¶13.19 ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Mr. BUTTERFIELD moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 281):

Whereas Abraham Lincoln, the 16th President of the United States, was born of humble roots on February 12, 1809, in Hardin County, Kentucky;

Whereas Abraham Lincoln rose to political prominence as an attorney with a reputation for fairness, honesty, and a belief that all men are created equal and that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights;

Whereas Abraham Lincoln was elected and served with distinction in 1832 as a captain of an Illinois militia company during the Black Hawk War;

Whereas Abraham Lincoln was elected to the Illinois legislature in 1834 from Sangamon County and was successively re-elected until 1840;

Whereas Abraham Lincoln revered the Declaration of Independence, forming the motivating moral and natural law principle for his opposition to the spread of slavery to new States entering the Union and to his belief in slavery's ultimate demise;

Whereas Abraham Lincoln was elected in 1846 to serve in the United States House of Representatives, ably representing central Illinois;

Whereas Abraham Lincoln re-entered political life as a reaction to the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska Act in 1854 which he opposed;

Whereas Abraham Lincoln expounded on his views of natural rights during the series of Lincoln-Douglas debates in 1858 declaring in Charleston, Illinois that natural rights were ''. . . enumerated in the Declaration of Independence, the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness'' and these views brought Lincoln into national prominence;

Whereas Abraham Lincoln, through a legacy of courage, character, and patriotism, was elected to office as the 16th President of the United States on November 6, 1860;

Whereas Abraham Lincoln believed the Declaration of Independence to be the anchor of American republicanism, stating on February 22, 1861, during an address in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania at Independence Hall that, ''I have never had a feeling politically that did not spring from the sentiments embodied in the Declaration of Independence . . . I have often inquired of myself, what great principle or idea it was that kept this Confederacy so long together. It was not the mere matter of separation of the Colonies from the motherland; but that sentiment in the Declaration of Independence which gave liberty, not alone to the people of this country, but, I hope, to the world, for all future time. It was that which gave promise that in due time the weight would be lofted from the shoulders of men'';

Whereas, upon taking office and being thrust into the throes of the Civil War, President Abraham Lincoln wrote the Emancipation Proclamation, freeing all slaves in southern States that seceded from the Union on January 1, 1863;

Whereas, on November 19, 1863, Abraham Lincoln dedicated the battlefield at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania with the Gettysburg address, which would later be known as his greatest speech, that harkened back to the promises of the Declaration of Independence in the first sentence: ''Four score and seven years ago, our fathers brought forth, on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal'';

Whereas Abraham Lincoln was reelected to the Presidency on November 8, 1864, by 55 percent of the popular vote;

Whereas Abraham Lincoln gave the ultimate sacrifice for his country, dying six weeks into his second term on April 15, 1865;

Whereas the year 2009 will be the Bicentennial anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, and the United States will observe 2 years of commemorations beginning February 12, 2008; and

Whereas all Americans could benefit from studying the life of Abraham Lincoln as a model of achieving the American Dream through honest, integrity, loyalty, and a lifetime of education: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That the United States Congress—

(1) requests that the President issue a proclamation each year recognizing the anniversary of the birth of President Abraham Lincoln and calling upon the people of the United States to observe such anniversary with appropriate ceremonies and activities; and

(2) encourages State and local governments and local educational agencies to devote sufficient time to study and appreciate the reverence and respect Abraham Lincoln had for the significance and importance of the Declaration of Independence in the development of American history, jurisprudence, and the spread of freedom around the world.

¶13.20 COMMUNICATION FROM THE CLERK—MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. JACKSON of Illinois, laid before the House a communication, which was read as follows:

OFFICE OF THE CLERK,
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, DC, February 11, 2008.

Hon. NANCY PELOSI,
Speaker, House of Representatives,
The Capitol, Washington, DC.

DEAR MADAM SPEAKER: Pursuant to the permission granted in Clause 2(h) of Rule II of the Rules of the U.S. House of Representatives, I have the honor to transmit a sealed envelope received from the White House on February 11, 2008, at 4:12 p.m. and said to contain a message from the President whereby he submits the Economic Report of the President and the 2008 Annual Report of the Council of Economic Advisers.

With best wishes, I am

Sincerely,

LORRAINE C. MILLER,
Clerk of the House.

¶13.21 ECONOMIC REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

The Clerk then read the message from the President, as follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

Over the past 6 years of economic expansion, the American economy has proven its strength and resilience, Job creation grew uninterrupted for a record period of time, inflation remains moderate, unemployment is low, and productivity continues to grow. The economy is built upon a strong foundation, with deep and sophisticated capital markets, flexible labor markets, low taxes, and open trade and investment policies.

Americans should be confident about the long-term strength of our economy, but our economy is undergoing a period of uncertainty, and there are heightened risks to our near-term economic growth. To insure against these risks, I called upon the Congress to enact a growth package that is simple, temporary, and effective in keeping our economy growing and our people working.

There is more we should do to strengthen our economy. First, we must keep taxes low. Unless the Congress acts, most of the tax relief that we have delivered over the past 7 years will be taken away and 116 million American taxpayers will see their taxes rise by an average of $1,800. The tax relief of the past few years has been a key factor in promoting economic growth and job creation and it should be made permanent. We must also work together to tackle unfunded obligations in entitlement programs such as Social Security, Medicare, and Medicaid, I have laid out a detailed plan in my Budget to restrain spending, cut earmarks, and balance the budget by 2012 without raising taxes.

Second, we must trust Americans with the responsibility of homeownership and empower them to weather turbulent times in the market. My Administration has acted aggressively to help credit-worthy homeowners avoid foreclosure. We launched a new initiative called FHASecure to help families refinance their homes. I signed legislation to protect families from higher taxes when lenders forgive a portion of their home mortgage debt. We have also brought together the HOPE NOW alliance, which is helping many struggling homeowners avoid foreclosure by facilitating the refinancing and modification of mortgages. The Congress can do more to help American families keep their homes by passing legislation to reform Freddie Mac and Fannie Mae, modernize the Federal Housing Administration, and allow State housing agencies to issue tax-free bonds to help homeowners refinance their mortgages.

Third, we must continue opening new markets for trade and investment. We have an unprecedented opportunity to reduce barriers to global trade and investment through a successful Doha round. The Congress should also approve our pending free trade agreements. I thank the Congress for its approval of a good agreement with Peru, and ask for the approval of agreements with Colombia, Panama, and South Korea. These agreements will benefit our economy by providing greater access for our exports and supporting good jobs for American workers, and they will promote America's strategic interests. I have asked the Congress to reauthorize and reform trade adjustment assistance so that we can help those workers who are displaced by trade to learn new skills and find new jobs.

Fourth, we must make health care more affordable and accessible for all Americans. I have proposed changes in the tax code that would end the bias against those who do not receive health insurance through their employer and would make it easier for many uninsured Americans to obtain insurance. This reform would put private health care coverage within reach for millions. My Budget also improves access to health care by increasing the power of small employers, civic groups, and community organizations to negotiate lower-priced health premiums. These policies would encourage competition among health plans across State lines, help reduce frivolous lawsuits that increase patients' costs, and promote the use of health savings accounts.

Fifth, we must increase our energy security and confront climate change. Last year, I proposed an ambitious plan to reduce U.S. dependence on oil and help cut the growth of greenhouse gas emissions. I am pleased that the Congress responded, and I was able to sign into law a bill that will increase fuel economy and the use of alternative fuels, as well as set new efficiency mandates on appliances, light bulbs, and Federal Government operations. In my State of the Union Message, I proposed that we take the next steps to accelerate technological breakthroughs by funding new technologies to generate coal power that captures carbon emissions, advance emissions-free nuclear power; and invest in advanced battery technology and renewable energy. I am also committing $2 billion to a new international clean technology fund that will help developing nations make greater use of clean energy sources. Additionally, my Budget proposes to protect the economy against oil supply disruptions by doubling the capacity of the Strategic Petroleum Reserve.

Finally, a strong and vibrant education system is vital to maintaining our Nation's competitive edge and extending economic opportunity to every citizen. Six years ago, we came together to pass the No Child Left Behind Act, and no one can deny its results. Now we must work together to increase accountability, add flexibility for States and districts, reduce the number of high school dropouts, and provide extra help for struggling schools.

Many of these issues are discussed in the 2008 Annual Report of the Council of Economic Advisers. The Council has prepared this Report to help policymakers understand the economic conditions and issues that underlie my Administration's policy decisions. By relying on the foundation and resilience of our economy, trusting the decisions of individuals and markets and pursuing pro-growth policies, we should have confidence in our prospects for continued prosperity and economic growth.

GEORGE W. BUSH.
THE WHITE HOUSE, February 2008.

By unanimous consent, the message, together with the accompanying papers, was referred to the Joint Economic Committee and ordered to be printed (H. Doc. 110–83).

¶14.16 AFRICAN AMERICAN INVENTORS

Ms. Eddie Bernice JOHNSON of Texas, moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 966):

Whereas African-American and other minority scientists, technologists, engineers, and mathematicians have made significant achievements in our national research enterprise and inspired future generations;

Whereas the National Society of Black Engineers (''NSBE'') lifts up African-American researchers of the past and present, including special contributors named in this Resolution;

Whereas Garrett Augustus Morgan made outstanding contributions to public safety;

Whereas firefighters in the early 1900s wore the safety helmets and gas masks that he invented, and for which he was awarded a gold medal at the Second International Exposition of Safety and Sanitation in New York in 1914;

Whereas 2 years later, he himself used the mask to rescue men trapped by a gas explosion in a tunnel being constructed under Lake Erie;

Whereas following the disaster which took 21 lives, the City of Cleveland honored him with a gold medal for his heroic efforts;

Whereas in 1923, he received a patent for a traffic signal to regulate vehicle movement in city areas, and this device was a direct precursor to the modern traffic light in use today;

Whereas Ernest Everett Just was a trailblazer in the fields of cell biology and zoology;

Whereas his research and papers on marine biology were so well received in 1915 that Ernest Everett Just was awarded the first Spingarn Medal by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People at age 32;

Whereas Ernest Everett Just dedicated years of research toward the study of cells and cell structures in order to understand and find cures for cellular irregularities and diseases such as sickle cell anemia and cancer and became one of the most respected scientists in his field;

Whereas racial bigotry in the United States caused much of his work and his achievements to go unrewarded;

Whereas in other countries, he was treated as a pioneer and was recruited to work with Russian scientists and invited to be a guest researcher at the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute for Biology, the world's greatest scientific research laboratory at the time;

Whereas he was welcomed at the Naples Zoological Station in Italy and the Sorbonne in France, where he conducted research and was regarded as one of the most outstanding zoologists of his time;

Whereas Archibald Alphonso Alexander excelled in design and construction engineering;

Whereas, employed by the Marsh Engineering Company, he designed the Tidal Basin bridge in Washington, DC;

Whereas after studying bridge design in London, Archibald Alphonso Alexander and George Higbee formed a general contracting business that focused on bridge design;

Whereas his designs include Washington, DC's Whitehurst Freeway, the heating plant and power station at the University of Iowa, and an airfield in Tuskegee, Alabama;

Whereas he went on to become the first Republican territorial governor of the U.S. Virgin Islands;

Whereas David Nelson Crosthwait Jr. made significant and practical contributions to the engineering of heating and cooling systems;

Whereas he held numerous patents relating to heat transfer, ventilation, and air conditioning, the areas in which he was considered an expert;

Whereas David Nelson Crosthwait Jr. served as director of research laboratories for C. A. Dunham Company in Marshalltown, Iowa, where he served as technical advisor from 1930 to 1970;

Whereas he designed the heating systems for Radio City Music Hall and Rockefeller Center in New York City and authored texts and guides on heating and cooling with water;

Whereas during the 1920s and 1930s, he invented an improved boiler, a new thermostat control, and a new differential vacuum pump to improve the heating systems in larger buildings; and

Whereas African-American innovators continue to improve the daily lives of Americans through their inventions and stir the creative spirit of future generations: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the United States House of Representatives—

(1) recognizes and appreciates the significant achievements to our national research enterprise made by African-American and other minority scientists, technologists, engineers, and mathematicians;

(2) honors and extends its appreciation and gratitude toward all African-American inventors, for the significant and honorable research and educational contributions that improve the lives of all citizens and that have gone unacknowledged too long; and

(3) looks for opportunities to make sure that the creativity and contribution of minority scientists, technologists, engineers, and mathematicians can be expressed through research, development, standardization, and innovation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. JACKSON of Illinois, recognized Ms. Eddie Bernice JOHNSON of Texas. and Mr. AKIN, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. JACKSON of Illinois, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

Mr. AKIN demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. JACKSON of Illinois, pursuant to clause 8, rule XX, announced that further proceedings on the question were postponed.

¶14.17 NATIONAL ENGINEERS WEEK

Mr. LIPINSKI moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 917):

Whereas National Engineers Week has grown into a formal coalition of more than 75 professional societies, major corporations, and government agencies, dedicated to ensuring a diverse and well-educated future engineering workforce by increasing understanding of and interest in engineering and technology careers among all young students, by promoting pre-college literacy in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM), and raising public understanding and appreciation of engineers' contributions to society;

Whereas February 17–23, 2008, has been designated by the President as National Engineers Week and the theme is ''Engineers Make a World of Difference'';

Whereas National Engineers Week, which was founded in 1951 by the National Society of Professional Engineers, is among the oldest of America's professional outreach efforts;

Whereas National Engineers Week is celebrated during the week of George Washington's birthday to honor the contributions that our first President, a military engineer and land surveyor, made to engineering;

Whereas for one outreach program alone, the National Engineers Week Future City Competition, more than 1,100 schools and 32,000 middle school students participate annually and 7,500 volunteers donate more than 225,000 hours;

Whereas during National Engineers Week, more than 45,000 engineers connect with some 5,500,000 students and teachers in kindergarten through high school as they help students and teachers determine practical applications of their academics and help students discover that STEM subjects can be fun;

Whereas National Engineers Week activities at engineering schools and in other forums are encouraging all our young math and science students to see themselves as possible future engineers and to realize the practical picture of knowledge;

Whereas National Engineers Week sponsors are working together to transform the engineering workforce through the better inclusion of women and underrepresented minorities;

Whereas engineers from all disciplines send a new message to today's youth: engineers change the world, save lives, protect the Earth, and make a world of difference;

Whereas engineers are working together to mesh diversity and collaboration worldwide, whether reaching for the stars, building global networks, or helping today's young students prepare for their futures;

Whereas engineers use their professional, scientific, and technical knowledge and skills in creative and innovative ways to fulfill society's needs;

Whereas engineers have helped meet the major technological challenges of our time—from rebuilding towns devastated by natural disasters to designing an information superhighway that will speed our country into the future;

Whereas engineers are a crucial link in research, development, and demonstration in transforming scientific discoveries into useful products, and we will look more than ever to engineers and their knowledge and skills to meet the challenges of the future;

Whereas engineers play a crucial role in developing the consensus engineering standards that permit modern economies and societies to exist; and

Whereas the 2006 National Academy of Sciences report entitled ''Rising Above the Gathering Storm'' highlighted the worrisome trend that fewer students are now focusing on engineering in college at a time when increasing numbers of today's 2,000,000 United States engineers are nearing retirement: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) supports the goals and ideals of National Engineers Week and its aim to increase understanding of and interest in engineering and technology careers and to promote literacy in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics; and

(2) will work with the engineering community to make sure that the creativity and contribution of that community can be expressed through research, development, standardization, and innovation.

¶14.20 PROTECT AMERICA

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Ms. SOLIS, pursuant to section 2 of House Resolution 976, called up for further consideration the bill (H.R. 5349) to extend the Protect America Act of 2007 for 21 days.

When said bill was further considered.

After debate,

Pursuant to House Resolution 976, the previous question was ordered on the bill.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, was read a third time by title.

Mr. SMITH of Texas, moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on the Judiciary with instructions to report the bill back to the House forthwith with the following amendment:

Strike out all after the enacting clause and insert the text of the bill H.R. 3773 as passed by the Senate on February 12, 2008.

¶14.21 POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CONYERS made a point of order against said motion to recommit with instructions and said:

''The motion to recommit is not germane to the bill under consideration and therefore should not be considered.

''H.R. 5349 seeks a 21-day extension of the Protect America Act as previously amended, thus amending the act so that it would expire not 195 days but 216 days after enactment.

''The motion to recommit goes beyond the scope of the bill, and beyond the scope of the Protect America Act the bill temporarily extends, to make permanent changes to the FISA law, including retroactive legal amnesty for telecom companies who may have broken the law in cooperating with earlier surveillance activities. Because it goes beyond the scope of the bill and deals with a different purpose, it is not germane.''

Mr. SMITH of Texas, was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

''Madam Speaker, it is unfortunate that the Democratic majority is insisting on a procedural objection to block consideration of this motion to recommit. This motion substitutes the bipartisan bill passed yesterday by the Senate 68–29 to improve FISA, a bill that would dramatically improve our national security. It is sad to see the Democratic majority put procedure over substance when it comes to protecting Americans from terrorists.

''There is nothing more germane to the security of the American people than to take up the Senate bill as quickly as possible. Therefore, I would ask the gentleman from Michigan, the chairman of the Judiciary Committee, to withdraw his point of order and allow for an up or down vote on the bipartisan Senate reform bill. I hope the gentleman will withdraw his point of order and allow us to take a vote on a bill supported by both parties in the Senate, the administration, and many Democrats in the House.

''Again, I would like to reiterate my disappointment that the majority has raised a point of order against this motion to recommit. We need to stop playing procedural games with our national security and take a vote now on the Senate-passed bill to improve FISA.''

Mr. CONYERS was further recognized and said:

''Madam Speaker, I have never violated parliamentary procedure, and I would insist upon the point of order.''

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Ms. SOLIS, sustained the point of order, and said:

''The gentleman from Michigan makes a point of order that the motion to recommit offered by the gentleman from Texas proposes an amendment that is not germane to the bill.

''Clause 7 of rule XVI provides that no proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

''The bill, H.R. 5349, extends the Protect America Act of 2007 for a limited time.

''The instructions contained in the motion to recommit propose permanent changes in law.

''A general principle of the germaneness rule is that where a bill is composed only of a temporary extension of existing programs, an amendment making permanent changes in law relating to such programs is not germane.

''The Chair will note a relevant precedent. On December 2, 1982, the Chair ruled that an amendment permanently changing the organic law governing an agency's operation was not germane to a bill that merely provided a temporary authorization for the agency. This precedent is recorded on page 722 of the House Rules and Manual.

''Therefore, in the opinion of the Chair, the instructions contained in the motion to recommit are not germane. The point of order is sustained.''

Mr. SMITH of Texas, appealed the ruling of the Chair.

The question being stated,

Will the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the House?

Mr. CONYERS moved to lay the appeal on the table.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House lay on the table the appeal of the ruling of the Chair?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Ms. SOLIS, announced that the yeas had it.

Mr. SMITH of Texas, demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device.

It was decided in the affirmative ..... { Yeas ..... 222 Nays 196

So, two-thirds of the Members present having voted in favor thereof, the rules were suspended and said resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider the vote whereby the rules were suspended and said resolution was agreed to was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

¶14.30 NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE

Mr. COHEN moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 289):

Whereas the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), originally known as the National Negro Committee, was founded in New York City on February 12, 1909, the centennial of Abraham Lincoln's birth, by a multiracial group of activists who answered 'The Call' for a national conference to discuss the civil and political rights of African-Americans;

Whereas the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was founded by a distinguished group of leaders in the struggle for civil and political liberty, including Ida Wells-Barnett, W.E.B. DuBois, Henry Moscowitz, Mary White Ovington, Oswald Garrison Villiard, and William English Walling;

Whereas the NAACP is the oldest and largest civil rights organization in the United States;

Whereas the mission of the NAACP is to ensure the political, educational, social, and economic equality of rights of all persons and to eliminate racial hatred and racial discrimination;

Whereas the NAACP is committed to achieving its goals through nonviolence;

Whereas the NAACP advances its mission through reliance upon the press, the petition, the ballot, and the courts, and has been persistent in the use of legal and moral persuasion, even in the face of overt and violent racial hostility;

Whereas the NAACP has used political pressure, marches, demonstrations, and effective lobbying to serve as the voice, as well as the shield, for minority Americans;

Whereas after years of fighting segregation in public schools, the NAACP, under the leadership of Special Counsel Thurgood Marshall, won one of its greatest legal victories in the Supreme Court's 1954 decision in Brown v. Board of Education;

Whereas in 1955, NAACP member Rosa Parks was arrested and fined for refusing to give up her seat on a segregated bus in Montgomery, Alabama—an act of courage that would serve as the catalyst for the largest grassroots civil rights movement in the history of the United States;

Whereas the NAACP was prominent in lobbying for the passage of the Civil Rights Acts of 1957, 1960, and 1964, the Voting Rights Act of 1965, the Fannie Lou Hamer, Rosa Parks, and Coretta Scott King Voting Rights Act Reauthorization and Amendments Act of 2006, and the Fair Housing Act, laws which ensured Government protection for legal victories achieved;

Whereas in 2005, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People launched the Disaster Relief Fund to help survivors in Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, Florida, and Alabama to rebuild their lives; and

Whereas in 2007, the NAACP was prominent in lobbying for the passage of H. Res. 826, ''The Noose Intimidation Bill'', which expresses ''that the hanging of nooses is a horrible act when used for the purpose of intimidation and which under certain circumstances can be a criminal act that should be thoroughly investigated by Federal law enforcement authorities and that any criminal violations should be vigorously prosecuted'': Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That the Congress—

(1) recognizes the 99th anniversary of the historic founding of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; and

(2) honors and praises the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on the occasion of its anniversary for its work to ensure the political, educational, social, and economic equality of all persons.

¶14.33 PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

Mr. RODRIGUEZ moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 790):

Whereas every day, American men and women risk their lives serving the country in the Armed Forces;

Whereas it is important to many Americans to be able to donate money directly to causes about which they care;

Whereas it is important for residents to have a tangible way to demonstrate their support for veterans;

Whereas despite Government funding for the Nation's veterans, many important needs of veterans remain unmet;

Whereas citizens in the State of Washington have banded together in a grassroots effort to create a Veterans Family Fund Certificate of Deposit;

Whereas any financial institution in the State of Washington can choose to offer a Veterans Family Fund Certificate of Deposit;

Whereas the Bank of Clark County has become the first institution to offer these Certificates of Deposit;

Whereas the Governor of the State of Washington and the Washington State Veterans Affairs Department have expressed the State's support for this program;

Whereas when a person buys a Veterans Family Fund Certificate of Deposit from a participating financial institution, half of the interest is automatically donated to the State of Washington's Veterans Innovation Program to address the unmet needs of the State of Washington's veterans and their families;

Whereas the Veterans Innovation Program provides emergency assistance to help current or former Washington National Guard or Reserve service members cope with financial hardships, unemployment, educational needs, and many basic family necessities; and

Whereas the Veterans Family Fund Certificate of Deposit will be officially launched on November 8, 2007: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) commends the people of the State of Washington for showing their support for the needs of the State of Washington's veterans; and

(2) encourages residents of other States to pursue creative ways to show their own support for veterans.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. HODES, recognized Mr. RODRIGUEZ and Mr. STEARNS, each for 20 minutes.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. HODES, pursuant to clause 8, rule XX, announced that further proceedings on the question were postponed.

¶14.34 NATIONAL SALUTE TO HOSPITALIZED VETERANS WEEK

Mr. RODRIGUEZ moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 963):

Whereas February 11–15, 2008, has been designated by the President as National Salute to Hospitalized Veterans Week;

Whereas the National Salute to Hospitalized Veterans week each year is an opportunity to thank a special group of men and women, the more than 98,000 veterans of the United States Armed Forces, who are cared for every day in Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) medical centers, outpatient clinics, domiciliaries, and nursing homes;

Whereas at the 155 VA hospitals across the Nation, there are veterans who face the physical and mental wounds of combat every day, long after their military service has been completed;

Whereas we can never fully repay our debt of gratitude to the veterans, but will thank and support them with our words and deeds;

Whereas Mike Vogel, motion picture actor and star of the newly-released ''Cloverfield'', will lead the VA's annual patient recognition program as the national spokesperson, inviting the public to visit and honor hospitalized veterans during National Salute to Hospitalized Veterans Week; and

Whereas Mike Vogel will be the youngest celebrity to lead the National Salute, bringing youthful energy to the program at a time when the number of young combat veterans under the care of the VA is growing, and as the VA is looking to younger generations of Americans to replenish an aging volunteer force: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) supports the National Salute to Hospitalized Veterans Program and its efforts to pay tribute to and express appreciation for hospitalized veterans, to increase community awareness of the role of VA medical centers, and to encourage citizens to visit hospitalized veterans and become involved as volunteers;

(2) encourages citizens who live near a VA hospital or clinic to take time this week to visit and thank our veterans; and

(3) will continue to work with veterans service organizations to support our veterans with words, actions, and financial assistance.

¶14.35 AMERICAN HEART MONTH

Mrs. CAPPS moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 972):

Whereas diseases of the heart are the Nation's leading cause of death and stroke is the third leading cause of death in both men and women;

Whereas nearly 2,400 American men, women, and children die of cardiovascular disease each day, an average of one death every 37 seconds;

Whereas many people do not recognize that heart disease, stroke, and other cardiovascular diseases are the number 1 killer of American women, claiming the lives of almost 460,000 American women each year or about one per minute;

Whereas we as a Nation have made great progress in reducing the death rates for coronary heart disease, but this progress has been much more modest in women and minorities, resulting in cardiovascular disease disparities;

Whereas many minority women, including African-American, Hispanic, Native-American and some subgroups of Asian-American women, have a greater prevalence of risk factors or are at a higher risk of death from heart disease, stroke, and other cardiovascular diseases, but they are less likely to know of this risk;

Whereas cardiovascular diseases cost the Nation more than any other cause of death, with direct and indirect costs estimated to reach $448.5 billion in the United States in 2008;

Whereas the research is clear that there are tools available to prevent heart disease, stroke, and other cardiovascular diseases and to improve survival rates from cardiovascular disease;

Whereas Congress, by Joint Resolution approved on December 30, 1963, requested that the President issue an annual proclamation designating February as ''American Heart Month'';

Whereas the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute of the National Institutes of Health, the American Heart Association, and many other organizations celebrate ''National Wear Red Day'' during February by ''going red'' to increase awareness about heart disease as the leading killer of women; and

Whereas every year since 1964 the President has issued a proclamation designating the month of February as ''American Heart Month'': Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) supports the goals and ideals of ''American Heart Month'' and ''National Wear Red Day'';

(2) commends the efforts of States, territories and possessions of the United States, localities, nonprofit organizations, businesses, and other entities, and the people of the United States who support ''American Heart Month'' and ''National Wear Red Day'';

(3) recognizes and reaffirms our commitment to fighting heart disease and stroke by promoting awareness about its causes, risks, and prevention, supporting research, and expanding access to medical treatment; and

(4) encourages each and every American to learn about their own personal risk for heart disease.

¶14.36 VICTIMS OF TORNADOS

Mr. COHEN moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 971):

Whereas on the evening of Tuesday, February 5th, 2008, more than 100 tornados devastated communities in Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, and Tennessee;

Whereas more than 50 lives were lost in the deadliest tornado outbreak in the United States in more than 20 years;

Whereas more than a thousand homes, schools, and businesses were destroyed and tens of thousands of residents of the Mississippi Valley have been left without power;

Whereas the effect of the storms on Mississippi Valley families and businesses is still being felt;

Whereas hundreds of volunteers took time from their daily lives to help ensure that the victims of the storm are sheltered, clothed, fed, and emotionally comforted through this traumatic event;

Whereas the Federal Emergency Management Agency, first responders, the National Guard, and additional emergency personnel have coordinated with local authorities and firefighters and have performed beyond the call of duty in the preservation and protection of human lives; and

Whereas the strength, courage, and determination of the citizens of the Mississippi Valley have been evident following the tornados: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) expresses its deepest sympathies to the citizens of the States hit by the storms over the devastation caused by the powerful tornados that struck their communities on February 5th, 2008;

(2) expresses its appreciation to the Federal Emergency Management Agency, first responders, and the others involved in the relief effort for their valiant service to those affected by the storms; and

(3) expresses its support as the citizens of these communities continue their efforts to rebuild their community and their lives.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. HODES, recognized Mr. COHEN and Ms. FALLIN, each for 20 minutes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. WALZ of Minnesota, laid before the House a message from the President, which was read as follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

Pursuant to the International Emergency Economic Powers Act, as amended (50 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.) (IEEPA), I hereby report that I have issued an Executive Order taking additional steps with respect to the Government of Syria's continued engagement in certain conduct that formed the basis for the national emergency declared in Executive Order 13338 of May 11, 2004, including but not limited to its efforts to undermine the stabilization and reconstruction of Iraq.

This order will block the property and interests in property of persons determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, after consultation with the Secretary of State, to be responsible for, to have engaged in, to have facilitated, or to have secured improper advantage as a result of, public corruption by senior officials within the Government of Syria. The order also revises a provision in Executive Order 13338 to block the property and interests in property of persons determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, after consultation with the Secretary of State, to be responsible for or otherwise significantly contributing to actions or decisions of the Government of Syria that have the purpose or effect of undermining efforts to stabilize Iraq or of allowing the use of Syrian territory or facilities to undermine efforts to stabilize Iraq.

I delegated to the Secretary of the Treasury the authority to take such actions, after consultation with the Secretary of State, including the promulgation of rules and regulations, and to employ all powers granted to the President by IEEPA as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of my order.

I wish to emphasize, as well, my ongoing concern over the destabilizing role Syria continues to play in Lebanon, including its efforts to obstruct, through intimidation and violence, Lebanon's democratic processes.

I am enclosing a copy of the Executive Order I have issued.

GEORGE W. BUSH.

¶15.22 QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Lincoln DIAZ-BALART of Florida, rose to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, pursuant to rule IX, recognized Mr. Lincoln DIAZ-BALART of Florida, for one hour.

''Madam Speaker, it is with great regret, but I must rise today for a question of personal privilege. An article appeared today, Madam Speaker, on the Web site of a publication called The Politico reprinting a statement by a spokesperson for the majority leader of this House describing actions of mine as 'incomprehensible' and 'unjustifiable' and insinuating that I purposely brought disrespect to the House and to the memory of my dear friend and colleague, Congressman Tom Lantos.

''It was not my actions which were incomprehensible or unjustifiable, Madam Speaker, but rather the actions of the majority which deprived all Members of this House the opportunity to debate or even consider or vote on the contempt resolutions brought to the floor today by the majority in an absolutely totally unprecedented fashion.

''The majority knows that the rule we considered earlier is totally and absolutely unprecedented. Its sole purpose was to prevent us from even debating or voting on these contempt resolutions. And further, the majority denied us the opportunity to take up the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act amendments passed by the Senate, which we feel very strongly are in the supreme national interest of the United States.

''The majority knew that the minority was strongly of the belief that the only options available to us were procedural votes. The majority knew that we intended to utilize our procedural options to register our displeasure with this uncalled-for process.

''We purposely refrained from all procedural motions during the opening moments of the session today precisely to show respect for our friend and departed colleague.

''We were assured by the majority that we would not begin consideration of the rule, in other words, that the House would not reconvene until 11:30 a.m. or the conclusion of Mr. Lantos' memorial service.

''Tom Lantos, Madam Speaker, was an extraordinary man, a great man, and he was my friend. It was an honor for me to be present today at his memorial service in Statuary Hall. I was suddenly summoned out of the memorial service for my friend Mr. Lantos to perform my responsibilities as a member of the Rules Committee, to manage the rule for the minority side for the contempt resolutions. The majority had decided to resume the session during the memorial service.

''Madam Speaker, I am a member of the minority. Neither I nor my leadership control when the House convenes. What we saw today was an uncalled-for effort by the majority to force the minority to give up our rights to protest a process we feel is blatantly unfair.

''The majority's decision to reconvene the House interrupted the tribute to my good friend Mr. Lantos. It is the majority that decides when to convene the House. It is the majority that chose to convene the House even though many speakers remained to speak in the memorial for Mr. Lantos.

''I was told by my good friend Mr. DREIER that he does not recall any memorial being interrupted by a House session, and he has been here more years than I have. I have been here 15, and obviously I don't recall any either.

''Madam Speaker, the statement attacking me today by a spokesperson for the majority leader was totally uncalled for and unacceptable.''.

Mr. DREIER was recognized and said:

''Madam Speaker, I thank my friend for yielding. And we have all come to the conclusion that this has been a very sad day in many ways. Of course, the saddest part of it was the loss of our dear friend and colleague, Tom Lantos.

''I would simply like to say that Mr. DIAZ-BALART had the responsibility of serving as the floor manager for a rule that was, as he said in his very thoughtful statement, unprecedented. And we had a debate on that rule, and this House chose to do something it had never done before, pass a rule which took two contempt resolutions and adopted them. That was a decision of the House. And I think it was an unfortunate one.

''Mr. DIAZ-BALART had a responsibility to stand up for this institution. He and I stood together at that service, heard from colleagues of ours and heard from many other distinguished people who remembered the life of Tom Lantos.

''We were stunned when all of a sudden the bells rang and the House was going to reconvene in the middle of this memorial service.

''Now, members of the majority staff, Madam Speaker, had been informed, had been informed, of exactly what it was that we in the minority were going to do. If the House reconvened and we proceeded with consideration of this special rule, we had informed the members of the majority staff that we were going to call for a vote.

''So Mr. DIAZ-BALART was simply working to, under very, very, very challenging, and, again, from my perspective, unprecedented circumstances, where I had never before seen the House of Representatives convened during a memorial service being held in Statuary Hall, but under those circumstances, Mr. DIAZ-BALART had the responsibility to fulfill his duties, not to the Republican Members, but to do what he believed to be right, and I agree with him, obviously, in upholding the rights of this institution. So for any Member, any Member or anyone outside to malign Mr. DIAZ-BALART for simply doing his job under very difficult circumstances is not right.

''Let me conclude by simply saying that Mr. DIAZ-BALART is one of those Members who we all know is a fighter for freedom and has been throughout his entire life. In many respects, LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART is very similar to Tom Lantos.

''Madam Speaker, I will say that it is a tragic irony that as we are remembering the life of Tom Lantos that a Member like Lincoln DIAZ-BALART would in any way be maligned for his work on behalf of the struggle for freedom and democracy and the liberation of people all over this world.''.

Mr. BLUNT was recognized and said:

''Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

''I would say, of course, we come to the floor today with lots of disappointment on what we are failing to do today. We think we should stay until we get other matters done. But on this issue that relates to the activities of the day, first of all, I was at the memorial service, as many of you were. I was privileged to be there. Frankly, there are very few Members of Congress, in the history of the Congress, that could have, on the very short notice that we would have this sad service today, would have the Foreign Minister of Israel, the Secretary of State, the head of the United Nations, the Speaker of the House present. It was an impressive service, and I hate that we are having this debate around any lack of respect for that service.

''On the other hand, the only work we had to do today was 1 hour of debate on a rule that would then also replace the debate. One hour of debate. The service was scheduled to last from 10 o'clock until 11:30. It turned out it lasted until 11:50. But it was scheduled to last from 10 o'clock until 11:30.

''When at 10:45 the majority decides we are going to start the 1 hour of work we have to do today at 11, the majority should expect the other side to complain. If in fact Mr. DIAZ-BALART had not had his objection, 50 minutes of that 1-hour debate would have gone before I ever walked out of the memorial service. The vote lasted 50 minutes, or thereabouts. Apparently, Members couldn't even get in to vote for 50 minutes, let alone to get in to participate in the debate.

''Of course, we should have said, let's not start the debate on the only work we are doing today while we are passing up the work on the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act. We are voting to talk about how you can kill rats in the technical correction to the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act. That is the only debate we were going to have during 50 minutes of the 1 hour of the memorial service. And of course Lincoln DIAZ-BALART or somebody should have stepped up to stop that, and thank goodness he did.

''I am really sad that a service we should have all agreed on would be the priority of the morning, we couldn't manage for that to be the priority of the morning. We had to start the 1 hour of work we had to do 50 minutes before that service turned out to end and 30 minutes before it was scheduled to end.

''I am regretful that my good friend had to rise to this moment of personal privilege, but I certainly support him in seeking this privilege and hope that the Members of the House will understand what happened here and appreciate the great respect we all have for Tom Lantos.''.

Mr. HOYER was recognized and said:

''I rise, as I have a couple of times in the past, to simply say that I think on our side, obviously, we believed that we needed to move forward on the work. All of us, however, share what has been said about Tom Lantos, for whom we had the greatest respect, and we all share a sadness at his loss.

''I regret that the actions that precipitated this hour that you are taking have occurred. They have occurred. We can't change them. Having said that, I want to say that I understand the point the gentleman is making, and I understand the point my friend Mr. BLUNT has made. I think it will suffice to say that. But I can appreciate the position the gentleman found himself in and that Mr. BLUNT and his leadership found themselves in.''.

Mr. Lincoln DIAZ-BALART of Florida, was further recognized as said:

''Thank you. Madam Speaker, I utilized the opportunity of the rules to rise to a question of personal privilege due to the statements attributed in the press that I mentioned before to a spokesperson, which I stated and restated I believe were totally uncalled for and unacceptable.

''I thank all of you for having listened to me with such courtesy. It is for someone who arrived as a 4-year-old refugee with his family fleeing oppression, an extraordinary moment in the midst of the sadness of the day, and the offense that I felt, it is an extraordinary moment to be able to rise and invoke the rules of the House to seek the attention of the representatives of this extraordinary Nation. So I thank each and every one of you for your patience and your courtesy.

''At this point, after thanking Mr. DREIER, thanking Mr. BLUNT, and thanking the majority leader for their kind words, I simply end remembering a friend who everyone in this room can agree enriched our lives. My son mentioned the other day this week when we were talking about the sad news, he said, Dad, do you remember when I was a little kid and you wanted me to get my posture up, what you would tell me? I will never forget, he told me. Lantos. Your posture. That is one of the first things that impressed me about Tom Lantos, even before I learned about his zealous extraordinary commitment to the oppressed everywhere where people are still longing to be free.

''So let us all then end this recollection of what I believe was a very unfortunate moment remembering someone who we can all agree was extraordinary, enriched our lives, and was a great Member of Congress and a great American. Thank you all very much.''.

Hon. NANCY PELOSI,
Speaker, House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MADAM SPEAKER: Pursuant to the permission granted in Clause 2(h) of Rule II of the Rules of the U.S. House of Representatives, the Clerk received the following message from the Secretary of the Senate on February 21, 2008, at 1:08 p.m.:

¶19.4 SCHOOL SOCIAL WORK WEEK

Mr. COURTNEY moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 978):

Whereas the School Social Work Association of America declared the week of March 3–7, 2008, ''School Social Work Week'';

Whereas the House of Representatives recognized the importance of school social work through the inclusion of school social work programs in the current authorization of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 and the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act;

Whereas school social workers serve as vital members of a school's educational team, playing a central role in creating partnerships between the home, school, and community, to ensure student academic success;

Whereas school social workers are especially skilled in providing services to students who face serious challenges to school success, including poverty, disability, discrimination, abuse, addiction, bullying, divorce of parents, loss of a loved one, and other barriers to learning;

Whereas there is a growing need for school districts to offer the mental health services that school social workers provide when working with families, teachers, principals, community agencies, and other entities to address the emotional, physical, and environmental needs so that students may achieve behavioral and academic success;

Whereas to achieve the goals of the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 of help for all children in reaching their optimal potential and achievement, including those with serious emotional disturbances, schools must work to remove the emotional, behavioral, and academic barriers that interfere with student success in school;

Whereas fewer than 1 in 5 of the 17,500,000 children in need of mental health services actually receive these services, and the President's New Freedom Commission on Mental Health indicates that school mental health programs improve educational outcomes by decreasing absences, decreasing discipline referrals, and improving academic achievement;

Whereas school mental health programs are critical to early identification of mental health problems and in the provision of appropriate services when needed;

Whereas the national average ratio of students to school social workers recommended by the School Social Work Association of America is 400 to 1; and

Whereas the celebration of ''School Social Work Week'' highlights the awareness of the vital role school social workers play in the lives of students in the United States: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) honors and recognizes the contributions of school social workers to the success of students in schools across the Nation; and

(2) encourages the people of the United States to observe ''School Social Work Week'' with appropriate ceremonies and activities that promote awareness of the vital role of school social workers in schools, and the community as a whole, in helping students prepare for their future as productive citizens.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. ROSS, recognized Mr. COURTNEY and Mr. BISHOP of Utah, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. ROSS, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

Mr. COURTNEY demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. ROSS, pursuant to clause 8, rule XX, announced that further proceedings on the question were postponed.

¶19.5 CAREER AND TECHNICAL EDUCATION MONTH

Mr. COURTNEY moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 930); as amended:

Whereas nationwide, there are over 10,000 secondary high schools and career tech centers and over 9,000 postsecondary institutions offering career and technical education programs;

Whereas a competitive global economy requires workers trained in skilled professions;

Whereas career and technical education plays a crucial role in preparing a well-educated and skilled workforce in America;

Whereas career and technical education prepares students for all of the 20 fastest growing occupations identified by the U.S. Department of Labor;

Whereas according to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, nearly 75 percent of employers report severe conditions when trying to hire qualified workers and 40 percent say that applicants are poorly skilled;

Whereas students taking career and technical education courses have higher grade point averages in college, are less likely to drop out in high school and college, and have better employment and earnings outcomes than other students;

Whereas, in 2006, Congress reauthorized with bipartisan support the Carl D. Perkins Career and Technical Education Act, which provides states with Federal resources to support career and technical education programs; and

Whereas the Association for Career and Technical Education has designated February as ''Career and Technical Education Month'' to celebrate career and technical education across the country: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the United States House of Representatives—

(1) supports the goals and ideals of Career and Technical Education month;

(2) recognizes the importance of career and technical education in preparing a well-educated and skilled workforce in America; and

(3) encourages educators, counselors, and administrators to promote career and technical education as an option to students.

So the amendment was agreed to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, assumed the Chair.

When Mr. SERRANO, Chairman, pursuant to House Resolution 974, reported the bill back to the House with an amendment adopted by the Committee.

The previous question having been ordered by said resolution.

The following amendment, reported from the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, was agreed to:

Strike out all after the enacting clause and insert:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the ''Public Housing Asset Management Improvement Act of 2007''.

SEC. 2. REVISIONS TO ASSET MANAGEMENT RULES AND RELATED FEES.

(a) MANAGEMENT AND RELATED FEES.—The Secretary shall not impose any restriction or limitation on the amount of management and related fees with respect to a public housing project if the fee is determined to be reasonable by the public housing agency, unless such restriction or limitation imposed by the Secretary on such fees—

(1) is determined pursuant to a negotiated rulemaking which is convened by the Secretary no earlier than April 1, 2009, and in accordance with subchapter III of chapter 5 of title 5, United States Code, with representatives from interested parties; and

(2) is effective only on or after January 1, 2011. The Secretary may not consider a public housing agency as failing to comply with the asset management requirements of subpart H of part 990 of title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or any successor or amended regulation containing asset management requirements, or determine that an agency fails to comply with such requirements, because of or as a result of the agency determining its fees in accordance with this subsection

(b) INCREASE OF THRESHOLD FOR EXEMPTION FROM ASSET MANAGEMENT REQUIREMENTS.—Any public housing agency that owns or operates fewer than 500 public housing units under title I of the United States Housing Act of 1937 may elect to be exempt from any asset management requirement imposed by the Secretary. In the case of any public housing agency in receivership, the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development or any receiver may not abrogate, waive, repeal, or modify any provision of part 964 of title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations or any provision of a formalized housing agreement entered into pursuant to such part 964 (including pursuant to section 964.11, 964.14, 964.18(a)(6), or 964.135 of such part) before the commencement of such receivership by a resident or tenant organization and the public housing agency.

SEC. 3. PROHIBITION ON RESTRICTION OF FUNGIBILITY OF CAPITAL FUND AMOUNTS.

The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development shall not impose any requirement, regulation, or guideline relating to asset management that restricts or limits in any way the use by public housing agencies of amounts for Capital Fund assistance under section 9(d) of such Act, pursuant to paragraph (1) or (2) of section 9(g) of the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. 1437g(g)), for costs of any central office of a public housing agency.

SEC. 4. TENANT PARTICIPATION.

(a) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Neither the requirements of this Act, nor any other requirement, regulation, guideline, or other policy or action of the Department of Housing and Urban Development relating to public housing asset management may be construed to repeal or waive any provision of part 964 of title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations, regarding tenant participation and tenant opportunities in public housing. The Secretary of Housing and Urban Development shall ensure that public housing agencies encourage the reasonable efforts of resident tenant organizations to represent their members or the reasonable efforts of tenants to organize.

(b) GUIDANCE.—Guidance issued by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development shall encourage participation by residents in the implementation of asset management and the development of local policies for such purposes.

SEC. 5. INELIGIBILITY OF ILLEGAL IMMIGRANTS FOR ASSISTANCE.

Immigrants who are not lawfully present in the United States shall be ineligible for financial assistance under this Act, as provided and defined by section 214 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1980 (42 U.S.C. 1436a). Nothing in this Act shall be construed to alter the restrictions or definitions in such section 214.

The bill, as amended, was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, was read a third time by title.

Mr. SMITH of Texas, moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Financial Services with instructions to report the bill back to the House forthwith with the following amendment:

Strike all after the enacting clause and insert the text of the bill, H.R. 3773, as passed by the Senate on February 12, 2008.

Pending consideration of said motion.

¶20.22 POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SIRES made a point of order against the motion to recommit with instructions and said:

''Madam Speaker, I make a point of order that the amendment is not germane to the bill. The bill H.R. 3773 has nothing to do with the asset management bill under consideration.''

Mr. SMITH of Texas, was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

''Madam Speaker, once again, the Democratic majority is insisting on a procedural objection to block consideration of the Senate-passed FISA modernization bill. This motion to recommit adds the bipartisan bill passed 2 weeks ago by the Senate, 68–29.

''Madam Speaker, there is nothing more germane to the security of the American people than to take up the Senate bill as quickly as possible.

''Now I would like to reiterate my disappointment that the majority has raised a point of order against this motion to recommit.

''Madam Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman to withdraw his point of order and allow for an up-or-down vote on the bipartisan Senate reform bill.''

Mr. SIRES was further recognized and said:

''Madam Speaker, I insist on my point of order.''.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, sustained the point of order, and said:

''The instructions in the motion to recommit propose an amendment consisting of the text of an entirely different measure that falls outside the jurisdiction of the Committee on Financial Services. The instructions are therefore not germane. The point of order is sustained. The motion is not in order.''

Mr. SMITH of Texas, appealed the ruling of the Chair.

The question being stated, viva voce,

Will the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the House?

Mr. SIRES moved to lay the appeal on the table.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House lay on the table the appeal of the ruling of the Chair?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, announced that the nays had it.

Mr. SIRES demanded a recorded vote on agreeing to said motion, which demand was supported by one-fifth of a quorum, so a recorded vote was ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device.

It was decided in the affirmative ..... { Yeas ..... 218 / Nays 195

Demag of Vermont.

¶21.5 PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 5351

Ms. MATSUI, by direction of the Committee on Rules, called up the following resolution (H. Res. 1001):

Resolved, That upon the adoption of this resolution it shall be in order to consider in the House the bill (H.R. 5351) to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to provide tax incentives for the production of renewable energy and energy conservation. All points of order against consideration of the bill are waived except those arising under clause 9 or 10 of rule XXI. The bill shall be considered as read. All points of order against provisions in the bill are waived. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill, and any amendment thereto, to final passage without intervening motion except: (1) 90 minutes of debate equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Ways and Means; (2) an amendment in the nature of a substitute printed in the Congressional Record pursuant to clause 8 of rule XVIII, if offered by Representative McCrery of Louisiana or his designee, which shall be in order without intervention of any point of order (except those arising under clause 7 of rule XVI, clause 9 of rule XXI, or clause 10 of rule XXI), shall be considered as read, and shall be separately debatable for one hour equally divided and controlled by the proponent and an opponent; and (3) one motion to recommit with or without instructions.

SEC. 2. During consideration of H.R. 5351 pursuant to this resolution, notwithstanding the operation of the previous question, the Chair may postpone further consideration of the bill to such time as may be designated by the Speaker.

SEC. 3. House Resolution 983 is laid upon the table.

Pending consideration of said resolution.

¶21.6 POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CONAWAY made a point of order against consideration of said resolution and said:

''Mr. Speaker, I make a point of order against the consideration of the resolution because it is in violation of section 426(a) of the Congressional Budget Act.

''The resolution provides that all points of order against consideration of the bill are waived except those arising under clause 9 and 10 of rule XXI. This waiver of all points of order includes a waiver of section 425 of the Congressional Budget Act which causes the resolution to be in violation of section 426(a).''

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. SALAZAR, responded to the point of order, and said:

''The gentleman from Texas makes a point of order that the resolution violates section 426(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

''The gentleman has met the threshold burden to identify the specific language in the resolution on which the point of order is predicated. Such a point of order shall be disposed of by the question of consideration.

''After that debate the Chair will put the question of consideration, to wit: 'Will the House now consider the resolution?'.''.

Mr. CONAWAY was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, this bill that is the subject of this rule that is about to come before us includes two tax increases, one on section 199, which eliminates the oil and gas industry's ability to take advantage of this provision within the law to increase their taxes over the next 10 years by some $13 billion. There is also some tweaking with, and that's an odd word to use when it raises $4 billion, but a tweaking with the way foreign oil and gas income plays into the computation of the foreign tax credits that these companies could take advantage of.

''Both of these violate the Unfunded Mandate Reform Act provision on private initiatives and therefore are subject to this point of order on being waived. So I think that favorable consideration of this point of order is where we should be going with respect to the private sector mandates that are waived under this rule.''.

Mr. FLAKE was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

''Mr. Speaker, as was mentioned, you could easily say that there are unfunded mandates in the bill. You could also say there is a particular earmark in the bill. Because the bill didn't go through regular order and we don't have a committee report to go along with it, there was not a certification that came saying that there were no earmarks in the bill.

''Of particular concern is a provision that would allow New York City to keep up to $2 billion worth of the employer share of payroll taxes and invest the funds in a transportation project. This is not the first time we have seen this. The New York Liberty Zone Tax Credit earmark was included in a previous energy bill passed by the House, but it was removed by the Senate.

''Now, I think we can all quibble about where the benefits go on some of these things, but it's clear that the target here is New York City. It's a targeted tax provision, and it's what we typically refer to as an earmark in the authorizing bill. And I would say that if it looks like an earmark and acts like an earmark, it is one. And it shouldn't be in this bill unless there is some kind of certification or something that is not an earmark. I just don't know how you can call it anything but that. This is just another example of how little impact Congress's steps to reform the process have actually had in the day-to-day operation of the House.

''For a point of order against an earmark to be rejected, the chairman needs to simply insert a statement into the RECORD saying there are no earmarks in the bill, and then the point of order can't be lodged. Here we don't even have that kind of statement, and still we are saying a point of order can't be lodged in this regard.

''So I would say that we ought to reject this bill for many reasons, not the least of which it's going to blow a $2 billion hole in the budget here for a limited specific tax provision benefiting only one group across the country.''.

Mr. CONAWAY was further recognized and said:

''I thank my colleague for pointing that out.

''Mr. Speaker, the Congressional Budget Office on a similar, almost exact, bill, 2776, earlier in the year, clearly stated that these were unfunded mandates. They breached the threshold appropriate under the Unfunded Mandate Reform Act, and a point of order should be sustained against this bill.''.

Ms. MATSUI was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

''This point of order is about whether or not to consider this rule and ultimately the underlying bill. In fact, I would say that it is simply an effort to try to kill this bill before we even have an opportunity to debate it. I hope my colleagues will vote 'yes' on this procedural motion so we can consider this important legislation today.

''Mr. Speaker, H.R. 5351 is about investing in clean, renewable energy and energy efficiency. It is about boosting our economy and national security while protecting our environment.

''It is abundantly clear that our dependence on foreign oil has skyrocketed with much of it imported from the volatile Middle East with a price tag today of $102 a barrel. It's time to reduce our dependence on foreign oil, not only to strengthen our national security but to support domestic production of renewable energy. We need to take action now and start by considering and passing the Renewable Energy and Energy Conservation Tax bill today.

''This bill is about the hardworking American families. It is about creating jobs for the American worker and about protecting their rights. If we are creating jobs in this bill, which we are, we should be making sure that workers are making prevailing wages.

''The Davis-Bacon Act requires contractors to pay no less than the locally prevailing wage on Federal contract construction. Davis-Bacon was adopted in 1931, during the Hoover administration, to protect the rights of the American workforce. During the more than 70 years since its enactment, Davis-Bacon has come under fire many times but has always received support from the Congress and American families who benefit from it.

''The Renewable Energy and Energy Conservation Tax Act addresses the priorities of the American people. In addition to tackling our energy crisis, H.R. 5351 complies with PAYGO rules, which is a priority of the 110th Congress. The bill is therefore paid for. Most of the funding is by reducing tax cuts to the top-earning oil companies. In order to pay for the important tax extensions and comply with PAYGO, there had to be revenue raisers. Our country is facing record deficits, and this Congress is acting responsibly.

''This bill will develop a progressive energy policy that is long term, not shortsighted. It does away with the tired strategies of the past, which focused only on producing more oil at the expense of the environment and of the American taxpayer. We are heeding the calls of the American people by adopting it.''.

Mr. BOSWELL was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

''I oppose this point of order. I think that the gentlewoman from California made it very clear that it is appropriate and needed that we do what we're trying to do with H.R. 5351. And I want to support the rule for H.R. 5351, and I would like to thank Congresswoman MATSUI for her leadership and Chairman RANGEL for their continued work to ensure these vital tax credits are extended.

''This legislation takes many needed steps to ensure the United States continues to be a major player on the renewable energy stage. This legislation extends the renewable energy production tax credit which Iowa and my district have seen firsthand the benefits of. It creates a cellulosic alcohol production tax credit which will give a 50 cent per gallon credit for cellulosic alcohol produced for use of fuel, a step to get us out of bondage to OPEC, and anybody knows we have got to do this for the salvation of this country. This legislation also extends the biodiesel production tax credit and creates a new credit for plug-in hybrid vehicles, among other things.

''I'm also pleased to see that components of a bill I introduced, H.R. 5373, the Consumer and Manufacturer Energy Efficient Tax Credit Extension Act, were also included in this legislation. The underlying bill, which goes further than mine, would extend and modify the energy efficient appliance credit for 3 years and extend and modify the energy efficiency tax credits for improvements to existing homes.

''I'm very pleased to see that the chairman, the gentlewoman from California [Ms. MATSUI], and the House leadership recognize these tax credits are important, not only to the environment but also to the economy. I believe that all consumers want to make more energy-efficient choices, and this legislation will help them do that. It's a win-win situation for the environment and the American consumer's pocketbook.

''Iowa has been a leader for renewable energy, and I am proud to say in my district we are leading the State with a new biodiesel plant in Newton just last year and a new wind turbine plant, which provides the State with the equipment needed to supply its growing wind energy.

''I am also excited that we have the opportunity to make America more energy independent, create high-tech 'green' jobs for a 'green future,' ensure low-income families have affordable energy costs, and I look forward to continuing to work for a more energy-efficient future.

''So, again, I thank the gentlewoman for this time. And I would once again reiterate my support for this rule, that we can move on and oppose this point of order.''.

Mr. CONAWAY was further recognized and said:

''I was laboring under a misconception that the debate was to be limited to the point of order rather than the underlying bill itself. So since the other side has raised the issues in the bill, I'll take a couple of seconds to add some gratuitous comments about those as well rather than strictly talking about my point of order.

''At a time when we are clearly dependent on foreign oil, imported foreign oil, crude oil, and natural gas, and everyone recognizes that it's a strategic vulnerability to our country, a reduction in domestic production of crude oil and natural gas seems to be very wrongheaded in the sense of trying to reduce our dependency on imported foreign oil and natural gas.

''This bill will take $17 billion out of the search for crude oil and natural gas, domestic supplies in most instances, and put it towards some very worthy initiatives in terms of trying to find alternatives to that. There is no rational projection that any of these alternatives will develop in the next 15 to 20 years to supplant the need for crude oil and natural gas to drive the economy, whether you're talking about generating electricity or driving cars and trucks and airplanes. So at a time when we are fully dependent on crude oil and natural gas, it seems to make eminent sense that we ought to be encouraging domestic oil and gas companies to reinvest their profits, reinvest their moneys back in the ground.

''Now, mechanically what happens with respect to the oil and gas business is when they do find crude oil and natural gas, they find reserves in the ground and there is value associated with those reserves. Typically, those producers then go to the bank and use those reserves as collateral in the ground to borrow more money to spend additional money going into the ground. So for each dollar that we increase their taxes, there is a multiple of that dollar that does not get spent on searches for crude oil and natural gas that would be used domestically. We do nothing about the restrictions on a responsible, environmentally sound development of other areas that have proven crude oil and natural gas reserves, domestic crude oil and natural gas reserves. We do nothing in this legislation to affect that.

''In addition, my colleagues brought up the vaunted PAYGO rule, which is used almost every day in this Chamber. Quite frankly, these taxes have been used multiple times already in this Congress to pay for a variety of things. So if our constituents back home fully understood how theatrical the PAYGO situations with this bill really are, they would be probably offended, that that is just the typical Washington business-as-usual kinds of things that are going on.

''So while this bill, I believe, creates an unfunded mandate that is in violation of the Unfunded Mandate Reform Act and it should be properly subject to this point of order, the underlying bill itself is flawed on a variety of things as well.

''I will close, then, by just saying that I believe this point of order should be sustained and this rule should be defeated.''.

Ms. MATSUI was further recognized and said:

''Again, Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to vote ''yes'' on the motion to consider so we can debate and pass this important piece of legislation today.''.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House now consider the resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. SALAZAR, announced that the yeas had it.

Mr. CONAWAY demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device.

So the resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider the vote whereby said resolution was agreed to was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

Pursuant to section 3 of House Resolution 1001, H. Res. 983 was laid on the table.

¶21.13 RENEWABLE ENERGY AND ENERGY CONSERVATION

Mr. RANGEL, pursuant to House Resolution 1001, called up for consideration the bill (H.R. 5351) to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to provide tax incentives for the production of renewable energy and energy conservation.

When said bill was considered.

After debate,

Pursuant to House Resolution 1001, the previous question was ordered on the bill.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, was read a third time by title.

Mr. HOEKSTRA moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Ways and Means with instructions to report the bill back to the House forthwith with the following amendment:

Strike all after the enacting clause and insert the following:

SECTION 1. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) The energy security of the United States is tied directly to the national security of the United States, the stability of the United States economy, and the stability of key oil producing nations.

(2) Radical jihadists who attacked the United States on September 11, 2001, continue planning to attack the United States and its citizens. If successful, such attacks would directly impact the energy security of the United States. Radical jihadists also seek to replace the governments of key oil producing nations with a caliphate.

(3) The Protect America Act of 2007, which provided key tools to detect and prevent potential terrorist attacks in foreign countries and within the United States expired at midnight, February 17, 2007.

(4) Without those key tools, the capability of the United States intelligence community to detect and prevent potential attacks has begun to substantially degrade, placing at risk the national security of the United States and the energy security of the United States.

(5) Consistent with a bipartisan consensus, Congress must take immediate action to adopt legislation to provide the intelligence community with strong and effective tools to ensure the national security and the energy security of the United States.

¶21.14 POINT OF ORDER

Mr. RANGEL made a point of order against the motion to recommit with instructions, and said:

''Mr. Speaker, I make a point of order that the motion to recommit is not germane to the underlying bill, and I insist on my point of order.''.

Mr. HOEKSTRA was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

''Mr. Speaker, as the distinguished chairman talked about in his closing remarks, and as the majority leader discussed in his closing remarks, the energy security of the United States is directly tied to the national security of the United States.

''It is beyond me to understand how the proponents of this bill can claim that the legislation before us this afternoon protects the energy independence and energy security of the United States when our critical foreign intelligence capabilities, designed specifically to protect the national security of the United States, continue to degrade. This, of course, happened 11 days ago with the expiration of the Protect America Act.

''Again the proponents of the bill say the energy security of the United States is directly tied to the national security of the United States. And that is why this motion to recommit should be considered in order.

''The national security of the United States is directly tied to the effectiveness of the tools that we give to the intelligence community. The same radical jihadist groups who attacked the United States on September 11, 2001 are continuing their plans to attack the United States and its citizens. You don't have to take my word for it. Read the declassified excerpts of the National Intelligence Estimate released by Director McConnell.

''The majority leader and others who are proponents of this bill have pointed out America's vulnerability on energy issues.

''And as we have said, your words were that this is a national security issue and it is imperative that we deal with it. The majority leader's words, we are talking about the threats to our oil supply and our energy supply, whether it was from Venezuela, whether it was from the Middle East or other parts of the world. We significantly enhance and increase our vulnerability on an energy standpoint when we let the tools of the intelligence community erode and when we no longer have good insight into what radical jihadists may be doing in Pakistan or what they may be doing in the Middle East or what they may be doing in South America when specifically these are the home bases of radical jihadists. You also have to take a look specifically at radical jihadists and take a look at where they are saying they want to act. They want to destabilize many of the governments that provide us with the oil and energy supplies that this country is so dependent on.

''Again, getting back to the point, the chairman has talked about energy security being tied to national security. This motion to recommit will do more to secure our energy independence and will do more to protect our energy security and national security than many of the other provisions in the bill because it specifically gives the tools to our intelligence community to protect not only our domestic sources of energy, but also enables us to protect the sources of energy that come from overseas.''.

Mr. RANGEL was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, I object. The proponent is not dealing with the question of the point of order but is dealing with another subject matter.''.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. GUTIERREZ, spoke and said:

''The gentleman from Michigan must confine his remarks to the point of order.''.

Mr. HOEKSTRA was further recognized and said:

''Thank you. That is exactly what I am talking about. I thank my colleague for pointing that out.

''And as we have said, your words were that this is a national security issue and it is imperative that we deal with it. The majority leader's words, we are talking about the threats to our oil supply and our energy supply, whether it was from Venezuela, whether it was from the Middle East or other parts of the world. We significantly enhance and increase our vulnerability on an energy standpoint when we let the tools of the intelligence community erode and when we no longer have good insight into what radical jihadists may be doing in Pakistan or what they may be doing in the Middle East or what they may be doing in South America when specifically these are the home bases of radical jihadists. You also have to take a look specifically at radical jihadists and take a look at where they are saying they want to act. They want to destabilize many of the governments that provide us with the oil and energy supplies that this country is so dependent on.''.

Mr. RANGEL was further recognized and said:

''The proponent's speech is not related to the parliamentary question of the relevancy to the point of order.''.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. GUTIERREZ, spoke and said:

''The Chair will hear the gentleman on the point of order, but his remarks must be confined to the question of the point of order and may not dwell on the underlying substantive issue.''.

Mr. HOEKSTRA was further recognized and said:

''Thank you.

''Again, getting back to the point, the chairman has talked about energy security being tied to national security. This motion to recommit will do more to secure our energy independence and will do more to protect our energy security and national security than many of the other provisions in the bill because it specifically gives the tools to our intelligence community to protect not only our domestic sources of energy, but also enables us to protect the sources of energy that come from overseas.''.

Mr. RANGEL was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, I have all the respect for the proponent of the motion to recommit on the subject matter that he is trying to bring to the attention of this House, but the RECORD has got to indicate that as this great Nation and this House try to deal with the serious problem of global warming, of loss of jobs, of national security, of a variety of things that we should be focused on, that if the rule should be used constantly throughout this debate for a purpose other than the reason why this bill is before this House, it not only violates the parliamentary rules, but the spirit in which we should be looking at this energy bill. So I insist on my point of order.''.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. GUTIERREZ, sustained the point of order, and said:

''The Chair will rely on the precedent of February 26, 2008. The instructions in the motion to recommit address a totally unrelated measure within the jurisdiction of committees not represented in the underlying bill. The instructions are therefore nongermane and the point of order is sustained. The motion is not in order.''.

Mr. HOEKSTRA appealed the ruling of the Chair.

The question being stated, viva voce,

Will the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the House?

Mr. RANGEL moved to lay the appeal on the table.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House lay on the table the appeal of the ruling of the Chair?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. GUTIERREZ, announced that the yeas had it.

Mr. HOEKSTRA demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device.

It was decided in the affirmative ..... { Yeas ..... 222 Nays 191

¶23.7 COMMUNICATION FROM THE CLERK—MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Ms. HOOLEY, laid before the House a communication, which was read as follows:

OFFICE OF THE CLERK,
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, DC, February 28, 2008.

Hon. NANCY PELOSI,
Speaker, House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MADAM SPEAKER: Pursuant to the permission granted in Clause 2(h) of Rule II of the Rules of the U.S. House of Representatives, I have the honor to transmit a sealed envelope received from the White House on February 28, 2008, at 3:49 p.m. and said to contain a message from the President whereby he submits an agreement with the Kingdom of Denmark concerning Social Security.

With best wishes, I am,

Sincerely,

LORRAINE C. MILLER,
Clerk of the House.

¶23.8 KINGDOM OF DENMARK SOCIAL SECURITY AGREEMENT

The Clerk then read the message from the President, as follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

Pursuant to section 233(e)(1) of the Social Security Act, as amended by the Social Security Amendments of 1977 (Public Law 95–216, 42 U.S.C. 433(e)(1)), I transmit herewith the Agreement Between the United States of America and the Kingdom of Denmark on Social Security, which consists of two separate instruments: a principal agreement and an administrative arrangement. The agreement was signed at Copenhagen on June 13, 2007.

The United States-Denmark Agreement is similar in objective to the social security agreements already in force with Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Chile, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Korea, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom. Such bilateral agreements provide for limited coordination between the United States and foreign social security systems to eliminate dual social security coverage and taxation, and to help prevent the loss of benefit protection that can occur when workers divide their careers between two countries. The United States-Denmark Agreement contains all provisions mandated by section 233 and other provisions that I deem appropriate to carry out the purposes of section 233, pursuant to section 233(c)(4).

I also transmit for the information of the Congress a report prepared by the Social Security Administration explaining the key points of the Agreement, along with a paragraph-by-paragraph explanation of the provisions of the principal agreement and the related administrative arrangement. Attached to this report is the report required by section 233(e)(1) of the Social Security Act, which describes the effect of the Agreement on income and expenditures of the U.S. Social Security program and the number of individuals affected by the Agreement.

I commend to the Congress the United States-Denmark Social Security Agreement and related documents.

GEORGE W. BUSH.

THE WHITE HOUSE, February 28, 2008.

By unanimous consent, the message, together with the accompanying papers, was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means and ordered to be printed (H. Doc. 110–97).

¶24.6 COMMUNICATION FROM THE CLERK—MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. BLUMENAUER, laid before the House a communication, which was read as follows:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, DC, March 3, 2008.

Hon. NANCY PELOSI,
The Speaker, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MADAM SPEAKER: Pursuant to the permission granted in Clause 2(h) of Rule II of the Rules of the U.S. House of Representatives, I have the honor to transmit a sealed envelope received from the White House on March 3, 2008, at 2:32 p.m. and said to contain a message from the President whereby he submits the 2008 National Drug Control Strategy.

With best wishes, I am
Sincerely,

LORRAINE C. MILLER,
Clerk of the House.

¶24.7 NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL STRATEGY

The Clerk then read the message from the President, as follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

I am pleased to transmit the 2008 National Drug Control Strategy, consistent with the provisions of section 201 of the Office of National Drug Control Policy Reauthorization Act of 2006.

My Administration published its first National Drug Control Strategy in 2002, inspired by a great moral imperative: we must reduce illegal drug use because, over time, drugs rob men, women, and children of their dignity and of their character. Thanks to bipartisan support in the Congress; the work of Federal, State, local, and tribal officials; and the efforts of ordinary citizens, 6 years later fewer Americans know the sorrow of addiction.

We have learned much about the nature of drug use and drug markets, and have demonstrated what can be achieved with a balanced strategy that puts resources where they are needed most. Prevention programs are reaching Americans in their communities, schools, workplaces, and through the media, contributing to a 24 percent decline in youth drug use since 2001. Today, approximately 860,000 fewer young people are using drugs than in 2001. We have expanded access to treatment in public health settings, the criminal justice system, and in sectors of society where resources are limited. The Access to Recovery program alone has extended treatment services to an additional 190,000 Americans, exceeding its 3-year goal by over 50 percent. We have seized unprecedented amounts of illegal drugs and have denied drug traffickers and terrorists the profits they need to conduct their deadly work. During the first three quarters of 2007 we saw significant disruptions in the cocaine and methamphetamine markets, with prices rising by 44 percent and 73 percent, and purities falling by 15 percent and 31 percent, respectively.

These results do not mean that our work is done. Rather, they provide a charter for future efforts. By pursuing a balanced strategy that addresses the epidemiology of drug use and the economics of drug availability, we can further reduce drug use in America.

I thank the Congress for its support and ask that it continue this noble work on behalf of the American people.

GEORGE W. BUSH.

THE WHITE HOUSE, March 3, 2008.

By unanimous consent, the message, together with the accompanying papers, was referred to the Committee on Armed Services, the Committee on Education and Labor, the Committee on Energy and Commerce, the Committee on Foreign Affairs, the Committee on Homeland Security, the Committee on the Judiciary, the Committee on Natural Resources, the Committee on Oversight and Government Reform, the Committee on Small Business, the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, the Committee on Veterans Affairs, and the Committee on Ways and Means, and ordered to be printed (H. A message in writing from the President of the United States was communicated to the House by Mr. Sherman Williams, one of his secretaries.

¶24.30 MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT—NATIONAL EMERGENCY WITH RESPECT TO ZIMBABEWE

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. DONNELLY, laid before the House a message from the President, which was read as follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

The crisis constituted by the actions and policies of certain members of the Government of Zimbabwe and other persons to undermine Zimbabwe's democratic processes or institutions has not been resolved. These actions and policies pose a continuing unusual and extraordinary threat to the foreign policy of the United States. For these reasons, I have determined that it is necessary to continue this national emergency and to maintain in force the sanctions to respond to this threat.

Section 202(d) of the National Emergencies Act (50 U.S.C. 1622(d)) provides for the automatic termination of a national emergency unless, prior to the anniversary date of its declaration, the President publishes in the Federal Register and transmits to the Congress a notice stating that the emergency is to continue in effect beyond the anniversary date. In accordance with this provision, I have sent the enclosed notice to the Federal Register for publication, stating that the national emergency with respect to the actions and policies of certain members of the Government of Zimbabwe and other persons to undermine Zimbabwe's democratic processes or institutions is to continue in effect beyond March 6, 2008.

GEORGE W. BUSH.

THE WHITE HOUSE, March 4, 2008.

¶25.4 OPERATIONAL READINESS IN CIVILIAN AGENCIES

Mr. BERMAN moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 1084) to amend the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956, and the Foreign Service Act of 1980 to build operational readiness in civilian agencies, and for other purposes; as amended.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CLAY, recognized Mr. BERMAN and Mr. BILIRAKIS, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and pass said bill, as amended?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CLAY, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

So, two-thirds of the Members present having voted in favor thereof, the rules were suspended and said bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider the vote whereby the rules were suspended and said bill, as amended, was passed was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

Ordered, That the Clerk request the concurrence of the Senate in said bill.

¶25.5 ELECTIONS IN TAIWAN

Mr. BERMAN moved to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 278); as amended:

Whereas the United States and Taiwan share common ideals and a clear vision for the 21st century, where freedom and democracy are the foundations for peace, prosperity, and progress;

Whereas Taiwan has dramatically improved its record on human rights and routinely holds free and fair elections in a multiparty system, as evidenced by Taiwan's first democratic presidential election in 1996, second in 2000, and third in 2004;

Whereas the democratic and open presidential elections in 2000 mark the first transfer of power from one party to another in Taiwan's history;

Whereas Taiwan has demonstrated its unequivocal support for human rights and a commitment to the democratic ideals of freedom of speech, freedom of the press, rule of law, and free and fair elections routinely held in a multiparty system;

Whereas Taiwan is one of the strongest democratic allies of the United States in the Asia-Pacific region;

Whereas it is United States policy to support and strengthen democracy around the world;

Whereas, with its stable democratic system and impressive economic prowess, Taiwan stands apart from many equally young democracies whose freedom and liberty have been severely challenged; and

Whereas the United States Congress has organized congressional delegations to witness the electoral process in thriving democracies, including elections in Taiwan: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That it is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) the United States Government should reaffirm its unwavering commitment to Taiwan's democracy and security; and

(2) international delegations should be encouraged to visit Taiwan for the purpose of witnessing the presidential elections in March 2008.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CLAY, recognized Mr. BERMAN and Mr. BILIRAKIS, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said concurrent resolution, as amended?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CLAY, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

Mr. BILIRAKIS demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CLAY, pursuant to clause 8, rule XX, announced that further proceedings on the question were postponed.

¶25.6 PALESTINIAN ROCKET ATTACKS

Mr. BERMAN moved to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution (H. Res. 951); as amended:

Whereas more than 4,000 rockets and mortar shells have been fired at Israel from the Gaza Strip by Hamas and other terrorist organizations since Israeli forces withdrew from there in 2005;

Whereas, since January 1, 2008, terrorists have fired nearly a thousand rockets and mortar shells into Israel;

Whereas the near-daily rocket fire has been targeted primarily and intentionally at civilian communities in Israel, such as Sderot and Ashkelon, making life in such areas agonizing;

Whereas the terrorist rockets have hit homes, schools, buildings, roads, power lines, and other such infrastructure in Israel;

Whereas these unprovoked rocket and mortar attacks have murdered over a dozen Israelis, inflicted hundreds of casualties, produced thousands of cases of shock and post-traumatic stress, especially among children, and caused severe disruption of daily life;

Whereas these deliberate cross-border rocket and mortar attacks on civilian populations constitute a blatant violation of human rights and international law;

Whereas those responsible for launching rocket attacks against Israel routinely embed their production facilities and launch sites amongst the Palestinian civilian population, utilizing them as human shields;

Whereas intentionally targeting civilian populations and the use of human shields violates international humanitarian and human rights law;

Whereas numerous reports have cited the copious amounts of sophisticated weapons, small arms, and weapons manufacturing materials that have been smuggled into Gaza through Egypt;

Whereas public reports have cited the role of Iran and Syria in providing material support and training to those carrying out rocket and other terrorist attacks from Gaza;

Whereas public reports have referenced the increased flow of ammunition, explosives, and higher-grade weapons into the Gaza Strip as a result of Hamas' breach of the 12-kilometer security fence separating Gaza from Egyptian Sinai on January 23, 2008;

Whereas it was reported that after the breach of the Egyptian-Gaza border, many Palestinian terrorists who had trained in Syria and Iran returned to Gaza;

Whereas the fielding and use of longer-range rockets by Hamas and other terrorist organizations to reach larger Israeli cities represents a dangerous expansion of the organizations' offensive capabilities and an escalation of the terrorist attacks on Israel;

Whereas the Government of Israel's military operations in Gaza only target Hamas and other terrorist organizations;

Whereas the inadvertent inflicting of civilian casualties as a result of defensive military operations aimed at military targets, while deeply regrettable, is not at all morally equivalent to the deliberate targeting of civilian populations as practiced by Hamas and other Gaza-based terrorist groups; and

Whereas the situation in the Gaza Strip remains a threat to international security and regional stability: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) strongly condemns—

(A) Hamas, which controls Gaza, and other Palestinian terrorist organizations for the ongoing rocket attacks on Israeli civilians and continued human rights violations;

(B) state sponsors of terror, such as Iran and Syria, for enabling Palestinian terrorist organizations to carry out attacks against innocent Israeli civilians; and

(C) the use of innocent Palestinian civilians as human shields by those who carry out rocket and other attacks;

(2) expresses condolences to the families of the innocent victims on both sides of the conflict;

(3) supports the sovereign right of the Government of Israel to defend its territory against attacks;

(4) expresses sympathy and support for innocent Palestinian civilians who reject all forms of terrorism and desire to live in peace with their Israeli neighbors but who continue to be utilized as human shields by terrorist organizations;

(5) considers rocket attacks against Israel and the fostering of terrorism in the Palestinian territories as direct and serious impediments to the achievement of Israeli-Palestinian peace;

(6) calls on the President to—

(A) direct the United States Permanent Representative to the United Nations to introduce a resolution within the United Nations Security Council condemning Palestinian rocket and other attacks against innocent Israeli civilians; and

(B) direct the Secretary of State to raise this issue in all applicable bilateral and international fora;

(7) calls on responsible countries and United States allies in the Middle East to officially and publicly condemn Palestinian rocket attacks and other terrorist actions against Israel; and

(8) reaffirms the strong and unyielding friendship between the Governments and the people of Israel and the United States.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CLAY, recognized Mr. BERMAN and Mr. BILIRAKIS, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said resolution, as amended?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CLAY, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

Mr. BILIRAKIS demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CLAY, pursuant to clause 8, rule XX, announced that further proceedings on the question were postponed.

¶25.20 CONGRESSIONAL PAPERS

Mr. BRADY of Pennsylvania, moved to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 307):

Whereas Members' Congressional papers (including papers of Delegates and Resident Commissioners to the Congress) serve as indispensable sources for the study of American representative democracy;

Whereas these papers document vital national, regional, and local public policy issues;

Whereas because these papers serve as essential primary sources for the history of Congress, the study of these papers will illuminate the careers of individual Members;

Whereas by custom, these papers are considered the personal property of the Member who receives and creates them, and it is therefore the Member who is responsible to decide on their ultimate disposition; and

¶25.21 SHOOTING AT NORTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY

Mr. DAVIS of Illinois, moved to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution (H. Res. 1007):

Whereas on Thursday, February 14, 2008, a gunman entered a lecture hall on the campus of Northern Illinois University and opened fire on the students assembled there;

Whereas the gunman took the lives of 5 students and wounded 17 more;

Whereas the 5 students who lost their lives that day were—

(1) Gayle Dubowski, age 20, of Carol Stream, Illinois, a devout member of her church who sang in the church choir and worked as a camp counselor and volunteer in rural Kentucky;

(2) Catalina ''Cati'' Garcia, age 20, of Cicero, Illinois, a first-generation American who had hoped to be a teacher, was her family's ''princess'' and inspiration, and was rarely seen without a beaming smile;

(4) Ryanne Mace, age 19, of Carpentersville, Illinois, a much-loved only child who was rarely without a warm smile and hoped to be a counselor so she could help others; and

(5) Daniel Parmenter, age 20, of Westchester, Illinois, ''Danny'' to his friends, a 6-foot, 5-inch rugby player with a gentle spirit and bright future, who died trying to protect his girlfriend from gunfire;

Whereas the Northern Illinois University Police Department, the Police Departments of DeKalb, Sycamore, Aurora, Batavia, Cortland, Galesburg, Genoa, Geneva, Mendota, St. Charles, Rockford, and the Village of Winnebago, the Conservation Police, the Sheriff's Offices of DeKalb County, Winnebago County, and Kane County, the Kane County Bomb Squad, the Illinois State Police, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives, Reach/Air Angel, Flight for Life, Life Line, the Salvation Army, and the Fire and Emergency Medical Services Department of DeKalb, Sycamore, Cortland, Malta, Maple Park, Rochelle, Hampshire, Burlington, Shabbona, Hinckley, Genoa-Kingston, Waterman, Elburn, St. Charles, Ogle-Lee, Kaneville, Sugar Grove, North Aurora, and Somonauk responded to the emergency promptly and assisted capably in the initial crisis and the subsequent investigations;

Whereas the emergency responders and the doctors, nurses, and other health care providers at Kishwaukee Community Hospital, Saint Anthony Medical Center, Good Samaritan Hospital, Rockford Memorial Hospital, and Northwestern Memorial Hospital provided professional and dedicated care to the victims;

Whereas hundreds of volunteer counselors from Illinois and across the Nation have come to Northern Illinois University to assist the campus community;

Whereas the students, faculty, staff, and administration of Northern Illinois University, the people of the city of DeKalb and the State of Illinois, and all Americans have mourned the victims of this tragedy and have offered support to the victims' friends and families and to the greater Northern Illinois University community;

Whereas Northern Illinois University has established a scholarship fund to honor the memory of the students slain in the February 14 tragedy; and

Whereas the Northern Illinois University community is determined to move ''forward, together forward'', in the words of the Huskie fight song, and to persevere through this tragedy with heavy hearts but unbroken spirits: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) expresses its sincere condolences to the families, friends, and loved ones of those who were killed in the tragic shooting on February 14, 2008, at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb, Illinois: Gayle Dubowski, Catalina Garcia, Julianna Gehant, Ryanne Mace, and Daniel Parmenter;

(2) extends its support and prayers to those who were wounded and wishes them a speedy recovery;

(5) expresses its solidarity with Northern Illinois University and its students, faculty, staff, and administration as they mourn their losses and as they recover from this tragic incident.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. HOLDEN, recognized Mr. DAVIS of Illinois, and Mrs. BIGGERT, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. HOLDEN, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

¶25.22 NATIONAL SCHOOL BREAKFAST PROGRAM

Mr. DAVIS of Illinois, moved to suspend the rules and agree to the resolution (H. Res. 1013):

Whereas breakfast program participants under the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 include public, private, elementary, middle, and high schools, as well as rural, suburban, and urban schools;

Whereas almost 17,000 schools that participate in the National School Lunch Program do not participate in the National School Breakfast Program;

Whereas in fiscal year 2006, 7,700,000 students in the United States consumed free or reduced-price school breakfasts provided under the National School Breakfast Program established by section 4 of the Child Nutrition Act of 1966;

Whereas less than half of the low-income students who participate in the National School Lunch Program also participate in the school breakfast program;

Whereas implementing or improving classroom breakfast programs have been shown to increase the participation of eligible students in breakfast consumption dramatically, doubling, and in some cases tripling, numbers, as evidenced by research in Minnesota, New York, and Wisconsin;

Whereas making breakfast widely available through different venues or a combination thereof, such as in the classroom, obtained as students exit their school bus, or outside the classroom, has been shown to lessen the stigma of receiving free or reduced-price breakfast, which often prevents eligible students from obtaining traditional breakfast in the cafeteria;

Whereas providing free universal breakfast, especially in the classroom, has been shown to significantly increase school breakfast participation rates and increase absences and tardiness;

Whereas studies have shown that access to nutritious programs such as the National School Lunch Program and National School Breakfast Program helps to create a strong learning environment for children and helps to improve children's concentration in the classroom;

Whereas providing breakfast in the classroom has been shown in several instances to improve attentiveness and academic performance, while reducing tardiness and disciplinary referrals;

Whereas students who eat a complete breakfast have been shown to make fewer mistakes and work faster in math exercises than those who eat a partial breakfast;

Whereas studies suggest that eating breakfast closer to classroom and test-taking time improves student performance on standardized tests relative to students who skip breakfast or have breakfast at home;

Whereas studies show that students who skip breakfast are more likely to have difficulty distinguishing among similar images, show increased errors, and have slower memory recall;

Whereas children who live in families that experience hunger have been shown to be more likely to have lower math scores, face an increased likelihood of repeating a grade, and receive more special education services;

Whereas studies suggest that children who eat breakfast have more adequate nutrition and intake of nutrients, such as calcium, fiber, protein, and vitamins A, E, D, and B–6; and

Whereas children who fail to eat breakfast, whether in school or at home, are more likely to be overweight than children who eat a daily healthy breakfast: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) recognizes the importance of the National School Breakfast Program and its overall positive effect on the lives of low-income children and families, as well as its effect on helping to improve a child's overall classroom performance;

(2) expresses support for States that have successfully implemented school breakfast programs in order to improve the test scores and grades of its participating students; and

(3) encourages states to strengthen their school breakfast programs by improving access for students, to promote improvements in the nutritional quality of breakfasts served, and to inform students and parents of healthy nutritional and lifestyle choices.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. HOLDEN, recognized Mr. DAVIS of Illinois, and Mrs. BIGGERT, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. HOLDEN, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

A motion to reconsider the vote whereby the rules were suspended and said resolution was agreed to was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

SEC. 2. In the engrossment of H.R. 1424, the Clerk shall—

(a) add the text of H.R. 493, as passed by the House, as new matter at the end of H.R. 1424;

(b) conform the title of H.R. 1424 to reflect the addition to the engrossment of H.R. 493;

(c) assign appropriate designations to provisions within the engrossment; and

(d) conform provisions for short titles within the engrossment.

SEC. 3. During consideration of H.R. 1424 pursuant to this resolution, notwithstanding the operation of the previous question, the Chair may postpone further consideration of the bill to such time as may be designated by the Speaker.

Pending consideration of said resolution.

¶25.24 POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BROUN of Georgia, made a point of order against consideration of said resolution, and said:

''Mr. Speaker, I make a point of order against the consideration of the resolution because it is in violation of section 426(a) of the Congressional Budget Act.

''The resolution provides that 'all points of order against consideration of the bill are waived except those arising under clause 9 and 10 of rule XXI.' This waiver of all points of order includes a waiver of section 425 of the Congressional Budget Act which causes the resolution to be in violation of section 426(a).''.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. HOLDEN, responded to the point of order, and said:

''The gentleman from Georgia makes a point of order that the resolution violates section 426(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

''The gentleman has met the threshold burden to identify the specific language in the resolution on which the point of order is predicated. Such a point of order shall be disposed of by the question of consideration.

''The gentleman from Georgia and a Member opposed, the gentlewoman from Florida, each will control 10 minutes of debate on the question of consideration.

''After that debate, the Chair will put the question of consideration, to wit: 'Will the House now consider the resolution?'.''.

Mr. BROUN of Georgia, was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, I have both professional and personal interest in this bill. I'm a medical doctor, and for years I've treated depression, anxiety, a lot of panic disorders. I'm also an addictionologist. I've treated drug and alcohol addiction and eating disorders. And so I've had many patients over the years that have had these kinds of problems.

''My mom has been involved in dealing with her own depression all the way up until she died of metastatic breast cancer, and she worked with the mental health society in our home community.

''I also have personal interest in this bill because my wife has suffered from depression. She has an eating disorder and has dealt with this in her history. She has suffered from depression to the point that several years ago she even tried to take her own life, and except for the grace of God she should have died. And so I do have a very personal interest in this bill. Mr. Speaker, this is why I have a vested interest in how Congress addresses health care, and especially mental health coverage.

''CBO estimates that the cost of the mandates to the private sector in this bill would be at least $1.3 billion in 2008; and this would rise to $3 billion in 2012. The Unfunded Mandates Reform Act, or UMRA, establishes an annual threshold that cannot be exceeded, at least without Congress waiving this rule. For 2007, that threshold amount is $131 million, a great deal of money. This bill exceeds the $131 million threshold by over $1 billion, and it will place a crushing burden on private health insurers and millions of Americans seeking affordable health insurance. These mandates will directly harm businesses and Americans' ability to obtain affordable health insurance.

''This legislation is very well intended. It is also rash and very poorly drafted and I assure you that if this mental health parity bill is signed into law in its current form, it will result in at least three things:

''H.R. 1424 will increase health insurance and mental health costs;

''H.R. 1424 will result in Americans losing their mental health coverage due to the mandates and the increased costs of those mandates;

''H.R. 1424 will result in a myriad of lawsuits.

''I testified before the Rules Committee last night and offered two amendments that would have drastically improved this legislation. Well, the Democratic majority, instead of choosing to allow an honest dialogue and an open debate on an extremely important issue of mental health, they chose to deny all amendments to this legislation. Not only that, the majority changed the underlying bill's language late last night and inserted the text of the Genetic Information Non-Discrimination Act. This legislation will further erode mental health parity and jeopardize affordable group health insurance in America.''.

Ms. CASTOR was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

''I strongly oppose the gentleman's point of order.

''This point of order is being raised today for one purpose and one purpose only, that is, to block this rule and ultimately the underlying bill, an underlying bill that prohibits discrimination against Americans with mental illness.

''I'm heartened by the fact that I do not believe the gentleman's point of order comes from a unanimous opinion of the other side of the aisle because the underlying bill is a bipartisan effort cosponsored by 274 Members of the House of Representatives. Yet there are opponents of this bill, and they will raise these dilatory tactics. The opponents don't even want to allow a debate or a final vote on this critical measure. They simply want to stop the process and kill the bill through this procedural maneuver.

''So despite whatever dilatory procedural devices the other side tries to use to stop this bill, we will stand up for the millions of Americans who need parity in mental health coverage, and we will vote to consider this important legislation today.

''We must consider this rule, and we will pass the Paul Wellstone Mental Health and Addiction Equity Act today.''.

Mr. HASTINGS of Washington, was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

''I could hardly believe my ears when I heard my friend from Florida say that this is a dilatory tactic, and the idea was to, what was it, to deny a vote on this bill? For goodness sakes. Last night there were several attempts, several attempts to try to improve this bill in a way that would make it more palatable to more people in this House, and they were turned down every time by the majority, Democrat majority, in the Rules Committee. And so for my friend from Florida to stand up and say that that is an attempt to kill this bill, when last night she participated in an exercise to do exactly that, is just beyond me.''.

Mr. BROUN of Georgia, was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, I want to say that I resent my sincerity on this being questioned by the gentlelady from Florida. I am very sincere about this.

''I am very sincere about this. I talked to the Rules Committee last night. I have talked on this floor here tonight. And for you to make these charges that I'm not sincere about this bill is absolutely incorrect. Maybe the gentlelady didn't hear me, but I have very personal interests in mental health. It is an extremely important issue to me, to my wife, to my family. And for you to say I'm not sincere about this, I am just very shocked about that. But I am sincere.

''This bill, the way it's written, is going to actually deny people mental health coverage. We tried to fix it last night, make it better. And those attempts were denied over and over and over again.''.

Mr. COHEN was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

''My father was a physician. After being a pediatrician for many years, he chose to change his specialty and go into psychiatry, and then child adolescent psychiatry. As a result of that, I was exposed to mental health issues and mental health treatment and the need for mental health professionals throughout this country.

''There has been a misconception in this country about people needing mental health treatment and their being adequately covered by insurance. In the same way that a physical illness affects people, mental illnesses do. And mental health treatment has been woefully undercovered and underserved, people who suffer from that in our country.

''I am proud to be a cosponsor of this bill and to join with the gentleman from Minnesota and the gentleman from Rhode Island who brought the bill and other cosponsors, because I think it shows that this Congress understands that mental health treatment needs to be covered, that diseases of the mind are similar to diseases of the body, the effect they can have on a person's overall well-being, but that their mental health and their physical health are also intertwined, and if mental health is not treated, physical health is affected.

''We need to be concerned about all of our fellow citizens, our brothers and sisters who might suffer from any illness. And it's time that we came out from the cloak of an ancient time when we looked upon mental health treatment as something to be shunned, to be embarrassed about if it was somebody in our families, our friends, or even ourselves. And so I wholeheartedly endorse this bill and feel that the passage of this bill will be a great day for Americans and for science.''.

Mr. BROUN of Georgia was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, in addition to the concerns that I raised earlier regarding the provisions of the mental health parity bill, that it will actually decrease mental health coverage and increase health insurance costs, let me share several additional concerns I have with the Genetic Information Non-Discrimination Act that was inserted late last night.

''Title I of the GINA legislation imposes Federal mandates on health plans regarding insurance coverage, while title II imposes mandates on employers regarding employment and related hiring decisions. However, there is no explicit language in this legislation clarifying that group health insurance plan sponsors may not be subjected to the more expansive remedies provided by title II.

''Why is that a problem? Because title II provides for rulemaking by the EEOC, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, and remedies before the EEOC and, ultimately, Federal courts.

''During floor debate on H.R. 493, Congressman ROB ANDREWS suggested that 'employers, including to the extent employers control or direct benefit plans, are subject to the requirements of title II of this bill,' including the much broader definition of genetic testing and tougher penalties associated with that title.

''I believe that this lack of clarity could and will lead to additional lawsuits through the use of broader remedies available in title II that are intended to be reserved for employers who violate their employees' civil rights, not for employees seeking to litigate group health plan disputes.

''Further, section 502 of ERISA says that all lawsuits must go through Federal court, which is not addressed in the mental health parity legislation. Nothing in this bill states that section 502 is preserved, so lawsuits can and will be brought in State court.

''Mr. Speaker, I want to go through just a list of some things that this bill will do.

''It's going to increase health care costs. CBO estimates that H.R. 1424 would impose mandates on private insurance companies, a total of $3 billion annually by 2012. These costs will ultimately be borne by employers offering health insurance and employees seeking to obtain coverage.

''Number two, it will increase the cost of business due to private sector mandates. The bill contains multiple new Federal mandates on the private sector, affecting the design and structure of health insurance plans.

''The bill also increases the threshold level at which employees suffering increased claim costs as a result of implementing the new Federal mandates can claim an exemption from the provisions of H.R. 1424.

''Number three, I think this will decrease the mental health coverage. While the bill imposes several new Federal mandates on those employers who choose to offer mental health coverage, there is nothing in H.R. 1424 that would require plans to cover these conditions. Thus H.R. 1424 could have the perverse effect of actually decreasing mental health coverage by encouraging an employee who is frustrated with the bill's onerous burdens to drop mental health insurance altogether.

''Four, I think it will increase the number of uninsured. It will erode the Federal preemption for employers. This codification of treatment mandate for health plans, they are going to use DSM-IV to codify that. And this book, DSM-IV, was generated for physicians to use just to be able to classify mental health. It has a whole lot of things in here that most employers would not want to cover.

''It will increase an intergovernmental mandate. It is a violation of UMRA. It has a lack of conscience clause, and it has a lack of medical management tools.''.

Ms. CASTOR of Florida, was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, I urge a 'yes' vote on the consideration of the resolution so we can move forward on the rule and to consider the bill.

''Those that oppose our efforts to end discrimination when it comes to mental health services will get their opportunity to debate the bill and to vote against these measures.

''So with that, Mr. Speaker, I urge a 'yes' vote to consider the rule.''.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House now consider the resolution?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. HOLDEN, announced that the nays had it.

Ms. CASTOR demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device.

It was decided in the affirmative .....

SEC. 2. AMENDMENTS TO THE EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT OF 1974.

(a) EXTENSION OF PARITY TO TREATMENT LIMITS AND BENEFICIARY FINANCIAL REQUIREMENTS.—Section 712 of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (29 U.S.C. 1185a) is amended—

(1) in subsection (a), by adding at the end the following new paragraphs:

''(3) TREATMENT LIMITS.—In the case of a group health plan that provides both medical and surgical benefits and mental health or substance-related disorder benefits—

''(A) NO TREATMENT LIMIT.—If the plan or coverage does not include a treatment limit (as defined in subparagraph (D)) on substantially all medical and surgical benefits in any category of items or services, the plan or coverage may not impose any treatment limit on mental health or substance-related disorder benefits that are classified in the same category of items or services.

''(B) TREATMENT LIMIT.—If the plan or coverage includes a treatment limit on substantially all medical and surgical benefits in any category of items or services, the plan or coverage may not impose such a treatment limit on mental health or substance-related disorder benefits for items and services within such category that is more restrictive than the predominant treatment limit that is applicable to medical and surgical benefits for items and services within such category.

''(C) CATEGORIES OF ITEMS AND SERVICES FOR APPLICATION OF TREATMENT LIMITS AND BENEFICIARY FINANCIAL REQUIREMENTS.—For purposes of this paragraph and paragraph (4), there shall be the following five categories of items and services for benefits, whether medical and surgical benefits or mental health and substance-related disorder benefits, and all medical and surgical benefits and all mental health and substance related benefits shall be classified into one of the following categories:

''(i) INPATIENT, IN-NETWORK.—Items and services not described in clause (v) furnished on an inpatient basis and within a network of providers established or recognized under such plan or coverage.

''(ii) INPATIENT, OUT-OF-NETWORK.—Items and services not described in clause (v) furnished on an inpatient basis and outside any network of providers established or recognized under such plan or coverage.

''(iii) OUTPATIENT, IN-NETWORK.—Items and services not described in clause (v) furnished on an outpatient basis and within a network of providers established or recognized under such plan or coverage.

''(iv) OUTPATIENT, OUT-OF-NETWORK.—Items and services not described in clause (v) furnished on an outpatient basis and outside any network of providers established or recognized under such plan or coverage.

''(v) EMERGENCY CARE.—Items and services, whether furnished on an inpatient or outpatient basis or within or outside any network of providers, required for the treatment of an emergency medical condition (as defined in section 1867(e) of the Social Security Act, including an emergency condition relating to mental health or substance-related disorders).

''(D) TREATMENT LIMIT DEFINED.—For purposes of this paragraph, the term 'treatment limit' means, with respect to a plan or coverage, limitation on the frequency of treatment, number of visits or days of coverage, or other similar limit on the duration or scope of treatment under the plan or coverage.

''(E) PREDOMINANCE.—For purposes of this subsection, a treatment limit or financial requirement with respect to a category of items and services is considered to be predominant if it is the most common or frequent of such type of limit or requirement with respect to such category of items and services.

''(4) BENEFICIARY FINANCIAL REQUIREMENTS.—In the case of a group health plan that provides both medical and surgical benefits and mental health or substance-related disorder benefits—

''(A) NO BENEFICIARY FINANCIAL REQUIREMENT.—If the plan or coverage does not include a beneficiary financial requirement (as defined in subparagraph (C)) on substantially all medical and surgical benefits within a category of items and services (specified under paragraph (3)(C)), the plan or coverage may not impose such a beneficiary financial requirement on mental health or substance-related disorder benefits for items and services within such category.

''(B) BENEFICIARY FINANCIAL REQUIREMENT.—

''(i) TREATMENT OF DEDUCTIBLES, OUT-OF-POCKET LIMITS, AND SIMILAR FINANCIAL REQUIREMENTS.—If the plan or coverage includes a deductible, a limitation on out-of-pocket expenses, or similar beneficiary financial requirement that does not apply separately to individual items and services on substantially all medical and surgical benefits within a category of items and services (as specified in paragraph (3)(C)), the plan or coverage shall apply such requirement (or, if there is more than one such requirement for such category of items and services, the predominant requirement for such category) both to medical and surgical benefits within such category and to mental health and substance-related disorder benefits within such category and shall not distinguish in the application of such requirement between such medical and surgical benefits and such mental health and substance-related disorder benefits.

''(ii) OTHER FINANCIAL REQUIREMENTS.—If the plan or coverage includes a beneficiary financial requirement not described in clause (i) on substantially all medical and surgical benefits within a category of items and services, the plan or coverage may not impose such financial requirement on mental health or substance-related disorder benefits for items and services within such category in a way that results in greater out-of-pocket expenses to the participant or beneficiary than the predominant beneficiary financial requirement applicable to medical and surgical benefits for items and services within such category.

''(C) BENEFICIARY FINANCIAL REQUIREMENT DEFINED.—For purposes of this paragraph, the term 'beneficiary financial requirement' includes, with respect to a plan or coverage, any deductible, coinsurance, co-payment, other cost sharing, and limitation on the total amount that may be paid by a participant or beneficiary with respect to benefits under the plan or coverage, but does not include the application of any aggregate lifetime limit or annual limit.''; and

(2) in subsection (b)—

(A) by striking ''construed—'' and all that follows through ''(1) as requiring'' and inserting ''construed as requiring'';

(B) by striking ''; or'' and inserting a period; and

(C) by striking paragraph (2).

(b) EXPANSION TO SUBSTANCE-RELATED DISORDER BENEFITS AND REVISION OF DEFINITION.—Such section is further amended—

(3) in subsection (e), by striking paragraph (4) and inserting the following new paragraphs:

''(4) MENTAL HEALTH BENEFITS.—The term 'mental health benefits' means benefits with respect to services for mental health conditions, as defined under the terms of the plan and in accordance with applicable law, but does not include substance-related disorder benefits.

''(5) SUBSTANCE-RELATED DISORDER BENEFITS.—The term 'substance-related disorder benefits' means benefits with respect to services for substance-related disorders, as defined under the terms of the plan and in accordance with applicable law.''.

(c) AVAILABILITY OF PLAN INFORMATION ABOUT CRITERIA FOR MEDICAL NECESSITY.—Subsection (a) of such section, as amended by subsection (a)(1), is further amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

''(5) AVAILABILITY OF PLAN INFORMATION.—The criteria for medical necessity determinations made under the plan with respect to mental health and substance-related disorder benefits (or the health insurance coverage offered in connection with the plan with respect to such benefits) shall be made available by the plan administrator (or the health insurance issuer offering such coverage) in accordance with regulations to any current or potential participant, beneficiary, or contracting provider upon request. The reason for any denial under the plan (or coverage) of reimbursement or payment for services with respect to mental health and substance-related disorder benefits in the case of any participant or beneficiary shall, on request or as otherwise required, be made available by the plan administrator (or the health insurance issuer offering such coverage) to the participant or beneficiary in accordance with regulations.''.

(d) MINIMUM BENEFIT REQUIREMENTS.—Subsection (a) of such section is further amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

''(6) MINIMUM SCOPE OF COVERAGE AND EQUITY IN OUT-OF-NETWORK BENEFITS.—

''(A) MINIMUM SCOPE OF MENTAL HEALTH AND SUBSTANCE-RELATED DISORDER BENEFITS.—In the case of a group health plan (or health insurance coverage offered in connection with such a plan) that provides any mental health or substance-related disorder benefits, the plan or coverage shall include benefits for any mental health condition or substance-related disorder included in the most recent edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders published by the American Psychiatric Association.

''(B) EQUITY IN COVERAGE OF OUT-OF-NETWORK BENEFITS.—

''(i) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a plan or coverage that provides both medical and surgical benefits and mental health or substance-related disorder benefits, if medical and surgical benefits are provided for substantially all items and services in a category specified in clause (ii) furnished outside any network of providers established or recognized under such plan or coverage, the mental health and substance-related disorder benefits shall also be provided for items and services in such category furnished outside any network of providers established or recognized under such plan or coverage in accordance with the requirements of this section.

''(ii) CATEGORIES OF ITEMS AND SERVICES.—For purposes of clause (i), there shall be the following three categories of items and services for benefits, whether medical and surgical benefits or mental health and substance-related disorder benefits, and all medical and surgical benefits and all mental health and substance-related disorder benefits shall be classified into one of the following categories:

''(I) EMERGENCY.—Items and services, whether furnished on an inpatient or outpatient basis, required for the treatment of an emergency medical condition (as defined in section 1867(e) of the Social Security Act, including an emergency condition relating to mental health or substance-related disorders).

''(II) INPATIENT.—Items and services not described in subclause (I) furnished on an inpatient basis.

''(III) OUTPATIENT.—Items and services not described in subclause (I) furnished on an outpatient basis.''.

(e) REVISION OF INCREASED COST EXEMPTION.—Paragraph (2) of subsection (c) of such section is amended to read as follows:

''(2) INCREASED COST EXEMPTION.—

''(A) IN GENERAL.—With respect to a group health plan (or health insurance coverage offered in connection with such a plan), if the application of this section to such plan (or coverage) results in an increase for the plan year involved of the actual total costs of coverage with respect to medical and surgical benefits and mental health and substance-related disorder benefits under the plan (as determined and certified under subparagraph (C)) by an amount that exceeds the applicable percentage described in subparagraph (B) of the actual total plan costs, the provisions of this section shall not apply to such plan (or coverage) during the following plan year, and such exemption shall apply to the plan (or coverage) for 1 plan year.

''(B) APPLICABLE PERCENTAGE.—With respect to a plan (or coverage), the applicable percentage described in this paragraph shall be—

''(i) 2 percent in the case of the first plan year to which this paragraph applies; and

''(A) NO TREATMENT LIMIT.—If the plan or coverage does not include a treatment limit (as defined in subparagraph (D)) on substantially all medical and surgical benefits in any category of items or services, the plan or coverage may not impose any treatment limit on mental health or substance-related disorder benefits that are classified in the same category of items or services.

''(B) TREATMENT LIMIT.—If the plan or coverage includes a treatment limit on substantially all medical and surgical benefits in any category of items or services, the plan or coverage may not impose such a treatment limit on mental health or substance-related disorder benefits for items and services within such category that is more restrictive than the predominant treatment limit that is applicable to medical and surgical benefits for items and services within such category.

''(C) CATEGORIES OF ITEMS AND SERVICES FOR APPLICATION OF TREATMENT LIMITS AND BENEFICIARY FINANCIAL REQUIREMENTS.—For purposes of this paragraph and paragraph (4), there shall be the following five categories of items and services for benefits, whether medical and surgical benefits or mental health and substance-related disorder benefits, and all medical and surgical benefits and all mental health and substance related benefits shall be classified into one of the following categories:

''(C) BENEFICIARY FINANCIAL REQUIREMENT DEFINED.—For purposes of this paragraph, the term 'beneficiary financial requirement' includes, with respect to a plan or coverage, any deductible, coinsurance, co-payment, other cost sharing, and limitation on the total amount that may be paid by a participant or beneficiary with respect to benefits under the plan or coverage, but does not include the application of any aggregate lifetime limit or annual limit.''; and

Strike all after the enacting clause and insert the following:

SEC. 1. SHORT TITLE; TABLE OF CONTENTS.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the ''Mental Health Parity Act of 2008''.

(b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents of this Act is as follows:

Sec. 1. Short title; table of contents.
Sec. 2. Mental health parity.
Sec. 3. Effective date.
Sec. 4. Federal administrative responsibilities.
Sec. 5. Asset verification through access to information held by financial institutions.

SEC. 2. MENTAL HEALTH PARITY.

(a) AMENDMENTS OF ERISA.—Subpart B of part 7 of title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 is amended by inserting after section 712 (29 U.S.C. 1185a) the following:

''SEC. 712A. MENTAL HEALTH PARITY.

''(a) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a group health plan (or health insurance coverage offered in connection with such a plan) that provides both medical and surgical benefits and mental health benefits, such plan or coverage shall ensure that—

''(1) the financial requirements applicable to such mental health benefits are no more restrictive than the financial requirements applied to substantially all medical and surgical benefits covered by the plan (or coverage), including deductibles, copayments, coinsurance, out-of-pocket expenses, and annual and lifetime limits, except that the plan (or coverage) may not establish separate cost sharing requirements that are applicable only with respect to mental health benefits; and

''(2) the treatment limitations applicable to such mental health benefits are no more restrictive than the treatment limitations applied to substantially all medical and surgical benefits covered by the plan (or coverage), including limits on the frequency of treatment, number of visits, days of coverage, or other similar limits on the scope or duration of treatment.

''(b) CLARIFICATIONS.—In the case of a group health plan (or health insurance coverage offered in connection with such a plan) that provides both medical and surgical benefits and mental health benefits, and complies with the requirements of subsection (a), such plan or coverage shall not be prohibited from—

''(1) negotiating separate reimbursement or provider payment rates and service delivery systems for different benefits consistent with subsection (a);

''(2) managing the provision of mental health benefits in order to provide medically necessary services for covered benefits, including through the use of any utilization review, authorization or management practices, the application of medical necessity and appropriateness criteria applicable to behavioral health, and the contracting with and use of a network of providers; and

''(3) applying the provisions of this section in a manner that takes into consideration similar treatment settings or similar treatments.

''(c) IN- AND OUT-OF-NETWORK.—In the case of a group health plan (or health insurance coverage offered in connection with such a plan) that provides both medical and surgical benefits and mental health benefits, and that provides such benefits on both an in- and out-of-network basis pursuant to the terms of the plan (or coverage), such plan (or coverage) shall ensure that the requirements of this section are applied to both in- and out-of-network services by comparing in-network medical and surgical benefits to in-network mental health benefits and out-of-network medical and surgical benefits to out-of-network mental health benefits.

''(d) SMALL EMPLOYER EXEMPTION.—

''(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), this section shall not apply to any group health plan (or group health insurance coverage offered in connection with a group health plan) for any plan year of any employer who employed an average of at least 2 (or 1 in the case of an employer residing in a State that permits small groups to include a single individual) but not more than 50 employees on business days during the preceding calendar year.

''(2) NO PREEMPTION OF CERTAIN STATE LAWS.—Nothing in paragraph (1) shall be construed to preempt any State insurance law relating to employers in the State who employed an average of at least 2 (or 1 in the case of an employer residing in a State that permits small groups to include a single individual) but not more than 50 employees on business days during the preceding calendar year.

''(3) APPLICATION OF CERTAIN RULES IN DETERMINATION OF EMPLOYER SIZE.—For purposes of this subsection:

''(A) APPLICATION OF AGGREGATION RULE FOR EMPLOYERS.—Rules similar to the rules under subsections (b), (c), (m), and (o) of section 414 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 shall apply for purposes of treating persons as a single employer.

''(B) EMPLOYERS NOT IN EXISTENCE IN PRECEDING YEAR.—In the case of an employer which was not in existence throughout the preceding calendar year, the determination of whether such employer is a small employer shall be based on the average number of employees that it is reasonably expected such employer will employ on business days in the current calendar year.

''(C) PREDECESSORS.—Any reference in this paragraph to an employer shall include a reference to any predecessor of such employer.

''(e) COST EXEMPTION.—

''(1) IN GENERAL.—With respect to a group health plan (or health insurance coverage offered in connections with such a plan), if the application of this section to such plan (or coverage) results in an increase for the plan year involved of the actual total costs of coverage with respect to medical and surgical benefits and mental health benefits under the plan (as determined and certified under paragraph (3)) by an amount that exceeds the applicable percentage described in paragraph (2) of the actual total plan costs, the provisions of this section shall not apply to such plan (or coverage) during the following plan year, and such exemption shall apply to the plan (or coverage) for 1 plan year. An employer may elect to continue to apply mental health parity pursuant to this section with respect to the group health plan (or coverage) involved regardless of any increase in total costs.

''(2) APPLICABLE PERCENTAGE.—With respect to a plan (or coverage), the applicable percentage described in this paragraph shall be—

''(A) 2 percent in the case of the first plan year in which this section is applied; and

''(B) 1 percent in the case of each subsequent plan year.

''(3) DETERMINATIONS BY ACTUARIES.—Determinations as to increases in actual costs under a plan (or coverage) for purposes of this section shall be made and certified by a qualified and licensed actuary who is a member in good standing of the American Academy of Actuaries. All such determinations shall be in a written report prepared by the actuary. The report, and all underlying documentation relied upon by the actuary, shall be maintained by the group health plan or health insurance issuer for a period of 6 years following the notification made under paragraph (6).

''(4) 6-MONTH DETERMINATIONS.—If a group health plan (or a health insurance issuer offering coverage in connection with a group health plan) seeks an exemption under this subsection, determinations under paragraph (1) shall be made after such plan (or coverage) has complied with this section for the first 6 months of the plan year involved.

''(5) NOTIFICATION.—An election to modify coverage of mental health benefits as permitted under this subsection shall be treated as a material modification in the terms of the plan as described in section 102(a) and shall be subject to the applicable notice requirements under section 104(b)(1).

''(6) NOTIFICATION TO APPROPRIATE AGENCY.—

''(A) IN GENERAL.—A group health plan (or a health insurance issuer offering coverage in connection with a group health plan) that, based upon a certification described under paragraph (3), qualifies for an exemption under this subsection, and elects to implement the exemption, shall notify the Department of Labor or the Department of Health and Human Services, as appropriate, of such election.

''(B) REQUIREMENT.—A notification under subparagraph (A) shall include—

''(i) a description of the number of covered lives under the plan (or coverage) involved at the time of the notification, and as applicable, at the time of any prior election of the cost-exemption under this subsection by such plan (or coverage);

''(ii) for both the plan year upon which a cost exemption is sought and the year prior, a description of the actual total costs of coverage with respect to medical and surgical benefits and mental health benefits under the plan; and

''(iii) for both the plan year upon which a cost exemption is sought and the year prior, the actual total costs of coverage with respect to mental health benefits under the plan.

''(C) CONFIDENTIALITY.—A notification under subparagraph (A) shall be confidential. The Department of Labor and the Department of Health and Human Services shall make available, upon request and on not more than an annual basis, an anonymous itemization of such notifications, that includes—

''(i) a breakdown of States by the size and type of employers submitting such notification; and

''(ii) a summary of the data received under subparagraph (B).

''(7) AUDITS BY APPROPRIATE AGENCIES.—To determine compliance with this subsection, the Department of Labor and the Department of Health and Human Services, as appropriate, may audit the books and records of a group health plan or health insurance issuer relating to an exemption, including any actuarial reports prepared pursuant to paragraph (3), during the 6 year period following the notification of such exemption under paragraph (6). A State agency receiving a notification under paragraph (6) may also conduct such an audit with respect to an exemption covered by such notification.

''(f) MENTAL HEALTH BENEFITS.—In this section, the term 'mental health benefits' means benefits with respect to mental health services (including substance use disorder treatment) as defined under the terms of the group health plan or coverage, and when applicable as may be defined under State law when applicable to health insurance coverage offered in connection with a group health plan.

''(g) ABORTION CLARIFICATION.—Nothing in this section shall require a group health plan (or health insurance coverage offered in connection with such a plan) to cover abortion as a treatment.''.

(b) PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE ACT.—Subpart 2 of part A of title XXVII of the Public Health Service Act is amended by inserting after section 2705 (42 U.S.C. 300gg–5) the following:

''SEC. 2705A. MENTAL HEALTH PARITY.

''(a) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a group health plan (or health insurance coverage offered in connection with such a plan) that provides both medical and surgical benefits and mental health benefits, such plan or coverage shall ensure that—

''(2) the treatment limitations applicable to such mental health benefits are no more restrictive than the treatment limitations applied to substantially all medical and surgical benefits covered by the plan (or coverage), including limits on the frequency of treatment, number of visits, days of coverage, or other similar limits on the scope or duration of treatment.

''(b) CLARIFICATIONS.—In the case of a group health plan (or health insurance coverage offered in connection with such a plan) that provides both medical and surgical benefits and mental health benefits, and complies with the requirements of subsection (a), such plan or coverage shall not be prohibited from—

''(1) negotiating separate reimbursement or provider payment rates and service delivery systems for different benefits consistent with subsection (a);

''(2) managing the provision of mental health benefits in order to provide medically necessary services for covered benefits, including through the use of any utilization review, authorization or management practices, the application of medical necessity and appropriateness criteria applicable to behavioral health, and the contracting with and use of a network of providers; and

''(3) applying the provisions of this section in a manner that takes into consideration similar treatment settings or similar treatments.

''(c) IN- AND OUT-OF-NETWORK.—In the case of a group health plan (or health insurance coverage offered in connection with such a plan) that provides both medical and surgical benefits and mental health benefits, and that provides such benefits on both an in- and out-of-network basis pursuant to the terms of the plan (or coverage), such plan (or coverage) shall ensure that the requirements of this section are applied to both in- and out-of-network services by comparing in-network medical and surgical benefits to in-network mental health benefits and out-of-network medical and surgical benefits to out-of-network mental health benefits.

''(d) SMALL EMPLOYER EXEMPTION.—

''(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), this section shall not apply to any group health plan (or group health insurance coverage offered in connection with a group health plan) for any plan year of any employer who employed an average of at least 2 (or 1 in the case of an employer residing in a State that permits small groups to include a single individual) but not more than 50 employees on business days during the preceding calendar year.

''(2) NO PREEMPTION OF CERTAIN STATE LAWS.—Nothing in paragraph (1) shall be construed to preempt any State insurance law relating to employers in the State who employed an average of at least 2 (or 1 in the case of an employer residing in a State that permits small groups to include a single individual) but not more than 50 employees on business days during the preceding calendar year.

''(3) APPLICATION OF CERTAIN RULES IN DETERMINATION OF EMPLOYER SIZE.—For purposes of this subsection:

''(A) APPLICATION OF AGGREGATION RULE FOR EMPLOYERS.—Rules similar to the rules under subsections (b), (c), (m), and (o) of section 414 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 shall apply for purposes of treating persons as a single employer.

''(B) EMPLOYERS NOT IN EXISTENCE IN PRECEDING YEAR.—In the case of an employer which was not in existence throughout the preceding calendar year, the determination of whether such employer is a small employer shall be based on the average number of employees that it is reasonably expected such employer will employ on business days in the current calendar year.

''(C) PREDECESSORS.—Any reference in this paragraph to an employer shall include a reference to any predecessor of such employer.

''(e) COST EXEMPTION.—

''(1) IN GENERAL.—With respect to a group health plan (or health insurance coverage offered in connection with such a plan), if the application of this section to such plan (or coverage) results in an increase for the plan year involved of the actual total costs of coverage with respect to medical and surgical benefits and mental health benefits under the plan (as determined and certified under paragraph (3)) by an amount that exceeds the applicable percentage described in paragraph (2) of the actual total plan costs, the provisions of this section shall not apply to such plan (or coverage) during the following plan year, and such exemption shall apply to the plan (or coverage) for 1 plan year. An employer may elect to continue to apply mental health parity pursuant to this section with respect to the group health plan (or coverage) involved regardless of any increase in total costs.

''(2) APPLICABLE PERCENTAGE.—With respect to a plan (or coverage), the applicable percentage described in this paragraph shall be—

''(A) 2 percent in the case of the first plan year in which this section is applied; and

''(B) 1 percent in the case of each subsequent plan year.

''(3) DETERMINATIONS BY ACTUARIES.—Determinations as to increases in actual costs under a plan (or coverage) for purposes of this section shall be made and certified by a qualified and licensed actuary who is a member in good standing of the American Academy of Actuaries. All such determinations shall be in a written report prepared by the actuary. The report, and all underlying documentation relied upon by the actuary, shall be maintained by the group health plan or health insurance issuer for a period of 6 years following the notification made under paragraph (6).

''(4) 6-MONTH DETERMINATIONS.—If a group health plan (or a health insurance issuer offering coverage in connection with a group health plan) seeks an exemption under this subsection, determinations under paragraph (1) shall be made after such plan (or coverage) has complied with this section for the first 6 months of the plan year involved.

''(5) NOTIFICATION.—An election to modify coverage of mental health benefits as permitted under this subsection shall be treated as a material modification in the terms of the plan as described in section 102(a) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 and shall be subject to the applicable notice requirements under section 104(b)(1) of such Act.

''(6) NOTIFICATION TO APPROPRIATE AGENCY.—

''(A) IN GENERAL.—A group health plan (or a health insurance issuer offering coverage in connection with a group health plan) that, based upon a certification described under paragraph (3), qualifies for an exemption under this subsection, and elects to implement the exemption, shall notify the Department of Labor or the Department of Health and Human Services, as appropriate, of such election. A health insurance issuer providing health insurance coverage in connection with a group health plan shall provide a copy of such notice to the State insurance department or other State agency responsible for regulating the terms of such coverage.

''(B) REQUIREMENT.—A notification under subparagraph (A) shall include—

''(i) a description of the number of covered lives under the plan (or coverage) involved at the time of the notification, and as applicable, at the time of any prior election of the cost-exemption under this subsection by such plan (or coverage);

''(ii) for both the plan year upon which a cost exemption is sought and the year prior, a description of the actual total costs of coverage with respect to medical and surgical benefits and mental health benefits under the plan; and

''(iii) for both the plan year upon which a cost exemption is sought and the year prior, the actual total costs of coverage with respect to mental health benefits under the plan.

''(C) CONFIDENTIALITY.—A notification under subparagraph (A) shall be confidential. The Department of Labor and the Department of Health and Human Services shall make available, upon request and on not more than an annual basis, an anonymous itemization of such notifications, that includes—

''(i) a breakdown of States by the size and type of employers submitting such notification; and

''(ii) a summary of the data received under subparagraph (B).

''(7) AUDITS BY APPROPRIATE AGENCIES.—To determine compliance with this subsection, the Department of Labor and the Department of Health and Human Services, as appropriate, may audit the books and records of a group health plan or health insurance issuer relating to an exemption, including any actuarial reports prepared pursuant to paragraph (3), during the 6 year period following the notification of such exemption under paragraph (6). A State agency receiving a notification under paragraph (6) may also conduct such an audit with respect to an exemption covered by such notification.

''(f) MENTAL HEALTH BENEFITS.—In this section, the term 'mental health benefits' means benefits with respect to mental health services (including substance use disorder treatment) as defined under the terms of the group health plan or coverage, and when applicable as may be defined under State law when applicable to health insurance coverage offered in connection with a group health plan.

''(g) ABORTION CLARIFICATION.—Nothing in this section shall require a group health plan (or health insurance coverage offered in connection with such a plan) to cover abortion as a treatment.''.

SEC. 3. EFFECTIVE DATE.

''(b) ASSET VERIFICATION PROGRAM.—

''(1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this section, an asset verification program means a program described in paragraph (2) under which—

''(A) a State requires each applicant for, or recipient of, medical assistance under the State plan under this title to provide authorization by such applicant or recipient (and any other person whose income or resources are material to the determination of the eligibility of the applicant or recipient for such assistance) for the State to obtain (subject to the cost reimbursement requirements of section 1115(a) of the Right to Financial Privacy Act) from any financial institution (within the meaning of section 1101(1) of such Act) any financial record (within the meaning of section 1101(2) of such Act) held by the institution with respect to the applicant or recipient (and such other person, as applicable), whenever the State determines the record is needed in connection with a determination with respect to such eligibility for (or the amount or extent of) such medical assistance;

''(B) each such applicant or recipient (or other person) shall provide such authorization directly to the financial institution involved as a condition of eligibility for such medical assistance; and

A recorded vote by electronic device was ordered in the Committee of the Whole on the following amendment numbered 11, printed in House Report 110-539, submitted by Mr. INSLEE:

Page 144, strike lines 15 through 19 and insert the following (and conform the table of contents accordingly):

Subtitle I—Energy Conservation Corps

SEC. 1811. GENERAL AUTHORITY.

The Corporation for National and Community Service (in this subtitle referred to as the ''Corporation'') shall make grants to States for the creation or expansion of full-time or part-time Energy Conservation Corps programs. Notwithstanding provisions identified in this subtitle, the Corporation shall apply the provisions of subtitle C of this subchapter in making grants under this section as necessary.

SEC. 1812. APPLICATION.

(a) IN GENERAL.—To be eligible to receive a grant under this subtitle, a State shall invite applications from within the State to receive an Energy Conservation Corps grant.

(b) PROCESS.—The State shall then prepare and submit a State application to the Corporation at such time, in such manner, and containing such information as the Corporation may reasonably require. The Corporation shall consult with state and local Conservation Corps in the development of the application guidelines.

(c) DISADVANTAGED YOUTH.—To acknowledge the focused enrollment of disadvantaged youth and young adults in the Energy Conservation Corps, the Corporation shall—

(1) allow a higher cost-per-member to enable Energy Conservation Corps programs to provide the necessary supportive services to ensure the success of the participants; and

(2) allow for greater flexibility in retention rates.

(d) CONSIDERATION OF RESIDENTIAL CORPS.—The Corporation shall allow for equal consideration of residential Corps program opportunities since residential Corps thrive in rural areas that commonly lack opportunities for young adults, enable the participation for emancipated foster youth, gang involved youth, and others lacking a safe and stable home environment, allow for more structured time for work, training, education and counseling, and provide disaster response-ready crews immediately upon request.

(e) EQUITABLE TREATMENT.—In the consideration of applications, the Corporation shall ensure the equitable treatment of both urban and rural areas.

SEC. 1813. FOCUS OF PROGRAMS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Programs that receive assistance under this subtitle may carry out activities that—

TITLE VI—CONGRESSIONAL COMMISSION ON CIVIC SERVICE

SEC. 6101. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the ''Congressional Commission on Civic Service Act''.

SEC. 6102. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) The social fabric of the United States is stronger if individuals in the United States are committed to protecting and serving our Nation by utilizing national service and volunteerism to overcome our civic challenges.

(2) A more engaged civic society will strengthen the Nation by bringing together people from diverse backgrounds and experiences to work on solutions to some of our Nation's major challenges.

(3) Despite declines in civic health in the past 30 years, national service and volunteerism among the Nation's youth are increasing, and existing national service and volunteer programs greatly enhance opportunities for youth to engage in civic activity.

(4) In addition to the benefits received by nonprofit organizations and society as a whole, volunteering and national service provide a variety of personal benefits and satisfaction and can lead to new paths of civic engagement, responsibility, and upward mobility.

SEC. 6103. ESTABLISHMENT.

There is established in the legislative branch a commission to be known as the ''Congressional Commission on Civic Service'' (in this title referred to as the ''Commission'').

SEC. 6104. DUTIES.

(a) GENERAL PURPOSE.—The purpose of the Commission is to gather and analyze information in order to make recommendations to Congress to—

(1) improve the ability of individuals in the United States to serve others and, by doing so, to enhance our Nation and the global community;

(2) train leaders in public service organizations to better utilize individuals committed to national service and volunteerism as they manage human and fiscal resources;

(3) identify and offer solutions to the barriers that make it difficult for some individuals in the United States to volunteer or perform national service; and

(4) build on the foundation of service and volunteer opportunities that are currently available.

(b) SPECIFIC TOPICS.—In carrying out its general purpose under subsection (a), the Commission shall address and analyze the following specific topics:

(1) The level of understanding about the current Federal, State, and local volunteer programs and opportunities for service among individuals in the United States.

(2) The issues that deter volunteerism and national service, particularly among young people, and how the identified issues can be overcome.

(3) Whether there is an appropriate role for Federal, State, and local governments in overcoming the issues that deter volunteerism and national service and, if appropriate, how to expand the relationships and partnerships between different levels of government in promoting volunteerism and national service.

(4) Whether existing databases are effective in matching community needs to would-be volunteers and service providers.

(5) The effect on the Nation, on those who serve, and on the families of those who serve, if all individuals in the United States were expected to perform national service or were required to perform a certain amount of national service.

(6) Whether a workable, fair, and reasonable mandatory service requirement for all able young people could be developed, and how such a requirement could be implemented in a manner that would strengthen the social fabric of the Nation and overcome civic challenges by bringing together people from diverse economic, ethnic, and educational backgrounds.

(7) The need for a public service academy, a 4-year institution that offers a federally funded undergraduate education with a focus on training future public sector leaders.

(8) The means to develop awareness of national service and volunteer opportunities at a young age by creating, expanding, and promoting service options for primary and secondary school students and by raising awareness of existing incentives.

(9) The effectiveness of establishing a training program on college campuses to recruit and educate college students for national service.

(10) The effect on United States diplomacy and foreign policy interests of expanding service opportunities abroad, such as the Peace Corps, and the degree of need and capacity abroad for an expansion.

(11) The constraints that service providers, nonprofit organizations, and State and local agencies face in utilizing federally funded volunteer programs, and how these constraints can be overcome.

(12) Whether current Federal volunteer programs are suited to address the special skills and needs of senior volunteers, and if not, how these programs can be improved such that the Federal government can effectively promote service among the ''baby boomer'' generation.

Mr. LUNGREN of California, moved to recommit the bill to the Committee on Education and Labor with instructions to report the bill back to the House forthwith with the following amendment:

Strike all after the enacting clause and insert the text of the bill H.R. 3773 as passed by the Senate on February 12, 2008.

Pending consideration of said motion.

¶26.14 POINT OF ORDER

Mr. George MILLER of California, made a point of order against the motion to recommit with instructions, and said:

''Mr. Speaker, I raise a point of order that the motion to recommit contains nongermane instructions in violation of clause 7, rule XVI. The instructions in the motion to recommit address an unrelated matter within the jurisdiction of a committee not represented in the underlying bill.''

Mr. LUNGREN of California, was recognized to speak to the point of order, and said:

''Mr. Speaker, it is unfortunate the gentleman has raised this point of order rather than allowing a straight up-or-down vote on the Senate-passed FISA legislation.

''Let me speak specifically to the point of order and why, in fact, this motion to recommit is in order.

''The underlying purpose of the germaneness rule is that it 'prevents the presentation to the House of propositions that might not reasonably be anticipated and for which it might not be properly prepared.' I cite to 8 Cannon, section 2993. That is clearly not the case here in that this body has dealt extensively with the subject matter of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act. And, in fact, we were informed by the majority that we were to be prepared to vote on that this week.''

Mr. George MILLER of California, was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, the scheduling of the House is not the subject of this point of order. I raised a point of order that the motion addresses the jurisdiction of committees not represented in the underlying bill. Neither the Judiciary Committee or the Intelligence Committee is represented in the underlying bill, not the schedule of the House.''

Mr. LUNGREN of California, was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, despite the difference in titles of H.R. 2857 and H.R. 3773 relating to the motion, that is not controlling under Deschler-Brown, chapter 28, section 24. As a matter of fact, it refers to the fundamental purpose of the motion. The fundamental purpose of this motion does relate to H.R. 2857, as required by sections 935 and 936 of the House manual.

''The report on H.R. 2857 from the gentleman's committee states clearly in its statement of purpose of the bill found on page 57 of that report that the legislation seeks to emphasize, and I quote, 'the critical role of service in meeting the national priorities of emergency and disaster preparedness; and improves program integrity.' That is from the report on the bill from the gentleman's committee.

''In other words, the critical issue of homeland security provides the required nexus between the subject matters of H.R. 2857 and the motions as required under sections 935 and 936 of the House manual.

''Further, I would argue, it is clear that the subject matter requirements of section 935 and 936 of the House manual are satisfied. A specific section of the legislation brought to the floor by the gentleman's committee relating to 'Emergency and Disaster Preparedness' provides on page 71 of the gentleman's committee report that 'H.R. 2857 supports the role of service in addressing emergency and disaster preparedness.' These are the words from the gentleman's committee's report. 'In addition, this program may engage Federal, State, and local stakeholders to collaborate to achieve a more effective response to issue public safety, public health, emergencies and disasters'.''.

Mr. George MILLER of California, was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, I insist upon my point of order. The gentleman again is speaking to the scheduling of the floor of the House. The bill, in its entirety, speaks to national voluntary service. The gentleman, I guess, is talking about the intelligence service. And the fact of the matter is, under the point of order there is nothing in this legislation within the jurisdiction of the committees, for the motion to recommit, of the Intelligence Committee or the Judiciary Committee, and I insist upon my point of order.''

Mr. LUNGREN of California, was further recognized and said:

''I was attempting to specify the germaneness, quoting specifically from the language of the committee report justifying support for this bill. I did not bring up public safety, public health, emergencies and disasters and effective response thereto. That is the premise contained in the bill and the committee report.

''Mr. Speaker, if we are to be able to respond to public safety, emergencies, and disasters, it does not limit it in the language of the gentleman's committee report to natural disasters. It therefore includes man-made disasters, of which we are very, very cognizant. And 9/11 is perhaps the greatest example. So the bill itself justifies its existence in that the individuals, under the ambit of the bill, to support responses for public safety, public health, emergencies, and disasters are affected in very specific ways by our capacity, our capacity, to determine beforehand what the nature of the disasters and emergencies would be and therefore allow us to array our individuals under this bill in concert, as is stated by the gentleman's report, to collaborate with Federal, State, and local stakeholders. In that way my amendment is very much germane to the main purpose of the bill and the specifics of the bill.

''Finally, the language of H.R. 2857 emphasizes the ability to deploy the National Civilian Community Corps to emergencies and disasters. It does not limit it to natural emergencies or disasters, therefore including terrorist attacks.''

Mr. George MILLER of California, was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, I insist on my point of order. Again, had we been involved with the committees of jurisdiction that the gentleman is referring to, the bill would have been referred by the Parliamentarian to those committees, and it was not. And let me just inform the gentleman. I know he's been out for a couple of days and he comes back with great vigor, and I admire his arguments. But there is nothing within the programs of Teach for America or the Boys and Girls Club of America or the Big Brothers Big Sisters program or the YouthBuild or the National Council on Aging or the Senior Citizen Nutrition Program or the American Red Cross, there is nothing in those programs that require that they eavesdrop or wiretap anybody's phones before they can deliver their services. And there is nothing within the jurisdiction of this legislation or of this committee that deals with those matters, and there is nothing in this bill that deals with the matters within the jurisdiction of those committees. And I insist upon my point of order.''

Mr. LUNGREN of California, was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, the gentleman says, with some humor in his voice, that we ought not to be considering the question of wiretapping. That is not the question we bring before us today. The question we bring before of us today and why this is germane is whether or not we have the ability to listen in on those who would kill us and therefore prepare for these disasters before they occur and, more than that, prevent them.''

Mr. George MILLER of California, was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from California is required to speak to the point of order.''

Mr. LUNGREN of California, was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, to suggest that intelligence gathered to prevent disaster has nothing to do with the ability of those we are asking under this bill to respond to disaster reminds one of the comment in literature years ago when one was confronted with the incongruity of the law and that person responded by saying: The law, sir, is an ass.

''I would not suggest we are at that point here, but I would suggest this: for anyone to say that, to blind ourselves to the information that would allow us to prevent disasters and prepare for the disasters, to say that that is irrelevant to the debate today shows how irrelevant the debate today is to the needs of the people of the State of California, the Nation, and, frankly, our allies. It is germane, Mr. Speaker.''

Mr. George MILLER of California, was further recognized and said:

''Mr. Speaker, I insist upon my point of order.

''And I appreciate that perhaps there's some confusion on the other side of the aisle between the Big Brothers of this program and Big Brother that you're thinking about.

''I insist upon my point of order.''

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. PASTOR, sustained the point of order, and said:

''As the Chair most recently ruled on March 5, 2008, the instructions in the motion to recommit address a matter unrelated to the issues addressed in the underlying bill, and within the jurisdiction of committees not represented in the underlying bill. The instructions are therefore not germane, and the point of order is sustained. The motion is not in order.''

Mr. LUNGREN of California, appealed the ruling of the Chair.

The question being stated,

Will the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the House?

Mr. George MILLER of California, moved to lay the appeal on the table.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House lay on the table the appeal of the ruling of the Chair?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. PASTOR, announced that the yeas had it.

Mr. LUNGREN of California, demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device.

It was decided in the affirmative ..... { Yeas ..... 221 / Nays 191

¶27.6 COMMUNICATION FROM THE CLERK—MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Ms. HIRONO, laid before the House a communication, which was read as follows:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, DC, March 8, 2008.

Hon. NANCY PELOSI,
The Speaker, The Capitol, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MADAM SPEAKER: Pursuant to the permission granted in Clause 2(h) of Rule II of the Rules of the U.S. House of Representatives, I have the honor to transmit a sealed envelope received from the White House on March 8, 2008, at 11 :30 a.m. and said to contain a message from the President whereby he returns without his approval, H.R. 2082, the ''Intelligence Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2008.''

With best wishes, I am

Sincerely,

LORRAINE C. MILLER,
Clerk of the House.

¶27.7 VETO OF H.R. 2082

The Clerk then read the veto message from the President, as follows:

To the House of Representatives:

I am returning herewith without my approval H.R. 2082, the ''Intelligence Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2008.'' The bill would impede the United States Government's efforts to protect the American people effectively from terrorist attacks and other threats because it imposes several unnecessary and unacceptable burdens on our Intelligence Community.

Section 444 of the bill would impose additional Senate confirmation requirements on two national security positions—the Director of the National Security Agency and the Director of the National Reconnaissance Office. The National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States (9/11 Commission) observed that the effectiveness of the Intelligence Community suffers due to delays in the confirmation process; section 444 would only aggravate those serious problems. Senior intelligence officials need to assume their duties and responsibilities as quickly as possible to address the pressing requirements of national security. Instead of addressing the 9/11 Commission's concern, the bill would subject two additional vital positions to a more protracted process of Senate confirmation. Apart from causing such potentially harmful delays, this unwarranted requirement for Senate confirmation would also risk injecting political pressure into these positions of technical expertise and public trust.

Section 413 would create a new Inspector General for the Intelligence Community. This new office is duplicative and unnecessary. Each intelligence community component already has an Inspector General, and the Inspector General of the Office of the Director of National Intelligence has been vested with all the legal powers of any inspector general to carry out investigations on matters under the jurisdiction of the Director of National Intelligence. There is no reason to commit taxpayer resources to an additional inspector general with competing jurisdiction over the same intelligence elements. Creating duplicative inspectors general, who may have inconsistent views on the handling of particular matters, has the potential to create conflicts and impede the Intelligence Community from efficiently resolving issues and carrying out its core mission. In addition, the creation of a new inspector general would add yet another position in the Intelligence Community subject to Senate confirmation, contrary to the 9/11 Commission's recommendations.

Section 327 of the bill would harm our national security by requiring any element of the Intelligence Community to use only the interrogation methods authorized in the Army Field Manual on Interrogations. It is vitally important that the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) be allowed to maintain a separate and classified interrogation program. The Army Field Manual is directed at guiding the actions of nearly three million active duty and reserve military personnel in connection with the detention of lawful combatants during the course of traditional armed conflicts, but terrorists often are trained specifically to resist techniques prescribed in publicly available military regulations such as the Manual. The CIA's ability to conduct a separate and specialized interrogation program for terrorists who possess the most critical information in the War on Terror has helped the United States prevent a number of attacks, including plots to fly passenger airplanes into the Library Tower in Los Angeles and into Heathrow Airport or buildings in downtown London. While details of the current CIA program are classified, the Attorney General has reviewed it and determined that it is lawful under existing domestic and international law, including Common Article 3 of the Geneva Conventions. I remain committed to an intelligence-gathering program that complies with our legal obligations and our basic values as a people. The United States opposes torture, and I remain committed to following international and domestic law regarding the humane treatment of people in its custody, including the ''Detainee Treatment Act of 2005.''

My disagreement over section 327 is not over any particular interrogation technique; for instance, it is not over waterboarding, which is not part of the current CIA program. Rather, my concern is the need to maintain a separate CIA program that will shield from disclosure to al Qaeda and other terrorists the interrogation techniques they may face upon capture. In accordance with a clear purpose of the ''Military Commissions Act of 2006,'' my veto is intended to allow the continuation of a separate and classified CIA interrogation program that the Department of Justice has determined is lawful and that operates according to rules distinct from the more general rules applicable to the Department of Defense. While I will continue to work with the Congress on the implementation of laws passed in this area in recent years, I cannot sign into law a bill that would prevent me, and future Presidents, from authorizing the CIA to conduct a separate, lawful intelligence program, and from taking all lawful actions necessary to protect Americans from attack.

Other provisions of the bill purport to require the executive branch to submit information to the Congress that may be constitutionally protected from disclosure, including information the disclosure of which could impair foreign relations, the national security, the deliberative processes of the Executive, or the performance of the Executive's constitutional duties. Section 326, for example, would require that the executive branch report, on a very short deadline and in accordance with a rigid set of specific statutory requirements, the details of highly classified interrogation techniques and the confidential legal advice concerning them. The executive branch voluntarily has provided much of this information to appropriate Members of Congress, demonstrating that questions concerning access to such information are best addressed through the customary practices and arrangements between the executive and legislative branches on such matters, rather than through the enactment of legislation.

In addition, section 406 would require a consolidated inventory of Special Access Programs (SAPs) to be submitted to the Congress. Special Access Programs concern the most sensitive information maintained by the Government, and SAP materials are maintained separately precisely to avoid the existence of one document that can serve as a roadmap to our Nation's most vital information. The executive branch must be permitted to present this information in a manner that does not jeopardize national security. The executive branch will continue to keep the Congress appropriately informed of the matters to which the provisions relate in accordance with the accommodation principles the Constitution contemplates and the executive and legislative branches have long and successfully used to address information sharing on matters of national security.

GEORGE W. BUSH.

THE WHITE HOUSE, March 8, 2008.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Ms. HIRONO, by unanimous consent, ordered that the veto message, together with the accompanying bill, be printed (H. Doc. 110–100) and spread upon the pages of the Journal of the House.

On motion of Mr. LOEBSACK, by unanimous consent, further consideration of the veto message was postponed until March 11, 2008.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, PERMANENT SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE,
Washington, DC, March 6, 2008.

Hon. NANCY PELOSI,
Speaker, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MADAM SPEAKER: This is to notify you formally, pursuant to Rule VIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, that I have received a subpoena for documents issued by the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California.

After consultation with the Office of General Counsel, I have determined that compliance with the subpoena is inconsistent with the precedents and privileges of the House.

Sincerely,

SILVESTRE REYES,

¶27.10 NATIONAL 9-1-1 EDUCATION MONTH

Mr. DAVIS of Illinois, moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 537); as amended:

Whereas 9–1–1 is nationally recognized as the number to call in an emergency to receive immediate help from police, fire, emergency medical services, or other appropriate emergency response entities;

Whereas in 1967, the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice recommended that a ''single number should be established'' nationwide for reporting emergency situations, and other Federal Government agencies and various governmental officials also supported and encouraged the recommendation;

Whereas in 1968, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company (AT&T) announced that it would establish the digits 9–1–1 as the emergency code throughout the United States;

Whereas 9–1–1 was designated by Congress as the national emergency call number under the Wireless Communications and Public Safety Act of 1999 (Public Law 106–81);

Whereas the ENHANCE 911 Act of 2004 (Public Law 108–494) established enhanced 9–1–1 as ''a high national priority'' as part of our Nation's homeland security and public safety;

Whereas it is important that policy makers at all levels of government understand the importance of 9–1–1, how the system works today, and the steps that are needed to modernize the 9–1–1 system;

Whereas the 9–1–1 system is the connection between the eyes and ears of the public and emergency responders, and is a significant homeland security asset;

Whereas there are over 6,000 9–1–1 public safety answering points (PSAPs) serving more than 3,000 counties and parishes throughout the United States;

Whereas PSAPs answer more than 200,000,000 9–1–1 calls each year in the United States, and a growing number of 9–1–1 calls are made using wireless and Internet Protocol-based communications services;

Whereas a growing segment of the population, including the deaf, hard of hearing, and deaf-blind, and individuals with speech disabilities, are increasingly communicating with nontraditional text, video, and instant messaging communications services, and anticipate that these services will be able to connect directly to 9–1–1;

Whereas the growth and variety of means of communication, including mobile and Internet Protocol-based systems, impose challenges for accessing 9–1–1 and implementing enhanced 9–1–1, and require increased education and awareness about their capabilities and limitations;

Whereas numerous other N–1–1 and 800 number services exist for non-emergency situations, including 2–1–1, 3–1–1, 5–1–1, 7–1–1, 8–1–1, poison control centers, and mental health hotlines, and the public needs to be educated on when to use these services in addition to or instead of 9–1–1;

Whereas international visitors and individuals immigrating to the United States make up an increasing part of the Nation's population in any given year, and such visitors and individuals may have limited knowledge of our emergency calling system;

Whereas people of all ages use 9–1–1, and it is critical to educate members of the public of all ages on the proper use of 9–1–1;

Whereas thousands of 9–1–1 calls are made every year by children properly trained in the use of 9–1–1, resulting in lives saved, and which, in turn, underscores the critical importance of training children early in life about 9–1–1;

Whereas there is a need to reduce the widespread misuse of the 9–1–1 system, including prank and non-emergency calls, which can result in costly and inefficient use of 9–1–1 and emergency response resources;

Whereas we as a Nation should strive to host at least 1 educational event in every school in the country each year regarding the proper use of 9–1–1;

Whereas an established National 9–1–1 Education Month could include public awareness events, including conferences and media outreach, training activities for parents, teachers, school administrators, care givers, children, the elderly, and businesses; educational events in schools and other appropriate venues; and production and distribution of educational content on 9–1–1 designed to educate people of all ages on the importance and proper use of 9–1–1; and

Whereas Americans deserve the finest the Nation can offer in 9–1–1 education: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) supports the designation of an appropriate month as ''National 9–1–1 Education Month'' and the goals of such designation; and

(2) requests that the President issue a proclamation—

(A) designating a month as ''National 9–1–1 Education Month''; and

(B) calling upon Government officials, parents, teachers, school administrators, care givers, businesses, nonprofit organizations, and the people of the United States to observe such month with appropriate ceremonies, training events, and activities.

¶28.10 BOARD OF REGENTS OF THE SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION GREENHOUSE FACILITY

Ms. MATSUI moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 5492) to authorize the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution to construct a greenhouse facility at its museum support facility in Suitland, Maryland, and for other purposes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CAPUANO, recognized Ms. MATSUI and Mr. GRAVES, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and pass said bill?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CAPUANO, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

So, two-thirds of the Members present having voted in favor thereof, the rules were suspended and said bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider the vote whereby the rules were suspended and said bill was passed was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

Ordered, That the Clerk request the concurrence of the Senate in said bill.

¶28.11 200TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE GALLATIN REPORT

Mr. DEFAZIO moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 936); as amended:

Whereas President Thomas Jefferson commissioned his Secretary of the Treasury, Albert Gallatin, to provide a new vision for transportation that would unite the young Republic;

Whereas 2008 marks the bicentennial of the national plan, known as the Gallatin Report on Roads and Canals (Gallatin Report), presented by Secretary Gallatin to President Jefferson;

Whereas the Gallatin Report proposed transportation improvements not as ends in themselves but as means to further national unity;

Whereas transportation improvements were part of the promise of the American Revolution, as James Madison, writing in The Federalist No. 14, emphasized, ''Let it be remarked . . . that the intercourse throughout the Union will be facilitated by new improvements. Roads will everywhere be shortened, and kept in better order; accommodations for travelers will be multiplied and meliorated; an interior navigation on our eastern side will be opened throughout, or nearly throughout, the whole extent of the thirteen States'';

Whereas Madison's words have served as a worthy reminder of the needs for transportation infrastructure since that time;

Whereas the Gallatin Report incorporated the improvements to the Postal Service that Benjamin Franklin bequeathed to the Nation, including Franklin's route surveys, his placement of milestones on principal roads, and his development of shorter transportation routes;

Whereas the Gallatin Report called for an inland waterway navigation canal from Massachusetts to North Carolina, which was the precursor to the modern day Intercostal Waterway system;

Whereas the United States, as a result of Gallatin's legacy, has a record of successful infrastructure developments, including—

(1) the Erie Canal, which vastly reduced transportation costs to the interior;

(2) the transcontinental railway, which united the Nation;

(3) transit projects across the Nation, which promote freedom and opportunity;

(4) the National Highway System, including the Dwight D. Eisenhower System of Interstate and Defense Highways, which fostered interstate commerce, national unity, and broke down barriers between the States; and

(5) the Tennessee Valley Authority, devised by President Franklin Delano Roosevelt as a ''corporation clothed with the power of government but possessed of the flexibility and initiative of a private enterprise'', which brought electricity, conservation planning, and opportunity for thousands in the Tennessee Valley and across the Nation;

Whereas to be regarded as a success, any national planning endeavor must address and reconcile the needs of different regions of the Nation;

Whereas the genius of the Gallatin Report was its alignment of the hopes of the Nation with the opportunities presented by access to new markets, populations, and territories;

Whereas the United States currently faces new challenges in financing the transportation infrastructure that is necessary for the future economic needs of the Nation; and

Whereas if the United States is to succeed in a world of increasing international competition, the United States must have a new national plan for transportation improvements to provide for the Nation's future: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) reaffirms the goals and ideals that formed the impetus for Albert Gallatin's national plan for transportation improvements 200 years ago;

(2) calls on the Federal Government, States, localities, schools, nonprofit organizations, businesses, and the citizens of the United States to mark this important anniversary by recalling the important legacy of public investment in infrastructure, which connects and enhances the economies, communications, and communities of the several States; and

(3) supports the creation of a new national plan for transportation improvements to align the demands for economic development with the resources of the Nation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CAPUANO, recognized Mr. DEFAZIO and Mr. DUNCAN, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said resolution, as amended?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CAPUANO, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

So, two-thirds of the Members present having voted in favor thereof, the rules were suspended and said resolution, as amended, was agreed to.

Mr. BLUMENAUER demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CAPUANO, pursuant to clause 8, rule XX, announced that further proceedings on the question were postponed until Wednesday, March 12, 2008.

¶28.12 COMMITTEE ELECTION—MINORITY

¶28.13 MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. WESTMORELAND moved that the House do now adjourn.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House now adjourn?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CAPUANO, announced that the nays had it.

Mr. WESTMORELAND objected to the vote on the ground that a quorum was not present and not voting.

A quorum not being present,

The roll was called under clause 6, rule XX, and the call was taken by electronic device.

¶28.17 COMMITTEE RESIGNATION—MAJORITY

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. CAPUANO, laid before the House the following communication, which was read as follows:

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES,
Washington, DC, March 11, 2008.

Speaker NANCY PELOSI,
House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR SPEAKER PELOSI, With my pending appointment to the House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, I am writing to submit my resignation from the House Committee on Financial Services. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve on the Financial Services Committee since the beginning of the 110th Congress.

Sincerely,

ALBIO SIRES,
Member of Congress.

By unanimous consent, the resignation was accepted.

¶28.18 COMMITTEE ELECTION—MAJORITY

Mr. CROWLEY, by direction of the Democratic Caucus, submitted the following privileged resolution (H. Res. 1035):

Resolved, That the following named Members be, and are hereby, elected to the following standing committees of the House of Representatives:

(1) COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS.—Mr. Berman, Chairman.

(2) COMMITTEE ON TRANSPORTATION AND INFRASTRUCTURE.—Mr. Sires.

When said resolution was considered and agreed to.

A motion to reconsider the vote whereby said resolution was agreed to was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

¶28.19 OPEN ACCESS TO HOLOCAUST AND WORLD WAR II ARCHIVES

Mr. CROWLEY moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 854); as amended:

Whereas for the past 62 years, until their ultimate release on November 28, 2007, the International Tracing Service (''ITS'') archives located in Bad Arolsen, Germany remained the largest closed Holocaust-era archives in the world;

Whereas while Holocaust survivors and their descendants have had limited access to individual records at Bad Arolsen, reports suggest that they faced long delays, incomplete information, and even unresponsiveness;

Whereas until the archives' recent release, the materials remained inaccessible to researchers and research institutions;

Whereas the 1955 Bonn Accords established an International Commission of 11 member countries (Belgium, France, Germany, Greece, Israel, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Poland, the United Kingdom, the United States) responsible for overseeing the administration of the ITS Holocaust archives which contain 17,500,000 individual names and 50,000,000 documents;

Whereas the new International Committee of the Red Cross (''ICRC'') and the Director of the ITS, who is an ICRC employee, oversee the daily operations of the ITS and report to the Commission at its annual meetings;

Whereas the new ICRC leadership at the ITS should be commended for their commitment to providing expedited and comprehensive responses to Holocaust survivor requests for information, and for their efforts to complete the digitization of all archives as soon as possible;

Whereas since the inception of the ITS, the German government has financed its operations;

Whereas beginning in the late 1990s, the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum (''Holocaust Museum''), Holocaust survivor organizations, and others began exerting pressure on International Commission members to allow unfettered access to the ITS archives;

Whereas following years of delay, in May 2006 in Luxemburg, the International Commission of the ITS agreed upon amendments to the Bonn Accords which would grant researchers access to the archives and would allow each Commission member country to receive a digitized copy of the archives and make the copy available to researchers under their own country's respective archival and privacy laws and practices;

Whereas the first 3 Commission member countries to ratify the amendments to the Bonn Accords were the United States, Israel, and Poland, all 3 home to hundreds of thousands of survivors of Nazi brutality;

Whereas the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum has worked to ensure the timely release of the Bad Arolsen archives to survivors, researchers, and the public;

Whereas the United States Department of State engaged in diplomatic efforts with other Commission member countries to provide open access to the archives;

Whereas the United States House of Representatives unanimously passed H. Res. 240 on April 25, 2007 and the United States Senate passed S. Res. 141 on May 1, 2007, urging all member countries of the International Commission of the ITS who have yet to ratify the May 2006 Amendments to the 1955 Bonn Accords Treaty, to expedite the ratification process to allow for open access to the Holocaust archives located at Bad Arolsen, Germany;

Whereas on May 15, 2007, the International Commission voted in favor of a United States proposal to allow a transfer of a digital copy of archived materials to any of the 11 member States that have adopted the May 2006 amendments to the Bonn Accords; thereafter, transfer of materials to both the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum and Yad Vashem, the Holocaust Martyrs' and Heroes' Remembrance Authority in Israel, was initiated;

Whereas while it is not possible to provide meaningful compensation to Holocaust survivors for the pain, suffering and loss of life they have experienced, it is a moral and justifiable imperative for Holocaust survivors and their families to be offered expedited open access to these archives;

Whereas with respect to the release of the materials, time is of the essence in order for Holocaust researchers to access the archives while Holocaust survivor eyewitnesses to the horrific atrocities of Nazi Germany are still alive;

Whereas opening the historic record is a vital contribution to the world's collective memory and understanding of the Holocaust and to ensure that unchecked anti-Semitism and complete disrespect for the value of human life, including the crimes committed against non-Jewish victims which made such horrors possible, is never again permitted to take hold;

Whereas despite overwhelming international recognition of the unconscionable horrors of the Holocaust and its devastating impact on World Jewry, there has been a sharp increase in global anti-Semitism and Holocaust denial in recent years; and

Whereas it is critical that the international community continue to heed the lessons of the Holocaust, one of the darkest periods in the history of humankind, and take immediate and decisive measures to combat the scourge of anti-Semitism: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) expresses its appreciation to all countries that ratified the amendments to the Bonn Accords allowing for open access to the Holocaust Archives located in Bad Arolsen, Germany;

(2) congratulates the dedication, commitment, and collaborative efforts of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, the Department of State, and the International Committee of the Red Cross to open the archives;

(3) encourages the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum and the International Committee of the Red Cross to act with all possible urgency to create appropriate conditions to ensure survivors, their families, and researchers have direct access to the archives, and are offered effective assistance in navigating and interpreting these archives;

(4) remembers and pays tribute to the murder of 6,000,000 innocent Jews and more than 5,000,000 other innocent victims during the Holocaust committed by Nazi perpetrators and their collaborators; and

(5) must remain vigilant in combating global anti-Semitism, intolerance, and bigotry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, recognized Mr. CROWLEY and Mr. MANZULLO, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said resolution, as amended?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

So, two-thirds of the Members present having voted in favor thereof, the rules were suspended and said resolution, as amended, was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider the vote whereby the rules were suspended and said resolution, as amended, was agreed to was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

¶28.20 UNITED STATES AND THE KINGDOM OF THAILAND'S RELATIONSHIP

Mr. CROWLEY moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 290); as amended:

Whereas the United States will celebrate the 175th anniversary of its relationship with the Kingdom of Thailand since the signing of the original Treaty of Amity and Commerce in 1833 during President Andrew Jackson's administration and the reign of King Rama III;

Whereas the Kingdom of Thailand was the United States' first treaty ally in the Asia-Pacific region and remains a steadfast friend with the Thai and American people sharing the values of freedom, democracy, and liberty;

Whereas Thailand was designated as a major non-NATO ally in December 2003, which improved the security of both nations, particularly through joint counterterrorism efforts;

Whereas for more than a quarter century Thailand has been the host country of Cobra Gold, the United States Pacific Command's annual multinational military training exercise designed to ensure regional peace and promote regional security cooperation;

Whereas the United States and Thailand launched joint relief operations in the wake of the tragic 2004 tsunami from Utapao, Thailand, thus strengthening the overall capacity of the forces involved in providing relief and setting the model for effective humanitarian operations throughout the entire region affected by the deadly tsunami;

Whereas Thailand is a key partner of the United States in Southeast Asia and has supported closer relations between the United States and the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (''ASEAN'');

Whereas Congress passed H. Con. Res. 409 in 2006 commemorating the 60th Anniversary of the Ascension to the Throne of His Majesty King Bhumibol Adulyadej of Thailand;

Whereas on December 5, 2007, the people of Thailand celebrated the 80th birthday of His Majesty King Bhumibol Adulyadej, the world's longest serving monarch, who is loved and respected by Thai for his lifelong dedication to the social and economic development of the Thai people;

Whereas on December 23, 2007, the Royal Thai Government held nationwide parliamentary elections that should help pave the way for a successful return of stable democracy to Thailand;

Whereas approximately 500,000 Americans of Thai descent are living in the United States and share in the mutual pursuit of the American Dream;

Whereas Thailand is America's 20th largest trading partner with bilateral trade totaling $30,600,000,000 per year; and

Whereas the bonds of friendship and mutual respect between the United States and Thailand are strong: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That the Congress—

(1) commemorates the 175th anniversary of United States and Thailand relations;

(2) offers its sincere congratulations to the Kingdom of Thailand and the Thai people for their democratic, free, and fair election;

(3) commemorates the 80th birthday of His Majesty King Bhumibol Adulyadej of Thailand and offers its sincere congratulations and best wishes for the continued prosperity of the Kingdom of Thailand; and

(4) looks forward to continued, enduring ties of friendship between the Thai and American people.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, recognized Mr. CROWLEY and Mr. MANZULLO, each for 20 minutes.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said concurrent resolution, as amended?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

So, two-thirds of the Members present having voted in favor thereof, the rules were suspended and said concurrent resolution, as amended, was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider the vote whereby the rules were suspended and said concurrent resolution, as amended, was agreed to was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

Ordered, That the Clerk request the concurrence of the Senate in said concurrent resolution.

¶28.21 187TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE INDEPENDENCE OF GREECE

Mr. CROWLEY moved to suspend the rules and agree to the following resolution (H. Res. 1024); as amended:

Whereas the ancient Greeks developed the concept of democracy, in which the supreme power to govern was vested in the people;

Whereas the Founding Fathers of the United States drew heavily on the political experience and philosophy of ancient Greece in forming our representative democracy;

Whereas Greek Commander in Chief Petros Mavromichalis, a founder of the modern Greek state, said to the citizens of the United States in 1821 that ''it is in your land that liberty has fixed her abode and . . . in imitating you, we shall imitate our ancestors and be thought worthy of them if we succeed in resembling you'';

Whereas Greece played a major role in the World War II struggle to protect freedom and democracy through such bravery as was shown in the historic Battle of Crete, which provided the Axis land war with its first major setback, setting off a chain of events that significantly affected the outcome of World War II;

Whereas the price for Greece in holding onto our common values in their region was high, as hundreds of thousands of civilians were killed in Greece during World War II;

Whereas throughout the 20th century, Greece was one of a few countries that allied with the United States in every major international conflict;

Whereas President George W. Bush, in recognizing Greek Independence Day, said, ''Greece and America have been firm allies in the great struggles for liberty. Americans will always remember Greek heroism and Greek sacrifice for the sake of freedom . . . [and] as the 21st Century dawns, Greece and America once again stand united; this time in the fight against terrorism. The United States deeply appreciates the role Greece is playing in the war against terror. . . . America and Greece are strong allies, and we're strategic partners.'';

Whereas President Bush stated that Greece's successful ''law enforcement operations against a terrorist organization [November 17] responsible for three decades of terrorist attacks underscore the important contributions Greece is making to the global war on terrorism'';

Whereas Greece is a strategic partner and ally of the United States in bringing political stability and economic development to the volatile Balkan region, having invested over $20 billion in the countries of the region, thereby creating over 200,000 new jobs, and having contributed over $750 million in development aid for the region;

Whereas Greece was extraordinarily responsive to requests by the United States during the war in Iraq, as Greece immediately granted unlimited access to its airspace and the base in Souda Bay, and many ships of the United States that delivered troops, cargo, and supplies to Iraq were refueled in Greece;

Whereas Greece is a top contributor to the defense efforts of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), spending an estimated 3 percent of its gross domestic product on defense, and is also an active participant in peacekeeping and peace-building operations conducted by international organizations, including the United Nations, NATO, the European Union (EU), and the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE);

Whereas in August 2004, the Olympic games came home to Athens, Greece, the land of their ancient birthplace 2,500 years ago and the city of their modern revival in 1896;

Whereas Greece received worldwide praise for its extraordinary handling during the 2004 Olympics of over 14,000 athletes from 202 countries and over 2 million spectators and journalists, which it did efficiently, securely, and with its famous Greek hospitality;

Whereas the unprecedented security effort in Greece for the first summer Olympics after the attacks on the United States on September 11, 2001, included a record-setting expenditure of over $1,390,000,000 and assignment of over 70,000 security personnel, as well as the utilization of an eight-country Olympic Security Advisory Group that included the United States;

Whereas Greece, located in a region where Christianity meets Islam and Judaism, maintains excellent relations with Muslim nations and Israel;

Whereas the Government of Greece has had extraordinary success in recent years in furthering cross-cultural understanding and reducing tensions between Greece and Turkey, as seen most recently with the January 2008 visit to Turkey by Greece's Prime Minister Kostas Karamanlis, the first official visit by a Greek Prime Minister in 49 years;

Whereas Greece and the United States are at the forefront of the effort for freedom, democracy, peace, stability, and human rights;

Whereas those and similar ideals have forged a close bond between Greece and the United States and their peoples;

Whereas March 25, 2008, Greek Independence Day, marks the 187th anniversary of the beginning of the revolution that freed the Greek people from the Ottoman Empire; and

Whereas it is proper and desirable for the United States to celebrate this anniversary with the Greek people and to reaffirm the democratic principles from which these two great nations were born: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) extends warm congratulations and best wishes to the people of Greece as they celebrate the 187th anniversary of the independence of Greece;

(2) expresses support for the principles of democratic governance to which the people of Greece are committed; and

(3) notes the important role that Greece has played in the wider European region and in the community of nations since gaining its independence 187 years ago.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, recognized Mr. CROWLEY and Mr. MANZULLO, each for 20 minutes.

After debate,

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House suspend the rules and agree to said resolution, as amended?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, announced that two-thirds of the Members present had voted in the affirmative.

So, two-thirds of the Members present having voted in favor thereof, the rules were suspended and said resolution, as amended, was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider the vote whereby the rules were suspended and said resolution, as amended, was agreed to was, by unanimous consent, laid on the table.

¶28.22 PERMISSION TO FILE REPORT

On motion of Ms. BERKLEY, by unanimous consent, the Committee on Foreign Affairs was granted permission to file a supplemental report (Rept. No. 110–546, part II) on the bill (H.R. 5501) to authorize appropriations for fiscal years 2009 through 2013 to provide assistance to foreign countries to combat HIV/AIDS, tuberculosis, and malaria, and for other purposes.

¶28.23 MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. MANZULLO moved that the House do now adjourn.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House now adjourn?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, announced that the nays had it.

¶28.33 COMMUNICATION FROM THE CLERK—CERTIFICATE OF ELECTION

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication, which was read as follows:

OFFICE OF THE CLERK,
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, DC, March 10. 2008.

Hon. NANCY PELOSI,
Speaker, House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR MADAM SPEAKER: I have the honor to transmit herewith a facsimile copy of a letter received from Mr. Daniel White, Executive Director, Illinois State Board of Elections, indicating that, according to the unofficial returns of the Special Election held March 8, 2008, the Honorable Bill Foster was elected Representative to Congress for the Fourteenth Congressional District, State of Illinois.

With best wishes, I am

Sincerely,

LORRAINE C. MILLER,
Clerk.

¶28.34 ORDER OF BUSINESS—SWEARING IN OF MEMBER-ELECT

On motion of Mr. COSTELLO, by unanimous consent,

Ordered, That, notwithstanding the fact that the certificate of election of Mr. Foster, 14th District of the State of Illinois, has not been received by the Clerk of the House of Representatives, Mr. FOSTER be permitted to take the oath of office as prescribed by law, there being no contest and no question with regard to his election.

Mr. FOSTER then presented himself at the bar of the House and took the oath of office prescribed by law.

¶28.35 WHOLE NUMBER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES ADJUSTED

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. ALTMIRE, announced under clause 5(d) of rule XX, that, in light of the administration of the oath to the Representative FOSTER, that the whole number of the House is adjusted to 430.

¶28.36 NOTICE REQUIREMENT—CONSIDERATION OF RESOLUTION—QUESTION OF PRIVILEGES

Mr. PRICE of Georgia, pursuant to clause 2(a)(1) of rule IX, announced his intention to call up the following resolution, as a question of the privileges of the House:

Whereas in an interview published by National Journal Magazine on March 7, 2008, John Brennan, a foreign policy adviser to Sen. Barack Obama (D-IL) and former CIA official who once served as head of the National Counterterrorism Center, stated, ''There is this great debate over whether or not the telecom companies should in fact be given immunity for their agreement to provide support and cooperate with the government after 9/11 . . . I do believe strongly that they should be granted that immunity, because they were told to do so by the appropriate authorities that were operating in a legal context, and so I think that's important . . . And I know people are concerned about that, but I do believe that's the right thing to do . . . I do believe the Senate version of the FISA bill addresses the issues appropriately;'';

Whereas a bipartisan group of 25 state attorneys general recently wrote a letter to House of Representatives leaders in support of the Senate bill's passage, stating in part ''A bipartisan majority of the United States Senate recently approved S. 2248 . . . But until it is also passed by the House of Representatives, intelligence officials must obtain FISA warrants every time they attempt to monitor suspected terrorists in overseas countries. Passing S. 2248 would ensure our intelligence experts are once again able to conduct real-time surveillance. . . . With S. 2248 still pending in the House of Representatives, our national security is in jeopardy;'';

Whereas Ret. Admiral Bobby R. Inman, former director of the National Security Agency and deputy director of the CIA told the Austin-American Statesman last month that Americans are more vulnerable without the Protect America Act and ''the only way for the country to prevent future terrorists attacks is to increase its ability to eavesdrop on their communication;'';

Whereas Glenn Sulmasy, a Harvard national security expert, wrote in the February 15 edition of The Tampa Tribune that ''the global technologies of cell phones, computers, the internet, and other such means of communication—which were not, and could not have been, envisioned by the drafters of FISA in the 1970s—have changed the way information moves around the world. . . . Herein lie the gaps meant to be filled'' by the Protect America Act of 2007;

Whereas in its bipartisan findings the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence concluded in Oct. 2007 that ''electronic communication service providers acted on a good faith belief that the President's program, and their assistance, was lawful;'';

Whereas 20 Senate Democrats supported final passage of S. 2248, including Senate Intelligence Chairman Jay Rockefeller (D-WV) and Kent Conrad (D-ND), Chairman of the Senate Budget Committee;

Whereas on February 12, 2008, after passage of S. 2248, the Senate amended the bill H.R. 3773 with the text of S. 2248 and sent the amended bill back to the House of Representatives for its consideration;

Whereas Sen. Kent Conrad (D-ND) wrote in a Feb. 28 letter to the editor of The Fargo Forum, ''The FISA law needed reform to account for modern information technology, current patterns of communication and the nature of the threats facing our country. . . . [The bipartisan Senate bill] does include strong privacy safeguards and considerable judicial oversight to ensure that our fundamental freedoms are protected. . . . Leaving [telecommunications companies] completely subject to civil litigation could cause problems in vital intelligence collection in the future;'';

Whereas 21 House of Representatives Democrats expressed support for the bipartisan Senate FISA bill in a Jan. 28 letter to Speaker Pelosi stating that, ''we have it within our ability to replace the expiring Protect America Act by passing strong, bipartisan FISA modernization legislation that can be signed into law and we should do so—the consequences of not passing such a measure could place our national security at undue risk;'';

Whereas in an editorial published by the Charleston Post and Courier on February 29, 2008, House of Representatives Democrat leadership was described as ''indeed causing a potentially dangerous gap in the nation's defenses'' and ''creating an unnecessary cloud of uncertainty in a critical area of intelligence operations where there should be great clarity.''; and

Whereas the failure of the House of Representatives to expeditiously consider the bipartisan Senate-passed Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act of 1978 Amendments Act of 2008 has brought discredit to the House of Representatives: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives should immediately consider a motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill, H.R. 3773.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. ALTMIRE, responded to the foregoing notice, and said:

''The gentleman may offer his resolution.''

¶28.37 PRIVILEGES OF THE HOUSE

Mr. PRICE of Georgia, rose to a question of the privileges of the House and called up the following resolution:

''The Chair is prepared to rule.

''Under the precedents recorded in section 702 of the House Rules and Manual, the resolution addresses a legislative sentiment and not a question of the privileges of the House.''

Mr. PRICE of Georgia, appealed the ruling of the Chair.

The question being stated,

Will the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the House?

Mr. HOYER moved to lay the appeal on the table.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House lay on the table the appeal of the ruling of the Chair?

¶29.8 FURTHER MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

A further message from the Senate by Ms. Curtis, one of its clerks, announced that the Senate has passed a bill of the following title in which the concurrence of the House is requested:

S. 2745. An Act to extend agricultural programs beyond March 15, 2008, to suspend permanent price support authorities beyond that date, and for other purposes.

¶29.9 PRIVILEGES OF THE HOUSE

Mr. BOEHNER, pursuant to rule IX, rose to a question of the privileges of the House and submitted the following privileged resolution (H. Res. 1039):

Whereas on January 5, 2007, the House of Representatives adopted a rule of the House amending clause 2(a) of rule XX to include that, ''A record vote by electronic device shall not be held open for the sole purpose of reversing the outcome of such vote.'';

Whereas on the evening of March 11, 2008, the Speaker pro tempore repeated an annoucement regarding enforcement of such rule, stating ''An alleged violation of clause 2(a) of rule XX may subject the vote to collateral challenge in the form of a question of the privileges of the House pursuant to rule IX.'';

Whereas a press release dated October 7, 2005 from then Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi stated, ''Democrats have proposed guidelines for how we think the House of Representatives should operate, a Minority Bill of Rights.'' Included in this document is the declaration that ''No vote shall be held open in order to manipulate the outcome. When we take back the People's House, we will heed that declaration.'',

Whereas H. Res. 1031 provided that ''House Resolution 895, amended by the amendment printed in the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution, is hereby adopted.''

Whereas on March 11, 2008 the publication Roll Call reported, ''Republicans nearly defeated the measure on a procedural maneuver, but House leaders held the vote open for at least 10 additional minutes to turn a handful of Democrats—sealing the win with the votes of Reps. Emanuel Cleaver (D–Mo.), Sanford Bishop (D–Ga.), G.K. Butterfield (D–N.C.) and Bart Stupak (D–Mich.). With their support, the bill was allowed to come to the floor.'' (''House Passes Ethics Bill; Pelosi Hails Victory,'' Roll Call, March 11, 2008.);

Whereas on March 11, 2008 the publication The Politico reported, ''Republicans, backed by 18 Democrats, thought they had won a parliamentary vote prior to consideration of the new ethics office, a victory that would have derailed [sic] But Speaker Nancy Pelosi (D–Calif.) and the Democratic leadership held the vote open for 16 minutes beyond the alloted 15-minute deadline, and in that period, convinced several Democrats to switch their votes.'' (''New Ethics Office Approved by House After Controversial Quote,'' The Politico, March 11, 2008.);

Whereas on March 11, 2008 The Politico further reported, ''In response to GOP manipulation of votes during their years of control, Pelosi promised at the beginning of the 110th Congress that floor votes would only last 15 minutes, and 'no vote shall be held open to manipulate the outcome.' Pelosi, however, appeared to go back on that promise during the previous question vote, which was open for a total of 31 minutes before it was gaveled closed.'' (''New Ethics Office Approved by House After Controversial Quote,'' The Politico, March 11, 2008);

Whereas on March 11, 2008 The Politico further reported, ''The most vocal Democratic opponent of the OCE, Rep. Neil Abercrombie (D–Hawaii), who made an impassioned speech on the floor urging his colleagues to vote against the measure, insisted that the opposition had actually won the parliamentary vote, regardless of the final outcome. 'We did win,' Abercrombie declared afterwards. 'This thing is totally discredited.''' (''New Ethics Office Approved by House After Controversial Quote,'' The Politico, March 11, 2008.);

Whereas on March 12, 2008 Associated Press reported, ''Republicans yelled in protest as Democrats held the 15-minute vote open for 27 minutes while Democratic leaders urged holdouts in the party to support the party position.'' (''House Approves Ethics Panel,'' Associated Press, March 12, 2008.);

Whereas on March 11, 2008, Roll Call reported, '''There are still plenty of people trying to keep it from coming to the floor,' said one Democratic lawmaker, who spoke in advance of the vote on the condition of anonymity, fearing reprisals from party leadership. The Member added that colleagues expressed a 'lot of unhappiness', as many acknowledged they would have to vote for the bill once it reached the floor.'';

Whereas at 9:31 p.m. the vote on Ordering the Previous Question on H. Res. 1031, was ordered and was to be a 15-minute vote;

Whereas that vote was held open for 27 total minutes;

Whereas 413 Members of the House, which was the total number of Members present and voting, had registered their votes after 21 minutes had elapsed;

Whereas no new Member of the House voted after 21 minutes into the vote who had not previously recorded their vote;

Whereas at 21 minutes elapsed, the vote was 204 yeas and 209 nays, the motion failing;

Whereas for approximately the next 5 minutes, no further votes were cast or changed and the previous question vote was held open for the sole purpose of changing the outcome of the vote;

Whereas during the final moments of Roll Call Vote 121, after conversing with Democratic leaders in full view of the House, three Democratic Members changed their votes from Nay to Aye;

Whereas Speaker Nancy Pelosi left the floor during this time and returned with Representative Bart Stupak who changed his vote from a no to a yes;

Whereas Speaker Nancy Pelosi and Majority Whip James Clyburn approached Representatives Sanford Bishop and Emanuel

Cleaver on the Democratic side of the aisle and had them change their votes from a no to a yes;

Whereas according to Speaker Nancy Pelosi's document entitled ''A New Direction for America,'' page 24 states that ''floor votes should be completed within 15 minutes with the customary 2 minute extension to accommodate members' ability to reach the House Chamber to cast their votes. No vote shall be held open in order to manipulate the outcome.'';

Whereas the result of the 3 Democratic vote changes, after 12 minutes of extended vote time and pressure from Democratic leadership, manipulated the outcome and changed the result from 204 yeas and 209 nays, the motion failing, to 207 yeas and 206 nays, the motion passing; and

Whereas a Democratic Member approached Members and staff of the minority following the announced outcome of the vote and revealed that, ''Deals were made to get Cleaver and Bishop;'': Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That

(1) the House denounces this action in the strongest terms possible, rejects the practice of holding votes open beyond a reasonable period of time for the sole purpose of circumventing the will of the House, and directs the Speaker to take such steps as necessary to prevent any further abuse;

(2) The votes on ordering the previous question and adoption of House Resolution 1031 are hereby vacated;

(3) the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct is directed to investigate without further delay violations of House rules by Speaker Nancy Pelosi and other Members of the Democratic leadership and report its findings and recommendations to the House, including a recommendation regarding the appropriate actions for the Speaker's activities; and,

(4) The Select Committee to Investigate the Voting Irregularities of August 2, 2007, is hereby directed to investigate and include in the report its findings and resulting recommendations concerning the actions of the Speaker, concerning the time the vote was held open and the changes in votes cast by members, resulting in passage of the previous question vote to H. Res. 1031 on March 11, 2008.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. TIERNEY, ruled that the resolution submitted did present a question of the privileges of the House under rule IX, and said:

''The resolution presents a question of the privileges of the House.''.

Mr. MCGOVERN moved to lay the resolution on the table.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House lay the resolution on the table?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. TIERNEY, announced that the yeas had it.

Mr. BOEHNER demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device.

It was decided in the affirmative ..... { Yeas ..... 215 / Nays 193

¶29.13 POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HASTINGS of Washington, rose to a question of personal privilege, and said:

''Mr. Speaker, no one in this House takes more seriously than I do the rules governing confidentiality of matters before the House Ethics Committee.

''Each of us privileged to serve on the committee signs an oath pledging not to disclose information related to our work in the committee except as authorized under our committee rules.

''During nearly 8 years of service on the Ethics Committee, including 2 years as the chairman, I have never found it necessary to disclose committee documents or any other privileged information. Mr. Speaker, that changed yesterday when it became clear that the Democrat leadership would, indeed, force Members to vote on a proposed independent ethics entity.

''You see, I knew, and Chairwoman Stephanie TUBBS JONES knew, something that the other Members of this House did not know. Several months ago, we had been advised by the nonpartisan, professional attorneys at the Ethics Committee that they believed the proposed independent ethics entity would infringe upon Members' due process protections under the rules of the House and that it would seriously hamper the Ethics Committee's ability to carry out its important responsibilities.

''When the ranking member of the bipartisan task force, Mr. SMITH of Texas, sent a letter asking for our committee's official comments on Representative CAPUANO's proposal, I took his request to Chairwoman TUBBS JONES and asked her to prepare a formal response with me to the ranking member of that task force. I did so because I felt strongly that the proposed entity would so greatly impact the work of the Ethics Committee that it would be irresponsible, Mr. Speaker, irresponsible not to share with task force members our official views of this plan.

''Last night, in a Dear Colleague letter to every Member of this House, that was printed in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD, it was printed in Roll Call, it was printed in other publications, Representative TUBBS JONES has attempted to rewrite the history on this issue.

''For reasons that I have trouble fathoming, she now claims, and I quote, Mr. Speaker, 'Both Representative HASTINGS and I agreed that the Ethics Committee could not and should not give advice to the committee charged by House leadership with reviewing the ethics process itself.'.

''Mr. Speaker, nothing could be further from the truth. I could not possibly have stated more clearly to Mrs. TUBBS JONES my desire to respond fully and jointly to Ranking Member SMITH's request for guidance on how the task force proposal would affect our committee.

''Now I recognize the difficulty that she must have explaining to her colleagues why she did not believe that they should be made aware of the concerns expressed by our nonpartisan attorneys on the committee. But, Mr. Speaker, those attorneys don't work for her and they don't work for me. They work for every Member of this House. So, I don't understand, I didn't understand then and I don't understand now, why my distinguished colleague, the gentlelady from Ohio, sought to keep that information from every Member of the House, but she did. And I do not stand by and permit her to call into question my integrity on setting that record straight, as I did so with a letter I sent out to every Member, along with the e-mail of the attorneys on their advice on that issue.

''Now, Mr. Speaker, Members should be advised that this is not the first time that I have had to set the record straight following ill-considered public comments by Representative TUBBS JONES. Last June, she issued a press release declaring that the Ethics Committee would empanel an investigative subcommittee into the matter of Representative William JEFFERSON. Under the committee's rules, Representative TUBBS JONES had no authority to issue such a statement and lacked the authority to establish such a subcommittee. She not only knew that such an action would require a bipartisan vote of the committee, but she also knew that the committee had never voted on the matter. And she knew, Mr. Speaker, that I had pressed her for months to reestablish the Jefferson subcommittee which had lapsed at the end of the last Congress before it completed its work. And I said so, Mr. Speaker, when she issued that because she did not consult with me and ask me to give permission for her to release that statement. She simply did not do so. So, once again, I cannot fathom her reason for making such an inaccurate and irresponsible statement as I mentioned earlier.

''Mr. Speaker, I make no apology to this House for insisting that Members benefit from the advice and counsel of the skilled attorneys at the Ethics Committee before voting on a proposed independent entity. After all, Mr. Speaker, this affects them. I'm a Member, also, of the Rules Committee. And at the Rules Committee 2 weeks ago, when we had testimony on this issue, I expressed my concern then as to what would come of this outside entity.

''So, Mr. Speaker, I resent the claim by Representative TUBBS JONES that I have violated the rules of the House and the Ethics Committee in this manner. As she no doubt intended, Representative TUBBS JONES' false allegations have now made their way into the news, bringing further discredit to the House. But most disturbing, Mr. Speaker, is her public threat to use her position as chairman of the House Ethics Committee to bring sanctions against me. Such a threat can only be motivated by a desire to intimidate and embarrass, while distracting attention from her decision to keep every Member of this House from receiving information that I think every Member deserved to have before we voted on that proposal last night.

''Mr. Speaker, I think her action in calling into question and impugning my reputation, and what she did last night, is wrong, and I think she failed in her effort of trying to do that.

''So I rise today, point of personal privilege, to point out the history of this, and my position, and the reason why I felt that every Member of this House had to have this important information, notwithstanding the fact that we had a very short time frame to even debate the matter at hand.''

¶29.14 MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. LAHOOD moved that the House do now adjourn.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House now adjourn?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. PASTOR, announced that the nays had it.

Mr. LAHOOD objected to the vote on the ground that a quorum was not present and not voting.

A quorum not being present,

¶29.16 PRIVILEGES OF THE HOUSE

Mr. BOEHNER, pursuant to rule IX, rose to a question of the privileges of the House and submitted the following privileged resolution (H. Res. 1040):

Whereas on June 13, 2007, the publication The Politico reported, ''Democratic leaders gave in to Republican demands that lawmakers be allowed to challenge individual member-requested projects from the final version of each appropriations bill.''

Whereas on November 15, 2007, Representatives Jack Kingston and Frank Wolf introduced H. Con. Res. 263, to establish a Joint Select Committee on Earmark Reform, and for other purposes;

Whereas on March 6, 2008, The Hill reports in ''Obey Criticizes Kingston on earmarks'' that ''Kingston said Obey has been 'very irritated' with his push for reform.'';

Whereas on March 5, 2008, House Appropriations Chairman David Obey sent a Dear Colleague to Republican Members stating ''In light of the continuing discussion on earmarks in the Republican Conference, the Appropriations Committee needs to determine how it would proceed.''

Whereas on March 6, 2008, The Hill reports in ''Task Force Looking Beyond Earmarks'' that ''Obey issued a memo to Republicans in multiple-choice format asking them to check one of two boxes, stating whether they believed in a one-year moratorium and therefore would not be submitting earmark requests, or did not believe in a moratorium and would be submitting requests. Obey spokeswoman Kristin Brost said Obey called the memo his 'anti-hypocrisy memo, aimed at House Minority Leader John Boehner's (R–Ohio) repeated calls for a moratorium.' '';

Whereas the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee Dave Obey stated in said letter: ''Because it is important for the Committee to move ahead with bills in a timely fashion, I will assume that any Member not returning this form by March 19, 2008 wishes to see Congressional earmarks discontinued and will therefore be submitting no request for fiscal year 2009.''

Whereas House Rule XXIII Clause 16, states that a Member may not condition the inclusion of language to provide funding for a congressional earmark on any vote cast by another Member.

Whereas the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Dave Obey, has conditioned the receipt of an earmark from the Committee on Appropriations on a Member's opposition to a moratorium on earmarks: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct is directed to investigate without further delay violations of House rules by Representative Dave Obey and report its findings and recommendations to the House, including a recommendation regarding the appropriate action for Representative Obey's violations.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. PASTOR, ruled that the resolution submitted did present a question of the privileges of the House under rule IX, and said:

''The resolution presents a question of privilege.''.

Mr. McGOVERN moved to lay the resolution on the table.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House lay the resolution on the table?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. PASTOR, announced that the nays had it.

Mr. McGOVERN demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device.

It was decided in the affirmative ..... { Yeas ..... 219 / Nays 193

¶29.18 PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H. CON. RES. 312

Mr. McGOVERN, by direction of the Committee on Rules, called up the following resolution (H. Res. 1036):

Resolved, That at any time after the adoption of this resolution the Speaker may, pursuant to clause 2(b) of rule XVIII, declare the House resolved into the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for consideration of the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 312) revising the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year 2008, establishing the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year 2009, and setting forth appropriate budgetary levels for fiscal years 2010 through 2013. The first reading of the concurrent resolution shall be dispensed with. All points of order against consideration of the concurrent resolution are waived. General debate shall not exceed four hours, with three hours confined to the congressional budget equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on the Budget and one hour on the subject of economic goals and policies equally divided and controlled by Representative Maloney of New York and Representative Saxton of New Jersey or their designees. After general debate the concurrent resolution shall be considered for amendment under the five-minute rule. The concurrent resolution shall be considered as read. No amendment shall be in order except those printed in the report of the Committee on Rules accompanying this resolution. Each amendment may be offered only in the order printed in the report, may be offered only by a Member designated in the report, shall be considered as read, shall be debatable for the time specified in the report equally divided and controlled by a proponent and an opponent, and shall not be subject to amendment. All points of order against the amendments printed in the report are waived except that the adoption of an amendment in the nature of a substitute shall constitute the conclusion of consideration of the concurrent resolution for amendment. After the conclusion of consideration of the concurrent resolution for amendment, the Committee shall rise and report the concurrent resolution to the House with such amendment as may have been adopted. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the concurrent resolution and amendments thereto to final adoption without intervening motion except amendments offered by the chairman of the Committee on the Budget pursuant to section 305(a)(5) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 to achieve mathematical consistency. The concurrent resolution shall not be subject to a demand for division of the question of its adoption.

SEC. 2. After a motion that the Committee rise has been rejected on a legislative day, the Chair may entertain another such motion on that day only if offered by the chairman of the Committee on the Budget or the Majority Leader or a designee. After a motion to strike out the resolving words of the concurrent resolution (as described in clause 9 of rule XVIII) has been rejected, the Chair may not entertain another such motion during further consideration of the concurrent resolution.

SEC. 3. During consideration in the House of House Concurrent Resolution 312 pursuant to this resolution, notwithstanding the operation of the previous question, the Chair may postpone further consideration of the concurrent resolution to such time as may be designated by the Speaker.

SEC. 4. After adoption of House Concurrent Resolution 312, it shall be in order to take from the Speaker's table Senate Concurrent Resolution 70 and to consider the Senate concurrent resolution in the House. All points of order against the Senate concurrent resolution and against its consideration are waived. It shall be in order to move to strike all after the resolving clause of the Senate concurrent resolution and to insert in lieu thereof the provisions of House Concurrent Resolution 312 as adopted by the House. All points of order against that motion are waived.

When said resolution was considered.

After debate,

Mr. McGOVERN moved the previous question on the resolution to its adoption or rejection.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House now order the previous question?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. ROSS, announced that the yeas had it.

Mr. Lincoln DIAZ-BALART of Florida, demanded that the vote be taken by the yeas and nays, which demand was supported by one-fifth of the Members present, so the yeas and nays were ordered.

¶29.38 MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT—NATIONAL EMERGENCY WITH RESPECT TO IRAN

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. WILSON of Ohio, laid before the House a message from the President, which was read as follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

The crisis between the United States and Iran constituted by the actions and policies of the Government of Iran that led to the declaration of a national emergency on March 15, 1995, has not been resolved. The actions and policies of the Government of Iran are contrary to the interests of the United States in the region and pose a continuing unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security, foreign policy, and economy of the United States. Iran remains the world's most active state sponsor of terrorism, and continues to provide lethal support to Lebanese Hizballah, HAMAS, Palestinian Islamic Jihad and numerous other terrorist organizations in the region, as well as to the Taliban in Afghanistan and various Iraqi militant groups. For these reasons, I have determined that it is necessary to continue the national emergency declared with respect to Iran and maintain in force comprehensive sanctions against Iran to respond to this threat.

Section 202(d) of the National Emergencies Act (50 U.S.C. 1622(d)) provides for the automatic termination of a national emergency unless, prior to the anniversary date of its declaration, the President publishes in the Federal Register and transmits to the Congress a notice stating that the emergency is to continue in effect beyond the anniversary date. In accordance with this provision, I have sent the enclosed notice to the Federal Register for publication, stating that the Iran emergency declared on March 15, 1995, is to continue in effect beyond March 15, 2008.

GEORGE W. BUSH.

THE WHITE HOUSE, March 11, 2008.

By unanimous consent, the message, together with the accompanying papers, was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs and ordered to be printed (H. Doc. 110–101).

¶29.39 LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent, leave of absence was granted—

To Mr. MITCHELL, for March 10 and 11; and

To Mr. YOUNG of Alaska, for today and balance of the week.

And then,

¶30.4 NOTICE REQUIREMENT— CONSIDERATION OF RESOLUTION— QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE

Mr. PRICE of Georgia, pursuant to clause 2(a)(1) of rule IX, announced his intention to call up the following resolution, as a question of the privileges of the House:

Whereas on December 11, 2007, a bipartisan group of 21 State attorneys general wrote to Senate Majority Leader Reid and Senate Minority Leader McConnell regarding the FISA Amendments Act of 2007 (S. 2248);

Whereas this bipartisan group of State attorneys general represents the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Kansas, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia, Washington, and Wisconsin;

Whereas the State attorneys general stated that protecting communications carriers from ''unprecedented legal exposure is essential to domestic and national security. State, local and federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies rely heavily on timely and responsive assistance from communications providers and other private parties; indeed, this assistance is utterly essential to the agencies' functions. If carriers and other parties run the risk of facing massive litigation every time they assist the government or law enforcement, they will lack incentives to cooperate, with potentially devastating consequences for public safety'';

Whereas on February 5, 2008, the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation testified before the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence that ''in protecting the homeland . . . it's absolutely essential we have the support, willing support of the communications carriers'';

Whereas in the same hearing, Director Mueller further stated ''[m]y concern is that if we do not have this immunity, we will not have that willing support of the communications carriers'';

Whereas on March 4, 2008, a bipartisan group of 25 State attorneys general wrote to the Speaker of the FISA Amendments Act of 2007;

Whereas this bipartisan group of State attorneys general represents the States of Alabama, Alaska, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Kansas, Maryland, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, and West Virginia;

Whereas the State attorneys general stated they ''are our states' chief law enforcement officials and therefore responsible for taking whatever action is necessary to keep our citizens safe'';

Whereas the State attorneys general also stated ''[a] bipartisan majority of the United States Senate recently approved S. 2248. But until it is also passed by the House of Representatives, intelligence officials must obtain FISA warrants every time they attempt to monitor suspected terrorists in overseas countries. Passing S. 2248 would ensure our intelligence experts are once again able to conduct real-time surveillance. As you know, prompt access to intelligence data is critical to the ongoing safety and security of our nation.'';

Whereas on February 12, 2008, after passage of S. 2248, the Senate amended the bill H.R. 3773 with the text of S. 2248 and sent the amended bill back to the House for its consideration;

Whereas the State attorneys general concluded that with ''S. 2248 still pending in the House of Representatives, our national security is in jeopardy.'';

Whereas all Members of the House of Representatives have a responsibility to provide the intelligence community and Federal law enforcement with all the necessary and appropriate tools to keep Americans and the homeland safe;

Whereas all Members of the House of Representatives have a responsibility to ensure they are not impeding the efforts of State and local law enforcement to use all the necessary and appropriate tools to keep Americans and the homeland safe;

Whereas according to the calendar distributed to Members by the House majority, the House of Representatives is scheduled to be in recess during the two-week period beginning on March 17, 2008; and

Whereas it would bring discredit to the House of Representatives to adjourn for two weeks without considering the amendments to H.R. 3773 now pending before the House: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) should immediately consider a motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill, H.R. 3773; and

(2) should not adjourn for the Easter District Work Period prior to consideration of a motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill, H.R. 3773.

¶30.5 PRIVILEGES OF THE HOUSE

Mr. PRICE of Georgia, pursuant to rule IX, rose to a question of the privileges of the House and submitted the following resolution:

Whereas on December 11, 2007, a bipartisan group of 21 State attorneys general wrote to Senate Majority Leader Reid and Senate Minority Leader McConnell regarding the FISA Amendments Act of 2007 (S. 2248);

Whereas this bipartisan group of State attorneys general represents the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Kansas, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia, Washington, and Wisconsin;

Whereas all Members of the House of Representatives have a responsibility to ensure they are not impeding the efforts of State and local law enforcement to use all the necessary and appropriate tools to keep Americans and the homeland safe;

Whereas according to the calendar distributed to Members by the House majority, the House of Representatives is scheduled to be in recess during the two-week period beginning on March 17, 2008; and

Whereas it would bring discredit to the House of Representatives to adjourn for two weeks without considering the amendments to H.R. 3773 now pending before the House: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

(1) should immediately consider a motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill, H.R. 3773; and

(2) should not adjourn for the Easter District Work Period prior to consideration of a motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill, H.R. 3773.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, spoke and said:

''Does the gentleman from Georgia wish to be heard on whether the resolution constitutes a question of the privileges of the House?''

Mr. PRICE of Georgia, was recognized and said:

''Madam Speaker, we are now 27 days, 27 days into a unilateral disarmament. We are not doing our job in the House of Representatives. We are not fulfilling our oath, and we are not protecting the American people. This brings discredit on the House of Representatives.

''The underlying bill simply allows the American intelligence community to make certain that they are able to listen or surveil on terrorists in a foreign land speaking to another terrorist or suspected terrorist in a foreign land.

''My constituents don't understand why the House isn't acting on this. They believe the House is bringing discredit on the Nation. Americans don't understand.

''The Senate has acted responsibly. It is imperative that the majority of the House be given an opportunity to vote on this issue. The majority of the House has said that they would pass this bill. Not bringing this bill to the floor for a vote brings discredit and abrogates our responsibility as Representatives of the United States of America.

''I urge the Speaker and I urge my colleagues to allow this to come to the floor for a vote.''

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, ruled that the resolution submitted did not present a question of the privileges of the House under rule IX, and said:

''As the Chair ruled on March 11, 2008, under the precedents recorded in section 702 of the House Rules and Manual, the resolution addresses a legislative sentiment and not a question of the privileges of the House.''

Mr. PRICE of Georgia, appealed the ruling of the Chair.

Mr. SCOTT of Virginia, moved to lay the appeal on the table.

The question being put, viva voce,

Will the House lay on the table the appeal of the ruling of the Chair?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. TAUSCHER, announced that the yeas had it.

Mr. PRICE of Georgia, objected to the vote on the ground that a quorum was not present and not voting.

A quorum not being present,

The roll was called under clause 6, rule XX, and the call was taken by electronic device.

TITLE II—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 201. DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE REPORT TO CONGRESS.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—
(1) between 2001 and 2007, GAO provided the Department of Defense with 2864 recommendations, many related to improving their business practices and, to date, the Department of Defense has implemented 1389 recommendations and closed 215 recommendations without implementation; and
(2) the GAO estimates that the 1389 implemented recommendations have yielded the Department of Defense a savings of $63.7 billion between fiscal years 2001 and 2007.
(b) ASSUMPTION; REPORT.—
(1) ASSUMPTION.—This resolution assumes $300,000,000 to be used by the Department of Defense to implement the remaining 1260 recommendations of the Government Accountability Office.
(2) REPORT.—The Secretary of Defense should submit a report to Congress within 90 days that demonstrates how each such recommendation will be implemented, and, in the case of any such recommendation that cannot be implemented, a detailed reason for such inability to implement such recommendation.

SEC. 202. REDEPLOYMENT.

It is the sense of the Congress that—
(1) the war in Iraq should end as safely and quickly as practicable and our troops should be brought home;
(2) the performance of United States military personnel in Iraq and Afghanistan should be commended, their courage and sacrifice have been exceptional, and when they come home, their service should be recognized appropriately; and
(3) the purpose of funds made available by this Act should be to transition the mission of United States Armed Forces in Iraq and undertake their redeployment, and not to extend or prolong the war and occupation.

SEC. 411. POLICY STATEMENT ON HANFORD AND NUCLEAR CLEAN-UP.

It is the policy of this resolution that the United States Government must meet its responsibility in cleaning up nuclear waste sites created in the name of our Nation's defense by our World War II and Cold War era nuclear weapons production and is an obligation of the Federal Government, not an option. The Environmental Management program responsible for cleaning up these wastes requires a sufficient level of funding so as not to cause legal cleanup milestones and obligations to be missed.

SEC. 412. POLICY STATEMENT ON WAR FUNDING.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) there are currently more than 183,000 troops in the theater supporting Operations Iraqi and Enduring Freedom;

(3) more than a year later, Congress has only acted to partially fund that request by providing less than half of the funding required by the troops;

(4) this policy assumes Congress will act on war funding requests in a timely manner so as to avoid—

(A) not having sufficient funds to pay United States soldiers, serving at home or abroad;

(B) not having sufficient funds to pay civilian Army personnel;

(C) significant disruption in base budget activities, which may result in delaying or foregoing contracts and activities (e.g., training) that ultimately may increase cost; and

(D) losing the ability to use the Commanders Emergency Response Program, which is critical to the success of United States and Coalition Forces in Iraq and Afghanistan.

(b) POLICY OF THE HOUSE ON WAR FUNDING.—It is the policy of the House that funding for troops in Operations Iraqi and Enduring Freedom should be provided in a timely manner so as not hinder their performance or needlessly place them in harms way.

SEC. 413. POLICY STATEMENT ON MEDICAL LIABILITY.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) medical liability and the resulting practice of defensive medicine continue to plague the medical profession in the United States, reducing access for patients, increasing the cost of medical care generally, and increasing the cost of government programs such as Medicare and Medicaid for the United States taxpayer; and

(2) as the medical liability crisis grows, a large fraction of these dollars will be spent on wasteful health care services provided solely to shield providers from a lawsuits.

(b) POLICY STATEMENT ON MEDICAL LIABILITY.—It is the policy of this resolution that it assumes effective medical liability reform which will contribute to the overall goal of domestic entitlement reform, constraining the growth of vital programs such as Medicare and Medicaid and helping to ensure their long-term viability.

SEC. 414. POLICY STATEMENT ON THE MEDICARE "TRIGGER".

This resolution assumes that the committees of jurisdiction, in complying with the reconciliation instruction set forth in section 20, will submit to the Committee on the Budget language that locks in any savings resulting from Medicare funding warning legislation designed to reduce the program's general revenue spending exceeding 45 percent. By directing savings solely to deficit reduction, this provision will help Medicare fulfill its mission for the long term.

(B) the budgetary aggregates as set forth in this resolution.

(c) PRESIDENT'S BUDGET.—In determining whether an adjustments may be made pursuant to this section, the Chairman of the Committee on the Budget shall take into consideration, the recommendations made in President's budget related to such adjustments.

SEC. 416. POLICY STATEMENT ON THE ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX.

This resolution assumes that the Committee on Ways and Means, in complying with the reconciliation instruction set forth pursuant to section 201(b) of this resolution, will prepare legislative language which will phase out the alternative minimum tax.

SEC. 417. POLICY STATEMENT ON HEALTH CARE SPENDING.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

(1) Medicare's unfunded liability will grow from $34 trillion to $45 trillion in the next 5 years;

(2) health care spending is expected to reach nearly 20 percent of GDP by 2017;

(3) half of the Nation's $2.4 trillion in annual health care spending comes from taxpayer dollars; and

(4) the only way to ensure health care entitlement programs survive and continue to fulfill their missions in the 21st century is through fundamental reform.

(b) POLICY STATEMENT ON HEALTH CARE SPENDING.—This resolution assumes that the committees of jurisdiction over health care spending issues will report legislation to reduce health care costs and expand coverage, in part, by removing distortions in the health care market. The removal of these distortions may be accomplished by increasing personal ownership and improving health care quality and information through the sharing of information, including the passage of H.R. 1174 and H.R. 3370.

(ii) PROCEDURES AFTER VOTE ON SENATE BILL.—If the Senate votes, pursuant to paragraph (1)(C), on the bill introduced in the Senate, then immediately following that vote, or upon receipt of the House companion bill, the House bill shall be deemed to be considered, read the third time, and the vote on passage of the Senate bill shall be considered to be the vote on the bill received from the House.

(b) DEFINITION OF IMPERMISSIBLE OFFSETS.—A provision is an ''impermissible offset'' if the Committee on the Budget determines that it—

(1) is the same or substantially the same as a change in law reducing the deficit included in a bill, joint resolution, or conference report previously passed by the House but not enacted;

(c) TREATMENT OF DIRECT SPENDING PROVISIONS.—In the House:

(1) For purposes of enforcing clause 10 of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, a provision included in a bill, joint resolution, or conference report increasing direct spending in any year may be deemed by the chairman of the Committee on the Budget to be structured such that it artificially disguises an increase in entitlement spending by use of expiration dates or reductions in entitlement or beneficiary levels.

(2) The chairman of the Committee on the Budget shall cause a clear statement for any bill, joint resolution or conference report as to whether a provision increasing mandatory budget authority or outlays has or has not been structured as described in paragraph (1), to be inserted in the Congressional Record if requested by the Speaker, the Majority Leader, the Minority Leader or the Ranking Member of the Committee on the Budget.

(d) STRENGTHEN PAY-AS-YOU-GO.—It shall not be in order to consider any bill, joint resolution, or conference report that increases the deficit in the budget year or the five-fiscal year period following the second period of fiscal years set forth in clause 10 of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of the House Representatives.
