

Public Law 98-82
98th Congress

Joint Resolution

Aug. 23, 1983
[S.J. Res. 85]

To designate September 26, 1983, as "National Historically Black Colleges Day".

Whereas there are one hundred and three historically black colleges and universities in the United States; and

Whereas they are providing the quality education so essential to full participation in our complex, highly technological society; and

Whereas black colleges and universities have a rich heritage and have played a prominent role in American history; and

Whereas these institutions have allowed many underprivileged students to attain their full potential through higher education; and

Whereas the achievements and goals of these historically black colleges are deserving of national recognition: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That September 26, 1983, is designated as "National Historically Black Colleges Day" and the President of the United States is authorized and requested to issue a proclamation calling upon the people of the United States and interested groups to observe that day by engaging in appropriate ceremonies, activities, and programs, thereby showing their support of historically black colleges and universities in the United States.

Approved August 23, 1983.
