Exchange With Reporters in Oshkosh, Wisconsin July 14, 2004

President's Visit to Wisconsin

Q. Mr. President, your reaction to the crowds and the towns?

The President. Very, very warm and very hospitable reaction. A lot of people coming out, for which I'm grateful.

Q. What did you get?

The President. Vanilla custard. It's highly recommended. I'm recommending vanilla for Hillman [G. Robert Hillman, Dallas Morning News].

Q. You are dripping. You need a napkin.

The President. I'm going to get one in a minute. Would you like some?

Q. No, thanks.

The President. I'm trying to get you a little national publicity.

Q. I think I've got all I need. [Laughter]

The President. I enjoyed talking to you, girls. Enjoyed talking to you. Thank you. All right, let's go back to work.

Q. First a candy store and now ice cream, sir?

The President. I'm loading up, carbo-loading for the weekend. [Laughter]

Statement on Senate Action To Block a Constitutional Amendment on Marriage July 14, 2004

I am deeply disappointed that the effort to pass a constitutional amendment affirming the sanctity of marriage as being between a man and a woman was temporarily blocked in the Senate.

Activist judges and local officials in some parts of the country are not letting up in their efforts to redefine marriage for the rest of America—and neither should defenders of traditional marriage flag in their efforts.

It is important for our country to continue the debate on this important issue, and I urge the House of Representatives to pass this amendment.

Statement on Congressional Passage of the “Project BioShield Act of 2004” July 14, 2004

During this time of threat to the homeland, I commend Congress for passing the “Project BioShield Act of 2004.” This legislation will strengthen our ability to protect Americans against biological, chemical, nuclear, and radiological threats. It will speed the Government’s ability to turn promising scientific discoveries into necessary countermeasures, provide for rapid stockpiling of critical new drugs and vaccines, and allow the Food and Drug Administration to make treatments available quickly to Americans in emergency situations. By bringing researchers, medical experts, and the biomedical industry together in new and innovative ways, we will not only help protect the homeland but also gain insights into other diseases. This will break new ground in the search for treatments and cures, while strengthening our overall biotechnology infrastructure. I look forward to signing this vital piece of legislation.

Remarks in Ashwaubenon, Wisconsin July 14, 2004

The President. Thank you all very much. Thanks for coming. Thanks for inviting me. It’s good to be here in Ashwaubenon, Wisconsin. Thank you so much.

We’ve been having a great bus tour. I’ve been traveling all across this important State asking for the vote. I’m here to ask for your help. What a fantastic trip we’ve had. I did stop at Leon’s Custard Shop. I also stopped in West Bend at Mick’s Candyman Store. It’s been a day of great excitement and high caloric intake. [Laughter] But I love being back here. It’s good to see the Cheeseheads coming in. I know it’s not the time of year, but I probably need to come back next fall, don’t I? One thing is for certain: The Green Bay area is Bush-Cheney country.

I’m here to ask for your help. Give me 4 more years; this country is going to be safer and stronger and better.

Audience members. Four more years! Four more years! Four more years!

The President. I’m sorry Laura is not traveling with me today.

Audience members. Aw-w-w!

The President. That’s generally the reaction. [Laughter] I interpret that to mean, “Too bad she didn’t come and you didn’t stay at home.” [Laughter] I don’t blame you. She’s a fabulous woman. I’m really proud of her. She’s a wonderful First Lady. I’m going to tell you what I intend to do for 4 more years, but perhaps the best reason to put me back in is so she’ll be the First Lady for 4 more years. Fortunately, however, a member of my family is traveling with me today. I want to thank one of our daughters, Barbara, for coming today. Thank you for being here, Barbara.

I’m also traveling today with a great American, a person who served our country so well in my Cabinet, and a person you trained very well as your former Governor, and that’s Tommy Thompson.

You’ve got a really fine Congressman from this area. Congressman Mark Green is a decent, honorable man, and I appreciate his wife, Sue, joining us today. Thanks for coming, Sue. I’m glad you’re here.

State Treasurer Jack Voight is with us as well. I want to thank the mayors who
