[S. Con. Res. 135]

CORRECTION IN ENROLLMENT OF H.R. 2330

Ante, p. 2067.

Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), That in the enrollment of the bill, H.R. 2330, the Clerk of the House of Representatives shall make the following correction:

At the end of the bill insert the following new section:

"URANIUM SUPPLY

Ante, p. 2080.

"SEC. 23. (a)(1) Not later than twelve months after the date of enactment of this section, the President shall prepare and submit to the Congress a comprehensive review of the status of the domestic uranium mining and milling industry. This review shall be made available to the appropriate committees of the United States Senate and the House of Representatives.

"(2) The comprehensive review prepared for submission under paragraph (1) shall include—

"(A) projections of uranium requirements and inventories of domestic utilities;

"(B) present and future projected uranium production by the domestic mining and milling industry;

"(C) the present and future probable penetration of the domestic market by foreign imports;

"(D) the size of domestic and foreign ore reserves;

"(E) present and projected domestic uranium exploration expenditures and plans;

"(F) present and projected employment and capital investment in the uranium industry;

"(G) an estimate of the level of domestic uranium production necessary to ensure the viable existence of a domestic uranium industry and protection of national security interests;

"(H) an estimate of the percentage of domestic uranium demand which must be met by domestic uranium production through the year 2000 in order to ensure the level of domestic production estimated to be necessary under subparagraph (G);

"(I) a projection of domestic uranium production and uranium price levels which will be in effect both under current policy and in the event that foreign import restrictions were enacted by Congress in order to guarantee domestic production at the level estimated to be necessary under subparagraph (G);

"(J) the anticipated effect of spent nuclear fuel reprocessing on the demand for uranium; and

"(K) other information relevant to the consideration of restrictions on the importation of source material and special nuclear material from foreign sources.

“(b)(1) Chapter 14 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 is amended by adding the following new section at the end thereof:

“SEC. 170B. URANIUM SUPPLY.—

Ante, p. 2081.

“a. The Secretary of Energy shall monitor and for the years 1983 to 1992 report annually to the Congress and to the President a determination of the viability of the domestic uranium mining and milling industry and shall establish by rule, after public notice and in accordance with the requirements of section 181 of this Act, within nine months of enactment of this section, specific criteria which shall be assessed in the annual reports on the domestic uranium industry's viability. The Secretary of Energy is authorized to issue regulations providing for the collection of such information as the Secretary of Energy deems necessary to carry out the monitoring and reporting requirements of this section.

“b. Upon a satisfactory showing to the Secretary of Energy by any person that any information, or portion thereof obtained under this section, would, if made public, divulge proprietary information of such person, the Secretary shall not disclose such information and disclosure thereof shall be punishable under section 1905 of title 18, United States Code.

“c. The criteria referred to in subsection a. shall also include, but not be limited to—

“(1) an assessment of whether executed contracts or options for source material or special nuclear material will result in greater than 37½ per centum of actual or projected domestic uranium requirements for any two-consecutive-year period being supplied by source material or special nuclear material from foreign sources;

“(2) projections of uranium requirements and inventories of domestic utilities for a ten-year period;

“(3) present and probable future use of the domestic market by foreign imports;

“(4) whether domestic economic reserves can supply all future needs for a future ten-year period;

“(5) present and projected domestic uranium exploration expenditures and plans;

“(6) present and projected employment and capital investment in the uranium industry;

“(7) the level of domestic uranium production capacity sufficient to meet projected domestic nuclear power needs for a ten-year period; and

“(8) a projection of domestic uranium production and uranium price levels which will be in effect under various assumptions with respect to imports.

“d. The Secretary of Energy, at any time, may determine on the basis of the monitoring and annual reports required under this section that source material or special nuclear material from foreign sources is being imported in such increased quantities as to be a substantial cause of serious injury, or threat thereof, to the United States uranium mining and milling industry. Based on that determination, the United States Trade Representative shall request that the United States International Trade Commission initiate an investigation under section 201 of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2251).

“e. (1) If, during the period 1982 to 1992, the Secretary of Energy determines that executed contracts or options for source material or special nuclear material from foreign sources for use in utilization facilities within or under the jurisdiction of the United States represent greater than 37½ per centum of actual or projected domestic uranium requirements, for any two-consecutive-year period, or if the Secretary of Energy determines the level of contracts or options involving source material and special nuclear material from foreign sources may threaten to impair the national security, the Secretary of Energy shall request the Secretary of Commerce to initiate under section 232 of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 (19 U.S.C. 1862) an investigation to determine the effects on the national security of imports of source material and special nuclear material. The Secretary of Energy shall cooperate fully with the Secretary of Commerce in carrying out such an investigation and shall make available to the Secretary of Commerce the findings that lead to this request and such other information that will assist the Secretary of Commerce in the conduct of the investigation.

“(2) The Secretary of Commerce shall, in the conduct of any investigation requested by the Secretary of Energy pursuant to this section, take into account any information made available by the Secretary of Energy, including information regarding the impact on national security of projected or executed contracts or options for source material or special nuclear material from foreign sources or whether domestic production capacity is sufficient to supply projected national security requirements.

“(3) No sooner than three years following completion of any investigation by the Secretary of Commerce under paragraph (1), if no recommendation has been made pursuant to such study for trade adjustments to assist or protect domestic uranium production, the Secretary of Energy may initiate a request for another such investigation by the Secretary of Commerce.”

Agreed to December 20, 1982.
