.

SEC. 904. REPORT ON MILITARY DEPARTMENT HEADQUARTERS STAFFS.

(a) REVIEW BY SECRETARY OF DEFENSE.—The Secretary of Defense shall conduct a review of the size, mission, organization, and functions of the military department headquarters staffs. This review shall include the following:

(1) An assessment on the adequacy of the present organization structure to efficiently and effectively support the mission of the military departments.

(2) An assessment of options to reduce the number of personnel assigned to the military department headquarters staffs.

(3) An assessment of the extent of unnecessary duplication of functions between the Office of the Secretary of Defense and the military department headquarters staffs.

(4) An assessment of the possible benefits that could be derived from further functional consolidation between the civilian secretariat of the military departments and the staffs of the military service chiefs.

(5) An assessment of the possible benefits that could be derived from reducing the number of civilian officers in the military departments who are appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

(b) REPORT.—Not later than March 1, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the congressional defense committees a report containing—

(1) the findings and conclusions of the Secretary resulting from the review under subsection (a); and

(2) a plan for implementing resulting recommendations, including proposals for legislation (with supporting rationale) that would be required as a result of the review.

(c) REDUCTION IN TOTAL NUMBER OF PERSONNEL ASSIGNED.—In developing the plan under subsection (b)(2), the Secretary shall make every effort to provide for significant reductions in the overall number of military and civilian personnel assigned to or serving in the military department headquarters staffs.

(d) MILITARY DEPARTMENT HEADQUARTERS STAFFS DEFINED.—For the purposes of this section, the term "military department headquarters staffs" means the offices, organizations, and other elements of the Department of Defense comprising the following:

(1) The Office of the Secretary of the Army.

(2) The Army Staff.

(3) The Office of the Secretary of the Air Force.

(4) The Air Staff.

(5) The Office of the Secretary of the Navy.

(6) The Office of the Chief of Naval Operations.

(7) Headquarters, Marine Corps.

SEC. 905. MATTERS TO BE CONSIDERED IN NEXT ASSESSMENT OF CURRENT MISSIONS, RESPONSIBILITIES, AND FORCE STRUCTURE OF THE UNIFIED COMBATANT COMMANDS.

The Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff shall consider, as part of the next periodic review by the Chairman of the missions, responsibilities, and force structure of the unified combatant commands pursuant to section 161(b) of title 10, United States Code, the following matters:

(1) Whether there exists an adequate distribution of threats, mission requirements, and responsibilities for geographic areas among the regional unified combatant commands.

(2) Whether reductions in the overall force structure of the Armed Forces permit the United States to better execute its warfighting plans through fewer or differently configured unified combatant commands, including—

(A) a total of five or fewer commands, all of which are regional;

(B) a total of three commands consisting of an eastward-oriented command, a westward-oriented command, and a central command;

(C) a purely functional command structure, involving (for example) a first theater command, a second theater command, a logistics command, a special contingencies command, and a strategic command; or

(D) any other command structure or configuration the Chairman finds appropriate.

(3) Whether any missions, staff, facilities, equipment, training programs, or other assets or activities of the unified combatant commands are redundant.

(4) Whether warfighting requirements are adequate to justify the current functional commands.

(5) Whether the exclusion of certain nations from the Areas of Responsibility of the unified combatant commands presents difficulties with respect to the achievement of United States national security objectives in those areas.

(6) Whether the current geographic boundary between the United States Central Command and the United States European Command through the Middle East could create command conflicts in the context of a major regional conflict in the Middle East region.

SEC. 906. TRANSFER OF AUTHORITY TO CONTROL TRANSPORTATION SYSTEMS IN TIME OF WAR.

(a) AUTHORITY OF SECRETARY OF DEFENSE.—Section 4742 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out "Secretary of the Army" and inserting in lieu thereof "Secretary of Defense".

(b) TRANSFER OF SECTION.—Such section, as amended by subsection (a), is transferred to the end of chapter 157 of such title and is redesignated as section 2644.

(c) CONFORMING REPEAL.—Section 9742 of such title is repealed.

(d) CLERICAL AMENDMENTS.—(1) The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 157 of such title is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"2644. Control of transportation systems in time of war."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 447 of such title is amended by striking out the item relating to section 4742.

(3) The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 947 of such title is amended by striking out the item relating to section 9742.

SEC. 907. CODIFICATION OF REQUIREMENTS RELATING TO CONTINUED OPERATION OF THE UNIFORMED SERVICES UNIVERSITY OF THE HEALTH SCIENCES.

(a) CODIFICATION OF EXISTING LAW.—(1) Chapter 104 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 2112 the following new section:

"§ 2112a. Continued operation of University

"(a) CLOSURE PROHIBITED.—The University may not be closed.

"(b) PERSONNEL STRENGTH.—During the five-year period beginning on October 1, 1996, the personnel staffing levels for the University may not be reduced below the personnel staffing levels for the University as of October 1, 1993."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 2112 the following new item:

(b) REPEAL OF SUPERSEDED LAW.—(1) Section 922 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1995 (Public Law 103-337; 108 Stat. 2829; 10 U.S.C. 2112 note) is amended by striking out subsection (a).

(2) Section 1071 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 445; 10 U.S.C. 2112 note) is amended by striking out subsection (b).

SEC. 908. JOINT REQUIREMENTS OVERSIGHT COUNCIL.

Section 181 of title 10, United States Code, as added effective January 31, 1997, is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(d) AVAILABILITY OF OVERSIGHT INFORMATION TO CONGRESSIONAL DEFENSE COMMITTEES.—(1) The Secretary of Defense shall ensure that, in the case of a recommendation by the Chairman to the Secretary that is approved by the Secretary, oversight information with respect to such recommendation that is produced as a result of the activities of the Joint Requirements Oversight Council is made available in a timely fashion to the congressional defense committees.

"(2) In this subsection:

"(A) The term 'oversight information' means information and materials comprising analysis and justification that are prepared to support a recommendation that is made to, and approved by, the Secretary of Defense.

"(B) The term 'congressional defense committees' means—

"(1) the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate; and

"(2) the Committee on National Security and the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives."

SEC. 909. MEMBERSHIP OF THE AMMUNITION STORAGE BOARD.

Section 172(a) of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out "a joint board of officers selected by them" and inserting in lieu thereof "a joint board selected by them composed of officers, civilian officers and employees of the Department of Defense, or both".

SEC. 910. REMOVAL OF SECRETARY OF THE ARMY FROM MEMBERSHIP ON THE FOREIGN TRADE ZONE BOARD.

The first section of the Act of June 18, 1934 (Public Law Numbered 397, Seventy-third Congress; 48 Stat. 998) (19 U.S.C. 81a), popularly known as the "Foreign Trade Zones Act", is amended—

(1) in subsection (b), by striking out "the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Secretary of War" and inserting in lieu thereof "and the Secretary of the Treasury"; and

(2) in subsection (c), by striking out "Alaska, Hawaii,".

SEC. 911. COMPOSITION OF AIRCRAFT ACCIDENT INVESTIGATION BOARDS.

(a) SELECTION OF BOARD MEMBERS.—(1) Chapter 134 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§ 2255. Aircraft accident investigation boards: composition requirements

"(a) REQUIRED MEMBERSHIP OF BOARDS.—Whenever the Secretary of a military department convenes an aircraft accident investigation board to conduct an accident investigation (as described in section 2254(a)(2) of this title) with respect to a Class A accident involving an aircraft under the jurisdiction of the Secretary, the Secretary shall select the membership of the board so that—

"(1) a majority of the members (or in the case of a board consisting of a single member, the member) is selected from units other than the mishap unit or a unit subordinate to the mishap unit; and

"(2) in the case of a board consisting of more than one member, at least one member of the board is a member of the armed forces or an officer or an employee of the Department of Defense who possesses knowledge and expertise relevant to aircraft accident investigations.

"(b) EXCEPTION.—(1) The Secretary of the military department concerned may waive the requirement of subsection (a)(1) in the case of an aircraft accident if the Secretary determines that—

"(A) it is not practicable to meet the requirement because of—

"(i) the remote location of the aircraft accident;

"(ii) an urgent need to promptly begin the investigation; or

"(iii) a lack of available persons outside of the mishap unit who have adequate knowledge and expertise regarding the type of aircraft involved in the accident; and

"(B) the objectivity and independence of the aircraft accident investigation board will not be compromised.

"(2) The Secretary shall notify Congress of a waiver exercised under this subsection and the reasons therefor.

"(c) CONSULTATION REQUIREMENT.—In the case of an aircraft accident investigation board consisting of a single member, the member shall consult with a member of the armed forces or an officer or an employee of the Department of Defense who possesses knowledge and expertise relevant to aircraft accident investigations.

"(d) DESIGNATION OF CLASS A ACCIDENTS.—Not later than 60 days after an aircraft accident involving an aircraft under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of a military department, the Secretary shall determine whether the aircraft accident should be designated as a Class A accident for purposes of this section.

"(e) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

"(1) The term 'Class A accident' means an accident involving an aircraft that results in—

"(A) the loss of life or permanent disability;

"(B) damages to the aircraft, other property, or a combination of both, in an amount in excess of the amount specified by the Secretary of Defense for purposes of determining Class A accidents; or

"(C) the destruction of the aircraft.

"(2) The term 'mishap unit', with respect to an aircraft accident investigation, means the unit of the armed forces (at the squadron or battalion level or equivalent) to which was assigned the flight crew of the aircraft that sustained the accident that is the subject of the investigation."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of subchapter II of such chapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"2255. Aircraft accident investigation boards: composition requirements."

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—Section 2255 of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a), shall apply with respect to any aircraft accident investigation board convened by the Secretary of a military department after the end of the six-month period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 912. MISSION OF THE WHITE HOUSE COMMUNICATIONS AGENCY.

(a) TELECOMMUNICATIONS SUPPORT.—The Secretary of Defense shall ensure that the activities of the White House Communications Agency in providing support services on a nonreimbursable basis for the President from funds appropriated for the Department of Defense for any fiscal year are limited to the provision of telecommunications support to the President and Vice President and to related elements (as defined in regulations of that agency and specified by the President with respect to particular individuals within those related elements).

(b) OTHER SUPPORT.—Support services other than telecommunications support services described in subsection (a) may be provided by the Department of Defense for the President through the White House Communications Agency on a reimbursable basis.

(c) WHITE HOUSE COMMUNICATIONS AGENCY.—For purposes of this section, the term "White House Communications Agency" means the element of the Department of Defense within the Defense Communications Agency that is known on the date of the enactment of this Act as the White House Communications Agency and includes any successor agency.

(d) REPORT ON ISSUES RAISED BY DOD INSPECTOR GENERAL REVIEW OF WHITE HOUSE COMMUNICATIONS AGENCY.—Not later than October 1, 1996, or 30 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, whichever is later, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report setting forth the actions taken by the Secretary to address the issues raised by the report of the Department of Defense Inspector General reviewing the mission of the White House Communications Agency.

(e) QUARTERLY REPORTS DURING FISCAL YEAR 1997.—Not later than 30 days after the end of each quarter of fiscal year 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report describing the support services other than telecommunications support services described in subsection (a) that were provided during the preceding quarter by the Department of Defense for the President through the White House Communications Agency.

(f) EFFECTIVE DATE.—This section takes effect on October 1, 1997, and applies to funds appropriated for the Department of Defense for any fiscal year after fiscal year 1997.

Subtitle B—Force Structure Review

SEC. 921. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the "Military Force Structure Review Act of 1996".

SEC. 922. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Since the collapse of the Soviet Union in 1991, the United States has conducted two substantial assessments of the force structure of the Armed Forces necessary to meet United States defense requirements.

(2) The assessment by the Bush Administration (known as the "Base Force" assessment) and the assessment by the Clinton Administration (known as the "Bottom-Up Review") were intended to reassess the force structure of the Armed Forces in light of the changing realities of the post-Cold War world.

(3) Both assessments served an important purpose in focusing attention on the need to reevaluate the military posture of the United States, but the pace of global change necessitates a new, comprehensive assessment of the defense strategy of the United States and the force structure of the Armed Forces required to meet the threats to the United States in the twenty-first century.

(4) The Bottom-Up Review has been criticized on several points, including—

(A) the assumptions underlying the strategy of planning to fight and win two nearly simultaneous major regional conflicts;

(B) the force levels recommended to carry out that strategy; and

(C) the funding proposed for such recommended force levels.

(5) In response to the recommendations of the Commission on Roles and Missions of the Armed Forces, the Secretary of Defense endorsed the concept of conducting a quadrennial review of the defense program at the beginning of each newly elected Presidential administration, and the Department intends to complete the first such review in 1997.

(6) The review is to involve a comprehensive examination of defense strategy, the force structure of the active, guard, and reserve components, force modernization plans, infrastructure, and other elements of the defense program and policies in order to determine and express the defense strategy of the United States and to establish a revised defense program through the year 2005.

(7) In order to ensure that the force structure of the Armed Forces is adequate to meet the challenges to the national security interests of the United States in the twenty-first century, to assist the Secretary of Defense in conducting the review referred to in paragraph (5), and to assess the appropriate force structure of the Armed Forces through the year 2010 and beyond (if practicable), it is important to provide for the conduct of an independent, nonpartisan review of the force structure that is more comprehensive than prior assessments of the force structure, extends beyond the quadrennial defense review, and explores innovative and forward-thinking ways of meeting such challenges.

SEC. 923. QUADRENNIAL DEFENSE REVIEW.

(a) REQUIREMENT IN 1997.—The Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, shall complete in 1997 a review of the defense program of the United States intended to satisfy the requirements for a Quadrennial Defense Review as identified in the recommendations of the Commission on Roles and Missions of the Armed Forces. The review shall include a comprehensive examination of the defense strategy, force structure, force modernization plans, infrastructure, budget plan, and other elements of the defense program and policies with a view toward determining and expressing the defense strategy of the United States and establishing a revised defense program through the year 2005.

(b) INVOLVEMENT OF NATIONAL DEFENSE PANEL.—(1) The Secretary shall apprise the National Defense Panel established under section 924, on an ongoing basis, of the work undertaken in the conduct of the review.

(2) Not later than March 14, 1997, the Chairman of the National Defense Panel shall submit to the Secretary the Panel's assessment of work undertaken in the conduct of the review as of that date and shall include in the assessment the recommendations of the Panel for improvements to the review, including recommendations for additional matters to be covered in the review.

(c) ASSESSMENTS OF REVIEW.—Upon completion of the review, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Chairman of the National Defense Panel, on behalf of the Panel, shall each prepare and submit to the Secretary such chairman's assessment of the review in time for the inclusion of the assessment in its entirety in the report under subsection (d).

(d) REPORT.—Not later than May 15, 1997, the Secretary shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a comprehensive report on the review. The report shall include the following:

(1) The results of the review, including a comprehensive discussion of the defense strategy of the United States and the force structure best suited to implement that strategy.

(2) The threats examined for purposes of the review and the scenarios developed in the examination of such threats.

(3) The assumptions used in the review, including assumptions relating to the cooperation of allies and mission-sharing, levels of acceptable risk, warning times, and intensity and duration of conflict.

(4) The effect on the force structure of preparations for and participation in peace operations and military operations other than war.

(5) The effect on the force structure of the utilization by the Armed Forces of technologies anticipated to be available by the year 2005, including precision guided munitions, stealth, night vision, digitization, and communications, and the changes in doctrine and operational concepts that would result from the utilization of such technologies.

(6) The manpower and sustainment policies required under the defense strategy to support engagement in conflicts lasting more than 120 days.

(7) The anticipated roles and missions of the reserve components in the defense strategy and the strength, capabilities, and equipment necessary to assure that the reserve components can capably discharge those roles and missions.

(8) The appropriate ratio of combat forces to support forces (commonly referred to as the "tooth-to-tail" ratio) under the defense strategy, including, in particular, the appropriate number and size of headquarter units and Defense Agencies for that purpose.

(9) The air-lift and sea-lift capabilities required to support the defense strategy.

(10) The forward presence, pre-positioning, and other anticipatory deployments necessary under the defense strategy for conflict deterrence and adequate military response to anticipated conflicts.

(11) The extent to which resources must be shifted among two or more theaters under the defense strategy in the event of conflict in such theaters.

(12) The advisability of revisions to the Unified Command Plan as a result of the defense strategy.

(13) Any other matter the Secretary considers appropriate.

SEC. 924. NATIONAL DEFENSE PANEL.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than December 1, 1996, the Secretary of Defense shall establish a nonpartisan, independent panel to be known as the National Defense Panel (in this section referred to as the "Panel"). The Panel shall have the duties set forth in this section.

(b) MEMBERSHIP.—The Panel shall be composed of a chairman and eight other individuals appointed by the Secretary, in consultation with the chairman and ranking member of the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the chairman and ranking member of the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives, from among individuals in the private sector who are recognized experts in matters relating to the national security of the United States.

(c) DUTIES.—The Panel shall—

(1) conduct and submit to the Secretary the assessment of the review under section 923 that is required by subsection (b)(2) of that section;

(2) conduct and submit to the Secretary the comprehensive assessment of the review that is required by subsection (c) of that section upon completion of the review; and

(3) conduct the assessment of alternative force structures for the Armed Forces required under subsection (d).

(d) ALTERNATIVE FORCE STRUCTURE ASSESSMENT.—(1) The Panel shall submit to the Secretary an independent assessment of a variety of possible force structures of the Armed Forces through the year 2010 and beyond, including the force structure identified in the report on the review under section 923(d). The purpose of the assessment is to develop proposals for an "above the line" force structure of the Armed Forces and to provide the Secretary and Congress recommendations regarding the optimal force structure to meet anticipated threats to the national security of the United States through the time covered by the assessment.

(2) In conducting the assessment, the Panel shall examine a variety of potential threats (including near-term threats and long-term threats) to the national security interests of the United States, including the following:

(A) Conventional threats across a spectrum of conflicts.

(B) The proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and the means of delivering such weapons, and the illicit transfer of technology relating to such weapons.

(C) The vulnerability of United States technology to nontraditional threats, including information warfare.

(D) Domestic and international terrorism.

(E) The emergence of a major potential adversary having military capabilities similar to those of the United States.

(F) Any other significant threat, or combination of threats, identified by the Panel.

(3) For purposes of the assessment, the Panel shall develop a variety of scenarios requiring a military response by the United States, including the following:

(A) Scenarios developed in light of the threats examined under paragraph (2).

(B) Scenarios developed in light of a continuum of conflicts ranging from a conflict of lesser magnitude than the conflict described in the Bottom-Up Review to a conflict of greater magnitude than the conflict so described.

(4) As part of the assessment, the Panel shall also—

(A) develop recommendations regarding a variety of force structures for the Armed Forces that permit the forward deployment of sufficient air, land, and sea-based forces to provide an effective deterrent to conflict and to permit a military response by the United States to the scenarios developed under paragraph (3);

(B) to the extent practicable, estimate the funding required by fiscal year, in constant fiscal year 1997 dollars, to organize, equip, and support the forces contemplated under the force structures assessed in the assessment; and

(C) comment on each of the matters also to be included by the Secretary in the report required by section 923(d).

(e) REPORT.—(1) Not later than December 1, 1997, the Panel shall submit to the Secretary a report setting forth the activities and the findings and recommendations of the Panel under subsection (d), including any recommendations for legislation that the Panel considers appropriate.

(2) Not later than December 15, 1997, the Secretary shall, after consultation with the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, submit to the committees referred to in subsection (b) a copy of the report under paragraph (1), together with the Secretary's comments on the report.

(f) INFORMATION FROM FEDERAL AGENCIES.—The Panel may secure directly from the Department of Defense and any of its components and from any other Federal department and agency such information as the Panel considers necessary to carry out its duties under this section. The head of the department or agency concerned shall ensure that information requested by the Panel under this subsection is promptly provided.

(g) PERSONNEL MATTERS.—(1) Each member of the Panel shall be compensated at a rate equal to the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay prescribed for level IV of the Executive Schedule under section 5315 of title 5, United States Code, for each day (including travel time) during which such member is engaged in the performance of the duties of the Panel.

(2) The members of the Panel shall be allowed travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, at rates authorized for employees of agencies under subchapter I of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, while away from their homes or regular places of business in the performance of services for the Panel.

(3)(A) The chairman of the Panel may, without regard to the civil service laws and regulations, appoint and terminate an executive director, and a staff of not more than four additional individuals, if the Panel determines that an executive director and staff are necessary in order for the Panel to perform its duties effectively. The employment of an executive director shall be subject to confirmation by the Panel.

(B) The chairman may fix the compensation of the executive director without regard to the provisions of chapter 51 and subchapter III of chapter 53 of title 5, United States Code, relating to classification of positions and General Schedule pay rates, except that the rate of pay for the executive director may not exceed the rate payable for level V of the Executive Schedule under section 5316 of such title.

(4) Any Federal Government employee may be detailed to the Panel without reimbursement, and such detail shall be without interruption or loss of civil service status or privilege. The Secretary shall ensure that sufficient personnel are detailed to the Panel to enable the Panel to carry out its duties effectively.

(5) To the maximum extent practicable, the members and employees of the Panel shall travel on military aircraft, military ships, military vehicles, or other military conveyances when travel is necessary in the performance of a duty of the Panel, except that no such aircraft, ship, vehicle, or other conveyance may be scheduled primarily for the transportation of any such member or employee when the cost of commercial transportation is less expensive.

(h) ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS.—(1) The Panel may use the United States mails and obtain printing and binding services in the same manner and under the same conditions as other departments and agencies of the Federal Government.

(2) The Secretary shall furnish the Panel any administrative and support services requested by the Panel.

(3) The Panel may accept, use, and dispose of gifts or donations of services or property.

(i) PAYMENT OF PANEL EXPENSES.—The compensation, travel expenses, and per diem allowances of members and employees of the Panel shall be paid out of funds available to the Department of Defense for the payment of compensation, travel allowances, and per diem allowances, respectively, of civilian employees of the Department. The other expenses of the Panel shall be paid out of funds available to the Department for the payment of similar expenses incurred by the Department.

(j) TERMINATION.—The Panel shall terminate 30 days after the date on which the Panel submits its report to the Secretary under subsection (e).

Subtitle A—Financial Matters

SEC. 1001. TRANSFER AUTHORITY.

(a) AUTHORITY TO TRANSFER AUTHORIZATIONS.—(1) Upon determination by the Secretary of Defense that such action is necessary in the national interest, the Secretary may transfer amounts of authorizations made available to the Department of Defense in this division for fiscal year 1997 between any such authorizations for that fiscal year (or any subdivisions thereof). Amounts of authorizations so transferred shall be merged with and be available for the same purposes as the authorization to which transferred.

(2) The total amount of authorizations that the Secretary of Defense may transfer under the authority of this section may not exceed $2,000,000,000.

(b) LIMITATIONS.—The authority provided by this section to transfer authorizations—

(1) may only be used to provide authority for items that have a higher priority than the items from which authority is transferred; and

(2) may not be used to provide authority for an item that has been denied authorization by Congress.

(c) EFFECT ON AUTHORIZATION AMOUNTS.—A transfer made from one account to another under the authority of this section shall be deemed to increase the amount authorized for the account to which the amount is transferred by an amount equal to the amount transferred.

(d) NOTICE TO CONGRESS.—The Secretary shall promptly notify Congress of each transfer made under subsection (a).

SEC. 1002. INCORPORATION OF CLASSIFIED ANNEX.

(a) STATUS OF CLASSIFIED ANNEX.—The Classified Annex prepared by the committee of conference to accompany the conference report on the bill H.R. 3230 of the One Hundred Fourth Congress and transmitted to the President is hereby incorporated into this Act.

(b) CONSTRUCTION WITH OTHER PROVISIONS OF ACT.—The amounts specified in the Classified Annex are not in addition to amounts authorized to be appropriated by other provisions of this Act.

(c) LIMITATION ON USE OF FUNDS.—Funds appropriated pursuant to an authorization contained in this Act that are made available for a program, project, or activity referred to in the Classified Annex may only be expended for such program, project, or activity in accordance with such terms, conditions, limitations, restrictions, and requirements as are set out for that program, project, or activity in the Classified Annex.

(d) DISTRIBUTION OF CLASSIFIED ANNEX.—The President shall provide for appropriate distribution of the Classified Annex, or of appropriate portions of the annex, within the executive branch of the Government.

SEC. 1003. AUTHORITY FOR OBLIGATION OF CERTAIN UNAUTHORIZED FISCAL YEAR 1996 DEFENSE APPROPRIATIONS.

(a) AUTHORITY.—The amounts described in subsection (b) may be obligated and expended for programs, projects, and activities of the Department of Defense in accordance with fiscal year 1996 defense appropriations.

(b) COVERED AMOUNTS.—The amounts referred to in subsection (a) are the amounts provided for programs, projects, and activities of the Department of Defense in fiscal year 1996 defense appropriations that are in excess of the amounts provided for such programs, projects, and activities in fiscal year 1996 defense appropriations.

(c) DEFINITIONS.—For the purposes of this section:

(1) FISCAL YEAR 1996 DEFENSE APPROPRIATIONS.—The term "fiscal year 1996 defense appropriations" means amounts appropriated or otherwise made available to the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1996 in the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1996 (Public Law 104-61).

(2) FISCAL YEAR 1996 DEFENSE AUTHORIZATIONS.—The term "fiscal year 1996 defense authorizations" means amounts authorized to be appropriated for the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1996 in the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106).

SEC. 1004. AUTHORIZATION OF PRIOR EMERGENCY SUPPLEMENTAL APPROPRIATIONS FOR FISCAL YEAR 1996.

Amounts authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1996 in the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106) are hereby adjusted, with respect to any such authorized amount, by the amount by which appropriations pursuant to such authorization were increased (by a supplemental appropriation) or decreased (by a rescission), or both, in the Omnibus Consolidated Rescissions and Appropriations Act of 1996 (Public Law 104-134).

SEC. 1005. FORMAT FOR BUDGET REQUESTS FOR NAVY/MARINE CORPS AND AIR FORCE AMMUNITION ACCOUNTS.

Section 114 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(f) In each budget submitted by the President to Congress under section 1105 of title 31, amounts requested for procurement of ammunition for the Navy and Marine Corps, and for procurement of ammunition for the Air Force, shall be set forth separately from other amounts requested for procurement."

SEC. 1006. FORMAT FOR ANNUAL BUDGET REQUESTS FOR DEFENSE AIRBORNE RECONNAISSANCE PROGRAM.

(a) SEPARATE DISPLAY REQUIRED.—The Secretary of Defense shall ensure that in the budget justification documents for any fiscal year there are set forth separately the amount requested for research, development, test, and evaluation, and the amount requested for procurement, for each program area within the Defense Airborne Reconnaissance Program.

(b) PROGRAM AREAS WITHIN DEFENSE AIRBORNE RECONNAISSANCE PROGRAM.—For purposes of subsection (a), the programs of the Defense Airborne Reconnaissance Program shall be categorized as being within one of the following areas:

- (1) Tactical unmanned aerial vehicles.
- (2) Endurance unmanned aerial vehicles.
- (3) Airborne reconnaissance systems.
- (4) Manned reconnaissance systems.
- (5) Distributed common ground systems.
- (6) Any additional program area established by the Secretary of Defense.

(c) BUDGET JUSTIFICATION DOCUMENTS.—For purposes of subsection (a), the term "budget justification documents" means the supporting budget documentation submitted to the congressional defense committees in support of the budget of the Department of Defense for a fiscal year as included in the budget of the President submitted under section 1105 of title 31, United States Code, for that fiscal year.

SEC. 1007. LIMITATION ON USE OF DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE FUNDS TRANSFERRED TO THE COAST GUARD.

(a) LIMITATION TO NATIONAL SECURITY FUNCTIONS.—Funds appropriated to the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1997 that are transferred pursuant to law to the Coast Guard may be used only for the performance of national security functions of the Coast Guard in support of the Department of Defense.

(b) CERTIFICATION REQUIRED.—Funds appropriated to the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1997 may not be transferred to the Coast Guard until the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Transportation jointly certify to Congress that the funds so transferred will be used only in accordance with the limitation in subsection (a).

(c) PERIODIC GAO AUDITS.—The Comptroller General of the United States shall—

(1) audit, from time to time, the use of funds transferred to the Coast Guard from appropriations for the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1997 in order to verify that those funds are being used in accordance with the limitation in subsection (a); and

(2) notify the congressional defense committees of any use of those funds that, in the judgment of the Comptroller General, is a violation of that limitation.

SEC. 1008. FISHER HOUSE TRUST FUND FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY.

(a) AUTHORITY.—Section 2221 of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by adding at the end of subsection (a) the following:

“(3) The Fisher House Trust Fund, Department of the Navy.”;

(2) in subsection (c)—

(A) by redesignating paragraph (3) as paragraph (4); and

(B) by inserting after paragraph (2) the following new paragraph (3):

“(3) Amounts in the Fisher House Trust Fund, Department of the Navy, that are attributable to earnings or gains realized from investments shall be available for the operation and maintenance of Fisher houses that are located in proximity to medical treatment facilities of the Navy.”; and

(3) in subsection (d)(1), by striking out “or the Air Force” and inserting in lieu thereof “, the Air Force, or the Navy”.

(b) CORPUS OF TRUST FUNDS.—The Secretary of the Navy shall transfer to the Fisher House Trust Fund, Department of the Navy, established by section 2221(a)(3) of title 10, United States Code (as added by subsection (a)(1)), all amounts in the accounts for Navy installations and other facilities that, as of the date of the enactment of this Act, are available for operation and maintenance of Fisher houses, as defined in section 2221(d) of such title.

(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—Section 1321 of title 31, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by adding at the end of subsection (a) the following:

“(94) Fisher House Trust Fund, Department of the Navy.”; and

(2) by adding at the end of subsection (b)(2) the following:

“(D) Fisher House Trust Fund, Department of the Navy.”.

SEC. 1009. DESIGNATION AND LIABILITY OF DISBURSING AND CERTIFYING OFFICIALS FOR THE COAST GUARD.

(a) DISBURSING OFFICIALS.—(1) Section 3321(c) of title 31, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(3) The Department of Transportation (with respect to public money available for expenditure by the Coast Guard when it is not operating as a service in the Navy).”.

(2)(A) Chapter 17 of title 14, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

“§ 673. Designation, powers, and accountability of deputy disbursing officials

“(a)(1) Subject to paragraph (3), a disbursing official of the Coast Guard may designate a deputy disbursing official—

“(A) to make payments as the agent of the disbursing official;

“(B) to sign checks drawn on disbursing accounts of the Secretary of the Treasury; and “(C) to carry out other duties required under law.

“(2) The penalties for misconduct that apply to a disbursing official apply to a deputy disbursing official designated under this subsection.

“(3) A disbursing official may make a designation under paragraph (1) only with the approval of the Secretary of Transportation (when the Coast Guard is not operating as a service in the Navy).

“(b)(1) If a disbursing official of the Coast Guard dies, becomes disabled, or is separated from office, a deputy disbursing official may continue the accounts and payments in the name of the former disbursing official until the last day of the second month after the month in which the death, disability, or separation occurs. The accounts and payments shall be allowed, audited, and settled as provided by law. The Secretary of the Treasury shall honor checks signed in the name of the former disbursing official in the same way as if the former disbursing official had continued in office.

“(2) The deputy disbursing official, and not the former disbursing official or the estate of the former disbursing official, is liable for the actions of the deputy disbursing official under this subsection.

“(c)(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), this section does not apply to the Coast Guard when section 2773 of title 10 applies to the Coast Guard by reason of the operation of the Coast Guard as a service in the Navy.

“(2) A designation of a deputy disbursing official under subsection (a) that is made while the Coast Guard is not operating as a service in the Navy continues in effect for purposes of section 2773 of title 10 while the Coast Guard operates as a service in the Navy unless and until the designation is terminated by the disbursing official who made the designation or an official authorized to approve such a designation under subsection (a)(3) of such section.”.

(B) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

“673. Designation, powers, and accountability of deputy disbursing officials.”.

(b) DESIGNATION OF MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES TO HAVE AUTHORITY TO CERTIFY VOUCHERS.—Section 3325(b) of title 31, United States Code, is amended by striking out “members of the armed forces under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Defense may certify vouchers when authorized, in writing, by the Secretary to do so” and inserting in lieu thereof “members of the armed forces may certify vouchers when authorized, in writing, by the Secretary of Defense or, in the case of the Coast Guard when it is not operating as a service in the Navy, by the Secretary of Transportation”.

(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—(1) Section 1007(a) of title 37, United States Code, is amended by inserting after “Secretary of Defense” the following: “(or the Secretary of Transportation, in the case of an officer of the Coast Guard when the Coast Guard is not operating as a service in the Navy)”.

(2) Section 3527(b)(1) of title 31, United States Code, is amended—

(A) in subparagraph (A)(i), by inserting after “Department of Defense” the following: “(or the Secretary of Transportation, in the case of a disbursing official of the Coast Guard when the Coast Guard is not operating as a service in the Navy)”; and

(B) in subparagraph (B), by inserting after “or the Secretary of the appropriate military department” the following: “(or the Secretary of Transportation, in the case of a disbursing official of the Coast Guard when the Coast Guard is not operating as a service in the Navy)”.

SEC. 1010. AUTHORITY TO SUSPEND OR TERMINATE COLLECTION ACTIONS AGAINST DECEASED MEMBERS OF THE COAST GUARD.

Section 3711(g) of title 31, United States Code, is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1), by striking out “or Marine Corps” and inserting in lieu thereof “Marine Corps, or Coast Guard during a period when the Coast Guard is operating as a service in the Navy”;

(2) by redesignating paragraph (2) as paragraph (3); and

(3) by inserting after paragraph (1) the following new paragraph (2):

“(2) The Secretary of Transportation may suspend or terminate an action by the Secretary under subsection (a) to collect a claim against the estate of a person who died while serving on active duty as a member of the Coast Guard if the Secretary determines that, under the circumstances applicable with respect to the deceased person, it is appropriate to do so.”.

SEC. 1011. DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE DISBURSING OFFICIAL CHECK CASHING AND EXCHANGE TRANSACTIONS.

Section 3342(b) of title 31, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking out the period at the end of paragraph (3) and inserting in lieu thereof a semicolon;

(2) by striking out “and” at the end of paragraph (5);

(3) by striking out the period at the end of paragraph (6) and inserting in lieu thereof “; or”;

(4) by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(7) A Federal credit union (as defined in section 101(1) of the Federal Credit Union Act (12 U.S.C. 1752(1))) that at the request of the Secretary of Defense is operating on a United States military installation in a foreign country, but only if that country does not permit contractor-operated military banking facilities to operate on such installations.”.

Subtitle B—Naval Vessels and Shipyards

SEC. 1021. REPEAL OF REQUIREMENT FOR CONTINUOUS APPLICABILITY OF CONTRACTS FOR PHASED MAINTENANCE OF AE CLASS SHIPS.

Section 1016 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 425) is repealed.

SEC. 1022. FUNDING FOR SECOND AND THIRD MARITIME PREPOSITIONING SHIPS OUT OF NATIONAL DEFENSE SEALIFT FUND.

(a) NATIONAL DEFENSE SEALIFT FUND.—To the extent provided in appropriations Acts, funds in the National Defense Sealift Fund may be obligated and expended for the purchase and conversion, or construction, of a total of three ships for the purpose of enhancing Marine Corps prepositioning ship squadrons.

(b) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated under section 302(2), $240,000,000 is authorized to be appropriated for the purpose stated in subsection (a).

SEC. 1023. TRANSFER OF CERTAIN OBSOLETE TUGBOATS OF THE NAVY.

(a) REQUIREMENT TO TRANSFER VESSELS.—The Secretary of the Navy shall transfer the six obsolete tugboats of the Navy specified in subsection (b) to the Northeast Wisconsin Railroad Transportation Commission, an instrumentality of the State of Wisconsin, if the Secretary determines that the tugboats are not needed for transfer, donation, or other disposal under title II of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 (40 U.S.C. 481 et seq.).

(b) VESSELS COVERED.—The requirement in subsection (a) applies to the six decommissioned Cherokee class tugboats, listed as of the date of the enactment of this Act as being surplus to the Navy, that are designated as ATF-105, ATF-110, ATF-149, ATF-158, ATF-159, and ATF-160.

(c) CONDITION RELATING TO ENVIRONMENTAL COMPLIANCE.—The Secretary shall require as a condition of the transfer of a vessel under subsection (a) that use of the vessel by the Commission not commence until the terms of any necessary environmental compliance letter or agreement with respect to that vessel have been complied with.

(d) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions (including a requirement that the transfer be at no cost to the Government) in connection with the transfers required by subsection (a) as the Secretary considers appropriate.

SEC. 1024. TRANSFER OF U.S.S. DRUM TO CITY OF VALLEJO, CALIFORNIA.

(a) TRANSFER.—The Secretary of the Navy shall transfer the U.S.S. Drum (SSN-677) to the city of Vallejo, California, in accordance with this section and upon satisfactory completion of a ship donation application. Before making such transfer, the Secretary of the Navy shall remove from the vessel the reactor compartment and other classified and sensitive military equipment.

(b) FUNDING.—As provided in section 7306(c) of title 10, United States Code, the transfer of the vessel authorized by this section shall be made at no cost to the United States (beyond the cost which the United States would otherwise incur for dismantling and recycling of the vessel).

(c) APPLICABLE LAW.—The transfer under this section shall be subject to subsection (b) of section 7306 of title 10, United States Code, but the provisions of subsection (d) of such section shall not be applicable to such transfer.

SEC. 1025. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING USS LCS 102 (LSSL 102).

It is the sense of Congress that the Secretary of Defense should use existing authorities in law to seek the expeditious return, upon completion of service, of the former USS LCS 102 (LSSL 102) from the Government of Thailand in order for the ship to be transferred to the United States Shipbuilding Museum in Quincy, Massachusetts.

Subtitle C—Counter-Drug Activities

SEC. 1031. AUTHORITY TO PROVIDE ADDITIONAL SUPPORT FOR COUNTER-DRUG ACTIVITIES OF MEXICO.

(a) AUTHORITY TO PROVIDE ADDITIONAL SUPPORT.—Subject to subsection (e), during fiscal year 1997, the Secretary of Defense may provide the Government of Mexico with the support described in subsection (b) for the counter-drug activities of the Government of Mexico. The support provided under the authority of this subsection shall be in addition to support provided to the Government of Mexico under any other provision of law.

(b) TYPES OF SUPPORT.—The authority under subsection (a) is limited to the provision of the following types of support:

(1) The transfer of non-lethal protective and utility personnel equipment.

(2) The transfer of the following nonlethal specialized equipment:

(A) Navigation equipment.

(B) Secure and nonsecure communications equipment.

(C) Photo equipment.

(D) Radar equipment.

(E) Night vision systems.

(F) Repair equipment and parts for equipment referred to in subparagraphs (A), (B), (C), (D), and (E).

(3) The transfer of nonlethal components, accessories, attachments, parts (including ground support equipment), firmware, and software for aircraft or patrol boats, and related repair equipment.

(4) The maintenance and repair of equipment of the Government of Mexico that is used for counter-drug activities.

(c) APPLICABILITY OF OTHER SUPPORT AUTHORITIES.—Except as otherwise provided in this section, the provisions of section 1004 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1991 (Public Law 101-510; 10 U.S.C. 374 note) shall apply to the provision of support under this section.

(d) FUNDING.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated under section 301(19) for drug interdiction and counter-drug activities, not more than $8,000,000 shall be available for the provision of support under this section.

(e) LIMITATIONS.—(1) The Secretary may not obligate or expend funds to provide support under this section until 15 days after the date on which the Secretary submits to the committees referred to in paragraph (3) the certification described in paragraph (2).

(2) The certification referred to in paragraph (1) is a written certification of the following:

(A) That the provision of support under this section will not adversely affect the military preparedness of the United States Armed Forces.

(B) That the equipment and materiel provided as support will be used only by officials and employees of the Government of Mexico who have undergone a background check by that government.

(C) That the Government of Mexico has certified to the Secretary that—

(i) the equipment and materiel provided as support will be used only by the officials and employees referred to in subparagraph (B);

(ii) none of the equipment or materiel will be transferred (by sale, gift, or otherwise) to any person or entity not authorized by the United States to receive the equipment or materiel; and

(iii) the equipment and materiel will be used only for the purposes intended by the United States Government.

(D) That the Government of Mexico has implemented, to the satisfaction of the Secretary, a system that will provide an accounting and inventory of the equipment and materiel provided as support.

(E) That the departments, agencies, and instrumentalities of the Government of Mexico will grant United States Government personnel access to any of the equipment or materiel provided as support, or to any of the records relating to such equipment or materiel, under terms and conditions similar to the terms and conditions imposed with respect to such access under section 505(a)(3) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2314(a)(3)).

(F) That the Government of Mexico will provide security with respect to the equipment and materiel provided as support that is substantially the same degree of security that the United States Government would provide with respect to such equipment and materiel.

(G) That the Government of Mexico will permit continuous observation and review by United States Government personnel of the use of the equipment and materiel provided as support under terms and conditions similar to the terms and conditions imposed with respect to such observation and review under section 505(a)(3) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2314(a)(3)).

(3) The committees referred to in this paragraph are the following:

(A) The Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate.

(B) The Committee on National Security and the Committee on International Relations of the House of Representatives.

SEC. 1032. AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS FOR CERTAIN DRUG INTERDICTION AND COUNTER-DRUG ACTIVITIES.

(a) P-3B AIRCRAFT.—Of the funds authorized to be appropriated under section 301(19) for drug interdiction and counter-drug activities, not more than $98,000,000 may be used for the purpose of procuring or modifying two P-3B aircraft for use by departments and agencies of the United States outside the Department of Defense for drug interdiction and counter-drug activities. However, funds may not be obligated for such purpose until the Secretary of Defense submits to the congressional defense committees a certification that the procurement or modification of such aircraft and the use of such aircraft by other departments or agencies of the United States will significantly reduce the level of support that would otherwise be required of E-3 AWACS aircraft as part of the drug interdiction and counter-drug mission of the Department of Defense.

(b) NONINTRUSIVE INSPECTION DEVICES.—Of the funds authorized to be appropriated under section 301(19) for drug interdiction and counter-drug activities, not more than $10,000,000 may be used to procure three non-intrusive inspection devices for use by departments and agencies of the United States outside the Department of Defense for drug interdiction and counter-drug activities.

(c) AUTHORITY TO TRANSFER EQUIPMENT.—The Secretary of Defense may transfer to the head of any department or agency of the United States outside the Department of Defense any equipment procured or modified under this section with funds referred to in this section.

SEC. 1033. TRANSFER OF EXCESS PERSONAL PROPERTY TO SUPPORT LAW ENFORCEMENT ACTIVITIES.

(a) TRANSFER AUTHORITY.—(1) Chapter 153 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 2576 the following new section:

“§ 2576a. Excess personal property: sale or donation for law enforcement activities

“(a) TRANSFER AUTHORIZED.—(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law and subject to subsection (b), the Secretary of Defense may transfer to Federal and State agencies personal property of the Department of Defense, including small arms and ammunition, that the Secretary determines is—

“(A) suitable for use by the agencies in law enforcement activities, including counter-drug and counter-terrorism activities; and

“(B) excess to the needs of the Department of Defense.

“(2) The Secretary shall carry out this section in consultation with the Attorney General and the Director of National Drug Control Policy.

“(b) CONDITIONS FOR TRANSFER.—The Secretary of Defense may transfer personal property under this section only if—

“(1) the property is drawn from existing stocks of the Department of Defense;

“(2) the recipient accepts the property on an as-is, where-is basis;

“(3) the transfer is made without the expenditure of any funds available to the Department of Defense for the procurement of defense equipment; and “(4) all costs incurred subsequent to the transfer of the property are borne or reimbursed by the recipient.

“(c) CONSIDERATION.—Subject to subsection (b)(4), the Secretary may transfer personal property under this section without charge to the recipient agency.

“(d) PREFERENCE FOR CERTAIN TRANSFERS.—In considering applications for the transfer of personal property under this section, the Secretary shall give a preference to those applications indicating that the transferred property will be used in the counter-drug or counter-terrorism activities of the recipient agency.”

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 2576 the following new item:

"2576a. Excess personal property: sale or donation for law enforcement activities."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—(1) Section 1208 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Years 1990 and 1991 (Public Law 101-189; 10 U.S.C. 372 note) is repealed.

(2) Section 1005 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1991 (Public Law 101-510; 104 Stat. 1630) is amended by striking out "section 1208 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Years 1990 and 1991 (10 U.S.C. 372 note) and section 372" and inserting in lieu thereof "sections 372 and 2576a".

SEC. 1034. SALE BY FEDERAL DEPARTMENTS OR AGENCIES OF CHEMICALS USED TO MANUFACTURE CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES.

(a) DEA CERTIFICATION.—The Controlled Substances Act is amended by inserting after section 519 (21 U.S.C. 889) the following new section:

"SEC. 520. REVIEW OF FEDERAL SALES OF CHEMICALS USABLE TO MANUFACTURE CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES.

"A Federal department or agency may not sell from the stocks of the department or agency any chemical which, as determined by the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration, could be used in the manufacture of a controlled substance unless the Administrator certifies in writing to the head of the department or agency that there is no reasonable cause to believe that the sale of the chemical would result in the illegal manufacture of a controlled substance."

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents of the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970 (84 Stat. 1236) is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 519 the following new item:

"Sec. 520. Review of Federal sales of chemicals usable to manufacture controlled substances."

Subtitle D—Reports and Studies

SEC. 1041. ANNUAL REPORT ON OPERATION PROVIDE COMFORT AND OPERATION ENHANCED SOUTHERN WATCH.

(a) ANNUAL REPORT.—Not later than March 1 of each year, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on Operation Provide Comfort and Operation Enhanced Southern Watch.

(b) MATTERS RELATING TO OPERATION PROVIDE COMFORT.—Each report under subsection (a) shall include, with respect to Operation Provide Comfort, the following:

(1) A detailed presentation of the projected costs to be incurred by the Department of Defense for that operation during the fiscal year in which the report is submitted and projected for the following fiscal year, together with a discussion of missions and functions expected to be performed by the Department as part of that operation during each of those fiscal years.

(2) A detailed presentation of the projected costs to be incurred by other departments and agencies of the Federal Government participating in or providing support to that operation during each of those fiscal years.

(3) A discussion of options being pursued to reduce the involvement of the Department of Defense in those aspects of that operation that are not directly related to the military mission of the Department of Defense.

(4) A discussion of the exit strategy for United States involvement in, and support for, that operation.

(5) A description of alternative approaches to accomplishing the mission of that operation that are designed to limit the scope and cost to the Department of Defense of accomplishing that mission while maintaining mission success.

(6) The contributions (both in-kind and actual) by other nations to the costs of conducting that operation.

(7) A detailed presentation of significant Iraqi military activity (including specific violations of the no-fly zone) determined to jeopardize the security of the Kurdish population in northern Iraq.

(c) MATTERS RELATING TO OPERATION ENHANCED SOUTHERN WATCH.—Each report under subsection (a) shall include, with respect to Operation Enhanced Southern Watch, the following:

(1) The expected duration and annual costs of the various elements of that operation.

(2) The political and military objectives associated with that operation.

(3) The contributions (both in-kind and actual) by other nations to the costs of conducting that operation.

(4) A description of alternative approaches to accomplishing the mission of that operation that are designed to limit the scope and cost of accomplishing that mission while maintaining mission success.

(5) A comprehensive discussion of the political and military objectives and initiatives that the Department of Defense has pursued, and intends to pursue, in order to reduce United States involvement in that operation.

(6) A detailed presentation of significant Iraqi military activity (including specific violations of the no-fly zone) determined to jeopardize the security of the Shiite population by air attack in southern Iraq or to jeopardize the security of Kuwait.

(d) TERMINATION OF REPORT REQUIREMENT.—The requirement under subsection (a) shall cease to apply with respect to an operation named in that subsection upon the termination of United States involvement in that operation.

(e) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this section:

(1) OPERATION ENHANCED SOUTHERN WATCH.—The term "Operation Enhanced Southern Watch" means the operation of the Department of Defense that as of October 30, 1995, is designated as Operation Enhanced Southern Watch.

(2) OPERATION PROVIDE COMFORT.—The term "Operation Provide Comfort" means the operation of the Department of Defense that as of October 30, 1995, is designated as Operation Provide Comfort.

SEC. 1042. ANNUAL REPORT ON EMERGING OPERATIONAL CONCEPTS.

(a) REPORT REQUIRED.—Not later than March 1 of each year through 2000, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a report on emerging operational concepts. Each such report shall be prepared by the Secretary in consultation with the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

(b) MATTERS TO BE INCLUDED.—Each such report shall contain a description, for the year preceding the year in which the report is submitted, of the following:

(1) The process undertaken in the Department of Defense, and in each of the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps, to define and develop doctrine, operational concepts, organizational concepts, and acquisition strategies to address—

(A) the potential of emerging technologies for significantly improving the operational effectiveness of the Armed Forces;

(B) changes in the international order that may necessitate changes in the operational capabilities of the Armed Forces;

(C) emerging capabilities of potential adversary states; and

(D) changes in defense budget projections.

(2) The manner in which the processes described in paragraph (1) are harmonized to ensure that there is a sufficient consideration of the development of joint doctrine, operational concepts, and acquisition strategies.

(3) The manner in which the processes described in paragraph (1) are coordinated through the Joint Requirements Oversight Council and reflected in the planning, programming, and budgeting process of the Department of Defense.

SEC. 1043. REPORT ON DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE MILITARY CHILD CARE PROGRAMS.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The Department of Defense should be congratulated on the successful implementation of the Military Child Care Act of 1989 (originally enacted as title XV of Public Law 101-189 and subsequently codified as subchapter II of chapter 88 of title 10, United States Code).

(2) The actions taken by the Department as a result of that Act have dramatically improved the availability, affordability, quality, and consistency of the child-care services provided to members of the Armed Forces.

(3) Child care is important to the readiness of members of the Armed Forces since single parents and couples in military service must have access to affordable child care of good quality if they are to perform their jobs and respond effectively to long work hours or deployments.

(4) Child care is important to the retention of members of the Armed Forces in military service because the dissatisfaction of the families of such members with military life is a primary reason for the departure of such members from military service.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS RELATED TO MILITARY-CIVILIAN CHILD-CARE PARTNERSHIP PROGRAMS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the civilian and military child-care communities, Federal, State, and local agencies, and businesses and communities involved in the provision of child-care services could benefit from the development of partnerships to foster an exchange of ideas, information, and materials relating to their experiences with the provision of such services and to encourage closer relationships between military installations and the communities that support them;

(2) such partnerships would be beneficial to all families by helping providers of child-care services exchange ideas about innovative ways to address barriers to the effective provision of such services; and

(3) there are many ways that such partnerships could be developed, including—

(A) cooperation between the directors and curriculum specialists of military child development centers and civilian child development centers in assisting such centers in the accreditation process;

(B) use of family support staff to conduct parent and family workshops for new parents and parents with young children in family housing on military installations and in communities in the vicinity of such installations;

(C) internships in Department of Defense child-care programs for civilian child-care providers to broaden the base of good-quality child-care services in communities in the vicinity of military installations; and

(D) attendance by civilian child-care providers at Department child-care training classes on a space-available basis.

(c) REPORT.—Not later than June 30, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the status of any partnerships and other initiatives undertaken by the Department of Defense as described in subsection (b), including recommendations for additional ways to improve the child-care programs of the Department of Defense and to improve such programs so as to benefit civilian child-care providers in communities in the vicinity of military installations.

SEC. 1044. REPORT ON DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE MILITARY YOUTH PROGRAMS.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Programs of the Department of Defense for youth who are dependents of members of the Armed Forces have not received the same level of attention and resources as have child care programs of the Department since the passage of the Military Child Care Act of 1989 (originally enacted as title XV of Public Law 101-189 and subsequently codified as subchapter II of chapter 88 of title 10, United States Code).

(2) Older children deserve as much attention to their developmental needs as do younger children.

(3) The Department has started to direct more attention to programs for youths who are dependents of members of the Armed Forces by providing funds for the implementation of 20 model community programs to address the needs of such youths.

(4) The lessons learned from such programs could apply to civilian youth programs as well.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS RELATED TO MILITARY-CIVILIAN YOUTH PARTNERSHIP PROGRAMS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the Department of Defense, Federal, State, and local agencies, and businesses and communities involved in conducting youth programs could benefit from the development of partnerships to foster an exchange of ideas, information, and materials relating to such programs and to encourage closer relationships between military installations and the communities that support them;

(2) such partnerships could be beneficial to all families by helping the providers of services for youths exchange ideas about innovative ways to address barriers to the effective provision of such services; and

(3) there are many ways that such partnerships could be developed, including—

(A) cooperation between the Department and Federal and State educational agencies in exploring the use of public school facilities for child care programs and youth programs that are mutually beneficial to the Department and civilian communities and complement programs of the Department carried out at its facilities; and

(B) improving youth programs that enable adolescents to relate to new peer groups when families of members of the Armed Forces are relocated.

(c) REPORT.—Not later than June 30, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the status of any partnerships and other initiatives undertaken by the Department as described in subsection (b), including recommendations for additional ways to improve the youth programs of the Department of Defense and to improve such programs so as to benefit communities in the vicinity of military installations.

SEC. 1045. QUARTERLY REPORTS REGARDING CO-PRODUCTION AGREEMENTS.

(a) QUARTERLY REPORTS ON COPRODUCTION AGREEMENTS.—Section 36(a) of the Arms Export Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2776(a)) is amended—

(1) by striking out “and” at the end of paragraph (10);

(2) by striking out the period at the end of paragraph (11) and inserting in lieu thereof “; and”; and

(3) by inserting after paragraph (11) the following new paragraph:

“(12) a report on all concluded government-to-government agreements regarding foreign coproduction of defense articles of United States origin and all other concluded agreements involving coproduction or licensed production outside of the United States of defense articles of United States origin (including coproduction memoranda of understanding or agreement) that have not been previously reported under this subsection, which shall include—

“(A) the identity of the foreign countries, international organizations, or foreign firms involved;

“(B) a description and the estimated value of the articles authorized to be produced, and an estimate of the quantity of the articles authorized to be produced;

“(C) a description of any restrictions on third party transfers of the foreign-manufactured articles; and

“(D) if any such agreement does not provide for United States access to and verification of quantities of articles produced overseas and their disposition in the foreign country, a description of alternative measures and controls incorporated in the coproduction or licensing program to ensure compliance with restrictions in the agreement on production quantities and third party transfers.”

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—Paragraph (12) of section 36(a) of the Arms Export Control Act, as added by subsection (a)(3), does not apply with respect to an agreement described in such paragraph entered into before the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 1046. REPORT ON WITNESS INTERVIEW PROCEDURES FOR DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIONS.

(a) SURVEY OF MILITARY DEPARTMENT POLICIES AND PRACTICES.—The Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct a survey of the policies and practices of the Naval Criminal Investigative Service with respect to the manner in which interviews of suspects and witnesses are conducted in connection with criminal investigations of allegations of contractor fraud. The purpose of the survey shall be to ascertain whether or not investigators and agents of the Naval Criminal Investigative Service conduct investigations of contractor fraud in accordance with generally accepted Federal law enforcement standards and applicable law.

(b) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General shall submit to the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate a report concerning the survey under subsection (a). The report shall specifically address the following:

(1) The extent to which investigators of the Naval Criminal Investigative Service investigators and agents of the Naval Criminal Investigative Service conduct investigations of contractor fraud in accordance with generally accepted federal law enforcement standards and applicable law.

(2) The extent to which the interview policies established by Department of Defense directives or Navy regulations are adequate to instruct and guide investigators in the proper conduct of subject and witness interviews.

(3) The desirability and feasibility of providing for video and audio recording of interviews and, if recording is desirable, the circumstances under which recordings should be made.

(4) The desirability and feasibility of making such recordings or written transcriptions of interviews, or both, available on demand to the subject or witness interviewed.

(5) The extent to which existing Department of Defense directives and Navy regulations address the carrying and display of weapons by agents, together with an assessment of whether any change in any such directive or regulation is necessary.

(6) The extent to which existing Department of Defense directives and Navy regulations provide guidance to agents to ensure that the agents' conduct and demeanor is in accordance with generally accepted federal law enforcement standards and applicable law.

(7) Any recommendation for legislation to ensure that investigators and agents of the Naval Criminal Investigative Service use legal and proper tactics during interviews in connection with criminal investigations of allegations of contractor fraud.

SEC. 1047. REPORT ON MILITARY READINESS REQUIREMENTS OF THE ARMED FORCES.

(a) REPORT REQUIRED.—Not later than January 31, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a report on the military readiness requirements of the active and reserve components of the Armed Forces, including specific combat units, combat support units, and combat service support units. Based on the assessment scenario described in subsection (c), the report shall assess such readiness requirements under a tiered readiness and response system that categorizes a given unit of the Armed Forces according to the likelihood that the unit will be required to respond to a military conflict and the time in which the unit will be required to respond.

(b) PREPARATION OF REPORT.—The Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, together with the other members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff specified in section 151(a) of title 10, United States Code, shall prepare the report required by subsection (a). The Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff shall consult with the Commander of the Special Operations Command in the preparation of the report.

(c) ASSESSMENT SCENARIO.—The report shall assess readiness requirements in a scenario based on the following assumptions:

(1) The conflict is in a generic theater of operations located anywhere in the world and does not exceed the notional limits for a major regional conflict.

(2) The forces available for deployment include the forces described in the Bottom Up Review force structure, including all planned force enhancements.

(3) Assistance is not available from allies.

(d) ASSESSMENT ELEMENTS.—The report shall identify by unit type and component, and assess the readiness requirements of, all active and reserve component units. Each such unit shall be categorized within one of the following classifications:

(1) Forward-deployed and crisis response forces, or “Tier I” forces, that possess limited internal sustainment capability and do not require immediate access to regional air bases or ports or overflight rights, including the following:

(A) Force units that are routinely deployed forward at sea or on land outside the United States.

(B) Combat-ready crises response forces that are capable of mobilizing and deploying within 10 days after receipt of orders.

(C) Forces that are supported by prepositioning equipment afloat or are capable of being inserted into a theater upon the capture of a port or airfield by forcible entry forces.

(2) Combat-ready follow-on forces, or "Tier II" forces, that can be mobilized and deployed to a theater within approximately 60 days after receipt of orders.

(3) Combat-ready conflict resolution forces, or "Tier III" forces, that can be mobilized and deployed to a theater within approximately 180 days after receipt of orders.

(4) All other active and reserve component force units which are not categorized within a classification described in paragraph (1), (2), or (3).

(e) ADDITIONAL INFORMATION REGARDING CERTAIN UNITS.—With regard to each unit that is not categorized within a classification described in paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of subsection (d), the report shall include—

(1) a description of the mission and mobilization or deployment schedule (or both) of the unit in connection with the requirements of the assessment scenario and the combat readiness requirements of the Armed Forces; or

(2) an identification of the unit as excess to the needs of the national military strategy and the reasons therefor.

(f) FORM OF REPORT.—The report under this section shall be submitted in unclassified form but may contain a classified annex.

SEC. 1048. REPORT ON NATO ENLARGEMENT.

(a) REPORT.—Not later than February 1, 1997, the President shall transmit to the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate and the Committee on National Security and the Committee on International Relations of the House of Representatives a report on the enlargement of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The report shall contain a comprehensive discussion of the following:

(1) Geopolitical and financial costs and benefits, including financial savings, associated with—

(A) enlargement of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization;

(B) further delays in the process of enlargement of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; and

(C) a failure to enlarge the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

(2) Additional North Atlantic Treaty Organization and United States military expenditures requested by prospective members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to facilitate their admission into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

(3) Modifications necessary in the military strategy of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and force structure required by the inclusion of new members and steps necessary to integrate new members, including the role of nuclear and conventional capabilities, reinforcement, force deployments, prepositioning of equipment, mobility, and headquarter locations.

(4) The relationship between enlargement of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and transatlantic stability and security.

(5) The state of military preparedness and interoperability of Central and Eastern European nations as it relates to the responsibilities of membership of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and additional security costs or benefits that may accrue to the United States from enlargement of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

(6) The state of democracy and free market development as it affects the preparedness of Central and Eastern European nations for the responsibilities of membership of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, including civilian control of the military, the rule of law, human rights, and parliamentary oversight.

(7) The state of relations between prospective members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and their neighbors, steps taken by prospective members to reduce tensions, and mechanisms for the peaceful resolution of border disputes.

(8) The commitment of prospective members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to the principles of the North Atlantic Treaty and the security of the North Atlantic area.

(9) The effect of enlargement of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on the political, economic, and security conditions of European Partnership for Peace nations not among the first new members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

(10) The relationship between enlargement of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and EU enlargement and the costs and benefits of both.

(11) The relationship between enlargement of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and treaties relevant to United States and European security, such as the Conventional Armed Forces in Europe Treaty.

(12) The anticipated impact both of enlargement of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and further delays of enlargement on Russian foreign and defense policies and the costs and benefits of a security relationship between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and Russia.

(b) INTERPRETATION.—Nothing in this section shall be interpreted or construed to affect the implementation of the NATO Participation Act of 1994 (title II of Public Law 103-447; 22 U.S.C. 1928 note), or any other program or activity which facilitates or assists prospective members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Subtitle E—Management of Armed Forces Retirement Home

SEC. 1051. RETIREMENT HOME BOARDS OF DIRECTORS.

(a) ADDITIONAL TERM OF OFFICE.—Subsection (e) of section 1515 of the Armed Forces Retirement Home Act of 1991 (24 U.S.C. 415) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(3) The chairman of the Retirement Home Board may appoint a member of the Retirement Home Board for a second consecutive term. The chairman of a Local Board may appoint a member of that Local Board for a second consecutive term."

(b) EARLY EXPIRATION OF TERM.—(1) Subsection (f) of such section is amended to read as follows:

"(f) EARLY EXPIRATION OF TERM.—A member of the Armed Forces or Federal civilian employee who is appointed as a member of the Retirement Home Board or a Local Board may serve as a board member only so long as the member of the Armed Forces or Federal civilian employee is assigned to or serving in the duty position that gave rise to the appointment as a board member."

(2) The amendment made by this subsection shall not affect the staggered terms of members of the Armed Forces Retirement

Home Board or a Local Board of the Retirement Home under section 1515(f) of such Act, as such section is in effect before the date of the enactment of this Act.

(c) ANNUAL EVALUATION OF DIRECTORS.—Section 1517 of such Act (24 U.S.C. 417) is amended by striking out subsection (f) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(f) ANNUAL EVALUATION OF DIRECTORS.—The chairman of the Retirement Home Board shall annually evaluate the performance of the Directors and shall make such recommendations to the Secretary of Defense as the chairman considers appropriate in light of the evaluation."

SEC. 1052. [S582 HR] ACCEPTANCE OF UNCOMPENSATED SERVICES.

(a) AUTHORITY.—Part A of the Armed Forces Retirement Home Act of 1991 (title XV of Public Law 101-510; 24 U.S.C. 401 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"SEC. 1522. AUTHORITY TO ACCEPT CERTAIN UNCOMPENSATED SERVICES.

"(a) AUTHORITY TO ACCEPT SERVICES.—Subject to subsection (b) and notwithstanding section 1342 of title 31, United States Code, the Chairman of the Retirement Home Board or the Director of each establishment of the Retirement Home may accept from any person voluntary personal services or gratuitous services unless the acceptance of the voluntary services is disapproved by the Retirement Home Board.

"(b) REQUIREMENTS AND LIMITATIONS.—(1) The Chairman of the Retirement Home Board or the Director of the establishment accepting the services shall notify the person of the scope of the services accepted.

"(2) The Chairman or Director shall—

"(A) supervise the person providing the services to the same extent as that official would supervise a compensated employee providing similar services; and

"(B) ensure that the person is licensed, privileged, has appropriate credentials, or is otherwise qualified under applicable laws or regulations to provide such services.

"(3) A person providing services accepted under subsection (a) may not—

"(A) serve in a policymaking position of the Retirement Home; or

"(B) be compensated for the services by the Retirement Home.

"(c) AUTHORITY TO RECRUIT AND TRAIN PERSONS PROVIDING SERVICES.—The Chairman of the Retirement Home Board or the Director of an establishment of the Retirement Home may recruit and train persons to provide services authorized to be accepted under subsection (a).

"(d) STATUS OF PERSONS PROVIDING SERVICES.—(1) Subject to paragraph (3), while providing services accepted under subsection (a) or receiving training under subsection (c), a person shall be considered to be an employee of the Federal Government only for purposes of the following provisions of law:

"(A) Subchapter I of chapter 81 of title 5, United States Code (relating to compensation for work-related injuries).

"(B) Chapter 171 of title 28, United States Code (relating to claims for damages or loss).

"(2) A person providing services accepted under subsection (a) shall be considered to be an employee of the Federal Government under paragraph (1) only with respect to services that are within the scope of the services accepted.

"(3) For purposes of determining the compensation for work-related injuries payable under chapter 81 of title 5, United States Code (pursuant to this subsection) to a person providing services accepted under subsection (a), the monthly pay of the person for such services shall be deemed to be the amount determined by multiplying—

“(A) the average monthly number of hours that the person provided the services, by “(B) the minimum wage determined in accordance with section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (29 U.S.C. 206(a)(1)).

“(e) REIMBURSEMENT OF INCIDENTAL EXPENSES.—The Chairman of the Retirement Board or the Director of the establishment accepting services under subsection (a) may provide for reimbursement of a person for incidental expenses incurred by the person in providing the services accepted under subsection (a). The Chairman or Director shall determine which expenses qualify for reimbursement under this subsection.”

(b) FEDERAL STATUS OF RESIDENTS PAID FOR PART-TIME OR INTERMITTENT SERVICES.—Paragraph (2) of section 1521(b) of the Armed Forces Retirement Home Act of 1991 (24 U.S.C. 421(b)) is amended to read as follows:

“(2) being an employee of the United States for any purpose other than—

“(A) subchapter I of chapter 81 of title 5, United States Code (relating to compensation for work-related injuries); and

“(B) chapter 171 of title 28, United States Code (relating to claims for damages or loss).”

SEC. 1053. DISPOSAL OF TRACT OF REAL PROPERTY IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

(a) DISPOSAL AUTHORIZED.—Notwithstanding title II of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 (40 U.S.C. 481 et seq.), title VIII of such Act (40 U.S.C. 531 et seq.), section 501 of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 11411), or any other provision of law relating to the management and disposal of real property by the United States, the Armed Forces Retirement Home Board may convey, by sale or otherwise, all right, title, and interest of the United States in a parcel of real property, including improvements thereon, consisting of approximately 49 acres located in Washington, District of Columbia, east of North Capitol Street, and recorded as District Parcel 121/19.

(b) MANNER, TERMS, AND CONDITIONS OF DISPOSAL.—The Armed Forces Retirement Home Board may determine—

(1) the manner for the disposal of the real property under subsection (a); and

(2) the terms and conditions for the conveyance of that property, including any terms and conditions that the Board considers necessary to protect the interests of the United States.

(c) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the real property to be conveyed under subsection (a) shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Armed Forces Retirement Home Board. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the party or parties to which the property is to be conveyed.

(d) CONGRESSIONAL NOTIFICATION.—(1) Before disposing of real property under subsection (a), the Armed Forces Retirement Home Board shall notify the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives of the proposed disposal. The Board may not dispose of the real property until the later of—

(A) the date that is 60 days after the date on which the notification is received by the committees; or

(B) the date of the next day following the expiration of the first period of 30 days of continuous session of Congress that follows the date on which the notification is received by the committees.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1)—

(A) continuity of session is broken only by an adjournment of Congress sine die; and

(B) the days on which either House is not in session because of an adjournment of more than three days to a day certain are excluded in the computation of any period of time in which Congress is in continuous session.

Subtitle F—Other Matters

SEC. 1061. POLICY ON PROTECTION OF NATIONAL INFORMATION INFRASTRUCTURE AGAINST STRATEGIC ATTACK.

(a) REPORT REQUIREMENT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall submit to Congress a report setting forth a national policy on protecting the national information infrastructure against strategic attack.

(b) MATTERS TO BE INCLUDED.—The policy described in the report shall include the following:

(1) Plans to meet essential Government and civilian needs during a national security emergency associated with a strategic attack on elements of the national information infrastructure the functioning of which depend on networked computer systems.

(2) The identification of information infrastructure functions that must be performed during such an emergency.

(3) The assignment of responsibilities to Federal departments and agencies, and a description of the roles of Government and industry, relating to indications and warning of, assessment of, response to, and reconstitution after, potential strategic attacks on the elements of the national information infrastructure described under paragraph (1).

(c) UNRESOLVED ISSUES.—The report shall also identify—

(1) matters relating to the national policy described in the report that, as of the submission of the report, are in need of further study and resolution, such as technology and funding shortfalls; and

(2) legal and regulatory considerations relating to the national policy.

(d) UPDATE OF EARLIER REPORT.—The report shall include an update of the report required to be submitted to Congress pursuant to section 1053 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 440).

SEC. 1062. INFORMATION SYSTEMS SECURITY PROGRAM.

(a) ALLOCATION.—Of the amounts appropriated for the Department of Defense for the Defense Information Infrastructure for each of fiscal years 1999 through 2002, the Secretary of Defense shall allocate to the information systems security program (program element 0303140K) amounts as follows:

(1) For fiscal year 1999, 2.5 percent.

(2) For fiscal year 2000, 3.0 percent.

(3) For fiscal year 2001, 3.5 percent.

(4) For fiscal year 2002, 4.0 percent.

(b) RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER AMOUNTS.—Amounts allocated under subsection (a) are in addition to amounts appropriated to the National Security Agency and the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency for development of information security systems, acquisition of information security systems, and operation of information security systems.

(c) REPORT.—Not later than November 15, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to the congressional defense committees and the congressional intelligence committees a report on information security activities of the Department of Defense. The report shall describe—

(1) the objectives of the Secretary with respect to information security and the strategy of the Secretary (including the strategy with respect to funding) during fiscal years 1999 through 2002 to achieve those objectives;

(2) how the Secretary intends to manage and allocate the funds required by subsection (a) to be allocated to the information systems security program; and

(3) if the Secretary determines that a funding plan for the information systems security program for the fiscal years 1999 through 2002 other than that specified in subsection (a) is appropriate, the alternative funding plan proposed by the Secretary.

SEC. 1065. GEORGE C. MARSHALL EUROPEAN CENTER FOR STRATEGIC SECURITY STUDIES.

(a) AUTHORITY TO ACCEPT FOREIGN GIFTS AND DONATIONS.—(1) The Secretary of Defense may, on behalf of the George C. Marshall European Center for Strategic Security Studies (in this section referred to as the “Marshall Center”), accept foreign gifts or donations in order to defray the costs of, or enhance the operation of, the Marshall Center.

(2) Funds received by the Secretary under paragraph (1) shall be credited to appropriations available for the Department of Defense for the Marshall Center. Funds so credited shall be merged with the appropriations to which credited and shall be available for the Marshall Center for the same purposes and same period as the appropriations with which merged.

(3) The Secretary of Defense shall notify Congress if the total amount of money accepted under paragraph (1) exceeds $2,000,000 in any fiscal year. Any such notice shall list each of the contributors of such amounts and the amount of each contribution in such fiscal year.

(4) For purposes of this subsection, a foreign gift or donation is a gift or donation of funds, materials (including research materials), property, or services (including lecture services and faculty services) from a foreign government, a foundation or other charitable organization in a foreign country, or an individual in a foreign country.

(b) MARSHALL CENTER PARTICIPATION BY FOREIGN NATIONS.—(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of Defense may authorize participation by a European or Eurasian nation in Marshall Center programs if the Secretary determines, after consultation with the Secretary of State, that such participation is in the national interest of the United States.

(2) Not later than January 31 of each year, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report setting forth the names of the foreign nations permitted to participate in programs of the Marshall Center during the preceding year under paragraph (1). Each such report shall be prepared by the Secretary with the assistance of the Director of the Marshall Center.

(c) EXEMPTIONS FOR MEMBERS OF MARSHALL CENTER BOARD OF VISITORS FROM CERTAIN REQUIREMENTS.—(1) In the case of any person invited to serve without compensation on the Marshall Center Board of Visitors, the Secretary of Defense may waive any requirement for financial disclosure that would otherwise apply to that person solely by reason of service on such Board.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a member of the Marshall Center Board of Visitors may not be required to register as an agent of a foreign government solely by reason of service as a member of the Board.

(3) Notwithstanding section 219 of title 18, United States Code, a non-United States citizen may serve on the Marshall Center Board of Visitors even though registered as a foreign agent.

"(b) If a member of the uniformed services is injured, or contracts a disease, under circumstances creating a tort liability upon a third person (other than or in addition to the United States and except employers of seamen referred to in subsection (a)) for damages for such injury or disease and the member is unable to perform the member's regular military duties as a result of the injury or disease, the United States shall have a right (independent of the rights of the member) to recover from the third person or an insurer of the third person, or both, the amount equal to the total amount of the pay that accrues and is to accrue to the member for the period for which the member is unable to perform such duties as a result of the injury or disease and is not assigned to perform other military duties.

"(c)(1) If, pursuant to the laws of a State that are applicable in a case of a member of the uniformed services who is injured or contracts a disease as a result of tortious conduct of a third person, there is in effect for such a case (as a substitute or alternative for compensation for damages through tort liability) a system of compensation or reimbursement for expenses of hospital, medical, surgical, or dental care and treatment or for lost pay pursuant to a policy of insurance, contract, medical or hospital service agreement, or similar arrangement, the United States shall be deemed to be a third-party beneficiary of such a policy, contract, agreement, or arrangement.

"(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1)—

"(A) the expenses incurred or to be incurred by the United States for care and treatment for an injured or diseased member as described in subsection (a) shall be deemed to have been incurred by the member;

"(B) the cost to the United States of the pay of the member as described in subsection (b) shall be deemed to have been pay lost by the member as a result of the injury or disease; and

"(C) the United States shall be subrogated to any right or claim that the injured or diseased member or the member's guardian, personal representative, estate, dependents, or survivors have under a policy, contract, agreement, or arrangement referred to in paragraph (1) to the extent of the reasonable value of the care and treatment and the total amount of the pay deemed lost under subparagraph (B).";

(4) in subsection (d), as redesignated by paragraph (2), by inserting "or paid for" after "treatment is furnished"; and

(5) by adding at the end the following:

"(f)(1) Any amount recovered under this section for medical care and related services furnished by a military medical treatment facility or similar military activity shall be credited to the appropriation or appropriations supporting the operation of that facility or activity, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense.

"(2) Any amount recovered under this section for the cost to the United States of pay of an injured or diseased member of the uniformed services shall be credited to the appropriation that supports the operation of the command, activity, or other unit to which the member was assigned at the time of the injury or illness, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Secretary concerned.

"(g) For the purposes of this section:

"(1) The term 'uniformed services' has the meaning given such term in section 101 of title 10, United States Code.

"(2) The term 'tortious conduct' includes any tortious omission.

"(3) The term 'pay', with respect to a member of the uniformed services, means basic pay, special pay, and incentive pay that the member is authorized to receive under title 37, United States Code, or any other law providing pay for service in the uniformed services.

"(4) The term 'Secretary concerned' means—

"(A) the Secretary of Defense, with respect to the Army, the Navy, the Air Force, the Marine Corps, and the Coast Guard (when it is operating as a service in the Navy);

"(B) the Secretary of Transportation, with respect to the Coast Guard when it is not operating as a service in the Navy;

"(C) the Secretary of Health and Human Services, with respect to the commissioned corps of the Public Health Service; and

"(D) the Secretary of Commerce, with respect to the commissioned corps of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—The first section of Public Law 87-693 (42 U.S.C. 2651) is amended—

(1) in the first sentence of subsection (a)—
(A) by inserting "(independent of the rights of the injured or diseased person)" after "a right to recover"; and

(B) by inserting ", or that person's insurer," after "from said third person";

(2) in subsection (d), as redesignated by subsection (a)(2)—

(A) by striking out "such right," and inserting in lieu thereof "a right under subsections (a), (b), and (c)"; and

(B) by inserting "or the insurance carrier or other entity responsible for the payment or reimbursement of medical expenses or lost pay" after "the third person who is liable for the injury or disease" each place it appears.

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The authority to collect pursuant to the amendments made by this section shall apply to expenses described in the first section of Public Law 87-693 (as amended by this section) that are incurred, or are to be incurred, by the United States on or after the date of the enactment of this Act, whether the event from which the claim arises occurs before, on, or after that date.

SEC. 1076. CHEMICAL STOCKPILE EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS PROGRAM.

(a) REPORT.—Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of the Army shall submit to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a report assessing the implementation and success of the establishment of site-specific Integrated Product and Process Teams as a management tool for the Chemical Stockpile Emergency Preparedness Program.

(b) CONTINGENT MANDATED REFORMS.—If at the end of the 120-day period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act the Secretary of the Army and the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency have been unsuccessful in implementing a site-specific Integrated Product and Process Team with each of the affected States, the Secretary of the Army shall—

(1) assume full control and responsibility for the Chemical Stockpile Emergency Preparedness Program (eliminating the role of the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency as joint manager of the program);

(2) establish programmatic agreement with each of the affected States regarding program requirements, implementation schedules, training and exercise requirements, and funding (to include direct grants for program support);

(3) clearly define the goals of the program; and

(4) establish fiscal constraints for the program.

SEC. 1077. EXEMPTION FROM REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO SAVINGS ASSOCIATIONS FOR CERTAIN SAVINGS INSTITUTIONS SERVING MILITARY PERSONNEL.

Section 10(m)(3)(F) of the Home Owners' Loan Act (12 U.S.C. 1467a(m)(3)(F)) is amended—

(1) in the subparagraph caption, by striking out "ASSOCIATION SERVING TRANSIENT" and inserting in lieu thereof "ASSOCIATIONS SERVING CERTAIN";

(2) by striking out "company if—" and all that follows through "90 percent" and inserting in lieu thereof "company if at least 90 percent"; and

(3) by striking out "officers" both places it appears and inserting in lieu thereof "members".

SEC. 1078. IMPROVEMENTS TO NATIONAL SECURITY EDUCATION PROGRAM.

(a) TEMPORARY REQUIREMENT RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT.—Title VII of the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1996 (Public Law 104-61; 109 Stat. 650), is amended in the paragraph under the heading "NATIONAL SECURITY EDUCATION TRUST FUND" by striking out the proviso.

(b) GENERAL PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS.—(1) Subparagraph (A) of subsection (a)(1) of section 802 of the David L. Boren National Security Education Act of 1991 (50 U.S.C. 1902) is amended to read as follows:

"(A) awarding scholarships to undergraduate students who—

"(i) are United States citizens in order to enable such students to study, for at least one academic semester or equivalent term, in foreign countries that are critical countries (as determined under section 803(d)(4)(A)) in those languages and study areas where deficiencies exist (as identified in the assessments undertaken pursuant to section 806(d)); and

"(ii) pursuant to subsection (b)(2)(A), enter into an agreement to work in a national security position or work in the field of higher education in the area of study for which the scholarship was awarded;" and

(2) Subparagraph (B) of that subsection is amended—

(A) in clause (i), by inserting "relating to the national security interests of the United States" after "international fields"; and

(B) in clause (ii)—

(i) by striking out "subsection (b)(2)" and inserting in lieu thereof "subsection (b)(2)(B)"; and

(ii) by striking out "work for an agency or office of the Federal Government or in" and inserting in lieu thereof "work in a national security position or work in".

(c) SERVICE AGREEMENT.—(1) Subsection (b) of that section is amended in the matter preceding paragraph (1) by striking out ", or of scholarships" and all that follows through "12 months or more," and inserting in lieu thereof "or any scholarship".

(2) Paragraph (2) of that subsection is amended to read as follows:

"(2) will—

"(A) not later than eight years after such recipient's completion of the study for which scholarship assistance was provided under the program, and in accordance with regulations issued by the Secretary—

"(i) work in a national security position for a period specified by the Secretary, which period shall be no longer than the period for which scholarship assistance was provided; or

"(ii) if the recipient demonstrates to the Secretary (in accordance with such regulations) that no national security position is available, work in the field of higher education in a discipline relating to the foreign country, foreign language, area study, or international field of study for which the scholarship was awarded, for a period specified by the Secretary, which period shall be determined in accordance with clause (i); or

"(B) upon completion of such recipient's education under the program, and in accordance with such regulations—

"(i) work in a national security position for a period specified by the Secretary, which period shall be not less than one and not more than three times the period for which the fellowship assistance was provided; or

"(ii) if the recipient demonstrates to the Secretary (in accordance with such regulations) that no national security position is available upon the completion of the degree, work in the field of higher education in a discipline relating to the foreign country, foreign language, area study, or international field of study for which the fellowship was awarded, for a period specified by the Secretary, which period shall be established in accordance with clause (i); and".

(d) EVALUATION OF PROGRESS IN LANGUAGE SKILLS.—Such section is further amended—

(1) by redesignating subsections (c), (d), and (e) as subsections (d), (e), and (f), respectively; and

(2) by inserting after subsection (b) the following new subsection (c):

"(c) EVALUATION OF PROGRESS IN LANGUAGE SKILLS.—The Secretary shall, through the National Security Education Program office, administer a test of the foreign language skills of each recipient of a scholarship or fellowship under this title before the commencement of the study or education for which the scholarship or fellowship is awarded and after the completion of such study or education. The purpose of these tests is to evaluate the progress made by recipients of scholarships and fellowships in developing foreign language skills as a result of assistance under this title."

(e) FUNCTIONS OF THE NATIONAL SECURITY EDUCATION BOARD.—Section 803(d) of that Act (50 U.S.C. 1903(d)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1), by inserting ", including an order of priority in such awards that favors individuals expressing an interest in national security issues or pursuing a career in a national security position" before the period;

(2) in paragraph (4)—

(A) in the matter preceding subparagraph (A), by striking out "Make recommendations" and inserting in lieu thereof "After taking into account the annual analyses of trends in language, international, and area studies under section 806(b)(1), make recommendations";

(B) in subparagraph (A), by inserting "and countries which are of importance to the national security interests of the United States" after "are studying"; and

(C) in subparagraph (B), by inserting "relating to the national security interests of the United States" after "section 802(a)(1)(B)";

(3) by redesignating paragraph (5) as paragraph (8); and

(4) by inserting after paragraph (4) the following new paragraphs:

"(5) Encourage applications for fellowships under this title from graduate students having an educational background in any academic discipline, particularly in the areas of science or technology.

"(6) Provide the Secretary biennially with a list of scholarship recipients and fellowship recipients, including an assessment of their foreign area and language skills, who are available to work in a national security position.

"(7) Not later than 30 days after a scholarship or fellowship recipient completes the study or education for which assistance was provided under the program, provide the Secretary with a report fully describing the foreign area and language skills obtained by the recipient as a result of the assistance."

(f) NATIONAL SECURITY POSITION DEFINED.—(1) Section 808 of that Act (50 U.S.C. 1908) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(4) The term 'national security position' means a position—

"(A) having national security responsibilities in a agency or office of the Federal Government that has national security responsibilities, as determined under section 802(g); and

"(B) in which the individual in such position makes their foreign language skills available to such agency or office."

(2) Section 802 of that Act (50 U.S.C. 1902), as amended by subsection (d)(1) of this section, is further amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(g) DETERMINATION OF AGENCIES AND OFFICES OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAVING NATIONAL SECURITY RESPONSIBILITIES.—(1) The Secretary, in consultation with the Board, shall annually determine and develop a list identifying each agency or office of the Federal Government having national security responsibilities at which a recipient of a fellowship or scholarship under this title will be able to make the recipient's foreign area and language skills available to such agency or office. The Secretary shall submit the first such list to the Congress and include each subsequent list in the annual report to the Congress, as required by section 806(b)(6).

"(2) Notwithstanding section 804, funds may not be made available from the Fund to carry out this title for fiscal year 1997 until 30 days after the date on which the Secretary of Defense submits to the Congress the first such list required by paragraph (1)."

(3) Section 806(b) of that Act (50 U.S.C. 1906(b)) is amended by striking out "and" at the end of paragraph (5), redesignating paragraph (6) as paragraph (7), and inserting after paragraph (5) the following new paragraph (6):

"(6) the current list of agencies and offices of the Federal Government required to be developed by section 802(g); and"

(g) REPORT ON PROGRAM.—(1) Not later than six months after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report assessing the improvements to the program established under the David L. Boren National Security Education Act of 1991 (50 U.S.C. 1901 et seq.) that result from the amendments made by this section.

(2) The report shall include an assessment of the contribution of the program, as so improved, in meeting the national security objectives of the United States.

SEC. 1079. AVIATION AND VESSEL WAR RISK INSURANCE.

(a) AVIATION RISK INSURANCE.—(1) Chapter 931 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§9514. Indemnification of Department of Transportation for losses covered by defense-related aviation insurance

"(a) PROMPT INDEMNIFICATION REQUIRED.—(1) In the event of a loss that is covered by defense-related aviation insurance, the Secretary of Defense shall promptly indemnify the Secretary of Transportation for the amount of the loss consistent with the indemnification agreement between the two Secretaries that underlies such insurance. The Secretary of Defense shall make such indemnification—

"(A) in the case of a claim for the loss of an aircraft hull, not later than 30 days after the date on which the Secretary of Transportation determines the claim to be payable or that amounts are due under the policy that provided the defense-related aviation insurance; and

"(B) in the case of any other claim, not later than 180 days after the date on which the Secretary of Transportation determines the claim to be payable.

"(2) When there is a loss of an aircraft hull that is (or may be) covered by defense-related aviation insurance, the Secretary of Transportation may make, during the period when a claim for such loss is pending with the Secretary of Transportation, any required periodic payments owed by the insured party to a lessor or mortgagee of such aircraft. Such payments shall commence not later than 30 days following the date of the presentation of the claim for the loss of the aircraft hull to the Secretary of Transportation. If the Secretary of Transportation determines that the claim is payable, any amount paid under this paragraph arising from such claim shall be credited against the amount payable under the aviation insurance. If the Secretary of Transportation determines that the claim is not payable, any amount paid under this paragraph arising from such claim shall constitute a debt to the United States, payable to the insurance fund. Any such amounts so returned to the United States shall be promptly credited to the fund or account from which the payments were made under this paragraph.

"(b) SOURCE OF FUNDS FOR PAYMENT OF INDEMNITY.—The Secretary of Defense may pay an indemnity described in subsection (a) from any funds available to the Department of Defense for operation and maintenance, and such sums as may be necessary for payment of such indemnity are hereby authorized to be transferred to the Secretary of Transportation for such purpose.

"(c) NOTICE TO CONGRESS.—In the event of a loss that is covered by defense-related aviation insurance in the case of an incident in which the covered loss is (or is expected to be) in an amount in excess of $1,000,000, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress—

"(1) notification of the loss as soon after the occurrence of the loss as possible and in no event more than 30 days after the date of the loss; and

"(2) semiannual reports thereafter updating the information submitted under paragraph (1) and showing with respect to losses arising from such incident the total amount expended to cover such losses, the source of those funds, pending litigation, and estimated total cost to the Government.

"(d) IMPLEMENTING MATTERS.—(1) Payment of indemnification under this section is not subject to section 2214 or 2215 of this title or any other provision of law requiring notification to Congress before funds may be transferred.

"(2) Consolidation of claims arising from the same incident is not required before indemnification of the Secretary of Transportation for payment of a claim may be made under this section.

"(e) CONSTRUCTION WITH OTHER TRANSFER AUTHORITY.—Authority to transfer funds under this section is in addition to any other authority provided by law to transfer funds (whether enacted before, on, or after the date of the enactment of this section) and is not subject to any dollar limitation or notification requirement contained in any other such authority to transfer funds.

"(f) ANNUAL REPORT ON CONTINGENT LIABILITIES.—Not later than March 1 of each year, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report setting forth the current amount of the contingent outstanding liability of the United States under the insurance program under chapter 443 of title 49.

"(g) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

"(1) DEFENSE-RELATED AVIATION INSURANCE.—The term 'defense-related aviation insurance' means aviation insurance and reinsurance provided through policies issued by the Secretary of Transportation under chapter 443 of title 49 that pursuant to section 44305(b) of that title is provided by that Secretary without premium at the request of the Secretary of Defense and is covered by an indemnity agreement between the Secretary of Transportation and the Secretary of Defense.

"(2) LOSS.—The term 'loss' includes damage to or destruction of property, personal injury or death, and other liabilities and expenses covered by the defense-related aviation insurance."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"9514. Indemnification of Department of Transportation for losses covered by defense-related aviation insurance."

(b) VESSEL WAR RISK INSURANCE.—(1) Chapter 157 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding after section 2644, as redesignated by section 906, the following new section:

"§2645. Indemnification of Department of Transportation for losses covered by vessel war risk insurance

"(a) PROMPT INDEMNIFICATION REQUIRED.—(1) In the event of a loss that is covered by vessel war risk insurance, the Secretary of Defense shall promptly indemnify the Secretary of Transportation for the amount of the loss consistent with the indemnification agreement between the two Secretaries that underlies such insurance. The Secretary of Defense shall make such indemnification—

"(A) in the case of a claim for the loss of a vessel, not later than 90 days after the date on which the Secretary of Transportation determines the claim to be payable or that amounts are due under the policy that provided the vessel war risk insurance; and

"(B) in the case of any other claim, not later than 180 days after the date on which on which the Secretary of Transportation determines the claim to be payable.

"(2) When there is a loss of a vessel that is (or may be) covered by vessel war risk insurance, the Secretary of Transportation may make, during the period when a claim for such loss is pending with the Secretary of Transportation, any required periodic payments owed by the insured party to a lessor or mortgagee of such vessel. Such payments shall commence not later than 30 days following the date of the presentation of the claim for the loss of the vessel to the Secretary of Transportation. If the Secretary of Transportation determines that the claim is payable, any amount paid under this paragraph arising from such claim shall be credited against the amount payable under the vessel war risk insurance. If the Secretary of Transportation determines that the claim is not payable, any amount paid under this paragraph arising from such claim shall constitute a debt to the United States, payable to the insurance fund. Any such amounts so returned to the United States shall be promptly credited to the fund or account from which the payments were made under this paragraph.

"(b) SOURCE OF FUNDS FOR PAYMENT OF INDEMNITY.—The Secretary of Defense may pay an indemnity described in subsection (a) from any funds available to the Department of Defense for operation and maintenance, and such sums as may be necessary for payment of such indemnity are hereby authorized to be transferred to the Secretary of Transportation for such purpose.

"(c) DEPOSIT OF FUNDS.—Any amount transferred to the Secretary of Transportation under this section shall be deposited in, and merged with amounts in, the Vessel War Risk Insurance Fund as provided in the second sentence of section 1208(a) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936 (46 U.S.C. App. 1288(a)).

"(d) NOTICE TO CONGRESS.—In the event of a loss that is covered by vessel war risk insurance in the case of an incident in which the covered loss is (or is expected to be) in an amount in excess of $1,000,000, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress—

"(1) notification of the loss as soon after the occurrence of the loss as possible and in no event more than 30 days after the date of the loss; and

"(2) semiannual reports thereafter updating the information submitted under paragraph (1) and showing with respect to losses arising from such incident the total amount expended to cover such losses, the source of such funds, pending litigation, and estimated total cost to the Government.

"(e) IMPLEMENTING MATTERS.—(1) Payment of indemnification under this section is not subject to section 2214 or 2215 of this title or any other provision of law requiring notification to Congress before funds may be transferred.

"(2) Consolidation of claims arising from the same incident is not required before indemnification of the Secretary of Transportation for payment of a claim may be made under this section.

"(f) CONSTRUCTION WITH OTHER TRANSFER AUTHORITY.—Authority to transfer funds under this section is in addition to any other authority provided by law to transfer funds (whether enacted before, on, or after the date of the enactment of this section) and is not subject to any dollar limitation or notification requirement contained in any other such authority to transfer funds.

"(f) ANNUAL REPORT ON CONTINGENT LIABILITIES.—Not later than March 1 of each year, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report setting forth the current amount of the contingent outstanding liability of the United States under the vessel war risk insurance program under title XII of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936 (46 U.S.C. App. 1281 et seq.).

"(h) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

"(1) VESSEL WAR RISK INSURANCE.—The term 'vessel war risk insurance' means insurance and reinsurance provided through policies issued by the Secretary of Transportation under title XII of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936 (46 U.S.C. App. 1281 et seq.), that is provided by that Secretary without premium at the request of the Secretary of Defense and is covered by an indemnity agreement between the Secretary of Transportation and the Secretary of Defense.

"(2) VESSEL WAR RISK INSURANCE FUND.—The term 'Vessel War Risk Insurance Fund' means the insurance fund referred to in the first sentence of section 1208(a) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936 (46 U.S.C. App. 1288(a)).

"(3) LOSS.—The term 'loss' includes damage to or destruction of property, personal injury or death, and other liabilities and expenses covered by the vessel war risk insurance."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding after the item relating to section 2644, as added by section 906, the following new item:

"2645. Indemnification of Department of Transportation for losses covered by vessel war risk insurance."

SEC. 1080. DESIGNATION OF MEMORIAL AS NATIONAL D-DAY MEMORIAL.

(a) DESIGNATION.—The memorial to be constructed by the National D-Day Memorial Foundation in Bedford, Virginia, is hereby designated as a national memorial to be known as the "National D-Day Memorial". The memorial shall serve to honor the members of the Armed Forces of the United States who served in the liberation of Normandy, France, in June 1944.

(b) PUBLIC PROCLAMATION.—The President is requested and urged to issue a public proclamation acknowledging the designation of the memorial to be constructed by the National D-Day Memorial Foundation in Bedford, Virginia, as the National D-Day Memorial.

(c) MAINTENANCE OF MEMORIAL.—All expenses for maintenance and care of the memorial shall be paid for with non-Federal funds, including funds provided by the National D-Day Memorial Foundation. The United States shall not be liable for any expense incurred for the maintenance and care of the memorial.

SEC. 1081. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING SEMICONDUCTOR TRADE AGREEMENT BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND JAPAN.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The United States and Japan share a long and important bilateral relationship which serves as an anchor of peace and stability in the Asia Pacific region, an alliance which was reaffirmed at the recent summit meeting between President Clinton and Prime Minister Hashimoto in Tokyo.

(2) The Japanese economy has experienced difficulty over the past few years, demonstrating that it is no longer possible for Japan, the world's second largest economy, to use exports as the sole engine of economic growth, but that the Government of Japan must promote deregulation of its domestic economy in order to increase economic growth.

(3) Deregulation of the Japanese economy requires government attention to the removal of barriers to imports of manufactured goods.

(4) The United States-Japan Semiconductor Trade Agreement has begun the process of deregulation in the semiconductor sector and is opening the Japanese market to competitive foreign products.

(5) The United States-Japan Semiconductor Trade Agreement has put in place both government-to-government and industry-to-industry mechanisms which have played a vital role in allowing cooperation to replace conflict in this important high technology sector.

(6) The mechanisms include joint calculation of foreign market share, deterrence of dumping, and promotion of industrial cooperation in the design of foreign semiconductor devices.

(7) Because of these actions under the United States-Japan Semiconductor Trade Agreement, the United States and Japan today enjoy trade in semiconductors which is mutually beneficial, harmonious, and free from the friction that once characterized the semiconductor industry.

(8) Because of structural barriers in Japan, a gap still remains between the share of the world market for semiconductor products outside Japan that the United States and other foreign semiconductor sources are able to capture through competitiveness and the share of the Japanese semiconductor market that the United States and those other sources are able to capture through competitiveness, and that gap is consistent across the full range of semiconductor products as well as a full range of end-use applications.

(9) The competitiveness and health of the United States semiconductor industry is of critical importance to the overall economic well-being and high technology defense capabilities of the United States.

(10) The economic interests of both the United States and Japan are best served by well functioning, open markets, deterrence of dumping, and continuing good cooperative relationships in all sectors, including semiconductors.

(11) A strong and healthy and military and political alliance between the United States and Japan requires continuation of the industrial and economic cooperation promoted by the United States-Japan Semiconductor Trade Agreement.

(12) President Clinton has called on the Government of Japan to agree to a continuation of the United States-Japan Semiconductor Trade Agreement beyond the current agreement's expiration on July 31, 1996.

(13) The Government of Japan has opposed any continuation of the United States-Japan Semiconductor Trade Agreement to promote cooperation in United States-Japan semiconductor trade.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—On the basis of the findings contained in subsection (a), it is the sense of Congress that—

(1) it is regrettable that the Government of Japan has refused to consider continuation of the United States-Japan Semiconductor Trade Agreement to ensure that cooperation continues in the semiconductor sector beyond the expiration of the agreement on July 31, 1996; and

(2) the President should take all necessary and appropriate actions to ensure the resumption and extension of the United States-Japan Semiconductor Trade Agreement beyond July 31, 1996.

(c) DEFINITION.—For purposes of this section, the term "United States-Japan Semiconductor Trade Agreement" refers to the agreement between the United States and Japan concerning trade in semiconductor products, with arrangement, done by exchange of letters at Washington on June 11, 1991.

SEC. 1082. AGREEMENTS FOR EXCHANGE OF DEFENSE PERSONNEL BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

(a) AUTHORITY TO ENTER INTO INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGE AGREEMENTS.—(1) The Secretary of Defense may enter into international defense personnel exchange agreements.

(2) For purposes of this section, an international defense personnel exchange agreement is an agreement with the government of an ally of the United States or another friendly foreign country for the exchange of—

(A) military and civilian personnel of the Department of Defense; and

(B) military and civilian personnel of the defense ministry of that foreign government.

(b) ASSIGNMENT OF PERSONNEL.—(1) Pursuant to an international defense personnel exchange agreement, personnel of the defense ministry of a foreign government may be assigned to positions in the Department of Defense and personnel of the Department of Defense may be assigned to positions in the defense ministry of such foreign government. Positions to which exchanged personnel are assigned may include positions of instructors.

(2) An agreement for the exchange of personnel engaged in research and development activities may provide for assignment of Department of Defense personnel to positions in private industry that support the defense ministry of the host foreign government.

(3) An individual may not be assigned to a position pursuant to an international defense personnel exchange agreement unless the assignment is acceptable to both governments.

(c) RECIPROCITY OF PERSONNEL QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED.—Each government shall be required under an international defense personnel exchange agreement to provide personnel with qualifications, training, and skills that are essentially equal to those of the personnel provided by the other government.

(d) PAYMENT OF PERSONNEL COSTS.—(1) Each government shall pay the salary, per diem, cost of living, travel costs, cost of language or other training, and other costs for its own personnel in accordance with the applicable laws and regulations of such government.

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply to the following costs:

(A) The cost of temporary duty directed by the host government.

(B) The cost of training programs conducted to familiarize, orient, or certify exchanged personnel regarding unique aspects of the assignments of the exchanged personnel.

(C) Costs incident to the use of the facilities of the host government in the performance of assigned duties.

(e) PROHIBITED CONDITIONS.—No personnel exchanged pursuant to an agreement under this section may take or be required to take an oath of allegiance to the host country or to hold an official capacity in the government of such country.

(f) RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER AUTHORITY.—The requirements in subsections (c) and (d) shall apply in the exercise of any authority of the Secretaries of the military departments to enter into an agreement with the government of a foreign country to provide for the exchange of members of the armed forces and military personnel of the foreign country. The Secretary of Defense may prescribe regulations for the application of such subsections in the exercise of such authority.

SEC. 1083. SENSE OF SENATE REGARDING BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA.

It is the sense of the Senate that, notwithstanding any other provision of law, in order to maximize the amount of equipment provided to the Government of Bosnia and Herzegovina under the authority contained in section 540 of the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 1996 (Public Law 104-107; 110 Stat. 737), the price of the transferred equipment shall not exceed the lowest level at which the same or similar equipment has been transferred to any other country under any other United States Government program.

SEC. 1084. DEFENSE BURDENSARING.

(a) EFFORTS TO INCREASE ALLIED BURDENSARING.—The President shall seek to have each nation that has cooperative military relations with the United States (including security agreements, basing arrangements, or mutual participation in multinational military organizations or operations) take one or more of the following actions:

(1) Increase its financial contributions to the payment of the nonpersonnel costs incurred by the United States Government for stationing United States military personnel in that nation, with a goal of achieving by September 30, 2000, 75 percent of such costs. An increase in financial contributions by any nation under this paragraph may include the elimination of taxes, fees, or other charges levied on United States military personnel, equipment, or facilities stationed in that nation.

(2) Increase its annual budgetary outlays for national defense as a percentage of its gross domestic product by 10 percent or at least to a level commensurate to that of the United States by September 30, 1997.

(3) Increase its annual budgetary outlays for foreign assistance (to promote democratization, economic stabilization, transparency arrangements, defense economic conversion, respect for the rule of law, and internationally recognized human rights) by 10 percent or at least to a level commensurate to that of the United States by September 30, 1997.

(4) Increase the amount of military assets (including personnel, equipment, logistics, support and other resources) that it contributes, or would be prepared to contribute, to multinational military activities worldwide.

(b) AUTHORITIES TO ENCOURAGE ACTIONS BY UNITED STATES ALLIES.—In seeking the actions described in subsection (a) with respect to any nation, or in response to a failure by any nation to undertake one or more of such actions, the President may take any of the following measures to the extent otherwise authorized by law:

(1) Reduce the end strength level of members of the Armed Forces assigned to permanent duty ashore in that nation.

(2) Impose on that nation fees or other charges similar to those that such nation imposes on United States forces stationed in that nation.

(3) Reduce (through rescission, impoundment, or other appropriate procedures as authorized by law) the amount the United States contributes to the NATO Civil Budget, Military Budget, or Security Investment Program.

(4) Suspend, modify, or terminate any bilateral security agreement the United States has with that nation, consistent with the terms of such agreement.

(5) Reduce (through rescission, impoundment, or other appropriate procedures as authorized by law) any United States bilateral assistance appropriated for that nation.

(6) Take any other action the President determines to be appropriate as authorized by law.

(c) REPORT ON PROGRESS IN INCREASING ALLIED BURDENSARING.—Not later than March 1, 1997, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on—

(1) steps taken by other nations to complete the actions described in subsection (a);

(2) all measures taken by the President, including those authorized in subsection (b), to achieve the actions described in subsection (a); and

(3) the budgetary savings to the United States that are expected to accrue as a result of the steps described under paragraph (1).

(d) REPORT ON NATIONAL SECURITY BASES FOR FORWARD DEPLOYMENT AND BURDENSARING RELATIONSHIPS.—(1) In order to ensure the best allocation of budgetary resources, the President shall undertake a review of the status of elements of the United States Armed Forces that are permanently stationed outside the United States. The review shall include an assessment of the following:

(A) The alliance requirements that are to be found in agreements between the United States and other countries.

(B) The national security interests that support permanently stationing elements of the United States Armed Forces outside the United States.

(C) The stationing costs associated with the forward deployment of elements of the United States Armed Forces.

(D) The alternatives available to forward deployment (such as material prepositioning, enhanced airlift and sealift, or joint training operations) to meet such alliance requirements or national security interests, with such alternatives identified and described in detail.

(E) The costs and force structure configurations associated with such alternatives to forward deployment.

(F) The financial contributions that allies of the United States make to common defense efforts (to promote democratization, economic stabilization, transparency arrangements, defense economic conversion, respect for the rule of law, and internationally recognized human rights).

(G) The contributions that allies of the United States make to meeting the stationing costs associated with the forward deployment of elements of the United States Armed Forces.

(H) The annual expenditures of the United States and its allies on national defense, and the relative percentages of each nation's gross domestic product constituted by those expenditures.

(2) The President shall submit to Congress a report on the review under paragraph (1). The report shall be submitted not later than March 1, 1997, in classified and unclassified form.

(e) REPORT DATE.—Section 1003(c) of Public Law 98-515 is amended by striking out "each year" and inserting "by March 1, 1998, and every other year thereafter".

SEC. 1101. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the "National Imagery and Mapping Agency Act of 1996".

SEC. 1102. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) There is a need within the Department of Defense and the Intelligence Community of the United States to provide a single agency focus for the growing number and diverse types of customers for imagery and geospatial information resources within the Government, to ensure visibility and accountability for those resources, and to harness, leverage, and focus rapid technological developments to serve the imagery, imagery intelligence, and geospatial information customers.

(2) There is a need for a single Government agency to solicit and advocate the needs of that growing and diverse pool of customers.

(3) A single combat support agency dedicated to imagery, imagery intelligence, and geospatial information could act as a focal point for support of all imagery intelligence and geospatial information customers, including customers in the Department of Defense, the Intelligence Community, and related agencies outside of the Department of Defense.

(4) Such an agency would best serve the needs of the imagery, imagery intelligence, and geospatial information customers if it were organized—

(A) to carry out its mission responsibilities under the authority, direction, and control of the Secretary of Defense, with the advice of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and

(b) to carry out its responsibilities to national intelligence customers in accordance with policies and priorities established by the Director of Central Intelligence.

SEC. 1103. ROLE OF DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE IN APPOINTMENT AND EVALUATION OF CERTAIN INTELLIGENCE OFFICIALS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 201 of title 10, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

“§ 201. Certain intelligence officials: consultation and concurrence regarding appointments; evaluation of performance

“(a) CONSULTATION REGARDING APPOINTMENT.—Before submitting a recommendation to the President regarding the appointment of an individual to the position of Director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, the Secretary of Defense shall consult with the Director of Central Intelligence regarding the recommendation.

“(b) CONCURRENCE IN APPOINTMENT.—(1) Before submitting a recommendation to the President regarding the appointment of an individual to a position referred to in paragraph (2), the Secretary of Defense shall seek the concurrence of the Director of Central Intelligence in the recommendation. If the Director does not concur in the recommendation, the Secretary may make the recommendation to the President without the Director's concurrence, but shall include in the recommendation a statement that the Director does not concur in the recommendation.

“(2) Paragraph (1) applies to the following positions:

“(A) The Director of the National Security Agency.

“(B) The Director of the National Reconnaissance Office.

“(C) The Director of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency.”

“(c) PERFORMANCE EVALUATIONS.—(1) The Director of Central Intelligence shall provide annually to the Secretary of Defense, for the Secretary's consideration, an evaluation of the performance of the individuals holding the positions referred to in paragraph (2) in fulfilling their respective responsibilities with regard to the National Foreign Intelligence Program.

“(2) The positions referred to in paragraph (1) are the following:

“(A) The Director of the National Security Agency.

“(B) The Director of the National Reconnaissance Office.

“(C) The Director of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency.”

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The item relating to section 201 in the table of sections at the beginning of subchapter II of chapter 8 of such title is amended to read as follows:

“201. Certain intelligence officials: consultation and concurrence regarding appointments; evaluation of performance.”

Subtitle A—Establishment of Agency

SEC. 1111. ESTABLISHMENT.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is hereby established in the Department of Defense a Defense Agency to be known as the National Imagery and Mapping Agency.

(b) TRANSFER OF FUNCTIONS FROM DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE ENTITIES.—The missions and functions of the following elements of the Department of Defense are transferred to the National Imagery and Mapping Agency:

- (1) The Defense Mapping Agency.
- (2) The Central Imagery Office.
- (3) Other elements of the Department of Defense as specified in the classified annex to this Act.

(c) TRANSFER OF FUNCTIONS FROM CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY.—The missions and functions of the following elements of the Central Intelligence Agency are transferred to the National Imagery and Mapping Agency:

(1) The National Photographic Interpretation Center.

(2) Other elements of the Central Intelligence Agency as specified in the classified annex to this Act.

(d) PRESERVATION OF LEVEL AND QUALITY OF IMAGERY INTELLIGENCE SUPPORT TO ALL-SOURCE ANALYSIS AND PRODUCTION.—In managing the establishment of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency, the Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Director of Central Intelligence, shall ensure that imagery intelligence support provided to all-source analysis and production is in no way degraded or compromised.

SEC. 1112. MISSIONS AND AUTHORITY.

(a) AGENCY CHARTER.—Part I of subtitle A of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by redesignating chapter 22 as chapter 23; and

(2) by inserting after chapter 21 the following new chapter 22:

“CHAPTER 22—NATIONAL IMAGERY AND MAPPING AGENCY

“Subchapter	Sec.
“I. Missions and Authority	441
“II. Maps, Charts, and Geodetic Products	451
“III. Personnel Management	461

“441. Establishment.

“442. Missions.

“443. Imagery intelligence and geospatial information: support for foreign countries

“444. Support from Central Intelligence Agency.

“445. Protection of agency identifications and organizational information.

“§ 441. Establishment

“(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The National Imagery and Mapping Agency is a combat support agency of the Department of Defense and has significant national missions.

“(b) DIRECTOR.—(1) The Director of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency is the head of the agency.

“(2) Upon a vacancy in the position of Director, the Secretary of Defense shall recommend to the President an individual for appointment to the position.

“(3) If an officer of the armed forces on active duty is appointed to the position of Director, the position shall be treated as having been designated by the President as a position of importance and responsibility for purposes of section 601 of this title and shall carry the grade of lieutenant general, or, in the case of an officer of the Navy, vice admiral.

“(c) DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE COLLECTION TASKING AUTHORITY.—Unless otherwise directed by the President, the Director of Central Intelligence shall have authority (except as otherwise agreed by the Director and the Secretary of Defense) to—

“(1) approve collection requirements levied on national imagery collection assets;

“(2) determine priorities for such requirements; and

“(3) resolve conflicts in such priorities.

“(d) AVAILABILITY AND CONTINUED IMPROVEMENT OF IMAGERY INTELLIGENCE SUPPORT TO ALL-SOURCE ANALYSIS AND PRODUCTION FUNCTION.—The Secretary of Defense, in consultation with the Director of Central Intelligence, shall take all necessary steps to ensure the full availability and continued improvement of imagery intelligence support for all-source analysis and production.

“§ 442. Missions

“(a) NATIONAL SECURITY MISSIONS.—(1) The National Imagery and Mapping Agency shall, in support of the national security objectives of the United States, provide the following:

“(A) Imagery.

“(B) Imagery intelligence.

“(C) Geospatial information.

“(2) Imagery, intelligence, and information provided in carrying out paragraph (1) shall be timely, relevant, and accurate.

“(b) NAVIGATION INFORMATION.—The National Imagery and Mapping Agency shall improve means of navigating vessels of the Navy and the merchant marine by providing, under the authority of the Secretary of Defense, accurate and inexpensive nautical charts, sailing directions, books on navigation, and manuals of instructions for the use of all vessels of the United States and of navigators generally.

“(c) MAPS, CHARTS, ETC.—The National Imagery and Mapping Agency shall prepare and distribute maps, charts, books, and geodetic products as authorized under subchapter II of this chapter.

“(d) NATIONAL MISSIONS.—The National Imagery and Mapping Agency also has national missions as specified in section 120(a) of the National Security Act of 1947.

“(e) SYSTEMS.—The National Imagery and Mapping Agency may, in furtherance of a mission of the Agency, design, develop, deploy, operate, and maintain systems related to the processing and dissemination of imagery intelligence and geospatial information that may be transferred to, accepted or used by, or used on behalf of—

“(1) the armed forces, including any combatant command, component of a combatant command, joint task force, or tactical unit; or

“(2) any other department or agency of the United States.

“§ 443. Imagery intelligence and geospatial information: support for foreign countries

“(a) USE OF APPROPRIATED FUNDS.—The Director of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency may use appropriated funds available to the National Imagery and Mapping Agency to provide foreign countries with imagery intelligence and geospatial information support.

“(b) USE OF FUNDS OTHER THAN APPROPRIATED FUNDS.—The Director may use funds other than appropriated funds to provide foreign countries with imagery intelligence and geospatial information support, notwithstanding provisions of law relating to the expenditure of funds of the United States, except that—

“(1) no such funds may be expended, in whole or in part, by or for the benefit of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency for a purpose for which Congress had previously denied funds.

“(2) proceeds from the sale of imagery intelligence or geospatial information items may be used only to purchase replacement items similar to the items that are sold; and

“(3) the authority provided by this subsection may not be used to acquire items or services for the principal benefit of the United States.

“(c) ACCOMMODATION PROCUREMENTS.—The authority under this section may be exercised to conduct accommodation procurements on behalf of foreign countries.

“(d) COORDINATION WITH DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE.—The Director of the Agency shall coordinate with the Director of Central Intelligence any action under this section that involves imagery intelligence or intelligence products or involves providing support to an intelligence or security service of a foreign country.

“§ 444. Support from Central Intelligence Agency

“(a) SUPPORT AUTHORIZED.—The Director of Central Intelligence may provide support in accordance with this section to the Director of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency. The Director of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency may accept support provided under this section.

“(b) ADMINISTRATIVE AND CONTRACT SERVICES.—(1) In furtherance of the national intelligence effort, the Director of Central Intelligence may provide administrative and contract services to the National Imagery and Mapping Agency as if that agency were an organizational element of the Central Intelligence Agency.

“(2) Services provided under paragraph (1) may include the services of security police. For purposes of section 15 of the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949 (50 U.S.C. 4030), an installation of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency that is provided security police services under this section shall be considered an installation of the Central Intelligence Agency.

“(3) Support provided under this subsection shall be provided under terms and conditions agreed upon by the Secretary of Defense and the Director of Central Intelligence.

“(c) DETAIL OF PERSONNEL.—The Director of Central Intelligence may detail personnel of the Central Intelligence Agency indefinitely to the National Imagery and Mapping Agency without regard to any limitation on the duration of interagency details of Federal Government personnel.

“(d) REIMBURSABLE OR NONREIMBURSABLE SUPPORT.—Support under this section may be provided and accepted on either a reimbursable basis or a nonreimbursable basis.

“(e) AUTHORITY TO TRANSFER FUNDS.—(1) The Director of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency may transfer funds available for that agency to the Director of Central Intelligence for the Central Intelligence Agency.

“(2) The Director of Central Intelligence—

“(A) may accept funds transferred under paragraph (1); and

“(B) shall expend such funds, in accordance with the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949 (50 U.S.C. 403a et seq.), to provide administrative and contract services or detail personnel to the National Imagery and Mapping Agency under this section.

“§ 445. Protection of agency identifications and organizational information

“(a) UNAUTHORIZED USE OF AGENCY NAME, INITIALS, OR SEAL.—(1) Except with the written permission of the Secretary of Defense, no person may knowingly use, in connection with any merchandise, retail product, impersonation, solicitation, or commercial activity in a manner reasonably calculated to convey the impression that such use is approved, endorsed, or authorized by the Secretary of Defense, any of the following:

“(A) The words ‘National Imagery and Mapping Agency’, the initials ‘NIMA’, or the seal of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency.

“(B) The words ‘Defense Mapping Agency’, the initials ‘DMA’, or the seal of the Defense Mapping Agency.

“(C) Any colorable imitation of such words, initials, or seals.

“(2) Whenever it appears to the Attorney General that any person is engaged or about to engage in an act or practice which constitutes or will constitute conduct prohibited by paragraph (1), the Attorney General may initiate a civil proceeding in a district court of the United States to enjoin such act or practice. Such court shall proceed as soon as practicable to a hearing and determination of such action and may, at any time before such final determination, enter such restraining orders or prohibitions, or take such other action as is warranted, to prevent injury to the United States or to any person or class of persons for whose protection the action is brought.

“SUBCHAPTER III—PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

“Sec.

“461. Management rights.

“§ 461. Management rights

“(a) SCOPE.—If there is no obligation under the provisions of chapter 71 of title 5 for the head of an agency of the United States to consult or negotiate with a labor organization on a particular matter by reason of that matter being covered by a provision of law or a Governmentwide regulation, the Director of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency is not obligated to consult or negotiate with a labor organization on that matter even if that provision of law or regulation is inapplicable to the National Imagery and Mapping Agency.

“(b) BARGAINING UNITS.—The National Imagery and Mapping Agency shall accord exclusive recognition to a labor organization under section 7111 of title 5 only for a bargaining unit that was recognized as appropriate for the Defense Mapping Agency on the day before the date on which employees and positions of the Defense Mapping Agency in that bargaining unit became employees and positions of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency under the National Imagery and Mapping Agency Act of 1996 (title XI of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1997).

“(c) TERMINATION OF BARGAINING UNIT COVERAGE OF POSITION MODIFIED TO AFFECT NATIONAL SECURITY DIRECTLY.—(1) If the Director of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency determines that the responsibilities of a position within a collective bargaining unit should be modified to include intelligence, counterintelligence, investigative, or security duties not previously assigned to that position and that the performance of the newly assigned duties directly affects the national security of the United States, then, upon such a modification of the responsibilities of that position, the position shall cease to be covered by the collective bargaining unit and the employee in that position shall cease to be entitled to representation by a labor organization accorded exclusive recognition for that collective bargaining unit.

“(2) A determination described in paragraph (1) that is made by the Director of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency may not be reviewed by the Federal Labor Relations Authority or any court of the United States.

“SUBCHAPTER IV—DEFINITIONS

“Sec.

“467. Definitions.

“§ 467. Definitions

“In this chapter:

“(1) The term ‘function’ means any duty, obligation, responsibility, privilege, activity, or program.

“(2)(A) The term ‘imagery’ means, except as provided in subparagraph (B), a likeness or presentation of any natural or manmade feature or related object or activity and the positional data acquired at the same time the likeness or representation was acquired, including—

“(i) products produced by space-based national intelligence reconnaissance systems; and “(ii) likenesses or presentations produced by satellites, airborne platforms, unmanned aerial vehicles, or other similar means.

“(B) Such term does not include handheld or clandestine photography taken by or on behalf of human intelligence collection organizations.

“(3) The term ‘imagery intelligence’ means the technical, geographic, and intelligence information derived through the interpretation or analysis of imagery and collateral materials.

“(4) The term ‘geospatial information’ means information that identifies the geographic location and characteristics of natural or constructed features and boundaries on the earth and includes—

“(A) statistical data and information derived from, among other things, remote sensing, mapping, and surveying technologies;

“(B) mapping, charting, and geodetic data; and

(3) in subsection (f), by striking out paragraph (4) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(4) The National Imagery and Mapping Agency."

(d) CONSOLIDATION AND STANDARDIZATION OF EXEMPTIONS FROM DISCLOSURE OF ORGANIZATIONAL AND PERSONNEL INFORMATION.—Chapter 21 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by striking out sections 424 and 425 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"§ 424. Disclosure of organizational and personnel information: exemption for Defense Intelligence Agency, National Reconnaissance Office, and National Imagery and Mapping Agency

"(a) EXEMPTION FROM DISCLOSURE.—Except as required by the President or as provided in subsection (c), no provision of law shall be construed to require the disclosure of—

"(1) the organization or any function of an organization of the Department of Defense named in subsection (b); or

"(2) the number of persons employed by or assigned or detailed to any such organization or the name, official title, occupational series, grade, or salary of any such person.

"(b) COVERED ORGANIZATIONS.—This section applies to the following organizations of the Department of Defense:

"(1) The Defense Intelligence Agency.

"(2) The National Reconnaissance Office.

"(3) The National Imagery and Mapping Agency.

"(c) PROVISION OF INFORMATION TO CONGRESS.—Subsection (a) does not apply with respect to the provision of information to Congress."

(e) SPECIAL PRINTING AUTHORITY FOR AGENCY.—(1) Section 207(a)(2)(B) of the Legislative Branch Appropriations Act, 1993 (Public Law 102-392; 44 U.S.C. 501 note), is amended by inserting "National Imagery and Mapping Agency," after "Defense Intelligence Agency."

(2) Section 1336 of title 44, United States Code, is amended—

(A) by striking out "Secretary of the Navy" and inserting in lieu thereof "Director of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency"; and

(B) by striking out "United States Naval Oceanographic Office" and inserting in lieu thereof "National Imagery and Mapping Agency".

SEC. 1113. TRANSFERS OF PERSONNEL AND ASSETS.

(a) PERSONNEL AND ASSETS.—Subject to subsections (b) and (c), the personnel, assets, unobligated balances of appropriations and authorizations of appropriations, and, to the extent jointly determined appropriate by the Secretary of Defense and Director of Central Intelligence, obligated balances of appropriations and authorizations of appropriations employed, used, held, arising from, or available in connection with the missions and functions transferred under section 1111(b) or section 1111(c) are transferred to the National Imagery and Mapping Agency. Transfers of appropriations from the Central Intelligence Agency under this subsection shall be made in accordance with section 1531 of title 31, United States Code.

(b) DETERMINATION OF CIA POSITIONS TO BE TRANSFERRED.—Not earlier than two years after the effective date of this subtitle, the Secretary of Defense and the Director of Central Intelligence shall determine which, if any, positions and personnel of the Central Intelligence Agency are to be transferred to the National Imagery and Mapping Agency. The positions to be transferred, and the employees serving in such positions, shall be transferred to the National Imagery and Mapping Agency under terms and conditions prescribed by the Secretary of Defense and the Director of Central Intelligence.

(c) RULE FOR CIA IMAGERY ACTIVITIES ONLY PARTIALLY TRANSFERRED.—If the National Photographic Interpretation Center of the Central Intelligence Agency or any imagery-related activity of the Central Intelligence Agency authorized to be performed by the National Imagery and Mapping Agency is not completely transferred to the National Imagery and Mapping Agency, the Secretary of Defense and the Director of Central Intelligence shall—

(1) jointly determine which, if any, contracts, leases, property, and records employed, used, held, arising from, available to, or otherwise relating to such Center or activity is to be transferred to the National Imagery and Intelligence Agency; and

(2) provide by written agreement for the transfer of such items.

SEC. 1114. COMPATIBILITY WITH AUTHORITY UNDER THE NATIONAL SECURITY ACT OF 1947.

(a) AGENCY FUNCTIONS.—Paragraph (2) of section 105(b) of the National Security Act of 1947 (50 U.S.C. 403-5(b)) is amended to read as follows:

"(2) through the National Imagery and Mapping Agency (except as otherwise directed by the President or the National Security Council), with appropriate representation from the intelligence community, the continued operation of an effective unified organization within the Department of Defense—

"(A) for carrying out tasking of imagery collection;

"(B) for the coordination of imagery processing and exploitation activities;

"(C) for ensuring the dissemination of imagery in a timely manner to authorized recipients; and

"(D) notwithstanding any other provision of law, for—

"(1) prescribing technical architecture and standards related to imagery intelligence and geospatial information and ensuring compliance with such architecture and standards; and

"(ii) developing and fielding systems of common concern related to imagery intelligence and geospatial information;"

(b) NATIONAL MISSION.—Title I of such Act (50 U.S.C. 402 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"NATIONAL MISSION OF NATIONAL IMAGERY AND MAPPING AGENCY

"SEC. 120. (a) IN GENERAL.—In addition to the Department of Defense missions set forth in section 442 of title 10, United States Code, the National Imagery and Mapping Agency shall support the imagery requirements of the Department of State and other departments and agencies of the United States outside the Department of Defense.

"(b) REQUIREMENTS AND PRIORITIES.—The Director of Central Intelligence shall establish requirements and priorities governing the collection of national intelligence by the National Imagery and Mapping Agency under subsection (a).

"(c) CORRECTION OF DEFICIENCIES.—The Director of Central Intelligence shall develop and implement such programs and policies as the Director and the Secretary of Defense jointly determine necessary to review and correct deficiencies identified in the capabilities of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency to accomplish assigned national missions, including support to the all-source analysis and production process. The Director shall consult with the Secretary of Defense on the development and implementation of such programs and policies. The Secretary shall obtain the advice of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff regarding the matters on which the Director and the Secretary are to consult under the preceding sentence."

(c) TASKING OF IMAGERY ASSETS.—Title I of such Act is further amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"COLLECTION TASKING AUTHORITY

"SEC. 121. Unless otherwise directed by the President, the Director of Central Intelligence shall have authority (except as otherwise agreed by the Director and the Secretary of Defense) to—

"(1) approve collection requirements levied on national imagery collection assets;

"(2) determine priorities for such requirements; and

"(3) resolve conflicts in such priorities."

(d) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents in the first section of such Act is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 109 the following new items:

"Sec. 120. National mission of National Imagery and Mapping Agency.

"Sec. 121. Collection tasking authority."

SEC. 1115. CREDITABLE CIVILIAN SERVICE FOR CAREER CONDITIONAL EMPLOYEES OF THE DEFENSE MAPPING AGENCY.

In the case of an employee of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency who, on the day before the effective date of this title, was an employee of the Defense Mapping Agency in a career-conditional status, the continuous service of that employee as an employee of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency on and after such date shall be considered creditable service for the purpose of any determination of the career status of the employee.

SEC. 1116. SAVING PROVISIONS.

(a) CONTINUING EFFECT ON LEGAL DOCUMENTS.—All orders, determinations, rules, regulations, permits, agreements, international agreements, grants, contracts, leases, certificates, licenses, registrations, privileges, and other administrative actions—

(1) which have been issued, made, granted, or allowed to become effective by the President, any Federal agency or official thereof, or by a court of competent jurisdiction, in connection with any of the functions which are transferred under this title or any function that the National Imagery and Mapping Agency is authorized to perform by law, and

(2) which are in effect at the time this title takes effect, or were final before the effective date of this title and are to become effective on or after the effective date of this title, shall continue in effect according to their terms until modified, terminated, superseded, set aside, or revoked in accordance with law by the President, the Secretary of Defense, the Director of the National Imagery and Mapping Agency or other authorized official, a court of competent jurisdiction, or by operation of law.

(b) PROCEEDINGS NOT AFFECTED.—This title and the amendments made by this title shall not affect any proceedings, including notices of proposed rulemaking, or any application for any license, permit, certificate, or financial assistance pending before an element of the Department of Defense or Central Intelligence Agency at the time this title takes effect, with respect to function of that element transferred by section 1122, but such proceedings and applications shall be continued. Orders shall be issued in such proceedings, appeals shall be taken therefrom, and payments shall be made pursuant to such orders, as if this title had not been enacted, and orders issued in any such proceedings shall continue in effect until modified, terminated, superseded, or revoked by a duly authorized official, by a court of competent jurisdiction, or by operation of law. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the discontinuance or modification of any such proceeding under the same terms and conditions and to the same extent that such proceeding could have been discontinued or modified if this title had not been enacted.

SEC. 1117. DEFINITIONS.

In this subtitle, the terms "function", "imagery", "imagery intelligence", and "geospatial information" have the meanings given those terms in section 467 of title 10, United States Code, as added by section 1112.

SEC. 1118. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

Funds are authorized to be appropriated for the National Imagery and Mapping Agency for fiscal year 1997 in amounts and for purposes, and subject to the terms, conditions, limitations, restrictions, and requirements, that are set forth in the Classified Annex to this Act.

Subtitle B—Conforming Amendments and Effective Dates

SEC. 1121. REDESIGNATION AND REPEALS.

SEC. 1212. RESERVE COMPONENT CHIEFS.

(a) CHIEF OF ARMY RESERVE.—Section 3038 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new subsections:

“(d) BUDGET.—The Chief of Army Reserve is the official within the executive part of the Department of the Army who, subject to the authority, direction, and control of the Secretary of the Army and the Chief of Staff, is responsible for justification and execution of the personnel, operation and maintenance, and construction budgets for the Army Reserve. As such, the Chief of Army Reserve is the director and functional manager of appropriations made for the Army Reserve in those areas.

“(e) FULL TIME SUPPORT PROGRAM.—The Chief of Army Reserve manages, with respect to the Army Reserve, the personnel program of the Department of Defense known as the Full Time Support Program.

“(f) ANNUAL REPORT.—(1) The Chief of Army Reserve shall submit to the Secretary of Defense, through the Secretary of the Army, an annual report on the state of the Army Reserve and the ability of the Army Reserve to meet its missions. The report shall be prepared in conjunction with the Chief of Staff of the Army and may be submitted in classified and unclassified versions.

“(2) The Secretary of Defense shall transmit the annual report of the Chief of Army Reserve under paragraph (1) to Congress, together with such comments on the report as the Secretary considers appropriate. The report shall be transmitted at the same time each year that the annual report of the Secretary under section 113 of this title is submitted to Congress.”

(b) CHIEF OF NAVAL RESERVE.—(1) Chapter 513 of such title is amended by inserting after section 5142a the following new section:

“§ 5143. Office of Naval Reserve: appointment of Chief

“(a) ESTABLISHMENT OF OFFICE: CHIEF OF NAVAL RESERVE.—There is in the executive part of the Department of the Navy, on the staff of the Chief of Naval Operations, an Office of the Naval Reserve, which is headed by a Chief of Naval Reserve. The Chief of Naval Reserve—

“(1) is the principal adviser on Naval Reserve matters to the Chief of Naval Operations; and

“(2) is the commander of the Naval Reserve Force.

“(b) APPOINTMENT.—The President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint the Chief of Naval Reserve from officers who—

“(1) have had at least 10 years of commissioned service;

“(2) are in a grade above captain; and

“(3) have been recommended by the Secretary of the Navy.

“(c) GRADE.—(1) The Chief of Naval Reserve holds office for a term determined by the Chief of Naval Operations, normally four years, but may be removed for cause at any time. He is eligible to succeed himself.

“(2) The Chief of Naval Reserve, while so serving, has a grade above rear admiral (lower half), without vacating the officer's permanent grade.

“(d) BUDGET.—The Chief of Naval Reserve is the official within the executive part of the Department of the Navy who, subject to the authority, direction, and control of the Secretary of the Navy and the Chief of Naval Operations, is responsible for preparation, justification, and execution of the personnel, operation and maintenance, and construction budgets for the Naval Reserve. As such, the Chief of Naval Reserve is the director and functional manager of appropriations made for the Naval Reserve in those areas.

“(e) ANNUAL REPORT.—(1) The Chief of Naval Reserve shall submit to the Secretary of Defense, through the Secretary of the Navy, an annual report on the state of the Naval Reserve and the ability of the Naval Reserve to meet its missions. The report shall be prepared in conjunction with the Chief of Naval Operations and may be submitted in classified and unclassified versions.

“(2) The Secretary of Defense shall transmit the annual report of the Chief of Naval Reserve under paragraph (1) to Congress, together with such comments on the report as the Secretary considers appropriate. The report shall be transmitted at the same time each year that the annual report of the Secretary under section 113 of this title is submitted to Congress.”

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 5142a the following new item:

“5143. Office of Naval Reserve: appointment of Chief.”

(c) CHIEF OF MARINE FORCES RESERVE.—(1) Chapter 513 of such title is amended by inserting after section 5143 (as added by subsection (b)) the following new section:

“§ 5144. Office of Marine Forces Reserve: appointment of Commander

“(a) ESTABLISHMENT OF OFFICE: COMMANDER, MARINE FORCES RESERVE.—There is in the executive part of the Department of the Navy an Office of the Marine Forces Reserve, which is headed by the Commander, Marine Forces Reserve. The Commander, Marine Forces Reserve, is the principal adviser to the Commandant on Marine Forces Reserve matters.

“(b) APPOINTMENT.—The President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint the Commander, Marine Forces Reserve, from officers of the Marine Corps who—

“(1) have had at least 10 years of commissioned service;

“(2) are in a grade above colonel; and

“(3) have been recommended by the Secretary of the Navy.

“(c) TERM OF OFFICE; GRADE.—(1) The Commander, Marine Forces Reserve, holds office for a term determined by the Commandant of the Marine Corps, normally four years, but may be removed for cause at any time. He is eligible to succeed himself.

“(2) The Commander, Marine Forces Reserve, while so serving, has a grade above brigadier general, without vacating the officer's permanent grade.

"(d) ANNUAL REPORT.—(1) The Commander, Marine Forces Reserve, shall submit to the Secretary of Defense, through the Secretary of the Navy, an annual report on the state of the Marine Corps Reserve and the ability of the Marine Corps Reserve to meet its missions. The report shall be prepared in conjunction with the Commandant of the Marine Corps and may be submitted in classified and unclassified versions.

"(2) The Secretary of Defense shall transmit the annual report of the Commander, Marine Forces Reserve, under paragraph (1) to Congress, together with such comments on the report as the Secretary considers appropriate. The report shall be transmitted at the same time each year that the annual report of the Secretary under section 113 of this title is submitted to Congress."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 5143 (as added by subsection (b)) the following new item: "5144. Office of Marine Forces Reserve: appointment of Commander."

(d) CHIEF OF AIR FORCE RESERVE.—Section 8038 of such title is amended by adding at the end the following new subsections:

"(d) BUDGET.—The Chief of Air Force Reserve is the official within the executive part of the Department of the Air Force who, subject to the authority, direction, and control of the Secretary of the Air Force and the Chief of Staff, is responsible for preparation, justification, and execution of the personnel, operation and maintenance, and construction budgets for the Air Force Reserve. As such, the Chief of Air Force Reserve is the director and functional manager of appropriations made for the Air Force Reserve in those areas.

"(e) FULL TIME SUPPORT PROGRAM.—(1) The Chief of Air Force Reserve manages, with respect to the Air Force Reserve, the personnel program of the Department of Defense known as the Full Time Support Program.

"(f) ANNUAL REPORT.—(1) The Chief of Air Force Reserve shall submit to the Secretary of Defense, through the Secretary of the Air Force, an annual report on the state of the Air Force Reserve and the ability of the Air Force Reserve to meet its missions. The report shall be prepared in conjunction with the Chief of Staff of the Air Force and may be submitted in classified and unclassified versions.

"(2) The Secretary of Defense shall transmit the annual report of the Chief of Air Force Reserve under paragraph (1) to Congress, together with such comments on the report as the Secretary considers appropriate. The report shall be transmitted at the same time each year that the annual report of the Secretary under section 113 of this title is submitted to Congress."

(e) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 641(1)(B) of such title is amended by inserting "5143, 5144," after "3038."

SEC. 1213. REVIEW OF ACTIVE DUTY AND RESERVE GENERAL AND FLAG OFFICER AUTHORIZATIONS.

(a) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—Not later than six months after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report containing any recommendations of the Secretary (together with the rationale of the Secretary for the recommendations) concerning the following:

(1) Revision of the limitations on general and flag officer grade authorizations and distribution in grade prescribed by sections 525, 526, and 12004 of title 10, United States Code.

(2) Statutory designation of the positions and grades of any additional general and flag officers in the commands and offices created by sections 1211 and 1212.

(b) MATTERS TO BE INCLUDED.—The Secretary shall include in the report under subsection (a) the Secretary's views on whether current limitations referred to in subsection (a)—

(1) permit the Secretaries of the military departments, in view of increased requirements for assignment of general and flag officers in positions external to their organic services, to meet adequately both internal and external requirements for general and flag officers;

(2) adequately recognize the significantly increased role of the reserve components in both service-specific and joint operations; and

(3) permit the Secretaries of the military departments and the reserve components to assign general and flag officers to active and reserve component positions with grades commensurate with the scope of duties and responsibilities of the position.

(c) EXEMPTIONS FROM ACTIVE-DUTY CEILINGS.—(1) The Secretary shall include in the report under subsection (a) the Secretary's recommendations regarding the merits of exempting from any active-duty ceiling (established by law or administrative action) the following officers:

(A) Reserve general and flag officers assigned to positions specified in the organizations created by this title.

(B) Reserve general and flag officers serving on active duty, but who are excluded from the active-duty list.

(2) If the Secretary determines under paragraph (1) that any Reserve general or flag officers should be exempt from active duty limits, the Secretary shall include in the report under subsection (a) the Secretary's recommendations for—

(A) the effective management of those Reserve general and flag officers; and

(B) revision of active duty ceilings so as to prevent an increase in the numbers of active general and flag officers authorizations due solely to the removal of Reserve general and flag officers from under the active duty authorizations.

(3) If the Secretary determines under paragraph (1) that active and reserve general officers on active duty should continue to be managed under a common ceiling, the Secretary shall make recommendations for the appropriate apportionment of numbers for general and flag officers among active and reserve officers.

(d) RESERVE FORCES POLICY BOARD PARTICIPATION.—The Secretary of Defense shall ensure that the Reserve Forces Policy Board participates in the internal Department of Defense process for development of the recommendations of the Secretary contained in the report under subsection (a). If the Board submits to the Secretary any comments or recommendations for inclusion in the report, the Secretary shall transmit them to Congress, with the report, in the same form as that in which they were submitted to the Secretary.

(e) GAO REVIEW.—The Comptroller General of the United States shall assess the criteria used by the Secretary of Defense to develop recommendations for purposes of the report under this section and shall submit to Congress, not later than 30 days after the date on which the report of the Secretary under this section is submitted, a report setting forth the Comptroller General's conclusions concerning the adequacy and completeness of the recommendations made by the Secretary in the report.

SEC. 1214. GUARD AND RESERVE TECHNICIANS.

Section 10216 of title 10, United States Code, as amended by section 413, is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsections (a), (b), and (c) as subsections (b), (c), and (d), respectively;

(2) by inserting after the section heading the following new subsection (a):

"(a) IN GENERAL.—Military technicians are Federal civilian employees hired under title 5 and title 32 who are required to maintain dual-status as drilling reserve component members as a condition of their Federal civilian employment. Such employees shall be authorized and accounted for as a separate category of dual-status civilian employees, exempt as specified in subsection (b)(3) from any general or regulatory requirement for adjustments in Department of Defense civilian personnel."; and

(3) in paragraph (3) of subsection (b), as redesignated by paragraph (1), by striking out "in high-priority units and organizations specified in paragraph (1)".

Subtitle B—Reserve Component Accessibility

SEC. 1231. REPORT TO CONGRESS ON MEASURES TO IMPROVE NATIONAL GUARD AND RESERVE ABILITY TO RESPOND TO EMERGENCIES.

(a) REPORT.—Not later than six months after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report regarding reserve component responsiveness to both domestic emergencies and national contingency operations. The report shall set forth the measures taken, underway, and projected to be taken to improve the timeliness, adequacy, and effectiveness of reserve component responses to such emergencies and operations.

(b) MATTERS RELATED TO RESPONSIVENESS TO DOMESTIC EMERGENCIES.—The report shall address the following:

(1) The need to expand the time period set by section 12301(b) of title 10, United States Code, which permits the involuntary recall at any time to active duty of units and individuals for up to 15 days per year.

(2) The recommendations of the 1995 report of the RAND Corporation entitled "Assessing the State and Federal Missions of the National Guard", as follows:

(A) That Federal law be clarified and amended to authorize Presidential use of the Federal reserves of all military services for domestic emergencies and disasters without any time constraint.

(B) That the Secretary of Defense develop and support establishment of an appropriate national level compact for interstate sharing of resources, including the domestic capabilities of the national guards of the States, during emergencies and disasters.

(C) That Federal level contingency stocks be created to support the National Guard in domestic disasters.

(D) That Federal funding and regulatory support be provided for Federal-State disaster emergency response planning exercises.

(c) MATTERS RELATED TO PRESIDENTIAL RESERVE CALL-UP AUTHORITY.—The report under this section shall specifically address matters related to the authority of the President to activate for service on active duty units and members of reserve components under sections 12301, 12302, and 12304 of title 10, United States Code, including—

(1) whether such authority is adequate to meet the full range of reserve component missions for the 21st century, particularly with regard to the time periods for which such units and members may be on active duty under those authorities and the ability to activate both units and individual members; and

(2) whether the three-tiered set of statutory authorities (under such sections 12301, 12302, and 12304) should be consolidated, modified, or in part eliminated in order to facilitate current and future use of Reserve units and individual reserve component members for a broader range of missions, and, if so, in what manner.

(d) MATTERS RELATED TO RELEASE FROM ACTIVE DUTY.—The report under this section shall include findings and recommendations (based upon a review of current policies and procedures) concerning procedures for release from active duty of units and members of reserve components who have been involuntarily called or ordered to active duty under section 12301, 12302, or 12304 of title 10, United States Code, with specific recommendations concerning the desirability of statutory provisions to—

(1) establish specific guidelines for when it is appropriate (or inappropriate) to retain on active duty such reserve component units when active component units are available to perform the mission being performed by the reserve component unit;

(2) minimize the effects of frequent mobilization of the civilian employers, as well as the effects of frequent mobilization on recruiting and retention in the reserve components; and

(3) address other matters relating to the needs of such members of reserve components, their employers, and (in the case of such members who own businesses) their employees, while such members are on active duty.

(e) RESERVE FORCES POLICY BOARD PARTICIPATION.—The Secretary of Defense shall ensure that the Reserve Forces Policy Board participates in the internal Department of Defense process for development of the recommendations of the Secretary contained in the report under subsection (a). If the Board submits to the Secretary any comments or recommendations for inclusion in the report, the Secretary shall transmit them to Congress, with the report, in the same form as that in which they were submitted to the Secretary.

(f) GAO REVIEW.—The Comptroller General of the United States shall assess the criteria used by the Secretary of Defense to develop recommendations for purposes of the report under this section and shall submit to Congress, not later than 30 days after the date on which the report of the Secretary under this section is submitted, a report setting forth the Comptroller General's conclusions concerning the adequacy and completeness of the recommendations made by the Secretary in the report.

SEC. 1232. REPORT TO CONGRESS CONCERNING TAX INCENTIVES FOR EMPLOYERS OF MEMBERS OF RESERVE COMPONENTS.

Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report setting forth a draft of legislation to provide tax incentives to employers of members of reserve components in order to compensate employers for absences of those employees due to required training and for absences due to performance of active duty.

SEC. 1233. REPORT TO CONGRESS CONCERNING INCOME INSURANCE PROGRAM FOR ACTIVATED RESERVISTS.

Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report setting forth legislative recommendations for changes to chapter 1214 of title 10, United States Code. Such recommendations shall in particular provide, in the case of a mobilized member who owns a business, income replacement for that business and for employees of that member or business who have a loss of income during the period of such activation attributable to the activation of the member.

SEC. 1234. REPORT TO CONGRESS CONCERNING SMALL BUSINESS LOANS FOR MEMBERS RELEASED FROM RESERVE SERVICE DURING CONTINGENCY OPERATIONS.

Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report setting forth a draft of legislation to establish a small business loan program to provide members of reserve components who are ordered to active duty or active Federal service (other than for training) during a contingency operation (as defined in section 101 of title 10, United States Code) low-cost loans to assist those members in retaining or rebuilding businesses that were affected by their service on active duty or in active Federal service.

Subtitle C—Reserve Forces Sustainment

SEC. 1251. REPORT CONCERNING TAX DEDUCTIBILITY OF NONREIMBURSABLE EXPENSES.

Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report setting forth a draft of legislation to restore the tax deductibility of nonreimbursable expenses incurred by members of reserve components in connection with military service.

SEC. 1252. AUTHORITY TO PAY TRANSIENT HOUSING CHARGES FOR MEMBERS PERFORMING ACTIVE DUTY FOR TRAINING.

Section 404(j)(1) of title 37, United States Code, is amended by striking out "annual training duty" and inserting in lieu thereof "active duty for training".

SEC. 1253. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING QUARTERS ALLOWANCE DURING SERVICE ON ACTIVE DUTY FOR TRAINING.

It is the sense of Congress that the United States should continue to pay members of reserve components appropriate quarters allowances during periods of service on active duty for training.

SEC. 1254. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING MILITARY LEAVE POLICY.

It is the sense of Congress that military leave policies in effect as of the date of the enactment of this Act with respect to members of the reserve components should not be changed.

SEC. 1255. RESERVE FORCES POLICY BOARD.

(a) COMMENDATION.—The Congress commends the Reserve Forces Policy Board, created by the Armed Forces Reserve Act of 1952 (Public Law 82-476), for its fine work in the past as an independent source of advice to the Secretary of Defense on all matters pertaining to the reserve components.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the Reserve Forces Policy Board and the reserve forces policy committees for the individual branches of the Armed Forces should continue to perform the vital role of providing the civilian leadership of the Department of Defense with independent advice on matters pertaining to the reserve components.

(c) ANNUAL REPORT OF RESERVE FORCES POLICY BOARD.—Section 113(c) of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by striking out paragraph (3);

(2) by redesignating paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) as subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C), respectively;

(3) by inserting "(1)" after "(c)";

(4) by inserting "and" at the end of subparagraph (B), as redesignated by paragraph (2); and

(5) by adding at the end the following:

"(2) At the same time that the Secretary submits the annual report under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall transmit to the President and Congress a separate report from the Reserve Forces Policy Board on the reserve programs of the Department of Defense and on any other matters that the Reserve Forces Policy Board considers appropriate to include in the report."

SEC. 1256. REPORT ON PARITY OF BENEFITS FOR ACTIVE DUTY SERVICE AND RESERVE SERVICE.

Not later than six months after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report providing recommendations for changes in law that the Secretary considers necessary, feasible, and affordable to reduce the disparities in pay and benefits that occur between active component members of the Armed Forces and reserve component members as a result of eligibility based on length of time on active duty.

SEC. 1257. INFORMATION ON PROPOSED FUNDING FOR THE GUARD AND RESERVE COMPONENTS IN FUTURE-YEARS DEFENSE PROGRAMS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—(1) Chapter 1013 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§ 10543. National Guard and reserve component equipment procurement and military construction funding: inclusion in future-years defense program

"The Secretary of Defense shall specify in each future-years defense program submitted to Congress under section 221 of this title the estimated expenditures and the proposed appropriations, for each fiscal year of the period covered by that program, for the procurement of equipment and for military construction for each of the reserve components of the armed forces."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"10543. National Guard and reserve component equipment procurement and military construction funding: inclusion in future-years defense program."

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—Section 10543 of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a), shall apply with respect to each future-years defense program submitted to Congress after the date of the enactment of this Act.

Subtitle A—Arms Control, Counterproliferation Activities, and Related Matters

SEC. 1301. EXTENSION OF COUNTERPROLIFERATION AUTHORITIES.

(a) ONE-YEAR EXTENSION OF AUTHORITY.—Section 1505 of the Weapons of Mass Destruction Control Act of 1992 (title XV of Public Law 102-484; 22 U.S.C. 5859a) is amended—

(1) in subsection (d)(3), by striking out "or" after "fiscal year 1995," and by inserting "or $15,000,000 for fiscal year 1997" before the period at the end; and

(2) in subsection (f), by striking out "1996" and inserting in lieu thereof "1997".

(b) FUNDING FLEXIBILITY.—Subsection (d) of such section is further amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(4)(A) In the event of a significant unforeseen development related to the activities of the United Nations Special Commission on Iraq for which the Secretary of Defense determines that financial assistance under this section is required at a level which would result in the total amount of assistance provided under this section during the then-current fiscal year exceeding the amount specified with respect to that year under paragraph (3), the Secretary of Defense may provide such assistance notwithstanding the limitation with respect to that fiscal year under paragraph (3). Funds for such purpose may be derived from any funds available to the Department of Defense for that fiscal year.

"(B) Financial assistance may be provided under subparagraph (A) only after the Secretary of Defense provides notice in writing to the committees of Congress named in subsection (e)(2) of the significant unforeseen development and of the Secretary's intent to provide assistance in excess of the limitation for that fiscal year under paragraph (3). However, if the Secretary determines in any case that under the specific circumstances of that case advance notice is not possible, such notice shall be provided as soon as possible and not later than 15 days after the date on which the assistance is provided. Any notice under this subparagraph shall include a description of the development, the amount of assistance provided or to be provided, and the source of the funds for that assistance."

SEC. 1302. LIMITATION ON RETIREMENT OR DISMANTLEMENT OF STRATEGIC NUCLEAR DELIVERY SYSTEMS.

(a) FUNDING LIMITATION.—Funds available to the Department of Defense may not be obligated or expended during fiscal year 1997 for retiring or dismantling, or for preparing to retire or dismantle, any of the following strategic nuclear delivery systems:

- (1) B-52H bomber aircraft.
- (2) Trident ballistic missile submarines.
- (3) Minuteman III intercontinental ballistic missiles.
- (4) Peacekeeper intercontinental ballistic missiles.

(b) WAIVER AUTHORITY.—If the START II Treaty enters into force during fiscal year 1996 or fiscal year 1997, the Secretary of Defense may waive the application of the limitation under paragraphs (2), (3), and (4) of subsection (a) to Trident ballistic missile submarines, Minuteman III intercontinental ballistic missiles, and Peacekeeper intercontinental ballistic missiles, respectively, to the extent that the Secretary determines necessary in order to implement the treaty.

(c) FUNDING LIMITATION ON EARLY DEACTIVATION.—(1) If the limitation under paragraphs (2), (3), and (4) of subsection (a) ceases to apply by reason of a waiver under subsection (b), funds available to the Department of Defense may nevertheless not be obligated or expended during fiscal year 1997 to implement any agreement or understanding to undertake substantial early deactivation of a strategic nuclear delivery system specified in subsection (b) until 30 days after the date on which the President submits to Congress a report concerning such actions.

(2) For purposes of this subsection, a substantial early deactivation is an action during fiscal year 1997 to deactivate a substantial number of strategic nuclear delivery systems specified in subsection (b) by—

- (A) removing nuclear warheads from those systems; or
- (B) taking other steps to remove those systems from combat status.

(3) A report under this subsection shall include the following:

(A) The text of any understanding or agreement between the United States and the Russian Federation concerning substantial early deactivation of strategic nuclear delivery systems under the START II Treaty.

(B) The plan of the Department of Defense for implementing the agreement.

(C) An assessment of the Secretary of Defense of the adequacy of the provisions contained in the agreement for monitoring and verifying compliance of Russia with the terms of the agreement.

(D) A determination by the President as to whether the deactivations to occur under the agreement will be carried out in a symmetrical, reciprocal, or equivalent manner.

(E) An assessment by the President of the effect of the proposed early deactivation on the stability of the strategic balance and relative strategic nuclear capabilities of the United States and the Russian Federation at various stages during deactivation and upon completion.

(d) START II TREATY DEFINED.—For purposes of this section, the term "START II Treaty" means the Treaty Between the United States of America and the Russian Federation on Further Reduction and Limitation of Strategic Offensive Arms, signed at Moscow on January 3, 1993, including the following protocols and memorandum of understanding, all such documents being integral parts of and collectively referred to as the "START II Treaty" (contained in Treaty Document 103-1):

(1) The Protocol on Procedures Governing Elimination of Heavy ICBMs and on Procedures Governing Conversion of Silo Launchers of Heavy ICBMs Relating to the Treaty Between the United States of America and the Russian Federation on Further Reduction and Limitation of Strategic Offensive Arms (also known as the "Elimination and Conversion Protocol").

(2) The Protocol on Exhibitions and Inspections of Heavy Bombers Relating to the Treaty Between the United States and the Russian Federation on Further Reduction and Limitation of Strategic Offensive Arms (also known as the "Exhibitions and Inspections Protocol").

(3) The Memorandum of Understanding on Warhead Attribution and Heavy Bomber Data Relating to the Treaty Between the United States of America and the Russian Federation on Further Reduction and Limitation of Strategic Offensive Arms (also known as the "Memorandum on Attribution").

(e) RETENTION OF B-52H AIRCRAFT ON ACTIVE STATUS.—(1) The Secretary of the Air Force shall maintain in active status (including the performance of standard maintenance and upgrades) the current fleet of B-52H bomber aircraft.

(2) For purposes of carrying out upgrades of B-52H bomber aircraft during fiscal year 1997, the Secretary shall treat the entire current fleet of such aircraft as aircraft expected to be maintained in active status during the six-year period beginning on October 1, 1996.

SEC. 1303. STRENGTHENING CERTAIN SANCTIONS AGAINST NUCLEAR PROLIFERATION ACTIVITIES.

(a) SANCTIONS.—Section 2(b)(4) of the Export-Import Bank Act of 1945 (12 U.S.C. 635(b)(4)) is amended to read as follows:

"(4)(A) If the Secretary of State determines that—

"(i) any country that has agreed to International Atomic Energy Agency nuclear safeguards materially violates, abrogates, or terminates, after October 26, 1977, such safeguards;

"(ii) any country that has entered into an agreement for cooperation concerning the civil use of nuclear energy with the United States materially violates, abrogates, or terminates, after October 26, 1977, any guarantee or other undertaking to the United States made in such agreement;

"(iii) any country that is not a nuclear-weapon state detonates, after October 26, 1977, a nuclear explosive device;

"(iv) any country willfully aids or abets, after June 29, 1994, any non-nuclear-weapon state to acquire any such nuclear explosive device or to acquire unsafeguarded special nuclear material; or

"(v) any person knowingly aids or abets, after the date of enactment of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1997, any non-nuclear-weapon state to acquire any such nuclear explosive device or to acquire unsafeguarded special nuclear material, then the Secretary of State shall submit a report to the appropriate committees of the Congress and to the Board of Directors of the Bank stating such determination and identifying each country or person the Secretary determines has so acted.

"(B)(i) If the Secretary of State makes a determination under subparagraph (A)(v) with respect to a foreign person, the Congress urges the Secretary to initiate consultations immediately with the government with primary jurisdiction over that person with respect to the imposition of the prohibition contained in subparagraph (C).

"(ii) In order that consultations with that government may be pursued, the Board of Directors of the Bank shall delay imposition of the prohibition contained in subparagraph (C) for up to 90 days if the Secretary of State requests the Board to make such delay. Following these consultations, the prohibition contained in subparagraph (C) shall apply immediately unless the Secretary determines and certifies to the Congress that that government has taken specific and effective actions, including appropriate penalties, to terminate the involvement of the foreign person in the activities described in subparagraph (A)(v). The Board of Directors of the Bank shall delay the imposition of the prohibition contained in subparagraph (C) for up to an additional 90 days if the Secretary requests the Board to make such additional delay and if the Secretary determines and certifies to the Congress that that government is in the process of taking the actions described in the preceding sentence.

"(iii) Not later than 90 days after making a determination under subparagraph (A)(v), the Secretary of State shall submit to the appropriate committees of the Congress a report on the status of consultations with the appropriate government under this subparagraph, and the basis for any determination under clause (i) that such government has taken specific corrective actions.

"(C) The Board of Directors of the Bank shall not give approval to guarantee, insure, or extend credit, or participate in the extension of credit in support of United States exports to any country, or to or by any person, identified in the report described in subparagraph (A).

"(D) The prohibition in subparagraph (C) shall not apply to approvals to guarantee, insure, or extend credit, or participate in the extension of credit in support of United States exports to a country with respect to which a determination is made under clause (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) of subparagraph (A) regarding any specific event described in such clause if the President determines and certifies in writing to the Congress not less than 45 days prior to the date of the first approval following the determination that it is in the national interest for the Bank to give such approvals.

"(E) The prohibition in subparagraph (C) shall not apply to approvals to guarantee, insure, or extend credit, or participate in the extension of credit in support of United States exports to or by a person with respect to whom a determination is made under clause (v) of subparagraph (A) regarding any specific event described in such clause if—

"(i) the Secretary of State determines and certifies to the Congress that the appropriate government has taken the corrective actions described in subparagraph (B)(ii); or

"(ii) the President determines and certifies in writing to the Congress not less than 45 days prior to the date of the first approval following the determination that—

"(I) reliable information indicates that—

"(aa) such person has ceased to aid or abet any non-nuclear-weapon state to acquire any nuclear explosive device or to acquire unsafeguarded special nuclear material; and

"(bb) steps have been taken to ensure that the activities described in item (aa) will not resume; or

"(II) the prohibition would have a serious adverse effect on vital United States interests.

"(F) For purposes of this paragraph:

"(i) The term 'country' has the meaning given to 'foreign state' in section 1603(a) of title 28, United States Code.

"(ii) The term 'knowingly' is used within the meaning of the term 'knowing' in section 104(h)(3) of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (15 U.S.C. 78dd-2(h)(3)).

"(iii) The term 'person' means a natural person as well as a corporation, business association, partnership, society, trust, any other nongovernmental entity, organization, or group, and any governmental entity operating as a business enterprise, and any successor of any such entity.

"(iv) The term 'nuclear-weapon state' has the meaning given the term in Article IX(3) of the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons, signed at Washington, London, and Moscow on July 1, 1968.

"(v) The term 'non-nuclear-weapon state' has the meaning given the term in section 830(5) of the Nuclear Proliferation Prevention Act of 1994 (Public Law 103-236; 108 Stat. 521).

"(vi) The term 'nuclear explosive device' has the meaning given the term in section 830(4) of the Nuclear Proliferation Prevention Act of 1994 (Public Law 103-236; 108 Stat. 521).

"(vii) The term 'unsafeguarded special nuclear material' has the meaning given the term in section 830(8) of the Nuclear Proliferation Prevention Act of 1994."

(b) RECOMMENDATIONS TO MAKE NON-PROLIFERATION LAWS MORE EFFECTIVE.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall submit to the Congress his recommendations on ways to make the laws of the United States more effective in controlling and preventing the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and missiles. The report shall identify all sources of Government funds used for such nonproliferation activities.

SEC. 1304. AUTHORITY TO PAY CERTAIN EXPENSES RELATING TO HUMANITARIAN AND CIVIC ASSISTANCE FOR CLEARANCE OF LANDMINES.

(a) AUTHORITY TO PAY EXPENSES.—Section 401(c) of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by redesignating paragraph (2) as paragraph (4); and

(2) by inserting after paragraph (1) the following new paragraphs:

"(2) Expenses covered by paragraph (1) include the following expenses incurred in providing assistance described in subsection (e)(5):

"(A) Travel, transportation, and subsistence expenses of Department of Defense personnel providing such assistance.

"(B) The cost of any equipment, services, or supplies acquired for the purpose of carrying out or supporting the activities described in subsection (e)(5), including any nonlethal, individual, or small-team landmine clearing equipment or supplies that are to be transferred or otherwise furnished to a foreign country in furtherance of the provision of assistance under this section.

"(3) The cost of equipment, services, and supplies provided in any fiscal year under paragraph (2)(B) may not exceed $5,000,000."

(b) COORDINATION WITH OTHER LAWS.—Section 401(b) of such title is amended—

(1) by inserting "(1)" after "(b)"; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

"(2) Any authority provided under any other provision of law to provide assistance that is described in subsection (e)(5) to a foreign country shall be carried out in accordance with, and subject to the limitations prescribed in, this section. Any such provision may be construed as superseding a provision of this section only if, and to the extent that, such provision specifically refers to this section and specifically identifies the provision of this section that is to be considered superseded or otherwise inapplicable under such provision."

SEC. 1305. REPORT ON MILITARY CAPABILITIES OF PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA.

(a) REPORT.—The Secretary of Defense shall prepare a report, in both classified and unclassified form, on the future pattern of military modernization of the People's Republic of China. The report shall address both the probable course of military-technological development in the People's Liberation Army and the development of Chinese military strategy and operational concepts.

(b) MATTERS TO BE INCLUDED.—The report shall include analyses and forecasts of the following:

(1) Trends that would lead the People's Republic of China toward advanced intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance capabilities, either through a development program or by gaining access to commercial or third-party systems with militarily significant capabilities.

(2) Efforts by the People's Republic of China to develop highly accurate and low-observable ballistic and cruise missiles, and the investments in infrastructure that would allow for production of such weapons in militarily significant quantities, particularly in numbers sufficient to conduct attacks capable of overwhelming projected defense capabilities in the region.

(3) Development by the People's Republic of China of enhanced command and control networks, particularly those capable of battle management that would include long-range precision strikes.

(4) Programs of the People's Republic of China involving unmanned aerial vehicles, particularly those with extended ranges or loitering times.

(5) Exploitation by the People's Republic of China of the Global Positioning System or other similar systems, including commercial land surveillance satellites, for significant military purposes, including particularly for increasing the accuracy of weapons or the situational awareness of operating forces.

(6) Development by the People's Republic of China of capabilities for denial of sea control, such as advanced sea mines or improved submarine capabilities.

(7) Continued development by the People's Republic of China of follow-on forces, particularly those capable of rapid air or amphibious assault.

(c) SUBMISSION OF REPORT.—The report shall be submitted to Congress not later than February 1, 1997.

SEC. 1306. PRESIDENTIAL REPORT REGARDING WEAPONS PROLIFERATION AND POLICIES OF THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

(1) the People's Republic of China acceded to the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons (hereafter in this section referred to as the "NPT") on March 9, 1992;

(2) the People's Republic of China is not a member of the Nuclear Suppliers Group and remains the only major nuclear supplier that continues to transfer nuclear technology, equipment, and materials to countries that have not agreed to the application of safeguards of the International Atomic Energy Agency (hereafter in this section referred to as the "IAEA") over all of their nuclear materials;

(3) on June 30, 1995, the United States and 29 other members of the Nuclear Suppliers

Group notified the Director General of the IAEA that the Government of each respective country has decided that the controls of that Group should not be defeated by the transfer of component parts;

(4) a state-owned entity in the People's Republic of China, the China Nuclear Energy Industry Corporation, has knowingly transferred specially designed ring magnets to an unsafeguarded uranium enrichment facility in the Islamic Republic of Pakistan;

(5) ring magnets are identified on the Trigger List of the Nuclear Suppliers Group as a component of magnetic suspension bearings which are to be exported only to countries that have safeguards of the IAEA over all of their nuclear materials;

(6) these ring magnets could contribute significantly to the ability of the Islamic Republic of Pakistan to produce additional unsafeguarded enriched uranium, a nuclear explosive material;

(7) the Government of the People's Republic of China has transferred nuclear equipment and technology to the Islamic Republic of Iran, despite repeated claims by the Government of the United States that the Islamic Republic of Iran is engaged in clandestine efforts to acquire a nuclear explosive device;

(8) representatives of the Government of the People's Republic of China have repeatedly assured the Government of the United States that the People's Republic of China would abide by the guidelines of the Missile Technology Control Regime (hereafter in this section referred to as the "MTCR");

(9) the Government of China has transferred M-11 missiles to the Islamic Republic of Pakistan; and

(10) the M-11 missile conforms to the definition of a nuclear-capable missile under the MTCR.

(b) SENSE OF THE CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) the assistance that the People's Republic of China has provided to the Islamic Republic of Iran and to the Islamic Republic of Pakistan could contribute to the ability of such countries to manufacture nuclear weapons;

(2) the recent transfer by the People's Republic of China of ring magnets to an unsafeguarded uranium enrichment facility in the Islamic Republic of Pakistan conflicts with China's obligations under Articles I and III of the NPT, as well as the official nonproliferation policies and assurances by the People's Republic of China and the Islamic Republic of Pakistan with respect to the nonproliferation of nuclear weapons and nuclear-capable missiles;

(3) the transfer of M-11 missiles from the People's Republic of China to the Islamic Republic of Pakistan is inconsistent with longstanding United States Government interpretations of assurances from the Government of the People's Republic of China with respect to that country's intent to abide by the guidelines of the MTCR;

(4) violations by the People's Republic of China of the standards and objectives of the MTCR and global nuclear nonproliferation regimes have jeopardized the credibility of the MTCR and such regimes;

(5) the MTCR and global nuclear nonproliferation regimes require collective international action to impose costs against and to withhold benefits from any country, including the People's Republic of China, that engages in activities that are contrary to the objectives of those regimes;

(6) the President should explore with the governments of other countries new opportunities for collective action in response to activities of any country, including the People's Republic of China, that aid or abet the global proliferation of weapons of mass destruction or their means of delivery; and

(7) the President should communicate to the Government of the People's Republic of China the sense of the Congress that the stability and growth of future relations between the people, the economies, and the Governments of the United States and the People's Republic of China will significantly depend upon substantive evidence of cooperation by the Government of the People's Republic of China in efforts to halt the global proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and their means of delivery.

(c) REPORT.—Not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall submit to the Congress a report, in both classified and unclassified form, concerning the transfer from the People's Republic of China to the Islamic Republic of Pakistan of technology, equipment, or materials important to the production of nuclear weapons and their means of delivery. The President shall include in the report the following:

(1) The specific justification of the Secretary of State for determining that there was not a sufficient basis for imposing sanctions under section 2(b)(4) of the Export-Import Bank Act of 1945, as amended by section 825 of the Nuclear Proliferation Prevention Act of 1994, by reason of the transfer of ring magnets and other technology, equipment, or materials from the People's Republic of China to the Islamic Republic of Pakistan.

(2) What commitment the United States Government is seeking from the People's Republic of China to ensure that the People's Republic of China establishes a fully effective export control system that will prevent transfers (such as the Pakistan sale) from taking place in the future.

(3) A description of the pledges, assurances, and other commitments made by representatives of the Governments of the People's Republic of China and the Islamic Republic of Pakistan to the Government of the United States since January 1, 1991, with respect to the nonproliferation of nuclear weapons or nuclear-capable missiles, and an assessment of the record of compliance with such undertakings.

(4) Whether, in light of the recent assurances provided by the People's Republic of China, the President intends to make the certification and submit the report required by section 902(a)(6)(B) of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years 1990 and 1991 (22 U.S.C. 2151 note), and make the certification and submit the report required by Public Law 99-183, relating to the approval and implementation of the agreement for nuclear cooperation between the United States and the People's Republic of China, and, if not, why not.

(5) Whether the Secretary of State considers the recent assurances and clarifications provided by the People's Republic of China to have provided sufficient information to allow the United States to determine that the People's Republic of China is not in violation of paragraph (2) of section 129 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as required by Public Law 99-183.

(6) If the President is unable or unwilling to make the certifications and reports referred to in paragraph (4), a description of what the President considers to be the significance of the clarifications and assurances provided by the People's Republic of China in the course of the recent discussions regarding the transfer by the People's Republic of China of nuclear-weapon-related equipment to the Islamic Republic of Pakistan.

(7) A description of the laws, regulations, and procedures currently used by the People's Republic of China to regulate exports of nuclear technology, equipment, or materials, including dual-use goods, and an assessment of the effectiveness of such arrangements.

(8) A description of the current policies and practices of other countries in response to the transfer of nuclear and missile technology by the People's Republic of China to the Islamic Republic of Pakistan and the Islamic Republic of Iran.

SEC. 1307. UNITED STATES-PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA JOINT DEFENSE CONVERSION COMMISSION.

None of the funds appropriated or otherwise available for the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1997 or any prior fiscal year may be obligated or expended for any activity associated with the United States-People's Republic of China Joint Defense Conversion Commission until 15 days after the date on which the first semiannual report required by section 1343 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 487) is received by Congress.

SEC. 1308. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING EXPORT CONTROLS.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Export controls are a part of a comprehensive response to national security threats. The export of a United States commodity or technology should be restricted in cases in which the export of the commodity or technology would increase the threat to the national security of the United States or would be contrary to the nonproliferation goals or foreign policy interests of the United States.

(2) The export of certain commodities and technology may adversely affect the national security and foreign policy of the United States by making a significant contribution to the military potential of countries or by enhancing the capability of countries to design, develop, test, produce, stockpile, or use weapons of mass destruction and missile delivery systems, and other significant military capabilities. Therefore, the administration of export controls should emphasize the control of these exports.

(3) The acquisition of sensitive commodities and technologies by those countries and end users whose actions or policies run counter to United States national security or foreign policy interests may enhance the military capabilities of those countries, particularly their ability to design, develop, test, produce, stockpile, use, and deliver nuclear, chemical, and biological weapons and missile delivery systems, and other significant military capabilities. This enhancement threatens the security of the United States and its allies. The availability to countries and end users of items that contribute to military capabilities or the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction is a fundamental concern of the United States and should be eliminated through deterrence, negotiations, and other appropriate means whenever possible.

(4) The national security of the United States depends not only on wise foreign policies and a strong defense, but also a vibrant national economy. To be truly effective, export controls should be applied uniformly by all suppliers.

(5) On November 8, 1995, the President continued the national emergency declared in Executive Order No. 12938 of November 14, 1994, "with respect to the unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security, foreign policy, and economy of the United States posed by the proliferation of nuclear, biological, and chemical weapons and the means of delivering such weapons".

(6) A successor regime to COCOM (the Coordinating Committee for Multilateral Export Controls) has not been established. Currently, each nation is determining independently which dual-use military items, if any, will be controlled for export.

(7) The United States should play a leading role in promoting transparency and responsibility with regard to the transfers of sensitive dual-use goods and technologies.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) establishing an international export control regime, empowered to control exports of dual-use technology, is critically important and should be a top priority for the United States; and

(2) the United States should strongly encourage its allies and other friendly countries to—

(A) adopt export controls that are the same or similar to the export controls imposed by the United States on items on the Commerce Control List;

(B) strengthen enforcement of their export controls; and

(C) explore the use of unilateral export controls where the possibility exists that an export could contribute to the enhancement of military capabilities or proliferation described in paragraphs (3) and (5) of subsection (a).

SEC. 1309. COUNTERPROLIFERATION PROGRAM REVIEW COMMITTEE.

(a) COMPOSITION OF THE COMMITTEE.—Subsection (a) of section 1605 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1994 (22 U.S.C. 2751 note) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(5) The Assistant to the Secretary of Defense for Nuclear and Chemical and Biological Defense Programs shall serve as executive secretary to the committee."

(b) ADDITIONAL PURPOSE OF THE COMMITTEE.—Subsection (b)(1)(A) of such section is amended by inserting "and efforts, including efforts to stem the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and to negate paramilitary and terrorist threats involving weapons of mass destruction" after "counterproliferation policy".

(c) FOUR-YEAR EXTENSION OF THE COMMITTEE.—Subsection (f) of such section is amended by striking out "September 30, 1996" and inserting in lieu thereof "September 30, 2000".

(d) REPORTS ON COUNTERPROLIFERATION ACTIVITIES AND PROGRAMS.—Section 1503 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1995 (22 U.S.C. 2751 note) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a)—

(A) by striking out "REPORT REQUIRED.—(1) Not later than May 1, 1995 and May 1, 1996, the Secretary" and inserting in lieu thereof "ANNUAL REPORT REQUIRED.—Not later than May 1 of each year, the Secretary"; and

(B) by striking out paragraph (2); and

(2) by adding at the end the following new subsections:

"(d) REVIEW COMMITTEE CHARTER DEFINED.—For purposes of this section, the term 'Review Committee charter' means section 1605 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1994 (22 U.S.C. 2751 note).

"(e) TERMINATION OF REQUIREMENT.—The final report required under subsection (a) is the report for the year following the year in which the Counterproliferation Program Review Committee established under the Review Committee Charter ceases to exist."

SEC. 1310. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING ASSISTING OTHER COUNTRIES TO IMPROVE SECURITY OF FISSILE MATERIAL.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) With the end of the Cold War, the world is faced with the need to manage the dismantling of vast numbers of nuclear weapons and the disposition of the fissile materials that they contain.

(2) If recently agreed reductions in nuclear weapons are fully implemented, tens of thousands of nuclear weapons, containing a hundred tons or more of plutonium and many hundreds of tons of highly enriched uranium, will no longer be needed for military purposes.

(3) Plutonium and highly enriched uranium are the essential ingredients of nuclear weapons.

(4) Limits on access to plutonium and highly enriched uranium are the primary technical barrier to acquiring nuclear weapons capability in the world today.

(5) Several kilograms of plutonium, or several times that amount of highly enriched uranium, are sufficient to make a nuclear weapon.

(6) Plutonium and highly enriched uranium will continue to pose a potential threat for as long as they exist.

(7) Action is required to secure and account for plutonium and highly enriched uranium.

(8) It is in the national interest of the United States to—

(A) minimize the risk that fissile materials could be obtained by unauthorized parties;

(B) minimize the risk that fissile materials could be reintroduced into the arsenals from which they came, halting or reversing the arms reduction process; and

(C) strengthen the national and international control mechanisms and incentives designed to ensure continued arms reductions and prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—In light of the findings contained in subsection (a), it is the sense of Congress that the United States has a national security interest in assisting other countries to improve the security of their stocks of fissile material.

SEC. 1311. REVIEW BY DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE OF NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE ESTIMATE 95-19.

(a) REVIEW.—The Director of Central Intelligence shall conduct a review of the underlying assumptions and conclusions of the National Intelligence Estimate designated as NIE 95-19 and entitled "Emerging Missile Threats to North America During the Next 15 Years", released by the Director in November 1995.

(b) METHODOLOGY FOR REVIEW.—The Director shall carry out the review under subsection (a) through a panel of independent, nongovernmental individuals with appropriate expertise and experience. Such a panel shall be convened by the Director not later than 45 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(c) REPORT.—The Director shall submit the findings resulting from the review under subsection (a), together with any comments of the Director on the review and the findings, to Congress not later than three months after the appointment of the Commission under section 1321.

Subtitle B—Commission to Assess the Ballistic Missile Threat to the United States

SEC. 1321. ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMISSION.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is hereby established a commission to be known as the "Commission to Assess the Ballistic Missile Threat to the United States" (hereinafter in this subtitle referred to as the "Commission").

(b) COMPOSITION.—The Commission shall be composed of nine members appointed by the Director of Central Intelligence. In selecting individuals for appointment to the Commission, the Director should consult with—

(1) the Speaker of the House of Representatives concerning the appointment of three of the members of the Commission;

(2) the majority leader of the Senate concerning the appointment of three of the members of the Commission; and

(3) the minority leader of the House of Representatives and the minority leader of the Senate concerning the appointment of three of the members of the Commission.

(c) QUALIFICATIONS.—Members of the Commission shall be appointed from among private United States citizens with knowledge and expertise in the political and military aspects of proliferation of ballistic missiles and the ballistic missile threat to the United States.

(d) CHAIRMAN.—The Speaker of the House of Representatives, after consultation with the majority leader of the Senate and the minority leaders of the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall designate one of the members of the Commission to serve as chairman of the Commission.

(e) PERIOD OF APPOINTMENT; VACANCIES.—Members shall be appointed for the life of the Commission. Any vacancy in the Commission shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

(f) SECURITY CLEARANCES.—All members of the Commission shall hold appropriate security clearances.

(g) INITIAL ORGANIZATION REQUIREMENTS.—(1) All appointments to the Commission shall be made not later than 45 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(2) The Commission shall convene its first meeting not later than 30 days after the date as of which all members of the Commission have been appointed, but not earlier than October 15, 1996.

SEC. 1322. DUTIES OF COMMISSION.

(a) REVIEW OF BALLISTIC MISSILE THREAT.—The Commission shall assess the nature and magnitude of the existing and emerging ballistic missile threat to the United States.

(b) COOPERATION FROM GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS.—In carrying out its duties, the Commission should receive the full and timely cooperation of the Secretary of Defense, the Director of Central Intelligence, and any other United States Government official responsible for providing the Commission with analyses, briefings, and other information necessary for the fulfillment of its responsibilities.

SEC. 1323. REPORT.

The Commission shall, not later than six months after the date of its first meeting, submit to the Congress a report on its findings and conclusions.

SEC. 1324. POWERS.

(a) HEARINGS.—The Commission or, at its direction, any panel or member of the Commission, may, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this subtitle, hold hearings, sit and act at times and places, take testimony, receive evidence, and administer oaths to the extent that the Commission or any panel or member considers advisable.

(b) INFORMATION.—The Commission may secure directly from the Department of Defense, the Central Intelligence Agency, and any other Federal department or agency information that the Commission considers necessary to enable the Commission to carry out its responsibilities under this subtitle.

SEC. 1325. COMMISSION PROCEDURES.

(a) MEETINGS.—The Commission shall meet at the call of the Chairman.

(b) QUORUM.—(1) Five members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum other than for the purpose of holding hearings.

(2) The Commission shall act by resolution agreed to by a majority of the members of the Commission.

(c) COMMISSION.—The Commission may establish panels composed of less than full membership of the Commission for the purpose of carrying out the Commission's duties. The actions of each such panel shall be subject to the review and control of the Commission. Any findings and determinations made by such a panel shall not be considered the findings and determinations of the Commission unless approved by the Commission.

(d) AUTHORITY OF INDIVIDUALS TO ACT FOR COMMISSION.—Any member or agent of the Commission may, if authorized by the Commission, take any action which the Commission is authorized to take under this subtitle.

SEC. 1326. PERSONNEL MATTERS.

(a) PAY OF MEMBERS.—Members of the Commission shall serve without pay by reason of their work on the Commission.

(b) TRAVEL EXPENSES.—The members of the Commission shall be allowed travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, at rates authorized for employees of agencies under subchapter I of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, while away from their homes or regular places of business in the performance of services for the Commission.

(c) STAFF.—(1) The chairman of the Commission may, without regard to the provisions of title 5, United States Code, governing appointments in the competitive service, appoint a staff director and such additional personnel as may be necessary to enable the Commission to perform its duties. The appointment of a staff director shall be subject to the approval of the Commission.

(2) The chairman of the Commission may fix the pay of the staff director and other personnel without regard to the provisions of chapter 51 and subchapter III of chapter 53 of title 5, United States Code, relating to classification of positions and General Schedule pay rates, except that the rate of pay fixed under this paragraph for the staff director may not exceed the rate payable for level V of the Executive Schedule under section 5316 of such title and the rate of pay for other personnel may not exceed the maximum rate payable for grade GS-15 of the General Schedule.

(d) DETAIL OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES.—Upon request of the chairman of the Commission, the head of any Federal department or agency may detail, on a nonreimbursable basis, any personnel of that department or agency to the Commission to assist it in carrying out its duties.

(e) PROCUREMENT OF TEMPORARY AND INTERMITTENT SERVICES.—The chairman of the Commission may procure temporary and intermittent services under section 3109(b) of title 5, United States Code, at rates for individuals which do not exceed the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay payable for level V of the Executive Schedule under section 5316 of such title.

SEC. 1327. MISCELLANEOUS ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS.

(a) POSTAL AND PRINTING SERVICES.—The Commission may use the United States mails and obtain printing and binding services in the same manner and under the same conditions as other departments and agencies of the Federal Government.

(b) MISCELLANEOUS ADMINISTRATIVE AND SUPPORT SERVICES.—The Director of Central Intelligence shall furnish the Commission, on a reimbursable basis, any administrative and support services requested by the Commission.

SEC. 1328. FUNDING.

Funds for activities of the Commission shall be provided from amounts appropriated for the Department of Defense for operation and maintenance for Defense-wide activities for fiscal year 1997. Upon receipt of a written certification from the Chairman of the Commission specifying the funds required for the activities of the Commission, the Secretary of Defense shall promptly disburse to the Commission, from such amounts, the funds required by the Commission as stated in such certification.

SEC. 1329. TERMINATION OF THE COMMISSION.

The Commission shall terminate 60 days after the date of the submission of its report under section 1323.

SEC. 1401. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the "Defense Against Weapons of Mass Destruction Act of 1996".

SEC. 1402. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Weapons of mass destruction and related materials and technologies are increasingly available from worldwide sources. Technical information relating to such weapons is readily available on the Internet, and raw materials for chemical, biological, and radiological weapons are widely available for legitimate commercial purposes.

(2) The former Soviet Union produced and maintained a vast array of nuclear, biological, and chemical weapons of mass destruction.

(3) Many of the states of the former Soviet Union retain the facilities, materials, and technologies capable of producing additional quantities of weapons of mass destruction.

(4) The disintegration of the former Soviet Union was accompanied by disruptions of command and control systems, deficiencies in accountability for weapons, weapons-related materials and technologies, economic hardships, and significant gaps in border control among the states of the former Soviet Union. The problems of organized crime and corruption in the states of the former Soviet Union increase the potential for proliferation of nuclear, radiological, biological, and chemical weapons and related materials.

(5) The conditions described in paragraph (4) have substantially increased the ability of potentially hostile nations, terrorist groups, and individuals to acquire weapons of mass destruction and related materials and technologies from within the states of the former Soviet Union and from unemployed scientists who worked on those programs.

(6) As a result of such conditions, the capability of potentially hostile nations and terrorist groups to acquire nuclear, radiological, biological, and chemical weapons is greater than any time in history.

(7) The President has identified North Korea, Iraq, Iran, and Libya as hostile states which already possess some weapons of mass destruction and are developing others.

(8) The acquisition or the development and use of weapons of mass destruction is well within the capability of many extremist and terrorist movements, acting independently or as proxies for foreign states.

(9) Foreign states can transfer weapons to or otherwise aid extremist and terrorist movements indirectly and with plausible deniability.

(10) Terrorist groups have already conducted chemical attacks against civilian targets in the United States and Japan, and a radiological attack in Russia.

(11) The potential for the national security of the United States to be threatened by nuclear, radiological, chemical, or biological terrorism must be taken seriously.

(12) There is a significant and growing threat of attack by weapons of mass destruction on targets that are not military targets in the usual sense of the term.

(13) Concomitantly, the threat posed to the citizens of the United States by nuclear, radiological, biological, and chemical weapons delivered by unconventional means is significant and growing.

(14) Mass terror may result from terrorist incidents involving nuclear, radiological, biological, or chemical materials.

(15) Facilities required for production of radiological, biological, and chemical weapons are much smaller and harder to detect than nuclear weapons facilities, and biological, and chemical weapons can be deployed by alternative delivery means other than long-range ballistic missiles.

(16) Covert or unconventional means of delivery of nuclear, radiological, biological, and chemical weapons include cargo ships, passenger aircraft, commercial and private vehicles and vessels, and commercial cargo shipments routed through multiple destinations.

(17) Traditional arms control efforts assume large state efforts with detectable manufacturing programs and weapons production programs, but are ineffective in monitoring and controlling smaller, though potentially more dangerous, unconventional proliferation efforts.

(18) Conventional counterproliferation efforts would do little to detect or prevent the rapid development of a capability to suddenly manufacture several hundred chemical or biological weapons with nothing but commercial supplies and equipment.

(19) The United States lacks adequate planning and countermeasures to address the threat of nuclear, radiological, biological, and chemical terrorism.

(20) The Department of Energy has established a Nuclear Emergency Response Team which is available in case of nuclear or radiological emergencies, but no comparable units exist to deal with emergencies involving biological, or chemical weapons or related materials.

(21) State and local emergency response personnel are not adequately prepared or trained for incidents involving nuclear, radiological, biological, or chemical materials.

(22) Exercises of the Federal, State, and local response to nuclear, radiological, biological, or chemical terrorism have revealed serious deficiencies in preparedness and severe problems of coordination.

(23) The development of, and allocation of responsibilities for, effective countermeasures to nuclear, radiological, biological, or chemical terrorism in the United States requires well-coordinated participation of many Federal agencies, and careful planning by the Federal Government and State and local governments.

(24) Training and exercises can significantly improve the preparedness of State and local emergency response personnel for emergencies involving nuclear, radiological, biological, or chemical weapons or related materials.

(25) Sharing of the expertise and capabilities of the Department of Defense, which traditionally has provided assistance to Federal, State, and local officials in neutralizing, dismantling, and disposing of explosive ordnance, as well as radiological, biological, and chemical materials, can be a vital contribution to the development and deployment of countermeasures against nuclear, biological, and chemical weapons of mass destruction.

(26) The United States lacks effective policy coordination regarding the threat posed by the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction.

SEC. 1403. DEFINITIONS.

In this title:

(1) The term "weapon of mass destruction" means any weapon or device that is intended, or has the capability, to cause death or serious bodily injury to a significant number of people through the release, dissemination, or impact of—

(A) toxic or poisonous chemicals or their precursors;

(B) a disease organism; or

(C) radiation or radioactivity.

(2) The term "independent states of the former Soviet Union" has the meaning given that term in section 3 of the FREEDOM Support Act (22 U.S.C. 5801).

(3) The term "highly enriched uranium" means uranium enriched to 20 percent or more in the isotope U-235.

Subtitle A—Domestic Preparedness

SEC. 1411. RESPONSE TO THREATS OF TERRORIST USE OF WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION.

(a) ENHANCED RESPONSE CAPABILITY.—In light of the potential for terrorist use of weapons of mass destruction against the United States, the President shall take immediate action—

(1) to enhance the capability of the Federal Government to prevent and respond to terrorist incidents involving weapons of mass destruction; and

(2) to provide enhanced support to improve the capabilities of State and local emergency response agencies to prevent and respond to such incidents at both the national and the local level.

(b) REPORT REQUIRED.—Not later than January 31, 1997, the President shall transmit to Congress a report containing—

(1) an assessment of the capabilities of the Federal Government to prevent and respond to terrorist incidents involving weapons of mass destruction and to support State and local prevention and response efforts;

(2) requirements for improvements in those capabilities; and

(3) the measures that should be taken to achieve such improvements, including additional resources and legislative authorities that would be required.

SEC. 1412. EMERGENCY RESPONSE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM.

(a) PROGRAM REQUIRED.—(1) The Secretary of Defense shall carry out a program to provide civilian personnel of Federal, State, and local agencies with training and expert advice regarding emergency responses to a use or threatened use of a weapon of mass destruction or related materials.

(2) The President may designate the head of an agency other than the Department of Defense to assume the responsibility for carrying out the program on or after October 1, 1999, and relieve the Secretary of Defense of that responsibility upon the assumption of the responsibility by the designated official.

(3) In this section, the official responsible for carrying out the program is referred to as the "lead official".

(b) COORDINATION.—In carrying out the program, the lead official shall coordinate with each of the following officials who is not serving as the lead official:

(1) The Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

(2) The Secretary of Energy.

(3) The Secretary of Defense.

(4) The heads of any other Federal, State, and local government agencies that have an expertise or responsibilities relevant to emergency responses described in subsection (a)(1).

(c) ELIGIBLE PARTICIPANTS.—The civilian personnel eligible to receive assistance under the program are civilian personnel of Federal, State, and local agencies who have emergency preparedness responsibilities.

(d) INVOLVEMENT OF OTHER FEDERAL AGENCIES.—(1) The lead official may use personnel and capabilities of Federal agencies outside the agency of the lead official to provide training and expert advice under the program.

(2)(A) Personnel used under paragraph (1) shall be personnel who have special skills relevant to the particular assistance that the personnel are to provide.

(B) Capabilities used under paragraph (1) shall be capabilities that are especially relevant to the particular assistance for which the capabilities are used.

(3) If the lead official is not the Secretary of Defense, and requests assistance from the Department of Defense that, in the judgment of the Secretary of Defense would affect military readiness or adversely affect national security, the Secretary of Defense may appeal the request for Department of Defense assistance by the lead official to the President.

(e) AVAILABLE ASSISTANCE.—Assistance available under this program shall include the following:

(1) Training in the use, operation, and maintenance of equipment for—

(A) detecting a chemical or biological agent or nuclear radiation;

(B) monitoring the presence of such an agent or radiation;

(C) protecting emergency personnel and the public; and

(D) decontamination.

(2) Establishment of a designated telephonic link (commonly referred to as a "hot line") to a designated source of relevant data and expert advice for the use of State or local officials responding to emergencies involving a weapon of mass destruction or related materials.

(3) Use of the National Guard and other reserve components for purposes authorized under this section that are specified by the lead official (with the concurrence of the Secretary of Defense if the Secretary is not the lead official).

(4) Loan of appropriate equipment.

(f) LIMITATIONS ON DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE ASSISTANCE TO LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES.—Assistance provided by the Department of Defense to law enforcement agencies under this section shall be provided under the authority of, and subject to the restrictions provided in, chapter 18 of title 10, United States Code.

(g) ADMINISTRATION OF DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE ASSISTANCE.—The Secretary of Defense shall designate an official within the Department of Defense to serve as the executive agent of the Secretary for the coordination of the provision of Department of Defense assistance under this section.

(h) FUNDING.—(1) Of the total amount authorized to be appropriated under section 301, $35,000,000 is available for the program required under this section.

(2) Of the amount available for the program pursuant to paragraph (1), $10,500,000 is available for use by the Secretary of Defense to assist the Secretary of Health and Human Services in the establishment of metropolitan emergency medical response teams (commonly referred to as "Metropolitan Medical Strike Force Teams") to provide medical services that are necessary or potentially necessary by reason of a use or threatened use of a weapon of mass destruction.

(3) The amount available for the program under paragraph (1) is in addition to any other amounts authorized to be appropriated for the program under section 301.

SEC. 1413. NUCLEAR, CHEMICAL, AND BIOLOGICAL EMERGENCY RESPONSE.

(a) DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE.—The Secretary of Defense shall designate an official within the Department of Defense as the executive agent for—

(1) the coordination of Department of Defense assistance to Federal, State, and local officials in responding to threats involving biological or chemical weapons or related materials or technologies, including assistance in identifying, neutralizing, dismantling, and disposing of biological and chemical weapons and related materials and technologies; and

(2) the coordination of Department of Defense assistance to the Department of Energy in carrying out that department's responsibilities under subsection (b).

(b) DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY.—The Secretary of Energy shall designate an official within the Department of Energy as the executive agent for—

(1) the coordination of Department of Energy assistance to Federal, State, and local officials in responding to threats involving nuclear, chemical, and biological weapons or related materials or technologies, including assistance in identifying, neutralizing, dismantling, and disposing of nuclear weapons and related materials and technologies; and

(2) the coordination of Department of Energy assistance to the Department of Defense in carrying out that department's responsibilities under subsection (a).

(c) FUNDING.—Of the total amount authorized to be appropriated under section 301, $15,000,000 is available for providing assistance described in subsection (a).

SEC. 1414. CHEMICAL-BIOLOGICAL EMERGENCY RESPONSE TEAM.

(a) DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE RAPID RESPONSE TEAM.—The Secretary of Defense shall develop and maintain at least one domestic terrorism rapid response team composed of members of the Armed Forces and employees of the Department of Defense who are capable of aiding Federal, State, and local officials in the detection, neutralization, containment, dismantlement, and disposal of weapons of mass destruction containing chemical, biological, or related materials.

(b) ADDITION TO FEDERAL RESPONSE PLAN.—Not later than December 31, 1997, the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency shall develop and incorporate into existing Federal emergency response plans and programs prepared under section 611(b) of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 5196(b)) guidance on the use and deployment of the rapid response teams established under this section to respond to emergency involving weapons of mass destruction. The Director shall carry out this subsection in consultation with the Secretary of Defense and the heads of other Federal agencies involved with the emergency response plans.

SEC. 1415. TESTING OF PREPAREDNESS FOR EMERGENCIES INVOLVING NUCLEAR, RADIOLOGICAL, CHEMICAL, AND BIOLOGICAL WEAPONS.

(a) EMERGENCIES INVOLVING CHEMICAL OR BIOLOGICAL WEAPONS.—(1) The Secretary of Defense shall develop and carry out a program for testing and improving the responses of Federal, State, and local agencies to emergencies involving biological weapons and related materials and emergencies involving chemical weapons and related materials.

(2) The program shall include exercises to be carried out during each of five successive fiscal years beginning with fiscal year 1997.

(3) In developing and carrying out the program, the Secretary shall coordinate with the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the Secretary of Energy, and the heads of any other Federal, State, and local government agencies that have an expertise or responsibilities relevant to emergencies described in paragraph (1).

(b) EMERGENCIES INVOLVING NUCLEAR AND RADIOLOGICAL WEAPONS.—(1) The Secretary of Energy shall develop and carry out a program for testing and improving the responses of Federal, State, and local agencies to emergencies involving nuclear and radiological weapons and related materials.

(2) The program shall include exercises to be carried out during each of five successive fiscal years beginning with fiscal year 1997.

(3) In developing and carrying out the program, the Secretary shall coordinate with the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the Secretary of Defense, and the heads of any other Federal, State, and local government agencies that have an expertise or responsibilities relevant to emergencies described in paragraph (1).

(c) ANNUAL REVISIONS OF PROGRAMS.—The official responsible for carrying out a program developed under subsection (a) or (b) shall revise the program not later than June 1 in each fiscal year covered by the program. The revisions shall include adjustments that the official determines necessary or appropriate on the basis of the lessons learned from the exercise or exercises carried out under the program in the fiscal year, including lessons learned regarding coordination problems and equipment deficiencies.

(d) OPTION TO TRANSFER RESPONSIBILITY.—(1) The President may designate the head of an agency outside the Department of Defense to assume the responsibility for carrying out the program developed under subsection (a) beginning on or after October 1, 1999, and relieve the Secretary of Defense of that responsibility upon the assumption of the responsibility by the designated official.

(2) The President may designate the head of an agency outside the Department of Energy to assume the responsibility for carrying out the program developed under subsection (b) beginning on or after October 1, 1999, and relieve the Secretary of Energy of that responsibility upon the assumption of the responsibility by the designated official.

(e) FUNDING.—Of the total amount authorized to be appropriated under section 301, $15,000,000 is available for the development and execution of the programs required by this section, including the participation of State and local agencies in exercises carried out under the programs.

SEC. 1416. MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO CIVILIAN LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS IN EMERGENCY SITUATIONS INVOLVING BIOLOGICAL OR CHEMICAL WEAPONS.

(a) ASSISTANCE AUTHORIZED.—(1) Chapter 18 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section: "§382. Emergency situations involving chemical or biological weapons of mass destruction

"(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Defense, upon the request of the Attorney General, may provide assistance in support of Department of Justice activities relating to the enforcement of section 175 or 2332c of title 18 during an emergency situation involving a biological or chemical weapon of mass destruction. Department of Defense resources, including personnel of the Department of Defense, may be used to provide such assistance if—

"(1) the Secretary of Defense and the Attorney General jointly determine that an emergency situation exists; and

"(2) the Secretary of Defense determines that the provision of such assistance will not adversely affect the military preparedness of the United States.

"(b) EMERGENCY SITUATIONS COVERED.—In this section, the term 'emergency situation involving a biological or chemical weapon of mass destruction' means a circumstance involving a biological or chemical weapon of mass destruction—

"(1) that poses a serious threat to the interests of the United States; and

"(2) in which—

"(A) civilian expertise and capabilities are not readily available to provide the required assistance to counter the threat immediately posed by the weapon involved;

"(B) special capabilities and expertise of the Department of Defense are necessary and critical to counter the threat posed by the weapon involved; and

"(C) enforcement of section 175 or 2332c of title 18 would be seriously impaired if the Department of Defense assistance were not provided.

"(c) FORMS OF ASSISTANCE.—The assistance referred to in subsection (a) includes the operation of equipment (including equipment made available under section 372 of this title) to monitor, contain, disable, or dispose of the weapon involved or elements of the weapon.

"(d) REGULATIONS.—(1) The Secretary of Defense and the Attorney General shall jointly prescribe regulations concerning the types of assistance that may be provided under this section. Such regulations shall also describe the actions that Department of Defense personnel may take in circumstances incident to the provision of assistance under this section.

"(2)(A) Except as provided in subparagraph (B), the regulations may not authorize the following actions:

"(i) Arrest.

"(ii) Any direct participation in conducting a search for or seizure of evidence related to a violation of section 175 or 2332c of title 18.

"(iii) Any direct participation in the collection of intelligence for law enforcement purposes.

"(B) The regulations may authorize an action described in subparagraph (A) to be taken under the following conditions:

"(i) The action is considered necessary for the immediate protection of human life, and civilian law enforcement officials are not capable of taking the action.

"(ii) The action is otherwise authorized under subsection (c) or under otherwise applicable law.

"(e) REIMBURSEMENTS.—The Secretary of Defense shall require reimbursement as a condition for providing assistance under this section to the extent required under section 377 of this title.

"(f) DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY.—(1) Except to the extent otherwise provided by the Secretary of Defense, the Deputy Secretary of Defense may exercise the authority of the Secretary of Defense under this section. The Secretary of Defense may delegate the Secretary's authority under this section only to an Under Secretary of Defense or an Assistant Secretary of Defense and only if the Under Secretary or Assistant Secretary to whom delegated has been designated by the Secretary to act for, and to exercise the general powers of, the Secretary.

"(2) Except to the extent otherwise provided by the Attorney General, the Deputy Attorney General may exercise the authority of the Attorney General under this section. The Attorney General may delegate that authority only to the Associate Attorney General or an Assistant Attorney General and only if the Associate Attorney General or Assistant Attorney General to whom delegated has been designated by the Attorney General to act for, and to exercise the general powers of, the Attorney General.

"(g) RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER AUTHORITY.—Nothing in this section shall be construed to restrict any executive branch authority regarding use of members of the armed forces or equipment of the Department of Defense that was in effect before the date of the enactment of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1997."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"382. Emergency situations involving chemical or biological weapons of mass destruction."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT TO CONDITION FOR PROVIDING EQUIPMENT AND FACILITIES.—Section 372(b)(1) of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new sentence: "The requirement for a determination that an item is not reasonably available from another source does not apply to assistance provided under section 382 of this title pursuant to a request of the Attorney General for the assistance."

(c) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS RELATING TO AUTHORITY TO REQUEST ASSISTANCE.—(1)(A) Chapter 10 of title 18, United States Code, is amended by inserting after section 175 the following new section:

"§ 175a. Requests for military assistance to enforce prohibition in certain emergencies

"The Attorney General may request the Secretary of Defense to provide assistance under section 382 of title 10 in support of Department of Justice activities relating to the enforcement of section 175 of this title in an emergency situation involving a biological weapon of mass destruction. The authority to make such a request may be exercised by another official of the Department of Justice in accordance with section 382(f)(2) of title 10."

(B) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 175 the following new item:

"175a. Requests for military assistance to enforce prohibition in certain emergencies."

(2)(A) The chapter 133B of title 18, United States Code, that relates to terrorism is amended by inserting after section 2332c the following new section:

"§ 2332d. Requests for military assistance to enforce prohibition in certain emergencies

"The Attorney General may request the Secretary of Defense to provide assistance under section 382 of title 10 in support of Department of Justice activities relating to the enforcement of section 2332c of this title during an emergency situation involving a chemical weapon of mass destruction. The authority to make such a request may be exercised by another official of the Department of Justice in accordance with section 382(f)(2) of title 10."

(B) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 2332c the following new item:

"2332d. Requests for military assistance to enforce prohibition in certain emergencies."

(d) CIVILIAN EXPERTISE.—The President shall take reasonable measures to reduce the reliance of civilian law enforcement officials on Department of Defense resources to counter the threat posed by the use or potential use of biological and chemical weapons of mass destruction within the United States. The measures shall include—

(1) actions to increase civilian law enforcement expertise to counter such a threat; and
(2) actions to improve coordination between civilian law enforcement officials and other civilian sources of expertise, within and outside the Federal Government, to counter such a threat.

(e) REPORTS.—The President shall submit to Congress the following reports:

(1) Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, a report describing the respective policy functions and operational roles of Federal agencies in countering the threat posed by the use or potential use of biological and chemical weapons of mass destruction within the United States.

(2) Not later than one year after such date, a report describing—

(A) the actions planned to be taken to carry out subsection (d); and
(B) the costs of such actions.

(3) Not later than three years after such date, a report updating the information provided in the reports submitted pursuant to paragraphs (1) and (2), including the measures taken pursuant to subsection (d).

SEC. 1417. RAPID RESPONSE INFORMATION SYSTEM.

(a) INVENTORY OF RAPID RESPONSE ASSETS.—(1) The head of each Federal Response Plan agency shall develop and maintain an inventory of physical equipment and assets under the jurisdiction of that agency that could be made available to aid State and local officials in search and rescue and other disaster management and mitigation efforts associated with an emergency involving weapons of mass destruction. The agency head shall submit a copy of the inventory, and any updates of the inventory, to the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency for inclusion in the master inventory required under subsection (b).

(2) Each inventory shall include a separate listing of any equipment that is excess to the needs of that agency and could be considered for disposal as excess or surplus property for use for response and training with regard to emergencies involving weapons of mass destruction.

(b) MASTER INVENTORY.—The Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency shall compile and maintain a comprehensive listing of all inventories prepared under subsection (a). The first such master list shall be completed not later than December 31, 1997, and shall be updated annually thereafter.

(c) ADDITION TO FEDERAL RESPONSE PLAN.—Not later than December 31, 1997, the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency shall develop and incorporate into existing Federal emergency response plans and programs prepared under section 611(b) of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 5196(b)) guidance on accessing and using the physical equipment and assets included in the master list developed under subsection to respond to emergencies involving weapons of mass destruction.

(d) DATABASE ON CHEMICAL AND BIOLOGICAL MATERIALS.—The Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, in consultation with the Secretary of Defense, shall prepare a database on chemical and biological agents and munitions characteristics and safety precautions for civilian use. The initial design and compilation of the database shall be completed not later than December 31, 1997.

(e) ACCESS TO INVENTORY AND DATABASE.—The Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency shall design and maintain a system to give Federal, State, and local officials access to the inventory listing and database maintained under this section in the event of an emergency involving weapons of mass destruction or to prepare and train to respond to such an emergency. The system shall include a secure but accessible emergency response hotline to access information and request assistance.

Subtitle B—Interdiction of Weapons of Mass Destruction and Related Materials

SEC. 1421. PROCUREMENT OF DETECTION EQUIPMENT UNITED STATES BORDER SECURITY.

Of the amount authorized to be appropriated by section 301, $15,000,000 is available for the procurement of—

(1) equipment capable of detecting the movement of weapons of mass destruction and related materials into the United States; and
(2) equipment capable of interdicting the movement of weapons of mass destruction and related materials into the United States; and

(3) materials and technologies related to use of equipment described in paragraph (1) or (2).

SEC. 1422. EXTENSION OF COVERAGE OF INTERNATIONAL EMERGENCY ECONOMIC POWERS ACT.

Section 206 of the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1705) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a), by inserting " , or attempts to violate," after "violates"; and
(2) in subsection (b), by inserting " , or willfully attempts to violate," after "violates".

SEC. 1423. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING CRIMINAL PENALTIES.

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING INADEQUACY OF SENTENCING GUIDELINES.—It is the sense of Congress that the sentencing guidelines prescribed by the United States Sentencing Commission for the offenses of importation, attempted importation, exportation, and attempted exportation of nuclear, biological, and chemical weapons materials constitute inadequate punishment for such offenses.

(b) URGING OF REVISION TO GUIDELINES.—Congress urges the United States Sentencing Commission to revise the relevant sentencing guidelines to provide for increased penalties for offenses relating to importation, attempted importation, exportation, and attempted exportation of nuclear, biological, or chemical weapons or related materials or technologies under the following provisions of law:

(1) Section 11 of the Export Administration Act of 1979 (50 U.S.C. App. 2410).

(2) Sections 38 and 40 the Arms Export Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2778 and 2780).

(3) The International Emergency Economic Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.).

(4) Section 309(c) of the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Act of 1978 (22 U.S.C. 2156a(c)).

SEC. 1424. INTERNATIONAL BORDER SECURITY.

(a) SECRETARY OF DEFENSE RESPONSIBILITY.—The Secretary of Defense, in consultation and cooperation with the Commissioner of Customs, shall carry out programs for assisting customs officials and border guard officials in the independent states of the former Soviet Union, the Baltic states, and other countries of Eastern Europe in preventing unauthorized transfer and transportation of nuclear, biological, and chemical weapons and related materials. Training, expert advice, maintenance of equipment, loan of equipment, and audits may be provided under or in connection with the programs.

(b) FUNDING.—Of the total amount authorized to be appropriated by section 301, $15,000,000 is available for carrying out the programs referred to in subsection (a).

(c) ASSISTANCE TO STATES OF THE FORMER SOVIET UNION.—Assistance under programs referred to in subsection (a) may (notwithstanding any provision of law prohibiting the extension of foreign assistance to any of the newly independent states of the former Soviet Union) be extended to include an independent state of the former Soviet Union if the President certifies to Congress that it is in the national interest of the United States to extend assistance under this section to that state.

Subtitle C—Control and Disposition of Weapons of Mass Destruction and Related Materials Threatening the United States

SEC. 1431. COVERAGE OF WEAPONS-USABLE FISSILE MATERIALS IN COOPERATIVE THREAT REDUCTION PROGRAMS ON ELIMINATION OR TRANSPORTATION OF NUCLEAR WEAPONS.

Section 1201(b)(1) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 469; 22 U.S.C. 5955 note) is amended by inserting “, fissile material suitable for use in nuclear weapons,” after “other weapons”.

SEC. 1432. ELIMINATION OF PLUTONIUM PRODUCTION.

(a) REPLACEMENT PROGRAM.—The Secretary of Energy, in consultation with the Secretary of Defense, shall develop a cooperative program with the Government of Russia to eliminate the production of weapons grade plutonium by modifying or replacing the reactor cores at Tomsk-7 and Krasnoyarsk-26 with reactor cores that are less suitable for the production of weapons-grade plutonium.

(b) PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS.—(1) The program shall be designed to achieve completion of the modifications or replacements of the reactor cores within three years after the modification or replacement activities under the program are begun.

(2) The plan for the program shall—

(A) specify—

(i) successive steps for the modification or replacement of the reactor cores; and

(ii) clearly defined milestones to be achieved; and

(B) include estimates of the costs of the program.

(c) SUBMISSION OF PROGRAM PLAN TO CONGRESS.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress—

(1) a plan for the program under subsection (a);

(2) an estimate of the United States funding that is necessary for carrying out the activities under the program for each fiscal year covered by the program; and

(3) a comparison of the benefits of the program with the benefits of other nonproliferation programs.

Subtitle D—Coordination of Policy and Countermeasures Against Proliferation of Weapons of Mass Destruction

SEC. 1441. NATIONAL COORDINATOR ON NON-PROLIFERATION.

(a) DESIGNATION OF POSITION.—The President shall designate an individual to serve in the Executive Office of the President as the National Coordinator for Nonproliferation Matters.

(b) DUTIES.—The Coordinator, under the direction of the National Security Council, shall advise and assist the President by—

(1) advising the President on nonproliferation of weapons of mass destruction, including issues related to terrorism, arms control, and international organized crime.

(2) chairing the Committee on Nonproliferation established under section 1342; and

(3) taking such actions as are necessary to ensure that there is appropriate emphasis in, cooperation on, and coordination of, nonproliferation research efforts of the United States, including activities of Federal agencies as well as activities of contractors funded by the Federal Government.

(c) ALLOCATION OF FUNDS.—Of the total amount authorized to be appropriated under section 301, $2,000,000 is available to the Department of Defense for carrying out research referred to in subsection (b)(3).

SEC. 1442. NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL COMMITTEE ON NONPROLIFERATION.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Committee on Nonproliferation (in this section referred to as the “Committee”) is established as a committee of the National Security Council.

(b) MEMBERSHIP.—(1) The Committee shall be composed of representatives of the following:

- (A) The Secretary of State.
- (B) The Secretary of Defense.
- (C) The Director of Central Intelligence.
- (D) The Attorney General.
- (E) The Secretary of Energy.
- (F) The Administrator of the Federal Emergency Management Agency.
- (G) The Secretary of the Treasury.
- (H) The Secretary of Commerce.

(I) Such other members as the President may designate.

(2) The National Coordinator for Nonproliferation Matters shall chair the Committee on Nonproliferation.

(c) RESPONSIBILITIES.—The Committee has the following responsibilities:

(1) To review and coordinate Federal programs, policies, and directives relating to the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and related materials and technologies, including matters relating to terrorism and international organized crime.

(2) To make recommendations through the National Security Council to the President regarding the following:

(A) Integrated national policies for countering the threats posed by weapons of mass destruction.

(B) Options for integrating Federal agency budgets for countering such threats.

(C) Means to ensure that the Federal, State, and local governments have adequate capabilities to manage crises involving nuclear, radiological, biological, or chemical weapons or related materials or technologies, and to manage the consequences of a use of such a weapon or related materials or technologies, and that use of those capabilities is coordinated.

(D) Means to ensure appropriate cooperation on, and coordination of, the following:

(i) Preventing the smuggling of weapons of mass destruction and related materials and technologies.

(ii) Promoting domestic and international law enforcement efforts against proliferation-related efforts.

(iii) Countering the involvement of organized crime groups in proliferation-related activities.

(iv) Safeguarding weapons of mass destruction materials and related technologies.

(v) Improving coordination and cooperation among intelligence activities, law enforcement, and the Departments of Defense, State, Commerce, and Energy in support of nonproliferation and counterproliferation efforts.

(vi) Improving export controls over materials and technologies that can contribute to the acquisition of weapons of mass destruction.

(vii) Reducing proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and related materials and technologies.

SEC. 1443. COMPREHENSIVE PREPAREDNESS PROGRAM.

(a) PROGRAM REQUIRED.—The President, acting through the Committee on Nonproliferation established under section 1442, shall develop a comprehensive program for carrying out this title.

(b) CONTENT OF PROGRAM.—The program set forth in the report shall include specific plans as follows:

(1) Plans for countering proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and related materials and technologies.

(2) Plans for training and equipping Federal, State, and local officials for managing a crisis involving a use or threatened use of a weapon of mass destruction, including the consequences of the use of such a weapon.

(3) Plans for providing for regular sharing of information among intelligence, law enforcement, and customs agencies.

(4) Plans for training and equipping law enforcement units, customs services, and border security personnel to counter the smuggling of weapons of mass destruction and related materials and technologies.

(5) Plans for establishing appropriate centers for analyzing seized nuclear, radiological, biological, and chemical weapons, and related materials and technologies.

(6) Plans for establishing in the United States appropriate legal controls and authorities relating to the exporting of nuclear, radiological, biological, and chemical weapons, and related materials and technologies.

(7) Plans for encouraging and assisting governments of foreign countries to implement and enforce laws that set forth appropriate penalties for offenses regarding the smuggling of weapons of mass destruction and related materials and technologies.

(8) Plans for building the confidence of the United States and Russia in each other's controls over United States and Russian nuclear weapons and fissile materials, including plans for verifying the dismantlement of nuclear weapons.

(9) Plans for reducing United States and Russian stockpiles of excess plutonium, reflecting—

(A) consideration of the desirability and feasibility of a United States-Russian agreement governing fissile material disposition and the specific technologies and approaches to be used for disposition of excess plutonium; and

(B) an assessment of the options for United States cooperation with Russia in the disposition of Russian plutonium.

(10) Plans for studying the merits and costs of establishing a global network of means for detecting and responding to terrorist or other criminal use of biological agents against people or other forms of life in the United States or any foreign country.

(c) REPORT.—(1) At the same time that the President submits the budget for fiscal year 1998 to Congress pursuant to section 1105(a) of title 31, United States Code, the President shall submit to Congress a report that sets forth the comprehensive program developed under subsection (a).

(2) The report shall include the following:

(A) The specific plans for the program that are required under subsection (b).

(B) Estimates of the funds necessary, by agency or department, for carrying out such plans in fiscal year 1998 and the following five fiscal years.

(3) The report shall be in an unclassified form. If there is a classified version of the report, the President shall submit the classified version at the same time.

SEC. 1444. TERMINATION.

After September 30, 1999, the President—

(1) is not required to maintain a National Coordinator for Nonproliferation Matters under section 1341; and

(2) may terminate the Committee on Nonproliferation established under section 1342.

Subtitle E—Miscellaneous

SEC. 1451. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING CONTRACTING POLICY.

It is the sense of Congress that the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of Energy, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Secretary of State, to the extent authorized by law, should—

(1) contract directly with suppliers in independent states of the former Soviet Union when such action would—

(A) result in significant savings of the programs referred to in subtitle C; and

(B) substantially expedite completion of the programs referred to in subtitle C; and

(2) seek means to use innovative contracting approaches to avoid delay and increase the effectiveness of such programs and of the exercise of such authorities.

SEC. 1452. TRANSFERS OF ALLOCATIONS AMONG COOPERATIVE THREAT REDUCTION PROGRAMS.

Congress finds that—

(1) the various Cooperative Threat Reduction programs are being carried out at different rates in the various countries covered by such programs; and

(2) it is necessary to authorize transfers of funding allocations among the various programs in order to maximize the effectiveness of United States efforts under such programs.

SEC. 1453. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING ASSISTANCE TO STATES OF FORMER SOVIET UNION.

It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the Cooperative Threat Reduction programs and other United States programs authorized in the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Years 1993 and 1994 should be expanded by offering assistance under those programs to other independent states of the former Soviet Union in addition to Russia, Ukraine, Kazakstan, and Belarus; and

(2) the President should offer assistance to additional independent states of the former Soviet Union in each case in which the participation of such states would benefit national security interests of the United States by improving border controls and safeguards over materials and technology associated with weapons of mass destruction.

SEC. 1454. PURCHASE OF LOW-ENRICHED URANIUM DERIVED FROM RUSSIAN HIGHLY ENRICHED URANIUM.

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the allies of the United States and other nations should participate in efforts to ensure that stockpiles of weapons-grade nuclear material are reduced.

(b) ACTIONS BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE.—Congress urges the Secretary of State to encourage, in consultation with the Secretary of Energy, other countries to purchase low-enriched uranium that is derived from highly enriched uranium extracted from Russian nuclear weapons.

SEC. 1455. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING PURCHASE, PACKAGING, AND TRANSPORTATION OF FISSILE MATERIALS AT RISK OF THEFT.

It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of Energy, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Secretary of State should purchase, package, and transport to secure locations weapons-grade nuclear materials from a stockpile of such materials if such officials determine that—

(A) there is a significant risk of theft of such materials; and

(B) there is no reasonable and economically feasible alternative for securing such materials; and

(2) if it is necessary to do so in order to secure the materials, the materials should be imported into the United States, subject to the laws and regulations that are applicable to the importation of such materials into the United States.

TITLE XV—COOPERATIVE THREAT REDUCTION WITH STATES OF FORMER SOVIET UNION

Sec. 1501. Specification of Cooperative Threat Reduction programs.

Sec. 1502. Fiscal year 1997 funding allocations.

Sec. 1503. Prohibition on use of funds for specified purposes.

Sec. 1504. Limitation on use of funds until specified reports are submitted.

Sec. 1505. Availability of funds.

SEC. 1501. SPECIFICATION OF COOPERATIVE THREAT REDUCTION PROGRAMS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of section 301 and other provisions of this Act, Cooperative Threat Reduction programs are the programs specified in subsection (b).

(b) SPECIFIED PROGRAMS.—The programs referred to in subsection (a) are the following programs with respect to states of the former Soviet Union:

(1) Programs to facilitate the elimination, and the safe and secure transportation and storage, of nuclear, chemical, and other weapons and their delivery vehicles.

(2) Programs to facilitate the safe and secure storage of fissile materials derived from the elimination of nuclear weapons.

(3) Programs to prevent the proliferation of weapons, weapons components, and weapons-related technology and expertise.

(4) Programs to expand military-to-military and defense contacts.

SEC. 1502. FISCAL YEAR 1997 FUNDING ALLOCATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Of the amount appropriated pursuant to the authorization of appropriations in section 301 for Cooperative Threat Reduction programs, not more than the following amounts may be obligated for the purposes specified:

(1) For planning and design of a chemical weapons destruction facility in Russia, $78,500,000.

(2) For elimination of strategic offensive arms in Russia, $52,000,000.

(3) For strategic nuclear arms elimination in Ukraine, $47,000,000.

(4) For planning and design of a storage facility for Russian fissile material, $66,000,000.

(5) For fissile material containers in Russia, $38,500,000.

(6) For weapons storage security in Russia, $15,000,000.

(7) For activities designated as Defense and Military-to-Military Contacts in Russia, Ukraine, Belarus, and Kazakstan, $10,000,000.

(8) For activities designated as Other Assessments/Administrative Support $20,900,000.

(9) For materials protection, control, and accounting assistance or for destruction of nuclear, radiological, biological, or chemical weapons or related materials at any site within the former Soviet Union, $10,000,000.

(10) For transfer to the Secretary of Energy to develop a cooperative program with the Government of Russia to eliminate the production of weapons grade plutonium at Russian reactors, $10,000,000.

(11) For dismantlement of biological and chemical weapons facilities in the former Soviet Union, $15,000,000.

(12) For expanding military-to-military programs of the United States that focus on countering the threat of proliferation of weapons of mass destruction to include the security forces of the independent states of the former Soviet Union, particularly states in the Caucasus region and Central Asia, $2,000,000.

(b) LIMITED AUTHORITY TO VARY INDIVIDUAL AMOUNTS.—(1) If the Secretary of Defense determines that it is necessary to do so in the national interest, the Secretary may, subject to paragraph (2), obligate amounts for the purposes stated in any of the paragraphs of subsection (a) in excess of the amount specified for those purposes in that paragraph, but not in excess of 115 percent of that amount. However, the total amount obligated for the purposes stated in the paragraphs in subsection (a) may not by reason of the use of the authority provided in the preceding sentence exceed the sum of the amounts specified in those paragraphs.

(2) An obligation for the purposes stated in any of the paragraphs in subsection (a) in excess of the amount specified in that paragraph may be made using the authority provided in paragraph (1) only after—

(A) the Secretary submits to Congress a notification of the intent to do so together with a complete discussion of the justification for doing so; and

(B) 15 days have elapsed following the date of the notification.

SEC. 1503. PROHIBITION ON USE OF FUNDS FOR SPECIFIED PURPOSES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—None of the funds appropriated pursuant to the authorization in section 301 for Cooperative Threat Reduction programs, or appropriated for such programs for any prior fiscal year and remaining available for obligation, may be obligated or expended for any of the following purposes:

(1) Conducting with Russia any peacekeeping exercise or other peacekeeping-related activity.

(2) Provision of housing.

(3) Provision of assistance to promote environmental restoration.

(4) Provision of assistance to promote job retraining.

(b) LIMITATION WITH RESPECT TO DEFENSE CONVERSION ASSISTANCE.—None of the funds appropriated to the Department of Defense for fiscal year 1997 may be obligated or expended for defense conversion.

SEC. 1504. LIMITATION ON USE OF FUNDS UNTIL SPECIFIED REPORTS ARE SUBMITTED.

None of the funds appropriated pursuant to the authorization in section 301 for Cooperative Threat Reduction programs may be obligated or expended until 15 days after the date which is the latest of the following:

(1) The date on which the President submits to Congress the determinations required under subsection (c) of section 211 of Public Law 102-228 (22 U.S.C. 2551 note) with respect to any certification transmitted to Congress under subsection (b) of that section before the date of the enactment of this Act.

(2) The date on which the Secretary of Defense submits to Congress the first report under section 1206(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 471).

(3) The date on which the Secretary of Defense submits to Congress the report for fiscal year 1996 required under section 1205(c) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1995 (Public Law 103-337; 108 Stat. 2883).

SEC. 1505. AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS.

Funds appropriated pursuant to the authorization of appropriations in section 301 for Cooperative Threat Reduction programs shall be available for obligation for three fiscal years.

TITLE XVI—DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE CIVILIAN PERSONNEL

Subtitle A—Miscellaneous Matters Relating to Personnel Management, Pay, and Allowances

SEC. 1601. MODIFICATION OF REQUIREMENT FOR CONVERSION OF MILITARY POSITIONS TO CIVILIAN POSITIONS.

(a) ELIMINATION OF REQUIREMENT FOR FISCAL YEAR 1997 CONVERSIONS.—Paragraph (1) of section 1032(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 429; 10 U.S.C. 129a note) is amended—

(1) by striking out "September 30, 1997" and inserting in lieu thereof "September 30, 1996"; and

(2) by striking out "10,000" and inserting in lieu thereof "3,000".

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—Such section is further amended—

(1) by striking out paragraph (2); and

(2) by redesignating paragraph (3) as paragraph (2).

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—(1) The amendments made by this section shall take effect 30 days after the date on which the Secretary of Defense submits to Congress a certification that at least 3,000 military positions have been converted to civilian positions during fiscal year 1996 as required by section 1032(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 429).

(2) The Secretary shall publish in the Federal Register a notice of the submission of any certification to Congress under paragraph (1), including the date on which the certification was submitted to Congress.

SEC. 1602. RETENTION OF CIVILIAN EMPLOYEE POSITIONS AT MILITARY TRAINING BASES TRANSFERRED TO NATIONAL GUARD.

(a) RETENTION OF EMPLOYEE POSITIONS.—In the case of a military training installation described in subsection (b), the Secretary of Defense shall retain civilian employee positions of the Department of Defense at the installation after transfer to the National Guard to facilitate active and reserve component training at the installation. The Secretary shall determine the extent to which positions at the installation are to be retained as positions of the Department of Defense in consultation with the Adjutant General of the National Guard of the State in which the installation is located.

(b) MILITARY TRAINING INSTALLATIONS AFFECTED.—This section applies with respect to each military training installation that—

(1) was approved for closure in 1995 under the Defense Base Closure and Realignment Act of 1990 (part A of title XXIX of Public Law 101-510; 10 U.S.C. 2687 note);

(2) is scheduled for transfer to National Guard operation and control; and

(3) will continue to be used, after such transfer, to provide training support to active and reserve components of the Armed Forces.

(c) MAXIMUM POSITIONS RETAINED.—The number of civilian employee positions retained at an installation under this section may not exceed 20 percent of the Federal civilian workforce employed at the installation as of September 8, 1995.

(d) REMOVAL OF POSITION.—The requirement to maintain a civilian employee position at an installation under this section terminates upon the later of the following:

(1) The date of the departure or retirement from that position by the civilian employee initially employed or retained in the position as a result of this section.

(2) The date on which the Secretary certifies to Congress that the position is no longer required to ensure that effective support is provided at the installation for active and reserve component training.

SEC. 1603. CLARIFICATION OF APPLICABILITY OF CERTAIN MANAGEMENT CONSTRAINTS ON MAJOR RANGE AND TEST FACILITY BASE STRUCTURE.

Section 129 of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) in subsection (c)(1), by inserting "the Major Range and Test Facility Base," after "industrial-type activities"; and

(2) by adding at the end the following:

"(e) Subsections (a), (b), and (c) apply to the Major Range and Test Facility Base (MRTFB) at the installation level. With respect to the MRTFB structure, the term 'funds made available' includes both direct appropriated funds and funds provided by MRTFB customers."

SEC. 1604. TRAVEL EXPENSES AND HEALTH CARE FOR CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE ABROAD.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 81 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§ 1599b. Employees abroad: travel expenses; health care

"(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Defense may provide civilian employees, and members of their families, abroad with benefits that are comparable to certain benefits that are provided by the Secretary of State to members of the Foreign Service and their families abroad as described in subsections (b) and (c). The Secretary may designate the employees and members of families who are eligible to receive the benefits.

"(b) TRAVEL AND RELATED EXPENSES.—The Secretary of Defense may pay travel expenses and related expenses for purposes and in amounts that are comparable to the purposes for which, and the amounts in which, travel and related expenses are paid by the Secretary of State under section 901 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 4081).

"(c) HEALTH CARE PROGRAM.—The Secretary of Defense may establish a health care program that is comparable to the health care program established by the Secretary of State under section 904 of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 4084).

"(d) ASSISTANCE.—The Secretary of Defense may enter into agreements with the heads of other departments and agencies of the Government in order to facilitate the payment of expenses authorized by subsection (b) and to carry out a health care program authorized by subsection (c).

"(e) ABROAD DEFINED.—In this section, the term 'abroad' means outside—

"(1) the United States; and
 "(2) the territories and possessions of the United States."

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"1599b. Employees abroad: travel expenses; health care."

SEC. 1605. TRAVEL, TRANSPORTATION, AND RELOCATION ALLOWANCES FOR CERTAIN FORMER NONAPPROPRIATED FUND EMPLOYEES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—(1) Subchapter II of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§ 5736. Travel, transportation, and relocation expenses of certain nonappropriated fund employees

"An employee of a nonappropriated fund instrumentality of the Department of Defense or the Coast Guard described in section 2105(c) of this title who moves, without a break in service of more than 3 days, to a position in the Department of Defense or the Coast Guard, respectively, may be authorized travel, transportation, and relocation expenses and allowances under the same conditions and to the same extent authorized by this subchapter for transferred employees."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 57 of such title is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 5735 the following new item:

"5736. Travel, transportation, and relocation expenses of certain nonappropriated fund employees."

(b) APPLICABILITY.—Section 5736 of title 5, United States Code (as added by subsection (a)(1)), shall apply to moves between positions as described in such section that are effective on or after October 1, 1996.

SEC. 1606. EMPLOYMENT AND SALARY PRACTICES APPLICABLE TO DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE OVERSEAS TEACHERS.

(a) EXPANSION OF SCOPE OF EDUCATORS COVERED.—Section 2 of the Defense Department Overseas Teachers Pay and Personnel Practices Act (20 U.S.C. 901) is amended—

(1) in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1), by inserting ", or are performed by an individual who carried out certain teaching activities identified in regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense" after "Defense,"; and

(2) by striking out subparagraph (C) of paragraph (2) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(C) who is employed in a teaching position described in paragraph (1)."

(b) TRANSFER OF RESPONSIBILITY FOR EMPLOYMENT AND SALARY PRACTICES.—Section 5 of such Act (20 U.S.C. 903) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a)—
 (A) by striking out "secretary of each military department in the Department of Defense" and inserting in lieu thereof "Secretary of Defense"; and

(B) by striking out "his military department" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Department of Defense";

(2) in subsection (b)—

(A) in the matter preceding paragraph (1), by striking out "secretary of each military department" and inserting in lieu thereof "Secretary of Defense"; and

(B) in paragraph (1), by striking out "his military department," and inserting in lieu thereof "the Department of Defense";

(3) in subsection (c)—
 (A) by striking out "Secretary of each military department" and inserting in lieu thereof "Secretary of Defense"; and

(B) by striking out "his military department" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Department of Defense"; and

(4) in subsection (d), by striking out "Secretary of each military department" and inserting in lieu thereof "Secretary of Defense".

SEC. 1607. EMPLOYMENT AND COMPENSATION OF CIVILIAN FACULTY MEMBERS AT CERTAIN DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE SCHOOLS.

(a) FACULTIES.—Subsection (c) of section 1595 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraphs:

"(4) The English Language Center of the Defense Language Institute.

"(5) The Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies."

(b) CERTAIN ADMINISTRATORS.—Such section is further amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(f) APPLICATION TO DIRECTOR AND DEPUTY DIRECTOR AT ASIA-PACIFIC CENTER FOR SECURITY STUDIES.—In the case of the Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies, this section also applies with respect to the Director and the Deputy Director."

SEC. 1608. REIMBURSEMENT OF DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE DOMESTIC DEPENDENT SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS FOR CERTAIN EXPENSES.

Section 2164(d) of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(7) The Secretary may provide for reimbursement of a school board member for expenses incurred by the member for travel, transportation, lodging, meals, program fees, activity fees, and other appropriate expenses that the Secretary determines are reasonable and necessary for the performance of school board duties by the member."

SEC. 1609. MODIFICATION OF AUTHORITY FOR CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES OF DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE TO PARTICIPATE VOLUNTARILY IN REDUCTIONS IN FORCE.

Subsection (f) of section 3502 of title 5, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(f)(1) The Secretary of Defense or the Secretary of a military department may—

"(A) separate from service any employee who volunteers to be separated under this subparagraph even though the employee is not otherwise subject to separation due to a reduction in force; and

"(B) for each employee voluntarily separated under subparagraph (A), retain an employee in a similar position who would otherwise be separated due to a reduction in force.

"(2) The separation of an employee under paragraph (1)(A) shall be treated as an involuntary separation due to a reduction in force.

"(3) An employee with critical knowledge and skills (as defined by the Secretary concerned) may not participate in a voluntary separation under paragraph (1)(A) if the Secretary concerned determines that such participation would impair the performance of the mission of the Department of Defense or the military department concerned.

"(4) The regulations prescribed under this section shall incorporate the authority provided in this subsection.

"(5) No authority under paragraph (1) may be exercised after September 30, 2001."

SEC. 1610. WAGE-BOARD COMPENSATORY TIME OFF.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 5543 of title 5, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (b) as subsection (c); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (a) the following new subsection (b):

"(b) The head of an agency may, on request of an employee, grant the employee compensatory time off from the employee's scheduled tour of duty instead of payment under section 5544 or section 7 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 for an equal amount of time spent in irregular or occasional overtime work. An agency head may not require an employee to be compensated for overtime work with an equivalent amount of compensatory time-off from the employee's tour of duty."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 5544(c) of title 5, United States Code, is amended by inserting "and the provisions of section 5543(b)" after "the last two sentences of subsection (a)".

SEC. 1611. LIQUIDATION OF RESTORED ANNUAL LEAVE THAT REMAINS UNUSED UPON TRANSFER OF EMPLOYEE FROM INSTALLATION BEING CLOSED OR REALIGNED.

(a) LUMP-SUM PAYMENT REQUIRED.—Section 5551 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

"(c)(1) Annual leave that is restored to an employee of the Department of Defense under section 6304(d) of this title by reason of the operation of paragraph (3) of such section and remains unused upon the transfer of the employee to a position described in paragraph (2) shall be liquidated by payment of a lump-sum for such leave to the employee upon the transfer.

"(2) A position referred to in paragraph (1) is a position in a department or agency of the Federal Government outside the Department of Defense or a Department of Defense position that is not located at a Department of Defense installation being closed or realigned as described in section 6304(d)(3) of this title."

(b) APPLICABILITY.—Subsection (c) of section 5551 of title 5, United States Code (as added by subsection (a)), shall apply with respect to transfers described in such subsection (c) that take effect on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 1612. WAIVER OF REQUIREMENT FOR REPAYMENT OF VOLUNTARY SEPARATION INCENTIVE PAY BY FORMER DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE EMPLOYEES REEMPLOYED BY THE GOVERNMENT WITHOUT PAY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 5597(g) of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(5) If the employment is without compensation, the appointing official may waive the repayment."

(b) APPLICABILITY.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply with respect to employment accepted on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 1613. SIMPLIFICATION OF RULES RELATING TO THE OBSERVANCE OF CERTAIN HOLIDAYS.

Section 6103 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(d)(1) For purposes of this subsection—
 "(A) the term 'compressed schedule' has the meaning given such term by section 6121(5); and

"(B) the term 'adverse agency impact' has the meaning given such term by section 6131(b).

"(2) An agency may prescribe rules under which employees on a compressed schedule may, in the case of a holiday that occurs on a regularly scheduled non-workday for such employees, and notwithstanding any other provision of law or the terms of any collective bargaining agreement, be required to observe such holiday on a workday other than as provided by subsection (b), if the agency head determines that it is necessary to do so in order to prevent an adverse agency impact."

SEC. 1614. REVISION OF CERTAIN TRAVEL MANAGEMENT AUTHORITIES.

(a) REPEAL OF REQUIREMENTS RELATING TO FIRE-SAFE ACCOMMODATIONS.—(1) Section 5707 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by striking out subsection (d).

(2) Subsection (b) of section 5 of the Hotel and Motel Fire Safety Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-391; 104 Stat. 751; 5 U.S.C. 5707 note) is repealed.

(b) REPEAL OF PROHIBITION ON PAYMENT OF LODGING EXPENSES OF DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE EMPLOYEES AND OTHER CIVILIANS WHEN ADEQUATE GOVERNMENT QUARTERS ARE AVAILABLE.—(1) Section 1589 of title 10, United States Code, is repealed.

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 81 of such title is amended by striking out the item relating to such section.

SEC. 1615. FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH VETERANS' PREFERENCE REQUIREMENTS TO BE TREATED AS A PROHIBITED PERSONNEL PRACTICE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—(1) Chapter 81 of title 10, United States Code, as amended by section 1604, is further amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§ 1599c. Veterans' preference requirements: Department of Defense failure to comply treated as a prohibited personnel practice

"(a) PROHIBITED PERSONNEL PRACTICE.—It is a prohibited personnel practice for a person referred to in subsection (b) who has authority described in that subsection—

"(1) knowingly to take, recommend, or approve any personnel action with respect to such authority if the taking of such action violates a veterans' preference; or

"(2) knowingly to fail to take, recommend, or approve any personnel action with respect to such authority, if the failure to take such action violates a veterans' preference.

"(b) PERSONS COVERED.—Subsection (a) applies with respect to—

"(1) an officer or employee of the Department of Defense who has authority to take, direct others to take, recommend, or approve a personnel action with respect to an employee of the Department of Defense; and

"(2) a member of the armed forces who has such authority.

"(c) VETERANS' PREFERENCE DEFINED.—(1) In this section, the term 'veterans' preference' means any of the following provisions of law:

"(A) Sections 2108, 3305(b), 3309, 3310, 3311, 3312, 3313, 3314, 3315, 3316, 3317(b), 3318, 3320, 3351, 3352, 3363, 3501, 3502(b), 3504, and 4303(e) of title 5 and (with respect to a preference eligible referred to in section 7511(a)(1)(B) of such title) subchapter II of chapter 75 and section 7701 of such title.

"(B) Sections 943(c)(2) and 1784(c) of this title.

"(C) Section 1306(b) of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (16 U.S.C. 3198(b)).

"(D) Section 301(c) of the Foreign Service Act of 1980 (22 U.S.C. 3941(c)).

"(E) Section 3(a)(11) of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts Personnel Act of 1990 (28 U.S.C. 602 note).

"(F) Sections 106(f), 7281(e), and 7802(5) of title 38.

"(G) Section 1005(a) of title 39.

"(H) Any other provision of law that the Director of the Office of Personnel Management designates in regulations as being a veterans' preference for the purposes of this section.

"(2) For the purposes of this section, such term includes any regulation prescribed under subsection (b) or (c) of section 1302 of title 5 and any other regulation that implements a provision of law referred to in paragraph (1).

"(d) PERSONNEL ACTION DEFINED.—In this section, the term 'personnel action' has the meaning given that term in section 2302 of title 5."

(2) The table of sections at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding at the end the following new item:

"1599c. Veterans' preference requirements: Department of Defense failure to comply treated as a prohibited personnel practice."

(b) APPLICABILITY OF TITLE 5 PROCEDURES AND SANCTIONS.—Paragraph (1) of section 2302(a) of title 5, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(1) For purposes of this title, 'prohibited personnel practice' means the following:

"(A) Any action described in subsection (b) of this section.

"(B) Any action or failure to act that is designated as a prohibited personnel action under section 1599c(a) of title 10."

(c) REPORTING REQUIREMENT.—Not later than six months after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a written report on—

(1) the implementation of—

(A) section 1599c of title 10, United States Code, as added by subsection (a); and

(B) subparagraph (B) of section 2302(a)(1) of title 5, United States Code, as added by subsection (b); and

(2) the administration of veterans' preference requirements by the Department of Defense generally.

SEC. 1616. PILOT PROGRAMS FOR DEFENSE EMPLOYEES CONVERTED TO CONTRACTOR EMPLOYEES DUE TO PRIVATIZATION AT CLOSED MILITARY INSTALLATIONS.

(a) PILOT PROGRAMS AUTHORIZED.—(1) The Secretary of Defense, after consultation with the Director of the Office of Personnel Management, may establish one or more pilot programs under which Federal retirement benefits are provided in accordance with this section to persons who convert from Federal employment to employment by a Department of Defense contractor in connection with the privatization of the performance of functions at selected military installations being closed under the base closure and realignment process.

(2) The Secretary of Defense shall select the military installations to be covered by a pilot program under this section.

(b) ELIGIBLE CONVERTED EMPLOYEES.—(1) A person is a converted employee eligible for Federal retirement benefits under this section if the person is a former employee of the Department of Defense (other than a temporary employee) who—

(A) while employed by the Department of Defense at a military installation selected to participate in a pilot program, performed a function that was recommended, in a report of the Defense Base Closure and Realignment

Commission submitted to the President under the Defense Base Closure and Realignment Act of 1990 (title XXIX of Public Law 101-510; 10 U.S.C. 2687 note), to be privatized for performance by a defense contractor at the same installation or in the vicinity of the installation;

(B) while so employed, separated from Federal service after being notified that the employee would be separated in a reduction in force resulting from such privatization;

(C) at the time separated from Federal service, was covered under the Civil Service Retirement System, but was not eligible for an immediate annuity under the Civil Service Retirement System;

(D) does not withdraw retirement contributions under section 8342 of title 5, United States Code;

(E) within 60 days following such separation, is employed by the defense contractor selected to privatize the function to perform substantially the same function performed by the person before the separation; and

(F) remains employed by the defense contractor (or a successor defense contractor) or subcontractor of the defense contractor (or successor defense contractor) until attaining early deferred retirement age (unless the employment is sooner involuntarily terminated for reasons other than performance or conduct of the employee).

(2) A person who, under paragraph (1), would otherwise be eligible for an early deferred annuity under this section shall not be eligible for such benefits if the person received separation pay or severance pay due to a separation described in subparagraph (B) of that paragraph unless the person repays the full amount of such pay with interest (computed at a rate determined appropriate by the Director of the Office of Personnel Management) to the Department of Defense before attaining early deferred retirement age.

(c) RETIREMENT BENEFITS OF CONVERTED EMPLOYEES.—In the case of a converted employee covered by a pilot program, payment of a deferred annuity for which the converted employee is eligible under section 8338(a) of title 5, United States Code, shall commence on the first day of the first month that begins after the date on which the converted employee attains early deferred retirement age, notwithstanding the age requirement under that section. If the employment of a converted employee is involuntarily terminated by the defense contractor or subcontractor as described in subsection (b)(1)(F) and the converted employee resumes Federal service before the converted employee attains early deferred retirement age, the converted employee shall once again be covered under the Civil Service Retirement System instead of the pilot program.

(d) COMPUTATION OF AVERAGE PAY.—(1)(A) This paragraph applies to a converted employee who was employed in a position classified under the General Schedule immediately before the employee's covered separation from Federal service.

(B) Subject to subparagraph (C), for purposes of computing the deferred annuity for a converted employee referred to in subparagraph (A), the average pay of the converted employee, computed under section 8331(4) of title 5, United States Code, as of the date of the employee's covered separation from Federal service, shall be adjusted at the same time and by the same percentage that rates of basic pay are increased under section 5303 of such title during the period beginning on that date and ending on the date on which the converted employee attains early deferred retirement age.

(C) The average pay of a converted employee, as adjusted under subparagraph (B), may not exceed the amount to which an annuity of the converted employee could be increased under section 8340 of title 5, United States Code, in accordance with the limitation in subsection (g)(1) of such section (relating to maximum pay, final pay, or average pay).

(2)(A) This paragraph applies to a converted employee who was a prevailing rate employee (as defined under section 5342(2) of title 5, United States Code) immediately before the employee's covered separation from Federal service.

(B) For purposes of computing the deferred annuity for a converted employee referred to in subparagraph (A), the average pay of the converted employee, computed under section 8331(4) of title 5, United States Code, as of the date of the employee's covered separation from Federal service, shall be adjusted at the same time and by the same percentage that pay rates for positions that are in the same area as, and are comparable to, the last position the converted employee held as a prevailing rate employee, are increased under section 5343(a) of such title during the period beginning on that date and ending on the date on which the converted employee attains early deferred retirement age.

(e) PAYMENT OF UNFUNDED LIABILITY.—(1) The military department concerned shall be liable for that portion of any estimated increase in the unfunded liability of the Civil Service Retirement and Disability Fund established under section 8348 of title 5, United States Code, which is attributable to any benefits payable from such Fund to a converted employee, and any survivor of a converted employee, when the increase results from—

(A) an increase in the average pay of the converted employee under subsection (d) upon which such benefits are computed; and

(B) the commencement of an early deferred annuity in accordance with this section before the attainment of 62 years of age by the converted employee.

(2) The estimated increase in the unfunded liability for each department referred to in paragraph (1) shall be determined by the Director of the Office of Personnel Management. In making the determination, the Director shall consider any savings to the Fund as a result of a pilot program established under this section. The Secretary of the military department concerned shall pay the amount so determined to the Director in 10 equal annual installments with interest computed at the rate used in the most recent valuation of the Civil Service Retirement System, with the first payment thereof due at the end of the fiscal year in which an increase in average pay under subsection (d) becomes effective.

(f) CONTRACTOR SERVICE NOT CREDITABLE.—Service performed by a converted employee for a defense contractor after the employee's covered separation from Federal service is not creditable service for purposes of subchapter III of chapter 83 of title 5, United States Code.

(g) RECEIPT OF BENEFITS WHILE EMPLOYED BY A DEFENSE CONTRACTOR.—A converted employee may commence receipt of an early deferred annuity in accordance with this section while continuing to work for a defense contractor.

(h) LUMP-SUM CREDIT PAYMENT.—If a converted employee dies before attaining early deferred retirement age, such employee shall be treated as a former employee who dies not retired for purposes of payment of the lump-sum credit under section 8342(d) of title 5, United States Code.

(1) CONTINUED FEDERAL HEALTH BENEFITS COVERAGE.—Notwithstanding section 8905a(e)(1)(A) of title 5, United States Code, the continued coverage of a converted employee for health benefits under chapter 89 of such title by reason of the application of section 8905a of such title to such employee shall terminate 90 days after the date of the employee's covered separation from Federal employment. For the purposes of the preceding sentence, a person who, except for subsection (b)(2), would be a converted employee shall be considered a converted employee.

(j) REPORT BY GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE.—The Comptroller General shall conduct a study of each pilot program, if any, established under this section and submit a report on the pilot program to Congress not later than two years after the date on which the program is established. The report shall contain the following:

(1) A review and evaluation of the program, including—

(A) an evaluation of the success of the privatization outcomes of the program;

(B) a comparison and evaluation of such privatization outcomes with the privatization outcomes with respect to facilities at other military installations closed or realigned under the base closure laws;

(C) an evaluation of the impact of the program on the Federal workforce and whether the program results in the maintenance of a skilled workforce for defense contractors at an acceptable cost to the military department concerned; and

(D) an assessment of the extent to which the program is a cost-effective means of facilitating privatization of the performance of Federal activities.

(2) Recommendations relating to the expansion of the program to other installations and employees.

(3) Any other recommendation relating to the program.

(k) IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS.—Not later than 30 days after the Secretary of Defense notifies the Director of the Office of Personnel Management of a decision to establish a pilot program under this section, the Director shall prescribe regulations to carry out the provisions of this section with respect to that pilot program. Before prescribing the regulations, the Director shall consult with the Secretary.

(1) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) The term "converted employee" means a person who, pursuant to subsection (b), is eligible for benefits under this section.

(2) The term "covered separation from Federal service" means a separation from Federal service as described under subsection (b)(1)(B).

(3) The term "Civil Service Retirement System" means the retirement system under subchapter III of chapter 83 of title 5, United States Code.

(4) The term "defense contractor" means any entity that—

(A) contracts with the Department of Defense to perform a function previously performed by Department of Defense employees;

(B) performs that function at the same installation at which such function was previously performed by Department of Defense employees or in the vicinity of that installation; and

(C) is the employer of one or more converted employees.

(5) The term "early deferred retirement age" means the first age at which a converted employee would have been eligible for immediate retirement under subsection (a) or (b) of section 8336 of title 5, United States Code, if such converted employee had remained an employee within the meaning of section 8331(1) of such title continuously until attaining such age.

(6) The term "severance pay" means severance pay payable under section 5595 of title 5, United States Code.

(7) The term "separation pay" means separation pay payable under section 5597 of title 5, United States Code.

(m) APPLICATION OF PILOT PROGRAM.—In the event that a pilot program is established for a military installation, the pilot program shall apply to a covered separation from Federal service by an employee of the Department of Defense at the installation occurring on or after August 1, 1996.

Subtitle B—Department of Defense Intelligence Personnel Policy

SEC. 1631. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the "Department of Defense Civilian Intelligence Personnel Policy Act of 1996".

SEC. 1632. MANAGEMENT OF CIVILIAN INTELLIGENCE PERSONNEL.

(a) CONSOLIDATION AND STANDARDIZATION OF CIVILIAN PERSONNEL POLICY.—Chapter 83 of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by redesignating section 1602 as section 1621 and transferring that section so as to appear after section 1605;

(2) by redesignating sections 1606 and 1608 as section 1622 and 1623, respectively; and

(3) by striking out the chapter heading, the table of sections, and sections 1601, 1603, and 1604 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"CHAPTER 83—CIVILIAN DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE EMPLOYEES

"Subchapter	Sec.
"I. Defense-Wide Intelligence Personnel Policy	1601
"II. Defense Intelligence Agency Personnel	1621

"SUBCHAPTER I—DEFENSE-WIDE INTELLIGENCE PERSONNEL POLICY

"Sec.
"1601. Civilian intelligence personnel: general authority to establish excepted positions, appoint personnel, and fix rates of pay.
"1602. Basic pay.
"1603. Additional compensation, incentives, and allowances.
"1605. Benefits for certain employees assigned outside the United States.
"1606. Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service.
"1607. Intelligence Senior Level positions.
"1608. Time-limited appointments.
"1609. Termination of defense intelligence employees.
"1610. Reductions and other adjustments in force.
"1611. Postemployment assistance: certain terminated intelligence employees.
"1612. Merit system principles and civil service protections: applicability.
"1613. Miscellaneous provisions.
"1614. Definitions.

"§ 1601. Civilian intelligence personnel: general authority to establish excepted positions, appoint personnel, and fix rates of pay

"(a) GENERAL AUTHORITY.—The Secretary of Defense may—

"(1) establish, as positions in the excepted service, such defense intelligence positions in the intelligence components of the Department of Defense and the military departments as the Secretary determines necessary to carry out the intelligence functions of those components and departments, including—

“(A) Intelligence Senior Level positions designated under section 1607 of this title; and

“(B) positions in the Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service;

“(2) appoint individuals to those positions (after taking into consideration the availability of preference eligibles for appointment to those positions); and

“(3) fix the compensation of such individuals for service in those positions.

“(b) CONSTRUCTION WITH OTHER LAWS.—The authority of the Secretary of Defense under subsection (a) applies without regard to the provisions of any other law relating to the appointment, number, classification, or compensation of employees.

“§ 1602. Basic pay

“(a) AUTHORITY TO FIX RATES OF BASIC PAY.—The Secretary of Defense (subject to the provisions of this section) shall fix the rates of basic pay for positions established under section 1601 of this title in relation to the rates of basic pay provided in subpart D of part III of title 5 for positions subject to that subpart which have corresponding levels of duties and responsibilities.

“(b) MAXIMUM RATES.—A rate of basic pay fixed under subsection (a) for a position established under section 1601 of this title may not (except as otherwise provided by law) exceed—

“(1) in the case of a Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service position, the maximum rate provided in section 5382 of title 5;

“(2) in the case of an Intelligence Senior Level position, the maximum rate provided in section 5382 of title 5; and

“(3) in the case of any other position, the maximum rate provided in section 5306(e) of title 5.

“(c) PREVAILING RATE SYSTEMS.—The Secretary of Defense may, consistent with section 5341 of title 5, adopt such provisions of that title as provide for prevailing rate systems of basic pay and may apply those provisions to positions for civilian employees in or under which the Department of Defense may employ individuals described by section 5342(a)(2)(A) of that title.

“§ 1603. Additional compensation, incentives, and allowances

“(a) ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION BASED ON TITLE 5 AUTHORITIES.—The Secretary of Defense may provide employees in defense intelligence positions compensation (in addition to basic pay), including benefits, incentives, and allowances, consistent with, and not in excess of the level authorized for, comparable positions authorized by title 5.

“(b) ALLOWANCES BASED ON LIVING COSTS AND ENVIRONMENT.—(1) In addition to basic pay, employees in defense intelligence positions who are citizens or nationals of the United States and are stationed outside the continental United States or in Alaska may be paid an allowance, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense, while they are so stationed.

“(2) An allowance under this subsection shall be based on—

“(A) living costs substantially higher than in the District of Columbia;

“(B) conditions of environment which (i) differ substantially from conditions of environment in the continental United States, and (ii) warrant an allowance as a recruitment incentive; or

“(C) both of the factors specified in subparagraphs (A) and (B).

“(3) An allowance under this subsection may not exceed the allowance authorized to be paid by section 5941(a) of title 5 for employees whose rates of basic pay are fixed by statute.”

(b) MATTERS OTHER THAN PAY AND BENEFITS.—Such chapter is further amended by inserting after section 1605 the following new sections:

“§ 1606. Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service

“(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—The Secretary of Defense may establish a Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service for defense intelligence positions established pursuant to section 1601(a) of this title that are equivalent to Senior Executive Service positions. The number of positions in the Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service may not exceed 492.

“(b) REGULATIONS CONSISTENT WITH TITLE 5 PROVISIONS.—The Secretary of Defense shall prescribe regulations for the Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service which are consistent with the requirements set forth in sections 3131, 3132(a)(2), 3396(c), 3592, 3595(a), 5384, and 6304 of title 5, subsections (a), (b), and (c) of section 7543 of such title (except that any hearing or appeal to which a member of the Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service is entitled shall be held or decided pursuant to those regulations), and subchapter II of chapter 43 of such title. To the extent that the Secretary determines it practicable to apply to members of, or applicants for, the Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service other provisions of title 5 that apply to members of, or applicants for, the Senior Executive Service, the Secretary shall also prescribe regulations to implement those provisions with respect to the Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service.

“(c) AWARD OF RANK TO MEMBERS OF THE DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE SENIOR EXECUTIVE SERVICE.—The President, based on the recommendations of the Secretary of Defense, may award a rank referred to in section 4507 of title 5 to members of the Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service. The award of such rank shall be made in a manner consistent with the provisions of that section.

“§ 1607. Intelligence Senior Level positions

“(a) DESIGNATION OF POSITIONS.—The Secretary of Defense may designate as an Intelligence Senior Level position any defense intelligence position that, as determined by the Secretary—

“(1) is classifiable above grade GS-15 of the General Schedule;

“(2) does not satisfy functional or program management criteria for being designated a Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service position; and

“(3) has no more than minimal supervisory responsibilities.

“(b) REGULATIONS.—Subsection (a) shall be carried out in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense.

“§ 1608. Time-limited appointments

“(a) AUTHORITY FOR TIME-LIMITED APPOINTMENTS.—The Secretary of Defense may by regulation authorize appointing officials to make time-limited appointments to defense intelligence positions specified in the regulations.

“(b) REVIEW OF USE OF AUTHORITY.—The Secretary of Defense shall review each time-limited appointment in a defense intelligence position at the end of the first year of the period of the appointment and determine whether the appointment should be continued for the remainder of the period. The continuation of a time-limited appointment after the first year shall be subject to the approval of the Secretary.

“(c) CONDITION ON PERMANENT APPOINTMENT TO DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE SENIOR EXECUTIVE SERVICE.—An employee serving in a defense intelligence position pursuant to a time-limited appointment is not eligible for a permanent appointment to a Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service position (including a position in which the employee is serving) unless the employee is selected for the permanent appointment on a competitive basis.

“(d) TIME-LIMITED APPOINTMENT DEFINED.—In this section, the term ‘time-limited appointment’ means an appointment (subject to the condition in subsection (b)) for a period not to exceed two years.

“§ 1609. Termination of defense intelligence employees

“(a) TERMINATION AUTHORITY.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of Defense may terminate the employment of any employee in a defense intelligence position if the Secretary—

“(1) considers that action to be in the interests of the United States; and

“(2) determines that the procedures prescribed in other provisions of law that authorize the termination of the employment of such employee cannot be invoked in a manner consistent with the national security.

“(b) FINALITY.—A decision by the Secretary of Defense to terminate the employment of an employee under this section is final and may not be appealed or reviewed outside the Department of Defense.

“(c) NOTIFICATION TO CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES.—Whenever the Secretary of Defense terminates the employment of an employee under the authority of this section, the Secretary shall promptly notify the congressional oversight committees of such termination.

“(d) PRESERVATION OF RIGHT TO SEEK OTHER EMPLOYMENT.—Any termination of employment under this section does not affect the right of the employee involved to seek or accept employment with any other department or agency of the United States if that employee is declared eligible for such employment by the Director of the Office of Personnel Management.

“(e) LIMITATION ON DELEGATION.—The authority of the Secretary of Defense under this section may be delegated only to the Deputy Secretary of Defense, the head of an intelligence component of the Department of Defense (with respect to employees of that component), or the Secretary of a military department (with respect to employees of that department). An action to terminate employment of such an employee by any such official may be appealed to the Secretary of Defense.

“§ 1610. Reductions and other adjustments in force

“(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Defense shall prescribe regulations for the separation of employees in defense intelligence positions, including members of the Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service and employees in Intelligence Senior Level positions, during a reduction in force or other adjustment in force. The regulations shall apply to such a reduction in force or other adjustment in force notwithstanding sections 3501(b) and 3502 of title 5.

“(b) MATTERS TO BE GIVEN EFFECT.—The regulations shall give effect to the following:

"(1) Tenure of employment.
 "(2) Military preference, subject to sections 3501(a)(3) and 3502(b) of title 5.

"(3) The veteran's preference under section 3502(b) of title 5.

"(4) Performance.

"(5) Length of service computed in accordance with the second sentence of section 3502(a) of title 5.

"(c) REGULATIONS RELATING TO DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE SERVICES.—The regulations relating to removal from the Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service in a reduction in force or other adjustment in force shall be consistent with section 3595(a) of title 5.

"(d) RIGHT OF APPEAL.—(1) The regulations shall provide a right of appeal regarding a personnel action under the regulations. The appeal shall be determined within the Department of Defense. An appeal determined at the highest level provided in the regulations shall be final and not subject to review outside the Department of Defense. A personnel action covered by the regulations is not subject to any other provision of law that provides appellate rights or procedures.

"(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1), a preference eligible referred to in section 7511(a)(1)(B) of title 5 may elect to have an appeal of a personnel action taken against the preference eligible under the regulation determined by the Merit Systems Protection Board instead of having the appeal determined within the Department of Defense. Section 7701 of title 5 shall apply to any such appeal to the Merit Systems Protection Board.

"(e) CONSULTATION WITH OPM.—Regulations under this section shall be prescribed in consultation with the Director of the Office of Personnel Management."

(c) TRANSFER OF SECTION 1599.—Subtitle A of title 10, United States Code, is amended by transferring section 1599 to chapter 83 of such title, inserting such section after section 1610 (as added by subsection (b)), redesignating such section as section 1611, and in subsection (f) striking out "means" and all that follows and inserting in lieu thereof "includes the National Reconnaissance Office and any intelligence component of a military department."

(d) ADDITIONAL PROVISIONS.—Such chapter is further amended by inserting after section 1611 (as so transferred and redesignated) the following new sections:

"§ 1612. Merit system principles and civil service protections: applicability

"(a) APPLICABILITY OF MERIT SYSTEM PRINCIPLES.—Section 2301 of title 5 shall apply to the exercise of authority under this subchapter (other than sections 1605 and 1611).

"(b) CIVIL SERVICE PROTECTIONS.—(1) If, in the case of a position established under authority other than section 1601(a)(1) of this title that is reestablished as an excepted service position under that section, the provisions of law referred to in paragraph (2) applied to the person serving in that position immediately before the position is so reestablished and such provisions of law would not otherwise apply to the person while serving in the position as so reestablished, then such provisions of law shall, subject to paragraph (3), continue to apply to the person with respect to service in that position for as long as the person continues to serve in the position without a break in service.

"(2) The provisions of law referred to in paragraph (1) are the following provisions of title 5:

"(A) Section 2302, relating to prohibited personnel practices.

"(B) Chapter 75, relating to adverse actions.

"(3)(A) Notwithstanding any provision of chapter 75 of title 5, an appeal of an adverse action by an individual employee covered by paragraph (1) shall be determined within the Department of Defense if the employee so elects.

"(B) The Secretary of Defense shall prescribe the procedures for initiating and determining appeals of adverse actions pursuant to elections made under subparagraph (A).

"§ 1613. Miscellaneous provisions

"(a) COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENTS.—Nothing in sections 1601 through 1604 and 1606 through 1610 may be construed to impair the continued effectiveness of a collective bargaining agreement with respect to an agency or office that is a successor to an agency or office covered by the agreement before the succession.

"(b) NOTICE TO CONGRESS OF REGULATIONS.—The Secretary of Defense shall notify Congress of any regulations prescribed to carry out this subchapter (other than sections 1605 and 1611). Such notice shall be provided by submitting a copy of the regulations to the congressional oversight committees not less than 60 days before such regulations take effect.

Subtitle A—Relocation Benefits

SEC. 1711. ALLOWANCE FOR SEEKING PERMANENT RESIDENCE QUARTERS.

Section 5724a of title 5, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"§ 5724a. Relocation expenses of employees transferred or reemployed

"(a) An agency shall pay to or on behalf of an employee who transfers in the interest of the Government, a per diem allowance or the actual subsistence expenses, or a combination thereof, of the immediate family of the employee for en route travel of the immediate family between the employee's old and new official stations.

"(b)(1) An agency may pay to or on behalf of an employee who transfers in the interest of the Government between official stations located within the United States—

"(A) the expenses of transportation of the employee and the employee's spouse for travel to seek permanent residence quarters at a new official station; and

"(B) either—

"(1) a per diem allowance or the actual subsistence expenses (or a combination of both); or

"(ii) an amount for subsistence expenses.

"(2) Expenses may be allowed under paragraph (1) only for one round trip in connection with each change of station of the employee."

SEC. 1712. TEMPORARY QUARTERS SUBSISTENCE EXPENSES ALLOWANCE.

Section 5724a of title 5, United States Code, as amended by section 1712, is further amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(c)(1) An agency may pay to or on behalf of an employee who transfers in the interest of the Government—

"(A) actual subsistence expenses of the employee and the employee's immediate family for a period of up to 60 days while the employee or family is occupying temporary quarters when the new official station is located within the United States; or

"(B) an amount for subsistence expenses instead of the actual subsistence expenses authorized in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph.

"(2) The period authorized in paragraph (1) of this subsection for payment of expenses for residence in temporary quarters may be extended up to an additional 60 days if the head of the agency concerned or the designee of such head of the agency determines that there are compelling reasons for the continued occupancy of temporary quarters.

"(3) The regulations implementing paragraph (1)(A) shall prescribe daily rates and amounts for subsistence expenses per individual."

SEC. 1713. MODIFICATION OF RESIDENCE TRANSITION EXPENSES ALLOWANCE.

(a) EXPENSES OF SALE.—Section 5724a of title 5, United States Code, as amended by section 1712, is further amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

"(d)(1) An agency shall pay to or on behalf of an employee who transfers in the interest of the Government, expenses of the sale of the residence (or the settlement of an unexpired lease) of the employee at the old official station and purchase of a residence at the new official station that are required to be paid by the employee, when the old and new official stations are located within the United States.

"(2) An agency shall pay to or on behalf of an employee who transfers in the interest of the Government from a post of duty located outside the United States to an official station within the United States (other than the official station within the United States from which the employee was transferred when assigned to the foreign tour of duty)—

"(A) expenses required to be paid by the employee for the sale of the residence (or the settlement of an unexpired lease) of the employee at the old official station from which the employee was transferred when the employee was assigned to the post of duty located outside the United States; and

"(B) expenses required to be paid by the employee for the purchase of a residence at the new official station within the United States.

"(3) Reimbursement of expenses under paragraph (2) of this subsection shall not be allowed for any sale (or settlement of an unexpired lease) or purchase transaction that occurs prior to official notification that the employee's return to the United States would be to an official station other than the official station from which the employee was transferred when assigned to the post of duty outside the United States.

"(4) Reimbursement for brokerage fees on the sale of the residence and other expenses under this subsection may not exceed those customarily charged in the locality where the residence is located.

"(5) Reimbursement may not be made under this subsection for losses incurred by the employee on the sale of the residence.

"(6) This subsection applies regardless of whether title to the residence or the unexpired lease is—

"(A) in the name of the employee alone;

"(B) in the joint names of the employee and a member of the employee's immediate family; or

"(C) in the name of a member of the employee's immediate family alone.

"(7)(A) In connection with the sale of the residence at the old official station, reimbursement under this subsection shall not exceed 10 percent of the sale price.

"(B) In connection with the purchase of a residence at the new official station, reimbursement under this subsection shall not exceed 5 percent of the purchase price."

(b) RELOCATION SERVICES.—Section 5724c of title 5, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"§ 5724c. Relocation services

"Under regulations prescribed under section 5738 of this title, each agency may enter into contracts to provide relocation services to agencies and employees for the purpose of carrying out this subchapter. An agency may pay a fee for such services. Such services include arranging for the purchase of a transferred employee's residence."

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 5727 of title 5, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsections (c) through (e) as subsections (d) through (f), respectively;

(2) by inserting after subsection (b) the following new subsection:

"(c) Under regulations prescribed under section 5738 of this title, the privately owned motor vehicle or vehicles of an employee, including a new appointee or a student trainee for whom travel and transportation expenses are authorized under section 5723 of this title, may be transported at Government expense to a new official station of the employee when the agency determines that such transport is advantageous and cost-effective to the Government."; and

(3) in subsection (e) (as so redesignated), by inserting "or (c)" after "subsection (b)".

(b) AVAILABILITY OF APPROPRIATIONS.—(1) Section 5722(a) of title 5, United States Code, is amended—

(A) by striking out "and" at the end of paragraph (1);

(B) by striking out the period at the end of paragraph (2) and inserting in lieu thereof "and"; and

(C) by adding at the end the following:

"(3) the expenses of transporting a privately owned motor vehicle as authorized under section 5727(c) of this title."

(2) Section 5723(a) of title 5, United States Code, is amended—

(A) by striking out "and" at the end of paragraph (1);

(B) by inserting "and" after the semicolon at the end of paragraph (2); and

(C) by adding at the end the following:

"(3) the expenses of transporting a privately owned motor vehicle as authorized under section 5727(c) of this title."

SEC. 1716. AUTHORITY TO PAY LIMITED RELOCATION ALLOWANCES TO AN EMPLOYEE WHO IS PERFORMING AN EXTENDED ASSIGNMENT.

Subchapter II of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, as amended by section 1605, is further amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§ 5737. Relocation expenses of an employee who is performing an extended assignment"

"(a) Under regulations prescribed under section 5738 of this title, an agency may pay to or on behalf of an employee assigned from the employee's official station to a duty station for a period of not less than six months and not greater than 30 months, the following expenses in lieu of payment of expenses authorized under subchapter I of this chapter:

"(1) Travel expenses to and from the assignment location in accordance with section 5724 of this title.

"(2) Transportation expenses of the immediate family and household goods and personal effects to and from the assignment location in accordance with section 5724 of this title.

"(3) A per diem allowance for en route travel of the employee's immediate family to and from the assignment location in accordance with section 5724(a) of this title.

"(4) Travel and transportation expenses of the employee and spouse to seek new residence quarters at the assignment location in accordance with section 5724(a)(b) of this title.

"(5) Subsistence expenses of the employee and the employee's immediate family while occupying temporary quarters upon commencement and termination of the assignment in accordance with section 5724(a)(c) of this title.

"(6) An amount, in accordance with section 5724(a)(f), to be used by the employee for miscellaneous expenses of this title.

"(7) The expenses of transporting a privately owned motor vehicle or vehicles to the assignment location in accordance with section 5727 of this title.

"(8) An allowance as authorized under section 5724b of this title for Federal, State, and local income taxes incurred on reimbursement of expenses paid under this section or on services provided in kind under this section.

"(9) Expenses of nontemporary storage of household goods and personal effects as defined in section 5726(a) of this title, subject to the limitation that the weight of the household goods and personal effects stored, together with the weight of property transported under section 5724(a) of this title, may not exceed the total maximum weight which could be transported in accordance with section 5724(a) of this title.

"(10) Expenses of property management services.

"(b) An agency shall not make payment under this section to or on behalf of the employee for expenses incurred after termination of the temporary assignment."

SEC. 1717. AUTHORITY TO PAY A HOME MARKET-ING INCENTIVE.

Subchapter IV of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§ 5756. Home marketing incentive payment"

"(a) Under regulations prescribed under subsection (b), an agency may pay to an employee who transfers in the interest of the Government an amount to encourage the employee to aggressively market the employee's residence at the official station from which transferred when—

"(1) the residence is entered into a relocation services program established under a contract in accordance with section 5724c of this title to arrange for the purchase of the residence;

"(2) the employee finds a buyer who completes the purchase of the residence through the program; and

"(3) the sale of the residence results in a reduced cost to the Government.

"(b)(1) The Administrator of General Services shall prescribe regulations to carry out this section.

"(2) The regulations shall include a limitation on the maximum amount payable with respect to an employee's residence. The Administrator shall establish the limitation in consultation with the Director of the Office of Management and Budget. For fiscal years 1997 and 1998, the maximum amount shall be the amount equal to five percent of the sale price of the residence."

SEC. 1718. REVISION AND REENACTMENT OF ADDITIONAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO RELOCATION EXPENSES.

Section 5724a of title 5, United States Code, as amended by section 1714, is further amended by adding at the end the following new subsections:

"(f)(1) Subject to paragraph (2), an employee who is reimbursed under subsections (a) through (e) of this section or section 5724(a) of this title is entitled to an amount for miscellaneous expenses—

"(A) not to exceed two weeks' basic pay, if such employee has an immediate family; or

"(B) not to exceed one week's basic pay, if such employee does not have an immediate family.

"(2) Amounts paid under paragraph (1) may not exceed amounts determined at the maximum rate payable for a position at GS-13 of the General Schedule.

"(g) A former employee separated by reason of reduction in force or transfer of function who within one year after the separation is reemployed by a nontemporary appointment at a different geographical location from that where the separation occurred, may be allowed and paid the expenses authorized by sections 5724, 5725, 5726(b), and 5727 of this title, and may receive the benefits authorized by subsections (a) through (f) of this section, in the same manner as though the employee had been transferred in the interest of the Government without a break in service to the location of reemployment from the location where separated.

"(h) Payments for subsistence expenses, including amounts in lieu of per diem or actual subsistence expenses or a combination thereof, authorized under this section may not exceed the maximum payment allowed under regulations which implement section 5702 of this title.

"(i) Subsections (a), (b), and (c) shall be implemented under regulations issued under section 5738 of this title.

"(j) For purposes of subsections (c), (d), and (e), the term 'United States' includes the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, the territories and possessions of the United States, and the areas and installations in the Republic of Panama that are made available to the United States pursuant to the Panama Canal Treaty of 1977 and related agreements (as described in section 3(a) of the Panama Canal Act of 1979 (22 U.S.C. 3602(a)))."

Subtitle C—Land Conveyances PART I—ARMY CONVEYANCES

SEC. 2821. TRANSFER OF LANDS, ARLINGTON NATIONAL CEMETERY, ARLINGTON, VIRGINIA.

(a) REQUIREMENT FOR SECRETARY OF INTERIOR TO TRANSFER CERTAIN SECTION 29 LANDS.—(1) Subject to paragraph (2), the Secretary of the Interior shall transfer to the Secretary of the Army administrative jurisdiction over the following lands located in section 29 of the National Park System at Arlington National Cemetery, Virginia:

(A) The lands known as the Arlington National Cemetery Interment Zone.

(B) All lands in the Robert E. Lee Memorial Preservation Zone, other than those lands in the Preservation Zone that the Secretary of the Interior determines must be retained because of the historical significance of such lands or for the maintenance of nearby lands or facilities.

(2)(A) The Secretary of the Interior may not make the transfer referred to in paragraph (1)(B) until 60 days after the date on which the Secretary submits to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives—

(i) a summary of the document entitled "Cultural Landscape and Archaeological Study, Section 29, Arlington House, The Robert E. Lee Memorial";

(ii) a summary of any environmental analysis required with respect to the transfer under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.);

(iii) an accounting of the effect of the transfer that satisfies the requirements of section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act (16 U.S.C. 470f); and

(iv) the proposal of the Secretary and the Secretary of the Army setting forth the lands to be transferred and the general manner in which the Secretary of the Army will develop such lands after transfer.

(B) The Secretary of the Interior shall submit the information required under subparagraph (A) not later than October 31, 1997.

(3) The transfer of lands under paragraph (1) shall be carried out in accordance with the Interagency Agreement Between the Department of the Interior, the National Park Service, and the Department of the Army, dated February 22, 1995.

(4) The exact acreage and legal descriptions of the lands to be transferred under paragraph (1) shall be determined by surveys satisfactory to the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of the Army.

(b) REQUIREMENT FOR ADDITIONAL TRANSFERS.—(1) The Secretary of the Interior shall transfer to the Secretary of the Army administrative jurisdiction over a parcel of land, including any improvements thereon, consisting of approximately 2.43 acres, located in the Memorial Drive entrance area to Arlington National Cemetery.

(2)(A) The Secretary of the Army shall transfer to the Secretary of the Interior administrative jurisdiction over a parcel of land, including any improvements thereon, consisting of approximately 0.17 acres, located at Arlington National Cemetery, and known as the Old Administrative Building site. The site is part of the original reservation of Arlington National Cemetery.

(B) In connection with the transfer under subparagraph (A), the Secretary of the Army shall grant to the Secretary of the Interior a perpetual right of ingress and egress to the parcel transferred under that subparagraph.

(3) The exact acreage and legal descriptions of the lands to be transferred pursuant to this subsection shall be determined by surveys satisfactory to the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of the Army. The costs of such surveys shall be borne by the Secretary of the Army.

SEC. 2822. LAND TRANSFER, FORT SILL, OKLAHOMA.

(a) TRANSFER OF LAND FOR NATIONAL CEMETERY.—The Secretary of the Army may transfer, without reimbursement, to the administrative jurisdiction of the Secretary of Veterans Affairs a parcel of real property, including any improvements thereon, consisting of approximately 400 acres and comprising a portion of Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

(b) USE OF PROPERTY.—The Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall use the real property transferred under subsection (a) as a national cemetery under chapter 24 of title 38, United States Code.

(c) RETURN OF UNUSED PORTION.—If the Secretary of Veterans Affairs determines that any portion of the real property transferred under subsection (a) is not needed for use as a national cemetery, the Secretary shall return such portion to the administrative jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Army.

(d) LEGAL DESCRIPTION.—The exact acreage and legal description of the real property to be transferred under this section shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Secretary of the Army. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs.

SEC. 2823. LAND CONVEYANCE, ARMY RESERVE CENTER, RUSHVILLE, INDIANA.

(a) CONVEYANCE AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of the Army may convey, without consideration, to the City of Rushville, Indiana (in this section referred to as the "City"), all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to a parcel of excess real property, including improvements thereon, that is located in Rushville, Indiana, and contains the Rushville Army Reserve Center.

(b) CONDITION OF CONVEYANCE.—The conveyance authorized under subsection (a) shall be subject to the condition that the City retain the conveyed property for the use and benefit of the Rushville Police Department.

(c) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the real property to be conveyed under subsection (a) shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Secretary. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the City.

(d) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the conveyance under subsection (a) as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

SEC. 2824. LAND CONVEYANCE, ARMY RESERVE CENTER, ANDERSON, SOUTH CAROLINA.

(a) CONVEYANCE AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of the Army may convey, without consideration, to the County of Anderson, South Carolina (in this section referred to as the "County"), all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to a parcel of real property, including improvements thereon, that is located at 805 East Whitner Street in Anderson, South Carolina, and contains an Army Reserve Center.

(b) CONDITION OF CONVEYANCE.—The conveyance authorized under subsection (a) shall be subject to the condition that the County retain the conveyed property for the use and benefit of the Anderson County Department of Education.

(c) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the real property to be conveyed under subsection (a) shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Secretary. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the County.

(d) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the conveyance under subsection (a) as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

SEC. 2825. LAND CONVEYANCE, ARMY RESERVE CENTER, MONTPELIER, VERMONT.

(a) CONVEYANCE AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of the Army may convey, without consideration, to the City of Montpelier, Vermont (in this section referred to as the "City"), all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to a parcel of real property, including improvements thereon, consisting of approximately 4.3 acres and located on Route 2 in Montpelier, Vermont, the site of the Army Reserve Center, Montpelier, Vermont.

(b) CONDITION.—The conveyance authorized under subsection (a) shall be subject to the condition that the City agree to lease to the Civil Air Patrol, at no rental charge to the Civil Air Patrol, the portion of the real property and improvements located on the parcel to be conveyed that the Civil Air Patrol leases from the Secretary as of the date of the enactment of this Act.

(c) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the real property to be conveyed under subsection (a) shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Secretary. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the City.

(d) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the conveyance under this section as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

SEC. 2826. LAND CONVEYANCE, CRAFTS BROTHERS RESERVE TRAINING CENTER, MANCHESTER, NEW HAMPSHIRE.

(a) CONVEYANCE AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of the Army may convey, without consideration, to Saint Anselm College, Manchester, New Hampshire, all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to a parcel of real property, including improvements thereon, consisting of approximately 3.5 acres and located on Rockland Avenue in Manchester, New Hampshire, the site of the Crafts Brothers Reserve Training Center.

(b) REQUIREMENT RELATING TO CONVEYANCE.—The Secretary may not make the conveyance authorized by subsection (a) until the Army Reserve units currently housed at the Crafts Brothers Reserve Training Center are relocated to the Joint Service Reserve Center to be constructed at the Manchester Airport, New Hampshire.

(c) REQUIREMENT FOR FEDERAL SCREENING OF PROPERTY.—The Secretary may not carry out the conveyance of property authorized by subsection (a) unless the Secretary determines that no department or agency of the Federal Government will accept the transfer of the property.

(d) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the real property to be conveyed under subsection (a) shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Secretary.

(e) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the conveyance under this section as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

SEC. 2827. LAND CONVEYANCE, PINE BLUFF ARSENAL, ARKANSAS.

(a) CONVEYANCE AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of the Army may convey, without consideration, to the Economic Development Alliance of Jefferson County, Arkansas (in this section referred to as the "Alliance"), all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to a parcel of real property, together with any improvements thereon, consisting of approximately 1,500 acres and comprising a portion of the Pine Bluff Arsenal, Arkansas.

(b) REQUIREMENTS RELATING TO CONVEYANCE.—The Secretary may not carry out the conveyance of property authorized under subsection (a) until—

(1) the completion by the Secretary of any environmental restoration and remediation that is required with the respect to the property under applicable law;

(2) the Secretary secures all permits required under law applicable regarding the conduct of the proposed chemical demilitarization mission at the arsenal; and

(3) the Secretary of Defense submits to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives a certification that the conveyance will not adversely affect the ability of the Department of Defense to conduct that chemical demilitarization mission.

(c) CONDITIONS OF CONVEYANCE.—The conveyance authorized under subsection (a) shall be subject to the following conditions:

(1) That the Alliance agree not to carry out any activities on the property to be conveyed that interfere with the construction, operation, and decommissioning of the chemical demilitarization facility to be constructed at Pine Bluff Arsenal. If the Alliance fails to comply with its agreement in paragraph (1) the property conveyed under this section, all rights, title, and interest in and to the property shall revert to the United States, and the United States shall have immediate rights of entry thereon.

(2) That the property be used during the 25-year period beginning on the date of the conveyance only as the site of the facility known as the "Bioplex", and for activities related thereto.

(d) COSTS OF CONVEYANCE.—The Alliance shall be responsible for any costs of the Army associated with the conveyance of property under this section, including administrative costs, the costs of an environmental baseline survey with respect to the property, and the cost of any protection services required by the Secretary in order to secure operations of the chemical demilitarization facility from activities on the property after the conveyance.

(e) REVERSIONARY INTERESTS.—If the Secretary determines at any time during the 25-year period referred to in subsection (c)(2) that the property conveyed under this section is not being used in accordance with that subsection, all right, title, and interest in and to the property shall revert to the United States, and the United States shall have immediate right of entry thereon.

(f) SALE OF PROPERTY BY ALLIANCE.—If at any time during the 25-year period referred to in subsection (c)(2) the Alliance sells all or a portion of the property conveyed under this section, the Alliance shall pay the United States an amount equal to the lesser of—

(1) the amount of the sale of the property sold; or

(2) the fair market value of the property sold at the time of the sale, excluding the value of any improvements to the property sold that have been made by the Alliance.

(g) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the property conveyed under this section shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Secretary. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the Alliance.

(h) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with conveyance under this section as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

SEC. 2828. REAFFIRMATION OF LAND CONVEYANCES, FORT SHERIDAN, ILLINOIS.

As soon as practicable after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of the Army shall complete the land conveyances involving Fort Sheridan, Illinois, required or authorized under section 125 of the Military Construction Appropriations Act, 1996 (Public Law 104-32; 109 Stat. 290).

PART II—NAVY CONVEYANCES

SEC. 2831. LAND TRANSFER, POTOMAC ANNEX, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

(a) TRANSFER AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of the Navy may transfer, without consideration other than the reimbursement provided for in subsection (d), to the United States Institute of Peace (in this section referred to as the "Institute") administrative jurisdiction over a parcel of real property, including any improvements thereon, consisting of approximately 3 acres, at the northwest corner of Twenty-third Street and Constitution Avenue, Northwest, District of Columbia, the site of the Potomac Annex.

(b) CONDITION.—The Secretary may not make the transfer specified in subsection (a) unless the Institute agrees to provide the Navy a number of parking spaces at or in the vicinity of the headquarters to be constructed on the parcel transferred equal to the number of parking spaces available to the Navy on the parcel as of the date of the transfer.

(c) REQUIREMENT RELATING TO TRANSFER.—The transfer specified in subsection (a) may not occur until the Institute obtains all permits, approvals, and site plan reviews required by law with respect to the construction on the parcel of a headquarters for operations of the Institute.

(d) COSTS.—The Institute shall reimburse the Secretary for the costs incurred by the Secretary in carrying out the transfer specified in subsection (a).

(e) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the property to be transferred under subsection (a) shall be determined by a survey that is satisfactory to the Secretary. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the Institute.

SEC. 2832. LAND EXCHANGE, ST. HELENA ANNEX, NORFOLK NAVAL SHIPYARD, VIRGINIA.

(a) CONVEYANCE AUTHORIZED.—(1) The Secretary of the Navy may convey to such private person as the Secretary considers appropriate (in this section referred to as the "transferee") all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to a parcel of real property that is located at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard, Virginia, and, as of the date of the enactment of this Act, is a portion of the property leased to the Norfolk Shipbuilding and Drydock Company pursuant to the Department of the Navy lease N00024-84-L-0004, effective October 1, 1984, as extended.

(2) Pending completion of the conveyance authorized by paragraph (1), the Secretary may lease the real property to the transferee upon such terms as the Secretary considers appropriate.

(b) CONSIDERATION.—As consideration for the conveyance under subsection (a), including any interim lease authorized by such subsection, the transferee shall—

(1) convey to the United States all right, title, and interest to a parcel or parcels of real property, together with any improvements thereon, located in the area of Portsmouth, Virginia, which are determined to be acceptable to the Secretary; and

(2) pay to the Secretary an amount equal to the amount, if any, by which the fair market value of the parcel conveyed by the Secretary under subsection (a) exceeds the fair market value of the parcel conveyed to the United States under paragraph (1).

(c) USE OF RENTAL AMOUNTS.—The Secretary may use the amounts received as rent from any lease entered into under the authority of subsection (a)(2) to fund environmental studies of the parcels of real property to be conveyed under this section.

(d) IN-KIND CONSIDERATION.—The Secretary and the transferee may agree that, in lieu of all or any part of the consideration required by subsection (b)(2), the transferee may provide and the Secretary may accept the improvement, maintenance, protection, repair, or restoration of real property under the control of the Secretary in the area of Hampton Roads, Virginia.

(e) DETERMINATION OF FAIR MARKET VALUE AND PROPERTY DESCRIPTION.—The Secretary shall determine the fair market value of the parcels of real property to be conveyed under subsections (a) and (b)(1). The exact acreage and legal description of the parcels shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Secretary. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the transferee.

(f) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the conveyances under this section as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

SEC. 2833. LAND CONVEYANCE, CALVERTON PINE BARRENS, NAVAL WEAPONS INDUSTRIAL RESERVE PLANT, CALVERTON, NEW YORK.

(a) CONVEYANCE AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of the Navy may convey, without consideration, to the Department of Environmental Conservation of the State of New York (in this section referred to as the "Department"), all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to the Calverton Pine Barrens located at the Naval Weapons Industrial Reserve Plant, Calverton, New York.

(b) EFFECT ON OTHER CONVEYANCE AUTHORITY.—The conveyance authorized by this subsection shall not affect the transfer of jurisdiction of a portion of the Calverton Pine Barrens authorized by section 2865 of the Military Construction Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (division B of Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 576).

(c) CONDITION OF CONVEYANCE.—The conveyance under subsection (a) shall be subject to the condition that the Department agree—

(1) to maintain the conveyed property as a nature preserve, as required by section 2854 of the Military Construction Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1993 (division B of Public Law 102-484; 106 Stat. 2626), as amended by section 2823 of the Military Construction Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1995 (division B of Public Law 103-337; 108 Stat. 3058);

(2) to designate the conveyed property as the "Otis G. Pike Preserve"; and

(3) to continue to allow the level of sporting activities on the conveyed property as permitted at the time of the conveyance.

(d) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the real property to be conveyed under subsection (a) shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Secretary. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the Department.

(e) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the conveyance under subsection (a) as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

(f) CALVERTON PINE BARRENS DEFINED.—In this section, the term "Calverton Pine Barrens" has the meaning given that term in section 2854(d)(1) of the Military Construction Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1993 (division B of Public Law 102-484; 106 Stat. 2626).

SEC. 2834. LAND CONVEYANCE, FORMER NAVAL RESERVE FACILITY, LEWES, DELAWARE.

(a) CONVEYANCE AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of the Navy may convey, without consideration, to the State of Delaware (in this section referred to as the "State"), all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to a parcel of real property, including any improvements thereon, consisting of approximately 16.8 acres at the site of the former Naval Reserve Facility, Lewes, Delaware.

(b) CONDITION OF CONVEYANCE.—The conveyance under subsection (a) shall be subject to the condition that the State use the real property conveyed under that subsection in perpetuity solely for public park or recreational purposes.

(c) REVERSION.—If the Secretary of the Navy determines at any time that the real property conveyed pursuant to this section is not being used for a purpose specified in subsection (b), all right, title, and interest in and to such real property, including any improvements thereon, shall revert to the United States, and the United States shall have the right of immediate entry thereon.

(d) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the real property to be conveyed pursuant to this section shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Secretary of the Navy. The cost of such survey shall be borne by the State.

(e) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—

The Secretary of the Navy may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the conveyance under this section as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

SEC. 2835. MODIFICATION OF LAND CONVEYANCE AUTHORITY, NAVAL RESERVE CENTER, SEATTLE, WASHINGTON.

Paragraph (2) of section 127(d) of the Military Construction Appropriations Act, 1995 (Public Law 103-307; 108 Stat. 1666), is amended to read as follows:

"(2) Before commencing construction of a facility to be the replacement facility for the Naval Reserve Center under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall comply with the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) with respect to such facility."

SEC. 2836. RELEASE OF CONDITION ON RECONVEYANCE OF TRANSFERRED LAND, GUAM.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 818(b)(2) of the Military Construction Authorization Act, 1981 (Public Law 96-418; 94 Stat. 1782), relating to a condition on disposal by Guam of lands conveyed to Guam by the United States, shall have no force or effect and is repealed.

(b) EXECUTION OF INSTRUMENTS.—The Secretary of the Navy and the Administrator of General Services shall execute all instruments necessary to implement this section.

SEC. 2837. LEASE TO FACILITATE CONSTRUCTION OF RESERVE CENTER, NAVAL AIR STATION, MERIDIAN, MISSISSIPPI.

(a) LEASE OF PROPERTY FOR CONSTRUCTION OF RESERVE CENTER.—(1) The Secretary of the Navy may lease, without reimbursement, to the State of Mississippi (in this section referred to as the "State"), approximately five acres of real property located at Naval Air Station, Meridian, Mississippi. The State shall use the property to construct a reserve center of approximately 22,000 square feet and ancillary supporting facilities.

(2) The term of the lease under this subsection shall expire on the same date that the lease authorized by subsection (b) expires.

(b) LEASEBACK OF RESERVE CENTER.—(1) The Secretary may lease from the State the property and improvements constructed pursuant to subsection (a) for a five-year period. The term of the lease shall begin on the date on which the improvements are available for occupancy, as determined by the Secretary.

(2) Rental payments under the lease under paragraph (1) may not exceed $200,000 per year, and the total amount of the rental payments for the entire period may not exceed 20 percent of the total cost of constructing the reserve center and ancillary supporting facilities.

(3) Subject to the availability of appropriations for this purpose, the Secretary may use funds appropriated pursuant to an authorization of appropriations for the operation and maintenance of the Naval Reserve to make rental payments required under this subsection.

(c) EFFECT OF TERMINATION OF LEASES.—At the end of the lease term under subsection (b), the State shall convey, without reimbursement, to the United States all right, title, and interest of the State in the reserve center and ancillary supporting facilities subject to the lease.

(d) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the leases under this section as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

PART III—AIR FORCE CONVEYANCES

SEC. 2841. LAND CONVEYANCE, RADAR BOMB SCORING SITE, BELLE FOURCHE, SOUTH DAKOTA.

(a) CONVEYANCE AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of the Air Force may convey, without consideration, to the Belle Fourche School District, Belle Fourche, South Dakota (in this section referred to as the "District"), all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to a parcel of real property, together with any improvements thereon, consisting of approximately 37 acres located in Belle Fourche, South Dakota, which has served as the location of a support complex and housing facilities for Detachment 21 of the 554th Range Squadron, an Air Force Radar Bomb Scoring Site located in Belle Fourche, South Dakota. The conveyance may not include any portion of the radar bomb scoring site located in the State of Wyoming.

(b) CONDITION OF CONVEYANCE.—The conveyance authorized under subsection (a) shall be subject to the condition that the District—

(1) use the property and facilities conveyed under such subsection for education, economic development, and housing purposes; or

(2) enter into an agreement with an appropriate public or private entity to sell or lease the property and facilities to such entity for such purposes.

(c) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the property conveyed under this section shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Secretary. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the District.

(d) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the conveyance under this section as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

SEC. 2842. CONVEYANCE OF PRIMATE RESEARCH COMPLEX AND AIR FORCE-OWNED CHIMPANZEES, HOLLOMAN AIR FORCE BASE, NEW MEXICO.

(a) DISPOSAL AUTHORIZED.—Notwithstanding any provision of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 (40 U.S.C. 471 et seq.), or any regulations prescribed thereunder, the Secretary of the Air Force may dispose of all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to the primate research complex at Holloman Air Force Base, New Mexico. The disposal may include the chimpanzees owned by the Air Force that are housed at or managed from the primate research complex. The disposal shall not include the underlying real property on which the primate research complex is located. The disposal of the primate research complex shall be at no cost to the Air Force.

(b) COMPETITIVE, NEGOTIATED DISPOSAL PROCESS REQUIRED.—The Secretary shall select the persons or entities to which the primate research complex and chimpanzees are to be disposed of under subsection (a) using a competitive, negotiated process.

(c) STANDARDS TO BE USED IN SOLICITATION OF BIDS.—The Secretary shall develop standards for the care and use of the primate research complex, and of the chimpanzees, to be used in soliciting bids for the disposal authorized by subsection (a). The Secretary shall develop such standards in consultation with the Secretary of Agriculture and the Director of the National Institutes of Health.

(d) CONDITIONS OF DISPOSAL.—The disposal authorized by subsection (a) shall be subject to the followings conditions:

(1) That a recipient of any chimpanzees—

(A) utilize such chimpanzees only for scientific research or medical research purposes; or

(B) retire and provide adequate care for such chimpanzees.

(2) That any recipient of chimpanzees, or the primate research complex, take such chimpanzees, or the primate research complex, subject to any existing leases or other encumbrances at the time of the disposal.

(e) DESCRIPTION OF COMPLEX AND CHIMPANZEES.—The exact legal description of the primate research complex and chimpanzees to be disposed of under subsection (a) shall be determined by a survey or other means satisfactory to the Secretary. The cost of any survey or other services performed at the direction of the Secretary under the authority in the preceding sentence shall be borne by the recipient of the property concerned.

(f) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the disposal under subsection (a) as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

PART IV—OTHER CONVEYANCES

SEC. 2851. LAND CONVEYANCE, TATUM SALT DOME TEST SITE, MISSISSIPPI.

(a) CONVEYANCE AUTHORIZED.—The Secretary of Energy may convey, without compensation, to the State of Mississippi (in this section referred to as the "State") the property known as the Tatum Salt Dome Test Site, as generally depicted on the map of the Department of Energy numbered 301913.104.02 and dated June 25, 1993.

(b) CONDITION ON CONVEYANCE.—The conveyance under this section shall be subject to the condition that the State use the conveyed property as a wildlife refuge and working demonstration forest.

(c) DESIGNATION.—The property to be conveyed is hereby designated as the "Jamie Whitten Forest Management Area".

(d) RETAINED RIGHTS.—The conveyance under this section shall be subject to each of the following rights to be retained by the United States:

(1) Retention by the United States of subsurface estates below the property conveyed.

(2) Retention by the United States of rights of access, by easement or otherwise, for such purposes as the Secretary considers appropriate, including access to monitoring wells for sampling.

(3) Retention by the United States of the right to install wells additional to those identified in the remediation plan for the property to the extent such additional wells are considered necessary by the Secretary to monitor potential pathways of contaminant migration. Such wells shall be in such locations as specified by the Secretary.

(e) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the conveyance under this section as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

SEC. 2852. LAND CONVEYANCE, WILLIAM LANGER JEWEL BEARING PLANT, ROLLA, NORTH DAKOTA.

(a) CONVEYANCE AUTHORIZED.—The Administrator of General Services may convey, without consideration, to the Job Development Authority of the City of Rolla, North Dakota (in this section referred to as the "Authority"), all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to a parcel of real property, with improvements thereon and all associated personal property, consisting of approximately 9.77 acres and comprising the William Langer Jewel Bearing Plant in Rolla, North Dakota.

(b) CONDITION OF CONVEYANCE.—The conveyance authorized under subsection (a) shall be subject to the condition that the Authority—

(1) use the real and personal property and improvements conveyed under that subsection for economic development relating to the jewel bearing plant;

(2) enter into an agreement with an appropriate public or private entity or person to lease such property and improvements to that entity or person for such economic development; or

(3) enter into an agreement with an appropriate public or private entity or person to sell such property and improvements to that entity or person for such economic development.

(c) PREFERENCE FOR DOMESTIC DISPOSAL OF JEWEL BEARINGS.—(1) In offering to enter into agreements pursuant to any provision of law for the disposal of jewel bearings from the National Defense Stockpile, the President shall give a right of first refusal on all such offers to the Authority or to the appropriate public or private entity or person with which the Authority enters into an agreement under subsection (b).

(2) For the purposes of this section, the term "National Defense Stockpile" means the stockpile provided for in section 4 of the Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act (50 U.S.C. 98(c)).

(d) AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS FOR MAINTENANCE AND CONVEYANCE OF PLANT.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, funds available under the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1995 (Public Law 103-335), in fiscal year 1995 for the maintenance of the William Langer Jewel Bearing Plant shall be available for the maintenance of the plant pending the conveyance of the plant and for the conveyance of the plant under this section.

(e) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the property conveyed under this section shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Administrator. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the Administrator.

(f) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Administrator may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the conveyance under this section as the Administrator determines appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

SEC. 2853. LAND CONVEYANCE, AIR FORCE PLANT NO. 85, COLUMBUS, OHIO.

(a) CONVEYANCE AUTHORIZED.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of the Air Force may instruct the Administrator of General Services to convey, without consideration, to the Columbus Municipal Airport Authority (in this section referred to as the "Authority") all right, title, and interest of the United States in and to a parcel of real property, together with improvements thereon, at Air Force Plant No. 85, Columbus, Ohio, consisting of approximately 240 acres that—

(1) contains the land and buildings referred to as the "airport parcel" in the correspondence from the General Services Administration to the Authority dated April 30, 1996; and

(2) is located adjacent to the Port Columbus International Airport.

(b) EFFECT OF CHANGE IN ADMINISTRATIVE JURISDICTION.—If, on the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of the Air Force does not have administrative jurisdiction over the property to be conveyed, the conveyance shall be made by the Federal official who has administrative jurisdiction over the parcel as of that date.

(c) REQUIREMENT FOR FEDERAL SCREENING.—The Federal official responsible for making the conveyance authorized in subsection (a) may not convey the property unless the Federal official determines, in consultation with the Administrator of General Services, that no department or agency of the Federal Government will accept the transfer of the property.

(d) CONDITION OF CONVEYANCE.—The conveyance authorized under subsection (a) shall be subject to the condition that the Authority use the conveyed property for public airport purposes.

(e) REVERSION.—If the Federal official making the conveyance under subsection (a) determines that any portion of the conveyed property is not being utilized in accordance with the condition in subsection (d), all right, title, and interest in and to such portion shall revert to the United States, and the United States shall have immediate right of entry thereon.

(f) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the real property to be conveyed under subsection (a) shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Federal official responsible for making the conveyance. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the Authority.

(g) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Federal official responsible for making the conveyance of property under subsection (a) may require such additional terms and conditions in connection with the conveyance as such official considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

SEC. 2854. MODIFICATION OF BOUNDARIES OF WHITE SANDS NATIONAL MONUMENT AND WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE.

(a) TRANSFER OF LANDS BY SECRETARY OF ARMY.—The Secretary of the Army may transfer to the administrative jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Interior the following lands as generally depicted on the map entitled "White Sands National Monument, Boundary Proposal", numbered 142/80,061, and dated January 1994:

(1) Lands consisting of approximately 2,524 acres located within White Sands National Monument, New Mexico.

(2) Lands consisting of approximately 5,758 acres located within White Sands Missile Range, New Mexico, and abutting White Sands National Monument.

(b) TRANSFER OF LANDS BY SECRETARY OF INTERIOR.—The Secretary of the Interior may transfer to the administrative jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Army lands consisting of approximately 4,277 acres located in White Sands National Monument, which lands are generally depicted on the map referred to in subsection (a).

(c) BOUNDARY MODIFICATIONS.—(1) The Secretary of the Army and the Secretary of the Interior shall jointly modify the boundary of White Sands National Monument so as to include within the national monument the lands transferred under subsection (a) and to exclude from the national monument the lands transferred under subsection (b).

(2) The Secretary of the Army and the Secretary of the Interior shall jointly modify the boundary of White Sands Missile Range as to include within the missile range the lands transferred under subsection (b) and exclude from the missile range the lands transferred under subsection (a).

(d) ADMINISTRATION OF TRANSFERRED LANDS.—(1) The Secretary of the Interior shall administer the lands transferred to that Secretary under subsection (a) in accordance with the laws applicable to the White Sands National Monument.

(2) The Secretary of the Army shall administer the lands transferred to that Secretary under subsection (b) as part of White Sands Missile Range.

(3) The Secretary of the Army shall maintain control of the airspace above the lands transferred to that Secretary under subsection (b) and administer that airspace in a manner consistent with the use of such lands as part of White Sands Missile Range.

(e) PUBLIC AVAILABILITY OF MAP OF MONUMENT.—The Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of the Army shall jointly prepare, and the Secretary of the Interior shall keep on file for public inspection in the headquarters of White Sands National Monument, a map showing the boundary of White Sands National Monument as modified by this section.

(f) WAIVER OF LIMITATION UNDER PRIOR LAW.—Notwithstanding section 303(b)(1) of the National Parks and Recreation Act of 1978 (Public Law 95-625; 92 Stat. 3476), land or an interest in land that was deleted from White Sands National Monument by section 301(19) of the Act (92 Stat. 3475) may, at the election of the Secretary of the Interior, be—

(1) exchanged for land owned by the State of New Mexico within the boundaries of any unit of the National Park System in the State of New Mexico;

(2) transferred to the jurisdiction of any other Federal agency without monetary consideration; or

(3) administered as public land.

(a) AUTHORITY.—The Secretary of the Air Force may carry out a demonstration project to assess the feasibility and advisability of permitting private entities to install, operate, and maintain electric power distribution systems at military installations. The Secretary shall carry out the demonstration project through an agreement under subsection (b).

(b) AGREEMENT.—(1) In order to carry out the demonstration project, the Secretary shall enter into an agreement with an electric utility or other company in the Youngstown, Ohio, area, consistent with State law, under which the utility or company installs, operates, and maintains (in a manner satisfactory to the Secretary and the utility or company) an electric power distribution system at Youngstown Air Reserve Station, Ohio.

(2) The Secretary may not enter into an agreement under this subsection until—

(A) the Secretary submits to Congress a report on the agreement to be entered into, including the costs to be incurred by the United States under the agreement; and

(B) a period of 30 days has elapsed from the date of the receipt of the report by the committees.

(c) LICENSES AND EASEMENTS.—In order to facilitate the installation, operation, and maintenance of the electric power distribution system under the agreement under subsection (b), the Secretary may grant the utility or company with which the Secretary enters into the agreement such licenses, easements, and rights-of-way, consistent with State law, as the Secretary and the utility or company jointly determine necessary for such purposes.

(d) OWNERSHIP OF SYSTEM.—The agreement between the Secretary and the utility or company under subsection (b) may provide that the utility or company shall own the electric power distribution system installed under the agreement.

(e) RATE.—The rate charged by the utility or company for providing or distributing electric power at Youngstown Air Reserve Station through the electric power distribution system installed under the agreement under subsection (b) shall be the rate established by the appropriate Federal or State regulatory authority.

(f) REPORTS.—Not later than February 1, 1997, and February 1 of each year following a year in which the Secretary carries out the demonstration project under this section, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report on the project. The report shall include the Secretary's current assessment of the project and the recommendations, if any, of the Secretary of extending the authority with respect to the project to other facilities and installations of the Department of Defense.

(g) FUNDING.—In order to pay the costs of the United States under the agreement under subsection (b), the Secretary may use funds authorized to be appropriated by section 2601(3)(B) of the Military Construction Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (division B of Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 540) for the purpose of rebuilding the electric power distribution system at the Youngstown Air Reserve Station that were appropriated for that purpose by the Military Construction Appropriations Act, 1996 (Public Law 104-32; 109 Stat. 283), and that remain available for obligation for that purpose as of the date of the enactment of this Act.

(h) APPLICATION OF OTHER LAW.—Nothing in this section shall authorize actions which are inconsistent with Federal or State law.

(i) ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may require such additional terms and conditions in the agreement under subsection (b) as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the interests of the United States.

(a) MANAGEMENT GUIDELINES.—
 (1) MANAGEMENT BY SECRETARY OF THE ARMY.—Except as provided in section 2906, during the period of withdrawal, the Secretary of the Army shall manage for military purposes the lands covered by this subtitle and may authorize use of the lands by the other military departments and agencies of the Department of Defense, and the National Guard, as appropriate.

(2) ACCESS RESTRICTIONS.—When military operations, public safety, or national security, as determined by the Secretary of the Army, require the closure of roads and trails on the lands withdrawn by this subtitle commonly in public use, the Secretary of the Army is authorized to take such action, except that such closures shall be limited to the minimum areas and periods required for the purposes specified in this subsection. Appropriate warning notices shall be kept posted during closures.

(3) SUPPRESSION OF FIRES.—The Secretary of the Army shall take necessary precautions to prevent and suppress brush and range fires occurring within and outside the lands as a result of military activities and may seek assistance from the Bureau of Land Management in suppressing such fires. The memorandum of understanding required by this section shall provide for Bureau of Land Management assistance in the suppression of such fires, and for a transfer of funds from the Department of the Army to the Bureau of Land Management as compensation for such assistance.

(b) MANAGEMENT PLAN.—

(1) DEVELOPMENT REQUIRED.—The Secretary of the Army, with the concurrence of the Secretary of the Interior, shall develop a plan for the management of acquired lands and lands withdrawn under sections 2902 and 2903 for the period of withdrawal. The plan shall—

(A) be consistent with applicable law;

(B) include such provisions as may be necessary for proper resource management and protection of the natural, cultural, and other resources and values of such lands; and

(C) identify those withdrawn and acquired lands, if any, which are to be open to mining or mineral and geothermal leasing, including mineral materials disposal.

(2) TIME FOR DEVELOPMENT.—The management plan required by this subsection shall be developed not later than 5 years after the date of the enactment of this subtitle.

(c) IMPLEMENTATION OF MANAGEMENT PLAN.—

(1) MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING REQUIRED.—The Secretary of the Army and the Secretary of the Interior shall enter into a memorandum of understanding to implement the management plan developed under subsection (b).

(2) DURATION.—The duration of any such memorandum of understanding shall be the same as the period of withdrawal specified in section 2908(a).

(3) AMENDMENT.—The memorandum of understanding may be amended by agreement of both Secretaries.

(d) USE OF CERTAIN RESOURCES.—The Secretary of the Army is authorized to utilize sand, gravel, or similar mineral or mineral material resources from the lands withdrawn by this subtitle when the use of such resources is required for construction needs of the Fort Carson Reservation or Pinon Canyon Maneuver Site.

SEC. 2906. MANAGEMENT OF WITHDRAWN AND ACQUIRED MINERAL RESOURCES.

Except as provided in section 2905(d), the Secretary of the Interior shall manage all withdrawn and acquired mineral resources within the boundaries of the Fort Carson Military Reservation and Pinon Canyon Maneuver Site in the same manner as provided in section 12 of the Military Lands Withdrawal Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-606; 100 Stat. 3466) for mining and mineral leasing on certain lands withdrawn by that Act from all forms of appropriation under the public land laws.

SEC. 2907. HUNTING, FISHING, AND TRAPPING.

All hunting, fishing, and trapping on the lands withdrawn and reserved by this subtitle shall be conducted in accordance with section 2671 of title 10, United States Code.

SEC. 2908. TERMINATION OF WITHDRAWAL AND RESERVATION.

(a) TERMINATION DATE.—The withdrawal and reservation made by this subtitle shall terminate 15 years after the date of the enactment of this subtitle.

(b) DETERMINATION OF CONTINUING MILITARY NEED.—

(1) DETERMINATION REQUIRED.—At least three years before the termination under subsection (a) of the withdrawal and reservation established by this subtitle, the Secretary of the Army shall advise the Secretary of the Interior as to whether or not the Department of the Army will have a continuing military need for any of the lands after the termination date.

(2) METHOD OF MAKING DETERMINATION.—If the Secretary of the Army concludes under paragraph (1) that there will be a continuing military need for any of the lands after the termination date established by subsection (a), the Secretary of the Army, in accordance with applicable law, shall—

(A) evaluate the environmental effects of renewal of such withdrawal and reservation;

(B) hold at least one public hearing in Colorado concerning such evaluation; and

(C) file, after completing the requirements of subparagraphs (A) and (B), an application for extension of the withdrawal and reservation of such lands in accordance with the regulations and procedures of the Department of the Interior applicable to the extension of withdrawals for military uses.

(3) NOTIFICATION.—The Secretary of the Interior shall notify the Congress concerning a filing under paragraph (3)(C).

(c) EARLY RELINQUISHMENT OF WITHDRAWAL.—If the Secretary of the Army concludes under subsection (b) that before the termination date established by subsection (a) there will be no military need for all or any part of the lands withdrawn and reserved by this subtitle, or if, during the period of withdrawal, the Secretary of the Army otherwise decides to relinquish any or all of the lands withdrawn and reserved under this subtitle, the Secretary of the Army shall file with the Secretary of the Interior a notice of intention to relinquish such lands.

(d) ACCEPTANCE OF LANDS PROPOSED FOR RELINQUISHMENT.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary of the Interior, upon deciding that it is in the public interest to accept jurisdiction over the lands proposed for relinquishment, may revoke the withdrawal and reservation established by this subtitle as it applies to the lands proposed for relinquishment. Should the decision be made to revoke the withdrawal and reservation, the Secretary of the Interior shall publish in the Federal Register an appropriate order which shall—

(1) terminate the withdrawal and reservation;

(2) constitute official acceptance of full jurisdiction over the lands by the Secretary of the Interior; and

(3) state the date upon which the lands will be opened to the operation of the public land laws, including the mining laws if appropriate.

SEC. 2909. DETERMINATION OF PRESENCE OF CONTAMINATION AND EFFECT OF CONTAMINATION.

(a) DETERMINATION OF PRESENCE OF CONTAMINATION.—

(1) BEFORE RELINQUISHMENT NOTICE.—Before filing a relinquishment notice under section 2908(c), the Secretary of the Army shall prepare a written determination as to whether and to what extent the lands to be relinquished are contaminated with explosive, toxic, or other hazardous materials. A copy of the determination made by the Secretary of the Army shall be supplied with the relinquishment notice. Copies of both the relinquishment notice and the determination under this subsection shall be published in the Federal Register by the Secretary of the Interior.

(2) UPON TERMINATION OF WITHDRAWAL.—At the expiration of the withdrawal period made by this Act, the Secretary of the Interior shall determine whether and to what extent the lands withdrawn by this subtitle are contaminated to an extent which prevents opening such contaminated lands to operation of the public land laws.

(b) PROGRAM OF DECONTAMINATION.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Throughout the duration of the withdrawal and reservation made by this subtitle, the Secretary of the Army, to the extent funds are made available, shall maintain a program of decontamination of the lands withdrawn by this subtitle at least at the level of effort carried out during fiscal year 1992.

(2) DECONTAMINATION OF LANDS TO BE RELINQUISHED.—In the case of lands subject to a relinquishment notice under section 2908(c) that are contaminated, the Secretary of the Army shall decontaminate the land to the extent that funds are appropriated for such purpose if the Secretary of the Interior, in consultation with the Secretary of the Army, determines that—

(A) decontamination of the lands is practicable and economically feasible, taking into consideration the potential future use and value of the land; and

(B) upon decontamination, the land could be opened to the operation of some or all of the public land laws, including the mining laws.

(c) AUTHORITY OF SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR TO REFUSE CONTAMINATED LANDS.—The Secretary of the Interior shall not be required to accept lands proposed for relinquishment if the Secretary of the Army and the Secretary of the Interior conclude that—

(1) decontamination of any or all of the lands proposed for relinquishment is not practicable or economically feasible;

(2) the lands cannot be decontaminated sufficiently to allow them to be opened to the operation of the public land laws; or

(3) insufficient funds are appropriated for the purpose of decontaminating the lands.

(d) EFFECT OF CONTINUED CONTAMINATION.—If the Secretary of the Interior declines under subsection (c) to accept jurisdiction of lands proposed for relinquishment or if the Secretary of the Interior determines under subsection (a)(2) that some of the lands withdrawn by this subtitle are contaminated to an extent that prevents opening the contaminated lands to operation of the public land laws—

(1) the Secretary of the Army shall take appropriate steps to warn the public of the contaminated state of such lands and any risks associated with entry onto such lands;

(2) after the expiration of the withdrawal, the Secretary of the Army shall undertake no activities on such lands except in connection with decontamination of such lands; and

(3) the Secretary of the Army shall report to the Secretary of the Interior and to the Congress concerning the status of such lands and all actions taken under paragraphs (1) and (2).

(e) EFFECT OF SUBSEQUENT DECONTAMINATION.—If the lands described in subsection (d) are subsequently decontaminated, upon certification by the Secretary of the Army that the lands are safe for all nonmilitary uses, the Secretary of the Interior shall reconsider accepting jurisdiction over the lands.

(f) EFFECT ON OTHER LAWS.—Nothing in this subtitle shall affect, or be construed to affect, the obligations of the Secretary of the Army, if any, to decontaminate lands withdrawn by this subtitle pursuant to applicable law, including the Comprehensive Environmental Response Compensation and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 9601 et seq.) and the Solid Waste Disposal Act (42 U.S.C. 6901 et seq.).

SEC. 2910. DELEGATION.

The functions of the Secretary of the Army under this subtitle may be delegated. The functions of the Secretary of the Interior under this subtitle may be delegated, except that the order referred to in section 2908(d) may be approved and signed only by the Secretary of the Interior, the Deputy Secretary of the Interior, or an Assistant Secretary of the Department of the Interior.

SEC. 2911. HOLD HARMLESS.

Any party conducting any mining, mineral, or geothermal leasing activity on lands comprising the Fort Carson Reservation or Pinon Canyon Maneuver Site shall indemnify the United States against any costs, fees, damages, or other liabilities (including costs of litigation) incurred by the United States and arising from or relating to such mining activities, including costs of mineral materials disposal, whether arising under the Comprehensive Environmental Response Compensation and Liability Act of 1980, the Solid Waste Disposal Act, or otherwise.

SEC. 2912. AMENDMENT TO MILITARY LANDS WITHDRAWAL ACT OF 1986.

(a) USE OF CERTAIN RESOURCES.—Section 3(f) of the Military Lands Withdrawal Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-606; 100 Stat. 3461) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(2) Subject to valid existing rights, the Secretary of the military department concerned may utilize sand, gravel, or similar mineral or material resources when the use of such resources is required for construction needs on the respective lands withdrawn by this Act.”

(b) TECHNICAL CORRECTION.—Section 9(b) of the Military Lands Withdrawal Act of 1986 (Public Law 99-606; 100 Stat. 3466) is amended by striking “section 7(f)” and inserting in lieu thereof “section 8(f)”.

SEC. 2913. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

There are hereby authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this subtitle.

Subtitle B—El Centro Naval Air Facility Ranges WithdrawalSEC. 2921. SHORT TITLE AND DEFINITIONS.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This subtitle may be cited as the “El Centro Naval Air Facility Ranges Withdrawal Act”.

(b) DEFINITIONS.—In this subtitle:

(1) The term “El Centro” means the Naval Air Facility, El Centro, California.

(2) The term “cooperative agreement” means the cooperative agreement entered into between the Bureau of Land Management, the Bureau of Reclamation, and the Department of the Navy, dated June 29, 1987, with regard to the defense-related uses of Federal lands to further the mission of El Centro.

(3) The term “relinquishment notice” means a notice of intention by the Secretary of the Navy under section 2928(a) to relinquish, before the termination date specified in section 2925, the withdrawal and reservation of certain lands withdrawn under this subtitle.

SEC. 2922. WITHDRAWAL AND RESERVATION OF LANDS FOR EL CENTRO.

(a) WITHDRAWALS.—Subject to valid existing rights, and except as otherwise provided in this subtitle, the Federal lands utilized in the mission of the Naval Air Facility, El Centro, California, that are described in subsection (c) are hereby withdrawn from all forms of appropriation under the public land laws, including the mining laws, but not the mineral leasing or geothermal leasing laws or the mineral materials sales laws.

(b) RESERVATION.—The lands withdrawn under subsection (a) are reserved for the use by the Secretary of the Navy—

(1) for defense-related purposes in accordance with the cooperative agreement; and

(2) subject to notice to the Secretary of the Interior under section 2924(e), for other defense-related purposes determined by the Secretary of the Navy.

(c) DESCRIPTION OF WITHDRAWN LANDS.—The lands withdrawn and reserved under subsection (a) are—

(1) the Federal lands comprising approximately 46,600 acres in Imperial County, California, as generally depicted in part on a map entitled "Exhibit A, Naval Air Facility, El Centro, California, Land Acquisition Map, Range 2510 (West Mesa)" and dated March 1993 and in part on a map entitled "Exhibit B, Naval Air Facility, El Centro, California, Land Acquisition Map Range 2512 (East Mesa)" and dated March 1993; and

(2) and all other areas within the boundaries of such lands as depicted on such maps that may become subject to the operation of the public land laws.

SEC. 2923. MAPS AND LEGAL DESCRIPTIONS.

(a) PUBLICATION AND FILING REQUIREMENTS.—As soon as practicable after the date of the enactment of this subtitle, the Secretary of the Interior shall—

(1) publish in the Federal Register a notice containing the legal description of the lands withdrawn and reserved under this subtitle; and

(2) file maps and the legal description of the lands withdrawn and reserved under this subtitle with the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources of the Senate and with the Committee on Resources of the House of Representatives.

(b) LEGAL EFFECT.—The maps and legal description prepared under subsection (a) shall have the same force and effect as if they were included in this subtitle, except that the Secretary of the Interior may correct clerical and typographical errors in the maps and legal description.

(c) AVAILABILITY FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION.—Copies of the maps and legal description prepared under subsection (a) shall be available for public inspection in—

(1) the Office of the State Director, California State Office of the Bureau of Land Management, Sacramento, California;

(2) the Office of the District Manager, California Desert District of the Bureau of Land Management, Riverside, California; and

(3) the Office of the Commanding Officer, Marine Corps Air Station, Yuma, Arizona.

(d) REIMBURSEMENT.—The Secretary of the Navy shall reimburse the Secretary of the Interior for the cost of implementing this section.

SEC. 2924. MANAGEMENT OF WITHDRAWN LANDS.

(a) MANAGEMENT CONSISTENT WITH COOPERATIVE AGREEMENT.—The lands and resources shall be managed in accordance with the cooperative agreement, revised as necessary to conform to the provisions of this subtitle. The parties to the cooperative agreement shall review the cooperative agreement for conformance with this subtitle and amend the cooperative agreement, if appropriate, within 120 days after the date of the enactment of this subtitle. The term of the cooperative agreement shall be amended so that its duration is at least equal to the duration of the withdrawal made by section 2925. The cooperative agreement may be reviewed and amended by the managing agencies as necessary.

(b) MANAGEMENT BY SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.—

(1) GENERAL MANAGEMENT AUTHORITY.—During the period of withdrawal, the Secretary of the Interior shall manage the lands withdrawn and reserved under this subtitle pursuant to the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.) and other applicable laws, including this subtitle.

(2) SPECIFIC AUTHORITIES.—To the extent consistent with applicable laws, Executive orders, and the cooperative agreement, the lands withdrawn and reserved under this subtitle may be managed in a manner permitting—

(A) protection of wildlife and wildlife habitat;

(B) control of predatory and other animals;

(C) the prevention and appropriate suppression of brush and range fires resulting from nonmilitary activities; and

(D) geothermal leasing and development and related power production, mineral leasing and development, and mineral material sales.

(3) EFFECT OF WITHDRAWAL.—The Secretary of the Interior shall manage the lands withdrawn and reserved under this subtitle, in coordination with the Secretary of the Navy, such that all nonmilitary use of such lands, including the uses described in paragraph (2), shall be subject to such conditions and restrictions as may be necessary to permit the military use of such lands for the purposes specified in the cooperative agreement or authorized pursuant to this subtitle.

(c) CERTAIN ACTIVITIES SUBJECT TO CONCURRENCE OF NAVY.—The Secretary of the Interior may issue a lease, easement, right-of-way, or other authorization with respect to the nonmilitary use of the withdrawn lands only with the concurrence of the Secretary of the Navy and under the terms of the cooperative agreement.

(d) ACCESS RESTRICTIONS.—If the Secretary of the Navy determines that military operations, public safety, or national security require the closure to public use of any road, trail, or other portion of the lands withdrawn under this subtitle, the Secretary may take such action as the Secretary determines necessary or desirable to effect and maintain such closure. Any such closure shall be limited to the minimum areas and periods which the Secretary of the Navy determines are required to carry out this subsection. Before and during any closure under this subsection, the Secretary of the Navy shall keep appropriate warning notices posted and take appropriate steps to notify the public concerning such closures.

(e) ADDITIONAL MILITARY USES.—Lands withdrawn under this subtitle may be used for defense-related uses other than those specified in the cooperative agreement. The Secretary of the Navy shall promptly notify the Secretary of the Interior in the event that the lands withdrawn under this subtitle will be used for additional defense-related purposes. Such notification shall indicate the additional use or uses involved, the proposed duration of such uses, and the extent to which such additional military uses of the withdrawn lands will require that additional or more stringent conditions or restrictions be imposed on otherwise-permitted nonmilitary uses of all or any portion of the withdrawn lands.

SEC. 2925. DURATION OF WITHDRAWAL AND RESERVATION.

The withdrawal and reservation made under this subtitle shall terminate 25 years after the date of the enactment of this subtitle.

SEC. 2926. CONTINUATION OF ONGOING DECONTAMINATION ACTIVITIES.

Throughout the duration of the withdrawal and reservation made under this subtitle, and subject to the availability of funds, the Secretary of the Navy shall maintain a program of decontamination of the lands withdrawn under this subtitle at least at the level of decontamination activities performed on such lands in fiscal year 1995. Such activities shall be subject to applicable laws, such as the amendments made by the Federal Facility Compliance Act of 1992 (Public Law 102-386; 106 Stat. 1505) and the Defense Environmental Restoration Program established under section 2701 of title 10, United States Code.

SEC. 2927. REQUIREMENTS FOR EXTENSION.

(a) NOTICE OF CONTINUED MILITARY NEED.—Not later than five years before the termination date specified in section 2925, the Secretary of the Navy shall advise the Secretary of the Interior as to whether or not the Navy will have a continuing military need for any or all of the lands withdrawn and reserved under this subtitle after the termination date.

(b) APPLICATION FOR EXTENSION.—If the Secretary of the Navy determines that there will be a continuing military need for any or all of the withdrawn lands after the termination date specified in section 2925, the Secretary of the Navy shall file an application for extension of the withdrawal and reservation of the lands in accordance with the then existing regulations and procedures of the Department of the Interior applicable to extension of withdrawal of lands for military purposes and that are consistent with this subtitle. Such application shall be filed with the Department of the Interior not later than four years before the termination date.

(c) EXTENSION PROCESS.—The withdrawal and reservation established by this subtitle may not be extended except by an Act or Joint Resolution of Congress.

SEC. 2928. EARLY RELINQUISHMENT OF WITHDRAWAL.

(a) FILING OF RELINQUISHMENT NOTICE.—If, during the period of withdrawal and reservation specified in section 2925, the Secretary of the Navy decides to relinquish all or any portion of the lands withdrawn and reserved under this subtitle, the Secretary of the Navy shall file a notice of intention to relinquish with the Secretary of the Interior.

(b) DETERMINATION OF PRESENCE OF CONTAMINATION.—Before transmitting a relinquishment notice under subsection (a), the Secretary of the Navy, in consultation with the Secretary of the Interior, shall prepare a written determination concerning whether and to what extent the lands to be relinquished are contaminated with explosive, toxic, or other hazardous wastes and substances. A copy of such determination shall be transmitted with the relinquishment notice.

(c) DECONTAMINATION AND REMEDIATION.—In the case of contaminated lands which are the subject of a relinquishment notice, the Secretary of the Navy shall decontaminate or remediate the land to the extent that funds are appropriated for such purpose if the Secretary of the Interior, in consultation with the Secretary of the Navy, determines that—

(1) decontamination or remediation of the lands is practicable and economically feasible, taking into consideration the potential future use and value of the land; and

(2) upon decontamination or remediation, the land could be opened to the operation of some or all of the public land laws, including the mining laws.

(d) DECONTAMINATION AND REMEDIATION ACTIVITIES SUBJECT TO OTHER LAWS.—The activities of the Secretary of the Navy under subsection (c) are subject to applicable laws and regulations, including the Defense Environmental Restoration Program established under section 2701 of title 10, United States Code, the Comprehensive Environmental Response Compensation and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 9601 et seq.), and the Solid Waste Disposal Act (42 U.S.C. 6901 et seq.).

(e) AUTHORITY OF SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR TO REFUSE CONTAMINATED LANDS.—The Secretary of the Interior shall not be required to accept lands specified in a relinquishment notice if the Secretary of the Interior, after consultation with the Secretary of the Navy, concludes that—

(1) decontamination or remediation of any land subject to the relinquishment notice is not practicable or economically feasible;

(2) the land cannot be decontaminated or remediated sufficiently to be opened to operation of some or all of the public land laws; or

(3) a sufficient amount of funds are not appropriated for the decontamination of the land.

(f) STATUS OF CONTAMINATED LANDS.—If, because of the condition of the lands, the Secretary of the Interior declines to accept jurisdiction of lands proposed for relinquishment or, if at the expiration of the withdrawal made under this subtitle, the Secretary of the Interior determines that some of the lands withdrawn under this subtitle are contaminated to an extent which prevents opening such contaminated lands to operation of the public land laws—

(1) the Secretary of the Navy shall take appropriate steps to warn the public of the contaminated state of such lands and any risks associated with entry onto such lands;

(2) after the expiration of the withdrawal, the Secretary of the Navy shall retain jurisdiction over the withdrawn lands, but shall undertake no activities on such lands except in connection with the decontamination or remediation of such lands; and

(3) the Secretary of the Navy shall report to the Secretary of the Interior and to the Congress concerning the status of such lands and all actions taken under paragraphs (1) and (2).

(g) SUBSEQUENT DECONTAMINATION OR REMEDIATION.—If lands covered by subsection (f) are subsequently decontaminated or remediated and the Secretary of the Navy certifies that the lands are safe for nonmilitary uses, the Secretary of the Interior shall reconsider accepting jurisdiction over the lands.

(h) REVOCATION AUTHORITY.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, upon deciding that it is in the public interest to accept jurisdiction over lands specified in a relinquishment notice, the Secretary of the Interior may revoke the withdrawal and reservation made under this subtitle as it applies to such lands. If the decision be made to accept the relinquishment and to revoke the withdrawal and reservation, the Secretary of the Interior shall publish in the Federal Register an appropriate order which shall—

(1) terminate the withdrawal and reservation;

(2) constitute official acceptance of full jurisdiction over the lands by the Secretary of the Interior; and

(3) state the date upon which the lands will be opened to the operation of the public land laws, including the mining laws, if appropriate.

SEC. 2929. DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY.

(a) DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY.—The functions of the Secretary of the Navy under this subtitle may be delegated.

(b) DEPARTMENT OF INTERIOR.—The functions of the Secretary of the Interior under this subtitle may be delegated, except that an order described in section 2928(h) may be approved and signed only by the Secretary of the Interior, the Deputy Secretary of the Interior, or an Assistant Secretary of the Department of the Interior.

SEC. 2930. HUNTING, FISHING, AND TRAPPING.

All hunting, fishing, and trapping on the lands withdrawn under this subtitle shall be conducted in accordance with section 2671 of title 10, United States Code.

SEC. 2931. HOLD HARMLESS.

Any party conducting any mining, mineral, or geothermal leasing activity on lands withdrawn and reserved under this subtitle shall indemnify the United States against any costs, fees, damages, or other liabilities (including costs of litigation) incurred by the United States and arising from or relating to such mining activities, including costs of mineral materials disposal, whether arising under the Comprehensive Environmental Response Compensation and Liability Act of 1980, the Solid Waste Disposal Act, or otherwise.

Subtitle A—National Security Programs Authorizations

SEC. 3101. WEAPONS ACTIVITIES.

(a) STOCKPILE STEWARDSHIP.—Subject to subsection (d), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for stockpile stewardship in carrying out weapons activities necessary for national security programs in the amount of $1,661,767,000, to be allocated as follows:

(1) For core stockpile stewardship, $1,235,907,000, to be allocated as follows:
 (A) For operation and maintenance, $1,147,570,000.

(B) For plant projects (including maintenance, restoration, planning, construction, acquisition, modification of facilities, and the continuation of projects authorized in prior years, and land acquisition related thereto), $88,337,000, to be allocated as follows:

Project 96-D-102, stockpile stewardship facilities revitalization, Phase VI, various locations, $19,250,000.

Project 96-D-103, ATLAS, Los Alamos National Laboratory, Los Alamos, New Mexico, $15,100,000.

Project 96-D-104, processing and environmental technology laboratory (PETL), Sandia National Laboratories, Albuquerque, New Mexico, $14,100,000.

Project 96-D-105, contained firing facility addition, Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, Livermore, California, $17,100,000.

Project 95-D-102, Chemical and Metallurgy Research Building upgrades project, Los Alamos National Laboratory, Los Alamos, New Mexico, $15,000,000.

Project 94-D-102, nuclear weapons research, development, and testing facilities revitalization, Phase V, various locations, $7,787,000.

(2) For inertial fusion, $366,460,000, to be allocated as follows:

(A) For operation and maintenance, $234,560,000.

(B) For the following plant project (including maintenance, restoration, planning, construction, acquisition, and modification of facilities, and land acquisition related thereto), $131,900,000 to be allocated as follows:

Project 96-D-111, national ignition facility, location to be determined, $131,900,000.

(3) For technology transfer and education, $59,400,000.

(b) STOCKPILE MANAGEMENT.—Subject to subsection (d), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for stockpile management in carrying out weapons activities necessary for national security programs in the amount of $1,962,831,000, to be allocated as follows:

(1) For operation and maintenance, $1,868,470,000.

(2) For plant projects (including maintenance, restoration, planning, construction, acquisition, modification of facilities, and the continuation of projects authorized in prior years, and land acquisition related thereto), $94,361,000, to be allocated as follows:

Project 97-D-121, consolidated pit packaging system, Pantex Plant, Amarillo, Texas, $870,000.

Project 97-D-122, nuclear materials storage facility renovation, Los Alamos National Laboratory, Los Alamos, New Mexico, $4,000,000.

Project 97-D-123, structural upgrades, Kansas City Plant, Kansas City, Missouri, $1,400,000.

Project 97-D-124, steam plant wastewater treatment facility upgrade, Y-12 Plant, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, $600,000.

Project 96-D-122, sewage treatment quality upgrade (STQU), Pantex Plant, Amarillo, Texas, $100,000.

Project 96-D-123, retrofit heating, ventilation, and air conditioning and chillers for ozone protection, Y-12 Plant, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, $7,000,000.

Project 96-D-125, Washington measurements operations facility, Andrews Air Force Base, Camp Springs, Maryland, $3,825,000.

Project 95-D-122, sanitary sewer upgrade, Y-12 Plant, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, $10,900,000.

Project 94-D-124, hydrogen fluoride supply system, Y-12 Plant, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, $4,900,000.

Project 94-D-125, upgrade life safety, Kansas City Plant, Kansas City, Missouri, $5,200,000.

Project 94-D-127, emergency notification system, Pantex Plant, Amarillo, Texas, $2,200,000.

Project 93-D-122, life safety upgrades, Y-12 Plant, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, $7,200,000.

Project 93-D-123, complex-21, various locations, $14,487,000.

Project 88-D-122, facilities capability assurance program, various locations, $21,940,000.

Project 88-D-123, security enhancement, Pantex Plant, Amarillo, Texas, $9,739,000.

(c) PROGRAM DIRECTION.—Subject to subsection (d), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for program direction in carrying out weapons activities necessary for national security programs in the amount of $313,404,000.

(d) ADJUSTMENT.—The total amount authorized to be appropriated pursuant to this section is the sum of the amounts authorized to be appropriated in subsections (a) through (c) reduced by $20,000,000 for use of prior year balances.

SEC. 3102. ENVIRONMENTAL RESTORATION AND WASTE MANAGEMENT.

(a) ENVIRONMENTAL RESTORATION.—Subject to subsection (j), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for environmental restoration in carrying out environmental restoration and waste management activities necessary for national security programs in the amount of $1,762,194,000, of which $376,648,000 shall be allocated to the uranium enrichment decontamination and decommissioning fund.

(b) WASTE MANAGEMENT.—Subject to subsection (j), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for waste management in carrying out environmental restoration and waste management activities necessary for national security programs in the amount of $1,578,653,000, to be allocated as follows:

(1) For operation and maintenance, $1,490,326,000.

(2) For plant projects (including maintenance, restoration, planning, construction, acquisition, modification of facilities, and the continuation of projects authorized in prior years, and land acquisition related thereto), $88,327,000, to be allocated as follows:

Project 97-D-402, tank farm restoration and safe operations, Richland, Washington, $7,584,000.

Project 96-D-408, waste management upgrades, various locations, $11,246,000.

Project 95-D-402, install permanent electrical service, Waste Isolation Pilot Plant, Carlsbad, New Mexico, $752,000.

Project 95-D-405, industrial landfill V and construction/demolition landfill VII, Y-12 Plant, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, $200,000.

Project 94-D-404, Melton Valley storage tank capacity increase, Oak Ridge National Laboratory, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, $6,345,000.

Project 94-D-407, initial tank retrieval systems, Richland, Washington, $12,600,000.

Project 93-D-182, replacement of cross-site transfer system, Richland, Washington, $8,100,000.

Project 93-D-187, high-level waste removal from filled waste tanks, Savannah River Site, Aiken, South Carolina, $20,000,000.

Project 89-D-174, replacement high-level waste evaporator, Savannah River Site, Aiken, South Carolina, $11,500,000.

Project 86-D-103, decontamination and waste treatment facility, Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, Livermore, California, $10,000,000.

(c) NUCLEAR MATERIALS AND FACILITIES STABILIZATION.—Subject to subsection (j), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for nuclear materials and facilities stabilization in carrying out environmental restoration and waste management activities necessary for national security programs in the amount of $1,291,290,000 to be allocated as follows:

(1) For operation and maintenance, $1,173,718,000.

(2) For plant projects (including maintenance, restoration, planning, construction, acquisition, modification of facilities, and the continuation of projects authorized in prior years, and land acquisition related thereto), $117,572,000, to be allocated as follows:

Project 97-D-450, Actinide packaging and storage facility, Savannah River Site, Aiken, South Carolina, $7,900,000.

Project 97-D-451, B-Plant safety class ventilation upgrades, Richland, Washington, $1,500,000.

Project 97-D-470, environmental monitoring laboratory, Savannah River Site, Aiken, South Carolina, $2,500,000.

Project 97-D-473, health physics site support facility, Savannah River Site, Aiken, South Carolina, $2,000,000.

Project 96-D-406, spent nuclear fuels canister storage and stabilization facility, Richland, Washington, $60,672,000.

Project 96-D-461, electrical distribution upgrade, Idaho National Engineering Laboratory, Idaho, $6,790,000.

Project 96-D-464, electrical and utility systems upgrade, Idaho Chemical Processing Plant, Idaho National Engineering Laboratory, Idaho, $10,440,000.

Project 96-D-471, chlorofluorocarbon heating, ventilation, and air conditioning and chiller retrofit, Savannah River Site, Aiken, South Carolina, $8,541,000.

Project 95-E-600, hazardous materials management and emergency response training center, Richland, Washington, $7,900,000.

Project 95-D-155, upgrade site road infrastructure, Savannah River Site, South Carolina, $4,137,000.

Project 95-D-456, security facilities consolidation, Idaho Chemical Processing Plant, Idaho National Engineering Laboratory, Idaho, $4,645,000.

Project 94-D-401, emergency response facility, Idaho National Engineering Laboratory, Idaho, $547,000.

(d) PROGRAM DIRECTION.—Subject to subsection (j), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for program direction in carrying out environmental restoration and waste management activities necessary for national security programs in the amount of $11,511,000.

(e) TECHNOLOGY DEVELOPMENT.—Subject to subsection (j), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for technology development in carrying out environmental restoration and waste management activities necessary for national security programs in the amount of $303,771,000.

(f) POLICY AND MANAGEMENT.—Subject to subsection (j), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for policy and management in carrying out environmental restoration and waste management activities necessary for national security programs in the amount of $23,155,000.

(g) ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE PROGRAM.—Subject to subsection (j), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for the environmental science program in carrying out environmental restoration and waste management activities necessary for national security programs in the amount of $62,136,000.

(h) ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT PRIVATIZATION.—Subject to subsection (j), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for environmental management privatization in carrying out environmental restoration and waste management activities necessary for national security programs in the amount of $185,000,000.

(i) CLOSURE PROJECTS.—Subject to subsection (j), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for closure projects selected under section 3143 in the amount of $50,000,000.

(j) ADJUSTMENTS.—The total amount authorized to be appropriated pursuant to this section is the sum of the amounts authorized to be appropriated in subsections (a) through (i) reduced by the sum of—

(1) $150,400,000, for use of prior year balances; and

(2) $8,000,000, for Savannah River Pension Refund.

SEC. 3103. DEFENSE FIXED ASSET ACQUISITION/PRIVATIZATION.

Funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for the defense fixed asset acquisition/privatization program in the amount of $182,000,000.

SEC. 3104. OTHER DEFENSE ACTIVITIES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subsection (b), funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for other defense activities in carrying out programs necessary for national security in the amount of $1,590,231,000, to be allocated as follows:

(1) For verification and control technology, $456,348,000, to be allocated as follows:

(A) For nonproliferation and verification research and development, $204,919,000.

(B) For arms control, $216,244,000.

(C) For intelligence, $35,185,000.

(2) For nuclear safeguards and security, $47,208,000.

(3) For security investigations, $22,000,000.

(4) For emergency management, $16,794,000.

(5) For program direction, $88,122,000.

(6) For international nuclear safety, $15,200,000.

(7) For environment, safety, and health, defense, $63,800,000.

(8) For worker and community transition assistance, $67,000,000.

(9) For fissile materials disposition, $93,796,000, to be allocated as follows:

(A) For operation and maintenance, $76,796,000.

(B) For the following plant project (including maintenance, restoration, planning, construction, acquisition, and modification of facilities, and land acquisition related thereto):

Project 97-D-140, consolidated special nuclear materials storage facility, site to be determined, $17,000,000.

(10) For nuclear security/Russian production reactor shutdown, $6,000,000.

(11) For naval reactors development, $681,932,000, to be allocated as follows:

(A) For operation and infrastructure, $649,330,000.

(B) For program direction, $18,902,000.

(C) For plant projects (including maintenance, restoration, planning, construction, acquisition, modification of facilities, and the continuation of projects authorized in prior years, and land acquisition related thereto), $13,700,000, to be allocated as follows:

Project 97-D-201, advanced test reactor secondary coolant refurbishment, Idaho National Engineering Laboratory, Idaho, $400,000.

Project 95-D-200, laboratory systems and hot cell upgrades, various locations, $4,800,000.

Project 95-D-201, advanced test reactor radioactive waste system upgrades, Idaho National Engineering Laboratory, Idaho, $500,000.

Project 90-N-102, expended core facility dry cell project, Naval Reactors Facility, Idaho, $8,000,000.

(b) ADJUSTMENT.—The total amount authorized to be appropriated pursuant to this section is the sum of the amounts authorized to be appropriated in paragraphs (1) through (10) of subsection (a) reduced by $25,500,000 for use of prior year balances.

SEC. 3105. DEFENSE NUCLEAR WASTE DISPOSAL.

Funds are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 for payment to the Nuclear Waste Fund established in section 302(c) of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 (42 U.S.C. 10222(c)) in the amount of $200,000,000.

Subtitle B—Recurring General Provisions

SEC. 3121. REPROGRAMMING.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Until the Secretary of Energy submits to the congressional defense committees the report referred to in subsection (b) and a period of 30 days has elapsed after the date on which such committees receive the report, the Secretary may not use amounts appropriated pursuant to this title for any program—

(1) in amounts that exceed, in a fiscal year—

(A) 110 percent of the amount authorized for that program by this title; or

(B) $1,000,000 more than the amount authorized for that program by this title; or

(2) which has not been presented to, or requested of, Congress.

(b) REPORT.—(1) The report referred to in subsection (a) is a report containing a full and complete statement of the action proposed to be taken and the facts and circumstances relied upon in support of such proposed action.

(2) In the computation of the 30-day period under subsection (a), there shall be excluded any day on which either House of Congress is not in session because of an adjournment of more than 3 days to a day certain.

(c) LIMITATIONS.—(1) In no event may the total amount of funds obligated pursuant to this title exceed the total amount authorized to be appropriated by this title.

(2) Funds appropriated pursuant to this title may not be used for an item for which Congress has specifically denied funds.

SEC. 3122. LIMITS ON GENERAL PLANT PROJECTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Energy may carry out any construction project under the general plant projects authorized by this title if the total estimated cost of the construction project does not exceed $2,000,000.

(b) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—If, at any time during the construction of any general plant project authorized by this title, the estimated cost of the project is revised because of unforeseen cost variations and the revised cost of the project exceeds $2,000,000, the Secretary shall immediately furnish a complete report to the congressional defense committees explaining the reasons for the cost variation.

(c) REPORT ON PERMANENT AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS FOR GENERAL PLANT PROJECTS.—(1) Not later than February 1, 1997, the Secretary of Energy shall submit to the congressional defense committees a report on the desirability of a permanent authorization of appropriations for the defense general plant projects and civilian general plant projects of the Department of Energy.

(2) If the Secretary determines for purposes of the report under paragraph (1) that a permanent authorization of appropriations is desirable, the report shall include—

(A) recommendations for legislation to provide for a permanent authorization of appropriations, including a formula for adjusting for inflation the amount authorized to be appropriated for the projects to be covered by such authorization of appropriations; and

(B) a description of the actions to be undertaken by the Secretary to control costs with respect to such projects, including any actions that may depend on the size, nature, or scope of the project concerned.

SEC. 3123. LIMITS ON CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), construction on a construction project may not be started or additional obligations incurred in connection with the project above the total estimated cost, whenever the current estimated cost of the construction project, which is authorized by section 3101, 3102, or 3103, or which is in support of national security programs of the Department of Energy and was authorized by any previous Act, exceeds by more than 25 percent the higher of—

(A) the amount authorized for the project; or

(B) the amount of the total estimated cost for the project as shown in the most recent budget justification data submitted to Congress.

(2) An action described in paragraph (1) may be taken if—

(A) the Secretary of Energy has submitted to the congressional defense committees a report on the actions and the circumstances making such action necessary; and

(B) a period of 30 days has elapsed after the date on which the report is received by the committees.

(3) In the computation of the 30-day period under paragraph (2), there shall be excluded any day on which either House of Congress is not in session because of an adjournment of more than 3 days to a day certain.

(b) EXCEPTION.—Subsection (a) shall not apply to any construction project which has a current estimated cost of less than $5,000,000.

SEC. 3124. FUND TRANSFER AUTHORITY.

(a) TRANSFER TO OTHER FEDERAL AGENCIES.—The Secretary of Energy may transfer funds authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy pursuant to this title to other Federal agencies for the performance of work for which the funds were authorized. Funds so transferred may be merged with and be available for the same purposes and for the same period as the authorizations of the Federal agency to which the amounts are transferred.

(b) TRANSFER WITHIN DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY; LIMITATIONS.—(1) Subject to paragraph (2), the Secretary of Energy may transfer funds authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy pursuant to this title between any such authorizations. Amounts of authorizations so transferred may be merged with and be available for the same purposes and for the same period as the authorization to which the amounts are transferred.

(2) Not more than five percent of any such authorization may be transferred between authorizations under paragraph (1). No such authorization may be increased or decreased by more than five percent by a transfer under such paragraph.

(3) The authority provided by this section to transfer authorizations—

(A) may only be used to provide funds for items relating to weapons activities necessary for national security programs that have a higher priority than the items from which the funds are transferred; and

(B) may not be used to provide authority for an item that has been denied funds by Congress.

(c) NOTICE TO CONGRESS.—The Secretary of Energy shall promptly notify the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives of any transfer of funds to or from authorizations under this title.

SEC. 3125. AUTHORITY FOR CONCEPTUAL AND CONSTRUCTION DESIGN.

(a) REQUIREMENT FOR CONCEPTUAL DESIGN.—(1) Subject to paragraph (2) and except as provided in paragraph (3), before submitting to Congress a request for funds for a construction project that is in support of a national security program of the Department of Energy, the Secretary of Energy shall complete a conceptual design for that project. The Secretary shall submit to Congress a report on each conceptual design completed under this paragraph.

(2) If the estimated cost of completing a conceptual design for a construction project exceeds $3,000,000, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a request for funds for the conceptual design before submitting a request for funds for the construction project.

(3) The requirement in paragraph (1) does not apply to a request for funds—

(A) for a construction project the total estimated cost of which is less than $2,000,000; or

(B) for emergency planning, design, and construction activities under section 3126.

(b) AUTHORITY FOR CONSTRUCTION DESIGN.—(1) Within the amounts authorized by this title, the Secretary of Energy may carry out construction design (including architectural and engineering services) in connection with any proposed construction project if the total estimated cost for such design does not exceed $600,000.

(2) If the total estimated cost for construction design in connection with any construction project exceeds $600,000, funds for such design must be specifically authorized by law.

SEC. 3126. AUTHORITY FOR EMERGENCY PLANNING, DESIGN, AND CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITIES.

(a) AUTHORITY.—The Secretary of Energy may use any funds available to the Department of Energy pursuant to an authorization in this title, including those funds authorized to be appropriated for advance planning and construction design under sections 3101, 3102, and 3103, to perform planning, design, and construction activities for any Department of Energy national security program construction project that, as determined by the Secretary, must proceed expeditiously in order to protect public health and safety, to meet the needs of national defense, or to protect property.

(b) LIMITATION.—The Secretary may not exercise the authority under subsection (a) in the case of any construction project until the Secretary has submitted to the congressional defense committees a report on the activities that the Secretary intends to carry out under this section and the circumstances making such activities necessary.

(c) SPECIFIC AUTHORITY.—The requirement of section 3125(b)(2) does not apply to emergency planning, design, and construction activities conducted under this section.

SEC. 3127. FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR ALL NATIONAL SECURITY PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY.

Subject to the provisions of appropriations Acts and section 3121, amounts appropriated pursuant to this title for management and support activities and for general plant projects are available for use, when necessary, in connection with all national security programs of the Department of Energy.

SEC. 3128. AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS.

When so specified in an appropriations Act, amounts appropriated for operation and maintenance or for plant projects may remain available until expended.

Subtitle C—Program Authorizations, Restrictions, and Limitations

SEC. 3131. STOCKPILE STEWARDSHIP PROGRAM.

(a) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this section is to provide for the enhanced implementation of the Department of Energy stockpile stewardship and management program, in order to provide greater confidence in the safety and continuing reliability of the nuclear weapons stockpile.

(b) FUNDING.—Of the funds authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy pursuant to section 3101, $85,000,000 shall be available to enhance the Department's stockpile stewardship and management program for activities determined appropriate by the Secretary of Energy, including the following:

(1) Enhanced surveillance of the nuclear weapons stockpile.

(2) Dual reevaluation of the warheads in the nuclear weapons stockpile.

(3) Stockpile life extension programs.

(4) Production capability assurance programs for critical non-nuclear components.

(5) Accelerating capability to produce prototype war reserve-quality plutonium pits.

(6) Conducting subcritical tests.

(c) REPORT.—Not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Energy shall submit to the congressional defense committees a report on the obligations the Secretary has incurred, and plans to incur, during fiscal year 1997 for the funds made available by subsection (b).

SEC. 3132. MANUFACTURING INFRASTRUCTURE FOR NUCLEAR WEAPONS STOCKPILE.

(a) GENERAL PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS.—Subsection (a) of section 3137 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 620; 42 U.S.C. 2121 note) is amended—

(1) by inserting "(1)" before "The Secretary of Energy";

(2) by redesignating paragraphs (1) through (5) as subparagraphs (A) through (E), respectively; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

"(2) The purpose of the program carried out under paragraph (1) shall also be to develop manufacturing capabilities and capacities necessary to meet the requirements specified in the annual Nuclear Weapons Stockpile Review."

(b) REQUIRED CAPABILITIES.—Subsection (b)(3) of such section is amended to read as follows:

"(3) The capabilities of the Savannah River Site relating to tritium recycling and fissile materials components processing and fabrication."

(c) PLAN AND REPORT.—Not later than March 1, 1997, the Secretary of Energy shall submit to Congress a report containing a plan for carrying out the program established under section 3137(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996, as amended by this section. The report shall set forth the obligations that the Secretary has incurred, and proposes to incur, during fiscal year 1997 in carrying out the program.

(d) FUNDING.—Of the funds authorized to be appropriated pursuant to section 3101, $90,000,000 shall be available for carrying out the program established under section 3137(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996, as so amended.

SEC. 3133. TRITIUM PRODUCTION.

(a) ACCELERATION OF TRITIUM PRODUCTION.—(1) The Secretary of Energy shall, during fiscal year 1997, make a final decision on the technologies to be utilized, and the accelerated schedule to be adopted, for tritium production in order to meet the requirements of the Nuclear Weapons Stockpile Memorandum relating to tritium production, including the new tritium production date of 2005 specified in the Nuclear Weapons Stockpile Memorandum.

(2) In making the final decision, the Secretary shall take into account the following:

(A) The requirements for tritium production specified in the Nuclear Weapons Stockpile Memorandum, including, in particular, the requirements for the "upload hedge" component of the nuclear weapons stockpile.

(B) The ongoing activities of the Department of Energy relating to the evaluation and demonstration of technologies under the accelerator reactor program and the commercial light water reactor program.

(b) REPORT.—(1) Not later than April 15, 1997, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report that sets forth the final decision of the Secretary under subsection (a)(1). The report shall set forth in detail—

(A) the technologies decided on under that subsection; and

(B) the accelerated schedule for the production of tritium decided on under that subsection.

(2) If the Secretary determines that it is not possible to make the final decision by the date specified in paragraph (1), the Secretary shall submit to Congress on that date a report that explains in detail why the final decision cannot be made by that date.

(c) NEW TRITIUM PRODUCTION FACILITY.—The Secretary shall commence planning and design activities and infrastructure development for a new tritium production facility.

(d) IN-REACTOR TESTS.—The Secretary may perform in-reactor tests of tritium target rods as part of the activities carried out under the commercial light water reactor program.

(e) FUNDING.—Of the funds authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy pursuant to section 3101(b)(1), $160,000,000 shall be available for activities related to tritium production.

SEC. 3134. MODERNIZATION AND CONSOLIDATION OF TRITIUM RECYCLING FACILITIES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Energy shall carry out activities at the Savannah River Site, South Carolina, to—

(1) modernize and consolidate the facilities for recycling tritium for weapons; and

(2) provide a modern tritium extraction facility so as to ensure that such facilities have a capacity to recycle tritium from weapons that is adequate to meet the requirements for tritium for weapons specified in the Nuclear Weapons Stockpile Memorandum.

(b) FUNDING.—Of the funds authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy pursuant to section 3101, not more than $9,000,000 shall be available for activities under subsection (a).

SEC. 3135. PRODUCTION OF HIGH EXPLOSIVES.

No funds appropriated or otherwise made available to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 or any prior fiscal year may be used to move, or prepare to move, the manufacture and fabrication of high explosives and energetic materials for use as components in nuclear weapons systems from the Pantex Plant, Amarillo, Texas, to any other site or facility.

SEC. 3136. LIMITATION ON USE OF FUNDS FOR CERTAIN RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT PURPOSES.

(a) LIMITATION.—No funds authorized to be appropriated or otherwise made available to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 under section 3101 may be obligated or expended for activities under the Department of Energy Laboratory Directed Research and Development Program, or under any Department of Energy technology transfer program or cooperative research and development agreement, unless such activities support the national security mission of the Department of Energy.

(b) ANNUAL REPORT.—(1) The Secretary of Energy shall annually submit to the congressional defense committees a report on the funds expended during the preceding fiscal year on activities under the Department of Energy Laboratory Directed Research and Development Program. The purpose of the report is to permit an assessment of the extent to which such activities support the national security mission of the Department of Energy.

(2) Each report shall be prepared by the officials responsible for Federal oversight of the funds expended on activities under the program.

(3) Each report shall set forth the criteria utilized by the officials preparing the report in determining whether or not the activities reviewed by such officials support the national security mission of the Department.

SEC. 3137. PROHIBITION ON FUNDING NUCLEAR WEAPONS ACTIVITIES WITH PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA.

(a) FUNDING PROHIBITION.—No funds authorized to be appropriated or otherwise available to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 may be obligated or expended for any activity associated with the conduct of cooperative programs relating to nuclear weapons or nuclear weapons technology, including stockpile stewardship, safety, and use control, with the People's Republic of China.

(b) REPORT.—(1) The Secretary of Energy shall prepare, in consultation with the Secretary of Defense, a report containing a description of all discussions and activities between the United States and the People's Republic of China regarding nuclear weapons matters that have occurred before the date of the enactment of this Act and that are planned to occur after such date. For each such discussion or activity, the report shall include—

(A) the authority under which the discussion or activity took or will take place;

(B) the subject of the discussion or activity;

(C) participants or likely participants;

(D) the source and amount of funds used or to be used to pay for the discussion or activity; and

(E) a description of the actions taken or to be taken to ensure that no classified information or unclassified controlled information was or will be revealed, and a determination of whether classified information or unclassified controlled information was revealed in previous discussions.

(2) The report shall be submitted to the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives not later than January 15, 1997.

SEC. 3138. INTERNATIONAL COOPERATIVE STOCKPILE STEWARDSHIP PROGRAMS.

(a) FUNDING PROHIBITION.—No funds authorized to be appropriated or otherwise available to the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1997 may be obligated or expended to conduct any activities associated with international cooperative stockpile stewardship.

(b) EXCEPTION.—Subsection (a) does not apply—

(1) with respect to such activities conducted between the United States and the United Kingdom and between the United States and France; and

(2) to activities carried out under title XV of this Act (relating to cooperative threat reduction with states of the former Soviet Union).

SEC. 3139. TEMPORARY AUTHORITY RELATING TO TRANSFERS OF DEFENSE ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT FUNDS.

(a) TRANSFER AUTHORITY FOR DEFENSE ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT FUNDS.—The Secretary of Energy shall provide the manager of each field office of the Department of Energy with the authority to transfer defense environmental management funds from a program or project under the jurisdiction of the office to another such program or project. Any such transfer may be made only once in a fiscal year to or from a program or project, and the amount transferred to or from a program or project may not exceed $5,000,000 in a fiscal year.

(b) DETERMINATION.—A transfer may not be carried out by a manager of a field office pursuant to the authority provided under subsection (a) unless the manager determines that such transfer is necessary to address a risk to health, safety, or the environment or to assure the most efficient use of defense environmental management funds at that field office.

(c) EXEMPTION FROM REPROGRAMMING REQUIREMENTS.—The requirements of section 3121 shall not apply to transfers of funds pursuant to subsection (a).

(d) NOTIFICATION.—The Secretary of Energy, acting through the Assistant Secretary of Energy for Environmental Management, shall notify Congress of any transfer of funds pursuant to subsection (a) not later than 30 days after such a transfer occurs.

(e) LIMITATION.—Funds transferred pursuant to subsection (a) may not be used for an item for which Congress has specifically denied funds or for a new program or project that has not been authorized by Congress.

(f) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) The term "program or project" means, with respect to a field office of the Department of Energy, any of the following:

(A) A project listed in subsection (b) or (c) of section 3102 being carried out by the office.

(B) A program referred to in subsection (a), (b), (c), (e), (g), or (h) of section 3102 being carried out by the office.

(C) A project or program not described in subparagraph (A) or (B) that is for environmental restoration or waste management activities necessary for national security programs of the Department of Energy, that is being carried out by the office, and for which defense environmental management funds have been authorized and appropriated before the date of the enactment of this Act.

(2) The term "defense environmental management funds" means funds appropriated to the Department of Energy pursuant to an authorization for carrying out environmental restoration and waste management activities necessary for national security programs.

(g) DURATION OF AUTHORITY.—The authority provided under subsection (a) to a manager of a field office shall be in effect from the date of the enactment of this Act to September 30, 1997.

(h) REPORT.—Not later than September 1, 1997, the Secretary of Energy shall submit to the congressional defense committees a report on the effectiveness of the authority provided under subsection (a) in meeting an objective specified in subsection (b). The report shall include recommendations on whether the duration of the authority, as provided in subsection (g), should be extended.

SEC. 3140. MANAGEMENT STRUCTURE FOR NUCLEAR WEAPONS PRODUCTION FACILITIES AND NUCLEAR WEAPONS LABORATORIES.

(a) LIMITATION ON DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY.—(1) The Secretary of Energy, in carrying out national security programs, may delegate specific management and planning authority over matters relating to site operation of the facilities and laboratories covered by this section only to the Assistant Secretary of Energy for Defense Programs. Such Assistant Secretary may redelegate such authority only to managers of area offices of the Department of Energy located at such facilities and laboratories.

(2) Nothing in this section may be construed as affecting the delegation by the Secretary of Energy of authority relating to reporting, management, and oversight of matters relating to the Department of Energy generally, or safety, environment, and health at such facilities and laboratories.

(b) REQUIREMENT TO CONSULT WITH AREA OFFICES.—The Assistant Secretary of Energy for Defense Programs, in exercising any delegated authority to oversee management of matters relating to site operation of a facility or laboratory, shall exercise such authority only after direct consultation with the manager of the area office of the Department of Energy located at the facility or laboratory.

(c) REQUIREMENT FOR DIRECT COMMUNICATION FROM AREA OFFICES.—The Secretary of Energy, acting through the Assistant Secretary of Energy for Defense Programs, shall require the head of each area office of the Department of Energy located at each facility and laboratory covered by this section to report on matters relating to site operation other than those matters set forth in subsection (a)(2) directly to the Assistant Secretary of Energy for Defense Programs, without obtaining the approval or concurrence of any other official within the Department of Energy.

(d) DEFENSE PROGRAMS REORGANIZATION PLAN AND REPORT.—(1) The Secretary of Energy shall develop a plan to reorganize the field activities and management of the national security functions of the Department of Energy.

(2) Not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report on the plan developed under paragraph (1). The report shall specifically identify all significant functions performed by the operations offices relating to any of the facilities and laboratories covered by this section and which of those functions could be performed—

(A) by the area offices of the Department of Energy located at the facilities and laboratories covered by this section; or

(B) by the Assistant Secretary of Energy for Defense Programs.

(3) The report also shall address and make recommendations with respect to other internal streamlining and reorganization initiatives that the Department could pursue with respect to military or national security programs.

(e) DEFENSE PROGRAMS MANAGEMENT COUNCIL.—The Secretary of Energy shall establish a council to be known as the "Defense Programs Management Council". The Council shall advise the Secretary on policy matters, operational concerns, strategic planning, and development of priorities relating to the national security functions of the Department of Energy. The Council shall be composed of the directors of the facilities and laboratories covered by this section and shall report directly to the Assistant Secretary of Energy for Defense Programs.

(f) COVERED SITE OPERATIONS.—For purposes of this section, matters relating to site operation of a facility or laboratory include matters relating to personnel, budget, and procurement in national security programs.

(g) COVERED FACILITIES AND LABORATORIES.—This section applies to the following facilities and laboratories of the Department of Energy:

(1) The Kansas City Plant, Kansas City, Missouri.

(2) The Pantex Plant, Amarillo, Texas.

(3) The Y-12 Plant, Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

(4) The Savannah River Site, Aiken, South Carolina.

(5) Los Alamos National Laboratory, Los Alamos, New Mexico.

(6) Sandia National Laboratories, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

(7) Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, Livermore, California.

(8) The Nevada Test Site, Nevada.

SEC. 3141. ACCELERATED SCHEDULE FOR ISOLATING HIGH-LEVEL NUCLEAR WASTE AT THE DEFENSE WASTE PROCESSING FACILITY, SAVANNAH RIVER SITE.

The Secretary of Energy shall accelerate the schedule for the isolation of high-level nuclear waste in glass canisters at the Defense Waste Processing Facility at the Savannah River Site, South Carolina, if the Secretary determines that the acceleration of such schedule—

(1) will achieve long-term cost savings to the Federal Government; and

(2) could accelerate the removal and isolation of high-level nuclear waste from long-term storage tanks at the site.

SEC. 3142. PROCESSING AND TREATMENT OF HIGH-LEVEL NUCLEAR WASTE AND SPENT NUCLEAR FUEL RODS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—(1) In order to provide for an effective response to requirements for managing the spent nuclear fuel described in paragraph (2), there shall be available to the Secretary of Energy, from amounts authorized to be appropriated pursuant to section 3102(c), the following amounts for the purposes stated:

(A) Not more than $43,000,000 for the development and implementation of a program to accelerate the receipt, processing (including the H-canyon restart operations), reprocessing, separation, reduction, deactivation, stabilization, isolation, and interim storage of high-level nuclear waste associated with Department of Energy aluminum clad spent fuel rods, foreign spent fuel rods, and other nuclear materials.

(B) Not more than $15,000,000 for the development and implementation of a program for the receipt, treatment, preparation, conditioning, interim storage, and final disposition of high-level nuclear waste and spent nuclear fuel (including naval spent nuclear fuel), non-aluminum clad fuel rods, and foreign fuel rods.

(2) The spent nuclear fuel referred to in paragraph (1) is the following:

(A) Spent nuclear fuel that is sent to Department of Energy consolidation sites pursuant to the Department of Energy Programmatic Spent Nuclear Fuel Management and Idaho National Engineering Laboratory Environmental Restoration and Waste Management Programs Final Environmental Impact Statement, dated April 1995.

(B) Spent nuclear fuel described in the Interim Management of Nuclear Materials Environmental Impact Statement, dated October 1995.

(C) Other spent nuclear fuel located at the Savannah River Site as of the date of the enactment of this Act.

(3) The amounts made available under paragraph (1) are in addition to other amounts authorized to be appropriated by section 3102(c) for the purposes stated in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of that paragraph.

(b) USE OF FUNDS FOR SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT.—Funds made available pursuant to subsection (a)(1)(B) for the Idaho National Engineering Laboratory shall be considered to be funds made available in partial fulfillment of the terms and obligations set forth in the settlement agreement entered into by the United States with the State of Idaho in the actions captioned Public Service Co. of Colorado v. Batt, Civil No. 91-0035-S-EJL, and United States v. Batt, Civil No. 91-0054-S-EJL, in the United States District Court for the District of Idaho and the consent order of the United States District Court for the District of Idaho, dated October 17, 1995, that effectuates the settlement agreement.

(c) AMENDMENTS TO IMPLEMENTATION PLAN FOR MANAGING SPENT NUCLEAR FUEL AT CERTAIN SITES.—Section 3142(b) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 622) is amended—

(1) by striking out "April 30, 1996" and inserting in lieu thereof "September 30, 1996";

(2) by striking out "and" at the end of paragraph (3);

(3) by striking out the period at the end of paragraph (4) and inserting in lieu thereof "; and"; and

(4) by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(5) an assessment of the progress made in implementing the programs."

(d) NEAR-TERM PLAN FOR PROCESSING SPENT FUEL RODS AT SAVANNAH RIVER SITE.—(1) Not later than March 15, 1997, the Secretary of Energy shall submit to Congress a plan for a near-term program to process, treat, package, and dispose of spent nuclear fuel rods described in paragraph (2) at the Savannah River Site. The plan shall include cost projections and resource requirements for the program and identify program milestones for the program.

(2) The spent nuclear fuel rods to be included in the program referred to in paragraph (1) are the following:

(A) Spent nuclear fuel rods produced at the Savannah River Site.

(B) Spent nuclear fuel rods being sent to the site from other Department of Energy facilities for processing, interim storage, and other treatment.

(C) Foreign spent nuclear fuel rods being sent to the site for processing, interim storage, and other treatment.

(e) MULTI-YEAR PLAN FOR CLEAN-UP AT SAVANNAH RIVER SITE.—The Secretary shall develop and implement a multi-year plan for the clean-up of nuclear waste at the Savannah River Site that results, or has resulted, from the following:

(1) Nuclear weapons activities carried out at the site.

(2) The processing, treating, packaging, and disposal of Department of Energy domestic and foreign spent nuclear fuel rods at the site.

(f) REQUIREMENT FOR CONTINUING OPERATIONS AT SAVANNAH RIVER SITE.—The Secretary shall continue operations and maintain a high state of readiness at the H-canyon facility and the F-canyon facility at the Savannah River Site, and shall provide technical staff necessary to operate and so maintain such facilities, pending the development and implementation of the plan referred to in subsection (e).

SEC. 3143. PROJECTS TO ACCELERATE CLOSURE ACTIVITIES AT DEFENSE NUCLEAR FACILITIES.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Energy shall select and carry out closure-acceleration projects in accordance with this section.

(b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of a closure-acceleration project shall be, within a fixed period of time, to clean up or decommission a Department of Energy defense nuclear facility or portion thereof and to make the facility safe by stabilizing, consolidating, treating, or removing nuclear materials from the facility in order to reduce significantly or eliminate future costs at the facility.

(c) ELIGIBLE PROJECTS.—(1) The Secretary of Energy may establish a closure-acceleration project as eligible for selection under subsection (e) by—

(A) developing a plan for the project that meets the criteria under paragraph (2); and

(B) determining that the project will achieve significant long-term cost savings to the Federal Government from the baseline cost estimate made by the Department of Energy for the project.

(2) A plan for a closure-acceleration project under this section shall—

(A) define a clear, delineated scope of work for completion of the project;

(B) demonstrate that, with respect to the site of the proposed project, there is a regulatory agreement between the Department of Energy and other appropriate authorities for the implementation of environmental remediation requirements that would allow for successful completion of the project;

(C) demonstrate, to the maximum extent possible, the support of State and local elected officials and the public for the project;

(D) contain performance-based provisions to be included in the contract for the project, including—

(i) clearly stated and results-oriented performance criteria and measures;

(ii) appropriate incentives for the contractor to meet and exceed the performance criteria effectively and efficiently;

(iii) appropriate criteria and incentives for the contractor to seek and engage subcontractors who may more effectively and efficiently perform either unique and technologically challenging tasks or routine and interchangeable services;

(iv) specific incentives for cost savings;

(v) financial accountability; and

(vi) when appropriate, reduction of fee for failure to meet minimum performance criteria and standards;

(E) demonstrate that the project will use new and innovative cleanup and waste management technology with potential for application to other locations and facilities without requiring the development of new technologies; and

(F) demonstrate that the project can be completed within 10 years from the date of its selection.

(d) PROGRAM ADMINISTRATION.—The Secretary of Energy, acting through the Assistant Secretary for Environmental Management, shall implement a program to carry out the provisions of this section.

(e) SELECTION OF PROJECTS.—(1) The Secretary of Energy shall select closure-acceleration projects to be carried out under this section from among those projects established as eligible under subsection (c) that will result in the most significant long-term costs savings to the Government and the most significant reduction of imminent risk.

(2) For each project selected, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report setting forth the reasons why the project was selected, based on the criteria under subsection (c)(2) and paragraph (1) of this subsection.

(f) MULTIYEAR CONTRACTS.—Notwithstanding section 304B(d) of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 (41 U.S.C.254c(d)), the Secretary of Energy may enter into multiyear contracts to carry out projects selected under this section for up to 10 program years.

(g) FUNDING.—(1) In the budget submitted to Congress under section 1105(a) of title 31, United States Code, each year, the President shall set forth funds for carrying out closure-acceleration projects under this section as a separate item in the environmental restoration and waste management account of the Department of Energy budget.

(2) Funds appropriated for purposes of carrying out projects under this section shall remain available until expended.

(3) If a closure-acceleration project is being carried out at a defense nuclear facility with funds appropriated for such projects, the Secretary of Energy may not reduce the funds otherwise allocated to that defense nuclear facility for environmental restoration and waste management by reason of the funds being used for the project at that facility.

(4) Funds appropriated for purposes of carrying out projects under this section may not be used for an item for which Congress has specifically denied funds or for a new program or project that has not been authorized by Congress.

(h) ANNUAL REPORT.—The Secretary of Energy shall submit each year to Congress a report on the status of each closure-acceleration project being carried out under this section. The report shall include, for each such project, the following:

(1) A description of the funding already provided for the project.

(2) A description of the extent of the cleanup, decommissioning, stabilization, consolidation, treatment, or removal activities completed.

(3) A comparison of the actual results of the project to the original proposal and the actual cost of the project to the originally proposed cost.

(4) A description of the funding needed in future fiscal years for completion of the project.

(i) DURATION OF PROGRAM.—No closure-acceleration project selected under this section may be carried out after the expiration of the 15-year period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act.

(j) SAVINGS PROVISION.—Nothing in this section may be construed to affect statutory requirements for an environmental restoration or waste management activity or project or to modify or otherwise affect applicable statutory or regulatory environmental restoration and waste management requirements, including substantive standards intended to protect public health and the environment, nor shall anything in this section be construed to preempt or impair any local land use planning or zoning authority or State authority.

SEC. 3144. PAYMENT OF COSTS OF OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF INFRASTRUCTURE AT NEVADA TEST SITE.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law and effective as of September 30, 1996, the costs associated with operating and maintaining the infrastructure at the Nevada Test Site, Nevada, with respect to any activities initiated at the site after that date by the Department of Defense pursuant to a work-for-others agreement may be paid for from funds authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy for activities at the Nevada Test Site.

Subtitle D—Other Matters

SEC. 3151. REPORT ON PLUTONIUM PIT PRODUCTION AND REMANUFACTURING PLANS.

(a) REPORT REQUIREMENT.—The Secretary of Energy shall submit to the congressional defense committees a report on plans for achieving the capability to produce and remanufacture plutonium pits. The report shall include a description of the baseline plan of the Department of Energy for achieving such capability, including the following:

(1) The funding necessary, by fiscal year, to achieve the capability.

(2) The schedule necessary to achieve the capability, including important technical and programmatic milestones.

(3) Siting, capacity for expansion, and other issues included in the baseline plan.

(b) DEADLINE.—The report required by subsection (a) shall be submitted not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 3152. AMENDMENTS RELATING TO BASELINE ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT REPORTS.

Section 3153 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1994 (42 U.S.C. 7274k) is amended—

(1) in subsection (b)—

(A) by striking out the first word in the heading and inserting in lieu thereof "BIENNIAL"; and

(B) in paragraph (2)(B), by inserting before "year after 1995" the following: "odd-numbered"; and

(2) in subsection (d)—

(A) by striking out the first word in the heading and inserting in lieu thereof "BIENNIAL";

(B) in paragraph (1)(B), by striking out "in each year thereafter" and inserting in lieu thereof "in each odd-numbered year thereafter"; and

(C) in paragraph (2)(A)—

(i) in the matter preceding clause (i), by striking out "fiscal year immediately" and inserting in lieu thereof "two fiscal years immediately"; and

(ii) in clause (ii), by striking out "prior fiscal year" and inserting in lieu thereof "prior fiscal years".

SEC. 3153. REQUIREMENT TO DEVELOP FUTURE USE PLANS FOR ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT PROGRAM.

(a) AUTHORITY TO DEVELOP FUTURE USE PLANS.—The Secretary of Energy may develop future use plans for any defense nuclear facility at which environmental restoration and waste management activities are occurring.

(b) REQUIREMENT TO DEVELOP FUTURE USE PLANS.—The Secretary shall develop a future use plan for each of the following defense nuclear facilities:

(1) Hanford Site, Richland, Washington.

(2) Rocky Flats Plant, Golden, Colorado.

(3) Savannah River Site, Aiken, South Carolina.

(4) Idaho National Engineering Laboratory, Idaho.

(c) CITIZEN ADVISORY BOARD.—(1) At each defense nuclear facility for which the Secretary of Energy intends or is required to develop a future use plan under this section and for which no citizen advisory board has been established, the Secretary shall establish a citizen advisory board.

(2) The Secretary may authorize the manager of a defense nuclear facility for which a future use plan is developed under this section (or, if there is no such manager, an appropriate official of the Department of Energy designated by the Secretary) to pay routine administrative expenses of a citizen advisory board established for that facility. Such payments shall be made from funds available to the Secretary for program direction in carrying out environmental restoration and waste management activities necessary for national security programs.

(d) REQUIREMENT TO CONSULT WITH CITIZEN ADVISORY BOARD.—In developing a future use plan under this section with respect to a defense nuclear facility, the Secretary of Energy shall consult with a citizen advisory board established pursuant to subsection (c) or a similar advisory board already in existence as of the date of the enactment of this Act for such facility, affected local governments (including any local future use redevelopment authorities), and other appropriate State agencies.

(e) 50-YEAR PLANNING PERIOD.—A future use plan developed under this section shall cover a period of at least 50 years.

(f) DEADLINES.—For each facility listed in subsection (b), the Secretary of Energy shall develop a draft future use plan by October 1, 1997, and a final future use plan by March 15, 1998.

(g) REPORT.—Not later than 60 days after completing development of a final plan for a site listed in subsection (b), the Secretary of Energy shall submit to Congress a report on the plan. The report shall describe the plan and contain such findings and recommendations with respect to the site as the Secretary considers appropriate.

(h) SAVINGS PROVISIONS.—(1) Nothing in this section, or in a future use plan developed under this section with respect to a defense nuclear facility, shall be construed as requiring any modification to a future use plan with respect to a defense nuclear facility that was developed before the date of the enactment of this Act.

(2) Nothing in this section may be construed to affect statutory requirements for an environmental restoration or waste management activity or project or to modify or otherwise affect applicable statutory or regulatory environmental restoration and waste management requirements, including substantive standards intended to protect public health and the environment, nor shall anything in this section be construed to preempt or impair any local land use planning or zoning authority or State authority.

SEC. 3154. REPORT ON DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY LIABILITY AT DEPARTMENT SUPERFUND SITES.

(a) STUDY.—The Secretary of Energy shall, using funds authorized to be appropriated to the Department of Energy by section 3102, carry out a study to determine the extent and valuation of the injury to, destruction of, or loss of natural resources under section 107(a)(4)(C) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 9607(a)(4)(C)) at each site controlled or operated by the Department that is or is anticipated to become subject to the provisions of that Act.

(b) CONDUCT OF STUDY.—(1) The Secretary shall carry out the study using personnel of the Department or by contract with an appropriate private entity.

(2) In determining the extent and valuation of the injury to, destruction of, or loss of natural resources for purposes of the study, the Secretary shall—

(A) treat the Department as a private person liable for response, removal, and remediation costs and damages under section 107(a)(4) of that Act (42 U.S.C. 9607(a)(4)) and subject to an action for damages by public trustees of natural resources under section 107(f) of that Act (42 U.S.C. 9607(f)) or by any other person pursuant to section 107(e) or 113(f) of that Act (42 U.S.C. 9607(e) and 9613(f)); and

(B) determine the value of natural resource damages associated with each site in accordance with all regulations promulgated under section 301(c) of that Act (42 U.S.C. 9651(c)).

(c) REPORT.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit a report on the study carried out under subsection (a) to the following committees:

(1) The Committees on Environment and Public Works, Armed Services, and Energy and Natural Resources of the Senate.

(2) The Committees on Commerce, National Security, Transportation and Infrastructure, and Resources of the House of Representatives.

SEC. 3155. REQUIREMENT FOR ANNUAL FIVE-YEAR BUDGET FOR THE NATIONAL SECURITY PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY.

(a) REQUIREMENT.—The Secretary of Energy shall prepare each year a budget for the national security programs of the Department of Energy for the five-year period beginning in the year the budget is prepared. Each budget shall contain the estimated expenditures and proposed appropriations necessary to support the programs, projects, and activities of the national security programs during the five-year period covered by the budget and shall be at a level of detail comparable to that contained in the budget submitted by the President to Congress under section 1105 of title 31, United States Code.

(b) SUBMITTAL.—The Secretary shall submit each year to the congressional defense committees the budget required under subsection (a) in that year at the same time as the President submits to Congress the budget for the coming fiscal year pursuant to such section 1105.

SEC. 3156. REQUIREMENTS FOR DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY WEAPONS ACTIVITIES BUDGETS FOR FISCAL YEARS AFTER FISCAL YEAR 1997.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The weapons activities budget of the Department of Energy for any fiscal year after fiscal year 1997 shall—

(1) set forth with respect to each of the activities under the budget (including stockpile stewardship, stockpile management, and program direction) the funding requested to carry out each project or activity that is necessary to meet the requirements of the Nuclear Weapons Stockpile Memorandum; and

(2) identify specific infrastructure requirements arising from the Nuclear Posture Review, the Nuclear Weapons Stockpile Memorandum, and the programmatic and technical requirements associated with the review and memorandum.

(b) REQUIRED DETAIL.—The Secretary of Energy shall include in the materials that the Secretary submits to Congress in support of the budget for any fiscal year after fiscal year 1997 that is submitted by the President pursuant to section 1105 of title 31, United States Code, the following:

(1) A long-term program plan, and a near-term program plan, for the certification and stewardship of the nuclear weapons stockpile.

(2) An assessment of the effects of the plans referred to in paragraph (1) on each nuclear weapons laboratory and each nuclear weapons production plant.

(c) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) The term “Nuclear Posture Review” means the Department of Defense Nuclear Posture Review as contained in the report of the Secretary of Defense to the President and Congress dated February 19, 1995, or in subsequent such reports.

(2) The term “nuclear weapons laboratory” means the following:

(A) Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, California.

(B) Los Alamos National Laboratory, New Mexico.

(C) Sandia National Laboratories.

(3) The term “nuclear weapons production plant” means the following:

(A) The Pantex Plant, Texas.

(B) The Savannah River Site, South Carolina.

(C) The Kansas City Plant, Missouri.

(D) The Y-12 Plant, Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

SEC. 3157. REPEAL OF REQUIREMENT RELATING TO ACCOUNTING PROCEDURES FOR DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY FUNDS.

Section 3151 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1995 (Public Law 103-337; 108 Stat. 3089) is repealed.

SEC. 3158. UPDATE OF REPORT ON NUCLEAR TEST READINESS POSTURES.

Not later than June 1, 1997, the Secretary of Energy shall submit to Congress a report which updates the report submitted by the Secretary under section 3152 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 623). The updated report shall include the matters specified under such section, current as of the date of the updated report.

SEC. 3159. REPORTS ON CRITICAL DIFFICULTIES AT NUCLEAR WEAPONS LABORATORIES AND NUCLEAR WEAPONS PRODUCTION PLANTS.

(a) REPORTS BY HEADS OF LABORATORIES AND PLANTS.—In the event of a difficulty at a nuclear weapons laboratory or a nuclear weapons production plant that has a significant bearing on confidence in the safety or reliability of a nuclear weapon or nuclear weapon type, the head of the laboratory or plant, as the case may be, shall submit to the Assistant Secretary of Energy for Defense Programs a report on the difficulty. The head of the laboratory or plant shall submit the report as soon as practicable after discovery of the difficulty.

(b) TRANSMITTAL BY ASSISTANT SECRETARY.—As soon as practicable after receipt of a report under subsection (a), the Assistant Secretary shall transmit the report (together with the comments of the Assistant Secretary) to the congressional defense committees and to the Secretary of Energy and the Secretary of Defense.

(c) REPORTS BY NUCLEAR WEAPONS COUNCIL.—Section 179 of title 10, United States Code, is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (e) as subsection (f); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (d) the following new subsection (e):

“(e) In addition to the responsibilities set forth in subsection (d), the Council shall also submit to Congress a report on any analysis conducted by the Council with respect to difficulties at nuclear weapons laboratories or nuclear weapons production plants that have significant bearing on confidence in the safety or reliability of nuclear weapons or nuclear weapon types.”

(d) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) The term “nuclear weapons laboratory” means the following:

(A) Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, California.

(B) Los Alamos National Laboratory, New Mexico.

(C) Sandia National Laboratories.

(2) The term “nuclear weapons production plant” means the following:

(A) The Pantex Plant, Texas.

(B) The Savannah River Site, South Carolina.

(C) The Kansas City Plant, Missouri.

(D) The Y-12 Plant, Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

SEC. 3160. EXTENSION OF APPLICABILITY OF NOTICE-AND-WAIT REQUIREMENT REGARDING PROPOSED COOPERATION AGREEMENTS.

Section 3155(b) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1995 (42 U.S.C. 2153 note) is amended by striking out "October 1, 1996" and inserting in lieu thereof "October 1, 1997".

SEC. 3161. SENSE OF SENATE RELATING TO REDESIGNATION OF DEFENSE ENVIRONMENTAL RESTORATION AND WASTE MANAGEMENT PROGRAM.

(a) SENSE OF SENATE.—It is the sense of the Senate that the program of the Department of Energy known as the Defense Environmental Restoration and Waste Management Program, and also known as the Environmental Management Program, be redesignated as the Defense Nuclear Waste Management Program of the Department of Energy.

(b) REPORT ON REDESIGNATION.—Not later than January 31, 1997, the Secretary of Energy shall submit to the congressional defense committees a report on the costs and other difficulties, if any, associated with the following:

(1) The redesignation of the program known as the Defense Environmental Restoration and Waste Management Program, and also known as the Environmental Management Program, as the Defense Nuclear Waste Management Program of the Department of Energy.

(2) The redesignation of the Defense Environmental Restoration and Waste Management Account as the Defense Nuclear Waste Management Account.

SEC. 3162. COMMISSION ON MAINTAINING UNITED STATES NUCLEAR WEAPONS EXPERTISE.

(a) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is hereby established a commission to be known as the "Commission on Maintaining United States Nuclear Weapons Expertise" (in this section referred to as the "Commission").

(b) ORGANIZATIONAL MATTERS.—(1)(A) The Commission shall be composed of eight members appointed from among individuals in the public and private sectors who have significant experience in matters relating to nuclear weapons, as follows:

(i) Two shall be appointed by the majority leader of the Senate (in consultation with the minority leader of the Senate).

(ii) One shall be appointed by the minority leader of the Senate (in consultation with the majority leader of the Senate).

(iii) Two shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives (in consultation with the minority leader of the House of Representatives).

(iv) One shall be appointed by the minority leader of the House of Representatives (in consultation with the Speaker of the House of Representatives).

(v) Two shall be appointed by the Secretary of Energy.

(B) Members shall be appointed for the life of the Commission. Any vacancy in the Commission shall not affect its powers, but shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment.

(C) The chairman of the Commission shall be designated from among the members of the Commission appointed under subparagraph (A) by the majority leader of the Senate, in consultation with the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the minority leader of the Senate, and the minority leader of the House of Representatives.

(D) Members shall be appointed not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(2) The members of the Commission shall establish procedures for the activities of the Commission, including procedures for calling meetings, requirements for quorums, and the manner of taking votes.

(c) DUTIES.—(1) The Commission shall develop a plan for recruiting and retaining within the Department of Energy nuclear weapons complex such scientific, engineering, and technical personnel as the Commission determines appropriate in order to permit the Department to maintain over the long term a safe and reliable nuclear weapons stockpile without engaging in underground testing.

(2) In developing the plan, the Commission shall—

(A) identify actions that the Secretary may undertake to attract qualified scientific, engineering, and technical personnel to the nuclear weapons complex of the Department; and

(B) review and recommend improvements to the on-going efforts of the Department to attract such personnel to the nuclear weapons complex.

(d) REPORT.—Not later than March 15, 1998, the Commission shall submit to the Secretary and to Congress a report containing the plan developed under subsection (c). The report may include recommendations for legislation and administrative action.

(e) COMMISSION PERSONNEL MATTERS.—(1) Each member of the Commission who is not an officer or employee of the Federal Government shall be compensated at a rate equal to the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay prescribed for level IV of the Executive Schedule under section 5315 of title 5, United States Code, for each day (including travel time) during which such member is engaged in the performance of the duties of the Commission. All members of the Commission who are officers or employees of the United States shall serve without compensation in addition to that received for their services as officers or employees of the United States.

(2) The members of the Commission shall be allowed travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, at rates authorized for employees of agencies under subchapter I of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code, while away from their homes or regular places of business in the performance of services for the Commission.

(3) The Commission may, without regard to the civil service laws and regulations, appoint and terminate such personnel as may be necessary to enable the Commission to perform its duties. The Commission may fix the compensation of the personnel of the Commission without regard to the provisions of chapter 51 and subchapter III of chapter 53 of title 5, United States Code, relating to classification of positions and General Schedule pay rates.

(4) Any Federal Government employee may be detailed to the Commission without reimbursement, and such detail shall be without interruption or loss of civil service status or privilege.

(f) TERMINATION.—The Commission shall terminate 30 days after the date on which the Commission submits its report under subsection (d).

(g) APPLICABILITY OF FACA.—The provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App.) shall not apply to the activities of the Commission.

(h) FUNDING.—Of the amounts authorized to be appropriated pursuant to section 3101, not more than $1,000,000 shall be available for the activities of the Commission under this section. Funds made available to the Commission under this section shall remain available until expended.

SEC. 3163. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING RELIABILITY AND SAFETY OF REMAINING NUCLEAR FORCES.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The United States is committed to proceeding with a robust, science-based stockpile stewardship program with respect to production of nuclear weapons, and to maintaining nuclear weapons production capabilities and capacities, that are adequate—

(A) to ensure the safety, reliability, and performance of the United States nuclear arsenal; and

(B) to meet such changing national security requirements as may result from international developments or technical problems with nuclear warheads.

(2) The United States is committed to reestablishing and maintaining production facilities for nuclear weapons components at levels that are sufficient—

(A) to satisfy requirements for the safety, reliability, and performance of United States nuclear weapons; and

(B) to demonstrate and sustain production capabilities and capacities.

(3) The United States is committed to maintaining the nuclear weapons laboratories and protecting core nuclear weapons competencies.

(4) The United States is committed to ensuring rapid access to a new production source of tritium within the next decade, as it currently has no meaningful capability to produce tritium, a component that is essential to the performance of modern nuclear weapons.

(5) The United States reserves the right, consistent with United States law, to resume underground nuclear testing to maintain confidence in the United States stockpile of nuclear weapons if warhead design flaws or aging of nuclear weapons result in problems that a robust stockpile stewardship program cannot solve.

(6) The United States is committed to funding the Nevada Test Site at a level that maintains the ability of the United States to resume underground nuclear testing within one year after a national decision to do so is made.

(7) The United States reserves the right to invoke the supreme national interest of the United States and withdraw from any future arms control agreement to limit underground nuclear testing.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING PRESIDENTIAL CONSULTATION WITH CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the President should consult closely with Congress regarding United States policy and practices to ensure confidence in the safety, reliability, and performance of the nuclear stockpile of the United States.

(c) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING NOTIFICATION AND CONSULTATION.—It is the sense of Congress that, upon a determination by the President that a problem with the safety, reliability, or performance of the nuclear stockpile has occurred and that the problem cannot be corrected within the stockpile stewardship program, the President shall—

(1) immediately notify Congress of the problem; and

(2) submit to Congress in a timely manner a plan for corrective action with respect to the problem, including—

(A) a technical description of the activities required under the plan; and

(B) if underground testing of nuclear weapons would assist in such corrective action, an assessment of the advisability of withdrawing from any treaty that prohibits underground testing of nuclear weapons.

SEC. 3164. STUDY ON WORKER PROTECTION AT THE MOUND FACILITY.

(a) REPORT.—Not later than March 15, 1997, the Secretary of Energy shall submit to the congressional defense committees a report regarding the status of projects and programs to improve worker safety and health at the Mound Facility in Miamisburg, Ohio.

(b) MATTERS COVERED.—The report shall include the following:

(1) The status of actions completed in fiscal year 1996.

(2) The status of actions completed or proposed to be completed in fiscal years 1997 and 1998.

(3) A description of the fiscal year 1998 budget request for worker safety and health at the Mound Facility.

(4) An accounting of expenditures for worker safety and health at the Mound Facility by fiscal year from fiscal year 1994 through and including fiscal year 1996.

SEC. 3165. FISCAL YEAR 1998 FUNDING FOR GREENVILLE ROAD IMPROVEMENT PROJECT, LIVERMORE, CALIFORNIA.

(a) FUNDING.—The Secretary of Energy shall include in the budget for fiscal year 1998 submitted by the Secretary of Energy to the Office of Management and Budget a request for sufficient funds to pay the United States portion of the cost of transportation improvements under the Greenville Road Improvement Project, Livermore, California.

(b) COOPERATION WITH LIVERMORE, CALIFORNIA.—The Secretary shall work with the city of Livermore, California, to determine the cost of the transportation improvements referred to in subsection (a).

SEC. 3166. FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM FOR DEVELOPMENT OF SKILLS CRITICAL TO DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY NUCLEAR WEAPONS COMPLEX.

(a) FUNDING.—Subject to subsection (b), of the funds authorized to be appropriated pursuant to section 3101(b), $5,000,000 may be used for conducting the fellowship program for the development of skills critical to the ongoing mission of the Department of Energy nuclear weapons complex required by section 3140 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 621; 42 U.S.C. 2121 note).

(b) NOTICE AND WAIT.—The Secretary of Energy may not obligate or expend funds under subsection (a) for the fellowship program referred to in that subsection until—

(1) the Secretary submits to Congress a report setting forth—

(A) the actions the Department has taken to implement the fellowship program;

(B) the amount the Secretary proposes to obligate;

(C) the purposes for which such amount will be obligated; and

(2) a period of 21 days elapses from the date of the receipt of the report by Congress.

Subtitle E—Defense Nuclear Environmental Cleanup and ManagementSEC. 3171. PURPOSE.

The purpose of this subtitle is to provide for the expedited environmental restoration and waste management of defense nuclear facilities through the use of cost-effective management mechanisms and innovative technologies.

SEC. 3172. APPLICABILITY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The provisions of this subtitle shall apply to the following defense nuclear facilities:

(1) Any defense nuclear facility for which the fiscal year 1996 environmental management budget was $350,000,000 or more.

(2) Any other defense nuclear facility if—
(A) the chief executive officer of the State in which the facility is located submits to the Secretary a request that the facility be covered by the provisions of this subtitle; and

(B) the Secretary approves the request.

(b) LIMITATION.—The Secretary may not approve a request under subsection (a)(2) until 60 days after the date on which the Secretary notifies Congress of the Secretary's receipt of the request.

SEC. 3173. SITE MANAGER.

(a) APPOINTMENT.—(1) Subject to paragraph (2), the Secretary shall expeditiously appoint a Site Manager for each defense nuclear facility (in this subtitle referred to as the "Site Manager").

(2) In the case of a defense nuclear facility at which another program, in addition to environmental management operations, is carried out, and such other program is subject to management by a site manager, field office manager, or operations office manager, the Secretary shall appoint such manager to be the Site Manager for such facility for purposes of this subtitle.

(b) AUTHORITY.—(1) In addition to other authorities provided for in this Act, the Secretary may delegate to the Site Manager of a defense nuclear facility authority to oversee and direct environmental management operations at the facility, including the authority to—

(A) enter into and modify contractual agreements to enhance environmental restoration and waste management at the facility;

(B) request that the Department headquarters submit to Congress a reprogramming package shifting funds among accounts in order to facilitate the most efficient and timely environmental restoration and waste management of the facility, and, in the event that the Department headquarters does not act upon the request within 60 days, submit such request to the appropriate congressional committees for review;

(C) subject to paragraph (2), negotiate amendments to environmental agreements for the Department;

(D) manage Department personnel at the facility;

(E) consider the costs, risk reduction benefits, and other benefits for the purposes of ensuring protection of human health and the environment or safety, with respect to any environmental remediation activity the cost of which exceeds $25,000,000; and

(F) have assessments prepared for environmental restoration activities (in several documents or a single document, as determined by the Site Manager).

(2) In using the authority described in paragraph (1)(C), a Site Manager may not negotiate an amendment that is expected to result in additional life cycle costs to the Department without the approval of the Secretary.

(3) In using any authority described in paragraph (1), a Site Manager of a facility shall consult with the State where the facility is located and the advisory board for the facility.

(4) The delegation of any authority pursuant to this subsection shall not be construed as restricting the Secretary's authority to delegate other authorities as necessary.

(c) INFORMATION TO SECRETARY.—The Site Manager of a defense nuclear facility shall regularly inform the Secretary, Congress, and the advisory board for the facility of the progress made by the Site Manager to achieve the expedited environmental restoration and waste management of the facility.

SEC. 3174. DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY ORDERS.

An order imposed after the date of the enactment of this Act relating to the execution of environmental restoration, waste management, or technology development activities at a defense nuclear facility under the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2011 et seq.) may be imposed by the Secretary at the defense nuclear facility only if the Secretary finds that the order is necessary for the protection of human health and the environment or safety, the fulfillment of current legal requirements, or the conduct of critical administrative functions.

SEC. 3175. DEPLOYMENT OF TECHNOLOGY FOR REMEDIATION OF DEFENSE NUCLEAR WASTE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Site Manager of each defense nuclear facility shall promote the deployment of innovative environmental technologies for remediation of defense nuclear waste at the facility.

(b) CRITERIA.—To carry out subsection (a), the Site Manager of a defense nuclear facility shall establish a program at the facility for the testing and deployment of innovative environmental technologies for the remediation of defense nuclear waste at the facility. In establishing such a program, the Site Manager may—

(1) establish a simplified, standardized, and timely process for the testing, verification, certification, and deployment of environmental technologies;

(2) solicit applications to test and deploy environmental technologies suitable for environmental restoration and waste management activities at the facility, including prevention, control, characterization, treatment, and remediation of contamination;

(3) consult and cooperate with the heads of existing programs at the facility for the verification and certification of environmental technologies at the facility;

(4) pay the costs of the demonstration of such technologies;

(5) enter into contracts and other agreements with other public and private entities to deploy environmental technologies at the facility; and

(6) include incentives, such as product performance specifications, in contracts to encourage the implementation of innovative environmental technologies.

(c) FOLLOW-ON CONTRACTS.—(1) If the Secretary and a person demonstrating a technology under the program enter into a contract for remediation of nuclear waste at a defense nuclear facility covered by this subtitle, or at any other Department facility, as a follow-on to the demonstration of the technology, the Secretary shall ensure that the contract provides for the Secretary to recoup from the contractor the costs incurred by the Secretary pursuant to subsection (b)(6) for the demonstration.

(2) No contract between the Department and a contractor for the demonstration of technology under subsection (b) may provide for reimbursement of the costs of the contractor on a cost plus fee basis.

(d) SAFE HARBORS.—In the case of an environmental technology tested, verified, certified, and deployed at a defense nuclear facility under a program established under subsection (b), the site manager of another defense nuclear facility may request the Secretary to waive or limit contractual or Department regulatory requirements that would otherwise apply in implementing the same environmental technology at such other facility.

SEC. 3176. PERFORMANCE-BASED CONTRACTING.

(a) PROGRAM.—The Secretary shall develop and implement a program for performance-based contracting for contracts entered into for environmental remediation at defense nuclear facilities. The program shall ensure that, to the maximum extent practicable and appropriate, such contracts include the following:

(1) Clearly stated and results oriented performance criteria and measures.

(2) Appropriate incentives for contractors to meet or exceed the performance criteria effectively and efficiently.

(3) Appropriate criteria and incentives for contractors to seek and engage subcontractors who may more effectively and efficiently perform either unique and technologically challenging tasks or routine and interchangeable services.

(4) Specific incentives for cost savings.

(5) Financial accountability.

(6) When appropriate, reduction of fee for failure to meet minimum performance criteria and standards.

(b) CRITERIA AND MEASURES.—Performance criteria and measures should take into consideration, at a minimum, the following: managerial control; elimination or reduction of risk to public health and the environment; workplace safety; financial control; goal-oriented work scope; use of innovative and alternative technologies and techniques that result in cleanups being performed less expensively, more quickly, and within quality parameters; and performing within benchmark cost estimates.

(c) CONSULTATION.—In implementing this section, the Secretary shall consult with interested parties.

(d) DEADLINE.—The Secretary shall implement this section not later than October 1, 1997, unless the Secretary submits to Congress before that date a report with a schedule for completion of action under this section.

SEC. 3177. DESIGNATION OF COVERED FACILITIES AS ENVIRONMENTAL CLEANUP DEMONSTRATION AREAS.

(a) DESIGNATION.—Each defense nuclear facility is hereby designated as an environmental cleanup demonstration area to carry out the purposes of this subtitle, including the utilization and evaluation of new technologies to be used in environmental restoration and remediation at other defense nuclear facilities.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that Federal and State regulatory agencies, members of the communities surrounding any defense nuclear facility, and other affected parties with respect to the facility should continue to—

(1) develop expedited and streamlined processes and systems for cleaning up such facility;

(2) eliminate unnecessary administrative complexity and unnecessary duplication of regulation with respect to the clean up of such facility;

(3) proceed expeditiously and cost-effectively with environmental restoration and remediation activities at such facility;

(4) consider future land use in selecting environmental clean up remedies at such facility; and

(5) identify and recommend to Congress changes in law needed to expedite the clean up of such facility.

SEC. 3178. DEFINITIONS.

In this subtitle:

(1) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of Energy.

(2) The term "Department" means the Department of Energy.

(3) The term "defense nuclear facility" has the meaning given the term "Department of Energy defense nuclear facility" in section 318 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2286g).

SEC. 3179. TERMINATION.

This subtitle is repealed effective September 30, 2001.

SEC. 3180. REPORT.

Not later than September 30, 2000, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report on the effectiveness of this subtitle in expediting environmental restoration and waste management of defense nuclear facilities. The report shall include recommendations on whether this subtitle should remain in effect beyond September 30, 2001.

Subtitle F—Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Act Amendments

SEC. 3181. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the "Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Amendment Act".

SEC. 3182. DEFINITIONS.

Section 2 of the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Act (Public Law 102-579; 106 Stat. 4777) is amended—

(1) by striking paragraphs (18) and (19); and

(2) by redesignating paragraphs (20), (21), and (22), as paragraphs (18), (19), and (20), respectively.

SEC. 3183. MANAGEMENT PLAN.

Section 4(b)(5)(B) of the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Act (106 Stat. 4781) is amended by striking "or with the Solid Waste Disposal Act (42 U.S.C. 6901 et seq.)."

SEC. 3184. REPEAL OF TEST PHASE AND RETRIEVAL PLANS.

(a) REPEAL.—Section 5 of the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Act (106 Stat. 4782) is repealed.

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of contents in section 1(b) of such Act (106 Stat. 4777) is amended by striking out the item relating to section 5.

SEC. 3185. TEST PHASE ACTIVITIES.

Section 6 of the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Act (106 Stat. 4783) is amended—

(1) by repealing subsections (a) and (b);

(2) by repealing paragraph (1) of subsection (c);

(3) by redesignating subsection (c) as subsection (a) and in that subsection—

(A) by repealing subparagraph (A) of paragraph (2);

(B) by striking the subsection heading and the matter immediately following the subsection heading and inserting "STUDY.—The following study shall be conducted:";

(C) by striking "(2) REMOTE-HANDLED WASTE.—";

(D) by striking "(B) STUDY.—";

(E) by redesignating clauses (1), (1i), and (1ii) as paragraphs (1), (2), and (3), respectively; and

(F) by realigning the margins of such clauses to be margins of paragraphs;

(4) in subsection (d), by striking ", during the test phase, a biennial" and inserting "a" and by striking ", consisting of a documented analysis of" and inserting "as necessary to demonstrate"; and

(5) by redesignating subsection (d) as subsection (b).

SEC. 3186. DISPOSAL OPERATIONS.

Subsection (b) of section 7 of the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Act (106 Stat. 4785) is amended to read as follows:

"(b) REQUIREMENTS FOR COMMENCEMENT OF DISPOSAL OPERATIONS.—The Secretary may commence emplacement of transuranic waste underground for disposal at WIPP only upon completion of—

(1) the Administrator's certification under section 8(d)(1) that the WIPP facility will comply with the final disposal regulations;

"(2) the acquisition by the Secretary (whether by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise) of Federal Oil and Gas Leases No. NMNM 02953 and No. NMNM 02953C, unless the Administrator determines under section 4(b)(5) that such acquisition is not required; and

"(3) the 30-day period beginning on the date on which the Secretary notifies Congress that the requirements of section 9(a)(1) have been met."

SEC. 3187. ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY DISPOSAL REGULATIONS.

(a) SECTION 8(d)(1).—Section 8(d)(1) of the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Act (106 Stat. 4786) is amended—

(1) by amending subparagraph (A) to read as follows:

"(A) APPLICATION FOR COMPLIANCE.—Within 30 days after the date of the enactment of the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Amendment Act, the Secretary shall provide to Congress a schedule for the incremental submission of chapters of the application to the Administrator beginning no later than 30 days after the date of the submission of the schedule. The Administrator shall review the submitted chapters and provide requests for additional information from the Secretary as needed for completeness within 45 days of the receipt of each chapter. The Administrator shall notify Congress of such requests. The schedule shall call for the Secretary to submit all chapters to the Administrator no later than October 31, 1996. The Administrator may at any time request additional information from the Secretary as needed to certify, pursuant to subparagraph (B), whether the WIPP facility will comply with the final disposal regulations.";

(2) in subparagraph (D), by striking "after the application is" and inserting "after the full application has been";

(b) SECTION 8(d)(2) and (3).—Section 8(d) of such Act is amended by striking paragraphs (2) and (3), by striking "(1) COMPLIANCE WITH DISPOSAL REGULATIONS.—" and by redesignating subparagraphs (A), (B), (C), and (D) of paragraph (1) as paragraph (1), (2), (3), and (4), respectively.

(c) SECTION 8(g).—Section 8(g) of such Act is amended to read as follows:

"(g) ENGINEERED AND NATURAL BARRIERS, ETC.—The Secretary shall use both engineered and natural barriers and any other measures (including waste form modifications) to the extent necessary at WIPP to comply with the final disposal regulations."

SEC. 3188. COMPLIANCE WITH ENVIRONMENTAL LAWS AND REGULATIONS.

(a) SECTION 9(a)(1).—Section 9(a)(1) of the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Act (106 Stat. 4788) is amended by adding after and below subparagraph (H) the following: "With respect to transuranic mixed waste designated by the Secretary for disposal at WIPP, such waste is exempt from treatment standards promulgated pursuant to section 3004(m) of the Solid Waste Disposal Act (42 U.S.C. 6924(m)) and shall not be subject to the land disposal prohibitions in section 3004 (d), (e), (f), and (g) of the Solid Waste Disposal Act."

(b) SECTION 9(b).—Subsection (b) of section 9 of such Act is repealed.

(c) SECTION 9(c)(2).—Subsection (c)(2) of section 9 of such Act is repealed.

(d) SECTION 14.—Section 14 of such Act (106 Stat. 4791) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a), by striking "No provision" and inserting "Except for the exemption from the land disposal restrictions described in section 9(a)(1), no provision"; and

(2) in subsection (b)(2), by striking "including all terms and conditions of the No-Migration Determination" and inserting "except that the transuranic mixed waste designated by the Secretary for disposal at WIPP is exempt from the land disposal restrictions described in section 9(a)(1)".

SEC. 3189. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON COMMENCEMENT OF EMPLACEMENT OF TRANSURANIC WASTE.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 10 of the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Act (106 Stat. 4789) is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 10. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON COMMENCEMENT OF EMPLACEMENT OF TRANSURANIC WASTE.

"It is the sense of Congress that the Secretary should complete all actions required under section 7(b) to commence emplacement of transuranic waste underground for disposal at WIPP not later than November 30, 1997, provided that before that date all applicable health and safety standards have been met and all applicable laws have been complied with."

(b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The item relating to section 10 in the table of contents in section 1 is amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 10. Sense of Congress on commencement of emplacement of transuranic waste."

SEC. 3190. DECOMMISSIONING OF WIPP.

Section 13 of the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Act (106 Stat. 4791) is amended—

- (1) by striking subsection (a); and
- (2) by striking "(b) MANAGEMENT PLAN FOR THE WITHDRAWAL AFTER DECOMMISSIONING.—Within 5 years after the date of the enactment of this Act, the" and inserting "The".

SEC. 3191. AUTHORIZATIONS FOR ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE AND MISCELLANEOUS PAYMENTS.

(a) AUTHORIZATION AMENDMENT.—Section 15(a) of the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant Land Withdrawal Act (106 Stat. 4791) is amended—

- (1) in the subsection caption, by striking "15-YEAR" and inserting "14-YEAR"; and
- (2) by striking "15 fiscal years beginning with the fiscal year in which the transport of transuranic waste to WIPP is initiated" and inserting "14 fiscal years beginning with fiscal year 1998".

(b) REQUIREMENT FOR SEPARATE AUTHORIZATIONS.—Such section 15(a) is further amended by adding at the end the following: "The authorization of appropriations for funds for payments to the State under the preceding sentence shall be separate from any authorization of appropriations of funds for WIPP."

(c) FISCAL YEAR 1997 FUNDING.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated for the Department of Energy by section 3102(b), $20,000,000 shall be available for the purpose of a payment by the Secretary of Energy to the State of New Mexico for road improvements in connection with the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant.

TITLE XXXII—DEFENSE NUCLEAR FACILITIES SAFETY BOARD

Sec. 3201. Authorization.

SEC. 3201. AUTHORIZATION.

There are authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 1997, $17,000,000 for the operation of the Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board under chapter 21 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2286 et seq.).

TITLE XXXIII—NATIONAL DEFENSE STOCKPILE

Subtitle A—Authorization of Disposals and Use of Funds

- Sec. 3301. Definitions.
- Sec. 3302. Authorized uses of stockpile funds.
- Sec. 3303. Disposal of certain materials in National Defense Stockpile.

Subtitle B—Programmatic Change

- Sec. 3311. Biennial report on stockpile requirements.
- Sec. 3312. Notification requirements.
- Sec. 3313. Importation of strategic and critical materials.

Subtitle A—Authorization of Disposals and Use of Funds

SEC. 3301. DEFINITIONS.

In this title:
(1) The term "National Defense Stockpile" means the stockpile provided for in section 4 of the Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act (50 U.S.C. 98c).

(2) The term "National Defense Stockpile Transaction Fund" means the fund in the Treasury of the United States established under section 9(a) of the Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act (50 U.S.C. 98h(a)).

SEC. 3302. AUTHORIZED USES OF STOCKPILE FUNDS.

(a) OBLIGATION OF STOCKPILE FUNDS.—During fiscal year 1997, the National Defense Stockpile Manager may obligate up to $60,000,000 of the funds in the National Defense Stockpile Transaction Fund for the authorized uses of such funds under section 9(b)(2) of the Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act (50 U.S.C. 98h(b)(2)).

(b) ADDITIONAL OBLIGATIONS.—The National Defense Stockpile Manager may obligate amounts in excess of the amount specified in subsection (a) if the National Defense Stockpile Manager notifies Congress that extraordinary or emergency conditions necessitate the additional obligations. The National Defense Stockpile Manager may make the additional obligations described in the notification after the end of the 45-day period beginning on the date Congress receives the notification.

(c) LIMITATIONS.—The authorities provided by this section shall be subject to such limitations as may be provided in appropriations Acts.

SEC. 3303. DISPOSAL OF CERTAIN MATERIALS IN NATIONAL DEFENSE STOCKPILE.

(a) DISPOSAL REQUIRED.—Subject to subsection (c), the President shall dispose of materials contained in the National Defense Stockpile and specified in the table in subsection (b) so as to result in receipts to the United States in amounts equal to—

- (1) $81,000,000 during fiscal year 1997; and
- (2) $612,000,000 during the ten-fiscal year period ending September 30, 2006.

(b) LIMITATION ON DISPOSAL QUANTITY.—The total quantities of materials authorized for disposal by the President under subsection (a) may not exceed the amounts set forth in the following table:

Authorized Stockpile Disposals

Material for disposal	Quantity
Aluminum	62,881 short tons
Cobalt	26,000,000 pounds contained
Columbium Ferro	930,911 pounds contained
Germanium Metal	40,000 kilograms
Indium	35,000 troy ounces
Palladium	15,000 troy ounces
Platinum	10,000 troy ounces
Rubber, Natural	125,138 long tons
Tantalum, Carbide Powder	6,000 pounds contained
Tantalum, Minerals	750,000 pounds contained
Tantalum, Oxide	40,000 pounds contained

(c) MINIMIZATION OF DISRUPTION AND LOSS.—The President may not dispose of materials under subsection (a) to the extent that the disposal will result in—

- (1) undue disruption of the usual markets of producers, processors, and consumers of the materials proposed for disposal; or
- (2) avoidable loss to the United States.

(d) TREATMENT OF RECEIPTS.—Notwithstanding section 9 of the Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act (50 U.S.C. 98h), funds received as a result of the disposal of materials under subsection (a) shall be—

- (1) deposited into the general fund of the Treasury; and
- (2) to the extent necessary, used to offset the revenues that will be lost as a result of execution of the amendments made by section 4303(a) of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 658).

(e) QUALIFYING OFFSETTING LEGISLATION.—This section is specifically enacted as qualifying offsetting legislation for the purpose of offsetting fully the estimated revenues lost as a result of the amendments made by subsection (a) of section 4303 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1996 (Public Law 104-106; 110 Stat. 658), and as such is deemed to satisfy the conditions in subsection (b) of such section.

(f) RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER DISPOSAL AUTHORITY.—The disposal authority provided in subsection (a) is new disposal authority and is in addition to, and shall not affect, any other disposal authority provided by law regarding the materials specified in such subsection.

Subtitle B—Programmatic Change

SEC. 3311. BIENNIAL REPORT ON STOCKPILE REQUIREMENTS.

(a) NATIONAL EMERGENCY PLANNING ASSUMPTIONS.—Section 14 of the Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act (50 U.S.C. 98h-5) is amended—

- (1) by redesignating subsection (c) as subsection (e); and
- (2) by striking out subsection (b) and inserting in lieu thereof the following new subsection:

"(b) Each report under this section shall set forth the national emergency planning assumptions used by the Secretary in making the Secretary's recommendations under subsection (a)(1) with respect to stockpile requirements. The Secretary shall base the national emergency planning assumptions on a military conflict scenario consistent with the scenario used by the Secretary in budgeting and defense planning purposes. The assumptions to be set forth include assumptions relating to each of the following:

"(1) The length and intensity of the assumed military conflict.

"(2) The military force structure to be mobilized.

"(3) The losses anticipated from enemy action.

"(4) The military, industrial, and essential civilian requirements to support the national emergency.

"(5) The availability of supplies of strategic and critical materials from foreign sources during the mobilization period, the military conflict, and the subsequent period of replenishment, taking into consideration possible shipping losses.

"(6) The domestic production of strategic and critical materials during the mobilization period, the military conflict, and the subsequent period of replenishment, taking into consideration possible shipping losses.

"(7) Civilian austerity measures required during the mobilization period and military conflict.

"(c) The stockpile requirements shall be based on those strategic and critical materials necessary for the United States to replenish or replace, within three years of the end of the military conflict scenario required under subsection (b), all munitions, combat support items, and weapons systems that would be required after such a military conflict.

"(d) The Secretary shall also include in each report under this section an examination of the effect that alternative mobilization periods under the military conflict scenario required under subsection (b), as well as a range of other military conflict scenarios addressing potentially more serious threats to national security, would have on the Secretary's recommendations under subsection (a)(1) with respect to stockpile requirements."

(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 2 of such Act (50 U.S.C. 98a) is amended by striking out subsection (c) and inserting in lieu thereof the following new subsection:

"(c) The purpose of the National Defense Stockpile is to serve the interest of national defense only. The National Defense Stockpile is not to be used for economic or budgetary purposes."

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall take effect on October 1, 1996.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1212 (22 U.S.C. 3652) is amended to read as follows:

“PANAMA CANAL EMPLOYMENT SYSTEM; MERIT AND OTHER EMPLOYMENT REQUIREMENTS

“SEC. 1212. (a) The Commission shall establish a Panama Canal Employment System and prescribe the regulations necessary for its administration. The Panama Canal Employment System shall—

“(1) be established in accordance with and be subject to the provisions of the Panama Canal Treaty of 1977 and related agreements, the provisions of this chapter, and any other applicable provision of law;

“(2) be based on the consideration of the merit of each employee or candidate for employment and the qualifications and fitness of the employee to hold the position concerned;

“(3) conform, to the extent practicable and consistent with the provisions of this Act, to the policies, principles, and standards applicable to the competitive service;

“(4) in the case of employees who are citizens of the United States, provide for the appropriate interchange of those employees between positions under the Panama Canal Employment System and positions in the competitive service; and “(5) not be subject to the provisions of title 5, United States Code, unless specifically made applicable by this Act.

“(b)(1) The head of any Executive agency (other than the Commission) and the Smithsonian Institution may elect to have the Panama Canal Employment System made applicable in whole or in part to personnel of that agency in the Republic of Panama.

“(2) Any Executive agency (other than the Commission) and the Smithsonian Institution, to the extent of any election under paragraph (1), shall conduct its employment and pay practices relating to employees in accordance with the Panama Canal Employment System.

“(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act or the Panama Canal Act Amendments of 1996, this subchapter, as last in effect before the effective date of section 3530 of the Panama Canal Act Amendments of 1996, shall continue to apply to an Executive agency or the Smithsonian Institution to the extent of an election under paragraph (1) by the head of agency or the Institution, respectively.

“(c) The Commission may exclude any employee or position from coverage under any provision of this subchapter, other than the interchange rights extended under subsection (a)(4).”

(b) SAVINGS PROVISIONS.—The Panama Canal Employment System and all elections, rules, regulations, and orders relating thereto, as last in effect before the amendment made by subsection (a) takes effect, shall continue in effect, according to their terms, until modified, terminated, or superseded under section 1212 of the Panama Canal Act of 1979, as amended by subsection (a).

Section 1245 (22 U.S.C. 3682) is amended by striking so much as precedes subsection (b) and inserting the following:

"ADMINISTRATION OF CERTAIN DISABILITY BENEFITS

"SEC. 1245. (a)(1) The Commission, or any other United States Government agency or private entity acting pursuant to an agreement with the Commission, under the Act entitled 'An Act authorizing cash relief for certain employees of the Panama Canal not coming within the provisions of the Canal Zone Retirement Act', approved July 8, 1937

(50 Stat. 478; 68 Stat. 17), may continue the payments of cash relief to those individual former employees of the Canal Zone Government or Panama Canal Company or their predecessor agencies not coming within the scope of the former Canal Zone Retirement Act whose services were terminated prior to October 5, 1958, because of unfitness for further useful service by reason of mental or physical disability resulting from age or disease.

"(2) Subject to subsection (b), cash relief under this subsection may not exceed $1.50 per month for each year of service of the employees so furnished relief, with a maximum of $45 per month, plus the amount of any cost-of-living increases in such cash relief granted before October 1, 1979, pursuant to section 181 of title 2 of the Canal Zone Code (as in effect on September 30, 1979), nor be paid to any employee who, at the time of termination for disability prior to October 5, 1958, had less than 10 years' service with the Canal Zone Government, the Panama Canal Company, or their predecessor agencies on the Isthmus of Panama."

SEC. 3539. PANAMA CANAL REVOLVING FUND.

Section 1302 of the Panama Canal Act of 1979 (22 U.S.C. 3712) is amended to read as follows:

"PANAMA CANAL REVOLVING FUND

"SEC. 1302. (a) There is established in the Treasury of the United States a revolving fund to be known as 'Panama Canal Revolving Fund'. The Panama Canal Revolving Fund shall, subject to subsection (b), be available to the Commission to carry out the purposes, functions, and powers authorized by this Act, including for—

"(1) the hire of passenger motor vehicles and aircraft;

"(2) uniforms or allowances therefor;

"(3) official receptions and representation expenses of the Board, the Secretary of the Commission, and the Administrator;

"(4) the operation of guide services;

"(5) a residence for the Administrator;

"(6) disbursements by the Administrator for employee and community projects;

"(7) the procurement of expert and consultant services;

"(8) promotional activities, including the preparation, distribution, or use of any kit, pamphlet, booklet, publication, radio, television, film, or other media presentation designed to promote the Panama Canal as a resource of the world shipping industry; and

"(9) the purchase and transportation to the Republic of Panama of passenger motor vehicles, including large, heavy-duty vehicles.

"(b)(1) There shall be deposited in the Panama Canal Revolving Fund, on a continuing basis, toll receipts (other than amounts of toll receipts deposited into the Panama Canal Commission Dissolution Fund under section 1305) and all other receipts of the Commission. Except as provided in section 1303, no funds may be obligated or expended by the Commission in any fiscal year unless such obligation or expenditure has been specifically authorized by law.

"(2) No funds may be authorized for the use of the Commission, or obligated or expended by the Commission in any fiscal year, in excess of—

"(A) the amount of revenues deposited in the Panama Canal Revolving Fund and the Panama Canal Commission Dissolution Fund during such fiscal year, plus

"(B) the amount of revenues deposited in the Panama Canal Revolving Fund before such fiscal year and remaining unobligated at the beginning of such fiscal year; plus

"(C) the $100,000,000 borrowing authority provided for in section 1304 of this Act.

Not later than 30 days after the end of each fiscal year, the Secretary of the Treasury shall report to the Congress the amount of revenues deposited in the Panama Canal Revolving Fund during such fiscal year.

"(c) With the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Commission may deposit amounts in the Panama Canal Revolving Fund in any Federal Reserve bank, any depository for public funds, or such other place and in such manner as the Commission and the Secretary may agree.

"(d)(1) It is the sense of the Congress that the additional costs resulting from the implementation of the Panama Canal Treaty of 1977 and related agreements should be kept to the absolute minimum level. To this end, the Congress declares appropriated costs of implementation to be borne by the taxpayers over the life of such Treaty should be kept to a level no greater than the March 1979 estimate of those costs ($870,700,000) presented to the Congress by the executive branch during consideration of this Act by the Congress, less personnel retirement costs of $205,000,000, which were subtracted and charged to tolls, therefore resulting in net taxpayer cost of approximately $665,700,000, plus appropriate adjustments for inflation.

"(2) It is further the sense of the Congress that the actual costs of implementation be consistent with the obligations of the United States to operate the Panama Canal safely and efficiently and keep it secure."

SEC. 3540. PRINTING.

Title I is amended in chapter 3 (22 U.S.C. 3711 et seq.) by adding at the end of subchapter I the following new section:

"PRINTING

"SEC. 1306. (a) Section 501 of title 44, United States Code, shall not apply to direct purchase by the Commission for its use of printing, binding, and blank-book work in the Republic of Panama when the Commission determines that such direct purchase is in the best interest of the Government.

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The managers on the part of the House and the Senate at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendment of the Senate to the bill (H.R. 3230) to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 1997 for defense activities of the Department of Defense, for military construction, and for defense programs of the Department of Energy, to prescribe personnel strengths for such fiscal year for the Armed Forces, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the House and the Senate in explanation of the effect of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report:

The Senate amendment struck out all of the House bill after the enacting clause and inserted a substitute text.

The House recedes from its disagreement to the amendment of the Senate with an amendment which is a substitute for the House bill and the Senate amendment. The differences between the House bill, the Senate amendment, and the substitute agreed to in conference are noted below, except for clerical corrections, conforming changes made necessary by agreements reached by the conferees, and minor drafting and clarifying changes.

SUMMARY STATEMENT OF CONFERENCE ACTION

The conferees recommend authorizations for the Department of Defense for procurement, research and development, test and evaluation, operation and maintenance, working capital funds, military construction and family housing, weapons programs of the Department of Energy, and civil defense that have a budget authority implication of $265.6 billion.

SUMMARY TABLE OF AUTHORIZATIONS

The defense authorization act provides authorizations for appropriations but does not generally provide budget authority. Budget authority is generally provided in appropriation acts.

In order to relate the conference recommendations to the Budget Resolution, matters in addition to the dollar authorizations contained in this bill must be taken into account. A number of programs in the defense function are authorized permanently or, in certain instances, authorized in other annual legislation. In addition, this authorization bill would establish personnel levels and include a number of legislative provisions affecting military compensation.

The following table summarizes authorizations included in the bill for fiscal year 1997 and, in addition, summarizes the implication of the conference action for the budget totals for national defense (budget function 050).

Congressional defense committees

The term "congressional defense committees" is often used in this statement of the managers. It means the Defense Authorization and Appropriations Committees of the Senate and House of Representatives.

DIVISION A—DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE AUTHORIZATIONS

TITLE I—PROCUREMENT

Overview

The budget request for fiscal year 1997 contained an authorization of $39,208.4 million for procurement in the Department of Defense. The House bill would authorize $47,164.9 million. The Senate amendment would authorize $46,900.6 million. The conferees recommended an authorization of $45,272.1 million. Unless noted explicitly in the statement of managers, all changes are made without prejudice.

Airborne Reconnaissance Low (ARL)

The budget request included $24.7 million to procure the final ARL-M aircraft and mission equipment.

The House bill would authorize an increase of $5.2 million to complete the moving target indicator (MTI) upgrade.

The Senate amendment would support the budget request.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees understand that the Army reprogrammed fiscal year 1996 funds that were authorized and appropriated for converting ARL-I and ARL-C aircraft to the ARL-M configuration. These funds were applied to incorporate an MTI radar into the ARL. Although the reprogramming action was within the scope of the Department's authority, the conferees are concerned with the Army's failure to notify the appropriate committee of what it considers a major shift of the funds. The conferees do, however, support the validated requirement or MTI on ARL, and are aware that funds have not been budgeted to complete the MTI purchase.

Therefore, the conferees agree to authorize $29.9 million to provide the necessary funding to complete the ARL-I-C conversion to ARL-M and complete the MTI radar upgrade. The conferees fully expect the Army to budget for completion of the ARL-I-C conversion in future budget requests.

C-XX medium range aircraft

The budget request did not contain any funds for UC-35A (C-XX) aircraft.

The Army has identified the UC-35A as its highest priority fixed-wing program due to the operational efficiencies derived from its modern design. The conferees also note the savings achieved through the competitive procurement of this aircraft. However, the budget request included no funds to procure additional aircraft.

The House bill would support the budget request.

The Senate amendment would authorize an increase of $35.0 million for eight production UC-35A turboprop aircraft.

The conferees agree to authorize an increase of $22.0 million to procure five UC-35A aircraft.

CH-47 modifications

The budget request included $7.8 million to procure safety and operational modifications for the CH-47 helicopter fleet.

The conferees remain concerned about the heavy lift capability for the Army and the ability of an aging fleet to perform this critical mission. Over time, modifications to the existing CH-47 airframe have added significant weight to the aircraft, requiring an upgrade to the current engine configuration. It is expected that the proposed T55-L-714 engine will increase payload capability by up to 3900 pounds and greatly reduce operation and maintenance costs over the life cycle of the new engine.

The House bill would add $52.0 million to accelerate engine conversions for contingency corps aircraft. The Senate amendment would add $52.3 million for the same purpose.

The conferees agree to authorize $59.8 million to begin the upgrade process for the fleet.

Longbow

The budget request included $373.9 million to procure Apache Longbow (AH-64) systems.

The House bill and the Senate amendment would authorize an increase of $53.0 million to procure training devices for these important aircraft.

The conferees note the outstanding requirement of institutional training devices. These devices are an essential element of aviation training activities and need to be fielded as soon as practicable.

The conferees agree to authorize $426.9 million to accelerate the delivery of these devices in accordance with the updated AF-64D fielding review.

OH-58D Kiowa Warrior

The budget request included $9.1 million to complete fielding of previously procured Kiowa Warrior systems.

The House bill would authorize an increase of $190.0 million to convert 24 aircraft.

The Senate amendment would authorize an increase of $158.4 million to complete outstanding retrofit requirements and convert 15 aircraft.

The Senate recesses.

The conferees agree to authorize a total of $199.1 million.

Aircraft survivability equipment modifications

The budget request included $4.8 million for aircraft survivability equipment.

The House bill would add $20.0 million to procure additional aviation survivability equipment.

The Senate amendment would add $34.0 million.

The conferees agree to authorize $25.8 million to support vital aircraft survivability modifications as follows:

- (1) $11.0 million for AN/AVR-2A(V) laser detection sets;
- (2) $5.0 million for radar deception and jamming device integration; and
- (3) $5.0 million to accelerate procurement of installation kits for advanced threat infrared countermeasure devices.

Overview

The budget request for fiscal year 1997 contained an authorization of $766.3 million for Missile Procurement, Army in the Department of Defense. The House bill would authorize $1,027.8 million. The Senate amendment would authorize $1,160.8 million. The conferees recommended an authorization of $1,031.8 million. Unless noted explicitly in the statement of managers, all changes are made without prejudice.

Avenger

The budget request included no funding for Avenger fire units for the National Guard.

The House bill would authorize an increase of $59.4 million to procure 93 Avenger fire units. The House bill included a provision (sec. 112) that would grant an extension to the Avenger multiyear procurement authorization.

The Senate amendment would support the budget request.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees agree to recommend $59.4 million to complete contract buyout of Avenger fire units. The conferees agree to a legislative provision that would extend the Avenger multiyear procurement authority to accommodate the contract buyout.

Javelin medium anti-tank weapon

The budget request included $162.1 million to procure 1,020 Javelin missiles.

The House bill would authorize an increase of $33.9 million to procure an additional 300 missiles and to accelerate production and fielding of command launch units (CLUs).

The Senate amendment would: authorize the Army to enter into a multiyear contract for Javelin missiles; authorize an increase of $5.7 million for accelerated production and fielding of CLUs; and authorize an additional $34.0 million for economic order quantity procurement of material.

The conferees agree to authorize $196.0 million for the Javelin system for economic order quantity procurement of material.

Multiple Launch Rocket System (MLRS) rocket

The budget request included $24.4 million to procure 852 extended range rockets.

The House bill and the Senate amendment would authorize an additional $17.0 million in order to maintain a stable production rate and procure additional rockets.

The conferees agree to a total of $41.4 million for MLRS rocket production.

Multiple Launch Rocket System (MLRS) launcher

The budget request included $38.0 million for program support to fielded launchers.

The House bill would authorize an increase of $66.2 million to support Army National Guard (ARNG) efforts to convert artillery battalions to MLRS configuration. Of this amount, $36.3 million would be available to rebuild 36 MLRS launchers and $29.9 million for training equipment and spare parts.

The Senate amendment would add $147.0 million, including $110.0 million to procure four of six batteries to restructure fire support for heavy divisions, and $37.0 million to refurbish four batteries to support ARNG modernization.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees agree to a total of $104.2 million for MLRS launchers.

Stinger missile modifications

The budget request included $16.9 million for missile hardware and software modifications.

The House bill would add $15.0 million to retrofit an additional 1,000 missiles to the Block I configuration and $5.0 million to modify both ground and air platforms to employ the missiles.

The Senate amendment would authorize an increase of $7.0 million to raise the retrofit production rate to an economic level and $15.8 million to support production and installation of new modules in Force Package 1 and 2 platforms.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees agree to authorize $36.9 million for Stinger modifications. Of this amount, the conferees recommend that $470,000 be used for the qualification and limited production proofing of asbestos-free Stinger rocket motors to support a future production capability.

Dragon missile

The budget request included $3.2 million for Dragon missile modifications.

The House bill would support the budget request.

The Senate amendment would authorize an increase of $25.0 million to support lethality enhancements to fielded missiles.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees agree to an increase of $25.0 million in the Army National Guard modernization authorization for Dragon missile lethality enhancements.

Overview

The budget request for fiscal year 1997 contained an authorization of $1,102.0 million for Weapons and Tracked Combat Vehicles Procurement, Army in the Department of Defense. The House bill would authorize $1,334.8 million. The Senate amendment would authorize $1,460.1 million. The conferees recommended an authorization of $1,409.5 million. Unless noted explicitly in the statement of managers, all changes are made without prejudice.

Bradley Fighting Vehicle (BFV)

The budget request included $134.4 million for the Bradley base sustainment program.

The House bill would support the budget request.

The Senate amendment would authorize an increase of $57.2 million to procure Bradley vehicles.

The House recedes.

The conferees note the budget request supports the procurement of the first low-rate initial production models of the A3 version of the BFV. Recognizing the enhanced capabilities of the A3 model, as well as the benefit of achieving the low rate initial production requirement faster, the conferees agree to an increase of $57.2 million to procure an additional 18 vehicles.

The conferees agree to authorize $191.6 million for the BFV.

Carrier modifications (M113)

The budget request included $23.0 million to continue modernization of the M113 armored personnel carrier family of vehicles.

The House bill would provide an increase of $29.0 million.

The Senate amendment would provide an increase of $20.0 million.

The House recedes.

The conferees agree to authorize $43.0 million for M113 upgrades.

Bradley modifications

The budget request included $83.7 million for Bradley system modifications.

The House bill and the Senate amendment would authorize an increase of $35.5 million to buy out the requirement for reactive armor tiles and establish a domestic production capability.

The conferees agree to authorize an additional $35.5 million for this purpose.

Paladin/Field Artillery Ammunition Support Vehicle (FAASV)

The budget request did not include any funds to procure Paladins/FAASVs for the Army National Guard.

The House bill would add $61.0 million to procure one battalion set of Paladins/FAASVs.

The Senate amendment would add $112.0 million to procure two battalion sets of Paladins/FAASVs.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees agree to authorize $61.0 million for the procurement of one battalion set of Paladins/FAASVs (24 of each) and direct that these systems be exclusively for the Army National Guard.

Improved Recovery Vehicle

The budget request included $28.6 million to procure 12 M88A1E1 Hercules Improved Recovery Vehicles.

The House bill would authorize an increase of $27.1 million for these vehicles.

The Senate amendment would authorize an increase of $51.1 million.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees agree to authorize $55.7 million to procure Hercules vehicles. The conferees understand the importance of procuring these vehicles as soon as possible because the older M88A1 lacks the necessary horsepower and braking ability to support recovery of the Abrams main battle tank safely.

M1 Abrams tank (modifications)

The budget request included $50.2 million to procure modification kits for the M1 Abrams tank to improve lethality, survivability, and safety.

The House bill would authorize $40.2 million in procurement and mover $10.0 million to research and development to fund development of under-armor auxiliary power units (APUs).

The Senate amendment would authorize an increase of $15.0 million to procure external APUs and additional pulse-jet air systems (PJAS).

The conferees are concerned about operation and maintenance costs for the Abrams fleet and have noted the successful application of external APUs in reducing the requirement for main engine idling during defensive operations. Demand for the external APU by soldiers in Bosnia is a significant endorsement for this modification.

Additionally, the conferees note progress toward correcting an established Operation Desert Storm deficiency with the air filtration system on the Abrams. Recognizing the enhancement to the combat capability of a unit made by installing the PJAS, the conferees support an acceleration of procurement for these devices.

The conferees agree to authorize $55.2 million, which reflects a $10.0 million transfer to PE 23735A to develop an under-armor APU system and a increase of $15.0 million to procure external APU and PJAS systems. The conferees encourage the Army to ensure future year funding is provided to complete the modification required for the Abrams fleet.

Armored combat earthmover (ACE)

The budget request included no funding for the ACE.

The House bill would authorize an increase of $50.7 million to procure 54 vehicles.

The Senate amendment contained no additional funding.

The Senate recedes.

The conferees agree to authorize $50.7 million to procure 54 vehicles.

Small arms programs

The budget request included: $5.6 million for the M4 carbine; 5.6 million for the M16 rifle; $11.1 million for the M249 squad automatic weapon; $5.2 million for the MK19 automatic grenade launcher; and no funds for procurement of M240 medium machine guns.

The conferees are concerned about the production capability of the small arms industrial base and agree to authorize an increase of $51.0 million to the budget request as indicated below:

	Dollars (M) (Increase)	Dollars (M) (Total auth)
M240 Machine gun	20.0	20.0
M4 Carbine	1.0	6.6
M16 Rifle	1.0	6.6
M249 Squad automatic weapon	1.0	12.1
MK19 Automatic grenade launcher	28.0	33.2

Overview

The budget request for fiscal year 1997 contained an authorization of $853.4 million for Ammunition Procurement, Army in the Department of Defense. The House bill would authorize $1,160.7 million. The conferees recommended an authorization of $1,003.0 million. The Senate amendment would authorize $1,156.7 million. Unless noted explicitly in the statement of managers, all changes are made without prejudice.
