STIPULATION

The United States of America and defendant Manuel Gonzalez Chavez, by and through their respective counsel, with the agreement of U.S. Probation Officer Joan Vasquez, hereby stipulate and ask the court to find as follows:

1. The defendant is currently scheduled for sentencing on October 24, 2018.
2. Defendant Chavez is facing a mandatory minimum sentence of 25 years. The government is expected to recommend a sentence greater than 25 years.
3. The Probation Officer who was preparing the final Presentence Report Defense left the U.S. Probation office for another job on or about October 1, 2018. On October 2, 2019 that probation officer was replaced by USPO Joan Vasquez. The parties and U.S. Probation agree that more time is needed for U.S. probation to complete the final Presentence report.

1 Additionally, counsel for defendant has yet to receive the defendant's medical records from the
2 Glen Dyer Facility. All of the parties agree that the final Presentence report and defendant's
3 sentencing investigation will be completed in time for a new sentencing date of November 14,
4 2018.

5 4. Based on the foregoing the parties request that the court vacate the current sentencing date
6 and set a new sentencing date of November 14,2018 at 10:30 a.m.
