Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION (FCC)

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

47 CFR Ch. I

Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations; October 1995

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Publication of the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

SUMMARY: Twice a year, the Commission publishes a list in the Unified Agenda of those major items and other significant proceedings under development or review that pertain to the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The Agenda also provides the CFR citations and legal authorities which govern these proceedings. The Regulatory Flexibility Act (94 Stat. 1167; 5 U.S.C. 605) includes notations on the applicability of the Regulatory Flexibility Act to each item. The Unified Agenda will be published in the Federal Register in April and October of each year.

ADDRESSES: Federal Communications Commission, 1919 M Street NW., Washington, DC 20554.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Nancy Camp, Office of Managing Director, (202) 418-0442.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Unified Agenda of Major and Other Significant Proceedings

The Commission encourages public participation in the FCC rulemaking process. To help keep the public informed of significant rulemaking proceedings, the Commission has prepared an agenda of important proceedings now in progress. OMB will publish the Unified Agenda in the Federal Register in April and October of each year.

Regulatory Plan

For this edition of FCC's regulatory agenda, the most important regulatory actions are included in The Regulatory Plan, which appears in Part II of this issue of the Federal Register. The Regulatory Plan entries are listed in the Table of Contents and are denoted by a bracketed bold reference, which directs the reader to the appropriate Sequence Number in Part II.

The following terms may be helpful in understanding the status of the proceedings included in this report:

Docket Number - assigned to a proceeding if the Commission has issued either a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking or a Notice of Inquiry concerning the matter under consideration. The Commission has used docket numbers since January 1, 1978. Docket numbers consist of the last two digits of the calendar year in which the docket was established, plus a sequential number, which begins at 1 with the first docket initiated during a calendar year (e.g., Docket 80-1 or Docket 83-1). The abbreviation for the responsible Bureau usually precedes the docket number, as in "MM Docket 79-164," which indicates that the responsible Bureau is the Mass Media Bureau. A docket number consisting of only five digits (e.g., Docket 29622) indicates that the docket was established before January 1, 1978.

Notice of Inquiry (NOI) - issued by the Commission when it is seeking information on a broad subject or trying to generate ideas on a given topic. A comment period is specified during which all interested parties may submit comments.

Further Notice of Inquiry (FNOI)

Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) - issued by the Commission when it is proposing a specific change to the FCC Rules and Regulations. Before any changes are actually made, interested parties may submit written comments on the proposals.

Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (FNPRM)

Memorandum Opinion and Order (MO&O) - issued by the Commission to deny a petition for rulemaking, conclude an inquiry, modify a decision, or deny a petition for reconsideration of a decision.

Rulemaking (RM) Number - assigned to a proceeding after the appropriate Bureau/Office has reviewed a petition for rulemaking but before the Commission has taken action on the petition.

Report and Order (R&O) - issued by the Commission to state a new or amended rule or state that the FCC Rules will not be changed.

Abstract: The Commission adopted a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) seeking comments on a wide variety of policy and technical issues concerning the portability of telephone numbers. Number portability is the ability of end users to retain their telephone numbers when they switch to a new service provider, a new location, or a new service. Through this NPRM, the Commission is examining the overall benefits, technical feasibility, and implementation costs of number portability in its various forms.

Abstract: The Commission seeks to adopt rules governing the entry of foreign carriers into the U.S. international facilities-based service marketplace. The Commission proposes to add as an additional public interest factor in examining Section 214 applications from foreign-affiliated carriers whether there is, or will be, effective market access available in the foreign carrier's primary markets for U.S. carriers to provide services similar to those the foreign carrier seeks to provide in the U.S. The Commission also proposes a specified level of foreign carrier ownership in a U.S. carrier at which the proposed entry standard would apply. The Commission asks whether it should adopt effective market access as an element of Section 310(b)(4) public interest analysis.

Abstract: The Commission seeks to develop a record and to solicit comments on the proposed policies. The proposed policies are designed to ensure that sufficient spectrum is available to operate a viable and independent U.S. licensed mobile satellite service system in the L-band. The proposed policies, to the extent possible, also seek to make any additional spectrum coordinated internationally available for mobile-satellite service systems. The proposed policies impose no additional burdens. In order to be effective, these rules must apply to all licenses and thus there is no significant alternative.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 47 USC 154; 47 USC 303(r); 47 USC 721(c)

CFR Citation: 47 CFR 25

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Commission proposes to eliminate the distinction between the transborder policy and separate international satellite policy and to treat all U.S. licensed geostationary fixed satellites under a single regulatory scheme. As a result, all U.S. licensed fixed satellites will be permitted to provide domestic and international services on a co-primary basis. The proposed action is expected to increase competition in fixed satellite services by increasing the amount of satellite capacity available for both domestic and international services and eliminate regulations that impair business' ability to meet their customers' needs.

Abstract: The Commission seeks to adopt a sharing plan for satellite and terrestrial services in the 27.5-29.5 GHz frequency bands. In a negotiated rulemaking conducted in 1994, the parties could not reach a consensus regarding the sharing of this band. In this proceeding, the Commission will adopt licensing policies and procedures, and other qualification requirements, so that the Local Multipoint Distribution Services, Fixed-Satellite Services, and feeder links for Mobile Satellite Systems can all be accommodated within the 27.5-29.5 GHz band. The action will permit a variety of innovative communication services to be made available to the public.

Abstract: Congress enacted the Children's Television Act of 1990 (CTA) to "increase the amount of educational and informational broadcast television programming for children.” The CTA directs the Commission to review, in any application for license renewal, whether a television broadcast licensee has “served the educational needs of children through the licensee’s overall programming specifically designed to serve such needs.”

FCC—MMB

Long-Term Actions

The Commission adopted rules implementing the CTA in 1991. In 1993, the Commission initiated this proceeding by adopting a Notice of Inquiry to examine whether its rules should be revised to identify more clearly the levels and types of programming necessary adequately to serve children’s educational needs. Based on an informal review of more than 320 license renewal applications, we did not believe that the level of educational programming performance was consistent with the CTA’s long-term objectives, and concluded this fact might be largely attributable to broadcasters’ uncertainty regarding the scope of their obligation. In June 1994, we also convened an en banc hearing on the subject of children’s television programming.

Based on comments responding to the Notice of Inquiry and submitted in conjunction with the en banc hearing, the Commission adopted a Notice of Proposed Rule Making (NPRM) in April 1995 to propose changes to its rules. These proposals are designed to improve the information available to parents and the local community regarding educational television programming, and to revise our definition of “educational and informational” programming to give licensees clearer guidance regarding the types of programming required by the CTA. In addition, the Commission is evaluating other options, including monitoring broadcaster performance, establishing a safe-harbor processing guideline or a programming standard, and allowing stations to meet a quantitative guideline or standard by sponsoring programs shown on other stations.

Abstract: These three notices of proposed rulemaking (NPRMs) form a reexamination of the Commission’s rules governing the relationship between broadcast television networks and their affiliates. There are eight rules consideration in these three proceedings.

The first NPRM considers changes to the requirement that stations file their network affiliation agreements with the Commission

The second NPRM considers changes to five rules that regulate network/affiliate programming practices. The first rule requires an affiliate to be able to reject programming. The second rule prohibits networks from optioning an affiliate’s time. The third rule prohibits a station from affiliating exclusively with a network. The fourth rule prohibits a station from having exclusive rights to network programming. The fifth rule prohibits a station from affiliating with an entity that operates more than one network.

The third NPRM considers changes to two rules regulating broadcast television advertising. The first advertising rule prohibits a broadcast television network from influencing or controlling the rates its affiliates set for the sale of their non-network advertising time. The second advertising rule prohibits a broadcast television network from representing any of its affiliates in the sale of nonnetwork advertising time.

The basic purpose in each of these proceedings is to address whether the rules under consideration continue to promote the public interest in light of changes in the video marketplace. As a result, these proceedings ask questions with a view to either modifying or eliminating the rules if changes in the video marketplace warrant them.

Abstract: This proceeding considers changes to the Commission’s rules governing the ownership of television stations and the joint ownership of television and radio stations. There are five basic issues considered in the proceeding. First, how many television stations should an entity be allowed to own across the nation. Second, how many television stations should an entity be allowed to own within a given “market.” Third, how should the commission count satellite stations for the purposes of applying the national ownership limits. Fourth, should an entity be allowed to own both radio and television stations within a given “market.” And fifth, should the holder of a leased marketing agreement with another station be considered to have an attributal interest in that station. In addressing these basic issues, the proceeding must also resolve what constitutes a station’s “market” for the purposes of applying the different ownership rules, and how should UHF and VHF stations be counted.

Abstract: In this proceeding, the Commission is considering revisions to the mass media attribution rules, by which we define what constitutes a "cognizable interest" for purposes of applying our ownership restrictions to specific situations. We are evaluating changes to our attribution rules relating to such areas as stockholding benchmarks and partnership interests, and are also reviewing our "cross-interest policy." We also comment on how to treat, for attribution purposes, interests in new business forms such as limited companies.

Abstract: By this NPRM, the Commission proposes to establish final rules for the processing of applications and licensing for Personal Communications Services (PCS).

Specifically, we are proposing rules that will apply to PCS license applicants who have successfully bid for spectrum or have filed applications that are determined not to be mutually exclusive with any other application, and are therefore, not subject to competitive bidding. Within this scope, we propose rules to govern the "long-form" application process, initial licensing, construction, operation and technical requirements, unused-spectrum recovery, unserved-area licensing procedures, assignments and transfers, and license renewal procedures.
