CHAPTER 109

AN ACT

To confer jurisdiction upon the District Court for the Territory of Alaska to hear, determine, and render judgment upon certain claims of William Bergen.

May 22, 1951
[H. R. 588]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the District Court for the Territory of Alaska, without regard to the amount in controversy, to hear, determine, and render judgment upon the claims of William Bergen, Fairbanks, Alaska, arising out of injuries allegedly sustained by him on December 21, 1944, while he was a passenger on The Alaska Railroad. Suit hereunder may be instituted pursuant to section 1346 of title 28, United States Code, within one year from the date of enactment of this Act, notwithstanding the fact that such claims arose prior to January 1, 1945, and despite section 2401 of title 28, United States Code; and proceedings in such suit, appeals therefrom, and payment of judgment thereon, if any, shall be had in the same manner as in the case of suits regularly filed under the provisions of section 1346 of title 28, United States Code: Provided, however, That
