

Mr. WALKER was recognized to speak to the point of order and said:

"Mr. Speaker, the motion to recommit does not speak to any sections of the bill. In fact, it sends the entire bill back in its present form. It simply commits it to committees that would have appropriate jurisdictions in the area and simply provides instructions that these additional areas be looked at as a part of competitiveness.

"Our committee does in fact have jurisdiction over the entire issue of competitiveness. All this is suggesting is that if there are jurisdictional disputes over what that means, then those committees should take a look at the content of this bill and consider such additional measures as may be needed. There is nothing here that changes the substance of the bill in any way. It is simply an instruction to the appropriate committees that they need to consider additional provisions that are necessary to promote a concept which is in the exclusive jurisdiction of the Committee on Science, Space, and Technology."

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. TRAXLER, sustained the point of order, and said:

"The Chair would sustain the point of order raised by the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. VALENTINE] and would indicate that instructions contained in a motion to recommit must be germane to the subject matter of the bill whether or not the instructions propose a direct amendment thereto.

"It has been held that a motion to recommit a bill addressing Federal research and technology policy reported from the Committee on Science, Space, and Technology, with instructions to the Committee on Ways and Means to give consideration to improving competitiveness of U.S. industry by changes in Federal tax policy, was not germane to the subject matter of the bill.

"That was a ruling made on July 16, 1991, and the gentleman from New York [Mr. McNULTY] was in the chair at that time.

"Therefore, the Chair sustains the point of order."

Mr. WALKER moved to recommit the bill to the Committees on Ways and Means, Energy and Commerce, Government Operations, and the Judiciary with instructions to consider such additional provisions as are necessary to promote the competitiveness of American businesses.

After debate, By unanimous consent, the previous question was ordered on the motion to recommit with instructions.

The question being put, viva voce, Will the House recommit said bill with instructions?

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mr. TRAXLER, announced that the nays had it.

Mr. WALKER objected to the vote on the ground that a quorum was not present and not voting.
