"(3) implement voluntary disclosure programs for firms and individuals participating in projects financed by such bank;

"(4) ensure that all loan, credit, guarantee, and grant documents and other agreements with borrowers include provisions for the financial resources and conditionality necessary to ensure that a person or country that obtains financial support from a bank complies with applicable bank policies and national and international laws in carrying out the terms and conditions of such documents and agreements, including bank policies and national and international laws pertaining to the comprehensive assessment and transparency of the activities related to access to information, public health, safety, and environmental protection;

"(10) require that for each project where compensation is to be provided to persons adversely affected by the project, such persons have recourse to an impartial and responsive mechanism to receive and resolve complaints. The mechanism should be easily accessible to all segments of the affected community without impeding access to other judicial or administrative remedies and without retribution;

“(1) implement best practices in domestic laws and international conventions against corruption for whistleblower and witness disclosures and protections against retaliation for internal and lawful public disclosures by the bank’s employees and others affected by such bank’s operations who challenge illegality or other misconduct that could threaten the bank’s mission, including (1) best practices for legal burdens of proof, (2) access to independent adjudicative bodies, including external arbitration based on consensus selection and shared costs, and (3) results that eliminate the effects of proven retaliation; and

“(12) require, to the maximum extent possible, that all draft country strategies are issued for public consideration no less than 45 days before the country strategy is considered by the multilateral development bank board of directors.

“(b) The Secretary of the Treasury shall, beginning thirty days after the enactment of this Act and within sixty calendar days of the meeting of the respective bank’s Board of Directors at which such decisions are made, publish on the Department of the Treasury website a statement or explanation of the United States position on decisions related to (1) operational policies; and (2) any proposal which would result or be likely to result in a significant effect on the environment.

“(c) In this section the term ‘multilateral development bank’ has the meaning given that term in section 1307 of the International Financial Institutions Act (22 U.S.C. 262m-7) and also includes the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development and the Global Environment Facility.”

¶121.6 40TH ANNIVERSARY OF NOSTRA AETATE

Mr. POE moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 260); as amended:

Whereas 2005 marks the 40th anniversary of the promulgation of Nostra Aetate, the declaration on the relation of the Roman Catholic Church to non-Christian religions:

Whereas on October 28, 1965, after the overwhelmingly affirmative vote of the Second Vatican Council of the Roman Catholic Church, Pope Paul VI issued Nostra Aetate, which means “in our time”;

Whereas Nostra Aetate affirmed the respect of the Roman Catholic Church for Hinduism, Buddhism, Islam, and Judaism, and exhorted Catholics to engage in “dialogue and collaboration with the followers of other religions”;

Whereas Nostra Aetate made possible a new relationship between Catholics and Jews worldwide and opened a chapter in Jewish-Christian relations that is unprecedented in its closeness and warmth;

Whereas Nostra Aetate states that the Roman Catholic Church “decries hatred, persecution, displays of anti-Semitism, directed against Jews at any time and by anyone”; and

Whereas Nostra Aetate clearly states that “No foundation therefore remains for any theory or practice that leads to discrimination between man and man or people and people, so far as their human dignity and the rights flowing from it are concerned.”: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That Congress—

(1) recognizes the 40th anniversary of the Second Vatican Council's promulgation of Nostra Aetate, the declaration on the relation of the Roman Catholic Church to non-Christian religions;

(2) appreciates the role of the Holy See in combating religious intolerance and religious discrimination;

(3) encourages the United States to continue to serve in a leading role in combating anti-Semitism and other forms of religious intolerance and religious discrimination worldwide;

(4) acknowledges the role of Nostra Aetate in fostering interreligious dialogue and mutual respect, including, in particular, new relationships of collaboration and dialogue between Jews and Catholics since the issuance of Nostra Aetate; and

(5) requests the President to issue a proclamation recognizing the 40th anniversary of Nostra Aetate and the historic role of Nostra Aetate in fostering mutual interreligious respect and dialogue.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. STEARNS, recognized Mr. POE and Mr. BLUMENAUER, each for 20 minutes.

¶121.8 NATIONAL OVARIAN CANCER AWARENESS MONTH

Mr. UPTON moved to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution (H. Res. 444); as amended:

Resolved,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Gynecological Resolution for Advancement of Ovarian Cancer Education”.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds that—

(1) ovarian cancer is a serious and under-recognized threat to women's health;

(2) ovarian cancer is the fourth leading cause of cancer death among women living in the United States;

(3) ovarian cancer is very treatable when it is detected early, but the vast majority of cases are not diagnosed until the cancer has spread beyond the ovaries;

(4) only 19 percent of ovarian cancer cases in the United States are diagnosed in the early stages;

(5) in cases where ovarian cancer is detected before it has spread beyond the ovaries, more than 94 percent of women will survive longer than five years;

(6) many people do not know that ovarian cancer often presents with persistent symptoms such as abdominal pressure, bloating, discomfort, nausea, indigestion, constipation, diarrhea, frequent urination, abnormal bleeding, unusual fatigue, unexplained weight loss or gain, and shortness of breath;

(7) many people do not know that certain women are at higher risk for developing ovarian cancer if they have risk factors, including increasing age, a personal or family history of ovarian, breast, or colon cancer, and not having had children;

(8) raising public awareness of ovarian cancer by educating doctors and women about the disease will save lives;

(9) ovarian cancer research is needed to develop early detection tools, prevention methods, enhanced therapies, and a cure;

(10) there are still large gaps in knowledge on key scientific aspects of the disease;

(11) there is still no reliable and easy-to-administer screening test for ovarian cancer;

(12) President George W. Bush proclaimed September 2005 as National Ovarian Cancer Awareness Month; and

(13) during the month of September, the Ovarian Cancer National Alliance and its 46 State and regional groups held hundreds of events across the country to increase public awareness of the disease.

SEC. 3. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

The House of Representatives supports the goals and ideals of National Ovarian Cancer Awareness Month, and it is the sense of the House of Representatives that—

(1) awareness and early recognition of ovarian cancer symptoms are currently the best way to save women's lives; and

(2) ovarian cancer research should be well-funded so that a reliable screening test can be developed and a cure can be found.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. STEARNS, recognized Mr. UPTON and Mr. DEFAZIO, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said resolution, as amended?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. STEARNS, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

Mr. UPTON demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. STEARNS, pursuant to clause 8, rule XX, announced that further proceedings on the question were postponed.

¶122.6 ORGANIZATION FOR ECONOMIC CO-OPERATION AND DEVELOPMENT

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 38); as amended:

Whereas Israel has been trying to join the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) since 2000, when it met the OECD's membership requirements relating to industrial and per-capita product criteria;

Whereas in March 2005, OECD Secretary-General Donald Johnston stated that expanding the OECD's membership to include more countries is vital if the group is to remain a forum for discussing global economic policies;

Whereas in 2004, Israeli Foreign Minister Silvan Shalom and then Finance Minister Binyamin Netanyahu sent a joint letter to the foreign and finance ministers of the 30 member countries of the OECD, stating that Israel's involvement as a non-member country in the OECD's various committees is increasing, and that Israel meets the economic and institutional criteria required to join the OECD;

Whereas in October 2004, then Israeli Finance Minister Binyamin Netanyahu stated that joining the OECD was of strategic importance for repositioning Israel's economy from an emerging market to a developed one, adding that membership in the OECD would attract foreign investment;

Whereas in August 2004, the Israel Laboratory Accreditation Authority was invited to become a full member of the OECD Environment Policy Committee, the first committee that Israel has been invited to join as a full member;

Whereas Israel was asked to take part in the OECD's Insurance and Commerce Committees;

Whereas in March 2005, Israel was formally accepted as an observer on the OECD's Financial Statistics Committee, allowing experts from the Bank of Israel and Central Bureau of Statistics to participate in the committee's meetings;

Whereas the World Bank ranks Israel among the 25 countries in which it is easiest to do business;

Whereas Israel's tax burden, encompassing income and property taxes, customs duties, value-added taxes (VAT) and national insurance, is much lower than in most OECD member countries;

Whereas membership in the OECD could enhance Israel's status on the global market and within international financial institutions, lowering the risk factor on foreign loans to Israel;

Whereas Israel's economic and technological standing could potentially benefit OECD member countries in the science and technology, including high-technology, sectors;

Whereas in 2003, the World Economic Forum ranked Israel 20th out of 102 countries in its Growth Competitiveness Index, and the World Economic Forum's Technology Index ranked Israel 9th, before Canada (11th), Norway (13th), Germany (14th), the United Kingdom (16th), and the Netherlands (18th); and

Whereas Israel is carrying out far reaching economic reforms based on the OECD's recommendations with respect to taxes, labor, competition, capital markets, pension funds, energy, infrastructures, communications, and transport; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the House of Representatives that—

(1) Israel shares the commitment to democratic government and the market economy that is the foundation of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD);

(2) Israel meets the OECD's membership requirements and has been an active participant as a non-member country in various OECD activities, such as adherence to the OECD Declaration on International Investment and Multinational Enterprises; and

(3) the United States Government should support and advocate the accession of Israel to the OECD, including through coordination of efforts with Mexico, Great Britain, and other countries supportive of Israel's membership in the OECD.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CULBERSON, recognized Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN and Mr. LANTOS, each for 20 minutes.

Mr. Sam JOHNSON of Texas, moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 302); as amended:

Whereas as of early November 2005, more than 460,000 members of the National Guard and the other reserve components have been mobilized for active duty since September 11, 2001, leaving their families to protect the United States in the Global War on Terrorism or to support hurricane disaster relief operations;

Whereas during this period of increased mobilization and deployment, employers in the spirit of patriotism have maintained job security for those mobilized reserve-component members and their families;

Whereas the Civilian Employment Information Program of the Department of Defense, a database program implemented by the Department of Defense as of March 31, 2004, to identify employers of the 1,100,000 members of the National Guard and the other reserve components, will enable the Department of Defense to improve communication with the employer community and target support and render assistance to employers of reserve component personnel who are identified for mobilization;

Whereas employers of all sizes understand that the predictable mobilization and deployment of members of the National Guard and the other reserve components are the keys to building and maintaining employer support;

Whereas the employer community continues to work with the Department of Defense to show its support for the National Guard and the other reserve components and to better understand and adhere to the obligations spelled out in the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act; and

Whereas the employer community recognizes that the missions and duties of members of the Armed Forces both abroad and in securing the homeland will be necessary: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the House of Representatives that—

(1) the employers of members of the National Guard and the other reserve components deserve the Nation's sincere recognition and gratitude for their sacrifice and strong support of the goals and struggles of the United States during the Global War on Terrorism and in support of hurricane disaster relief operations;

(2) those distinguished employers of the members of the National Guard and the other reserve components who have gone above and beyond the obligations and requirements of the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act deserve the Nation's commendation; and

(3) the Secretary of Defense should continue to develop long-term strategies to maintain a high level of support between the Department of Defense and employers of members of the National Guard and the other reserve components by—

(A) continuing to build and maintain the Civilian Employment Information Program database of the Department of Defense implemented by the Department of Defense as of March 31, 2004;

(B) continuing to work with employers to build a more predictable system for the mo-

¶122.18 POINT OF ORDER

Mr. REGULA made a point of order against the motion to instruct, and said:

"Mr. Speaker, I make a point of order against the motion because it violates clause 9 of rule XXII by proposing to direct the conferees to exceed the scope of matters committed to the conference. And I ask for a ruling from the Chair."

Mr. OBEY was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

"Mr. Speaker, if one looks at the Budget Act, the purpose of the Budget Act was to force a Congress to get away from runaway spending and runaway deficits by forcing the Congress to confront trade-offs between spending and revenues. In fact, the Congress is being prevented from doing that and the Congress is being shielded from facing those explicit trade-offs unless amendments such as this are offered and debated fully in the House.

"We recognize that funding for these programs under the budget resolution is being cut back in order to make room in that same budget resolution for the tax cuts that have been provided and to make room for further tax cuts which the majority party is talking about offering this week. If we cannot offer this kind of an amendment, then it would seem to me that the entire budget process has been intellectually corrupted and turned into a mere enforcement mechanism for majority party will rather than being used as a device to work out an explicit and forthright set of trade-offs.

"I would urge the Chair to reject the point of order."

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. SIMMONS, sustained the point of order, and said:

"The Chair is prepared to rule on the point of order.

"The Chair finds that the proposed instructions dwell their operative focus on matters not within the scope of the differences committed to conference by the two Houses.

"On these premises, the Chair holds that the instructions do exceed the scope of conference.

"The point of order is sustained."

Mr. OBEY appealed the ruling of the Chair.

The question being stated, viva voce, Will the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the House?

Mr. REGULA moved to lay the appeal on the table.

GENERAL PROVISIONS DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

SEC. 301. (a)(1) None of the funds in this or any other appropriations Act for fiscal year 2006 or any previous fiscal year may be used to make payments for a noncompetitive management and operating contract unless the Secretary of Energy has published in the Federal Register and submitted to the Committees on Appropriations of the House of Representatives and the Senate a written notification, with respect to each such contract, of the Secretary's decision to use competitive procedures for the award of the contract, or to not renew the contract, when the term of the contract expires.

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply to an extension for up to 2 years of a noncompetitive management and operating contract, if the extension is for purposes of allowing time to award competitively a new contract, to provide continuity of service between contracts, or to complete a contract that will not be renewed.

(b) In this section:

(1) The term "noncompetitive management and operating contract" means a contract that was awarded more than 50 years ago without competition for the management and operation of Ames Laboratory, Argonne National Laboratory, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory, Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, and Los Alamos National Laboratory.

(2) The term "competitive procedures" has the meaning provided in section 4 of the Office of Federal Procurement Policy Act (41 U.S.C. 403) and includes procedures described in section 303 of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 (41 U.S.C. 253) other than a procedure that solicits a proposal from only one source.

(c) For all management and operating contracts other than those listed in subsection (b)(1), none of the funds appropriated by this Act may be used to award a management and operating contract, or award a significant extension or expansion to an existing management and operating contract, unless such contract is awarded using competitive procedures or the Secretary of Energy grants, on a case-by-case basis, a waiver to allow for such a deviation. The Secretary may not delegate the authority to grant such a waiver. At least 60 days before a contract award for which the Secretary intends to grant such a waiver, the Secretary shall submit to the Committees on Appropriations of the House of Representatives and the Senate a report notifying the Committees of the waiver and setting forth, in specificity, the substantive reasons why the Secretary believes the requirement for competition should be waived for this particular award.

SEC. 302. None of the funds appropriated by this Act may be used to—

Available balances may be merged with funds in the applicable established accounts and thereafter may be accounted for as one fund for the same time period as originally enacted.

SEC. 306. None of the funds in this or any other Act for the Administrator of the Bonneville Power Administration may be used to enter into any agreement to perform energy efficiency services outside the legally defined Bonneville service territory, with the exception of services provided internationally, including services provided on a reimbursable basis, unless the Administrator certifies in advance that such services are not available from private sector businesses.

SEC. 307. When the Department of Energy makes a user facility available to universities or other potential users, or seeks input from universities or other potential users regarding significant characteristics or equipment in a user facility or a proposed user facility, the Department shall ensure broad public notice of such availability or such need for input to universities and other potential users. When the Department of Energy considers the participation of a university or other potential user as a formal partner in the establishment or operation of a user facility, the Department shall employ full and open competition in selecting such a partner. For purposes of this section, the term "user facility" includes, but is not limited to: (1) a user facility as described in section 2203(a)(2) of the Energy Policy Act of 1992 (42 U.S.C. 13503(a)(2)); (2) a National Nuclear Security Administration Defense Programs Technology Deployment Center/User Facility; and (3) any other Departmental facility designated by the Department as a user facility.

¶123.16 MESSAGE FROM THE

PRESIDENT—NATIONAL EMERGENCY WITH RESPECT TO IRAN

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. BIGGERT, laid before the House a message from the President, which was read as follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

Section 202(d) of the National Emergencies Act (50 U.S.C. 1622(d)) provides for the automatic termination of a national emergency unless, prior to the anniversary date of its declaration, the President publishes in the Federal Register and transmits to the Congress a notice stating that the emergency is to continue in effect beyond the anniversary date. Consistent with this provision, I have sent the enclosed notice to the Federal Register for publication, stating that the Iran emergency declared by Executive Order 12170 on November 14, 1979, is to continue in effect beyond November 14, 2005. The most recent notice continuing this emergency was published in the Federal Register on November 12, 2004 (69 FR 65513).

Our relations with Iran have not yet returned to normal, and the process of implementing the January 19, 1981, agreements with Iran is still underway. For these reasons, I have determined that it is necessary to continue the national emergency declared on November 14, 1979, with respect to Iran, beyond November 14, 2005.

GEORGE W. BUSH.

THE WHITE HOUSE, November 9, 2005.

The message, together with the accompanying papers, was referred to the Committee on International Relations and ordered to be printed (H. Doc. 109-68).

(d) The President may require export licenses under this section on a temporary basis if the President determines, upon publication first in the Federal Register, that the Government of Canada has implemented or maintained inadequate import controls for the articles specified in subsection (a), such that a significant diversion of such articles has and continues to take place for use in international terrorism or in the escalation of a conflict in another nation. As the United States Supreme Court articulated in Craig v. Harney, 331 U.S. 367 (1947), “A trial is a public event. What transpires in the court room is public property.”.

(2) The right of the people of the United States to a free press, with the ability to report on all aspects of the conduct of the business of government, as protected by the first amendment to the Constitution, cannot be meaningfully exercised without the ability of the news media to gather facts and information freely for dissemination to the public.

(3) The right of the people of the United States to petition the Government to redress grievances, particularly as it relates to the manner in which the Government exercises its legislative, executive, and judicial powers, as protected by the first amendment to the Constitution, cannot be meaningfully exercised without the availability to the public of information about how the affairs of government are being conducted. As the Supreme Court noted in Richmond Newspapers, Inc. v. Commonwealth of Virginia (1980), “People in an open society do not demand infallibility from their institutions, but it is difficult for them to accept what they are prohibited from observing.”.

(4) In the twenty-first century, the people of the United States obtain information regarding judicial matters involving the Constitution, civil rights, and other important legal subjects principally through the print and electronic media. Television, in particular, provides a degree of public access to courtroom proceedings that more closely approximates the ideal of actual physical presence than newspaper coverage or still photography.

(5) Providing statutory authority for the courts of the United States to exercise their discretion in permitting televised coverage of courtroom proceedings would enhance significantly the access of the people to the Federal judiciary.

(6) Inasmuch as the first amendment to the Constitution prevents Congress from abridging the ability of the people to exercise their inherent rights to freedom of speech, to freedom of the press, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances, it is good public policy for the Congress affirmatively to facilitate the ability of the people to exercise those rights.

(7) The granting of such authority would assist in the implementation of the constitutional guarantee of public trials in criminal cases, as provided by the sixth amendment to the Constitution. As the Supreme Court stated in In re Oliver (1948), “Whatever other benefits the guarantee to an accused that his trial be conducted in public may confer upon our society, the guarantee has always been recognized as a safeguard against any attempt to employ our courts as instruments of persecution. The knowledge that every criminal trial is subject to contemporaneous review in the forum of public opinion is an effective restraint on possible abuse of judicial power.”.

¶126.20 MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

A message in writing from the President of the United States was communicated to the House by Mr. Sherman Williams, one of his secretaries.

¶126.21 EDUCATION FOR ALL HANDICAPPED CHILDREN

Mr. CASTLE moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 288):

Whereas the Education for All Handicapped Children Act of 1975 (Public Law 94-142) was signed into law 30 years ago on November 29, 1975, and amended the State grant program under part B of the Education of the Handicapped Act;

Whereas the Education for All Handicapped Children Act of 1975 established the Federal priority of ensuring that all children, regardless of the nature or severity of their disability, have available to them a free appropriate public education in the least restrictive environment;

Whereas the Education of the Handicapped Act was further amended by the Education of the Handicapped Act Amendments of 1986 (Public Law 99-457) to create a preschool grant program for children with disabilities aged 3 through 5 and an early intervention program for infants and toddlers with disabilities under 3 years of age and their families;

Whereas the Education of the Handicapped Act Amendments of 1990 (Public Law 101-476) renamed the statute as the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA);

Whereas IDEA currently serves an estimated 269,000 infants and toddlers, 679,000 preschoolers, and 6,000,000 children aged 6 to 21;

Whereas IDEA has assisted in a dramatic reduction in the number of children with developmental disabilities who must live in State institutions away from their families;

Whereas the number of children with disabilities who complete high school with standard diplomas has grown significantly since the enactment of IDEA;

Whereas the number of children with disabilities who enroll in college as freshmen has more than tripled since the enactment of IDEA;

Whereas IDEA promotes partnerships between parents of children with disabilities and education professionals in the design and implementation of the special education and related services provided to children with disabilities;

Whereas IDEA has raised the Nation's expectations regarding the abilities of children with disabilities by requiring access to the general education curriculum;

Whereas the 2004 reauthorization of IDEA ensures that children with disabilities are guaranteed a quality education based on the high academic standards required under the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 (Public Law 107-110);

Whereas the 2004 reauthorization strengthens IDEA's focus on the educational results of children with disabilities and better prepares those children for employment or further education beyond high school;

Whereas the 2004 reauthorization further enables special education teachers, related services providers, other educators, and State and local educational agencies to focus on promoting the academic achievement of children with disabilities;

Whereas the 2004 reauthorization maintains the necessary procedural safeguards that guarantee the rights of children with disabilities and their parents while encouraging the mutual resolution of disputes and reducing unnecessary litigation;

Whereas the 2004 reauthorization continues to ensure the provision of a free appropriate public education to students referred to a private school by a public agency and ensures the provision of special education and related services to students placed by their parents in private schools;

Whereas, although the Federal Government has not yet met its commitment to fund IDEA at 40 percent of the average per pupil expenditure, it has increased IDEA funding over the last decade from $2.3 billion to $10.6 billion and increased its percentage share of the average per pupil expenditure from 7.8 percent to 18.6 percent;

Whereas the 2004 reauthorization ensures that the vast majority of funds will go directly to the classroom and provides States and local educational agencies additional flexibility to provide for the costs of educating high need children with disabilities;

Whereas IDEA has supported, through its discretionary programs, three decades of research, demonstration, and personnel preparation in effective practices for educating children with disabilities, enabling teachers, related services providers, and other educators to effectively meet the educational needs of all children;

Whereas Federal and State governments can support effective practices in the classroom to ensure appropriate and effective services for children with disabilities; and

Whereas IDEA has succeeded in marshaling the resources of this Nation to implement the promise of full participation in society for children with disabilities: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That the Congress—

(1) recognizes the 30th anniversary of the enactment of the Education for All Handicapped Children Act of 1975 (Public Law 94-142);

(2) acknowledges the many and varied contributions of children with disabilities and their parents, teachers, related services providers, and other educators; and

(3) reaffirms its support for the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act so that all children with disabilities have access to a free appropriate public education.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. COLE of Oklahoma, recognized Mr. CASTLE and Mr. HINOJOSA, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said concurrent resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. COLE of Oklahoma, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

So, two-thirds of the Members present having voted in favor thereof, the rules were suspended and said concurrent resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider the vote whereby the rules were suspended and said concurrent resolution was agreed to was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

¶126.26 MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT—MULTI-CHIP INTEGRATED CIRCUIT TARIFF AGREEMENT

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. KLINE, laid before the House a message from the President, which was read as follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

Consistent with section 2103(a)(1) of the Trade Act of 2002, I am pleased to notify the Congress of my intention to enter into an agreement with the European Union, Japan, the Republic of Korea, and Taiwan on tariff treatment for multi-chip integrated circuits. Multi-chip integrated circuits are semiconductor devices used in computers, cell phones, and other high-technology products.

United States-based companies are the principal suppliers to the world of multi-chip integrated circuits. In 2004, global sales of finished multi-chip integrated circuits were estimated to be $4.2 billion, and U.S. semiconductor companies account for roughly half of those sales.

The United States, the European Union, the Republic of Korea, and Taiwan will apply zero duties on these products as of an agreed date. The target date for entry into force of the Agreement is January 1, 2006. Japan already applies zero duties on these products and expects to ratify the Agreement formally in 2006. Further, although all major producers of multi-chip integrated circuits will be parties to the Agreement, we will seek to build on this Agreement by joining together to work in the World Trade Organization to increase the number of countries granting duty-free treatment to these products.

GEORGE W. BUSH.

THE WHITE HOUSE, November 14, 2005.

By unanimous consent, the message, together with the accompanying papers, was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means and ordered to be printed (H. Doc. 109-70).

¶127.14 INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS OF THE RUSSIAN FEDERATION

Mr. SHAW moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 230):

Whereas the protection of intellectual property is critical to the Nation's economic competitiveness in the 21st century;

Whereas Russia remains on the Special 301 Priority Watch List compiled by the United States Trade Representative (USTR), and the Congress is gravely concerned about the failure of the Russian Federation to live up to international standards in the protection of intellectual property rights, a core American asset;

Whereas the Congress wants to ensure that the Russian Federation redoubles its efforts to adopt and enforce aggressive laws, policies, and practices in the fight against piracy and counterfeiting;

Whereas the Congress is particularly concerned that the Russian Federation is, in the words of Senate Concurrent Resolution 28, a place where "piracy that is open and notorious is permitted to operate without meaningful hindrance from the government";

Whereas, according to USTR, enforcement of intellectual property rights in Russia "remains weak and caused substantial losses for the U.S. copyright, trademark, and patent industries in the last year. Piracy in all copyright sectors continues unabated, and the U.S. copyright industry estimated losses of $1.7 billion in 2004.";

Whereas the Russian Federation must understand that failure to adequately protect and enforce intellectual property rights will have political and economic ramifications for its relationship with the United States;

Whereas accession to the World Trade Organization (WTO) represents an agreement to conform one's practices to the rule of law, and to international standards in the WTO Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS);

Whereas notwithstanding some recent legislative improvements, Russia's regime to protect intellectual property rights does not conform with TRIPS standards;

Whereas the United States can ill afford deterioration of the world trading system by permitting the entry of a country into the WTO that has not demonstrated its willingness and ability to conform its practices to the requirements of the TRIPS; and

Whereas the leaders of the G-8, including President Putin of the Russian Federation, recently pledged to reduce intellectual property piracy through more effective enforcement: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That it is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) the Russian Federation should provide adequate and effective protection of intellectual property rights, or it risks losing its eligibility to participate in the Generalized System of Preferences (GSP) program; and

(2) as part of its effort to accede to the World Trade Organization, the Russian Federation must ensure that intellectual property is securely protected in law and in practice, by demonstrating that the country is willing and able to meet its international obligations in this respect.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. GUTKNECHT, recognized Mr. SHAW and Mr. CARDIN, each for 20 minutes.

¶127.15 NAVAL AVENGER TORPEDO BOMBERS OF FLIGHT 19

Whereas the Mariner rescue aircraft sent to search for Flight 19, originating at the Naval Air Station of Banana River, Florida, and its crew of 13 Navy airmen, also disappeared on that date;

Whereas December 5, 2005, marks the 60th anniversary of the disappearance of Flight 19;

Whereas the loss of Flight 19 occurred during peacetime;

Whereas the disappearance of Flight 19 sparked one of the largest air and sea rescue searches in history covering over 200,000 square miles;

Whereas all investigations of the disappearance of Flight 19 have failed to recover any aircraft, debris, or remains;

Whereas there remain unanswered questions concerning the disappearance of Flight 19; and

Whereas there are continuing efforts with the latest technology to determine the location of the lost aircraft and crews: Now, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) recognizes the 60th anniversary of the disappearance of the 5 naval Avenger torpedo bombers of Flight 19 and the naval Mariner rescue aircraft sent to search for Flight 19;

(2) honors the memory of the 27 Navy airmen lost in these disappearances;

(3) recognizes the historical significance of Flight 19;

(4) acknowledges continuing efforts to determine what caused these disappearances; and

¶127.17 INTERNET CORPORATION FOR ASSIGNED NAMES AND NUMBERS

Mr. UPTON moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 268):

Whereas the origins of the Internet can be found in United States Government funding of research to develop packet-switching technology and communications networks, starting with the "ARPANET" network established by the Department of Defense's Advanced Research Projects Agency in the 1960s and carried forward by the National Science Foundation's "NSFNET";

Whereas in subsequent years the Internet evolved from a United States Government research initiative to a global tool for information exchange as in the 1990s it was commercialized by private sector investment, technical management and coordination;

Whereas since its inception the authoritative root zone server—the file server system that contains the master list of all top level domain names made available for routers serving the Internet—has been physically located in the United States;

Whereas today the Internet is a global communications network of inestimable value;

Whereas the continued success and dynamism of the Internet is dependent upon continued private sector leadership and the ability for all users to participate in its continued evolution;

Whereas in allowing people all around the world freely to exchange information, communicate with one another, and facilitate economic growth and democracy, the Internet has enormous potential to enrich and transform human society;

Whereas existing structures have worked effectively to make the Internet the highly robust medium that it is today;

Whereas the security and stability of the Internet's underlying infrastructure, the domain name and addressing system, must be maintained;

Whereas the United States has been committed to the principles of freedom of expression and the free flow of information, as expressed in Article 19 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, and reaffirmed in the Geneva Declaration of Principles adopted at the first phase of the World Summit on the Information Society;

Whereas the U.S. Principles on the Internet's Domain Name and Addressing System, issued on June 30, 2005, represent an appropriate framework for the coordination of the system at the present time;

Whereas the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers popularly known as ICANN, is the proper organization to coordinate the technical day-to-day operation of the Internet's domain name and addressing system;

Whereas all stakeholders from around the world, including governments, are encouraged to advise ICANN in its decision-making;

Whereas ICANN makes significant efforts to ensure that the views of governments and all Internet stakeholders are reflected in its activities;

Whereas governments have legitimate concerns with respect to the management of their country code top level domains;

Whereas the United States Government is committed to working successfully with the international community to address those concerns, bearing in mind the need for stability and security of the Internet's domain name and addressing system;

Whereas the topic of Internet governance, as currently being discussed in the United Nations World Summit on the Information Society is a broad and complex topic;

Whereas it is appropriate for governments and other stakeholders to discuss Internet governance, given that the Internet will likely be an increasingly important part of the world economy and society in the 21st Century;

Whereas Internet governance discussions in the World Summit should focus on the real threats to the Internet's growth and stability, and not recommend changes to the current regime of domain name and addressing system management and coordination on political grounds unrelated to any technical need; and

Whereas market-based policies and private sector leadership have allowed this medium the flexibility to innovate and evolve: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That it is the sense of Congress that—

¶127.38 MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT—UNITED STATES-BAHRAIN FREE TRADE AGREEMENT

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. JINDAL, laid before the House a message from the President, which was read as follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

I am pleased to transmit legislation and supporting documents to implement the United States-Bahrain Free Trade Agreement (the "Agreement"). This Agreement enhances our bilateral relationship with a strategic friend and ally in the Middle East region and will promote economic growth and prosperity in both nations.

In negotiating this Agreement, my Administration was guided by the objectives set out in the Trade Act of 2002. The Agreement reflects my Administration's commitment to opening markets and expanding opportunities for American workers, farmers, ranchers, and businesses. The Agreement will open Bahrain's market for U.S. manufactured goods, agricultural products, and services. As soon as it enters into force, the Agreement will eliminate tariffs on all manufactured goods that the United States sells to Bahrain and immediately remove Bahrain's import duties on over 80 percent of U.S. agricultural products. The Agreement is also one of the most comprehensive ever negotiated to reduce barriers to trade in services and will create new opportunities for U.S. services firms.

The Agreement contains procedures that will facilitate cooperation between the United States and Bahrain on environmental and labor matters. The labor chapter of the Agreement reinforces Bahrain's recent legislative actions to expand democracy and improve the protection of worker rights, including trade union rights. Provisions in the Agreement requiring effective enforcement of environmental laws will contribute to high levels of environmental protection.

The approval of this Agreement will be another significant step towards creating a Middle East Free Trade Area by 2013. This Agreement offers the United States yet another opportunity to encourage economic reform in a moderate Muslim nation as we have done through our free trade agreements with Jordan and Morocco. Leaders in Bahrain are supporting the pursuit of social and economic reforms in the region, encouraging foreign investment connected to broad-based development, and providing better protection for women and workers. It is strongly in our national interest to embrace and encourage these reforms, and passing this legislation is a crucial step toward that end.

GEORGE W. BUSH.

THE WHITE HOUSE, November 16, 2005.

By unanimous consent, the message, together with the accompanying papers, was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means and ordered to be printed (H. Doc. 109-71).

SEC. 523. (a) Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The American Jobs Creation Act of 2004 permitted the outsourcing or privatization by the Internal Revenue Service of collection of unpaid and past due federal income taxes.

(2) The Internal Revenue Service is about to issue to private-sector debt collection companies tax collection contracts that will create up to 4,000 well paying private-sector jobs.

(3) If the same tax collection activities were conducted by Federal employees, Federal law would give preferences in employment to disabled veterans in filling those federal jobs.

(4) By enacting legislation to improve the Internal Revenue Service’s tax collection efforts and outsourcing or privatizing those efforts, Congress did not intend to curtail the Nation’s long-standing commitment to creating meaningful job opportunities for disabled veterans and other persons with severe disabilities.

(5) The contracts the Internal Revenue Service will execute with private-sector debt collection companies provide a unique opportunity for the Federal government to stimulate the creation of well paying jobs for disabled veterans and other persons with disabilities.

(b) It is the sense of the Senate that—

(1) the Secretary of the Treasury should, to the maximum extent practicable, ensure that existing Federal employment preferences for disabled veterans and Federal policies promoting opportunities for other disabled persons are carried forward as a part of any tax collection contract program carried out under section 6306 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as added by the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004, and

(2) the criteria applied by the Internal Revenue Service in awarding contracts to private-sector tax collection companies under such program should incorporate a preference for companies hiring disabled veterans and other disabled persons.

This Act may be cited as the “Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2006”.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. LAHOOD, called the House to order.

¶128.20 PROVIDING FOR THE CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 4241

Mr. PUTNAM, by direction of the Committee on Rules, called up the following resolution (H. Res. 560):

Resolved, That upon the adoption of this resolution it shall be in order without intervention of any point of order to consider in the House the bill (H.R. 4241) to provide for reconciliation pursuant to section 201(a) of the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 2006. The bill shall be considered as read. The amendment printed in the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution shall be considered as adopted. SEC. 2. During consideration of H.R. 4241 pursuant to this resolution, notwithstanding the operation of the previous question, the Chair may postpone further consideration of the bill to a time designated by the Speaker.

SEC. 3. After passage of H.R. 4241, it shall be in order to take from the Speaker’s table S. 1932 and to consider the Senate bill in the House. All points of order against the Senate bill and against its consideration are waived. It shall be in order to move to strike all after the enacting clause of the Senate bill and to insert in lieu thereof the provisions of H.R. 4241 as passed by the House. All points of order against that motion are waived.

Pending consideration of said resolution.

¶128.21 POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MCDERMOTT made a point of order against consideration of said resolution, and said:

“Mr. Speaker, pursuant to section 426 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, I make a point of order against the consideration of this rule, H. Res. 560.

“Section 425 of that same act states that the point of order lies against legislation which imposes an unfunded mandate in excess of specified amounts against State or local governments.

“Section 426 of the Budget Act specifically states that the Rules Committee may not waive this point of order.

“The first section of H. Res. 560 proposes to waive all points of order against consideration of the bill and against provisions in the bill, as amended.

“The legislation, H.R. 4241, brought up by the rule, includes provisions on child support enforcement, which the Congressional Budget Office informs us impose an intergovernmental mandate as defined by the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

“Therefore, I make a point of order that this rule may not be considered pursuant to section 426.”

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. LAHOOD, responded to the point of order, and said:

"The gentleman from Washington, [Mr. McDERMOTT], makes a point of order that the resolution violates section 426(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

"In accordance with section 426(b)(2) of that Act, the gentleman has met the threshold burden to identify the specific language in the resolution on which the point of order is predicated.

"Under section 426(b)(4) of the Act, the gentleman from Washington, [Mr. McDERMOTT] and the gentleman from Florida, [Mr. Putnam], each will control 10 minutes of debate on the question of consideration.

"Pursuant to section 426(b)(3) of the Act, after the debate, the Chair will put the question, to wit: 'Will the House now consider the resolution?'"

Mr. McDERMOTT was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

"Mr. Speaker, Americans on the front line in protecting and defending our most vulnerable children have been sending out an SOS. They do not merely solve problems every day. They save lives.

"Their message is loud and clear. The child support provisions included in reconciliation undermine the Federal commitment to child support enforcement. Republican reconciliation is reckless disregard for safeguarding children.

"It is a license for people to break their promise of child support because enforcement will be lax. Eighty percent of the children receiving support live in low- and moderate-income families. The bill would reduce the share of child support enforcement costs that are paid by the Federal Government from 66 percent to 50 percent by 2010. Federal funding to the program would be cut by $5 billion over the next 5 years, a nearly 40 percent cut in funding for the program by 2010. We make the money go away, but not the problems or the needs.

"The CBO estimated that child support provisions in the reconciliation bill would reduce collections sent to families by $21 billion over the next 10 years.

"As a result, more deadbeat dads will be left off the hook, while more low-income families will look to State and Federal programs to make up the difference in lost income. But we will not be there, just like the deadbeat dads.

"In 2004, more than $4 was collected for every dollar spent in the program. Even President Bush's 2006 budget cites the program as "effective" and "one of the highest rated block formula grants of all reviewed programs government-wide."

"A hard-working program will fall on hard times if we leave the reconciliation bill as it is. People will be hurt. Children will be hurt. Republicans will be responsible. And for what?

"Mr. Speaker, this is the season of giving, and Republicans are going to be very generous with those very few Americans rolling in dough.

"Republican leaders have scheduled their midnight express to roll through town again tonight. Republicans will climb aboard to run over the American people in the dead of the night.

"Child Support Enforcement, that is not even in the baggage car. Republicans like doing things in the dark, behind closed doors, in the dead of night, hoping the American people will not notice.

"Well, not today. Today's light shines on their darkness. If one candle can curse the darkness, we are going to use a search light. It is the Republican season of giving, and here is what it means: we take from the sack of the poor children in this country 330,000 child-care dollars and put it in the rich sock. It is Christmas time. Take $700 million from Social Security and put it in the rich stocking. Take child support, $21 billion from Child Support Enforcement and put it in the rich stocking.

"Take Medicaid from the poor, $10 billion, and put it in the rich stocking. Student loans, $14 billion. I take $14 billion from student loans and give that to the rich stocking. And food stamps from 300,000 tables we take and put it in the rich stocking. Finally, foster children, $600 million from foster children in this country goes into the sock, later tomorrow, of the rich because we have taken it from the poor and we have given it to the rich.

"That is what this bill before us is all about. Tonight in the dead of night you are going to give to the rich who do not need it and take from the needy who cannot afford to lose it. You will disguise this as a Christmas stocking with presents, just in time for the holidays. But it is a heavy-handed club used on the American people. The heartland is not heartless. Not even the dead of the night will hide what you intend to do to the American people tonight. Even the rich will be ashamed. I wonder if the Republicans will. They should be.

"Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time."

Mr. PUTNAM was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

"Mr. Speaker, the gentleman's clever props, notwithstanding the holiday stockings, I would point out to the gentleman who repeatedly referred to this being done in the dead of night that in his home district it is 5:30 in the afternoon and people are driving home from work. So for the dead of night on the west coast, the people on the east coast will know that we are not working a nine to five job and that we are pushing ahead with the agenda of reforming the inefficiencies that lay in government.

"I would also point out to the gentleman that between 1999 and 2003, total child support enforcement administrative expenditures went up almost 30 percent; 29 percent between 1999 and 2003, as the case load declined 8 percent. Again, their rhetoric does not match well with the facts.

"Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is utilizing the rules that are at his disposal, and I think that it is appropriate that he do that. It is a positive reflection on this House that these types of tools are available to the minority to stymie the progress, and we appreciate the gentleman's ability to use those. But it would be important to have the facts be accurate, and the facts are that these administrative costs that are being discussed in this bill are a shift in what has been a double-dipping practice that has been used by States to draw down Federal dollars and then collect administrative costs as if the original Federal dollar had been generated in that State in the first place. This is not, as the gentleman has characterized, the Grinch or any other mean-spirited person taking treats from children or from their holiday stockings that have arrived a month and a half early.

"Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time."

Mr. LEVIN was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

"Mr. PUTNAM, I will read you the facts from the Congressional Budget Office estimate, that this action will result in a reduction over the next 10 years of $24 billion in child support. That is the Congressional Budget estimate, and that takes into account adjustments the States might make in providing more money for administration. This is the most callous, callous reflection of your fiscal irresponsibility. You have driven yourselves and this country into so much debt, now you are reaching into the homes of this country. This is antifamily. This is antikids. There is no defense of it.

"This money is for administrative purposes. We have been paying two-thirds. The result of it, and it was part of welfare reform, is that child support has gone up and up. The kids have benefited. And now what you are going to do is to reduce those benefits. And we will hear from your side, oh, child support is going to go up, anyway. This is a fact and I close with this. CBO says if anyone votes for this, they are going to reduce child support payments over 10 years by $24 billion. I say to you, you go home, you face the kids in your district, you face the parents in your district, and you tell them you voted for this. If you won't tell them, we will."

Mr. PUTNAM was recognized to speak further and said:

"Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentleman's reference to the CBO numbers. We also have the CBO numbers. They are available on a bipartisan basis. The CBO numbers clearly show that total collections will continue to go up. $24.8 billion in 2006, $26 billion in 2010, $31.7 billion by 2015. The gentleman has referred to this provision as the most callous part of the deficit reduction package. I hope that everyone else on his team remembers that because you can only have one number one. You can only have one most egregious part.

"So as we get into the discussions about Medicaid and food stamps and student loans and all the things that we heard about this morning when we were talking about the continuing resolution, let us remember that this one is the most egregious, that this one is the most callous because you can only have one number one. I know that this is nothing but the first salvo in a historic debate about the direction that this country is heading.

"I agree with the gentleman that it is important that we go back to our districts and we talk about these plans, because the fact of the matter is we have a plan. And the fact of the matter is that you don't. The fact of the matter is that you can criticize all you want about where we have chosen to reform government, to find efficiencies, to better deliver services to the people who need them the most while you can go home and criticize the changes that we offer without having to defend your own plan.

"Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time."

Mr. POMEROY was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

"This chart says it all. CBO estimates lower spending on child support program leads to lower collections to the tune of $21 billion. It is truly stunning to me that Republicans in this House would line up together to cut the funds used to collect child support. I just never expected to see them give deadbeat dads a pass, those deadbeat dads who refuse to pay what they owe for the upbringing of their own children.

"The majority Members of this body are quick to boast of their support for family values. Well, I ask you this, what kind of family value is it that cuts back on the efforts to make deadbeat dads pay what they owe, when deadbeat dads walk away from their obligations? It won't be you smug in your own comfortable life who will feel the pain. It will be young mothers who can't pay rent. It will be little children whose lives are upended by financial abandonment. For every dollar we spend collecting on child support, we collect more than $4. In North Dakota, that means for every dollar collected, the Federal Government gets $2.78 back in recoveries and costs forgone.

"State governments also gain, which is precisely why the Congressional Budget Office has found this to be an unfunded mandate. When Republicans cut child support collections, deadbeat dads win. State governments lose. That is why tonight's proposal is an unfunded mandate and must be stopped.

"CBO has estimated by cutting collections $4.9 billion as you do, we lose more than $24 billion in support not collected. That hits children. That hits families. And that hits States which is what makes this an unfunded mandate. Support the effort to stop this unfunded mandate. Support the effort to block this cut in child support enforcement."

Mr. COSTA was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of the point of order from the gentleman from Washington. I am here to speak to my colleagues, but especially the 235 of you who, like me, served in legislatures throughout the country prior to coming to Congress. The fiscal sleight of hand that we are undertaking here today is simply that of a financial shell game, and the loser is already clear, it is our States. You don't have to take my word for it.

"The Congressional Budget Office has spoken and they have identified that the reduction in child support without a change in the requirements is a violation of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 that many of you were here that supported on a bipartisan basis. It is a violation of the law.

"We can play this ridiculous game of pretend and safely ensconce ourselves in these walls but do you truly believe that the actions today will go unnoticed and that State legislatures are not watching what we do? I know that the National Conference of State Legislatures is watching. I hope that ALEC is watching, too, and I suspect that the National Governors Association is taking notes. I can assure you that they are tuning in to C-SPAN and taking careful notice of today's proceedings because besides illegal, today's vote will have a direct impact on their ability to serve the people of their States, the same people who live in our districts.

"In fact, President Ronald Reagan's promise of federalism today is nowhere in this Chamber. President Reagan's famous debate line with Mr. Mondale is frighteningly apropos in this exercise: "There you go again." And yes, here we go again attempting to balance our Federal budget on the backs of 50 States."

Mr. TIAHRT was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

"I thank the gentleman from Florida for yielding.

"We have heard a lot about what devastation from this small little act we are going tonight to try to reform welfare and improve the system of delivering the services and goods to those who are truly in trouble in our culture.

"One of the things that is surprising to me, though, is that there is really no plan on the other side. I have seen in the hallways of the office buildings that house Members of Congress offices hold billboards that are put up about the Federal deficit and how we must do something about the Federal deficit, but I have yet to see a plan to try to deal with the deficit that the Democrats themselves are complaining about.

"Blue Dog Democrats, each in front of their office, have billboards that says the Federal deficit so much for each family to pay back, we have got to do something about it, but there is no plan. There are more plans on the television show West Wing than the Democrats have here in the United States House of Representatives. There are more plans on the other political shows about how to deal with the problems of today but we get no plans or help from the other side.

"So what I think we ought to see here is some Blue Dog Democrats that are the type of dogs that will actually hunt. Dogs that we have some bite instead of the bark, because right now all we hear is a lot of noise and we don't have any action or plan. We are hearing complaining about how we are trying to improve the system.

"I will give you one example quickly. In Kansas, delivering Medicaid is only correct three out of four times. One out of four times the payment is inaccurate. We need to reform that system. You would not get on an airplane today if you had a three out of four chance of getting to your destination. You would not start a trip today if you had only a three out of four chance of getting to your destination. When we make a Medicaid payment in the State of Kansas, our State government is wrong 24 percent of the time. This legislation has reforms in it to help improve our Medicaid system, so those who are truly in need get the services they require.

"But we cannot do that according to the other side. We need to pass this legislation, reform the welfare system, and do the right thing about the Federal budget."

Mr. MCDERMOTT was recognized to speak further and said:

"He says a whole lot, but he has no one else to speak, Mr. Speaker, because they want the people to believe that this is a fight between Democrats and Republicans. But it is not true. In reality, Republican Governors oppose these child support cuts, including Governor Schwarzenegger of California. Republicans in the Senate oppose these cuts including Senator CORNYN of Texas. Religious organizations oppose these cuts, including the Conference of Catholic Bishops. All program administrators and poverty experts oppose these cuts. Cutting child support payments to needy families is a policy supported only by the extreme right wing which currently is running the House of Representatives. I urge the Members to vote "no" on this motion."

Mr. PUTNAM was recognized to speak further and said:

"Mr. Speaker, this is an important opening to the grand debate that we are unveiling here this evening about the direction of entitlement spending and the direction of Federal spending in this Congress and for our Nation. We have heard an awful lot about the term "cuts" and we have seen the cute props and we have heard the first of what will be many metaphors of snatching food from the mouths of children and all kinds of heated rhetoric. But at the end of the day, the numbers don't lie. The numbers are that child support collections under this proposal continue to go up.

"Do they go up as fast as the Democrats would like? Apparently not, judging by the rhetoric. But only in Washington and only in their rhetoric is that a cut. The bottom line is that this next fiscal year, 2006, it is $23.8 billion.

By 2010, it is $26 billion. And by 2015, it is almost $32 billion. Under every arithmetic, old math, new math, poor school districts, wealthy school districts, all across America, those numbers are going up. Those numbers mean more money to those States for the important task of enforcing child support responsibilities by all noncustodial parents.

“So despite the references to the smugness, despite the fact that we have been accused of being in the pockets of deadbeat dads, the numbers continue to climb for administrative costs. None of these even affect the actual program. They are defending the administration of the program instead of the outcome of that program, which is more money getting to those families, more fathers, more mothers who are noncustodial living up to their obligations. That is really what it ought to be about, is it not, the outcome? Not the administrative fees, that are going up anyway?”

“Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the fact that the rule has given the gentleman this opportunity for us to open the debate in this way. Unfortunately his rhetoric outpaces the facts. I would urge the Members to reject this proposal and allow us to move forward with reforming government.

“With that, I would ask the Members to vote ‘yes’.”

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House now consider the resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. LAHOOD, announced that the yeas had it.

Mr. MCDERMOTT objected to the vote on the ground that a quorum was not present and not voting.

A quorum not being present,

The roll was called under clause 6, rule XX, and the call was taken by electronic device.

CHAPTER 1—PAYMENT FOR PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

SEC. 3101. FEDERAL UPPER LIMIT (FUL).

(a) IN GENERAL.—Subsection (e) of section 1927 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396r-8) is amended to read as follows:

“(e) PHARMACY REIMBURSEMENT LIMITS.—

“(1) FEDERAL UPPER LIMIT FOR INGREDIENT COST OF COVERED OUTPATIENT DRUGS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subparagraph (B), no Federal financial participation shall be available for payment for the ingredient cost of a covered outpatient drug in excess of the Federal upper limit for that drug established under paragraph (2).

“(B) OPTIONAL CARVE OUT.—A State may elect not to apply subparagraph (A) to payment for either or both of the following:

“(i) Drugs dispensed by specialty pharmacies (such as those dispensing only immunosuppressive drugs), as defined by the Secretary.

“(ii) Drugs administered by a physician in a physician’s office.

“(2) FEDERAL UPPER LIMIT.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subparagraph (D) and subject to paragraph (5), the Federal upper limit established under this paragraph for the ingredient cost of a—

“(i) single source drug, is 106 percent of the RAMP (as defined in subparagraph (B)(i)) for that drug; and “(ii) multiple source drug, is 120 percent of the volume weighted average RAMP (as determined under subparagraph (C)) for that drug.

A drug product that is a single source drug and that becomes a multiple source drug shall continue to be treated under this subsection as a single source drug until the Secretary determines that there are sufficient data to compile the volume weighted average RAMP for that drug.

“(B) RAMP AND RELATED PROVISIONS.—For purposes of this subsection:

“(i) RAMP DEFINED.—The term ‘RAMP’ means, with respect to a covered outpatient drug by a manufacturer for a calendar quarter and subject to clauses (ii) and (iii), the average price paid to a manufacturer for the drug in the United States in the quarter by wholesalers for drugs distributed to retail pharmacies, excluding service fees that are paid by the manufacturer to an entity and that represent fair market value for a bona-fide service provided by the entity.

“(ii) SALES EXEMPTED FROM COMPUTATION.—The RAMP under clause (i) shall exclude any of the following:

“(I) Sales exempt from inclusion in the determination of best price under subsection (c)(1)(C)(i).

“(II) Such other sales as the Secretary identifies as sales to an entity that are merely nominal in amount under subsection (c)(1)(C)(ii)(III).

“(iii) SALE PRICE NET OF DISCOUNTS.—In calculating the RAMP under clause (i), such RAMP shall include any of the following:

“(I) Cash discounts and volume discounts.

“(II) Free goods that are contingent upon any purchase requirement.

“(III) Sales at a nominal price that are contingent upon any purchase requirement or agreement.

“(IV) Chargebacks, rebates (not including rebates provided under an agreement under this section), or any other direct or indirect discounts.

“(V) Any other price concessions, which may be based on recommendations of the Inspector General of the Department of Health and Human Services, that would result in a reduction of the cost to the purchaser.

“(iv) RETAIL PHARMACY.—For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘retail pharmacy’ does not include mail-order only pharmacies or any pharmacy at a nursing facility or home.

“(C) VOLUME WEIGHTED AVERAGE RAMP DEFINED.—For purposes of this subsection, for all drug products included within the same multiple source drug billing and payment code (or such other methodology as may be specified by the Secretary), the volume weighted average RAMP is the volume weighted average of the RAMPs reported under subsection (b)(3)(A)(iv) determined by—

“(i) computing the sum of the products (for each National Drug Code assigned to such drug products) of—

“(I) the manufacturer’s RAMP (as defined in subparagraph (B)); and

“(II) the total number of units specified under section 1847A(b)(2) sold; and “(ii) dividing the sum determined under clause (i) by the sum of the total number of units under clause (i)(II) for all National Drug Codes assigned to such drug products.

“(D) EXCEPTION FOR INITIAL SALES PERIODS.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a single source drug during an initial sales period (not to exceed 2 calendar quarters) in which data on sales for the drug are not sufficiently available from the manufacturer to compute the RAMP or the volume weighted average RAMP under subparagraph (C), the Federal upper limit for the ingredient cost of such drug during such period shall be the wholesale acquisition cost (as defined in clause (ii)) for the drug.

“(ii) WHOLESALE ACQUISITION COST.—For purposes of clause (i), the term ‘wholesale acquisition cost’ means, with respect to a single source drug, the manufacturer’s list price for the drug to wholesalers or direct purchasers in the United States, not including prompt pay or other discounts, rebates or reductions in price, for the most recent month for which the information is available, as reported in wholesale price guides or other publications of drug or biological pricing data.

“(E) UPDATES; DATA COLLECTION.—

“(i) FREQUENCY OF DETERMINATION.—The Secretary shall update the Federal upper limits applicable under this paragraph on at least a quarterly basis, taking into account the most recent data collected for purposes of determining such limits and the Food and Drug Administration’s most recent publication of ‘Approved Drug Products with Therapeutic Equivalence Evaluations’.

“(ii) COLLECTION OF DATA.—Data on RAMP is collected under subsection (b)(3)(A)(iv).

“(F) AUTHORITY TO ENTER CONTRACTS.—The Secretary may enter into contracts with appropriate entities to determine RAMPs and other data necessary to calculate the Federal upper limit for a covered outpatient drug established under this subsection and to calculate that payment limit.

“(3) DISPENSING FEES.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—A State which provides medical assistance for covered outpatient drugs shall pay a dispensing fee for each covered outpatient drug in accordance with this paragraph. A State may vary the amount of such dispensing fees, including taking into account the special circumstances of pharmacies that are serving rural or underserved areas or that are sole community pharmacies, so long as such variation is consistent with subparagraph (B).

“(B) DISPENSING FEE PAYMENT FOR MULTIPLE SOURCE DRUGS.—A State shall establish a dispensing fee under this title for a covered outpatient drug that is treated as a multiple source drug under paragraph (2)(A) (whether or not it may be an innovator multiple source drug) in an amount that is not less than $8 per prescription unit. The Secretary shall define what constitutes a prescription unit for purposes of the previous sentence.

“(4) EFFECT ON STATE MAXIMUM ALLOWABLE COST LIMITATIONS.—This section shall not supersede or affect provisions in effect prior to January 1, 1991, or after December 31, 1994, relating to any maximum allowable cost limitation established by a State for payment by the State for covered outpatient drugs, and rebates shall be made under this section without regard to whether or not payment by the State for such drugs is subject to such a limitation or the amount of such a limitation.

“(5) EVALUATION OF USE OF RETAIL SURVEY PRICE METHODOLOGY.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may develop a methodology to set the Federal upper limit based on the reported retail survey price, as most recently reported under subparagraph (C), instead of a percentage of RAMP or volume weighted average RAMP as described in paragraph (2).

“(B) INITIAL APPLICATION.—For 2007, the Secretary may use this methodology for a limited number of covered outpatient drugs, including both single source and multiple source drugs, selected by the Secretary in a manner so as to be representative of the classes of drugs dispensed under this title.

“(C) DETERMINATION OF RETAIL SURVEY PRICE FOR COVERED OUTPATIENT DRUGS.—

“(i) USE OF VENDOR.—The Secretary may contract services for the determination of retail survey prices for covered outpatient drugs that represent a nationwide average of pharmacy sales costs for such drugs, net of all discounts and rebates. Such a contract shall be awarded for a term of 2 years.

“(ii) USE OF COMPETITIVE BIDDING.—In contracting for such services, the Secretary shall competitively bid for an outside vendor that has a demonstrated history in—

“(I) surveying and determining, on a representative nationwide basis, retail prices for ingredient costs of prescription drugs;

“(II) working with retail pharmacies, commercial payers, and States in obtaining and disseminating such price information; and “(III) collecting and reporting such price information on at least a monthly basis.

“(iii) ADDITIONAL PROVISIONS.—A contract with a vendor under this subparagraph shall include such terms and conditions as the Secretary shall specify, including the following:

“(I) The vendor must monitor the marketplace and report to the Secretary each time there is a new covered outpatient drug available nationwide.

“(II) The vendor must update the Secretary no less often than monthly on the retail survey prices for multiple source drugs.

“(III) The vendor must apply methods for independently confirming retail survey prices.

“(iv) AVAILABILITY OF INFORMATION TO STATES.—Information on retail survey prices obtained under this subparagraph, including applicable information on single source drugs, shall be provided to States on an ongoing, timely basis.

“(D) STATE USE OF RETAIL SURVEY PRICE DATA.—

“(i) DISTRIBUTION OF PRICE DATA.—The Secretary shall devise and implement a means for electronic distribution to each State agency designated under section 1902(a)(5) with responsibility for the administration or supervision of the administration of the State plan under this title of the retail survey price determined under this paragraph.

“(ii) AUTHORITY TO ESTABLISH PAYMENT RATES BASED ON DATA.—A State may use the price data received in accordance with clause (i) in establishing payment rates for the ingredient costs and dispensing fees for covered outpatient drugs dispensed to individuals eligible for medical assistance under this title.

“(6) LIMITATION ON JUDICIAL REVIEW.—There shall be no administrative or judicial review of—

“(A) the Secretary’s determinations of Federal upper limits, RAMPs, and volume weighted average RAMPs under this subsection, including the assignment of National Drug Codes to billing and payment classes;

“(B) the Secretary’s disclosure to States of the average manufacturer prices, RAMPs, volume weighted average RAMPs, and retail survey prices;

“(C) determinations under this subsection by the Secretary of covered outpatient drugs which are dispensed by a specialty pharmacy or administered by a physician in a physician’s office;

“(D) the contracting and calculations process under this subsection; and

“(E) the method to allocate rebates, chargebacks, and other price concessions to a quarter if specified by the Secretary.”.

“(2)(A) In the case of any annuity in which an institutionalized individual or community spouse has an interest, if medical assistance is furnished to the individual for services described in subsection (c)(1)(C)(i), by virtue of the provision of such assistance the State becomes the remainder beneficiary in the first position for the total amount of such medical assistance paid on behalf of the individual under this title (or, where there is a community spouse or minor or disabled child in such first position, in the position immediately succeeding the position of such spouse or child or both).

“(B) In the case of disclosure concerning an annuity under paragraph (1)(A), the State shall notify the issuer of the annuity of the right of the State under subparagraph (A) as a preferred remainder beneficiary in the annuity for medical assistance furnished to the individual. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as preventing such an issuer from notifying persons with any other remainder interest of the State's remainder interest under subparagraph (A).

“(C) In the case of such an issuer receiving notice under subparagraph (B), the State may require the issuer to notify the State when there is a change in the amount of income or principal being withdrawn from the amount that was being withdrawn at the time of the most recent disclosure described in paragraph (1)(A). A State shall take such information into account in determining the amount of the State's obligations for medical assistance or in the individual's eligibility for such assistance.

“(3)(A) For purposes of subsection (c)(1), a transaction described in paragraph (1)(B) shall be deemed as the transfer of an asset for less than fair market value unless the individual demonstrates to the satisfaction of the State that the transfer of the asset was for fair market value.

“(B) The Secretary may provide guidance to States on categories of arms length transactions (such as the purchase of a commercial annuity) that could be generally treated as a transfer of asset for fair market value.

“(4) Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as preventing a State from denying eligibility for medical assistance for an individual based on the income or resources derived from an annuity described in paragraph (1)(A).”

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by this section shall apply to transactions (including the purchase of an annuity) occurring on or after the date of the enactment of this Act.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as superseding (or preventing the application of) section 1916(g).

“(2) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

“(A) PREMIUM.—The term ‘premium’ includes any enrollment fee or similar charge.

“(B) COST SHARING.—The term ‘cost sharing’ includes any deduction, deductible, copayment, or similar charge.

exceed 5 percent of the family income of the family involved for the year involved.

“(2) INDIVIDUALS WITH FAMILY INCOME ABOVE 100 PERCENT OF POVERTY LEVEL.—In the case of an individual whose family income exceeds 100 percent of the Federal poverty level applicable to a family of the size involved, the total annual aggregate amount of premiums and cost sharing imposed (including any increase and cost sharing imposed under subsection (c) or (e)) for all individuals in the family may not exceed 5 percent of the family income of the family involved for the year involved.

“(3) ADDITIONAL LIMITATIONS.—

“(iii) Any terminally ill individual who is receiving hospice care (as defined in section 1905(o)).

“(iv) Any individual who is an inpatient in a hospital, nursing facility, intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded, or other medical institution, if such individual is required, as a condition of receiving services in such institution under the State plan, to spend for costs of medical care all but a minimal amount of the individual’s income required for personal needs.

“(B) COST SHARING.—Subject to the succeeding provisions of this section, no cost sharing shall be imposed under this section with respect to the following:

“(vi) Emergency services (as defined by the Secretary for purposes of section 1916(a)(2)(D)).

“(vii) Family planning services and supplies described in section 1905(a)(4)(C).

“(C) CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as preventing a State from exempting additional classes of individuals from premiums under this section or from exempting additional individuals or services from cost sharing under this section.

“(4) INDEXING NOMINAL AMOUNTS.—In applying section 1916 under paragraph (1) with respect to cost sharing that is ‘nominal’ in amount, the Secretary shall increase such ‘nominal’ amounts for each year (beginning with 2006) by the annual percentage increase

“(5) DETERMINATIONS OF FAMILY INCOME.—In applying this subsection, family income shall be determined in a manner specified by the State for purposes of this subsection, including the use of such disregards as the State may provide. Family income shall be determined for such period and at such periodicity as the State may provide under this title.

A State may apply the previous sentence for some or all groups of beneficiaries as specified by the State and may waive payment of any such premium in any case where the State determines that requiring such payment would create an undue hardship.

“(2) COST SHARING.—Notwithstanding section 1916(e) or any other provision of law, a State may permit a provider participating under the State plan to require, as a condition for the provision of care, items, or services to an individual entitled to medical assistance under this title for such care, items, or services, the payment of any cost sharing authorized to be imposed under this section with respect to such care, items, or services. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as preventing a provider from reducing or waiving the application of such cost sharing.”

“(i) treat as a non-preferred drug under this subsection a drug that is treated as a preferred drug under the TRICARE pharmacy benefit program established under section 1074g of title 10, United States Code, as such program is in effect on the date of the enactment of this section; or

“(ii) impose cost sharing under this subsection that exceeds the cost sharing imposed under the standards under such pharmacy benefit program, as such program is in effect as of the date of the enactment of this section.

“(3) WAIVER.—In carrying out paragraph (1), a State shall provide for the application of cost sharing levels applicable to a preferred drug in the case of a drug that is not a preferred drug if the prescribing physician determines that the preferred drug for treatment of the same condition either would not be as effective for the individual or would have adverse effects for the individual or both.

“(4) EXCLUSION AUTHORITY.—Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as preventing a State from excluding from paragraph (1) specified drugs or classes of drugs.

“(5) PRIOR AUTHORIZATION AND APPEALS PROCESS.—A State may not provide for increased cost sharing under this subsection unless the State has implemented for outpatient prescription drugs a system for prior authorization and an appeals process for determinations relating to prior authorization.”

“(B) to modify any obligations under either State or Federal standards relating to the application of a prudent-layperson standard with respect to payment or coverage of emergency services by any managed care organization.

“(4) DETERMINATION STANDARD.—No hospital or physician that makes a determination with respect to the imposition of cost sharing under this subsection shall be liable in any civil action or proceeding for such determination absent a finding by clear and convincing evidence of gross negligence by the hospital or physician. “(2) LIMITATION.—The total amount of payments under this subsection shall be equal to, and shall not exceed, $100,000,000 during the four-year period beginning with 2006. This subsection constitutes budget authority in advance of appropriations Acts and represents the obligation of the Secretary to provide for the payment of amounts provided under this subsection.

“(3) PREFERENCE.—In providing for payments to States under this subsection, the Secretary shall provide preference to States that establish, or provide for, alternate non-emergency services providers or networks of such providers that—

“(4) FORM AND MANNER OF PAYMENT.—Payment to a State under this subsection shall be made only upon the filing of such application in such form and in such manner as the Secretary shall specify. SEC. 3132. OPTIONAL CHOICE OF SELF-DIRECTED PERSONAL ASSISTANCE SERVICES (CASH AND COUNSELING).

(a) EXEMPTION FROM CERTAIN REQUIREMENTS.—Section 1915 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396n) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(1)(1) A State may provide, as ‘medical assistance’, payment for part or all of the cost of self-directed personal assistance services (other than room and board) under the plan which are provided pursuant to a written plan of care to individuals with respect to whom there has been a determination that, but for the provision of such services, the individuals would require and receive personal care services under the plan, or home and community-based services provided pursuant to a waiver under subsection (c). Self-directed personal assistance services may not be provided under this subsection to individuals who reside in a home or property that is owned, operated, or controlled by a provider of services, not related by blood or marriage.

“(2) The Secretary shall not grant approval for a State self-directed personal assistance services program under this section unless the State provides assurances satisfactory to the Secretary of the following:

“(A) Necessary safeguards have been taken to protect the health and welfare of individuals provided services under the program, and to assure financial accountability for funds expended with respect to such services.

“(B) The State will provide, with respect to individuals who—

“(i) are entitled to medical assistance for personal care services under the plan, or receive home and community-based services under a waiver granted under subsection (c);

“(ii) may require self-directed personal assistance services; and

“(iii) may be eligible for self-directed personal assistance services, an evaluation of the need for personal care under the plan, or personal services under a waiver granted under subsection (c).

“(C) Such individuals who are determined to be likely to require personal care under the plan, or home and community-based services under a waiver granted under subsection (c) are informed of the feasible alternatives, if available under the State’s self-directed personal assistance services program, at the choice of such individuals, to the provision of personal care services under the plan, or personal assistance services under a waiver granted under subsection (c).

“(D) The State will provide for a support system that ensures participants in the self-directed personal assistance services program are appropriately assessed and counseled prior to enrollment and are able to manage their budgets. Additional counseling and management support may be provided at the request of the participant.

“(E) The State will provide to the Secretary an annual report on the number of individuals served and total expenditures on their behalf in the aggregate. The State shall also provide an evaluation of overall impact on the health and welfare of participating individuals compared to non-participants every three years.

“(3) A State may provide self-directed personal assistance services under the State plan without regard to the requirements of section 1902(a)(1) and may limit the population eligible to receive these services and limit the number of persons served without regard to section 1902(a)(10)(B).

“(4)(A) For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘self-directed personal assistance services’ means personal care and related services, or home and community-based services otherwise available under the plan under this title or subsection (c), that are provided to an eligible participant under a self-directed personal assistance services program under this section, under which individuals, within an approved self-directed services plan and budget, purchase personal assistance and related services, and permits participants to hire, fire, supervise, and manage the individuals providing such services.

“(B) At the election of the State—

“(i) a participant may choose to use any individual capable of providing the assigned tasks including legally liable relatives as paid providers of the services; and

“(ii) the individual may use the individual’s budget to acquire items that increase independence or substitute (such as a microwave oven or an accessibility ramp) for human assistance, to the extent that expenditures would otherwise be made for the human assistance.

“(5) For purpose of this section, the term ‘approved self-directed services plan and budget’ means, with respect to a participant, the establishment of a plan and budget for the provision of self-directed personal assistance services, consistent with the following requirements:

“(A) SELF-DIRECTION.—The participant (or in the case of a participant who is a minor child, the participant’s parent or guardian, or in the case of an incapacitated adult, another individual recognized by State law to act on behalf of the participant) exercises choice and control over the budget, planning, and purchase of self-directed personal assistance services, including the amount, duration, scope, provider, and location of service provision.

“(B) ASSESSMENT OF NEEDS.—There is an assessment of the needs, strengths, and preferences of the participants for such services.

“(C) SERVICE PLAN.—A plan for such services (and supports for such services) for the participant has been developed and approved by the State based on such assessment through a person-centered process that—

“(i) builds upon the participant’s capacity to engage in activities that promote community life and that respects the participant’s preferences, choices, and abilities; and

“(ii) involves families, friends, and professionals in the planning or delivery of services or supports as desired or required by the participant.

“(D) SERVICE BUDGET.—A budget for such services and supports for the participant has been developed and approved by the State based on such assessment and plan and on a methodology that uses valid, reliable cost data, is open to public inspection, and includes a calculation of the expected cost of such services if those services were not self-directed. The budget may not restrict access to other medically necessary care and services furnished under the plan and approved by the State but not included in the budget.

“(E) APPLICATION OF QUALITY ASSURANCE AND RISK MANAGEMENT.—There are appropriate quality assurance and risk management techniques used in establishing and implementing such plan and budget that recognize the roles and responsibilities in obtaining services in a self-directed manner and assure the appropriateness of such plan and budget based upon the participant’s resources and capabilities.

“(G) A State may employ a financial management entity to make payments to providers, track costs, and make reports under the program. Payment for the activities of the financial management entity shall be at the administrative rate established in section 1903(a).”

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply to services furnished on or after January 1, 2006.

SEC. 3133. EXPANSION OF STATE LONG-TERM CARE PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1917(b)(1)(C) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1396p(b)(1)(C)) is amended—

(1) in clause (ii), by inserting “or which has a State plan amendment that provides for a qualified State long-term care insurance partnership (as defined in clause (iii))” after “1993.”; and

(2) by adding at the end the following new clauses:

“(iii) For purposes of this paragraph, the term ‘qualified State long-term care insurance partnership’ means an approved State plan amendment under this title that provides for the disregard of any assets or resources in an amount equal to the insurance benefit payments that are made to or on behalf of an individual who is a beneficiary under a long-term care insurance policy (including a certificate issued under a group insurance contract), if the following requirements are met:

“(I) The policy covers an insured who was a resident of such State when coverage first became effective under the policy.

“(II) The policy is a qualified long-term care insurance policy (as defined in section 7702B(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986) issued on or after the first day of the first calendar quarter in which the plan amendment was submitted to the Secretary.

“(III) If the policy does not provide some level of inflation protection, the insured was offered, before the policy was sold, a long-term care insurance policy that provides some level of inflation protection.

“(IV) The State Medicaid agency under section 1902(a)(5) provides information and technical assistance to the State insurance department on the insurance department’s role of assuring that any individual who sells a long-term care insurance policy under the partnership receives training or demonstrates evidence of an understanding of such policies and how they relate to other public and private coverage of long-term care.

“(V) The issuer of the policy provides regular reports to the Secretary that include, in accordance with regulations of the Secretary (promulgated after consultation with the States), notification regarding when all benefits provided under the policy have been paid and the amount of such benefits paid, when the policy otherwise terminates, and such other information as the Secretary determines may be appropriate to the administration of such partnerships.

“(VI) The State does not impose any requirement affecting the terms or benefits of such a policy unless the State imposes such requirement on long-term care insurance policies without regard to whether the policy is covered under the partnership or is offered in connection with such a partnership.

In the case of a long-term care insurance policy which is exchanged for another such policy, subclause (I) shall be applied based on the coverage of the first such policy that was exchanged.

“(iv) The Secretary—

“(I) as appropriate, shall provide copies of the reports described in clause (iii)(V) to the State involved; and “(II) shall promote the education of consumers regarding qualified State long-term care insurance partnerships.

“(v) The Secretary, in consultation with other appropriate Federal agencies, issuers of long-term care insurance, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, and State insurance commissioners, shall develop recommendations for Congress to authorize and fund a uniform minimum data set to be reported electronically by all issuers of long-term care insurance policies under qualified State long-term care insurance partnerships to a secure, centralized electronic query and report-generating mechanism that the State, the Secretary, and other Federal agencies can access.”

(b) CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in the amendments made by subsection (a) shall be construed as affecting the treatment of long-term care insurance policies that will be, are, or were provided under a State plan amendment described in section 1917(b)(1)(C)(ii) of the Social Security Act that was approved as of May 14, 1993.

(c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—A State plan amendment that provides for a qualified State long-term care insurance partnership under the amendments made by subsection (a) may provide that such amendment is effective for long-term care insurance policies issued on or after a date, specified in the amendment, that is not earlier than the first day of the first calendar quarter in which the plan amendment was submitted to the Secretary of Health and Human Services.

(d) STANDARDS FOR RECIPROCAL RECOGNITION AMONG PARTNERSHIP STATES.—In order to permit portability in long-term care insurance policies purchased under State long-term care insurance partnerships, the Secretary of Health and Human Services may develop, in consultation with the States and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, uniform standards for reciprocal recognition of such policies among States with qualified State long-term care insurance partnerships.

SEC. 3134. HEALTH OPPORTUNITY ACCOUNTS.

Title XIX of the Social Security Act, as amended by section 3124, is amended—

(1) by redesignating section 1937 as section 1938; and

(2) by inserting after section 1936 the following new section:

“HEALTH OPPORTUNITY ACCOUNTS

“SEC. 1937. (a) AUTHORITY.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this title, the Secretary shall establish a demonstration program under which States may provide under their State plans under this title (including such a plan operating under a statewide waiver under section 1115) in accordance with this section for the provision of alternative benefits consistent with subsection (c) for eligible population groups in one or more geographic areas of the State specified by the State. An amendment under the previous sentence is referred to in this section as a ‘State demonstration program’.

“(2) INITIAL DEMONSTRATION.—The demonstration program under this section shall begin on January 1, 2006. During the first 5 years of such program, the Secretary shall not approve more than 10 State demonstration programs, with each State demonstration program covering one or more geographic areas specified by the State. After such 5-year period—

“(A) unless the Secretary finds, taking into account cost-effectiveness, quality of care, and other criteria that the Secretary specifies, that a State demonstration program previously implemented has been unsuccessful, such a demonstration program may be extended or made permanent in the State; and

“(B) unless the Secretary finds, taking into account cost-effectiveness, quality of care, and other criteria that the Secretary specifies, that all State demonstration programs previously implemented were unsuccessful, other States may implement State demonstration programs.

“(3) APPROVAL.—The Secretary shall not approve a State demonstration program under paragraph (1) unless the program includes the following:

“(A) Creating patient awareness of the high cost of medical care.

“(B) Providing incentives to patients to seek preventive care services.

“(C) Reducing inappropriate use of health care services.

“(D) Enabling patients to take responsibility for health outcomes.

“(E) Providing enrollment counselors and ongoing education activities.

“(F) Providing transactions involving health opportunity accounts to be conducted electronically and without cash.

“(G) Providing access to negotiated provider payment rates consistent with this section.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing a State demonstration program from providing incentives for patients obtaining appropriate preventive care (as defined for purposes of section 223(c)(2)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986), such as additional account contributions for an individual demonstrating healthy prevention practices.

“(4) NO REQUIREMENT FOR STATEWIDENESS.—Nothing in this section or any other provision of law shall be construed to require that a State must provide for the implementation of a State demonstration program on a Statewide basis.

“(5) REPORTS.—The Secretary shall periodically submit to Congress reports regarding the success of State demonstration programs.

“(b) ELIGIBLE POPULATION GROUPS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—A State demonstration program under this section shall specify the eligible population groups consistent with paragraphs (2) and (3).

“(2) ELIGIBILITY LIMITATIONS DURING INITIAL DEMONSTRATION PERIOD.—During the initial 5 years of the demonstration program under this section, a State demonstration program shall not apply to any of the following individuals:

“(3) ADDITIONAL LIMITATIONS.—A State demonstration program shall not apply to any individual within a category of individuals described in section 1936(a)(2)(B).

“(4) LIMITATIONS.—

“(A) STATE OPTION.—This subsection shall not be construed as preventing a State from further limiting eligibility.

“(B) ON ENROLLEES IN MEDICAID MANAGED CARE ORGANIZATIONS.—Insofar as the State provides for eligibility of individuals who are enrolled in medicaid managed care organizations, such individuals may participate in the State demonstration program only if the State provides assurances satisfactory to the Secretary that the following conditions are met with respect to any such organization:

“(i) In no case may the number of such individuals enrolled in the organization who participate in the program exceed 5 percent of the total number of individuals enrolled in such organization.

“(ii) The proportion of enrollees in the organization who so participate is not significantly disproportionate to the proportion of such enrollees in other such organizations who participate.

“(iii) The State has provided for an appropriate adjustment in the per capita payments to the organization to account for such participation, taking into account differences in the likely use of health services between enrollees who so participate and enrollees who do not so participate.

“(5) VOLUNTARY PARTICIPATION.—An eligible individual shall be enrolled in a State demonstration program only if the individual voluntarily enrolls. Except in such hardship cases as the Secretary shall specify, such an enrollment shall be effective for a period of 12 months, but may be extended for additional periods of 12 months each with the consent of the individual.

“(c) ALTERNATIVE BENEFITS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The alternative benefits provided under this section shall consist, consistent with this subsection, of at least—

“(A) coverage for medical expenses in a year for items and services for which benefits are otherwise provided under this title after an annual deductible described in paragraph (2) has been met; and

“(B) contribution into a health opportunity account.

Nothing in subparagraph (A) shall be construed as preventing a State from providing for coverage of preventive care (referred to in subsection (a)(3)) within the alternative benefits without regard to the annual deductible.

“(2) ANNUAL DEDUCTIBLE.—The amount of the annual deductible described in paragraph (1)(A) shall be at least 100 percent, but no more than 110 percent, of the annualized amount of contributions to the health opportunity account under subsection (d)(2)(A)(i), determined without regard to any limitation described in subsection (d)(2)(C)(i)(II).

“(3) ACCESS TO NEGOTIATED PROVIDER PAYMENT RATES.—

“(A) FEE-FOR-SERVICE ENROLLEES.—In the case of an individual who is participating in a State demonstration program and who is not enrolled with a medicaid managed care organization, the State shall provide that the individual may obtain demonstration program medicaid services from—

“(i) any participating provider under this title at the same payment rates that would be applicable to such services if the deductible described in paragraph (1)(A) was not applicable; or

“(ii) any provider at payment rates that do not exceed 125 percent of the payment rate that would be applicable to such services furnished by a participating provider under this title if the deductible described in paragraph (1)(A) was not applicable.

“(B) TREATMENT UNDER MEDICAID MANAGED CARE PLANS.—In the case of an individual who is participating in a State demonstration program and is enrolled with a medicaid managed care organization, the State shall enter into an arrangement with the organization under which the individual may obtain demonstration program medicaid services from any provider under such organization at payment rates that do not exceed the payment rate that would be applicable to such services if the deductible described in paragraph (1)(A) was not applicable.

“(C) COMPUTATION.—The payment rates described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) shall be computed without regard to any cost sharing that would be otherwise applicable under sections 1916 and 1916A.

“(D) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this paragraph:

“(i) The term ‘demonstration program medicaid services’ means, with respect to an individual participating in a State demonstration program, services for which the individual would be provided medical assistance under this title but for the application of the deductible described in paragraph (1)(A).

“(ii) The term ‘participating provider’ means—

“(I) with respect to an individual described in subparagraph (A), a health care provider that has entered into a participation agreement with the State for the provision of services to individuals entitled to benefits under the State plan; or

“(II) with respect to an individual described in subparagraph (B) who is enrolled in a medicaid managed care organization, a health care provider that has entered into an arrangement for the provision of services to enrollees of the organization under this title.

“(4) NO EFFECT ON SUBSEQUENT BENEFITS.—Except as provided under paragraphs (1) and (2), alternative benefits for an eligible individual shall consist of the benefits otherwise provided to the individual, including cost sharing relating to such benefits.

“(5) OVERRIDING COST SHARING AND COMPARABILITY REQUIREMENTS FOR ALTERNATIVE BENEFITS.—The provisions of this title relating to cost sharing for benefits (including sections 1916 and 1916A) shall not apply with respect to benefits to which the annual deductible under paragraph (1)(A) applies. The provisions of section 1902(a)(10)(B) (relating to comparability) shall not apply with respect to the provision of alternative benefits (as described in this subsection).

“(6) TREATMENT AS MEDICAL ASSISTANCE.—Subject to subparagraphs (D) and (E) of subsection (d)(2), payments for alternative benefits under this section (including contributions into a health opportunity account) shall be treated as medical assistance for purposes of section 1903(a).

“(7) USE OF TIERED DEDUCTIBLE AND COST SHARING.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—A State—

“(i) may vary the amount of the annual deductible applied under paragraph (1)(A) based on the income of the family involved so long as it does not favor families with higher income over those with lower income; and

“(ii) may vary the amount of the maximum out-of-pocket cost sharing (as defined in subparagraph (B)) based on the income of the family involved so long as it does not favor families with higher income over those with lower income.

“(B) MAXIMUM OUT-OF-POCKET COST SHARING.—For purposes of subparagraph (A)(ii), the term ‘maximum out-of-pocket cost sharing’ means, for an individual or family, the amount by which the annual deductible level applied under paragraph (1)(A) to the individual or family exceeds the balance in the health opportunity account for the individual or family.

“(8) CONTRIBUTIONS BY EMPLOYERS.—Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing an employer from providing health benefits coverage consisting of the coverage described in paragraph (1)(A) to individuals who are provided alternative benefits under this section.

“(d) HEALTH OPPORTUNITY ACCOUNT.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘health opportunity account’ means an account that meets the requirements of this subsection.

“(i) IN GENERAL.—A State—

“(I) may impose limitations on the maximum contributions that may be deposited under subparagraph (A)(i) into a health opportunity account in a year;

“(II) may limit contributions into such an account once the balance in the account reaches a level specified by the State; and

“(III) subject to clauses (ii) and (iii) and subparagraph (D)(i), may not provide contributions described in subparagraph (A)(i) to a health opportunity account on behalf of an individual or family to the extent the amount of such contributions (including both State and Federal shares) exceeds, on an annual basis, $2,500 for each individual (or family member) who is an adult and $1,000 for each individual (or family member) who is a child.

“(ii) INDEXING OF DOLLAR LIMITATIONS.—For each year after 2006, the dollar amounts specified in clause (i)(III) shall be annually increased by the Secretary by a percentage that reflects the annual percentage increase in the medical care component of the consumer price index for all urban consumers.

“(iii) BUDGET NEUTRAL ADJUSTMENT.—A State may provide for dollar limitations in excess of those specified in clause (i)(III) (as increased under clause (ii)) for specified individuals if the State provides assurances satisfactory to the Secretary that contributions otherwise made to other individuals will be reduced in a manner so as to provide for aggregate contributions that do not exceed the aggregate contributions that would otherwise be permitted under this subparagraph.

“(D) LIMITATIONS ON FEDERAL MATCHING.—

“(i) STATE CONTRIBUTION.—A State may contribute under subparagraph (A)(i) amounts to a health opportunity account in excess of the limitations provided under subparagraph (C)(i)(III), but no Federal financial participation shall be provided under section 1903(a) with respect to contributions in excess of such limitations.

“(ii) NO FFP FOR PRIVATE CONTRIBUTIONS.—No Federal financial participation shall be provided under section 1903(a) with respect to any contributions described in subparagraph (A)(ii) to a health opportunity account.

“(E) APPLICATION OF DIFFERENT MATCHING RATES.—The Secretary shall provide a method under which, for expenditures made from a health opportunity account for medical care for which the Federal matching rate under section 1903(a) exceeds the Federal medical assistance percentage, a State may obtain payment under such section at such higher matching rate for such expenditures.

“(3) USE.—

“(A) GENERAL USES.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Subject to the succeeding provisions of this paragraph, amounts in a health opportunity account may be used for payment of such health care expenditures as the State specifies.

“(ii) GENERAL LIMITATION.—In no case shall such account be used for payment for health care expenditures that are not payment of medical care (as defined by section 213(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986).

“(iii) STATE RESTRICTIONS.—In applying clause (i), a State may restrict payment for—

“(I) providers of items and services to providers that are licensed or otherwise authorized under State law to provide the item or service and may deny payment for such a provider on the basis that the provider has been found, whether with respect to this title or any other health benefit program, to have failed to meet quality standards or to have committed one or more acts of fraud or abuse; and “(II) items and services insofar as the State finds they are not medically appropriate or necessary.

“(iv) ELECTRONIC WITHDRAWALS.—The State demonstration program shall provide for a method whereby withdrawals may be made from the account for such purposes using an electronic system and shall not permit withdrawals from the account in cash.

“(i) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if an account holder of a health opportunity account becomes ineligible for benefits under this title because of an increase in income or assets—

“(I) no additional contribution shall be made into the account under paragraph (2)(A)(i);

“(II) subject to clause (iii), the balance in the account shall be reduced by 25 percent; and

“(III) subject to the succeeding provisions of this subparagraph, the account shall remain available to the account holder for withdrawals under the same terms and conditions as if the account holder remained eligible for such benefits.

“(iii) EXCEPTION FROM 25 PERCENT SAVINGS TO GOVERNMENT FOR PRIVATE CONTRIBUTIONS.—Clause (i)(II) shall not apply to the portion of the account that is attributable to contributions described in paragraph (2)(A)(ii). For purposes of accounting for such contributions, withdrawals from a health opportunity account shall first be attributed to contributions described in paragraph (2)(A)(i).

“(iv) CONDITION FOR NON-HEALTH WITHDRAWALS.—No withdrawal may be made from an account under clause (ii)(II) unless the account holder has participated in the program under this section for at least 1 year.

“(v) NO REQUIREMENT FOR CONTINUATION OF COVERAGE.—An account holder of a health opportunity account, after becoming ineligible for medical assistance under this title, is not required to purchase high-deductible or other insurance as a condition of maintaining or using the account.

Subtitle C—Katrina and Rita Energy Relief
SEC. 3301. HURRICANES KATRINA AND RITA ENERGY RELIEF.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds the following:

(1) Hurricanes Katrina and Rita severely disrupted crude oil and natural gas production in the Gulf of Mexico. The Energy Information Administration estimates that as a result of these two hurricanes, the amount of shut in crude oil production nearly doubled to almost 1,600,000 barrels per day, and the amount of natural gas production shut in also doubled to about 8,000,000,000 cubic feet per day. The hurricanes also initially shut down most of the crude oil refinery capacity in the Gulf of Mexico region. These disruptions led to significantly higher prices for crude oil, refined oil products, and natural gas.

(2) These production and supply disruptions are expected to lead to significantly higher heating costs for consumers this winter. The Energy Information Administration projects an increase in residential natural gas heating expenditures of 32 percent to 61 percent over last winter, with the Midwest seeing the largest increase. Winter heating oil expenditures are projected to increase by 30 percent to 41 percent over last winter, again with the Midwest seeing the largest increase. Propane expenditures for home heating are projected to increase 20 percent to 36 percent over last winter, with the Midwest seeing the largest projected increase. Expenditures for home heating using electricity are expected to increase by 2 percent to 9 percent over last winter, with the South seeing the largest increase. Overall, average home heating expenditures this winter are projected to increase about 33 percent, assuming a normal winter. These significant increases in home heating costs this winter will particularly harm low-income consumers. The Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program is designed to assist these low income consumers in this situation. Accordingly, Congress seeks a one-time only supplement to the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program fund to assist low income consumers with the additional home heating expenditures that they will face this winter as a result of Hurricanes Katrina and Rita.

(b) RELIEF.—In addition to amounts otherwise made available, there shall be directly available to the Secretary of Health and Human Services for a 1-time only obligation and expenditure $1,000,000,000 for fiscal year 2006 for allocation under section 2604(a) through (d) of the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Act of 1981 (42 U.S.C. 8623(a) through (d)), for the sole purpose of providing assistance to offset the anticipated higher energy costs caused by Hurricane Katrina and Hurricane Rita.

(c) SUNSET.—The provisions of this section shall terminate, be null and void, and have no force and effect whatsoever after September 30, 2006. No monies provided for under this section shall be available after such date.

Subtitle D—Digital Television Transition

SEC. 3401. SHORT TITLE.

This subtitle may be cited as the “Digital Television Transition Act of 2005”.

SEC. 3402. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds the following:

(1) A loophole in current law is stalling the digital television (DTV) transition and preventing the return of spectrum for critical public safety and wireless broadband uses.

(A) In 1996, to facilitate the DTV transition, Congress gave each full-power television broadcaster an extra channel of spectrum to broadcast in digital format while continuing to broadcast in analog format on its original channel. Each broadcaster was supposed to eventually return either the original or additional channel and broadcast exclusively in digital format on the remaining channel.

(B) In 1997, Congress earmarked for public safety use some of the spectrum the broadcasters are supposed to return. Congress designated the rest of the spectrum to be auctioned for advanced commercial applications, such as wireless broadband services. Congress set December 31, 2006, as the deadline for broadcasters to return the spectrum for public safety and wireless use.

(C) A loophole, however, allows broadcasters in a market to delay the return of the spectrum until more than 85 percent of television households in that market have at least one television with access to digital broadcast channels using a digital television receiver, a digital-to-analog converter box, or cable or satellite service. Experts forecast it will take many more years to meet the 85-percent test nationwide.

(2) Eliminating the 85-percent test and setting a “hard deadline” will close the loophole, making possible the nationwide clearing necessary to complete the DTV transition and free the spectrum for public safety use.

(A) Some police officers, firefighters, and rescue personnel already have equipment to communicate over the spectrum the broadcasters are supposed to return, and are just awaiting the turnover. Many more public safety officials cannot purchase equipment or begin planning without a date certain for the availability of the spectrum.

(B) Five years to the day before September 11, 2001, an advisory committee report to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) noted that public safety officials desperately needed more spectrum to better communicate with each other in times of emergency. The 9/11 Commission has specifically recognized the importance of clearing for public safety use the spectrum at issue here, especially following the terrorist attacks on the Pentagon and the World Trade Center. The spectrum is also important for communications during natural disasters.

(3) The certainty of a nationwide hard deadline will enable consumers, industry, and government to take the necessary steps to make the transition as smooth as possible.

(A) Under existing law, once a market meets the 85-percent penetration test, the remaining 15 percent of households in the market would lose access to broadcast programming unless they obtain a digital television receiver, a digital-to-analog converter box, or cable or satellite service.

(B) Determining when the 85-percent test in current law has been met in a particular market would be extremely difficult for the FCC to accomplish. Moreover, because no one can predict precisely when any market will meet the 85-percent test, and because different markets will meet the test at different times, consumers, industry, and government cannot adequately plan on a either a local or nationwide basis.

(C) With a hard deadline, government, industry, and consumer groups can develop concrete plans for consumer education. Manufacturers can build large quantities of low-cost digital-to-analog converter boxes for consumers who wish to continue using their analog televisions. Clearing the spectrum on a unified, nationwide basis will also enable the government to maximize the revenue from the auction. Some of that revenue can be used to help make the converter boxes available.

(D) The deadline will have little impact on most television households. The vast majority of households already subscribe to cable or satellite services. Allowing cable and satellite operators to convert digital broadcasts into an analog-viewable format will enable their subscribers that wish to continue using analog televisions to do so.

(4) Setting a hard deadline will bring consumers and the economy the benefits of the DTV transition faster.

(A) DTV offers sharper and wider pictures, and CD-quality sound. Even consumers with analog televisions connected to a converter box or cable or satellite service will receive better service than they did before the transition.

(B) Once the transition is complete, broadcasters can redirect the resources they currently expend running both analog and digital stations and focus on programming that capitalizes on the advanced features of digital transmissions. Manufacturers can also increase the production of televisions and other consumer electronics equipment that takes advantage of these features, which will also drive down prices.

(C) The cleared spectrum can be used to bring cutting-edge wireless services to public safety officials and consumers. This spectrum travels greater distances at lower costs, and more easily penetrates buildings and foliage. Consequently, it is ideal to bring mobile broadband services not only to urban areas, but to rural areas as well, which currently have very few cost-effective broadband options.

(D) The increase in DTV programming, services, and equipment, and the provision of products and services that use the cleared spectrum, will improve America's global competitiveness and result in significant investment and innovation, boosting our economy and fostering new jobs.

“(2) FORMATTING OF PRIMARY VIDEO STREAM.—A satellite carrier must offer the primary video stream and program-related material of an eligible requesting station in the digital format transmitted by the station if the satellite carrier carries the primary video stream of any other local television station in that local market in the same digital format.

“(3) MULTIPLE FORMATS PERMITTED.—A satellite carrier may offer the primary video stream and program-related material of an eligible requesting station in any analog or digital format or formats, whether or not doing so requires conversion from the format transmitted by that eligible requesting station, so long as—

“(A) the satellite carrier offers the primary video stream and program-related material in the converted analog or digital format or formats without material degradation; and

“(B) also offers the primary video stream and program-related material in the manner or manners required by this subsection.

“(4) TRANSITIONAL CONVERSIONS.—Notwithstanding any requirement in paragraphs (1) and (2) to carry the primary video stream and program-related material in the digital format transmitted by the local television station, but subject to the prohibition on material degradation, until January 1, 2014, a satellite carrier—

(2) in subsection (b)(1), by striking “subsection (a)” and inserting “subsection (a) or (I)”;

(3) in subsection (c)(1), by striking “subsection (a)(1)” and inserting “subsections (a)(1) and (I)”;

(4) in subsection (c)(2), by striking “subsection (a)” and inserting “subsections (a) and (I)”.

(d) DEADLINE.—The Federal Communications Commission shall revise its regulations to implement the amendments made by this section within one year after the date of enactment of this Act.

SEC. 3411. DEPLOYMENT OF BROADBAND WIRELESS TECHNOLOGIES.

Not later than 45 days after the effective date of this Act, the Commission shall initiate a rulemaking to assess the necessity of rechannelizing the spectrum located between 767–773 megahertz and 797–803 megahertz to accommodate broadband applications. Such rulemaking shall be completed within 180 days.

SEC. 3412. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds the following:

(1) The wireless communications industry in the United States is becoming increasingly concentrated: there are currently no ownership limitations on wireless companies, and the five largest wireless carriers in the United States control nearly 90 percent of United States wireless subscribership.

(2) Over 90 percent of households receive their broadband services through either cable or digital subscriber line (DSL) service, and most cable and DSL providers are heavily concentrated within their geographic markets.

(3) Under the Omnibus Budget and Reconciliation Act of 1993, Congress tasked the Federal Communications Commission to promote economic opportunity by disseminating wireless communications licenses among a wide variety of applicants, including small businesses and rural telephone companies.

(4) Upcoming auctions for the returned analog broadcast spectrum in the 700 megahertz band that will be cleared following the transition from analog to digital broadcast television and Advanced Wireless Services (AWS) in the 1710–1755 megahertz and 2110–2155 megahertz bands will likely be the last reallocation opportunities for commercial wireless communications services and wireless broadband services in the foreseeable future.

(5) In the near term, wireless broadband presents the most promising opportunity to provide a third option (other than cable modem or DSL service) for broadband Internet access for most consumers, and the spectrum in the 700 megahertz band is considered “beachfront” property by telecommunications carriers because wireless signals at this frequency range pass easily through buildings, trees, and other interference.

(6) The 700 megahertz band offers a historic opportunity to provide the equivalent of a “third wire” into the home – an alternative to telephone or cable broadband access that will create new competition and incentives for new entrants, innovation, and broader service offerings.

(b) SENSE OF THE CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the Congress that the Federal Communications Commission should disseminate wireless communications licenses consistent with the findings in subsection (a) and do so utilizing its existing authority under section 309(j) of the Communications Act of 1934, which requires the Commission to promote the following objectives:

(1) the development and rapid deployment of new technologies, products, and services for the benefit of the public, including those residing in rural areas, without administrative or judicial delays;

(2) promoting economic opportunity and competition and ensuring that new and innovative technologies are readily accessible to the American people by avoiding excessive concentration of licenses and by disseminating licenses among a wide variety of applicants, including small businesses and rural telephone companies;

(3) recovery for the public of a portion of the value of the public spectrum resource made available for commercial use and avoidance of unjust enrichment through the methods employed to award uses of that resource; and

(4) efficient and intensive use of the electromagnetic spectrum.

SEC. 3413. BAND PLAN REVISION REQUIRED.

(a) PROCEEDING REQUIRED.—The Federal Communications Commission shall commence a proceeding no later than June 1, 2006, to reevaluate the band plan for the auction of the unauctioned portions of the lower 700 megahertz band (currently designated as Blocks A, B, and E).

(b) RECONFIGURATION REQUIRED.—The Federal Communications Commission shall reconfigure the band plan to license spectrum for Block B of such portion according to Cellular Market Areas (i.e., Metropolitan Statistical Areas (“MSAs”) and Rural Service Areas (“RSAs”)) to facilitate the offering of competitive wireless services by regional and smaller wireless carriers.

SEC. 6101. FEES FOR RECORDATION AND LOCATION OF MINING CLAIMS.

(a) DIMENSIONS OF MINING CLAIMS.—Section 2320 of the Revised Statutes (30 U.S.C. 23) is amended by striking the second and third sentences and inserting the following: “A mining claim located after May 10, 1872, whether located by one or more persons, and including a claim located before exposure of the vein or lode, may equal, but shall not exceed, 1,500 feet in length along the vein or lode, and shall extend no more than 300 feet on each side of the middle of the vein at the surface, nor shall any claim be limited by any mining regulation to less than 25 feet on each side of the middle of the vein at the surface, except where adverse rights existing on May 10, 1872, render such limitation necessary.”.

(b) RIGHTS SECURED BY CLAIM MAINTENANCE FEES.—Section 2322 of the Revised Statutes (30 U.S.C. 26) is amended by inserting “(a) RIGHTS OF LOCATORS, GENERALLY.—” before the first sentence, and by adding at the end the following:

“(b) RIGHTS SECURED BY MAINTENANCE FEES.—Prior to issuance of a patent, timely payment of the claim maintenance fee secures the rights of the holder of a mining claim, mill site, or tunnel site, both prior to and after discovery of valuable mineral deposits, to use and occupy public lands under the provisions of the general mining law of the United States (as that term is defined in section 2324 of the Revised Statutes) for mineral prospecting, exploration, development, mining, milling, and processing of minerals, reclamation of the claimed lands, and uses reasonably incident thereto. Except for the location fee and the maintenance fees in section 2324 of the Revised Statutes (30 U.S.C. 28), and the patent prices in sections 2325, 2326, 2333, and 2337 of the Revised Statutes (30 U.S.C. 29, 30, 37, and 42), no other fees or fair market value assessments shall be applied to prospecting, exploration, development, mining, processing, or reclamation, and uses reasonably incident thereto.”.

(c) PATENT REQUIREMENTS.—Section 2325 of the Revised Statutes (30 U.S.C. 29) is amended—

(1) in the second sentence by striking “, or at any time” and inserting “shall include a processing fee of $2,500 for the first claim or site, and $50 for each additional claim contained therein, and at any time”; and

(2) in the fourth sentence by inserting “and if the applicant has complied with the law of discovery” after “publication”.

(d) MINING DISTRICT REGULATIONS BY MINERS.—Section 2324 of the Revised Statutes (30 U.S.C. 28) is amended to read as follows:

“SEC. 2324. (a) AUTHORITY TO MAKE REGULATIONS.—The miners of each mining district may make regulations not in conflict with the laws of the United States, or with the laws of the State or Territory in which the district is situated, governing the location, manner of recording, amount of work necessary to hold possession of a mining claim, subject to the following requirements:

“(1) The location must be distinctly marked on the ground so that its boundaries can be readily traced.

“(2) All records of mining claims made after May 10, 1872, shall contain the name or names of the locators, the date of the location, and such a description of the claim or claims located by reference to some natural object or permanent monument as will identify the claim.

“(b) RECORDATION OF MINING CLAIMS AND ABANDONMENT.—The locator of an unpatented lode or placer mining claim, mill site, or tunnel site located after October 21, 1976, pursuant to the general mining law of the United States shall, within 90 days after the date of location of such claim, file in the office designated by the Secretary of the Interior a copy of the official record of the notice of location or certificate of location, including a description of the location of the mining claim or mill or tunnel site sufficient to locate the claimed lands on the ground. The failure to file such instruments as required by this subsection is deemed conclusively to constitute an abandonment of the mining claim, mill site, or tunnel site by the owner. Such recordation by itself shall not render valid any claim that would not be otherwise valid under applicable law.

“(c) LOCATION FEE.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for every mining claim, mill site, or tunnel site located after the date of the enactment of this subsection pursuant to the general mining law of the United States, the locator shall, at the time the location notice is recorded pursuant to subsection (b), pay a location fee of $100 per claim. This fee shall be in addition to the first year’s claim maintenance fee required by subsection (d). Payment of the location fee required by this subsection and the maintenance fee required by subsection (d) secures to the locator the right to use and occupy the public lands for purposes of the general mining law of the United States.

“(d) SCHEDULE OF CLAIM MAINTENANCE FEES.—(1) The holder of each unpatented mining claim, mill site, or tunnel site located pursuant to the general mining law of the United States on or after the date of the enactment of this subsection shall pay to the Secretary of the Interior, on or before September 1 of each year, a claim maintenance fee per claim. Except as provided in paragraph (2), such claim maintenance fee shall be paid in the following amounts:

“(A) $35 per claim for each of the first through fifth maintenance years, beginning with the year the claim was recorded.

“(B) $70 per claim for each of the sixth through tenth maintenance years.

“(C) $125 per claim for each of the eleventh through fifteenth maintenance years.

“(D) $150 per claim for the sixteenth maintenance year and each year thereafter.

“(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, for each unpatented mining claim located after the date of enactment of this subsection pursuant to the general mining law of the United States from which minerals are produced, and in lieu of the fee otherwise required by paragraph (1), the holder shall pay to the Secretary of the Interior an annual maintenance fee of $200 per claim.

“(3) The holder of each unpatented mining claim, mill site, or tunnel site located pursuant to the general mining law of the United States before the date of enactment of this subsection shall pay to the Secretary of the Interior for such claim—

“(A) except as provided in subparagraph (B), the claim maintenance fee that applied before such date of enactment; or

“(B) the claim maintenance fee that applies under paragraph (1) or (2), based on the number of years since the original location of the claim, if before the date the payment is due the claim holder—

“(i) notifies the Secretary; and “(ii) pays to the Secretary a transfer fee of $100.

“(e) ADJUSTMENT OF CLAIM MAINTENANCE FEES.—Claim maintenance fees under subsection (d) shall not be subject to adjustment.

“(f) WORK REQUIREMENT.—(1) The holder of each unpatented mining claim, mill site, or tunnel site located pursuant to the general mining law of the United States after the date of enactment of this subsection, and any holder of a claim that has transferred such claim to the claim maintenance fee schedule under subsection (d), shall conduct physical evaluation and development of the claim or of any contiguous block of claims of which the claim is a part. Exploration and mining activities conducted pursuant to a notice, approved plan of operations, or, in the case of split estate lands, a comparable State or county notice or approval, demonstrates compliance with this section.

“(2) If physical evaluation of the claim is not carried out in accordance with paragraph (1) before the end of the fifth, tenth, or fifteenth maintenance year (beginning with the maintenance year in which the claim is filed), respectively, the claim holder shall be required to pay in the next maintenance year the location fee described in subsection (c), in addition to the annual claim maintenance fee required to be paid for the next maintenance year.

“(g) WAIVER OF CLAIM MAINTENANCE FEE ADJUSTMENTS AND WORK REQUIREMENT.—If a delay in meeting the work requirements under subsection (f) is the result of pending administrative proceedings, rights-of-way disputes, or litigation concerning issuance or validity of any permit or authorization required under Federal, State, or local law for physical evaluation and development of the claim—

“(1) any increase in the claim maintenance fee that would otherwise apply under subsection (d) and the work requirements under subsection (f) shall be suspended for the claim; and

“(2) claim maintenance fees required to be paid each year for the claim shall be the same as the fee that applied for the year in which the delay first occurred, and no additional location fee will be owed.

“(h) TIME OF PAYMENT.—The claim maintenance fee required under subsection (d) for any maintenance year shall be paid before the commencement of the maintenance year, except that, for the maintenance year in which the location is made the locator shall pay the claim maintenance fee and the location fee imposed under subsection (c) at the time the location notice is recorded with the Bureau of Land Management. The Director of the Bureau of Land Management, after consultation with the Governor of Alaska and by not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this subsection, may establish a claim maintenance fee filing date for Alaska claim holders that is not later than 60 days after September 1.

“(i) SMALL MINER CLAIM MAINTENANCE FEE.—(1) In the case of a claim for which the holder certifies in writing to the Secretary that, on the date the payment of any claim maintenance fee under this section was due, the claim holder and all related parties held not more than 10 mining claims, mill sites, or tunnel sites, or any combination thereof, on public lands—

“(A) the claim maintenance fee shall be $25 per claim per year for the life of the claim or site held by the claim holder; and

“(B) subsection (f) shall not apply.

“(2) In this subsection:

“(A) With respect to any claim holder, the term ‘related party’ means—

“(i) the spouse and dependent children (as defined in section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. 152), as in effect on the date of the enactment of this paragraph of the claim holder; and “(ii) a person who controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with the claim holder.

“(B) The terms ‘control’, ‘controls’, and ‘controlled’ include actual control, legal control, and the power to exercise control, through or by common directors, officers, stockholders, a voting trust, or a holding company or investment company, or any other means.

“(j) FAILURE TO PAY.—(1) Failure to pay a claim maintenance fee or a location fee for an unpatented mining claim as required by this section shall subject an unpatented mining claim, mill site, or tunnel site to forfeiture by the claim holder as provided in this subsection.

“(2) The Secretary of the Interior shall provide the claim holder with notice of the failure and the opportunity to cure within 45 calendar days after the claim holder’s receipt of the notice.

“(3) The claim holder must, within such 45-day period, pay twice the amount of maintenance fee that would otherwise have been required to be timely paid. The Secretary of the Interior shall specify the amount that must be paid in the notice under paragraph (2).

“(4) Failure by the claim holder to make a timely and proper payment in the amount specified in the notice by the Secretary of the Interior, within 45 days after the claim holder’s receipt of the notice, shall constitute a forfeiture of the mining claim, mill site, or tunnel site by the claim holder by operation of law.

“(k) FAILURE OF CO-OWNER TO CONTRIBUTE.—Upon the failure of any one of several co-owners of a claim to contribute the co-owner’s proportion of any claim maintenance fee required by this section, the co-owners who have paid the claim maintenance fee, at the expiration of the year in which any unpaid amount was due, may give such delinquent co-owner personal notice in writing or notice by publication in the newspaper of record for the county in which the land that is subject to the claim or mill site is located, at least once a week for 90 days. If at the expiration of such 90-day period such delinquent co-owner fails or refuses to contribute the co-owner’s proportion of the claim maintenance fee required by this section, the co-owner’s interest in the claim shall become the property of the other co-owners who have paid the claim maintenance fee. The co-owners who have assumed the interest in the claims shall notify the Secretary of the Interior within 30 days of the assumption.

“(l) OIL SHALE CLAIMS SUBJECT TO CLAIM MAINTENANCE FEES UNDER ENERGY POLICY ACT OF 1992.—This section shall not apply to any oil shale claim for which a fee is required to be paid under section 2511(e)(2) of the Energy Policy Act of 1992 (30 U.S.C. 242).

“(m) GENERAL MINING LAW OF THE UNITED STATES DEFINED; RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—(1) In this section the term ‘general mining law of the United States’ means the provisions of law codified in chapters 2, 12, 12A, 15, and 16 of title 30, United States Code, and in sections 161 and 162 of such title.

“(2) Subsections (b) and (c) shall be construed in accordance with judicial decisions under section 314 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976, as in effect before the enactment of those subsections.”.

(e) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

(1) The Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 is amended—

(A) by striking section 314 (43 U.S.C. 1744); (B) in the table of contents preceding title I by striking the item relating to section 314; and

SEC. 8004. FINDINGS.

The Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) Program established by the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (Public Law 104-193) has succeeded in moving families from welfare to work and reducing child poverty.

(A) There has been a dramatic increase in the employment of current and former welfare recipients. The percentage of working recipients reached an all-time high in fiscal year 1999 and continued steady in fiscal years 2000 and 2001. In fiscal year 2003, 31.3 percent of adult recipients were counted as meeting the work participation requirements. All States but one met the overall participation rate standard in fiscal year 2003, as did the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

(B) Earnings for welfare recipients remaining on the rolls have also increased significantly, as have earnings for female-headed households. The increases have been particularly large for the bottom 2 income quintiles, that is, those women who are most likely to be former or present welfare recipients.

(C) Welfare dependency has plummeted. As of June 2004, 1,969,909 families and 4,727,291 individuals were receiving assistance. Accordingly, the number of families in the welfare caseload and the number of individuals receiving cash assistance declined 55 percent and 61 percent, respectively, since the enactment of TANF.

(D) The child poverty rate continued to decline between 1996 and 2003, falling 14 percent from 20.5 to 17.6 percent. Child poverty rates for African-American and Hispanic children have also fallen dramatically during the past 7 years.

(2) As a Nation, we have made substantial progress in reducing teen pregnancies and births, slowing increases in nonmarital childbearing, and improving child support collections and paternity establishment.

(A) The birth rate to teenagers declined 30 percent from its high in 1991 to 2002. The 2002 teenage birth rate of 43.0 per 1,000 women aged 15-19 is the lowest recorded birth rate for teenagers.

(B) During the period from 1991 through 2001, teenage birth rates fell in all States and the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands. Declines also have spanned age, racial, and ethnic groups. There has been success in lowering the birth rate for both younger and older teens. The birth rate for those 15-17 years of age has declined 40 percent since 1991, and the rate for those 18 and 19 has declined 23 percent. The rate for African American teens—until recently the highest—has declined the most—42 percent from 1991 through 2002.

(C) Since the enactment of the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, child support collections within the child support enforcement system have grown every year, increasing from $12,000,000,000 in fiscal year 1996 to over $21,000,000,000 in fiscal year 2003. The number of paternities established or acknowledged in fiscal year 2003 (over 1,500,000) includes a more than 100 percent increase through in-hospital acknowledgement programs—862,043 in 2003 compared to 324,652 in 1996. Child support collections were made in nearly 8,000,000 cases in fiscal year 2003, significantly more than the almost 4,000,000 cases having a collection in 1996.

(3) The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 gave States great flexibility in the use of Federal funds to develop innovative programs to help families leave welfare and begin employment and to encourage the formation of 2-parent families.

(A) Total Federal and State TANF expenditures in fiscal year 2003 were $26,300,000,000, up from $25,400,000,000 in fiscal year 2002 and $22,600,000,000 in fiscal year 1999. This increased spending is attributable to significant new investments in supportive services in the TANF program, such as child care and activities to support work.

(B) Since the welfare reform effort began there has been a dramatic increase in work participation (including employment, community service, and work experience) among welfare recipients, as well as an unprecedented reduction in the caseload because recipients have left welfare for work.

(C) States are making policy choices and investment decisions best suited to the needs of their citizens.

(i) To expand aid to working families, almost all States disregard a portion of a family's earned income when determining benefit levels.

(ii) Most States increased the limits on countable assets above the former Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program. Every State has increased the vehicle asset level above the prior AFDC limit for a family's primary automobile.

(iii) States are experimenting with programs to promote marriage and paternal involvement. Over half of the States have eliminated restrictions on 2-parent families. Many States use TANF, child support, or State funds to support community-based activities to help fathers become more involved in their children's lives or strengthen relationships between mothers and fathers.

(4) However, despite this success, there is still progress to be made. Policies that support and promote more work, strengthen families, and enhance State flexibility are necessary to continue to build on the success of welfare reform.

(A) Significant numbers of welfare recipients still are not engaged in employment-related activities. While all States have met the overall work participation rates required by law, in an average month, only 41 percent of all families with an adult participated in work activities that were countable toward the State's participation rate. In fiscal year 2003, four jurisdictions failed to meet the more rigorous 2-parent work requirements, and 25 jurisdictions (States and territories) are not subject to the 2-parent requirements, most because they moved their 2-parent cases to separate State programs where they are not subject to a penalty for failing the 2-parent rates.

(B) In 2002, 34 percent of all births in the U.S. were to unmarried women. And, with fewer teens entering marriage, the proportion of births to unmarried teens has increased dramatically (80 percent in 2002 versus 30 percent in 1970). The negative consequences of out-of-wedlock birth on the mother, the child, the family, and society are well documented. These include increased likelihood of welfare dependency, increased risks of low birth weight, poor cognitive development, child abuse and neglect, and teen parenthood, and decreased likelihood of having an intact marriage during adulthood.

(C) There has been a dramatic rise in cohabitation as marriages have declined. It is estimated that 40 percent of children are expected to live in a cohabiting-parent family at some point during their childhood. Children in single-parent households and cohabiting-parent households are at much higher risk of child abuse than children in intact married families.

(D) Children who live apart from their biological fathers, on average, are more likely to be poor, experience educational, health, emotional, and psychological problems, be victims of child abuse, engage in criminal behavior, and become involved with the juvenile justice system than their peers who live with their married, biological mother and father. A child living with a single mother is nearly 5 times as likely to be poor as a child living in a married-couple family. In 2003, in married-couple families, the child poverty rate was 8.6 percent, and in households headed by a single mother the poverty rate was 41.7 percent.

(5) Therefore, it is the sense of the Congress that increasing success in moving families from welfare to work, as well as in promoting healthy marriage and other means of improving child well-being, are very important Government interests and the policy contained in part A of title IV of the Social Security Act (as amended by this title) is intended to serve those ends.
