District children and families

WHAT:

The U.S. Government Printing Office (GPO) and the Father McKenna Center are celebrating the holidays with an event for District children from low-income families. Santa Claus will give away donated toys from GPO employees to about 100 kids at GPO's 38th annual community day. GPO has been part of the fabric of the District since the agency opened in 1861 and this annual event is a way to give back to GPO's neighbors.
